MONTHLY MEETING LEAGUE OF VOTERS

Westfield Branch of Woman's Organization Met Monday in Town Hall

65 MEMBERS WERE PRESENT

The regular monthly meeting of the Westfield Branch of the Woman's League of Voters was held Monday afternoon in the Town Hall and was attended by sixty-five members. Mrs. A. W. Armstrong, the president, said that the objects of the league were of an educational character and to arouse public opinion and study legislation.

Mrs. R. O. Pierson, who is to be the chairman of the town affairs committee, gave a short history of the old cemetery in Mountain avenue which she said the Westfield Civic Board had planned to care for and had appointed a committee for this purpose. She also gave a resume of the proposed memorial to Westfield veterans.

Mrs. W. H. Maxwell spoke on the Sheppard-Toner Bill as it is now before Congress. She said that the bill, which is of an educational character, stood little chance of being passed on account of the rush of other important legislation. "Child Welfare and Its Work and Needs in Westfield" were spoken about by Miss Buckler, a teacher in the Washington School, who has charge of a class of fifteen sub-normal boys ranging in age from 10 to 16 years. She said that there was need for three more such classes in the town.

Mrs. A. J. Platz told of the recent campaign to raise money to buy a car for the school nurse and read a report of Miss Curdina's work in the schools, prepared by Supervising Principal Charles A. Philhower. The paper showed that child welfare was well cared for by the parent teachers association in the town for all children between 6 and 18 years of age, but showed the need for welfare work among the very young children. The question of observing Child Welfare Week, May 8 to 15, was discussed but no action taken. The next meeting of the league will be held on Monday, March 21.

BLIZZARDS TIE UP TRAFFIC

Fifteen Inches of Snow Falls in Short Time—Town in White Blanket

Many were surprised Sunday morning when they awoke and found the ground covered with a blanket of snow and a northeast storm still raging. Although a few days last week made everybody take on the spring fever, this was all forgotten Sunday morning.

Trolley and train service was held up, the schools were closed and very few people were seen on the streets; almost everybody was sitting by the fireside singing "Home Sweet Home, be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

About fifteen inches of snow fell and many places it was deeper where it had drifted, some of the drifts being 6 to 8 feet high. Men were soon at work Monday morning clearing the walks and by noon most of the sidewalks were passable. Yesterday morning another snow storm arrived but not so severe as the previous one and did not block traffic.

CENTRAL UNION COUNCIL BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

More Support Needed to Carry On Work of a Very Worthy Cause.

YEAR OF 1920 SHOWS DEFICIT

The following statement of revenue and expenses of the Boy Scouts for 1920, shows deficit of $1,038.61.

This organization is a worthy one and should have the support of all citizens. We quote below a letter from H. G. Atwater, chairman of the Finance Committee, in which he appeals for subscriptions:

February 23, 1921.

Statement to Present and Prospective Subscribers:

Boy Scouts are between the ages of 12 and 18, the most impressionable and formative period of life, when direction and environment has the strongest influence on character. There are 550 Scouts in Central Union Council, which is about one-fourth of the boys in the territory. The Scout organization directs leisure energy in training of practical and cultural value under supervision and a wholesome environment. It holds to a high code of morals and ethics supplementing the work of churches and schools. It develops character. Though it is strictly non-sectarian, it teaches recognition of an obligation to God. It is a real force for better citizenship.

During the past year the Council has "carried on" in spite of the general reaction that affected all civic activities. Business changes and "moving away" made many vacancies among the Scoutmasters and Assistant Scoutmasters, key positions carrying responsibility and requiring preparatory training. However, every troop is now officered and is holding regular meetings.

Our financial statement shows the result of operations last year. Obviously this condition cannot continue. The Council must either restrict its activities or gain further support. The present management believes that the Scouts should be continued, because, from observation and from experience, we believe in Scouting as a strong force for better boyhood, better manhood, and better Americanism. We believe that the citizens of Central Union Council will support a movement for the welfare of the home community if they know that support is needed.

The budget for 1921 calls for $6,000. Of this $2,500, is being paid under pledges of 1919 for three yearly contributions, leaving $3,500 to be secured in the nine towns of Central Union Council. A finance committee has been organized to raise this sum and a member of the committee will call at your home during the week beginning February 27th. If you are not a contributor under a three-year subscription of 1919 you are urged to subscribe at this time.

Your answer to the committee is your vote on whether Scouting in Central Union Council shall be restricted or promoted.

H. G. ATWATER,

Chairman, Finance Committee.

"WORK OF NEW POETS" SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Mrs. Wilkinson Addresses Woman's Club at Meeting Monday Afternoon

"The Work of the New Poets," is the subject of the lecture to be given by Mrs. Marguerite Wilkinson before the Woman's Club of Westfield at the meeting Monday, February 23th, at 2:30 p. m.

The New York Evening Post hails Mrs. Wilkinson as a true blue American. She has two books of poetry to her credit, "New Voice," and her latest book "Bluestone," so named because her ancestors worked in the Bluestone Quarries. The book takes its title from the first poem which is a tribute to her forefathers.

In "Bluestone," Mrs. Wilkinson explains her own method of making poetry. It seems that she sings it, in tune, which comes full blown into her mind, although she is not a musician. It may be her ideas of rhythm and tune produce the folk song quality, so noticeable in her poetry.

Mrs. Wilkinson's lecture is open to the public on payment of a small entrance fee.

FIRE IN NORTH AVENUE

The Fire Department was called this morning to extinguish a fire at the home of Tony Marrotta, corner Clark street and North avenue. The fire, which seemed to have started in the attic, did considerable damage before an alarm was turned in, it is said, and no one was in the house at the time.

CHAUTAUQUA CONTRACT ACKNOWLEDGED BY ASS'N

Will be Held for One Week in Large Tent—Time to be Announced Later

A letter was received today from the Swathmore Chautauqua Association in regard to the chautauqua which is to be held in Westfield this summer. It reads in part as follows:

"It is a pleasure to welcome Westfield to the constantly increasing number of communities that have a Chautauqua. The contract, which has been signed by you and a certain number of other citizens of Westfield, receipt of which I hereby acknowledge, makes over 700 towns with which our association has the privilege of co-operating.

"Certain parts of the necessary Chautauqua work can best be done by each of us as partners in the movement. The local work can best be done by local people. Accordingly the guarantors have agreed to become responsible for the sale of season tickets, distribute the advertising, pay for hauling the equipment, which the association delivers f. o. b. The contract is signed by thirty prominent citizens of the town. The Chautauqua will be held for one week, the date to be announced later. It will be held in a tent which will have a seating capacity of 1,200 or more people.

The purpose of the Chautauqua is educational and social. During the week plays, concerts and lectures will be given afternoon and evening, concluding on Sunday with a Union service.

REV. N. W. CADWELL RECEIVES HIGH DEGREE

"Doctor of Laws" Conferred on Former Pastor of Presbyterian Church Here

SERVED WESTFIELD 1882-1902

The many friends of Rev. N. W. Cadwell, who was pastor of the local Presbyterian Church from 1882 to 1902, will be pleased to know he has had the degree of Doctor of Laws unanimously conferred upon him by the directors of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.

Dr. Cadwell is at present of Olivet Presbyterian Church in Atlantic City and was greatly surprised and gratified when he received the news. Years ago he had received his degrees of "A. M." and "D. D." from Hamilton College, but the title of "LL. D." is rarely given, and then only to distinguished theological professors, or notable life Taft or Roosevelt, whom the college delights to honor. Of the nearly 600 Presbyterian ministers in the Synod of New Jersey only about half a dozen have this degree.

Dr. Cadwell was a successful teacher of language and science, one of the founders of Richfield Springs Seminary, took first prizes in oratory in preparatory school and college, admitted to the bar as attorney and counsellor and invited into partnership with Roscoe Conkling when the Senator was at the height of his power. Dr. Cadwell has had but two pastorates, the first being here in Westfield, where he built up a strong church.

His record in Atlantic City is well known. The Missionary Society for Women and his Men's New Era Club are among the best in the State. Hotel men and leading Presbyterians have not forgotten that it was Dr. Cadwell who first conceived the idea of bringing the Presbyterian General Assembly to that city. He worked at it for three years and in 1910 succeeded—and the great boards of the church liked Atlantic City so well they invited themselves twice since and are now thinking of coming again. Lately Olivet Church, of which he is pastor, gave over $5,000 to the Near East Relief.

TOWN COUNCIL APPOINTS EXPERTS

Decide to Engage the Services of Technical Advisory Corp. to Help in Zoning Town

The Town Council held a special meeting Monday evening to receive bids for new hose for the fire department and to appoint experts to aid the Zoning Committee. The Zoning Committee appointed some time ago, proceeded with its work as far as the committee could go without expert advice and therefore asked the Council to procure the needed assistance. The Council decided to engage the services of the Technical Advisory Corporation of New York at a cost not to exceed $1,000.

Three bids were received for fire hose. One bid was irregular and another bidder could not furnish the emergency hose needed in the thirty days time limit. The contract for 1,000 feet of hose was awarded to the United States Rubber Company at a cost of $1.33 per foot. The hose is to be delivered immediately as the department is crippled without sufficient hose.

Councilman Whitcomb reported that he had received the sum of $20 for wood cut in the parks. The money was ordered turned over to Treasurer Gilmore. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Littlefield.

We suggest that you consider using Toncon Metal for leaders and gutters; it is much longer wearing than the regular galvanized material you have had, and the cost is very little more.

We will be very glad to send a mechanic from our Sheet Metal department to attend to your requirements at once.

CONCERTS

Newark Music Festival

The immense stage that was set up at the Armory for the great Gypsy Smith choir has been retained for use by the huge Music Festival chorus that is to sing there in May next.

The stage setting was found to be readily adaptable for the chorus because it left the flat part of the platform for the large orchestra that will be engaged and the full Metropolitan Ballet that will be seen in Newark for the first time in the rendition of the second act of Verdi's incomparable Aida.

THEATRE NOTES

Along with the drop in the thermometer this week, comes six new plays to cheer us up. One is a new musical comedy; one a Chinese play given by Chinese students for the Chinese Famine Fund; another new comedy by Willard Mack; still another series of special matinees for a Spanish play; the fifth, a new Crothers comedy and last, but by no means least, Arnold Bennetts' "Great Adventure."

Broad St., Newark—"Buddies."

After twelve consecutive months in the Selwyn Theatre, New York, "Buddies" the biggest theatrical hit of last season, will be the attraction here at the Broad Street Theatre in Newark the rest of this week, with the original cast and production featuring Donald Brien, Peggy Wood and Ralph Morgan.

The Selwyns are the producers responsible for the presentation while George V. Hobart is the author of the book, and B. C. William responsible for the lyric and music.

While "Buddies" is not strictly speaking a musical comedy it may be accurately described as a comedy with music, which merely means that the artistic unities of the plot are not destroyed by irrelevant songs every few minutes. To the contrary Mr. Hobart has written one of the tenderest romances the stage has ever known, injecting into it splendid opportunity for character portrayal, and threading it with a never ceasing vein of rich humor.

Casino—"Blue Eyes."

The musical comedy "Blue Eyes" returns delightful Mollie Kink to Broadway with Lew Field's and Andrew Tombas as her fun-making partners, under the direction of Morris Rosenthal, where a young artist is struggling to become famous. He evidently succeeds for his romance comes to a very happy ending in a big country music is by I. B. Kornbrenne; the book house out at Great Neck, L. I. The lyrics by Nelson Gordon and Le Roy Clements; the lyrics by Z. Meyers.

Cort—"No Lan"

For two special matinee performances tomorrow and Friday, a group of Chinese students from Columbia and other colleges will present "Mu Lan" by Peng Chun Nan, former President of Nankai College; the story for the benefit of the Chinese Famine fund,

Eva Leewah will play the title role and the play will be directed by Shen Hung, a former member of Professor Baker's famous class at Harvard.

Hippodrome—"Good Times."

The law-abiding chorus girls, chorus girls who are members of the cast of "Good Times," the current spectacle at the New York Hippodrome, have been pointing with pride during the past week at the record of their profession for 1920, as attested in the report of John M. Lyons, secretary of state of New York. In the year covered by his report, Mr. Lyons shows the arrest of but one woman giving her occupation as that of a chorus girl. In the same period, according to the report eighteen stenographers, 79 cooks, 17 housekeepers, 3 milliners, 1 laundresses, 5 seamstresses, 4 teachers, 83 servant girls and 89 waitresses were questioned.

Klaw—"Nice People"

Tomorrow evening will witness the opening of the new Klaw Theater, on 4th Street, West of Broadway, "Nice People"—a new comedy by Rachel Crothers will be presented and in Francoise Larrimore, the cast includes Merle Maddern, Robert Ames, Frederick Perry, Tallulah Bankhead, Hugh Hunter, Katherine Cornell, Guy Milham and Edwin Hensley.

Lyric—"Smooth as Silk"

Having only recently banged the door shut on "Near Santa Barbara"; his melodrama of early California, Willard Mack is all ready with a new comedy which opened yesterday afternoon at the Lyric. The name of the new play is "Smooth as Silk" and was written also by Mr. Mack, who produces the play. Mack the lead as well. In the cast besides Willard Mack are Shirley Wards, Marie Chambers, Zita Moulton, Joseph Sweeney, John Sparks, Luis Alberni, Royal Tracy, Howard Truesdale, Charles Halton and Ronald Stout.

Lyric—"Her Family Tree"

Nora Bays announces that on March 9th, she is going to move her far-famed "Family Tree" from its present location at the Lyric up two streets to the Shubert on 4th St. "Her Family Tree" is a thoroughly sturdy and hardy plant, which may be depended to take root in its new position as firmly as it did at the Lyric. It is a thoroughly delightful comedy with scenes laid all over the globe and with Miss Bays in as swiftly changing personalities and as dazzling in each new characterization as one could wish. "Our own Nora" whether she chooses to appear in New York, England, North Ark or the wild west as she is called upon to do. For in whatever she does, we like her and we like her play, her costumes, her songs and the people she has picked to surround her.

Neighborhood Playhouse—"The Great Adventure"

Having just closed a most successful run of Galsworthy's "The Mohr," the Neighborhood Theatre Players will present Arnold Bennett's "The Great Adventure" on Friday evening. This altogether splendid comedy has been played in America before though unsuccessfully, for some undetermined reason. It has been very popular in London and now that it is being done again here under entirely new auspices will probably meet with the success it so greatly deserves. If the present players put into it as much real acting as they did in their presentation of the Galsworthy play, "The Great Adventure," should carry on until the summer season naturally closes it.

Times Square—"Cradle Song"

On Friday afternoon for a series of matinees, Augustin Duncan will present "Cradle Song"—translated from the Spanish of Gregorio Martinez Sierra by John Garrett Underhill. Although only one play of Senor Sierra has been given an English before, he is very popular at home in Spain and throughout South America, where his dramas are played frequently. Last year, Granville Barker produced an adaptation of another Sierra play in London. It was called "The Romantic Young Lady" and was very successful. The cast of the present play includes Louise Randolph, Florence Flinn, Mary Hampton, Mary Carroll, Angela McCall, Whitford Kane, Augustin Duncan and others.

Palace—"Vaudeville"

Irene Franklin and Burton Green are back again at the Palace to the great delight of everyone. And Robert Emmett Keane, a roll comedian, is also there to tell his inimitable stories and jokes. Donald Kerr and his Lady Friends present a skit called "Handle With Care." William Kent and Co. appear in "Bubbles" and the bill also includes Franklin and Charles, Wilson brothers and others.

Strand—"Black Beauty"

The announcement that this week the screen version of "Black Beauty," the famous literary classic by Anna Sewell is the second of the season's screen classic to be presented at the Strand Theatre, comes as an agreeable surprise to lovers of literature and horses as well as followers of the cinema art. "Black Beauty," translated into every language and known to readers all over the world has been made into a film production of a calibre to link it with the best of the special film offerings of this and every season. The film characterization has not deviated in the least from the work as written in subject, period and all sense; the only addition being the "inside story" written by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester, the authors of many books, which adds continuity to the story and makes it adaptable to the screen.

Name of Well Known Theatre to Be Changed.

Sam H. Harris announced recently the beginning with Monday, Feb. 21, the Cohan and Harris Theatre will be known as the Sam. H. Harris Theatre. This playhouse, located in West Forty-second Street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, was opened years ago as the Candler Theatre. Some time later it was rechristened the Cohan and Harris and it has continued as such until last Monday when Mr. Harris announced the bestowal of a new name upon it. The theatre will continue to be listed in the telephone directory and similar publications as the Cohan and Harris until their next issues appear, when it will be listed as the Sam H. Harris.

 IT PAYS TO HAVE GOOD HEALTH
 Most Illnesses Are Prevented by a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood Take Pepto-Mangan, the Red Blood Builder

Either you are in good health or you are not. There's no half way. You may think nothing of being a little run down. It may not worry you if you look pale. You may think you'll be all right tomorrow or next day. But will you?

Certain it is when you do not feel just right, you are not right. There is probably something the matter with your blood. And while you can get around and do your work you are leaving yourself open to any of the diseases that are always waiting to take possession of run down people.

When you are pale and easily tired, when you cannot enjoy your meals, when you lose enthusiasm, your blood needs attention.

Take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It is a great tonic. It will build up your resistance to disease, and you will soon feel stronger. The little red corpuscles are fighters. They battle with disease germs and win out when there are enough of them. Keep your system well supplied. Then you will keep well and you will enjoy life.

But be certain you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for it by the full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Some people take it in tablet form. It is so convenient. The liquid and the tablets have the same medicinal value. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advertisement.

PROMINENT REPUBLICANS TO BE GUESTS OF WOMEN'S CLUB AT LUNCHEON

In connection with the last of the series of forums which have been held by the New Jersey Women's Republican Club in Trenton every week since the opening of the legislative session, the club will give a luncheon at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, March 1st, in the rooms of the Republican Club, 139 East Hanover street, Trenton. The guests of honor on this occasion will be the State Chairman, Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes, Attorney-General Thomas F. McCran, Senator William H. Mackey, Jr., of Bergen county, and Assemblyman T. Harry Rowland, of Camden county. The two last named as Majority Leaders respectively of the Senate and Assembly, have introduced and piloted through the two Houses of the Legislature the group of bills known as the Republican Women's Bills, and the women are very much pleased with the way in which these have been handled. Of this group of bills, and one providing for equal representation for men and women in the political organizations has been passed by both Houses and approved by the Governor, and the one raising the age of consent for girls from sixteen to eighteen years has been vetoed by the Governor, but passed over his veto by the Assembly. The Senate is expected to take similar action. The remainder of the group are in various stages of passage, but all of them will be before the Governor for action by March 1st.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the Attorney-General will speak on the proposed revision of the New Jersey Code as it affects the legal status of women and children. There will probably be another speaker on the same subject, which is the topic for discussion at the forum of the club to follow the luncheon.

This series of forums has been very popular and from fifteen to eighteen counties have been represented at all of the series. The club plans to hold a two-day conference in Atlantic City some time during the spring when its program for next year will be adopted.

A The junior Louis heel insures the comfort as well as the smartness of this black satin afternoon pump, whose one wide strap is so cut that it looks like three narrow ones. 9.00.

B Walking pumps with straps are gay affairs, though sturdy, with their substantial soles and solidly built medium heels. One of the smart two-strap models. 11.10 (tax included).

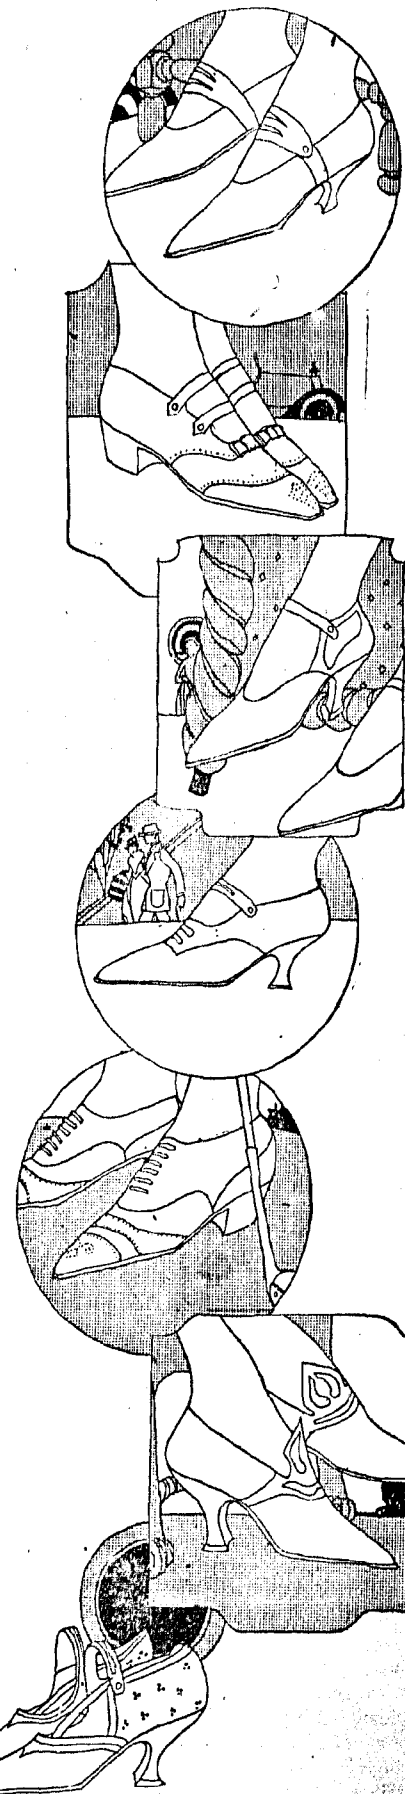

C This brown satin pump almost started out to be an oxford. Note how high its back is—and how low and graceful the front, with a single strap uniting them in perfect harmony. Priced 12.20.

D One-strap pumps are fine for walking—the heels do not slip. This soft brown leather model has the new junior Louis heel. A cut-out effect in the vamp and strap give added style. 12.20 (tax included).

E Long, graceful lines mark this new walking and sports oxford, with its finely stitched straps, low Cuban heel and durable welted sole. 13.30.

F An inlaid effect, caused by applying smooth kid to the suede of which this pump is made, gives it great distinction. A very graceful adaptation of the colonial type. Priced 14.40.

G Quite the newest idea introducing lizard skin into footwear. Observe the backs and trimmings of this model, which combines lizard skin with soft gray suede. 20.00, Tax 1.00.

"AMERICA—First, Last and All the Time—AMERICA."

Within a few weeks the Daylight Saving question will arise with its annual acuteness and there will be the usual discussions regarding the necessity for such a law. It is very certain there ought to be uniformity throughout the country in the matter of time and the season for daylight saving practically expired last year before all of the people in this section of the country had accustomed themselves in thinking of two kinds of time.

As the situation stands today the resident of this section of New Jersey gets up in the morning and returns home in the evening according to the laws of New York State. New Jersey State affairs are conducted under the time regulations of the New Jersey laws. Some of the trains are operated under one kind of time and others under another and a schedule becomes a puzzle.

The fact is if we are to have daylight time saving it should be a matter of federal legislation. It is never easy to secure uniform laws in all of the states for local conditions usually control in every state legislature.

There is little doubt that there is a very decided sentiment in this section of New Jersey in favor of a Daylight Saving Law and Westfield in common with the towns of the commuting zone should endeavor to secure favorable action on such a law by the present legislature.

Much is being written about the possibility that there may be war between the United States and several other nations and it is well that one should read such discussions with considerable caution. Much that has been published sounds like cunningly devised propaganda circulated for the deliberate purpose of stirring up strife and bringing about complications that will seriously impair the hope for permanent world peace.

It is inconceivable that any crisis can arise that might terminate in war between the United States and Great Britain, but it is not so difficult to understand how such a conflict would help the German people evade the penalty they brought upon themselves and work for the benefit of the lawless irresponsible government now predominant in Russian affairs. Does any decent American citizen desire to contribute in anyway to either of these objects?

Germany has determined that she will not pay the indemnity that the allies have decided upon as the equitable basis for the settlement of that feature of the war. Germany does not intend to pay one penny of indemnity. The only way the payment of an indemnity can be delayed or avoided is to stir up trouble among the allies and divide them into hostile, if not actually warring camps.

Russia has its bill to pay and the Lenin-Trotsky group have decided that they will not do anything that is in conflict with the Bolshevik lack of principle. Do not for one minute get the idea Germany and Russia are without money. Both of these countries are spending more money on propaganda than they are spending for food for starving children within their own borders.

Germany and Russia are asking the world to feed them—to give them food free and at the same time they are spending vast sums to spread the propaganda of unrest and distrust throughout the United States and Great Britain and France.

There are few shrewder campaigners than Senator Edge and he was at his best while speaking to the assembled Republican Clubs of the State of New Jersey. It was the time to roast the Democrats and it was done with characteristic vehemence and directness and every loyal American no matter whether Democrat or Republican hopes for the result that Senator Edge has so definitely promised.

A great many able statesmen irrespective of party have long been in favor of the budget system and its application to the federal government must come eventually. In the matter of taxation it is not true that the present existing system of taxation is solely the work of any one party, the recorded votes on the tax bills are likely to prove interesting reading if this sort of discussion is kept up long.

Anyone who was familiar with affairs at Washington during the time of the war knows that there was very little partisanship in any of the legislation of the period and the paramount object was to win the war. We do not have to leave the State of New Jersey to ascertain that there were just as many Republicans making every dollar they could out of war contracts as there were Democrats seeking a chance at the profits.

It is not the time to stir up such matters. The Republican party is in absolute control and it has the power to bring about the ideal reconstruction Senator Edge has advocated. What the business men of the United States want right now is action and a soft pedal on promises when the Republican party has the opportunity to do whatever it believes is best for the country.

With the towns and cities struggling with a problem of what to do with the unemployed it is not the time for anybody to talk about a strike and the trolley employees will suffer more than any other class of people if a strike is called. The people of New Jersey are tired of strikes, they are weary of the wrangles between the Public Service Corporation and its employees and they are anxious for industrial peace.

It strikes the casual observer that the Public Service Corporation is taking a dangerous stand when it announces it will cut off any section of its service if the trolley is not put out of business in that particular part of the State.

Just what the future of the jitney bus lines is going to be is not easy to determine, but if it had not been for jitneys there are thousands of workers in New Jersey who would have been compelled to walk to their work or to loaf many days during the past two years.

The jitney undoubtedly has made a place for itself in the ultimate solution of the short line passenger problem and it cannot be prohibited or ignored. The matter of regulating it in a way that will be equitable at all times to the owners and to the travelling public does not appear to have been settled, but it is reasonably safe to assume that the trolley companies will endeavor to give the jitney operators all the trouble that can be created.

It is right the jitneys should be required to operate in compliance with reasonable laws, but it is monstrous to assume that the trolley companies should be given the opportunity to drive the jitneys off the streets.

HOOVER TO ADDRESS

"Save a Child's Life" Dinner in Plainfield, Friday Evening, February 25th.

Probably no welfare work during the World War or since has received the sympathy and contribution from the American people as has the "Save A Child's Life" Movement conducted by Herbert Hoover for the preservation of the lives of 3,500,000 babies and children in Europe from death by starvation.

The movement has swept the country and as evidence of how "one touch of nature makes the whole world kin," in Plainfield, a "Save a Child's Life" Dinner will be given on February 25th, at the Plainfield High School under the auspices of the Elks' Club, and with the cooperation of the Masonic Lodges, Republican Club, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Christian Association, Young Men's Hebrew Association and the Christian Endeavor Union. The dinner will be served by fifty Red Cross nurses. The entire proceeds from the sale of tickets will go into the National Fund, as everything pertaining and relating to the affair will be donated.

Mr. Hoover will be present at the dinner and will deliver an address and give some interesting accounts of his work. Addresses will also be made by Dr. Charles A. Eaton, and Mr. Everett Colby, who has been closely associated with Mr. Hoover's activities during and since the great World War. Dr. William L. Saunders will preside and it is confidently expected that an outpouring from the hearts and purses of the people of Plainfield and vicinity will make the affair one of the greatest ever held in the city.

An invitation is cordially extended to those in Westfield to partake of the dinner, hear Mr. Hoover, and the other speakers and know the pleasure of saving the life of one or more starving children.

FAMOUS TENOR COMING TO WESTFIELD

Will Assist Choral Art Club at Their Concert to be Given Thursday Evening, March 31st.

Westfield is to have a rare musical treat at the concert to be given by the Choral Art Club on the evening of March 31st, at which Charles W. Harrison is to be one of the assisting soloists. He is best known as a Victor artist and those who have not had the pleasure of hearing him have no doubt heard some of his famous records of which the aria "La Furtiva Lagrima" from the opera "Faust" is the best known.

Those who attended the concert last year need no introduction to Master Rubi Davis, the boy violinist. Every year serves to mature his remarkable talent and no music lover should miss an opportunity to hear this wonderful violinist, who, if he fulfills the promise of his work in the past, will some day rival Elman and Kreisler.

The club has an augmented membership this year and has been studying hard all winter. Its work will not suffer by comparison with its assisting artists. The concert, which is given under the auspices of Group 4 of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, is to be repeated on April 4th for the Woman's Civic Society of Rahway.

RURAL POLICE BILL OPPOSED

Larger Municipalities of State Oppose Expense of Policing Rural Communities.

FOR SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

Special Motor Traffic Commission Scored for Failure to Recommend Proper Legislation—Hearing on Health Bills.

Trenton.—Decided opposition to any legislation to provide police protection for the rural districts of the state, with a resultant added expense for the larger municipalities, was expressed in a communication received by Governor Edwards' anti-crime commission, which met at the state house. Director of public safety Le Barre outlining the position of the city commissions on the subject of improved police protection for rural communities, said that while believing it to be a necessity, the commission does not favor any plan under which the state as a whole would be required to bear the expense.

"Such a procedure," said Commissioner La Barre, "would eventually result in a state tax, which would be equally imposed upon residents of the cities and those of rural communities. It is unfair to provide police protection for rural communities and compel the residents of cities to pay a proportion of the cost thereof."

Commissioner La Barre pointed out that Trenton is bearing 78 per cent of the expenditures of Mercer county. He also said that $50,000 is appropriated annually for motorcycle policemen and traffic officers made necessary by increased automobile traffic, while motor vehicle fees are used exclusively for the benefit of county roads. "In view of these facts," he said, "the board of commissioners feel that it would be a rank injustice for further discrimination to be made against the citizens of Trenton."

As chairman of the committee appointed at the last conference to consider means of improving co-operation between the various counties and municipalities in the enforcement of the criminal laws, Prosecutor Richard C. Plumer, of Ocean, made these recommendations.

That a state intelligence department be organized where county prosecution, police officials of the various municipalities and other law enforcement officers may secure the services of reliable and experienced operatives to work under their supervision and direction in securing evidence of violations of the law and apprehending criminals.

That a force of state patrolmen on motorcycles be organized to patrol the highways and co-operate with the enemy and municipal law enforcement officers, those officers to be under the supervision either of the state highway or the motor vehicle departments.

That there be mandatory legislation providing for the establishment of signal stations by the counties at strategic points along the highways.

This report was adopted by the commission and every effort will be made to have its recommendations adopted.

The present purposes of the Gaultier bill, modeled after the Sullivan anti-revolver law of New York, now pending in the legislature, were approved by the commission. Prosecutor Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr., of Atlantic county, a member of the commission's committee to propose legislation governing the carrying of concealed weapons, stated, however, that the committee believed there should be amendments having to do with the officials authorized to issue permits the carrying such weapons. It was also recommended that the provision restricting the use of firearms to the home should be eliminated from the proposed New Jersey statute.

To Regulate Fireworks Sales
To give New Jersey a safe and sane Fourth of July by extending the principles of Newark's ordinances and regulations over the entire state is the object of assembly bill No. 201, which was scheduled for passage in Trenton last week.

The bill has become known as the Dutcher Fireworks bill, because it was introduced and is being guided on its legislative course by Assemblyman C. B. Dutcher of Essex county.

The bill provides that it shall be unlawful to sell or to have on hand any explosive or combustible fireworks of any description, except paper caps, sparklers and colored fire.

The manufacture of these fireworks is prohibited in any municipality of more than one thousand population.

Section three provides a penalty of a hundred dollars for each day's violation and makes habitual violations a misdemeanor.

The bill was scheduled for action last week, but a number of telegrams from fireworks manufacturers induced Mr. Dutcher to make it "wait orders," as he was unwilling to deprive any of the affected interests an opportunity to be heard.

As a result of the conferences several amendments have been tentatively agreed to so as not to interfere with the continuance of existing industries and to permit fireworks displays by and under the supervision of municipalities.

For Higher Motor Fees
Scoring the failure of the Special Motor Traffic Commission to recommend to the Legislature the adoption of a new schedule of fees for automobile licenses, Assemblyman William H. Blackwell, of Mercer county, announced that he will introduce a bill on this subject in order that some definite action may be taken.

Although the commission has been pleasure cars and other vehicles for studying proposed fees for trucks, several months, no report has been filed with the Legislature. In order that motorists may not escape payment of higher fees for 1922, Mr. Blackwell proposes to offer his bill providing a gradual increase based upon weight and carrying capacity. Motorists from other States would be compelled to pay a higher fee for heavy trucks using the State's highways.

"Up to the present time the Legislature has failed to take any action on the revision of motor-vehicle fees, one of the most important questions the people of New Jersey are clamoring to have solved," says Mr. Blackwell. "Although the cost of constructing and maintaining our roads has more than doubled in the last four years and motor travel has more than quadrupled, especially heavy truck travel, license fees have remained the same. Owing to the great damage done by heavy trucks, I feel I would be remiss in my duty if I failed to do my utmost to have just legislation enacted to make trucks pay for damage they do; also to prevent out-of-State motorists ruthlessly violating the reciprocity privilege. Therefore, I propose to call upon the commission to report a bill next week. If they fail to do so, I will introduce one basing license fees on horsepower and weight, imposing a heavier fee on out-of-State trucks than on New Jersey-owned trucks and providing a means of checking upon the 15-day reciprocity law now in force, but not enforced."

Hearing on Health Bills
Proposed health legislation had its hearings at Trenton. Four bills were up for hearings in the Assembly, and medical men, osteopaths and chiropractors stormed the State House. Added to this delegation were insurance men and manufacturers, who are interested in two of the bills, which cover compulsory health insurance and workmen's compensation.

The medical men, osteopaths and chiropractors are in a three-cornered controversy, with separate bills and one class objecting to the measure sponsored by the others.

The medical men have introduced a bill, Assembly 245, which would amend the chiropractic law of last year by requiring that chiropractors possess an educational qualification which would meet the approval of the State Department of Education and have a four-year course in a chiropractic college. The bill would also abolish the State Board of Chiropractors and place a chiropractor on the State Board of Medical Examiners, this latter board to grant all licenses.

The osteopaths have a bill which would give them the authority to practice medicine and surgery, give them places on hospital boards and accord to them all rights now possessed in the treatment of the sick and the protection of public health that physicians have. The only added requirement is that the osteopaths take a course in surgery not longer than one year.

The osteopaths contended there is no reason why they should not be allowed to practice medicine and surgery. The medical men, who opposed their bill, said they have no objection to the osteopaths practicing as they do if they take the same number of years in study and meet the same legal requirements and take the same examination that the law requires medical men to take. The osteopaths also want a board of their own.

The chiropractors have a bill which would make sure they would be exempt from educational qualifications until 1922, as provided in the present law, and then be required to be high school graduates and to take a two-year technical course for 1923 and a three-year course after that. They oppose giving the State Department of Public Instruction any power over their academic qualifications.

Protest Daylight Saving
Trenton.—Farmers of the state put up their usual vigorous protest to the passage of the Progressed Daylight Saving bill at a public hearing in the assembly chamber. They were strongly backed by railroad officials, who pleaded that the enactment of such a law by states of municipalities entails interminable confusion in the operation of trains upon schedule and that the only feasible and proper way to effect the result, if it is greatly desired, is by congressional action, making it universal throughout the country.

Standing strongly for the measures were representative of the state chamber of commerce, the Manufacturers' Council, with some labor organizations all claiming that daylight saving is conducive to better health and, therefore, better working conditions for the toilers, who are thus permitted to get out of their places of employment for healthful recreation in the glorious sunshine.

The contest between these opposing elements waged for nearly two hours with the floor, lobbies and galleries of the assembly chamber crowded. Majority Leader Royland, as chairman of the assembly judiciary committee, conducted the hearing upon the bill, which has been sponsored by Assemblyman Ehrldge, of Union county.

What we are doing to meet your Telephone Demands

During the past year real progress was made toward meeting your demands for more and better telephone service.

By strengthening our operating force and increasing our central office equipment, we brought the service of existing subscribers up to pre-war standard.

We met 65% of the demand for new service. This demand was 17% larger than that of 1919 and 78% larger than that of 1916 when war-time requirements reached their peak.

Nearly 44,000 new telephones were installed in our New Jersey territory. This installation was made possible by the addition to the system of over 90,000 miles of telephone wire, 150 miles of pole lines, 140 miles of underground conduit and a large amount of switchboard apparatus. The year's expenditure for new apparatus totaled nearly $6,700,000.

In considering this accomplishment, bear in mind

1. The intricate character of telephone apparatus, which requires months to build and install.
2. All telephone manufacturers were swamped with orders from every section of the country and no section could secure all the equipment it needed.
3. When our property was returned to us by the United States Government we had no reserve of telephone plant to start with. Our reserve was used up and could not be restored during the war because of governmental restrictions on commercial telephone construction.

We now have 23,000 unfilled applications for service in Northern New Jersey on our books. To care for them and for the other applications that will come this year we plan to spend $7,800,000 in 1921 for new apparatus.

These facts are given as evidence of what we are doing to provide the telephone service you require. In 1921 we hope to make the service again adequate in every respect.

DEBATING

After several preliminary meetings and try-outs under the direction of Mr. Stuart, the following people were chosen to represent Westfield High School in the inter-scholastic debate with Passaic High School: Tennent Taylor, Kenneth Pelton, Charles Collier, and Harold Schaeffer, alternate. The second team: Estelle Wilson, Howard Johnson, Kenneth Davidson, Helen Michaels. Mr. Stuart expects to put out a winning team this year. The question for debate is, "Resolved, that the principle of the open shop should be established and maintained in American industries." Westfield will uphold the negative side of the question. Passaic won the toss-up and chose the affirmative side. The choice of place fell to Westfield and the debate will be held in the High School.

PLAINFIELD GIRLS

DEFEATED BY W. H. S.

Tuesday afternoon in the gym the girls basketball team decisively defeated Plainfield's feminine representatives 26-13. This practically gives our girls the county championship. They have won every game so far and are endeavoring to secure a game with Leonia, holder of the state championship. In the game with Plainfield, Plainfield kept in the lead during the first half but toward the end of the game Westfield ran away with the game.

FACULTY GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday evening at 7:45 the girls of the High School will play the faculty of the High School. Those who remember games of preceding years will appreciate this opportunity to see the teachers play basketball. There will be dancing after the game.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

Friday afternoon the girls' team journeyed to Morristown and added another scalp to their war belt. This was a narrow victory, however, as the final score stood Westfield 19, Morristown 18. At the end of the first half the score stood 11-7, favor of Westfield. During the second half both teams showed an increase in team work, but much to its surprise and delight Westfield found that it had escaped defeat by one point. Beside the regular team, the second team was taken along and their cheering sounded mighty good in the big Morristown gym.

WEDNESDAY CHAPEL PERIOD

The main feature of the chapel exercises last Wednesday was the introduction of Gounod's "The Soldiers' Chorus," from "Faust." It was sung at first by the High School Glee Club, then by the entire school. Miss Jagger was pleasantly surprised and complimented by the school on its singing. "The Soldiers' Chorus" is one of a group of pieces with which through Miss Jagger's efforts, the school as a whole has become familiar.

FRIDAY CHAPEL PERIOD

Last Friday's program was of unusual interest. Mr. Tennant introduced the speaker of the morning, Hon. William E. Tuttle, who is well known in Westfield. Mr. Tuttle's subject, "Travels Through Africa," was particularly interesting, not only because of the fact that it was out of the ordinary but also for the reason that he presented it according to his own personal experiences. "Many globe trotters," said Mr. Tuttle, "are satisfied to travel around the world by crossing the Atlantic through the Mediterranean, overland by caravan to the Red Sea, through the Arabian Sea across the Indian Ocean, across the Pacific to San Francisco, and home." Mr. Tuttle confesses his share of the famous "Wander-lust." It is undoubtedly this which prompted him to make a journey into the wilds of Africa. He gave his audience a few chills in describing the snake charmers and their methods of handling snakes. "As we walked up the river Nile," he said, "the difference between New and Old Egypt became very marked." He sums up the kind of people with whom he came in contact, "A motley crew." This included British officers, Blacks, Arabs and native Egyptians.

Mr. Tuttle spoke of a swamp, which was technically speaking neither land nor water but a large stretch of floating vegetation. The enormous herds of elephants and buffalo much impressed Mr. Tuttle. He visited the part of the country which Theodore Roosevelt once made his hunting grounds. Mr. Tuttle's audience was so intensely interested that both he and his hearers were sorry to have the bells ring which called every one back to classes.

The Westfield High School, as well as the other schools in town, will miss the devoted services of Mr. Mark A. Webster, who died Saturday, Feb. 12th. He was ever anxious and willing to serve pupils, faculties, the board and townspeople in whatever way he was called upon. Following is a poem in memoriam written by Alice Wright, a Junior in the High School:

IN MEMORIAM OF MR. WEBSTER
A man of the world, a man indeed,
A friendly hand to a friend in need,
A heart that felt for another's woe;
By deed and word we came to know
That he was a friend.

A man of the world he went his way,
Doing his simple tasks each day—
The little things which you and I
Would do half way or else pass by;
Never an unkind word or deed,
Passed from his lips to grow
A weed in the heart of any man;
For he was a friend.

MUST PAY INCOME

Only single persons whose net income for 1920 was less than 1,000 and married persons living with husband and wife whose net income was less than $2,000 are exempt from the requirement to file an income tax return.

The obligation to consider his own case and to file an income tax return on time, if one is due, is laid squarely on the shoulders of every resident of the United States. Guesswork is barred. The returns are sworn statements and accuracy is essential. Salaried persons and wage earners must ascertain the actual compensation received. Bonuses, shares in the profits of a business, values of quarters and board furnished by an employer, and other items of compensation for services must be included.

Gross and Net Income

Returns must show both gross and net income. Gross income includes practically every dollar received by the taxpayer during the year 1920. The net income is determined by subtracting from gross income certain deductions specified by the revenue law, and fully explained in instructions on forms 1040-A and 1040 for filing returns.

Business expenses are the principal allowance deductions in computing net income. The law specifically prohibits the deduction of household and living expenses. Typical deductible business expenses are for salaries, labor, cost of merchandise, raw materials and supplies, rent, repairs, light, power delivery, selling cost advertising, and insurance. Doctors, lawyers, and like professional men may deduct from their Gross Income dues paid to professional societies and subscriptions to professional journals, rent paid for offices, amounts paid for light, fuel, water and telephone used in such offices, and the wages paid to office assistants.

When Due

This year, as last, the tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, on or before March 15, 1921, or in four installments, the first of which is due on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15. The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives. Heavy penalties are provided for failure or willful refusal to make a return and pay the tax when due.

Certain sections of the country are much concerned over why a woman closes her eyes when she is being kissed. But speaking from experience, we are unable to speak.

Uncle Walt's Story

VEEXATION OF SPIRIT

"WHEN I was in business," said the retired merchant, "I never had time to read much, and I used to look forward to the glad day when I could reel in literature. I felt sure I'd be entirely happy. I used to jot down the titles of books I intended to read, and when I retired from business I had a list as long as the Russian battle line.

"And now that I can read all I want to, I don't get any enjoyment out of books. They bore me the worst way. I get sleepy as soon as I begin to read, and my wife comes and tells me my snoring is disturbing the neighbors."

"It's that way with everything we look forward to," observed the hotel-keeper, sadly. "Man always will be, but is never blest, as some half-baked poet remarked. Young Gooseworthy was in here last evening, bubbling over with happiness. There wasn't anybody around, so he took me into his confidence. He's going to marry Gwendolyn Jimlong, next month, and he's perfectly satisfied that his married life will be one long stretch of sunshine. He seems to have the idea that he's going to do something original when he gets married, but the idea isn't new. Men have been getting married ever since Christopher discovered Columbus, Ohio, and every doggone man jack of them had the idea that everlasting bliss was going to be inaugurated on the wedding day.

"I listened to Gooseworthy for three hours, and hadn't the heart to say anything that would dampen his enthusiasm. His twittering recalled the long vanished days when I was getting ready to be married. I felt about it then just as he does now. I thought the parson opened the gates of paradise when he joined two loving hearts. My wife lived up to all the plans and specifications, and was and is one of the best women in the United States, but I hadn't been married three months before I had a sneaking conviction that the man who gets married is a chump.

"A good many optimists say that a married man doesn't need any more money than a single one, if he marries the right sort of woman, but they might as well go to the blackboard and demonstrate that two and two make two, instead of four. I tell for that cheerful theory when I was married. I was earning enough to keep myself comfortably, and never had any financial worries. I could have been buried for less money than it took to be married, and the expenses from that time forward were double what they used to be, although my wife was so economical she used to make waists and such things for herself out of my superannated shirts.

"Oh, doggone it, there isn't any unadulterated happiness in matrimony. I wonder that young fellows like Gooseworthy don't look around them, and contemplate the dejected appearance of the majority of husbands. But even if they did, it wouldn't do them any good. I suppose, for they are full of pipe dreams, and they think the girls they are going to marry are different from all other girls, and that they will prove exceptions to the general rule. "I had a wise old uncle in those halcyon days, and about a week before the wedding day, he backed me into a corner and handed me a dust-proof package of wisdom. He tried to lead me into taking a sensible view of the future. He talked about the cares and responsibilities that would be mine after the wedding, and wanted to know if I felt equal to them. He tried to show me that I wasn't going to marry an angel, but a human being like myself, with a human being's faults and frailties.

"I let him get that far, and then I told him that his gray hairs alone saved him from having his head rammed, and said I never wanted him to darken my door, and he never did. I had to darken it myself, with wail and woe. But many a time afterward, I recalled his wise words and wept over his grave."

Well Off.
"After all a man never knows when he's well off."
"What's happened now?"
"I was just thinking what a fool I was for trading off my Liberty bonds for oil stock."

Nut Walter Wanted.
An old lady, after waiting in a confectionery store for about ten minutes, grew grossly impatient at the lack of service. Finally she rapped sharply on the counter.

"Here, young lady," she called, "who waits on the nuts?"—Everybody's Magazine.

The Consequence.
"At the anti-dog meeting nobody muzzled the speakers."
"That was the reason, then, there were so many biting remarks."

PRESIDENT GETS LETTER FROM HEAD OF ARMENIAN CHURCH

Washington.—Archbishop Khoren, whose archepiscopal see is Erivan, capital of the Armenian Republic, journeyed seven thousand miles to present President Wilson one of the quaintest and most touching documents in the archives of the State Department. It is illuminated by the monks of Etschmiadzin, the seat of the Armenian church since its separation from the Greek church, after the Council of Chalcedon in the year 451.

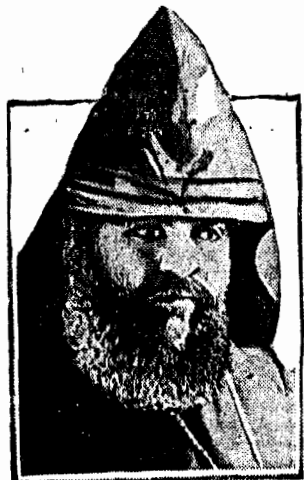

The Eucyellian Letter, which the Archbishop presented to the President reads:

"GEORGE, Servant of Jesus Christ and by the Omnipotent Will of God Arch-Priest and CATHOLICUS OF ALL THE ARMENIANS, Supreme Patriarch of the highest Armenian See of Ararat and of the Apostolic Mother Church at Etschmiadzin the Holy.

"To the NOBLE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

"AFFECTIONATE GREETINGS AND BLESSINGS from the CATHOLICUS OF ALL ARMENIANS and Apostolic Chief of the Holy Church of Armenia.

"With placid, profound feelings of devotion, we desire, through this Encyclical Letter of Ours, to place before you and to make known to you the expression of our deep gratitude for the liberal help which, inspired by a spirit of philanthropy, you have extended to us both by individual personal donations and through the sustaining assistance and alleviating instrumentality of the Near East Relief Organization. Individually and Collectively, combined in one body as it were, you gave and you brought to us the fruits of your offerings, to the salvation and protection of our flock during the most bitter days of their suffering—sufferings which we attribute to the rigours of the War of Liberation, and to the cruelty of our implacable Oppressors.

"In expressing our thanks for your generosity and for your evangelical commiseration, we, as the recognized Head of our Spiritual Children, comprising the entire Armenian Nation, would be glad to view your acts of mercy as tokens of your continued assistance in the future, and that it is your purpose to continue to assist us in our regeneration and complete liberation, in the habitation of a self governing Nation. With these things in mind, we appeal to you all; to the Prelates of your Churches; to your devout Bishops, our Brethren and beloved in our Lord Jesus Christ; to men endowed with political and civil acumen; to those who have been called upon by the Lord in the Conduct of Public thought; and to every soul in which the spirit of Christian philanthropy glows. Come to our defense and to the cause of the Freedom of our Flock. Come from the pulpits of your Churches; from the seats of your Council Chambers; from the platforms of Public Associations; from the sanctum of your Journals. Raise the mighty voices of your Nation and of your sympathetic people, as those of unflinching and unflinching friends. We need them for the salvation of our Flock, tortured in body and soul through centuries of suffering. And our people will forever stand in history as witnesses that a Great Nation, profile of welfare, stretched its helping hand and mighty arm to raise them up.

"The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our thankful blessings be with you all, evermore, Amen.

"GEORGE V.,
Catholicos and Supreme Patriarch of All Armenians."

During the VIII. year of our Patriarchate at the Mother See of Ararat, Etschmiadzin the Holy.

MAJOR GENERAL HARBORD SUPPORTS ARMENIA

New York.—At a mass meeting recently held here to consider the need of Armenia in the appalling disaster that has overtaken that unhappy land the following telegram was received from the commander of the Second Division:

"True to their religion, language and race through a thousand years of persecution, the Armenians must not be permitted to perish. Americans should aid them with moral, financial and political support.

"J. G. HARBORD."

"A NATION SAVED BY AMERICA," SAYS CLEVELAND H. DODGE

New York Business Man Describes Vast Armenian Work of Near East Relief.

Cleveland H. Dodge, New York banker and business man, director of the National City Bank and treasurer of The Russell Sage Foundation and of the Near East Relief, declares that "a nation has been saved by American philanthropy, and the generosity of the American people through the Near East Relief, in its work for the Armenians.

"The lowest official estimate indicates that one million persons are living today who would not be alive had it not been for this relief," Mr. Dodge continued, "I have an autograph letter from Dr. H. Ohandjanian, president of the Armenian Republic, in which he writes: 'America literally saved us from starvation.'

"Wholly aside from adults who have been saved from starvation, we today have in orphanages and elsewhere under our care 110,000 homeless, fatherless or motherless children who are absolutely dependent upon us. This is exclusive of 63 hospitals with 6,552 beds, 128 clinics, rescue homes for girls and unnumbered thousands of refugees who are being helped through our industrial relief and in other ways. "The Near East Relief has during the last four or five years commissioned and sent to the Near East more than 1,000 American relief workers, of whom 500 are still in the field, all of them working at great financial sacrifice—the standard of salary being $50 per month and maintenance—and many of them facing great personal danger and hardship in the performance of their life-saving service. A score of them have died from typhus or other diseases more or less related to their faithfulness in the performance of relief service.

"Nor is that all. We have raised and disbursed during war times and in a war-torn area, in large measure under enemy control, more than $41,000,000 in cash, and including four, Red Cross and other supplies administered by our agents, a total of cash and supplies in excess of $50,000,000. The official reports show that on June 30, 1920, we had in orphanages 54,000 children, and that we are partially supporting outside of the orphanages 56,039 children, making a total of 110,000 boys and girls now under the care of the Near East Relief."

Mr. Dodge considers the work of the Near East Relief one of the most stupendous undertakings of disinterested philanthropy the world has ever seen.

"In countries whose population totals more than 20,000,000 souls, American idealism exemplified by the work of the Near East Relief constitutes today a torch of enlightenment and an influence for peace throughout the whole Near East," he maintains. "Our American ideal of liberty, industry and helpfulness has brought us as a people happiness, prosperity and fulfillment. Out of the fullness of this heritage we are furnishing a faithful and undaunted Christ, a people the brotherly aid which will enable them to reach the same fulfillment that God has given us.

"It is an achievement of which every American may well be proud."

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT

In the matter of the estate of Frank Caponetti, deceased. On Petition for Sale of Lands to Pay Debts. Order to Show Cause.

The Westfield Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Frank Caponetti, deceased, having exhibited under oath a true account of the person, estate and debts of said intestate, whereby it appears that the estate of the said Frank Caponetti, deceased, is insolvent to pay his debts and requesting the aid of the court in the premises.

It is thereupon on this eighteenth day of February, 1921, ordered, that the persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said Frank Caponetti, deceased, appear before this court at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth on the 22nd day of April, 1921, at 10 a. m., to show cause why so much of the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said Frank Caponetti, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts.

It is further ordered that this order be published in The Westfield Leader, one of the newspapers published for six weeks, at least once in each week.

C. B. PIERCE, Judge.
