Editor of THE STANDARD:

Sir—The movement made last Sunday by the churches of the town in reference to the granting of liquor license was a step in the right direction. Every well-thinking voter should take advantage of this movement and let the officials of the town know his side of the greatest question before the people to-day—not only in America, but throughout different parts of Europe. We should all be looking forward to the day when this question will be taken out of politics and put straight up to the people for a vote—"yes" or "no." It has been my pleasure to live in a town in New Jersey of 5,000 inhabitants, who vote on the question—yes or no—every two years. They have not had a saloon for thirty years. You can walk through that town and enjoy the beautiful old shade trees, the old colonial mansions, large lawns, and in the newer part you will find the modern house, all sizes and shapes; but you do not find the glaring saloon fronts and signs to attract the young man, or the moderate drinker, or the man who cannot pass a place of this kind without leaving with the saloon man the few cents he has, and frequently having it charged until payday. At that time the money will go to the saloon when it should be in the home for the wife and children. Some such cases are in our town to-day.

We know about the position of our Town Council on this issue, and the church and anti-saloon man should show to Council their stand; and let us hope in the near future may take a vote on the question. The town referred to compares favorably in its government with ours; it excels us in some things, for instance, it owns its water plant, and in the near future will have its gas and electric plants, and its taxes last year were lower than ours. The streets and sidewalks, however, do not compare with ours.

Yours truly,
W. A. BISHOP.

HE WON THE PRIZE.

"Former Champion Skater of Christendom" Makes Lincoln Cent Go the Farthest.

GIVES THE REWARDS TO CHARITY.

W. F. Duffy Receives Check of $25 as Reward for Ingenious Scheme—$51.96 to Children's Country Home.

William F. Duffy, who has been facetiously called "the former champion skater of Christendom," has been declared the champion financier of the U. S. A., and awarded the whole sum of $25 for his ingenuity. Mr. Duffy has proved himself a past master in the art of stretching a Lincoln penny to the Nth degree—and, with a single object in view, enlarging the exchequer of the Children's Country Home. The Westfielder was against a big field of competitors and report has it that he was easily the peer of them all.

The story runs thusly: Some time ago the Trumbull Electric Company hit about a novel advertising scheme by which they hoped to extend their name and fame, and incidentally stimulate budding geniuses to action in a good cause. Accordingly they offered $50.00 in prizes, the first of which was $25.00 to the one person in the land who could make a Lincoln penny go the farthest. As the statement put it: "We burn with an economic desire to hear how far a cent will go, and how much pleasure it can bring into the lives of men."

Among the first to take up the work was our esteemed former champion figure skater, who bought a small bank, placed the Lincoln cent within it, and passed the bank around for contributions. Thus did the penny travel far and wide until the last day of the competition when $20.96 had been collected. This money was turned over to the treasurer of the Children's Country Home, Mrs. J. S. Ferris, who sent a letter of thanks and congratulation to Mr. Duffy.

The former champion then sent his report to the Trumbull Electric Company, with the letter from Mrs. Ferris. By-and-by, Mr. Duffy learned, by subtle correspondence, that he had captured the prize. He was getting a bit restive about the result, but a friend of his in the electrical business eased his mind, by sending him this gentle hint as to the outcome:

New York, January 21, 1910.

New York Office:
In answer to yours of the 20th, we have not yet written the ex-champion amateur skater of Christendom, but he will undoubtedly be so delighted when he learns the fact that he won the first prize, that he may renew his skating days.

We have suggested that he spend the $25.00 however, in giving it to the Country Home and not in mid-night skating with unfrozen liquid either within or without.

Yours very truly,
THE TRUMBULL ELECTRIC MFG. CO.
Signed: L. L. Brastow.

This was encouraging, but the best was yet to come. The following letter tells the tale:

Plainville, Conn., January 28, 1910.
Mr. W. F. Duffy,
96 Warren St.,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:
Enclosed find check for $25.00, representing first prize on the Lincoln Cent contest, which was awarded to you by a board of much beset judges, after careful consideration of the merits in the case.

We congratulate you on your efforts and success, and if the money is donated to charity, it would be much appreciated if you will let us know what use you make of same.

Awards and other answers will be published in the February "Cheer." Yours very truly,
THE TRUMBULL ELECTRIC MFG. CO.
L. L. Brastow.

(The Cheer is a monthly paper published by the Trumbull Electric Co.)

Mr. Duffy did not need to be told what to do with the money. The day he received the check, he endorsed it over to the Home and sent it to the president, Mrs. V. O. Burtis. Wednesday he received the following letter:

My Dear Mr. Duffy:

I am in receipt of your check for twenty-five dollars for the Children's Country Home of Westfield, N. J. Personally I do thank you very much for your vital interest in the Home, and I voice the feeling of the Board of Managers in our appreciation of this gift. You will receive an acknowledgment from the treasurer also a certificate of life membership and we are very glad to welcome you in the association. We are sure we will always have your hearty co-operation. Again thanking you I remain

Very sincerely yours,
JANE E. BURTIS,
President C. C. Home.

Thus was an economic desire satisfied, and joy brought to the hearts of everybody.

FRANZ SCHUBERT HONORED

Woman's Club Remembers Birthday of Great Musician.

The memory of Franz Peter Schubert was honored by the Woman's Club, last Monday afternoon, when they held a Schubert festival. It was the 118th anniversary of Schubert's birth. A short business meeting was first held, at which Mrs. Beard, chairman of the program committee, announced the program for the coming year, which is to be the "Elizabethan Age." A professor from Columbia College will give four lectures, and other features will be provided by members of the club. Mrs. Walter M. Irving was elected a member. At the first meeting of the year, an illustrated lecture will be given by the Rev. Paul O. Barnwell, title: "A Tour Through Europe."

Mrs. Smith gave a short history of the life and work of Schubert, at the beginning of the festival. She said that although Schubert was only 31 when he died, he had already proved himself a great musician, and if he had lived it is impossible to conjecture what he might have accomplished. He was undoubtedly a great genius and she was inclined to class him with Mozart. A number of his compositions were given by members of the club, each one being explained by Mrs. Smith. Mesdames Calkins, Middleditch, Floyd, Roberts, Davis, Westlake, Douglas and Koetzer illustrated Schubert in song; this was an interesting feature and much credit is due to the performers, also to Mrs. R. W. Hardens, who had trained them and was their conductor. Mrs. Watts' paper illustrated the last of the songs.

Mrs. P. B. Scarff received much applause for her rendition on the violin of Schubert's "Serenade," "Am Meer" and "Die Stadt."

Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" was given by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Allen; the latter accompanied Mrs. Scarff and played the music for the songs.

It was a most excellent concert and reflected great credit on all who participated; its success must have cost much effort and arduous practice and the Woman's Club is to be congratulated.

Miss Ballie's Recital.

A recital by the pupils of Miss Lillian M. Ballie will be given this evening at the Presbyterian Church. They will be assisted by Miss Florence Wolfert, violinist, and Mr. Tom Daniel, basso. A delightful evening is expected. The program is as follows:

Part I—Piano, Scherzo, Miss Katherine Dietz; sonata, for violin and piano, largo, Allegro, con fuoco, Menuet, Gavotte, Giga, Miss Florence C. Wolfert, Miss Lillian M. Ballie; duet, quartet from "Rigoletto," Miss Katherine Dietz, Miss Helen Jackson; Bass (a), "O Joy of Youth," (b) "In Sheltered Vale," Mr. Tom Daniel; piano, Canzone Aurora, Miss Hazel Worl. Part II—Piano, Valse Arabesque, Miss Helen Jackson; bass, Aria, "Infelice e tu crevedi," (Ernani) Mr. Tom Daniel; duet, Cavalry Parade, Miss Katherine Dietz, Miss Hazel Worl; piano, Simple Aven, Miss Rhoda A. Hyde; violin, (a) Andante Concerto No. 2, Vieuxtemps, (b) Gavotte, Miss Florence C. Wolfert; piano, Military Polonaise, Miss Katherine Dietz.

Miss Graffam of Sivas Will Talk.

The Christian Endeavor Societies, the Epworth League and all the Young People's Associations of Westfield, will hold a union meeting at the Congregational Church, next Sunday evening, February 6th, at 7 o'clock, to hear Miss Mary L. Graffam, of Sivas, Turkey, who will speak of her missionary work in that city. Miss Graffam was formerly a teacher in the High School and hopes to meet some of her former pupils at the meeting. All who are in any way interested are cordially invited to attend.

Lawrence-Wilson.

Sidney E. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lawrence, and Miss Emma Wilson were married in Jersey City a week ago yesterday afternoon. Miss Grace Lawrence of Lyons Farms, was bridesmaid and Lawrence Mallenon of Plainfield best man. Miss Wilson was bookkeeper at Mr. Lawrence's store and the bridegroom is employed in the office of the Central Railroad Company in Jersey City, where the happy couple will reside.

M. E. LEAGUERS FEAST.

Hon. Lloyd Thompson, Dr. Loomis, Robert Insley, W. H. Orr and Dr. Hayes Speak.

CIVIC PROBLEMS DISCUSSED.

Emphasis Placed on Fraternal Cooperation—We Live in New Jersey But We Read About New York.

The fifth annual dinner of the Men's League of the First M. E. Church, which was held last night in the church parlors, proved to be a splendid success and was proclaimed "excellent," by the one hundred and twenty-five diners. Toastmaster T. T. Harkrader first introduced Rev. Samuel L. Loomis, pastor of the Congregational Church. Mr. Loomis spoke of the growth of a city, and the larger growth of the suburb. He said that "Westfield was the growing part of the great Metropolis," and that this was the "day of golden opportunities" for Westfield. Dr. Loomis advocated the acquisition of good grounds for public use before prices got too high. He also advocated that the people of Westfield find comfort here without the presence of the saloons, gambling places and things of evil influences.

Hon. Lloyd Thompson, President of the Federation of Men's Clubs of Westfield, was the next speaker. He was in a story-telling frame of mind, and told a few side-splitting by way of introduction. Then getting down to business, Mr. Thompson spoke of the conscientious voter. He said that the public servant, who was working for the people's interests, did not look for suspicion, but for interest from the voters. He said that the people were too indifferent about voting and would forget that "this man" did not work for the general good. He explained that the cause of the indifference of the people of New Jersey to the affairs of the State was because they preferred to read the New York rather than their State papers. Mr. Thompson's final appeal was, that the citizens watch the conduct of the public men who were serving them and their interests and back them up when they were true to their trusts, and vote them out of office when they were not.

Mr. W. H. Orr's talk on the "Spirit of Brotherhood" was well received. He spoke of the trait of selfishness in mankind and gave his ideas as to the way the "Equality of Opportunities" for men could be solved. He said that it could not be done by force or legislation, but by the spirit of brotherhood.

Mr. Robert Insley, Secretary of the Borough of Manhattan of New York City, and also of the City Club of New York, was the next speaker. Mr. Insley told the men his ideas of "Duty" and compared Westfield to a model child, and said that both needed careful training and that this training could not be had by sitting around. He said the only remedy for keeping this town from drifting into the hands of bad politicians was to have the good men band together, discuss civic topics and so influence civic improvements. He explained that church organizations could not do this, but the Leaguers as citizens could make great progress in a City Club.

Dr. Addison W. Hayes, pastor of the First M. E. Church, concluded the evening with a string of good jokes and stories, and ended up by saying "please turn off the gas."

Fireman's Ball

The third grand annual ball of the Westfield Fire Department was given at the Casino last evening. Over a hundred couples danced to nearly morning to the delightful strains of Dow's full orchestra. A bountiful collation was served. The following gentlemen acted as floor committee: Wm. Conway, manager; Ed. C. McMahon, assistant.

The following were the committee of arrangements: Louis A. Erbeck, chairman; Arnold Miller, secretary and treasurer; F. A. Warden, Jr., F. Anderson, E. Keppeler, C. Pope, B. Feeley, Wm. Conway, Ed. C. McMahon.

If the Black and White cigar at 5c, straight, sold at the National Cigar Stand in Frutcheys drug store, isn't the best cigar in Westfield for the price, then hundreds of smokers don't know what they want. Every day finds more customers for Black and White cigars; every day the old customers come back for them. Three thousand retail druggists formed the National Cigar Stands Company, adopted the National emblem and put better tobacco in a cigar than others can do for the same money.

TO WAR ON SALOONS.

Local Churches Unite in Effort To Secure No License Vote by Council.

PASTORS GIVE THEIR VIEWS.

All Praise Local Excise Conditions But Think Town Can Do Even Better—Petitions Being Circulated.

Last Sunday a representative committee of churchmen circulated in the different churches of this town, copies of a petition to the Common Council asking that hereafter they refuse to grant licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in Westfield. This petition is printed on a post card, to be mailed to the Common Council, and reads as follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the Town of Westfield, N. J.:

The undersigned, a registered voter in the ward, resident, eighteen years of age and over, of the Town of Westfield, appreciating the improvement in excise conditions since the organization of our Town government, but realizing that the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes is a menace to the home, the church, and all that makes for the best and highest good, and desiring to make my position on this evil known, do hereby petition your honorable body to refuse to grant any and all licenses, for the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in our town.

Westfield, N. J., January 29th, 1910.

Name.....St.

No.....

Tuesday, a representative of the STANDARD called on the pastors of the different churches in Westfield, to ascertain the sentiment existing among them concerning this important movement. There was of course no difference of opinion as to the evils of the liquor traffic; as one said, he believed, as far as rum was concerned, it was a good citizen's duty to fight it with the weapon nearest at hand, and whenever he "saw a head to hit it." The petition was approved by all as at least a step in the right direction. The common council came in for much commendation; all expressed their entire confidence in it, and a full approbation of its course in the past.

Dr. Loomis of the Congregational Church said he was in full sympathy with the effort to make Westfield "dry." He thought, however, that all we could reasonably hope for from a common council elected on the present basis is, that they will proceed with the policy hitherto observed in restricting the number of saloons, and perhaps even eliminate one or two of the most objectionable, and that they will continue their work of rigid supervision of those remaining. The Doctor said he thought that the proper way was to raise the liquor question and make it an issue at the nomination and election of the common council, rather than to petition a council elected on another basis.

Dr. Stearns of the Presbyterian Church said he signed the petition to the council, because he was unwilling to accept responsibility for the evil effects which result from the liquor traffic. If the council cannot see its way clear to grant the petition in full, it is to be hoped that they will do all in their power to restrict the sale of intoxicating liquors in our town.

Rev. Sydney Cross, of the Episcopal Church, said that he had been a temperance advocate all his life, and hoped to live to see the day when the use of alcoholic beverages would be entirely discontinued. He said there was no demand for drinking places from the respectable element in town. The spectacle of a drinking place on the principal street of the town was not edifying, to say the least, and the presence of another on the very outskirts, could not be excused except on the plea of alcoholic thirst pure and simple.

Rev. Mr. Greenwood expressed himself as in hearty sympathy with the movement.

Rev. Father Byer was out when the reporter called, and twice when he telephoned to him.

Dr. Hayes, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, thought that the petition gave the members of his congregation and citizens generally an opportunity to register their convictions on this great moral question. The serious charge of making men careless, incompetent and unfaithful to their business and home obligations, is laid at the door of the saloon in this town and all measures which will neutralize or destroy this baneful influence had a right to be considered.

Westfield is regarded as the best regulated excise town in the State.

Newark Auto Show.

The forthcoming Newark Automobile Show, during the week of February 19 to 26, will be of great value to buyers. Dealers who attended the New York shows were unanimous in the opinion that a great deal of the trade value of the national events has been lost on account of the large attendance, and the number of sales actually effected during the show weeks was comparatively small to the business of previous years. The dealers state that on account of this change in the character of the New York shows the local show will be advantageous to intending purchasers, as it will give them the opportunity to compare the respective merits of the different lines of cars at their leisure.

Choir Concert Last Night.

The postponed concert by the choir of the Presbyterian Church was held last evening, and was well attended. The choir was assisted by Mrs. P. B. Scarff and A. A. Proctor's Bijou Dream.

The vaudeville offerings at Proctor's Bijou Dream, of Plainfield, are certain to draw large audiences. The bill includes Catherine Roth, in a novel act; H. D. Cross and Co., in one grand, clever comedy playlet; Poole & Lane, the celebrated Yankee Sharpshooters and Burns and Smith, the latter being the "real goods" in the laugh line.

The films d'art continue to be a strong attraction and receive the merited applause of the most critical patrons. A remark made recently in Plainfield certainly reflects the sentiment of the amusement loving public. It was, "What would Plainfield ever do without Proctor's." It's a part of the city and you must lay aside care and go there.

The local High School boys who won honors are, Arthur Clark, first place in the pole vault, and third place in the high jump; Harry Bull, second place in the shot put and third place in the broad jump; LeRoy Marsh, second place in the half mile and Robert Keyes third place in the half mile; Wilson Sisserson second place in the 220 yard dash senior, and Stanley Reeso, who tied for second place in the 220 yard dash junior.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1910.

A Word to Everybody.

The STANDARD now is installed in Gale's Club House on Elm street, and the plant is fully equipped and able to carry on business as usual. The business offices are at the front of the building in the office formerly occupied by the Town Engineer, A. W. Vars, who has moved into his offices in the Standard Building on Prospect street.

The Standard's telephone number is 271.

The work on the new Standard building is being rushed by Contractor Henry C. Piker, and if the weather man continues to be good, we shall be in our new quarters by the second week in March.

We assure all our patrons that we are well able to accommodate them. Our temporary quarters are adapted to present needs only, but we can report progress in all lines of work. In our new quarters we shall be equipped with new type, cases, motors, presses, and machines for stitching, binding, folding and cutting—in a word we are preparing to give Westfield a newspaper and job printing plant surpassed by none in the county.

We are here to advance the interests of the town. Do not hesitate to let us know your wants, just as if the fire had never happened; for the fire is now a matter of past history, and is only to be remembered as a stepping-stone to better things.

Paris And The Flood.

If one were asked to name the three greatest cities in the world's history, he would answer without hesitation, London, Rome and Paris, and his opinion as to the relative greatness of these three cities, would depend entirely on his viewpoint as to what was meant by the word greatness, and his personal predilection for religion, science, politics, art or commerce. To the ordinary and superficial observer of human affairs, Paris has been perhaps more lightly regarded than any other great European city. Its gaudy and frivolity, its wickedness and immorality have been so often emphasized and insisted upon, that the ignorant and poorly informed, might well be excused if they thought no good could come out of it; but the pages of history, ancient and modern tell a different tale. The genius of the French people, always in the forefront of the world's battles for personal liberty, for scientific achievement, the adornment of life and the advancement of the human race, has found there a kindly and fruitful soil in which to plant the seeds of wisdom and knowledge. It is only when we are brought face to face with such a calamity as has just overtaken the French people, and when at one time threatened to become indirectly world-wide in its effect and consequence, that we realize the value and importance of man's work, in history, in literature, in science, and in art. We are also told in an unmistakable manner of the brotherhood of man; all the people of the earth love the city of Paris and stand ready to help her in her desolation; her sins are forgotten and only her beauty and loveliness remembered.

The city lies in a basin or broad valley of the Seine, which is the only outlet for many small rivers and streams, and it is thought that the soil of this whole basin had been permeated with water to the point of complete saturation, during the last three months by gentle rains, with a moderate temperature, so that when the recent heavy falls of rain came it was not immediately absorbed by the ground where it fell, but ran into the streams as from a roof, and was by them poured tumultuously into the Seine. An abundance of trees, by their roots, would have drawn up this excessive moisture, which in turn would have evaporated and been dissipated through the leaves. Reforestation has been suggested as the only natural remedy.

It is said that 80,000 people are homeless and that over 800,000 will be thrown out of employment. Some of the latter, (the men of course) will be needed to do the work of repair and rebuilding when the flood subsides; how much this will amount to can only be estimated. Many buildings will probably collapse when the pressure of the water is withdrawn from their foundations.

The most imminent peril is—pestilence; it will be little less than a miracle if the city's supply of drinking water is not contaminated and the world appalled and horrified at the result.

Frenchmen are again showing their courage and enthusiasm in the presence of danger. May that same intrepid spirit, which animated the Old Guard at Waterloo, strengthen and sustain them to a triumphant end!

Votes are coming in for the STANDARD'S Census Contest, nearly a hundred having been received up to the present time.

A remarkable feature of the estimates submitted is their variation; guesses as to the town's population varying from seven to nine thousand.

Interest in this contest will increase as the last day of the month approaches. A fair and free field, with no favor, is offered to all the inhabitants of Westfield. Boys and girls, try your luck, you all have three chances to win a prize.

Nothing has emanated from the Jungle these restive days that would lead us to believe that a world-famous Nimrod had lost a whit of his cunning.

Uncle Alfred is coming home—to tell us about it.

A headlines informs us that "The Floods are Subsiding; Paris is Gay."

I. Dead monarchs rule cathedral crypts,
When years have buried years;
Rich warriors leave as heritage
Men's fears and women's tears.

II. Though vault and crypt are the last redoubt
Of general and king,
Christ Church was Wolsey's Truce with God!

In peace his choir still sing,
Of general and king.

III. By Isis, Cam, and changing Seine,

Every doctor knows the futility of trying to make a woman take the rest cure in her own home. She may have every convenience and comfort necessary and all the required time to spare, but her soul yearns for the professional stir of hospital life, the advent of doctors and nurses and the unfamiliarity of surroundings and routine.

MAID—Mr. Lee with a lady and gentleman.

MA—What! Again! Is this annoyance to continue—this is the third time this week we have been compelled to show the house and no prospect again of peace and quietness unless we decide at once to renew a lease for a house or do not want. Oh, I do wish George would buy or build.

Enter Mr. Lee with prospective purchaser, who makes careful inspection and then with a few well chosen remarks from Mr. Lee as to advisability etc. the deal is closed.

Scene 2—Dining room of Got-some-Rocks' House. 7 p. m.

MA—Mr. Lee "the man who knows" Westfield real estate, sold this house today and we will be compelled to leave it May 1st and we have no place to go.

PA—My! but this is a serious state of affairs—rushes to phone—Central 393 please—What, office closed—Well give me Mr. Lee's residence, 167.

Hello! Mr. Lee. Yes. Well can you give me anything to rent from May 1st at $40. Eh—What! no—only six houses to rent in the whole town—and those over $40 unless in inferior neighborhood. Well, what have you for sale? Oh! that's better, yes I'll stop in tomorrow at your office—Elm and Quimby Sts. you say—right, something about $8,000. Must be a bargain. Alright. And you'll fix the terms to suit. Alright. 3:45 train from New York. Good bye.

Pa returns to table—Well Mom that's fixed, Lee has several houses, any of which I think will suit and Mr. Lee will also place us; attending to our fire, burglary and automobile insurance—so so go on with the feast.

And truly with a blessing of thankfulness the meal proceeds.

FROM time to time in the regular course of business, the Westfield Building and Loan Association becomes the owner of its own stock which has been held by some member who retires from the Association. This stock, which varies in age from one to ten years and in quantity from 1 share to 50 shares, was formerly cancelled, but now is placed on sale at a price which makes it a very attractive investment. The regulations governing the sale of this "Re-issued Stock" are such that it is only at certain times that it can be sold. The demand for money is so great that the Association has been obliged to turn away applications for good loans, so that now is the best time to purchase some of this stock for investment. The list of shares on hand is too large to be given in full, but they range in price from $10 up, and if application is made to the Secretary stating the amount to be invested, full information will be given in the matter. Do not delay for now is the time. Every day that is allowed to pass represents a lost opportunity.

A STORE WITHIN A STORE

The Economy Store In the Basement, At Wanamaker's

¶ An aggregation of some thirty sections largely devoted to the less fine grades of ready-to-wear garments for women, children and men.

¶ Grouped on one floor because appealing to people with whom time is no more plentiful than money—and that floor the Basement, because (next to the main floor) the easiest of access.

¶ Conducted on exactly the same pleasing principles, with the same liberal privileges, the same courteous service and the same prohibition of solicitation to buy, as every other floor in the Wanamaker Store. And governed by the same inflexible ruling against merchandise that is not worth while.

¶ A great many people are able to find practically everything they need, sold by Wanamaker's, in the Basement Store. And many others find it a most satisfactory supply source at times when service and small cost are more important than elegance or exclusiveness.

¶ A store that appeals to people whose income is below the level of their intelligence and to all who must for any reason make a little money go a long way.

¶ A store in which the word "cheap" is accepted in its original meaning of "priced below value"—instead of as a reflection upon appearance or quality.

¶ A Wanamaker Store in every way—a growing store—destined to become a great store.

AFTER STORAGE TRUST

Legislature Takes Action, Making It Compulsory for All Stored Goods To Be Branded.

MEASURE BY LLOYD THOMPSON

Local Assemblyman Introduces Bill Calling for $10,000 Appropriation for Prevention of Tuberculosis.

TRENTON, Feb. 1.—The fight to break the high prices now being charged for food products reached the House of Assembly last night in the shape of a bill introduced by Assemblyman James, of Hudson County. This bill relates to cold storage and refrigerator warehouses and the sale and distribution of food kept therein. It provides that all goods stored in such warehouses shall be branded with the day, month and year before the same can be received. It further provides that unless such goods are so branded these foodstuffs shall not be allowed to be taken from the warehouse. No goods shall be kept in storage longer than six months, unless the State Board of Health gives permission to retain it for longer than six months, but one year shall be the full term for which any food shall be stored. The State Board of Health is given supervision over all storage warehouses where food stuffs are stored and shall have power to inspect these warehouses. The owners must report every three months concerning all goods in storage, and the violation of any of these provisions is made a misdemeanor.

Another bill introduced by Mr. Sullivan, of Hudson, makes it a misdemeanor to sell, offer or expose for sale the flesh of any animal or fish, or any eggs which shall have been in cold storage or on ice within or without this State, for a longer period than three months.

Mr. White, of Burlington County, introduced a bill which provides for the destruction of hawks at a bounty of 50 cents for each hawk killed. A measure was introduced by Assemblyman Thompson, of Westfield, to appropriate $10,000 for the State Board of Health to use for educational and practical purposes in the study, treatment and prevention of tuberculosis. Mr. Burt, of Middlesex, is responsible for a measure appropriating $25,000 to furnish and equip a department of chemistry at the State Agricultural College.

Senator Wilson, of Atlantic County, introduced a bill which would permit the sale of liquor on Sunday in hotels and cafes where meals are served, where authorized by the local governing body of any municipality in this State. This bill is similar to the Atlantic City bill of last year. Senator Minch, of Cumberland County, introduced a measure appropriating $50,000 for the construction of a wing to the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, and their Wives, at Vineland. A bill by Senator Wilson, of Atlantic County, appropriates the sum of $15,000 to be apportioned by the State Bureau of Shell Fisheries for the purchase of shells and other substances for the natural oyster beds of this State. A concurrent resolution by Senator Leavitt, requests the Senators and Representatives in Congress to approve the bill now pending, placing all the surplus

A Safeguard to Children.

"Our two children of six and eight years have been since infancy subject to colds and croup. About three years ago I started to use Foley's Honey and Tar, and it has never failed to prevent and cure these troubles. It is the only medicine I can get the children to take without a row." The above from W. C. Ornstein, Green Bay, Wis., duplicates the experience of thousands of other users of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures coughs, colds, and croup, and prevents bronchitis and pneumonia. Gale's Pharmacy.

living officers of the civil war on the retired list.

In joint session on Tuesday, State Treasurer Daniel S. Voorhees was re-elected for a term of three years. He received the solid vote of the Republican majority.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate, composed of Senators Ackerman of Union, Wakelee of Bergen, and Fielder of Hudson, gave a public hearing Monday afternoon on Senate Bill No. 1, by Senator Osborne, of Essex, and No. 13, by Senator Gebhardt of Hanterdon, both of which bills apply to the liability of employers.

The principal argument against the measure was made by Alan H. Strong, of New Brunswick, who appeared for the Manufacturers' Association of New Jersey, employers of more than 500,000 men. Mr. Strong made the argument that New Jersey, being situated between the great States of New York and Pennsylvania, was not in a position to enact such radical legislation, which, he claimed, was driving manufacturers to seek protection in other States, where they are not hampered by such laws. Mr. Strong also made the claim that the passage of Mr. Osborne's bill would wipe out the doctrine of contributory negligence. This, however, was denied by both Senator Osborne and Senator Gebhardt, who claimed that the bill would provide that the damages, if any, should be obtained by any injured employee, shall be diminished by the jury in proportion to the degree of contributory negligence of the injured employee. Mr. Strong said that the Ackerman bill of last year was a big step in this class of legislation, and he made the suggestion that this measure be given a thorough trial before any such new legislation should be enacted. He pointed out that the Ackerman bill had been a law but four months and in this time it was impossible to say whether or not it was of a commendable nature. He further stated that in his opinion a Commission should be appointed, which should investigate this subject thoroughly and recommend legislation, if any such is necessary.

W. W. ST. J.

Lecture, "Making of a Magazine."

Owing to the snow storm, only a fair-sized audience greeted Samuel S. McClure, of McClure's Magazine, when he gave his talk, under the auspices of the Men's Club, on "The Making of a Magazine," at the Presbyterian Church, last Friday night. Mr. McClure told how he had happened to start McClure's Magazine, and then mentioned some of the great causes the magazine had advocated and which had so much contributed to its success. His courage in love seemed to be only second to his courage in business, and he hinted at his conquests in both.

He gave reasons for the shortcomings of many things in our American civilization; for instance the starting of a government in a day, instead of the slow and steady development, usual in such tremendous affairs. He thought that Germany had solved the state ownership of railroads question, spoke of the "White Slave" traffic and deplored the fact that the intelligent Anglo-Saxon stock in this country will allow the off-scorings of Europe to govern them through the saloons in the cities.

The next number in the course of the Men's Club will be a musicale, with Charles N. Granville, baritone, and Paul Kifer, cellist.

NOW BOYS AND GIRLS AND GROWN-UPS WHAT'S YOUR GUESS?

The Standard Census Contest Begins Tuesday, February 1 and Continues Through the Month.

As announced in last Friday's STANDARD prizes will be given to guessers as to the population of Westfield in 1910, according to the federal census to be taken next Spring. The terms of the contest are as follows:

To the one making nearest correct guess as to the population of Westfield, a prize of Ten Dollars in gold will be given; to the one making the next nearest guess Five Dollars in gold will be given; and to the third, will be given a year's subscription to the STANDARD. All guesses must be addressed "Census Contest" and sent to the STANDARD by March first. It is not necessary to be a subscriber to the paper. All ages, colors, creeds and nationalities are welcome. This offer should appeal to the bright boys and girls of Westfield, who are always glad to get money either for spending or to start a bank account, or would be glad to get a bright, independent newsy paper, every week for a year.

The contest will open February 1st, 1910 and close February 28th, 1910. All guesses must be made over the signature of the contestant. No aliases allowed.

Cut this out, and fill in blank, and mail or deliver to "Census Contest," STANDARD, Westfield, N. J.

Training for Success.

To overcome the odds against him to-day the young man who hopes to be anything but a less-than-average citizen will have no time for self-education, and he will have to blunt his appetite for flattery till it ceases to trouble him.

Male and Female Intellect.

"Fit the same intellect to a man, and it is a bow-string—to a woman and it is a harp-string. She is vibrant and resonant all over, so she stirs with slighter musical tremblings of the air about her."—The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.

Hard-Won Harvests.

Cultivation of the soil under an all-mate like ours invariably partakes of the nature of a gamble. The manufacturer, as a rule, can calculate the risks he has to run, and, if he is an adept, avoid them. Not so the farmer. Forces utterly beyond his control may undo the best of his work.—English Country Life.

Multiplex Telegraphy.

C. B. Stearns of Boston was the first man to discover how to send two messages over the same wire, but by his method the two messages could not be sent in the same direction. A year later, in 1873, T. A. Edison discovered how to send more than one message in the same direction, later increasing the number.

The Oasis of Love.

The mind's eye shows us love as the oasis in the Sahara of life; so, together, two set out to seek the haven of rest in the great journey. But, as the travelers approach, their paradise recedes; in just such measure as the pilgrims hasten, their Mecca retreats. Love is a witching chimera—life's most beautiful optical delusion.

The Death Watch.

The "death watch" that produces the weird tickings formerly so feared, is nothing more or less than a mischievous and destructive little beetle madly in love and very desirous of finding its mate. Thus is the fallacy of our ancestors regarding this mystery dispelled.

Unselfishness in the Home.

The law of unselfishness must be the essential element of the home spirit. Perfect love casts out selfishness. One selfish soul in the home is not only like an ugly thorn bush in the midst of a garden of flowers, marring the joy, but it destroys the sweetness of the home.

Wise Child.

"Well, Ernest, tell me what papa said when he heard I was coming." Ernest—"Oh, no, 'auntie, I'm no infant terrible!"

All the Difference.

To love a good woman is a liberal education. To love a lady of fashion is a commercial education.—Leslie's Weekly.

Such is Human Nature.

"Ef life wuz all peaches an' cream they'd be an awful price put on vinegar."

Hard Task Set for State.

It is the duty of the state to make virtue easy and vice difficult.

Home Place for Growth.

Most married people aim to have a showy house, but home is not merely four square walls; it is a place for growth, for growing together, "like a double cherry growing parted." It is a place for children to grow into physical vigor and moral health.

An Elastic License.

"I may have been in error," admitted the bard, "but my poetical license ought to cover the indiscretion." "Cover such a break as that? Say, you'll be using that license to run an auto next."

Old Embalming Secret.

Having preserved and kept for about 40 years the body of an adult man, prepared for burial, Undertaker T. J. Hammell of Minorsville, Pa., thinks he has rediscovered the old Egyptian embalming process.

Shifting the Loss.

Dittersdorf—"Here come two evil looking rascals. I shouldn't wonder if we were held up." Holmes—"I'm afraid so. By the by, here's that dollar you lent me this morning."—Mag-gendorfer Blatter.

Our Own Troubles.

When you hear a man telling about the troubles incident to his business, doesn't it seem to you that yours are ten times worse?—Atchison, Kan., Globe.

Significant.

"When you hear a man hollerin' dat some folks has no' luck dan sense," said Uncle Eben, "it's generally a sign dat he ain' been havin' much of either."—Washington Star.

To Be Happy.

To watch the corn grow or the blossoms set; to draw hard breath over plow-share or spade; to read, to think, to love, to pray, these are the things that make men happy.—John Ruskin.

Usually the Case.

When a man says that his conscience requires him to make full restitution it may be taken as true that the law is about to require the same thing.

The Elmwood Apartments are the most complete in town. See E. S. F. Randolph, Agent.

More people are taking Foley's Kidney Remedy every year. It is considered the most effective remedy for all kidney and bladder trouble that medical science can devise. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities, builds up the system, and restores lost vitality. Gales Pharmacy.

The Lucrative End.

"So you don't want to be the manager of my new hotel?" "No," answered the head waiter. "I'd rather go on accepting gratuities in my present menial position." "But you won't have any dignity or authority." "True. But the chances are that I will eventually have a mortgage on the place."—Washington Star.

Caught.

"Pahaw!" exclaimed Miss Yerner, impatiently, "I'm sure we'll miss the first act. We've waited a good many minutes for that mother of mine." "Hours, I should say," Mr. Slonum retorted rather crossly. "Ours? Oh, George," she cried, and laid her blushing cheek upon his shirt front.

New Diseases.

The perfecting of common things and the removal of obstacles seem like it would result in perfect ease and unrelieved health, after a while; but I suspect it'll only mean a shiftin' of privates an' a new class of ailments—an' healers.—Ruth McNery Stuart, in Century.

Very Different Case.

Father (to bashful son)—"If you want the young lady why don't you take courage and propose? How do you suppose I managed when I got married?" Son—"Oh, yes, you married mother; but I've got to marry a strange girl."—Boston Transcript.

If You Want to Be Liked.

Listen graciously to advice kindly given. Of course, there will not be the least necessity for you to take it, but, on the other hand, you may learn something that will be a very real help to you, either at the time or later.—Home Chat.

Their Reality.

"Are those two sisters fine girls? Well, one is a pattern and the other a model." "Are they so good as that?" "Good in each one's own way. The pattern girl is a dressmaker and the model one with a cloak manufacturer."

Reply in Kind.

College Student—"Roses are red, violets are blue. Send me ten dollars and I'll think of you." Loving Father—"Some roses are red; others are pink. Inclosed find ten dollars. I don't think."—Independent.
