A HOME FOR THE BRIDE

Don't you envy this young couple? Of course you do. While he was courting he was paying for a Pearsall Home Site on our easy payment plan. The lot was soon paid for and a home started and completed in time to make a lovely present to his bride. It's the good old American idea—OWN YOUR OWN HOME—and you can do it as easily as paying rent.

PEARSALL HOME SITES

are extremely desirable for convenience of location, high and dry, large lots and fully fenced. It will be worth your while to drop around to our office and become acquainted with our plan of development. Our terms are very reasonable and a home site bought at present prices is bound to show the purchaser a handsome profit.

REAL ESTATE AND INVESTMENTS

SOME men feel a certain delicacy about putting the title to the home in the wife's name, lest it be construed as an attempt to evade creditors and general business obligations. There is no fair reason, however, why a man, when solvent, should not make secure to his family the home they live in. There is just as much in favor of it as in making the life insurance policy payable to the wife. In case of death, also, there are no legal loop-holes through which the property may be lost to the family, if it has previously been given to the wife. The wife may protect the husband by making a will.

LIVELY TIME EXPECTED AT TO-NIGHT'S SESSION OF BOARD.

Some Members Recount Distribution of Ballots Before Election.

It is expected that the meeting of the Board of Education to-night will develop some interesting discussions. It is said that some members of the Board are very much displeased because the ballots for yesterday's election were circulated through the mails this week. This, it is declared, was contrary to the express understanding reached by the members at the last meeting, when it was agreed that no member should take an active part in the election, one way or the other, and that no ballots should be distributed up to the day of the election.

An effort will be made to ascertain how the ballots came into the hands of persons outside of the board for distribution and by whom they were distributed. It is further declared that members of the board will endeavor to show that the distribution of these ballots in the circumstances was contrary to law.

Another interesting point of discussion, it is declared, will be over the action to be taken by the Board upon a petition calling for a rescinding of yesterday's election, which it is said will be presented at to-night's meeting.

SUCCESSOR TO MR. C. B. SMITH TO BE APPOINTED BY COUNCIL.

Felt That Second Ward Should Be Represented in Important Deliberations.

It is authoritatively stated that a successor to Mr. Clarence B. Smith who resigned as councilman from the second ward on account of his removal to another ward at the last meeting of council, will be appointed at the next regular meeting of that body. Just who the appointee will be is not yet known, but it is said that an earnest effort is being made to secure a representative man to fill out the unexpired term or until January 1, 1911.

It was at first thought advisable to leave the place vacant but, in as much as many important questions are to be considered before the end of the year, it was finally determined that the second ward must be fully represented in the deliberations of Council.

BAPTIST CHURCH GIVE TRUSTEES POWER TO BUY NEW PROPERTY.

Hoyt Tract on Westfield Avenue Chosen as Site for Church.

At a meeting of the Baptist congregation held Wednesday night, it was unanimously voted to give the church trustees power to purchase the Hoyt property on Westfield avenue, for church purposes if, in the judgment of the board, it seemed expedient and wise to do so. This is the first step, it is said, in the plan of selling the present church property on Elm street and building a handsome church on the property to be purchased on Westfield avenue. The Baptists are not well pleased with their present location, because it is situated too near the trolley. As there are no restrictions on the property it is said that it can be sold for a good sum and the money thus obtained used to erect the church edifice on Westfield avenue, which will meet the needs of the congregation for many years to come.

MR. MOSER'S STAND.

Republican Candidate for Council From Second Ward Favors Present Excise Conditions.

IT IS NOT UP TO THE COUNCIL.

Prohibition Too Important a Question For Nine Men to Decide—A Practical Business Man.

Mr. Alfred A. Moser, the Republican nominee for member of council from the Second Ward for the one year term, is opposed to no-license. In an interview with a STANDARD representative, Mr. Moser said that he did not believe that the members of council should decide such an important question as prohibition. He favors continuing the four hotels now licensed so long as they comply with the local ordinances and maintain orderly premises, but he opposes any additions to the present number.

Mr. Alfred A. Moser.

Mr. Moser is a practical business man. As an insurance underwriter, he has traveled extensively, and has a comprehensive knowledge of conditions throughout the country. He worked indefatigably straightening out the insurance tangle after the San Francisco earthquake and fire, and it was due to his efforts that many complicated claims were satisfactorily adjusted.

Mr. Moser is opposed for election by Charles E. Burtis.

Mr. Moser's statement is as follows:— "We now have four hotels with bar in town, all of which were licensed by former administrations, and I am in favor of continuing them so long as they comply with the local ordinances and maintain orderly premises, but I should be opposed to granting any additional licenses. Furthermore, I believe it to be the best interests of the town that the nine members of the council should not decide such an important question as prohibition of the sale of liquor for several thousand people. To my mind, a subject of this kind is of sufficient importance to the voters to warrant no change except by a general election, thus giving every voter a voice in the matter.

"In accepting the nomination, I am pledged to no one man or set of men, and if elected, would consider every subject coming before me in an impartial manner and from a strictly business point of view.

"I am in favor of the municipal ownership of the water works system if after full investigation it is found to be practicable and economical to the town."

Councilman Hohenstein Opposes No License.

Editor of the STANDARD— "I don't know that there is anybody who doubts where I stand on the excise question. I have been in the Council for a number of years and I have always tried to handle such questions in a common sense way. I think that Westfield is a good town and that the people will not stand for bad excise conditions. I think, too, that the Council has been conscientious and has done the right thing in times past. My vote in the future will be in favor of granting licenses to the hotels that are now licensed. I shall so vote in council. I cannot be honest to myself and to my ward and vote any other way.

MR. EVANS NOMINATED

Board of Election, After Hearing, Decide That Five of Rejected Ballots Should Be Counted.

BY MAJORITY OF TWO VOTES.

Mr. Evans Is Declared Nominee, P. Q. Oliver Acting As His Council—S. S. Swackhamer for Mr. Hoppeck.

The much disputed First ward nomination on the Republican ticket was settled yesterday when the County Board of Elections decided to count the rejected ballots for Mr. Harry W. Evans giving him the nomination by a narrow majority of two.

The County Board proceeded to count the ballots at about five o'clock, Judge Bergen not being present. By agreement between counsel, the official report was accepted save for the five questioned ballots which had been thrown out by the local board. These five ballots were considered by the Board after hearing arguments of counsel.

Paul Q. Oliver argued that the instructions at the head of the ticket were directory and explanatory only and not mandatory and that the voter transgressed no section of the election law in crossing out the words in the second column showing that the delegates were pledged to Charles N. Fowler. Besides the intent of the voter was plain and the intent should govern.

Ex-Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, the smiling sunbeam of Somerset, argued for Mr. Hoppeck attempting to prove a strict instruction of the law.

After hearing argument, Mr. Oliver of the matter and voted to count the ballots as good.

There is hardly any likelihood of the matter going further. The local Board of Election rejected the questioned ballots by a vote of 3 to 1, Mr. Harold Thompson voting in the negative.

BISHOP OF WALL STREET TO BE HEARD HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Rev. Wm. Wilkinson to Address Meeting on Presbyterian Church Lawn.

Rev. William Wilkinson of St. John's Chapel, New York, who is known as the "Bishop of Wall Street," will address the last of a series of open air meetings to be held on the lawn of the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, under the auspices of the Federated Men's Club of the Westfield churches.

The "Bishop of Wall Street" is a forceful speaker; he is popular both as a preacher and pastor in the financial district of New York, where he frequently addresses large gatherings of business men. He is thoroughly familiar with existing social conditions and his talk here will be interesting and instructive. It is expected that a large audience will be present; there will be vocal selections by a male quartet and other interesting features preparatory to the address of the Rev. Mr. Wilkinson.

SUBURBANS TO ONE.

Local Club to Fraternize at Willett's Thursday Night.

The Suburban Club, of Westfield, a social organization which has a fine suite of rooms in the Pearsall Building and which is interested in contributing to the fraternal atmosphere of Westfield, is planning for a good fellowship feast. The club will give a banquet at the North Avenue Hotel, next Thursday evening, and Proprietor Willett has contracted to give the boys one of his "very best" spreads, done to a fine turn and served to the queen's taste. The committee in charge of the affair, William Heinicke, Robert DeCamp and Herbert Love, are planning an interesting program to be served after the feast. There will be good music and some good singing by a quartette of male voices. It is declared, too, that some of the members, including DeCamp, will be called upon to give a speech. Bob's friends declare that in as much as he is a candidate for office, he will have to have his oratorical ducks on when he comes to the banquet. Bob modestly declines—but his fellow members say he can't work that dodge on them.

EAST BROAD STREET SITE IS CARRIED.

Voters Decide to Rescind Previous Election by Convincing Majority of 104.

TOTAL OF 674 BALLOTS CAST.

Election Featured By Bitter Attack of Opponents—Certiorari Proceedings to Test Election May Follow.

By a vote of 399 to 265 the voters of this school district rescinded the vote of the previous election and declared for the purchase of land for the erection of a school in the East Broad street section at a total cost of $60,000, or $5,000 less than the amount voted for the building of wings or an addition to the Washington school yesterday.

Contrary to indications, the voting was decidedly brisk, and the adherents of both propositions worked hard to secure votes. Interest was actually at a low ebb until a few days ago, when publicity added enough spice to the contest to encourage the voters to come out. The climax in the opposition to the East Broad street site was reached shortly before the opening of the polls yesterday afternoon, when a hand bill was circulated about town calling the attention of the voters to "The Real Estate Sale at the School House To-day." The circular was issued, so one of the circulars bearing instructions to voters said, "by residents of the Second Ward," and it certainly set tongues a wagging. It was a sarcastic fling at Messrs. Grapes and Thompson, who were facetiously called "Grate Tomthumb & Co., Auctioneers." The hand bill stated that "Children can easily reach it (the property) by the aid of flying machines and snow shoes," and "The dealers have a number of parcels that will be available as soon as the woods thin out."

Many residents of the East Broad street section resented the imputation that they were connected in any way with the issuance of the hand bill. Mr. William Gould, of Euclid avenue, had quite a lively time with Mr. Benjamin Boden, one of the leaders of the opposition to the East Broad street site, in which he characterized the circular as a "dirty piece of business." Mr. Gould said later to a STANDARD representative, that he spoke for many voters of the Second Ward when he declared that the circular was both undignified and ungentlemanly, and that he with other of his friends and neighbors wished it to be distinctly understood that they repudiated such action.

The vote was comparatively light during the afternoon. The polls opened at three o'clock, Mr. J. A. Dennis presiding, and Messrs. George Cox, Robert Bentley, William Townley and John M. C. Marsh as election officers. Compared to the previous election, the vote was small. Up to seven o'clock less than three hundred ballots had been cast. But from seven on there was a steady stream of voters, among whom were many women passing in and out of the lower hall where the voting was done. When the last vote had been dropped in the box, the total recorded was 668, but six of these ballots were rejected bringing the total down to 674.

All kinds of rumors were rife after the election was over and the result had been announced. The opposition was far from satisfied with the result, and it was said by some that a writ of certiorari would be taken out preventing the Board from taking action; by others that another petition would be presented to the Board asking for a further reconsideration of the site question. One member of the opposition was heard to remark that "This rescinding business could go on indefinitely if petitions would do it."

The certiorari proceedings, however, are taken to be the next step in the school question. Mr. Benjamin Boden had this to say in this connection, at his home on Lenox avenue, last night:

"I am usually willing to abide by the will of the majority when a question has been put to a vote and decided; but in this case there is a fundamental question as to the legality of the proceedings and if any of those who with me opposed the building of the school in the East Broad street section, determine to issue a writ of certiorari against the Board in order that the legality of rescinding the previous vote may be fully determined, I certainly will stand by them to the last ditch."

Mr. Boden further stated that his position in the matter was the same now as it was before the election. He voted originally for the Mountain avenue site.

CONTROVERSY WITH TAILOR LEADS TO BLOWS IN MILLAR HOME.

Henry Siedner Gets a Beating--Parties Concerned in Court.

Henry Siedner, a local tailor, cleaned a pair of trousers for George C. Millar, Jr., who lives in the house formerly owned by Mr. D. B. Collins, at the entrance to the Big Woods section of Lawrence avenue. Saturday evening, about 6 o'clock, Siedner sent a boy to the Millar home to deliver the trousers; the charge for which was $1. The boy shortly returned, declaring that some buttons which had been ordered were missing, and that if "the Boss" wanted his money he would have to call in person.

Siedner and the boy found the buttons on their way up Lawrence avenue, but when they got to the house there was trouble which resulted in all parties concerned making a bee-line for police headquarters to prefer charges; Mr. Millar, his wife and father thus happened to be complainants in the hearing before Recorder Toney, Monday morning, in which Siedner was charged with assault and battery.

Siedner appeared in the court room looking much the worse for the encounter. His left eye was badly swollen and blackened.

The complainants were in a fighting mood, and Mrs. Millar in telling her story gave the court to understand that she was an aggrieved party. The testimony was conflicting. Millar said that Siedner came to the house and being refused the money because the job had not been done correctly, attempted to jerk the bundle, containing the trousers out of his hands. This led to a mix-up, and when Mrs. Millar came upon the scene, it is charged that Siedner kicked her. For this offense he was badly pummeled by the two men. Siedner testified that the assault upon him was committed without serious provocation, Millar being indignant because he refused to give him the trousers without pay. He further testified that Mrs. Millar had come upon the scene brandishing a revolver and that each of the two men had called to her not to fire. Attorney Oliver who represented the defendant, drew from the Recorder Toney, Monday morning, in which Siedner was charged with assault but they swore that she was not carrying a revolver but a curling iron. Siedner said that he got his beating after the revolver became a factor in the fracas, and he insisted that he knew a revolver from a curling iron, even in the circumstance of having to defend himself against three.

Recorder Toney listened to the evidence and then notified the complainants that they would have to take the matter before the grand jury as from the testimony given he saw no just reason for holding the defendant under bond.

Attorney Oliver says he will take action on behalf of his client at once and sue the Millars for damages. He declares that his client has been shamefully abused and that in his judgment there is a clear case against the Millars.

MISS DECAMP A BRIDE.

Westfield Girl is Led to the Altar by Mr. John Ralph Evans.

Miss Erenetta Virginia DeCamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo DeCamp, of 838 South avenue, and Mr. John Ralph Evans, of South Orange, were married at the home of her parents, 838 South avenue, Tuesday evening, by the Rev. Dr. William I. Stearns, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the bride is a member. Miss Virginia Gale, of Westfield, was maid of honor, and Mr. Robert DeCamp, a brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Samuel Evans, of South Orange; Dr. M. F. Stagg, of Passaic; St. John Bell, of Rutherford; Major Budd, of Chester. Mrs. Joseph Budd, of Chester, played the wedding march.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful gown of white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and a white prayer book. The maid of honor, Miss Gale, wore a gown of pink satin and white messaline, and carried pink roses and a white prayer book.

The DeCamp home was tastefully decorated for the occasion. A very attractive and artistic color scheme of pink and white flowers and drapery enhanced the setting of the wedding party as they stood before the pastor while the ceremony was performed.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride, among them a piano and a diamond brooch, the gift of the bridegroom.

Following the reception in which the happy young couple were showered with congratulations and well wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Evans left for a wedding trip in Bermuda. Upon their return they will reside in New York City. Mr. Evans is employed in the main office of the New York Telephone Company.

Quigley--Campbell.

Miss Elizabeth E. Campbell, daughter of Mr. G. B. Campbell, of Washington Place, Cranford, and William A. Quigley of this place were married Tuesday as noon at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Quigley as bridesmaid and Miss Katherine Campbell as maid of honor; Mr. William Maxwell was best man. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Quigley will return to Westfield, and reside at 402 Boulevard, where they will be at home after November 1st.

Bank's Statement Shows Westfielders are Rapidly Acquiring the Habit.

The figures contained in the advertisement of the People's National Bank of Westfield, furnishes material for some interesting conclusions.

These figures show that the bank has 2069 depositors, with total deposits of $147,250, or an average to each depositor of $216, whereas March 29, 1910, six months previous, total deposits were $880,893, with 1673 depositors, or an average to each depositor of $197.

The increase in number of depositors in gratifying as showing that the people of Westfield are growing to appreciate the benefits of a bank account, and a large percentage of the residents of this community are local bank patrons.

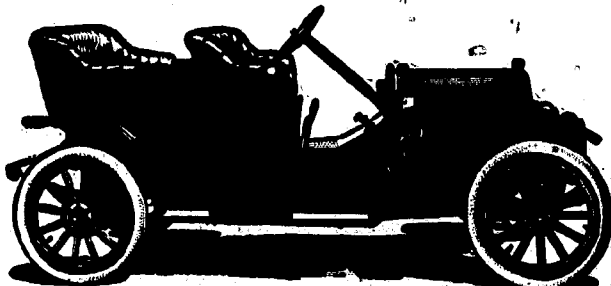

The increase in average balances of depositors shows that the total increase in deposits is not due entirely to new business but that the average bank deposit is steadily increasing. So far as Westfield is concerned, the claim that extravagance is increasing would seem to be disproved by these figures.

PRESBYTERIAN CLUB PROPOSES

Cantonborn String Quartet to be Here October 28.

The first concert in the course of the Club of the Presbyterian Church, to come off October 28. The Cantonborn String Quartet, the most perfect organization of its kind, as stated by the Y. Globe, will be the attraction. The musicians are in great demand for the musical and society people of the city. Their programs are varied and include the best works of all the composers, classical and popular chamber music, they are always in demand for engagements at the leading colleges, high schools and musical societies, clubs and private musicales, etc.

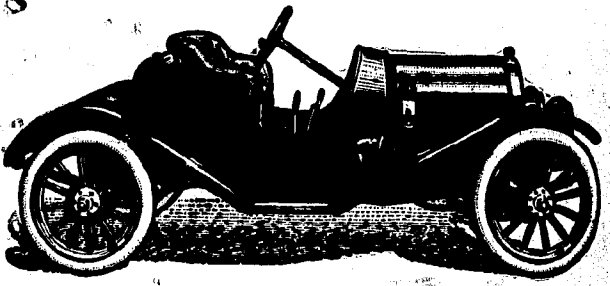

November 25 the attraction will be mixed voices, in quartet with Miss Wolcott, accompanist; Miss Kerns, soprano; Miss Rose Bryant, alto, heard here last season with the Anderson orchestra; Mr. Lambert, play, a famous tenor; Mr. Curtis, a Boston baritone. The ELMORE, for which H. L. Fink of the Westfield Garage has the agency, embodies for the first time a two-cycle engine which not only completely scavenges the burnt gas, but can actually be timed as to the amount of gas used. This is accomplished by means of a gas distributor extending the full length of the four Elmore cylinders and by doing away with crank case compression. The gas charge drawn in by the full length movement of the piston, is made to completely fill the combustion chamber. To accomplish this the piston itself acts as a pump. The features that carry the greatest appeal are economy of fuel and the greatest possibilities opened up by timing the gas. The latter in effect, gives the Elmore driver an engine of any desired power.

WESTFIELD, N. J.

LIVERY CAB OVER-TURNED AND TWO OF OCCUPANTS INJURED.

Accident on Lenox Avenue Charged to Contractor McNabb.

What looks to be carelessness on the part of the contracting company which is excavating a sewer on Lenox avenue resulted in the overturning of a livery carriage driven by James Dary last Saturday evening and the injuring of two of the occupants. Mr. and Mrs. E. Bruce Loomis of St. Marks avenue and their two sons were riding in the conveyance to their home, having come from New York on the 7:30 o'clock train. Mr. Loomis had a number of bones in one hand broken and his youngest son was badly cut; Mrs. Loomis and the other son escaped being hurt, although they were both badly shaken by the accident.

At the point where the accident occurred, a large dredging machine had been left at the side of the road and on the opposite side there was a large pile of dirt and scrap iron; there was only a narrow space for vehicles between the two. When driver Dary approached the obstruction, he said that the few lights were so placed as to confuse the driver and the horse shied, running the carriage into the ditch and overturning it.

Dr. Decker was called upon the scene shortly after the accident and with the aid of kind neighbors succeeded in making Mr. Loomis and his injured son comfortable; they were soon taken to their home.

The police were at once notified and Officer Rosenkrans responded. He immediately recognized the necessity for protection to pedestrians. An effort to reach the contractor, Mr. McNabb, at Bound Brook, proved futile and Mr. E. W. Chamberlain, a local contractor, took matters in hand and secured ten red lights which were placed around the dredger and the pile of scrap iron.

It is said that the accident may have to be straightened out in courts. It is charged, that the contractor was unquestionably negligent in leaving the roadway in such a condition. It is probable that if litigation results the town will hold Mr. McNabb responsible; measures looking to such a solution of the matter have already been taken. Town Engineer Vans had photographs of the scene taken Sunday morning by Photographer Baumann. Mr. Loomis declares that he will take action as soon as possible; he thinks that he should be fully compensated for damages; James R. Dary the livery man also feels that he has a grievance, in as much as his carriage was wrecked, and his horse hurt, although not seriously.

WHAT YOU GET

When You Buy an Elmore.

When you buy an 1911 Elmore, you get, in every model, a motor principle, protected by patent, which brings the gas engine to the highest state of refinement it has reached since the inception of the industry.

You get the motor that is almost absolutely automatic.

This result is reached through the patented principle referred to, which provides a system of gas distribution that is unique and absolutely simple.

You get a motor entirely without valves or other complications; a motor that requires no repair shop or replacement of parts; a motor that runs every day without expert attention; a motor that does not fall off in power at low speeds, when power is most desirable, as motors of all other types do; a motor that for smoothness of action has any six-cylinder four-cycle motor outclassed beyond comparison.

A car in total, that for design, refinement, material or finish is not equalled for the price. And, above all, what is by us deemed of supreme importance, each individual model in its respective class is the easiest riding car in the world.

If you are at all skeptical, we would ask you to try a comparison over the same route and speed with light and heavy loads, or may with from two persons up to full capacity of car. Almost any car will ride smoothly when fully loaded or under good conditions. We believe that we have the only exception in the way of an automobile that will ride practically equally as well with two, three or four persons or up to the capacity of the car.

A second shipment of these cars are due at the Westfield Garage this week. E. L. Fink, proprietor.—Adv.

COOK A WINNER.

Carries Off a Half Dozen Prizes at Big Poultry Show.

Percy Cook, whose birds of fine plumage on his poultry farm at Scotch Plains are the wonder of tourists who travel that way, upheld the prestige of the firm of William Cook & Sons, the originators of all the Orpingtons, at the show at Allentown, Pa., last week.

The total of all firsts for young birds and all firsts for pens, and four cups shows where he stands as a wizard in the fancy poultry business. The four cups were for the best display of Orpingtons, the best Orpingtons in the show, the best bird in the show and the best colored buff Orpington in the show. Guess that's going some!

ANNUAL FALL DINNER

Congregational Men's Club to Franchise On October 18.

The annual fall dinner of the Men's Club of the Congregational Church will be held in the church parlors on the evening of October 18th. The hour has been fixed at 7:15 o'clock, so as to give the New York business men an opportunity to be at the dinner on time. The gathering will be of an informal nature and the usual good time is anticipated. Demolli will be the caterer and no further need be said about the excellence of the feast.

There will be special music and speeches by local men. It is planned to have the dinner exclusively a local affair, as the committee in charge think that Westfield is well supplied with talent. Some of the local orators to be called upon to take part. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Loomis, will talk in his characteristic genial way. Mr. Morris A. Bisset will be toast master and will tell of the work planned by the organization for the season. There will be fraternal greetings from the presidents of the other Men's Clubs of the town.

The dinner will be the first feature of the season's program and will be followed by other interesting and lively entertainments. On November 10th, the Club will entertain at the Men's Club of Westfield. This will be in the nature of a social gathering and questions of interest to all the members will be discussed. A good social time will be enjoyed. The executive committee of the club has arranged to hold entertainments on November 18th, January 2nd, February 14th and March 2nd and it is planned to hold meetings and social gatherings on other dates not yet fixed.

The Club is in a flourishing condition and the season's prospects are promising.

A figure in matrimonial mating, led by the fact that much of marital felicity is upset by the disparity in age, sets the rule that the wife should be just half the age of the husband plus seven.

When your nerves twitch and act as though the flesh can't hold them down and the feeling comes that you must have a dollar's worth of any old thing that is poured out of a bottle for speedy relief, try ten cents worth of moving picture show.

The high cost of living may be figured out some in scanning the census returns. Newark alone shows that tenement houses now cover acres and acres of what ten years ago were garden truck plots. The milkmen of a decade past whose cows pastured on meadow lots that knew no trolley now backs his wagon up to a railroad platform for his supply. The boys then on the farm are now holding the controller or pulling the register cord on the cars. Plenty of ice wagon drivers are now chauffeurs. Farm labor now is a chance on Salvation Army intelligence office supply, mostly ex-gin geniuses; there is the occasional case where the boy clings to the place because his father needs him to feed the hens with fifty cents worth of feed so as to lay nine five cent eggs and is indulgent enough to furnish the money to buy creased trousers, panama hats, nifty neckwear and an automobile to get to town that he may revel in the dazzle of the places pointed out in the revolving electric signs. No boy now goes barefooted, dad's clothes are never cut to Willie's size, the mechanic has thrown away his dinner pail and paper collar are not made any more. Pa buys three dollar theatre tickets from the sidewalk speculator and the fashions in hats are such that ma really can't make the old one over. The boy or girl starting in business must wear Sunday clothes every day and wait a few years before getting much above the price of the commutation ticket and they won't lunch on an apple and a sandwich so dad has to buy the commutation ticket.

BUY YOUR NEW UNDERWEAR AT SCHAEFER'S!ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION WILL RESULT.

Buy your new underwear at the home store—at the store which has made a careful and exhaustive study of YOUR wants. At the store which sells only standard goods of proven merit—sell them at the lowest prices obtainable.

Buy your Fall Underwear at the store located at your very door—the store where exchanges can be freely and CONVENIENTLY made should need arise.

THE KIND OF UNDERWEAR SOLD AT SCHAEFER'S

We planned our Underwear campaign six months in advance. Our careful study of your requirements and existing market conditions resulted in the purchase of complete stocks of the following nationally known brands:

Duofold, Monitor, Essex Mills, American Hosiery, Forest Mills, Tivoli, Rels and Stuttgart Hosiery Underwear

Every one of these makes of underwear has established its worth—each one boasts some peculiar and meritorious feature.

There is a marked tendency toward the use of lighter weights in wool and cotton—a complete range of such textures is included in our stocks.

We particularly invite your attention to the "Duofold Wool Underwear." This make of underwear has been on the market but a season or two, yet it has won widespread and enthusiastic popularity. It is especially constructed to meet the demand for a non-irritating wool garment—it is made of two distinct fabrics—cotton on the inside where it comes in contact with the skin, with a wool surface and a ventilating air space between.

Special stress is laid upon our new stock of UNION SUITS which is very extensive, our customers having shown strong partiality to this style of garment.

Our prices are in every instance the lowest at which it is possible to sell goods of this character—identical with those which prevail in the metropolitan stores. They range as follows:

Men's Underwear	50c to $3.00 per garment.
Women's Underwear	25c to $3.00 per garment.
Children's Underwear	25c to $1.00 per garment.

Complete line of Sweaters, Gloves, Hosiery, Kimonos, Corsets and Ribbons of reliable quality at reasonable prices.

A Letter from Mr. Miller.

Westfield, N. J., Sept. 30th, 1910.
EDITOR UNION COUNTY STANDARD.

Dear Sir:

In the last issue of the "Westfield Leader," there appeared an article under the caption "Family Pounds Tailor." Henry Bettner roughly handled trying to collect bill, purporting to describe an unfortunate incident, occurring at my home, and the resulting hearing before Recorder Toucey, where I was complainant.

The absurdity of the story of the defendant, as set forth, is quite apparent, nevertheless, in view of the fact that the matter has brought my name before the public, I feel called upon to submit the following facts, fully corroborated at the hearing.

1st. That Mr. Bettner, highly excited, came to my home, early, recent, after his boy had delivered goods, which on found upon examination, had not been cleaned properly, as per contract between himself and Mrs. Miller. 2nd. That any injuries he may have sustained were, the result of, and obtained during his attempt to take possession, a part of the goods delivered, and after he had delivered, assaulted myself and wife, while I sought to protect me from his blows. 3rd. That my father, being called participated to the extent of protecting my person and property. My wife did not strike him and that no weapon of any kind were used. 4th. That he persisted in his assault upon me after my remaining possession of my property, and left the premises only after he had been repeatedly ordered to do so. And lastly, that in the court grand jury the case was not "dismissed" but referred to the Grand Jury. Respectfully submitted, Geo. C. Miller.

This issue contains full details of the case.
