TWENTY-FOUR HOUR CELEBRATION JULY 4

All Citizens Urged to Participate in Big Parade and Attend Ceremonies

MILITIA RESERVES IN CHARGE

Westfield's Fourth of July celebration this year, which will continue for twenty-four hours, gives promise of being the most elaborate as well as the most patriotic observance of Independence Day in the history of the town.

While Mayor Evans and the Council left all the arrangements to the Militia Reserve Company, the town officials will have a most prominent part in the programme and the arrangements for the day call for the patriotic co-operation of every Westfield family. All are appealed to to answer President Wilson's proclamation for loyal participation, even at the sacrifice of other plans for the day.

Men, women and children are urged to participate in the parade as an outward and visible sign of devotion to and belief in our country and its institutions and to show that the love and loyalty of every one stands firm for "one country, one flag and one ideal."

There are six phases to the celebration which, briefly stated, consist of a military night in camp, July 3, by the reserves, a big parade Thursday morning, patriotic exercises on the Washington School campus, a military afternoon and picnic at camp, a concert by the Westfield Band, speeches, and an hour of songs at a big camp fire.

The two bands in the big morning parade will alternate at camp, and both will alternate at camp, giving a continuous program of music. There will be a division of the line of march, a military band, children, and delegations from the Red Cross, Navy League, Committee of Mercy, Boy Scouts, Rifle Club, Camp Fire Girls, etc. The automobile division promises to be a feature. Everyone is urged to drive his or her car suitably decorated with flags or bunting. No car undecorated will be permitted in line. Three prizes are to be awarded for the best-appearing automobiles, namely, three, two and one war savings stamps.

POSTMASTER KNOCKED OUT IN ONE ROUND

R. L. DeCamp Unconscious for Several Minutes After Being Hit by Falling Ceiling

WARNING SAVED HIS LIFE

Postmaster R. L. DeCamp had one of the narrow escapes of his life on Friday morning last, when he was hit amidship by a huge piece of plaster, which came loose and fell from the ceiling directly over his desk in the Post Office building.

The Postmaster was writing a letter at the time of the accident. As the plaster pulled away from the lathe it made a slight noise, and Mr. DeCamp swung back in his chair, this movement undoubtedly saved his life or prevented him from being seriously hurt, as the edge of the falling plaster flew past his face and catching him amidship knocked his wind out and laid him flat. He was revived by members of the post office clerical staff.

Mr. DeCamp stated that he had been afraid of just such an accident ever since last winter when the water from the melting snow backed in on the walls of the building and soaked the plaster.

During Sunday night a section of the ceiling over the desk of Assistant Postmaster William M. Townley came down, but the assistant, who always travels in luck, was sleeping peacefully at his home at the time.

It was stated this morning that orders had been given by the owner of the building to have the ceiling thoroughly tested at once in case some other section might fall and cause a more serious disaster.

NIGHT TENNIS BEGINS JULY 8TH

The open Men's Doubles Tennis Tournament has now been announced by the Tennis Committee of the Westfield Golf Club and entries are now being received by Mr. Fred G. Smith, of 675 Boulevard. The tournament will start on Monday evening, July 8th, and will continue each evening until completed.

GRADUATING CLASS RECEIVED DIPLOMAS

Miss Nellie Dexter Perkins, First Honor Pupil, Given School Flag

DR. C. N. KENDALL SPOKE

"The Elevator is Not Running, Take the Stairs," is the motto of the large class that graduated from the Westfield High School last evening, and whose members received diplomas as a token of having surmounted a goodly number of the steps without the use of the elevator.

The special speaker for the evening was Dr. C. N. Kendall, State Commissioner of Education. Dr. Kendall spoke along the lines of the necessity of education, of the State laws that provided for education and of the special need of education in times of war. He urged the members of the class to continue their education wherever possible to fit themselves to take their places in the world's activities.

President William H. Orr presented the diplomas to the members of the class and in a short speech touched on the serious side of life, made more so now by the war conditions, but in closing went back to the lighter vein and then extended the good wishes of the members of the board.

Vice-President Cutler presented the School Flag to the honor pupil, Miss Nellie Dexter Perkins. Mr. Cutler gave the recipient some good advice and congratulated her on her success. The speaker also took a little shot at President Orr in reference to using notes in connection with his speech, and closed with some witty remark that was greatly appreciated by the members of the class but not heard in the audience.

The program consisted of instrumental—(a) Hungarian Dance, No. 2 (b) The Perfect Melody Chant—Lord's Prayer, Chant, 18 Oration—War and America

LADIES SELLING THRIFT STAMPS

Captains and Workers Hustling to Make a Big Showing in Westfield

Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps form the topic of conversation for the ladies of the town this week. The captains and their workers are hustling, hustling, from morning until night, getting promises to buy stamps and more stamps.

It is safe to say that the ladies will make an excellent campaign, as it is they are so busy getting the pledges that they have not had time to total them up.

The team captains are Mrs. C. M. Tremaine and Mrs. Hugh Smith, First Ward; Mrs. A. H. Clark, Second Ward; Mrs. E. H. Oswald, Third Ward, and Mrs. H. J. Randall, Fourth Ward.

If the ladies have not called on you as yet be ready with a pen when they do get to your house.

NEW REGISTRANTS GET QUESTIONNAIRES

The questionnaires for the newly registered men, those that just reached the age of 21, were sent out this week. In this district Westfield had a high percentage as early 1-3 of the entire registration from the district was from Westfield. The towns of the district are Lyons Farms, Springfield, North, Garwood, New Providence, Hillside and Berkley Heights.

ELOQUENT SERMON BY DR. W. W. COE

Remarkable Find of Citizen Presented to Town—Miraculous Bird

OFFERING TO THE RED CROSS

On Sunday evening last the annual baccalaureate service was held in the First Methodist church and Dr. W. W. Coe, pastor of the Congregational church, delivered a most eloquent sermon from the text "Strive for Masteries."

The sermon was based on the words "Strive for Masteries," which occur in 2 Timothy 2:5, and which are an exhortation to seek victory upon the three battlefields of life—Self, circumstances and opportunity. Self mastery is the chief factor in character building. This means far more than the control of appetites or habits. It means the control of the tongue—the will, the imagination, the affections and the emotions. There is an intemperance of speech which is as disastrous as many a more conspicuous offense. An un-governed temper may cause as much sorrow as drunkenness. The man who is touchy, full of complaints and fault findings, who can not master his moods, may be as great a detriment to a community as one who is known openly as a scoundrel.

The second field of conquest is that of circumstances. There is no royal road to success. Greatness is made possible by difficulties. A century of peace would never have produced a Haig or Foch or a Pershing. The war is developing our manhood in a way that peace and prosperity would never have done. The war is revealing the possibilities that lie within us. It is awakening visions and desires of a better way and that is why war in due time will destroy itself.

The third field of conquest is that of opportunity and the new era that is to follow the war will present above all things also the wonderful possibility of the living interpretation of the world's new conception of service, and the way, the only way, that will fully reveal to us the meaning of this is by the way of the Cross. Then and there only may we catch the vision of infinite love, divine, unselfishness.

Rev. Dr. S. J. Herben, pastor of the church, presided and opened the service. Rev. Dr. E. J. Holden, of the First Baptist church, offered a prayer; Rev. Dr. Stearns read a passage from the scriptures, and Rev. J. A. Smith, rector of St. Paul's church, led the responsive reading.

The musical feature of the evening was the singing of the High School quarter. The offering taken, which was of good size, will be donated to the Westfield Chapter of the Red Cross.

NAVY LEAGUE DRIVE

Sale of Old Papers, Magazines and Metals Bring Satisfying Results.

There have been turned over to the chairman of the Westfield Unit of the Navy League the sum of $657.37, which represents the result of the drive for the Free Wool Fund of the Navy League.

This amount $347.36 was realized from the sale of the newspapers, magazines, metals, rubber and other material collected on June 8th; $274.90 in cash was donated by Westfield's patriotic citizens and $35.11 was the Navy League's share of the collection taken up at the First M. E. church at the service at which Major Guthrie spoke.

The committee having the matter in charge are exceedingly gratified with the result of their efforts and are confident that all who participated either in collecting the material or in contributing the same feel with them that the drive was well worth while.

This sum provides a generous supply of free wool for those desirous of knitting comfort articles for our brave boys and the wool may be obtained on Tuesday or Friday afternoons at the Navy League rooms in the rear of Frutchey's drug store.

SPRAYING DEMONSTRATION

The county farm and garden department will give a demonstration of the spraying of garden crops on Friday of this week at 7:30 p. m. in Mr. Meeker's garden on the corner of Summit avenue, opposite the Railroad station. Gardeners from this section are invited to be present to see the methods employed and have their questions pertaining to their garden problems answered by the county expert. Remember the hour and be prompt.

BIG BLACK SWAN FOR THE NEW PARK LAKE

GREAT ADDITION TO ZOO

The Town of Westfield is enriched by the acquisition of a remarkable bird for the park lake. It is an almost unheard of species and was acquired through the patriotic work of our eminent townsman John J. Daly. The bird came to town Monday evening and was delivered at the fire house. The firemen have taken care of the remarkable and valuable black swan and a movement is on foot to have a special celebration at the moment it is permitted to take its place with the other animals in the lake.

The history of this black bird is a complete mystery. The only solution of its habitat arrived through the exertion of John J. Daly. It is practically certain that the black swan came from the lakes of Ireland. A little over a week ago the employees of Ellis Island were amazed to see a black spot on the horizon. As they watched, this spot became larger and took the shape of a large bird. It circled about and with a mighty swoop landed on Ellis Island where there are a few thousands of emigrants, sailors and interned Germans. At first some of the officials imagined that the bird might be some kind of a new German spy and they put it through the Third Degree. The black swan would not respond to a word of German except to shrug its wings in disgust. Then the Italian and Spanish interpreters took a hand but Mr. Nig Swan showed no signs of understanding. At this point our eminent citizen, John J. appeared on the scene and immediately claimed to have seen the ancestors of this remarkable bird in his native country.

John J. walked quietly up to the bird and shouted "Se ni co co" which in the Gaelic for "hello." The bird at once squirmed with joy, made sounds which denoted happiness and rubbed its black neck against John J.'s long legs. It was certain that it had wandered from its former home in one of the interior Irish lakes. John J. informed a "Leader" reporter that only a few of this species are known in the history of birdology. The species is found on the estate of the Marquis of Waterford and known as "The Caromorra Estate."

The black swan, which was at once named the "Vagrant," did not care to be parted from John J. and he appreciated that the acquisition of the bird would be a big asset to Westfield. On Saturday evening he had a special appointment with our Mayor and the Mayor heartily endorsed the addition of the bird to the park lake zoo. As the Mayor aptly remarked, "Since the license question and the police question are settled the town has settled into the doldrums and the coming of the 'Vagrant' will be a big thing for our citizens." It is confidently expected that crowds from Cranford, Roselle and nearby towns will visit the lake every day and view the remarkable bird.

The "Leader" representative suggested to Mr. Daly that the Westfield band meet the bird at the station playing some homelike tune such as "The Wearing of the Green." Mr. Daly was not certain that he could bring the bird out on the 5:15 Monday and so it would not be safe to have the band wait. However, the Mayor very kindly ordered two or three of the town officials of Irish extraction to wait at the station until the bird arrived and whistle for it.

Black swans are very scarce and the books on this subject tell us that they are found chiefly in Australia. It is very seldom that one is found outside of that continent—in spite of John J.'s claim to the contrary—and the character of the bird is gregarious. They are capable of powerful flights and are more at home in fresh water but are often found at sea in winter. They usually travel in pairs and it is hoped that Mr. Daly will keep his weather eye open for the mate of the "Vagrant."

As soon as "Vagrant's" wings are clipped and he is put in condition, he will take his place with the white swans in the lake. It may be necessary to acclimate the two species to each other but this will no doubt be accomplished by our efficient town officials and Westfield owes a vote of thanks to its townsman John J. Daly for his thoughtfulness and public spirit.

WHAT THE ACTOR BOYS ARE DOING IN THE WAR

As is usual the profession which has been to the fore in doing big things for our country is the theatrical profession. In all charitable and patriotic affairs the actors and actresses are ever ready to give their very best. Not only in the army but with the Red Cross and in the caucuses the best of our American actors and actresses are doing a little more than their bit. One particular work which is very necessary is the care of the mental condition of our boys. Clean entertainments, mental recreation and the work of directing the minds of our boys along the finest channels is part of the duty undertaken by the actors. One of these young actor boys who is doing fine work in France is Clark Silvernail. Not only is he busy saving the wounded and caring for the sick but he is listed in the honor roll in one of the recent editions of the Theatre Magazine along with William Faverham, Jr., and Richard Mansfield, who has given his life for his country. To illustrate the kind of influence which these boys are exercising on their comrades we quote a few verses by Mr. Silvernail, whose character parts are admired not only along Broadway but in nearly every State in the Union:

TO MY MOTHER

From out these rows of soft, brown wool
Oh, if you only knew,
All the comfort you've sent to me,
Memories of things that used to be,
And all of my love, for you.

Here where I'm tired and lonely too
Oh, what joy just to know,
Even though life is hard for me,
It is never as bad as one thinks it to be,
For your love has proved it so.

To know you've tangled in all the wool,
Love and joy and your pride,
Makes me ashamed, that I never could be,
All of the things you think of me,
So my heart just weeps inside.

So for every tear on the soft brown wool,
I've shed one, too, for shame,
For the things I've missed that I owe you
For the things I've never done for you,
The source from which I came.

So into these holes in the soft brown wool,
I've whispered a little vow;
Just because I belong to you,
Because I am coming back to you,
My life begins from now.

PLAYS OF THE WEEK.

NEW "PASSING SHOW" NEAR

Seventh in This Series of Winter Garden Spectacles Under Way.

The Shuberts made known this week that they have begun preparations for "The Passing Show of 1918," the musical spectacle designed for the Winter Garden to follow "Sinbad," which will end its run in two weeks. The date for the new production has not been definitely set, but it will probably be seen during July.

This will be the seventh in the Winter Garden's series of "Passing Shows." Those hard working jokers and songsmiths Harold Atteridge, Sigmund Romberg and Jean Schwartz have already evolved the book and score. J. C. Huffman will again attend to the staging and Jack Mason will arrange the dances.

Eugene and Willie Howard, old settlers at the Winter Garden, will head the phalanx of comedians, and other members of the cast will be George Hessel, Chic Sale, Frank Fay, George Schiller, Fred and Adele Astaire, Clayton and White, Virginia Fox Brooks and Arthur Albro.

After a six weeks' vacation for the company "Sinbad" will resume its performances at the 44th Street Theatre. It is the only Winter Garden show that has ever been transferred to another

Astor—"Rock-a-bye-Baby."

A musical version of Margaret Mayo's popular "Baby Mine." The music is "catchy," the girls and gowns are delightful and the cast is headed by Louise Dresser. All the funniest situations of the original play remain in a good, tuneful setting.

Broadhurst—"Maytime."

Charles Hanson Towne, of McClure's, says "Maytime" is the most charming operetta New York has had for many a year, and we heartily agree. The music is lovely; the change of time from one generation of New Yorkers to another up to the present time makes fine possibilities for stage settings, costuming and character acting. The Chicago cast reminds the pleasure of hearing the same music with different voices and John Charles Thomas' personality is very, very pleasing. Don't let the season go by without having seen "Maytime" at least once!

Casino—"Oh, Lady! Lady!"

"Oh, Lady! Lady!"—musical comedy de luxe—which captivated capacity audiences at the Little Princess theatre, is now settled in its new large home, the Casino, where it has begun its fifth month.

Forty-eighth St.—"The Man Who Stayed at Home."

Sometimes it is harder to stay at home and do one's bit in the face of hostile criticism than to face the trials and tribulations of the trenches. So Christopher Brent, hero of "The Man Who Stayed at Home," found it. But he served his country, vindicated his honor and won his best girl before the end of the play, every scene of which has an absorbing thrill.

Fulton—Four Plays.

For those who long for "something different" and who are too restless to sit through a whole play, the Actors & Authors offer a pleasing bill at the Fulton. A new playlet, "Marriages Are Made" is presented this week. Also "Nocturne"—an exquisite psychological study of the homely girl vs. the pretty girl—beautifully acted by Minnie Dupree. Also "The Best Sellers"—a clever musical take-off on the modern type of adventurous novel, by Kenneth and Roy Webb.

Maxine Elliott's—"Eyes of Youth."

Way back at the beginning of this long theatrical season—so far back that the date is hazy—lovely Marjorie Rambaou opened in her crystal-gazing play "The Eyes of Youth." Then in the winter Miss Rambaou met with a skating accident and Jane Grey took her place. Then Miss Rambaou returned and the play is nearing its 350th performance. Successful? Well, rather!

Winter Garden—"Sinbad."

One by one the theatres close. And now the Winter Garden has only two weeks more of "Sinbad"—that tuneful, colorful, laughsterful Oriental spectacle with Al Jolson at its head and with hundreds of pretty girls back of it. A short vacation, and the whole cast moves to the 44th St. Theatre to reopen on August 15, while the Winter Garden gets its annual refurbishing.

Straud—Pauline Frederick in "Her Final Reckoning."

Pauline Frederick may be seen in "Her Final Reckoning," her new photoplay based upon the famous French play "Prince Zillah," written by Jules Claretie, French dramatist. Another interesting feature is the sixth installment of the marvelous Outing Chester scenic pictures, revealing "A Zuni Kicking Race." Smiling Billy Parsons may be seen in his latest comedy, entitled "Dad's Knockout." The Topical Review contains some very interesting pictures just received from France of the American Troops on the firing line. Cora Tracey, the popular contralto, appears on the musical program, rendering "The Spirit Flower." Ralph H. Brigham and Herbert Sisson will play alternately "The Lord Chord" as an organ solo. The Strand Symphony Orchestra render operatic selections from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly."

VAUDEVILLE.

Palace—Vaudeville de Luxe.

Old favorites are at the Palace this week: Breezy Stella Mayhew in twenty minutes of songs and stories, Van and Schenck, who need no comment except "better songs than ever"; La Belle Tlomb; Monette, the gypsy violinist, and two sketches, "A Treat in Travesty," with James Watts, and "The Battle of Whats-the-use," with LeMaire and Gallagher.

Luna Park.

For those who seek seaside attractions, Luna Park is offering more diversions than ever before. Lightless for so many weeks, it has burst into brilliant, sparkling fairyland again and is offering timely amusement to our soldiers, sailors, their wives, cousins, aunts, sweethearts and friends. "Over There," "The Submarine Attack," the familiar "Witching Waves" and, of course, the outdoor circus are the leading attractions.

When you are down town drop in Schmitt's Market, in East Broad street, formerly John Dughl's, the assortment of vegetables will surprise you. Home grown Jersey Asparagus, fresh from the farms, together with all the season's fresh green vegetables. Berries are fine this week. Adv.

New Brighton—High Class Vaudeville.

The tenth anniversary of the New Brighton Theatre occurs during this week. Elaborate plans have been formulated for an auspicious celebration of the event at this seaside playhouse.

Mollie King, screen favorite, makes her initial seaside vaudeville appearance as one of the principals; singing, dancing and giving her impressions of prominent players. Gus Van and Joe Schenck, who have prepared an all-new song program; Herman Timberg, who appears with his Five Dancing Violin Girls, reenters vaudeville from the Winter Garden; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry appear in "The Burglar." The Misses Lightner and Newton Alexander, McDevitt, Kelly and Lucy, in "The Piano Mover," Libonati, ragtime xylophonist, and Bessie Clifford in "Art Impressions," conclude a good bill.

Carnegie Hall—Isadora Duncan Dancers.

A series of three performances will be given in Carnegie Hall this evening and June 28 and 29th by the Isadora Duncan Dancers. The six adopted daughters of Isadora Duncan will share the programme with George Copeland pianist, who ranks high as an exponent of Chopin and modern composers such as Debussy and Granados. The dancers will interpret two Chopin groups and works of Liszt, MacDowell, Florent Schmitt and Schubert; while Mr. Copeland will play two groups including among other numbers Debussy's "Minstrels" and "L'Après-midi d'un faune." There will be individual and ensemble numbers, the whole making up a performance of extraordinary charm and novelty.

CLASS DAY OBSERVED

Members Received Gifts From the Judge of the Knox County Court.

The "Class Day" exercises of the Class of 1918 were held in the High School Auditorium on Monday evening, and at which time the usual class day program was given, all the members of the class participating.

The program opened with a speech of welcome by the class president. When the speaker finished everyone in the audience felt that he or she was indeed welcome. This was followed by the class yell and the class song. Then came the prize number of the evening, "The Knox County Court." F. Whitby Coen was the Judge, Arthur Barry and James Henderson, the lawyers, and H. Seaman Dix, the court clerk. Every member of the class was made a defendant and to each the judge, lawyers and clerk administered "justice" for the sins of the past four years and made awards appropriate to the shortcomings of each individual. The accompanying remarks of the judge bristling with wit and humor, kept the audience in the best nature possible.

The class history, reprinted in the "Owl," on another page of the "Leader," was read by Miss Blackford, and James Henderson read the last will of the class.

The key of knowledge was presented to the president of the Class of 1918, Donald MacDougall, with the usual good advice given on such occasions.

Following the program all the members of the class and their friends enjoyed dancing in the Gym.

ITALIAN CHILDREN TO ENTERTAIN

"The Year's Homage to Queen June" will be presented by children of the Italian Sunday School tomorrow evening in the Congregational Parish House at 8 o'clock. The object of this entertainment is two-fold—first to raise much needed money for the work, and to arouse great interest in this good cause.

Letters remaining uncalled for at the Westfield Post Office to be sent to the Dead Letter Office July 2, 1918, are as follows: Miss Grace McNaughton, Mrs. Albert Marcherson, Richard Davis, W. M. Wood, Mrs. O. Eick, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murrant, Mrs. C. E. Lawton, Joe Moore, Mrs. Thos. A. Kelly, P. Sediano, Mrs. E. P. Hicks, H. R. Lay, Mrs. E. Bernhardt.

TWENTY FOUR HOUR CELEBRATION JULY 4th

The piece de' resistance of the afternoon, as our boys now "over there" would say, will be the "Kaiser Confagration." A big bonfire will be built and onto it will be thrown anything made in Germany which which the townspeople will bring. Everyone is urged to look around the house for something from the Kaiser's country and bring it to the campgrounds to make the flames mount high.

The afternoon and evening exercises, July 4, and the encampment July 3, will be held on the well-shaded, spacious Peckman grounds on Upper Highland avenue, adjoining Westfield Gardens.

The celebration opens early on Wednesday evening, July 3, when the Militia Reserves, in full camp equipment with the supply automobiles loaded with tents, bedding and provisions, assemble on the camp grounds for a tour of night duty. Tents will be put up in company street formation, the campfire started and guard mount held.

This will all take place before dark and the residents of the town are especially invited to visit the grounds and see this part of regular military life. At taps at 10:30 p. m. all the company save the detachment on sentinel duty about the camp will go to their tents for sleep. The relief will be changed every two hours, giving every man an opportunity to do his bit of guard duty.

At 5 a. m. of the Fourth, Mess Sergeant Harry Hale, will wake up the squad of cooks. Revellie will be at 5:30 and at 7 when mess call is sounded the coffee and rolls, eggs and bacon will be ready for the hungry soldier boys.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the company will march down to the Washington School grounds to assemble for the big parade which is scheduled to get under way by 10 o'clock. Col. W. S. Stryker will be the marshal and the following will be in line: Police Escort.

The Mayor and Town Council.

Westfield Band.

Westfield Company, New Jersey State Militia Reserve.

Westfield Rifle Club.

Westfield Troop, Boy Scouts.

Westfield Branch, Navy League.

Westfield Committee of Mercy.

Westfield Camp Fire Girls.

School Children from all grades from the Fifth up.

Citizens' Division.

Decorated Automobile Division.

The parade will be over the principal streets of the town and the line of march will be announced later.

Patriotic Exercises

On arriving back at the Washington School grounds the patriotic exercises will take place. These will include flag raising, reading of the Declaration of Independence, repeating of the oath of allegiance, prayer by Rev. E. J. Holden, pastor of the Baptist church, a member of the Militia Reserves, and the singing of "America" by the entire assemblage.

The company, led by the band, will then march to the camp on Upper Highland avenue and the reserves will have their noon-day mess, which will be followed by rest until 2 o'clock. The boys are to have Liberty sausage and beans, coffee, bread and butter and pie.

It is hoped the townspeople will come on foot or in their autos with a picnic lunch and eat with the boys. There is plenty of shade and ideal outing ground, added to which the Red Cross canteen will have ice cream, lemonade and other desirable dainties on sale. The Red Cross will also have light supper to sell at 5:30.

Beginning at 2 o'clock the company will live a theoretical day in camp, at that time being in their tents. The buglers will sound reveille and the men turn out for "morning" roll call. From 2:05 to 2:20 will be setting up exercises. At 2:25 will be first call for assembly, at five minutes later assembly and inspection of the company by Mayor Evans and the Town Council.

For the half-hour from 2:45 to 3:15 the reserves will drill, followed by the presentation to the town of a framed picture of the company. At 3:30 first call will sound for assembly for skirmish drill and a sham battle.

From 4 to 5 o'clock the Westfield Band will give a patriotic concert. At its close will come evening parade, one of the prettiest features of military regulations.

From 5:30 to 6:30 an hour for supper, following which will be the address of the day by Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, Plainfield. Then will come the singing of songs by the reserves, led by a specially drilled chorus under the leadership of Sergeant Hall.

The big bonfire will then become the center of attraction when the things "made in Germany" will be consigned to the flames.

Members of the Militia Reserve will assemble at 4 p. m. this Saturday at the Washington School ground for a rehearsal of the Fourth of July program. On Saturday evening the company will again report there to go over the singing program.

A half a dozen more wall tents are needed to house the company, and an appeal is made to residents who have such to lend their tents to the company for July 3 and 4. Please notify Supply Sergeant Hale or any of the corporals and the tents will be called for.

RECOVERED STOLEN CANOE

Police Located at Sewaren, Where It Was Stolen by Two Lads.

On Saturday evening word was received at police headquarters that an eighteen foot canoe had been stolen from the property of A. P. Stevens, on Springfield road. It was stated that the canoe had been taken on Thursday of last week.

Police Officer Deter saw the entry on the blotter and informed Chief Rosecrans that he had seen a green canoe loaded on a light wagon on Rahway avenue at about six o'clock on Saturday evening.

The officer was detailed on the job and after investigation found that the wagon belonged to a colored man named Jackson, who lives in Scandia Heights. Chief Rosecrans and the officer visited Jackson's home and the latter gave information which led to the arrest of Walter Marsh, of Brisbane place, and Charles Erickson, of Madison avenue. The boys told the officers that the canoe was at Sewaren.

The boys were taken to Sewaren in the police car and the canoe was secured and brought back to Westfield.

On Monday evening the boys were arraigned before Recorder Bunnell. They pleaded guilty to the charge which was made by Mrs. Stevens, owner of the canoe. The Judge was about to hold the young men for the Grand Jury when Mr. Stevens, at the request of Mrs. Stevens, asked that he might be allowed to withdraw the charges, saying that he did not wish to let up on the boys but that he made the move for the sake of their parents.

After giving the boys a severe reprimand and a little good advice the Recorder allowed the charge to be withdrawn. Mrs. Marsh was in court and was almost overcome, she stated that it was the first time any member of her family had been in trouble. She was overjoyed at the result and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Stevens for their generosity. Mr.

Erickson stated that his son had always been a good boy and was ready to make amends to Mrs. Stevens for any loss sustained by the incident.

SENIORS PRESENT "THE WHITE FEATHER"

War Play Ably Handled by Students and Enjoyed by Capacity Audiences

GOOD SUM TO JR. RED CROSS

The untiring efforts of Miss Marion Brainerd, teacher of English in the High School, were rewarded on Friday and Saturday evenings last by the masterly way in which the members of the Senior Class handled the presentation of the three act war drama, "The White Feather," which play has had a long and successful run in the theatres of New York City and other cities throughout this country as well as in England and Australia.

The selection of the play, dealing as the plot does with the situation in the early stages of the war, reflects great credit to the good judgment of the High School instructors.

All the members of the cast did their bit remarkably well, but special mention should be made of the leading man, Arthur L. Barry, who took the part of Christopher Grant, acting the double role of the foolish Englishman and the alert spy, his interpretation of the part was almost in the professional class.

Miss Marion Cox, playing in the role of Miriam Lee, also touched on the professional and throughout the play her acting was excellent and above criticism. Miss Dorothy Hoffman played true to the original in the part of Frauline Schroeder.

Richard Fleming, Jr., in the part of John Preston, M. P., was excellent, carrying without a hitch the voice and manners of the stern and self-satisfied parent of Molly Preston (Ruth Morton). Miss Morton cleverly followed the actions and gestures of the professional who played the part in the New York City cast, and took advantage of all the openings to draw applause from the audience.

Miss Louise Cole, who took the role of Mrs. Sanderson, mother of Carl Sanderson (Stanley J. Patrick), the German spy, also imitated the metropolitan model and Patrick warmed up considerably as the play advanced; he filled his part much better on the second evening, although he did remarkably well on both occasions.

Miss Janet Warfield as Miss Myrtle looked and acted the part in a sweet and pleasing manner. Fred Coen as Percival Pennicuck; Miss Mary Hutson as Daphne Kidlington, and William Linden as Corporal Atkins followed their models in a marked degree. James E. Henderson as Fritz, was a little stiff at times but his acting was remarkably good for an amateur production.

As a whole the play was well staged, well produced and the members of the Class of '18 are to be congratulated on its success.

On Saturday evening the play was repeated and the proceeds of the sale of tickets donated to the Junior Red Cross of the High School.

The cast and scenes were as follows:

John Preston, M. P. . . . . Richard Fleming, Jr.
Frauline Schroeder . . . . . Dorothy Hoffman

Time: The Present.

Act 1—After Breakfast.

Act 2—After Tea.

Act 3—Scene 1.—After dinner.

Scene 2—A few hours later.

The action of the play passes in fifteen hours.
Harold Dix handled the lighting features; Russell Freeman superintended the stage carpentry and to George Simpson the class is indebted for the excellent setting made possible by the expert use of wall paper.

What Will Be Your Answer?

Many American ships with many American lives are at the bottom of the Atlantic, victims of the German lust for blood.

Our boys are going "over there," through a sea of hostile submarines, to fight that you and I at home may be safe.

But we can do something. Germany said to us, "You cannot cross the ocean with your men! You cannot fight us, because you cannot reach us!" What shall our answer be on June 28?

June 28th National War Savings Day

Let every man, woman and child join in an answer that can be heard from one end of Germany to the other—in answer so clear, so strong and so true that it may have a far greater effect than any of us can imagine on Germany's future policy.

Let this be our answer—let every man, woman and child in this great land of ours pledge himself to buy as many War Savings Stamps as he or she can possibly afford. Let's show German autocracy that instead of undermining our morale, sinking our ships and killing our men only stirs us to action.

If every American buys one War Savings Stamp on June 28th it will add 425 million dollars to our war fund.

But that is not enough. We must pledge five times that. Our quota for the nation is two billion dollars, to be raised through the sale of War Savings Stamps this year.

Let's strike another telling blow to the Kaiser on June 28th by taking up every dollar of that two billion.

You!

Will you greet the Fourth of July with a happy consciousness of a good deed well done?

June 28th has been set as National War Savings Day. Your country expects you on that day to pledge every penny you can, up to $1,000, toward the purchase of War Savings Stamps.

The price of American citizenship is no longer cheap. A new hour has struck. The crash of war has ground all semblance of cheapness out of being an American. We must pay the price now.

On June 28th, Your Country Asks You to Balance Your Patriotic Cash Account

Every penny you withhold, that you are able to lend, extends aid and comfort to the enemy.

No legal summons will compel payment. You are called to payment by the higher, more chivalric summons to volunteer your pledge to purchase this year every dollar's worth of War Savings Stamps you can.

SAVE THE WASTE AND WIN THE WAR

This week the Westfield High School graduate a Closing of class of thirty-three the Schools, young men and young women and it is a matter of pride to every citizen in the vicinity that six of the young men whose names appear on the list have enlisted in some branch of the Nation's war service.

Despite the fact that the country has been at war for more than a year the record made by the Westfield schools during that period has been one that can not fail to bring satisfaction to every taxpayer in the community.

The young people who go into the world from the schools at the present time face the greatest opportunities ever known in the world's history for the development of high ideal manhood and noble-hearted womanhood.

The request has been made that the people of Westfield remain in Westfield on July the Fourth and the request is a reasonable one in view of the expressed wish of President Wilson that every community in the United States give itself over to an unusual manifestation of patriotism and loyalty on that date.

The Town Council has done wisely in formally turning over details of the celebration to the local company of the militia reserve and the outlook is excellent for a day full of interest as well as entertainment.

nation and we must not only develop the proper military spirit in the young but it must be maintained in the old.

Have you bought your full share of War Savings Stamps? If you have not, do not fail to do so before the end of the present week, and make up your mind you will continue to buy them throughout the period of the war.

Keep in mind the fact that there is no better way of helping the country win the war if you are not in the service, than by buying war savings stamps and Liberty bonds.

The majority of the people in Westfield have come to the conclusion that War First, it is about time to put an end to the various agitations over minor conditions and let up on continual campaigns over such questions as local option and Sunday closing, neither of which have any real bearing on the great problem before the American people.

The vote on the local option question was decisive and the voiced sentiment of the public on the blue laws was equally emphatic. Let us all lay aside our prejudices in these matters and give our energies to the sale of war savings stamps and other activities of a similar kind.

When it becomes necessary for the Food Administration to close soda fountains and other refreshment places it will be time enough and then there will be no protest from anyone and it will not attribute to narrow-mindedness or hypocrisy.

It is unfortunate that the citizens who were responsible for charges being preferred against the Police Chief were unable to convince the members of the Town Council that the charges merited any more serious consideration than they received.

One thing is quite certain the majority of the members of the Town Council did not hesitate to follow the dictates of their own consciences regardless of the demand of some of their most influential and active political adherents.

It is too bad that these influential citizens could not control the Council. They may feel that the refusal of the Council to follow their dictation was base ingratitude, but even the most strenuous opponent of the political party which elected the Council is compelled to respect the Council for its stand and its willingness to defy those who would demand that it follow their wishes.

At the time when the Democratic party should be inspired with the ambition to show that it has profited by its success and by its experience as the temporarily dominant political party of the country it seems destined to return to its former position of secondary importance as far as the State of New Jersey is concerned. With not a few capable men on its rolls it has so far failed to suggest a single name as a candidate for United States Senator that is worthy of consideration.

The name of McDermott, of Newark, has never been taken seriously even by his own party and it is unlikely that conditions will change in this campaign when the thinking citizens of the State are looking more to men than to party affiliations.

It is about time for the real American people of New Jersey to get together on this question of selecting a candidate for the United States Senate. Gov. Edge has very successfully muddled the affairs regarding his own candidacy and there surely should be some method found by which the right man will be elected.

Whenever at such times as the present we hear of the organization of new political parties it is quite natural that a certain amount of suspicion should attach to the motives to those who have the project in view.

It will be difficult for anyone who has studied the political career of Ernest R. Ackerman to find where he has ever failed in any trust the people have reposed in him.

There are always men who may be properly termed as political opportunists for a chance to offer whereby they may slip into office.

POLICE RECEIVE LETTER OF COMMENDATION

My dear Chief:—I desire to express my appreciation of the efficient manner in which your men handled the burglary case in our store on Tuesday morning.

THE LOCAL RED CROSS

There have been great things accomplished by organization since this war began—greater than many believed to be possible.

In an article recently published by the "Leader" you discussed the question, "Does a person who subscribes money to the Red Cross or joins its membership, fulfill his or her obligation to this great movement for the relief of human need and suffering?"

I believe it is correct to state that the women of Westfield are prepared to do their bit for humanity through the medium of the Red Cross, and are willing to be shown how to turn their efforts to the best advantage.

It is quite possible to multiply several times the present output of Westfield Chapter provided two things are accomplished, viz. (1) More women will undertake to do work at the local headquarters as well as in their homes and (2) what is perhaps just as important, each woman will agree to report at headquarters on a specified day or days of the week and at specified hours—so far as that is possible.

Let us take a manufacturing plant as an illustration: Suppose out of five hundred operatives available, two hundred appeared on Monday, one hundred on Tuesday and varying numbers on the other days of the week? Could that plant possibly be considered efficient or produce up to its capacity? The answer is obvious.

The immediate plan is to organize our women for duty on selected days and at selected hours, the days and hours to be set by the women themselves to suit their convenience and fit with their other duties.

Such an effort is to be made this week and I hope it will continue until Westfield Chapter approaches that state of efficiency which one naturally expects of any Westfield enterprise.

Very truly yours, GEORGE WESTON.

There's No Desk Room for Waste in Business Today

WE ARE CONVINCED that when we eliminate waste in our business, whether it be in time or labor or both, there is a reciprocal adjustment of the scales in favor of telephone service, the product which you buy and we sell.

IN OTHER WORDS, if we can do away with any waste time or labor that may be involved in furnishing telephone service, we can put an equal amount of time and labor into the service itself and to some extent add to the comfort, convenience, and efficiency that you derive from its use.

"SLOW" TELEPHONE ACCOUNTS, the accounts on which repeated efforts to collect must be made, result in a duplication of effort. Duplication means waste and in any war-time business organization that is keeping its eye on the military and commercial needs of the country, there is no room for waste.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS CAN ASSIST in the elimination of this waste by paying their bills within the reasonable specified time.

VACATIONS A NECESSITY

You will serve yourself and your country best if you take time for a restful vacation.

Long vacations will scarcely be the rule this season. There is too much to do and all are intent upon doing it.

Yet the need for recreation is as essential as food or clothing. We must "give till it hurts," to Liberty Loans, to the Red Cross, to a score of other causes that are helping to win the war.

But in the meantime we must keep fit to "carry on," and a few days away from the dust and heat of summer by the water or in wooded hills is a suggestion worthy of your adoption.

"RICH MAN, POOR MAN" COMING TO PLAYHOUSE

"Rich Man, Poor Man" is the title of a play in which Marguerite Clark stars and which will be shown at the Playhouse on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The story was written by Maximilian Foster and published as a serial by the Saturday Evening Post. It was then issued in book form, and a large number of editions have been printed. It is still enjoying a steady demand at the best book stores.

George Broadhurst dramatized "Rich Man, Poor Man," and presented it at the 48th Street Theatre, New York, where it remained for a long run. All actors are more or less superstitious, and it is considered as an omen of good luck that Miss Clark, through a coincidence, plays the part of Bab in "Rich Man, Poor Man," while as Bab in "Bab's Diary" she scored one of the biggest hits of her screen career.

PROFESSIONALS WON RED CROSS MATCH

Large Gathering at Shackamaxon Club Last Saturday Afternoon—$600 For Red Cross.

Over four hundred golf enthusiasts from New York and New Jersey witnessed the defeat of Travers and Marston by McNamara and Walker, in the Red Cross match at the Shackamaxon Country Club on Saturday afternoon last.

Of the four players McNamara was the steadiest and although he had never played the course before pulled over the victory for himself and Walker. The latter being way off his usual form, although making a number of good holes.

Both Marston and Travers were off their game. Travers had previously gone over the course in 69, beating the record of Walker by four strokes, but on Saturday could not get his usual stride.

The only hole the amateurs won up to the thirteenth, where the match ended, was the third. They were one down going to the third, but the professionals became one up again at the fourth, and by the time the turn was reached Travers and Marston found themselves 3 down. McNamara and Walker went out in 35 to their opponents' 38.

By winning the tenth the professionals became 4 up, and although the next was halved in 3, McNamara and Walker won the next two holes and the match by 6 up and 5 to play. The bye holes were played, the pros. making a best ball of 38 for the inward half to the amateurs' 39. The winners had a 73 to 77 for the other pair.

About $600 was raised for the Red Cross. At the outset of the match the caddie privileges were auctioned. McNamara being "sold" for $35, Marston for $55, Walker for $52, and Travers' price going to $105. When a few holes had been played the balls used by the quartet were sold to the highest bidders.

The best ball card follows: McNamara and Walker: Out . . . 3 4 4 4 3 4 5 4 4—35 In . . . 5 3 4 5 4 5 5 3 4—38—73 Travers and Marston: Out . . . 3 5 3 5 3 4 5 5 5—38 In . . . 6 3 5 6 3 4 5 3 4—39—77

RED CROSS NEWS

The fifteen boys who left for camp on Monday were each fitted out at local headquarters with the customary articles, sweaters, socks, comfort kit, etc.

Word has just been received from the Atlantic Division notifying the Westfield Chapter of an allotment of 1,600 pairs of socks, to be turned in by September 1st. There is plenty of wool at headquarters for those who can knit and Westfield's women are asked to redouble their efforts in this particular branch of knitting, in order that this order may be filled.

The treasurer recently was in receipt of a check for $153.00, being the proceeds of a Children's Fair given at the home of Mrs. Collins, 561 Tremont avenue, on Decoration Day. The real young people who were responsible for this successful undertaking were Billy Ward, Avis Vandya, Jim and Kimball Whitehead, Elizabeth Moser, Louise Stearns, Clarkson and Alfred Collins, Alice Fielding, Clinton and Lyles Zabriskie, Billy and Bob Weldon and Fred Town.

GEO. L. RECORD CAMPAIGNING

Candidate for Congress Speaking in Union and Middlesex Counties:

Union and Middlesex counties saw some novel campaigning this week when George L. Record, candidate for the Republican United States Senatorial nomination, made a tour of these counties and pitched his campaign tent in various places in Middlesex and Union. The Record expedition comprised two large auto trucks. On one of them was conveyed the large circus tent under which all the Record meetings are held. The other truck contained six hundred camp chairs which are used at the Record meeting. Col. John H. Adamson, the campaign manager, is in charge of the caravan. Assemblyman O. Bell Close, of Essex, and former Assemblyman James G. Blauvelt, of Passaic, accompany Record and speak at his meetings. As some of the meetings there are also speeches by representatives of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association. Record began his tour this week at Jamesburg, where he spoke Monday night. Tuesday night he addressed a meeting at Woodbridge. This morning Record began his invasion of Union county. He is scheduled to speak at Rahway tonight, at Westfield on Thursday night, and at Elizabeth Friday night. On Saturday night Record will be duo in Newark. This is the fourth week of Record's campaign tour. He expects to hold altogether one hundred meetings before the September primaries.

Get out and sell War Savings Stamps on

June 28th

National War Savings Day

On that day everybody is asked to sign a personal pledge to buy

War Savings Stamps

War Savings Stamps are a direct loan to Uncle Sam. Nothing can lessen their value. They're always at par. They pay you well, though that isn't half so important to you as what money does for our soldiers "over there." Back them up. Keep food going to them. Keep their clips full of cartridges. And shoes on their feet.

Boys, get out and sell W. S. S.—and send our soldiers over the top with the go-get-'em feeling that comes from knowing you will see that they get what is coming to them.

War Savings Stamps cost $4.17 each on June 28—and pay back $5.00.

LONG DISTANCE GOVERNMENT IN ALASKA

How Red Tape Restrictions Permit Criminals to Make Their Escape

"Let a killer once get into the brush in this territory and he is as good as safe. If it would cost $10 to get him I would have to await advice from Washington, and by that time he would be where it would cost ten times that amount."

"But they can't escape," I argued. "There are only two ways out of the interior, up or down the river, and it would seem to be an easy matter to stop a fugitive."

"Easy enough on the Columbia, but this is the Yukon," he replied. Then instead of explaining and giving me a real good story of how justice is a farce in Alaska, and the dead inside reasons for it, he corked up, side-stepped and asked me if I was up on the population statistics of the Canadian Northwest and Alaska. And when I confessed I was a little rusty on these matters he told me that Canada had over 8,000,000 people and Alaska had about 70,000, and half of these were natives; that Canada had been getting about 150,000 people a year from the States and that Alaska had been losing what she had as fast as the boats could carry them out. And when I crowded him for reasons he hedged and told me to find them myself, but he had an opinion that government had something to do with it.

The Northwest mounted police have had a lot to do with it. While a marshal in Alaska is writing a letter to the department in Washington asking permission to use a few dollars to get a criminal, the Canadian mounted police has run the man down and put handcuffs on him.

The police organization has been a wonder and a power for good in the Klondike country but like the Texas Rangers, they live now largely in memory, for there is little need for them around the once famous gold camps and a red coat is seldom seen now.

Like the Texas Rangers, these men were picked for the work; they were sorted out of thousands because of their courage and fearlessness, and when they once went after a man they returned with him—or they didn't return. They stopped the lawlessness and crime in the Klondike and made the territory safe for anyone to travel in anywhere.

So the mounted police hit on the effective plan of painting a number on each boat that went down the river, taking the number of occupants and a description of them and they telephoned to the mounted police at the next river town, who listed each boat and if a number did not show up or if it showed up short of men, then the police went after the case, and they never let up until they got their man.

There are some rather hard stories told on the organization in the early days, and some of them may be true. An old trapper in Alaska told me he had an ex-mounted police for a "bunk" one winter and that when two men are shut in by the snow for months they will tell each other almost every detail of their life, just to keep talking and pass away the hours. He said this ex-policeman told him how certain members of the force used to stand in with hold-up gangs on the pass out from Skagway and at river points above Dawson, tip them off to rich hauls and get a part of the swag. But he said the same officials who "stood in" with the highwaymen until they made their haul would then hunt them to the finish and catch them if they could.

There is hardly a mining camp in Alaska but what has one or more "wanted" men, but if they get far enough from the town where wanted they are practically safe, for it is not what a man has been or what he has done that measures him, but what he is. There are many men in Alaska who have pasts they have run away from in the States, and it is unwritten law that the past is one's own business. So long as he plays a square game, every son-of-a-gun looks alike in a mining camp.

Talking with a waiter in a restaurant one night I discovered he was from the east and conversation drifted to New York state, and I could hardly name a city or town that he was not fully familiar with. In the talk I mentioned a county seat town, Little Valley, south of Buffalo.

"Little Valley? Hell I have been in jail there," and he told me a story of some minor trouble years ago, and where he had to serve a 30-day sentence. That he told the truth I am convinced, for he said that he remembered the name of the sheriff was the same as his own, Hughes; and W. B. Hughes was sheriff of Cattaraugus county about 20 years ago.

I became acquainted with a missionary in a town through the fact that someone had tipped him off that I was a newspaper man. Then he camped on my trail, stalked me, waylaid me. I could not go for a walk that he did not join me and he told the natives, and the great need of the me so much and so many times about missionaries that I could almost sling it.

And one day I cut loose on him by asking why his denomination did not give the natives a rest and devote a little time to the saving of the white women of Alaska, and when he expressed ignorance of my drift, I told him of the drunks, the hell holes in almost every town in Alaska, jointly run by women, so vicious, so abandoned that by comparison they would make the old "Barbary Coast" of San Francisco appear like a Sunday school.

The indignant uplift disciple protested there could not be the conditions I had described in Alaska or anywhere else, and he said one should not make such statements or connect them with neglected missionary work unless fully prepared to substantiate them.

I told him to get his hat and I would show him, right in his own town, show him joints of drunkenness, robbery and debauchery that would shame a Market street drive in San Francisco.

He didn't care to be shown. He was a missionary and not a policeman, he said, and it was not in his province to stop such conditions, if they existed.

The "red light" places in Alaskan towns are the limit of pollution. They are hell holes of drunkenness and prostitution. Drunken men are robbed of their money night after night. They are all, or nearly all, conducted by women—prostitutes run out of the states and who have found Alaska a rich field.

These places are operated outside the towns usually hidden in the brush and so far as I could determine if they kept their government licenses in good standing, they were not molested. The towns where marshals and jails were located were not so bad, but on the whole Alaska is a splendid field for stum missionaries, not with the Eskimos and Indians, but with the white women and negroes.

However, Alaska goes dry January 1, and this will have a great influence in reducing the conditions, for booze and debauchery seldom travel alone.

"Don't talk war in this place. If you want to fight, join the army and get paid for it," was a big display card on the wall of a saloon restaurant. The bartender told me that the minute a man started war talk he was started for the door. "There is almost every nationality in the world in these river towns and the most of them are roughnecks. Once let a man start war and he is liable to start something he can't stop. So we just don't let him start."

And from my observation I concluded he was a sagacious bartender. A river tout is ever looking for an argument when he gets a few drinks of the "fighting" booze, and war furnishes one too soon.

But even in Alaska I noted that Uncle Sam had his ears open. At St. Michael a machinist made some derisive remark about the country's part in the war, and the next day he was summoned to appear before the post commander and explain. However, I noted general loyalty in nearly all Americans.

The next letter will close the Alaska series and it will cover the decidedly interesting 14 days' ocean voyage from St. Michael to Seattle—the little stories of the dangers, jokes, fogs, seasickness, whales and the many happenings that make up an interesting chapter of a cosmopolitan bunch cooped up in an ocean steamer for two weeks.

But once a cassowary strolled Too near an alligator, And with one wiggle, snap and gulp, The alligator ate her.

A little fly was sitting by, A web that stretched beside her; What was it made the fly fly? Perhaps the spider spied 'er.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '18

(By Marian Blackford)

It was just four years ago that the soldiers of the gold and white took their places in the High School trenches, fighting to make '18 "safe for graduation," a cause most worthy of the victory we have gained. We have learned to "do our bit" as a class, and as individuals, and "our bit" to 1918 means "our all."

Struggles began early in the Freshman year, as struggles always do—just when you are too young and inexperienced to bear them. We went out for basketball and had a good class team; but we were overconfident. We felt like Seniors, we tried to act like Seniors; but our alicastles vanished when, in the interclass series, we lost every game. That was, perhaps, the most profitable experience we, as a class, have had. We then relinquished our hold on those high-minded ideas, and, without losing sight of our goal, were content to wait as privates in the rear line trenches. The result was that, in the spring, we won the interclass track meet; and at the end of the first year, a strong band of soldiers stood forth, ready for whatever action they might be called to.

As Sophomores, we fought bravely on, conquering every foe. In the most exciting interclass basketball game ever witnessed in the High School, our boys played point to point against the Juniors, until in a last thrilling moment, a Sophomore shot two baskets, and the whistle blew. At the end of that year, when the class of '16 graduated, the key of knowledge was passed over the head of the Juniors to us,—not because we need it, but simply as a token from the Seniors to their little sister class.

Although perhaps we did not need the key of knowledge presented to us, nevertheless we were benefitted by its presence in our midst. It helped us in our studies, in our games—for we won the basketball and track championship again,—and in our influence on the underclassmen. The class of '17 gave an early morning spread, at which most of the members of '18 were present in plenty of time to be entertained by dancing and "eats"—from which experience we have learned that ice cream is a most pleasing and filling breakfast. But we Juniors had a "Poverty Party." (We weren't too poor to have refreshments, however.) This was a secret affair (supposed to be), and was held in a most secluded spot commonly known as Patrick's barn. The sound of horses and cows could be heard from below, while outside it was raining cats and dogs; but under the sheltering roof the Juniors were happy as larks. Ten bells had sounded, when, from a trapdoor, appeared the faces of two Seniors who asked whether or not that was a Junior spread. We promptly settled the matter by inviting them in and giving them a good time. But the secret party was not the end of our activities that year. A debate was on between the upper classes. When the speeches and rebuttals had been delivered and the judges had withdrawn to make their decision, there was great excitement; the suspense was terrible. Presently it was announced that the Juniors had won. Once again the victorious gold and white floated out over the school.

And then we started on the last, the greatest year of our High School life; and we had a good start, for our own Senior room and teacher were a great help. Early in the term, we had a party for the Juniors, a hallo-wen masquerade which everybody enjoyed. During the year, there was an interschool debate between Cranford and Westfield, and Westfield's team was represented by three Seniors and one lone Junior. Of course, after our previous experience, we could do no less than win the championship for both basketball and track. And then we had "Senior Day" in chapel, at which time we presented our "Senior Blaze." But the time for gold and white to prove the test was yet to come; she was approaching the firing line, the examinations. Would the result be the same as her usual record? Yes, we had done our best in the struggle, until finally, with the same show of course as the boys in kakhi, '18 went "over the top."

And now our straight and narrow path is ended; we have come to the forks of the road. But, as each one of us goes forth on his journey through life, may it be remembered that '18 is still fighting "behind the lines" "somewhere in America."

May we call your attention to the fact that our store will be

WASTE MAN POWER

The demand for man power in military service, or essential industries is becoming greater every day.

Many workers are patriotically taking up tasks which former associates laid down in order to go to the colors. They are assuming extra burdens. For them to be called upon to perform unnecessary work is to waste part of their available service.

Time and energy expended in the collection of delayed payments for electric service means man power taken from useful service.

Prompt payment of monthly bills is an aid to conservation.

Most patrons of Public Service are helping to conserve this man power. Others are urged to do likewise by paying bills promptly so that return trips will be unnecessary.

LEADER RECEIVES SUB'S

The suggestion of Fire Chief Fred. C. It requires considerable effort to reach everybody who would gladly contribute their share and then someone might be overlooked. The "Leader" will receive and acknowledge subscriptions. Checks may be drawn to the order of "District Nurse Automobile Fund" and mailed to or left at the "Leader" office.

COLLEGE CLUB BENEFIT

Program to be Given in the High School for Benefit of Colonia

On Saturday evening of this week the College Woman's Club will repeat the pageant given at the Park dedication and the proceeds will be donated to the Mercy Committee at Colonia.

In addition to the American Revolution of 1917 and 18 the program will be as follows:

Part II.—Piano Solo, Miss Dorothy Ganzel; Reading, Miss Charlotte Nichols; Violin Solo, Miss Phillis Watts; Classic Dance, Miss Orear, Virginia and Catherine Nicholas, under the direction of Mrs. William Morrison; Reading, Miss Etta Kates, and vocal solos.

Miss Adele Beattys, who composed the words and music for the sketch that will be given as the first part of the program, is in charge of the affair, which promises to be well worth attending.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL BRIEFS

Louis Catto, of Chicago, visited relatives in town this week.

Mrs. Abram Allegar, of North avenue, is visiting in Washington, N. J. Arthur Ayers, of Mountainside, has returned to Camp Dix after a thirty day furlough.

Mrs. Roger Wilcox, of Euclid avenue South, will entertain a number of friends at her home this afternoon. Mrs. Julia Dunham, of South avenue, has had as her guests during the past week Mrs. C. Bradford, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. O. F. Wood, of Kingston, N. Y.

Mrs. Henry Stevens was the guest of honor at a bridge party given at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sydney G. Stevens, of Mountain avenue, on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Low, of Dudley avenue, with Mr. and Mrs. H. T. W. Huntington, motored yesterday to their Long Island summer home, where they will spend a few days.

The annual meeting of the Mercy Committee of New Jersey will be held at the residence of the president, Mrs. C. D. Freeman, Colonia, N. J., on Tuesday, July 2nd, at 3 o'clock. All members are invited.

Bernard Martin, of 850 Olive street, Elizabeth, was picked up by Lieutenant Nelson on Tuesday afternoon. The man was wearing parts of a soldier's uniform and was acting queerly. On Tuesday evening Judge Bunnell sent the man down to Elizabeth for a ten days rest.

Word has been received from Corporal Arthur S. Manner, of the 311th Inf., Co. A., that he has arrived safe over seas. He says the Westfield boys are still together and that he is being treated well and enjoying every hour of his time.

W. H. Taverner, of Embree Crescent, has been given a special county authorization to sell Thrift Stamp Pledges as a member of the Thrift Association. The plan is to secure pledges of $100 to be paid by Jan. 1st. The stamps thus sold by Mr. Taverner will be purchased at the local post office and credited to Westfield's account. He has already sold a considerable number of pledges.

Sunday afternoon was spent very pleasantly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jameson, of Cumberland street. The occasion was the christening of their infant daughter, Miss Elsa Jean. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. I. Stearns, pastor of the Presbyterian church. A number of guests from New York and Easton attended and Mrs. Elizabeth Welsenberg, of Easton, the great grandmother of Elsa Jean, was the guest of honor.
