Another New Street for Westfield.

For several weeks past, Contractor Willoughby has been making the dirt fly up in the Brightwood Forest portion of the Pearsall Company property facing on Brightwood avenue, Clark street and Prospect street. Already the formerly rough property is taking shape and the lines of a new street to be known as are clearly defined. This land ranks with the highest residence property in Westfield and will be finished with graded terraces, stone sidewalks, curbing, sewer, water, gas, macadam, trees—in fact, will be complete, ready for the homes of exacting buyers. The property is thoroughly restricted and titles guaranteed.

Equip Your Home With An EXTENSION LADDER

An extension ladder is a great convenience during house-cleaning season, and its general usefulness is not to be gainsaid. Few houses are so equipped, yet in almost every home there is a demand for a ladder at some time during the year. Why borrow one of your neighbor when you can buy one for 20c per foot?

Scores Need For Guard Rails on Osborne
Avenue Bridge, and Dirty Trolley Cars
—The Joys of Country Life.

(BY THE WAFER MAN.)

This occasion to cross the bridge over the Jersey Central tracks at Osborne avenue the other evening for the first time after night fall, and was surprised to note the absence of guard rails along both approaches to the bridge, and worse still, the absence of lights.

Either omission is bad enough but the fact that a structure of this kind crossing a railroad within the limits of such a first class town as this, is so deficient in all that contributes to safety is absolutely amazing.

The home of this paper is one of the finest structures devoted to newspaper uses that I have ever seen in a town or even a small city. The publication can assume airs of its own when its building is justly entitled to rank as one of the town's show places. Just to show my utter independence and my tendency to hit wherever there's a chance to kick at anything worth while kidding, I want to tell the public that at this writing the splendid edifice and its perfect newspaper equipment lacks the commodity of a "letter box drop." Walked around there there the other evening to leave a consignment of copy after office hours and found no way of leaving an ordinary letter other than to fasten it to a door-knob!!

Will the editor kindly sit up and take notice?

The Wafer Man was brought up in a New Jersey town that ranks even higher than Westfield as an ideal home town. It takes rank higher than Westfield because it has the Shrewsbury river and the river at the point where my home town is located widens into a big bay. This river is a paradise every day in the year, for there is ideal boating, swimming, fishing, etc. in summer and in winter eels and other fish—oysters and clams are plentiful and they know how to build and how to sail the finest and fastest ice yachts in the world.

But I didn't start to blow about Red Bank but to tell of the genus "Commuter" as I knew him then.

We boys regarded the bunches of townspeople who boarded the early morning trains for New York as a class by themselves. They didn't take any interest in local politics, town councils, school-boards and that sort of thing. They went to the big city and they came back at night and were seen no more. Sundays they sailed boats, went fishing and the like—their there were exceptions to this of course.

On the whole the commuting element were poor mixers and clammy in the extreme.

A good many years have rolled around and the Wafer Man finds himself one of the very things he regarded with feelings akin to contempt—for if the truth must be told the old time commuter was apart from the community in which he lived. Time has changed a great deal since then but conditions haven't.

The commuter, just because he is a commuter, and by reason of the fact that he puts in three hours of his day travelling between his home and his office or shop does his work better because he is better prepared when he reaches the scene of his labors, and enjoys his home when he gets there at night, so very much that he is loath to leave it in the evening except under pressure and protest. A walk in the evening, pushing a lawn mower, a good cigar and early to bed for a night of real rest beats a night at the cab or theatre for solid satisfaction. A good kind of chumminess to cultivate, don't you think?

Rare and unusual thing for me to do, but there was no other way to get here from Roselle last Saturday night without a long wait for a train so I took the "trolley."

I know our "Main Line" trolley cars from the outside pretty well thank you. Dull, unpainted, unvarnished and uninviting.

But the interior was far worse. This may have been an unusually filthy car, and there was dirt everywhere—stubs of cigars, peanut shells, wrapping paper,

REV. DR. S. L. LOOMIS CALLED TO CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Church and Society Urges His Acceptance
By a Unanimous Vote.

Rev. Dr. Samuel L. Loomis was called to the active pastorate of the Congregational Church of Christ, Westfield, at a meeting of the Church Congregation, and Society, Wednesday night. The vote was by ballot and was unanimous. Robert T. Mills acted as Moderator at the meeting of the Church, and Salter Storrs Clark at the meeting of the Society. Speeches were made eulogistic of Dr. Loomis and his work in the ministry, particularly since his coming to Westfield as a supply, and letters were read from Dr. Amory Bradford, of Montclair, Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, of Boston, Dr. Josiah Strong, Miss Susan Hayes Ward and others. All spoke, in the most emphatic way, of the character and preaching of Dr. Loomis.

The work of securing a new pastor was in the hands of the supply committee consisting of William J. Alpers, Frederick S. Tugart, A. L. Russell, W. Edgar Reeve, and William Morgan, Jr., whose report was unanimously adopted, as follows:—

The Committee on Supply, appointed at a Church meeting held January 15, 1908, respectfully submits the following report:

After careful and prayerful consideration of the welfare and needs of our Church in all its branches, and fully realizing the great importance of the duties assigned to us by the Church in recommending to it a pastor and teacher, we have, after calling into consultation the committee appointed by the Society for the purpose of advice, and in the judgment of the joint committees unanimously concluded that the Reverend Samuel Lane Loomis, D. D., is the man who inspires us with love and confidence and who possesses qualities of leadership, greatness of heart and the Grace of God; that he should be called as our pastor, teacher and leader, and we Therefore recommend that the Reverend Samuel Lane Loomis be called as the pastor and teacher of the Congregational Church of Christ in Westfield, at a salary of three thousand dollars a year, commencing June first, nineteen hundred and nine, and that after the first year, we recommend that the Church and Society take up for consideration the building of a parsonage.

This resolution was adopted by the Society:—

Resolved, That the Congregational Church of Christ in Westfield cordially and heartily invites the Reverend Samuel Lane Loomis, D. D., to become the pastor and teacher of the Church at a salary of three thousand dollars a year, commencing June 1st, next, so long as the relation shall continue, he to be entitled to the usual summer vacation of four weeks.

Further Resolved, That it be understood and agreed that if at any time either party shall be convinced that the pastoral relation thus established should be terminated, six months' notice shall be given by vote of the church transmitted to the pastor by its clerk, or by letter from the pastor to the church, and the matter shall be referred to a mutual council for approval and advice.

This resolution was adopted by the Church:—

Resolved, That a committee consisting of Messrs. William J. Alpers, A. L. Russell, W. Edgar Reeve, William Morgan, Jr. and Frederick S. Tugart shall communicate to the Reverend Samuel Lane Loomis, D. D. the result of the preceding ballot and urge him to comply with the invitation thus extended, and to make all further and other necessary arrangements to consummate the pastoral relationship, including the calling of a Council for installation, providing the society concur in and ratify this action of the Church.

SPRAYING THE TREES OF WESTFIELD

Work Begun by Park Commission Last Monday Morning.

The Park Commission of Westfield began Monday to spray the foliage of the Elm trees with arsenite of lead in order to destroy the elm leaf beetle. The beetle is present in large numbers in the elm trees, and if not destroyed now will lay eggs and later produce the destructive larvae which so seriously defoliated the elm trees last year.

By spraying the trees now authorities agree that a very serious part of the danger from the elm leaf beetle can be obviated.

The work is being done by contract by E. W. Zimmerman. Residents who desire elm trees on private grounds sprayed can take up the question of such spraying with the contractor and make arrangements for having the work done.

The Park Commission will spray the trees in the streets, the school grounds and the library grounds.

The Council recently appropriated $400 for the purpose.

OVER TWO HUNDRED CITIZENS ENJOY FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Governor Fort, Guest of Honor,
Mak s Patriotic Address—Other
Speakers Cordially Received.

MR. BERGEN CHAMPIONS WATER.

So Does Governor From a Different Point of View—Toastmaster Tuttle's Eloquence and
Wit. Mr. Besler and Mayor Alpers Talk

The first annual banquet of the Westfield Board of Trade, held at the Westfield Casino, Tuesday night, attracted over two hundred representative citizens, and was in point of general excellence reflective of the progressive spirit which has taken hold of civic affairs within recent years. Governor John Franklin Fort was the principal speaker and his address, while general in its scope, had particular bearing upon the purposes of the occasion—it was patriotic, aggressive, and optimistic. Mr. Frank Bergen, the corporation magistrate, was not a whit behind the Chief Executive in earnestness, although called upon to champion what he chose to regard as an unpopular cause. Mr. William G. Besler, vice-president and general manager of the Central Railroad, the last speaker, gave a practical talk on railroad administration, its objects and purposes, after the manner of a railroad man, Mayor Alpers, who was the first to speak, dwelt upon local affairs and civic pride. All of the speakers were received enthusiastically.

President William E. Tuttle, Jr., Master of Ceremonies, was in fine fettle for the occasion. He never missed a chance to get in his fling—not even when he drew the laugh on himself by inadvertently referring to the subject of Westfield, "our children and our great grand children." They laughed uproariously at the Bachelor Toastmaster for talking like a man of family; but after the hurrah had ceased the Bachelor had his inning. "Never you mind," he said, "You laughed at James O. Clark five years ago." Friends deny that the Toastmaster was making a promise or a threat.

The banqueters assembled promptly at the appointed hour, 7:30, and were introduced to the guests of honor by President Tuttle and the members of the reception committee. The diners assembled in the upper hall at eight o'clock, and were each assigned to tables by card.

The tables were grouped about the hall, while on the platform the Toastmaster and Guests of Honor were seated at a large table. Governor Fort sat at President Tuttle's right, and Mr. Frank Bergen at his left. At this table also, were Mr. Besler, Mayor Alpers, Mr. Charles N. Oodding, Rev. Sydney Cross, who offered prayer, and Colonel Condit, of Governor Fort's staff. The hall was decorated with flags and bunting; flowers adorned each of the tables. During the service, minstrel melodies were sung. William J. Bogert, Jr., had the call for "Take Plenty of Shoes" and he sang it through with characteristic vim; everybody joined in the chorus. Charlie Halstead told the "Skip a Day" yarn at the expense of the Chief Executive. The orchestra kept things lively by playing popular airs, and new harmonies and embryo Caruso's spring into being at the singing of "America."

Toastmaster Tuttle was all smiles when he arose to introduce the first speaker, Mayor Alpers. He declared that it was not in his office to make a speech, but, just by way of illustration, he made a good one.

President Tuttle said: "It is fitting and desirable that the men of a community get together around the festive board at least once a year and get acquainted with their neighbors. Here we find out that the man on the next street is not such a bad fellow after all; here all sorts of men may meet on the level: The merchant greets his competitor; the Railroad gets in touch with the commuter; The Public Service corporation is face to face with the rate citizen; the cold water brethren break bread with the Horrible Examples; the Presbyterians and the Elks; the Methodists and the Golf Club; the Republicans and the ultimate consumers; the Common Council and the Common People all join for the common interest and the common good."

The Board of Trade is concerned not in questions essentially political in their nature, but particularly in matters where our partisan, sectarian and personal differences and prejudices must be forgotten.

Our objects are:

1. To promote the interests of Westfield.

2. In co-operation with other similar bodies to promote the interests of the country and the State.

3. To voice the most enlightened public opinion.

4. To assist, where advisable, the authorities in the investigation and solution of important public problems.

5. To aid the local merchants and encourage the home trade idea.

6. To refrain from meddling in matters which are none of our business."

Although Governor Fort had had a strenuous day of it, having spoken at two other meetings, he was keenly appreciative of the temper of his audience, and seemed to be having the time of his life. During the evening, he and Lawyer Bergen indulged in some pleasantries; and the representative of the Corporations and the representative of the people poked each other in the spare ribs, metaphorically speaking. Everybody stood up and cheered when the Governor made his introductory bows.

The Governor recalled his previous speeches in Westfield during the campaign, which elected him Governor. This because Chairman Tuttle had facetiously remarked that the town had doubled and tripled in size during the last five years, and doubled its Republican majority at the last State election.

He spoke of the promises that he had made during the campaign, some of which he had not yet fulfilled, but which he purposed to fulfil before the close of his administration. He congratulated Westfield upon having a Board of Trade, and wished that every municipality in the State had such an organization. He had much stress on the potency of cooperation and active conscience in municipal affairs. He said that indifference was the cause of bad management and bossism. The primary, he declared, was the common fighting ground and he deplored the lack of interest in the country's best electoral institution. He dwelt briefly on the needs of corporate regulation by commission, and pointed out that the business of such commissions was merely to regulate, not to control the corporations.

Governor Fort referred feelingly to New Jersey's good roads, to the natural beauty and resources of the State, its schools and churches. He favored the plan of having the State own its own water sheds. Lawyer Bergen smiled and applauded. Then the Corporation magistrate had his fling.

Mr. Bergen applauded generously when the Governor concluded, and his black eyes snapped with merriment as he arose to speak for himself. Governor Fort had had a word to say about the management of Corporations, which struck Mr. Bergen as being very pat. "But when my former colleague, the Governor, has served his term of office, I shall not be surprised to find him who is now the servitor of the people, representing the Corporations. It is a lawyer's business to uphold and fight for the interests of his clients."

Mr. Bergen allowed that he was not popular in Westfield, since of recent years the corporations had come to be regarded as dangerous, and he, as their representative, was made to assume the color of his kind. He told of his first visit to Westfield, then a struggling young lawyer, of the great progress which had been made since those early days, a good part of which progress he maintained was due to the courage and daring of corporations. Mr. Bergen felt that he played a part in Westfield's progress.

Continuing Mr. Bergen said in part: "It is my mission this evening to say a good word for the corporations; not to mention or conceal the evil that is ever present with them, as it is with all other human contrivances."

"As I do not agree with Dean Swift's opinion of the human race—that most men are born devilish—the first good word I can say for corporations is that they are made of men—men organized for business, to carry on commerce, and neither their virtues nor their vices are or can be concealed by incorporation."

"Some indiscreet apologists for corporations insist that the benefits that the public obtain from their operation should be ascribed to benevolence. There are no doubt benevolent gentlemen engaged in the management of the corporations, but the deep and invariable conviction in the public mind that no man can serve both the People and Mammon at the same time renders it difficult, if not impossible, to make much headway along that line of argument. I assume, at the risk of being a little unjust, that the good which corpora-

Woman's Home Companion for June.

Perhaps the most noticeable feature of the June Woman's Home Companion is the wealth of fiction. There are ten stories in this issue—not heavy, psychological diagnoses of the world-worn minds, but breezy stories of love and fun that are suitable to the season. Among the writers in this issue are Edward Everett Hale, Maude Radford Warren, Cyrus Townsend Brady, Marion Hamilton Carter, Mary Hastings, Ernestine Winchell, Georgia Wood Pangborn, Frederick M. Smith, Marion Hill, Annie Hamilton Donnell and Rosa Naomi Scott.

The stories are illustrated by prominent artists, among whom are F. O.

Yohn and John Cecil Gray.

Naturally, much is said about weddings in this June issue.

In addition to the lighter, joyous preparations, there are some serious articles handling that most serious of subjects, marriage. In a very clever way the Companion demonstrates how marriage should be a success if conducted on a business basis and if the "Junior Partner" does her share. In connection with this, there is a particularly bright article by Katharine Eggleston, pointing out some great dangers in our present methods of teaching girls.

But the entrance into marriage is not neglected, and there are in this issue stories of weddings, the inexorable laws of fashion regarding them, and suggestions for charming original and inexpensive weddings.

Everybody who is not being married this month is planning to go away for a vacation or to furnish a summer home. And for this part of the world there are many practical vacation ideas—ideas for veranda furniture, ideas for bungalows, talks about the ice-box, and a long list of frozen dainties that will make the hottest day a blessing. For the practical woman there is a particularly valuable story of one woman's experience with bees.

PROTECTING THE TREES.

The Common Council recently voted the expenditure of $400 by the Westfield Park Commission for the spraying of trees to prevent the attacks of the Elm Beetle. Last year this insect did considerable damage to the trees, and efforts to prevent its ravages were undertaken too late to be effective. During the past year, however, the Park Commission has made a careful study of the work of protecting the trees, and is this year ready to strike at the psychological moment. The work has already been begun. The Commission is equipped with funds, and understanding. President Russell, who is one of the most zealous advocates of civic betterment has spent no little time in studying the subject, and he has publicly declared that every precaution must be taken to protect the trees of Westfield. Under these circumstances, those who have expressed some anxiety lest our trees should be neglected, may rest satisfied that Westfield Park Commission will do its work speedily and well.

IN LINE WITH PRECEDENT.

What the Governor said to the Corporation magnate and what the Corporation Magnate said to the Governor will be remembered as one of the bright quips of the Trade Board dinner. The Governor, zealous to do the will of his clients, the people, scored corporation greed; the Corporation Magnate, conscious of his duty to his client, the Trust, took occasion to retort that it is in keeping with the business of the profession to win the case if possible. "The Governor," said Mr. Bergen, "may soon be found defending the Trusts. I rather expect to know him as a Corporation Lawyer as soon as he has completed his term as Governor."

Mr. Bergen may or may not be right in Governor Fort's case, but will some one point out a single man who has been Chief Executive of the State of New Jersey, who has not kept company with the Trusts at some time in his legal career—that is since Trusts were discovered?

A PROMISE OR A THREAT?

Wonder if our Bachelor Toastmaster was in dead earnest when he referred to "our children and great-grandchildren," and then by way of reply to the laugh, mentioned James O. Clark as a shining example of "the man of family," who had been considered a hopeless case five years ago?

Tony Maratto Salls Away From Here.

Tony Maratto, the bad boy who has given the local police no end of trouble, sailed for Italy this morning in the company of his brother. Tony says he will never come back again, but the police, who are glad to be rid of the young pest, are skeptical about Tony's intentions. The incorrigible youth, it is feared, will soon get into mischief in his native country.

The Laugh Was On Him.

A man living near Westfield had a pretty good joke played on him some time ago by a number of his friends, which he enjoyed as much as they did. He is a lover of flowers and one of his fads is always to have one or more small Rockerles in his yard with ferns, flowers and creeping plants growing over them. He was making a new one which was to be something better than the others and in his rambles seldom failed to bring home an odd shaped or colored rock wrapped up in paper. He certainly had a fine collection for some of the common stones are beautiful when broken in two and the inside exposed. Some of his friends learning what he was doing arranged to surprise him and add to his collection. When he opened the first package which he suspected by the weight to be a stone, and hoped would be some unique or choice specimen, he found a piece of old flagstone, another package contained several brick-bats, another a piece of broken drain pipe; and the collection of concrete, fire bricks, etc., would have made quite an addition if it had been suitable. As it was he made of them a small memorial.

Highland Avenue Owners to Confer.

The property owners of Lower Highland Avenue will meet at the home of George T. Cruttenden on Wednesday night, to consider the proposition to change the grade and other proposed improvements on Lower Highland Avenue. Mr. Cruttenden is the chairman of the committee of Highland Avenue residents having this work in charge, and is anxious that every interested property owner be present so that there may be a full and free discussion of the questions under consideration.

MONEY FOUND AT MANOR PARK

Since the days of Captain Kidd most of the human race have dreamed at one time or another of what they would do with the pot of gold or box of treasure when found. Countless "Air Castles" have been built with this as a foundation and who shall say they have not brought their builder's profit? Imagination has been quickened, the specter of want and privation has been hidden while the joys and privileges of the rich have been enjoyed in fancy, by many, destined to remain poor all their lives. The beautiful hills surrounding Westfield have for untold generations, been the home of those who came before and who have passed on behind the curtain leaving little to tell the tale of their stirring lives, undoubtedly full of the cares, the joys and hopes which are ours to-day.

Indian village sites demonstrate that the red man appreciated high ground and fertile soil, the invigorating air and pure water. It is not strange that his white brother coming in comparatively recent years should be quick to see all these advantages and others that the primitive man could not understand, and so it was that the French, Spanish, Dutch and English appeared, possessing the land developing it into homes fit for the dominant race. Treasure they had without doubt, perhaps acquired in some cases by means that would not bear close scrutiny but prized beyond our appreciation, in an age when gold and silver was scarce. There were no safety vaults or burglar safes in those early days, so mother earth was often made custodian.

If the man forgot or was suddenly called hence the treasure remained, but where? That is the question that all have asked but which has seldom been answered.

All this is more or less speculation and fancy, preliminary to the real bit of news, that money, hard silver and copper money, has recently been found in Manor Park. This property, well known as the former home of Mr. Ripley is being developed into restricted residence sites by Mr. Lockwood the present owner. In grading streets four coins were found near the site of an ancient house where bits of crockery and other evidences of habitation were found. One copper coin is French dated 1708 while three silver pieces are Spanish dated 1711 and 1735.

Mr. Lockwood has not decided to make extensive search but says he is positive there is big money in the property, and that the surest and easiest way to get some of it is to buy one or more of the choice restricted plots, which he offers at bargain prices on terms of $10 cash and $5 monthly if desired.

Messrs. Wm. S. Welch & Son are well posted on this subject of treasure in real estate and are prepared to give pointers to every prospector, backing their judgement by the actual experience of others who have invested and reaped the benefits. They have the newest and best map of Westfield to give away. Call for one at either of their offices, No. 87 Elm street or No. 205 Broad street.

—Mr. LeRoy F. Duke, President of the Portland Engineering Company, is having built for him a very attractive residence on his lot on Carleton Road. The Modern Shop Company is the contractor.

—Central Council Jr. O. U. A. M. have organized a baseball team with H. E. Oline as manager. The team will be uniformed and expects to show Westfield some fast base ball. Manager Oline will be pleased to hear from managers of good uniformed teams desiring games.

—The Pearsall Company has just erected a cottage in the midst of their Brightwood Forest property, to be occupied by a caretaker. "Zack"

Moffett, caretaker, can rightfully lay claim to "King of the Big Woods." "Zacks" duties are simply to protect the property in general, keep out wood thieves, tree destroyers and birdkillers. This property has been thoroughly posted; trespassers and wood choppers beware.

—New Shakespearean for May contains further chapters of Dr. Morgan's Shakespearean Autobiography, reminiscences of the late Augustin Daly, Senator Davis, Bronson Howard, Sir Henry Irving, Boucicault, Mansfield, Moncreux Conway, Lord Houghton and others, with whom he exchanged views on Shakespearean authorship matters. There is also an interesting monograph on "Local Illusions in the Plays," by Henry Penberton, Jr., and the usual quota of Marginalia, book reviews, etc.

—On Friday last, May 21st, the Alpha Sigma was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moyer on the Boulevard. During the first part of the evening tables were set for cards, five hundred being played. The first prize, a beautiful silk parasol, was awarded to Miss Bertha Mink, while Miss Helen Van Dusen captured second. The prizes for the men were taken by J. A. Edwards and F. W. Doying. After refreshments the floor was cleared for dancing and from reports 'tis said that Mrs. Hegeman was at her best.

—Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of this town, exchanged pulpits with Dr. Conlins, pastor of the St. James M. E. Church of Elizabeth on Sunday evening. Dr. Conlins made a very interesting address on "A Visit to the Shrine of Old Methodism in England." The occasion was the nineteenth anniversary of the local chapter of the Epworth League. Mr. Morris, who is District President made a short address and a number of the ex-presidents of the local chapter spoke briefly. The church was prettily decorated and a large audience attended.

Unloveliness of Mind.
No woman or man can go through life scoffing at the feelings and wishes of others, holding themselves apart from companionship of their nearest and best, and then expect to have love and devotion handed back to them. Egotism and unloveliness of mind breed a herd of little demons that in time will turn and make a ring around one and taunt back and sting this one who has called them into life. —Frances Berkeley Cunningham, "Priest or Pretender."

Before the FIRE or After?

WHEN are you going to find out whether the fire insurance you have paid for is really good or not—before or after the fire which makes it due and payable? You cannot change it after the fire. It will be too late then, but before the fire you can readily, at no extra cost, select an insurance company whose record and strength guarantee the liberal fulfillment of its obligations.

Upon foundations of commercial honor The Hartford Fire Insurance Company has built up the largest fire insurance business in the United States. It has paid more than $125,000,000 to its policyholders. Its popularity is the reward of merit, and the result of nearly a century of honorable dealing with its patrons. It has published a book, "Fire Prevention and Fire Insurance," which contains in separate chapters, valuable information for Household, Merchants and Manufacturers. It ought to be in the hands of every property owner in America. It may save you thousands of dollars, no matter in what company you are insured. It is free. Send for it.

The Most Important Factor in Summer Housekeeping is the REFRIGERATOR

As the days grow warmer the importance of having foods properly protected and refrigerated is emphasized. The refrigerator that may have given excellent service all Winter may be a traitor to health as well as to the niceties of table service as soon as the thermometer goes up and the shortcomings of the refrigerator develop by the growing heat. A new refrigerator is a small matter of expense as compared with the discomforts and humiliations that inevitably follow when a disqualified refrigerator is retained in service.

We are showing at the present time an assemblage of refrigerators which is comprehensive of practically every good variety we could discover, giving such selection as will meet every wish and requirement as to size, style, price, finish and fancy. This means that exactly the right refrigerator is here for a hotel, a large country house or a compact metropolitan apartment.

Twenty-four styles and sizes of Oak Case, Glass-lined Refrigerators, at $28 to $225.

Forty-nine styles and sizes of Eddy Refrigerators and Ice Chests, ranging from $6.50 to $125.

Twenty-six styles and sizes of Puritan Refrigerators, at $8 to $48.

Six different styles of the handsome and sanitary Opal Refrigerators, finished with glass inside and out at $100 to $260.

Six sizes of Alaska Refrigerators, at $24 to $41.50.

Three sizes and styles of White Frost Refrigerators, at $32.

A full assortment of the Seeger Synphon Refrigerators, made by the inventor of this system of refrigeration, which is the most perfect ever devised, at $20 to $61.75.

Also an assortment of the little Refrigerators for the Nursery, at $3.25 to $6.75. Basement, New Building.

Best Style in Men's Tan Shoes

We have built well among our Men's Tan Shoes this season. It's possible to put into the making of a shoe a vast amount of good style, as well as service, and yet, by carefully watching the details, to keep the price down to bed-rock. That's what we've done with our shoes at the two popular prices—$3 and $3.90; every mill that didn't pay for itself in either looks or service was ruthlessly cut out.

And so, among the many styles shown, we are sure to please the great body of men who need to be tan-shod today.

Among the higher-priced styles we have added some beauties—patterned closely after English lasts, and with all the laughty bearing of custom-made shoes. And they are powerfully good shoes for $6. (The other prices in our stock are $5 and $7, and both just as fair in their return of value.) Main floor, New Building.

Men's Athletic Underwear

More men each season try this sensible hot-weather underwear, and the habit is usually fixed with the first wearing. So our stock grows better and more varied each season, to keep up with the procession. This year we have Athletic Shirts and Drawers—

At 50c—Of nainsook, fancy madras, flexo-mull and white lisle thread. At $1—Of fancy madras, in pretty patterns, in blue, lavender, champagne and gray. At 75c—Of nainsook, fancy madras, At $1.75 and $2—Of mixed silk.

Some Very Good SOCKS at 35c, three pairs for $1.

You get a good deal of sock satisfaction at this price at Wanamaker's—all but the last of the following styles we import direct, and you can fairly match them up with usual 50c kinds:

Unbleached Cotton. Tan, gray Cotton, with lisle spliced soles, heels and toes. Black Cotton, lisle spliced in two weights. Black Cotton, lisle spliced. Black Cotton, with unbleached soles and feet. Black Lisle Thread, gauze or medium weight. Black Lisle Thread, with unbleached soles. Tan or White Lisle Thread. Colored plain mercerized Lisle Thread, in all the shades most popular this season. Many other splendid styles and qualities from 25c to $5 a pair. Main floor, New Building.

Worth Knowing—The New Wanamaker Tennis Racquets

For several years we have sold the "seconds" from a famous maker of racquets. They were so good, many manufacturers would class them as "firsts"—that the sales were great successes.

We told how the manufacturer went himself into the New England forests, picked out the straight, second-growth ash for his frames, seasoned it a year before using it, and rejected every frame that showed the slightest flaw in the wood.

"If these Racquets are as good as all that," asked the head of this business, "why don't you have this man make your regular stock?" We have done so, and show this season for the first time the first of the new Racquets. There is a superb collection of suit every individual taste and all degrees of expertness. WE CONSIDER IT THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF TENNIS RACQUETS IN THE CITY.

The Racquets at $5 will be particularly popular—three models, including one for women—in varying types of oval heads, favored by the tennis experts of today; several sizes of handles; AND ALL STRUNG WITH ENGLISH GUT. It took a struggle with the maker to accomplish it, but we won.

The Racquets at $7 and $8 are in 1/4-ounce weights, and have handles of three degrees of thickness. The $8 Racquets are beautiful—the frames being of cherry reinforced with maple. At $3.50, $2.50, $2 and $1.50 there are models proportionately excellent in value. The $1.50 Racquets are especially appropriate for children.

Wanamaker Tennis Balls

are another achievement that will be appreciated. They are the best balls made in America, are absolutely uniform in size, resiliency, last remarkably well, and conform to the requirements of the U. S. N. L. T. A. We have them in continually fresh supply, at $4 a dozen.

We also have complete stocks of Spalding, Wright & Ditson, and Slazenger Tennis Racquets, Balls and other supplies.

Come in and talk it over.

In the first place, this is the only way you can absolutely protect yourself against the possibility of loss.

In the second place, the charges of the Fidelity, for examination and premium, are generally less than the cost of a complete abstract of title and opinion by a first-class lawyer.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

Does it pay to maintain a national quarantine against criminal and dependent classes from abroad, and license 250,000 saloon-keepers to manufacture such products at home?

Does it pay to send missionaries to the heathen, to point out the way of salvation, and from the same port and often in the same vessel send "liquor" demmination?

Does it pay to employ teachers to teach children the evil effects of alcohol upon the human system and license men to sell a thing which influences the stomach, hardens the brain tissues, softens and weakens the blood vessels, impoverishes the blood, overworks the heart, dims the eyes, dulls the hearing, diseases the throat, lungs, kidneys, liver, nerves and muscles: the demand for which is purely artificial and when supplied serves no good purpose.

Does it pay to levy a tax to support orphans and widows and license the murder of husbands and fathers? Does it pay to license a thing which is always and everywhere known to be the enemy of everything sacred to God and man?

Does it pay to maintain on our coasts 275 Life Saving Stations at a cost of a million and a half, and out of the same pockets and under the same flag maintain 250,000 Life Destroying Stations at two billions and a half?

Rev. Chas. Scanlon.

"The following black list of disaster and misery, received by the Associated Prohibition Press, from a correspondent in Sedalia, Mo., says the 'N. J. Gazette,' by no means exhausts the roll of crime and tragedy to be ascribed to the liquor traffic."

The liquor traffic breeds criminals, makes drunkards, causes murders, and is indeed the main entrance to the penitentiary.

The liquor traffic protects the criminal and is the perpetual law-breaker.

The liquor traffic fills our poor houses.

The liquor traffic makes no man a better man; ruins families, crushes out the lives of innocent women and children by making brutes of husbands and fathers. The liquor traffic depreciates adjoining property: costs many times more than the revenue derived from it.

The liquor traffic hutes the Sabbath and stands as the greatest barrier to the coming of the Redeemer's Kingdom.

The liquor traffic is the clearing house of our money for criminals, drunkards, ruined men, blasted hopes, miserable lives, suicides, and in fact all manner of vice.

With all these things confirmed in the daily press news and in the experience of so many homes, is it any wonder that the American people are rising in their might to put the liquor traffic out of business? Indeed is it not the most natural thing, since the dominant parties for forty years, have refused to wipe it out, that the patriotic forces most thoroughly aroused against it should consistently advocate the union of all temperance forces for permanent victory by a political organization, pledged to establish State and National Prohibition?

The Dairyman's profits depend upon the Full Milk Pail and the amount of butter-fat the milk contains. Both these important items are assured by the regular use of Fairfield's Blood Tonic and Milk Producer for Cattle Only. It purifies the blood, increases and enriches the milk and removes all garlic taste. Sold under written guarantee by Patrick Traynor.

MOUNTAINSIDE NEWS.

Edward Fry is able to go about on crutches. He had his leg broken in an automobile accident last Easter.

Mrs. Mathews and her daughter Ella, have left for a two weeks visit in the Adirondacks.

Silas Murster of the Borough is very sick.

The Mountainside Council meets next Tuesday night.

Shorill Klopff, of Mountainside, has sold his hotel to a Mr. Grunap.

Miss Stella Robbins was surprised by twenty of her friends last Monday evening.

Mrs. Bryant, of East Troy, Maine, is visiting Mrs. Bennett.

Mr. Windham's horse became frightened and bulky last Saturday night and came near causing trouble.

Worth Knowing.

To remove Pimples, Blackheads, Blisters and all forms of Skin eruptions, is, according to a well known physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrassment account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your Druggist and get this prescription filled: Clearola one-half ounce, ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces, mix, shake well and apply to the parts affected night and morning, allowing it to remain on the skin at least ten minutes, then wipe off the powder from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. Get the Pure Clearola, which is only put up in one-half ounce packages. Ask to see it.

The Ladies' World For June.

With this month the magazine takes on a summer air and devotes most of its space to fiction. The June issue of 'The Ladies World,' which has just arrived, has a number of stories that are very entertaining, among them being 'Little Moccasins,' a pathetic story of an Indian mother and child, by Koenig Abbott; 'The Separation,' by Zola Gale, where a better understanding came in time to save the break; 'An Ideal Site,' by Carroll Watson Rankin, which describes the adventures of a young and sentimental couple; 'Through Wit of Woman,' by Gustav Kolbe; and 'The Fairy's Janet,' by Winifred Kirkland. There is a special illustrated article on 'Safeguarding the President,' telling what the Secret Service really means, and does, one on 'Overcoming Travel Furies,' which is timely, and a third, of particular interest to ladies, is called 'Fashion and Flash Reduction.' The household department is particularly well covered with 'How to Plan a Meal,' with Specimen Recipes, by Waltham A. Wilson; 'Timeless Cookery Up to Date,' by Anna W. Morrison; 'Menus from Recipe contributed by magazine readers; 'Novel Rhubarb Dishes; Household Information and Economics, and Family Problems.' There are very pretty fashions for ladies and for big and little girls, a Dressmaking Lesson, and pages of Needlework, Etiquette, Stories for Children, Puzzles and Prizes, etc., etc. Altogether an excellent number and a marvel at the price.—[New York; Fifty Cents a Year.]

If you desire a clear complexion take Foley's Orino Laxative for constipation and liver trouble as it will stimulate these organs and thoroughly cleanse your system, which is what everyone needs in the spring in order to feel well. Sold at Gale's Pharmacy.

Success with fowl of any kind is assured when Fairfield's Blood Tonic and Egg Producer for Poultry Only is used regularly. It prevents and cures Roup, Cholera and all contagious poultry diseases and makes the hen lay. Sold under written guarantee by Patrick Traynor.

Store closes at 6 o'clock; Saturdays at 10 o'clock.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET

tions do is incidental to their main purpose, which is to create wealth and make money; that the vast sums which some of the corporations' incomes devote to found hospitals, colleges, libraries, museums and art galleries and for other public uses ought not to be attributed to affection for their fellow men, but to reasons less worthy. Some it may have moved by a passion for fame; others by the prickings of conscience for some aggressive movement in business, and still many yield to the fear which sometimes overcomes men of 'rough piling ways' as age approaches, and they begin to feel the damp, chill air in the Valley of the Dark Shadow. Let us put gentleness and all varieties of sentiment out of the argument, whether it is just or unjust to do so.

I think any reasonable and dispassionate student of the course of events during the past century will agree that the increase in comfort, convenience and happiness of the people kept pace with the immense growth of industry and commerce made possible only by the multiplied power of corporations. The expansion of commerce and industry and the increase in what are sometimes called the creature comforts of the people were not merely contemporary proceedings—they had and still have the relation of cause and effect. A generation ago the people of this state inserted an amendment in our constitution forbidding the legislature to pass special acts conferring corporate powers, but commanded to 'pass general laws under which corporations may be organized and corporate powers of every nature obtained.' This amendment was evidently induced by the impression that the benefits derived by the public from corporations exceeded the injuries which their existence inflicted.

Mr. Besler, was the last speaker, and when he arose the unusual happened. The banqueters gave him a reception co-equal with that given the Governor, and Mr. Bergen smiled as much as to say: "This isn't altogether an anti-corporation town." Mr. Besler declared that a railroad man could do things much better than he could say things. The motto of the Central was, he said, "A Satisfied Patron is Our Best Advertisement," and the road tries to live up to its motto. Mr. Besler was cheered when he admitted the need of a new south side station, and declared that that improvement would soon be undertaken.

Mayor Alpers spoke of his pleasure at being present as a speaker on such an occasion. He congratulated the Board of Trade on the success of its initial effort, and urged that the work of co-operation be continued. He prophesied great things for the town, and noted the progress which had been made during the last decade.

Toastmaster Tatlo had a little surprise for the guests. Mr. Bergen had referred to the Sunday Land Sales as a disgrace to the community, and the toastmaster took occasion, just before adjournment to read a letter from the company which had been carrying on the sales. The letter was apologetic in tone. It expressed regret at the evident embarrassment which the sales had caused the townspeople, and promised speedy correction. The letter said that the sales would no longer be continued after the old custom. It asked the president of the board to report any further violations.

The committee of arrangement was: William B. Tatlo, Jr., chairman; George F. Crutenden, James E. Grape, Paul Q. Oliver, Frank H. Schaefer, Lloyd Thompson and Walter B. Toucey. The menu:

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Large Congregation at Services of Epworth League.

The First M. E. Church honored the twentieth anniversary of the Epworth League at the evening service last Sunday evening. The church was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. All of the past presidents of the Epworth League were present. Rev. Dr. Conlins, of Elizabeth, delivered an excellent sermon, his theme being "A Visit to the Shrine of Old Methodism in England." There was a large congregation.
