coming from neighboring towns. Music was furnished by a pianist and violinist from Wotton's orchestra. Refreshments consisting of chicken salad and ice cream and cake was served by Mrs. Ludlow, caterer, after the first part of the dance card.

The patronesses were Mrs. H. Knight, Mrs. G. L. Delatour, Mrs. T. D. Bunco, Mrs. E. A. Brainerd, Mrs. O. P. Worth, Mrs. E. T. Perino, Mrs. P. D. Collins, and Mrs. C. N. Coddling.

"SOMETHING HIDDEN."

Valedictory Essay of Miss Anna Haight Bent at Commencement.

"There's no sense in going further—it's the edge of cultivation. So they said—and I believed it—broke my land and moved my crop. Built my barns and strung my fences in the little border station. Tracked away below the foothills where the trails ran out and stop."

Many people go the place where the trails run out and stop. Then in the contentment of the achievement they say, "There's no sense in going further." Most have believed the statement. Yet to one or two of the dwellers on the edge of cultivation, the unknown at last becomes a challenge. They feel compelled to go on into the mysterious unknown to make new edges of cultivation for the people who continue to believe and stay behind.

We hear of the emigrant train crawling out across the plains, struggling against overwhelming difficulties, leaving a tragic trail of broken wagons, bleached bones, and unmarked graves. We hear of these intrepid men because at last they spread out upon the boundless fields and settled a new West. But after all, they were only the pioneers. Before them had gone the explorer who "went back and did the talking," which aroused in their restless minds the desire for new unconquered lands. The solitary pathfinder who prepared the way for the explorer is nameless and forgotten. He faced the loneliness, the suspense, the horrors of the unknown, with danger as his only companion and the madness of thirst to dog his steps. One human soul alone to face the illimitable forces of mountain, plain, and desert! Why? Because to that soul a voice had whispered, "something hidden—go and find it. Go and look behind the Ranges. Something lost behind the Ranges. Lost and waiting for you Go!" So he listened and went out into the "never-never country" and is forgotten. Years later, perhaps, the explorer gazed upon this country. Yet the fame is his. In his traces followed the pioneers to make good the conquest and establish once more a new edge of cultivation. Broad rich fields are theirs. Is there then no reward for the forgotten pathfinder? The achievement is its own reward. Perhaps on the site of one of his deserted camps, there is a vast city; perhaps at the pass where he stumbled and fell there is a mighty railway. Best of all is the distinction of being chosen and of being ready. "Anybody might have found it—but the whisper came to him."

Back in 1866, there was suggested a scheme for constructing a Northern Pacific Railway. People thought it preposterous—why, the proposed route of the road would run through impassable thickets, morasses, lakes, mountains—"There's no sense in going further," said they. Then two Englishmen heard the whisper, "something lost behind the Ranges. Over yonder. Go yonder!" And they listened. They left England with the intention of crossing British America to the Pacific, and prepared for danger and great hardship. In two bark canoes they began the journey. Repeatedly in danger of being attacked by the Indians, nearly dead from hunger and exhaustion, at last they were forced back to the settlements. There they rested until the whisper came again, insistently, "something hidden, over yonder, go and find it." So they started again.

By this time it was winter. The pathfinders built a little hut out of mud and logs and there they existed, suffering from the intense cold, and often from hunger. Spring came at last, and the two men started on in the primeval country. Finally, the base of the Rocky Mountains was reached, and there the greatest difficulties had to be faced. To get the pack-horses up the steep mountain-sides; to keep them from slipping over the rocks; to prevent them from being swept away by the rushing mountain torrents—these were some of the problems the two men had to solve.

After two weeks climbing they reached the summit, and began to descend on the Pacific side. The loss of a pack-horse that was swept away in a mountain torrent, robbed them of food, blankets, and almost all their ammunition. They were in a disheartening position—in tags, with no food, a dense forest encompassing them, but still the whisper came. They had a choice of two plans, that of floating down the stream on a raft, or cutting a path through the forest to the settlements on the Pacific coast. They chose the latter. Fallen trees lay piled around in barriers six to eight feet high; propped up at every possible angle; trees of every size and shape, entangled in every possible combination. Around these fallen trees grew thickets of prickly shrub, whose leaves and twigs were armed with short

METHODIST FIELD DAY.

H. L. Abrams Touches Off the Starter's Gun While Tom Murray Touches Funny Spots.

BABY CARRIAGE RACE WON BY J. FISHER.

Great Ball Game Between Red Giants and Blue Pittsburgs—Giants Win Out by 7-5—Everybody Has a Good Time.

The Field Day sports of the Men's League of the First Methodist Church were held at Recreation Park last Saturday afternoon. A large attendance of over six hundred people enjoyed the amusing and interesting contests of the day. Before the events scheduled were started, a concert was given by Prof. Burhan's brass band which was exceptionally fine and enjoyed by all. The grounds were policed by chief H. S. Embree's full force grotesquely costumed.

"Tom" Murray dressed in a pair of overalls and a duster with a red wig, touched the funny spots of the spectators by his comical actions.

The following events were run off much to the enjoyment of all.

First event called was the Baby Carriage race won by John Fisher, 2nd E. S. Mainmar, and 3d M. T. Townley. Second event 100 foot dash won by W. M. Townley, 2nd August Wickham, 3d W. A. Bishop. Third event, 3 legged race won by Johnston and Quigley, 2nd Orr and Valentine, 3d Wright and Whitlock. Fourth event, wheelbarrow race won by Harry Wright and Ralph Vervoort, 2nd Lester Trevenen and Charles Wallen, 3d Lindsey Leggett and John Davis. Fifth event, 100 yard dash won by W. H. Orr, 2nd T. Seventh event, half mile handicap won by Lester Trevenen (scratch), Harry Parker (50 yds), 3d Herbert Hunter (25 yds).

The field officials were H. L. Abrams starter; E. R. Pearsall announcer; Dr. A. W. Hynes and J. S. Ferris judges.

These events were followed by a ball game arranged between the Red Giants, Capt. M. T. Townley and the Blue Pittsburgs, Capt. W. S. Webb which ended in favor of the Red Giants, score 7 to 5.

The Red Giants were Howard, 1b; Harkrader, 2b; Paulin, 3b; P. Wolff, c; D. Wolff, lf; Keegan and Hurst, rf; Dilloway, of; Woodruff, p; and Towns. The Blue Pittsburgs, Johnston c and p; Vervoort, 1b; Quigley, p and 2b; Mainmar, ss; Dezanford and Young, 3b; Marsh 2b and cf; Reed, rf; Webb, cf; Young, c; and Burhans, lf. The score by innings was:

Giants	5	0	2	0	x-7
Pittsburgs	1	1	0	2	5

Two base hits—Dilloway, Woodruff; struck out—by Woodruff 5, Quigley 1, Johnston 3; bases on balls—Woodruff, Quigley, Johnston; passed balls—Young, Wolff; stolen bases—Dilloway 2, Young 3; first base on errors—Reds 1, Blue 1; left on bases—Reds 3, Blue 4; double plays—Dilloway to Harkrader. Umpires—Abrams and Waite.

Teams from the Men's League of the Methodist Church and the Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church will play a three game series beginning next Saturday. Game called at 3:30 p. m. The games which were played last year were expected to be a "Comedy of Errors" but they were more like professional games. There is a large crowd expected this year as the games promise to be good and exciting.

WINDFELDT'S WAGON IN COLLISION WITH POLE.

Pope, Driver, Sprains Wrist in Fall to Sidewalk.

Windfeldt's delivery wagon was damaged in a collision with a telegraph pole last Saturday morning at the corner of Clark and Walnut streets, and Mr. Pope, the driver, was thrown to the sidewalk spraining his wrist.

Mr. Pope had come up Clark street toward Dudley avenue and stopping, had delivered an order at house of James O. Clark. He turned the horse, when the left hand front wheel came off. This frightened the animal and also threw all the weight to the left of the wagon. The wagon skidded on three wheels and ran into a telegraph pole in front of the house, throwing Mr. Pope out on the sidewalk.

The Junior division of the Sunshine Society will hold a lawn party to-morrow afternoon on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John Locke of Clark street.

DR. LOOMIS TALKS TO GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATES.

Elsie Hall of the Fifth Grade of Lincoln School Captures Dickerson First Prize.

The graduating exercises of the Westfield Grammar School were held last Friday morning in the assembly hall of the Washington School. The hall was decorated as it had been for Commencement.

The exercises were opened by a song by the class. Dr. J. J. Savitz then awarded the medals for the highest average among the pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, given by Mr. Dickerson of Dudley avenue. Miss Elsie Hall of the fifth grade of the Lincoln School took the first prize and Elwood Reese of the fifth grade of the Washington School, the second prize. Miss Florence McClinton then played a piano solo, in which she showed her talent.

Dr. Loomis, the speaker of the occasion, spoke to the graduates and the audience. In his talk he compared the High School and Grammar School and the comparative importance of the commencements of each. He also spoke on a student's "Love for Work."

Dr. Savitz told the audience and graduates of the present and new courses that will be in the High School next year. He also told what "failure" meant. He said that if a student tried and did honest work, he never failed even though he did not succeed in being promoted. These are the scholars that succeed. Dr. Savitz then gave out the diplomas after which the Class sang their "Class Song" which was very cleverly composed and well sung.

THOMPSON--SAVITZ.

Daughter of County Superintendent of Schools Weds Well Known Townsman.

Mr. Robert Craig Thompson, of Prospect street, and Miss Linda Belle Savitz, daughter of Dr. Jerolm J. Savitz, were married yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Ross Place.

The wedding was quiet, only members of the immediate family and the sorority sisters of Gamma Phi Beta of Barnard College being present. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. I. Stearns, the bride's pastor. Miss Helen Elizabeth Savitz, a sister of the bride was maid of honor and Mr. James M. Hill, of Brooklyn, was best man.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. Jerolm J. Savitz, the Supervising Principal of the Westfield Schools and County Superintendent of Union County. She is a graduate of Barnard College.

The groom is well known in Westfield, having resided here a number of years.

After an extended wedding journey they will return to Westfield to live.

BUILDERS ENJOY DINNER.

Sixty Present at Fourth Annual Banquet.

The Master Builders Association held their fourth annual banquet last Saturday night at Willott's Hotel on North avenue. Flags and flowers made the dining room, where the banquet was held, look very pretty. The sixty members present did full justice to the well spread dinner, while Wotton's orchestra provided all the latest music.

At the close of the banquet President C. L. Bell, of Cranford, made an address and was followed by different other members. The success of the affair was due to the hard and earnest work of the reception committee, composed of William Scheib, E. W. Wilcox, W. S. Jimerson and W. I. Carpenter. The officers of the association are president, C. L. Bell; vice president, L. L. Loveland; recording secretary, O. H. French; financial secretary, O. E. Blakeslee; treasurer, E. W. Wilcox.

Miss Collins' Dinner Party.

Miss Grace Collins gave a dinner to seventeen of her friends last Friday evening at her home on Academy Place. There were guests present from Beverly, Delmon and Glen Ridge. After a tasty dinner all went to the Junior Hop. Those present were: Misses Grace Collins, Elsie Porino, Mildred Banco, Edith M. Gladwin, Madelyn Worth, Helen Jackson, Margaret White and Adele Coddling. Messrs. ANOTHER SALARIED JOB.

Dog Warden Eagerly Sought For Who Will Act This Summer.

COUNCIL WILLING TO PAY A SALARY

In Addition to Fees—Considers in Danger Again of the Gas Tank and Owners Must Come Up With Fees.

The Town Council has determined to adopt stronger measures to obtain a dog warden to rid the Town of the various unlicensed dogs around the streets this summer. At a meeting held Monday evening the Law Committee was instructed to prepare an amendment to the dog ordinance whereby, in addition to the fees already allowed to a dog warden, there will be a stated salary attached to the office. It is expected that this will induce applications and result in the appointment of a competent person for the work. The Council has found that comparatively few owners of dogs take out licenses while the position of dog warden remains unfilled, there naturally being little danger of losing their dogs when there is nobody to catch them, although every person who does not license his dogs lays himself open to the penalty of a fine as provided in the ordinance, whether his dog happens to be caught or not. The salary proposed to be paid to a dog warden will easily be met by the increased fees paid for licenses taken out following the appointment of a dog warden. The Council has decided to take up the matter in earnest.

Considerable difficulty was experienced on Monday night in getting down to business, because the electric light plant in the Town Hall refused to cooperate to the extent necessary to enable the Council to proceed in its accustomed manner. Town Treasurer Darby, however, who is an expert electrician, succeeded in mending matters after a while, and some of the members of the Council who considered it an exceedingly hot evening to do any serious work, were forced to take to their desks with a secret regret that Darby had made good in tackling the lights. Little other than routine business was transacted. The consideration of a number of ordinances and proposed improvements was adjourned until a later meeting. Ira O. Lambert petitioned for an apportionment of assessment for certain lots on Harrison and Osborn map, but his petition was ordered returned to him as not containing sufficient data to enable the Council to act on it.

An ordinance to change the location of a portion of Washington street was passed on final reading upon Councilman Atleck's assurance that Mr. Doying was ready to deliver the deed of certain land necessary for the change when the ordinance is passed. William G. Peckham wrote the Council that he thought the verbal promise of the Faber-Lewis Company to lay a sidewalk all along their property on Highland avenue should be put in writing by them, and that Mrs. Tubby should not be compelled to lay a sidewalk along her property on the other side of the street. Mr. Peckham suggested that if these two matters were arranged as suggested in his letter he would not be disposed to object to the proposed change of the grade of the lower portion of Highland avenue, concerning which the residents of that section have been holding frequent meetings lately.

Firewise Council, through its secretary, George W. Peek, requested the town officers to have displayed on the town buildings on June 23rd the National flag, and the matter was referred to the Committee on Town Property.

Frank B. Metzgar agreed to pay the portion of the sidewalk assessment on Harrison avenue across the private road called Maple street, if the Town would accept a deed of the street.

The offer of Samuel D. Winter to pay twenty cents per yard for sand from the sand pit on the sewer farm owned by the Town, he to take not less than fifty dollars worth within the year, was accepted.

The Council adjourned until next Monday evening, when bids will be returnable for a number of town improvements, including the North Main Sewer.

Councilman Wilson Disturbed.

The home of Mr. A. J. Wilson on Westfield avenue was broken into early last Monday morning but nothing was taken. Wilson's dog aroused Glenn Wilson about two o'clock and looking out of his window he saw a man at a window right below him. His father and he went down stairs but the man had gone.

BASE BALL.

Last Saturday the Westfield A. C. base ball team played their first game of the season, on the Walnut street grounds at Roselle. Although the Westfield boys were defeated the team played excellent ball from start to finish. Davker pitching for Westfield had seventeen strike outs to his credit, and McNamara behind the bat backed up the job in a masterly manner. This class of battery work should win any game, and had the diamond permitted fast work Roselle would not have scored a run.

Up to the seventh inning not a run was scored. In this inning Carlson at short made two costly errors, allowing three runs. In the eighth Roselle scored two more. In the ninth Douglass reached first on a pass, and crossed the pan on McNamara's two bagger.

Collins played a fine game in right field, Douglass at center and Greene was a star in the left position. A. Egan shared honors at first with Miller, Barry Dallas covered second and H. Egan third.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Roselle... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-5
Westfield 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-1

Tomorrow the local team will try conclusions with the fast Garwood A. C. on the North avenue grounds at Garwood.

A Fourth of July Table.

The table service for a Fourth of July dinner should be of blue china, with a white cloth, of course. A centerpiece of red geraniums in a blue bowl will complete the patriotic color scheme. The place-cards may have tiny flags in the corner, and the serviettes may be folded into tent-shapes with a wee flag flying from the top, and a toy soldier for sentry standing before each. To carry out the color-scheme, the soup may be cream of corn, with little red stars cut from slices of beet floating in it, and the fish course may be lobster farci, with potatoes Parisienne. But do not try for color at the expense of the goodness of your food.—Woman's Home Companion for July.

"SOMETHING HIDDEN."

Not all those who have heard the inner call have been "unknown" pathfinders. Some few have been left to us upon the pages of recorded history as reminders of the countless others who, "mute, inglorious Miltons," must ever rest unknown and unsung.

Had she so desired, the valedictorian last week might have called attention to some of those whose names are forever great, who heard and answered the call and have lived in history.

Abraham, the first recorded instance; Paul, who heard the Macedonian cry; Columbus who was impelled to seek a new passage to the Indies; Newton, who saw an apple fall and answered the challenge of the question, "Why," with the application of a universal law. Doubtless the same voice spoke to others who did as Abraham, but their name is obliu on and he stands for the type. Countless millions had seen an apple fall; but one read the message.

That looked for visitor, opportunity, is said to knock on every man's door at least once. And he must hustle down and open it before the hasty guest goes on his way. The call comes to all in one way or another and the challenge of life is the everlasting call "something hidden." Few indeed of the millions recognize the call, some few hear but dare not obey—most are willing to drop into the every day life and be ground into a complacent and quiescent mass with their fellows. For the better things they dare not attempt, they must hope and pray for the pathfinders and pioneers who dare. After them will come blind, groping civilization, dragging one weary foot after another, hazzarding little, sure of all, and only ready to advance when the way is assured. Will you drive in the dust cloud with the sheep, comrade, or go before, alone?

Our news columns this week contain for both old resident and recent commuter, whether Episcopalian or not, an exceedingly interesting synopsis of the early days of the present St. Paul's Church. In these days we are somewhat careless of records—possibly we have too many of the worthless variety around and lose ability to distinguish—particularly those of the days when the means of recording events were little known and seldom used.

The church books of the older churches throughout the land often contain priceless records of births, marriages and deaths, and the family history of this connected with them. Often the minutes of parish meetings and other memoranda throw light upon local history, customs and laws. Yet in many instances the records are in private and distinctly un-fire-proof houses, in barns or in the churches themselves, instead of some safe deposit vault.

Copies of the church records of all the Westfield churches, particularly the Presbyterian would be of more than local interest. Why not have them or extracts from them published from time to time.

Whatever may be the opinion of the voters of the first ward as to the value and desirability of a voting machine, there should be a positive expression of their views by a substantial vote on the question. Recent elections on the subject in other localities have sometimes failed to reflect the real sentiment of the citizens because of the lightness of the vote. The question should be decided here by all the citizens, not by a few interested for or against the machine.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

How Long Have You Lived in Westfield Anyhow?

Try Some of the Memory Jouncers and See Whether You Are an "Old One."

The conversation on the train had reached the "do-you-remember—" stage and the two commuters were going back in their minds to the times when they first knew Westfield. Years mean little, but events mean much, and they were surprised at the rapid growth that was shown by comparing the things, events and people that they could earliest remember in Westfield with the present times. Mr. Commuter try it yourself, you may be inclined to view yourself as an "old resident," but do you remember—

The agitation for a city government. When Professor Edward Francis was principal of the schools. The night Miss Marlowe sang at a Westfield Club Smoker. The scheme advanced by the Westfield Payer and Supply Company to furnish water to Westfield. The election for a free public library. The old Arcanum building corner of Prospect and Broad street where the new Daghi building now stands. When the W. C. T. U. hall stood on Broad street.

The great Arcanum Hall fire? When Delatour defeated Tuttle for Town Committee. Where Elta Hall was. The ball games at Drake Park, and where the park was located. The celebration of the 100th anniversary of the formation of the Township.

When Ira C. Lambert wore a hat. The grand fireworks display on the vacant lot where the Trust Company building now stands. The building of the Lincoln School. When you went to school in the Prospect street school. The athletic events on Broad street that were an annual event on Fourth of July. "Lather's Map" on the question of the ward boundaries. The organization of the Municipal Voters League. The years that the Episcopal Church was closed. When the railroad station was at the Broad street crossing. When Addison S. Clark was postmaster. When Christ Episcopal Church occupied the house corner North avenue and Clark street.

Miss Adele Godding Entertains.

Thirty-five friends of Miss Adele Godding enjoyed a dance given at her home on the Boulevard last Saturday evening. Although many of her guests took part in the Junior Hop the night before, all were ready to dance again to the pleasant music of Mrs. Hegeman's playing. After the first half refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Adele and Harriet Godding, Grace Collins, Elsie Perine, Mildred Bance, Edith Mae Gladwin, Madelyn Worth, Helen Jackson, Margaret White, Catharine Alpers, Lillian and Kate Pencheon, Katherine Felt, Marjorie Phillips, Gladys Russell, Pauline Ralli and Kathryn Barr of Oklahoma Messrs. William Sisserson, Dudley Green, Harold Irving, Philip Keeler, Frank Traynor, Robert Keyes, George Delatour, Elmer Saunders, Kenneth Wilcox, Chauncey Maxwell, Clifford Brown, Raymond Cherry, Harold Knight of Fanwood, Carl Mann of Beverley, Walter Jones of Delanco, Douglass and Leslie Burgess of Newark, Stribing Bassett of New York City, and Henry Fullerton of Scotch Plains.

Proctor's Plainfield House.

Last week Prof. Alvin was the drawing card at the Proctor Theatre, and while he made a great success, this week's bill will prove just as strong.

There are twelve big acts this week, among which are Silver and Sands, Buckley and Anderson, Napetti and Paul, Ethel Jackson, Arecher Brothers, Mae Henly, Arline Wiseman & Co., Aynes and Aynes, Dewitt Cromer, Charles Haymond, The Hatches and Thio Kellers.

All the acts are big ones and any one visiting the popular house will enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

"Wait not till you are backed by numbers; Wait not till you are sure of an echo from the crowd."

The fewer the voices on the side of truth, the stronger must be your own."

Reasons given by Rev. Charles Ormoe, D. D. why he is a Party Prohibitionist, continued from last issue:

"This question is greater than any other three now before the public. Other men, money or morals, and it involves more than any question over before our people. More than a billion dollars will be worse than wasted by this business this year. By it 100,000 men will be sent to hell this year, and in morals, nothing can so debauch the public conscience as consenting to vice for a fee."

"I repudiate the generally accepted idea that a voter should ally himself with a party that has a chance of immediate success at the polls, if he would have his own vote count. This idea is the cardinal tenet of the faith of the demagogue and partisan, and it is foreign to the real intent and purpose, and use of the ballot. It is not my duty to win elections. Why? Because I cannot. That result is contingent upon the actions of other voters. It is my duty to vote my views and convictions. When I seek after the winner in elections, I am quite sure to go with the multitude to do evil."

"While the dominant parties grant local option with the law of the state, they give license to sell in the same territory by the national law. The party which has permitted prohibition in Maine through State law, gives a United States license to sell in that State. This is using the arm of the nation to nullify and discredit the law of the State."

"The Church has declared that 'no political party has a right to expect, nor ought to receive, the support of Christian men, so long as it stands committed to the license policy, or refuses to put itself on record in an attitude of open hostility to the saloon."

"I vote for what William Windom, late Secretary of the Treasury, declared, when he said: 'Considered socially, financially, politically or morally, the licensed liquor traffic is, or ought to be, the overwhelming issue in American politics. The destruction of this industry stands next on the world's calendar.'

"Finally, because this is a political question, and I must be in politics if I am to touch it. And here I endorse the words of Bishop Haven, when he spoke of slavery: 'It is one of the devices of Satan, by which he seeks to harden your hearts against the truth, and make you deaf to your duty against the greatest sin of this or any age—that the servant of Christ must not expose it, because, forsooth, it has compelled a political party to become its most active slave. What is this concerned politics, that it is beyond the reach of the Word of God, and too sacred to be condemned by Him? Away with such blasphemous folly. I ask no pardon for entering this arena, nor should you.'

"It is just like going to another city, to come to WANAMAKER'S"

This was the enthusiastic remark of a visitor, the other day—one who was visibly impressed with the DIFFERENCE between Wanamaker's and all other stores.

Today, in the high tide of Summer preparation, the buildings are more beautiful than they have ever been before because of the wealth of beautiful merchandise most elaborately displayed.

The House Palatial is the wonder and delight of all visitors. It is one of the most talked about "sights" of the Metropolis—there is nothing like it elsewhere in the world.

The Wanamaker Auditorium provides artistic entertainment, while resting from shopping.

The exhibition of wear-things and gift-things is fascinating alike to women and men on the lookout for Summer apparel or with the wedding gift thought in mind.

It is like going to another city—to Paris, Vienna or London, to come to Wanamaker's—especially just now.

The Indispensable Black Japanese Silk Waist

It's cool enough for hot days, warm enough for cool days, a handy waist for all sorts of wear on all days extra good for outing occasions.

There's style, variety, good quality and special prices combined in the groups of brand-new Black Silk Waists mentioned below.

At $3.75—In Gibson style, with Dutch collar; pocket; three-quarter length sleeves, turn-back cuffs.

At $5—Made with Dutch Neck; hand-made yoke, plaited front and back, long sleeves.

Or high lace collar, front and back trimmed with rows of Cluny lace; long box-plaited sleeves; trimmed with lace insertion.

Or plaited with hand-made yoke of piping and fagoting.

Two New Styles of Women's Combination Suits

One style at $1 is American. Another at $2 is Swiss. Both are of elastic, light-weight ribbed like thread—a delightful fabric for Summer wear.

The Combination Suits at $1 are sleeveless, with low neck, wide knees, trimmed with lace in various selected patterns, two to five inches wide. Another style, at the same price, has prettily crocheted yoke and lace-trimmed knees.

The style at $2 is unusually attractive—V neck, crochet-trimmed and wide knees, trimmed with lace. Another style at the same price, is of white Swiss-ribbed merino, with low neck, and in knee length.

Many other styles of Combination Garments, many exclusive with Wanamaker's, are 50c to $7.50.

Lemon juice would not remove the stains which are left from the pimples. You will understand why when I explain to you that the purplish stains are due to deposit of pigment from the blood, which the inflammation of the pimples brought to the spot and which was not removed when the pimples went away. Lemon juice would only effect the surface of the skin, and it is necessary to stimulate the small blood vessels of the part to take away the coloring matter. This can be done by bringing the fresh blood to the part by massaging the places, and by applications of very hot water. Apply pieces of absorbent cotton dipped in very hot water to the places, changing them as soon as they become cold, keeping it up for five or ten minutes night and morning. Applications of heat and cold often bring about the result, and you can try applying ice, using small pieces wrapped up in cloth, leaving the ice on for a few minutes and then removing it. The blood returns to the surface with redoubled force after the ice has been removed, and the stains will go away. It generally takes a long time to accomplish this.—Health and "Good Looks."

Then, Since, Now, The Future.

THEN

When the Walter J. Lee Real Estate and Insurance Service took sole control of the Flatiron building office a few months ago promises of an extraordinary nature were made in advertisements. Some regarded them extravagant.

SINCE

But we knew what we were talking about, and that we have "made good" everyone in this community knows. We have sold, rented, insured and loaned on more property than perhaps any other office in town; and we have counselled and advised the unsophisticated by the score. It's gave service.

NOW

Our organization is better now than ever, and the "busy corner" is without a dull moment, the Summer season notwithstanding. Lethargy cannot live in the busy atmosphere of this office. We do not wait for opportunities; we create them.

FUTURE

We shall not rest on our oars and depend upon the great momentum gained to carry us along, but we shall push, push, push with all the initiative and energy at our command to increase the lead already attained and to double aye, treble our usefulness to the Westfield public.

We hope it is with justifiable pride that we repeat one of our first advertisements. We wish you to re-read it in the light of the doings at the "busy corner" since the inception of this business.

This advertisement follows:

"A Comprehensive Real Estate and Insurance Service"

is the aim of this office. When we say SERVICE we want you to understand that we mean SERVICE in everything that that broad term implies.

Not a naked brokerage or agency business for the scalping of a commission, but a real SERVICE in which we can be useful to our patrons in more ways than one and pleasing to ourselves for a SERVICE well done.

The usual commission will compensate us satisfactorily, extraordinary efforts going to the credit of the good of the cause and your good will.

When, therefore, your real estate or insurance make you ill at ease, doubtful as to your best course or policy, tell us your troubles and let us advise you in the light of our experience.

Let us do more for you than the mere listing of your properties or wants. Let us think for you. Let us plan for you. Let us hustle for you. The harder we work the better we feel.

We have a fast automobile with which we annihilate time and distance for our patrons and ourselves. Never recklessly, however.

Alterations, improvements and repairs of every kind contracted for. Let us bid.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH HISTORY.

"St. Paul's Messenger" Contains Beginning of Interesting Article.

The current number of the paper published by the Episcopal Church has come into our hands. It contains much of more than passing interest regarding the early history of the church. It is reprinted here with pleasure and interest as they follow will be printed in these columns:

In the Spring of 1807 a meeting was held in a private dwelling house for the purpose of taking into consideration the expediency of organizing a parish in the Township of Westfield, Union County, New Jersey.

The house was that of the Rev. P. E. Coe, and was situated on Broad street, on the site now occupied by the Public Library. Mr. Coe's house has been since moved farther down Elmer street, where it still stands, near the railway, the last house but one on the north side of the street.

The record of that early gathering of pioneer Episcopalians is on the first page of the old Minute Book, which, like "Old Glory," has come triumphantly through many a hard campaign of the Church Militant in Westfield.

Our pioneers evidently felt the weight of responsibility, not only for a new parish, but for a new religious organization, inasmuch as the duties of the Secretary and other officers, with a complete set of by-laws were carefully drafted and set forth by resolution just as if these matters had never before been considered by the Episcopal Church. Moreover, there is no indication at this time that any one thought of taking the Diocesan authorities into confidence; for it was not until three years afterwards that the Bishop of the Diocese and the Standing Committee appear upon the scene with Canonical approval of the new parish.

It was decided to name the Church "Grace Church," and the Rev. P. E. Coe was called to be its first Rector. Services were held in the Rector's house, the stair-case being altered and the hall converted into a chapel. There must have been a humorist on the Vestry, for we read under date of November 17, 1809, "On motion it was resolved that the Rector is hereby requested to procure the necessary fuel and lights for the chapel during the winter, and reimburse himself from the collections."

During this period, all efforts were directed towards the erection of a church edifice. The building site was donated by Mr. Coe himself, for he had inherited considerable property in the neighborhood. Subscriptions were solicited for the new Church building, and all promised well until the Spring of 1870, when the congregation refused any longer to meet for worship under the old conditions. Practically, the entire congregation withdrew and taking with them the lectern Bible and the Service Books and leaving with the few Grace Church officers little but the old name and the corporate seal, resolved to form a new parish under a new name.

That the Bishop (Odense) approved the step is evident from the fact that he wrote an endorsement encouraging them to collect subscriptions for a Church Building Fund. In this the Bishop was undoubtedly ill-advised, and the congregation was soon to learn that a Bishop's private sympathies may be one thing, and the legal status of a Corporate Body quite another.

The congregation went first to the old Prospect Street school, where they held Divine worship. Within a short time they had purchased a plot at the foot of Clark street and erected a place of worship, which they named Christ Church. Their services were at first conducted by the Rev. Wm. R. Earle, a perpetual deacon; afterwards by the Rev. Gordon M. Bradley, who had been called to the Rectorship. So the work went on prosperously for four years, during which period the Bishop made several visitations. But the parish still lacked the full Canonical approval of the Bishop and Standing Committee of the Diocese.

In the meantime Grace Church, while apparently defunct, was only sleeping. It began to be seen that the Episcopal Church in Westfield was divided into two parties, representing two conflicting interests, for whilst the folks at Christ Church were preferring their claim to be considered the rightful Episcopal Church in Westfield, and were endeavoring to obtain the Bishop's official recognition, some of the former adherents of the original corporate body, confident in their status under the law, resumed services in Academy Hall (the Rev. Mr. Coe having died in 1873) and pressed the legal claims of Grace Church, with the final outcome that the Bishop and Standing Committee of the Diocese officially recognized Grace Church, declaring at the same time that Christ Church was not canonically organized. The owner of Christ Church property promptly foreclosed and converted the building into a dwelling house, where it stands unto this day, and Christ Church ceased to be. Some of the church furniture, books and windows, was given to Trinity Church, Cranford, and most of the congregation returned to their former allegiance.

United once more, the Westfield Episcopalians lost no time in erecting a place of worship upon the site given by Mr. Coe and afterwards added to by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mills, at all times generous supporters of the parish. The corner stone of Grace Church was laid on November 4, 1874, by the late Dean Rodman; the Church was opened for worship on March 31, 1875. There was now a Church building, but no Rector. The Rev. Charles Seymour served as minister-in-charge for about a year. A proposal made at this time by a prominent clergyman of the Diocese that Danellen, Bound Brook, Scotch Plains, Westfield, Lambertville and Pizcatanna be an Associate Mission under a Priest, two Deacons and two Lay Readers, was wisely rejected by the Vestry. They continued to seek a Rector, and finally called the Rev. Harris C. Rush, under whose faithful and valuable ministry the Church began to fulfill its true mission, though it knew not the day of its visitation. Mr. Rush was Rector from August, 1876, to October 1, 1879. He was succeeded by the Rev. Thomas Drumm, December, 1879, to June, 1883.

The records show that during these eight years the parish was in constant financial straits. On the opening of the new church in 1876, a scale of pew rents had been proposed, calculated to bring in an income of $2,000, the Rector's salary being scheduled at $1,000. Had it been practicable to adhere to these figures the Church would have been established on a sound business basis. But it was a period of financial stress and panic, in which some of the most prosperous parishioners were placed in circumstances of financial difficulty. As a result the proposed scale of pew rents was almost immediately reduced to an estimated income of $1,500. Rents were still further reduced in 1879, and yet again in 1879, until the estimated income was barely $1,000. In 1880, as a matter of fact, the Treasurer reports as total receipts for the year only $787. The Rector of that period, the Rev. Thomas Drumm, thought to increase the income by adopting the free seats plan with voluntary contributions, and persuaded the Vestry to fly from the ill they had to those they knew not of.

How this plan, adopted in 1882, worked, may be seen from the following table of annual parochial receipts:

1876.....$1,300	1882.....$1,210
1877.....	1883..... 920
1878..... 1,405	1884..... 640
1879..... 1,180	1885..... 800
1880..... 787	1886..... 780
1881..... 1,016	1887..... 787

Record Breaking Days in Real Estate.

These have been hustling days for the firm of Wm. S. Welch & Son breaking all their former records as to the number of lots sold. With the assistance of George L. Delatour they have sold three large tracts of land the number of lots totalling about 1200.

One of the tracts was located at Hollis, N. Y. and was purchased by Abel Brothers of New York City. Another at New Brunswick which was sold for the New York-New Jersey Land Co. and consisted of 840 lots. The property formerly owned by Arthur Irving located on Grove street and Summit avenue sold last June to Abel Brothers by this firm has just been resold to an active Westfield Real Estate Co.

Wm. S. Welch & Son have made a sale for Frederick Winter of his house on First street to Fletcher Herdth of Mount Vernon, N. Y. A lot on Austin avenue in the Westfield Highlands to Edward Taylor, the adjoining lot was sold to a Westfield party who expects to erect a home there in the near future. Mr. G. W. Glicking has bought a lot on Scotch Plains avenue. Mr. Frederick Winter purchased two lots on First street which makes the 80th and 90th lots sold on that street. There are just ten lots yet unsold on First street. Mr. Winter is getting plans ready to erect himself a home on these lots at once.

This has also been a big week in the Westfield Highlands, three houses have been sold and 16 lots. Several of these lots have been purchased for home sites.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST OPENING.

New Church in Cranford to Be Thrown Open to Public Next Sunday.

The opening and dedication of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Cranford, New Jersey, will take place on Sunday, June 27th, 1909.

This church was started some eleven years ago. The meetings at first were held in a private house, but later the Scientists took larger quarters in the Royal Arcanum Hall and later removed to still larger quarters in the old City Hall, of Cranford, New Jersey, which has been their home for the past seven or eight years.

The new structure is classic in design, being somewhat on the order of the Corinthian style of architecture with tall columns and an impressive approach. The roof is of glazed green tiles with glass tiles over the sky-light which lights the main-body of the Church. The auditorium is capable of seating some five hundred people.

Three services will be held, one at 11 a. m., another at 3:30 p. m. and still another at 8 o'clock in the evening, to accommodate the large number of people who are planning to attend.

What's in McClure's.

William Archer, the great English critic, in an article in the July McClure's tells the truth for the first time about the negro problem in the South; Mrs. Fremont Older in "The Story of a Reformer's Wife" has written a fact story about San Francisco's graft politicians, which is fully as absorbing as many notable pieces of fiction; Burton J. Hendrick shows that more has been learned about cancer in the last six years than in the preceding six thousand; Albertus McCrory describes the Battle of Gettysburg as he saw it when a boy, and George F. Parker concludes his Cleveland papers with the story of the events leading up to the President's famous Venezuela message. The fiction includes: "Outposts of Empire," by Eleanor Stuart, the story of a religious war, full of the lure of savage Africa; "Brutality," a strong sea story by Lincoln Colcord; "Lillie," by Harris Merton Lyon, and "The Little Harmonizer of His Throfold Nature," by Marion Hamilton Carter.
