Mrs. Sally Wehr, former children's librarian of the Berkeley Heights Public Library, has been appointed children's librarian of the Westfield Memorial Library, it was announced today by Miss Jeanne M. Desrosiers, director.

Mrs. Wehr will assume her duties Sept. 9. She replaces Mrs. Ellen Rubin, who joined the Westfield Library last December and is moving with her husband to Massachusetts, where he will enter the Massachusetts College of Optometry and she will become supervisor of children's services for the Framingham Public Library System.

A native of Allentown, Pa., Mrs. Wehr was graduated from Thiel College in Greenville, Pa., where she majored in sociology and psychology. She received her master's degree from the Rutgers

Claims Aug. 17 Flood Shows Need for Immediate Action

Robert Field, Republican candidate for Town Council from the second ward, made the following statement regarding the flooding of Saturday, Aug. 17.

"The flooding of last Saturday again took its toll on residents of the second ward. While we all realize that flash flooding of this nature is extremely difficult to defend against, some immediate action must be taken to correct the present conditions of the ward.

"While certain measures have been taken, the study of the retention basin in the cemetery must be completed at the earliest possible time. If this is, in fact, a total or partial solution which will help area residents against flooding, it should be proceeded with without further delay. Indications are, however, that additional measures must be taken to hold back or divert the flow of water from other directions."

Field added, "Ward 2 residents are appreciative of the efforts of the Mayor and Town Council made in our behalf to date, but more must be done. Residents should not have to go through another flood like the last several.

"Like all other residents of the ward who have been affected by the flooding, I am tired of cleaning up after water has come into the living quarters of my home. I am disgusted with cleaning up the varied debris left in my yard by flooding. I am appalled by the unsanitary conditions of our streets and driveways when the flood waters recede.

"Residents of the second ward or any area in Westfield who are exposed to such conditions have a right to expect these conditions to be corrected now, not in ten years. I strongly urge the Mayor and Town Council to make flooding their top priority item for immediate action."

Field, of 1008 Harding St. and a 31 year resident of Westfield, is chairman of the Harding-Coolidge Street Flood Control Committee. Mr. Field invited the support of all concerned citizens "to help bring an early solution to the problem."

Teachers to Give Fact-finding a Chance To Achieve Contract

"As long as the negotiation process continues in good faith, the teachers will continue to teach," Mrs. Beverly Geddis, president of the WEA said today. But she warned that failure of fact finding to result in a contract could put schools in jeopardy.

Her statement followed a special meeting of the executive committee of the Westfield Education Association where it was agreed, "out of concern for the education of the youth of Westfield," to "encourage" the teachers to proceed with the opening of school next Wednesday. The association took the action because the WEA and the Board of Education are still engaged in negotiations.

This is the first year that schools will open without ratification of a contract between the teachers and the board. Last year's contract, however, was approved by both sides only the day before school sessions began.

The next step in the current negotiation process is a fact-finding session scheduled for Wednesday. The report of the fact-finder, Julius L. Malkin, is expected approximately 30 days later, but is not binding on either party. Both the WEA and the Board of Education must accept the findings before a contract is settled, according to Mrs. Geddis, who stated that the WEA expects the satisfactory completion of this process.

"One of our primary concerns," Mrs. Geddis said, "is to continue to provide quality education to

YM Registering

For Fall Term Sept. 3

A new system of four 10 week terms annually will replace the YMCA's former three 13 week term system for the Y's fall term opens for registration Tuesday, Sept. 3. The Y's 8 week summer term remains the same.

Classes designed to help fight inflation by curbing home repair costs, to help families handle the important job of values and character building, and to develop creative and artistic outlets for youngsters are highlighted. Fall term classes begin Sept. 9.

More than a hundred classes in swimming, gymnastics, judo and karate, trampolining and tumbling, soccer, football, tennis, fencing, weightlifting, fitness, and competitive aquatics will be offered for people of all ages.

New this year is a home maintenance class which "promises to be popular just for the money it saves in electrical and plumbing repairs," said Program Director Jack Leitch. Home repairs without a costly repair person will be the curriculum.

A family focus class zeroes in on the critical problems families face in these troubled days, as centers of values and character building and microcosms of the world around us. "We'll teach how to handle complex problems of parent and child behavior," said Leitch.

A creative pottery class for youngsters ages 8 to 13 is designed to build artistic outlets through learning handbuilding techniques and glazing. It highlights a child development program for youngsters ages 7 through 13 which includes chess, carpentry, videotape

Senior citizens from Mountainside and Springfield will be able to purchase lunches at staff prices in the cafeteria of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School beginning on Monday, Sept. 23, anytime from 11:15 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The program will enable a Mountainside or Springfield Senior Citizen the opportunity to buy a full lunch or a la carte items at the same prices paid by teachers and other staff members. For ap-

Nurse Shortage Closes Floor At Overlook

Robert E. Heinlein, president and director of Overlook Hospital, announced this week that the hospital has temporarily closed a nursing floor due to a shortage of nursing personnel. The 44 bed medical-surgical unit was shut down Saturday morning after months of recruitment attempts by the hospital.

Mr. Heinlein stated that one important obstacle to successful recruiting is the unavailability of reasonably priced rental housing. He also said that the closing of this unit comes at an unfortunate time, since the demand for hospital beds is exceptionally high.

The hospital has been attempting for over a year to obtain city approval for construction of apartments for nursing personnel in the Overlook neighborhood. An application for an 88 unit building was denied last June. A revised application for 51 units is currently pending.

7800 Return To Schools Wednesday

School opens for an expected 7800 Westfield students on Wednesday, Sept. 4. Elementary students are to be in their classrooms by 9 a.m. Elementary school teachers usually meet students outside the school buildings. All high school students are to report to the high school at 8:15 a.m. on Wednesday to pick up their schedules.

Eighth and ninth grade students in the town's two junior high schools are to report to school at 10 a.m. on the first day only so that seventh grade students can receive an orientation. Seventh grade students are to report to school by 8:15 on the first day. Bus schedules will run at regular times.

Sophomore students are to report to the high school on Tuesday for an orientation before classes begin on Wednesday.

Teachers will report to school on Tuesday.

In the Hardwick living room are Chuck, Pat, Charles and Ginger Hardwick.

Hardwick Campaign a "Family Affair"

"The Hardwick campaign is a family affair," commented Mrs. Pat Hardwick about the active participation of family members in her husband's bid for Town Council. Charles Hardwick is the Republican candidate from the fourth ward.

"Ginger has helped by clipping and pasting news items from the local papers, and Chuckie and Ginger plan on distributing literature door to door prior to election day. All of us are excited about the race and enjoy working together," said Pat.

Hardwick's campaign got off to an early start when he organized the petition drive urging council to reopen the North Ave. central site for attic waste and not relocate the site to the Conservation Center. Hardwick is also conducting a comprehensive survey of community problems and will be releasing the findings as they are available. "I really appreciate my family's support," said Hardwick. "Pat has contributed greatly by helping write news releases, taking photographs, typing, and working on the telephone survey. I also believe participation in civic affairs is beneficial for our children, who gain an appreciation of community problems and an opportunity to serve," Hardwick added.

Commission Working on New Trailside Center

Preparations for the opening of the new Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation, sometime this fall, involve more than the building and its furnishing, equipment and displays. A vast amount of landscape and related work has been carried on for several weeks by employees of the County Park Commission.

According to William Anderson, chief of the forestry and horticulture division, as many as a dozen employees, or practically his entire field force, and once in a while as few as a couple of workers, have been engaged in the project during the spring and early summer, to create an atmosphere of beauty in the surroundings. Statistically, he said about 1900 manhours had been spent on the outside work up to early August. This could be interpreted as one employee working about 47 weeks on the landscaping and other outside needs.

Anderson pointed out that because of some of the new grades along the slopes in the vicinity of the new structure, it was necessary to construct long stretches of rock walls before creating new terraced gardens and lawns. The project included the spreading of about 11,000 yards of topsoil, as well as transporting a considerable amount of sod from other country park units. Some areas have been seeded for new lawns, and many trees, shrubs, ground cover, vines and annual flowers have been planted, many of them grown in the park system's nearby Watchung Nursery.

The trees include Austrian pine, Japanese Temple trees and other varieties to add to the splendor of the area. Nine species of shrubbery are now growing in newly landscaped surroundings. Much of the ground cover will be dwarf forsythia. Fifty dozen zinnias, marigolds and begonias are among the flowers planted in various beds. During the fall plantings scheduled include tulips, daffodils, muscari and chrysanthemums.

Before the Center can open to the public for use, much of the interior furnishings and equipment must be installed, and many new exhibits and display shelves be prepared.

Jerry Fredella of Elizabeth, a plantsman for the Union County Park Commission, prepares one of the garden areas surrounding the new Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation. William Anderson, chief of forestry and horticulture, at the left, checks with him on the work. A corner of the new building is in the background.

National Guard Visits C5A

Recently members of Troop D Air, 5th Squadron, 117th Cavalry, New Jersey National Guard, headquartered here, fulfilled their cross country flying requirement by helicoptering to Dover Air Force Base, Dover, Del. According to Squadron Commander Sanford B. Goldstein, a commercial airlines pilot in his civil capacity, the mission had a two fold purpose. First, it enabled the helicopter crews of 'D Air' to maintain flight proficiency levels well above the minimum required by the Army. Second, it afforded the men time for an educational tour of the giant C5A Transport air crafts which are stationed at the base.

After a guided tour through the huge troop and cargo carrying air craft, the men viewed a film depicting the capabilities of the C5A to transport personnel and material to diverse parts of the world in time of emergency. The troop stayed overnight at Fort Dix and flew back to Linden Airport where the helicopters are hangered. Maj. William J. Pope D Air Commander, called the training exercise — a rewarding experience and attributed a large measure of its success to the hospitality extended by the Air Force personnel at the Dover base.

After landing at Linden, the members returned to the Westfield Armory where they linked up with the other troops of the 5-117th, who had returned from weekend field training exercises at Fort Dix.

Grant to Aid Traffic Training

Director John A. Waddington today announced that the Office of Highway Safety has approved a grant of $80,793 to the New Jersey State Police Traffic Management Institute, Sea Girt.

Waddington said the grant will provide New Jersey's police traffic officers with specialized training in traffic services. The Institute offers courses in four areas: accident investigation; emergency medical procedures; traffic records, systems and analysis; and traffic law enforcement.

This grant insures continuance of the Traffic Administration Training Institute which was initiated last year.

Westfield Jewish Family Service Dedicated

The Westfield office of Jewish Family Service Agency of Central New Jersey, located at 225 Lenox Ave., was dedicated in a ceremony starting Sunday, Aug. 18. Joel Zimmerman, president of the board of directors of the agency, welcomed the guests and introduced Rabbi Charles Kroloff of Temple Emanuel, Westfield. Rabbi Kroloff led the guests in prayer and spoke briefly of the importance of the agency to the community. Albert Kessler of Elizabeth, a past president of Jewish Family Service, introduced Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. who spoke of the 60 year history of service the agency has given the community. He also spoke of some of the legislation with which he has been connected and is presently working on in relation to senior citizens. He pointed out the need for agencies such as Jewish Family Service to bring their knowledge to the community.

Many members of the board of directors of Jewish Family Service and the general community attended. Mrs. Mildred Hamilton, executive director of the agency, was present to answer questions about service that the guests raised in the informal gathering following the ceremony. Barry Shandler, executive director of the YM-YWHA, and Elton Kerness, executive vice president of Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey, were among the guests.

Staffed by professionally trained and experienced case workers, Jewish Family Service is now a modern family agency. Dedicated to the strengthening of family life, its services include professional counseling around marital, parent-child and individual problems. The agency also offers services to the aged and assistance in resettlement of Russian Jewish refugees.

Investigate Before You Give, Says Chief Moran

"Investigate before you give," Westfield Police Chief James F. Moran warned community residents today.

"Everyone wants to help a good cause, whether by donating time, money or one's name. There are many soundly operated charitable, welfare and educational programs that need volunteer help," Chief Moran said.

"Unfortunately, some organizations are not really benevolent operations, but something else instead. So before you donate your time, money or name to a charitable organization, do some investigating first."

Ask for a financial statement from the organization.

Examine closely any list of sponsors, board members, leaders or volunteers. Are the organization's services in your community needed, efficiently administered, and properly staffed?

Has the organization complied with all applicable local and state requirements governing the solicitation of funds for charitable purposes?

What are the aims, objectives, and direction of the charity?

Who is promoting it?

Will the campaign of the organization be conducted in an ethical, straightforward way?

What is the tax status of the organization? Are the contributions deductible as charitable contributions for federal income tax purposes?

"You may encounter telephone appeals for a non-profit organization or a for-profit company that employs handicapped persons. These groups try to convince the public to buy any number of products, such as light bulbs, brooms, magazines and other merchandise. Use some caution. The cause or product should be judged on merit; it is acceptable for a handicapped person to make a statement of fact about his or her condition, but no further sympathy appeal should be used."

Levin Warns of Higher Taxes

ELIZABETH - Warning that Americans might soon have to "work until July 4 just to be independent from what we owe the government," Democratic Congressional nominee Adam K. Levin says there are many unanswered questions that county residents must ask their representatives in Washington.

In a recent statement before union leaders, the 12th District candidate asked: "Why is the unemployment rate almost 8 percent in New Jersey and 9.1 percent in Union County, considerably more than the 5.5 percent national average? Why does New Jersey get only a dollar back for every $1.50 it sends to Washington in taxation, the fourth worst return of any state in the nation?"

"Why has New Jersey been short-changed at least $140 million in federal social service funding over the past three years? And why does New Jersey receive little more than 6 percent of its education funding from federal sources when the national average is 8 percent?"

"Why must we work from January until May just to pay our taxes? I don't want to wait until we have to literally work until July 4 just to be independent from what we owe the government."

Citing the economy as the "major problem facing this country this year," Levin said he was disturbed by legislators who try to solve every economic problem with a simple "cut the budget."

"I believe that inflation and our sick economy can be largely traced to four primary causes," the Westfield Democrat continued. "First, there is unchecked monopolism and the Administration's permissive attitude toward big business."

Candidates Back

Manager Plan

The Republican candidates for the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders have endorsed the County Manager form of government recommended by the Union County Charter Study Commission. They pledged to assist the Commission in helping to explain the new concept to the voters prior to the referendum on the matter Nov. 5. Freeholders Matthew Nilsen and Rose Marie Sinnott and their running mate, Robert Doherty, joined in the statement.

"County government is big business with a budget approaching $50 million annually. It is appropriate that a higher degree of professionalism enter our deliberations," they said. "We hope the Commission's recommendation receives wide bi-partisan support and that local governing bodies and civic and fraternal organizations take advantage of the speakers' bureau created by the Commissioners to learn all they can about this new form of government."

The voters will have an opportunity to accept the Commissioners' recommendation by a public question which will appear on the General Election ballot.

Horace E. Churchman

Promotion of Horace E. Churchman of 77 Sandy Hill Rd. to the position of associate regional commissioner for management, Social and Rehabilitation Service, was announced here today by Mrs. Bernice L. Bernstein, HEW regional director.

According to Elmer W. Smith, SRS Regional Commissioner, Mr. Churchman will be responsible for monitoring expenditures of HEW funds totalling more than $2.4 billion. The money supports Aid to Families with Dependent Children, medical assistance, and social services in New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

"Quality control and continuing attention to the details of eligibility and fair payment are essential if we are to have a workable public assistance program. Mr. Churchman's extensive background in computerized management systems will be extremely valuable to us in coping with the ever-increasing volume of information we need to help states and localities help their residents," Mr. Smith said.

Previously, Mr. Churchman had been named, in September 1973, to the newly created HEW position of financial management advisor to New York State's social welfare and rehabilitation agencies in Albany. The office he established there will function under his control in his new position.

Prior to that, he was for four years director of project control for Informatics, Inc., an industrial computer software company in Canoga Park, Calif. Before joining Informatics, Inc., in 1969, Mr. Churchman served in a civilian capacity with the U.S. Army for 18 years.

From 1968 to 1969, he was director of command management systems directorate at the U.S. Army Logistics Management Systems Agency in St. Louis, Mo. His organization was responsible for the design and maintenance of the largest computerized management system ever undertaken by the Department of Defense.

From 1966 to 1968, he was chief of the materiel acquisition and delivery systems branch, U.S. Army Materiel Command, Washington, D.C., and project manager for the design and implementation of PEMARS, a computerized procurement, management accounting, and reporting system.

In earlier positions with the same command, he was chief of the cybernetics systems office and chief of the project management branch.

Mr. Churchman held a succession of accounting and supervisory posts with the Ordnance Comptroller Field Office at Cincinnati, Ohio, from 1957 to 1962.

Prior to that, he spent six years with the Aberdeen Proving Ground Comptroller's Office, in Maryland, where he joined the Federal government.

Mr. Churchman was graduated from Goldey College, Wilmington, Del., in 1951, with a degree in accounting and business administration.

During WW II, he served in the Navy with the Seabees on Okinawa.

Mr. Churchman was born in Havre de Grace, Md., on Nov. 12, 1925. He is married to the former Miss Frances Walker of that city. The couple have three children: Judy (Mrs. Charles Lowe), 21; Bonny, 14; and Robert, 7.

Seek Applicants For CG Academy

Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo (R.-12th Dist.-N.J.) has urged young men from Union County to apply to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, for cadet appointments to the academy class entering next summer.

Appointments are made solely on the basis of nationwide competition, Rinaldo said. The Congressman emphasized that no congressional appointments or geographical quotas are involved.

Applicants must be graduated from high school by June 30, 1975, and be between the ages of 17 and 21 at that time. They must have completed at least three units of English and three in mathematics, including algebra and geometry.

The candidate's high school rank, his score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test and his leadership potential are factors that weigh in the appointments.

Married men will not be accepted.

Rinaldo said the deadline for submitting applications is Dec. 15. Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing to: Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. 07320.

Postal Service

Everyone has an opinion about the United States Postal Service - its cost and efficiency, or lack of it. The Postal Reorganization Act of 1970 was supposed to give the post office more of the attributes of a business operation so far as efficiency, cost consciousness and desire to modernize and improve operations. The goal was to cut losses and speed up service. It hasn't worked out that way for a variety of reasons.

Some people feel that the Postal Service is increasing postal rates at an unconscionable rate and that mail service is no better, and in some cases worse, than it used to be. Publishers of newspapers and magazines fear the rapid increases in mailing costs could very well kill off an important segment of the free press in the United States. Others, very often employees of the Postal Service, argue that rates have not been raised to unreasonable levels in view of cost increases and that efficiency has improved. They point out that various types of mailers must, under the law, meet the cost of the service provided for them. The 1970 Postal Reorganization Act specifically prohibits "undue or unreasonable preferences" for any class of mail.

On the other side of the fence, it is argued that low postal rates for magazines, newspapers and periodicals were originally established to encourage the dissemination of news and information essential to the education and enlightenment of the people who otherwise would not be able to afford the cost of such publications. Certainly any arbitrary postal increases that resulted in the financial collapse of a significant portion of the nation's publications, including some 9,000 smaller daily and weekly newspapers throughout the U.S., would be a disaster in terms of destroying avenues of free expression, a major and indispensable safeguard of individual freedom under representative government in America. No one really argues this point. But will the increased postal rates result in any significant drop in the number of publications? It is true that some newspapers and a number of the nation's major magazines have already ceased publication. Increased postal rates, in many cases, contributed to their demise. However, it can be argued, they might have ceased publication anyway due to other inflationary pressures and perhaps also because of changing circumstances and reader interest. Still, there is a lurking fear that increased postal charges could one day prove to be a means of deliberately thinning the ranks of the free press as a prelude to gradual muzzling of those prone to criticize the actions of government.

The Postal Service complains about an overload of work. Why then doesn't it allow private carriers to assume part of the load if they can deliver the mail adequately for an equal or lower charge and make a profit in the process? To answer this question, The Wall Street Journal has quoted an analysis, entitled "Postal Monopoly, An Assessment of the Private Enterprise Statutes," published by the American Enterprise Institute. It is pointed out that, "... since the 1600s the basic scenario of postal competition has been the same. First the government's mail service is deficient. Then an enterprising individual decides that he can make a profit by offering faster or cheaper mail service. ... Letter writers start using the private service. The government post office senses an impending loss of revenue and may even feel chagrin at being shown to be second-best in service or efficiency. Government then takes action to force the private challengers out of existence."

This process is still going on. The current law prevents anyone except the post office from carrying anything designated as a "letter" for a fee over "postal routes." The Journal notes that the post office has progressively broadened the meaning of "letter" and early this year sought to include newspapers and periodicals under the definition and thereby outlaw newspaper carriers. It is noted that congressional committees concerned with this matter intervened, and apparently the post office has at least temporarily backed off.

For the average mail user, all the theorizing in the world won't change the facts. It now costs 10 cents to send a letter first class. It may get to its destination the next day, but every so often it may show up three weeks late or not at all. Automation is needed through contracts preventing layoffs, and "... the percentage of its cost going to labor has actually increased."

Competitive, private enterprise has done an exceptional job of producing just about every product or service that the human heart could desire. There seems every reason to suppose that it could do something equally creative about delivering the mail.

Irish Program In Park Sept. 4

The closing event of the Union County Park Commission's Summer Arts Festival in Echo Lake Park, will be a night for the Irish, with the appearance of Paddy Noonan and his band Wednesday, Sept. 4.

The leader, Paddy Noonan, from Mallow, County Cork, takes pride in having one of the most popular Irish bands in the United States. The group recently taped "A Grand Irish Party" for Canadian television. His recordings have sold more than a million copies.

The band will feature Martin Flynn as vocalist. All members of the band were born in Ireland. They predict that the host of Irish music lovers will be transported to Ireland with the dancing type and singing and lively music to be presented. Such selections as "The Cliffs of Doonee," "The West Clare Polka" and "Killarney in the Moonlight" will be on the program which will begin at 8:30 p.m. Rain date, if necessary, will be Thursday Sept. 5. The program is free to the public.

Spectators are urged to bring lawn chairs or blankets for seating on the hillside in the lower pavilion area of Echo Lake Park.

Vehicular entrance to the park is from Mill Lane and Springfield Avenue. A Park Commission "events" telephone, 352-8410, will record last minute changes if it is necessary to postpone the program.

Health Aide Class Scheduled

Applications are now being accepted for a New Jersey State Department of Health home health aide training course on Sept. 23-24 at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, and Overlook Hospital, Summit. Transportation may be arranged by contacting Mrs. Janet Cabrera at the Visiting Homemakers Service of Central Union County, 526 North Ave. East.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written only on one side of paper and typewritten.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

LWV SEEKS SUPPORT

Editor, Leader:

The summer months have been used constructively by the various committees of the League of Women Voters of the Westfield Area. Meetings called "units" are scheduled for the entire year. National, state and local issues will be researched and discussed by members. A newly established Observer Corps will be present at all public meetings in the four communities serviced by the League.

The monumental task of preparing the Candidate Sheets has kept Margaret Walker, voter services chairman, Ann Cohen, Yvonne Carbone and Joan Koulsh busy all summer. Residents of Westfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood and Mountainside have learned to depend upon the Candidate Sheets at election time. Besides being time consuming, this is a costly service prepared for the public.

We are pleased with the interest and financial support given us each year by concerned citizens. Early in September as our campaign for finances begins, our members call on a large number of contributors. However, it is impossible to reach everyone. We hope support will come in a voluntary response from interested citizens in our communities.

Maryann Pennella
Finance Chairman

INFLATION

Editor, Leader:

With all the uproar about inflation I feel compelled to speak out on the subject. From every news commentator, administration and congressional spokesman, and even a lot of economists comes the same mighty words: to halt inflation we must cut federal spending. Now I realize that against such mighty voices I have little chance of being heard, but here goes.

We cannot solve inflation; we can only solve the problems that cause inflation. This sounds rather nit-picky but I think that some of our economists, with all their charts and graphs and numbers and formulas, have forgotten that basic point. How much you spend is not as important as what you spend it for. Let's take the example of the mass-transit bill. The original bill was considered inflationary. It would have exceeded the self-imposed spending ceiling. However, there will be no improved mass-transit facilities to ease the fuel shortage. Curiously, highway construction continues unabated. Curiously still, the Administration now wants a gasoline surcharge to curb fuel consumption. Now these first two actions compel us to drive. So, the only realistic result of a surcharge will be to raise the cost of driving. Are you going to take money out of your savings or are you going to go to your employer and demand a higher salary?

Some economists have said that our inflation is due to an excessive demand for goods that are in short supply. Unfortunately, it is very difficult to do without food and fuel. In a few months hearings will begin on Project Independence. If we are going to end the energy shortage we will need a well-directed, well organized and well-funded program. In recent months a pattern has developed. Instead of reorganizing the bureaucracy to make it more efficient, which would need time and cause considerable annoyance, we are cutting mass-transit, land use and maybe Project Independence.

Why? Because lurking behind deficit spending and balanced budgets is the national debt. And if we eliminate the national debt the rains shall fall on time, oil shall ooze forth from the ground, people shall no more breed like rabbits, the cities shall be safe and wholesome again, poverty shall be no more, there shall be peace on earth and good will among all men, and we shall all live happily ever after. It's not how much you spend but what you spend it for.

Edward Steenhuisen

THE LAND USE BILL

Editor, Leader:
Congratulations to the Westfield Leader for its perceptive editorial relative to the defeat of the Land Use bill in Congress. Appropriation of $800 million of taxpayers' money to establish Land Use regulations in the fifty states according to federal guidelines would have been outrageous. Taxpayers need to keep these funds and communities need to retain local autonomy in zoning and land use. Control of these by the national government would mean imitating the Soviet Union.

Your readers should, however, be aware of the unfortunate fact that the enemies of freedom never sleep. What they were unable to achieve through legislative action, they have brazenly proclaimed by bureaucratic edict. In July,

Russell Train, Environmental Protection Administrator, announced formation of a new division in his bureau to deal with land use problems!

Although Train called this "a modest undertaking, with only three to five professionals to start ..." the New York Times declared that it "could affect communities throughout the nation." The Times story noted without comment that the House of Representatives had rejected federal involvement in Land Use planning less than a month before!

Moreover, E.P.A. regulations published in the Federal Register in February (to take effect in January, 1975) will establish almost total control over the U.S. construction industry. Such powers constitute a major element of Land Use planning - and a major reason for its legislative defeat. Thus, notwithstanding its rejection by Congress, Land Use planning from Washington is slated to take place, courtesy of the E.P.A. proclamations.

This "Congress and the public be damned" attitude of the federal bureaucracy is reprehensible. The E.P.A. edicts must NOT be permitted to stand. Congress must bring to a halt the imposition of bureaucratic tyranny on the U.S.A. in flagrant defiance of the people's elected representatives.

HUNG UP

A reader writes:
I find your answers to questions written in, eloquent and right to the point. But a little long-winded. I'd like to ask you several questions - please answer briefly so I can get a clear idea of what you really feel. 1). Why are there so many unhappy marriages? 2). Do you feel that teenagers are better adjusted today than in the past? 3). If your teen-age son had long, blonde, curly hair - messy and dirty, would you cut it or insist he cut it? 4). What are the main problems that bring people into therapy? 5). If you found "pot" in your daughter's suitcase (when she returned from college for summer vacation), how would you handle it?

Answer: Thank you for feeling I am "eloquent and right to the point". Long-winded? Well, I'll try to answer each of your questions as briefly as possible, but I could not limit it to a "yes" or a "no". 1). Re unhappy marriages today: I feel partners are more aware of their feelings in a marriage - they have become more aware of their rights, their needs, their priorities. People no longer feel they "have to" stay in an unhappy marriage. Many enter marriage bringing along unresolved conflicts from their own families - they feel marriage will cure everything. It doesn't. Also, stresses in today's world and the changes in the woman's and man's roles contribute towards increased anxieties in marriages.

2). Re teen-agers and their adjustment: the teen-age years are the most difficult years in terms of one's psychological growth. I feel teen-agers today are more direct, assertive and vocal than ever before and I feel this is positive. We would really have to wait and see how the individual moves out of his adolescence and into early adulthood in order to see how well the adjustment to life is.

3). If my teen-age son had long, blonde curly hair, I'd let him wear it the way he wanted to, because I do not feel this is an important issue over which to argue; and at that age, he has a right to wear his hair his way. If his hair were messy and dirty, I'd encourage him to wash it and keep it clean, since no girl is going to want to run her fingers through dirt.

4). The main problems which bring people into therapy are: a) poor self-images b) depression c) anxieties and tensions in everyday functioning d) parent-child conflicts wherein the child is an underachiever, runs away, has trouble with authority and e) marital problems.

5). Regarding how to deal with someone who brings back "pot" from college: I would encourage you to confront your daughter with the situation. I would not yell or punish, but I would attempt to discuss it, and to make several things clear: a) you are opposed to pot - it is illegal and all the medical evidence is not in yet re the potential harm, or lack thereof, of pot. b) I would seek reassurance that she would not smoke pot in your home. c) If she insists she has a right to make her own decisions, I would tell her to stay elsewhere. You, as a parent, have the right to set the rules in your home. d) If an argument ensues, I would encourage you both to seek out a counselor to help review the situation.

A divorced woman writes: I have been divorced one year. My children were upset and angry at first but they have adjusted to it very well. However, during the past several months, the girl, age 9, and boy, age 11, seem to become angry at me whenever I date. They are usually rude to my date, and say nasty things to me regarding my going out. I really think they would prefer if I were to stay home all the time. Is this a normal reaction?

Answer: Frequently children react to divorces and eventual dating in different ways: 1) Accepting it as a fact of life. 2) Wanting mother to remarry so they can have a father in the home situation. 3) Rejecting it, feeling loyal to both parents and wanting mother to remain "loyal" to father by becoming involved with no new mate. It is

Senator Clifford Case Reports to You

Unless dramatic action is taken soon it is likely Americans will again be paying more for food this fall and winter. Even so, they will be more fortunate than their counterparts in many parts of the world who will confront a severe scarcity of food stocks at any price.

This is the gloom prediction of experts and observers who have analyzed the food shortage problem. While there is no single cause for the expected rise in food prices, the experts suggest a number of contributing factors.

To begin with, the rise in the price of oil significantly affected an already inflated price market for cereal and food grains. Modern high yield farming, as in the United States, depends on oil based or natural gas based fertilizers.

In the poorer countries the higher cost has meant a cut back on their purchases of fertilizer and other petroleum products and consequently a drop in production.

Weather conditions have added to the problems in many areas. In our own country drought has damaged the corn, soy bean and sugar beet crops. There is fear that drought also threatens the Spring wheat crop. In Canada drought has cut back an expected bumper wheat crop. In Mexico it has severely affected the cattle industry. And in the Sahelian region of Africa and in Ethiopia it threatens the lives of hundreds of thousands of people.

Just the opposite is the case in Bangladesh, Pakistan and India where heavy floods have disrupted the lives of many thousands of people and contributed to a major food crisis.

Unfortunately, even though more bad news comes in daily, the Department of Agriculture has not changed its basic approach. In essence, the Department's program is to let the natural market forces work their will. This means, for agriculture, an erratic market with prices rising and falling, and that is exactly what we are experiencing now. For example, dairy breeder stocks and calves are being slaughtered because the market is now depressed and prices for dairy products have not kept pace with rising costs for feed grains and shipment costs. In a few months there may be a shortage of milk and cheese and a corresponding rise in price. Similarly, unless poultry and pork prices go up under the current system, experts say there is a threat that breeder stocks of chickens and pigs will also be liquidated.

I think the agriculture market system can and should be improved and stabilized. If we had only to concern ourselves with our own country I would not now be so worried - but we are dependent on a number of factors we cannot control, such as rising foreign demand for foodstuffs, the continued high price of oil, the changes in the value of world currencies, and hunger and starvation threatening many throughout the world.

We need to establish a marketing system for food grains that will control on a rational basis the amount that can be exported, set aside stocks for national emergencies and for emergencies elsewhere in the world, and still give the farmer a fair and dependable price for his produce. I do not approve of rigid export controls from which almost no one benefits imposed when a crisis is fully upon us. We need a rational policy that everyone understands and can depend upon, both consumers and farmers, here at home and abroad. More than that, we need international agreements with other major grain exporting countries - such as Canada, Australia and Argentina - to coordinate policy and assure price stability.

I have proposed and sponsored legislation in the Senate to achieve these goals. In the past these proposals were blocked by powerful lobbies and vested interests. But that is beginning to change. The Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee is now studying this new approach and is pressing for action soon. With affirmative action in the offing the United States will be better able to make a positive contribution to the World Food Conference which will begin this November in Rome.

Clearly now is the time for action.

Tree Talk

Foliage diseases of shade trees have been widespread this summer with varying symptoms and degrees of severity. Sycamores have been debilitated and scorched by the anthracnose fungus. Crab apple leaves have been spotted and have fallen as a result of ash and rust infections. Hawthorn leaves have been defoliated by the leaf blight fungus. A bacterial disease, fire blight, has caused leaf and twig dieback of crab apples, pears, apples, and mountain ash. Ash, maple, and oak have also suffered from anthracnose fungi and the leaves of many red oaks have been defoliated by oak leaf blight.

Dr. Donald L. Ham, plant pathologist for the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, says that now is an excellent time for home owners to carefully observe their shade trees, diagnose any disease problems, and plan control procedures for next spring. To be most effective a preventive fungicidal program should be implemented early in the growing season. The timing and number of fungicidal applications depend on the host plant and fungus involved as well as local weather conditions. Cool, moist spring weather ordinarily extends the period that a tree is susceptible to various disease organisms, so that additional protective sprays at the proper intervals are required for good disease control. However, it is very easy to forget the disease problems of this summer over the long winter unless good notes and plans are made now.

Being weighted down with money seldom hinders one from swimming in the sea of life.

SORRY -- YOU'RE TOO LATE TO BUY THIS LINCOLN ROAD COLONIAL

We sold it to Megan and Tom Seel up from North Carolina.

BUT -- There is another home on Lincoln Road on the market for $62,900 which is unusual for many reasons...

the location between the Franklin elementary school and the Roosevelt Junior High school is a joy forever for the wife and children... the third floor bedroom with its own bath settles a major problem for the teenager... the large front and side porch, tremendously useful for comfort and conversation give it an old-time flavor... the country kitchen, nicely modernized, is for a large family... the quiet street and the good-sized plot is for a large family also... statistics: 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths, 2 car garage... extras: new roof, new hot water heater, dry basement, bar sink.

League Lines

Had to wait in any gas station lately? Of course not. Is the energy crisis over then? Absolutely
not. If the U.S. returns to its euphoric preembargo
course of ever-expanding
use of petroleum products,
the gap between national demand and domestic
production will continue to widen.

Facts to keep in mind:
Physical and economic growth requires energy. Per capita Gross National Product correlates with a nation's consumption of non-
renewable fossil fuels, and
no major nation, except Canada, is currently able to produce as much oil as it consumes. Most of the world's oil reserves lie in the Middle East and North Africa.

Rising demand:
Automobiles, trucks, and
buses consume three-
fourths of total U.S. energy requirements. Spreading suburbs have meant longer
worker commutes by car,
usually single passenger
trips. Bus and rail transport systems, less oil con-
sumptive per passenger,
have declined. Relatively efficient air flights often depart less than full. Clean and easy to use oil has
replaced coal in homes,
industry, and in electricity
generation. Electric heating
is an especially wasteful
demand.

The steep rise in U.S.
farm production per man-
hour of labor, with spectacular yields in 1972 and 1973, rests on large outlays
for fertilizers and farm machinery. Agribusiness
devours herbicides and
insecticides made from petrochemicals.

Oil is also the source of petrochemicals essential to
such products as drugs,
plastics, synthetic fibers,
toys, carpeting, furniture,
microfilm, squeeze bottles,
and the ubiquitous plastic
bag. Industrial petrochemical uses are
many and heavy — commercial solvents for one example.

While estimates vary
about how much oil it will take to fill the gap between U.S. oil demands and potential U.S. supply, a common forecast is that by 1985 the country will need
about 30 to 35 million barrels
of liquid petroleum each day, even though it is assumed that we will continue limited use of coal and continue building nuclear
plants without too great a delay.

That is today's picture
and the projected future.
Next week we'll look into
why U.S. oil production has declined and list the
currently apparent alternatives for solving the problem of demand versus supply.

Mail Registration Guide Issued

The Department of State
has issued proposed
regulations to guide county
election officials in implementing New Jersey's
new mail registration
program.

"These State rules are designed to help election
officials carry out the spirit
as well as the intent of the law making it easier for people to register and vote,"
said Assistant Secretary of State F. Joseph Carragher,
who noted there are about 1.3 million non-registered voters in the State.

Carragher said the rules
also were shaped to guard against the potential of fraud.

"We believe we have
taken adequate steps to prevent any irregularities,"
he said.
The proposed rules will be published in full in the Sept.
5 issue of the New Jersey
Register—the State's official
rules publication, and will become law 20 days after, on Sept. 25.

However, the Assistant Secretary of State announced that a public hearing on the regulations
will be held at 10 a.m., Sept.
18 in the State Assembly Lounge in Trenton. The hearing officer will be George Bloom, the Department's Supervisor of the Election Bureau.

"If we hear any exceptions to the rules which
are valid, we would make the necessary changes," Carragher said, noting that mail registration is a new concept and only four states
have laws providing for it.

Under the rules, an
organization or candidate
may request two percent of the total number of voter registration forms which the county Commissioner of Registration has available
at the time. There shall be no limit on the number of requests that such an
organization or candidate
may make, but the Commissioner of Registration
shall maintain a record of all organizations and
candidates requesting 100 or more forms.

Individuals may request
25 forms from the Commissioner of Registration,
and there shall be no limit to
the number of requests an individual may make.

The Commissioner of Registration shall also accept legible photo-copies
and reproductions of
completed registration
forms provided that they
comply with the provisions

of the new rules and other applicable statutory requirements. Additionally,
the photocopies and
reproductions must be true
facsimiles of the voter registration form.

"This regulation was adopted so that anyone who
is having difficulty obtaining forms could
reproduce their own in order
to enroll eligible voters,"
said Carragher.

If an applicant states that
he or she is over 18 years of age without indicating his or her specific birth date, the application shall be deemed to be completed. If an applicant is 17 years old, he or
she must give date of birth.

"The reason for the over 18 regulation is that some
male and female applicants
do not want their age known
and feel that it is an invasion
of their privacy," he said.

"But for the 17-year-old
applicant, the birth date
must be given so his voting
registration card is not prematurely put on the list
of eligible voters," said the Assistant Secretary of State.

Also, a new voter must
sign his name on the reverse
side of the permanent
registration form maintained by the Commissioner of Registration when the voter appears to cast his initial ballot.

The signature on the voter registration form and on the reverse side of the permanent registration form
must be compared before
the voter will be allowed to cast his ballot.

"This regulation is being
approved as a safeguard
against fraud," said
Carragher.

"It gives an election
worker the opportunity to make sure the signatures on
the mail form and in the permanent registration
book are valid.

The rules also provide
that the county shall be reimbursed at 50 cents per voter added to the registration list. The county
shall accept and validate a voter's change in name and address but will not be entitled to the reim-
bursement if the change is within the county.

As far as accepting applications, the rules state
that any form which is not postmarked, but is dated by
the applicant on the 29th day
before the close of
registration shall be timely,
provided it is received no
later than seven days after the close of registration. All applicants must be notified
immediately by mail of acceptance or rejection.

Ask State Endorsement For Resource Recovery

Emphasis on recycling as
the logical answer to
statewide solid waste management problems
highlights legislative
proposals forwarded to Commissioner of Environmental Protection
David J. Bardin by the New Jersey Committee for Resource Recovery.

The letter from David F.
Moore, committee
spokesman, urged Bardin to
"do all in your power" to win the endorsement of Governor Brendan T. Byrne
for the group's legislative suggestions.

Moore, executive director
of the New Jersey
Conservation Foundation,
Morristown, said the Committee proposed
amendments to bills introduced in both houses of the legislature, "to either
add or strengthen resource
recovery provisions."

The Committee for Resource Recovery includes
professional environmentalists, industries
with recycling interests,
agencies of government and
more than 300 local environmental and civic
groups with a total membership of some 15,000.

"Our goal is to see
recycling operate routinely
in New Jersey, the most densely populated of the 50
states and the state with an impending crisis in landfill
space for solid waste," said Moore. "Resource recovery
brings re-use of vanishing
resources and saves energy."

The Committee endorsed
S-624, a bill by Senator
Matthew Feldman, D-
Bergen, and its Senate
committee amendments,
provided it is further
amended to make resource
recovery the top priority for
solid waste management

planning.
As introduced, Feldman's
bill would establish 21
county "solid waste
management districts," and a 22nd for the area under jurisdiction of the Hackensack Meadowslands
Development Commission.
Missing from the bill now,
Moore said, is identification
of resource recovery as a favored form of waste management. A simple amendment proposed to Bardin would correct this,
he continued.

The committee also urged
addition to the Feldman bill
of a provision requiring an environmental impact statement to assess the
regional effects of any solid
waste management plan,
plus a similar assessment of
the energy savings or expenditures a plan would entail.

Four other pieces of
pending legislation were supported by the Committee, contingent on amendments being made.

A bill by Senator Frank Dodd, D-Essex, S-154, would give the Department of Environmental Protection
the authority to experiment
with and demonstrate new techniques for solid waste disposal. The committee
proposed that, with sufficient funding, it would permit the Department to conduct a pilot project in resource recovery in the Hackensack Meadowslands.

Another bill with tentative
committee support is S-465,
by Senator Raymond

Bateman, R-Somerset, to provide technical and financial aid to local governments establishing
resource recovery systems.
The committee recommended that the bill's $250,000 appropriation be raised to $1.5 million, and
that sewage sludge be included as a possible object
for resource recovery.

Moore wrote Bardin that
although now a dangerous
form of solid waste, sewage
sludge "holds enormous
promise as a source of fertilizer" which is getting
scarce because of the
petroleum shortage.

Mandatory separation of
newspapers from garbage
by the public would be required under S-1220, a bill introduced by Senator
James Wallwork, R-Essex.
The committee endorsed
this, but asked for an amendment permitting
gradual phasing-in of the
separation so as not to outpace capacities of
recycling industries.

The committee endorsed
A-1452, by Assemblywoman
Betty Wilson, D-Union and Morris, which would permit
state grants to municipalities which require solid waste separation at points of origin and providing
collection and delivery to
recycling industries.
Amendments were urged to
make grants available to
solid waste management
districts, and make grants
available prior to a separation plan's going into operation.

VA Rep at Union College

The VA is now at Union College. Glenn Robert Scott of Orange was welcomed as a full-time representative of the Veterans Administration at Union College recently by Dr. Saul Orkin, president of the College.

As VA representative, Mr. Scott will serve as a veterans benefits counselor for currently enrolled veterans at Union College, prospective students, and the general public who might have questions or claims Mr. Scott could handle.

Mr. Scott will also serve as VA rep for students at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, "the other half" of Union County's comprehensive community college system, Dr. Orkin said.

"Thousands of veterans from the Korean and Vietnam Wars are unaware of the benefits to which they are entitled," said Mr. Scott. "There are many more people, widows and children, for example, who are not getting what they're due. My presence on the Union College campus is designed to improve the VA's services and information to our veterans."

If Mr. Scott's first day on the job at Union College is any forecast of the future, area veterans can anticipate some action on their problems. He uncovered $3,000 for one veteran who will enter college this September and didn't know he was eligible to collect his father's benefits.

Area Students Merge Study With Work

CRANFORD - Those wondering where theory ends and practice begins may have found their answer in the Urban Studies

Two Residents Enrolled In Upsala College

Two Westfield students will report to Upsala College East Orange Sept. 4, for the start of their collegiate careers.

Raymond Aufiero of 635 First St. and Barry Pulver of 60 Genesee Tr. will participate in a freshman orientation program that will include academic and social activities.

program at Union College which combines classroom learning with actual field experience.

After studying the rise and development of urban America, urban government, and the social problems of the city, the student embarks on volunteer work in social agencies that range from city planning to youth services.

Michael Clancy of Roselle worked in the Police-Community Relations Program in Elizabeth; Freddie L. Brown of Elizabeth for the Boy Scouts in Newark; Roberto Gonzalez and Doris Mims, both of Elizabeth, in the Probation Training Program in Elizabeth; and Thomas Kay of Westfield in the Veterans' Peer Counseling Center at Union College.

Margaret Gardner of Westfield was a volunteer at the Westfield Community Center, Chuck Zickerman of Kenilworth worked for the Easter Seal Society, and Wanda Wright of Plainfield for the Youth Services Bureau of Plainfield.

All of the students echoed favorable reactions to their semester's internship. Getting out of the classroom and finding out what's actually happening in the city agencies with the added incentive that one might be touching base in certain areas were the main reasons the students enjoyed their work.

Friedrichs Home From Convention

Henry C. Friedrichs Jr. of H. Clay Friedrichs, Inc., Realtors Gallery of Homes, Fanwood and Westfield has just returned from "Run for the Roses," the semi-annual convention of the international Gallery of Homes Inc., held at the Galt House in Louisville, Ky. The convention was preceded by the "pre-Derby Stakes," a Gallery advertising clinic.

Mr. Friedrichs was joined by fellow Gallery members from every corner of North America. Gallery of Homes is the nation's largest residential real estate network, with over 1,400 offices throughout the USA and Canada and abroad, staffed by more than 15,000 sales professionals. In keeping with its racing theme, "Run for the Roses" provided lectures, seminars, groups and round table discussions geared to make every Gallery member a bigger winner in the coming year.

A featured speaker was Eden Ryl, noted management expert, discussing the topic, "Pack Your Own Chute." Donald Dible, author of several books, including the popular "Up Your Own Organization," shared his management insights. Roy Campanella, former Dodgers baseball star, was the speaker at a special "Breakfast of Champions," comparing sports competition to the competition found in real estate business. Tom Dooley, executive vice-president of Gallery of Homes, will present an overview in the Stretch Drive as "Seen From the Club House".

Other convention topics included, Financing is Where You Find It, Making Corporate Contacts, Experience Exchange

Groups, Management of Change, and Educational Allowance.

Gallery's complete relocation services include community data, as well as travel, transportation and moving arrangements. Last year Gallery members sold more than $4 billion worth of residential real estate -- a record which convention-goers hope to surpass in the coming year.

M. Desrosiers, library director, the library will not accept any more donations of books, except paperbacks and best sellers. The book sale began July 5 and will continue daily through Sept. 14.

Books also are on sale each day on a window sill in the children's room. The Friends of the Library will conduct their annual book sale in April.

New Courses at Union College

CRANFORD - Four new courses to be added to the Union College curriculum this fall will expand student options in at least four major areas of study, according to Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the college.

These include Fundamentals of Music, a new addition to the fine arts curriculum; Correctional Administration, a course in the criminal justice curriculum; Animal Behavior, a new psychology course, and Sound System of American English, a non-credit English course for non-native English-speaking students.

Union College offers some 200 courses paralleling the freshman and sophomore offerings at four-year colleges and universities. These are in the fields of liberal arts, education, biological sciences, physical science, engineering, environmental engineering, environmental science, urban studies, fine arts, criminal justice and business administration, Prof. Wolf reported.

Today the world changes so fast you couldn't stay wrong all the time even if you tried.

will be provided by New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. The program to be given at the Trailside Planetarium will be "Fingerprints of The Elements." This will explain how the spectroscopy has helped to unravel mysteries for the astronomer. The program will be repeated at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

As the Planetarium has a seating capacity of only 35 persons, tickets issued at the office are on a first-come, first-served basis for the Sunday performances. Children under the age of eight are not admitted. Tuesday through Thursday, at 4 p.m., Donald W. Mayer, Trailside director, will present a half hour nature talk for children. The subject will be "Life In A Swamp."

Hoxie Circus Here Sept. 14

Hoxie Brothers big top circus is coming to Westfield Saturday Sept. 14 with 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. performances at the Westfield Memorial Pool complex on Scotch Plains Ave.

Thrills and danger are part of a circus performance, and the 1974 Hoxie Brothers 3 ring performance is no exception. The amazing Astros ride a motorcycle on the high wire with another member of the troupe suspended from the motorcycle beneath the wire, and perform the thrilling motorcycle twirl high in the dome of the "Big Top".

The daring young men with the circus not only stand on their heads on the highwire, but walk two high across the wire, and also skip rope thirty feet above the ground. It is a dizzy, death-defying drop to the ground but their physical skill and courage will amaze both young and old.

There are laughs galore by Italo Farnasari, Italy's funniest clown, and his six person clown band. A perfection of grace and skill is performed by the riding Christiani Family, featuring the riding comedian, Lucio Christiani. Performing leopards, trained birds, elephants, horses and ponies can be seen under the round tent.

Advance tickets at reduced prices are now being sold at Arthur Stevens 233 E. Broad St., Betty Brite Cleaners 330 South Ave. Garwood, Jane Smith 137 Central Ave., Lancaster Ltd. 76 Elm St., Root's Sweet Shoppe 439 South Ave., Tiny Tots 118 Elm St. Westfield Studio 121 Central Ave. and Wyatt Brothers 138 Central Ave.

For additional information call Mrs. Robert Mason 232-4388 or Mrs. Robert Smith 233-2717.

David Hoffman, president of Shackamaxon Country Club, and Mrs. Hoffman, chat with Mort Glasfer, vice-president, and his wife at annual Mickey Finn Festival at clubhouse.

280 Attend Mickey Finn Festival

About 280 members and guests of Shackamaxon Golf and Country Club attended the recent Mickey Finn Festival at the clubhouse.

A Gay Nineties theme was used to decorate the main ballroom which featured flags, beer barrels, and posters. Straw hats and casual attire was worn by guests who danced to continuous music by the Smith St. Society Band and the Herb Zane Orchestra.

Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and a family style dinner was on the menu for the evening.

You Can Phone For Conditions On Parkway

Motorists now are able to dial the letters P-A-R-K-W-A-Y to get up to the minute reports on Garden State Parkway road and traffic conditions.

Commissioner John B. Townsend of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Parkway, has announced that a new telephone answering service for the 173 mile roadway went into effect recently.

The service was set up in the Parkway Communications Center at the Administration Building in Woodbridge. Dispatchers are in constant radio communication with State Troopers on patrol, State Police barracks and other installations along the Parkway, and thus get quick data on how traffic is moving and conditions which might affect travel.

Dispatchers will alter recorded taped messages periodically or as conditions dictate so that callers will be advised of the traffic flow, tieups, ice or snow conditions, fog, heavy rain, flooding or other unusual situations.

"The Authority decided to initiate the service because of the tremendous increase in the number of vehicles on the road," Commissioner Townsend said. "This will be a year-round service that should be helpful to Parkway patrons no matter what the time of day or year. We decided on making it a 12-month-a-year service because it's good for the motorist to know what's ahead whatever the season."

Devlin Enrolled At Tusculum

David M. Devlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Devlin of 443 Hillside Ave., Mountainside, has been accepted for admission as a freshman at Tusculum College, Greeneville, Tenn. A 1974 graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, David plans to study English Literature and Art at Tusculum.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lippman of Scotch Plains take time out to sample hors d'oeuvres.

Local Artists to Teach Fall Classes at Center

Painting, drawing, pottery, sculpture, jewelry, stained glass are a few of the fall classes being offered by the Artist and Craftsman Guild now in its seventh year. The Artist and Craftsman Guild, located in Cranford, is a creative art center featuring a school of art and fine crafts and a professional gallery. A variety of art forms and craft techniques taught by professional artists and craftsmen will be explored by adults, teens and children in ten-week sessions as well as one-day workshops. Classes are open to all levels.

Several new artists-instructors have joined the roster this fall include Don Bloom, Bea Goldan, Patricia Conroy, Dolores Rowe and Gladys Reimers. Don Bloom of East Brunswick, an accomplished painter, will teach a multimedia Saturday teen-age class which explores 20th Century painting techniques. Mr. Bloom is well known for his impressionistic works and is listed in Who's Who in American Art.

Bea Goldan of Murray Hill will teach a mixed media adult class in abstract approaches to painting. Students will be taught a keener perception of their environment as a source of abstract composition and will be made aware of the excitement of expressing emotions on canvas. Mrs. Goldan's works are included in the N.J. State Museum in Trenton and in the permanent collection of the Newark Museum.

PATRICIA CONROY OF WESTFIELD, an award-winning artist, will teach watercolor techniques to adults. DOLORES ROWE, also of Westfield, will teach pottery classes for teens and adults in handbuilding and wheel techniques. GLADYS REIMERS of Westfield will teach sculpture basics in clay, wood and stone.

New this semester is a direct metal sculpture class using soldering techniques taught by Giselle Mauer. Mrs. Mauer also teaches a stone and clay sculpture workshop.

Union Offering Energy Course

CRANFORD - Is the United States running out of power? Many experts think so and the question will be put to the test this fall at Union College. A short, five-week course, "Energy and the Future," is being offered this September without charge to Union County residents as a public service, explained Weyman Steengrafe, of Westfield coordinator of continuing education at the College.

"Many people believe that the United States is running out of power so quickly that a complete shutdown of American industry cannot be avoided," Mr. Steengrafe said. "Are these people just alarmists or are they credible?"

"Energy and the Future" will present the energy question in uncomplicated terms for the layman, Mr. Steengrafe explained. The scope of the energy crisis, alternative energy sources, energy transmission and conservation, and the future of energy will be among the specific areas that will be considered, he said.

Farris S. Swackhamer of Cranford, a professor of chemistry at Union College, will serve as discussion leader. Prof. Swackhamer served as director of research for Shell Chemical Company, Union, for fifteen years. He was also a research chemical engineer with the American Cyanamid Company for 12

Robbery Insurance Available For Apartment Tenants

New Jersey apartment dwellers will soon be receiving information on federal crime insurance under legislation recently signed by Gov. Brendan T. Byrne.

The legislation (Assembly Bill 1585) requires New Jersey landlords of 10 or more units to make federal crime insurance information available to all tenants.

The insurance is underwritten by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and provides tenants up to $10,000 coverage for losses resulting from robbery or burglary.

Any tenant can buy the federal protection through Aetna Life & Casualty, the company chosen to sell and service the policies in New Jersey. The protection is available from Aetna regardless of previous insuring experience and without fear of cancellation based on the number or size of losses.

Any licensed property insurance agent or broker can provide detailed information about required protection standards and arrange for the coverage.

Stoneback Attends Foundation Meeting

Dr. David Stoneback of 1301 Rahway Ave., chemistry teacher at Westfield High School, attended the first U.S. meeting of Germany's research foundation, the Alexander von Humboldt-Stiftung, last month.

Held in Boston's Copley Plaza Hotel, one goal of the three day meeting was the development of ways to further the exchange of research people between the United States and Germany. As former Fellows of the foundation, the participants were invited to consider returning to Germany themselves, but more importantly to act as ambassadors among colleagues and friends who might not know of the Humboldt-Stiftung and of the availability of funds for basic research in the arts as well as the sciences. The prerequisite for the awarding of such a fellowship is a doctorate and a minimum of three years research experience in the area of proposed study. Normally an applicant would know of a German professor skilled in his area of research interest and with this professor write a detailed research proposal for submission to the Humboldt-Stiftung. Any qualified person may contact Dr. Stoneback at Westfield High School for additional information.

Dr. Stoneback, a Fellow of the Humboldt Foundation, worked with Professor Wilhelm Jost at the Institut fur physikalische Chemie der Universitat Gottingen. His work there concerned high pressure shock tubes... the shock tube being an important laboratory tool in the development of a complete theory of high temperature reactions... such as combustion. Although it provided an opportunity to talk with many important German professors and high government scientific personnel, the meeting, according to Dr. Stoneback, will most likely be best remembered by its participants for the opportunity it provided to meet with other Fellows from across the United States and to discuss "the universities, the research problems, the people, the places they lived, the trips away, and the dreams of returning."

In addition to his school responsibilities, Mr. Koch will direct two choirs of the church and assist on the church organ during services.
Mr. Koch, his wife Carol and their four children will reside in Westfield.

North Side Teens Triumph 6-0

Responding to the challenge placed in the August 15 edition of the Westfield Leader, the North Side Teen Softball Club faced its first competition, the Boston Yankees at Elm Street Field last Thursday afternoon. North Side won 6 to 0 behind the shut out pitching of surprise starter Will Stune and the relief work of Anne Knauer. Hitting star for the victors was Centerfielder Tom Graney who had a home run and two singles in four at bats. Graney also drove in two runs and scored two himself.

The game was mostly a defensive struggle between the two teams through the sixth inning, with North Side holding a slight 2-0 advantage. The game was broken up in the seventh with a rally that featured Graney's homer.

Jeff "the Vacuum" Brader was named Most Valuable Player in the game. Said Coach Martin Black: "Jeff's performance was one of the finest I have seen in many years of playing and watching softball. He played perfectly anything that was hit even close to him." On at least one occasion Brader made a catch of a rising line drive.

Lisa Taylor, Kandy Anderson Win Third WTC Title

The Westfield Tennis Club women's doubles tournament came to an end on Sunday with Lisa Taylor and Kandy Anderson winning the event for the third consecutive year. They won over June Stevens and Nancy Kraemer in two sets 6-2, 7-6.

The first set belonged to the champs all the way when they went out front at 4-0. They then slowed down to lose the fifth and sixth games but roared back in the last two games for the set, 6-2. Their great success was attributed to charging the net throughout the set.

Stevens-Kraemer started the second set strongly by winning the first two games. They lost the next three, won the sixth and seventh, lost the eighth and ninth, won the tenth and eleventh and dropped the twelfth to tie things at 6-6. Here the tiebreaker was used with Taylor and Anderson winning 5-2 and the match 6-2, 7-6. The winners seemed to be content in playing the second set from the base line rather than rushing the net as in the first.

First round - Burge-Sully d. Allen-Hearon 6-1, 6-1; Van Leuven-Keoughan d. Robinson-Stillwell 6-0, 6-1; Moore-Williams d. Schmit-Cyger 6-1, 7-5; Hogan-Federici d. Tierney-Vitale 6-0, 6-0; Warfield-Weeks d. Ellis-Brehm, default; Jones-Dunlap d. Anderson-Glickman 7-5, 6-4; Stevens-Kraemer d. Blaz-Faulknew 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Second round - Taylor-Anderson d. Burge-Sully 6-2, 6-3; Van Leuven-Keoughan d. Moore-Williams 6-3, 6-2; Hogan-Federici d. Warfield-Weeks 6-1, 6-1; Stevens-Kraemer d. Jones-Dunlap 6-1, 6-4.

Semi-finals - Taylor-Anderson d. Van Leuven-Keoughan 6-1, 6-1; Stevens-Kraemer d. Hogan-Federici 6-0, 6-4.

The Westfield Tennis Club parent-junior B tournament was won by Bryan and Jack Lynn who won the final over Greg and Mike Moore 7-5, 6-3.

Regional Bd. Approves Insurance Coverage

Students participating in all Regional interscholastic athletics, school band activities and cheerleading will receive special insurance coverage adopted by the Board of Education for the 1974-75 school year. Coverage includes all games or performances, scrimmages and practices as well as sponsored and supervised travel activities for all team and band members.

This coverage will provide a total benefit of $260,000 per accident. The maximum benefit payable for basic medical expenses as a result of any one accident is $10,000, and $250,000 is available to cover "in excess" medical expenses incurred within a three year period.

This insurance coverage will be in excess of the personal or group medical insurance carried by a student or his parents. The board's insurance company will not duplicate the medical benefits of an individual's policy but will pay those medical expenses not covered by a person's insurance.

After the game in a spirit of good sportsmanship, players from both sides chose up another contest with people from both teams mixing together. Those wanting to arrange games with the North Side Softball Club should contact Pete Elder or Kenny Cunningham through the Westfield Recreation Commission office.

Registration is limited to boys who are in the fourth, fifth, sixth, or seventh grades and are nine, years, nine months of age by Sept. 1. Boys must weigh between 60 and 140 lbs.

The league, now in its 18th season of play, supplies each player with a football jersey and helmet as well as the necessary practice and game equipment. The WBFL also provides insurance coverage with a $100 deductible feature. These costs are partially defrayed by the registration fee of $5. Other individual equipment, such as football pads, pants, and sneakers, must be supplied by the player.

Boys must register in person in order for the league to determine their official weight and the registration fee is payable at that time. The assignment of players to teams in either the Junior or Senior League will follow the final registration day. The team assignments will be made by league officials and the boys will be notified of their team during the week of Sept. 7.

President Brewster and Coaches Committee Chairman Dave Burdge are still looking for adult volunteers to help insure that the 1974 season is another WBFL banner year.

60 Signup For Football

Last Saturday more than 60 boys signed up on the first of four registration days for the Westfield Boys' Football League. Bob Brewster, league president, noted that registration will again be held this Saturday at the Westfield Y from 9 a.m. until noon, with Dave Landale again in charge.

Registration is limited to boys who are in the fourth, fifth, sixth, or seventh grades and are nine, years, nine months of age by Sept. 1. Boys must weigh between 60 and 140 lbs.

The league, now in its 18th season of play, supplies each player with a football jersey and helmet as well as the necessary practice and game equipment. The WBFL also provides insurance coverage with a $100 deductible feature. These costs are partially defrayed by the registration fee of $5. Other individual equipment, such as football pads, pants, and sneakers, must be supplied by the player.

Boys must register in person in order for the league to determine their official weight and the registration fee is payable at that time. The assignment of players to teams in either the Junior or Senior League will follow the final registration day. The team assignments will be made by league officials and the boys will be notified of their team during the week of Sept. 7.

President Brewster and Coaches Committee Chairman Dave Burdge are still looking for adult volunteers to help insure that the 1974 season is another WBFL banner year.

Championships Climax Tennis Club Program

The Junior Club Championships wound up the Junior Development Program at the Westfield Tennis Club last week. The girls 10 and under tournament saw Kathy Keoughan downing Jeanne Decker while Kathy Federici defeated Megan Decker in another semifinal match. Kathy Federici continued in her winning style by trouncing Kathy Keoughan in the finals.

Dan Arnold walked away with the boys 10 and under tournament by ousting Ricky Bartok in the semifinals and Billy O'Herron in the finals. Billy gained the finals with a win over Jerry Blaze. (Jerry retired in the second set.)

The girls 12 and under tournament came down to Pam Kraft winning over Kathy Federici in one semifinal match and Nancy Basco bowing to Sylvia Bartok in the other. Sylvia went on to win the trophy.

Top-seeded Calvin Farley was the victor of the boys 12 and under competition by outplaying Paul Rippe in the final match. Paul defeated John Blaze while Calvin was victorious over Paul Glickman to gain the finals.

The girls 14 and under tournament semifinals consisted of Pam Stites downing Maureen Brehm and Marie Blaze overwhelming Sue Derrey. The finals was a close dual with Marie coming out on top.

But Marie didn't stop there. She pulled some upsets in the girls 16 and under tournament by beating Ann Derrey in the semis and Darlene Robinson in the finals. Darlene had conquered Carole Paulsen before facing Marie.

Doug Yearley also gained two titles last week as he won the boys 14 and 16 and under tournaments. In the 14 and under Doug trounced Mike Bartok to reach the finals while Bill Rippe outlasted John Krakora. The finals saw Doug downing Bill.

Doug would not allow his winning streak to be broken as he defeated Bill Rippe in the semifinals of the 16 and under competition and Greg Smith in the finals. Greg outplayed Doug Newsome to earn the finals.

Another First For Monmouth

OCEANPORT - Monmouth Park has scored another first. At least, the track can make the claim, barring evidence to the contrary, because it isn't the sort of thing that goes into the official records.

Monmouth Park has the only — and probably the first — resident of the Principality of Monaco working in the backstretch. He is 21-year-old Gilbert Bellando de Castro, a university student who is spending part of his summer vacation lending a hand around the barn of trainer Don LeVine.

"I wanted to learn English, and I ride very often and like horses, so I asked to come to the United States to work with the horses," explained Gilbert, whose English is very good, though he says it is difficult for him.

His father, Robert de Castro, is the presiding judge of a high court in the tiny, French-speaking Monaco. The contact to LeVine was made through the trainer's sister-in-law, Princess Grace, wife of Monaco's ruler Prince Rainier.

"The race track is all right, nice," he says, "but the work is hard. I belong to a riding club in Monaco for seven years, and there I ride and jump horses, but the only time I worked with horses before was on a farm in Germany. I came here with many things to learn. There is no race track in Monaco, but there is one nearby in Nice (France). There is trotting at night in the summer there, and steeplechasing and flat racing in the winter. I've never worked there, though."

Gilbert, who will begin his fourth year of college in September, majoring in mathematics and astronomy, learned English in school. While he's sure that being at Monmouth Park and having to speak English this summer will improve his command of the language, it's not easy.

Entries Due For County Horseshoe Tournament

Entries are now being received for the 48th Annual Union County Horseshoe Pitching Tournament, to be staged in Wananco Park, Elizabeth.

Deadline for entries is Sept. 11 with Jack Birmingham, Superintendent of Recreation, the Union County Park Commission, P.O. Box 275, Elizabeth, 07207.

The tournament is scheduled for play on Sunday, Sept. 15, beginning at 11 a.m. Trophies will be awarded by the Commission to the winner and runnerup in each of four divisions. Men residing or employed in Union County are eligible.

which is taught by Irvin Rubin, a certified instructor for nearly 15 years.

"The water world is the last frontier left for the average man to explore," contends Rubin. "The Wild West is gone. Outer space is too expensive for the average man to adventure in. But 3/4 of the world is water and most people have never really seen what is in it."

Registration is held daily from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. at the Y front desk, 138 Ferris Pl.

Master Swimmers Bring Home Medals

Swicker Wins Red Belt

The first red belt in karate ever won at the Westfield YMCA has been awarded to Peter Swicker, 14, who so much enjoys the sport he is thinking of one day becoming a karate teacher. To win the "red" level, which corresponds to a brown belt in judo, Swicker displayed near perfect form in exercises, basic skills and free sparring. More than a hundred boys are now enrolled in karate program at the Y.

Accepting congratulations on his achievement with a modest smile, Swicker explained, "Wrestling and boxing used to be my favorite sports. But karate's more challenging. You get to use your whole body. A wrestler is limited and a boxer even more so—he can only use his hands."

"Karate employs hands, elbows, knees, feet... It's so different from the Western way of fighting. There's so much more to the discipline and the control."

"It's also a sport anyone can do. I saw a double amputee in Madison Square Garden who uses only his hands in karate."

Work toward his black belt may have to wait a while, though. Swicker plans to spend a year at his aunt's cattle ranch in Brazil.

"But I'll be looking for karate instruction there. After all—it's become an international craze." Swicker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swicker of 454 Beechwood Place.

Mindowaskin Dominates Y's Relay Carnival

The Mindowaskin Swim Club continued its tradition of triumphs in the Westfield YMCA's 12th annual relay carnival, swamping by 46 points the nearest of its ten competitors.

Mindowaskin swimmers captured 178 points. Mountinside claimed second place with 132, with Nomahegan third with a total of 124.

The Cranford Community Pool was fourth with 107 points, Colonia fifth with 100 points and the Westfield Community Pool sixth with 64.

The seven first places won by Mindowaskin and six by Nomahegan virtually isolated the other clubs from victory.

Cranford Community and Brook Hills each captured two first places, and Colonia and Willow Grove and Westfield Memorial claimed a single top spot each.

Mountinside's second place was attributed to a good solid performance in all events, with 4 second places and 6 thirds.

Nomahegan got off to an early start, with the team of Hayes, Cianciulli, Wysock, and Ciaglia winning the 8 and under girls freestyle in a time of 1:07.6. In the boys 8 and under Nomahegan again romped with Sawicki, Rochford, Ribbecky and Bartok swimming to victory in 1:11.3 just a whisker ahead of the Westfield Memorial's swimmers Ellbacher, Miller, Rutledge and Keoughan, whose time was 1:11.5.

In the 9 and 10-year-old girls 100-yard freestyle Nomahegan again took the honors at a time of 58.7 swum by Lueg, Field, Scott and Scott.

Cranford Community took the 9 and 10-year-old boys freestyle in a hard-fought contest which saw Rehili, Schultz, Sommerlad and Baker winning by a whisker at a time of 1:00.0, over Mountinside Community's Crane, Van Benschoten, Gerndt, and Dooley, whose time was 1:00.2 and Westfield's Brzozowski, Forster, Smith and Newall at 1:00.7.

Cranford scored again in the girls 11 and 12-year-old free with Maskant, Miller, Ford and Nemis triumphing.

Brook Hill swam to victory in the 11 and 12-year-old boys free behind the power of Klauder, Ard, Downs and Galbrith, with a time of 1:55.7.

Mindowaskin first tasted victory in the 13 and 14-year-old girls free relay as Boylan, Masters, O'Herron and Frawley turned in a 1:55.3 triumph. Mindowaskin boys repeated the lesson in the boys 13 and 14-year-old free, with Healy, LaCosta, Gardner and Myers coming in at 1:42.5.

Willow Grove took the 15-17-year-old girls free due to the efforts of Branch, Hennessey, Forster and Crofton, whose time was 1:53.9.

Mindowaskin's McDaniel, Habich, Schramm and Hylander swam a fast 1:38.5 to take first in the 15-17-year-old boys 200-yard freestyle.

Nomahegan's youngsters snapped back with first in the 8 and under girls 200 foot medley at 1:21.5 swum by Wysock, Hayes, Cianciulli and Ciaglia, and the boys 200 foot medley at 1:23.5 swum by Sawicki, Rochford, Ribbecky and Bartok.

In the girls 9 and 10-year-old medley it was Nomahegan again with Scott, Lepore, Scott and Field at a time of 1:08.8.

Cranford Community took the boy's 9 and 10 100 yard medley with a time of 1:08.2 by Rehili, Sommerlad, Baker and Schultz.

Mindowaskin captured the girls 11 and 12-year-old 200 yard medley with Boylan, Tripp, Halsey and Nichols swimming in at 2:19.6. Brook Hill's took first in the boys 11 and 12-year-old 200 yard medley, with Downs, Yanezuka, Klauder and Galbraith swimming in at 2:13.0.

Mindowaskin girls in the 13 and 14-year-old medley really came in first with a time of 2:13.9 swum by Boylan, Masters, Frawley and O'Herron.

In the 13 and 14-year-old boys medley it was Mindowaskin again with Healy, LaCosta, Meyers and Hefander at a time of 1:56.6, a stunning distance ahead of the second place Manor Place time of 2:02.9.

But the margin of victory in the 15-17-year-old girls medley was truly breathtaking, with Mindowaskin's Krakora, Lynes, Schramm and Hylander beating out Cranford Community's Keenan, Sirkin, Demsey and

Pearlman - 2:07.4 to 2:07.5. Westfield Memorial's single victory came in the boys 15-17-year old 200 yard medley behind the talents of Hartye, Hartye, Kelley and Perbowski at a time of 1:59.4, just ahead of Mindowaskin's 1:59.8 turned in by McDaniel, Habich, Gardner and Neufly.

Karate Classes

In Y Fall Term

A program of 11 judo and karate classes, emphasizing self discipline and self control, will be offered in the Y's new term, for which registration is being held Sept. 3-7.

"Many people think of judo and karate as hostile and violent," said Associate Physical Director Tchang Bok Chung. "But quite oppositely, they can be a means to conquer inner anger, and maintain internal calm." The classes, open to women and girls as well as to men and boys, begin the week of Sept. 9.

Beginning judo, a refined version of the combat techniques of jujitsu, will be held Tuesday evenings, at 5:30 for ages 9 to 11; at 7:15 for ages 12 to 14 and at 9 for adults (15 years of age or older).

Advanced judo - a special class of advanced throws, holds, chokes and sparring is slated at 6:15 p.m. Tuesdays for ages 9 to 14 and at 8 p.m. for those 12 to 14.

Modern karate "empty hand" fighting offers six classes. Beginners' classes Wednesdays include ages 9-11 at 7 p.m., 12 to 14 at 8 p.m. and adults (15 and older) at 9 p.m.

Advanced karate for ages 9 to 11 is Wednesdays at 7 p.m., for ages 12 to 14, Wednesday at 8 p.m. and for adults Wednesday at 9 p.m. Registration is from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily at the Y.

Heads Council On Alcoholism

Joseph S. Harrison

Joseph S. Harrison, director of education at St. Paul's Church here, has accepted an appointment as executive director of the Somerset Council on Alcoholism, an organization formed to initiate and carry out alcoholism programs on a county-wide basis in the areas of education and

Signup Tomorrow

Registration for students attending Union County Vocational Center this fall will be conducted tomorrow. It was reported today by Mrs. Shirley Alper, registrar.

Registration will be held in the Commons Area of the Administration Building from 9:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

prevention. The council's offices, located at 120 Rehill Ave., near Somerset Hospital, include an alcoholism information center.

Mr. Harrison comes to the council from Carrier Clinic in Belle Mead, where he was coordinator of continuing education and counselor in the alcohol recovery unit. He graduated from Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in 1947, and from Boston University School of Theology in 1950. After graduate studies at the later institution he held pastorates in New York and New Jersey. In the last ten years he has been director of education at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield, and Trinity Episcopal Church, Princeton.

According to Mr. Harrison, the Somerset Council on Alcoholism has four immediate major objectives: To assist Somerset Hospital in initiating an alcohol detoxification program, to educate the general public about alcohol and alcohol abuse, to assist the courts and law enforcement agencies in rehabilitation of alcohol offenders and to consult with local industries to establish policies and procedures regarding alcoholic employees.

Mr. Harrison terms alcohol abuse one of today's major health problems and the number one drug problem in this country. "The council will be looking for new ways of curing and dealing with alcoholism," he said. "Several other counties in our state already have established programs with demonstrable results."

Some return to religion after they've tried everything else.

Trailside to Offer Workshop On Pond Life

An expanded feature of The Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center will be a workshop on the Ecology of Pond Life, scheduled for three consecutive Saturday mornings.

Maggie Ramonas, assistant director will conduct the workshop from 9:30 a.m. to noon Sept. 14, 21 and 28. Interested persons will learn about plant and animal life at nearby Seeley's Pond in the Watchung Reservation. Water life will be observed and studied at the pond, the surrounding forest area and in the classroom with the aid of microscopes.

Participating students will also be taught how to collect and preserve water animals, enabling them to further observe different animal types in their homes.

The workshop will be limited to twenty individuals on a first-come, first-serve basis. Anyone wishing to sign up must apply in person at Trailside.

Steiner Urges Look at Record

Bob Steiner of Westfield Independent candidate for Congress in the 12th Congressional district, reacted to the recent pictures of President Gerald Ford and Congressman Rinaldo.

Said Steiner: "They both smile together; however, they vote separately. For example, on Nov. 29, 1973, a bill reached the floor of the House which would have furthered taxpayer support of private political goals to a point considered unreasonable by even some supporters of modified taxpayer-financing of political campaigns.

"So outraged was the House by this bill that it was defeated by the overwhelming vote of 347 to 54. Then-Congressman Ford was concerned with the spending of the taxpayers' money and, predictably, voted with the 347 majority.

Matthew Rinaldo, in a further attempt to take more of taxpayers' money to further his own political goals, predictably, voted with the 54 minority."

Steiner concluded: "At times 'one picture is worth a thousand words'. However, in this case, I urge taxpayers to look beyond the smiling pictures. More important than how a candidate smiles is how he votes. Look at the record!"

Kindergym Offered at Y

An advanced kindergym program for youngsters ages 4, 5 and 6 will be offered for the first time in the YMCA's fall term. Classes begin Sept. 9.

The course of advanced physical activities is designed for the youngster ready for "more strenuous challenges," said Associate Physical Director Tchang Bok Chung, "and will perfect the ability to walk, run, jump and climb."

The advanced class, on Thursdays at 2:15 p.m., is one of 9 kindergym programs offered in the new 10 week term. Two special four-year-old kindergyms on Mondays and Fridays at 10:30 a.m. will feature movement education designed to develop basic motor skills.

Advance registration is required during the week of Sept. 3-7 from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Y front desk.
