ALPERS AND SMITH BOTH ELECTED

REMARKABLE MAJORITIES FOR THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR AND FREEHOLDER UPON WHOM THE DEMOCRATIC BATTERIES WERE CHIEFLY FIRED DURING THE CAMPAIGN.

HOHENSTEIN ELECTED COUNCILMAN FROM SECOND WARD

Assembly and Congressional Tickets Got Good Majorities in Westfield—Voting Machine in First Ward Threatened Trouble at the Start but Worked Well—All Days—Fowler Loses Union County by Ninety Votes and Morris and Warren Make up His Majorities—Jersey Still Republican—Essex and Hudson Go Democratic.

The election in Westfield on Tuesday resulted in the largest majorities for mayor and freeholder that have ever been given here for a Republican candidate running against a Democratic opponent. Augustus L. Alpers carried every ward for mayor and received a total majority of 248 over J. Allston Dennis. The first ward gave Alpers 143 majority. He carried the only Democratic ward in the town, the second, by fourteen votes. The third ward gave him 81 majority and the fourth ward was carried by him with four majority.

Charles A. Smith, who is now freeholder by appointment of the Council, and who ran on the Republican ticket for election to the office, also surprised every body by developing an unexpected strength and coming through with the handsome majority of 214 over Councilman George E. Richardson, Democrat. Smith's candidacy had been made difficult by the fact that the Democrats named no one against Perry, the other Republican candidate, and centered all their efforts against Smith. Mr. Smith's own ward, the third, gave him an emphatic endorsement. Joseph Perry was also elected freeholder without opposition.

Westfield gave Congressman Fowler and Assemblyman Perkins, Tillman and Moxon large majorities. They were all elected, though Fowler lost Union county and was really elected by the large majority he received in Morris county. Warren county, the other one in the Congressional District, gave a lower Democratic majority than usual, so that Fowler won by about seven hundred and fifty votes in the district. Plainfield's usual Republican majority for the Congressman was greatly reduced.

The Republican candidates for justices of the peace here, Joseph A. Fairbairn, James S. Hastings, Albert E. Snyder and Walter B. Toney were all elected.

Four new Councilmen were elected. Hiram L. Fink, from the first ward, A. J. Wilson, from the third, and Ernest Wilcox from the fourth were all mapped by the Democrats and elected with little or no cutting. In the second ward the Republican candidate labored under several disadvantages. He is a newer resident of the ward which is normally Democratic anyway, and the Democratic candidate, R. F. Hohenstein, is evidently popular. The latter was elected by 72 majority.

The following is the vote in Westfield as given in the official returns, filed by the Election Board:

Democracy on Top in Garwood.

There was a hard fight in Garwood, where the Watt Republicans, with the Democrats, defeated the Republican local ticket, except that Adams defeated O'Donnell for freeholder. The vote showed Fowler 83, Martino 60, Perkins 107, Moxon 107, Tillman 107, Desmond 43, Hague 44, Coulter 44, LaBarrow 100, Wagner 46, Mayor—Kaylor, R., 65; Winslow, D., 91. Freeholder—Adams, R., 93; O'Donnell, D., 60. Council—3 years, Conklin, R., 69; Snyder, R., 65; Crawford, D., 83; Kaylor, D., 81; 2 years, Taylor, R., 68; 1 year, Erickson, R., 68; Uhner, D., 88.

Mountainside Regulars Win.

Mountainside's vote was very close. The Socialist strength was 5. The vote—Fowler 82, Martino 29, Perkins 35, Tillman 33, Desmond 28, Hague 28, Coulter 31, McClaren, Hurley, Zeitelhack 5 each. Freeholder—Darby 56. Council—Swartz, R., 30; Swope, R., 31; collector, Luing, 51. Constable—Koenig, 32; appropriation, $975.

Results in Other Towns.

Cranford and Garwood re-elected Adams freeholder by a reduced majority. Kraus was re-elected in Roselle and Linden. Noah Woodruff, the veteran Democratic freeholder, was returned from Roselle Park. In Fairwood township George Johnson defeated Charles H. French 170 to 106 for assessor. Mr. French held the place for ten years.

Germany's Fuel Production.

Germany's production of coal in July amounted to 11,518,000 tons, which compares with 10,727,000 tons for July, 1905. Coke production amounted to 1,707,000 tons, as compared with 1,421,000 tons. For seven months the production of coal was 11,417,000 tons; brown coal (lignite) 2,800,000 tons, and coke 3,510,000 tons ahead of the parallel months of 1905.

Profitable Customer.

She had been called out to the corner drug store to answer the telephone, a boy from the store having been sent for the purpose of notifying her. When she returned it was a block away—her visiting friend remarked on the convenience of the system and its economy.

"I should think so," responded the girl of affairs. "I never could get along without it. Most of my friends are in office or have their own telephones, so they can call me up easily and it never costs me a cent."

"Don't you have to pay the drug store people for sending for you?"

"Certainly not. I trade there. It's lots more convenient than the post office, and if I ever have to call up anybody myself I always go there and pay them. A store ought to accommodate its patrons."

Frutchey & Hathaway, Druggists.

Because Vinol is a real Cod Liver Preparation and does not contain a single disagreeable or harmful ingredient and is not a secret formula.

Because Vinol contains all the medicinal elements—the soothing, healing, strengthening and flesh creative properties of Cod Liver Oil—but without oil or grease.

Because everything in Vinol,—except the tonic iron and a fine old wine,—is actually extracted from fresh cods' livers and their oil.

Because Vinol is deliciously palatable and agreeable under all conditions. Everybody likes it.

Because Vinol tones up the system, strengthens every organ, nerve, muscle and fibre of the whole body and thus overcomes weakness by thoroughly eradicating the cause of disease.

That's Why Vinol is altogether different and better than any other remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all Throat, Lung and Wasting Diseases.

World's Oldest Banknotes.

The oldest banknotes in the world are the "flying money," or convent money, first issued in China in 2637 B. C. One writer tells that the ancient Chinese banknotes were in many respects similar to those of the present day, bearing the name of the bank, the date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official who issued it, and its value, in both figures and words. On the top of these curious notes was the following philosophic injunction: "Produce all you can; spend with economy."

First Sailor—On my last voyage I saw waves 100 feet high. Second Sailor—I've been a sailor 40 years and never seen 'em over 10. First Sailor—That's not; but everything is higher now than it used to be, mate. —London Scraps.

The World's Alphabets.

The alphabets of the various languages of the world vary from 12 to 202 letters. That of the Hawaiian language has only 12 letters, while that of the Tartars is at the other end of the list with 202 letters.

Ill Luck.

"What wretched luck I have. Before my son was a doctor, I was ill a whole year, and now that a doctor wouldn't cure me anything, I am as healthy as a fish in the water."—Miss Kete.

In the Garden of Eden.

Adam (returning to dinner, to Eve)—Good heavens! Of these women! They can't leave anything alone. You have gone and made the salad out of my Sunday clothes!—Von Vivant.

Origin of Oxygen.

Lord Kelvin once showed that all the oxygen in the atmosphere probably came from the action of sunlight on plants. When the earth was a globe of hot liquid it contained no vegetable fuel, and probably no free oxygen. But as it cooled off plants appeared on its surface and these began to evolve oxygen through the medium of the sunbeams. Upon the oxygen thus derived we depend for the maintenance of life by breathing.

May Supersede Flax.

The possibility of Brazil developing a plant from which a fiber equal to the best linen can be produced is the subject of an interesting report from Consul General Anderson. The experiments so far have proved successful. As the plant could be cultivated with much less cost than flax, the world will be the gainer if it serves the same purpose as flax.

Wonderful English Clock.

"Big Ben" is the largest striking clock in the world. The minute hands are 14 feet long and weigh 200 pounds each, the pendulum is 13 feet long and the bob weighs 100 pounds. It takes two men five hours to wind the clock, which is done three times a week. Twice a day "Big Ben" telegraphs its time automatically to Greenwich observatory, which enables its performance to be checked.

Factory Money Lenders.

It will doubtless surprise many to learn that thousands of persons are carrying on the trade of usurer in connection with some other calling. In one government factory there are no fewer than 12 men who add to their wages by lending money to their fellow-employees. The scandal of this system cannot be exaggerated.—London Commercial Intelligence.

FENCE SALT BOX FOR CATTLE

How a Convenient and Serviceable Receptacle Can Be Provided.

Here is an idea of a salt box for the fence. It has the disadvantage, perhaps, of being somewhat exposed to the weather, but the idea is good, nevertheless, says the Prairie Farmer. Two pieces of plank are cut as in dictated by the side of the fence. These are placed about eight inches apart and nailed to two ends. The rear of the box is cut so as to give a projection of about four inches.

The idea is that when the framed end is placed between two fence boards the pieces A and C can be nailed on securely and thus hold the box in place. Obviously the fence boards will pass through the portions between A and B at both top and bottom.

This box will work best when it is placed under cover since there will be no danger from storms. It also can be used for feed where an animal is pastured, as a mare with colt, needs a little grain daily.

Corn Cob Meal Good.

A dairyman who has long fed corn and cob meal to his cows, says he has found it one of his best feeds, but it is better to add ground oats also. This feed, he says, with corn silage and some clover hay keeps the flow of milk and its fat to the standard of summer blue grass pasture. He urges his neighbors to try his plan and says his feed mill is one of his best investments, thinking that grinding the ear corn, cob and all, adds much to its value in feeding. He keeps as many pigs as possible to feed his skim milk to fresh from his separator.

Cream Separators.

Some separators are more effective than others in removing impurities, so it is well for the intending purchaser to test a separator thoroughly before buying, taking into account the amount of slime accumulation as well as the cleanness of skimming. After all that has been said about the composition of separator slime, it ought not to be necessary to urge the necessity of washing the machine after every run, but in our best dairy sections there are still many farmers who consider one washing sufficient for two runs on the same day.

ELECTION RESULTS.

The result of the election here is proof sufficient that the people of Westfield approve of the course of Augustus L. Alpers as a member of the town council. Such a marked majority as he received has rarely been given in this town. Rumors of extensive cutting which were persistently circulated during the day, and which somewhat puzzled the leaders, proved to be unfounded. Mr. Alpers came out of the contest with flying colors and received a glowing tribute from his fellow townsmen. He undoubtedly feels his responsibility and he may reasonably feel elated. Charles A. Smith, who has been an industrious and competent Freeholder from this town, also demonstrated that the people here believe his record to be an excellent one. They testified to their belief by giving him a rousing majority for re-election, thus adding the weight of endorsement in favor of faithful public service. The Republicans elected three out of four councilmen, and the political standing of the town council will be seven Republicans and two Democrats. The new council will appoint a man to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Alpers when he becomes Mayor, and one to fill the unexpired term of John W. Eskholme who will shortly resign on account of absence from town on business. Both appointees will probably be Republicans.

On page eight of the STANDARD to-day will be found an article from the Evening Monitor, of Concord, New Hampshire, showing the falsity of newspaper reports of the condition of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church. Allegations that Mrs. Eddy has been impersonated in her carriage by another seem to be successfully disproved by the affidavits and other testimony of prominent officials and business men in the town where Mrs. Eddy lives.

The proposed plan to name Randolph Perkins for Speaker of the Assembly at the next session is disposed of now by the success of the Democrats in gaining control of the lower house. Thus Westfield loses an honor she expected to have conferred on one of her citizens.

It is to be hoped that all Congressmen who are disposed to interfere with President Roosevelt's work will take to heart the lesson taught Congressmen Wadsworth and Babcock on Tuesday.

It is now Squire Fairbairn, Squire Hastings and Squire Snyder.

The yellow badges turned out not to be the yellow peril.

Town Council Meeting.

The Town Council met Monday evening for a short while, and disposed of routine business quickly.

The cost of the badges which the Council ordered some time ago, was limited to $1.50 each.

John H. Mahoney made application for appointment as Special Policeman. His application was endorsed by a number of friends and referred to the Police Committee. Petitions for sewers on Davison street and Osborn avenue were received and referred to the Road Committee. A number of applications for membership in the fire department were confirmed by the Council. Hearings were held for objections to work and materials on several improvements, and the objections referred to committees.

M. A. Hoppock appeared to request the Council to endorse the petition of the citizens for a new station on the south side of the railroad track. The mayor promised the Council's support when needed.

Westfield Wins Elizabeth.

Westfield Camp W. O. W. bowlers journeyed to Elizabeth last night (Thursday) and defeated the bowlers of Elizabeth Camp, the leaders in the W. O. W. League, two games out of three, thereby causing them to fall back to second place in the race. The scores:

WESTFIELD	1	2	3
Miller	174	201	170
G. Orlich	102	110	135
Edwards	123	130	125
G. Orlich	147	163	127
Meyer	131	150	135
	730	795	692

ELIZABETH	1	2	3

Fagan	109	12	94
Spittleshouse	144	176	124
	748	761	661

Miller, of Westfield, did some star bowling besides having the high score of the evening, 201, he had an average of 182. For three games Metzer, of Elizabeth, had an average of 183.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

When finely chopped nuts are needed for salads, or sandwiches, run the nuts through the meat chopper.

When frying eggs have the fire low and slide them about the pan to prevent burning the thin whites.

The buckle of a pants strap makes an excellent fastener for a dress skirt. When it is used, there is no button to be lost off at an unexpected moment, and no tearing out of the belt because of the button hole.

In making baked or boiled custard scald the amount of milk to be used and set aside until cool, then make your custard and bake it as usual; it will be perfectly smooth.

Water in which rice has been boiled may be used for starching old lace, choice handkerchiefs, etc. It gives a soft and dainty stiffness which adds a charm to their appearance.

In order to obviate stiffness after washing chamois leather, add a few drops of ammonia to a basin of lukewarm suds and wash the skin carefully in this. Rinse in fresh water to which a little ammonia has been added. Do not wring the water out, but squeeze between the hands and dry as quickly as possible in the open air or near the kitchen range. While drying rub well between the hands and pell repeatedly to prevent it from becoming hard.

CARE OF RARE CHINA.

Methods Will Add Life to Treasures of Housewife.

The washing of valuable china needs to be carried out very cautiously and carefully. A big wooden bowl, filled with warm, not boiling, soapwater, to which a few drops of household ammonia have been added, should be prepared and each piece of china washed separately in this, using a square of old flannel for plain dishes, etc., and a soft brush (a painter's brush is best) for elaborately ornamented articles. Rinse in another wooden bowl of clean warm water and dry with linen cloths. Bronze ornaments may be washed in the same way, but should be finally polished with a chamois leather. Some people consider a rub with a rag on which there is the least suspicion of paraffin gives bronze a nice appearance, but we do not think it necessary. Glass should be washed in warm water that has little ammonia in it, but no soap, and then rinsed in quite cold water. Cut glass should be washed with a brush, or, if elaborately cut and very dirty, it is rather a good plan not to wash it at all, but brush a paste of whiting and water well into it, allowing it to dry on thoroughly, then removing it with a clean brush, and finally polishing with an old silk handkerchief.

FARMER DUNN MOBS THE HAIL.

And Dists the Visitors With the Same Gracious Touch.

Farmer Dunn, who for twenty-eight years distributed to the New York public with impartial hands fifty-seven varieties of weather, promises to lighten the burdens of the housewife with an automobile mop.

Mr. Dunn and his partner, William Locke, of Westfield, N. J., gave an exhibition of their vacuum mop yesterday afternoon in the Knickerbocker Building, 110 West Thirty-ninth street. Taking in his hand an instrument with a metal pipe handle and a long narrow mouth the former weather man without removing his coat or his cuffs mopped the hall outside his office. The instrument is connected with an engine in the basement of the building.

"It differs from all previous vacuum cleaners," said Mr. Dunn, "in that it can be used for mopping as well as sweeping. Doctors and railroad men are especially interested in it, for since the dust and dirt are not collected in tanks as in the old system but carried directly to sewer hospitals can use it in contagious wards with excellent results, while railroad men can give us Phoebe Snow conditions in their stations and ferries."

Mr. Dunn then cleaned up some flour that had been stamped into the office carpet and wound up his experiment by taking each of his visitors in turn and removing the dust from his clothing.—N. Y. Sun.

WESTFIELDER WINS AUTO RACE.

C. G. Embleton Comes in First With Packard Car at Yonkers.

Charles G. Embleton, of Westfield, driving a Packard runabout, 30 horse power, won the 100 mile auto race on the Empire City race track at Yonkers Tuesday. His time was 2 hours 55 seconds.

Charley Wridgway, the veteran long-distance truck racer, driving a 45 horse-power Peerless runabout, was second, in 2:06.57 3-5, and Gay Vaughan in a 3 horse power Stears of 1906 model was third in 2:10.52 2-5.

The race resulted in an interesting struggle among the leading trio. They were evenly matched and the race was a matter of tire luck.

Vaughan got away in the lead and held it for three miles, when Embleton went to the front, staying there until the thirtieth mile, when he had to stop six minutes at the tire repair station.

Vaughan then took the lead again and held it for four miles. When he stopped for two minutes the lead was taken by Wridgway.

In the forty-first mile Vaughan once more got in front.

At fifty miles he led, followed in order by Wridgway, forty-nine miles; Embleton, forty-nine miles; Roberts, forty-eight miles; Covell, forty-six miles; McDevitt, forty-one miles, and Gilheoly, forty miles.

At the sixtieth mile Vaughan had to stop for four minutes. Embleton then took the lead and held it, winning the race by about five miles.

Real Estate Booming.

W. C. Peckham and other large investors are buying large blocks of land in Union County. Their belief clearly is that the tunnels and bridges will vastly increase values and bring in a new population. Lawyer Peckham reports this week the purchase of Jersey land and of a considerable tract in Mount Pleasant and the sale of Cedar Hill, which he calls the most beautiful spot in Westfield. This makes the lawyer's fifteenth transaction in the seven weeks since his return from the Rockies. There never was such a demand for Westfield property.

MAY BE A NEW KLONDIKE.

Labrador Subject of Controversy Between Canada and Newfoundland.

Labrador has till recently been regarded as a sort of "never, never land," owing to the inhospitability of the climate and the rugged nature of the country, but the 329,000 square miles of the peninsula are now attracting attention by reason of its forests and reputed mineral wealth, and Canada is accordingly disputing the boundary line claimed by Newfoundland. The coast belongs to the latter country, but the interior—beyond a line not yet definitely located—belongs to Canada. In 1809 the eastern littoral was given to Newfoundland and the unknown hinterland to Canada, or rather to the Hudson Bay company. As laid down in the documents the boundary is a mistaken one, since it conflicts with an express grant of the coast to Newfoundland. Negotiations are now in progress for an amicable adjustment. A refusal of Newfoundlanders to pay royalty to Quebec for timber cut at Hamilton Inlet has brought differences to a climax. A recent survey is being made with a view to a decision, the last word being with the privy council or arbiters chosen by the London government.

At some points Newfoundland's claims extend 200 miles inland, but Canada will not concede a strip along the whole coast of this width. The latter wants an outlet on the Atlantic, without having to pass through a coastwise strip owned by her neighbor. Forests and minerals—gold particularly—are thought to abound in the disputed area. It will not surprise the Canadian to learn that he has a second Klondike in Labrador.

NECESSITIES FOR SICK ROOM.

Simple Precautions That Will Save Lives and Money.

A set of dishes should be selected for the sick room and these should be washed by the nurse and never mixed with the dishes used by the family. The nurse should disinfect all bed and body linen used by the patient and also keep the sick room and all belongings to it free from infection. Nothing contaminates the atmosphere more than dust and nothing creates worse air dust contamination than the spilling of foul discharges on floors, rugs and bed and body linen and allowing them to dry. All such foul matter should be wiped up at once with a moist disinfected cloth which should be burned. A broom is out of place in a sick room. It only scatters the dust into the air. The only safe disposal of the refuse from a quarantined room is cremation. The nurse in charge of a case of contagious disease should avoid direct contact with other members of the family, especially children. If needs be she must mingle with others she should have a special gown for the sick room which should be discarded with her cap on coming out and always worn in the room, and she should disinfect her hands before touching anything outside of the room. All these simple, commonplace quarantine regulations faithfully carried out would save thousands of lives yearly among the children of the land and also greatly lessen the cost to common people for illness and funeral expenses. Nothing would pay better than for the heads of all American households to be their own health officers.—Dr. Kate Lindsay, in the Housekeeper.

Cane Chair Seats.

When cane chair seats become loosened, to restore them to their former elastic condition, turn the chair over.

On the wrong side of the cane scrub the seat with a lather of hot soft soap and water, to which has been added one tablespoonful of vinegar in the proportion of a pint of hot soapy water to the above quantity of vinegar.

When the seat has been thoroughly saturated dry with a soft cloth and leave the chair in a draught or out of doors in the sunshine.

When quite dry the chair will look as well as if newly caned.

—The Bush family of musicians are coming to Westfield, December 20. They will appear before the members of Union Council No. 5 Loyal Association. Prof. J. Melvin Bush and his four little children, all under 14 years of age, furnish an entertainment of unusual merit, and their violin playing, both solo and quartet numbers, has won for them an enviable reputation. Further details of the programme will be announced in the STANDARD at a later date.

"Beastly" Joke.

Lord Beaconsfield often met with bitter political hostility in his private capacity. One day, walking about his country place in the easy coat and general careless attire he liked among his farmers, he encountered two women, strong partisans of Gladstone. Supposing him to be the keeper or gardener or something of that sort, they inquired if he would show them over the place, which he at once undertook to do. While they were walking about they overheard him with questions of the master of the manor, and one of them finally said: "Do you think you could manage to get us a sight of the old beast himself?" "Madam," said Lord Beaconsfield, "the old beast has the honor to wait upon you now."

The Patriot's Rebuke.

"See your own country first," said J. S. McWade, the noted secret service agent. "Don't go to England till you have first seen America. They who boast about foreign parts when they don't know the beauties and wonders of their own land ought to be kicked."

"I met a young chap from Boston the other day. He had been abroad for a month, and you'd have thought from his clothes and walk that he was an Englishman. He talked about England as if it was heaven, and finally he said:

"In London, you know, I appeared at court."

"I frowned and said: 'Drunk and disorderly?'"

Indistinctness.

"The hotel manager has discharged the new porter."

"What was the trouble?"

"Why, there was a fire in the hotel early this morning and the porter was told to wake up the guests."

"Yes."

"He was a brakeman on a passenger train for ten years and had to call all the stations. So when he yelled 'fire' nobody understood what he was saying."

SOME QUEER "RUNS"

MEN OF THE RAIL. RELATE EXPERIENCES.

Rather Startling Yarns Are Told When the Crowd "Sits In"—Why the Special Had to Wait on the Dragon.

"I'll bet four dollars," said the second-trick dispatcher, as he "sat in" at four o'clock, "you'll never see that combination again in a hundred years."

"What combination are you talking about now?" inquired the operator, lazily.

"Why, look there!" pointed the guardian of the second track. "Engine 111 arrived at Kansas City at 1:11 p. m.,—engine 222 poked her nose into the yard at 2:22 p. m., and I'm nutty if engine 333 didn't pull over the main line switch at 3:33 this afternoon. What d'ye think of that?"

"That's nothing," exclaimed the manager, disdainfully. "When I was dispatched back yonder in the '80s on the Lawrence & Lowell road the engines used to wear names. Some bore the name of stars and mythological beings. Others were named for men. One day I had a couple of trains on the road during my 'hours' the coincident features of which gives your combination a commonplace appearance. One train was running from Lowell to Lawrence. The engine bore the name of the former city, Lowell, and was handled by Engineer Frank Lowell. Frank Lawrence was the conductor. At Lawrence Junction a train was met with which was going from Lawrence to Lowell, handled by engine Lawrence with Engineer Fred Lawrence at the throttle, while Conductor Fred Lowell was in charge of the train."

Every man in the office simply stared and sighed heavily.

"What?" continued the manager, in disgust. "Don't believe it? Well, it's the truth, as sure as my name is Larry!"

"Say, Lowell," said a man present. "what does Larry stand for, anyway?"

"My name is Lawrence," replied the manager, "Lawrence Lowell."

"Say, fellows," said the detective, who dropped in to inquire about the mail train, "did I ever tell you about the time I ran an engine on the 'Long and Short' railway?" and without waiting for a reply, he proceeded with the narrative. "One day I went down to the depot to take out my run. My sweetheart, a picture of anxiety, was there to meet me.

"Bill," said she, tremulously, 'don't go out to-day.'

"Tut-tut, Bill, I couldn't do a trick like that. It's near leaving time now."

"Oh, Bill," she pleaded, 'don't go. You must not go! I had a dreadful dream last night. I dreamed your train got in—on time!'

"Well, gentlemen, I went out on the run at right, but I'll never forget it. On November 11, the eleventh day of the eleventh month—at 11:11 a. m. train No. 11 with engine 11, baggage car 11, containing 11 trucks, mail car 22, chair car 33, dining car 44, went in the ditch at mile post 55. The wreck was cleared at 11 p. m. There were 11 persons injured and the damage suits filed were for an aggregate of $11,000. All of this happened 11 years ago, and I have told the story about eleven hundred times."

"And every time," ventured the office boy, "you added 11 new gasps!"

"I used to run a train," said the yardmaster, who happened along just in time to gather from the conversation that engine names were being considered. "The day of the big money ranle three or four dozen years ago, I had the president of the road out on an inspection trip. All of a sudden he got some bad news and told his clerk to wire the superintendent to give us a clear track and a fast run to Chicago. Golly, boys, but we burned up the track. After spinning along for 80 miles so fast that the telegraph poles resembled a barbed wire, we came to a sudden and apparently unnecessary stop. The company had, a short time previously, put in service a locomotive which was, for those days, a mechanical marvel. She was named 'The Dragon.' Her rating was 95 cars. There wasn't a passing track on the road that would clear such a train. I hustled around and discovered that we had been flagged by the crew of 'The Dragon.' She was there with her rating.

"Conductor," demanded the president, when I gave a proceed signal, after several minutes' delay, 'why are we being detained here?'

"We," I answered respectfully, 'will have to saw by The Dragon. She is here with a drag-on.'—Kansas City Star.

These, apparently, are not successful, for the railway minister has issued instructions that the female ticket clerks are to be gradually replaced by men.

Section Gangs Busy. In the six months ending June 30, 2,297.20 miles of new railway track was laid in this country, a greater amount of new construction than in any corresponding six months in the last 15 years, except in 1902, when new construction aggregated 2,314 miles.

Kidney Disease Kills.

Thousands Never Suspect That They Have It.

It is now generally admitted that disease of the kidneys and bladder constitutes the greatest source of danger to the human system. It is the cause of nearly all ailments of the Liver, Blood, Stomach and Bowels. But the approach of Kidney disease is so slow and gradual that the first symptoms are not noticed. Here are some of the most common symptoms of this dangerous disease:

Discolored or dark urine, sometimes excessively and of pale color. Unusual desire to urinate, especially at night. Itching, tingling, numbness, sometimes swelling around eyes, ankles and abdomen. Drowsiness and a constant tired feeling. Pain in the back, headache, cramps in the legs. Bowels constipated, digestion impaired. Rheumatic pains in the joints and muscles.

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys need immediate attention, and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy should be taken at the first symptom of trouble. It is a most reliable, nearly always the outcome. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has cured thousands of cases of kidney disease, and we have the positive proof. Slow Spelling Development.

Dr. Edward Delevan Perry, professor of Greek at Columbia University, and president of the New York Society of Archaeological Institute of America, is of the opinion that it would take at least three or four generations to bring about a reform in spelling, and that no fewer than 25 or 30 years must elapse before the 300 words already simplified can become generally used.

AWOKE ON PILOT OF ENGINE.

Tossed from Wagon Seat by Locomotive, but Made Safe Landing.

Sleeping as peacefully as a babe on the seat of his farm wagon, as his old horse ambled slowly along, William Johnson had a surprising awakening.
From the midst of dreamland he found himself clinging to a pilot of a freight train's locomotive with the wheel of his wagon about him.

Johnson's sleep had progressed sweetly until his horse, homeward bound, started over the Pennsylvania railroad crossing, at Trenton, N. J. A heavy freight train was close to the crossing. The engineer saw the sleeping man and slow moving horse and sounded his whistle loud enough, he said, to awaken a graveyard. Johnson slumbered on and the horse refused to quicken its pace. The engine hit the wagon, tossing Johnson in the air, and when he came down he landed squarely on the pilot. He was wide awake then and excitedly clutched the headlight. When the train was stopped and the frightened engineer ran up to look at the supposed dead man, Johnson exclaimed:
"What did you want to wake me up that way for?"

The horse was uninjured and put in its free moments eating grass on the roadside.

MAKE EXPERIMENTS IN FUEL.

Illinois Railroad Officials Experiment
In Use of Fine Coal.

Railroad officials in Illinois are making a study of the use of fine coal for freight and passenger engines, and it is probable that a test will be made.
Statistics show that a large amount of the coal is wasted at the mines, and if it can be used for steaming, thousands of dollars will be saved annually by railway companies.

For soft coal the problem of getting useful fuel out of the finer grade is more difficult and it has been attacked in a number of ways. With cooling coals it is easy to use the fine coals mixed with the lumps in the coke ovens and thus obtain good quality of fuel in the form of coke. Another method on which a large amount of experimental work has been done is that of briquetting, and so far as the mechanical operation is concerned a number of successful machines have been designed and are in use in this country. The cost of making bri-quettes is, however, the principal objectionable feature, and it is largely a commercial problem as to just where briquette machines can be profitably used for the utilization of fine bituminous coal.

FOR THE INVALID.

APPETIZING AND EASILY PRE-PARED DISHES.

Beef Tea, Chicken Broth, and the Like, Are No Longer Considered the Only Proper Food for a Sick Person.

Upon the subject of invalid cookery there seems to be a woeful amount of ignorance, and the lack of interest in getting up a variety of nourishing dishes doubtless served in from the kitchen of thinking that beef tea and chicken broth and milk, perhaps, are all an invalid should care for, writes
Jeanette Young, in the New York World. Far be it from truth, for there is no appetite so difficult to enter to as that of the convalescent. Here are a few simple recipes for the use of the home nurse.

One pound of solid beef, one ounce of butter, one onion, one quart water and one teaspoon of salt. Cut the beef into dice and place it with the other ingredients in a stew pan, and stir until all melts together and forms a thin gravy, then add the water and simmer three-quarters of an hour.
Strain and cool, then remove grease.
If beef tea be needed in haste, scrape
the beef into fibers, cover it with boiling water and salt, cover closely, boil ten minutes and set in a bowl of ice water to cool; skin, warm again and serve. Extract of beef, if not too strong, and made with boiling water is at times acceptable and convenient.

One calf's foot, three pints of water,
one lump of sugar, yolk of one egg, teaspoon of butter, nutmeg and salt to taste. Stew the foot in the water with rind of half a lemon until the quantity is about half. Skin carefully and set away to cool. Remove all fat and warm about half a pint, add the butter, sugar and the nutmeg. Remove from the fire and stir in the beaten yolk, keep stirring, place back on the fire and let it thicken, but not boil, as that would curdle it. Serve in a covered cup with soda waters.

One fresh fowl, one quart of water, one blade of mace, half an onion, a small bunch of sweet herbs, ten peppercorns and salt to taste. Joint the fowl, place it with the other ingredients in a clean saucepan and simmer gently one and a half hours, carefully skimming. Strain, cool and remove the grease, and warm as needed. If desired a spoonful of rice boiled in water may be added, also a little scalded, and finely chopped parsley. This is convalescent broth;
for the very sick avoid all seasoning
but salt.

One pound of scrap end of the neck of mutton, one onion, one-half a turnip, one bunch of herbs, three pints of water, pepper and salt to taste.
Put all the ingredients in a stew pan;
when it boils skim it carefully, cover and cook one hour; strain and cool.
If desired, pearl barley boiled in water may be added, or scalded parsley. For "simple broth" leave out all seasoning
but salt, and add a jointed fowl.

Clam broth may be purchased in bottles or easily made at home, the latter is more desirable. Wash 50 clams (small round variety), put in a kettle with a cup of cold water, cover and let steam until all are wide open, strain and cool the juice and it is ready for use. The clams may be placed in a rich cream dressing and served on toast for luncheon for the well ones of the family.

Oyster broth is best made by washing the shells and placing in a white glazed dripping pan, with half a cup of water, in a hot oven, and when all shells are open wide strain the juice over a dash of pepper and serve. The oysters may be also used as suggested for the clams.

Apple Souffle.

Boil a pint of milk with the pared rind of a lemon in it. Strain off the lemon-rind and put in three ounces of rice. Cook this slowly till the milk is absorbed. Add two ounces of cas-car sugar. Beat it well with a spoon to crush it, and next press the rice on the bottom and sides of a cake-tin, and let it dry in a cool oven. Have ready some nicely stewed apples which have been rubbed through a sieve; add to them the beaten yolks of two eggs and one ounce of butter.
Stir over the fire to cook the eggs, but do not boil it. Beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth and add lightly to the apples. Put it into the rice boiler, and bake in a quick oven about half an hour. It must be served immediately.—Montreal Herald.

To Make Raw Eggs Palatable.

If you have to take raw eggs to build up your strength (and there's nothing much better) take them without beating them up—without breaking the yolk.

A dash of rich grape juice over the egg, a quick swallow and, although you feel that a glove stretcher has been applied to your throat, the egg is down, and all you taste is a delicious bit of grape juice.

Try taking it another time with a liqueur of lemon juice on it, or benton up with lemon and sugar and water—egg lemonade, in fact. And beating it up with milk is another way.

To Clean Fur Robe.

Ordinary common well rubbed in and then shaken out vigorously will clean the white fur carriage robe, unless there are spots of some foreign substance on it. In that event powdered French chalk, if left on over night, will probably effect a cure.

Duty of Encouragement.

FALSEHOODS PROMPTLY REFUTED.

Concord Citizens Come Forward With Alacrity To Speak For Mrs. Eddy.

Mayor Corning Tells of Interview With Christian Science Leader Sunday Afternoon—General Streeter Was Present Also—Both Say That Mrs. Eddy Was in Good Health and Fine Spirits—New York Newspaper's Sensationalism Fervently Condemned by Concord People Who Know the Facts.

Mrs. Eddy is keen of intellect and strong in memory. She is a surprising illustration of longevity; bright eyes, emphatic expression, and an alertness rarely to be encountered in so venerable a person.—Mayor Charles R. Corning.

Mrs. Eddy's mind is not only unimpaired, but she exhibits the same clearness, strength, alertness and vigor which have so long distinguished her.—General Frank S. Streeter.

Mrs. Eddy has no cancer, or any chronic or organic or functional disease.—Calvin A. Frye.

Mrs. Eddy herself has driven in her carriage daily, with the exception of one day in the early spring, when the roads were so bad that she did not go out.—Lewis C. Strang.

I have seen Mrs. Eddy's carriage on State Street almost daily. The occupant has always been Mrs. Eddy herself.—Herman S. Hering.

I most emphatically say that Mrs. Eddy is in every way capable of conducting her business affairs.—Fred N. Ladd, Treasurer Loan and Trust Savings Bank.

I can state from personal knowledge that it is Mrs. Eddy and no other person, whom I see riding in her carriage.—Josiah E. Fernald, President National State Capital Bank.

The Evening Monitor of Concord, N. H., prints the following article upon the recent discussion concerning Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

The New York World of October 28 carried two pages with a sensational article, absolutely devoid of truth, concerning Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy. The publication was received in this city, where its falsity and absurdity were immediately manifest, with indignation and the following statements in refutation and contradiction of it were given to the press:

"I have known Mrs. Eddy by sight for many years. I have seen her in her carriage many times, and within the last season Mrs. Eddy has passed up Pleasant and down Green streets daily, and I know that the sole occupant of the carriage has been Mrs. Eddy. I have never met Mrs. Eddy face to face at her residence at Pleasant View until today.

"Mrs. Eddy received me this afternoon in company with Gen. Frank S. Streeter, who has been an attorney of Mrs. Eddy's for several years.

"As I had heard so much concerning the precarious condition of Mrs. Eddy's health I feared that there might be some foundation for such reports, but the fact was entirely different. I spoke to Mrs. Eddy and I listened for nearly half an hour to her conversation. She is keen of intellect and strong in memory. She is a surprising illustration of longevity; bright eyes, emphatic expression and an alertness rarely to be encountered in a person so venerable.

"CHARLES R. CORNING,
 Mayor of Concord, New Hampshire,
 Sunday, October 28, 1906."

"I have been counselor for Mrs. Eddy at various times during the last twelve or fifteen years and have known her well. I think the last time I saw her at her home before to-day was in June of last year. I have frequently met her while driving down town.

"My attention was called to the article in the New York World of the morning and I was asked by my friends to call upon her and be able to speak with reference to her health.

"The charge that Mrs. Eddy has been physically incapacitated and unable to leave her room for all or a considerable part of three years, and that some one, said to be Mrs. Leonard, was impersonating Mrs. Eddy in her carriage was already from personal observation known by me to be false.

"Mayor Charles R. Corning drove out with me to Pleasant View about 4 o'clock this afternoon. I sent a note to Mrs. Eddy that we were permitted to call on her, and the request was almost immediately granted. She rose and most cordially greeted the mayor and myself, exhibiting no appearance of weakness, but a physical activity not ordinarily to be found in persons many years younger. The conversation covered a variety of subjects. She spoke briefly without bitterness of the false statements being circulated with reference to her health, and even death, and said that she was in the hands of an infinite God, in whom she had perfect trust, and that He would cure her.

"Reference was made to business transactions of some time ago, about which her memory was exact and accurate. She referred to many details of her daily work and her correspondence and study. She also inquired for a personal friend to whom she had sent a valuable present and expressed her warm affection. After a very interesting half hour's talk with Mrs. Eddy we returned.

"I can emphatically say that Mrs. Eddy, in spite of her advanced years, is a remarkably well preserved woman. Her health and appearance is substantially the same as when I last talked with her, some over a year ago. Her mind is not only unimpaired, but she exhibits the same clearness, strength, alertness and vigor which have so long distinguished her.

"FRANK S. STREETER, Concord, N. H., Sunday, Oct. 28, 1906."

PLEASANT VIEW, Concord, N. H., October 29, 1906.—The sensational report published in the New York World of Sunday, October 28, 1906, to the effect that Mrs. Eddy is physically and mentally incapacitated, that "for many months she has not left her room," that she does not drive daily, and that she is impersonated in her carriage by Mrs. Leonard or by anybody else, is unqualifiedly false.

My position in Mrs. Eddy's household is simply that of a paid employee. She conducts her own affairs, financial and otherwise, to-day as she always has, and the statement that Mrs. Eddy is dominated or controlled by any sort of a "cabaret" or combination is positively false—absurdly so to any one who is acquainted with Mrs. Eddy's extraordinary ability as an executive.

Mrs. Eddy, as she herself wrote to the Boston Herald on October 19, 1906, is in her usual good health. She is not slowly dying from cancer, nor has she cancer or any chronic or organic or functional disease. She has never been visited by a cancer specialist, nor do I or anybody else provide "old school" surgeons and physicians, dentists and the entire range of pharmacopoeia for attendance upon Mrs. Eddy as is stated by the World.

Had the reporters of the World really desired to learn whether Mrs. Leonard impersonated Mrs. Eddy on Mrs. Eddy's drive, it would have been a very simple matter for these reporters to have called at Pleasant View, while Mrs. Eddy was driving, and asked for Mrs. Leonard. Had they taken this ready way of verification, they would have had no trouble in seeing Mrs. Leonard herself and talking with her.

When the reporters of the New York World called to see Mrs. Eddy personally, what they spoke of as "stimulants" was not in the room at all. There was no galvanic battery nor any stimulants or medicines in the room or in the house. There was simply a small table on which was a silver tea pitcher, a silver mug and a small finger bowl that Mrs. Eddy uses. There was a wood box in the room, but nothing else except Mrs. Eddy's own library material, books and papers. Mrs. Eddy has never to my knowledge while I have lived with her, used stimulants of any kind, nor to my knowledge have there ever been any in the house. My service covers a period of twenty-four continuous years.

Bank Officer's Testimony.

"In reference to conversation had with me last evening in regard to statements made to me October 13 by two representatives of the New York World, I will say that they stated that they were representatives from the New York Herald, and hearing persistent reports that Mrs. Eddy was dead, and had long been so, they had come to Boston to ascertain whether they could find any one who could state with certainty that Mrs. Eddy was alive; that they had visited every town and hamlet between Boston and Concord and could not find any one who had ever seen Mrs. Eddy, that they had been unable to find man, woman or child who had ever seen Mrs. Eddy to know her, except as I personally stated to them, that I had an interview with her in the early part of this summer; that they understood, if Mrs. Eddy were alive, she was so enfeebled and helpless that she was unfit to have any control over the affairs; I made reply to this statement, that if they ever had the honor of meeting Mrs. Eddy, they would at once ascertain that these statements were false; they also stated that they had seen papers showing assignments of all of Mrs. Eddy's property to Calvin A. Frye, her secretary. They said that they did not find any one in Concord who believed that Mrs. Eddy was alive. They said that if they did not have an interview with her they should feel free to print such information as they had received.

"Of course, I denied all of these statements and said that they were false and also stated that my mother had played with Mrs. Eddy as a child and had been associated with her and had been near her for more than 40 years, but they were determined not to believe my reasonable statements.

"Perhaps it would be well to state that I am not a member of a Christian Science church, but feel it my duty to contradict such false rumors. I have had the honor of being in the presence of Mrs. Eddy several times a year, and most emphatically say that she is in every way capable of conducting her business affairs."

FRED N. LADD,
 Treasurer Loan and Trust Savings Bank.

"I am informed there is a report in circulation, coming from persons outside of Concord, that the person whom I meet every few days driving and to whom I am always pleased to bow is not the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, but some other person.

"Now, I have known Mrs. Eddy for a number of years, and have had business relations with her since she came to Concord and made her home at Pleasant View, which relations extend up to the present time. I have also visited her in her home, so that I can state from personal knowledge that it is Mrs. Eddy, and no other person, whom I see riding in her carriage. I will also state that she stands high in this community. I do not find those who speak evil of her

GROOMING COUNTS

J. E. FERNALD,
 President National State Capital Bank.

The Evening Monitor's Editorial.

It appears to be a diversion, taken up at more or less regular intervals by a certain section of the American press, to publish grossly fantastic and entirely false statements concerning the personality of the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. These efforts share in popularity with the appearance of Torricelli's comet or the revival of the rumor of war between Japan and the United States. Just now it seems to be the function of the New York World to put forth, in its Sunday edition of October 28, a most amazing tissue of falsehoods in which it is alleged that Mrs. Eddy is at the point of death from an incurable malady; that she is kept practically in darkness at her home in this city; that mother women disguised to resemble the Christian Science leader, rides in her carriage as it makes its daily round through Concord streets; together with assertions regarding Mrs. Eddy's fortune, income and reports in Concord—all of which are miles away from even the most distant approach to the truth.

The World's story, as we are told, is the result of long investigations in Concord by the World's representatives. If this is so, their time here was ill-spent; for no honest investigator could have stayed here even so short a time as a single day without learning from indisputable sources that Mrs. Eddy is alive and very keenly alive—to all that takes place in the world, and that she is constantly alert and thoughtful to do good to everybody, especially to the city of Concord.

For more than fifteen years Mrs. Eddy has made her home among us, and she leads a simple and well-ordered life—as befits one who has a daily routine filled with great duties to a great cause. That she fulfills these duties to the best degree is evidenced by the growth and advance of the movement which she heads; and that she finds time for other good works, for charity, for helpfulness and for public spirited co-operation in the affairs of the community where her home is fixed, thousands of Concord people are ready cheerfully to attest. And they have now come forward with glad alacrity to refute the falsehoods of the New York World.

Some of these refutations we are publishing in our news columns today. To them we can add our personal testimony.

The editor of this paper has enjoyed the privilege of Mrs. Eddy's friendship for more than ten years. During that time he has met her frequently and has corresponded with her almost continuously. Her conversation and her letters numbering hundreds and written almost entirely with her own pen—are pulsating with but one desire, the desire to do good, to do good to individuals, to communities, and to the human race.

Within a very short time the editor of this paper has seen Mrs. Eddy and with her taken counsel upon public affairs in Concord. She was then in a strength of spirit, mind and body far beyond what anyone would have a right to expect from a woman of her age. Her words were direct and simple, her discernment acute and sympathetic, her manner cordial and unaffected. Since then the writer has met her carriage almost daily upon our streets and its distinguished occupant has never failed to return a smiling greeting of recognition. This has happened within four days, when, in a narrow street where recognition was certain, we met the real Mrs. Eddy, the Mrs. Eddy we have known for years, almost face to face. We know her and we were known by her.

We are moved to believe that testimony of this sort, which arises spontaneously on every hand in Concord, is more enduring and worthy than that of any newspaper "investigators," whose work shows only too clearly that they trust to their own or to somebody else's imagination for their facts. Concord people may buy the New York World, but they do not believe what it says. When anyone tells Concord that Mrs. Eddy is not one of our busiest, most helpful and most beloved and respected citizens, in full possession of her illustrious faculties of mind and in bodily strength beyond what her years warrant, Concord has a prompt and imprigible answer:

We all know better!

Cooking Vegetables.

It is an excellent idea when cooking any vegetables to put a pinch of sugar in the water. This will be found to improve the flavor of everything—peas, corn, beans, carrots, squash and even potatoes. One housekeeper whose boiled new potatoes with cream sauce were particularly delicious, explained that she put a little sugar in the water when boiling the potatoes.

A pinch of soda put into the water when boiling cauliflower will remove the unpleasant odor that generally accompanies the cooking of this good-tasting but bad smelling vegetable.

Sulphur for the Attic.

If the attic or closets show signs of moths a good smoking with sulphur is most effective. Close windows, plugging them up with bits of paper and cloth, then bring in the sulphur in an old iron vessel, set with a larger one containing earth or water. Light, behind you, and then hanging over them heavy blankets to prevent the smudge going through the cracks. This is good for fumigation as well as moths.

World's Oldest Banknotes.

The oldest banknotes in the world are the "Flying money," or convenient money, first issued in China in 260 B. C. One writer tells that the ancient Chinese banknotes were in many respects similar to those of the present day, bearing the name of the bank, the date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official who issued it, and its value, in both figures and words. On the top of these curious notes was the following philosophical injunction: "Produce all you can; spend with economy."

Petticoat Economy.

A silk petticoat may be made to serve almost twice its usual period of usefulness if it is lined as far down as the bottom ruffle with nun's veiling or some other lightweight fabric. The weight of the skirt is not noticeably increased, nor does it spoil the fit about the hips if carefully done. By doing this the skirt is kept in shape, and there will be much less tendency to split at the seams, a fault that is so commonly developed in silk petticoats, especially those of taffeta.
