REAL ESTATE AND INVESTMENTS

THE variety of choice in lots to be had in Terrace Park cannot be excelled in other localities of the town of Westfield. The terms can be made to suit the business convenience of any purchaser. The prices are lower than they can ever be in the future. If you like Westfield do not wait until the land is beyond your means. The rise in values in Westfield has far exceeded the carrying charges for the past five years.

MAY BUILD A PARK

Park Commissioners Decide to Consult Landscape Architects in Re. Peckham Property.

PLANS AND ESTIMATES TO COME.

Mountain Avenue Tract Now Town Property May Soon be Converted into Beauty Spot.

Tentative plans are being made looking to the conversion of the Peckham property on Mountain avenue, recently acquired by the Town, into a park. At a meeting of the Park Commissioners, held Monday night in the Town Hall, the Board voted to consult Landscape Architects, of Rye, N. Y., who laid out the F. G. Ryan estate in Virginia, and other landscape architects as to the amount of work to be done and the approximate cost of same. These architects will be invited to submit plans and estimates.

Robert Woodruff, of Elmer street, was directed to answer the Board's letter asking why he cut down a tree other than the one which the Board granted him permission to remove in front of his property. The fine for violation of the ordinance is $30. The Board will first await Mr. Woodruff's reply before taking further action.

Mr. Wilcox reported that he had made arrangements with E. W. Chamberlain to proceed with the work of trimming trees at fifty-five cents a tree. Mr. Chamberlain is to render an itemized bill for the work. Permits issued by Secretary Grape for removal of trees and the planting of trees were approved by the Board. Permission was granted Mr. Hinchman, of Boulevard and Park street, to plant a pivot hedge between the sidewalk and curb in front of his property. This new scheme of beautifying grounds in residential sections was approved by the Board and it was believed that the hedge in front of Mr. Hinchman's property would demonstrate whether or not such a hedge could be maintained.

Permission was granted A. B. Hutchinson to remove a tree in front of his place of business in Elm street, providing he would plant and maintain two other trees. Mr. Hutchinson desired to remove one tree which interfered with the entrance to his store.

W. Edgar Reeve reported that several trees had been planted in front of the town lake in the Broad street park. Permission was granted the owner of the property at the southwest corner of Union and Walnut streets to remove a tree.

In the absence of President Russell, who is confined to his home by illness, Mr. Loomis presided over the meeting. Messrs. Reeve and Wilcox and Secretary Grape were the other members of the Board present.

HISTORICAL RECEPTION.

Pastor and Mrs. Loomis Royally Welcomed at The Congregational Church.

The "Historical Reception" tendered the Rev. Dr. Loomis and Mrs. Loomis by the Men's Club in the Congregational Church Tuesday evening, to celebrate the first anniversary of the installation of the pastor, was a great success socially. More than 200 were present.

President Hewitt and members of the entertainment committee of the club received the guests. The church parlors were elaborately decorated with cornucopias, autumn leaves and other things appropriate to the harvest season. Music was furnished by Prof. Joseph Battelli's orchestra, of Plainfield. A buffet lunch, comprising older, apples, pears, etc., were served.

Among the guests were Congressman-elect Tuttle, Assemblyman Lloyd Thompson, Mayor Alpers, the pastors of the other churches, presidents of church clubs and other friends of the pastor and his wife. A feature of the evening was the short sketches of historical happenings in Westfield, prepared by Mr. Frederick S. Taggart, which were passed upon the walls of the parlors. These short sketches proved very interesting and entertaining. They will be published serially in THE STANDARD.

The local season for game commenced Tuesday. A large number of Westfielders journeyed to Whitehouse and bagged a few cottontails.

The football team of the local High School will play the Rahway High School team at Recreation Park on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

FOR BIG CELEBRATION.

Board of Trade Appoints Committee to Confer with Firemen and Merchants Association.

TO SHOW WESTFIELD'S ENTERPRISE.

Interesting Program Being Planned By Special Committee for the Winter Meetings.

Looking to a big celebration, the purpose of which will be to exploit Westfield's civic pride and enterprise, the Board of Trade, at its regular meeting in the Town Hall, Wednesday night, authorized the appointment of a special committee to confer with the Westfield Fire Department, the Exempt Firemen and the Merchants Association. The committee consisting of five members of the Board of Trade, were appointed by President Tuttle as follows: Augustus L. Alpers, Charles H. Denman, J. Allston Dennis, Edward D. Floye and Robert V. Hoffman, with President Tuttle ex-officio member.

The committee will take up the question of celebration with the organizations mentioned above with a view to determining their views upon the subject and inviting them to participate in the project jointly with the Board of Trade. If the committee finds that the proposed celebration will be backed heartily by all, it will so report at the next meeting of the Board. It is planned to hold the celebration on July 4, but this date is merely tentative and may be changed. An early start is made so as to assure the success of the enterprise.

An invitation was received to attend the National Rivers and Harbors Congress to be held at Washington, D. C., on Dec. 7, 8 and 9. The secretary was authorized to write the committee in charge that Congressman-elect Tuttle will represent the local Board of Trade. As Mr. Tuttle plans to be in Washington at that time, his presence at the Congress as a delegate, will help him to get some inside information on the much discussed "waterway policy."

Considering the sudden change of date for holding the meeting, there was a fairly good attendance, and those present participated in the discussion. President Tuttle presided.

Chairman Oliver, of the program committee, reported that the committee was to meet that night at 9 o'clock, and he was therefore, unable to give a specific report of the work planned. Several suggestions for topics and speakers had been proposed, he said, and would be considered by the committee as a whole. Among these was a public meeting to discuss "Taxing Methods," for which the secretary of the Newark Tax Board, an authority on the subject, has been recommended as the speaker.

Calvin Tompkins, Dock Commissioner of New York, has also been suggested as a speaker on waterways. Another subject for discussion was "Inter-Urban Northern New Jersey," by a speaker who was well versed in this interesting topic. "Government by Commission," by an authority on the subject, who will speak at the convention of the Trade Boards at Trenton next month, was also to be considered by the committee.

Owing to the illness of A. L. Russell, his place on the program committee has been filled by the selection of A. N. Flanagan.

The name of Robert Bentley was proposed for membership.

CENTRAL AVENUE SPEAK-EASY

PROPRIETOR IN POLICE TOLLS.

Frank Firo captured by Chief O'Neil, Fined $100.

Frank Firo, an Italian, who lives in the easterly section of Central avenue, was haled before Recorder Tucey, Tuesday morning, on the charge of violating the excise ordinance by selling liquor without a license. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $100, which he paid.

Chief O'Neil was the man to catch Firo napping. He has been keeping a close watch on the alleged "speakeasy" for several days, and finally he cornered several witnesses who were willing to swear that they had bought "beer" in Firo's place. The evidence against the accused man was too strong for him to offset, and he made little show of resistance.

Firo is the third speak-easy proprietor to be convicted within so many months.

Adam Lanco, of West Broad street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Hunterdon county.

IS IT SPITE WORK?

Walnut Street Property Owners Alarmed at Advertising Threat of Charles Duke, Owner.

MAY BUILD ITALIAN SHANTY ON LOT

Said to Hold a Grievance Because Residents Prevented Him from Laying Pipes of Insufficient Size.

When a property owner, who has been opposed by residents of the street in the making of an improvement which, if carried out according to his plans, would be regarded as dangerous, advertises in a local newspaper that he will erect two small houses on his lot, and in connection with the purchase thereof, "would like to hear of two nice (colored or Italian) families who would like to buy these houses," the residents of that section have reason to feel that their thoroughfare may be disgraced by "spite houses."

Residents of Walnut and nearby streets, have been put in a quandary by just such a condition of affairs. Charles Duke, of 407 South avenue, is the property owner, supposed to hold a grudge. He recently purchased a 100 foot lot from Mr. Roy Balle, adjoining the latter's residence on Walnut street on the left, and the handsome lawns of the Cole estate on the right. A brook runs through the property, across Walnut street, through the Washington school grounds; and wishing to erect thereon a house, Mr. Duke proposed to use two twelve-inch pipes underground and cover them over with heavy tiles and sod. It is declared that, previous to starting the work, Mr. Duke was cautioned to use two twenty-four inch pipes, as anything smaller would not be sufficient to carry off the water. However, he proceeded, contrary to the requirements, and property owners in that section, fearing that a heavy fall of rain would cause the water to back up through the small pipes and do damage to adjoining properties, took the matter before the Board of Freeholders on petition, that body having exclusive jurisdiction over waterways. The case was reviewed and the property owners carried the day. Mr. Duke was ordered not to proceed farther with the work. It is declared that he will now have to tear up his property again and lay the proper sized piping. In this connection he is said to have advertised for bids.

That Mr. Duke is far from satisfied with the situation is made evident by his advertisement, which is interpreted as a threat on his part to get even with the residents of Walnut street by building a "spite house" that will be tenable only by "colored or Italian families."

It is reported to-day that Mr. Duke told a member of the Board of Education that if the brick wall on the corner on the Walnut street side of the school ground was not removed he would "build small houses" on his property opposite and rent them to negroes. The member of the Board told Mr. Duke that he would take the matter up with his colleagues at the next meeting.

FIRE IN HOME OF FORMER

COUNCILMAN DESTROYS ATTIC.

$1,000 Damage Done to Residence of Ernest Wilcox Last Night.

A fire in the attic of the house of former councilman Ernest Wilcox, 340 Cumberland street, did about $1,000 worth of damage, at 9 o'clock last night. The prompt response of the firemen, who arrived on the scene four minutes after the alarm sounded, saved the house from total destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox were eating supper when the strong odor of smoke called them to the upper part of the house. The cause under the roof was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was immediately turned in. Shortly after the report of the fire department, the fire had been put out. But the supporting beams of the roof had been badly burned and that part of the building will have to be made over. The total loss is estimated $1,000, covered by insurance.

The fire is thought to have been started by children playing with matches.

The firemen were called out yesterday afternoon about three o'clock to put out a brush fire on upper South avenue. The blaze was caused by sparks from passing steam engines.

The pupils of Miss Emma Jenson will give a piano recital in Arden Hall, on Thursday evening, December 1.

The Misses Little and Dorothy Mann, of North avenue, spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Walter Randall, of Brighton, Long Island.

ROOSEVELT'S OBJECT,

NOT HIS METHODS.

Right Reverend Frederick Courtney Says Public Recognition of This Fact is Indication of Moral Progress.

INSPIRING ADDRESS TO MEN'S CLUB

The Feature of Annual Dinner by St. Paul's Organization--Congressman-Elect Tuttle and Pastors Also Speak.

Declaring that, though many disagreed with his methods, the fact that the people generally believed that the principles of Theodore Roosevelt's reform movement was right, as evidenced by an awakened public conscience, was a certain indication of the moral progress of the country, the Right Reverend Frederick Courtney, D. D., formerly Episcopal Bishop of Nova Scotia, and Rector of St. James Church, New York, delivered a scholarly and inspiring address at the annual dinner of the Men's Club of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in the Presbyterian chapel, last night.

Dr. Courtney dwelt upon the significance of our great commercial progress. The rapid advance which had been made in commercial science within the past half-century was startling to the mind when viewed in retrospect. There were evidences of material progress on every hand, he said. Money had multiplied, every avenue of endeavor had been explored. An examination of the files of the patent offices, he said, would show the wonderful utility of knowledge as applied to the subject in hand. Modern progress, he declared, was in the line of utility, ease and comfort.

"But what of our moral progress?" he asked. "On the surface of things there appears to be no evidence of moral progress. The newspaper of to-day evidences the fact that men still lie and cheat and steal. But if we look beneath the surface I think we shall find certain evidences of moral progress. Though many do not approve of the methods of the ex-president of the United States, the whole people, by an awakened public conscience, approve his objects. Both political parties are called upon to live straight political lives and so to justify their right to hold a share in popular government. The people are restive to-day under a keen sense of civic responsibility. The conscience has been aroused—this is a live, moral progress. And this must go on. The conscience must still be kept sensitive. Step by step we must evolve to better things."

"There is no finality to material, moral or religious science. The principles of business remain the same, but the methods of business are changing with civilization. The name is true of every science."

Dr. Courtney continued to show how large a factor human endeavor was in moral progress. It was in work that character was expressed. Religion, "The Queen of Sciences," was a live, progressive thing. He conceived of a Heaven, not as a hereafter, but as a here—a Heaven on earth. The accomplishment of God's plan, he said, was to be worked out by and through man in this world. By diligent work, on the part of religious organization, he said, the moral progress of the world would be perfected, and in the end, he loved to think of a perfect state of society, where truth and righteousness obtained.

He would love to live to see this grand consummation, he said—this fulfillment of the ideal of God.

Dr. Courtney was introduced by Mr. J. H. Ponchoon, the president of the Men's Club, who presided as Toastmaster. In his opening remarks, Dr. Courtney paid his compliments to the guests and declared that the fact that men of different religious views were gathered together in this way afforded him opportunity to say a word for church unity. He did not believe this possible to-day, but when the church as a whole offered a distinctive gift to the whole of Christendom, union would take the place of division and there would be one great church. This would not be the Roman, the Greek, or the Catholic church, but "the entire church of the living God throughout the world."

The dinner was a fitting expression of the enterprise of the Men's Club of the Episcopal church. The dining hall was decorated in keeping with the season—the "autumnal tone" prevailed. The ceilings and pillars were covered with corn husks, autumn leaves; again and pumpkins hung from vines; and each of the long rows of tables held a

CHILDREN PLAY WITH MATCHES AND SET FIRE TO BED.

Do Some Damage to the Home of Henry Plester.

Fire said to have been started by children playing with matches, was discovered in an upper bed room of the home of Henry Plester, on Walnut street, shortly after two o'clock Saturday afternoon. The prompt assistance of Adam Huffman, who lives next door, prevented the spread of the flames.

Firemen, arriving on the scene after the alarm sounded, quickly extinguished the fire.

Mr. Plester was eating lunch when children came running down stairs with the news that smoke was coming from the near bed room. Hurrying to the room he found the bed in flames.

Mr. Huffman and the fire alarm sounded. Mr. Huffman threw the bed out of the window.

The bed was totally destroyed and the room and ceiling damaged. The loss is estimated at about $100.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. D. Jackson, of My Avenue, returned from their trip Tuesday evening.

The Young Ladies Auxiliary of the Women's Country Home served and dined at the home of Miss Jennette Bond, Monday afternoon.

MR. THOMPSON BY 67.

Official Count Confirms His Election By Small Majority.

According to the official returns, the majority of Assemblyman Lloyd Thompson over his nearest Democratic opponent, Morris, is 67. The reduction in Mr. Thompson's figures is due to corrected totals sent in from the small municipalities.

It is thought that the final figures will stand, as the final count gives Mr. Thompson a clear majority. If Mr. Morris should call for a recount, the expense of that undertaking would be large and would fall upon him if the recount should confirm the election of Mr. Thompson.

It is further thought that a recount would not materially effect the result, and the chances are even that by such procedure Mr. Thompson's majority would be increased. It is said that Mr. Morris has not definitely decided on a recount.

A series of evangelistic services will be held in the Methodist Church, beginning to-night, and continuing until one week from Sunday. The services will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. W. Hayes, assisted by Rev. G. P. Dougherty, Evangelist William Hall, Rev. E. F. Davis and others.

How Westfield Citizens Can Find Complete Freedom From Kidney Trouble.

If you suffer from backache—
From urinary disorders—
From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Grateful people testify.

Here's one case of it:

Mrs. W. J. Barnes, 250 Union Street Elizabeth, N. J., says: "For a long time I suffered from kidney complaint, the most distressing symptom being backache and pains through my loins.

The kidney secretions were unnatural and gave evidence of disordered kidneys. I doctored, but I did not receive any relief until my husband procured Doan's Kidney Pills. I began their use and I am glad to say that they benefited me in every way." (From statement given August 18, 1905.

A CURE THAT LASTED.

On June 19, 1906 Mrs. Barnes said: "After giving the above statement for publication, I continued the use of Doan's Kidney Pills a short time and was entirely cured. I have not had a symptom of kidney complaint for nearly two years and consequently I believe my cure to be a permanent one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

STABS AT GENIUS.

Prof. Peaseley's Opinion of Learned Men's Troubles and Triumphs.

The office of Prof. Peaseley's sorrow extracting work-shop has undergone a Spring cleaning—that is he has had the spring lock on the door cleaned.

While the operation was being performed William ran over to the STANDARD office to deposit his batch of observation philosophy on the copy book. He found us busy wrestling with our finer instincts in trying to determine whether it was policy or good politics to publish a Spring poem that had been sprung upon us by one of our numerous contributors or to consign it to our ever hungry waste basket.

As the poem in question was of personal interest to our friend Bill we pushed the manuscript towards him and as he read through his pebbles:

"Peaseley Bill,
Ripley Hill:
Never worked
And never will."

he elevated his nose and remarked:

"Mr. Editor, you and me as brother professionals know what that means. It is one of the hard earned tributes to genius, like the hiss that compliments the stage villain. I have been sort of disappointed because this tribute has been so long in coming. Me and Grover Cleveland and Dr. Ripley expect such things and feel slighted if we do not get them. Look at Christopher Columbus, look at the record of every public and professional man who has helped to make history; every mother's son of them has been ridiculed, maligned, abused and misunderstood until they were beyond reach of reading the taffy spread on their epitaphs."

Bill seemed prepared to go into the subject with both feet so we pushed our visitor's plush chair towards him and bade him be comfortable as we placed a spread exchange under and several feet about the cuspidor.

Bill settled himself and continued:

"Editors, doctors, ministers and livery stable keepers are the basest of busy people, simply because they are the servants of the public and for that reason they are tongue lashed and gossip called by the entire community. It is the easiest thing in the wide category of the possibilities of human nature for people to say mean things and hit, dab and slur others. Look at the doctor—his profession means self sacrifice; in duty bound to call no hour day or night his own. There are certain known poisons that are certain remedies for certain diseases and his ability as a physician consists in the degree of intelligence he possesses and administering these poisons successfully he wins the respect and confidence. The doctor who pleasant smile of confidence from room as the material minister dispels dreary forebodings, and worry from the weary mother, and cures more by his confidence with his prescriptions. And curping human nature will say: 'Dr. So and so, oh, I wouldn't have a sick dog.' Tribute to you again, my boy.

Look at the minister—his words seem to be an attempt to make body good, forgetting that he succeeded he would be out of work. Of them are hard workers, occasionally with the hint that have to do is to prepare a sermon. Mrs. Grand Minister is staid when he is stiff when he doesn't, in politics if he touches upon them, if he sticks to pure religion body says he ought to be a times; a long sermon sets him to bed, a short one proves him an epitome of the best thought of writers makes him a history dressed like an ordinary man, ministerial but with broad white cravat, he is adorned, said at a funeral makes him pathetic, too much, gushing. Boy, are the genius tributes received. Don't forget that the bill can always wait and the minister is the very last person some people would help to support both come in handy in sickness trouble.

Editors—Well, I don't know you anything about them. The friend of the doctor, the livery stable man, the rest of the public servant, the laugh on the faint growlers, the kickers and down deep into their lives in the ridicule. When they find editor really can be of some them they gradually get to see him and perhaps the other know when they want to. Please publish that poem, at the usual rate and charge. Hoke Smith could stand the sarcasm and I guess I can stand personal advertising in the nation, for as my old college classmate, said: 'the road is knee deep in printer's ink' and dread pneumonia from writing with it."

SPLENDID RESULTS OF NEW LOCAL CENTRAL OFFICE TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

The Telephone Central Office at Westfield.

Westfield now has an up-to-the-minute telephone exchange. Extensive improvements to the local system have been completed by the New York Telephone Company, and the new office in the Wohlfort Building, equipped with the common battery system is now being used.

By the new system, the old crank for ringing central has been done away with and we now make the calls in the metropolitan way—by simply lifting the receiver.

Westfield is one of the best towns of its size anywhere as to telephone service and the number of subscribers. There are now over 950 citizens who have telephones in their homes and the list is growing!

The above is a photographic reproduction of the Telephone Central Office, Westfield. It shows the operators at work, and gives an idea of the completeness of the new system. The switch board, seen in the picture when working at full capacity will require the services of seven operators and facilities for 800 lines are provided to supply a city of 20,000 population.

NINE NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO LIST OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Interesting Meeting Held at Public House Monday Afternoon.

The Woman's Club of Westfield held its regular meeting on Monday afternoon in the Presbyterian parish house. On motion, a short business session followed the roll call, during which the following names were added to the list of active members:

Mrs. Walter E. Congrove, Mrs. C. K. Kie, Mrs. G. E. Ludlow, Mrs. E. Russell, Mrs. W. A. Bury, Mrs. C. Moore, Mrs. T. E. Scott, Mrs. E. Maney, Miss Annabelle French.

Several letters of congratulation were read from out-of-town guests, mentioning the club on the occasion of the recent Federation meeting in Warren and Mrs. Frank W. Smith, State Federation Secretary, read the vote of the club on business for officers in the coming election of that organization.

The topic of the afternoon, "Queen Elizabeth," was considered in two parts. The first, prepared by Mrs. E. D. Jackson, and, in her absence, Mrs. D. B. Collins, reviewed the history of the time and carried the story of the life of England's great queen from her birth along to her coronation. Mr. E. D. King, of Westfield, accompanied by Mrs. M. B. Dutcher, followed with his selection on the violin, delightfully rendered.

(a) Berenson, Godard.
(b) Reverse, Lindsay.
Mrs. G. A. V. Hankinson then read the life story of Queen Elizabeth, an account covering the period from her coronation to the close of the queen's life.

The program of the afternoon was pleasantly concluded by Mr. King with an Andantino, by Liszt.

Mrs. Bardwell Entertains at Club

Mrs. F. C. Bardwell gave a welcome to a number of her friends at the club, Tuesday afternoon. The party was very handsome. There were 12 guests. After play was over, refreshments were served and an evening hour spent in recounting the "luck" of the winners.

The pupils of Miss Riddle's Sunday school class were very successful with their candy and cake sale they held last Saturday afternoon in Mr. H. C. Lockwood's office. They realized $16 by their efforts; this amount will be for the benefit of the First Congregational Church in the Philippines.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TO BE HEARD IN CONCERT.

With Miss Elsie Prentice Kellogg,
Reader, on November 23.

An entertainment of music and readings will be given at the Congregational Church on Tuesday evening, November 23, under the auspices of the music committee of the church. An excellent program has been arranged.

The musical part of the program will be given by the choir of the church, consisting of Miss Dorothy Elsie Beaumont, soprano; Miss Mary Charlotte Hubbell, contralto; Mr. George Albert
Hobbs, tenor; Mr. John Emory De Shazo, bass. Mr. Edwin Lyles Taylor, the organist and musical director of the church, will be at the piano.

Miss Elsie Prentice Kellogg, an accomplished elocutionist, will read and recite. Miss Kellogg has had wide experience in the art of reciting and the entertainment provided by her will be both instructive and amusing.

The choir of the church is composed of good singers all of whom have trained voices. They will give an excellent program of music.

Westfield Fire Fighters Picture.

The second of the Sunday World series of Westfield Fire Department photographs will be issued next Sunday, Nov. 20th. This picture will be an excellent photograph of the new Westfield Fire Department building now being erected to be the future home of Westfield's fire fighters. The picture will be given as a special separate photo supplement on heavy paper, ready for framing. It will be reproduced from the architect's drawing and will show the handsome structure as it will appear when completed. There will probably be the same demand for this picture as for last Sunday Fire Department group photo which was a fine photographic reproduction. These picture features are truly characteristic of the World's constant endeavor to give its readers something new and out of the ordinary.

Sunday, Nov. 21st, the Sunday World will give a picture of the crack Westfield Hose Co. No. 1 taken especially for the World.

Death Merely Postponed.

A man named Lavender, who lived at Cagge, in the French department of the Somme, apparently died, and arrangements were made for his burial, but on the day of the funeral, ten days later, while his friends were concluding with the widow, he got out of his coffin in the next room, and,
opening the door, asked why there were so many people in the house.
Later, however, M. Lavender was taken ill again and died.

Collapsible Stoves.

After dire experience with cold rooms, a woman who travels now includes in her baggage one of the colapsible stoves used by hunters. These are quite small affairs that are packed into a leather case and add little to the weight of baggage. They can be put up quickly, and not only give added warmth, but may be used for extra cooking.

Pen and Paper.

"Paper," whether of rag or of wood pulp, still takes its name from the papyrus. A "book" is the book, the wooden rod on which our forefathers cut their rude letters. And a "pencil" is still by derivation "pencilum," a little tail, having been originally the name of the Roman painter's brush.

Something Sweet.

Wiggins—"Sure. Buy $50 worth of rice and boil it."—Men and Women.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Weldon Contracting Co., Daniel Donovan
and Monroe Co., Successful.

At the adjourned meeting of the Common Council held on Saturday night the contracts for improving certain streets in the town were awarded.
Contract No. 1 was awarded to the Weldon Contracting Company; contract
No. 2 to Daniel Donovan, of Bayonne; and contract No. 3 to the Monroe Paving Company of Philadelphia. This work was so divided as to make it possible to complete the work before the real cold weather sets in.

A certificate of indebtedness amounting to $7,000 was ordered issued, and $7,000.00, the balance due to the school board was placed at the disposal of the custodian of school funds.

A communication was read from Wellington Morehouse notifying the council that the residents of Embree Crescent would pay for a fire hydrant until the first of the year providing the town would assume the cost thereafter.
The hydrant was ordered installed.
The communication of the Board of Trade asking for permission to hold its meetings in the town hall was read and the permission was granted.

W. G. Peckham's offer to grade the upper part of Highland avenue for the sum of $1 was accepted provided the work is done under the supervision of the town engineer and Mr. Peckham filed a bond.

B. C. Austin sent council a communication in regard to the payment of monies due the Union County Contracting Company. This was read and referred to the town attorney.

Edward F. Gilby asked council for permission to erect a wooden building upon his property on North avenue, within the fire limits. The matter was referred to the fire committee with power.

Mayor Alpers, Councilmen Affleck, Middleitch, Wilcox and Davis were the only ones present at the meeting.

To Celebrate Our Growth.

Some steps were taken last year to arrange for a local celebration to have for its object the furthering of the interests of the Town of Westfield. But for want of time and a proper amount of enthusiasm the project was allowed to go by the board.

Developments of the past few months, however, have brought the matter to the fore again, and there seems to be a healthful sentiment in favor of a celebration. There are substantial reasons for such an undertaking. The Town of Westfield has come rapidly to the front within the past few years, and, all over the State, it enjoys the distinction of being a wide-awake, progressive community of homes. Nothing, however, has been done to focus the attention of the people of this section of the State upon the progressiveness of the citizens as exhibited in a patriotic enterprise. A general celebration under the direction, say of the Fire Department, the Board of Trade and the Merchants Association, in which the leading citizens of the Town took a leading part, and every citizen co-operated, would serve as a concrete illustration of the Town's civic growth and progress. The public schools, also, might lend a helping hand. It would likewise attract people from far and near, who thereby could learn at first hand what they had previously been told by their friends. The value of such a celebration cannot be computed in dollars and cents, but it is needless to say that the Town would be benefitted financially and socially. Local merchants, real estate men, banking institutions and the like would come in for their fair share of the benefits. It is estimated that the whole cost of the celebration would not exceed $1,000 at the most.

We shall not attempt to suggest the nature of the celebration. This is merely a broad hint that a movement of the kind would be popular and would be heartily supported if undertaken in the right spirit. There is ample time for preparation. The winter months should see our enterprising Firemen, Merchants and Board of Trade working out the details of an enterprise to be carried to happy fulfillment sometime in May, June or July, 1911.

The impetus given the movement at the Board of Trade meeting, Wednesday night, will be an inspiration to those who feel the enterprise will prove of great benefit to the town. The special committee appointed by President Tuttle to confer with the Merchants Association, and the Firemen will go quickly to its work and before long the public will know whether the celebration of 1911 is or is not to be.

Here's hoping it will be!

He may assume that he has a grievance, but no citizen having a whit of civic pride would take so spiteful a means of "getting even" as he, even under the severest provocation; and he seems, in this instance, to have acted rashly.

We are sorry for him—sorry that he should have put himself on record as being the kind of a citizen that does not believe that loyalty to the town of his choosing is a first essential in holding the confidence and respect of his fellow citizens. There are other localities under the sun where he would feel more at ease than in the town of Westfield.

During the recent strike, the freight department of the Central Railroad of New Jersey was taxed to its utmost to keep pace with the increased business. Be it said to the credit of the company that the service given was excellent. THE STANDARD has occasion to know, for all the printing matter consigned to New York was sent via the freight route with the utmost care and dispatch. We are pleased to pay a deserved tribute to the New Jersey Central.

We wish well for those within the Democratic party who would make good the principle of the Direct Primary by the election of James E. Martine United States Senator to succeed the Hon. John Kean. But there are subtle and powerful forces at work planning and scheming the election of Hon. James Smith, Jr. Well, it will be far from dull at Trenton, this winter, in any event.

That indefinable something which we call tact, is not a gift possessed by statesmen, diplomats and men of rank only. Asked if he knew who left the light in the cellar burning the Devil replied: "I think some one forgot to turn it off."

A Word of Warning.

The Pockham tract on Mountain avenue is now the property of the town at large. The STANDARD is authorized to state that persons using the property as a dumping ground will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Three fires in one day, two of which are thought to have been started by children playing with matches, is a warning to parents to be cautious.

No, not Y ale luck, but Yale pluck! That element of grim determination will win in the long run—and no matter what the odds against it.

We note that John D. Rockefeller has received his quarterly dividend from Standard Oil—a pittance of $4,000,000.

Bill Pansley remarks that it was a mistake to send out the tax bills the same week revival meetings are being held.

REV. MCGUIRE'S LECTURE.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Rev. Gabriel B. McGuire last evening at the First M. E. Church, in the second of the course of entertainments given by the Men's League. His description of the journey in the "Jungles of Africa" was both interesting and entertaining, especially his account of the customs of the tribes his party visited. His reception into one of the tribes was highly amusing. Those whose failed to hear Dr. McGuire, missed a rare treat.

Difference in Laughter.

A good honest laugh at a good honest joke or bit of sarcasm rubs out the gathering wrinkles of care; but an ill-tempered joke, is like a poisoned arrow, which makes a wound, and leaves its poison after it is withdrawn.

The Chief Surprise.

A New Jersey man found $5,000 in a Bible which his grandmother gave him 35 years ago. What makes the incident remarkable is, of course, that he found the money at all.—Atlantic Journal.

Two Changes Possible.

"When a man has a rip in his coat and only three buttons on his vest," writes a western sage, "he should do one of two things; either get married or get divorced."

Discontent in Idleness.

There is no satisfaction—only misery—in idleness. The woman or man who makes no practical use of leisure hours is almost invariably discontented.

Unprofitable.

Offhand we should venture to pass the remark that counterfeiting is about the worst paid profession in the catalogue.

Keep at it.

Keep your light a-burning. Lots of things do not seem to be worth while, but it is not safe to look at them in just that way. Keep on doing.

Dear Sir:—

I take this method of calling your attention to the fact, that I am now prepared to give my prompt and personal attention to jobbing in all its branches. I make a specialty of planning the most exacting and would like an opportunity of estimating on any work, you are contemplating, no matter how small the job. Now is the time to get your order in for storm-work and weather strip. Few people appreciate what a great saving in coal they will effect. My charges are low. Think it over and give me a trial as I am sure it will be to our mutual advantage.

Yours very truly,

A. C. Lingo.

Announcement by Peoples Bank.

In another column The Peoples National Bank of Westfield has an important announcement in line with its general policy of caring for the special interests of this community.

An arrangement has been made with the Central Railroad Company by which New York and Newark business men living in Westfield may receive through the mail before the first of each month their monthly commutation tickets without expense to them other than the cost of the ticket.

It is believed that this arrangement will be a considerable convenience, as it will eliminate the annoyance frequently attendant upon purchase of tickets, and, in addition, the commuters will be assured that the ticket will be in their hands before the morning of the first day of the month.

JAMES HETFIELD DEAD.

Bruce Hetfield, of Plainfield, one of the members of an old New Jersey family, died at his home in Plainfield yesterday morning at the ripe old age of 96 years. Death was caused by a paralytic stroke.

Bruce Hetfield was born in Westfield October 2, 1814. He was the son of Isaac Hetfield, who held much valuable property in the county. He was a man of good habits and was never known to use tobacco or liquor. Five brothers and three sisters survive. He was single and made his home with his niece, Mrs. Aretta Manning. His chief enjoyment was in "fiddling," and his violin was one of his choicest possessions. He was an uncle of Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., of Plainfield and Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr.

Saving the Wall Paper.

A paperer advised me to get a roll of cheap cotton batting for cleaning soiled wall paper. With a piece of the batting go over the surface of the paper lightly. Then with more batting go over the paper with greater pressure. The result is astonishing. —Good Housekeeping.

A Sharp Editor.

A subscriber to one of our American newspapers writes to its editor thus: "I don't want your paper any longer." To which the editor replied, "I wouldn't make it any longer if you did. Its present length suits me very well."

Mrs. J. J. Marsh Has Valuable Gold Watch Returned by Reader.

There appeared in the Want and Offer column of THE STANDARD last week an advertisement of the loss of a GOLD WATCH and FOR the property of Mrs. J. J. Marsh. Mrs. Marsh had given up hope of ever finding the watch and inserted the advertisement as a last resort. On Sunday evening Mrs. Marsh was surprised to have the watch returned her by Mr. Philip Brady, of 245 Downer street.

"Why, how did you know that the watch belonged to me?"

"My sister and I read your advertisement in THE STANDARD," was Mr. Brady's reply.

All parties concerned are convinced that it pays to advertise in THE STANDARD. The advertisement cost 50 CENTS; the watch is invaluable to the owner.

Don't Play With Fire

A COMMON caution to children but also good for grown men and women. You are playing with fire when you insure your property without carefully selecting the company which promises to protect you against loss. Companies differ just like individuals. Why take chances when, at no extra cost, safety can be had by simply saying to us, when your insurance expires, "Give me a policy in the 'Hartford'."

The "Hartford" is the best known fire insurance company in America. For a century it has promptly paid every loss, the aggregate now amounting to more than $124,000,000. Its reputation for fairness is unexcelled. Its resources are never in danger from the hidden risks of stock speculation, because invested only in the safest securities. One hundred years of life and growth have demonstrated its able management and unshaken stability. You are not playing with fire when you ask for the "Hartford."

Rank in Power

The highest nobility, or power, of England consists of five ranks, viz., duke, marquis, earl, viscount and baron. All persons holding these titles are members of the upper house of parliament, where they sit as lords temporal. The archbishops and bishops of the Established church are termed lords spiritual. They are not peers of the realm, but have seats in the upper house.

Pleasure as an End

The man who chooses pleasure as
the object of his life has no real happiness, but is like a boat that bobs
up and down and drifts and drifts to
and fro, merely to feel the motion of the waves and the impulse of the wind. When the voyage of life is done
he has reached no port; he has accomplished nothing.—Henry Van Dyke.

Character on Dress

"When you are once well dressed for the day," wrote Character, "think no more of it. Always and without any stiffness or fear of dis-comparing that dress, let all your actions be as easy and natural as if you had no clothes on at all." All gentlemen want to be sufficiently well dressed to be inconspicuous.

Pleasure as an End

The man who chooses pleasure as
the object of his life has no real
happiness, but is like a boat that bobs
up and down and drifts and drifts to
and fro, merely to feel the motion of
the waves and the impulse of the wind. When the voyage of life is done
he has reached no port; he has accomplished nothing.—Henry Van Dyke.

Wise Thought

We need to be careful how we deal with those about us, when every death carries to some small circle of survivors thoughts of so much omitted and so little done—of so many things suspected and so many more which might have been repaired.—Oliver Twist.

Men and Boys

The boys do lots of things that the grown people don't do, but inwardly admire. One is when they dig and stamp for a desired excitement to begin. The other people are tired of waiting, but don't dare show it.—
Archibald Clark.

Patience Not to Drop

A Patience (N. J.) woman was found by a physician to be harboring a snake which has been concealed in the region of her chest several months.
That's nothing; we know a girl who has had a snake on her back for 25 years!

THE MAN ON THE OUTSIDE

Pen Points Political and Philosophical Produced by Penney's Perceptions.

Real remorse is a man's head hugging a cold towel.

Time only will tell what else there is behind a good appearance.

At twenty a man jumps into a dress suit; at forty he crawls into it.

When a woman is looking for information she stops talking and listens.

Every little bit added to what we have creates a craving appetite for more.

If you want to tighten the grip on health loosen up your nerves occasionally.

"Home, Sweet Home" sounds as a bitter mockery to the person who has none.

To avoid possible dangerous consequences never smother a sneeze or choke a cough.

An advertisement in the STANDARD is a business familiarity which breeds contentment.

If a woman hasn't caught on before the face lines show she might as well stop fishing.

There never yet was a bad habit but there was a procession of people anxious to be introduced to it.

When a man fixes himself up he brushes the dust from his clothes; a woman adds more to her face.

Weeding out undesirable acquaintances is the same as garden weeding; others quickly take their place.

When you are climbing the ladder of fame be careful and not dig your boot heel into the face of the man just below.

If the dove of peace were noticed headed for some homes there would be a scampering to shut the window in her face.

You can't pass fair judgment on the quality of a girl's musical voice until she is sixteen; then it isn't diplomatic to express it.

When a woman is decorated with a pharmaceutical complexion and five flats full of department store hair her natural self is fairly well obscured.

Why not dispense with the custom of naming children at their birth and wait until they are old enough to select for themselves something that suits?

It is reasonably safe, for an old friend of the family, to tell a young mother that the baby taken after her in looks if the opinion is withheld whose disposition it favors.

One man may do more harm in writing publicly upon a subject about which he knows next to nothing than the good a dozen men may accomplish by telling the truth.

The man who hasn't lived long enough in a community to be able to find his way home from the depot after dark night just as well save his opinion on how the public affairs of the town ought to be run until he has time to get his basis of reasoning straight.

The only real enemy of the "STANDARD," that we are aware of, is the father of a lovely girl afflicted with love poetry writing who once wanted us to throw out a half page paid ad. on publication day to irradiate his daughter's coquettish efforts gratis.

Every trade has its tricks and as the tricks are played honesty is lost in the shuffle. The following incident points a moral:

Lady to Westfield drug clerk: "I would like this bottle filled with alcohol."

Clerk takes the bottle, retires behind the prescription case and re- turns to the counter to wrap up the bottle. The lady notices that there is an unfilled space of an inch or more in the bottle and calls the clerk's attention to the fact with: "My husband got that bottle filled in the city for the same price that you charge; how is it that you give me so much measure?"

"Well, madam, that bottle now holds exact phial measure, it might gratify your husband to have the New York druggist fill out the differ- ence in the bottle and the phial measure by simply holding the mouth of the bottle under the faucet; but I trust you will appreciate the informa- tion I am giving you in saying that I cannot fill the present space with alcohol at the same price of the phial measure and our trade is reliably enough to give it what it supposes it is paying for."

Doing Things

"The world reserves its big prizes but for one thing, and that is initiative. Initiative is doing the right thing without being told—Saturday Evening Post.

How true this is, and what a sad old world this would be, were it not for man's initiative. What a stupid lot we would be if we merely drifted along, each following another's lead.

Initiative is what makes the world go round, and the individual, without some little degree of initiative, is but a barnacle on the hull of the GOOD SHIP PROGRESS.

The man who DOES THINGS is the man who the people admire, and the STORE that does things is the store that gets the business.

The Bamberger store is not afraid to take the initiative—not afraid to DO THINGS.

Taking the initiative is a matter of store policy here—a matter of store policy that dates back nearly EIGHTEEN YEARS.

FIRST HYDRANT FOR UPPER NORTH AVENUE INSTALLED.

An Urgent Need of That Section Met by Council.

A new fire hydrant has been placed on upper North avenue, almost directly opposite the home of Thomas Kenney. If this hydrant had been located there a few weeks ago, the fire which destroyed the unsightly bungalow of P. H. Chevanier and threatened the destruction of adjacent houses as well, would not have proved half as dangerous. This conflagration which for a time seemed unconquerable, was ultimately extinguished by the firemen, who displayed great pluck and commendable heroism in subduing the flames.

The imperative need of a fire hydrant in this locality has long been obvious to those who reside there.

The homes of the residents of upper North avenue are located so near the Central Railroad that they are constantly menaced by the sparks from the passing locomotives, which could cause a fire resulting in a loss which might prove irreparable.

The hydrant is situated near these homes and will aid greatly in mitigating the dangers of a fire should one occur and reduce to a minimum the loss and damages resulting therefrom.

The North avenue residents believe that the hydrant will prove invaluable in meeting any emergency which may arise and they are gratified because the Town Fathers are cognizant of the needs of even their remotest citizens.

By the placing of the hydrant the residents believe that only one of the many needs has been met and it is desired that the progressive councilmen of the town promulgate an ordinance providing for the improvement of North avenue.

Wife Religion.

Though living on the borders of Tibet, no trace of Buddhism is found among the Mijus, an Asiatic race. Their religion is animistic and consists in the propitiation of the various spirits to whom sickness, failure of crops and such like calamities are attributed. The propitiation takes the form usually of the sacrifice of a few or a pig, a small portion being set aside for the spirit, the rest going down the throats of the offerer and his family.

To a Chemist.

"I want you to prepare for me a formula for making the best pumpkin pie that can be made," said the pie manufacturer to the chemist. "I've used turnips and ocher and potato flour and all the things my rivals use, and have beaten them a little bit at their own game, but now I want to put out a pumpkin pie that will simply outclass all other brands. I will pay you whatever fee is right for the work."—Life.

Killer Superstition.

Killer women will not pronounce their husbands' names, or even use words which contain the emphatic syllable of those names. One old woman, being taught to say the Lord's prayer, changed the word for "come" in "thy kingdom come" to something that made no sense, and it proved that the proper "come" word was the main syllable of her husband's name.

Usefulness of Advice.

Value of Salt.

Few persons understand the therapeutic value of salt. A little salt in one's drinking water is "good medicine." Salt applications to the skin are wonderfully soothing and wholesome. There is nothing better as a wash for the throat and the nasal passages to prevent or to cure catarrhal troubles than a solution of common salt in plain water—the cheapest remedy one can find. Many persons give their eyes a daily bath of cold salt water, with satisfactory results.

Tobacco in the Orient.

Use of tobacco is universal in the Orient, and the word cheroot and its use come from Madras. The first cigars seen by Columbus were wrapped with corn sheath. Some Himalaya tribes take the leaf of the palawan and, with a cunning twist of the wrist, make the bowl and long, narrow stem of a pipe in the most perfect way.

Antimony in Green.

Many gold and silver ores are antimony bearing, and in smelting the antimony combines with the lead of the charge, the product going on the market as antimonial lead. The alloy is used in type metal, ball bearings, clock cases, and other articles for which a fairly hard metal is required or otherwise finished is desired.

Chinese Telephone Girls.

Chinese girls, specially trained in San Francisco, have begun work in Peking as central operators in the telephone system recently opened in the Chinese capital. Instead of southern accent, "Are you there?" or "Hello, central!" the customary mode of address is "My dear sir" and "Butterfly that talks."

The Powerful Press.

The power of the press is well exemplified when a young man breaks his best girl's pet rib by squeezing her.

Can't Always Be Kept Down.
Who rises every time he falls will one time rise to stay.—William Mar-

To Be Proud.
Some men would be always unhappy if they never deceived themselves.

Going Through Life.
Some men fight their way through it. Others expect to be pushed through.

It Doesn't Appeal to Him.
The man who has no sense is always slow to accept the theory that boys will be boys as a good excuse.

Ancient Adage.
Some remedies are worse than the disease.—Byron.

As the Romans Said.
Anyone who has made a trip to sea has seen the ingenious, propeller-shaped appliance which is thrown overboard at the end of a long cord, and by means of which the officers get an approximate idea of their speed. This is not a new idea, for in ancient times the Romans had a similar appliance for ascertaining their rate of progress at sea. They dragged little paddle-wheels behind their ships, the revolutions of which enabled them to estimate the distance which the ship had traveled.

A Gentleman.
A gentleman is consistent, not changeable. A gentleman straightens his robe and settles his face. He is stern and won look upon him with dread. Few or many, small or great, all is one to a gentleman; he dare not slight any man. He will banish from his bearing violence and levity, from his speech the low and unfair.—Confucius.

Don't Mention It.
The politest man in Boston collided violently with another man on the street. The second man was angry. "My dear sir," said the polite one with a bow, "I don't know which of us is to blame for this encounter. If I ran into you, I beg your pardon; if you ran into me, don't mention it."—Success Magazine.

Reason for Her Choice.
"Yes, I love both Santa Claus and Jesus," a good little sister instructed her curious junior, "but I think I love Jesus best, 'cause he don't never ask if you've been good before he leaves you presents, an' Santa," voicing a distinction, "when you grow big like me, you find he ain't never been true!"

Life.
Life is too short. We ought to have one life to love, one life for learning, and another to do good deeds. As it is, one is almost forced to give up learning if one wants to love, and if you want knowledge, you must give up love. This is cruel.—Ernest Renan.

A Poet's Estate.
After 57 years, the Russian courts have settled up the estate of the poet Gogol, celebrated in his day as a writer of lyrics. The poet died of hunger, kneeling before an icon. The estate is valued at 45 rubles and 85 kopecks, or about $21.50.

Dead Perfection.
We heard it said of a certain man lately that he had no vices. He should get some. Every man should have a vice or two. Being a member of a lodge and wearing phanes and badgers is better than perfection.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

MARTINE VS. SMITH.

Congressman-Elect Tuttle Strongly Favors Election of Farmer Orator.

The contest within the Democratic party over the election of a United States Senator to succeed John Kean, promises to be quite as thrilling a chapter in the political history of New Jersey as the election of Frank Briggs over John F. Dryden three years ago.

James E. Martine, of Plainfield, the "Farmer Orator," is regarded as the logical candidate for the place. He received the largest vote at the primaries, easily defeating McDermott, James Smith, Jr., candidate. However, Mr. Smith, who was a United States Senator when the Democracy was supreme, is considered the honor and is making a hard fight to secure a majority of the legislators. Mr. Smith holds that he helped materially in electing Woodrow Wilson and a Democratic legislature, and is therefore entitled to the place.

Many Democrats are strongly opposed to Smith because of his well-known corporation affiliations. It is argued too that the direct primary principle should be upheld by the election of Martine. Union County Democrats are strongly for Martine, the Assemblyman-elect having declared their preference before election. Congressman-elect, William E. Tuttle, Jr., chairman of the County Committee, said yesterday: "I strongly favor the election of James E. Martine. He was the party choice at the primaries and the principle of the primary should be upheld."

The contest will be watched with great interest.

INTERESTING PROGRAM ARRANGED BY PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB.

Second Concert to Be Held Nov. 25—
Other Attractive Entertainments.

The second concert which occurs Nov. 25th, in this series, will be given by a vocal quartet of mixed voices. Miss Grace Kerns, the soprano, holds a most prominent church position in New York as soloist at St. Bartholomews. She possesses a voice of lovely quality and even scale, and her songs are sung in a most artistic manner. Her work is always satisfactory and much appreciated by her audience at every appearance. Her voice is high, clear and of great brilliancy and is combined with a charming personality. She is always enthusiastically received. Mr. Lambert Murphy, the tenor, has a voice of exceptional purity of tone, it is a true tenor of unusual quality, full of richness, warmth and color. He has been in great demand throughout the country for musical festivals, oratorios, concerts, musicales, etc. His natural range is wide and he has plenty of power as well as light quality ever at command. Miss Rose Bryant, contralto, won her audience immediately upon her first appearance in Westfield, and combines a beautifully effective voice with her own charming manners. She sings with remarkable ease and delicate artistic feeling. Mr. Cartright is a New England bass baritone of considerable note. His abilities are always recognized and his applause well deserved. Miss Helen Wolverton, accompanist, is splendidly equipped for the part she renders in the combination as a pianist of the most appropriate temperament.

centre-piece vase of fall flowers. Feminine art and delicacy was exhibited in the decorations, as in the service of the dinner. The ladies of the church contributed to the success of the occasion by their skill in these departments, and every speaker voiced his appreciation of their services.

The speakers occupied a long table at the southern end of the hall. With the Toastmaster and Dr. Courtney sat Congressman-elect William E. Tuttle, Jr., Rev. Dr. Stearns, Rev. Sydney Cross, Rev. Dr. Loomis and Rev. Dr. Hayes.

The table at the right and facing the speakers table, was reserved for the song-birds, who led by Lawrence Bogert, sang during the evening. Miss Kate Pencheon presided with grace and dignity at the piano. A quartet of male voices consisting of Messrs Thomas, (first tenor); Griffith, (second tenor); Harden, (first bass) and Evans, (second bass) sang a number of the old familiar songs, and Messrs. Thomas, Griffith and Evans sang solos. Mr. Alfred A. Moser played the violin with characteristic art.

In welcoming the guests, Toastmaster Pencheon gave a brief history of the Men's Club of the church. He said that they had done some substantial things for the church in the way of securing new windows for the edifice and had pledged themselves to do still more in this line.

Following Dr. Courtney's address, Congressman-Elect Tuttle made a brief speech, in the nature of an informal talk. He took this opportunity to thank them for the hearty support which they had given him at the recent election, a fact which he appreciated more than he could express in mere words. It was, he said, an inspiration to him. Mr. Tuttle was enthusiastically welcomed.

The pastors present offered fraternal greetings—Rev. Drs. Hayes, Loomis and Stearns each paying tribute to the scholarship of Dr. Courtney and the fraternal good cheer of the occasion. Rev. Sydney Cross responded with a word of thanks to the speakers, to the guests and to the Presbyterian church for their courtesy in allowing the use of the chapel for the dinner.

—Robert Smitley attended the banquet of the Union County Grand Jury, of which he was a member, at Elizabeth, Wednesday night. County Chairman Frank Smith was one of the speakers.

—Announcement has been made of the marriage of B. G. Abner, formerly of Beid avenue, this town, to Miss Anna Schane, of New York. The wedding took place last Thursday evening at New York City.
