COUNCIL TO DELIBERATE ON SHADE TREE COMMISSION LAW.

Extensive Improvements Being Planned—Bill Posting Ordinance.

No objections were offered to any of the proposed improvements of streets and sidewalks at the meeting of the town council Monday night. Mayor Alpers presided over the meeting. Councilmen Floyd and Wilson were absent. The report of Building Inspector Cox for September showed that he had issued $30 in permits. Recorder Toucey reported $38 in fines for September.

A petition received for a wooden sidewalk on North avenue to Graceland tract was received and referred to the Sidewalk Committee.

Bills amounting to $12,124.94 were ordered paid. An improvement certificate for $8,000 was issued, and also a certificate of indebtedness for $3,500. The sum of $200 was ordered paid the Frenches for right of way for the north trunk sewer.

General ordinance No. 37 was introduced and passed on first reading. This ordinance will take the place of the former bill posting ordinance and is materially the same as the former ordinance, excepting that the license fee for bill posters will be $50 instead of $100.

A resolution offered to the effect that council approved the Shade Tree Commission law, and that the Mayor appoint the commissioners, was read and laid upon the table.

The Pearsall Company and others petitioned for a sewer in Beechwood place, for grading and macadamizing of Grove street between Summit and Westfield avenues, and also sewer in Grove street. Council adjourned to meet again next Monday night.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL BE EXAMINED FOR CARE OF TEETH.

Other Matters Considered by Local Board of Education.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education, Tuesday evening, it was voted to have the teeth of all the children in the local schools examined. This work will be done by a Dental Society in Plainfield, which charges nothing for its services.

Examinations of this kind are being seriously regarded by educators, since scientists have concluded that good health is dependent upon good care of the teeth. Dental examinations are not compulsory in the schools at present, but it is thought that a law making them compulsory will soon be passed.

The appointment of two new teachers was confirmed by the Board. They are Miss Slack, who has charge of the department of sewing. She is a graduate of Pratt Institute, where she is now teaching. She will conduct classes in the local schools on Thursday of each week. The other teacher is Miss Mildred K. Wheeler, who is assistant to Mr. LaRoe in the commercial department. She is a graduate of the New Platz Normal School.

Permission was granted the High School Alumni Association to use the chapel of the Washington School for the purpose of holding a meeting.

Annual Meeting Children's Country Home.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Children's Country Home will be held on Monday, October the eighteenth. The Managers of the Home kindly ask the friends who intend to contribute to do so as soon as possible, in order that the money appear in this year's report. Contributions may be handed to any one of the Managers or sent to the Treasurer Mrs. J. S. Ferris, Embree Crescent.

PLAINFIELD CLERICUS MEETS.

Dr. Loomis Reads Paper Before the Episcopal Organization.

A meeting of the Plainfield Clericus, an organization composed of twenty four clergymen of the Episcopal church in this neighborhood, was held at the home of the Rev. Harris O. Rush, president, on Monday last.

Lunch was served at 1:30 o'clock, after which a discussion was had upon Church Unity. The Rev. Dr. Loomis of Westfield, upon special invitation of the Clericus, read a very able and interesting paper upon the subject as viewed from a Congregational minister's standpoint. General discussion followed the reading of the paper.

The meeting was pronounced by all present a very profitable and enjoyable one throughout.

The next meeting of the Clericus will be held at Plainfield on Monday, November 8th.

CHURCH CLUBS TO UNITE.

Federation to Be Formed at First Methodist Church Next Tuesday Evening.

PLAN HAS BEEN WELL CONSIDERED

And Joint Organization Will Work for Spiritual and Civic Betterment of Westfield—Constitution Drafted.

An event that may have great possibilities for the future of Westfield will take place next Tuesday night, when at a union meeting of the Men's Clubs, to be held in the Methodist Church, a Federation will be effected for co-operation in religious and social work, to interchange views and for any other purpose where the combined strength of the men's organizations of Westfield may be used for the moral uplift of the community. Representatives of the various clubs have been at work for some time on preparing a constitution which will be offered for ratification Tuesday night.

In other towns where the Federation idea has been carried out, great good has been accomplished, especially where moral questions have been before the people for settlement, and one of the purposes of the present Federation will be to organize Men's Clubs in all the churches in Westfield township where no such order now exists. For the meeting next Tuesday night great preparations have been made by the Methodist organization. In honor of the day it has been dubbed "Discovery Night," and the presence of every Club member in the various churches is desired. The rooms will be appropriately decorated, and they say the "feed" will be unique, varied and plentiful—no Dr. Cook penicillin or walrus blubber, but good, wholesome "grub." And it is to be entirely informal, too. There will be music by the Men's League Orchestra, a male quartette composed of members of the several clubs. An address by Dr. Hayes and talks by others. The Constitution of the Federation sets forth as the object of the Federation, "to encourage and build up the spirit and practice of Christian brotherhood and to increase fraternal interest among the men in the churches of our town and vicinity," and "to strive by co-operative effort to improve the spiritual, social and civic life of our town." All regularly constituted members of the church men's clubs of Westfield are eligible for membership in the Federation.

HOSPITAL FUND GROWS.

Total is Now $974.38, and All Expenses Are Paid.

The local Hospital Fund has reached a grand total of $974.38, according to the reports received at the meeting of the committee, last night, in the town rooms. Following is the report by wards:

First Ward.....	$338.56
Second Ward.....	285.12
Third Ward.....	348.83
Fourth Ward.....	76.82

Expenses.....	994.38
	13.95
	974.38

The thanks of the Board were extended to Mrs. J. B. Harrison and Mrs. Walter K. Wheatley in the Second Ward, for raising $312; and to Mrs. Thomas Murray, for raising $110 in the First Ward. These women put considerable time and energy into the campaign, and it is due, in large measure, to their labors, that Westfield raised more money than any town or city within the district in proportion to its size.

The Board will cease its labors on October 15, up to which time the account will be left open for further contributions. All those who have been overlooked will please report to the captain of their ward or to Treasurer James G. Cansey.

A check of $900 will be sent to the Elizabeth committee today. The balance will be kept at the bank until the 15th inst.

—Mrs. J. H. Downey of Union Place, who has been a patient sufferer for several months, was operated on at her home on Tuesday. The operation was a delicate and critical one and was successfully performed by Dr. Sinclair, assisted by Drs. Keefe and McConnell of Elizabeth. The prospects of her recovery are said to be good.

—C. H. Treat, of Denver, Col., is visiting relatives in this town. Mr. Treat had not been east before for thirty years.

A MOSQUITOLESS VICINITY

Flushing, L. I., Having Practically Banished the Blood Sucking Gnat, Can Now Enjoy Outdoor Life.

INSECT'S WAR SONG HAS BECOME A SWAN SONG

Happg Results of Ditching on Staten Island, Where Large Areas Have Been Reclaimed.

There has been the havoc of arrested development in the Culex family during the last season. It is even threatened with extinction. Billions of the larvae with their heads down have floated out with the tide—some left stranded to die in seepage drained basins.

After the sight of a cloud of mosquitoes one would doubt that there could be any hazard in their development, but there is. Many never experience the joy of flying, for, as with the aviator, the trouble is to get into the air. Feeble pinions become water soaked as the insect is about to leave the pupa skin. As if to discount this risk, the female, the vampire, by the way, lays 800 eggs at a time. But she has been put out of business altogether in some localities. Drainage did it. Simple, but true.

The Staten Island farmer used to buy mosquito netting by the bolt along with his calico, and in manipulating a yard or so of the netting about the wide brim of his straw hat at milking time he became almost as dexterous as a fashion queen with her veil of mull and her pencil-basket hat, even if his hand was not fair and bejeweled. His wife never ventured out without her sunbonnet. The preponderant odor was pennyroyal, then that of petrol. No pretentious village home on the beautiful island was complete unless the veranda was fortified with screens. On a summer evening persons to whom the sight of blood was terrifying would become blotched with patches of red as they slapped this check, then that, this wrist, then that.

But the war song of the mosquito is in decrecendo. The drainage of the salt marshes of Staten Island by approximately 800 miles of ditches has changed conditions. The invention of rapid ditching tools has made it possible to dig these trenches at a maximum rate of 2,000 feet a day for each machine, ten or fifteen of the latest contrivances making short work of large areas.

The United States Drainage and Irrigation Company, which did the machine ditching on Staten Island, finished last year the work of draining the great swamp of 2,300 acres near Flushing, L. I., and marshes at Douglaston and Woodside.

Succeeding this work a summer has now passed and Flushing is exultant. Its Business Men's Association confidently hurrahs for its town as a place of residence. The secretary of that body, Mr. Leon S. Case, says that "meadows that were once an eyesore and made ugly by pools of stagnant water covered with green scum have been converted into broad, fertile meadows, dry and pleasant to walk across, a delight to the eye and with productiveness doubled and trebled and market values increased proportionately."

Flushing's leading newspaper, the Daily Times, quick to see the advantage of deliverance from the skelter pest and always loyal to the interests of that rapidly growing community, recently printed the following article:

A NUISANCE ABATED.

With the summer of 1909 nearly ended, it can be referred to as the first mosquitoless summer in the history of Flushing.

Citizens everywhere are commenting on the fact that while never before could the summer beauties of the town be enjoyed on account of the clouds of pestiferous insects that attacked from every side, this year we are entirely free from them.

It is not extravagant to assert that these winged and stinging pests have cost this immediate section millions of dollars.

Yet the remedy was simple when discovered, so simple that many refused to believe it could be a remedy.

Ditching the swamps and drying out the breeding places, the whole done at nominal cost, has made Flushing one of the most desirable points which can be found anywhere about Greater New York in which to find a home.

With absolute proof that the mosquito has gone, that we rest quietly under our vine and fig tree, with no z-z-z's to disturb us, the citizens of Flushing can with sincerity "blow for their town."

It is tolerably safe to assert that the reign of the mosquito in this section is ended, and that we and those who come with us can henceforth dwell in peace and security.

Mr. Frank Marshall White, in an excellent and exhaustive article in a recent

Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear for Men and Women

Opening

Of Our New Department of Correct Dress for Women and Misses Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 11th, 12th and 13th.

After many unavoidable delays Our Second Floor is splendidly ready. With the opening of our store on Monday morning it will present an array of distinctive and stunning costumes for Women and Misses. Tailor-made Coats, Suits and Waists from the world's recognized centres of fashion-styles which you cannot hope to see elsewhere in Newark, many of them exclusively our own.

Not only will the display emphasize the high standard of M. & B. merchandising, but the Special Offerings provided will convince you of the great opportunity which this store presents for economizing.

Our $15 and $16 Fall Suits for Men Justify All Our Claims

To build quality and shapeliness into clothing regardless of price is our constant aim and we hit the mark.

We never allow any lowering of standard in modeling, tailoring and finish because of the selling figure. In this respect we bring our garments of the less expensive fabrics up to the general high tone of those of more costly materials.

The exclusive fabrics and distinctive models of Our Fall Suits at $15 and $16 afford ample justification of all our claims.

At $15 a man of a conservative turn may choose from all wool unfinished worsteds in neat stripe effects.

At $16, the young man to whom striking individuality appeals may select from a host of smart patterns in London cut suits.

Among our wide showing of Fall Suits priced from $10 to $30 it would be difficult to find a fancy that cannot be pleased.

Fall Overcoats, $12 to $30

The man who hasn't seen our new Fall Overcoats in the fancy striped effects has missed seeing the smartest Over-garments in town. There are kinks of fashion in the treatment of collars and cuffs which take the fancy of young men who demand distinctive apparel. Then here are also models and patterns to please the more conservative, including Oxfords and Blacks.

Boys' Fall Suits, Top Coats and Reefers

In our provision of clothing for boys of every age and temperament we exercise the same exacting care in the selection of fabrics and the same tailoring skill in the making that has given our men's garments such a high reputation.

Here is an unusual collection of Boys' Fall Suits, Top Coats and Reefers—clothing of a character and quality to stand the most strenuous wear and keep your youngster well dressed. All the new Fall shades and wanted materials are represented at prices ranging from $1 to $10.

Men's 1.50 Gloves, Spec. 1.15

This is an unusual glove offering and is getting the attention of the thrifty-wise. These are regular M. & B. 1.50 Cape Gloves in the popular Fall shades of tan.

Nassau Shoes for Men. 3.50

M. & B. 3.50 Nassau Shoes are superior in quality to any other shoe at the price. In style and shapeliness they equal most shoes sold at $5.

JERSEY FAIR TOMORROW.

Much Interest Aroused Over Event at Olympic Park.

The New Jersey Fair, which will open tomorrow at Olympic Park, Newark, will last for nine days, closing with special features on Sunday, October 17. The big events scheduled for tomorrow are a horse racing meet in the afternoon on the half-mile track and a grand display of fireworks in the evening. There is also a flower show, which will be continued tomorrow.

The fair program this year promises to be one of the most interesting ever presented in the State. There will be horse racing daily, except Sundays, with big special features for every day and a variety of high class amusement for every moment the gates are open.

On Sunday the specialty will be a motorcycle meet, to be held in the afternoon under the auspices of the New Jersey Motorcycle Club, which has pulled off a series of remarkably successful racing events at the park during the season. The sport is proving more and more popular, and indications are that the coming meet will be a record-breaker in point of attendance and all-around success.

Tuesday will be Columbus Day, and also farmers' day. Features of especial interest to those engaged in agricultural pursuits will be provided and a holiday program will be given.

On Thursday comes the dog show, which promises to be one of the most interesting features of the fair. The date has also been selected as Governor's day. According to present plans the executive will be escorted to the park by a company of the First Regiment, N. G. N. J., and will be received by a distinguished committee headed by Jacob Haussling, Mayor of Newark, and other mayors and civic officials.

SLIM HUNT'S COLUMN.

DON'T.

Don't argue with your baker, for he has his debts to pay;
Just give him what you owe him and serenely go your way;
He has served you with the delights that you needed for your tea;
If you must be in the kitchen, why, you'll have to pay the fee.

Don't argue with your dealer when he jumps the price of coal;
He has got to make a profit; would you put him in a hole?
Guess you never raised a rumpus when you made an extra sou;
You can sport an automobile; don't you think he wants one, too?

Don't argue with your grocer on a bill that's three months old;
If you've been so long in paying, why, you needn't be so bold.
And the butcher, doctor, lawyer, dry-goods man and plumber, too,
All have got to make a living just the same as I and you.

Don't get fussy! Since you will buy on the credit system plan,
You must take what's coming to you from the credit system man;
While he's crediting you're living on the million dollar sou;
If he charges you for interest—just thank God you're not in jail!

Don't be grumpy over paying honest debts when they fall due;
You've been making show of riches and you'll have to see it through;
There's a lot of men in prison—not real crooks, you understand;
But they couldn't make a living, for there was no work at hand;
So they stole it, and were sentenced—there's a difference, so they say,
Twixt the man who steals the money and the man who will not pay!

PLAN OF NEW COURSES.

To Provide Alternatives Which Meet Needs Established Courses
Do Not Meet.

WESTFIELD'S SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION.

Exceptionally Efficient in All Lines of Work
—Certificates Admit to Colleges Without Entrance Examinations.

It is evident that the amount of ground covered by the public school system has increased enormously within the past one hundred years, and is destined to increase still further; it by no means follows, however, that the courses are overloaded, or that the quality of the work is low, or that the individual pupil is overworked. The purpose of new courses is not to give additional work to each pupil, but to provide alternatives which meet needs established courses do not meet, and such courses can be profitably added as rapidly as the number of pupils who will take them justifies the expenditure necessary to secure adequate equipment and efficient instruction; all the pupils do not take all the courses, but each pupil takes the one course best adapted to his or her needs,
and the work in each course is adjusted
to the average capacity of the average class.

It is true that pupils do more work than formerly, but this is possible because of changes in conditions, and does not require greater intensity of application; school terms are longer, methods of instruction have improved, teachers are more carefully trained, light and ventilation are better, text books contain more wheat and less chaff, and the work is more efficiently directed,—generally speaking, the energy requisite for learning is better conserved and more economically expended. It is impossible to devise any course which will not overwork an occasional pupil; some pupils are so constituted that they overwork, unless restrained, no matter
whether the course be hard or easy;
there are others not physically, or perhaps mentally, able to do an amount of work which the average normal pupil turns out easily; our classes contain pupils of all degrees of physical strength and mental capacity, and consequently work which meets average conditions is too difficult for some and too easy for others; there are various expedients for partially meeting this difficulty, but it is evident that it can never be entirely overcome; for example, classes are subdivided so as to allow such pupils as are able to advance more rapidly than the average; last year medical inspection was established in order to better detect and remedy deficiencies arising from defective eyesight and hearing, or other physical disability; this year a teacher will be assigned to the duty of giving individual assistance.

It is difficult to compare exactly two widely separated periods; but such data as are available show the quality
as well as the quantity of present day knowledge to be superior to that of the past—although not always in the same direction. For example, consider a study like spelling in the light of the remarkable expansion in our everyday vocabulary; one hundred years ago
transportation was by carriage or sailing vessel, and the transportation vocabulary was comprised in the limited number of words descriptive of these means of locomotion; now we not only have that vocabulary, but others relating to steam driven craft of all descriptions,
motor boats, steam and electric railroads,
motor cars with various propelling agencies, dirigible balloons, and aeroplanes; a similar comparison may be made in, almost every field of human endeavor; perhaps the boy of today would be quickly "spelled down" on the various members of the family of Lophopterygia upon which the old time speller was an authority, but in the extent of his working vocabulary and the gross number of words he can spell he has his great grandfather

"beaten to a frazzle." So in geography
—he cannot bound the states of the German Federation or name all the tributaries of the Euphrates, but at seventeen he probably has more useful information on the world's commerce than his grandfather had acquired at the ripe age of seventy.

Some pupils are not studious; some teachers are not efficient; some text books are not perfect; school authorities sometimes make mistakes; but the largest single factor in determining the quantity and quality of the work turned out, a factor for which parents must assume the larger responsibility, is the social life of the pupil; no failure on the part of the school authorities in matters under their control will so quickly deteriorate school work as late hours, social dissipation, unfavorable conditions for home study, and clubs or school fraternities.

For several years past the club and fraternity movement has been sweeping over the country, bringing discord and dissension into every school where it has obtained a foothold; in some schools conditions have caused an appeal to the courts, while in several States laws have been passed prohibiting such organizations and giving Boards of Education authority to expel or otherwise discipline pupils failing to obey the law. An excellent summary of the arguments against the fraternities is to be found in the report made by Mr. G.
B. Morrison, in 1905, to the National Educational Association, and endorsed last Spring at the meeting of the Council of Education of New Jersey. It is appended hereto:

"These societies should be discouraged for the following reasons:

Because they are unnecessary in high schools; because they are fictional and suir up strife and contention; because they form premature and unnatural friendships; because they are selfish;
because they are snobbish; because they dissipate energy and proper ambition;
because they set wrong standards of excellence; because they are narrow;
because rewards are not based on merit,
but on fraternity vows; because they inculcate a feeling of self-sufficiency in the members; because they lessen frankness and cordiality toward teachers; because they are hidden and inculcate dark-lantern methods; because they foster a feeling of self-importance;
because high school boys are too young for club life; because they foster the tobacco habit; because they are expensive and foster habits of extravagance;
because of the changing membership from year to year making them liable to bring discredit and disgrace to the school; because they weaken the efficiency of and bring politics into the legitimate organizations of the school, and because they detract interest from study."

At its meeting this year the National Education Association extended the prohibition to all schools, in the following, unanimously adopted, resolution:
"It (the system of common schools)
must exclude fraternities and secret organizations of every sort from the social life of the school."

In the Westfield schools a number of such societies have been established, and while their influence thus far has not been so bad as to call for drastic action, it has become increasingly evident that the schools will be much better off without them; as a gentle hint
the Board last Spring passed the following resolution, copies of which were sent to parents generally:

Resolved, That on account of their interference with school work and the maintenance of discipline, and their tendency to foster cliques which are destructive of the democratic spirit which should pervade the public schools, the Board of Education expresses its disapproval of societies of limited membership formed by school children mainly for social purposes, and requests the cooperation of parents in discouraging the formation of such societies in the future.
As a result of this resolution several of the clubs were dissolved, and the activities of others curtailed; this year, with the continued co-operation of parents, the process of elimination will be completed.

Headache
For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL,
63 High St., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

PANG PROOF FACTS.

In an address before the Trust Company section of the American Bankers' Association, Mr. Edward T. Perine, of Westfield, President of the Audit Company of New York, presented some very interesting statistical information on "Trust Company Resources and Revenues: A five year summary." Mr. Perine has subdivided his subject into five interrogatory heads, to the affirmative answer of which he has brought computations to bear which enable the reader to obtain a clear and comprehensive understanding of the questions involved.

It is not possible for us to attempt a review of the whole, but that part of Mr. Perine's address which deals with the question "What have been the effects of the recent business depression upon the Trust Companies and how completely have they rallied from the depression?" ought to be emphasized, not only for its value as a statistical document, but as a final brace to public confidence and a blanket to the tongues of those skeptical ones who yet disdain to believe the period of financial unrest is a thing of the past.

We quote from Mr. Perine's address:

"In 1904 the Trust Companies were liable to their depositors, general and to trust (including other Trust Companies and Banks), in the sum of 2 billions 901 millions of dollars. A year later this liability aggregated 2 billions 955 millions. In 1906 and 1907 the respective amounts were 3 billions 18 millions, and 3 billions 222 millions. Then, in 1908, there occurred, for the first time in Trust Company history, a heavy shrinkage in their deposit liabilities. From June 1907 to June 1909 there was a contraction from 3 billions 222 millions to 2 billions 913 millions, the decrease being 309 millions of dollars, almost 10 per cent., and leaving a smaller aggregate than in any year since 1904. The total for June of this year is, therefore, a sum worthy of especial scrutiny. In it is to be read the story of a hoped for recovery. In all the figures which have been summarized there is none more satisfying, none more convincing of the fact that panic conditions have been superseded by an era of prosperity, than to know that with only a slight increase in the number of Trust Companies—the number reporting this year being 26 more than last year—the total deposits for 1909 have reached the important total of 3 billion 697 millions of dollars, an increase of 654 millions for the year, or 22 per cent., and an increase of 1 billion 206 millions for the five years, which is an increase of 51 per cent."

We respectfully commend the above to the serious and impartial reflection of the doubting Thomases.

SOME SIGNIFICANT COMPARISONS.

A little over one hundred years ago a small craft, steamed slowly up the Hudson River toward Albany. Its inventor was jeered by the people on shore. In 1807 Robert Fulton was declared to be a freak, and his invention was made to stand for the fact.

One week ago a duplicate of that little craft, the Clermont, steamed up the Hudson river accompanied by a flotilla of submarine boats and followed by more than two hundred modern vessels. It passed among a squadron of the nation's mightiest warships while thousands on land and water paid tribute to the memory of the great American inventor.

On Monday afternoon of this week a dashing American account set sail from Governor's Island, up the Hudson, over Grant's tomb and the squadron of war vessels, and back again to the starting point. He was cheered, not hooted, and his feat has been heralded around the world.

These comparisons are significant. In one hundred years we have achieved much in the interest of science and humanity. Ship building has become a fine art since the days of Robert Fulton; and it is not our fault that the great American inventor is given honor due long years after his bones have turned to dust. Experience has opened our eyes to the follies of our ancestors, and nothing shall hold us back from awarding our modern American inventor the acclaim and plaudits which he deserves.

But this is not all. Mr. Wright cannot come into his own now. He is the inventor. He is reaching out after bigger things with his tiny airship, which one hundred years hence will probably seem as crude, when compared with the air craft of that day, as does the little Clermont of 1807 seem when compared with the giant steamships of 1909.

A GENTLE REMINDER TO MERCHANTS.

Road Commissioner Charles M. Afleck has received a number of complaints against the untidy condition of the sidewalks in the business section. We regret the necessity of calling to the attention of our bustling merchants a state of things which should have been discovered and rectified by them long ago. The Town Fathers have gone to considerable expense to keep Broad street clean. Theirs is the care of the street; the sidewalks must be kept clean by the business man. Commissioner Afleck makes an appeal to the good common sense of the merchants and it is confidently expected that every mother's son of them will upon reading this editorial get busy with the sweeper and keep the sidewalk in front of his place of business clean.

TO BE CALLED FOR.

Byrne's "Highway Construction," the fifth edition, published last year, is one of the latest important reference books placed in the Public Library for use by those who would be acquainted with the subject, but have not the time to take up a special course or to get particular information by practical work.

It is hoped that all who are interested in the latest and correct methods of building roads will avail themselves of the opportunity to read Byrne's book. It has been for the past six months resting on the shelves of the public library—uncalled for.

New Jersey is the third State in importance in the matter of the condition of its building and loan associations; a membership of 170,000, gross assets of approximately $80,000,000, and paid-in stock subscriptions of more than $69,000,000.

RACE MEET FOR BENEFIT OF CHILDREN'S COUNTRY HOME

The next meet of the Westfield Driving and Riding Club will be held Saturday, October 16th, and the entire gate receipts will be given to the Children's Country Home. An especially attractive card is being arranged and the occasion will be one of the most notable in the history of the Club.

The racing committee is making special efforts to bring together an unusually speedy lot of horses and fine sport may be expected. There will be four races on the card. The free-for-all will be one of the best races ever held at Fair Acres track. The 2:26-2:30 mixed event will bring out a lot of the Westfield favorites and will be a race from the second the starter gives the word. The 2:35 Trot as usual will attract a lot of good ones that can go fast and the mark will be lowered.

The committee has a special event in view that will be interesting and there is every reason to expect it will be one of the greatest features of the excellent card that is now assured. The good ones from Plainfield, Newark, Elizabeth and Rahway have already been entered and some of the horses that have shown so well during the present season will find new competitors for the cups.

The entry list will not close for several days but the success of the meeting is certain. The track is in fine condition for fast racing. Prizes for the events have been contributed by President Senator, J. E. Gallagher, Clarence B. Smith and Vagelos & Mitchell.

GIVES FIRST LECTURE IN

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH.

Before a large audience which had gathered to hear the first lecture on Christian Science since the Scientists completed their new church on Main street in Cranford, Mr. Bliss Knapp, a Harvard graduate and member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered on Tuesday evening last with deliberation and dignity an instructive talk on "Christian Science—Its Mode of Operation."

The lecturer was introduced by Mr. Charles G. Bliss, of Westfield, former First Reader of the Cranford Church, who read two passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, and who added that to meet the misconceptions which the world had about Christian Science the Board of Lectureship was instituted, and that the lecturer about to be introduced would elucidate the subject.

Pure religion, the speaker declared, is revealed truth; but he went on to show that whatever may be the nature of their revelations, that which distinguishes the demonstrable revelation of Jesus Christ from them all is its power to give health and life.

"I am come," said the lecturer, quoting Jesus, "that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." That is, the abundant vitality of Christian truth gives life. For this reason the educated classes of today are coming to realize that such religious beliefs as Buddhism, Shintoism and so forth, are not so much religions as they are philosophies, because they lack this life-giving element that lifts Christianity above the plane of a mere philosophy into a living religion.

"A student in mathematics," said Mr. Knapp, "never prays to have his problem in mathematics work itself out, for this would do away with the spirit of understanding. He has the problem and also the rule, but there must be mental activity on his part."

Mrs. Eddy, he said, had observed, after having previously examined different methods that endeavored to cure the sick, that the higher the attainment of a medicine the more powerful it became. In other words: the less drug the more potent the remedy. Thus was obtained the conclusion that the healing was through mind—not through a drug. And Mrs. Eddy, he said, then sought to know whether it was the human mind, or animal will, or the divine mind that healed the sick.

Briefly he showed that it could not be the human mind, or will, but that it was the divine mind—the mind which was in Christ Jesus. And just as the laws of navigation were inoperative until applied to the individual vessel through the intelligence of the pilot, so the law in the spiritual realm was inoperative until applied through the intelligence gained through spiritual understanding of what God is and of his power to heal.

Hudson-Fulton

Three hundred years ago when Henry Hudson sailed up the river which bears his name who ever thought that the greatest city in the world would rise upon its banks?

A hundred years ago when the Clermont steamed up the Hudson who ever dreamed of the Lusitania? Only Fulton had the vision, and Fulton today is looked upon as a wonder; a hundred years ago they called him a fool.

Ten years ago when Westfield was a little hamlet who ever dreamed of the beautiful Westfield of today? Just a few, and they are now reaping the reward for their foresight. Ten years ago some called them dreamers and said they had wheels in their heads. Who are getting a vision of Westfield ten years hence with its 15,000 population and its land value doubled—just a few. Are you one? In Manor Park and Westfield Highlands lots are now being sold on such easy terms that the smallest investor can have a share in the future prosperity of Westfield. On October 15th lots in Manor Park will rise 20 per cent. Be wise, buy your lot now.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED.

Knickerbockers Make 18 Points to 6 in First Football Game.

The local High School football team was defeated in the first game of the season last Saturday afternoon at Recreation Park by the Knickerbocker football team, of Westfield, by the score of 18-6.

Although their opponents were much heavier the High School team showed good training and team work and thus the game was interesting and exciting.

With Mr. Martin as referee and Wesley Collins as umpire the High School kicked the pig skin and started the first game of the season. After moving up and down the field two or three times Foster stole the ball from the High School on a forward pass and after a few rushes by Ball and Cherry the Knickerbockers scored a touchdown. Embleton failed to kick the goal.

The Knickerbockers then kicked off and Sisserson, High School full back, punted back and Smith, High School centre, grabbed the ball and scored a touchdown. Buckley as end, kicked the goal.

The High School kicked off again and gained the ball but lost twenty yards on a failure of a forward pass. On another attempt to pass they lost the ball. The Knickerbockers were penalized for huddling.

In the second half the High School backs made many gains by rushing but their opponents getting the ball soon forced Ball, full back, over the line. Traynor kicked the goal.

The Knickerbockers then kicked off and held the ball on a fumble and made many big gains by the rushing of their backs. When but three yards from the High School goal Bush, playing end, fumbled the ball and the High School at once began to force them back. But in another fumble the Knickerbockers brought the ball over the line and failed to kick the goal.

Again the High School kicked off and after a scrimmage Sisserson, High School, was forced to punt and Irving, High School, succeeded in getting the ball on Traynor's fumble. Rose's rush and Smith's blocking Traynor's punt was something to be noted. And also the tackling of Knight and Irving. The line ups were:

REAPING BENEFIT.

From the Experience of Westfield People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Westfield residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. 'Tis emphatic and convincing. No better proof can be had.

Samuel K. Weller, 83 Rahway Ave., Westfield, N. J., says: "Mrs. Weller has great confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills. At the time she began using them, she was suffering from pains through her back and was also annoyed by headaches and dizzy spells. Her condition became serious and dropsical swellings appeared in her ankles. I had used Doan's Kidney Pills myself, and they had proven so satisfactory that I advised her to try them. She procured a box at Frutheys' Pharmacy and has not suffered from kidney trouble since. We both take great pleasure in giving Doan's Kidney Pills our highest endorsement."

YOUNG ARCHITECTS CHOSEN.

Russell Hunt, Donald Pearsall and Lindsay Dallas the Winners.

Some few weeks ago The Pearsall Company started the American Home Drawing Contest, open to any Westfield boy or girl under 18 years of age. The contest was brought to a close Thursday of last week and the plans were carefully guarded by cashier John M. Walsh of the Peoples Bank. Mr. Walsh delivered the plans Tuesday night to the judges of the contest—Contractor James Moffatt, Contractor H. O. Piker, Contractor Ernest Wilcox and Architect Walter B. Pearson. Mr. Tubby, architect, had agreed to act as one of the judges but was unavoidably detained out of town that evening.

Chairman Piker, of the Committee of Judges, opened the numerous plans received and for nearly two hours the judges wrestled with the young Westfielders' ideas of an American home. One judge remarked, "By Jingo, some of these plans show wonderful originality and ability." Several really high class plans were thrown out only on account of their estimated cost to build, exceeding the $4,000 limit established as one of the rules of the contest.

Gradually the number of plans were cut down to some four or five that were sure to figure in the final selection for first, second and third prize. These plans received considerable attention by the judges, they not knowing whose drawings they were judging. Mr. Walsh having the contestants names carefully sealed in numbered envelopes corresponding with numbers on the various plans. The final outcome was the selection of the plan of Russell Hunt for first prize, $25 in gold. Second went to Donald Pearsall, $15 in gold, and the third to Lindsay Dallas, $10 in gold.

Many of the plans submitted were really well drawn and carefully made as to scale, showing much tedious work on the part of the young architects. The Pearsall Company say that some of the plans of the unsuccessful contestants are so original that they may, later, decide to accept one or more of them, at a price, and by cutting down the size of the house to come within the $4,000 limit, build them on some of their various properties.

Epworth League Install Officers.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church was held at the home of Miss Pearl Welch on Westfield avenue Monday night. The annual reports of the officers were received and the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: President, W. C. Hart, Jr.; first vice president, Warren V. Woodruff; second vice president, Pearl E. Welch; third vice president, Olive Woodruff; fourth vice president, Carrie Bishop; secretary, William A. Quigley; treasurer, Edward C. Parker; organist, F. Leslie Frovren. After the business of the evening had been transacted a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Russell Heads Woman's Association.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Association of the Congregational Church was held on Monday afternoon in the church parlors. Reports of the various officers were read and showed the association in a flourishing condition. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. L. Russell; home vice president, Mrs. O. W. Richardson; foreign vice president, Mrs. Laura Thompson; church work vice president, Mrs. Stratton Halsted; secretary, Mrs. Fred Philipson; treasurer, Mrs. J. Outfitting Time for the--

CHILDREN
At Wanamaker's

SCHOOL days are the happiest of life, but they are not all of sunshine, many are rainy; many cold and stormy days, too.

But what do school days amount to without health! And upon the health of youth depends life.

CLOTHING—the right kind—that's the point! and now the time to get it.

The Wanamaker Store is prepared to outfit children and young women and youths of all ages—with everything they may need for Winter. Undergarments, hosiery, gloves, millinery, hats, caps and furnishings for boys, dress stuffs and trimmings; and

For Girls and Young Women

An assemblage of suits, dresses, top coats and raincoats for school and dress occasions. Our experts have studied girls and young women's clothing from the view points of mothers and their daughters.

We choose the most suitable materials and select modes that are girlish. Correct proportions are most important. It is sufficient to say that alterations are seldom necessary in Wanamaker's clothes for girls and young women. Every minute detail receives our critical examination—buttons, heels and eyes, stitching and every detail of finish.

Many mothers prefer Washable Dresses for their daughters of 6 to 14 years, especially for school. What could be more cheery than one of these brightly-hued Scotch plaid gingham dresses. $3 to $7.50. Blue galatea dresses are remarkably durable and always look epic-span. $2.50.

Many other washable materials in pretty colorings. No elaborate trimmings. $2 upwards.

Woolen Dresses for little girls of the same years are in large variety—perhaps only one or two of a kind. At $6 are numerous Scotch plaids, braid trimmed, and on and on prices ascend to $37.50 for a broadcloth dress for ceremonious occasions.

Sailor Suits are always favored. Nearly every little girl wants one. Some girls prefer them for school. Blue serge, with either white or black braid, $5 to $13.75.

For rainy days, little girls like these rubberized poplin capes, with hood to put over their heads; $4. Rubberized, striped silk raincoats, $8.

Young girls of 14 to 18 years, just budding into womanhood, are just at the awkward age—they are too grown-up for little girls' dresses, and women's styles, for which they yearn, are the other extreme.

That is why so many mothers prefer Wanamaker's Clothing for their daughters. We plan every suit, dress and coat, so that it will be just right in style, fit—and, of course, quality.

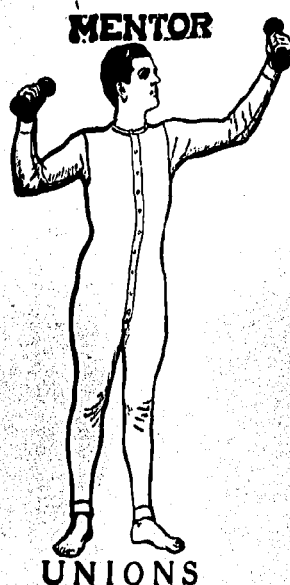

With two exceptions, all girls' and young women's dresses are one-piece.

Bring the children to Wanamaker's and outfit them. Also to the famous Wanamaker Galleries—it will be an hour or so well spent for their education.

THEY COULDN'T DECIDE IT.

The Triangles and Hexagons had it out for championship honors, at Roselle, last Saturday afternoon, the struggle ending in a tie after ten innings of play. The score was 3-3. Bert Whistle, a former Westfield player, was at left garden for the Hexagons, and Ortlieb, the local slab artist, was in center field.

The Triangles were strengthened by some Yale and Princeton baseball stars. Neither side had much the advantage, errors were even, the Hexagons were one the better with the stick, but the seven safe bingles by the Triangles netted as many bases as the eight safe bingles of their opponents, as two carried the batters to the half way station, while but one of the Hexagons, Luyster, connected for two bases.

Both teams scored two runs each in the fourth, and one each in the fifth inning. This ended the scoring for all; afterwards it was nip and tuck. The score by innings:

Hexagons. 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 0-3 7 1
Triangles. 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 0-3 7 1
Batteries—Luyster and Boelke; White and Garvin.

LOCAL "CHICKS" PROSPERING.

Win Prizes Galore for Westfield Poultrymen at Fair.

Fresh from their triumphs at the Richmond County Fair, the local poultrymen added new laurels and blue ribbons to their reputation by winning at the Trenton Fair held this week.

The Herder Bros. who make a specialty of Barred and Buff Rocks, also Black Cochins bantams won first cock and pullet in the latter class; first Barred Rock cockerel and first pen of Buff Rocks. At Dougan Hills this firm won first Buff Cock, first Buff Cockerel, first pullet, besides the special and firsts on the Bantams.

J. H. Kimball, the Single Comb Buff Orpington specialist who won first cockerel at Dougan Hills last year and first at Trenton and Dover, duplicated his earnings this season, his big cockerel defeating a good field at Richmond County and capturing first honors at the big Trenton show. This cockerel was sired by last year's big winner.

Westfield is gaining a reputation of having some of the best poultry in the State of New Jersey and arousing a healthy interest in the chicken business that will bear good results.

number of Harper's Weekly, on the inception of the mosquito war by Dr. Doty of the New York Board of Health, said that Staten Island real estate values have risen hundreds of thousands of dollars in consequence of drainage and that there has been reclaimed something like 8,000 acres of "the best kind of land for market gardening, previously of so little value that the owners had never taken the trouble to ascertain their boundary lines. At present the borough clerk's office is overrun with citizens who are trying to locate property on the shores of the island that had always been considered worthless."

There has been uppermost so much else that is wonderful during this carnival season that this sure way of deliverance from the mosquito plague has not in some quarters received the attention it deserved, but, as may be seen, in many sections of the metropolitan district there is a deep undercurrent of congratulation, even of joy.

On the Jersey shore some ditching has been done, with a corresponding diminution of the pest. The existing ditches should be cleaned out where choked and the work extended until the Jersey shore, the home and the resort of millions of Americans, is redeemed from this blight, and the Jersey mosquito joke is consigned to shades of oblivion as deep as those of a blind man's holiday.
