WESTFIELD MEMORIAL LIBRARY
WESTFIELD, NEW JERSEY

This era . . . our generation . . .
1981 . . . we students . . . comprise Westfield High School. We influence the shape of today and embody the nature of tomorrow.
Moments, days, years passing by so quickly teach us only a fraction of their meaning and importance.
These days disappear before we are totally prepared and educated for the times ahead. Today
we attempt to pave our own roads which will direct our futures and determine the scope of our experiences. Tomorrow is too novel and untried to be cumbered with the old conclusions of yesterday. So here, in this 1981
Weather Vane, live . . .

the memories of yesterday . . .

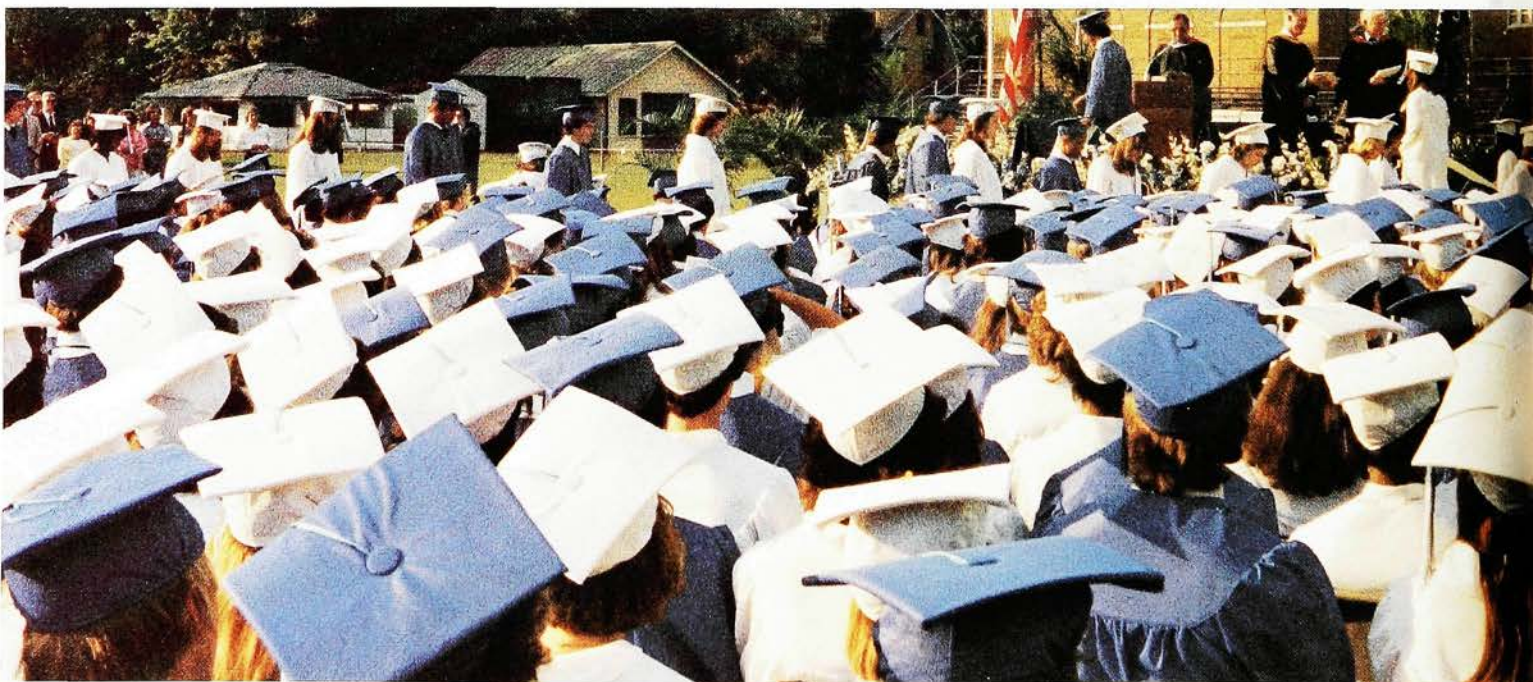

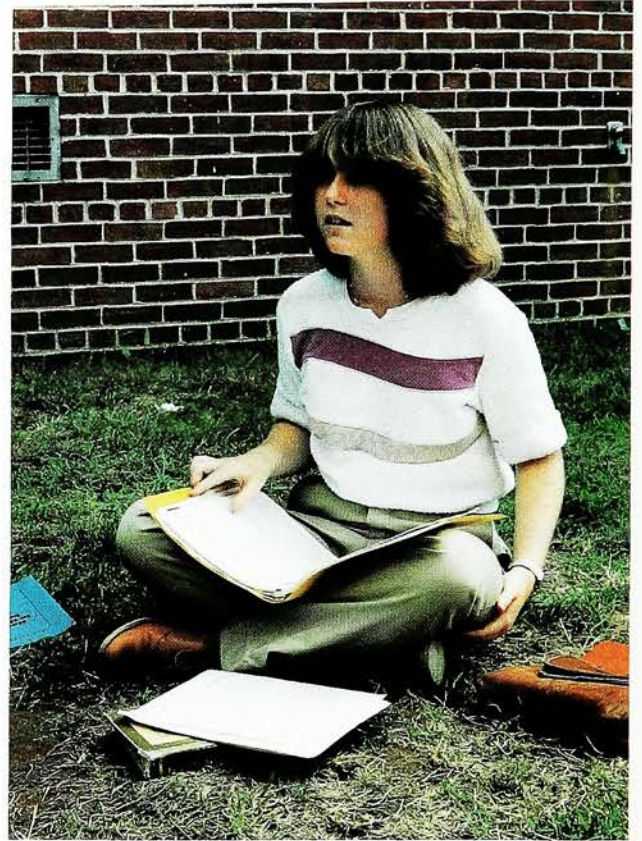

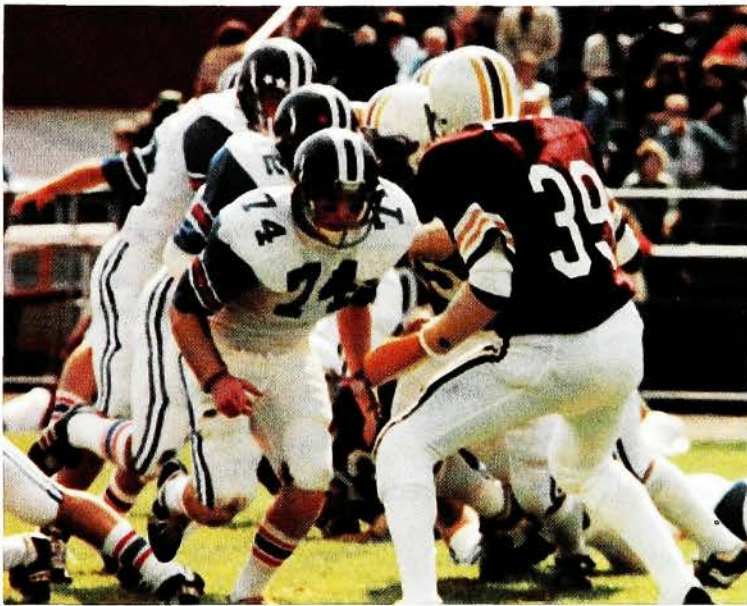

"the year ends, and how much the years teach
which the days never know"

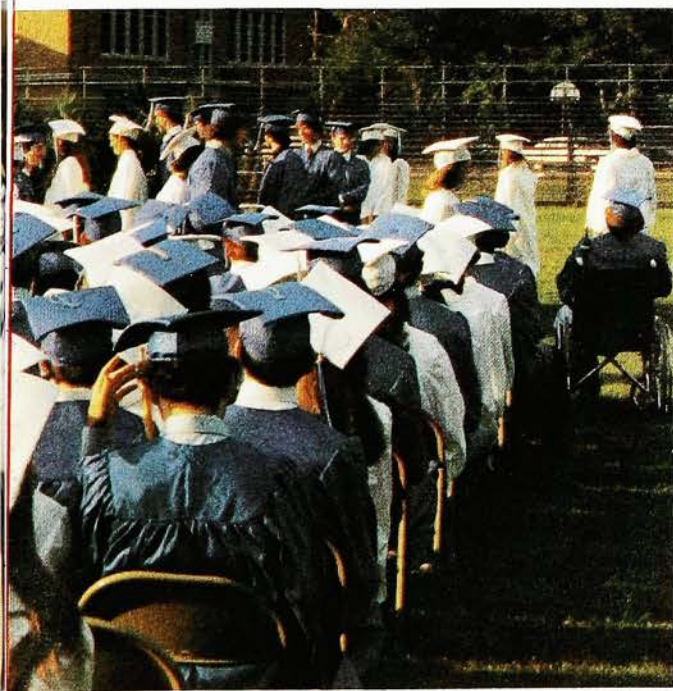

The countless moments we have experienced influence who we are and what we believe in. Our once vivid childhood events begin to fade into memory; some still retain special significance, others recall laughter. Yesterday, never to be changed or relived, still helps to develop . . .

the thoughts of today . . .

"every moment instructs, and every object, for wisdom is infused into every form"

Our interests and achievements build up a reservoir of talent and knowledge. Now is when we differentiate and develop into individuals displaying unique and special strengths. These qualities define the value of our present existence and become the drawing board on which we create . . .

the dreams of tomorrow . . .

"the purpose of life is to live to the real future by living to the real present"

Sensing tomorrow rapidly approaching, we strive to achieve success, to understand happiness, and to acquire the wisdom to guide our increasing knowledge. Everything happens too fast, yet at times in slow motion; with one foot in the classroom and the other on the street, we let the door swing shut.

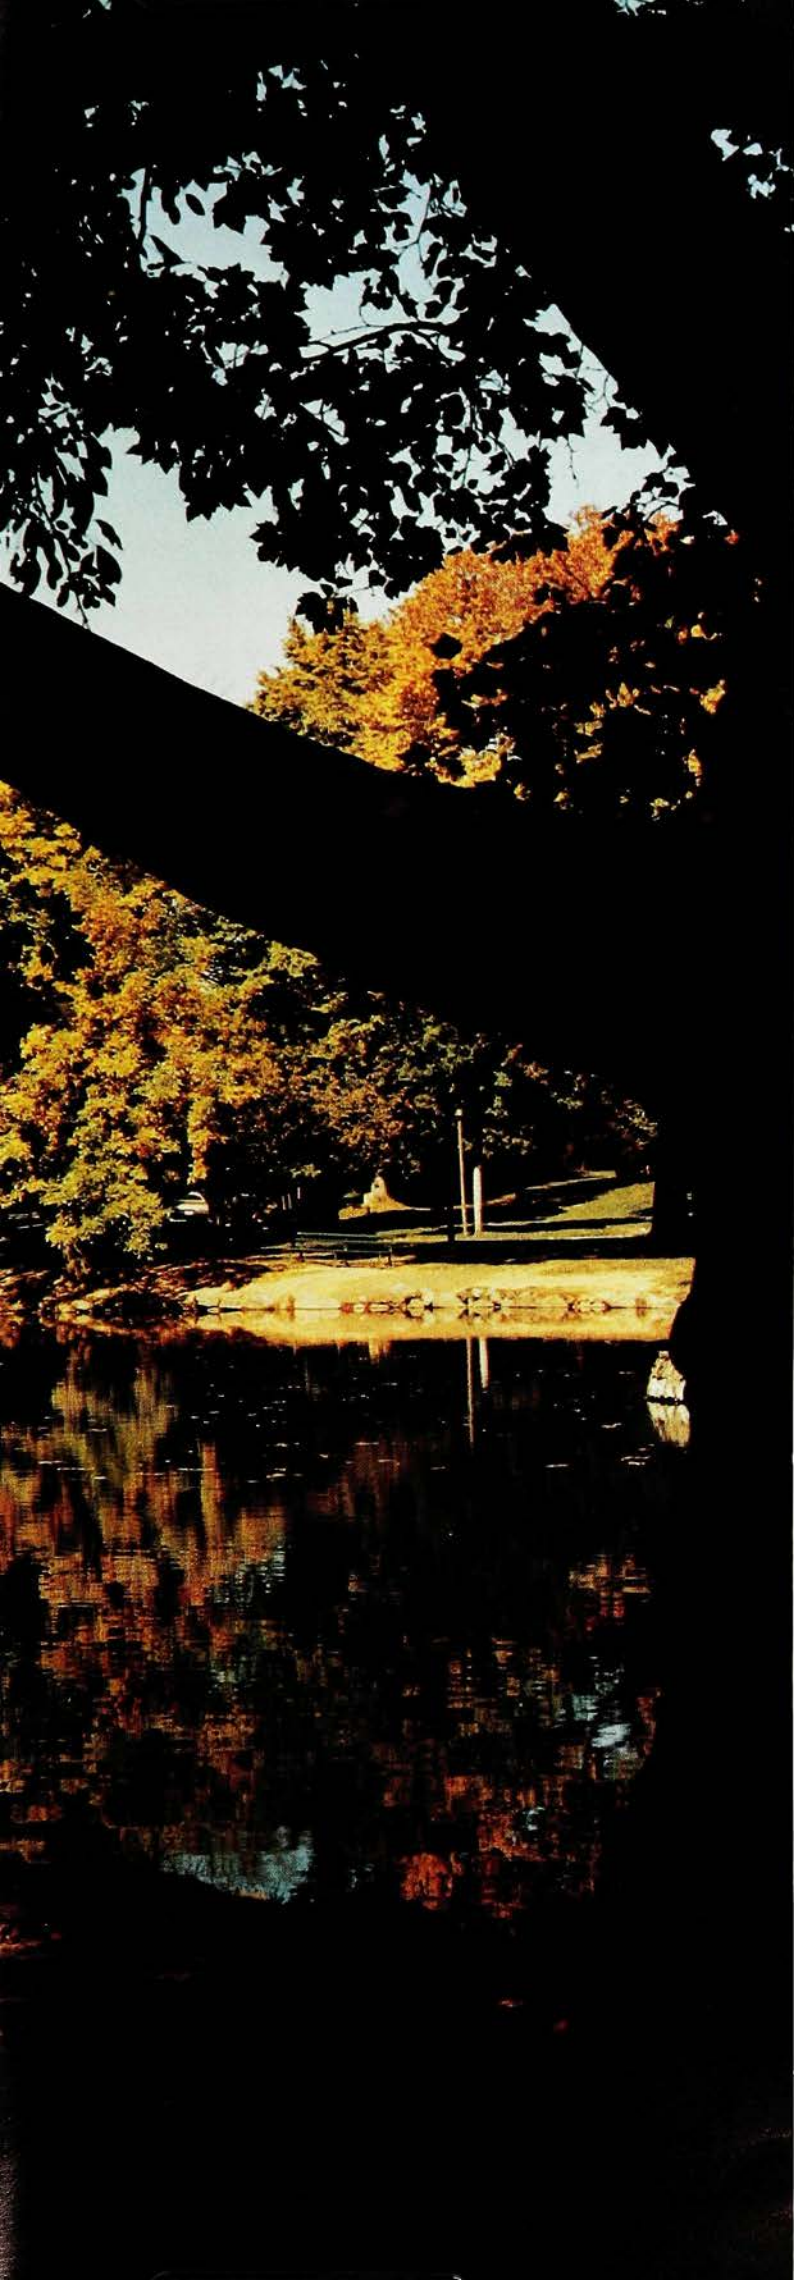

What we are today is civilization's gift to us, what we become is our gift to civilization. The class of 1981 barely echoes through the emptying corridors. The horizon draws nearer with each and every step. Wave today good-bye and point toward tomorrow.

senior thoughts

- Joe Tag I'd rather fight than switch.
- Gregory Talmont Knowledge is a deadly friend when no one sets the rules. The fate of all mankind I see is in the hands of fools.
- Amy Tahl ... Side by side, sailin' thru stormy weather, searchin' for sunny skies with open eyes, sharin' the tears and the laughter is the only way ...
- Dan Tarradellas You're on your own until the end.
- Lori Taylor . My cheers will fade and become an echo-but to you, my friends, take my smile with you. ... Rocker 2.
- Don Tobey My eyes don't read that daily news, 'cause it ain't hard to figure why people get the blues, If they can't dig what they can't use, If they stick to themselves they'd be much less abused.
- Renee Traber ... Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow; don't walk behind me, I may not lead; walk beside me and just be my friend.
- Mary Traynor . Life is as meaningful as you make it, it's your life to live. So make it good, it's the only one you've got.
- Laura Troy . Poems, prayers and promises made; forever remember the dreams and memories we have shared.
- Anthony Vastano Life's battles won't always go to the stronger or faster man, but sooner or later the one who wins is the one who thinks he can.
- Rodger Thompson No one can do everything, but everybody can do something.
- Jeffrey Vogel Hard work will always pay off handsomely in the end.
- Elizabeth Wagner The best is yet to come.
- Robert Walbert ... All of the answers you seek can be found in all of the dreams you dream along the way.
- Joel Walstedter Give me a fiddle cause I'm rosin' up my bow.
- Hina Watanabe . What wonderful school days! I enjoyed it a lot at Westfield High and I'll never forget happy memories with you in my life!! (A shy girl from Japan)
- Jane Weisman The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed.
- Beth Wellnitz The secret of life is enjoying the passage of time.
- Cindy West I hurry through my life never stopping to see how beautiful it was meant to be.
- Diane Whitcombe Keep smiling, it keeps the world wondering what you're really up to.
- Lisa Wieghorst Just say good-bye—it's Independence Day.
- Meg Wieghorst And now can you break the ties that bind?
- Mary Wilshaw All you need in life is love, laughter, friendship and a few miracles.
- Tom Wimmer If you want a drink of water you've got to get it from a well, if you want to go to heaven you've got to raise a little hell.
- Seth Wimpfheimer . The evil that's been done still is carrying on and when they've gone we'll be the voice.
- Susan Witzel And in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make.
- Mark Wolf I recall drinkin' wine with one of my friends, Lord I can't go back again ... Why those things happen I don't understand, but Lord it sure can hurt a man, 'cause your friend is the most important thing.
- Chris Wolfson . Living is easy with eyes closed misunderstanding all you see. It's getting hard to be someone. But it all works out, it doesn't matter much to me.
- Jonathan Wolfson I'll see you on the dark side of the moon.
- Marc Wolin Everything is funny as long as it happens to somebody else.
- Nancy Wright I know it may sound selfish, but let me breathe the air.
- Duane Yancey Now, however, there remains faith, hope, love these three; but the greatest of these is love.
- Peter Yoo . You are the child of universe like the bird, tree and all the creation of the universe. You have the right to exist even if you have doubt. Be gentle with yourself, there are others better and lesser than you. Be happy as you are. Your achievement and your existence. Keep smiling and try to achieve the happiness in your life.
- Robin Yuengel Time is upon us; today is forever, tomorrow is just one of yesterday's dream.
- Lee Zanger Let it be.
- Amy Beth Zucker . First like a sailor headn' into the seas there's a gale blowin' in my face—the high winds scare me but I need the breeze.
- Max Zutty Nice guys finish last.

to finish the moment,

to find the journey's end

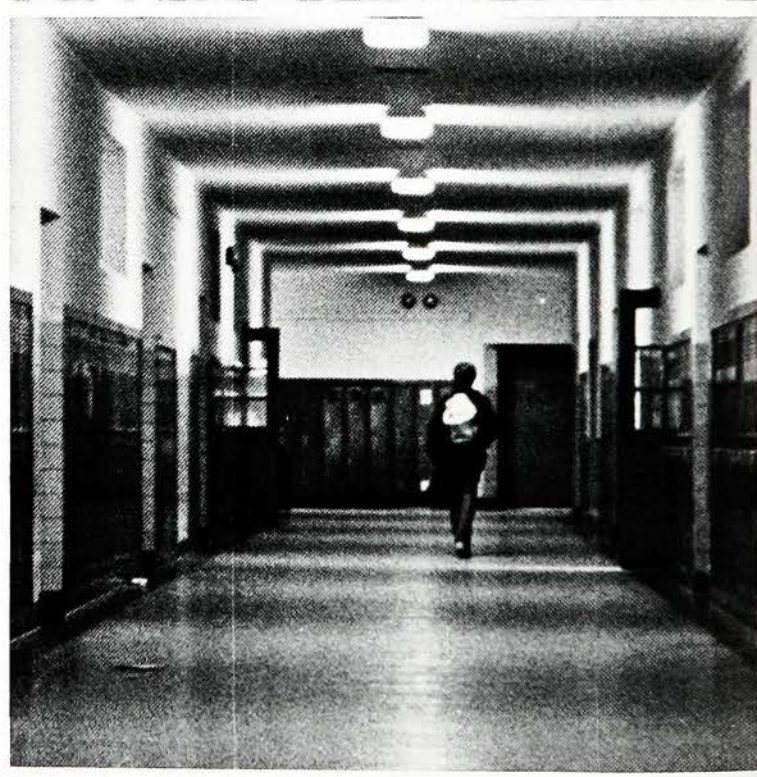

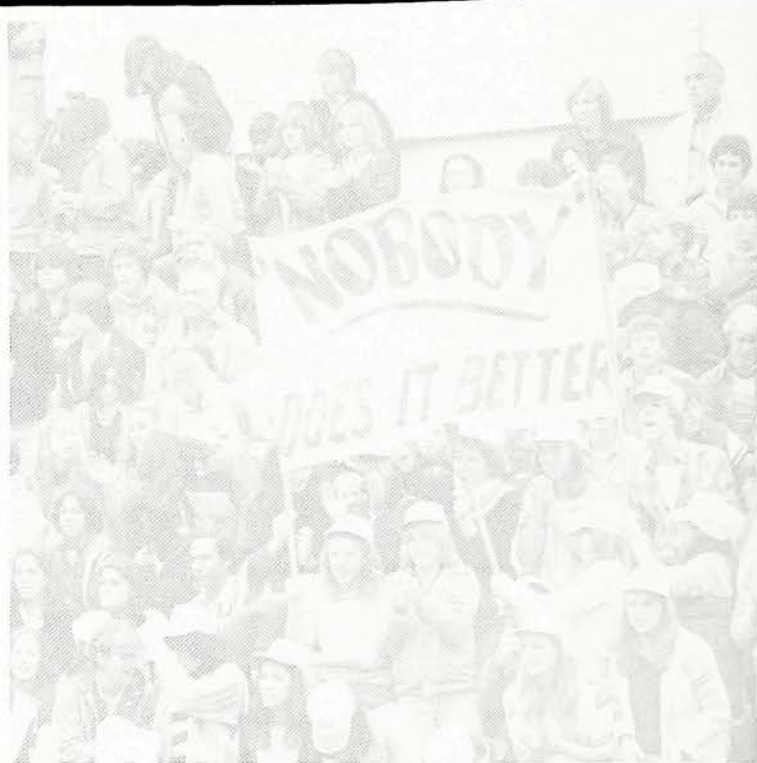

in every step of the road,

to live the greatest number of good hours,

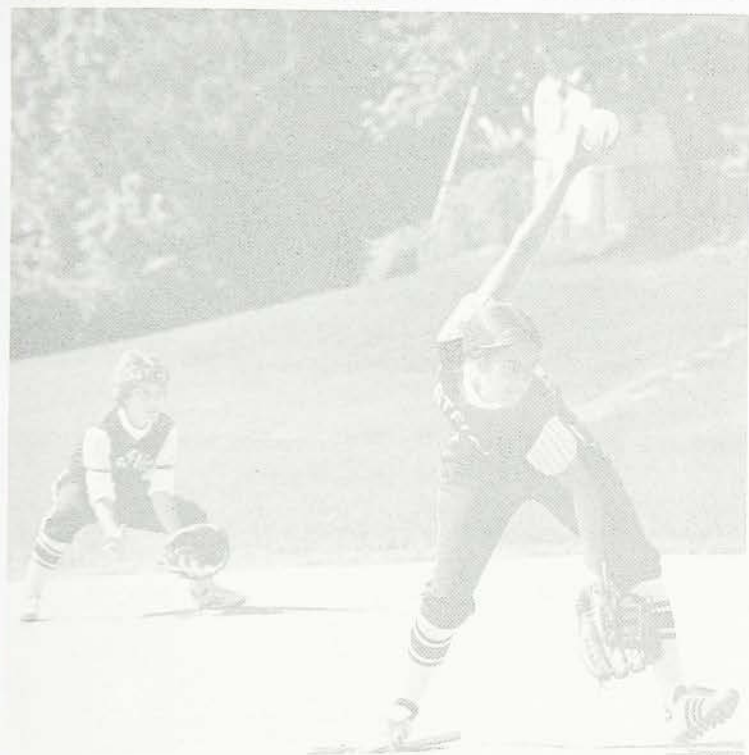

is wisdom.

conclusion

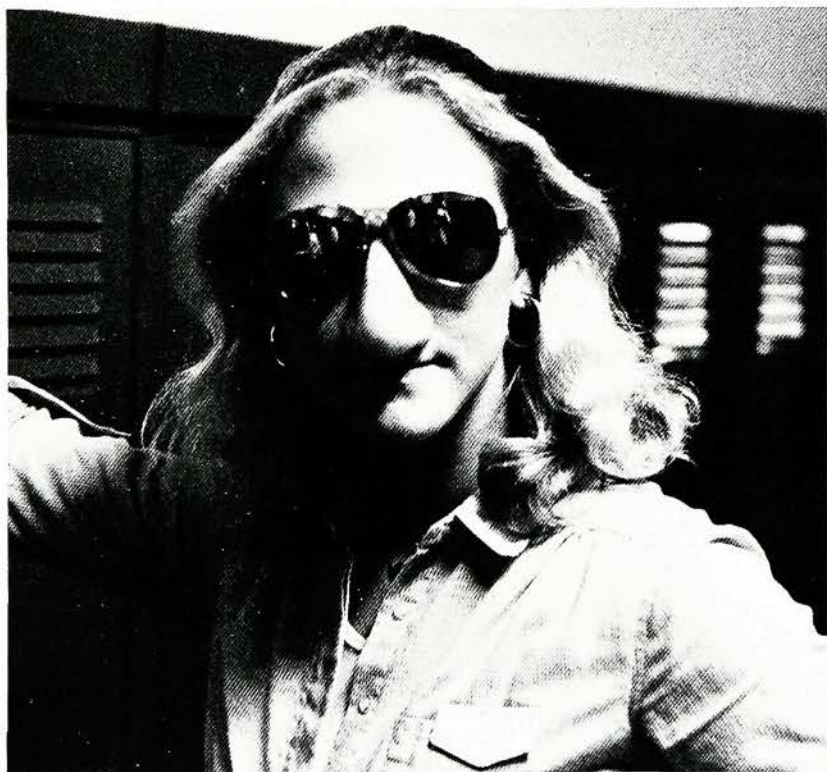

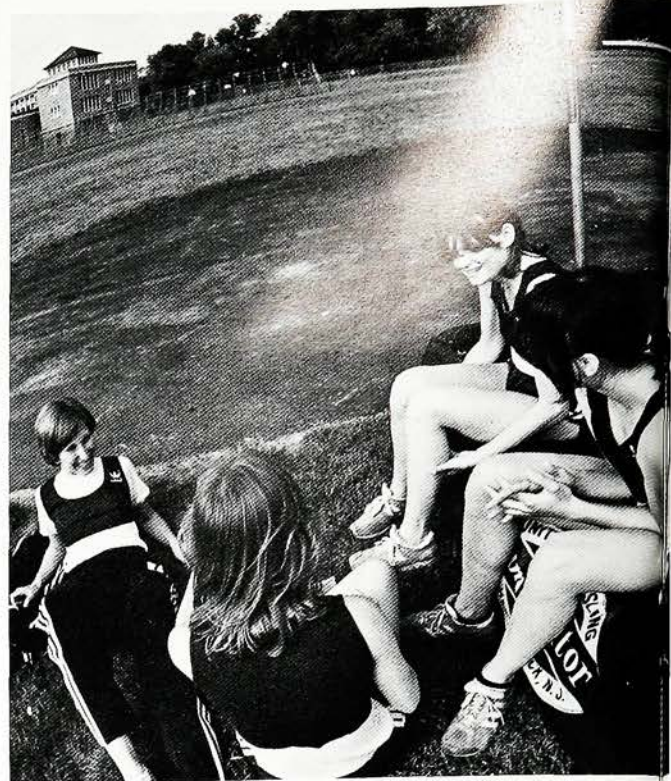

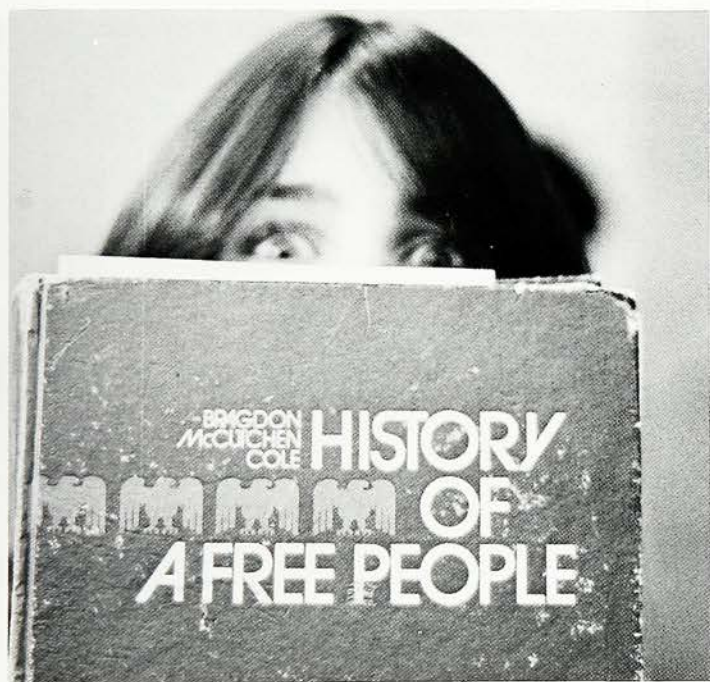

... it seems to me sometimes that we get our education ended

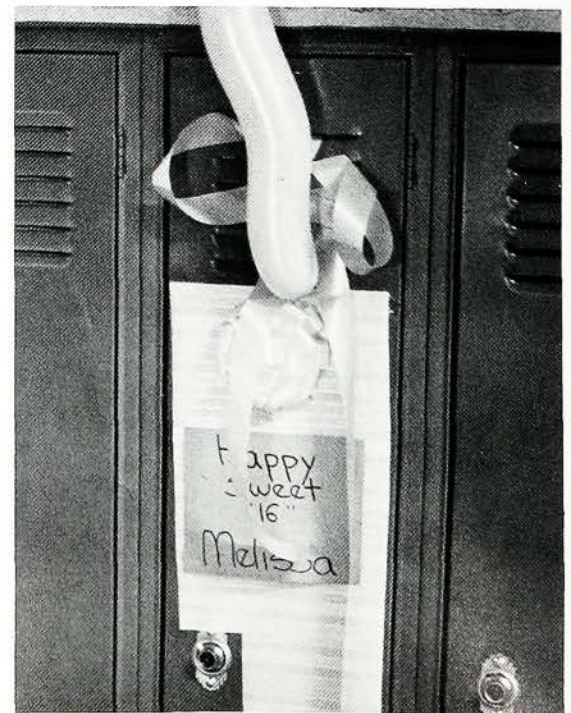

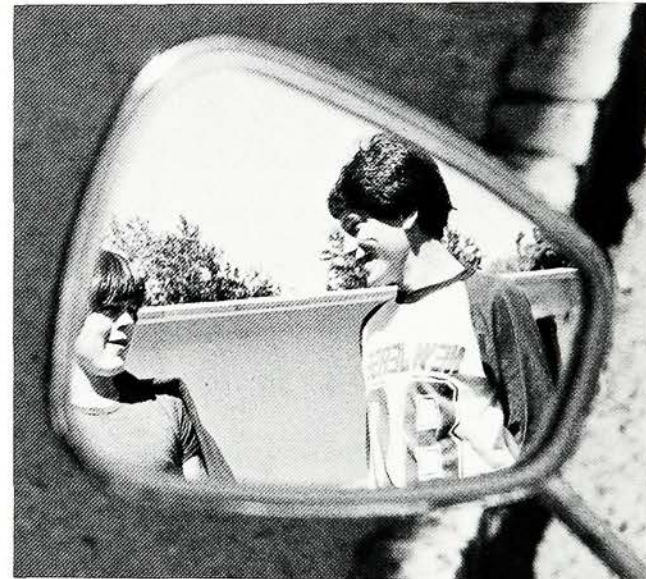

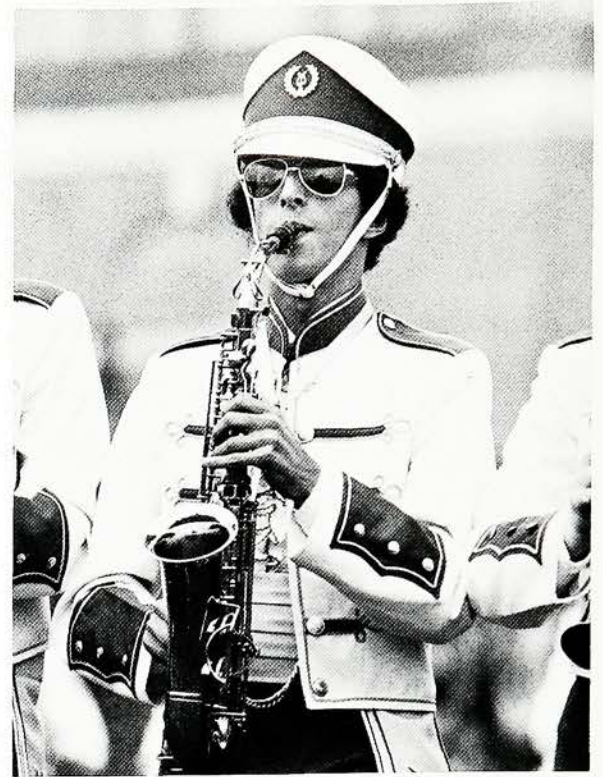

a little too quick . . .

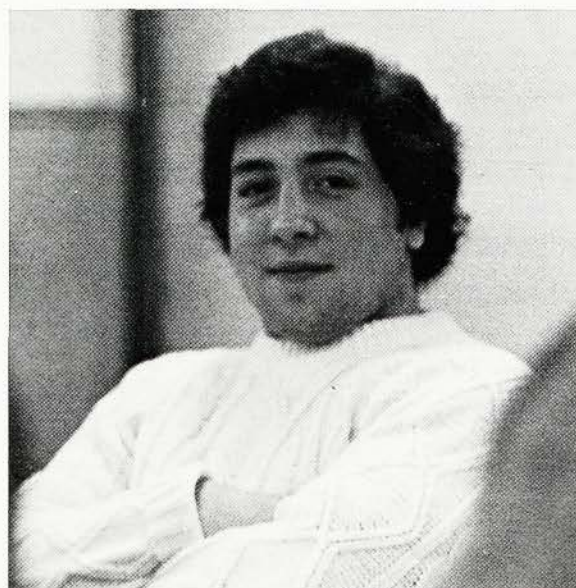

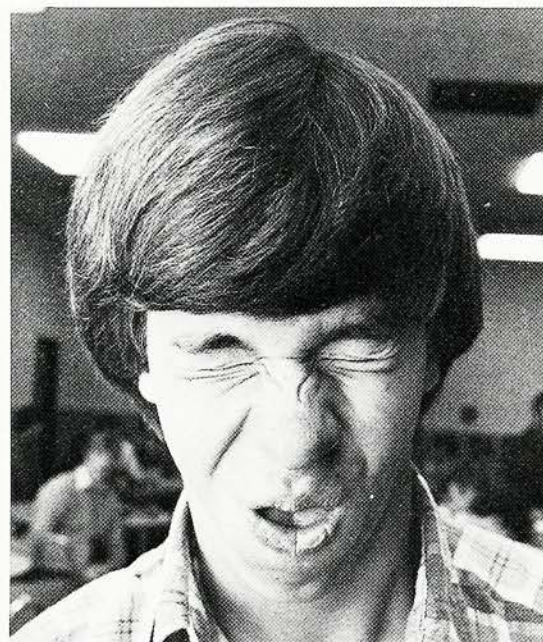

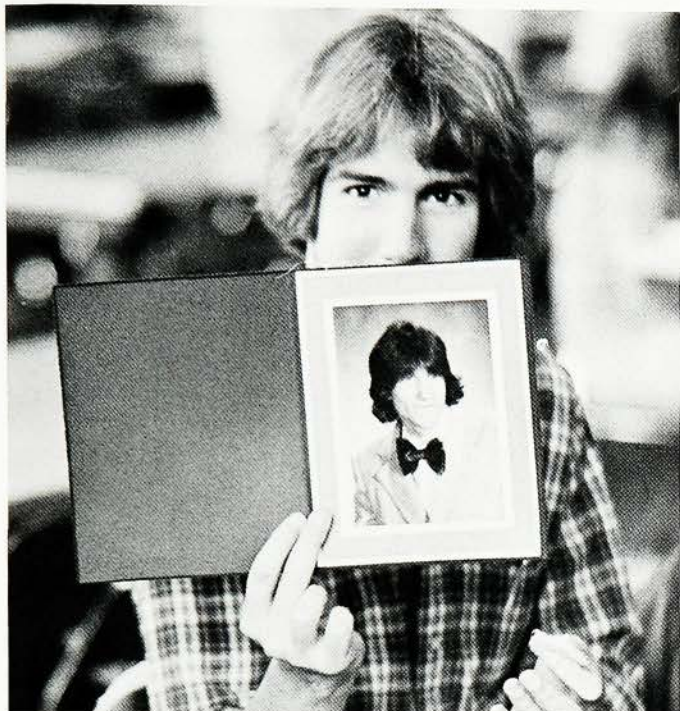

all life is an experiment. the more experiments you make, the better. what if they are a little coarse . . . what if you do fail and get fairly rolled in the dust once or twice? up again, you shall never be so afraid of a tumble.

looking back on our years at westfield high school we recall the moments, the accomplishments, the trials and errors, the friends, the dreams, the happy times, the enthusiasm, the comradeship, the changes . . . these experiences,
these threads on the loom of life
have filled us with warmth, sorrow,
ambition, tension, spirit, excitement,
happiness, memories . . .

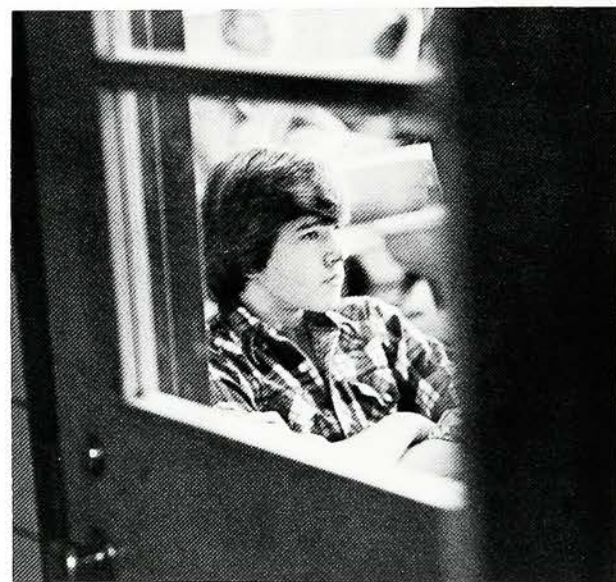

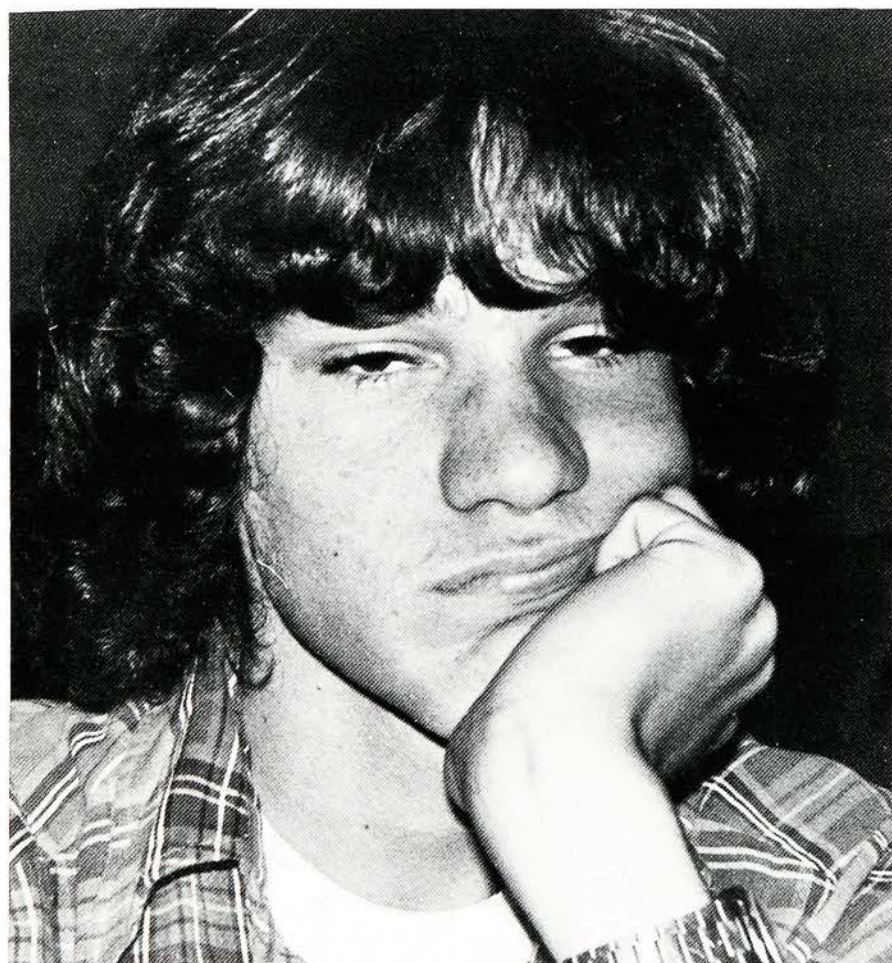

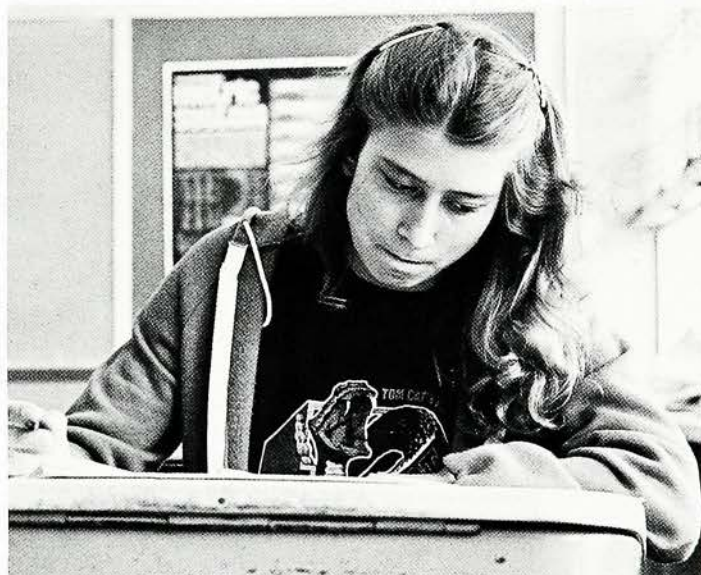

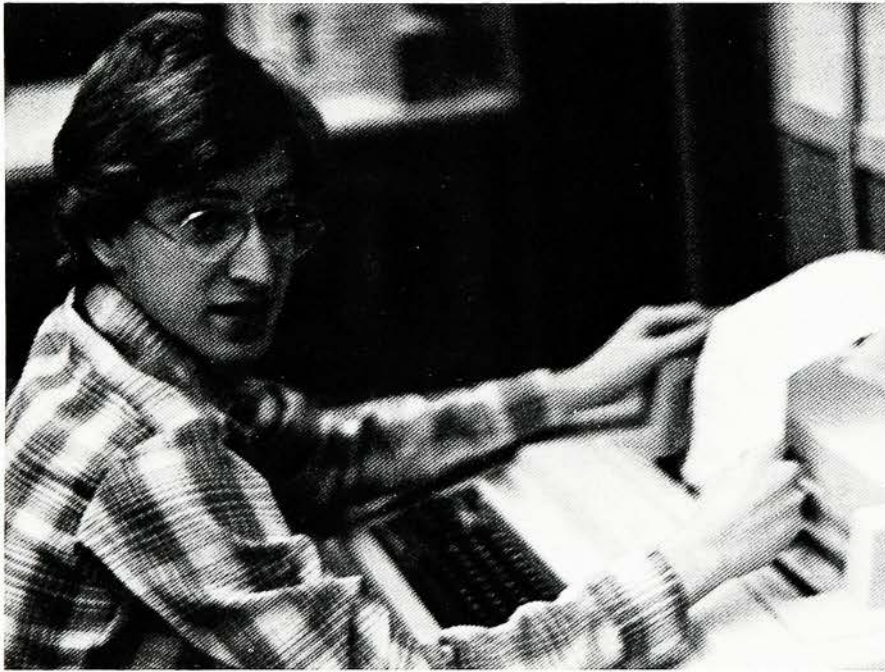

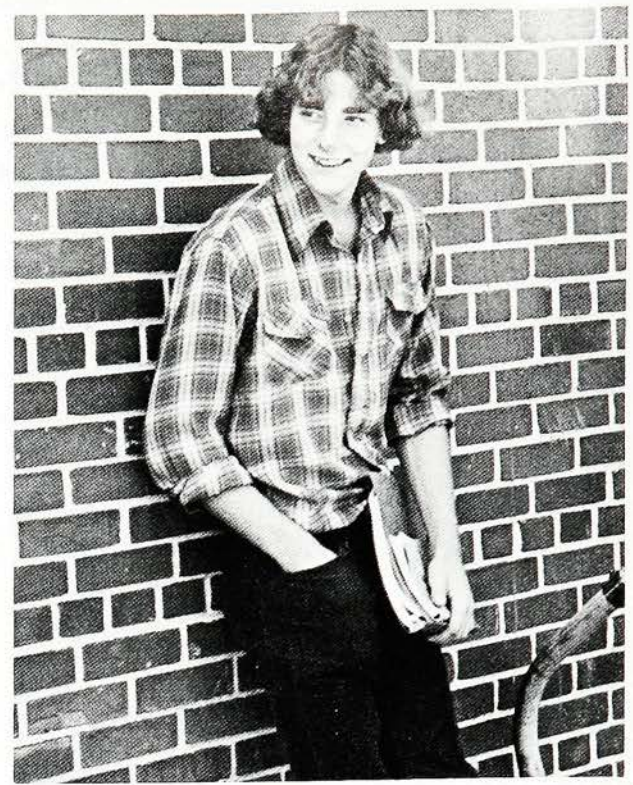

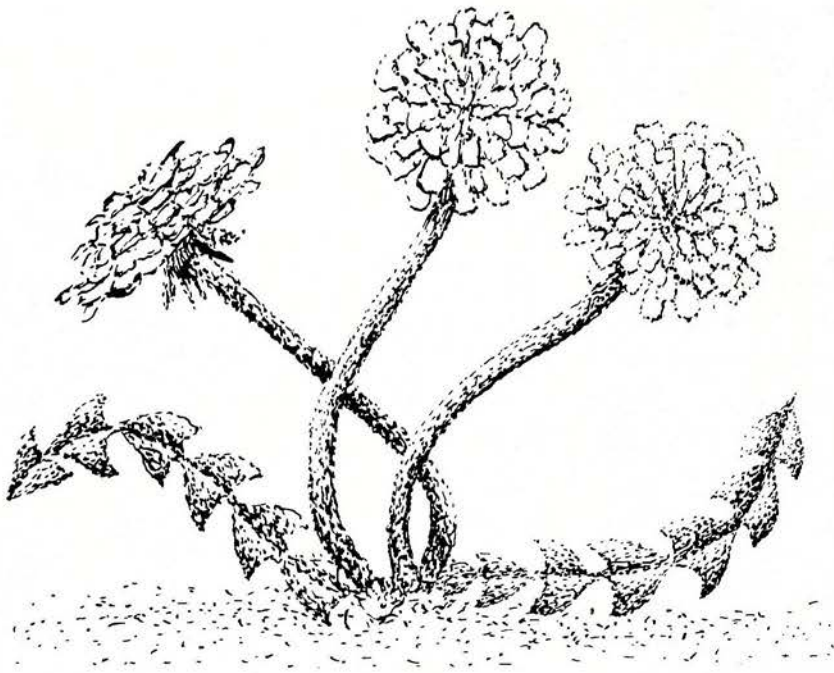

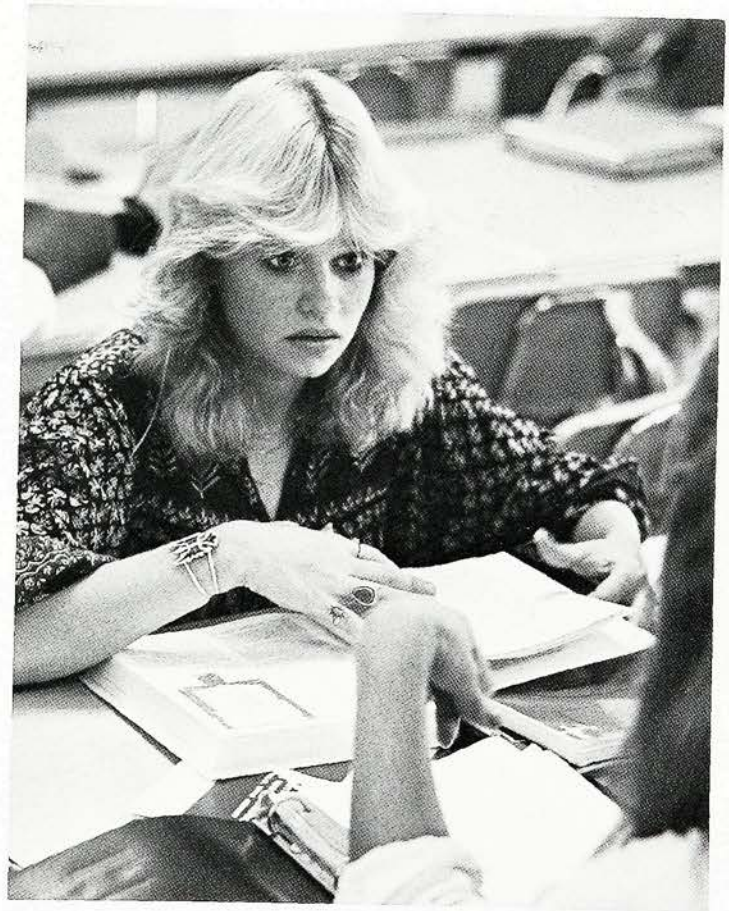

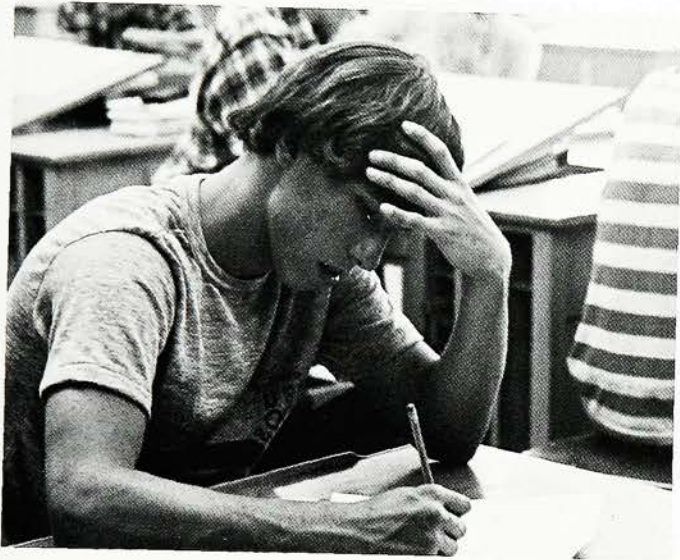

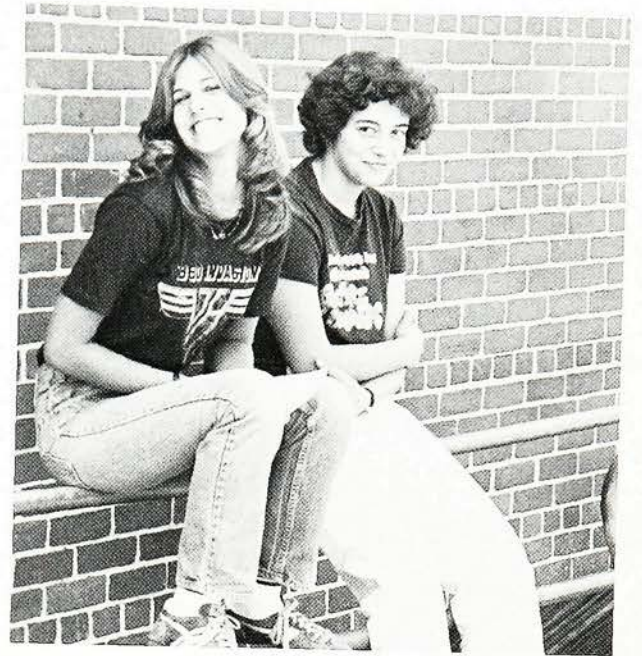

we can not guess today the mood,
the outlook, the promise, the power of tomorrow while we are still building today. each one of us
paints our world a different hue, viewing life in a different focus.

this 1981 weather vane attempts to capture some of those special moments, but a book, unlike memories, has a final paragraph and a last page. so say your good-byes, walk through the doors, and begin the next chapter. and when in the future you leaf through this book, may it flood you with many warm and happy memories— for these will always be the good old days!
