$50 in Cash Prizes

The Pearsall Company has decided to build a number of substantial homes on property being developed at Edgewood Place and Beechwood Place. Recognizing that we are living in an era of new ideas, the Company proposes to give the young people of Westfield an opportunity to commit to paper their ideal of an up-to-date American home. To this end three prizes in gold will be awarded to those who, in the opinion of impartial judges, offer the most complete plans for the homes Westfield most needs to care for her rapidly increasing population. The first prize will be $25, the second $15 and the third $10, all in gold coin.

We Will Build the House

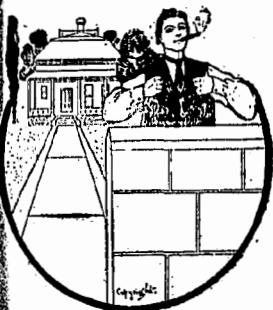

The Pearsall Company intends to erect one or more homes from the plans thus offered by the contestants, reserving the right to make such changes in details as may be found necessary. In next week's "Standard" full rules of competition and they will be simple will be given. Briefly, however, all persons under 19 years of age are eligible to enter this contest. Elegance of draughtsmanship or knowledge of architecture are not essential. Originality is what the Company wants.

Watch This Space Next Week

Don't think that by reason of your having a poor hand for drawing you cannot win a prize. You may have just the ideas most sought after whereas the more skillful with the pencil may lack in originality.

INDIAN RELICS UNEARTHED.

Contractor Willoughby blasts out Grave of Indian Chief on The Pearsall Company's property.

TOMAHAWK, FLINTS AND POTTERY.

Every Indication that Relics belonged to chief who formerly was "Mayor of Westfield"

Looking for more specimens.

If tradition is worth a pinch of salt then the restless spirit of some angry Indian chieftan is out tomahawking for Ed. Willoughby who on Wednesday of this week ruthlessly tore into the sacred burying place of this same sachem while grading The Pearsall's Company's new street, Beechwood Place.

For two weeks this company has been dynamiting old virgin Forest stumps, the trees from which have been down many a long year, some of them, judging from the size of the stump, being 200 years of age. Manning Perino was in charge of the blasting force and after setting off a 'five pound shot' smashed to smithereens all that remained of an old veteran of the forest never seen by present day inhabitants of Union county. After the explosion Willoughby was testing the larger roots to see if they might be gnawed out by his team, when his attention was attracted by several singularly formed stones scattered about in the hole. He soon discovered them to be Indian arrow heads and flints. Further investigation brought forth a wonderful stone tomahawk, some broken pottery and more arrow heads. Mr. Willoughby has been collecting Indian relics for a number of years and was well able to judge the value of his find. The Pearsall Company promptly arranged with him to have the prizes exhibited in Druggist Frutchie's window where they may now be seen.

These sole reminders of an extinct tribe could not have been deposited where they were found, less than 800 years ago and may have been hidden away for thousands of years. The tomahawk is of dark flint and clearly shows where the thongs of wet deer hide were bound about the handle. A chip off one corner opens the way for the imagination to call up a vision of some captured warrior, bound to a freshly cut sapling around the base of which was burning a slow fire. His death must be one of lingering and horrible torture; he must endure all the insults which hatred can offer, all the tortures which a ferocious ingenuity can inflict all the agonies which the human frame is able to bear. But the suffering chieftan, with the flames shrivelling his skin, and the live coals scorching his flesh, sternly suppresses every sound or look which could betray his anguish, hurls back defiance in the faces of his enemies and shouts his war song even while the hand of death is feeling for his heart strings. The tomahawk in Frutchie's window put an end (?) to the suffering of this savage but was chipped while doing its errand of mercy.

Diligent search for bones of the departed warrior was made but up to present writing none have been found. Orders have been given to work carefully about the spot during the coming week in the hope of finding further relics of value and possibly evidence that where Beechwood Place is now being cut through was formerly an Indian burying ground. Many of the old farmers hereabouts have handed down to their grandchildren flint arrow heads picked up in the fields in plowing season. From the condition of the stumpage in the section above mentioned, however, there is nothing to indicate that this tract of land was ever under cultivation. Therefore it will not be surprising if further discoveries are made during the coming week or two, or until the grade is cut to a level lower than the former forest rovers were wont to lay their departed comrades.

The country east of the Mississippi, from Florida to Hudson's Bay, was in possession of various tribes of Indians when the first English settlement was made in Jamestown in 1607. Their number was variously estimated at 500,000 to 4,000,000 but the former figure was doubtless nearest the mark. Within three centuries those children of nature who had for countless generations roamed over Westfield's hills and dales have entirely disappeared. Had they remained unmolested and unvisited by the white man till the present day they would now have been as rude, as poor, as warlike, as disdainful of labor, as fond of torturing their enemies and, in every way, as uncivilized as when Hendrick Hudson first sailed up the river later named for him. The country would

COLONEL MORROW DEAD.

Well known Mining Expert passes away at his home on Elmer Street Saturday morning.

IN HIS SEVENTY-NINTH YEAR.

Had crossed the Continent more than Fifty Times—Developed famous Sonora mines

An old time Democrat and Wit.

Colonel William S. Morrow, one of the oldest residents of Westfield, died at his home on Elmer street, early Saturday morning, of Bright's disease. He was in his seventy-ninth year. Colonel Morrow was able to be about on Tuesday, and made one of his occasional visits to the Standard office on that day. He was in good spirits although he said he was not feeling as well as usual. The following day he was taken violently ill, and all hope for his recovery was abandoned. He died peacefully.

Colonel Morrow was born in Ellicott City, Md., October 11, 1830. When he was about 12 years of age his parents moved to Newville, near Chambersburg, Pa., where he received his education. In 1852 he went with his sister to California and engaged in the mercantile business there. He got the gold fever and took to mining, which business he followed up to the time of his death, being president and organizer of the Cardona Mining Company, of Mexico. While in the West he took part in Indian wars. Although he never officially received the title of Colonel, he was known by this title by everybody.

Colonel Morrow returned to the East in 1868, riding horseback from California to Memphis, Tenn. He came to Westfield with his family in 1891, but continued his interest in mining enterprises. He traveled across the continent more than fifty times, and it is said that he knew the trails of the Mexican mountains as well as the natives. It was in Mexico that his chief work in mining and exploration was done. He developed the famous Sonora mines, being developed through his skill and tireless energy. His last trip across the continent when he was over seventy years old. His interest in his mining enterprise continued up to the time of his death.

Six years ago Colonel Morrow underwent an operation from which he never recovered, and since which he has been gradually failing in health.

Always a staunch democrat of the old school, Colonel Morrow held firmly to the traditions and canons of the party, but was loyal to Bryan and free silver. P. r. y. defies could not shake his faith, and he stoutly maintained that the only things worth while in the Republican party platform were Democratic in principle and inspiration.

Colonel Morrow was a keen wit. It was his happy facility for turning an argument into a joke that made him a formidable conversationalist. Wit was his weapon of defense, and it was often stronger than logic. Once he was accosted on the street by a person rather given to gossip. The Colonel knew that he had been a subject of abuse, but he greeted her politely and listened attentively to her tale of woe, in which she declared that all the things which he had heard that she had said about him were false and without foundation. On parting she said, "Colonel you don't believe what people say, do you?"

"My dear madam," replied the Colonel, "I have no fear on that score. Nothing could ever change my opinion of you."

In his home the Colonel was a kind and affectionate father; and by his many friends he was loved and respected. He will be missed by all those who admire men of self reliance, and individuality, for it was the latter quality which made him, more than any other, a citizen of worth.

Surviving him are a widow, and four children, Miss Jane R. Morrow, Mrs. William R. Lynde, John C. Morrow, William C. Morrow, Jr. The funeral services were held at his late home Monday, the Rev. Dr. W. I. Stearns, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Lyman D. Calkins. Interment was at Fairview. The pallbearers were Hiram L. Fink, M. B. Dutcher, Lawrence A. Clark and Walter R. Darby.

Councilman Malsburg's Condition Improving.

Councilman C. C. Malsburg, who was taken suddenly ill last week, is so far convalescent that his physician has ordered him to the sea shore for a holiday. He and Mrs. Malsburg will sojourn at Asbury Park for a week's outing.

LOW BIDS FOR CONTRACTS. BIG MONEY NEXT MONDAY.

Nine Firms Compete for Sewer Improvement Job—Award will be made next Tuesday.

AFTER LOCAL EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

Councilman Wilson Declares They are working a Film-film game—To Condemn land for Right-of-way for sewer.

At the adjourned meeting of the Westfield Common Council held in the town rooms last Monday night, nine estimates, which were said to be exceedingly low considering the cost of material, were received for sewer improvements throughout the town. The contracts will be awarded at the next meeting, Sept. 7. The contract for flagging and curbing improvements in different parts of the town, on which estimates were received last meeting, was awarded to J. W. Manhattan, of Plainfield, he being the lowest bidder.

Mr. Robrecht, of Newark, who has rented the Club House, came before the council and asked for a license to run a first-class moving picture and vaudeville show in that place. Mr. Robrecht explained satisfactorily the council's questions as to fire risk, and asked if the license was granted, would it allow him to begin his show on next Saturday. When Mayor Aylers referred the license granting to the police committee, Councilman Wilson immediately asked whether that committee would set the license fee or would the council have to do it. This was a much debated question and when it was settled Mr. Wilson said he did not offer it as a suggestion or want action taken upon it but only asked it for information. Mr. Robrecht was granted a ten day license in order that the council might have time to consider the matter better before granting a longer license.

A right of way through the properties of Sarah French and Phoebe A. Witke, between Elm and Chestnut Streets, for the north main sewer was ordered to be secured by condemnation proceedings as the owners, after being asked many times, have refused to arbitrate.

R. W. Chambe 'ain was given the contract for trimming and removing the waste of any trees the town ordered to be cut. The cost, per tree, will be sixty-five cents.

A letter was received from W. S. Angleton, attorney for Maxwell-Morse, owners of Ripley Place, asking that the sale of this property for taxes be recalled; that he would like a hearing either before the council or some committee of same. He stated that when Mr. Morse gave the town a right of way for laying a sewer through his property he gave it on condition that he should not be assessed for the improvement. This the town had done. The matter was referred to the finance committee and the collector ordered to recall the sale.

Indebtedness certificates were ordered issued for $1,500.00. The treasurer was ordered to pay $400.00 to the Overseer of the Poor, this settling the account. Bills amounting to $1,115.13, for town expenses, were ordered paid.

Before adjournment Councilman Wilson said that there ought to be an ordinance and license governing employment

Good Racing promised by Entries already received for events at Fair Acres on Labor Day.

SOME SIDE ATTRACTIONS TOO.

Jasper Brothers to furnish Music, and Professional Funny men to sell peanuts etc., A day for Lovers of the Sport.

Four trotting and pacing events, two for money prizes, and two for cups (open to members only) will feature the big meet to be held at the Fair Acres track, Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the Westfield Driving and Riding Club. The meet has attracted the attention of horsemen from all over the state, and some of the fastest trotters are entered to compete in the money events.

In addition to the carnival of racing sport there will be other attractions to keep the interest of lookers-on between the events. These are two features, which, it is said, are alone worth the price of admission. The Club has engaged the services of a professional funny man, who will sell all kinds of soft drinks, peanuts and pop corn, at the same time passing out a line of comments on politics and the weather that will make the grand stand debutants think that they are attending a minstrel show. Further, there will be music by a few skilled artists who know how to make melody. They are the Jasper Brothers of the famous Brighton Beach Band.

Below will be found the card for the day, which, it will be seen at a glance, guarantees a day of good racing. The complete list cannot be given at this writing as the entries do not close until tonight.

"GUEST DAY"

Being sociable is being popular with those with whom we meet on a basis of equality. We are known and liked by a great or small circle according as we are disposed to widen our social experiences. Modern business makes sociability an imperative need, and the chronic grouchy or reclusive meets with small success in the business world unless by accident or genius. The average person needs to be sociable; if he be so inclined by nature, all things else being equal, the more certain he is of success.

Life is a social exercise as much as it is anything else. Sociability begins in the home, from which abiding place it goes forth to form fast ties of love and friendship, to require respect, and to inspire admiration.

In Westfield, "A Town of Homes," whose people are sociably inclined, "Guest Day" is not inaugurated as a hint to the community to be sociable, but it is an inducement for everybody to be up and doing at the same time and at a season of the year when our city friends and kin, who would be our neighbors, can see and learn of us and our town to the best advantage.

Next Sunday and Monday are "Guest Days." Send to "The STANDARD" a post card telling whom you entertained for the week-end.

THE SUMMER TALK

How we do swell with patriotic pride when we read in the papers, at this auspicious season of the year, that all the large municipalities in the country are undertaking a general crusade against vice. During the chill and biting winter months our official consciences are frozen; it takes the summer sun to thaw it out. Then how the house cleaning business does flourish! Atlantic City seems to have been established for that incidental purpose, and New York holds so many diversified "land examples" that any one will do so long as it "hits the public right." The crusade against street car rowdies is about as harmless a necessity as the season provides, and it is most fortunate that it happened to be discovered just now after so many years of "flagrant offenders." Paterson has not been heard from yet, but we understand that Ocean Grove is going to make it hot for Sunday morning milk vendors. We venture that there will be an issue of reform for every municipality in the U. S. A. within the next week or so. Vigilantes will go round with a lantern looking for some sort of an imposter; virtue will wax hot with indignation, hotter each day until November second, after which the regular winter freeze will set in.

PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL

The enthusiastic "fan" who will go without his supper any day to see the Giants play is now conjuring with a situation in the National League, which, if long continued, may lessen his ardor for professional baseball. The situation is this:

New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago are the three leading baseball cities in the country; to enter to them is to make money. They are liberally entered to, and, in consequence, year after year these three clubs fight it out for first honors, while the other teams stand up to get knocked down. The leaders are so far ahead of the others that a one-sided interest only holds lovers to the sport.

On the face of it this condition is not helpful to a good sport, and the public sooner or later (probably later) will "get wise." Enthusiasts in New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago may yell themselves red in the face at the sign of victory, and the magnates who feel the public pulse may diligently gather in the coin, but sadder sports will continue to wonder until they finally stir the mob to demand a more equitable distribution of the spoils. The fan who asked a baseball official "Why is it there is so little difference in the standing of the leaders and tail-enders in the Eastern League, while in the National League only the three leading clubs are in the running at all?" may have been inviting the diplomatic answer that he got, but he was hinting at a condition which savors too much of professionalism.

And we must pay 50c per pound for butter before Christmas, is the latest bit of news from the west. Here's another hint at the folly of Christmas extravagance.

We regret our inability to print Speaker Cannon's last interview. Paper Burns!

OH, EUPHEMIA!

The following inspiration, clipped from the pages of the Westfield Leader, will be of interest to Mrs. Euphemia Heimans Simpson, the poetess of The Gotham Glittering Gazette:

THE HONEYMOON

The new moon rose, and over our left shoulder was cast.
Her presence held her arms open, broad and wide,
Inviting Love to enter with his lovely bride,
And be at home and leave the world outside.
The obscure sun was shining at her rear,
Causing her first quarter, yellow, to appear.
While in the concave seated, without fear,
Contented, happy, wore the bride and her cavalier.
His stories were so ardent, that she herself forgot.
She placed her arms around his neck, transfixed and true to the spot.
While the orb grew pale on pace; almost too soon,
And filled by overbearing, blowing out, their honeymoon.

OBITUARY.

George Pierce Cornell.

George Pierce Cornell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cornell, died at his parents' home, 307 Harrison avenue, on Thursday. His age was two months. The funeral was held at the home on Saturday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, of the Methodist Church. Interment at Fairview.

Edith Louise Miller.

Edith Louise Miller, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Miller, died at the home of her parents, 532 Cumberland street, on Monday. The funeral was held Wednesday, with interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Goldfish Died of Fright.

A woman who nursed three goldfish in a small aquarium tank graced with aquatic plants thought she would add a bizarre touch to her water garden by dropping into the tank a gayly colored celluloid alligator she had picked up at a ten cent counter. She dropped the alligator. One of the goldfish instantly leaped several inches above the water, dropped back inert and never moved again. The mistress of the goldfish was sure her darling had died of fright.

Worry Habit.

The worry habit is one that grows rapidly. The more it is indulged in, the stronger it becomes. When you discover that you are its victim, just stop and consider: What do I gain by it? If so, what is the gain? What do I lose by it? Health, strength, cheerfulness, the power of helping others. Whatever you do, don't say "I can't help it." The worry habit is easily overcome if one is determined.

Was Playing No Favorites.

A capacious Englishman began holding forth the other day after dinner upon the enormities of a certain baronet in the next county. His neighbor interfered with: "I think it right to inform you, sir, that I am Sir George's brother." "His brother? Oh, I know nothing about his brother, personally, but I am told he is even a greater blackguard than Sir George."

BAMBERGER'S

MARKET, HALSEY & BANK STS.

New Jersey's Greatst Mail Order Organiza- tion.

WE are justly proud of our MAIL ORDER SYSTEM. We feel that it is one of the strongest links in the chain of this great store's success. We want you to use it—test it thoroughly and allow us to demonstrate its many splendid advantages. The Bamberger Mail Order System is not the result of a day, but the culmination of years of painstaking efforts. In fact, this branch of our business is so perfectly organized that you may shop as quickly and conveniently by mail as in person. There are no errors—no delays—satisfaction is snugly packed with each parcel we send out. If you are not a patron (which is highly improbable) send in a trial order and you'll quickly realize the truth of the foregoing statements.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many Westfield People.

It's a common error
To plaster the aching back.
To rub with liniment rheumatic joints.
When the trouble comes from the kidneys.
Don't's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills.
And are endorsed by Westfield citizens.

W. L. Randall, 60 Central St., Westfield, N. J., says: "Prior to using Don't's Kidney Pills, my back troubled me for a long time. There was a constant pain through my loins, which seemed to grow worse daily. I tried many remedies in an effort to find relief, but was not successful until a friend recommended Don't's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Frutcher's Pharmacy. Since using them, I have been enjoying excellent health. I will always recommend Don't's Kidney Pills as a reliable remedy for disordered kidneys."

Thousands of dollars worth of feed are wasted yearly by the imperfect digestion of food stuffs by our domestic animals.
Food that is not digested is a total loss and is a menace to the health of the animal. The Fairfield Blood Tonic per-fects digestion and purify the blood, thus saving feed and fortifying the animal against disease. A separate preparation is compounded for each kind of animal. Sold under written guaran-

Nervous Collapse

"I have traveled for thirty years continually. I lost a great deal of sleep, which together with constant worry left me in such a nervous state that finally, after having two collapses of nervous prostration, I was obliged to give up traveling altogether. I doctored continually but with no relief. Dr. Miles' Nervine came to my rescue—I cannot describe the suffering which this Nervine saved me.
Whenever I am particularly nervous a few doses relieve me."
A. G. C. LIBBY, Wells, Me.

There are many nervous wrecks. There is nervous prostration of the stomach, of the bowels, and other organs. The brain, the kidneys, the liver, the nerve centers are all exhausted.
There is but one thing to do—build up the nervous system by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Its strengthening influence upon the nervous system restores normal action to the organs, and when they all work in harmony, health is assured. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

Fresh Fall Merchandise From the World's Great Markets Is Making Things Lively At WANAMAKER'S

Enthusiasm reigns in every section. Every section is splendidly ready to provide the best the world offers. September—always a lively herald of the new—bids fair to beat all former records this season, in its varied and interesting presentation of fine goods for personal use and for the home. In the Dress Goods Store are Autumn Silks, Satins, Cullings and Broadcloths of the newest weaves and colors, with trimmings to match. The Millinery Salon is bright with stunning Hats, and in the Costume Store, the Ready-made Suits, Coats and Dresses present the last word in style. The Men's Store and The Boys' Store have the best of the Fall styles, in Clothing and are ready to give quick service. But not all the new things are wear-things. Many floors are overflowing with beautiful furnishings for the house. Two September events give added zest to the Fall Opening at Wanamaker's and offer SUBSTANTIAL Economies to housekeepers. One is

Sale of CUT GLASS and CHINA

New, mind you, and bought for this occasion. Never were special prices applied to handsome Dinner Sets, more fascinating China, Pieces or to richer Cut Glass. This comprehensive sale includes also, superb Vases, Marbles, Bronzes and other exquisite Art Wares. The very favorable prices during this sale make it well worth while to select here.

A September "Occasion" in HOUSEWARES

Let the kitchen run smoothly and the rest of the house will follow suit, therefore it is wise to get the best Kitchen Utensils made. It is wise, too, to get them now, and at Wanamaker's, for September prices mean great savings on every sort of House-keeping Wares. These housewares have been tested by experience and we can guarantee them for the most satisfactory service. Details of these great sales will be found in the New York daily papers.

Interesting Programme of Events.

By hanging up $78.00 in cash for competition at their Annual Scottish Games, Washington Park, Grand Street, between Maspeth and Newtown, L. I. Labor Day, Monday, September 6th, the New York Caledonian Club certainly cannot be accused of being niggardly to the athletes in the matter of prizes, especially as the money is paid the winners on the ground, immediately after each event.

Health and Beauty Aid.

Cosmetics and lotions will not clear your complexion of pimples and blotches like Foley's OrinoLaxative, for indigestion, stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. Cleanses the system and is pleasant to take. Gale's Pharmacy.

There's a Gold Mine in your poultry yard, and the regular use of Fairfield's Blood Tonic and Egg Producer for Poultry only will develop it for you. By acting on the digestive organs and purifying the blood, Fairfield's Egg Producer makes fowls healthy and productive. Sold under written guarantee by Patrick Traynor.

The Plainfield Theatre.

If George M. Cohan had never written anything else but "The Honey-mooners," he would be famous and a national favorite, for the piece combines all the Cohan excellencies and is quite irresistible. It played a whole summer in New York at the New Amsterdam Theatre. "The Honey-mooners" comes to the Plainfield Theatre for this evening, Sept. 3rd.

What's in a name? It is a great deal when it is that of "Buster Brown" who is so familiarly known to us, and who comes to the New Plainfield Theatre, tomorrow, Saturday, Sept. 4, matinee and night with the ever popular musical comedy, "Buster Brown." A new and enlarged edition, full of bright sparkling wit, popular songs of the whistling kind, new music and a charming lot of show girls, always an attraction in this city. The cast of this jolly musical comedy embraces in addition to the inimitable Master Rice, as "Buster," Thomas Colton, familiarly known as "Tommy" Colton as "Tige" Buster's dog. Resolved, says "Buster" that I will be with you, so don't forget the date.

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS" Co.

"Polly of the Circus," one of the most worthy successful of recent American plays, in which comedy and semi-tragedy are closely entwined to provide incessant excitement, and also a happy ending, and which has been pronounced far and wide as the cleanest and purest drama of the decade, will be seen for the first time in Plainfield, at the Plainfield Theatre on Wednesday, September 8th.

"THE CLIMAX."

There has been a great deal of interest manifested in the forth-coming engagement of Joseph M. Weber's charming play "The Climax" a comedy drama in three acts by Edward Locke, with incidental music by Joseph Carl Broll, which will have its first local hearing this season. "The Climax" is said to be one of the successes of the year, scoring a most unprecedented triumph at Weber's famous New York play house where it will be seen for many weeks to come, and will undoubtedly be the strongest and most wholesome offering that will be seen here this season. This attraction will appear at the Plainfield Theatre on next Friday, Sept. 10th.

Origin of "Buncombe."

Buncombe comes from a country in North Carolina of the same name, which once formed the bulk of the congressional district represented by Hon. Felix Walker. Once in a tiresome speech he was interrupted with the query: "Why?" and replied that while he might weary the house he was talking for Buncombe. A classic of the legislative days before the leave to print had been invented.

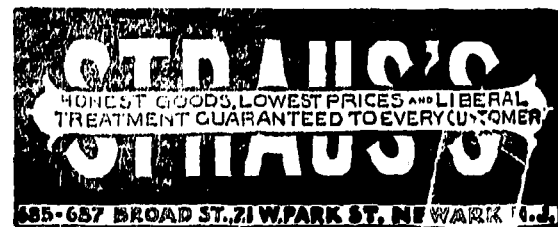

Dr. Abernethy, the great English physician, said, "Watch your kidneys. When they are affected, life is in danger." Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, corrects urinary irregularities, and tones up the whole system. Gale's Pharmacy.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhaus, writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. Gale's Pharmacy.

BIG STORE'S BIRTHDAY.

Hahne & Co. Celebrate the Fifty-first Anniversary of the Great State Store.

Most of our readers will remember the great celebration a year ago when the Hahne & Co. store, "Newark's Store Beautiful," arrived at the fiftieth year of its existence. The Hahne & Co. jubilee was celebrated on a grand scale. There were elaborate decorations, grand music, a big street parade and a wonderful sale of merchandise on that occasion which thousands enjoyed. It was one of the most notable trade events Newark or New Jersey has ever known.

This year the golden jubilee celebration will be equalled and in many ways outdone. There will be many features of surpassing interest to all Jerseymen—features that should attract people from towns for many miles round about Newark.

There will be a gigantic sale of merchandise at unprecedentedly low prices. There will be a great street parade, probably a mile in length, with several bands of music, on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. There will be a festival of music continuing throughout the two weeks of the celebration, concerts every day, free to all. There will be many free souvenirs for the patrons of this store, including a beautiful set of postcards, showing the building as it was decorated on the occasion of the last anniversary. There will be a monster birthday cake, with fifty-one candles in it—a sight to see. There will be a grand showing of new fall apparel and other merchandise, in itself sufficient to attract thousands. Everybody should go to Newark on Tuesday, September 7th, and join in this celebration of the State's greatest store.

MR. RANDOLPH MEANS BUSINESS.

Local. Really Man is Going to Buy a Curtiss Airship.

It is stated quite officially, that E. S. F. Randolph, representing the Westfield Real Estate Company, has about completed negotiations for an aeroplane of the Curtiss design. Mr. Randolph was very favorably impressed with the showing made by the Curtiss machine at Reims, France, last week, and it is said that he will buy directly from the inventor. Report also declares (and Mr. Randolph's silence and genial smile give consent), that the new airship will be seen in the dizzy heights of ozone above Terrace Park early next spring.

LOW BIDS FOR CONTRACTS.

agencies in the town. He had looked into the matter and found that the two agencies in town were working a game. Servants would have to pay the agency to get employment and the employer would also have to pay. After a short time the servant would be told (on the quiet) to demand higher wages. Doing this they are thrown out of work and again resort to the agency to find work. This matter was referred to the law committee.

HALF-A-DAY-PAY COMMITTEE MET LAST NIGHT.

There was no meeting of the "Half-a-Day's Pay" Committee last night as there was not a quorum. The few members present decided to have another meeting Saturday night and a full attendance is expected. News from Elizabeth reports that buttons will be given to school children which they will wear and thus remind the people of the day and its purpose. There will be red badges for the lieutenants, white for the captains and yellow for the committee members.

Statistics were received which show that one of the Elizabeth Hospitals has treated forty-eight Westfield patients, and has treated these nine hundred days in all, two thirds of which were free. A communication from the Mahlenberg Hospital of Plainfield asking why they should not receive a portion of the money collected, will be discussed at the meeting tomorrow night. They sent statistics which showed they had given $270.00 worth of free treatment in the past two years.

Italians Go On Strike.

It is reported that a gang of Italians employed by Contractor French in work on extension of the main sewer north of Dudley avenue, went on strike yesterday and deserted the place. The trouble arose, it is declared, because Contractor French fired the boss foreman, who was himself an Italian. New men will be employed at once, it is said, and the work carried on without much loss of time.

CASINO OPENS TOMORROW.

Moving pictures and Vaudeville Shows to be given every night except Sunday.

Henry Robrecht, of Newark, who controls a chain of theatres in Newark, Summit and Orange, will open the Westfield Casino to the public tomorrow, under auspices which indicate success. Mr. Robrecht is an experienced theatrical manager, and his theatre shows under his direction have been unqualifiedly successful for a number of years.

The Casino will be turned into a first class moving picture and vaudeville play house, and entertainments will be given every night in the week except Sunday. The picture will be changed every week and will be the best obtainable. The first performances will be given tomorrow night.

In addition to the theatre, the Casino will be continued to be used as a clubhouse, the pool and billiard parlors and bowling alleys being open to the public.

Consult Walter J. Lee, "The Man Who Knows" about Westfield Real Estate.

Street Improvement.

Westfield's Moving Picture and Vaudeville Theatre

THE WESTFIELD CASINO

will open to-morrow night under the management of Mr. Henry Robrecht, who owns a chain of theatres in Newark (4), Orange (1) and Summit (1). Entertainments of a high order of merit will be given every night in the week except Sunday.

Mr. Robrecht is known throughout the state as a successful theatrical man. His shows rank among the best of the kind; comedy, art and drama are blended in the pictures, which are changed daily. Mr. Robrecht comes to Westfield to supply a want for wholesome entertainment.

In addition to the vaudeville and moving picture theatres, Mr. Robrecht has opened the pool and billiard parlors and the bowling alleys to the public. The alleys may be rented by clubs for one night in a week. They have been put in tip-top shape for the season.
