Mr. Hohenstein's Statement

To the Voters of the Second Ward.

Gentlemen: For election of Councilman, I earnestly ask your support regardless of party lines, and if elected I will look after the interests of the Second Ward and the town in general, the same as I have done for the past two years. My motto will be hereafter the same as it has been for the past, to be no man's man, no favors to the few, but equal rights for all. My aim has been to work only for the best interests of the people. I can conscientiously say that I have done my duty to the people. I am willing to stand on my last two year's record, and leave my re-election in the hands of my constituents of the Second Ward. I assure you your confidence will not be misplaced, as I will do my best to be worthy of it. Therefore I most earnestly ask you again to vote for a man who has been tried, and not found wanting, to work for the best interests of the people of this town.

Yours respectfully,

R. F. HOHENSTEIN.

DEMOCRATS HOLD LIVELY MEETING AT HEADQUARTERS.

Senator Williams Makes Earnest Talk, and Barber Makes Votes for Fowler.

The Democratic headquarters in the Wohlfort building was the scene of a lively political rally last Tuesday night, which was attended by all the available party workers in town. The hall was packed to the doors, and the crowd couldn't get enough speech making. There was plenty of real enthusiasm despite the lowering clouds of Bryan's defeat. Hon. Edward L. Williams, the former State Senator of Georgia, Dr. Isaac Barber, the Democratic candidate for congress, and former Mayor Furber, of Rahway, were the speakers. Former State Senator Crawford Whentley, of Georgia, a cousin of Major Whentley, and J. E. Lippincott, chairman of the Democratic State Auxiliary Committee, were present, but did not get an opportunity to address the voters because Mayor Butler, talked issues material and otherwise until far into the night.

Mayor Furber was the last speaker on the program. He was a Republican mayor of Rahway, but because of differences with his party he recently withdrew from the Republican ranks, and joined hands with the Democrats in the hope of securing the election of W. J. Bryan. Furber is a good campaigner. He talks with a great deal of earnestness, and he had the crowd going from the start. He told why he had quit the Republican party, and his reasons were purely local. He said that the Republican party of Rahway did not like him because he was independent, and he enumerated a number of instances in which he alleged he had not had a square deal.

Dr. Barber is not the most formidable candidate that the Democratic party could have nominated for congress. When contrasted with Mr. Fowler his qualifications for office diminish at a ratio of sixteen to one. This the Doctor very admirably demonstrated in his very brief talk, in which he dwelt with much emphasis on his opposition to Mr. Fowler's "rubber currency." The Doctor pledged himself to support all the principles of the Democratic platform. He poked fun at the full dinner pail and decried the immigration of Asiatics to this country.

Former State Senator E. F. Williams, of Georgia, who is a candidate for election, dwelt on the issues of the campaign, speaking against the tariff and the protective tariff and urging tariff reform. His remarks were very favorably received, and roundly applauded. Major Whentley, president of the local Democratic Club, presided at the meeting, and introduced the speakers.

THOUSANDS CHEER TAFT.

Lyceum Theatre Crowded to Doors, and a Bigger Crowd on the Streets.

APPEALS TO LABORING MEN.

National Candidate Explains His Actions While on the Bench--Governor Fort Makes Rousing Speech.

Eight thousand people, among them many women, greeted the next president of the United States, at Elizabeth, Monday morning, when William Howard Taft, on a whirlwind tour of the state, spoke for forty minutes in the Lyceum Theatre. The theatre was crowded to the doors; and outside, in the halls, and on the streets there was a crowd of at least 4,000, who unable to hear the speaker, stood around anxiously waiting to get a good look at him.

While Colonel William H. Fairless, of Virginia, was speaking, Candidate Taft entered the hall accompanied by United States Senator John Kean, State Chairman, Franklin Murphy, County Chairman, Frank H. Smith, State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, and the Honorable Charles N. Coddling. A mighty cheer went up, as the band struck up "See the Conquering Hero Comes!" and the national candidate walked slowly down the aisle nodding and bowing in all directions. When Mr. Taft came upon the platform, Governor John Franklin Fort, who was chairman of the meeting, and had previously made a rousing speech in which he had referred to Mr. Taft as one of the greatest statesmen of the day, rose to greet him, and the crowd stood up on their feet and cheered and yelled for three minutes.

After a few more remarks by Colonel Fairless Mr. Taft was presented by Governor Fort. His presentation was not by way of an introduction, but more in the way of a fraternal greeting. Mr. Taft's voice showed the effects of the terrible strain of his long and arduous campaign, but his enunciation was perfect, and though, as he said, he frequently spoke in the upper register, he could be distinctly heard in any part of the big auditorium.

Mr. Taft directed his remarks to the laboring people, and dwelt forcibly on the issues of the campaign in this particular. The Employers Liability Act was commented upon as a step in the direction of labor legislation, but Mr. Taft emphasized particularly the decision rendered by him effecting labor disputes while he was on the bench. These decisions had been criticised, as being offensive to labor by the Democratic party.

"It is argued," said Mr. Taft, "that while the Candidate was on the bench he was unfair to labor. It is true that while I was on the bench I tried to be a judge, and when a plaintiff came to me with a question of fact and asked for an injunction I granted it if he was entitled to it, no matter whether he was a labor man or not, and if the mandate of the law was not obeyed, somebody got hurt. If your candidate had made any distinction between any interests, he would not deserve your suffrage."

Mr. Taft cited three cases in which he had acted as Judge in Labor disputes. His decision had been attacked by the Democrats, but in each case the correctness of his conclusion had been admitted.

The item in question was printed in the issue of May 9, 1908: "Major Walter K. "CITS" ON THE WAR PATH.

Conference With Attorney Frank Bergen, Wednesday Night Did Not Produce Results.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST MANAGER DOWD.

Which Lawyer for Water Co. Is Inclined to Disregard--Muddled in Hot Altercation With Corporation Magnate.

There was a lively time in the town rooms Wednesday night when members of the Town Council and the special citizens' committee met with Frank Bergen, the counsel for the Union Water Company, to consider the allegations made against the agents of the company in this place. The conference was made possible through the protest filed by James S. Johnson, of Harrison avenue, against the local manager, Thomas Dowd, at whose orders the water pipes connecting the home of Mr. Johnson were torn up from the street, and the connection had to be made again by Mr. Johnson at his own expense.

The controversy involved the irregularities of the local manager in enforcing a rule which says that all consumers must pay their bills in advance. Mr. Johnson's contention was based on the fact that he had received a bill every six months, and that as he had been accustomed to pay the bill at his leisure any time within that period without any protest from the company. It seems that in the payment of his last bill, he did not wait as long as he had in the previous payment, but on the day on which he sent his check the pipes were torn up without any notification. Mr. Dowd, it is said, refused to reconnect him, and Mr. Johnson had to pay plumber McVoy some $6.00 for this work.

Mr. Johnson reviewed the case Wednesday night before the Council in the presence of Lawyer Bergen. George T. Grattenden, of Highland avenue, also spoke, declaring that he had not paid his July water bill until December, without molestation, and many other citizens.

Mr. Dietz, of their dealings with...

He declared that he had been inconsiderate in his treatment. Mr. Bergen said that he had received different information on the subject and was not inclined to believe any of the stories told. He said that he did not feel qualified to pass on the question at this time, but if it could be shown that Mr. Dowd had acted wrongly he would discharge him.

To the complaint that the Water Company was receiving too much money for the amount of water consumed, Mr. Bergen positively refused to consider the matter of placing water meters in Westfield. He declared very emphatically that the company would not put them in. He thought that the rates were very low here, and that the service was good. He said that the best thing that had happened to Westfield was the coming of the Water Company here. He promised that any streets that seemingly had been neglected by the company in laying pipes and making other repairs would be put in tip top shape.

The meeting was far from being tame. There was a hot altercation between Councilman Middleditch and Lawyer Bergen. Councilman Middleditch, as chairman of the Law Committee, acted as inquisitor at the hearing, and his complaint was that Mr. Dowd was impolite and discourteous to local patrons. This Mr. Bergen partly affirmed and partly denied. He admitted that Mr. Dowd was not polite in dealing with patrons, but he said that he was always fair. This statement somewhat nettled Mr. Coffin, of the Citizens Committee, and others of those present who scouted the idea of Mr. Dowd's fairness.

The meeting concluded with no understanding reached, and the citizens are still on the war path. There is talk of forming an organization to combat public utility corporations, and the question of organizing a municipal plant has been revived. The citizens declare that they can get absolutely no satisfaction out of the company, and they think that it must be possible for them to secure redress in one way or another. It is very emphatically stated that the controversy will not end, but that the citizens will keep tabs on the company, and vigorously prosecute their case.

G. O. P.'S RALLY ROUND THE PARTY BANNER.

Congressman Fowler and Senator Ackerman Speak to Large Audiences at Westfield Club Hall.

COUNTY CANDIDATES HEARD.

Town Takes on Its Old Time Presidential Coloring at First Big Republican Mass Meeting.

The town took on a real Presidential campaign coloring Monday night when the first big Republican mass meeting was held in the Westfield Club Hall. Congressman Charles N. Fowler and State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman were the principal speakers, and Robert T. Kirlaud, candidate for sheriff, Carlton B. Pierce, A. F. Kirstein and Augustus Schwartz, the Assembly candidates, also spoke. A. H. Lack, chairman of the Taft and Sherman Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held, presided. The hall and gallery were filled with enthusiastic Republicans and Anti-Bryanites, and the presence of the county leader of the Democracy, and several local leaders were noted with much pleasure. They all sat in wrapt attention while Congressman Fowler made clear the issues of the present campaign, and defined his stand on currency and banking.

Before the speech making began the audience was in a receptive mood. Professor Harry Wetton's Orchestra kept them going with selections from the latest musical hits on Broadway; and the Sturgis Brother's Quartette sang plantation songs. Genial Gene Hanford, from a seat by the side curtain, occasionally arose and bowed profoundly to his auditors, by way of...

...fundamentals "Shall righteousness prevail?" "Yes," he said, "The Democratic party has preached righteousness right along, the Republican party has practiced it." The object of the Republican party was to continue righteous government by the righteous rule of William Taft. He then introduced Senator Ernest R. Ackerman.

The Senator spoke briefly on his pleasure in coming to Westfield, and what a great honor it was to represent such a county as Union in the highest branch of the legislation. Territorially, he said, Union was a small county, but it was a tremendously large county in respect to its industries and wealth. He referred to the state as a great corporation in which every citizen was a stockholder, and said that the duty of the voters was to appoint such directors to office as would manage the affairs of the great corporation ably and well. He made reference to his civil service bill, and said that over 7,000 employees in the state, who held positions, were working under civil service rules.

Congressman Fowler made the principal address of the evening. He was warmly received by the audience. In speaking with reference to what Senator Ackerman had said of the state as a big corporation, and the voter as a stockholder, he said, that in his opinion, the voter was more than a stockholder. A more sacred trust was involved in citizenship than in mere stockholdership. He thought that there ought to be a penalty attached for failure to vote. "I think," said Congressman Fowler, "that the citizen who plays golf in preference to voting ought to be fined, and that a citizen who is willing to let William Jennings Bryan be elected by default ought to be imprisoned." (Laughter and applause.)

Congressman Fowler spoke of the three great periods in American history, and of the three great statesmen, who had come to the front in these periods: Washington, he said, as the wisest ruler; Lincoln as the best beloved ruler; and in the present crisis, William Howard Taft, who combines the qualities of America's two greatest statesmen. In order to impress his auditors with the necessity of electing a man with judicial habits of mind to the presidency in this crisis of our affairs, Congressman Fowler...

FIVE HUNDRED SUNDAY-SCHOOL

WORKERS AT ANNUAL MEETING.

Nearly five hundred delegates and Sunday-school workers of Union county attended the twenty-eighth convention of the Union County Sunday-schools

Association, yesterday, in the Presbyterian church. The Rev. J. M. Stiller, pastor of the Roselle Baptist church, and president of the association, presided.

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock with an address of welcome by Rev. Dr. W. I. Stearns, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The report of the secretary and treasurer, R. P. Greaves of Westfield, showed the association's membership, having at present 122 Sunday-schools in the association, with 2,571 officers and teachers and 26,483 pupils.

James E. Church, State Superintendent of the adult class department, told of the organized class work, and Rev.

Henry C. Cronin, pastor of the second Presbyterian church of Jersey City, made the principle address of the session. His theme was "Does It Pay," in which he answered the question in the affirmative by citing the effective work done by Sunday-schools and declaring that the future of the State dependent upon the extension of this work.

Rev. C. J. Greenwood, pastor of the Baptist church, opened the afternoon session with devotional exercises, followed by an address by Rev. E. Morris

Ferguson, the general secretary on

"Fifty Years of Sunday-school Progress."

Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes conducted a service of song at the evening session.

The speaker of the evening was Rev.

A. H. McKinney, of Newark, who gave an eloquent talk on "The Twentieth Century Sunday-school Worker's Vision."

The Spinsters' Return.

"The Spinsters' Return," which, it is said, is a side splitter, will be given under the auspices of the Dorcas Society, in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, November 6. The talent will be local, and the many rehearsals of the parts have convinced thereof, in charge that "The Spinsters' Return" will be the hit of the season in comedy. The heroine has been selected, but her name will not be made known until later.

Notes by C. S. Howell in the Chess Weekly.

(a) One-third of Lasker's moves in this game are Queen moves, yet strange to say, there is no waste of time but instead a simple elegance that makes the game a masterpiece of Queen strategy.

(b) Committing his K to the middle of the board and danger. (c) To stop P-K4. (d) To protect the Kt-P. (e) In playing this, it would seem that Tarrasch must have overlooked the force of White's 24th move. There seems to be nothing to do, however.

(f) If 23—Q-Kt2; 24. Q-B4 wins as easily as against the text move. (g) Crushing and leaving no defence. (h) White threatened B-B6ch.

G. O. P. RALLY.

ler pointed out the great issues with which the next president of the United States would have to deal: The tariff, he said must be revised; the principles of the regulation of the railroad of the country must be enforced with intelligence and justice; corporations must be controlled with a like show of intelligence; the Philippine Islands must be continued under our government; the great canal must be built; the Merchant Marine must be established; the Supreme Court reorganized with five appointments; and we must have a banking and currency system commensurate with the needs of the government. All these must be worked out through the wisdom of the chief magistrate. In the opinion of Congressman Fowler there was not a man in this country so well fitted for this work as William Howard Taft.

Mr. Fowler dwelt at length on his program for currency reform, in which he showed the enormous development of our industries and the corresponding growth of our national resources. He took the Democrats to task for charging Theodore Roosevelt with having caused the recent panic. He explained that the panic was due to two causes: first, economic waste, due to the destruction of property by floods, fire, earthquakes, etc.; second, the development of industries, which had further decreased the supply of money. The amount of money in circulation not being nearly so large as the amount of actual business transacted at the first show of uncertainty in the money market occasioned by the failure of banks, the situation became panicky and the people lost confidence. The lack of money supply was then sorely felt, and there followed a period of retrenchment, with the result that a total collapse occurred. In this connection Congressman Fowler reviewed his plan for currency legislation. He said that our present currency system was weak in the particular that in the times preceding the panic there was no provision made for a rehabilitation of the money market. Through the issue of notes of credit Mr. Fowler held, as in the case of the present panic, where New York owed the West $3,000,000 that, if it had been possible for the New York bank to issue a credit note to the West which might have been circulated there as money backed by the collateral of the bank, the stringency in the money market would have been avoided.

Mr. Fowler also spoke of the great banking resources of the country, and advocated instead of the central bank as in France, this country should invest the power of the management of banks in a given district or section to a Board of Managers. This feature in a banking system, he said, would make it more efficient and more reliable. He also pointed out the danger of those questionable methods being continued to a point where they would shake public confidence. Through a Board of Managers too, he declared, politics would be eliminated.

Candidate Kirkland, and the Assembly nominees, arrived at the meeting from Roselle, where they had been speaking to a large audience. The candidate for sheriff made a very earnest speech, in which he sought the support of local Republicans. Mr. Kirstein defended his record in the last session of the Legislature. In his remarks, Mr. Pierce voiced the sentiments of the other speakers and thanked his Westfield friends for their support. Mr. Schwartz urged upon the citizens the necessity of getting out to the polls on election day, and polling a big vote for the Republican ticket.

It's Prof. Charles R. Foster Now.

Charles R. Foster, a former resident of Westfield, and a graduate of Westfield High School and Yale College, has accepted a position as teacher of English and Latin in the Boys' Preparatory School, at Baltimore.

Prof. Foster, as he will now be called, was second high man in his class at Westfield, and he had a high standing in the class at Yale. After graduating from that institution in 1902, he accepted a position with the Gorham Manufacturing Company, of New York. Recently he resigned his position with that firm to take up the profession of teaching, for which he is fitted by temperament and training. He is a member of the I. O. S.

A Jeweler's Experience.

C. R. Kinger, The Jeweler, 1000 Virginia ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other medicines had failed. Gate's Pharmacy avoided."

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO READ THIS WINTER?

What are you going to read, and how are you going to read? The second question is all but unimportant. The first is of the greatest importance. Consideration as well as the first.

One may read to kill time, for pleasure or for profit; or one may kill time, find pleasure, and gain a profit at the same time.

Printed matter is good, bad, or indifferent; real literature is always good although some of what is termed literature may be said to be but indifferently good.

Our Public Library contains both printed matter and literature; the literature is, for the most part, of the best, and there is nothing which is less than good.

Reading may be dislatory, or definite; dislatory reading is of value when mingled with purposeful reading to give the latter a background, or as a temporary diversion, or to relieve the restlessness and appease the desire to roam which occasionally beset the constant reader; dislatory readings end in itself can only be harmful.

There is a tendency to read too much and too think too little; to read the trivial rather than the important; to read to forget rather than to remember; and that which is short and spicy in preference to that which requires sustained attention; the most of our newspaper, and much of magazine reading, is of this sort.

If you are not already doing so why not try to make your reading, during the long winter evenings, purposeful and profitable, as well as interesting? Consult your tastes and preferences and lay out a course of reading; be careful not to make it a burden by attempting too much; having selected your subject read as long as your interest remains keen—almost anyone can read two volumes, many can read three, and a few can read four or five without losing their interest—then take up something light, or at least change the subject matter, and then go back again to your course.

Whether it be History, or Travel, or Art, or Music, or Biography, or Politics, or Fiction, or Philosophy, or Religion you will find something on the subject in the Public Library; the library may not always have the particular volume you wish, but you will find plenty of interesting books on these, and other subjects, and other volumes will be added from time to time as funds are available.

Do not make a hash of your reading; absorb it in courses; few can advance giously read with the trouble or at most two subjects at the same time; if you are biographically, interested in biography stick to it, and do not mix indiscriminately with it fiction, art, philosophy, if a lot of aimless magazine reading; if you are in doubt as to the books you want consult the librarian, who will be very glad to advise and assist in making up a list of books on any subject you may select.

The value of the Public Library is measured by its value to you; its value to you is determined by the use you make of it; it is possible for you to make its value inestimable.

A GOOD REASON.

Westfield People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Westfield people testify to permanent cures.

W. L. Randall, living at 60 Central St., Westfield, N. J., says: "Prior to using Doan's Kidney Pills, my back troubled me for a long time. There was also a constant pain in my loins and I seemed to be growing worse day by day. I tried many different remedies in an effort to find relief, but was unsuccessful until a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Frutcheys' Pharmacy. Since using them, I have been enjoying excellent health and will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a good reliable remedy for diseased kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Sneak Thieves Steal Bread.

Bread placed by a Garwood baker in front of McMahon's grocery store on Broad street, early Tuesday morning, to be distributed among local patrons, was stolen it is supposed by three boys who were driving a covered wagon. A colored boy, who was coming out of Arnold's restaurant, across the street, says that he saw the three boys jump hastily into the wagon in front of McMahon's store and drive off down Westfield avenue. The wagon had a cloth covering of green, he declares.

The police are working on the case, and hope to land the guilty parties, who are thought to be sneak thieves.

In Memoriam.

Miss Martha Miller whose sudden death occurred at her home 43 Central avenue on September 15th, was the daughter of Erastus and Eliza Miller. She was born at Scotch Plains in 1840. Her parents moved to Westfield when she was but a child, and here she has spent her entire life. Possibly no private individual was better known in Westfield than Miss Martha Miller. Those who knew her best loved her most, and we would pay to her memory in this our last tribute, the fullest, possible service of love and respect. She became a Christian in early life, and united with the Baptist Church, and has ever adorned the profession she made.

Her life work was quietly performed along the line of duty and bore rich fruit in the church and community, and especially in her own home, where, for a number of years, her willing hands kindly administered to an invalid mother and sister, and smoothed the pathway for the declining years of her father.

Our thoughts take an upward flight, as we think of the glad welcome and reunion with her loved ones.

In her well worn Bible which was her daily companion, was found a card of dedication, a part of which reads, "I take Jesus the Son of God as my Savior. The Word of God to be my rule. I likewise dedicate my whole self to the Lord. This I do deliberately, sincerely, freely, and forever." Signed Martha Miller, October 3, 1860. Was not this the true secret of her well spent life?

She had been in delicate health some time yet none thought the end so near. The summons came unexpectedly, and was a great shock to her friends, especially to her brothers, David E., and A. Judson Miller, who survive her. The funeral services were held at the old homestead, where she had resided so long. Then tenderly she was laid to rest in the family plot at Fairview, her nephews, Arby, Charles, Ira and Melvina Miller, acting as pall bearers.

Farewell our cherished loved one, Our partings will soon be o'er, Then, Oh what a joyous meeting Awaits us on yonder shore. Earth's storms will all be over And we shall safely be, At home with our dear loving Saviour, Through all Eternity.

Mrs. W. H. McCANNON.

MARATHON'S DOWN CRANFORD

Local Football Eleven Put Quietus on Cranford Club's Team by Score of 5-0.

The Marathon Athletic Association pigskin chasers, met and defeated the strong Cranford Canoe Club eleven, last Saturday at Cranford, by the score of 5-0. The local warriors had their own way from the start, and the Cranford team was kept continually on the defensive. The locals scored in the first half on a quarter back run. There was a great deal of kicking on the part of the Cranford team, which prolonged the game unnecessarily. McCutcheon put up a star game for the locals, and Captain Malcolm Marsh also proved himself one of the up-and-doing kind.

The line-up of the M. A. A. was as follows: left end, R. Jackson; left tackle, L. Dallas; left guard, H. Bull; centre, H. Lambert; right guard, H. Otto; right tackle, W. Wells; right end, A. Martell; quarter back, McCutcheon; left half back, M. Marsh; (capt.); full back, T. Knight; right half back, J. Bush.

Tunnel to Connect With Central R.R.

There's no telling what the population of Westfield will be in 1910. The rapid growth of the town in the past five years will be eclipsed unless the prognostications of local real estate men, which have heretofore been accurate, are, by a freak of fate, turned topsyturvy. For local commuters are to be benefited by the McAdoo tunnel, and by next Spring passengers on the New Jersey Central will save nearly thirty minutes in crossing the Hudson river.

Announcement has just been made by W. G. McAdoo, president of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Company, that his company plans to build an extension from the Pennsylvania railroad in Jersey City to the Communipaw station of the New Jersey Central.

ADVERTISE

In the "Standard"

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

Regular meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, held on Thursday, October 1, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock P. M.

The following members were present: Director King, Freeholders Adams, Cady, Clark, Darby, Doane, Jones, Krouse, Meisel, Meisel, Perry, Pierson, Robinson, Smith, Stephan, Swain, Wilbur and Woodruff—18.
Absent—Freeholders Fay and Meisner—2.

On motion of Freeholder Cady it was ordered that the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting be dispensed with, and that they be approved as per printed copies on the member's desks.

COMMUNICATIONS

From John P. Kennel, City Clerk of the City of Elizabeth, and certified to by him, the following copy of a preamble and resolutions adopted by the Elizabeth City Council at a meeting held September 1, 1908.

By Councilman Nugent:
Whereas, The Morris County Traction Company having partly constructed its trolley line to within a short distance of the city line on Morris avenue; and
Whereas, The completion of said line would be a valuable aid in the bringing into this city of many passengers who would help to increase the trade of local merchants and add to the growth of the city; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Chosen Freeholders who granted this franchise be requested to appoint a committee to confer and co-operate with our Committee on Railroads and Street Railways for the purpose of ascertaining the reason why said street railway is unfinished, and for the further purpose of facilitating, if possible, the completion of this necessary improvement; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded forthwith to the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Freeholder Pierson moved that the communication be received and referred to a special committee of three: which was so ordered.

The Director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Pierson, Meisel and Cady.

The following petition was presented and read:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen:—We, the undersigned citizens and property-owners of the township of Clark, do hereby petition your honorable body to adopt the road laid from Clark township to Cranford and known as the extension of Walnut avenue, in the township of Cranford, as a county road for the purpose of having said road rebuilt under the State Aid Road Act.

We represent to your honorable body that the said road is a connecting link between both townships and one continuously used for traffic.

The above petition was signed by F. C. Grube, William J. Thompson, Marx Kiebel and twelve others.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse, received and referred to County Road Committee.

The following petition was presented and read:

To the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: The undersigned property owners of the township of Cranford respectfully petition your honorable body to adopt or take over, and improve by laying out and macadamizing or otherwise approved pavement, the road known as Walnut avenue, south to the township line, and thence to Clark township to meet the present macadamized county road now in that township, representing and showing to your honorable body that such improvement of said road would be for the great benefit of the county of Union as a whole as well as the section traversed thereby, furnishing as it will a direct route by good road across the county from the present county road in Cranford township to Clark and the city of Rahway, a road improvement very greatly needed and which will be of much value.

The above petition was signed by Frederick W. Clark, James S. Smith, Edwin G. Woodling, E. K. Adams and twenty-six others.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse received and referred to the county road committee.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the jail committee.
To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J.

Gentlemen: Your committee on jail inspection would respectfully report that it has inspected the jail and the books of the warden, and finds that 80 prisoners have been committed during the month of September; number in jail October 1, 58; daily average during September, 61 9-30; treated by Physician, 11.

Your committee would again call your attention to the need of an isolation ward. Such a ward could be used to advantage at the present time; a prisoner awaiting trial, and whose life depends upon a little pure air and sunshine could not doubt be saved from a permanent breaking down of health if placed for a time in a ward such as are in use in other county jails; one for the men and one for the women.

Respectfully submitted,
E. K. ADAMS,
J. HERVEY DOANE,
Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Swain, received and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

The Fall and Winter Stocks of the Distinctive Wanamaker Underwear

The Wanamaker gathering of Knit Underwear is quite unlike any other. First, in the matter of variety. A rough calculation shows over 700 different styles in Fall and Winter weights for men, women and children, on our shelves today—a quite extraordinary number. A great many of them you will not find anywhere else, for the simple reason that we have worked the styles out with the manufacturers, to suit our liking, and the preferences of our customers. Few other stores can accomplish this, for they buy through jobbers, while we go direct to the mills with large orders by virtue of the enormous outlet furnished by our New York and Philadelphia stores. And the distinctiveness of Wanamaker underwear reflects the willingness of the manufacturers to adopt our ideas—they like to do so, for it keeps them out of the much-to-be dreaded ruts.

All the little differences that we incorporate into the underwear we sell, make for comfort, and for better wear. Women's Union Suits, for instance—sizes are roomier, right straight through, than the usual garment, and have more "needles," or ribs—hence fit much better than other suits. Dainty trimmings, in designs of our own choosing, appear on many of the vests and drawers. The Underwear for Children is made up according to a set of dimensions that we have worked out ourselves, with extra length in arms and legs, and more fullness in the body of the garment. The Men's Undergarments are better finished than qualities sold at the same price elsewhere.

And the volume of our orders puts us on a par with the wholesalers, that sell to the other retail stores, in the matter of price—in fact, many of the great mills even favor us over the wholesaler, because we bring them directly into touch with the consumer's ideas.

In the splendid Winter stocks now ready, every fabric, every style, that our experience has taught us our customers demand, will be found. The range of prices runs—

In MEN'S UNDERWEAR—Shirts or drawers of cotton at 50c to the finest silk at $17.75 a garment, including merino, wool, linen mesh and ramie fibre.

In WOMEN'S UNDERWEAR from vests or drawers of cotton at 25c to silk at $4.50, including medium and heavy weights. Union Suits—increasingly popular—at 50c to $14.

In CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR from vests, pantalets and drawers of cotton at 20c to 40c, to wool at $1.90 to $2.65, according to size. And a splendid variety of Infant's Wrappers and Bands.

For illustration we single out the following splendid groups:

WOMEN'S UNDERWEAR—White Swiss, silk ribbed silk and merino vests, low neck, sleeveless, at $1; with sleeves, at $1.25; high neck, long or short sleeves, at $1.50 each. Drawers to match, knee or ankle length, $2 a pair.

MEN'S UNDERWEAR AT $1.50—Medium heavy weight "fashioned" merino shirts and drawers. Shirts in sizes 34 to 44; Drawers in sizes 28 to 42. Larger sizes 25c extra.

CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR—A fine quality of heavy weight, natural-color merino vests, pantalets or drawers, 45c to 85c, according to size. Extra heavy, 90 per cent. wool natural-color vests, pantalets or drawers, 55c to $1.35, according to size.

EDUCATION: ITS THEORY AND PRACTICE.

Dr. Savitz Explains Courses of Study in Westfield Public Schools.

THE WORK OF EACH DEPARTMENT.

High School Aims to Give Young People a Liberal Education—A Training School For All.

The course of study in our high school must conform with the state requirements and our high school is regularly inspected by the State Inspector of High Schools. Upon his approval of the work, the state grants a liberal allowance for each teacher which, together with the state money granted for attendance, about thirteen cents (13) for each day attended, pays at least five sixths of the running expense of the High School. Of so much importance is a high school education, that the Legislature recently passed a law making it obligatory upon districts who do not maintain high schools to pay the tuition of its own high school pupils in adjoining districts. The young people of the State of New Jersey are so eager to avail themselves of the opportunity of securing a high school education that many of the high schools in the smaller towns, centers in rural communities, have doubled their enrollment through non-resident students.

Our high school aims to give our young people a liberal education and is in reality a "fitting" school for all. The aim of the school is not merely to prepare students for college, though all may do so who wish. Eight of the sixteen subjects required for graduation are prescribed and eight are elective in a limited sense, at least. Pupils may elect subjects preparing for college, for business, or for a broad, liberal culture. All colleges which admit on certificate are glad to receive our students without examination, who make an average of 93%. Our students have passed entrance examinations for Princeton, Yale, Stevens, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Columbia, Barnard, as well as those prescribed by the College Entrance Board, admitting to all the colleges. At the present time students prepared wholly in our high school are in Stevens, Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, Barnard, Lehigh, Cornell, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Rutgers, New York University, Pennsylvania State College, Ethical Culture School, the Montclair Normal School and a number of professional schools. All the boys in the class of 1908 have entered college and more than 60% of the members of the class are in higher institutions of learning.

The present high school local gladiators play opponents off their feet in Second Hall.

The Marathon Athletic Association team was again victorious Saturday when they vanquished the team of Roselle, N. J.

The figures indicate the number of recitations. A unit consists of 200 recitations. Four units are required to be promoted to the next higher class. Sixteen units are necessary to graduate. Pupils cannot take less than three nor more than six units in one year. To receive credit, a foreign language must be taken two consecutive years, unless in case of a third language required for college entrance. Solid Geometry and Trigonometry are required of all pupils preparing for college. Not more than three units are allowed for Stenography. A subject in which a pupil fails to maintain an average of D must be repeated. Students who maintain an average of B in all studies throughout the course shall be graduated with honors. In determining the monthly and final marks, examination results shall be averaged with the marks for the month of term. The Principal will be pleased to assist students in arranging courses.

Realizing that a class of forty (40) pupils do not all develop mentally with the same rapidity and regularity, and that more than they do physically, and that even in the same individual there are periods of accelerated and retarded growth and development, provision has been made by a flexible system of grading to meet the varying demands of the children. This not only saves time for the pupils but enables them to obtain an education under circumstances conducive to their physical and mental well-being. Pupils maturing slowly are no longer "mugged" to keep up with those who are maturing more rapidly, nor are the latter worried by waiting for the former. Should some unfortunate thing as illness keep a child from school for a month or so, instead of losing a whole year, he merely loses the time he was out of school, and even this loss may be made up.

A fair will be given at the Westfield Casino, Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 14th, for the benefit of the Children's Country Home. All varieties of articles will be on sale, and there will be entertainments for the children, and ice cream and cake.

The Children's Country Home is a local institution, and has always been encouraged in its work by the generosity of local friends. It is expected that the fair will help to swell the treasury.

All those who wish to donate suitable articles for the fair will please notify any member of the Board of Managers.

Wanamaker's "Home Palatial."

Lovers of art and artistic furnishings thronged the opening Wednesday of the exhibition of the furnishings at the Wanamaker Galleries, which was continued until Sunday night. The unique exhibition had its origin in a long-cherished Wanamaker ideal—to build a structure that should consist of a series of galleries to be devoted entirely to furnishing, decoration and works of art.

The Louis XV. salon, in "The House Palatial" built inside the new Wanamaker store, cost $250,000.

Prohibitionists to Open Headquarters.

Prohibition headquarters will be opened by Willard W. C. T. U. in the hall on Prospect street. Meetings will be held every evening, commencing Saturday, October 24th, and continuing until November 3rd. By means of a graphophone the audience will hear speeches by Eugene W. Chaffin, Prohibition candidate for president, and Prof. Aaron S. Watkins, candidate for vice president of the United States. There will also be songs by Prof. Thatcher, of Boston, and patriotic and popular airs. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to come and hear.

To Celebrate Sixty-First Anniversary.

The sixty-first anniversary of the Newark Orphan Asylum Association will be held at their summer home, the gift of J. Ackerman Coles, at Moon-kauside, next Wednesday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. William I. Stearns, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will make the principal address, and other clergymen of Westfield will be present. Reports of the years' work will be read, and there will be singing and recitations by the children. The general public is cordially invited to attend the exercises.

Debts of the Rich and Poor.

Debts, as a general rule, are harder to be collected from the rich man than from the slave of toil, for the former builds upon his position in society to excuse him from his obligations, while the latter often makes the attempt to discharge his contracts to preserve his standing in the community.

Potatoes a Staple Dish.

Potatoes furnish about one-eighth of the total food of the average American. In other words, he lives on potatoes for nearly one day out of every week. Compared with the 12½ per cent of his diet that is potato, all the other vegetables show up only as a trifle over seven per cent.

The Wise Mother.

Hub—But if you like the young fellow, Kare, why do you object to our daughter marrying him? Wife—Oh, she'll marry him for all that; but I want to give her a chance to say, when they quarrel, that "Mother didn't want me to marry you, anyway."—Boston Transcript.

Pet Dogs' Teeth Filled.

It was discovered at the Pekin palace dog show in London recently that many of the pet dogs had teeth filled and a dentist said that he often attended dogs of his wealthy patrons, and not only filled teeth, but when necessary supplied new ones.

Both Dress Alike.

Both men and women in Lapland dress precisely alike. They wear tunics belted loosely at the waist, tight breeches, wrinkled leather stockings and pointed shoes; their whole appearance, in short, is identical, at least to the casual observer.

Parents are warned against permitting their children to build bonfires in the street or at their homes, owing to the great danger to property and life. The danger of a conflagration is greater at this time than usual, because of the prevailing drought.

To the Voters of the Second Ward:

The GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB of the Second Ward—a non-partisan organization—has endorsed the candidacy of WALTER J. LEE for Councilman. This step was taken after due consideration of the matter and we believe in endorsing his candidacy we are acting for the interests of the ward.

Mr. LEE has been a resident of Westfield for 15 years, is a property owner and has business interests here that keep him in town almost daily and he is fully cognizant of the needs of the ward and the people.

As a builder, Mr. LEE has the respect of all, and particularly the laboring element, as in every instance he employs only town mechanics.

Mr. LEE is a Republican and is the nominee of the Republican party and we believe that he will give the people good government and will not be controlled in his actions by any spirit of partisanship, but will act with the sole desire to advance the interests of Westfield.

Every Second Ward citizen is urged to come to the support of Mr. LEE.
