W. C. T. U. Convention.

The twenty-second annual convention of the Union County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on Wednesday in the chapel of the Presbyterian church.

In spite of the intense heat about sixty-five earnest women assembled for the morning session, and the number was largely increased during the day. Greetings from the local Union were extended by the president, Miss E. L. Starr, and from the church by Rev. W. I. Stearns, D. D., in his accustomed felicitous manner. Mrs. T. C. Bodine, of Plainfield, responded for the delegates.

The address of the president was spirited and interesting, setting forth clearly, some of the dangers which threaten our homes. She spoke also of her own work, which is wholly a labor of love, in the interest of the County Union. For one item she had secured twenty-five new members.

The county has 530 active members in eight unions, and about 75 honorary members.

All the retiring officers were re-elected. President, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, Plainfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. L. Rurick, Dumellen; recording secretary, Mrs. T. C. Bodine, Plainfield, and treasurer, Mrs. Mary T. Cox, Cranford. The basis of representation in the National Union is one delegate for every five hundred members in the state. Union county having the required number, elects its own delegate. Miss E. L. Starr, president of the Westfield Union, was chosen to represent the county at the National Convention, to be held in Hartford, October 24-31.

The nominating prayer was offered by Mrs. Stoddard, of Elizabeth, when the Convention adjourned for luncheon. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with Bible reading by Mrs. Bodine. Then came reports of work in twenty-two departments. In "Legislation and Petition" work has been done for the Local Option Bill, the Hepburn-Dalliver Bill, and for the unseating of Senator Reed Smoot.

A memorial service was held for the sixteen members who had passed away during the year. A solo, "The Home of the Soul," was beautifully rendered by Miss Edith Mooney of this place. The following telegram was sent to Mayor Berry, of Elizabeth:

"The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Union county assembled at Westfield, earnestly request, in the name of humanity, that you will not encourage by your presence, the convention of the liquor dealers in Elizabeth to-morrow."

The evening session opened at eight o'clock. The devotional exercises included a beautiful duet by Mrs. Clifford Pensull and Mrs. Leigh Pensull.

An earnest address was given by Rev. Florence Randolph, of Jersey City, on "The Need of the Hour." A solo and quartette, "There's a Shadow on the Home," was sung by Mr. Fred Kreibler, Mrs. Arthur Price, Miss Lucy Johnston and Mr. William T. Roger.

This closed a most interesting convention, which was spirited throughout all the sessions, notwithstanding the intense heat of the day.

Annual Sunday School Convention to be Held at Elizabeth.

The 26th annual convention of the Union County Sunday School Association, will be held in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth, N. J., on Thursday, October 11.

Sessions will be held at 10 a. m., 2:15 and 7:30 p. m., with some special conferences between the sessions, conducted by the officers of the State Sunday School Association.

Some of the principal addresses are to be given by:—Rev. George H. Trull, Assistant Minister, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York; Rev. Pascal Harrower, D. D., rector Episcopal Church, West New Brighton, N. Y.; Rev. W. H. Morgan, of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Newark, N. J.; Rev. E. Morris Ferguson, General Secretary, New Jersey Sunday School Association.

A special feature of this convention will be the music under the direction of Messrs. Tuller and Meredith, of New York.

The first half hour of each session will be devotional, in charge of Mr. Grant Colfax Tuller, who will lead a special choir, of many of the best singers in the Elizabeth churches. Mr. Isaac H. Meredith is a soloist of rare power and will sing at each session.

Delegates are to be appointed by each of the 120 schools in the county, representing the various departments of the schools.

The full program of the convention will soon be furnished to the pastors and superintendents, showing how all phases of up-to-date methods of Sunday-school work, for all departments, from "Cradle Roll to Home Department" are to be presented.

A collation will be served to delegates from a distance by the ladies of the schools in the vicinity of Westminster Church.

The Railway Valley Railroad will run a special train to Springfield and Summit, leaving Elizabeth in the evening, after the convention adjourns.

Letter to H. L. Abrams, Westfield, N. J.

Dear Sir: Our agent ought to sell nine-tenths of the paint of his town and region; no use to try for the other tenth. The proportion of men, who won't take good advice, and use the least-gallons paint, is about one in ten among even owners of houses and stores and shops and barns and fences.

One man in ten will buy a gold brick or green goods, if he has the money and gets a good chance.

Devco at $1.75 a gallon is better than gold; adulterated and short-measure paints are green goods and gold bricks.

Devco saves half, more or less, of the labor and wages of painting; it is all paint; full strength and full measure. There is no other such paint within ten per cent. Ten per cent. of labor and paint is worth saving; and ten is the least. There are scores of paints that throw away half of both gallons and labor on whitening, china-clay, ground stone, barytes, benzine, water—all they are good for is to make gallons of nothing and look like paint in the can; more gallons to buy and more gallons to pay for putting on—gold brick and green goods. Here's how they work.

Judge I. D. Fairchild owns two houses exactly alike in Lufkin, Texas. J. H. Torrance painted both houses; one Devco, 15½ gallons; the other with another paint sold at same price; 25 gallons. That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 per cent. whitening; that's why it took 9½ gallons more.

Yours truly,
DEVCO & CO.
New York.

P. S.—Charles Crikkenberger sells our paint.

Reckoned Up.

"How long is it going to take, to get through this case?" asked the man who was under remand for house breaking.

"Well," replied the young lawyer, thoughtfully, "it'll take me about two weeks to get through with it, but I'm afraid it's going to take you about five years."—Cassell's Journal.

Newark's Store BeautifulBROAD

STREETS

Floor Coverings Galore.

THIS is the Carpet Store par excellence—there is none in the State to match it, much less surpass it. In floor space, in the variety of patterns carried, in the collection of makes, no other concern compares with this one. This being true beyond question, where can you buy carpets to better advantage and why should you bother your head looking at diminutive stocks in stores unable to carry complete and satisfying lines, and where prices are often higher than they are here.

In a stock of the magnitude of this one we are enabled to carry many exclusive patterns; other stores have some but we have many, and the satisfaction of buying a good carpet that cannot be found everywhere and is not likely to be found on your neighbor's floor is great to those who like individuality in furnishing. We carry practically all the very best makers' products and we carry none that are not wholly worthy of this peerless store. We sell you any carpet in the house with a feeling of absolute confidence, knowing that every yard we sell is bound to prove satisfactory.

Not only do we sell you the best carpets made at fairest prices but we employ a corps of experts to measure, make and lay your carpets, thus assuring you the highest degree of satisfaction when you lay floor coverings here. There is much bawling done, and people living in fine houses and buying fine floor coverings find immense satisfaction in dealing with a house whose work people may be trusted to perform their work in the most skillful manner known to the trade.

We will be glad to have you come in as soon as you can to see these beautiful floor coverings. We never had fuller or more beautiful lines.

STORE OF FAT SUSTAINS LIFE.

Hibernating Animals Exist on Their Reserve of Adipose Tissue.

Some animals which hibernate, or retire to winter quarters, lay up a supply of food in the autumn and pass the cold season in a state of torpor, but little from ordinary sleep, from which they occasionally awake and satisfy their hunger, but others are dormant during the whole period, taking no food. These retire to their winter quarters provided with a due supply of fatty matter, a consequence of the abundant supply of food they have been able to procure during the preceding months. This serves as a reservoir of nourishment adequate to the supply of the small expenditure that takes place during their torpid state. On the return of spring they are aroused from their lethargy, their fat being greatly diminished. In animals thus circumstanced, voluntary motion is altogether suspended; so also is the process of digestion; several of the secretions are suppressed, the senses are sealed up, and the circulation greatly diminished in rapidity. The hamster, the pulse of which beats 150 per minute in a state of activity, has it reduced to 15 in its torpid condition. The dormouse, whose pulse is so rapid as scarcely to be counted when in its normal state, has it reduced to the same low standard when torpid.

Knew His Place.

"What did you think of your daughter's graduation essay?"
"I didn't permit myself to think about it," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I simply did my duty and admired it."

BAN PLACED ON FIRST WIVES

Short Girl Hates the Subject After Her Experiences.

"Nothing makes me feel quite so silly," said the short girl, "as to be told by some man that I look like his first wife. I never know what to say. On the first occasion of that kind I asked if the dear departed was good-looking."

"No," said the man candidly, "she wasn't, but she was a good cook. She could mash potatoes better than anybody I ever saw."

"The next time I tried the sympathetic racket. 'It is too bad you lost her,' I sighed."

"Oh, said he, 'you needn't take it so hard. I don't. The other fellow can worry along with her a good deal better than I could, so we are satisfied all round.'"

"The third man, in reply to my compassionate murmurs, responded heartlessly. 'She was all right. She had nine sisters, all beauties, but I chose the plain one of the family, and I never regretted my choice.'"

"And so it goes. No matter what I say I do not seem to strike the right key. There must be some appropriate answer for sentimental compliments of the kind, and before I have further need of it I wish somebody would tell me what it is."—N. Y. Sun.

Nothing Doing.

Sherlock Holmes was rolling an

"What did you get out of that last case?" asked the genial doctor.

"Not much," replied the great sleuth, scornfully. "Somebody swiped all the bottles before I got there."

"For years I have suffered with inflammation and constant pain in the bladder and kidneys, and have gradually grown worse and expected at any time that passing urine by nature's effort would cease. Besides I have had rheumatic pain in every muscle and joint, and have suffered intensely, but I must say I have not in five years felt as well as I do now. LITTLE BROOKLYN CITY IS WESTFIELD, N. J.

A TOWN WHERE, TO BE AT ALL PROMINENT, ONE MUST HAVE BEEN A BROOKLYNITE.

A Colony of Fine Homes—Some of the Well Known Former Residents of Brooklyn Who Have Settled in Westfield.

Out in New Jersey, just beyond the historic town of Elizabeth, there is another Brooklyn. A bright little, tight little, enterprising city on the Plainfield plain and half way up the mountain side, where Washington a century and a quarter ago watched the British, claims this honor and is entitled to it—the little city is Westfield.

A Brooklyn Heights belle is one of the Westfield leaders of fashion. Its "muddy pool of politics" has a former Brooklynite high in its councils and the probable next mayor. So pronounced is the Brooklyn personnel that if a leading citizen was not a Brooklynite three or four years ago he almost certainly did live in Brooklyn at some time of his life, or his father was born there, or he married a Brooklyn girl. The "Brooklyn idea" is so strong that there is even a plan on foot to establish a miniature "Brooklyn Institute" in the town.

Why Westfield, rather than a dozen other Jersey towns, cannot be said. It has simply happened. Year after year more Brooklynites have migrated. The astonishing feature is that the migration has spread to the surrounding country as well, and adjoining towns—Plainfield, Cranford, Rumwood—have each their quota of Brooklyn folks, though not nearly so many as those of Westfield.

Finally there is an emphatic "Brooklyn pride." As in "High Society," people hunt up their lines of ancestry, so in Westfield to-day it is a strong card if one can prove himself or herself of Brooklyn.

Randolph Perkins, present Mayor of Westfield, does not seem to ever have been a Brooklyn man. But August Father Alpers was. It is Alpers, now Commissioner, that looks like the coming Mayor of the town. Mr. Alpers was born in Brooklyn in 1863, and attended Public School No. 15. He moved to Jersey at the age of thirteen, his family settling in Westfield at once.

The former Brooklyn belle is Mrs. George B. Lamb—Antonietta Storrs Valentine that was, sister of Mrs. H. Edward Dreier (Miss Ethel Valentine) and Miss Elizabeth Valentine, the Brooklyn Heights girl who has of recent years made such a big success upon the stage. Mrs. Lamb and her sisters are grand nieces of the late Dr. R. S. Storrs. The Valentine girls lived for many years on Monroe place, and were always conspicuous features of Heights life. Miss Ethel Valentine married the brother of the famous Dreier sisters, of fashion and sociological celebrity. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Dreier Robins, now of Chicago, is one of the leading figures of the woman's trade union movement of the country and a woman herself of large fortune.

The Lambs reside in the new district of Westfield, known as Stoneleigh Park, and have an exceedingly handsome home there.

Another Westfield resident of note is Josiah T. Tubby, Jr., of the old Quaker family of the Heights, and brother of William B. Tubby. Mr. Tubby wedded a Westfield girl, Miss Mary Peckham, daughter of W. G. Peckham, the New York attorney, who has lived in Westfield over a quarter of a century. Josiah Tubby, who is an architect, built a very artistic house on the hillside overlooking the town.

There is, too, Malcolm D. Dutcher, one of the sons of Silas B. Dutcher, of Brooklyn, political farmer. Mr. Dutcher is a big man in Westfield, high in the councils of the Presbyterian Church. Not far away from him lives Mrs. Harlan P. Hilsey and her son and daughter. Every one will recall the late Harlan Pogo Hilsey. He had one of the most remarkable businesses of record, that brought him a small fortune in the course of years. He was "Old Sleuth," that is, the writer of the noted "blood and thunder" stories for boys that were among the great sellers of their time. Mr. Hilsey made $15,000 to $20,000 a year by this writing.

A new Brooklynite is coming to Westfield; he takes up his residence there this fall. This is Alfred Nicolovius, one of the most recent bridegrooms of Brooklyn society. Mr. Nicolovius, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Nicolovius of Monroepark on the Heights, married one of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Prothingham Smith of Henry street early this summer. He and his bride will be a decided acquisition to the Westfield colony.

Westfield's prime social organization is the Westfield Golf Club. With tennis, golf matches and dances there is plenty of active life here. Notable in this are the Harrison Gladwins. Mrs. Gladwin will be remembered in Brooklyn as Miss Edith Marie Grindal of the Park Slope. Another of the Grindal girls very recently married another Westfield man, Charles H. Flomudin. Mrs. Gladwin is one of Westfield's bright particular stars socially, and is one of the leaders of the automobile contingent.

Of further social note in this town of former Brooklyn residents are, the Hoyt Spelmans who have very recently moved out there; Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard D. Stetie, Mr. and Mrs. William Seward Brown (Miss Alice S. Tompkins that was), Miss Victoria Cowperthwait, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harmon Faulkner (Miss Georgina Bogert.) There is, too, Lawrence Bogert, one of the most prominent musical men in Westfield, himself a former Brooklynite and the husband of a well-known Brooklyn girl, Miss Ella Eldridge. Miss Eldridge that was, was a daughter of the late Daniel A. Eldridge, of Brooklyn, who was at one time president of the New York Produce Exchange.

One of the most prominent Westfield families are, too, of Brooklyn—the Pearalls, Alfred E. Pearall and his sons, J. Herbert Pearall, Clifford Pearall, Leigh Pearall and Ralph Pearall. They originally came from Rockville Centre, and thirty years ago resided at 806 Jefferson avenue, then Jefferson street, Brooklyn. The family has lived in Westfield ever since, and have always been leading figures in its life. Edgar R. Pearall, also, Alfred E. Pearall's brother, was once a Brooklyn man.

Henry H. Downes, a great baseball enthusiast, hails from Brooklyn, as well as do Herbert L. Abrams, George H. Birdsell, Wray A. Bentley and W. W. Campbell. In a young Westfield matron, Mrs. John S. Doreyall, there is a former Lafayette avenue girl, Miss Jessie Anderson, daughter of the late Walter Anderson.

W. H. Gomes, of Westfield, is another Brooklyn man. Not so long ago there was also Harold Wilcox, who married Miss Lelia Horsman, one of E. L. Horsman's daughters. Ambrose A. E. Bogert, W. F. Hasselock, Sidney Kniffen, George W. Tanison, of Gates Avenue, and Theodore Chass are some of the others.

Near at hand to Westfield are a number of other well-known Brooklyn people. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Theodore Sloan, of the Hill, at Cranford, and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus F. Babcock (Miss Lillian A. Sloan) at Cranford; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Morgan Abbott (Miss Maude Earle Conklin) at Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bartlett Aldrich, Miss Isabella Harter, at Cranford; Mr. and Mrs. T. Wolfe-Tone Maxwell (Miss Ida Cooke) at Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elliott Bowen, at Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Wallace (Miss Grace Seecomb) at Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. John Talcott and Mrs. E. W. Richardson, at Cranford, and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cowperthwait, at Plainfield.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Cases Not Parallel.

Rev. John Campbell, when preaching in the north of Scotland and Orkney Islands, went down the Firth of Cromarty to Dornmund, where an old man who enjoyed his sermon told him a Scotch bishop who used to preach in that quarter. He asked one of his hearers why he had forsaken him. "Because I got no good," said Donald Munro. "But should you not wait at that pool, Donald?" "No, I expect no good at your pool." "Oh, but did not the man at Bethesda get a cure at last?" "Yes, but he had some encouragement. He saw others cured now and then, but I never knew one who was cured at your pool."

Westfielders Inspect Food Products.

Nineteen ladies, members of the Dorcas Society of the Presbyterian Church, were the guests of the Franco-American Food Company on Tuesday afternoon at Jersey City. Starting from Broad and Elm Streets, in the Company's private car at one o'clock, reaching their destination shortly after three, they were met at the door by the lady in charge and escorted to the reception room, where having been divided into groups of five, each group being furnished with a young lady or gentleman guide, the next two hours were profitably spent in inspecting the numerous departments of the plant. They saw the meat from the time it was brought from the market, through cutting, boiling and clarifying, until ready for the cans. Also the preparing of vegetables, and the fruit and spices for plum puddings. They saw the making of cans from a sheet of tin until they stand in the storehouse filled, labeled, wrapped and boxed ready for shipment. The delegation found every department, including ice boxes, closets and room where garbage cans are washed, immaculately clean. At the conclusion they were regaled with a dainty luncheon of the products of the place.

Voted for Labor Bills.

Mr. Thomas Debevoise, in a letter to the Elizabeth Daily Journal, claimed that the Elizabeth Building Trades Council was not dealing fairly with the Collyer or new idea people in denying them a opportunity to appear before that body. Mr. Debevoise is a Collyer man and hails from Summit; he further states that the trades council is sticking to the machine instead of clean government.

Mr. John T. Cosgrove, President of the Associated Building Trades Councils of New Jersey and Business Agent of the Elizabeth Building Trades Council, has this to say in reply:—

"Debevoise was never invited to speak before the Trades Council. One of the delegates, as a personal matter, asked him to speak before the committee, which is a different thing. You can say for me that none of the Collyerites in the Legislature voted for any of the labor bills. Tucker voted for some, I think, but he was not elected as a Collyer man. If Debevoise is anxious to learn what bills were voted against by the Collyerites, we are ready to show him. We have a record of everything."

"He said that we had chosen to stick to the machine rather than stand up for clean government. Not at all. Our instructions from the American Federation of Labor were to stand by our friends and fight our enemies. We have done nothing unusual for Perkins and Tillman. But they voted for our measures, and we want labor men to know that. And this statement comes not from a Republican but from a Democrat."—Labor World.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On September 23, 1906, the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1.00, and special train leaves Westfield at 9:12 a. m.

AMUSEMENTS

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE.

Harry Bulger will close his engagement in "The Man From Now" at the New Amsterdam Theatre a week from next Saturday evening, the 29th instant, and will be followed the next Monday evening, October 1st, by H. B. Irving and his London company, with his production of Stephen Phillips' drama founded on the story of "Francesca da Rimini" called "Paolo and Francesca." Mr. Irving will play "Malatesta" and Miss Duffell, who in private life is the wife of this noted actor, will act "Francesca." Mr. Irving's company will be found one of the strongest ever brought to this country by any management, and includes E. Harcourt Williams, P. Tyne, A. Curtis, S. A. Jackson, T. Reynolds, Charles Dods, J. Archer, Miss Maud Milton, Miss L. Fisher, Miss Nettle Bennett, Miss Edna Huescott, Miss Ada Mellon, W. J. Yeldham, W. Marion, Charles Dornan, P. Randall, and Henry Dornan. "Paolo and Francesca" is mounted in four acts and seven scenes. Mr. Irving only recently presented his revival of "Paolo and Francesca" in England. His work in this play has been very highly commended by the English press, the newspapers in London, Liverpool, Birmingham and other large cities of England referring at great length to the resemblance between the stage methods of this rising young actor and those of his lamented father, the late Sir Henry Irving.

The Historic Hudson.

The Hudson River has a renowned reputation in more ways than one. Its business interests are more widely known than any other stream, while for excursions and outings it has no equal. There are sights galore—the palisades, the U. S. Military Academy at West Point—the fair famed State Prison at Sing Sing and interesting Newburg. The scenery in every direction is superb, and the steamers which convey the excursionists are commodious and comfortable. On Sept. 23, 1906, the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its popular low-rate excursions up the Hudson, the rate for the round trip to be $1.00 children 50c, and special train leaving Westfield at 9.03 a. m., will connect at Jersey City station with famous steamer "Mammoth" for the trip. Don't forget date or train time.

A Famous Fall Fair.

There is no institution which is so decidedly popular as the agricultural fair, and though year after year you may visit them, the fine cattle, the monster vegetables, the contests and races, and the great crowds have a fascination and interest which is unequalled by any other entertainment. All this attracts visitors, but the fair management each year tries to outdo itself in the various additional features provided, resulting in a most elaborate show. Tronon Fair is no exception to the rule, and far and wide this fair is looked upon as the best ever, and from far and wide come visitors for the fun and sights. This year's fair will be a "cracker," and the New Jersey Central will place on side at most of its stations reduced rates and from certain sections special trains will be run. Inquire of agents at stations for information.

A pictorial Preference.

He talked incessantly of art. But most admired the graceful skill with which engravers can impart sweet meaning to a dollar bill. —Washington Star.
