L. WHITAKER RETIRES.

Will Not Seek Re-appointment to the Local Postmastership Because of Ill Health.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR THE PLACE.

Executive Committee May Decide Tonight—Mr. Whitaker's Success Due to His Yankee Shrewdness.

A new turn was given to the local political situation this week by the announcement of the declination of Postmaster Luther M. Whitaker to accept reappointment. Mr. Whitaker's letter did not come as a surprise as it has been known for some time that he would probably withdraw from active affairs because of ill health. But the positive statement that he was out of the race for the best local job within the power of the local Republican Executive Committee to bestow, has started several available candidates working to secure the coveted post. Among those most prominently mentioned for the office are Freeholder Charles A. Smith, Fire Chief Frederick C. Decker and Assistant Postmaster Augustus K. Gale. The local postmastership pays from $3,000 to $3,500 per year.

The Republican Executive Committee will meet to-night and talk over the situation. The appointment is made by Congressman Charles N. Fowler, through the local Republican Executive Committee. Appointment must, of course, be confirmed, but it is hardly possible that the selection of the local organization would be questioned by "the men higher up." The local committee may agree upon Mr. Whitaker's successor to-night.

Mr. Whitaker's letter is as follows: WESTFIELD, N. J., June 13, 1910. Mr. Charles N. Coddling, Chairman Westfield Republican Executive Committee:

DEAR SIR—My time as postmaster at Westfield has expired. I feel that in my present condition of health I cannot give the office the attention it should have, and also think my time should be entirely given up to regaining my health. I therefore inform you that I shall not seek a re-appointment, and that the committee is at liberty to make a recommendation without thought of me.

I have enjoyed holding the position very much, and am very grateful to the Republican organization for its past favors. It is needless to say that anything I can do in the future for the support of the organization will be gladly done.

Respectfully,

L. M. WHITAKER.

The retirement of Luther M. Whitaker as Postmaster of the Town of Westfield removes from the ranks of active workers a unique and interesting personality. Mr. Whitaker came here when a young man and was first employed as a clerk in a local shoe store. He gradually worked his way into politics, served as Town Clerk and member of the local Executive Committee. He was an active and staunch Republican organization worker and a supporter of Charles N. Fowler.

Mr. Whitaker owes his success to his Yankee shrewdness and common sense. He worked silently. At public meetings he came and went, in the role of the peace-maker, and seldom if ever did he express an opinion. His judgments were always respected. Mr. Whitaker's shrewdness was his strong card in business transactions. To illustrate:—

In the days when Westfield's business section was worth a little less than half it is to-day, the lot at the corner of Broad and Prospect streets was to be sold at Elizabeth. Whitaker and John Darsh wanted it. They both went to the scene of the sale on the appointed morning only to learn that the sale would not take place that morning. The two men stood around, Darsh finally inquiring of Whitaker if he thought the sale would take place that day.

Whitaker shook his head dubiously. The expression was eloquently negative. "Probably not," he replied. "I wouldn't be surprised if it were put off a day or two."

The men separated; Darsh returning to Westfield; Whitaker taking another route. In those days the Lender office was the rendezvous for the whist and pinocle players, among whom were Whitaker and Darsh. The former was engaged in a game that night when the latter entered. No one said a word; the game was interesting. It was Whitaker's deal. He shuffled the cards carefully, Darsh eyeing him.

"Did you stay at Elizabeth to-day?"

MAKE-SHIFT SCAFFOLDING BREAKS; THREE MEN THROWN TO GROUND.

McDeed Brothers Slightly Injured; Larsen Not Hurt.

Anthony McDeed, Elmer McDeed and C. Larsen, employees of the Modern Shop Company, were at work painting the Methodist parsonage, Wednesday afternoon, when a make-shift scaffolding, upon which they were standing, broke and they were thrown to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet. Fortunately none was seriously injured; Larsen escaped unhurt, Anthony McDeed sprained an ankle, and Elmer McDeed sprained his back. Larsen continued at his work, but the other men were taken to their homes in the automobile of the company. Dr. Sinclair was called and he declared that the injuries were very slight.

It was said at the offices of the Modern Shop Company, yesterday afternoon, that the men had disobeyed orders in using an extension ladder for making a scaffolding. Only the day before, it was declared, they had been warned of the danger of this practice. The extension ladder broke at the joint because of the weight of the three men.

Elect Sunday School Officers.

The Presbyterian Sunday School held its annual election Monday night. The following officers were elected: Superintendent, M. B. Dutcher; vice-superintendent, William Sisson; secretary, W. O. Wheeler; treasurer, A. H. Clark; executive committee, Arthur N. Pierson and Miss Carrie Fowler. It was decided that beginning this autumn, regular monthly meetings of the teachers would be held at their respective homes.

Cake and Apron Sale Nets $25.

The Cake and Apron sale held under the auspices of the Junior C. E. Society of the Baptist Church in the Abbott building, Saturday afternoon, was an unqualified success. In spite of the steady rain there was a large attendance and about $25 was netted. Miss J. L. Kenney, of West Broad street, was in charge of the sale.

HARKRADER ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Succeeds Lloyd Thompson at Head of Men's Federation—Plan for Work.

The Federation of Men's Church Clubs held its annual meeting in the Congregational Church, Monday night. The Federation is planning to hold Sunday afternoon meetings, of a religious nature, on the different church lawns. A plan to hold a series of base ball games between the different clubs was considered. President Lloyd Thompson presided and the local churches were well represented. After the annual reports from the officers and committees were read, the following officers were elected: President, T. T. Harkrader; vice president, G. E. Jackson; secretary-treasurer, M. A. Hallett. The incoming president announced the following committees: Spiritual work, E. A. Walte, Arthur N. Pierson, H. G. Boardman, W. A. Dempsey; social and civic, A. H. Luck, W. S. Webb, R. V. Hoffman, J. W. Davis; membership and finance, C. A. Church, David Coulter, H. S. Embree, F. J. Turner.

Certiorari Proceedings Dropped.

By the action of Mr. Wilson Potter in withdrawing his bill for $100 for submitting preliminary plans for the proposed new school building, the certiorari proceedings of Linnus Hatfield against the local Board of Education and Mr. Potter have been dropped. The willingness of Mr. Potter to co-operate with the Board to avoid a legal tangle speaks well for him as a man.

Willow Grove Society Elects Officers.

The Woman's Sewing Circle of Willow Grove held its annual meeting in the chapel, Wednesday afternoon. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. William Sisson; vice-president, Mrs. Garde; secretary, Miss Anna Scudder; treasurer, Miss Emma Dickson. Mrs. Loomis gave a very interesting talk which was greatly enjoyed by those present. A pleasant social time was had.

Archibald & Scudder Close for Season.

Archibald & Scudder, the local butchers, have decided to close their store for the summer season. This move is due to the extremely high prices of meats and the additional ice needed during the summer. The store will be given a thorough overhauling. Mr. Scudder told a STANDARD representative yesterday that the firm expected to resume business about October 1.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON EXPLAINS STATUS OF SCHOOL SITE QUESTION.

Move for Resubmission in Line With Expressed Public Sentiment.

EDITOR STANDARD: Ordinarily a majority decision, once rendered, should stand. The result of the recent school meeting, however, leaves it still an open question as to just what is the real sentiment of the majority about the wisdom of an addition to the Washington school. The vote undoubtedly was a rejection of the Mountain avenue site. Was it an endorsement of the Washington addition? The majority was ten votes. More than that number told me personally they voted for the Washington addition solely because they thought it was the necessary alternative to the Mountain avenue site, and that they did not know they could have voted against both sites. They alone would have been enough to prevent a majority for the addition had they voted with full knowledge of the law governing the balloting. Since then scores have declared they likewise misunderstood the case. One man told me his family were informed at the school that they might vote against both, but they thought their informant must be mistaken because the ballot had the one proposition set forth, followed by the word "or" in large, heavy black type, and then the other proposition, indicating to their minds the necessity of choosing one or the other, and they therefore neglected to vote against both, though they preferred to do so. Of course no criticism of the ballot is intended, for that was in legal form and was not meant to mislead. After talking with many I became convinced that the vote was not a positive and correct expression of the sentiment of the voters so far as the Washington school addition is concerned, and that the misunderstanding of the conditions was alone responsible for the slender majority of ten out of a total vote of thirteen hundred and fifty-two. I therefore signed the preliminary petition requesting the Board of Education to defer action on the subject at its most recent meeting and until a formal school meeting and give the voters a fair opportunity to express a choice between the Washington school addition and some other proposition, probably a second ward school, that seemed to meet with most general approval on an informal canvass of sentiment. I have interviewed members of the Board of Education on the subject, both the so-called majority and minority members, and find every disposition among them to give the people the fullest opportunity to decide the whole question as the people deem best, and I am assured that if the people want such an opportunity, and petition for it in the regular way, and if the meeting can be legally held, it will be called.

I do not wish at this time to attempt to anticipate the opinion of the legal advisers of the Board by venturing my own opinion concerning the legality of the proposed meeting; but that question will be definitely settled before action is taken. In the meantime the sentiment seems to be almost unanimous that we should have another meeting, to be held with the air cleared of excitement and misunderstanding, and that the verdict then to be rendered shall be final.

LLOYD THOMPSON.

Tuttle Favored by County Democrats

Only one name, that of William E. Tuttle, Jr., was mentioned as the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fifth Congressional District at the Union County Democratic meeting at Elizabeth, last Friday night. James E. Martine, of Plainfield, in a speech declared himself in favor of Mr. Tuttle and thought he should be the standard bearer of his party this fall. The view seemed to be unanimous that there would be no opposition from any part of the district to Mr. Tuttle's nomination, should he desire to run.

Admission fee to the field will be ten cents.

To Discuss Camp for Boys.

Every Christian Endeavor in Union county has been asked to send a delegate to a meeting to be held in the Presbyterian parish house to-night at eight o'clock. Fred C. Lounsbury, Jr., of Plainfield, chairman of the Fresh Air Department in the county C. E. Union, called the meeting to discuss the proposed fresh air camp for boys. An expedition to carry on the fresh air work will be formed.

CLASS OF 1910 RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

Twenty-one Members Graduated From Westfield High School at Exercises Last Night.

HON. F. S. EDMUNDS THE SPEAKER.

Practical Talk On Objects of Education—Honor Pupils Give Able Orations—Large Audience Present.

The graduating exercises of the local High School were held in the Washington school auditorium last night, at eight o'clock. Warned by the crush on class day night, no one was allowed to stand in the aisles and doorways. Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmunds, of Philadelphia, gave the address to the graduating class and presaged the diplomas. The platform had a background of olive green hangings and was decorated with palms, roses and enormous bunches of daisies. At rear of stage were the class numerals "1910" in electric lights. In the proscenium arch was the class motto, "Per aspera astra" in black letters. Seated on the platform were Rev. Dr. S. L. Loomis, Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, Dr. J. J. Savits and Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmunds. At eight o'clock the graduates marched in by twos. The boys wore dark suits and the girls were gowned in white, each carrying a white fan. They were seated in a semi circle on the rear of the stage. The program was as follows:

Overture, "Orpheus," Offenbach; Invocation, Rev. A. W. Hayes, D. D.; Fantasia, "La Tosca," Puccini; Salutatory, A Plea for Enthusiasm, Mary Conger Worth; Selections, Dollar Princess, Fall; Valedictory, The English View of the American Revolution, John Arthur Rabb; Recreance, Jocelyn, Godard; The Memorizing, Mendelssohn's Tune, Witmark; Address with Presentation of Diplomas, Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmunds, Philadelphia, Pa.; Award of Prizes by Woman's Club, Rev. Samuel L. Loomis, D. D.; Medley on Popular Airs, Wad; Benediction, Rev. W. A. Hayes, D. D.; March—finale—"Blame of Glory," Hiltzman.

Prof. Szackvary's orchestra, of New York, furnished the music. The orchestra was concealed.

The highest honors and the valedictory were won by Joap Arthur Rabb with an average of 94.4%. This is the best record ever made in the local High School. Madelyn Worth won the salutatory with an average of 92.4%. Mildred Bunce had an average of 90.8%. Miss Bunce also won the prize essay contest on the theme of a "Boy's Club." To be graduated a pupil must maintain an average of 85% for the four years, and must not fall below 80% on any one subject. Madelyn Worth saluted the class and audience in Latin and delivered the rest of her address in English. Her gracious manner and well modulated voice, no less than her able presentation of her subject, brought forth long and well deserved applause. Arthur Rabb maintained his reputation as the honor member of his class by his excellent delivery of an unprejudiced, thoughtful oration. He received an ovation after his speech.

The class of 1910 has the reputation of being the banner class.

Sophie Hohenstein took the English course, Edna Coddington and George Delatour, Jr., the Commercial course, Winnie Davis, Donald Taggart, Arthur Rabb, Mary Clark, Ruth Stauffer, Anna Smith, Rufus Green, the modern language course, and the remaining members of the class took the classical course.

The Board of Education some time ago had notices sent to the parents of the pupils about to be graduated, requesting that the graduating dresses of the girls be made as simple and inexpensive as possible. However, many keen observers failed to detect any Jeffersonian simplicity or Spartan severity of the gowns. Dr. Savits introduced the Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmunds, as a teacher of extended experience in High School work, lecturer, member of an important Board of Education, lawyer and educator. Mr. Edmunds said in part:

"I like to feel that our 10,000,000 of children are an army of prophets. For the world keeps moving by one generation taking up the work of another. How does education touch life? For personality and opportunity and other factors help as well as training. You have all taken the same tests, but twenty years from now this equality will have disappeared. Education is an important factor, but not the whole thing. A diploma does not guarantee success. The

There's to happiness, the foundation of life, the builder of future; it never fails to dispel the blues; for it's the antidote to vapors of melancholia; it's the curb rays piercing the cloud of darkness, the message of love of life, health and contentment; in its absence nothing can thrive; it's the emblem, the symbol of a clear conscience.

Proposals For Fire House.

Sealed proposals for the erection of fire house for the Town of Westfield according to plans and specifications to be furnished on application to the undersigned, will be received by the Council of the Town of Westfield on Monday evening, June 20, 1910, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Council room, 121 Prospect street, Westfield, New Jersey.

Proposals must be accompanied by a certified check for one hundred dollars as a guarantee of good faith.

The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

ROBERT F. HOHENSTEIN, Chairman.

Rat Attacked Infant.

The story of a rat's ferocity comes from Aberdeen, Scotland, where an infant was attacked by the animal and badly bitten.

A woman was awakened in the early morning by the screams of her five-weeks-old baby which was in bed beside her. On turning up the light she found blood on the baby's wrap, and on examining it was found that one of the child's fingers had been almost bitten through.

The One That Suffered.

A colored blacksmith in Georgia was recently engaged in shoeing a mule when the mule switched around suddenly and kicked him on the head.

A few days afterwards some one asked the mule's owner if the blacksmith was much hurt. "I don't know anything about the blacksmith," he said, sourly, "but I know one thing, I've got a fool mule that's going around on three legs."

Sexton's Narrow Escape.

The sexton of the Methodist church at Ellendale, Del., had a startling experience the other Sunday morning.

As he was ringing the bell for service the tower collapsed and fell through the thin flooring just as he had finished the last stroke. He managed to escape uninjured, but the bell was smashed to atoms in the crash.

Knowledge.

Properly thou hast no other knowledge but what thou hast got by working: the rest is all yet a hypothesis of knowledge; a thing to be argued in schools, a thing floating in the clouds, in endless logic-vortices, till we try it and fix it. "Doubt, of whatever kind, can be ended by action alone."—Thomas Carlyle.

Honest Confession.

The census enumerator was confronted at the door by a meek and apologetic little man. "Who's the head of the house?" asked the census man. "From a strictly legal standpoint," replied the little man, "I suppose I am, but when you get right right down to brass tacks I ain't."

Treasure Found in Barn.

Quite a fortune was found in an old barn at Indiana, Pa., the other day. While tearing down the structure, which formerly belonged to his uncle, who died recently, Frank Kehne found a trunk hidden beneath the floor in which was secreted $3,000 in bills and cash.

Crow Disseminator of Disease.

Another reputation is gone. Modern research has, according to a colonial office report, proved carrion crows to be disseminators of disease instead of useful scavengers, and they are no longer to be protected in the towns of British Guiana.

Just Like a Trust.

"It looks like a blossom trust," said Spring. "For there are wire fences around the finest peach and plum trees. But it isn't my fault. I'd trim all the women's hats for 'em free if I had a chance!"—Frank L. Stanton.

The Philosopher of Folly.

"I tried to surprise a lady friend of mine by calling unexpectedly the other day," says the Philosopher of Folly, "but she must have seen me coming. There was one of my photographs on the mantel."

Vision to Be Trusted.

The vision of things to be done may come a long time before the way of doing them is found.

The Most Industrious Store in Newark—The City of Industry

Thousands of Trunks Bags and Cases

To Be Sold at Prices Averaging Half

Imagine half a dozen baggage stations combined in one. Imagine them at a time when traffic on the railroads is heaviest and trunks are piled as high as a man can reach. Imagine a baggage-room 75 ft. wide by about 200 ft. long, piled full of trunks, bags and cases, with only narrow aisles between—then you will have some conception of the enormous lot of these traveling requisites that were involved in the T. B. Peddie & Co. failure and which we bought from the receiver, Frederick F. Guild.

This was the only house in America that had the courage to bid for the entire stock—fully $45,000 worth—and the receiver was glad to sell it to us rather than parcel it out amongst the dozens of concerns that wanted smaller lots. We knew the good thing and we made the best of our opportunity to bring to the people of New Jersey the greatest trunk and bag bargains ever known—at the very moment when they are most wanted by travelers and vacationists.

In this bankrupt stock are all the trunks, bags and cases that were in the factory completed or in process of manufacture, not a piece going to any other store. Fully 90 per cent. was made for this season's delivery and hundreds of pieces were completed after our purchase. From this you will realize that the stock is up-to-date in every way, and the name and fame of the T. B. Peddie & Co., for over 70 years at trunk making, is sufficient guarantee of the worthiness of every piece that goes into this sale.

There are big trunks and little ones.

Great Wardrobe Trunks for both men and women at from $25 to $50.

Sole Leather Steamer Trunks, 15 to $30.
Other Steamer Trunks at from $2 to $25.
Basket Dress Trunks at from $15 to $25.
Canvas Covered Trunks at from $2 to $8.

Tray Trunks at from $16.50 to $19.50.
Dress Trunks at from $8 to $10.
Suit Cases from 75c to $25.
Hand Bags from 50c to $20.

Bags of many other sorts—big and little—for all purposes, $1 to $10.

The Variety is something stupendous! Of many things there are only a few of a kind; of some we have quantities, especially of the choicest things in the stock.

In almost every instance our selling prices will be about the usual Peddie & Co. wholesale prices. Thousands of dollars' worth of the stock will be sold at much less than half price. Thousands of pieces will be sold at exactly half price, and not a piece in the lot will cost you any more than two-thirds its actual value.

It is your opportunity—everybody's opportunity—to buy trunks, suit cases and bags for immediate or future use, even for Christmas gifts. It is an opportunity that cannot readily come again.

The Revival of the School Question.

The effort now being made to secure a reconsideration of the school question by resubmitting it to the voters is in line with a strong sentiment in favor of a school in the East Broad street section. It is in no sense to be regarded as a measure to handicap or embarrass the minority in the Board of Education who supported the Washington site at the recent election. It was felt then, as it is felt most keenly now, that the proposition to add to the Washington school was advanced as an alternative by which to defeat the Mountain avenue site, and that the large vote for the former was a protest against the latter, and in a measure due to a misunderstanding as to the effect which a vote against both propositions would have on the result of the election. Many who voted for the Washington site have since declared that they did so through fear that a ballot against both sites might lead to the selection of the Mountain avenue site.

The petition soon to be circulated—provided the law opposes no barrier, a matter which is now being thoroughly investigated—will simply request of the Board of Education that the Washington site and a specified site in the Broad street section be submitted to the voters at a special school meeting to be held as soon as possible. The proposition will not carry a larger appropriation than that already provided for by the additions to the Washington school, $65,000, and, further, it will provide for school accommodations where they are more needed.

It is thought that the petition for a reconsideration of the school question is a step in the right direction and one that will meet with the approval of a majority of the taxpayers and every member of the Board of Education.

The Tax Question.

The recent report of the special committee appointed by Mayor Alpers to investigate local methods of taxation has revived a much mooted question: How shall taxes be equalized?

The report of the committee is illuminating in this respect, that it gets at the vitals of the question by indicating that the remedy for past evils is in the hands of the tax payers. To secure just taxation the electorate must co-operate. Fault-finding often is untimely, and it never is constructive. In days gone by complaints have been made after the tax assessments have been levied. Aside from agitating the public mind against the inadequacy of methods, it has done very little, if anything, to right a wrong. The agitation of last winter, however, went more to the point. Instead of promiscuous and impertinent kicking, material arguments were introduced through a public hearing by which specific instances of unjust taxation were pointed out and sufficient evidence placed before our investigators whereby a constructive method of correction might be applied.

We are now entering upon a new year and the methods of taxation are somewhat improved. Tax-payers will now have an opportunity to take part in the administration of our taxing system. Those who find serious fault with the old can give an intelligent interest to the new methods. The success of the new plan will depend largely upon the spirit in which it is received and the quality of the co-operation given to our tax assessors by our tax-payers. If every citizen of Westfield be desirous of protecting the whole community from unequal tax-assessment his attitude of mind must be impartial he must regard the interests of his neighbor as precious as his own and he must be inclined to be absolutely fair with himself.

Tarvia.

As nearly all our residents are aware the town fathers have begun to apply tarvia to our streets. Tarvia when properly applied stands in high repute, as a means of getting rid of the dust nuisance. This year approved methods are being employed. First the street surface is swept off with the horse sweepers rather than with hand brooms. This horse sweeper does the work quicker and better, because it removes all the dust, which is essential to the successful application of tarvia. It is of course impossible to first sprinkle the streets before the sweeping is done because tarvia and water do not mix. To notify each house on the day a street is to be swept would mean considerable additional expense. We think that when the band wagon hoves in sight, if the windows along the street are closed for a few minutes there will be little inconvenience. What is that compared with the dust nuisance for four or five months.

The business section of the town will be treated with water until the holes in the streets are filled with crushed stone and rolled down, after which tarvia will be applied. A little patience and Westfield will have streets second to none in the county. Chairman Affleck of the Road Committee and Town Engineer Vars are doing all in their power to have the tarvia applied to our streets quickly and correctly.

A Need Further Emphasized.

The crowded condition of the Washington school auditorium on the nights of the Class Day and Commencement exercises is a further and convincing evidence of the urgent need for an auditorium of sufficient size to accommodate the public when meetings and entertainments are held. Westfield has always suffered in this respect. The Presbyterian church is the only building in town that is adequate, and this edifice cannot be used for public gatherings of every kind. It is dedicated to religious purposes.

It is to be hoped that some public-spirited citizen will soon erect a building, centrally located, that will have a seating capacity of from 1500 to 2000. Until this is done the public must endure the discomfort of crowding, and often the embarrassment of being turned away, conditions which invariably duce the edge of appreciation.

The Fatal Fourth.

The efforts to bring about a sane celebration of Independence Day are commendable. In the past this has been the day of tetanus, powder-poisoning, hospitals, mutilations, fires and death. The fact that children have a love of noise and objective demonstrations is hardly a reason for subjecting them to such perils. Nor does it suffice for a person to answer that he has seen many celebrations and has seen few or no serious accidents on July 4. Such experience is limited.

Not to mention the danger from fires, singed eyebrows, scorched fingers and cuss words, the statistics of Fourth of July celebrations in America are significant. Between 1808—1808 Independence Day Celebrations were responsible for 1,316 deaths and over 27,000 serious injuries. Last Fourth 215 boys and girls were killed and 3,307 blinded, maimed or otherwise injured. How many children are to be sacrificed July 4, 1910?

To the class of 1910—May success attend you all.

OBITUARY.

Harrison Denman.

Harrison Denman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Denman, of Mountain avenue, died of apoplexy at 10:30 a. m. Sunday. He would have been 17 years of age in September. He was looking at the base ball bulletin in front of Albert Snyder's store, shortly after 7 o'clock on Saturday night, when he suddenly became ill. A hack was summoned and he was taken to his home and Dr. J. B. Harrison summoned. All efforts to help the boy were fruitless and he became unconscious soon after midnight and remained in this state until death came. He had not been strong for some time and was a second year student in the High School until bad health compelled him to give up school work. He was a member of the K. B. Society and one of the first members of St. Paul's vested choir. Besides his father and mother he is survived by two sisters.

The funeral services were held in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. Sidney Cross officiating. There were present delegates from the K. B. Society and from his former teachers and classmates of the High School. The pall bearers were Roy Marsh, William Buchanan, Reginald Hall, Rutgers Nelson, Christian Shield, Clarence Nosttrand. He was buried in his choir vestments.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Rev. Mr. Cross said it was not the custom in the Episcopal Church to pronounce eulogies over the dead, but he could not forbear to say a word. This is in reality a time of gladness rather than sorrow. A christian boy he lived and a christian boy he died. He leaves with the cross of Jesus going on before.

The body was interred in the family plot in the Harmony Grove Cemetery in Salem, Massachusetts. Harrison Denman was an obedient son and a modest, manly fellow. He was very popular with his classmates and those who were associated with him in his church work and had a host of friends in Westfield.

Kenneth Lee.

Kenneth Lee, son of Mr. Robert Lee, of Albany, N. Y., died suddenly at the home of his father, Tuesday morning. He formerly lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Lee, of Orchard street, and attended the local public schools. He was a nephew of Walter J. Lee.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL EXERCISES.

Pupils of the 7th and 8th Grades Promoted This Morning.

The pupils of the 7th and 8th Grammar grades were promoted to the High School in the Washington School auditorium this morning. The decorations of last night were retained. At 9:30 the pupils marched in and took their seats on the platform.

After a song by the graduates Dr. Savits explained the necessity and utility of the commercial and manual training courses. To-day the schools have to teach many things which need to be taught in the home. After the class sang "Night Sinks Over the Waves," Dr. Savits presented the George B. Dickerson medals to the boy and girl making the highest averages in the grammar courses. Bessie Watts with an average of 91.1%, and Estelle Sexton won the medals.

The diplomas were awarded to 38 pupils, each pupil receiving also a bouquet of flowers. The Woman's Club prizes for the best essay on a gymnasium were awarded by Dr. Loomis. Percy Foster and Lottie Beaumont were the winners. The committee to judge the essays were President Stern of the School Board, Mrs. Tremaine and Dr. Loomis. All essays were numbered so that the judges were unaware of the writers until after the awards were made.

Human Interest Service As Applied to Insurance

Nine out of ten persons in procuring fire insurance give no more than the most perfunctory attention to such a vitally important matter.

Equal neglect in their regular business affairs would inevitably result in bankruptcy.

Read a fire insurance policy and see how painstaking and thorough the company has been in forming its contract for its protection.

The more the company surrounds its policy with safeguards the more essential is the highest degree of care on your part for your protection.

Do you know that fire insurance is only indemnity and that arbitrary or out value, regardless of amount of premium paid, are not allowed in the event of loss?

That your actual loss based on the market value at the time of the fire is all that the law allows an insurance company to pay.

That the amount of your insurance should therefore be fixed after a careful inventory of your goods and a conservative appraisal thereof?

That proof of loss within the allotted time after the fire is not easy without a proper inventory—human memory being fickle?

Well, all these things are true and in pursuance of our Human Interest Service, we furnish a printed inventory book (gratis) which is so systematically arranged that several days' work is cut down to a couple of hours.

We invite consultation in these matters, and we keep track of the expiration of your policies, thus avoiding that lapse which has meant great loss to many unsystematic persons.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Dr. Loomis Speaks Eloquently to Members of Graduating Class.

The baccalaureate services of the local High School were held in the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. Every seat on the main floor and gallery was filled. The platform and front of the church was a tower of roses, palms, daisies and amilax. Rev. Dr. Samuel L. Loomis delivered the sermon. Seated on the platform were the Rev. Dr. W. I. Stearns, Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, Rev. Mr. Greenwood, Rev. Sidney Cross. Seated in the choir were the Presbyterian quartette and the Westfield choral societies. Promptly at 8 o'clock the graduates marched in and took reserved seats in the front part of the church.

Rev. Sidney Cross read the responsive, reading from Psalms 119: 1-24. Rev. Dr. Hayes read the lesson from the fourth chapter of Proverbs. Rev. Mr. Greenwood offered prayer. Rev. Dr. Stearns announced that the offering would be for the benefit of the Children's Country Home. He said these little cripples were in his church this morning and formed a strong contrast to the healthy, robust children about them. They have come into the world handicapped and he hoped the offering would be worthy of our sympathy and ability.

Dr. Loomis took his subject Genesis 50: 20, "God meant it unto good." He said in part:

"When Joseph became ruler over all Egypt, a fearful panic fell on his brothers. They recalled how they had sold him into slavery, and thought his sleeping vengeance would awake. They knew what value an Oriental despot placed on human life. They came before the monarch trembling. But Joseph said: Ye meant it for evil, but God meant it for good, fear not, I will nourish you and your little ones.

"In this event the brothers of Joseph participated. The brothers meant evil, but God meant good.

"This is the story of a crime, and is a tangled net of evil. Joseph was the petted son of Jacob and was clothed in fine raiment and pampered while his brothers were forced to tend the sheep and cattle. They could not endure this bragging young brother. Like many young men destined to a brilliant career, Joseph no doubt had his dreams, but he should have kept them to himself. Joseph was the child of love. Of the four mothers only one was the bride of his heart. One father and four mothers, what a hot-bed of fraternal strife! No doubt the women made trouble in such circumstances, and it was largely the fault of society of that day in condoning and encouraging polygamy. Probably Jacob was too complacent with the arrangement. All this is the brothers' side.

"The Divine side how different a motive. God tries to heal man's moral iniquities. Jacob was deprived of his petted son, and the son was disciplined by the hard work of bondage. God intends better manners, purer laws and loftier ethical standards. All a man does is done in partnership with God, although he may forget this. A man's life is one of God's investments. We are in partnership with God. We are not puppets in God's hands, we are free. Man can dictate the policy of the firm. But if while God means good, man means evil, there is trouble. We could not do anything if we were not in partnership with God. Freedom without power is little good, and we can do little harm with power without freedom. With the two we can make a tremendous failure out of our lives. There is no failure for a man who clings to that Almighty friend. Then no obstacle can prevent a real substantial success. Out of this grows the moral courage."

To the class of 1910 Dr. Loomis said: "The hearts of your friends are with you. We rejoice in what you are and have accomplished and are to become. We shall watch you with interest. Have you thought what all this means to the Silent Partner? How much possible good lies in that future life? Live with God's great purpose and seek his help daily." The services closed with the singing of the class hymn, "Lead Kindly Light."

Cigarette Papers Rolled by Tuberculosis Suspect.

Elizabeth Shepley Sergeant has an interesting article in the July McClure's on the trades carried on in New York tenements. Among other incidents she tells the story of a woman under observation as a tuberculosis suspect who rolls cigarette wrappers for a Fifth avenue merchant. She says:

"Mrs. Olinsky lives in a house in Cherry street, so old and unsanitary that it cannot be licensed. The Olinskys are Russians and have been in New York for seventeen years. The husband is a buttonhole-maker, earning a dollar and a half three days in the week. There are four children, of whom the youngest is a sixteen-month-old baby, and Mrs. Olinsky is glad, when she can get the work to add to her husband's small weekly income two dollars more, which she earns by rolling cigarette wrappers at ten cents a thousand.

"The kitchen in which she works is indescribably dirty. Bread, bones, tin cans, and other debris cover the floor, because as she gets up and begins work at six, and keeps at it till midnight, there is no time to clean up." She is a pious, greasy woman, and does not stir all day from her chair by the kitchen table, where she sits with oblong cigarette wrappers spread out before her like a pack of cards. On the edges of these wrappers she smears a little flour paste, and when about fifty are prepared, she begins to roll them, one by one, over a stick just the size of a cigarette. The paste is still wet on the first ten wrappers that she rolls; but she must lick the edges of the other forty to moisten the dried paste and make it hold."

Judging From Experience.

A little girl whose father was a commercial traveler sat on the porch holding a kitten, and creeping up close her mother heard this: "Kitty," said the young miss, "I know you and I know your mamma and I know all your little brothers and sisters, but I ain't ever seen your papa"—then after a brief pause—"I s'pose he must be a traveling man."

The Usual Way.

It was little Marion's first day at Sunday school; her mother had given her a penny for collection. After Sunday school was over, her mother noticed that Marion had two pennies. "Why, Marion, where did you get that other penny?" she queried. "Oh, they passed the pennies and I took one," was the naive reply.

"My dad said he'd leave me his entire fortune if I'd stay on the water wagon one year." "Well, why look glum? You've done it for 11 months." "Yes—and father went broke yesterday!"

Philanthropy.

The New York butter caught with $15,000 worth of diamonds in his pocket is thought to have perfected some self-tipping scheme so as not to have to annoy house guests.

Not What She Meant.

"My husband never gets what he should for his poetry," said the poet's wife with a tinge of sadness. "Oh, don't be too hard on him," replied the girl, absent-mindedly.

RACE MEET, JUNE 25.

"Miss Syracuse" Will Try to Smash the Local and State Track Record.

The Westfield Driving and Riding Club will hold the first meet of the season at the Fair Acres track, June 25th at 2 o'clock sharp. The great feature of the afternoon will be the effort of "Miss Syracuse," owned by Mr. Miller, of Newark, to lower the local track record of 2:13 1/2, and the State record for a half mile track. Mr. Miller recently paid $5,000 for this horse and she will positively start. The program comprises the same classes, viz.: Free-for-all, trot and pace; 2:30, trot and pace; 2:30, trot and pace; 3:00, trot and pace; and the same entries as scheduled for last Saturday. This means a fast field and an afternoon of rare sport. Mr. Ray Edwards, of Westfield, who has recently been licensed as a professional starter by the National Trotting Association will be in the stand. The judges will be Wesley Johnson, of Plainfield, H. W. Evans and Dr. Egell. The timers will be R. I. Richardson and E. D. Floyd. The admission to the races will be 25 cents; admission to grand stand free. Stages will leave the corner of Broad and Elm streets every 20 minutes. The fare each way will be 10 cents.

Athletics.

The "Cubs" will play the Maplewood Field Club at Maplewood tomorrow afternoon. The first game was lost by a score of 11-1 and Manager MacDonald hopes to even up things. Coddling will pitch.

The races at Fair Acres which were stopped by the rain last Saturday will take place June 25.

The second annual track and field meet of the Union County High School A. A. was held at Roselle on Saturday afternoon. Owing to the heavy rain the track was very soft. Rahway won first place in a walk. Owing to the final examinations the local High School had only one entry.

To-morrow afternoon the Brotherhood of the Methodist Church will hold its field day at the baseball grounds, Westfield avenue. All local athletes may enter. There will be no entry fees. The events are 100-Yard Dash; 230-Yard Hurdle (5-2 6 hurdles); 440-Yard Obstacle Race; 880-Yards Run. Prizes: Gold, silver and bronze medals. Gold medal to highest point winner, silver medal to second highest point winner, bronze medal to third highest point winner. First place in each race to count five points; second place, three points; third place, two points; fourth place, one point.

The play at the Westfield Golf Club in the second round championship last Saturday resulted as follows: Carroll beat Barr, 5 up, 4 to play; Shannon beat Schoonmaker, by default; Heller beat Talbot, 4 up, 3 to play; Perkins beat Howe, 1 up. The semi-finals will be played to-morrow.

BUSINESS COLLEGE EXERCISES.

Prominent Men Take Part at Commencement at Plainfield.

Westfield was well represented at the Commencement Exercises of the Plainfield Business College and School of English, which were held in the Plainfield Theatre on Friday night of last week. When the curtain rolled up at eight fifteen, the theatre was practically filled and the spectacle before the audience called for prolonged applause. Flanked on either side by men of note and national reputation and in a stage setting of the most exquisitely beautiful floral effects, the graduates heard words of praise, encouragement and wisdom from eminent professional and business men. Hon. Charles J. Fisk, Mayor of Plainfield; Congressman Charles N. Bowler; Prof. H. C. Krebs, County Superintendent of Somerset County Public Schools; former Mayor William L. Saunders and Prof. A. S. Herr, the proprietor of the college. All made short addresses to the students and their friends in the audience. The program was carried along with such perfection that the audience was enthusiastic in its applause and every one went away feeling satisfied that they had taken part in a most uplifting and beneficial entertainment.

In opening, the Rev. Gebriel Reid Maguire pronounced the invocation and Mayor Fisk followed in a characteristic speech of congratulation. A pleasing part of the program were the musical numbers by Martin A. Kroff's orchestra. Miss Grace Carroll also rendered several contralto solos which were enthusiastically received. Those who were in the graduating class are: Olive Frances Bishop, William F. Barsch, May Louise Fischer, Louis W. Ulmer, Marie A. Texter, Alice Ella Winter, George Frederick Hall, Jennie Louise Lahr, Marion Rose Blinn, Charles M. Allen, Helen Banting, Mary Margaret Logan, Carrie Saums Brokaw, W. Wallace Hill, Corn Agatha Havenstrite, Maikida Sides, Charles Sebring, Amelia Julia Hansen, Sarah Ann Boyd, Jennie Gustafson, Stella Follows Wilkinson, Mary Powers, William Frederick Reynolds and Beniah Slater Boylan. There are twenty-four members in the class, seventeen young women and seven young men. Twenty-one of the twenty-four are working at the present time, and the other three, who still have a little work to finish in the school, will be out to work in the near future.

The school will continue in session the entire summer. Those in the graduating class being those who completed the work sometime during the year and who came in at this time to receive public recognition for their work.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

It is the First Duty of Citizenship to Co-operate.

The progress of any community in a right direction depends upon the quality of its citizenship. No civic institution or enterprise can succeed unless it be backed up by a wide-awake intelligent public.

Westfield has grown faster than any other town in the state and chiefly because public spirit has kept pace with the growth of population. Interest does not flag; everybody is on the move and no opportunity is neglected to enhance the town's advantages and reputation. This is why, even in an unsettled period such as we are now passing through, people in Westfield are satisfied with their choice of a home town and are urging their friends to come here to live.

And what applies to the Town of Westfield is equally applicable to Westfield's leading commercial enterprise. Windfeldt's Combination Meat, Grocery & Vegetable Market is growing with the community in patronage and in spirit. Why is it you ask? Well, it is because we know what an enterprising community wants and we supply it. This is the secret of our success.

Ask our customers. Any one of them will tell you the history of our growth by recounting the increased advantages that have come to them in the way of household necessities since our modern department store has been in existence. It may interest you to know that every department of our store has grown to many times its original size since it was started; that our custom and service have increased proportionately; that our stock is larger and more assorted by an hundred fold than it was in the beginning. It may interest you to know, too, that we are here to accommodate you. We have so arranged our business that we are able at any time to add a new department, and this we will do if you request it. We are offering to you now the things which are provided in the largest and best stores in the city—and at a lower price. By dealing with us you get the benefit of low prices, of excellent service and help to encourage a local enterprise which is in keeping with a thriving town and the needs of a progressive citizenship. To be a wide awake, progressive citizen participate in the co-operative plan as demonstrated in the world asks, what can you do?

"Education gives efficiency, and this is the demand of the twentieth century. Every man must stand on his own feet. The world needs men who can do things, but not necessarily those who advertise themselves. Education means, that other things being equal, a trained mind means increased efficiency. The power of close application and concentration developed in the school room help to solve the hard problems in after life. Education adds to the joy of living. A mere appreciation of the great facts of the universe is a joy in itself. To-day we hear too much of a mawkish use of the word "culture." Culture means, I am a man and all that is human interests me. It has helped us to know ourselves.

"Education gives an aim to life. It is the duty of educated men and women to lead. America is crying out for leaders. Bishop Treat, of the Philippines, says the American public has maintained Harvard so long because this university has turned out leaders. The greatest man to-day, in America, Roosevelt says there are two kinds of great men. The man who can do unusual things, as Shakespeare or Dante, and the man who can do usual things unusually well. This is the word of comfort to the graduating class. All of you will be called upon to do the usual thing. Those who do it unusually well will be welcomed.

Mr. Spencer then presented the diplomas. Arthur Habb received the grade of magna cum laude, Madelyn Worth, magna cum laude, and Mildred Bance, cum laude."

The following is a list of the graduates in alphabetical order: Raymond Sinclair Brainard, Mildred Bance, Mary Howarth Clark, Adele Bonfield Coddling, Edna Coddington, Grace Morgan Collins, Winnie Lee Davis, George Labatut Delatour, Jr., Rufus Dudley Green, Robert Clinton Hanford, Sophie Hokenstein, Helen Willis Jackson, Mildred Pearl Lambert, Katherine Morgan Penhall, Elsie Purine, John Arthur Habb, Annie Marguerite Smith, Ruth Stauffer, Donald Campbell Taggart, Anna Christine Windfeldt, Madelyn Conger Worth.

In presenting the prizes offered by the Woman's Club on the subject of a gymnasium, Dr. Loomis said four prizes of $5 each were offered. One prize for the best essay by a boy and one for the best essay by a girl in the High School, and simiprizes to grammar school pupils. The grammar school prizes were awarded this morning. In the High School not a boy competed. Mildred Bance won the prize. The essay showed careful reasoning, full information and fluency of style. Dr. Loomis hoped that since the boys would be the ones mainly to use the gymnasium, they would at least submit essays next year. Miss Bance's essay will be published in full in the columns of the STANDARD next week.

Four courses of study of four years each, are given in the local high school, viz., the classical, modern language, English and commercial. The first year classical course comprises instruction in English, algebra, Latin, Greek history, physical geography. The other courses are the same excepting that German is substituted for Latin in the modern language course, in the English course the pupil may elect a foreign language in place of Latin. The second year classical and modern language work takes up English, Roman history, algebra, Latin, foreign language. The English course is the same except for the substitution of botany for Latin. The third year classical course comprises work in English, English history, geometry, Latin, foreign language. The modern language requires both French and German in the place of Latin and a foreign language. The English course requires physics in the place of Latin.

The fourth year classical course requires work in English, Latin, one foreign language, and one of the following: Physics or chemistry, solid geometry and trigonometry, college algebra, foreign language, American history and civics. The modern language course requires work in English, French, German, and allows the same electives as the classical course. The English course requires English, one foreign language, chemistry and the same electives as the other two courses excepting the foreign language, which is required. The commercial courses are explained in another column.

Pennmanship and spelling are required of all pupils. Mechanical and freehand drawing, manual training, including shopwork for the boys and sewing for the girls, and music are optional. They are taken outside of school hours and full credit is given for the subjects.

Keep yourself posted on what is happening in Westfield by reading the Standard. It contains all the news.

Haskell-Peckham.

Miss Ruth Peckham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Peckham, of Hillside avenue, and Mr. William Homer Haskell, of Merrimac, Mass., were married at the home of the bride's parents at 12:30 Saturday. The Rev. H. C. Rush, of Westfield, officiated. Miss Ruth Tubby, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Mr. Paul Peckham, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chene with dutchess and point lace, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The flower girl was gowned in green and white and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The interior of the Peckham house was decorated with palms and roses. Only relatives of the bride and groom were present at the wedding. At the reception which followed at one o'clock, over three hundred guests were present from Westfield, Plainfield, Massachusetts, Elizabeth, Newark and New York.

Gray-Trenchard.

Miss Nadine Trenchard, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Trenchard, of Broad street, and Mr. Frederick Gray, of Cranford, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The Rev. Dr. W. I. Stearns performed the ceremony. Mrs. Maud Treat, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Mr. Newman Gray, of Jersey City, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a beautiful white crepe de chene dress and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was attired in a lavender silk gown. Guests were present from Westfield, Madison, Orange, Somerville, Cranford, Jersey City, New York. The bride received many handsome presents. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Cranford.

Burglars Enter Brown Home—Foiled!

The home of A. W. Brown, of Orchard street, was entered and ransacked by burglars last night. While Mr. and Mrs. Brown were at the Commencement exercises the robbers broke the small glass window at the side of the front door, reached through and unlocked the door. Every room was ransacked, but the intruders failed to discover the place where the family silverware was kept. Fortunately Mr. Brown had taken the precaution to take his money and valuables with him to the school building.

Public Service Offer to Household.

To promote the use of electricity in the home, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey has a new business proposition to submit to householders, which, it feels confident will appeal to all those who recognize the conveniences and advantages that the use of electric current so readily affords.

In brief the plan is this: Public Service will wire any house in this territory and install the necessary fixtures complete and ready for use at a very low price and will accept payment therefor on exceedingly liberal terms.

All wiring will be done in a first class workmanlike manner, wires concealed so as not to mar the appearance of any room; fixtures to be of latest designs and artistic finish with a choice of several patterns and installation to be made without seriously interfering with the routine of the household.

A ten-outlet installation will provide a parlor fixture, a dining room dome, a kitchen drop light and seven side brackets. This will be varied to suit customer's taste if desired.

Cost of such an installation from $6.00 to $7.75 per outlet, according to fixtures selected.

SMALL MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

A word from you will bring our representative with more detailed information.
