"Pastor" Wagner's Advice.

Charles Wagner, author of "The Simple Life," has little sympathy with women who go about saying: "If I were a man I would do this and that." "If I were a man I would not permit this one or that one to do this or that injustice," "He-baldness," he calls them in his articles on "The Destiny of Woman," in Harper's Bazar, and he adds: "Does the wren sing at night? No! She is a wren and sings in the daytime and at her very best. Do likewise, young ladies. Do not waste your time in regretting that you are not a man, but show us what may be done by a real woman, a woman after God's own heart."

Both Satisfied.

"I'd like to break my engagement with Charlie, but I can't bear to give up this diamond ring," said the girl.

"Then why don't you tell him so?" suggested Charlie's chum.

"He told me he'd be dead willing to lose the ring if he could get out of the engagement!"—Detroit Free Press.

MEANT ENDING OF LONG SUIT.

Also to Party of Complaint, if He Followed Instructions.

About the middle of the last century the late Luther Chapman was a conspicuous member of the Cheshire (Mass.) county bar, and, although not regarded by many of his associates as a very brilliant lawyer, was considered one of the "best read" lawyers in the Granite state. The following anecdote is related of him:

"It is said that at one time he was defendant in a suit brought against him by Cyrus Merrifield, which, though very small in magnitude, maintained its place upon the court docket through many successive terms and afforded much amusement among his professional brethren. Whenever a term of court commenced, and he appeared, their first inquiry would be concerning the progress of the Merrifield suit.

"On one of these occasions he was asked how he got along with Merrifield, to which he replied: 'I guess the suit is about done; I told Merrifield the other day that I would give him $15 and he might go to h---, and I rather think he will do it.'"

CATCH ESCAPED CONVICT.

DETECTIVES GALATIAN AND MAHON FIND HIM IN CHATHAM.

Prisoner Broke Out of Montana Jail-- Goes Back With Detective Galatian Without Requisition--Was an Engineer at Chatham and Recently Married.

John O. Oswin, an escaped convict from Montana, was captured by County Detective John A. Galatian and John M. O. Marsh last Saturday in Chatham. The local sleuths recently got a tip from the West that the man was supposed to be working near Chatham, where he had relatives, as an engineer. They visited the place for a few days, quietly making inquiries, and finally decided that Oswin, whose pictures they had, was the man they wanted. They appeared at the Summit Water Works at five o'clock Saturday morning. Oswin came on duty, and was immediately arrested. He was led to believe that he was wanted on a charge of house-breaking here, and he came readily enough, saying he could prove he was not the burglar. When nearer Westfield the detectives acknowledged that they were after him for the Western escape. Oswin replied that he suspected as much and would go back without requisition papers and serve out his term. Detective Galatian left with him last night for St. Paul, Minn., where they will be met by the Montana officials.

John Oswin was convicted in Glendive, Montana, upon a charge of burglary and larceny in 1902 and sentenced by Judge Land, of the Circuit Court of Montana to one year's imprisonment at Deer Lodge penitentiary. He escaped and though effort was made to catch him he eluded arrest. Over a year ago Detective Galatian received a letter at Oil City from the authorities at Deer Lodge penitentiary giving a description of Oswin and telling of him having relatives and friends at Chatham. The letter also contained a photograph of the man wanted and stated that $500 would be paid for his arrest.

Oswin was born in Glasgow, Scotland. He is well built and is over six feet tall. For two days the Westfield detectives had been watching him closely.

The call for the selection of delegates to the convention will be sent out in a day or two. The committee adjourned to meet at 11 o'clock on the day of the convention.

Novel Papering for "Den."

In the bachelor quarters of an attaché of the British embassy in Washington is a "den" decidedly odd in ornamentation. The walls are papered with playing cards. That, in itself, is no new idea, but these playing cards are of every land that has such things. They have been put topsy turvy on the wall and varnished. The effect is striking. This Britisher has dwelt in many lands. Almost all nations, he says, have playing cards, or a substitute. Turkish cards are thick and exquisitely tinted, and some of the far eastern countries have cards that deserve to be framed in gold leaf. The dado in the "den" is made entirely of face cards, arranged symmetrically, with a deep red molding separating it from the hurlyburly below. Swords, sticks and guns are hung on the walls. The furniture is conventional, but the walls and ceiling give a distinctive look to the room.

SALE OF BEST GRADES OF

Scholars' Necessities

ALL THIS WEEK.

We need not boast of the greatest stocks of School Needs, nor the best stocks, because every one throughout this section of New Jersey is well acquainted with the fact. They know that in every division of our department devoted to school tools that only the best grades manufactured are sold. We lay stress on the fact that qualities are superior because we believe that pens, pencils, paper and ink have an influence on the user and that the use of good materials by impressionable scholars will instill in them a regard for the niceties of life and will have a refining influence upon them. Some dealers seem to imagine that anything is good enough for the children, but given their choice, the boy or girl of to-day will choose the better composition book, the better pencils and the good things in every other line.

The School Supply Sale lasts throughout the week, so that there will be ample opportunity for all to get everything they need at the special prices.

"Quality is all right" you may say, "if the cost is not too great." On this point we can assure you that our ability to purchase in greater quantities than any other Newark concern places us in a position to buy positively cheaper than any other store. We do not think this claim will be seriously doubted by those who know. Don't waste your money buying the cheap trashy articles at prices so little that on the face of the things you know will not purchase such supplies as the scholar of to-day requires. Ten chances to one the teacher will tell the child to take the stuff home as it cannot be used in the school, and surely parents will not want the children to use stuff at home that is not tolerated in the schools.

TOWN COUNCIL SESSION.MORE CONTRACTS FOR SIDEWALKS AND SIDEWALKS AWARDED.

Discussion Over New Walks—Councilmen to Have Budgets—Osborne Avenue Title Question—Weldon's Time Extended.

The regular session of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening, the entire Council being present for the first time in some months.

Considerable discussion arose over the proposed ordinances to lay sidewalks on the southwesterly side of Elm Street, from Dudley Avenue to Newton Place, and on the southeasterly side of Dudley Avenue for nine hundred feet southwesterly from Clark Street along the property owned by John M. Clark. The Elm Street sidewalk is the one which the Town attempted to lay last year and was enjoined from doing so by certain proceedings instituted by the owner, Mrs. Mariah A. Webb. Councilman Alpers said he did not believe the sidewalk was necessary, and as a protest had been made by more than half the frontage owners the Council ought not to force it. The matter was voted on later, however, and passed by unanimous vote.

When the Dudley Avenue ordinance was read Councilman Russell said he saw no reason for ordering this one, as there were no houses on that side and none beyond it. Councilman Ledley said the owner was a millionaire and "wouldn't feel it." Mr. Russell contended that the question of the justice of it was not affected by the owner's ability to stand for it. Mayor Perkins argued in favor of ordering it done as it would improve the opposite side of the street. Mr. Russell couldn't see it that way, and the ordinance was defeated by his negative vote.

The Council then passed ordinances to lay walks as follows: On the southwesterly side of Central Avenue from Park Street to the Railroad, and the northeasterly side from North Street to the Railroad; the northwesterly side of Dudley Avenue from Clark Street southwesterly to the lands of James O. Clark; the southeasterly side of Park Street, between Summit Avenue and Westfield Avenue.

Resolutions were passed to advertise hearings on the proposition to lay sidewalks as follows: On both sides of Union Place, between Prospect Street and Clark Street; on the easterly side of Prospect Street and the northerly side of North Avenue, from the southerly side line of lands of Hohenstein to the end of the walk as now laid in front of lands of Bartis; on the westerly side of Central Avenue, from the Railroad to Broad Street.

Councilman Traynor introduced a resolution to set aside the sum of $300 for the construction of manholes on existing sewers, and that the Road Committee secure bids for the work. The Mayor raised the point as to whether the committee could let the work without regularly advertising for bids. The Engineer said the Road Committee had let over $800 worth of crosswalk that way, so the resolution was passed.

The treasurer was directed to issue a certificate of indebtedness for $300. Councilman Russell urged the necessity of another fire hydrant on Carleton Place. Chairman Moody, of the Fire Committee, said it would receive attention soon.

The Chief of Police reported nine arrests during the month of August.

James McCarthy applied for permission to lay his own sidewalk on South

Avenue, and the permission was granted. The Italian residents were given permission to hold a celebration in town on Sept. 14 and 15 next, with parades and fireworks.

Bids were called for on the Walnut Street and North Street sewer work. Felix Sterpona and James C. Park were the bidders. The latter got the contract. J. W. Manhattan and William H. Weldon put in bids for laying sidewalks, and were only about $300 apart on over $8000 worth of work. Manhattan's was the lower bid, and the award went to him.

A number of South Avenue residents and property owners were present, and offered certain information concerning the title of the land known as Osborn Avenue, where the new bridge is to go, which the Mayor considered serious enough to be investigated by the town attorney. The Council directed Mr. Oliver to examine the title.

Councilman Eskholm moved that each Councilman be provided with a badge showing his name, ward and the date when his term expires, and that they be furnished before the terms of the present councilmen expire. It was so ordered.

The time of William H. Weldon to finish the sidewalk work under his present contract was extended to November first.

The request of W. M. Harrison for a lot apportionment of Harrison Avenue property was denied until further data is furnished.

The Town Engineer reported that the road work during the month has consisted of repairs at Branch Mills chapel, half the cost of which is paid by the Borough of Mountainside, and grading of hill near Daniel Fink's house. North Avenue has been resurfaced from Central Avenue to Lenox Avenue and the grading of Lawrence Avenue is in progress. The laying of flagging on Dudley Avenue and Walnut Street has been completed, thus closing up the work contracted for last year.

The following letter was read by the Clerk:

Westfield, N. J.,
September 1, 1906.
To The Mayor
and Members of the Town Council,
Westfield, N. J.

Gentlemen:—Herewith I present you with the deed dedicating to the Town of Westfield the land named therein: located at the corner of Mountain Avenue and Orchard Street.

To be used as a part of the public street, with the understanding agreed that the curb line shall be established, and the sidewalk excavated to the proper grade.
Also the old stumps now there are to be taken away, and any trees that may have to be removed to be replaced with others (younger) about five (5) years old, of the maple variety, along the new curb line—said improvements and work to be done without expense to me.
Also that this will meet your approval and that a copy of this letter will be spread upon your minutes.

Yours Respectfully,
MARGARET T. WOOD.

The Council accepted the deed on the conditions named.

MR. MCGARRAH SAYS HE GOT A LAWYER'S REPLY TO HIS LETTER.

It is quite true that language is frequently used to conceal thought. It is equally true that the greater includes the less and the whole includes the parts. If Mr. McGarragh is not yet persuaded that the phrase "men who have had a part in such work," as used in the editorial to which he refers, includes all of such men, irrespective of their political faith, it is useless to argue further to convince him of the fact. A lawyer who should use that phrase when he meant only to draw attention to one class or party, would be justly chargeable with a careless use of English. Mr. McGarragh is evidently determined to believe that we either did not mean what we said, or did not say what we meant. It therefore avails us little to rehearse the subject. We feel sure that most of our readers were not deceived as to the thought, nor upset by the method of expressing it.

Mr. McGarragh's letter to-day reveals more party bias and personal feeling than has appeared in any editorial ever written in this office on a political subject. If we were disposed to answer him in the same tone in which he intimates lack of candor in us, we should say he shows bad faith when he writes a letter in one part of which he says his party would oppose the other "on general principles," and in another part sets forth the advantages of independence and non-partisanship. Has Mr. McGarragh always been an independent and a non-partisan? His letter does not betray evidence of his having become fully so even yet. We are generous enough to think, however, that Mr. McGarragh's apparently conflicting thoughts are due to his dissatisfaction with the Democratic party, coupled with his long hostility to the Republican party, both of which facts leave him among the independents and non-partisans as the only company left to join, and very good company it is. When he shall have kept that company long enough to outgrow his partisan dislike for Republicans and his partisan affection for Democrats he will be able to view with equanimity the rival claims of each, and vote with a clear conscience for the best principles of both. For our part, we have never undertaken to prove that the Republican party enjoyed a monopoly of virtue any more than we can be persuaded to believe that the Democratic party has ever been an effective agency for good government except in the role of a prodding minority. Concerning Republicanism, we have often been its advocate, never its apologist. We shall later have something to say about the proper uses and limits of parties.

Five years ago yesterday William McKinley was shot while delivering a speech at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo.

In a letter to the Standard to-day Randolph Perkins announces that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the office of Mayor of Westfield. It is generally reported that Councilman Alpers will be a candidate for the office. In the event of his deciding to run Mr. Alpers will doubtless consider it appropriate to resign his office of Councilman from the first ward in order that the people may have an opportunity to fill his place at the coming election. There will then be two Councilmen to be elected from that ward this fall, as Councilman Mooney's term expires this year.

There seems to be a general impression that it is necessary to have permission from the Council for a property owner to lay his own sidewalks. There is no law requiring or allowing any Council to order a sidewalk laid by the Town if the property-owner desires to do it himself. There is an ordinance specifying the kind and size of material to be used, and that the walks must be laid to grade. Further than this, the owner is entitled to make his own contracts regardless of the Town.

If ever a paper published under authority of a church had occasion to be ashamed of an article in one of its issues, the "Crown," of Newark, must have been that one. The defence of the saloons is so flagrant, and so plainly inspired by other than humanitarian reasons that its appeal for subscriptions in another column is monstrous impudence.

One of the ordinances of this town has been violated by one of Councilmen of this town. If the police department fails to prosecute this case it can not expect others to respect the town laws.

Bryan is said to favor James E. Martine for Senator from New Jersey. Martine is understood to be not opposed to the suggestion.

Mr. McGarragh in Rebuttal.

To the Editor of the Standard:—It did not occur to me that I might get a lawyer's reply to my recent note. I appeal from the lawyer to the candid Editor, asking him to tell me if, indeed, he is much as thought of "democratic aid," when writing the words, "to defeat men who have had a part in such work?" If he thought of it, I submit that he was far from saying it. If one of the democrats who so voted, had have represented our congressional district, would he have the support of the Standard for reelection? Please answer, Mr. Editor.

Of course your answer will be, no, and so it should be; because, while "agitation" by the "Democracy" compelled your party to legislate upon democratic lines, those same democrats would righteously oppose your party upon general principles.

As to "wonderment," the only wonder is that, when your party discovered the trend of public opinion, it hastened to partly conform to it, by legislation so inimical to that which but two years ago was considered by many republicans to be almost solely the cause of the prosperity of the country. Such action is the credit of your party.

It is true that the Republican party was responsible for the results of the last session. It is equally true that it failed to pass two bills that were proposed, to every one that was passed; and it is also true that the important measures that were passed, could not have been passed except by the assistance of democratic votes.

Partisanship is fast disappearing. The independent voter is abroad in the land as never before; so numerous is he, that neither party can succeed without a majority of him. Therefore, any party journal should consider him. He knows what he wants, and thinks when he reads. He is not misled by the misstatements of the partisan press, nor by the specious arguments of the orator. Write for him, truthfully and candidly. You have the rank and file, and you have all who know that the foreigner pays the tariff tax; and all who know that all prosperity comes from mother earth, which can only be enhanced by legislation in the interest of all the people. To win you must have the vote of the man who does his own thinking, who reads intelligently and who forms his own opinions. His vote can only be secured by appealing to his intelligence. Try it, Mr. Editor, and when you are nominated to represent your party in Congress, you will reap your just reward, which will be, not only your election, but your vote will lend that of any other name on your ticket! THEO. MCGARRAH.

Think Westfield Too Low.

Last week The Citizen commented on the low assessed valuations turned in by Westfield and Rahway to the County Board of Assessors—these two municipalities apparently being rated at not more than half what they should be. Summit and Plainfield will join together to force more just valuations and Cranford will work with these cities along the same lines.—Cranford Citizen.

POLICE ROUND UP VIOLATORS OF EXCISE ORDINANCE.

Arrest six men in town who sold liquor without a license—May Arnold in the tolls again—Hullman and he pay fines.

The police department yesterday made a grand haul of violators of the excise ordinance, and arrested six offenders. Town Attorney Oliver was sent for to prosecute the men, and the Town Clerk was also sent for to prove the ordinance. Max Arnold, who keeps a restaurant on Elm Street, was charged with having sold beer in his place on Sunday last. He insisted on the proof, so the purchaser was put on the stand and swore that he went into Arnold's place last Sunday, ordered an oyster fry and asked for a glass of beer. He said Arnold told him he had recently been fined $300 by the county court for selling beer, but he served the customer just the same, taking the presentation to put it in tea-cups instead of glasses. Before leaving, the customer bought a bottle of beer and paid for it. Arnold was quite excited, but finally paid the fine when found guilty. He had just the even amount of the fine, twenty dollars, in his clothes, and was allowed to go home to get the $1.50 costs. He said he would not be caught again.

The rest of the offenders were Italians, Ralph and Michael Torrone, of North Street, Jack Capitelli and Frank Saccardo, of Spring Street, and Carmine Vacht, of South Broad Street. All but Capitelli pleaded guilty and were fined twenty dollars except Vacht who was allowed to go with a suspension of sentence. Capitelli was tried, found guilty and fined. He said he did not sell the beer for money, but for shoe laces. All were warned that the next offence would mean one hundred dollars fine. An Italian woman who accompanied the men to the station, evidently provided with money to pay fines, set up a piteous wail after she had paid one fine. She claimed to have lost a hundred dollars in the station. The police figured it out as a scheme to get sympathy and get off without further fines. She quieted down later.

Mr. Taggart Submits Interesting List of Ten Greatest Novels.

DEAR EDITOR:—Here with I give my "guess" at the "ten greatest novels in the world." No list can meet with universal approval, and this will not. In some cases the book may not be considered the "best" of that particular author. In such cases of doubt I have chosen the one which is best known and liked, disregarding personal preferences. In fact, the list is made up from other published lists of "twenty-five" or "fifty" best books, or from voting contests that have been held in late years.

1. Don Quixote..... Cervantes
2. Les Miserables..... Hugo
3. The Scarlet Letter..... Hawthorne
4. Le Pere Goriot..... Balzac
5. Ivanhoe..... Scott
6. The Three Guardsmen..... Dumas
7. David Copperfield..... Dickens
8. Vanity Fair..... Thackeray
9. Romola..... Eliot
10. Lorna Doone..... Buckmore

For almost any of the above I would hardly question the substitution of Vicar of Wakefield, Jane Eyre, Pride and Prejudice, Robinson Crusoe, Gil Blas, Ben Hur or Uncle Tom's Cabin. FREDERICK S. TAGGART.

Perkins Not to Run for Mayor.

Editor of Union County Standard.

Sept. 7, 1906.

Dear Sir:

The time for nominations for Town officers will soon be at hand, and among officers to be elected is that of Mayor. Ample time should be allowed for the selection of nominees, and for that reason I desire to state, through the columns of your paper, that for urgent business reasons I cannot accept the nomination for a second term. The absence of my partner, Judge Cronse, from business for more than a year past makes this determination conclusive.

In making public this determination I desire to thank the present Council and the other officers of the Town for the co-operation and support they have given in the conduct of the Town government. I feel that the position of Mayor of Westfield is one of honor, and in the choice of a candidate to succeed me, I am quite sure good timber can be found in the present Council.

I trust that the citizens have been satisfied with the administration of the affairs of the Town government, and take pleasure in stating, that in my judgment all of the members of the Council have diligently labored for a judicious and economic administration during the past two years.

Very truly yours,
RANDOLPH PERKINS.

For the Bath Tubs.

There is no more danger of slipping in the bathtub if one supplies the new corrugated rubber mat that lies in the bottom. This is almost essential for the comfort of old people, and a precaution worthy of use by the obese. Besides the mat there are pieces of rubber fastened by clips to the sides of the tub, to prevent slipping here. Handles are sometimes substituted for this arrangement.

Growth of St. Lawrence Valley.

The St. Lawrence valley has passed the Hudson and Mississippi river valleys in growth. In 1860 the opening of the Victoria bridge to Montreal, over 2,000 feet long, at a cost of $6,300,000, was also the beginning of the opulence of newspapers, the most efficient of which then sent for the first time special correspondents to report the prince of Wales, who arrived in Canada to open the bridge.

TACT AND DIPLOMACY NEEDED.

Bridget's Threatened Defection to Be Stopped at Any Cost.

"What's the matter here?" asked Brown, as he came home the other evening, and found his wife getting dinner.

"S-s-s-h!" she replied, as she raised a finger in caution.

"Who is that playing on the piano in the parlor?"

"S-s-s-h!"

"Who have you been serving chocolate and cake?"

"S-s-s-h!"

"Hang your 'S-s-s-h,' and tell me what's going on around this house?" demanded the husband.

"You know, don't you, that the longshoremen in Australia have gone on a strike?"

"I saw something of it in the papers."

"Well, Bridget threatened to strike in sympathy, and so I am coddling her up a bit to see if I can't ward off the blow. Please go to the parlor and entertain her while I get dinner!"

Didn't Like Talk of Courts.

Talking about courts, Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the secretary of the navy, has been receiving the confidences of an old colored woman who is part of her household in Washington.

"This old woman once worked for Mrs. Roosevelt, and she takes great interest in 'the doings of Miss Alice.'"

She is not entirely pleased with the reports that reach her. She told Mrs. Bonaparte the other day that she thought it was scandalous, all this talk about taking Miss Alice to court, and she didn't know what Mr. Longworth was dreaming of.

"I tell you, Miss Alice, I don't want nothing to do with co'ts," said she. "A lady who asked me to go and live with a friend of hers, a fine lady, with a general for a husband, and she said she lived in Stoneleigh's Co't. When I hear that I think her kindly and say that I might be pore and in need of a place, but all my life I'd lived with first-class people, and I wasn't goin' to live in no kind of co't at my time of life."

Do Not Burn Off Old Paint

You will have to do so if you use hard, inelastic paint; but there is a better way.

Use old-fashioned white lead and linseed oil paint. It wears down uniformly, without that scaling off which disfigures so many modern houses, and is ready for re-painting without burning or scraping.

Atlantic Pure White Lead
(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

is just such an old-fashioned paint.

Our booklet will tell you about it, and give you other paint information valuable to the house-owner.

The nineteenth annual meeting of Willard W. C. T. U. was held on Tuesday afternoon, September 5, with a good attendance. The secretary's report showed an active membership of sixty-one with seven honorary members. The Union owns its headquarters on Prospect street, free from all indebtedness, valued at $2,250 including furnishings. Four public meetings have been held, thirty-one regular meetings and 105 meetings in the Mission. Mosher, Mrs. J. S. Burdum, Mrs. Littleton Welch; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. S. Mosher; recording secretary, Mrs. William J. Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur B. Irving; auditor, Miss Mamie Titus. Cuban Giants Defeat All Stars.

The Cuban Giants and the All Stars, both local teams, played a game of base ball at Recreation Park on Labor Day. The Cuban Giants won by the score of 11 to 1. Garner, the Cuban's twirler, was an enigma to the All Stars. The latter had not a chance to win at any time. Fred Hegeman and Warren Woodruff were the star artists for the All Stars. The following was the line-up of both teams: Cubans—H. Kneib, Jr.; W. Phillips, cf; P. Conlman, rf; J. Brown, 3b; H. Dickinson, 2b; B. Hammon, 1b; Joe Garner, ss; John Garner, p; John Mellane, c. All Stars—Hegeman, p; DeCamp, c; Ritter, 1b; Smith, 2b; Winemeyer, ss; Woodruff, 3b; A. Miller, cf; F. Slater, lf; J. Miller, rf. A return game will be played on September 22. The Cubans defeated Garwood on Labor Day morning by the score of 5-0.

The Cuban Giants defeated a team calling themselves the Never Sweets, captained by Charles Ortleb, at Recreation Park on Saturday. The Never Sweets were defeated by the score of 28 to 4. Charles Ortleb did the slab artist work and was hit with ease.

Letter to A. E. Decker,
Westfield, N. J.

Dear Sir: There's twice as much horse in one horse—it may be a mare—as there is in two or three others together.

So with paints too. If a painter can do your job with 10 gallons Devco for $50, it'll take 15 or 20 of other paints; and the cost of the job is about $5 a gallon, whatever the paint may be.

There are paints adulterated three-quarters—only one quart of paint in a gallon—he's got to paint four gallons of rubbish to get one gallon of paint. The worst horse you've got is as good as that paint, and he'll go on for.

The less-gallons paint is the paint, as the most-horse horse is the horse.

Yours truly,

DEVCO & CO.

P. S.—Charles Crickenberger sells our paint.

Devotion.

"Henry," said his employer, sharply, "didn't you return from your vacation a day or two ago?"

GRAVEL CURED

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)
A healthier, healthier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2137 North 8th St., Philadelphia, did not exist until he was cured of gravel. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.

Several years ago he began to suffer in excruciating pain from stone in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY
Although disheartened, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.

Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., and for the doctors of the bladder and urinary organs. He says: "It will effect a cure if one is possible."

Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unfailing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, and nerve troubles in which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

AS THE DOCTOR HAD ORDERED.
Patient Felt Bound to Take Alcohol Stimulant Directed.

Capt. George H. Knox, the richest officer in the United States army, is an advocate of temperance. At Fort McIntosh, in a talk with some private, he said, recently:

"Of course, if men want to drink, they can always find some excuse for drinking."

"I once knew a New York man who drank entirely too much. His doctor, in order to moderate his tipping a little, ordered him to take more light beer and less strong wine—to every quart of beer not more than a pint of wine at the outside."

"The patient said to me one evening a week afterward, as he rang for a bottle of champagne:

"What a bore! I've drunk eight glasses of beer to-day, and now I've got to get away with four glasses of wine. Doctor's orders."

Origin of Word "Dope."
New York's recent roof garden murder gave prominence to the term "dope fiend." What is the origin of "dope?" "Dope" is an English dialect word for a simoleon, but probably the "dops" in this case is another one altogether, derived from the "doping" of horses, and implying that the man was the victim of a drug habit. In this country "dope" has long signified any thick liquid of semi-liquid, used as food or as a lubricant. The Scientific American says that it once meant "a preparation of pitch, tallow and other ingredients, which, being applied to the bottom of the shoes, enables the wearer to glide lightly over the snow softened by the rays of the sun." It is believed to come from the Dutch "doop," dripping, or paste, which is from the verb meaning to dip.

Bathing Dresses Reminded Him.

"Some of these bathing dresses," said Marshall P. Wilder, "make me think of Princess Clementine, the mother of the prince of Bulgaria."

"The princess said one day to her sailor brother, Duc de Joinville:

"Bring me, on your next trip to the south seas, the complete costume of a king's wife."

"I will gladly," the duke answered.

"He returned from the south seas a year later and handed his sister a string of glass beads."

"These are very pretty," said the princess, "but you promised me a complete costume."

"This is a complete costume," said the duke. "I've never seen them wear any other."

Thumb Prints for Bank Checks.

A new use for the distinguishing thumbprint has been devised by a merchant of Plainfield, N. J. By it he protects his bank checks from the operation of the check-raiser.

When this man writes a check, he lightly prints his thumb end over the figures. This mark is known to the bank teller, and, as no two thumbprints are alike, a simple and effective protection is afforded.

The merchant keeps on his desk a small steel plate containing a light coating of ink, and dips his thumb in this as occasion requires.

His Education Stayed by Him.

In his bathing suit he resembled a young Greek god or an Ocho Cushing drawing.

"Is it true, Mr. Mussel," asked the snubbed girl at his side, "is it true that a 'varsity man soon forgets all he learned at college?"

"True? No. Of course it ain't. Why, I can kick a goal or hold down first to-day as good as I ever could at Harvard."

No Abbreviated Bliss.

He—How do you like to see it—kiss or kissed?

She—I like the latter best. You can't make it too extended for me.—Yonkers Statesman.

Doctors Could Not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." For sale by Frutcher & Hathaway.

COURAGE OF LOWER ANIMALS.

Species That Are Noted for Their Remarkable Pugnacity.

The bulldog possesses the distinction of being one of the most fearless of animals. This animal has been extensively used for bull baiting when that so-called amusement was fashionable in older times, and hence its name. The bulldog is a most devoted and faithful companion. Its affection being mainly centered on one person. If the bulldog or its master is attacked it will fasten on its opponent with a grip which, unless killed or called off by its master, it is exceedingly difficult to loosen or get rid of. The pike and king cuttlefish, among fishes, and the eagle and gamecock among birds, would rank as the most fearless of their respective species. The gamecock is noted for its pugnacity, and is never willing to give up a contest until death has taken one of the combatants. There is no animal which a gamecock would hesitate to attack on the slightest provocation. A full-grown gorilla is as fearless as a lion, and would never hesitate to attack the lion. African travelers charge the lion with cowardice, and pronounce him to be a pretentious humbug. He will run away like a whipped cur under circumstances in which a tiger will boldly attack and kill.

Unique Bible.

The most costly book in the royal library at Stockholm is a Bible, and there is not another just like it in the world. In weight and size alone it is unique. It is said that 160 asses' skins were used for its parchment leaves. Each page falls but an inch short of a yard in length. The width of the leaves is 20 inches. The covers are solid planks four inches thick.

The Crocodile.

The moment that a young crocodile breaks its shell it is to all intents and purposes as active as it is at any time during its life. It will make straight for the water, even if it be out of sight and a good distance off, and it will pursue its prey with eagerness and agility during the first hour of its free existence.

Hint for Dramatic Critics.

It appears that some of the Tokyo dramatic critics have been for some time in the habit of performing in comedies and taking the most celebrated roles. The Japanese critics think, in fact, that before judging the play of the actors they should themselves experience the difficulties of dramatic art.

Given Due Warning.

On an ash tray which has reached England from Germany is the following: "Defilement of the room by ash of cigars is forbidden to the severest. Any one who, notwithstanding, makes guilty of such a one will be punished irrevocably by house arrest."

Girl Jockeys in Japan.

Women jockeys, or rather girl jockeys, have made their appearance in Japan. During the last Tokyo races three favorites were ridden by girls. One, the daughter of a riding master, came in first, while the other two, both girls, were "placed."

Milk Displacing Alcohol.

In a speech at the Bishopsgate Institute Sir Victor Horsley gave some remarkable figures to show how the use of alcohol in hospitals is declining. In 1862 nearly 40,000 was spent on alcohol in the London hospitals and $15,000 in milk; in 1902 the situation was almost exactly reversed.

Wonderful Insects.

Insects are the strongest and swiftest of living things, in proportion to their size and weight. Their flying, running, jumping, carrying and killing powers are wonderful, when measured by their own dimensions.

Jewish Bride's Position.

In Jewish marriages the bride always stands at the right hand of the groom. With every other nation of the world her place in the ceremony is at the left.

SPEND MILLIONS FOR DISPLAY.

Immense Sum Expended in America for Precious Stones.

While the importations of precious stones and pearls have been increasing by leaps and bounds in the last two years, as indicated by the reports given out at the port of New York from time to time, there will be some surprise at the announcement that the total value of these importations in the past fiscal year, ended June 30, has been far ahead of all preceding records, approximating $40,217,500. The June importations at this port exceed in value those of the corresponding month of last year by a margin of nearly $400,000.

The nearest approach to the splendid total of the fiscal year now closed was made by the figures for the calendar year ended December 31 last, the aggregate for that period being $37,146,337. It will be seen, therefore, that the fiscal year exceeds the calendar year by over $3,000,000.

Comparisons with preceding fiscal years will indicate the extent of the increase in the consumption of precious stones by the American dealers. The largest total since the records of the port have been kept until the present year was made by the preceding 12 months, when the figures were $33,223,164. The year ended June 30, 1903, was considered marvelous in its day, the value of the imports being $27,318,642. There was a decline in the year ended June 30, 1904, and then began the upward movement, which has since continued.—Jeweler's Circular-Weekly.

SOME JOKES OUT OF THE LONG AGO.

Negro was fiddling at the burning of Rome.

Pansing, he happened to think with regret that moving pictures were not yet invented. Going into a near-buffet, he ordered a Mamie Taylor.

Franklyn was experimenting with lightning. "I'd like to have some of that Jersey lightning they tell about. It must be great stuff."

Drawing his flask, he took new courage.

Columbus had just landed. Meeting a woman Indian with a bunch of cigars in his hand, he asked for a light.

"You're too soon. Matches won't be invented till 1832."

Chagrined at his thoughtlessness, Columbus got a light from a street lamp.

Pan was playing the pipes.

"Why don't you play something new?" they asked.

Sore at the lack of appreciation of the classics, he began playing "Only Teasing."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE.

With opening of the regular theatrical season the bills at Proctor's Newark Theatre have materially improved, although this is well nigh impossible when one considers the remarkable programs that have been in vogue at this excellent play house.

A bill of remarkable strength is offered for week of Sept. 10th. The Royal Musical Five, a clever quintet of instrumentalists, offer a refined musical novelty as a headliner feature. Those popular Hippodrome comedians, The Rosses Milgates, will appear in their athletic exhibition which is sure to amuse both old and young. Famous on two continents are the two Astor Brothers, gymnastic clowns of marvelous ability not only as gymnasts but comedians as well. Cook, the pseudonym of George W. Day, is synonymous with good songs and stories that are not of antediluvian period. Monroe, Mack & Lawrence will be seen in a hilarious sketch of the knock-about variety. Murphy & Andrew, travesty artists of exceptional ability, will be seen in a clever shipping act. There will be other star acts of like merit, with ever changing and always popular animated pictures will complete a program that will set a standard of merit that will continue throughout the winter at this popular playhouse, stamping Proctor's Newark as the premier vaudeville house of New Jersey.

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE.

The regular season at the New Amsterdam Theatre opened last Monday evening with Harry Bulger in Henry W. Savage's production of "The Man From Now," a most unique musical play written by John Kendrick Bangs and Vincent Bryan, presented with an exceptionally brilliant score composed by Manuel Klein. Both play and star made a hit. Mr. Bulger is most happily cast as "Steve Waffles," agent of a patent medicine, and repeated his previous Broadway successes. Mr. Savage has given the play a most elaborate mounting. The cast is an excellent one. A score of small children are introduced in the second act. The scene is "The National Amusement Park, Seaside Land, in the year 2000." The children at their games attracted even more attention than did the "grown up" players. This engagement of Mr. Bulger and his associates is limited to three more weeks, to be followed October 1st by H. B. Irving and his London company in "Paul and Francesca."

NEW YORK THEATRE.

Cus and Max Rogers have scored their usual success at the New York Theatre in "The Rogers Brothers in Ireland." They opened at this house last Monday and played to audiences that packed the theatre to the doors. They have given their play an entirely new equipment of scenery and costumes and their company is practically the same as last season. Their engagement ends Saturday, the 15th inst. They will be followed on Monday, the 17th inst., by "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

BROADWAY THEATRE.

Klaw & Erlanger have engaged Col. Michael Daly, the famous English broadsword and Ancient Roman sword fencer, to train the 250 men who will appear as Greek soldiers in the great battle scene in "The Prince of India" at the Broadway Theatre, the 24th inst. Hassan Ali, an ex-Turkish cavalryman, has also been retained to instruct the 300 men who will appear as Turkish Janissaries. This battle scene will be sensational indeed.

The Historic Hudson.

The Hudson River has a renowned reputation in more ways than one. Its business interests are more widely known than any other stream, while for excursions and outings it has no equal. There are sights galore, the palisades, the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, the far famed State Prison at Sing Sing and interesting Newburgh. The scenery in every direction is superb, and the steamers which convey the excursionists are commodious and comfortable. On Sept. 9 1906 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its popular low rate excursions up the Hudson, the rate for the round trip to be $1.00, children 50c, and special train leaving Westfield at 9.03 a. m. will connect at Jersey City Station with famous steamer "Sandy Hook" for the trip. Don't forget date or train time.

The Busy Newark "Bee Hive."

L. S. Plant & Co., Newark's popular dry goods establishment, present this week, on page 1 an opportunity for the economical buying of comfortable, sheets and general wear for the best. This is an annual September event, and always looked forward to by thousands of New Jersey women who have long since learned of the important money saving that can be made while such a sale is in progress.

The Designer.

In the Designer for October are shown, in addition to many other up-to-date patterns the newest designs for coats and jackets for ladies, misses, girls and boys. The millinery pages display autumn hats and "Fashionable Fall effects" and "Fashion and Fabrics" describe and illustrate many new articles in the dress line to be found in the shops. "Points on Coat Making" instructs how to make a "Peter Pan" blouse coat, one of the latest styles of wrap. In fancywork are supplied directions for crocheting a hood, baby cap, booties, bedroom slippers, baby sack, and bag-me-tight jacket for baby; also for making lace-trimmed handkerchiefs, a chamber and quilted coat, while Miss Moran continues her lessons in Carlelman's lace. An amusing monologue "Anat Angelina's Experiences With the New Conventions" by Agnes K. L. Pratt and "Hallowe'en Entertainments" supply the amusement demand. Among the literary features are "The Haunted Castles of Europe," by John de Morgan, two short stories "The Royalist," by John Justin Cummings, and "The Face in the Mirror," by Zella Margaret Walters, and "The Village Improvement Society" which comes to a termination with most exciting events. A picture story of "Two Pumpkins Which Ended in a Pie" will amuse the small folks. Bertha Hasbrouck tells how to be "A Visiting Gift Maker," and Mary Kilsyth writes of "The Modern Use of Colonial Furniture." Recipes for layer cakes, pianilli and eatups are given in "The Kitchen Kingdom," and "For Lovely Woman" tells how to have white hands.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the refreshed mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On Sept. 9 1906, the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1.00, and special train leaves Westfield at 9.12 a. m.

BRANCH MILLS.

William A. Parkhurst and George W. Pierson have returned from Ocean Grove. Mrs. Charles Schoonhoven has returned from Barnegat.

Miss Mary Linderberry, of Morristown, spent Labor Day at Mrs. G. L. Pierson's. Mrs. Arthur Davis and family, of Orange, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. W. Bamister.

Mrs. Carrie L. Pierson is confined to her home by illness.

Rev. F. O. Wiggins has returned to New York State after visiting his sister, Mrs. H. L. Parkhurst.

Daring vacation the day school building has been repaired and newly painted inside and out. A new cloak room has been added and everything ready for the opening on Tuesday. Miss Bessie Thompson, of Rahway, is the teacher. At 2.30 in the afternoon exercises were held in the school room at which time a new flag was presented, the gift of Mr. William Allen, of Springfield. The board of education, Principal Walton and teachers and scholars of Springfield were present and the neighbors and friends of this place. The children marched into the school room. The exercises were in charge of Principal Walton and consisted of speaking and singing, and songs sung by William Taylor, an old veteran of the Civil War. After this all marched to the school ground and formed about the flag pole, where the new flag was presented by Mr. William Allen and received by Mr. E. D. Miller on behalf of the Board of Education. The flag was then raised by Miss Louisa Bamister, after which all joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner.

SHE WAS ONLY PARTIALLY RATTLED.

She stood irresolutely in the waiting room of the great passenger station and looked timidly about as if waiting for some one. She was a tall, neatly dressed young woman, with a pretty face and a peachy complexion, an evidently unused to traveling.

Seeing her embarrassment, a station policeman stepped forward.

"Can I do anything for you, ma'am?" he asked.

"Why, yes," she answered, producing a baggage check. "I want to know what to do with this thingamajig. The guy on the train handed it to me and said that if I'd present it somewhere in this shebang I could get my grip. Can you show me the place, mister?"—Chicago Tribune.

But She's There, All Right.

"Where are you going this summer?"

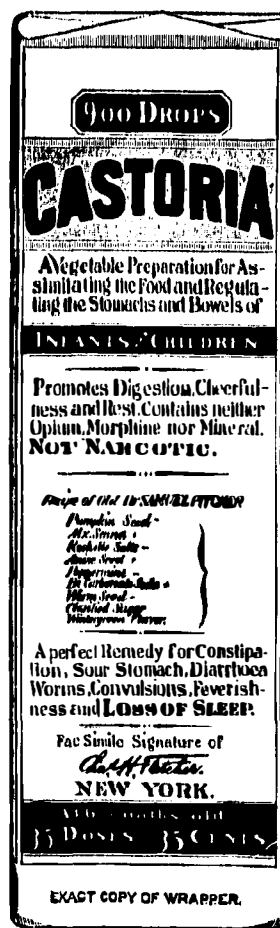

"Atlantic City."

"Know anybody there?"

"My fiancée is spending the summer there."

"What's her name?"

"Gee, I don't know. I haven't met any of the girl yet."—Cleveland Leader.
