Who Will Preach--Special Services--
Sunday School and Prayer Meeting
Topics.

NOTE:--The usual hours of services in the several churches will be found in the Church Directory in another column.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. C. J. Greenwood, pastor, will preach morning and evening on Sunday in the Baptist Church. The evening service is now being held at half past seven.

Congregational Church.

The Rev. H. H. Guernsey will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational Church on Sunday. There will be no evening service.

The Woman's Association will hold an all day sewing meeting at the church parlors on Monday.

Methodist Church.

The Rev. Dr. John R. Wright, pastor of the Methodist Church, will exchange pulpits with the Rev. Frank McDaniels of the First Church of Orange, on Sunday morning. Dr. Wright will meet his class at four o'clock and will preach at the evening service. Sunday school session at 2:30 p. m.

Presbyterian Church.

There will be an Old Home Service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. There will also be a special service of the O. E. Society at seven o'clock, when O. M. Keeler, of Minneapolis, will conduct the music and render a solo. Mr. Keeler is a member of the Y. M. C. A. quartette which leads the singing at the Silver Bay and Northfield Conferences. Miss Holloway, of Plainfield, will speak on the value of mission study. In the evening at eight o'clock in the church there will be a Missionary Rally, when the Rev. F. M. Dillam, of Caspore, India, will make an address.

The Rev. Dr. W. J. Steans and William C. Reed will attend the meeting of the Elizabeth Presbytery at Plainfield next Tuesday in the Crescent Avenue Church.

St. Paul's Church.

The Rev. Thomas J. Crosby will have charge of the services at St. Paul's Church at 7:30 and 11 a. m. on Sunday. Sunday School at 9:45.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The thirty-third annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of New Jersey, will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Camden, October 2, 3, 4, 5. On Tuesday evening the address will be given by Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, who has spoken in Westfield on three different occasions.

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Caroline Buell, president of Connecticut W. C. T. U., will give the address, and on Wednesday evening there will be a diamond medal contest.

Miss Starr and Miss R. P. Jacques will go as delegates from the Westfield Union.

COLBY TICKET LOSES IN ALL WARDS IN WESTFIELD.

CONTENTS IN FIRST AND THIRD PROVE EXCITING AND HEAVY VOTE IS POLLED BY BOTH SIDES AT THE PRIMARIES TUESDAY.

Colby movement generally defeated throughout the State--Essex and Hudson Counties slip from the "New Idea" control--Runyon gets fifteen delegates from Plainfield--Perkins sure of nomination for Assemblyman--Results in local districts interesting--Table of official returns.

The Colby ticket was defeated in every ward in this town at the Primaries held on Tuesday. No delegate was named in the fourth ward on the Colby ticket and no votes were cast for the "New Idea" candidates there. In the second ward the Colbyites had named no delegate in time to get his name printed on the official ballot, but they succeeded in getting Col. George H. Starr to stand for nomination late last week, and the name of the latter was written in on the Colby ballots voted. Walter R. Darby was the Perkins candidate opposed to Col. Starr and was elected by a majority of 31. In the third ward a lively canvass was in progress all day, and both the Colbyites and Regulars worked hard to secure votes. The contest was hotter there than in any other ward, and several personal rows were barely averted during the voting. The Perkins delegates, John J. Cogger and Robert H. Sumner, were elected over Ralph C. Pearsall and James E. Cutler, Colby delegates, by a vote of 18 to 74. In the first ward John C. Ketchum, George B. Dickerson and Robert V. Hoffman, Colby delegates, were defeated by the Perkins delegates, Joseph R. Connolly, Hiram L. Fink and Harry W. Gladwin. The vote stood 141 to 75. The result of the contest for delegates to the County Convention insured a united delegation of eight votes from Westfield for Randolph Perkins for Assemblyman.

Throughout the State the Colby movement was defeated nearly everywhere. Colby lost Essex County and Carl Lentz is again in the saddle.

Fagan and Record lost Hudson County and were defeated in Jersey City by Col. Dickinson.

The best showing in the entire State for Colby was made by William N. Runyon in his own city, Plainfield, where he got fifteen, a majority of the twenty-seven delegates in Plainfield. Runyon won enough delegates from Elizabeth, Rahway and New Providence to make a total of twenty-six in the County Convention. Seventy-one were needed to control the Convention, so the movement went down to defeat in this county.

Nominations for Councilmen by Both Parties.

In the first ward the Republicans nominated Hiram L. Fink for Councilman. The Democrats had filed no nominations for the office, and the place on the ticket was therefore blank. One Democrat, however, voted for Walter M. Irving for Councilman, thereby making him the nominee of the Democratic party for the office. Mr. Irving has not yet decided whether he will decline the nomination. He has stated that he will make the run, if at all, on the platform of no hotel licenses for Westfield, and will vote against them all if elected Councilman.

James E. Grape is the Republican nominee for Councilman from the second ward. Robert F. Hohenstein will run against him on the Democratic ticket. In the third ward Adoniram J. Wilson will be the Republican nominee with no Democratic opposition. Ernest Wilcox is the Republican candidate from the fourth ward and will not be opposed.

Voters Have a Little Fun With Friends and Enemies.

In all the wards a number of the voters played jokes on their friends and enemies alike by scratching or voting for them for constable and other offices they did not want. Thus in the first ward S. S. Mapes and H. W. Gladwin were actually nominated for Constables. Others in the first ward who received honorable mention in the vote were Thomas W. Murray, O. M. Affleck, George T. Crattenden, C. H. Denman, J. G. Casey, Charles Michell. Declinations may be looked for from most of the ones mentioned.

The Democratic Primaries were very quiet, only forty votes being cast in the entire town by that party.

The official figures of the results of both primaries in all wards are as follows:

No Scandal in Government.

There exists throughout the country a keener interest than usual in the affairs of government, and an aroused public conscience, intolerant of corruption, is holding to a strict account the actions of political parties and their leaders. While it may happen that through misguided zeal or ambition to obtain political power false charges are sometimes brought against those in authority, it is unquestionable that the people strongly desire to intelligently correct evils existing in their governments. This is equally true of the several states and the nation. This popular desire may and should lead to the loss of power by those who have proven false to their trust. The Republican party of New Jersey welcomes the closest scrutiny of its conduct of public affairs. It has nothing to fear from an honest and intelligent criticism of its motives and leadership. Criticism founded upon ignorance and misrepresentation will not appeal to an intelligent and truth loving people. Twelve years ago, with civic pride hurt and indignation at an improper administration of government by the Democracy, a majority of the people of New Jersey turned to the Republican party, placing upon it the responsibilities of government.

Since the Republican party came into power in 1894 no scandal has attached to the financial administration of the state. There has been handled by state officers since 1894 $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 of public moneys, and every penny has been honestly accounted for. No question has ever been raised as to the integrity of the state's financial departments. While the legislative appropriations have been liberal, they have been made only after careful pruning, and the state's expenditures, ordinary and extraordinary, have always been kept well within the annual income, so that there has been a constantly increasing treasury surplus. Millions of this expenditure are now represented in real estate assets owned by the state and devoted to necessary public objects.

In his last annual message Governor George T. Werts said: "New Jersey with no tax for state purposes and practically out of debt, is unique among her sister states. No such showing can be made by any other state, nor, I apprehend, by any civilized nation anywhere." If such a brilliant comment could be made by a governor at the close of the year 1895, what language would he too extravagant to characterize the conditions in the state in 1906 after twelve years of Republican legislation and Republican administration?

Primary Reform and Representative Government.

Appreciating the defects existing in the old methods of making party nominations, the Republican party, under Governor Murphy's administration, to the honor of New Jersey, passed in 1903 a primary act enabling any candidate, upon his individual merit, to secure a nomination, if that nomination is demanded or desired by the people. This law has given to New Jersey a pre-eminent position among those states which have striven to advance along the pathway of a true representative government. It affords an opportunity for the full and fair expression of the people's will or choice and minimizes the possibilities of the predominance of corporation influence or control by so called political bosses.

With the primaries in the hands of the people, with corrupt practice nets, which insure pure elections, where public sentiment is ripe to that end, with no danger threatening popular rule, with twelve years of beneficial laws covering every possible field, enacted through the initiation and support of the Republican party, we submit that this party has so administered the government of New Jersey as to be worthy of public confidence and support. If continued in power, we pledge it to the continuance of laws for the welfare of the people and in the interests of good and intelligent government. We pledge it to the enactment of such measures as will restrict undue encroachments of corporations upon the public and to the enactment of such measures as will at all times preserve free and untrammelled the rights of the people.

Dispositions Unchanging.

Believe if then wilt that mountains change their places, but believe not that men change their dispositions.—Mohammed.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Is laced by over 30 years of remarkable success in the cure of Kidney, Liver and Blood troubles, and the diseases peculiar to women. Not a patent medicine, but a prescription used by Dr. David Kennedy in his largest and successful practice long before he placed it before the public. The formula is in keeping with strict scientific principles, and many physicians of the highest standing have prescribed Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for their patients. This statement can be proved absolutely. We have never claimed that Favorite Kennedy will cure all cases of Kidney, Liver and Blood troubles, but the fact remains that it has cured many cases practically abandoned by physicians.

ECONOMIZING GREEN FOOD.

Convenient Box in Which to Feed Green Stuff to the Poultry.

When green food is scarce or difficult to obtain it pays to plan some way so it will not be wasted. The following description is of a feeding box that works well. Cut two pieces for the ends, each 24 inches long, getting proper curve by using a compass. Make the back of the holder of thin boards four feet long and 24 inches wide and nail one end in place, hinging the other end, using small straps of leather to hold it shut. Cover the holder with coarse mesh wire netting and hang it in a convenient place high enough so the fowls cannot roost on it, yet so they can feed from it readily. Use hangers of wood, tin or leather as indicated in the cut. This little feeding box, says the Indianapolis News, will enable the fowls to pick at the green stuff, whether it is clover, grass or chopped cabbage, without any danger of soiling or wasting it. Such conveniences are inexpensive, but save an immense amount of time, as well as food, so poultry keepers should use them whenever possible.

Basket for Feeding Green Food.

Our Records.

Let us not in our pride forget that in future ages people, scanning the records we leave, will wonder at the fact that we had the audacity to claim to be civilized when it was necessary for us to have policemen to keep us in order.

HANDY SAW HORSE.

Arrangement by Which the Work Can Be Made Easier.

In the illustration is shown an easily made saw horse and a convenient way of holding wood. Use pieces of two by three or two by four-inch stuff for the legs, cutting them the proper length. Mortise the legs together and connect the ends with wooden braces made of one by one and one half inch stuff at top and bottom on each side as shown. Run a light iron rod from one end piece to the other at center. To hold the timber in place when sawing secure a hickory pole about two inches in diameter and six feet long. Fasten one end to the ground at one side of the horse by means of a stake or a bent wooden staple as illustrated. Bend the pole over the timber to be held and fasten with a forked stake set in the ground. But, says the Orange Judd Farmer, a small post with holes bored in one side a few inches apart and a pin to fasten in the holes will be found preferable to a forked stick, as the pole can thus be sprung down and held at different points to suit the various kinds of wood laid on the saw horse.

Saw-Horse in Position.

Two Origins of Clay.

A scientist says that the clays in our soils had two general formations. In the valleys the clay is the result of sediment deposited by muddy water in an early age of the world. When it is found on hillsides it may be assumed that it is the result of the decay of slate rocks.

Influence of Agriculture.

Before agriculture was practiced as a calling, nations remained savage because they could live by hunting and fishing. Agriculture has been the factor that has changed savage nations into civilized nations.

DRIVES MEN INSANE.

Mysterious Problems in Nature Which Have Wrecked Many Minds.

A scientist who has been traveling in Africa in search of an answer to some questions concerning rainfall gives as his opinion that the expression of imperceptible calm on the face of the Sphinx arises from the fact that she has never tried to find the answers to the riddles of nature, which have sent many men to their graves.

What is gravity? Is one of them. Hundreds of men have gone insane trying to answer it, says the Chicago Chronicle. Some, in fact, have gone so far as to try to disprove the theory entirely. An English naval captain wrote a book on this subject and sent it to all the learned societies in Europe.

Why cannot force be created by human power? Trying to accomplish this has hastened the end of many a worthy man. Perpetual motion will be an accomplished fact if we can discover how force is made. Keelley, with his motor, who claimed to have discovered perpetual motion, was a swindler, whose death revealed his ingenious counterfeit of perpetual motion. If this discovery could be made it would revolutionize the world.

What source of heat supply has the planet Mars? This is another riddle. Our earth gets much more heat from the sun than does Mars, yet that planet has a beautifully mild climate. Astronomers have watched the ice cap thawing on Mars, and they have proved that water flows and clouds rise. This shows that Mars has heat. But if not supplied by the sun, from what source does it come?

Where the tide is born is another of nature's secrets. On the island of Papeete, in the southern Pacific, there is every day at 12 midday and two in the afternoon high tide. Why, no one is able to explain. A scientist has been able to turn gold into silver, but no one so far has been able to make a magnet which will attract gold. Could this be accomplished its enormous value could scarcely be realized, for it would make it possible to work rock from which no known process has been able to attract gold in paying quantities.

PIGS MILKING COWS.

The Farmer Tells of Wonders That Beat the City Man.

"Strange things happen in the city," said the pallid boarder.

"Strange things happen in the country, too, be gum," the farmer interrupted.

The city man, rocking on the porch in the twilight over his cheap cigar, had had the floor for half an hour. Now, it was the farmer's turn.

"Strange things, rather," the old man resumed. "Allikins, frinstance. O' course ye've heard o' snakes milkin' cows, hangin' and danglin' from under, while the cows skalkit, cavorted all over the kentry? O' course, ye've heard o' that, but did ye ever hear, Mr. Clay, o' pigs milkin' cows?"

"No, can't say as I have," the other answered languidly.

"It's bin done," said the farmer. "It's bin done to me, gosh dast it. It wuz done only last month. My black an' tan sow gaw birth to a litter o' nine pigs, an' blast my buttons if them pigs, as soon as they got to be a month or two old, wouldn't milk my cows reg'lar."

"At noon, when the cows laid down in the shade, the little pigs would come up an' drink all their milk. The cows didn't mind. The milk was no good to them, so o' course, they didn't keer who got it."

Meant Well.

Quite recently a London cabman was engaged to drive a very stout old lady, and had a great deal of difficulty in getting her in and out of his cab.

"I'm afraid I'm a terrible bother to you," she said, as, after strenuous efforts, he succeeded in getting her out of his vehicle.

"Not a bit," answered cabby, meaning to be gallant. "I allers likes a fare what steadies the cab."

THE MEANING OF THE VOTE.

The Primaries have come and gone. Those who thought the political conditions in this state needed a change of men and methods are still of that opinion, despite their defeat at the polls. Those who argued that the best and most advanced legislation in the state's history should receive endorsement, for the moral effect of that endorsement upon future legislators, are entitled to the satisfaction they must feel over the outcome of the voting. The sincerity of the motives of Senator Colby and his followers could never be successfully impugned. They came out of the conflict with clean hands. A successful issue at the polls was not necessarily the only benefit of importance to be conferred upon the cause of good government by their campaign. To arouse is always preliminary to advancing. We do not believe the people meant to repudiate the principles of the Colby platform, nor to question the integrity of the Colby candidates. We believe they feared to repudiate an improvement over previous sessions of the legislature. We are quite certain, too, that politicians will not misunderstand the result of Tuesday's voting, and construe it as a license to do worse this winter. Political sagacity will see in the returns an approval of last winter, coupled with a mandate to do better next time. Those in control at Trenton will have an opportunity to vindicate the people's action. They will be watched the more jealously for the trust reposed in them under pressure to place it in others. The campaign has been of real benefit. It never does any harm to raise the windows and let in some fresh air, even if you don't decide to clean house. Let them all shake hands and get together. There is work yet to be done of a character that needs united effort. Sulking in the tents has long since been unfashionable with the vanquished in any field, just as punishment of the adversary is no longer a habit of the victor. There is room in the Republican party for honest differences of opinion, and freedom to act upon conviction. That this is so can best be attested by the hearty co-operation of the forces on both sides of the "late unpleasantness," in November.

William N. Runyon demonstrated his personal popularity in his home city of Plainfield on Tuesday when he got a majority of the delegation from that place in favor of his candidacy for the Assembly. His victory there was the best showing made by the Colbyites throughout the state. One always dislikes to see Runyon lose, for he is a good fellow and straight as a die. At this time we can only suggest to him those well known lines of the poet Browning which run something like this:

"What I aspired to be, and was not, comforts me."

The function of the newspaper is threefold. It is expected to publish news, act as an advertising medium, and to influence editorially public opinion. Each of these departments of its work carries its incident responsibilities. The news should be true, interesting and fit to read. The advertising should be attractive, legitimate and reliable. The editorials should be pertinent, vigorous, independent, and within eye single to influencing rightly social affairs and individual life. The audience of the press is larger than that of the churches, the schools or any other institution of our national life. It has a constituency greater than that of the politician. It represents many fields of endeavor. Good causes leave a claim upon its support, and evil doers have learned to fear its opposition. Newspapers exercise a sort of censorship over public affairs. People in private life have a right to be free from the criticism of the press as long as they do not transgress the laws of society. People who essay to come before the public in any way must not expect to escape public judgment upon their own efforts to affect the public conduct. Those who voluntarily step into the lime-light should have no quarrel with the lime-light for doing its work.

The stone station and proper accommodations are on the north side of the railroad. Possibly they were put on that side to create a favorable impression upon the visitor on arrival. It is quite as important, we take it, that one should leave with a good impression if his return is desired. People going away from here do not have their good opinion of Westfield reinforced any by the poor arrangement for awaiting trains going east. Few people need to stand about the north side station, because there is little traffic in the westward direction from this town. Nearly all the commuters, however, are compelled to await trains on the south side. Westfield is now the only town on the line with so little protection from the cold and wet in its south side station, and with so poor a structure, called a station more because of its purpose than for its utility. Surely the progressive growth and prospective development of Westfield deserve better recognition on the part of the Central Railroad.

The following letter has just been received for publication in the STANDARD:

100 Dudley Ave.,
Westfield, N. J.,
Sept. 27, 1906.

Mr. Lloyd Thompson,
Town Clerk,
Westfield, N. J.

Dear Sir:
Through the machinery of the new primary law, some citizen by his solitary vote has placed me in nomination as a councilman from the First ward and I acknowledge your official certificate to that effect.

It is almost ludicrous that one who has never been identified with that party, should be made a full fledged candidate of the Democratic party, by the vote of one man, but such is the case, and I have no comment to make except that I did not attend the primary, and so far as I am concerned am sure that the vote was not purchased.

It is possible that if it were generally known that I would not accept a nomination for councilman except as representing those who are opposed to the granting of licenses to saloons, as well as being in favor of good government and the "square deal," this one vote would not have been cast for me.

Consequently I most respectfully decline the nomination, with the hope that the issue of saloon licenses will, in the near future, be considered in making nominations for the council, which, under the law, has the power to grant, or refuse them.

Yours truly,
WALTER M. IRVING.

Mr. Peckham Discusses Trees in a Novel way and Finds Comfort in Standard Editorials.

WESTFIELD, N. J., September 27, 1906, Editor STANDARD.—The STANDARD has been paying attention to literature. Do you think that Robinson Crusoe and Don Quixote are novels, or romances? Perhaps, as suggested, I can contribute by telling you an opinion of Professor Wendell, the successor of Lowell, as Professor of English at Harvard. He said, in effect, that Mark Twain would live longer than any American writer to date. Wendell is a very precise and scholarly judge of literature. His reason was that Twain's characters and the like are transcripts of an epoch and portraits of the people. Forty years ago John Hay told me that Thackeray would live forever. He said also that Dickens was a "temporary find." It seems to me that Hay was right, as ever, and that Thackeray is next to Shakespeare in English. It is pleasant to remember Thackeray's answer to what Trollope said of Walter Scott: that he could not write as Thackeray could. Thackeray answered: "Sir when so great a man as Sir Walter is mentioned, it behooves men like you and me to take off our hats and keep silent."

The preservation of our great trees is another good cause, cleaner than politics. Glad you have taken up with the one and left the other this fall. Of course I think trees cannot well be left in the middle of the street. Unless you restore to the other abutters the assessment they paid for widening Mountain avenue and give them back the land that was taken from them for the street, I do not see how you can keep trees in the middle of the street honestly or decently. Yet, Westfield has been damaged on Broad street particularly $100,000 by the waste of people who cut down the big elms. Some of our editorials are very comfortable. Please keep it up.

W. G. PECKHAM.

Dr. Morgan's List of Novels.

That is a tremendous question! The ten greatest novelists; or the ten greatest prose, or the ten greatest poetical, works of fiction—would be comparatively easy! But "greatest," in this connection, is an adjective of qualification rather than an adjective. I have not seen my friend Mr. Ketchum's test; but from what I know of himself, suspect that it is as rigid and as harrowing as he can possibly make it! So anything in the way of a list of the ten greatest novels—single novels—presents itself to me as a case of chaconne a son gant! Saying and reserving to myself, therefore, permission to amend the following list—or to present alternates to each representative as wedded in politics—I hazard this:

Don Quixote..... Cervantes
Robinson Crusoe..... Defoe
The Cloister and the Hearth..... Rende
Uncle Tom's Cabin..... Stowe
Vanity Fair..... Thackeray
The Moonstone..... Collins
David Copperfield..... Dickens
Le Pen de Chingrin..... Balzac
Les Misérables..... Hugo
Resurrection..... Tolstol

And now may I propose another question? If you were imprisoned for life without hope of release, what five works would you select for companions? My own answer would be (1) The Bible; (2) Shakespeare; (3) Boswell's Life of Johnson; (4) Dr. Murray's English Dictionary on Philological Principles; and (5) A Pack of Cards. Can anybody supply a better list?

APPELTON MORGAN.

This interesting list to be supplemented ed Fifty Years Hence.

My dear Mr. Thompson:
Your request for my choice of ten great novels gives me little scope, as the word novel excludes great works of fiction like "Don Quixote," "Tale of Two Cities" and "Tolstol's Sen." I would like to give you the best definition of a novel that I have ever heard, in the hope that it will be of assistance to the rising generation and a pleasant reminder to my own.

"The novel, strictly speaking, should have a sustained plot, should contain the working out of one or more characters and should be able to stand the three tests—lyric, epic and dramatic." My list is as follows:

Clarissa Harlowe,
Pride and Prejudice,
Heart of Mid-Lothian,
David Copperfield,
Henry Esmond,
The Scarlet Letter,
Adam Bede,
Anna Karenina,
Pere Goriot,
The Orient of Richard Feverel; and if you will kindly ask me again, in fifty years, I trust that the best work of Edith Wharton and Gilbert Parker may be added.

Yours sincerely,
ALICE P. ROBINSON.

Literary Discussion Approved.

Dear Mr. Editor:
Those who know and love books are certainly very grateful for your courtesy in permitting and promoting this discussion of those novels which most appeal to the individual taste.

It has been most interesting to note how readers agree and disagree in their choice. I gladly submit the following list, and hope we may hear from others:

1. Les Misérables, Hugo.
2. Last Days of Pompeii, Bulwer.
3. Hypatia, Charles Kingsley.
4. Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith.
5. Zenobia, Ware.
6. David Copperfield, Dickens.
7. Lorna Doone, Blackmore.
8. Pendennis, Thackeray.
9. Ivanhoe, Scott.
10. Robinson Crusoe, Defoe.

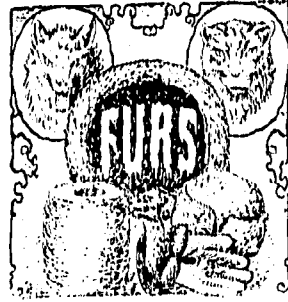

Yours very truly,
CAROLINE M. RUSH.

Fireside Council Presented with a New Fireplace.

After their regular business meeting last evening the members of Fireside Council were presented with a new fireplace, a piece of art, by M. A. Hoppeck, a member of the Council. All the members joined in singing "Good Old Fireside," written expressly for the occasion by "Gene" Hartford. "Mose" gave the signal and the flag that draped the fireplace was pulled to one side, displaying the gift. The pot was boiling, and Caterer Schmitt had the coffee ready shortly, when the members sat around and ate pop corn and drank coffee. Later they filled up their pipes, furnished for the occasion, and settled down to listen to the fun.

There were speeches by Supreme Representative VanVleet, of Newark, Supervising Deputy Haring, of Elizabeth, Past Regent Kelly, of Rahway, and L. A. Lightfoot, of Westfield, who has a number of titles too long to print.

"Tom" Murray favored the assembled multitude with a song. He seems to be improving in his singing, although the writer is no judge. Steve Alapes, the new Constable of the first ward was presented with a R. A. chain for bringing new members into the order. This makes five he has won to date. John Burhans, Jr., was there with his photograph which was enjoyed by all.

About sixty members were present and they were all glad they belong to Fireside Council. The next meeting will be October 11th and another good time is promised.

THE NURSERY LIGHT
Where there are small children in the home the light without an open flame is essential. It is wrong to endanger their lives by a light that might set their clothes or playthings afire without warning. With Electricity there is no danger. It is the perfect nursery light. The little ones can turn it on or off at will. It makes the nursery "fire proof." Moreover, it does not vitiate the atmosphere.

THE REPUBLICAN RECORD.

tion on the Passaic consisted in awarding the report of an engineering expert employed by Paterson to determine whether that municipality would join in the construction of a sewer. The legislature will be called in extra session in September to pass the necessary legislation. The state also is, through a commission, co-operating with the state of Pennsylvania with a view to the redemption of the Delaware river from pollution. These steps are preliminary to a cleansing up of all the rivers and streams of the state.

To Save the Riparian Domain.

A state commission was appointed last winter to investigate riparian leases and grants, to ascertain the extent and value of the state's riparian domain and report recommendations for its preservation for the state school fund. Governor Stokes in his inaugural address said in respect of grants in fee of riparian land, "The legislature can provide that riparian lands shall no longer be disposed of in fee simple, but shall be leased on rentals which at proper periods shall be readjusted on a fair basis of increased value." He reiterated in his annual message last winter "that the legislature provide in some practical way that these lands may not be disposed of in the future in fee simple, but shall be leased on rentals which at proper periods may be readjusted on a fair basis of increased value." It will be the duty of the legislature next winter to carry out the governor's repeated recommendations.

The state riparian board a few years ago made an estimate of $20,000,000 as the prospective value of what remained of the state's riparian domain, which, held intact as an investment for public school purposes, will ultimately yield a magnificent and ever increasing revenue from rentals, to be devoted to public education.

Mosquito Extermination.

The act by the legislature this year authorizing an appropriation, covering several years, of $250,000 for the extermination of the mosquito pest deals with a state evil the magnitude of which the people of the state fully comprehend. It has given to our state a name abroad that has done incalculable injury to the state's material interests. It has retarded the development of our unguilted seacoast and mountains, been a serious obstacle to the population of our beautiful suburban districts and injured property values to the extent of many millions. The pest is also responsible for much sickness and the cost of medicines and medical attendance. Republican legislation first provided the means for a scientific study of the pest, and the methods now employed will, there is every assurance, rid New Jersey of its age long reproach and lift the state to a higher plane of prosperity.

Purer Elections.

Corrupt practice acts were passed this year by the legislature in accordance with the suggestions made by the governor, who said in his message: "The corruption of the ballot has been the subject of frequent legislation. A purchased vote is a crime against popular government, and the person elected to office through bribery has no more moral right to his position than a man who usurps it by actual force. The purity of the ballot is necessary to safe and honest government. Honest elections and honest officials go hand in hand."

One act makes easier convictions for bribery and the other follows the English act in enlarging the definition of bribery so as to include as nearly as may be all methods of unduly influencing the mind of the voter.

Jury Reform.

Jury reform has been a political commonplace for years. Jury commissions have been created, abused and abolished. Governor Stokes, in his annual message, said: "Jury duty should not be the reward of political service nor be made a means of political patronage. Our sheriffs should be free from the embarrassment of solicitation on the part of any one for jury service, either for himself or for others." Governor Stokes suggested that "the judges of the court of common pleas be made the determining party in the selection of the panel. The sheriff could perform, under proper rules and regulations, duties similar to those now performed by him in the preparation of the list of names eligible to jury duty," and the court "should have the power to add new names to the sheriff's list before selecting the panel." The legislature enacted a law giving to the court this supervisory power. There will be additional legislation of this character until a jury system, covering grand juries, is established that will be as nearly perfect as possible.

Reform in State Institutions.

The creation of the office of commissioner of charities and correction by the legislature of 1905 was an idea that has been splendidly vindicated in the economic and philanthropic results. The various state boards had acted independently of each other and of any central authority in their expenditures. The state commissioner has centralized and systematized their administrative work. The law provides that all new building shall be done according to the plans of the commissioner's architect, and this law, up to date, saved the state about $50,000 in architects' fees alone.

A New Automobile Law.

The rapid multiplication of automobiles on the highways of the state created a novel condition demanding legislative action. An act was passed two years ago, which, however, failed to have its intended effect. The legislature this year grappled boldly with the situation and enacted a law, with the necessary machinery for its operation, which meets all reasonable requirements without making the roads of New Jersey repellent to citizens of this and other states or doing injury to the New Jersey pleasure resorts.

Saved the Palisades.

The magnificent Palisades of the Hudson, famous throughout the world, were saved by Republican legislation at Trenton and at Albany from vandal destruction. All of the Palisades, from Pearl Lee to Stony Point, in New York, will now be converted into a noble and unique public park, and by the action of the New York legislature Hook mountain has been added, making a stretch of thirty-five miles of public park, which also includes the majestic river.

The state legislature also authorized the extensive public park systems in Essex and Hudson counties, and Republican legislation will have created in the state many square miles of state parks and reservations, with lake and mountain and forest scenery, to make New Jersey incomparable in the extent and variety and beauty of her public recreation grounds. In this and other respects the legislature has made a new precedent. It has legislated for posterity, which will have a rich inheritance from the new legislation of our day and generation.

Seacoast Development.

By a stroke of legislation the state assumed sovereignty over 100 square miles of land under the ocean, enlarging the state's limits to that extent. This act was in furtherance of a policy of protection to the salt water fisheries and the development of the seacoast. The state administration this year took steps to secure federal co-operation in the establishment of harbors on the coast and of safeguards for shipping in stormy weather. By the widening and deepening of certain bays or inlets for the entrance of deep draft vessels commerce will be attracted, towns will arise and wealth and opportunities for employment will be multiplied.

Trolley Freights.

The legislature this year legalized the carriage of freight by trolley companies, subject to the consent of municipalities. The trolley system in New Jersey has now reached a development that permits of a freight business without detriment to the passenger service in rural sections.

In the centers of population the privilege in the gift of the municipality will powerfully serve to induce trolley companies to make improvements and betterments in order to gain the public favor and secure the franchises.

The Gallows Abolished.

Hanging has been abolished in New Jersey. Yielding to a humane sentiment, the legislature this year put an end to an institution as old as the state and substituted the more enlightened and less brutal method of electrocution.

Preparing For New Legislation.

The usefulness of a party is determined not only by its accomplishments in the interests of the public, but by its ability to anticipate the needs of the future and provide therefor. The Republican party of this state does not live on its past. It has already planned legislative measures of great public interest that warrant its continuance in power.

It has taken up the problem of immigration that is affecting our social system and influencing the observance of law. It has appointed a commission to devise a plan to educate, familiarize with our institutions and laws and generally improve the condition of the thousands of immigrants that are pouring into our state.

It has provided for a commission to inquire into the acquisition by the state of its lakes and potable waters, anticipating the needs of our growing and rapidly congesting population.

It has provided for a commission to investigate and devise a plan for the division of earnings between public utility companies and municipalities granting the franchise, and also for a commission to investigate the question of municipal ownership.

The laws covering our municipalities and the different methods of municipal administration are now in a most chaotic and unsatisfactory condition, and provision has been made for the appointment of a commission to revise our municipal laws and to inquire into the conduct of municipal affairs, with a view to better administration and greater economy in this direction.

The state's interest in the Morris canal and its valuable water front property is also being tested in the courts by authority of the legislature this year.

A senate committee appointed to inquire into the life insurance business in this state to ascertain whether remedial laws are needed has begun its inquiry with a promptness unusual for a special committee.

Other commissions appointed by the legislature will be at work this year to prepare the ground for legislation next winter.

Many New Laws That Benefit the People.

Many new laws, not springing from political issues, but enacted, nevertheless, in the interests of the people, were put upon the statute books in 1905 and 1906. Among them are these:

Settling Delaware river boundary controversy.

Establishment of short courses of study in state agriculture college at the expense of the state.

Revision of the improved roads acts. Commission to prepare a revision of judicial system.

Prescribing punishment for illegal voting.

Providing for most complete state census ever taken.

Creating Passaic river flood district. Establishing parole agent for state prison.

Coincident State Prosperity.

Coincident with Republican legislation and policy during the last ten years there has been a marvelous development of the material interests of the state, and its people have reached a summit of prosperity unexampled.

In the ten years since 1895 the resources of the banks in New Jersey have nearly tripled, the savings banks depositors have increased from 144,000, owning $35,149,920 of deposits, in 1895 to 261,081 depositors, owning $86,228,732, in 1905.

Since 1895 there has been a phenomenal growth of manufacturing interests in New Jersey, largely due to the encouragement given by good state laws to manufacturers to locate their plants in the state. Population has

AMUSEMENTS

PLAINFIELD THEATRE.

Next Saturday, Sept. 29, matinee and night at The New Plainfield Theatre will witness the first appearance here of the versatile Irish natural singing actor, Barney Gilmore, in "A Rocky Road to Dublin," by Daniel L. Hart, author of "The Parish Priest," and other successful plays. Messrs. John H. Haylin and George H. Nicolai have given the play an elaborate adornment. A superb supporting company of players are assembled, together with an Irish picnic, a genuine Irish dancing car and a carload of scenery depicting the Emerald Isle as it is today.

The hilarious musical comedy Buster Brown will be seen here Monday, Oct. 1st matinee and night at the Plainfield Theatre. The cast is headed by the intangible diminutive fun maker Master Rose, Florence Smith will be seen as "Mary Jane," Samuel Thompson as the dog, Juanna Roshan "Mrs. Brown," Fred Wilson as "The Cook" and Edward West as "Ludwig." The costuming and ensemble work of the choruses of thirty pretty girls with this company is one of the attractive features of the performance. No better number ever having been staged than the "Bobby Burns Brigade." New songs, music in entire new scenic dress has been provided this season.

Ma Crisp, for several seasons past the reigning favorite among the eccentric dancers of London was brought to this country last May for the purpose of healing the company producing "Monsieur Champagne," which ran all season at the Madison Square Roof Garden in New York. She is now supporting Blanche Ring in "Miss Dolly Dollars" in the role of a slavey and doing her excitingly funny dancing. She will be seen at The New Plainfield Theatre on Friday Sept. 28th.

PROCTOR'S NEWARK THEATRE.

Good things galore are in store for the patrons of Proctor's Newark Theatre during the week of Oct. 1st. The stellar place on this magnificent of programs is given to those clever Europeans Clayton White and Marie Stuart, who present their new laughing skit "Paris," which is a combination of their great triumph "Dickey."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Playgoers have had the opportunity, Monday evening, Sept. 24, to pass upon the merits of "Alzaph," the new bible play which is the attraction announced for the Academy of Music. Of the vast quantity of material adaptable for stage purposes which is contained in the Bible, perhaps no story is more familiar to all creeds, Jew or Christian, Protestant or Catholic, than the intense romance unfolded in the old testament book of Esther, out of which Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Lincolne Seurelle have made the latest Academy of Music offering. Of the co-authors, Mrs. Wilcox is undoubtedly the better known to the American public but by no means does her literary reputation outside that of Mr. Seurelle in England, his own country, where for the last fifteen years he has been noted as author, dramatist, composer, and manager of theatres and operatic organizations. The British playwright has reduced the Biblical play, to dramatic form supplying the climaxes and situations while Mrs. Wilcox has polished off the result by writing the majority of the lines and lyrics, to all of which Mr. Seurelle has added music for an augmented orchestra, including four vocal numbers.

The Last of the Kipling Stories.

Kipling has created another splendid figure in his story of "The Treasure and the Law," the last of his fairy-tale series. Kadaniel the Jew, who trembled at the sound of a gun shot, but entered a walled fortress and stole a hidden treasure to buy his people their freedom, is another instance of Kipling's success in dealing with alien types of character. He gives a remarkably vivid and glowing picture of the eager, furtive life of the Jews of the Middle Ages and incidentally constructs a new version of the making of Magnus Charta. One wishes that there were a dozen more of these tales to follow. There have put new life and beauty into some of the most picturesque occasions of the English history.

Proposals for Flagging.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Council of the Town of Westfield, N. J., at the Town Rooms on October 1, 1906, at 8:30 p. m., for flagging and laying about 5,400 lin. feet of 2 in. blue stone flagging.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $200.00 drawn to the order of the Town Treasurer as an evidence of good faith and a bond of $200.00 will be required to guarantee the faithful performance of the contract.

Specifications may be examined and blank forms of proposal may be obtained at the office of A. W. Voss, Town Surveyor, Westfield, N. J.
The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

STORY OF GARWOOD CHAPEL.

Account of the Early Beginnings of the Mission Where Dr. Richards Is to Speak.

The dedication services of the Garwood Presbyterian Chapel will be held on Tuesday evening, October 2, at 7:45. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., pastor of the Brick Church, New York.

The story of the establishment of public worship in Garwood is interesting. The village had begun to attain a vigorous growth, when in the early spring of 1891, one rainy Sunday morning two young men came up to Westfield to get a drink. On reaching town they failed to find any open back doors, but in some way they were given to understand that a certain latch-string would be hung out after the projector returned from mass. This was altogether a mistake, for there was no saloon that kept closer doors on Sunday; but the impression came out, and the men walked about town while they waited. They were at the old tennis court on Elm Street near U. H. Day's, when the rain changed from a drizzle to a down-pour, and hurrying toward Broad Street, they went into the Baptist Church for shelter. The morning services had already commenced, when during the singing of the first hymn, they slipped into the rear pew. From the pulpit the pastor the genial Rev. John G. Dyer, saw them, and as the people sang he came down and shook hands with them.

After the service, before they could get out, he was again at their side, and gave them another hearty greeting, introducing them to the people, and inducing them to remain to Bible School.

That same evening they were again at services at the Baptist Church. The young people's meeting preceded the preaching service, and at its close Miss Louise Mason (now Mrs. Bishop Chamberlain) president of the U. R. Society, entered into conversation with them. As they were talking together, Dr. W. H. Morse came by, and Miss Mason introduced him with the remark that "These gentlemen are from Garwood, and they were just saying that they only wished that there was an Endeavor Society there." In the conversation that ensued it developed that one of the young men, William J. Jones, had known better days and an early religious life in England where he had enlisted in the British army, and had seen service at Alexandria. Returning to England he had been decorated by the Queen, but soon left the army, and drifted to America, and to a laborer's lot at Garwood. Pastor Dyer's cordiality had brought to him afresh his boyhood and youth in his English home, and with this came the desire for just such a young people's meeting in the new factory village.

Before they parted, Dr. Morse had agreed to go to Garwood on Monday evening, to see what could be done, and Mr. Jones had agreed to call together those who were interested in such a project. That evening, at the Garwood station, Dr. Morse met Mr. Jones, J. S. Harding and George Gilmore, and the project was developed. The Garwood Land and Improvement Company offered the use of the south store in the Lent building. O. F. Conant was instrumental in getting chairs, and the project speedily advanced. Mr. Jones, on profession of his faith, was meantime baptized by Mr. Dyer.

On Sunday afternoon, June 17th, Dr. Morse formally opened the Garwood Union Mission. The pastors of the Westfield Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches, and the Cranford Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopal ministers had sent the assurance of their support. The Mission organized by the election of Dr. Morse as superintendent, Mr. Jones as assistant, and Mr. Harding as secretary and George Gilmore as treasurer. From the first Sunday the work was a success. Opening each Sunday as a Bible School, it closed with a short sermon or address by one of the neighboring pastors, who took turns in visiting the mission. The attendance was good, and progress followed.

The second year the officers were re-elected, but on the assistant superintendent's return to England, J. H. Sortor was elected to succeed him. Those officers were continued till the fifth year when the mission having changed its quarters to one of the Company's houses, and Mr. Harding having removed to New York, W. B. Woodruff became superintendent. He was succeeded by E. M. Wray, an elder in the Cranford Presbyterian Church.

The interdenominational administration was changed upon the Mission voting to become Presbyterian, and it came under the charge of the Cranford Church and received the encouragement of the Presbytery. Superintendent Wray was succeeded by Frederick H. Trevanion, a member of the Westfield Methodist Church, who still holds that office, and under whose administration the Bible School has been a splendid success.

Made a Difference.
"How far is it to Oconomowoc?" asked the autist.
"Just about eight miles more as the crow flies," replied the obliging farmer.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, Sept. 6, 1906, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present—20.
The minutes of the previous meeting (reading of bills being omitted) were, on motion, approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

From the Union County Board of Taxation, four communications, as follows, viz:

Aug. 20, 1906.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—We have consulted with our attorney relative to assessing the grounds upon which the county buildings are located, and he has decided that the law requires that the land must be assessed by the local assessor.

Yours truly,

C. C. POLLARD, Chairman.

On motion of Freeholder Cady, received and placed on file.

Sept. 5, 1906.

Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—We have advised you on Aug. 29 that the grounds upon which the county buildings are located would be taxed by the local assessor. In order that you may make provision for this tax we would state that the grounds have been assessed for $41,800.

(Signed)

Yours truly,

Per Thomas Hanna, Sec'y.

On motion of Freeholder Gruener, received and placed on file.

August 29, 1906.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Owing to the radical change in the tax laws of this State, and the duties imposed upon the County Board of Taxation recently constituted in this county, we find considerable difficulty in arriving at the actual value of various properties within the county, and for the purpose of more satisfactorily doing the work imposed upon us, we deem it advisable to employ some capable and impartial person to assist in estimating the value of factory and other properties which are out of the ordinary dwelling and business property class; we realize, too, that we are not authorized to employ such assistance without your approval.

We beg to refer you to the third section of Chapter 120 of the laws of 1905.

Trusting you will grant us the request herein expressed, we beg to remain,

Very respectfully yours,

Union County Board of Taxation.

Per Thomas Hanna, Secretary.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse, received and placed on file.

Sept. 6, 1906.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—In order to carry out the purpose of the act creating this board for proper equalization of taxes, we find it necessary to hire proper clerical help. We have decided, subject to the approval of this board, to hire an extra clerk experienced in the work in hand, for one month at the salary of $25, and respectfully ask this board to appropriate the same.

Very respectfully,

C. C. POLLARD, Chairman.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse, received and placed on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the committee on Bridge St. George Avenue, Rahway:

Elizabeth N. J., Sept. 6, 1906.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee on repairs to bridge on St. George's Avenue, Rahway near Jacques Avenue, would respectfully report that the repair will cost $315, instead of $300 as heretofore authorized.

Your committee would therefore request an additional appropriation of $15.

(Signed) Adolph H. Gruener, W. A. Westphal, Henry Krouse, Dennis S. Murphy, Committee.

Freeholder Wahl moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted, which was ordered on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By the committee on South Avenue bridge, Westfield, N. J.:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your committee would respectfully report that they have examined the bridge and find it to be an old wooden bridge, laid on logs in place of abutments. The present structure is dilapidated and in decay, and in view of this fact, and the increasing use of the street, owing to the opening of adjoining property for building, we would respectfully recommend that a new steel beam and concrete arch bridge, with stone or concrete walls be built, diagonally, to follow the general line of the stream, and to be 12 feet span by 56 feet in length. The cost of the bridge not to exceed the sum of $1,400.00. (Signed) Joseph Perry, Adolph H. Gruener, W. A. Westphal, Committee.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted, which was ordered on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By committee on bridge over Morris Creek, Linden Township:

Sept. 6, 1906.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee would respectfully report that they have had plans and specifications drawn, and have received bids for the work of reconstructing the southerly wall and of making repairs to the northerly wall of this bridge and have awarded the contract for the work to the lowest bidder, Albert Weber, of Linden, N. J., at $975.00.

The appropriation asked for and authorized for this work by the board was $800. Owing, however, to difficulties of construction, much of the work being under high-tide level, the lowest bid was as above stated, $975.

Your committee would request that the board authorize the additional expenditure, viz, $175, and confirm the award of the contract by the committee.

(Signed) Henry Krouse, George H. Kline, John Robison, Committee.

Freeholder Cady moved that the report be received, the additional amount asked for be granted, and the award of contract be confirmed, which was so ordered on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By the committee on bridge over Van Winkle's Brook, at Springfield, N. J.:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee would respectfully report that, owing to recent building operations near the bridge, it is desirable to extend the bridge out on the northeast side, about four feet, to the true side line of the street, and to remove the present stone coping and wall, and build a new iron fence in connection with the improvement. Also to lay a concrete sidewalk over the bridge. The whole work not to cost more than $100.

(Signed) Peter H. Meisel, S. P. T. Wilbur, W. H. Swain, Dennis S. Murphy, George H. Cladek, Committee.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the report be received and the work authorized as stated, which was so ordered on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By the Committee on the "Shipson" Claim for Damages, etc.

Sept. 6, 1906.

To the Board of Freeholders of the County of Union, N. J.:

Gentlemen—The undersigned committee to whom was referred the matter of the Simpson claim for damages alleged to have occurred by reason of the breaking through of a plank on the bridge over Passaic River at Chatham, said bridge being a county bridge between Union and Morris Counties, would respectfully report that they have investigated the matter and have ascertained that notwithstanding the original claim of said Simpson for said damages amounted to seven hundred dollars, that a proposition has finally been made to accept one hundred dollars in full settlement, one-half of the same to be paid by Morris County, and one-half by Union County; and having ascertained that a satisfaction and release to Union County has been executed for delivery upon the payment of said amount of fifty dollars and being advised by the county attorney that notwithstanding the collection of said claim by suit by said Simpson was doubtful, but that under the circumstances the county, in his opinion, would not be justified in contesting so long as the matter could be settled for the amount above specified; we would therefore respectfully recommend that a warrant be drawn for said fifty dollars in full settlement of said claim. Respectfully submitted, Peter H. Meisel, Adolph H. Gruener, Joseph N. Perry, Committee on Legal Questions. Respectfully advised, W. R. Codrington, County Attorney.

Freeholder Cladek moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted, which was so ordered on roll call by an unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Cady:

Whereas, By reason of the recent changes in the tax law of this State, it is now necessary that the county of Union pay tax upon the lands owned by said county; and

Whereas, It is also necessary to make provisions for the additional expert and clerical help to the County Board of Taxation; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the committee's report on appropriations, adopted May 31, 1906, be amended by adding to the Contingent Account in said report the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) to meet said payments.

Freeholder Krouse moved the adoption of the foregoing preamble and resolution, and on roll call they were unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Darby:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to investigate the necessity of rebuilding a culvert on county road in Mountbush Borough, and report at next meeting as to probable cost.

On motion of Freeholder Robison, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The Director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Darby, Cady and Murphy.

By Freeholder Krouse:

Resolved, That the final payment due J. H. Parker & Co., amounting to $24,413.25, be paid, when properly audited, and when architect presents his certificate, and proper releases have been presented.

A GREAT GUN FOR GARWOOD.

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER GETS MILITARY PIERCE FOR THE BOROUGHS.

Program of Presentation Exercises to Garwood—Will rest on new School grounds—Taxpayers' Association's project.

Garwood, Sept. 27th.—During the early spring of this year, at a meeting of the Taxpayers' Association of Garwood, it was proposed that the Association try to secure a large gun and have it suitably mounted on the grounds of the Jefferson School.

After a brief discussion as to working plans for handling the enterprise, it was concluded to put it into motion at once.

Mr. William T. Front, who conceived the thought and presented it upon the floor of the meeting with more than his usual enthusiasm, was appointed Chairman of a committee of five members, to have full charge of the matter. He and his colleagues worked hard and looked after the trifling details as well as the major ones, so important to a great enterprise. They have met with a grand success.

The first step taken was to communicate with Honorable Charles N. Fowler, member of Congress from this district, who in a remarkably short time advised that a gun could be had and he would lend his best efforts in the endeavor to secure one; his zeal and enthusiasm was evident in every line of his correspondence; and in a short time the great gun was selected and held by the United States Government subject to order, at the Military Post, Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook Proving Grounds, New Jersey.

It is described as an 8 inch Vazze Loading Cast Iron Rifle, whose official weight is 15,910 pounds.

The shipment of the gun was immediately taken up with Mr. E. M. Snyder, General Traffic Agent of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey who upon consultation with Mr. W. G. Resler, Vice-President, advised that the request to have the company haul the gun over its lines to Garwood had been cheerfully complied with by the officials of the company who entered into the good spirit of the cause, which they regarded as a most worthy one.

On the morning of August 30th, 1906, the gun was duly landed at Garwood, N. J., and through the kindness of Division Superintendent E. E. Kerwin was lifted from the car and placed on the siding where the truckman could easily get it, to move it over to the school grounds. Mr. Robert Woodruff of Westfield, N. J. took the contract to perform this work, which was successfully carried out, and the gun lifted upon a solid pedestal, which was built by Mr. William P. Howarth, also of Westfield, N. J.

The design of the pedestal is particularly suitable for a gun of this size and weight, and it will stand for many years as a lasting monument to the Borough's school grounds. A copper box containing the historical data of the Borough, was donated by Mr. Edward A. O'Donnell, of Cranford, N. J. and placed in the centre of the pedestal from which it cannot be removed.

A name plate made by Mr. N. Hatchman, bearing the inscription, "Presented by the Taxpayers' Association of Garwood, N. J. to the Board of Education, September 28th, 1906," is bolted on the front of the pedestal to remind future generations of the public spirited residents who composed the membership of this progressive organization. They are as follows: President, F. Sartorius; first vice president, A. J. Beckley; second vice president, W. R. Conklin; secretary, J. H. Deremer; treasurer, J. Henderson; sergeant-at-arms, D. J. Burke. The official date for presenting it to the Board of Education has been fixed as September 29th, 1906 when the following program will be presented. The exercises will be held in the school house.

Program of the unveiling, dedication and presentation of the great gun of Garwood, New Jersey, by the Taxpayers' Association of Garwood and the Board of Education, Saturday, September 29th, 1906 at 3:30 p. m.: Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, William R. Conklin; Prayer, Rev. William H. Malford; "Star Spangled Banner," School Children; Presentation on behalf of the Taxpayers' Association, F. Sartorius, president; Song, School Children; Acceptance on behalf of the Board of Education, A. J. Beckley, president; Delicately Prayer, Rev. Edward Love; "My Country 'Tis of Thee," School Children.

Intoxicated.

A worthy, who had got inebriated, in his peregrinations accidentally stumbled against the pump, put his arms round it, and on feeling the handle of same, exclaimed: "Now, sonny, pit doon yer stick an' I'll fight ye."—Weekly Telegraph.
