Sent Back to Reformatory.

At the instigation of the authorities of the Reformatory, Chief O'Neill, yesterday, arrested young Robert Torren, a paroled inmate of that institution. Torren was wanted by the reformatory officials for having broken parole. He was sent back to Rahway by the chief.

Surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Baker.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Baker surprised them on Saturday evening at their home on South Avenue in honor of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage which took place on September 1st. The surprise was a genuine one and proved very enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

READY FOR SCHOOL OPENING.

Superintendent Savitz Anticipates Unusually Large Enrollment of Pupils This Year.

WORK TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY.

Faculty Now Numbers Thirty-Eight New Teachers—Enrollment Begins Tomorrow—Faculty Meets Tuesday.

The Westfield public schools will open next Wednesday morning. Preliminary to the opening the Primary and Grammar grade teachers will hold a meeting on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the High School teachers on the same day at 4 o'clock.

Superintendent of Schools J. J. Savitz will be in his office in the Washington building tomorrow and Monday to enroll new pupils, and to meet patrons who wish to confer with him concerning school work.

Owing to the unusual large number of new pupils to be enrolled, it will facilitate the work of enrollment and prove more satisfactory to patrons, if pupils register before the opening day.

The following teachers have been appointed:

Washington Building—Harriet E. Mann, Edith J. Syatt, Louise Allen, Mary E. Markley, Jesse T. Godfrey, Charles A. Springstead, Elizabeth Stryker, Ida E. Smith, Elizabeth R. Shillman, Agnes M. Andrews, Eleanor E. Novell, Grace F. Harned, Rebecca J. Slaymaker, Lincoln Building—John H. McLaughlin, Acting Head, Grace Zillaro, Cornelia A. Reinsonberg, Mary E. Griggs, Mary E. Heller, Anna S. Holland, Mabelle West.

Prospect Building—D. R. Storry, Acting Head, Ida M. Richards, Carrie P. Fowler, Ella R. Crowell, Kate E. Patman, Elizabeth Morehouse.

Music—Belle Tiffany.

Manual Training and Drawing—Elizabeth Young, Substitute, Estelle M. Clark.

The new teachers are Misses Markley, Novell, Zillaro, Reinsonberg, West and Messrs. Springstead, McLaughlin and Storry.

Miss Markley is a graduate of Ursinus College, post graduate of Columbia with A. M. in English. Taught in Pennsylvania high schools, being principal of the high school at Derry, Pa., for three years.

Mr. Charles A. Springstead is a graduate of Hiram College and has taught in the high school at Union, N. Y., for three years. He is recommended by the Inspector of High Schools in New York State as an excellent teacher, who wields a strong influence over the students.

Miss Novell is a graduate of the Mansfield, Pa., Normal School, and has taught successfully for a number of years in the schools of Towanda and Clearfield, Pa.

Miss Zillaro is a Look Haven Normal graduate, with six years experience in excellent schools. She taught in the schools of Bradford, Pa., for the last three years.

Miss Reinsonberg is a New York Normal graduate with experience. For the last two years, she has had entire charge of the primary department of a school on Long Island.

Mr. McLaughlin is a graduate of the Shippensburg Normal, advanced course. He has been principal of a high school and for the last two years was principal of schools at Enhart, Pa.

Mr. Storry is a Shippensburg Normal graduate, advanced course, with experience. He resigned the principalship of the high school at High Spire, Pa., to accept a position here.

Miss West is a graduate of Fredonia Normal School and has had experience in the same school in the kindergarten and primary departments.

Mr. Storry is a Shippensburg Normal graduate, advanced course, with experience. He resigned the principalship of the high school at High Spire, Pa., to accept a position here.

THEODORE MCGARRAH DEAD

Patriotic Citizen, and Old Line Democrat, Passed Away Wednesday Morning.

WAS 72 YEARS OLD.

Had Been a Resident of Westfield for 17 Years. A Native of Orange County, New York.

Theodore McGarrah died at his home, 79 Boulevard, Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness of but a few days. Mr. McGarrah had not been in the best of health for some time, and had not given regular attention to his business in New York since last July. He was 72 years old, and had been a resident of Westfield for 17 years.

Mr. McGarrah was born in Monroe, Orange County, New York, in 1835, and removed to Westfield in the spring of 1890. He was active in many local enterprises, particularly as an old line democrat. He was one of the leading workers in the local democratic organization up to the time of Bryan's nomination on a silver platform, when he joined the ranks of the gold democrats and voted for McKinley. At one time Mr. McGarrah edited a democratic column in the Standard. He was engaged in the hop-brokerage business in New York.

In public and private life, Mr. McGarrah was a man of exemplary habits, a tireless worker, and a zealous patriot. As a father, husband and citizen he will be greatly missed, and by none more than his immediate family, and those who knew him intimately, and admired his sterling traits of character.

He is survived by a widow, two sons, Gates W. McGarrah, of New York, and Eugene McGarrah, of this place; and a daughter, Miss Ella McGarrah. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from his late residence. The Rev. H. H. Gurnsey, pastor of the Congregational Church, which he attended, will officiate. The interment will take place Saturday morning at the family burying ground at Monroe.

OFFICER FIRES AT SUSPECTS.

Early Morning Encounter With Tramps Back of Schaefer's Store.

Two suspicious looking men, supposed to have been plotting a haul, were twice shot at by Officer Canfield, this morning. The suspects were prowling about in the rear of F. H. Schaefer's dry goods store on Broad Street.

The officer was attracted to the place by the loud barking of dogs near the premises. He had just returned from his rounds about 1 o'clock, and was making an entry on the police blotter, when the dogs set up a howl that woke up nearly everybody in the block. Greeting his revolver, the officer walked steadily around the rear of the Elm Street store, and came upon the men, who when they caught sight of the officer, dropped behind a pile of empty boxes.

"Stand or I'll fire," shouted Canfield. There was a silence, in which the officer attempted to reach the boxes by a circuitous route. When all lost upon them, they quickly jumped to their feet and leaped over the high board fence. Canfield fired twice at the retreating figures, the bullets passing through the fence. The men made good their escape.

Chief O'Neill thinks that the suspects were a couple of tramps, who were trying to make an easy haul. He has given his force strict orders to keep a sharp lookout for suspects, and round them up without ceremony.

Branch Mills.

The public school opened on Tuesday morning, Miss Bessie Thompson, teacher. E. D. Miller will start his elder mill this week.

Mrs. Russell, of New York, is visiting Mrs. C. D. Pierson.

Wm. A. Parkhurst and George W. Pierson spent Sunday and Labor Day at Ocean Grove.

Miss Lindbergh has returned to her home.

E. D. Miller led the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charles Shoonover has been visiting at Barnegat, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Fink left on Thursday for a trip to Maine.

SEWERS FOR TERRACE PARK.

Plans of Westfield Real Estate Co. Meet with No Objections By Property Owners.

ROUTINE BUSINESS BY COUNCIL.

Tabled Ordinances Not Acted Upon Because of Absentees.—Sewer Work Progressing.

The plans of the Westfield Real Estate Company for the construction of sewers in St. Mark's Place, Lenox Avenue, and Clinton Street, met with no objections by property owners of an advertised hearing by the Common Council, held in the town rooms, Tuesday evening. The new sewers in that locality will be built as soon as practicable.

Mayor Alpers presided at the meeting. All the members of Council were present except Messrs. Russell and Wilson. The Sewer Construction Co. of New York, was awarded the contract for laying a cement sidewalk and constructing and retreating wall at the North Avenue Fire house, after the bids had been considered by the sidewalk committee. Owing to the absence of two councilmen, no action was taken on tabled ordinances, as these were in the form of resolutions and required the vote of the whole council.

Engineers Voss reported that the principal street work done since the last report was the scraping of roads and clearing away of brush, that the sewer in Downer Street was practically completed, that the Euclid Avenue macadam contract awaited approval by the State commissioner. The report concluded by stating that all contract work was under way and that work would commence on the trunk line sewer next Monday.

Recorder Toney reported $16 collected for fines for the month of August.

Overseer of the Poor Flagg reported for July and August and stated that he had a balance on hand of $38, and desired $800 placed at his disposal. The request was referred to the finance committee.

J. P. Wyckoff, through a communication, desired to know if the town would accept $400 for taxes on the Ranney property. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

J. J. Schmitt notified council to the effect that one of his horses was seriously injured by falling into an excavation at Clark and Walnut streets, and requested council to investigate the cause. The matter was referred to the road committee and town attorney.

W. S. Welch and others petitioned council for a sidewalk on the Boulevard on the south side beyond Park street to Grove street. Council decided upon October 7 as the date for public hearing on the proposed improvement.

Fire Chief Decker called the attention of council to the method of construction of the Peckham building on Broad Street, which he termed dangerous. The communication was referred to the fire committee and town attorney.

Harold Coles applied for the position of official dog catcher.

The police committee recommended James M. Barony as a special policeman. The appointment was ratified by Council.

A letter was received from Gruville B. Toney offering a chainless bicycle to the police department. The gift was accepted with thanks of council.

The assessor was ordered to notify the County Board of Taxation that the amount of taxes to be raised for 1907 is $39,453.33. A certificate of indebtedness for $1,600 to pay current bills, was ordered issued.

E. B. Wilcox was appointed hunter of the town rooms and police headquarters.

THE CAT ON SCHOOL DAYS.

Tells About the Pranks of Hank and Pete, and the Krokay Ball.

GOT SENT AFORE PRINCIPAL.

And Hank Got Somethin' When He Got Home Which Made Him Feel Sore and Sorrowful.

SCHOOL days is great things for kids, but they ain't what they was afore the higher education notions took hold. Them was days when if a feller got catin' up pranks they kep in 'nter school hours, an' made him stan in a corner an' say his A B C's backwards an' forwads. If he done too much tom follin' teacher'd send him afore the principal an' make 'o' hove he would get ruts. Geo. Whiz!

Say did you ever get sent afore the principal? What no, feller, you bet. Hank an' Pete got sent afore the principal once for raisin' ole head. That was when Miss Littlehugh was teachin'. Hank an' Pete used to sit in the back seats, which was made special for bad boys. Them seats was check a block full, too, an' there was some on the waitin' list. Hank he had one a them big krokay balls, what made a noise like a freight train goin' up grade when he rolled it. He would put it under his feet an' give it a shove across the floor over to where Pete was a sittin'. Then teacher'd say, "Mr. Hank did you roll that ball?" and just then Pete'd pop up an' give the ball a shove back to Hank, and Hank'd say, "No'm I didn't." They'd keep on rollin' the ball till teacher got fit an' sent 'em out in the hall a-lyrin'.

One day teacher was givin' a lecture on physiology, an' she told about havin' been to a lunkie asylum once. Hankup an' said he thought so, an' Pete he laffed right out, an' teacher she sent 'em afore the principal. Say there was awful scurr. They went out in the hall an' Hank says to Pete:

"What'll we tell 'm?"
Pete said, "Dum! He know'd." "Geo. whiz!" says Hank, "I don't want the ole man to know it!" "Fraid of gettin' ramed," said Pete. "Hank didn't say nothin'! He just hitched up his gaiters an' got redern a beto."

Pete said let's sneak out, but Hank said he'd wait, and just then they hear'd of the principal comin' up the stairs. They was goin' to run and hide when they heard the door open, an' teacher she come on an' said:

"See here, what a you boys doin' here, didn't I sen you in to princ'pal?" "Yessum," says Pete an' Hank, very shopish like, an' then princ'pal he comes up an' said what's the matter.

"Teacher she hid out Hank an' Pete somethin' awful. Tole how they'd acted up an' what bad boys they was. Princ'pal he give 'em a lecture, an' said they could go back to their rooms. He'd write to their parents."

They went back an' Hank tried to get on the right side a teacher 'cause he was f'rith a gettin' licked; but teacher she was madder a hornet, an' made 'em do arithmetic.

Next day Hank come in lookin' sorrowful an' when Pete seen him he laffed, and everybody laffed, teacher, too. Pete says, "What's the matter, Hank, why don't you sit down?" Hank did get down, but awful slow, an' then they all laffed again. Hank was sore in more ways than one.

Well they was party good days, you bet. Spellin' bees, an' picknies an' eatin' bell ropes, an' stuffin' rubber in the fireplace, an' makin' 'blows you had a tooth too sore you would be kep in, an' fightin' an' makin' up. Trouble was it didn't last long 'hough, an' while we was wishin' we didn't have to then, we're dunt sorry that we can't now.

Yours for a frolic,
THE COUNTRY CAT.

A BUSINESS MAN'S MISTAKE.

Stranger (who has yelled himself hoarse over Jinks' telephone without getting any reply)—See here, I can't do anything with this telephone.

Jinks (with an air of innocence)—Did you wish to speak to any one, sir?

"Certainly."

"Oh! It has been disconnected for about a month."

"Disconnected. You didn't say anything about it."

"I thought everybody knew we had disconnected our telephone on account of the bores. I didn't know you wished to talk to any one, sir. I supposed you merely desired to exercise your lungs."—N. Y. Weekly.

Figuratively Speaking.

Statesmen in Washington, over their black coffee and cigars, are telling a little story about Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court. The chief justice, so the story runs, met an old-time friend, and after a hearty hand-clasp Mr. Fuller remarked:

"You are looking exceedingly well. Aren't you filling out a little?"

"No, indeed," replied the friend. "You probably think so because I'm looking Fuller in the face."—Judge.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. G. W. Frutchey, Druggist.

The Cost of It.

They were celebrating their engagement by dining at a swell cafe. "Do you believe," she queried, as the conversation lagged, "that man is really made of dust?"

"Well," he rejoined, glancing at the dining check, "he wouldn't be able to travel far in your company if he wasn't."—Chicago Daily News.

Amendment Not Accepted.

Mrs. Jagway—I wish I knew where my husband was.

Mrs. Kowler—You mean, I presume, that you wish you knew where your husband is?

Mrs. Jagway—No, I don't. I know where he is. He's up in his room sleeping off a headache.—Chicago Tribune.

Fatalism Exemplified.

She—I hope, dear, that you are not going to worry about my exceeding my allowance this time.

He (brightening up)—You don't mean to tell me, dearest, that there isn't any necessity for it.

"Certainly not. What's the use of worrying about something you can't help?"—Life.

HAD GRIT.

He—Harold has at last made his rival bite the dust.

She—Really? How?

He—Took him out for a spin in his auto.

Nothing Serious.

The guest in the hotel dining room let out a large open-faced sigh.

"Anything wrong, sir?" queried the waiter.

"Oh, no," replied the guest. "I was only wondering if it would live to be as old as this chicken."—Chicago Daily News.

Poorly Expressed.

"That young lady and the gentleman at the next table appear to be getting quite thick."

"They're in love with one another, if you mean that; but they could never get thick at this boarding house."

Not That Way.

"Have you ever been in jail before?" demanded the judge.

"No, your honor, honestly never! Of course, you haven't honestly."

Few men get there that way."—Chicago Record Herald.

Not True to Nature.

DeAuber—Don't you think this is an excellent portrait of your wife?

Naggsby—No. There is a repose about the mouth that isn't natural."—Chicago News.

Voice of Experience.

"In mailing an article to a magazine," asked the literary tyro, "is there any peculiar way of arranging the stamps so as to convey the idea to the editor that I am an old hand?"

"You bet there is," answered Percollum. "Be sure to arrange enough of them on the inside to prepay the return postage. If you expect over to see the article again."—Chicago Tribune.

Possible Explanation.

Said He—A scientist affirms that a woman's voice ascends to more than twice the height attained by a man's.

Said She—That probably accounts for it.

Said He—Accounts for what?

Said She—The fact that most men let their wives do all the praying for the family.—Chicago Daily News.

Stuck.

"If you don't want to go into a permanent decline," announced the physician, after making a careful examination, "you will have to tear yourself away from your business entirely."

"That's pretty hard to do, doctor," said his caller. "I am a manufacturer of porous plasters."—Chicago Tribune.

Inconsistent.

Edyth—I would never marry a man who leads a hand-to-mouth existence.

Mayme—What! Do you mean to tell me that your engagement with Fred is off?

Edyth—Certainly not. Why?

Mayme—He's a dentist, you know.—Chicago Daily News.

Advice Reciprocated.

"You must discontinue your piano practice for a time," said the doctor, "or it will send you to an untimely grave."

"Why don't you discontinue your practice, doctor?" she rejoined. "Then you wouldn't fill so many untimely graves."—Chicago Record Herald.

Time Not Wholly Wasted.

"It must be a terrible disappointment to be a defeated candidate."

"Oh, I don't know," answered the man who always tries to look on the bright side. "Sometimes it's a pretty good advertisement for a law practice or a lecture tour."—Washington Star.

Truly Remarkable.

"New York is a remarkable city, isn't it?" said the proud native.

"Yes," answered the impatient visitor. "It's the only town I ever saw where one man with a truck load of barrels could tie up an entire street car line."—Washington Star.

Those Dear Friends.

Nan—The more I see of that young Dr. Lancelotti, the better I like him.

Fan—He'll be pleased to hear that, I know. He tells me he is gaining in weight at the rate of a pound and a half a day.—Chicago Tribune.

Robbed!

Bill—Did a girl ever stick you with a hat pin?

Jill—Yes, a girl stuck me with one at the church fair the other night.—Yonkers Statesman.

THE BRAZEN SERPENT

Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 8, 1907

Specialty Prepared for This Paper

LESSON TEXT.—Numbers 21:3. Many say Sept. 8.
GOLDEN TEXT.—"As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up; that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life."—John 3:14-15.

TIME.—More than 35 years after our last lesson, Aaron died on the first day of the fifth month (July-August) of the fortieth year since leaving Egypt (Num. 33:38). The fiery serpent attacked the people a few weeks later, in September (Ch. 34:10, according to the common chronology).

PLACE.—Aaron died at Mount Hor, on the border of the Edom range, along the eastern border of the Arabian. The serpents were in the great deep and broad valley called the Arabian, south of the Dead sea, and extending to the eastern arm of the Red sea.

Comment and Suggestive Thought.

We left the Israelites, in our last lesson, at Kadesh Barnea, on the border of the south land of Palestine and the northern border of the great desert of Paran. They had refused, through fear and unbelief, to go up and take possession of their inheritance, and were condemned to remain in the desert for 38 years longer, till all over 20 years of age had died. They arrived at Kadesh about a year and three months after the exodus, and left it nine months before taking possession of Canaan. During these years "Kadesh was probably their central nucleus or rendezvous. They would naturally change their locality from time to time, like the Bedouins of all ages, but still cherishing the hope of eventually becoming possessors of the land of promise. Meantime they are not to be conceived as dwelling, in their intervals of repose, in a compact camp, which the nature of the country forbade to such an immense multitude, but as expatiating in bands, here and there, over the adjacent country, still having the tabernacle as the center and the rendezvous to which they would return."—Bush. Some of these wanderings are given in Num. 33:19-36, extending as far south as Ezion Geber on the eastern arm of the Red sea (1 Kings 9:26).

Some of the events recorded during his period are: 1. Korah's Rebellion (Numbers 16), which grew out of the long delay and disappointed hopes.

2. Aaron's rod budded (Numbers 17) to prove that Aaron was the divinely chosen high priest.

3. The death of Miriam, the sister of Moses (Num. 20:1).

4. Water from the rock at Meribah and the sin of Moses that kept him from entering the promised land (Num. 20:2-13).

"And the people spake against God, and against Moses." Their bitter feelings grew so strong that they were expressed in words. Their former murmurings at Kadesh had been treated leniently, and water had been supplied, apparently at their angry demand. They seem to have interpreted the miracle there as an instance of mercy in spite of their wicked course, but as a response to it; and they therefore now repented the experiment of insurrection.

Thus the Israelites tempted God (1 Cor. 10:9; Heb. 3:9). They put his patience and forbearance to the test, and did all they could to make him give them up as hopeless.

The Fiery Serpents of Sin.—No better emblem of the results of sin could have been given to the Israelites, or to us. "The true, peculiar, pernicious, fiery serpents were their murmuring disposition and complaints against Jehovah."—Lange. Sin is like a fiery serpent, often beautiful in appearance, and secret in its approach. But the effects are pains that only fire can express.

Repentance and Salvation.—Vs. 7-9. Confession. V. 7. "We have sinned." The evil effects of sin made them feel conscious of their sin and its greatness. The real evil is the sin, and not the punishment. But it is only by the punishment that men realize the evil of sin itself.

"Against the Lord, and against thee." All crimes against man are sins against God. And all sins against God work wrong to man.

"And Moses prayed for the people," expressing their desires and feelings. There is real power in intercessory prayer. Their praying made it wise and safe to give blessings that would have been an injury to those who had not the spirit of prayer. One of the objects of the punishment was to turn their hearts to God.

The Cure.—Note in what a peculiar and yet blessed way the prayer was answered, not by removing the serpents, as they probably expected, but by a way that healed their souls as well as their bodies. So Paul's "thorn in the flesh" was not removed, but God's grace was made to abound as a blessed fruit growing on that stem.

As the sin and punishment of the Israelites were the fruits of unbelief, the true method of help was first to restore faith and then healing.

Practical Points.

Christ crucified is the most conspicuous object in the history of the world. It is the center around which the whole moral and religious warfare of the world is gathered.

The power did not lie in the brazen serpent, but in God himself, who could bestow healing upon those who showed by their looking up to it at his Word that they believed in God and repented of their sin.

Salvation was by faith, the only way in which free pardon can be offered without increasing the sin of the world.

HOPE FOR HIM

"What about?" inquired the young woman with elaborate carelessness. The young man then clasped his hands and leaned forward. He seemed to be hunting for words. "You—you've got awfully good judgment," he began. "I thought you could advise me. You see, there's a fellow—he's a friend of mine—who is terribly in love with a girl and he's afraid to tell her so and he asked me what to do. I don't know why he thought I'd know."

"Does the girl like him?" she asked. "Why, I suppose so," admitted the young man. "But it's so hard to tell about a girl. Generally she doesn't do what every indication says she will and then, besides, she might like him and not love him."

"It seems to me," said the young woman, "that if I were a man I could tell whether or not a girl cared for me."

"Could you?" asked the young man, doubtfully. "Now, I couldn't. I'm like my friend that way."

"Well," said the young woman, "the easiest way to find out would be to ask her."

"That's the trouble," he said. "My friend is afraid to."

The young woman laughed. "What on earth is he afraid of?" she inquired.

"Well," said the young man, "you see, he does care a lot about her and if she won't marry him he gets a little

Marshall & Ball Clothing—The Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear.

Boys' Fall Clothing

—Of the Better Sort—

Marshall & Ball Clothing for Boys has always been in a class by itself—above the ordinary garments that are provided for youngsters by most manufacturing clothiers.

That's because we've always given just as strict attention to style, fit and workmanship in making boys' apparel as we have to men's.

M. & B. Clothes for Boys possess individuality—that pleases the little men. The inner parts are so tailored that they stand the roughest sort of usage—that pleases their mothers. Prices always suggest economy—that pleases their fathers.

The newest Fall fabrics are ready, in all the popular styles, for the hard knocks of school days or dress-up occasions.

Prices range from $3 to $16.

Special—Boys' Two-Piece Suits—$5.

Extra Pair of Straight or Bloomer Pants With Each Suit.

Furnishings, Hats, Shoes, for Boys of All Ages.

Open Saturday Evenings as Usual.

ADVICE MUCH NEEDED.

He entered the meteorological service office and said, abruptly, "This here's where you give out weather predictions, ain't it?"

The clerk nodded.

"Well," continued the old man, "I thought as how I could come up and give you some tips."

"Indeed!" said the clerk politely.

"Yes, I've figured on it a little, and I find that ye ain't always right."

"No; we sometimes make mistakes."

"Course you do. We all do sometimes. Now, I was thinkin' as how a line that used to be on the auction handbills down in our county might do fust-rate on your weather predictions, an' save you a lot of explainin'."

"What was the line?"

"Wind and weather permitin'."

He went down without waiting to say good-bye.

Useless.

"I feel," she said, sitting a little closer to him, "that we must have kindred souls."

"Do you?"

"And I am almost sure that the fates must have planned that we should meet."

"Still," he replied, "if they did they might have fixed it up in some pleasant way than by making me spill a pair of $12 trousers trying to get your sparker to work."

"Oh, pshaw!" she said, giving him up in disgust. "If you can't do anything but dwell upon the base, material things of life what's the use of our sitting here running up the electric light bill?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Aids to Memory.

His Wife (at dinner)—John, I wish you would remind me that I am to make out a shopping list this evening.

Her Husband—I will, my dear, if you'll remind me of something.

His Wife—What am I to remind you of?

Her Husband—Of the necessity of my reminding you about the shopping list.—Chicago News.

An Advantage.

"Gee," said the small boy to the bald-headed man, "I wish I was you."

"Why?" asked the man.

"Because I could go swimming whenever I wanted to, and ma couldn't get next by running her hands through my hair to see if it was wet."—Detroit Free Press.

What He Liked.

Our Mariar had been to her first public ball.

"Sarah Jane—Well, tell me, Mariar, and how did you enjoy the ball?"

Mariar—On the whole I liked it very well. I didn't think much of the dancin', but the ugghs was heavenly.

An Old Bachelor's Opinion.

"It is said that the safety pin was invented by a man."

"And I'll wager he was some man whose wife was too busy assisting with the social uplift to keep his trousers properly equipped with buttons."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Russian Press.

First Russian (laying down a native newspaper)—This paper isn't quite so insufferably dull as usual.

Second Russian—No, it's almost interesting. If that editor isn't careful he'll get sent to Siberia.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Ounce of Prevention.

Mrs. Nibbles—Why do you employ that darky to whitewash the hen-coop?

You know he's the most notorious chicken-thief in the neighborhood.

Mr. Nibbles (a practical man)—I want him to see how poor and lean my chickens are.—N. Y. Weekly.

What It Meant.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is meant by the term "open-handed?"

Pa—It is a term, my son, that applies to most men when there is something to be dropped into the hand aforesaid.—Chicago Daily News.

PERSONAL CHARACTERISTICS OF BUGS.

The Beetle—Steady-going, conservative. Lacking in neatness and sensibility. In religion, a hard-shell Baptist.

The Hornet—Sharp and aggressive. Deficient in courtesy and politeness. Never stands on ceremony or anything else; sits down hard. Is nervous, and affects other people the same way.

The Fly—Honest, and affectionate in disposition. A great humorist; tickles some people immensely. Slow to take offense, but quick to dodge a hand.

The Bumblebee—Full to the mandibles of common-sense and industry. Inclined to be loud in conversation, and is something of a bully. Has a warm heart and a red-hot business end.

The Flea—Mercurial and slightly. Cannot be depended on. A great traveler, but stops frequently to take a bite.

The Mosquito—The embodiment of perseverance. Has a longer bill than the plumber, and presents it oftener. Works day and night. Is meek and cheerful under abuse, and sticketh closer than a brother. Never slings when it is full.

The Ant—A hard worker, and cross, as most hard workers are. Very inquisitive, especially as to the texture of trousers and pies. Is fond of picnics when they come in the regular line of business. Enjoys a good fight, and can carry off more boodle at a lift than an alderman.

Not for Him.

"You didn't seem to be particularly interested in Miss Parkleson," said the inveterate matchmaker. "I had hoped you would like her."

"I liked her pretty well," replied the widower, "and she was very entertaining and all that, but I noticed that she had a projecting chin. My first wife had that kind. It's a pity that so pretty a woman should be disgraced in that way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Keeping Them Under.

Friend—One of your clerks tells me you raised his salary and told him to get married, under penalty of discharge.

Business Man—Yes, I do that to all my clerks when they get old enough to marry. I don't want any of your independent, conceited men about my place.

His Fatal Mistake.

Fred—So she turned you down, eh?

Joe—Yes. I made the mistake of confessing that my heart was in my mouth when I proposed.

Fred—What had that to do with it?

Joe—Oh, she said she couldn't think of marrying a man whose heart wasn't in the right place.—Chicago Daily News.

The Other Side of the Question.

"Do you regard the railroads with disfavor?"

"My friend," answered Senator Sorghum, "I cannot yet bring myself to feel that my opinion in such a matter is important. My comfort still depends very largely on whether or not the railroads regard me with disfavor."—Washington Star.

Underestimated His Powers.

"Yes, I was out in all that storm. My raincoat was soaked and—"

"But you can't soak a raincoat, you know?"

"I can't, hey? Here's the check for it."—Chicago Tribune.

No Secret.

"Do tell me, Mrs. Mannidge, how you succeed in keeping your hired help so long?"

"By letting them merely help. I really do the work, you know."—Chicago Tribune.

Easy.

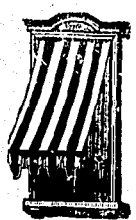

The New Office Boy—But what do you do when you ain't got no more gran-mamma to die?

The Old Office Boy—Oh, granddad, to marry again.—Cleveland Leader.

GROOMING COUNTS

But it cannot make a fair skin or a glossy coat.

Women with good complexions cannot be homely. Creams, lotions, washes and powders cannot make a fair skin. Every horseman knows that the skin coat of his thoroughbred comes from the animal's "built-right" condition. Let the horse get "off his feed" and his coat turns dull. Caring, brushing and rubbing will give him a clean coat, but cannot produce the coveted smoothness and gloss of the horse's skin, which is his complexion. The ladies will see the point.

Is the best preparation for ladies who desire a gentle laxative medicine that will give the body perfect cleanliness internally and the wholesome skin that produces such skins as painters love to copy.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE.

CONEY'S MARDI GRAS.

"The Carnival of States" to be This Year's Feature of the Big Carnival.

Coney Island's Mardi Gras and Fall Festival Celebration will be held this year during the week of Sept. 10 and will continue for six days. There will be large and gorgeous parades every night, and every afternoon special parades will be held.

This year's carnival is called "The Carnival of States" and the leading floats will number thirteen and will represent the first thirteen states in the Union. The Industrial section of the parade will be as magnificent as the first section. There will be many organizations in the parades and a great many bands.

Coney Island will be policed by 1,000 blue coats to insure perfect order. Ticklers as they are called, which are nothing more than long feather dusters, have been barred by the police as they have proved annoying to the public. But the use of confetti will not be restricted and masks and tin horns will be in abundance.

Proctor's, Newark.

With the regular season in full swing, the program offered at Proctor's Newark is far in advance of any aggregation seen in this vicinity. Special attention will be given to pleasing ladies and little folks. During the coming vaudeville season, Bellechre Bros., The Pignays, Paul Kleist, Berners Mannilins, DeLeon Troggs, Sandwino, Willie Pantzer, Erpette, Lind, Ruffus Monkeys, Elnde Capitano, Kitabauvi Japs, Urbania & Son, Pattys Bears, Carlotta, Kitammas Japs, Plochiari Troup, Almont & Dumon, Camellie Trio, Holden Manilins, Hassan Ben All's Arabs, Watsons Barnyard Zennettes, Ed. Clark & Widows, will show. Gallagher & Barretti, Gracie Emmett & Co., Willard Simms, Elmore Sisters, Irving Jones, Foy & Clark, Harry Galford, Tighes Colligians, Pullman Maids, Ben Welch, Electric Crickets, Fred Ray & Co., Edward Davis & Co., Walter C. Kelly, E. F. Harney & Co., Fanny Rice, Rice & Prevest, Julius Steger & Co., Rocking Chair Girl, Ed. Reynard, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, Emil Hoch & Co., Robert Hallard, Judie McCree & Co., Piano Phields, Volere Bergere, Palletiss. A weekly change of Motion Pictures descriptive of scenes occurring in every day life, both ludicrous and sad, and almost impossible dissolving views will be shown.

New Plainfield Theatre.

Marie Cahill, in "Marrying Mary" will come to the Plainfield Theatre Wednesday Sept. 11th, after her long run at Daly's Theatre, New York, where she broke all the old records for business established by "The Geisha" and "The Runaway Girl" at a time when the capacity of that famous old theatre was larger than it is now, the change being due to alterations.

In Miss Cahill's very strong supporting company is Eugene Cowles. The famous "Long-skirted" chorons which can really sing is also with Miss Cahill.

A stirring portrayal of the passions which make up a woman's life is given by Alberta Gallatin in her presentation of the part of "Judith" in the new play "Judith of the Plains." Bringing into requisition all the great gifts of which she is possessed, her interpretation is masterful, and one that positively stamps her as an actress belonging in the first rank. Her work will surely meet with the recognition that it deserves. "Judith of the Plains" by Mary T. Stone, author of the great success "The Social Highwayman," will be presented on Tuesday, September 10 at the Plainfield Theatre by Eldridge & Meakin, who have supplied an excellent company to support Alberta Gallatin, besides two carloads of specially prepared stage settings and properties from the studios of Joseph Phisoc and the Brunton Brothers of New York City.

JUGULAR JESTS.

A Few of the Notables Who Have Been Treated by Dr. Toucey During the Past Week.

Thomas Cathcart, who spends his working hours pitching hay, and his rest periods in quest of novel tones, came to town last Saturday evening to buy a brace or two. Cathcart got so well braced in the course of a few hours that he felt the need of a place to snooze, and not being a bit particular, spread himself on the lot in the rear of Powers' Hotel. Here he was found, at 1 a. m., by Officer McCarthy, and escorted to the Elm street lodging house.

Unconscious of his surroundings, Cathcart slept like a child until 6 a. m. Sunday, when Dr. Toucey arrived and woke him up. He explained to the doctor that he was all right and would go over to the house and return after dinner.

"You see," he said, "I only live just below here, near Collins."

When informed that he was in the jug and two-and-a-half-miles from home he actually woke up, and expressed his surprise. He was sent back to the borough, and the six bottles of "Lemonade" which he had in his pockets were ordered confiscated by the court.

Four farmhands, employed at the Mayer farm, on the Railway Road, got into a drunken brawl Saturday night. The men used knives to settle their differences and one was badly cut about the face. The police were summoned to the place, and the men were taken to the lockup. Dr. Kluch was called and took care of the injured man. He refused to make a complaint and was sent home. The other three were fined $10 each for violating the peace ordinance.

W. P. Jeroleman, of Plainfield, was very much under the weather yesterday and had to be taken to the jug. Sleep made him feel better, and Jude Toucey took pity on him and let him go with a warning.

"You're a harmless jug, Jerry, so I'll be easy with you this time," said the magistrate. "When you stray out of Plainfield again, keep sober, or you may not get back within forty days."

Literary Note.

The forthcoming October issue of New Shakespeareana will contain further chapters of Dr. Appleton Morgan's Autobiography, and will carry his reminiscences into the thick of the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy and the Donnelly cipher episode thereof. Dr. Morgan's relations to M. Donnelly, etc. etc. This will be especially interesting to those readers of the "Standard" who remember Dr. Morgan's communication to us of February last, which seemed to indicate that Dr. Morgan was a believer in the Baconian Authorship of the Shakespeare plays. While this installment of Autobiography will possibly disappoint the Baconians it will at least comfort those who are still "on the fence" as to this greatest literary question of the day. The Departments of Marginalia and Textual Criticism are, as usual, full of meat, and the Department of Book Notices lists all volumes on Shakespeare matters since the July issue and estimates their value to the faithful Shakespearean student.

A LASTING EFFECT

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in New Jersey.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer, but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what is wanted. Once it is so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here is the strongest evidence to prove it.

William Pamyca, Junior, of the Bethany M. E. Church, living at 70 Bayard street, Trenton, N. J., says: "I still think as favorably of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did in 1897, when I followed a testimonial to be published relating my experience. Before I used this remedy I suffered for a year or so with my kidneys, and there was an almost steady pain in the small of my back and through the muscles of the hips. Sometimes the pain extended around to the lower part of the abdomen, and very often it was simply torture to reach out to stoop or lift anything. Doan's Kidney Pills being recommended to me, I got a box, and as I started at that time, they justified all the recommendations I had heard. The benefit has been lasting and for this reason I am glad to recommend them again."

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Doan's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys, and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. G. W. Frutchey, Druggist.

There are many good reasons why one should take a course in a Business College, and there are many special reasons why you should attend this particular school. Reasons: 1. Tenth year begins September 8. 2. Twenty new typewriting machines. 3. The best system of shorthand and bookkeeping. 4. Rapid calculation, writing of business letters, business penmanship, business law, business arithmetic, spelling, etc. 5. Students in Commercial Department keep bank account, draw checks, discounts, notes, pay drafts, send out statements, receipts, etc. 6. Draw up deeds, leases, contracts and do hundreds of other things which every man and woman should know how to do. 7. Write for terms. We are unable to supply half the calls made upon us by business men for our graduates. At the present time we do not know of a single graduate of the school who is out of work.
