Injured By Fall From Train.

Michael Gallo, of Spring street, fell while alighting from an early morning train at the station Monday, skinning his right hand. He cut his left eye and had four bruises on his face. His knee was also bruised.

Gallo was taken into the station and Dr. F. A. Kitch summoned to attend him, after which he went to his home. Gallo was returning from a visit with his brother in New York and had been asleep while on the train and it is thought stumbled off when Westfield was called.

TWO GREAT EVENTS

Millions of acres of the finest land in the world were opened up for settlement when the Union Pacific Railroad was built years ago. It took lots of courage and foresight on the part of the builders to attempt such a vast project. Do you dare to attempt estimating the value of this Union Pacific country now? The figures reach into the billions. Countless thousands of keen, conservative men went into this new country, inaccessible before, and made enormous fortunes.

The very best residential property in all Westfield recently passed into safe hands and is now made available to keen, conservative men by reason of the placing of sewers and water throughout this section—Brightwood Forest. Contracts have been awarded for sewers on Brightwood avenue, Prospect street, Effingham place, Clark street, Embree Crescent, Elm street and Newton place.

The time is not far distant when the Brightwood Forest property will be the show part of Westfield. It is thoroughly restricted, titles guaranteed, improvements being pushed to completion. Prices for home sites are low to early buyers who will reap handsome profits on the advance.

Equip Your Home With An EXTENSION LADDER

An extension ladder is a great convenience during house-cleaning season, and its general usefulness is not to be gainsaid. Few houses are so equipped, yet in almost every home there is a demand for a ladder at some time during the year. Why borrow one of your neighbor when you can buy one for 20c per foot?

In Case of Fire

an extension ladder may save your house from destruction, or may insure the lives of your family against death.

Whether giving heed to conscience, or respecting the law, those who love a twenty-four hour celebration of the Glorious Fourth kept strictly within the time limit, and reserved all their noise making until after the toll of midnight, Sunday. As designated, the fifth was the day of celebration, and the Sabbath passed by quietly; there were no disturbing influences to despoil the day of its restfulness and sanctity for all those who honor it as a day set apart for rest and worship.

The small boy—that is the boy in his late teens must have kept his watch in his hand, and waited with bated breath for the Town Clock to strike the midnight hour, for no sooner had the last peal echoed across the hills, than the bang-bang of cannon, pistols and fire crackers began, and continued throughout the day. The early morning masqueraders had no use for sleep, and they tried their level best to keep the rest of the community awake. With a good sized cannon, they paraded through the streets, and wherever it seemed to them fitting, they let go several salvos of cannon booming, accompanied by a score of lesser sounds. More than one neighborhood was thus robbed of repose, and more than one fond parent was forced to leave his bed to quiet baby and to say things to himself; and, if he had a sense of humour, to smile grimly, as one who vaguely remembers the days of his youth.

It wasn't an old fashioned Fourth—not by a long shot. That part of the rural constabulary which is still living wasn't called upon to do extra duty, and, if reports are true, Gus Koester and Johnny Marsh slept peacefully; no one tried to climb the church steeple, no one tried to sound the fire alarm, or to do other things which Chief O'Neil's blue coats are cautioned not to permit. And, for all we know, no one was seriously hurt, although there are a few who carry marks of the day's handiwork: a burnt finger, a blistered face and nose, etc.; but any well-seasoned youth will cheerfully stand for a pain or two on the day after for the good of the cause.

In fact, Westfield did not celebrate as a community. The merry-making was of the kind that may be called private. Everybody celebrated in one way or another, and with less noise than usual, for the roaring, booming, blazing, rip-snorting Fourth seems to have gone out of fashion, with the advance of progress. Education has done that much for us anyway. There was enough of it, however, to make every mother's son of us mindful of the day. And at night it seemed as if every neighborhood had a special display of fireworks. The sky was aglow with skyrocket and red fire, and the stars were put to rout by a torch-light procession of small balloons.

At the Golf Club there was a special pyrotechnic display for the members and their invited guests, which was largely attended. Harold Thompson had charge of the firework show, and for more than an hour the road way at the side of the links was the center of a brilliant display. Over two hundred couples attended, and enjoyed the dance which followed.

LOCAL MAN INJURED.

W. H. Weldon's Auto Turned Turtle in Hill Climbing Contest.

William H. Weldon, of St. Marks avenue, was hurt in the hill climbing contests at Plainfield last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Weldon and his companion, John J. Boland, of Rahway, were speeding toward the finish in Mr. Weldon's National car, when striking a stone, the machine ran into a ditch and turned turtle, throwing both of the occupants out. Both men were hurried to Mahlenberg hospital. They were not seriously injured.

Fell From Cherry Tree. No Bones Broken.

Mr. John S. Fisher, of Prospect street, was bruised and shaken up last Saturday in a fall from a cherry tree in the rear of his home. Mr. Fisher was standing on a ladder and the ladder slipped throwing Mr. Fisher to the ground.

A comparatively small attendance was not the feature of this initial meet for money prizes given by the Westfield Driving and Riding Club, at Fair Acres track, last Saturday afternoon, although it was a disappointment to the members who had worked hard to make the meet a financial as well as a sporting success. The first effort, however, was featured by the best trotting and pacing races held in these parts in many a day, and local sportsmen who had placed their confidence in local horses had no reason to offer any excuses when it was over.

Frank D. Irving's "Fred V," always a favorite of the local turf, pleased his supporters by winning the 2:26 trot in good style. The lowest time was 2:20 1/2 made in the third heat, but the local horse was never pressed at any stage of the game. Glen Dillon, owned by E. L. Young, of Jersey City, was second in this race; Half Moon, owned by J. Osborne, of Plainfield, third; and Handy Andy, owned by John Rummel, of Roselle, fourth.

The races started promptly at two o'clock and proved to be very interesting and exciting from beginning to end. Between heats Thompson's band furnished all the latest tunes of the season, while Charles Mitchell who was proprietor of the "Small Sized Restaurant" under the grand stand, went about selling his cigars, drinks, sandwiches, cake, pies and even programs. In the 2:26 pace and 2:27 trot, much time was spent in trying to obtain a good start.

The 2:27 Pace was won by Jim Dick, owned by N. L. Taylor, of Rahway, formerly of this place; second, The Rector, owned by H. W. Evans, of Kimball avenue; third, Lady Sealskin, owned by J. G. Keenan, of Elizabeth, and fourth, Black Duke, owned by B. R. Waldron, of Plainfield. The fastest time was 2:23 1/4 made by Jim Dick.

The first heat of the 2:17 Pace or 2:15 Trot resulted in a dead heat between Aaron B. and Powder Boy and proved to be a very exciting race. The results were: First, Aaron B., owned by Adam Blair, of Plainfield; second, Powder Boy, owned by W. O. Graves, of Rahway; third, Point Breeze, owned by Huff Bros., of Jersey City; and fourth, Ned, owned by Dr. C. S. Harris, of Flemington.

The five-eighths mile Running Race was won by Altheon, owned by Harry Creevy, of Jersey City; second, Bowery Lass, owned by O. McCarthy, of Plainfield; and third, Polly Watt, owned by I. L. Tingley, of Plainfield, who ran but one heat. Time was 1:00 1/2.

The officials were: Starter, E. B. Allen, of Flemington; judges, J. S. Irving, J. W. Johnston, of Plainfield, and W. J. Hudson, of Plainfield; timers, H. H. Butler, Dr. Channancy M. F. Egel, and J. G. Ten Eyck; John Feeley was marshal of the course.

Two of the local horses took honors in the race meet held by the Fair Acres Riding and Driving Club at Plainfield last Monday afternoon. "Fred V," owned by Frank Irving captured first money in the 2:26 Trot and The Rector owned by H. W. Evans took second money in the 2:27 Pace.

The Westfield Driving and Riding Club will have another race meet on July 17th. Admission 25 cents. An excellent card is promised and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Advertising means Success.

The special car, chartered each year for the occasion, left the loop at City Hall at 6:15. The trip down and back was enjoyable, and Coney was "thoroughly inspected."

The return trip began at 11:30, and took the Westfield delegation as far as the New York terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge. The one o'clock train from New York, brought a tired but happy aggregation to Westfield.

Among those present were: President and Mrs. George T. Crattenden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Harden, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ungerer, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. H. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Condit, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kimball; the Misses Estelle Hegeman and Bessie Smith, and Messrs. William J. Bogert, Jr., Arthur D. Tuttle, Seymour Ferris and John McCormick.

On last Saturday evening a number of the club members (sixteen in all including the ladies) serenaded Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hoffman, at their home on Mountain avenue. The occasion was in celebration of a home coming from their honeymoon. Music was furnished (on the outside) by a brass and otherwise band of six men pieces, under the direction of William J. Bogert, Jr. and Aubrey Smith.

Following the concert, the serenaders adjourned to the inside where they tried to extend best wishes to the bride and bridegroom and to make merry.

FORMER COUNCILMAN FINK HURT.

Was Celebrating Fourth, Giant Cracker Exploded in His Hand.

Former Councilman Hiram L. Fink, of Walnut street, burnt three fingers on his right hand severely last Monday morning with lighting a large cannon cracker. The ex-councilman was having a great time in front of his home, shooting off giant fire crackers.

He came upon some which were very obstinate and wouldn't go off. He took one and lit it and it stayed in the street just like a rock and then he took another which acted in the same way.

He soon began to get discouraged and impatient. Well, he took one more and lit it, holding it in his right hand, and waiting until it burned a little before he would drop it. It began to spatter and Mr. Fink began to think it was time to drop it, but before he could act the cracker exploded and burnt three of his fingers. Dr. Harrison was called immediately and attended to Mr. Fink. His arm was bandaged and he was able to go to his office Tuesday morning.

LOCAL MILK ANALYSIS.

Percentage of Bacteria Higher Than Usual, Board Reports.

The Board of Health held its regular monthly meeting on Friday night, President Harrison, Secretary Hurdon, G. L. Deaton and assistant sanitary inspector Edgar, appointed at the last meeting were present. The milk analysis of local milkmen, taken in June, was read. The number of bacteria per centimeter was higher than usual, but it is hoped to have a more favorable report next month. The communication from the council regarding alleged unsanitary condition of the street cars passing through town, was ordered returned to the council for more definite information. Eight cases of measles, 4 whooping cough, 1 chicken pox and 1 German measles were reported for June. The secretary and assistant made their reports. A number of nuisances were ordered abated.

Bon Fire Brings Out Fire Department.

A bon-fire in back of the barn of Mrs. Maud Miller of Central avenue, blazed very high and caused Mrs. Miller to telephone the fire department yesterday afternoon, but the fire was extinguished before the apparatus arrived. No damage was done.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council in the Town Rooms, Tuesday night, the contract for building a main sewer north of Dudley avenue, was awarded to Walter S. French, of Moorestown, N. J., his bid being $19,675.00. Of the fifteen bids his was the lowest, the highest being $92,265.05. As stated in the contract, the construction of the sewer will start not later than Friday, July 10, the work to be completed not later than November 1.

The supplement to the dog ordinance, to pay the dog warden $25 per month in addition to his fees was passed on third and final reading. The warden is to be employed as long as necessary, four months being suggested by the Mayor. The reason for paying him a salary is to obtain a warden that will work all the time, and feel that he is being fully compensated for his services. After recess the question arose again and it was decided that the Police Committee have power to employ the first suitable applicant at any time; thus will dogs be given no warning.

Bills for town expenses and improvements were ordered paid amounting to $29,014.10, and also a bill of $27.00 from John Wilbur for sprinkling the streets, although this work was done without the authority of Council.

The petitions from the property owners of Prospect street, from Walnut to Broad streets to lay brick gutters on a concrete base, make perfect curbs and to resurface the macadam was accepted and a resolution for a hearing on August 2 passed. There was also another petition from property owners on Prospect street, from Walnut street to Dudley avenue, to reset the old curbing, and set in new curbing where needed, and to resurface the macadam. This petition was accepted and a resolution passed for a hearing for August 2.

The resolution to curb and lay a gutter on the northwest side of Dudley avenue to 9,014 feet west of Clark street was adopted. A petition was received and a resolution made to lay an eight inch sewer on Effingham Place from Clark to Prospect streets. A resolution was passed to put four fire hydrants, one each in Stanley Oval, Lenox Avenue, St. Marks Avenue, and St. Paul Avenue.

A bill from the overseer of the poor of $96.00 for the month of June was ordered paid. It was also decided to issue $6,000.00 of indebtedness certificates and to cancel $10,000 of improvement certificates.

A quit-claim deed from Mr. Harry Ungerer to be signed by the Mayor and Clerk was ordered granted. Mr. Ungerer is about to sell this property to Mr. John M. Walsh and a search of the title disclosed the fact that there was no evidence of the taxes having been paid for the year 1890. The town having no record as to whether these taxes were paid or not, it was decided to sign the document. $90 in fines were received from Judge Toney and $40 from the Building Inspector.

The resolution to lay an eight inch sewer on Cedar, Bradford and Colonial streets in the Westfield Gardens was passed on its first reading. Another similar resolutions for Union avenue and South Walnut street was also passed on its first reading. The resolutions to sprinkle with tarvin, Prospect street from Broad street to North avenue, Elm street from Broad street to North avenue and Broad street from Elm street to Central avenue, were passed on their second, third and final readings.

The town clerk was ordered to send a letter to the Board of Freeholders stating the poor conditions of the roadway under the Westfield avenue bridge.

A letter was received from Mr. George Frutchey asking the council to deed back to him the right of way through his property from Clark to Prospect streets and he would deed them another right of way in the same locality.

Warning to Dogs.

Fido! Bow-wow! For, if you haven't a license, you had better not go to sleep because, if you do, Westfield's new dog warden, with rubber heels and leather gloves, will have you in his fatal clutch. He's liable to be appointed any minute. Lay down, Fido, wow! wow!

That Puzzle

It Made Trouble in the Farnsworth Family.

When Daniel Farnsworth reached home recently he found his wife and little Albert busy over one of the many cut-out puzzles that the child had received for Christmas. The cut-out puzzle, as every one knows, consists of about 11,000 pieces of wood or heavy cardboard, that, when properly put together, form a square on which there is an attractive picture.

"What are you doing?" asked Mr. Farnsworth, seeing his wife and son earnestly bending over the component parts of the puzzle.

"Don't bother us, dear," replied Mrs. Farnsworth. "We're getting it. We have found six blocks that fit together."

"I should think," the gentleman said, with some severity, "that you were old enough to leave such things for children. O, I don't mean to insinuate that you are getting ancient or anything like that—but you're not a mere child any more. You'll admit that, I think. Haven't you any better way to put in your time? How about dinner? Is it anywhere near ready? I've got to work on a report I shall have to make to our directors to-morrow, and I want to have dinner early this evening."

"O, well, if you are going to be a hour, I suppose I shall have to run. Be careful, Albert, not to scatter the pieces we have fitted together."

While Mrs. Farnsworth was downstairs helping the maid to hurry the dinner, her husband watched little Albert, as the boy hunted for the elusive sections of the puzzle.

"Here," he said, leaning over and picking out a small block that was without shape, "this fits in here, doesn't it?"

He tried to put the piece into the place that he had indicated, but it would not go. Then he sat down beside little Albert and began to help him. Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Farnsworth called from the dining-room:

"Come to dinner. Everything's on the table!"

"In a minute," her husband replied. "Say, Albert, here's a piece under your thumb that belongs in this corner."

Albert tried to fit the piece into the corner his father pointed out, but it could not be done. Five minutes later Mrs. Farnsworth called:

"Are you coming to dinner? Things are getting cold."

"Yes, in a minute," replied the head of the house. "Hurrah! here's one that fits."

It really did, and Daniel Farnsworth got up with a look of triumph, saying:

"There's nothing very puzzling about this. Come on, Albert, let's go to dinner."

He disposed of the meal in short order, and without waiting to partake of dessert left the table. It was nearly eight o'clock when Mrs. Farnsworth, looking over his shoulder, said:

"Papa, it's time for Albert to be going to bed now, and I thought you had to prepare a report for your directors."

"Yes, yes," he replied, "I must really get to work at it. Confound this puzzle. What was it ever brought into the house for, anyhow? Albert, go to bed. Don't let me hear a whine out of you, either. You can work at puzzles during the daytime."

Albert reluctantly permitted his mother to conduct him to his room, and there, when his shoes had been taken off, she discovered that his stockings needed immediate mending. Forgetting her other troubles, she hunted up the clarning implements and went to work. It was nearly ten o'clock when she put the stockings aside, and little Albert was sleeping peacefully.

"Daniel," she called, stepping out into the hall, "are you still working?"

"Uh, uh," he answered.

"Well, don't stay up too late. I am going to bed. I'm tired, and you're no company when you have to prepare reports, anyway."

"All right," Mr. Farnsworth answered.

It was 12:15 when Mrs. Farnsworth awoke from a dream in which she had seemed to see a great castle which had been built of cards suddenly tumble to the ground. As she sat up in bed there was a sound as of many small, hard particles being dashed against a wall, and then she heard her husband muttering in a way that frightened her.

"What is it, dear?" she cried, jumping out of bed and running to him. She found him standing beside the table on which the puzzle blocks had been heaped, but they had all been swept off upon the floor.

"What are you doing here?" the lady asked. "I supposed you were in the library working on your report."

Mr. Farnsworth looked severely at his wife and pressed his lips firmly together, perhaps to keep from saying things which he might regret. When he could control himself he said:

"Don't you worry about my report. You don't have to prepare it, do you? Well, then, don't let it make you nervous. It's mighty strange that I can't sit up and work even in my own house without having to be cross-questioned. Go back to bed and don't bother me. If I have to stay up all night, I'm the one that has to stand it, am I not? You don't need to suffer, do you? And if anybody ever dares to bring another of these fool puzzles into this house, I'll—Go to bed and let me alone. Confound it, I told you I had a report to prepare for our directors, didn't I?"

Beginning July 10th, store closed Saturdays at noon, during July and August. Open Friday Evenings.

CIVIC BETTERMENT: HOW ABOUT IT?

Now and then we hear distant rumblings that anger well for the physical betterment of Westfield, for the positive proof of which we must look to our patriotic citizens who have these matters in hand. We refer particularly to the Westfield Park Commission, which is considering a plan whereby the Peckham property on Mountain avenue, and a few eye sores in central parts of the town, may be purchased and used for park purposes.

Of the prime importance of early and definite action there can be no question, and President Russell, of the Park Commission, in urging that the program be carried through promptly, lays much stress upon the advisability and feasibility of the scheme. Of all the propositions, Mr. Peckham's offer to sell his Mountain avenue tract is the most practicable. The price is very reasonable, and the advantages accruing to the town more than offset the expense.

The Westfield Park Lake can not serve the purpose for which it was purchased until the Peckham property is purchased. At present the lake is not and cannot be properly drained. The brook which feeds the lake is, in turn, fed by spring water from the upper end of Mountain avenue, which, in a heavy rain, pours into the lake and contributory, so fast that it cannot be carried off; in consequence the overflow backs up upon abutting property on Mountain avenue.

In the scheme of the park system, it is planned to widen the brook and deepen the channel, and property which is now a marsh, and to say the least, unhealthy, can be made a part of the lake, the surrounding property graded, and the whole made to take the form and shape of a park, with a lake some 1000 feet in length stretching nearly the entire distance.

Here is something for patriotic citizens to think about in their leisure moments. The property is now practically useless. The possibilities of its betterment are patent to all. It is probable that property owners along the brook which feeds the lake, will gladly lend their assistance to a plan for the purchase of the tract, and, as it will be necessary, in widening the channel of the brook, to acquire some additional land from these owners, they (the owners) could be induced to sell the land necessary at a very nominal cost.

There is another feature of such a purchase to be regarded. The day is not far distant when the Town will be compelled to buy the right of way for a road connecting Mountain avenue and Euclid avenue. At present there is no intersecting street between these two thoroughfares from Broad street to Kimball avenue, a distance of about three city blocks. By the purchase of the Peckham property this problem would be obviated, and the Town could have a street running directly through the park.

To be sure money is needed, and adding to the tax budget is a very serious matter, these days. Let what was once Clark's Lake was purchased by popular subscription, and we see no reason why the Peckham property could not be purchased in some such way. Mr. Peckham is partial to mortgages. Spot cash, therefore, is not necessary. Contributors could pledge themselves to give a specified amount each year, if they chose. Five hundred contributions of $1 each, payable quarterly, and so on ad infinitum. There are ways of securing the purchase money. All that is needed is a corresponding number of wills.

Whatever method the Westfield Park Commission may adopt to secure prompt and definite action looking to the carrying through of any or all of its plans for civic betterment, will meet with the approval and co-operation of the UNION COUNTY STANDARD; and, if we can help the cause in any way, please let us know at once, Hon. Mr. Commissioners.

PATRONIZE A GOOD SPORT.

The Westfield Riding and Driving Club held a race meet at Fair Acres track, last Saturday, which, because of its general excellence, was deserving of the patronage of every enthusiastic sportsman in this vicinity. The small attendance is accounted for by the fact that Westfield people want to be doubly assured that they are to receive the real thing in a sport which has been sadly neglected for some years before they lend their support to any enterprise which aims and strives to revive it.

In the minds of all those who attended the meet, certain evidence was given of its quality. The meet well managed, the horses ran well, and there was everywhere manifest a spirit of earnestness that marks the brand as a "sport for sport's sake."

Westfield has long desired this kind of sport. Time was when baseball and racing shared honors in local sporting circles, and who shall say that the town was not bettered therefor? The revival of one feature of a wholesome diversion is opportune. It reflects credit upon the organization, through whose good offices it is made possible. The local club is to give another meet in the near future which will be no less interesting and no less deserving of patronage than its predecessor. A liberal attendance will be gratifying to all.

A Letter From Mr. Woodruff.

Editor of Union County Standard.

Will you please correct in the next issue of your paper the enormous statement published in the Elizabeth Daily Journal of July 1st in regard to the "Woodruff-Woolfe" assault and battery trial. The Elizabeth paper has made it appear that Edward Woodruff was one of the principals, whereas I had no connection whatever with the affair. Elmer B. Woodruff and David Woolfe being the parties concerned.

After two requests to the Elizabeth paper to correct error which they have failed to do, I ask you to make correction in your paper.

EDWARD R. WOODRUFF.

A Cross-Eyed Hit.

"That handsome cross-eyed boy makes a great hit when he gives a reclamation," whispered one whose eyes are straight. "He seems to be so impartial. They think he is looking at them all at one and the same time when the fact of the matter is that he can't look a single one of them straight in the face."

Rest for Our Intelligence.

Important Sewer Extension.

The town fathers have just awarded contracts for placing sewers in the district north of Dudley avenue and south of Lawrence avenue, generally known as the Brightwood Forest section. This improvement throws upon thousands of feet frontage of very fine home site property which has been undeveloped for sheer lack of this necessity. Water mains are to be put in at the same time. The pipes are to extend along upper Prospect street, Newton place, upper Clark street, Brightwood avenue, Effingham place and upper Elm street. It is said that macadam, curbing and sidewalks are to follow close on the heels of the sewer and water improvements, and there is no doubting that Westfield's hustling real estate men will have many a home started in the new district before snow flies again.

How Lapp Collects Reindeer.

In April, the Lapp lets his reindeer loose to wander as they please, and when the mosquitoes begin to abound (about midsummer) collects his herd simply by catching one deer, fitting it with a bell and trusting to instinct (which leads the animals to gather into herds for protection against the mosquitoes) to do the rest. In a cool summer, when mosquitoes are few, this instinct does not come into play, and it is almost impossible to bring the reindeer together.

Statesman's Complaint.

England's house of commons wants ventilation. Plenty of air is pumped into the chamber, and it comes through the gratings on the floor, but it comes from a spot just over the bank of the Thames river, with its ill-favored barges. And the other evening a member met a colleague with his handkerchief to his nose. "You never know what will pass inside," he spluttered, "but you always know what's passing outside."

I't is our custom to extend to our depositors, whether large or small, that courtesy and consideration to which they are justly entitled, as we recognize the fact that our interests are essentially mutual, and the relations existing between a bank and its depositors should be both cordial and confidential.

WANAMAKER'S

The Store that Stands Four-Square
To Every Breeze that Blows

The only store in the world with so many windows for light and air, and with eight sides open to the wind. Even the Basement extends to the streets on four sides with openings on all sides, and the temperature there by the thermometer is less than on the upper floors, with the sun beating on them.

The NEW BRIDGE OF PROGRESS

directly connects the Second and Third floors of both buildings, and two broad Tunnels connect the Basements, into which fresh, cool purified air is constantly being pumped.

Please remember this is a Family Store where people come to get everything. Great care is taken to keep full stocks of TRUST-WORTHY MERCHANDISE rather than the "catch the eye," "showy things," more easily sold, cheap articles that are of less intrinsic value.

Not only is Wanamaker's one of the most interesting "sights of New York City," and a cool, pleasant, entertaining place for visitors to spend the day; but it is a CONVENIENT, COMFORTABLE, SATISFYING STORE, where reasonable merchandise of every sort is shown in most attractive variety, at satisfactory prices.

Wanamaker's Is a Great Contributor To Shoppers' Summer Comfort

It is difficult to compute by how many degrees this store, with its pleasant service and seasonable merchandise, reduces the aggregate temperature in hot weather.

Things that people want, shown so as to suggest themselves with least thought and worry, under the most favorable conditions as to light and air of any store in New York, make the twin buildings as interesting and helpful as they are comfortable.

This hot-weather service continues, with superb provision of Summer Goods for go-aheads, stay-in-towns and people who come to town for "a good day's shopping."

Remember that WANAMAKER'S is

The Easiest Store to Get To

HER TRIP TO EUROPE

Mrs. Brown Wanted Very Much to Hear About It.

Mrs. Black had just returned from that most delightful of all excursions, her first trip to Europe, and while she was still bubbling over with the experience of travel and longing to pour them into some willing, listening ear, she met her friend Mrs. Brown just outside of that lady's door, and was promptly seized upon and carried within for a cup of tea and a good, long talk.

"I want you," said Mrs. Brown, enthusiastically, "to begin at the very beginning of your trip, from the moment you stepped onto the steamer that took you over, and tell me everything that happened up to the moment you stepped off of the steamer that brought you home. Let me make you perfectly comfortable in this big chair and put this cushion at your back before I ring for tea."

Mrs. Black thrilled with her first real opportunity to tell anybody anything about Europe. She had always seemed such a novice before when the conversation turned on trips abroad, and she realized that she was about the only person in the world who hadn't been over half a dozen times; but here was kindly Mrs. Brown, who had never been over at all, and who was perfectly willing to take a second-hand tour personally conducted by her friend.

As soon as the tea arrived and the two ladies began to sip that innocent beverage before the cheeriest of fires, Mrs. Brown turned to her friend. "Now, begin at the very beginning, mind you," she said, "and don't skip an incident till you come to the end."

Mrs. Black cleared her throat expectantly. "I shan't weary you with the details of preparation for the voyage," she began, just like a story book, "but come at once to the time when Jim and I looked down from the upper deck to the pier, which for a few moments looked like a brisk handkerchief sale on bargain day. Everybody was fluttering his or her bit of cambric, hats were being hoisted on sticks and waves of hearty good-byes swept over us till we were out of hearing."

"Yes," interrupted her friend, Mrs. Brown, sympathetically. "I know just how it looked. You know, Will and I went to Atlantic City this summer on Will's new catboat, and the whole family came down to the wharf to see us off. You would really have thought that we were going to cross the ocean they made such a tremendous fuss about it."

"Will got the idea from the trip that Jack London and his wife are taking, only, of course, they crossed the ocean, while we stuck pretty close to shore; but it was no end of a lark. Will says if P. & Q. goes up, and it's pretty certain to go, he's going to have a small schooner next summer with room for four of us, and he has already decided that you and Jim are to go cruising with us if you can be content with American waters after your European experience."

"O, but you are not telling me anything about your trip. That's always the way with people who come from Europe. You can't get anything out of them about what they've seen or done. It's really downright selfish of them, I think, not to talk about their travels to the poor souls who have only a chance of seeing Europe through other people's eyes. I am quite sure if I ever went over I should have plenty to tell about it when I came back."

"But then, as Will says, I am naturally very observant. Why, often his sister Jane and I go down town together for a morning's shopping, and when we come home I can tell Will about a hundred things that I've seen, and while she sits perfectly quiet and silent. I don't mean that she's stupid, my dear. Far from it, being a graduate of Vassar, and all that; but she just seems to be one of the unobservant sort."

"Why, when she came from Atlantic City in the spring she scarcely told us anything about her trip except to say that she was very tired and spent most of her time in a rolling chair looking out at the ocean. Fancy going to Atlantic City to look out at the ocean when there is so much to see on the boardwalk."

"I like to study life, as I so often had to tell Will when he refused to be dragged into those fascinating shops."

"And speaking of shops, I got these very rare cups at one of those distracting Japanese places on the boardwalk. Aren't they frail and delicate looking? But they were really quite a bargain, my dear. There were very few people at the auction that morning, and so they were knocked down to me at the most absurd price imaginable. I'm ashamed to tell you how little I paid for them. We brought them all the way home in the catboat, too, without so much as clipping one of them. It saved the expense of express to ship them, as Will said. He's bound to have his joke, you know."

"What! You're not going already? Now, I think that's most unkind of you, when I am so eager to know all about your trip to Europe. I wouldn't have believed it of you that you could be as silent about it as all European travelers are. But I suppose that is the fashion. Well, some day when you really do feel like talking, do come by and tell me all about it, won't you? I thought I should have so much to tell Will when he came home to dinner. Don't forget you are to tell me everything you did at the very first opportunity. Good-by! Go—od-by!"

PRESBYTERIANS GET SQUARE IN SECOND GAME OF SERIES

In Comedy of Errors They Defeat Methodists
21-20.

The Presbyterian Men's Club captured the second game of the series with the Men's League of the First M. E. church last Saturday at Recreation Park by the score of 21-20. This makes the next game tell the tale, as each team has one victory. The cause for the high score and the unlimited errors was the mix up of the teams, both putting on new and untried men in the place of experienced men. The spectators became so accustomed to seeing the ball clouted all over the yard, that they fell into a trance, which was now and then punctured by a grandstand play.

Those who were able to stay awake say it was a "Comedy of Errors," while those who went to sleep say it was like a "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Manager Clark's team was supposed to be strengthened by putting in Danker, a semi-professional and the Methodist was weakened by loss of Welch and Townley. Welch was off on a joy ride, and left his place to be filled by men not in practice.

In the third inning Walter Johnston went up in the air and the eleven Presbyterians crossed the rubber.

The fourth inning put Townley out of the game. In an attempt to catch a short infield by Oswald Young and Townley collided and Townley was spiked on the foot by the accident. This touched the tender hearts of Methodists and the poor team work of the infield allowed the opposition to run a race around the bases.

In the ninth inning, Umpire Abrams hit his reputation and woke up the sleepers by calling Waine's hit, good for second, a foul. Oh my, but there was a howl! The Methodists tied the Presbyterians in the ninth, this act also disturbed the sleepers in the bleachers. The Presbyterians took their last turn with Brown at the bat. After feeling off a few, he hit a safety. Danker took first without a hit and Green knocked the sphere to Howard. Brown then scored on Vermeer's error. My but the victory did change the attitude of the spectators. It changed instantly from a six-day race crowd to one which was continually yelling. The semi-professional Danker was touched for seventeen hits, and the "not-in-practice" men, Johnston for ten and Quigley nine.

The many changes in the fielding positions render it impossible to publish a box score.

The score by innings:

Presby'ts 1 0 11 3 0 5 0 0 21 19 18
Methodists 0 4 0 0 1 3 4 6 20 17 8
Batteries—Danker and Brown; Johnston, Quigley and Young.

Remember Welch will pitch tomorrow.

Proctor's Strong Bill

The bill at Proctor's this week promises to be an extremely good one. In fact it will surpass that of last week, which drew crowded houses nightly. Starting for Christ Church this week last for amusement lovers appreciate a good show for a moderate price.

Plucky Trainer at Work Again.

Captain "Jack" Bonavita, the one armed lion trainer, who was badly injured in the Bostock Arena at Coney Island on the night of June 19, while training the new lion "Roosevelt" returned to the arena this week, despite the danger of blood poisoning, of which he was warned by Dr. P. G. Nash, the physician who was called immediately after Bonavita was injured.

The big lion which left Mombassa three weeks before Colonel Roosevelt left here, was led into the arena for the first time four weeks ago and notwithstanding the fact that Bonavita has only a part of his right arm, the fearless trainer will continue in his efforts to "break" the beast for a new group which he is forming.

With the reappearance of Bonavita the Bostock show has thirty-four star acts, including the group of leopards and jaguars trained by Madam Morelli and the lions and tigers worked by Falkendorph and the first American appearance of Thomas Tallon.

New Central Flyer, "Mermaid."

The following verses were written by Edwin F. Grube, of Bethlehem, Pa. and dedicated to "The Mermaid," the new through vestibuled express inaugurated by the New Jersey Central between Scranton and Point Pleasant. To Mr. Grube was awarded the prize of $35.00 in gold, offered by the railroad for the most suitable suggestion for a name of the new seashore flyer.

July the first, Nineteen Hundred and Nine,
The Central Railroad of New Jersey line
Will run a special to the shore,
Until the bathing season's o'er.

Monday's no and Tuesday's down,
And so alternately she makes the round,
Starting from Scranton near the mine,
Ending at Asbury by the brine.

It's "The Mermaid" going her gait,
Always on time, never late;
You'll not be fooled, she's vestibuled,
Get on to Asbury if you'd be cooled.

In "The Mermaid" she goes on rail;
(That's not said she has no tail.)
Hang on! get on! all you and more,
That think of going to the shore.

True and False Happiness.

True happiness is of a retired nature, and an enemy to pomp and noise; it arises in the first place, from the enjoyment of one's self; and in the next, from the friendship and conversation of a few select companions. False happiness loves to be in a crowd, and to draw the eyes of the world upon her. She does not receive any satisfaction from the applause which she gives herself, but from the admiration which she raises in others.—Addison.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.

But Two Would-Be Highwaymen Are Nabbed by the Police.

Two men held up George Robbins, Jr., of Mountlake, about 9 o'clock on Sunday night, on Mountain avenue, but were driven off and arrested by the police. The men gave the names of Michael Kopst and Charles Blimby, of Paterson. They were drunk and said that they had been at a picnic at Mountlake. As Mr. Robbins was driving along Mountain avenue, near the Presbyterian church, accompanied by a young woman, one of the men took his horse by the head and the other tried to climb into the wagon. Mr. Robbins struck the man and knocked him out and got away. Some one passing sent word to the police and Chief O'Neill took the men in custody. Monday morning Recorder Tucey fined them $10 each.

To Increase Avoidance.

Among many peoples fat is considered a sign of beauty and should this not come naturally artificial means are resorted to. In Egypt the women burn and grind up black beetles and mix them with beef fat, sesame oil and mufeta. This mixture is boiled together and a cupful of the liquor taken daily by women desirous of getting fat. In England in the middle ages the ladies used the fat of the lizard when desirous of becoming stout.

Public and Private Duties.

Generally we are under the impression that a man's duties are public, and a woman's private. But this is not altogether so. A man has a personal work or duty relating to his own home, and a public work or duty—relating to the state. So a woman has a personal work and duty relating to her own home, and a public work and duty which is also the expansion of that.—John Ruskin.

Effect of Soil on Grape.

In the Medoc country of France—famed for its red wine—the growers exercise the most scrupulous care in the selection and application of fertilizers. They understand that, while the vine is hardy, it is exceedingly sensitive and that the quality of the fruit may be injured by a very slight change in the soil.

Simple Recipe for Beauty.

An old book says that if one will make a powder of elder flowers gathered on midsummer day, dry them and use a spoonful thereof in a good draught of water morning and evening for the space of a month it will make him or her young and handsome for a long time.

Lucky Shot for the Hare.

While shooting at Wool, Dorset, a farmer fired at a hare and missed it. The hare made for a hedge and got caught in a wire. The farmer died again and the shot cut the wire. The hare thus freed got away, to the chagrin of the sportsman.—London Evening Standard.

POLICE RAID GAMBLING JOINT; PROPRIETOR CAUGHT AND FINED

Joe Pizaro With Compatriots Turns State's Evidence.

The police dropped in on an establishment of Joe Pizaro on North street on Sunday night and arrested Pizaro and nine other men who were gambling and drinking in the North street house.

A charge of violation of the excise ordinance and gambling was made against Pizaro, who was fined $30 and costs on the first charge and $5 and costs on the second charge.

The nine men arrested turned State's evidence and furnished the testimony necessary to convict Pizaro. They were discharged.

Look Out For This Slick Youth.

Hotels and boarding houses are warned against a young man, apparently about twenty-five years old, smooth faced, pocked, safe voice, professes to be a music teacher from Boston, whose trunk will arrive tomorrow, when if agreeable he will pay his first week's board. The next morning he will borrow a little money (if he can) just for the day, as his check will arrive during the day. Then having eaten a hearty breakfast he will go out—not to return. He probably has many names and tells various stories. But the above is it to spot him.

A victim desires to advertise him for the general good.

Boys' Signal Corps Entertained.

The Boys' Signal Corps, of the Presbyterian Church was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Ludlow, at their home near Cranford last Saturday afternoon.

The cadets marched to the station where they boarded a wagon full of straw, and rode to Cranford. At the home of Mrs. Ludlow they played ball and games and saw the historic "Indian Spring." After some refreshments, they enjoyed a straw ride back.
