THE WARD-EDGE COMBINE.

Bergen and Atlantic County Assemblers May Be Made Speaker and Leader.

BAIRD SAYS "I'M FOR MYSELF."

Politicians Think His Waterways Convention Speech Significant—Governor Has Many Appointments to Make.

(Special to the Union County Standard.)

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 23.—As the political lines seem to be tightening for the organization of the Legislature, it appears that Harry P. Warr, of Bergen, and Colonel Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic, are in a stronger position this week than they were last for the posts of House speaker and majority leader, respectively. Although there are 41 Republican members of the House, 21 of them, constituting the majority of a caucus, will determine the contest for honors.

Eleven members from Essex County have already decided to stand as a unit for the Ward-Edge combination, and in addition to this support the Bergen and Atlantic men will surely receive the vote of three members from Camden, two from Morris, five from Passaic and practically all the others representing South Jersey, who are friendly to State Assessor David Baird.

Besides the support of Mr. Baird, Colonel Edge has the backing of former Governor Edward C. Stokes. Mr. Stokes is a candidate for United States Senator, to succeed John Kean in 1911 and he is especially anxious to enhance the influence of Mr. Edge who next year hopes to enter the State Senate, and in that position be able to give the former Governor substantial help in his aspirations to sit in Congress.

The apparent strength of the Ward-Edge combination has not discouraged Assemblyman Peter Vredenburg of Monmouth who still hopes to rally enough of his colleagues to capture the speakership for himself, with Mr. Pierce, of Union, as majority leader.

Governor Fort in the last year of his administration, will have appointments to make the salaries of which will total about $110,000. Fifty-seven of these appointments will be made by the chief executive with the advice and consent of the Senate while 24 will be left to his judgment alone.

In this list of offices to be filled there are 21 vacancies on the county boards for the Equalization of Taxes. The term of this office is three years. In Union county the term of O. C. Pollard expires. The salary is $1,600 per year.

The appointment in which the greatest political interest centers is the place on the State Board of Assessors now occupied by David Baird, of Camden, whose term expires this year. Mr. Baird was slated for re-appointment up to two hours before the Legislature adjourned, but when the Camden county assemblymen voted against the extension of the direct primary system to the election of members of political committees, the Governor scratched Baird's name off the list that had been prepared for submission to the Senate, but did not submit a substitute. As a result of this Baird continues in office as a hold-over.

In connection with Baird it is said politicians are attaching great significance to a statement he made the other day while at the Atlantic Deep Waterways convention at Norfolk, Va. Baird was asked about his aspirations to succeed John Kean in the United States Senate. His reply was that he was for no one but himself, and added that while he was not a candidate for anything in the sense that he was after any office, he was not making any promises nowadays and not asking for any. Baird wound up with the remark: "I'm for myself."

Aspirants, and those who have been mentioned prominently in connection with the Republican and Democratic gubernatorial nominations next year are unanimous in differing in fall and in part with the views expressed recently by former Governor Franklin Murphy, regarding the repeal of the present direct primary law. Among those who have been "boomed" as "Governor" are Vivian M. Lewis, State Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, who the state leaders say has a good chance of landing the nomination; ex Assemblyman William P. Martin, of Newark, who is mentioned as the "reform" candidate for the governorship; Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton, whom the Democratic leaders say may get the nomination of his party, and Frank S. Katzenbach, of Trenton, who

TRAGEDY AT FANWOOD.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Del Paule Killed by Falling Tree.

Two little children, Margurita and Nettie Del Paule, aged respectively six and nine years, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Del Paule, Fanwood, were killed by a falling tree Sunday afternoon about five o'clock, and their mother seriously injured while attempting their rescue. Nettie, the elder of the children, was killed outright, while Margurita, the younger, lingered until Wednesday morning.

It seems that the woods adjoining the Del Paule place have been on fire the last two or three days, and had ignited the bark of a large chestnut tree, standing near where the children were playing; the flames ate their way inside the bark of the tree to its heart, and without warning it collapsed, falling directly onto the two little victims.

Mrs. Del Paule was badly bruised but will recover.

Residents about Fanwood have been in terror lately of fires in the woods, started by careless hunters. The flames have even encroached on their yards and in many cases buildings, have narrowly escaped destruction.

FATHER MCCARTHY LAID TO REST.

Impressive Ceremonies Held at St. Mary's, Elizabeth.

After a solemn mass of requiem last Saturday at St. Mary's Church, Elizabeth, the body of the beloved priest of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Westfield, was laid to rest in St. Rose of Lima's Cemetery, Short Hills. St. Mary's church was crowded to the doors by those who knew and loved the dead priest; among them many of his parishioners from Westfield.

The impressive ceremonies lasted from 9:30 until 11:30 o'clock. Prayers for the dead were chanted, followed by a solemn high mass of requiem with the Rev. Father Francis O'Neill as celebrant. After the mass the benediction was pronounced by the Right Rev. John J. O'Connor, Bishop of the Diocese. Inside the church and in the front pews were seated the visiting priests and visitors from Elizabeth and elsewhere. Father Bogan, of Plainfield, delivered the eulogy, in which he said Father McCarthy was a faithful priest, and an earnest worker in the cause of Christ. The singing by the boy choir was particularly beautiful. Six brothers of the Alexian order served as bearers.

Thousands of the laity viewed the remains; the procession continuing from the time the body was brought to the church at three o'clock Friday afternoon, until the services began Saturday. An open baronche was found necessary to convey the floral tributes to the cemetery.

Meeting of Advance Club.

An enjoyable meeting of the Advance Club was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pitcher, Walnut street last Friday night. Mrs. Hankinson read a paper on early New England history, showing the history of Thanksgiving day from then until now.

Mrs. Douglas told of the first Thanksgiving day, and read from Jane Austin's "Standish of Standish" to illustrate what she said. Mr. Moser was at his best in violin solos and Mrs. Taylor accompanied him. Mr. Rowland "tangled" them all up with his mysterious cabinet trick. Next meeting in December at the home of Mrs. Walter R. Darby.

To Debate Women's Rights.

The Men's League of the M. E. Church is to debate the Women's Suffrage question, at the close of the regular meeting, Tuesday December 2. The question is, "Resolved, that the general right of suffrage be given to women." The affirmative will be represented by E. A. Waite and M. T. Townley; the negative, Dr. W. W. Gill and W. H. Orr. Rev. A. W. Hayes, J. Fred Wright and T. T. Harkrader will be the judges.

Baptist Men's Club to Hold Banquet.

The Men's Association of the Westfield Baptist Church will hold their first banquet on Thursday evening, December 2, 1909 at 7 p. m. in the church parlors. After the supper Rev. Dr. T. E. Vassar, of Elizabeth, will deliver an address. All men of the congregation are cordially invited to attend. The supper will be served by the young ladies of the church.

The annual banquet of the Riding and Driving Club will be held at the North Avenue Hotel on Wednesday evening, December 15th.

MR. FRANK MASON'S TALK. DISCUSSION OF BOY'S CLUB.

Outlines Plan of Boy's Clubs at Meeting of Woman's Club Monday Afternoon.

CONDITIONS HERE ARE IDEAL.

Compared With Those With Which He Has to Contend—Dr. Steans and C. A. Springstead Also Speak.

A large audience listened to Mr. Frank Mason of the National Federation of Boys Clubs of Boston tell about the boys clubs last Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian parish house. The lecture was held under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Steans and Mr. C. A. Springstead of the Washington High School. Mr. Springstead said that the boys at the High School had made a start and it has been a successful one. Reports wouldn't show older people, they must go and see for themselves. He thought as these boys are so willing in this work they should be aided. Mr. Springstead made a strong plea for people to help the boys with the wherewithal to carry on their plans. He was glad that so many were interested, and knew that something would be done for the boys of our town, but as to just what, no conclusion had been reached. Mr. Mason therefore had been asked to throw light on the subject—to explain matters a little, and now they could hear what Mr. Mason had to say.

Mr. Mason is an attractive speaker and seems enthusiastic in his work. His experience extends over a number of years and perhaps no man in the country is so familiar with the working and inside history of Boys Clubs. It is his hobby. Mr. Mason said that in opening correspondence with Mrs. Cudor in relation to speaking here, he had thought of Westfield as a manufacturing town and was surprised to find the field so fertile and inviting; that is, so many opportunities here for aiding boys. He was glad to see also, that the people of Westfield thought the boy worth-while. He said the first boys club in this country was organized in 1860 and that there were from 75,000 to 80,000 enrolled members today. Educators were beginning to see that education is founded in play, that a boy's nature is to play and that a perversion of this nature often leads to wrong. This system works out our democratic spirit on its best lines. It also works for law and order and there is abundant testimony that it is beneficial to towns. The principal thing is the kind of leader obtained; some men are peculiarly fitted for this work, while others have no fitness or taste for it.

The clubs should be attractive to boys of various tastes and temperaments. For some recreation and reading, for others physical training, for others again, the carpenter shop or the like; for city boys camping trips and trapping. To catch and hold boys you must have variety, as one may like one thing and one another. "The play is the thing." An expensive outfit is not needed and no great or costly undertaking.

The first Boys Club was of the simplest description and like most good things was originated by women—young ladies realized the lure of the twilight hour for boys; and that it wasn't good for them to be out late at night. They asked them if they didn't want to unite in a club. This was in Hartford, Conn. in 1860; they had a room; and in it an old broken down melodeon, some dumbbells and sets of chess and checkers; a base ball team was organized which made quite a reputation. But many of the boys went to the war and the club had an uncertain and precarious existence; until in 1880 when Miss Mary Hall took up the work again and built up a large and prosperous organization. The work done by clubs is preventive and not reformatory—the idea is to keep boys "straight."

There are fine clubs in Boston under control of school committees, and in 1910 every boy but high school must know how to swim before he can graduate. The city of Atlanta, Ga. has a good club as has also Somerville in this State. Whether it was best that the school committee of a town should have charge of a club or some one specially appointed, Mr. Mason could not say, but that there was wisdom enough in any town to run the thing successfully, he thought to be undoubted.

The Phio Club is the name of a new organization in town and which has the following officers: President, Harry Parker; vice-president, George DeLour; secretary, David Dickson; treasurer, Wilson Siserson.

Open Meeting at Congregational Church Discloses Sentiment For the Enterprise.

A DIFFERENCE AS TO METHOD.

Thought That Board of Education Cannot Take Leading Part—Special Committee to Consider Ways and Means.

The general meeting for the discussion of the boy's club question, which was held at the Congregational Church, Monday night, was well attended, and the subject broadly discussed. Dr. S. L. Loomis presided as chairman, and in introducing Mr. Mason, spoke of the need for a boy's club in Westfield. Dr. Loomis urged, especially, the need for a public play ground.

Mr. Mason spoke along the lines of his afternoon address, making special reference to the difference in the work for boys in the south end of Boston, and in Westfield. He thought local conditions almost ideal.

When the meeting was thrown open for discussion, Mrs. Tremaine made a few remarks welcoming those in attendance and thanking them for their interest in the work. Then Mrs. Bance, the chairman of the Committee on Special Work, outlined the work which had been done by the women of Westfield in the interest of the boys; and, she said, profiting by past mistakes, the women had determined this year to begin all over again. It was a practical work, she declared, and was only to be accomplished along practical lines. She said that the present plan was to work in conjunction with the Board of Education, and to raise sufficient funds to build and equip a small building on the Washington school grounds which would be suitable for a Boy's Club.

Various and divergent views were expressed on the subject. Rev. Sydney Cross thought that the boys could be taken care of by the churches; each building a gymnasium of its own for the boy's use. His own church was anticipating such a plan he said. "While believing in the principle of democracy, he thought it hardly practicable in the working out of the boy's club idea. Boy's would discriminate and there would be trouble.

This created some discussion, it being explained by Mrs. Bance that a boy's club could be conducted along democratic lines, if in charge of a capable leader or director, who knew and understood boys. Dr. Steans also spoke strongly in favor of the democratic idea. Lloyd Thompson spoke of the former meeting, held some years ago, to consider a boy's club, and said that while he thought the town was not quite ready for such an undertaking then, it was now, and he would cheerfully give his time and effort to the enterprise. He emphasized the importance of getting the boys off the street corner. He said, that this seemed to be a growing evil in Westfield. He thought that the work should be done by the citizens.

Frederick S. Taggart also spoke strongly in favor of a boy's club, and declared that as it was a public matter, the responsibility should rest upon the town not upon the Board of Education. He thought it a matter of character. "We've been going to do it for a long time, we should now get down to business," he said.

Mr. E. A. Merrill spoke on behalf of the Board of Education. He said that the Board had the matter under consideration, but that their efforts were necessarily curtailed by lack of funds. He pointed to the fact that the public schools were already over-crowded and that it was only by sufferance of the State that conditions were allowed to remain so. The Trustees, he said, would be justified in asking for a $100,000 appropriation next year, for the building of a new school, and for building an addition to the Washington school. These buildings were absolutely needed, and with them, provisions could be made for the accommodation of all, and for the enlargement of the curriculum.

In answer to a question by Mrs. Bance, Mr. Merrill said that the Board was in sympathy with the movement, and advised that the Woman's Club continue its efforts. He did not think that the Board of Education could take a leading part in the work however, because of a lack of funds. Mr. Merrill referred also to the street loafers, and declared that if the manual training department should hold night as well as day sessions many of the young men who now stand on street corners would go up a course of study in manual training. He was not in favor of the Bridgroom, Cleveland, O.—1. I agree with you that the most acceptable gift that you could make to the bride on your wedding day would be a life insurance policy, guaranteeing her something in case of your untimely death. Gifts of this kind are not uncommon. At your age a policy for $1,000 would cost less than $25. 2. I think very well of the new low-cost policy now being issued by The Prudential. If you will state your age and write to "Dept. 67, Prudential Life, Newark, N. J.," the cost per thousand dollars will be sent you, and a sample of the policy, which you may study at your leisure. 3. WOODBURY writes about His Famous HAIR TONIC

Extract from an article written by the Master Dermatologist when Woodbury's combination Hair and Scalp Treatment was first successfully prepared for Home Use.

"The formula under which this Hair Tonic is made was tested and improved for over thirty-five years before a bottle was sold through the stores."

"For over thirty-five years this Tonic has been used in the enormous practice of John H. Woodbury's Dermatological Institute."

"Millions of cases were treated, and after their cure the patients continued the use of this Tonic as a delightful refreshment to the scalp"

If you don't see Woodbury's face on the label it's an imitation.

and to keep the hair soft, rich and glossy."

"This necessarily meant repeated calls at the Woodbury Institute, often at the inconvenience of patients living at a distance."

"To supply this demand, and the growing call from those who had not been treated, for a Hair Tonic which was scientifically successful (not a mere commercial product) this Tonic has now been put on the market and can hereafter be had from all reputable dealers."

Now, right in your own home, you can use the preparations formerly supplied only to office patients of the Institute. No other preparations for the Hair and Scalp are backed up by the same unlimited experience. No others give such quick and such satisfactory results.

Woodbury's Hair Tonic saves the hair when all other preparations fail. It prevents dandruff; stops falling hair, and instantly relieves itching scalp. It restores the lustre to the hair; preserves its natural color; increases its vitality and makes it beautiful and abundant.

Hair Now Growing Nicely.

My hair stopped falling out just as soon as I used the Woodbury's Scalp Cream in conjunction with the Scalp Cleanser. It's action was just like magic. The thick greasy dandruff is all gone. My hair is growing nicely and taking on a new growth. Your Hair Tonic I use night and morning, and it is the nicest hair dressing I have ever used. Thanking you for the letters of advice, I remain,

Sincerely yours, Mr. JOHN F. HOWSON, 498 Quincy Street, Brooklyn.

This Specialist Uses Woodbury's

After ten years of careful study, and close observation of all conditions of the hair and scalp, I find the Woodbury method of treatment most successful of all. It is based on the most correct scientific principles. In cases of scalp disease the Woodbury preparations go right to the root of the trouble, and their curative and stimulating properties are remarkable. Am now using them exclusively in my offices and the results obtained are most satisfactory.

Quick Results Pleas'd Him.

The dandruff and itching scalp were terrible and my hair was thinning out over the temples and at the back of my head at an alarming rate. Nothing seemed to help until I used the Woodbury remedies, but good results were then noticed from the start, and in a few days the dandruff was entirely gone and new hair began to show. What pleased me most was that results were so quick. The Woodbury Hair and Scalp Remedies certainly make the hair grow.

Yours very truly, FRANKLIN C. SCHWARZ, 14 Spruce Street, Corona, L. I.

There is considerable interest being displayed in the investigation to be conducted by the Senate Committee into the methods and practices, expenses and disbursements of the public schools and to discover what amendments are necessary to secure greater economy in school expenses, without decreasing the efficiency of the public school system. The Senate committee headed by Senator Frelinghuysen will have a conference in a few days with a committee of the State Board of Education.

The complete election returns compiled in the office of the Secretary of State show that the Republican plurality at the election of November 2, was 41,502. The total vote on the Assembly ticket, excepting in Ocean county, was 210,059, and on the Democratic ticket 109,167. There was no Democratic Assembly candidate in Ocean county and the Senatorial vote was used for comparison. The total vote was 85.5 of the vote cast in the last presidential election.

DISCUSSION OF BOY'S CLUB.

Following the discussion a nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Dr. S. L. Loomis, chairman of the meeting, Mrs. C. M. Tremaine, president of the Woman's Club, and Mr. Charles H. McDougall, president of the Board of Education.

The committee will select a committee of 5 or 7 to investigate the whole question of a boy's club for Westfield, and to report back its findings at a meeting to be held some time in the near future.

Harold M. Camp's Paintings.

The following criticism of the work of Artist Harold M. Camp, a former Westfield boy is clipped from the New York Times:—

A remarkably distinguished group of small pictures is shown by H. M. Camp. They are only a few square inches in area, but the effect of space and the delightful arrangement of the lights and darks give them much more than ordinary interest. The "Grandfather's House"—a white building on a hill under a cloudy sky—is treated in the simplest possible manner, the white mass of the house set between a dark cloud and a dark foreground, but the few elements of the composition combine in an impression of great dignity. The "November" also seen across the room, conveys the sense of a sky that enwraps the earth and a broad sweep of horizon, with a spaciousness that many big pictures might envy. The most notable of the group is, however, the "Northern Streamers and Comet," in which the action takes place in the sky alone and a victory is gained fairly comparable to that of Whistler in his famous rocket pictures.

LOCALS TIE WITH RAILWAY.

Sisserson's Two Long Runs Save Day For High School Eleven.

The local High School football team tied the score 10-10 with the Railway High School eleven last Saturday afternoon at Recreation Park in a fast and exciting battle on the gridiron. The teams were well matched in both weight and speed and this may account for the score.

The visiting team started the game, and in the first five minutes played a touchdown but failed to kick the goal. After the ball was put in play again, the Railway team tried a forward pass, but this was intercepted by Sisserson, the local quarterback, who scored a touchdown after a fifty-five yard dash down the field with his nearest pursuer at least fifteen yards in the rear. This inspired the local boys, and as Buckley failed to kick the goal, the score was a tie. Their opponents kicked off and held the local team for downs. Then trying a forward pass they made a good gain and were only kept from a touchdown by Sisserson's good tackle. Again the Railway quarterback signalled for a forward pass, but this play was again spoiled by Sisserson who grabbed and carried the ball forty-five yards to the goal post. This brought loud cheers from the Westfield crowd. Bush failed to kick the goal.

The second half was started by a kick-off by the local boys. Their opponents gradually carried the ball nearer the Westfield goal posts. Railway punted and held the ball, but being but a few yards from the goal, Westfield was able to hold them for downs. Then the local boys punted back to the center of the field, but opponents carried for two downs. Railway punted and Smith held the ball in Westfield. Westfield was forced to punt and then their opponents succeeded in rushing the play into the line. They failed to kick the goal. The line ups were:

Opening of Toyland

A Thousand Welcomes to the Little Folks!

What a wonderland of playthings is this great Toy Store of ours! What imaginings the sight will awaken in the thousands of boys and girls who will come to pay a visit to Santa Claus's headquarters!

Our great Toy Store, one of the largest in America, constantly maintained with generous stocks of all sorts of playthings, is greatly enlarged for the holiday season, and the display at all times is very interesting, it will appear as tho we had, by some magic, converted the great toy shop into a land of make-belief.

There will be many special attractions for the little folks. There will be a Toy Menagerie, a large Railroad Yard for the operation of Mechanical Things, and, very wonderful, indeed, the original discoverer of the North Pole!

Santa Claus Will Soon Be Here

In a little while the biggest Santa Claus in the world will take his accustomed place in our Grand Court, where he will look with pleasure upon the thousands of bright and beaming faces that gaze up in wonderment at him as he holds in his hand (as tho bidding the little folks help themselves) many kinds of toys—and in a week, the real living, breathing Santa Claus, who has for years and years made this store his headquarters, will take his place on the Second Floor, and receive the hosts of boys and girls who come to participate in his great free distribution of little gifts.

BROAD, NEW AND HALSEY STREETS, NEWARK

Rats Killed the Snake.

Two big gray rats fought a battle with a rattlesnake the other day and the rats won. The snake was purchased by a grocery firm in Dalton, Ga., for a window display and two big rats were obtained as food for the snake. When the rats were placed in the cage with the snake it made no effort to molest them. A crowd gathered to witness the snake eat the rats, but it was over an hour before the rattler moved to attack. The rats showed fight from the start. While the snake was after one the other would be plunging its teeth into the snake's body. After an hour the snake succumbed. One rat was nearly dead, while the other apparently was unharmed. As a tribute to its valor, the unhurt rat was released. The rattler measured seven feet in length.

The Beggars of Madeira.

There is only one fly in the ointment of Madeira comfort—the beggars. They begin to beg before they can walk, and they call, "Penny! penny!" before they can lip the sacred name of "mamma." However, one good thing has come of our experience with them. They have prepared us for beggars elsewhere. We are hardened, now—at least, we think we are. The savor of pity has gone out of us. —From "The Ship-Dwellers" by Albert Bigelow Paine, in the Outing Magazine.

A Complete Disguise.

Little Jessie was very proud of her new coat and bonnet that her mamma had just bought for her. One day, not long afterward, she was going to visit her cousin. After marching around awhile with the new coat and bonnet on, she exclaimed: "O, Mamma, Dora won't know me, will she? She'll open the door and say: 'Why! Japple Donneburger, who are you?'" Delineator.

Mr. Washburn's Inconstant Well.

Milton Washburn is having trouble with his well, which at first was giving a big supply of water. It began to blow a regular hurricane of wind up the hole at first, then it changed and blew down, after which the water gave out. Mr. Washburn will go down another hundred feet if necessary to get a sufficient supply of water.—Condon (Ore.) Times.

For Nervous Children.

A naturally nervous child, one who has been pampered, should early be taught self-control and the value of it. It is essential to discourage emotionalism and never contenance fits of temper. Plenty of fresh air and sunlight are great aids to naturally nervous children, and all rich foods should be forbidden.

Nervous Collapse

"I have traveled for thirty years continually. I lost a great deal of sleep, which together with constant worry left me in such a nervous state that finally, after having two collapses of nervous prostration, I was obliged to give up traveling altogether. I doctored continually but with no relief. Dr. Miles' Nervine came to my rescue—I cannot describe the suffering which this Nervine saved me. Whenever I am particularly nervous a few doses relieve me." A. G. C. LIBBY, Wells, Me.

There are many nervous wrecks. There is nervous prostration of the stomach, of the bowels, and other organs. The brain, the kidneys, the liver, the nerve centers are all exhausted. There is but one thing to do—build up the nervous system by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Its strengthening influence upon the nervous system restores normal action to the organs, and when they all work in harmony, health is assured. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1909.

THANKSGIVING.

We are all of us thankful; some of us for what we have; others of us for what we hope to get, whether it be goods or satisfaction. This thanksgiving season invites us all to be philosophers—so let us be cheerful in our appreciations and conceptions of life, its art, opportunities and purposes.

WISHFULLY SUBMITTED.

We wish that all of the gallant Knights of the Street Corner could have heard the remarks about "our boys," at the meeting at the Congregational Church, Monday night. We wish also that the daughters of some of our first families who loiter wishfully near the post office (waiting for the male) at 5 o'clock, could have heard them too.

WESTFIELD CITIZENS MEREETRICHIOUSLY SEPARATED FROM THEIR MONEY.

Phineas T. Barnum used to say "the American people love to be humbugged". We don't know that Westfield people love to be humbugged, but they have been, willfully. The humbugger is "in our midst." He came down on this peaceful, innocent town, "like a wolf on the fold," roguishly promising to teach the whole art and mystery of sewing, for one dollar; and another member of this ancient and illustrious profession, touched the hearts and—pocketbooks of many of our inhabitants, to the end that more poor little cripples from Newark, might be accommodated at the Children's Country Home.

In reading history we find that human nature has always been the same. Perhaps the earliest recorded instance of man's over-reaching tendency is found in the Bible, where it is told how Jacob deceived his dying father after his hungry brother Esau, had sold him his birthright for a mess of pottage. Many think Jacob's conduct in this affair reprehensible, and that Esau made a "mess" out of the whole business. At any rate it is to be hoped that Chief of Police O'Neill will set some of his sleuths on the track of these predatory varlets.

CHRISTMAS CRUELTY.

About the middle of December the Merry Christmas-Tide begins, and for ten days the streets in the shopping district are packed and jammed with people and the stores crammed until eleven o'clock at night with crowds of eager and generous gift buyers. These the poor saleswoman must receive with an unflinching patience, a cheerful air and a perfunctory politeness; if possible with a smile which often covers a sore and aching heart. Think of it! Night after night surrounded by joy and gladness and the festive atmosphere of the blessed season, tired and footsore, with perhaps a splitting headache, and her reward after all a mere pittance. Think of the messenger boy running his legs off, until one o'clock in the morning delivering presents—for others. It is true their generous employers are not wholly heartless, and will let them "rest up" after the "holidays"—at their own expense.

We have hinted at an abuse which runs throughout all the ramifications of trade and threatens to make the institution of Christmas a farce, in our large cities. It permeates particularly those branches of business which minister to the craze of indelicate and thoughtless Christmas giving. It is an abuse which has reached its most unhealthy growth in the Department Stores, and as it has been largely fostered and nourished by the women, it remains for the women to wipe it out.

And how? Let women do their Christmas shopping "decently and in order," before the fifteenth of December, in the forenoon of the day, insisting that the goods purchased, shall be delivered before six o'clock in the evening, and we venture to predict that this oppression, this cruelty, will be mitigated, if not done away with altogether and Christmas, instead of the nightmare it now is to thousands, becomes as of old a time of "peace on earth and good will toward men."

SPELLING AND WRITING.

During the last week in October, School Superintendent Richard A. Clement of Elizabeth, tested the proficiency of three hundred school children of that city "in spelling twenty words used in ordinary conversation." Out of the three hundred, only two spelled all the words correctly. This may or may not be a bad showing, as the apparently simple words of an ordinary conversation are often the hardest to spell, and in any case, almost everything depends on the age of the contestants. Anyway these boys and girls should not lose hope or feel dismayed; some of the world's greatest geniuses are weak in spelling, and most of them in their handwriting, are nearly past finding out. Lord Lytton's case is one in point. He once wrote and introduced a bill when the house of lords was in committee, so illegibly written that the clerk could not make it out; afterwards, however, it proved to be a proposal to disfranchise people who could not write.

An effort on the part of the officials of Plainfield to prevent wholesale grocery dealers in New York from selling liquor to local citizens, is now a case in point in the State. A short time ago a driver for the Sigel-Cooper Co., was arrested for delivering liquor in the city of Plainfield, and was later fined $100 in the court of Quarter Sessions. The decision has provoked considerable discussion, the point being raised that if the goods were purchased in New York, the dealer was not amenable to a fine.

Miss C.—A wing if you please.
Miss C.—I think the left one will be about the right one.

Battery.

I love to go to the opera
And listen to the songs,
And fall in love with the fair soprano,
And see her many wrongs
All righted in the closing act.
Yet things are fierce at that
To have to sit behind some dame
Who won't remove her hat.
—St. Louis Star.

OBITUARY.
William H. Miller, of this place, was found dead in his bed at the Morris Plains Asylum Saturday morning, by the keeper. The body was brought to his home here Sunday morning for the funeral services which were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, pastor of the M. E. Church officiating. The burial was at Fairview.

Mr. Miller was taken to the asylum September 30, suffering from acute nervous breakdown, superinduced by excitement and over-work. He was a candidate for council in the fourth ward and was nominated. At the Primary election on the 25th, he acted strangely, and that night lost all control of himself. He grew rapidly worse until the day of his commitment to the asylum and since then little hope has been entertained for his recovery.
He is survived by a widow, and one daughter. He was a member of First Side Council, Royal Arcanum, and was president of the local Masons and Bricklayers' Union. Three members of each order acted as pallbearers at the funeral. He was 38 years old and had lived in Westfield most of his life.
The sympathies of the people of Westfield are extended to his bereaved family.

Saved by Term Extension.

We have just paid a death loss at Orange, N. J., where the insured ceased paying premiums in 1902, but on account of the term extension feature contained in New York Life Policies, the insurance was continued in force for the FULL AMOUNT. Under some companies' contracts, the insurance is extended on request of the insured who may be on the high seas, or anywhere else, when his premium becomes due. Under New York Life Policies the extension is AUTOMATIC. Better look up this point when taking life insurance.

American Music Hall, Newark.
Advancing over the high standard he has already set at the American Music Hall, William Morris Inc. offers next week an all-star bill headed by that inevitable Hobrow character comedian Joe Welch. Mr. Welch needs no introduction to Newark vaudeville goers as he has been a prime favorite with them for years. Another big feature will be the first vaudeville appearance in New Jersey of Juliet, one of the cleverest of mimics. Frank Bryon and Louise Langdon present one of the funniest sketches in vaudeville, "The Dodo Detective," in which Mr. Bryon assumes the role of an effeminate "hobo" who poses as a detective. Maudie Odell, the ten thousand dollar London prize beauty, will exhibit her charms in a series of poses gracefully mingled in a neat skit. Nelson Jackson, the noted English pianologist has a very entertaining offering entitled "Society Snip Shots" in which he tells about in song and story the many follies and foibles of modern society.

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY.

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge.
Kidney disease advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizziness or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the urine is dark, foul-smelling, irregular and attended with pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.
Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Westfield citizen.
W. L. Randall, 60 Central St., Westfield, N. J., says: "My back troubled me for a long time. There was a constant pain through my loins, which seemed to grow worse daily. I tried many remedies in an effort to find relief, but was not successful until a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Frutchey's Pharmacy. Since using them, I have been enjoying excellent health. I will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills when an opportunity occurs."

THE REASON WHY Vinol

IS THE BEST STRENGTHENING TONIC

for Feeble Old People, Delicate Children, Weak, Run-down Persons, and to Counteract Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, is because it combines the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron, without oil or grease, tastes good, and agrees with every one.

We return your money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES.

Proctor's Splendid Bill.

Proctor's Plainfield Theatre offers a splendid bill for Thanksgiving week. It includes Anglin & Bush, clever comedy acrobats; Whitley & Bell, laughable Gorman comedians; Lawrence & Edwards, in a bright and witty Irish sketch; the Seaman Duo, lively song and dance artists; and Lukans, trained animal act, giving exhibition of trained bears.

With new motion pictures, changed daily, (a feature of the Proctor houses) combine to make Proctor's Plainfield Theatre a mecca for amusement lovers, this coming week. Visit the playhouse and see the shows that are offered.

To Save Us From Ourselves and Others.

Any public-spirited citizen who has five dollars left after election might do worse than to buy an annual membership in the National Highway Protective Society (6 West Twenty-eighth Street, Newark).

It seems a good society. Henry Clews, the eminent broker, who parts his hair so wide, is the president of it. The purpose is to save us from ourselves when we ride in automobiles, and from others when they do.

It wants legislation providing for a Highway Commission of three members appointed by the Governor, who shall have charge of issuing licenses to chauffeurs, and of revoking or suspending them for cause.

It would tax the autos and motor cycles a dollar a year per horsepower for the benefit of the roads.

The society offers itself as a friend and efficient sympathizer to the general public on the highways.

The burden of recording the daily list of automobile accidents must be heavy on the newspapers, especially with the price of white paper what it is and the price of newspapers so low. The papers ought to join the Highway Protective Society.

The world elsewhere is suffering like as we are. Here is a document that is being circulated in England:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen. May it please Your Majesty:

We Village Women of the United Kingdom humbly beseech your Majesty to help us to get some relief from the motor cars. We are sure your Majesty cannot know how much we suffer from them. They have made our life a misery.

Our children are always in danger, our things are ruined by the dust, we cannot open our windows, our rest is spoiled by the noise all night.

If they could be made to go slow through the villages it would be a great thing; but we are only poor people and the great majority of those who use motor cars take no account of us.

We do not know what to do, so we appeal to your Majesty to use your great influence on our behalf.

The National Highways Protective Society knows what to do and has men out doing it. As we have, as yet, no Queen to appeal to, it is probably as efficient a friend as we can find—for the money.

Life's favorite remedy for automobile accidents has always been to put up half a dozen gallows in Union Square and keep them full of impulsive chauffeurs; but that cure has not been tried yet. Perhaps the plan of Mr. Clews's society is better. Let's try it!

Dentists of Union County to Organize.

A meeting of Elizabeth Dentists was held last Saturday night to consider the organization of a Union County Dental Association. An informal discussion of the matter was had, and it was decided to hold another meeting tomorrow night, and to have as many dentists present from all parts of the county as possible. This gathering will be at the Y. M. C. A. building, Elizabeth, at 8 o'clock, p. m.

Temporary secretary, Dr. J. B. Stevens, will send out the notices of the meeting to the dentists outside of Elizabeth. The organization hopes to establish free clinics apart from the hospitals, and to secure beneficial legislation for the profession. The movement was the result of a little friction with the management of the Elizabeth General Hospital.

Du Chaillu and the Story of Marsellaise and Gascon.

In his reminiscences in the December McClure's, William H. Rideing writes of Du Chaillu, the explorer. "He was like a braggart boy," says Mr. Rideing, "who has done something and so obviously exaggerates it that he is deprived even of the lesser glory his actual feats should earn for him. He reminded me of the old story of the Marsellaise and the Gascon. 'I,' said the former, 'love art music, poetry, painting.' The latter declared, 'I love sport, always sport, nothing but sport.' He then described his recent experiences in Africa.

"Ten lions in twenty minutes—not a bad record, eh? After breakfast I went out again. Lighted a cigarette. Heard a noise in the bushes to the left. Another lion. Bang! Killed him! Went a little farther, took a sip from my flask. Noise in the bushes to the right. Another lion. Bang! Killed him! Had a nap and a sandwich, getting tired of it. This time a sound in the bushes right ahead. The biggest lion you ever saw—thirty feet from his muzzle to the tip of his tail, every inch of it. Leveled my gun and aimed. 'The Marsellaise could stand it no longer. 'See here, if you kill that lion I'll kill you.'

"The warning was promptly taken. 'Bang! Missed him!' "I remember his account of his first lecture in Boston. "Bah! I had ten gorillas behind me on the platform stuffed, and about twenty in the audience before me, unstuffed. I, Paul—I-I-I!"

Snowed In.

Oh, the snow lies white in the woods to-night,
And the snow lies soft and deep,
And under the snow, I know, oh, ho!
'The flowers of the summer sleep,
'The flowers of the summer sleep, I know,
Snowed in like you and me—
Under the sheltering leaves, oh, ho,
As snug and as warm as we—
As snug and as warm from the winter storm
As we of the Hollow Tree,
Snowed in are we in the Hollow Tree,
And as snug and as warm as they we be—
Snowed in, snowed in.
Are we, are we,
As snug as can be in the Hollow Tree—
The Wonderful Hollow Tree
—'In the Hollow Tree,' in the Ladies World for December.
