Reconsider School Matrons Win Advisory Sessions $14,211 in Back Pay

A resolution to provide for public advisory meetings of the Town Council will be reconsidered at the public meeting of the Town Council at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the council chambers of the municipal building.

A vote three weeks ago on the proposal by Councilman Alex Williams failed with a 4-4 deadlock on the issue. Williams was out of town on business on that date and Republican Jay Rochlin voted with the Democratic councilmen to stalemate the issue.

Decario following his removal of a garage at 423 North Ave.

Interest bearing investments totaling $1,000,000 will be approved.

A resolution of support for the proposed county manager plan of government will be introduced.

The proposal would establish the first Thursday after the first Tuesday of each month as the date for the advisory session at which pre-determined issues would be discussed.

Also on Tuesday night's agenda are:

A contract will be awarded for snow plowing work this winter. Additional bidders will be sought through readvertisement.

The work of Bain Electric on the original pool construction project will be accepted and final payment authorized.

A contract to install storm sewer piping in the area of Cleveland Ave. will be awarded following receipt of bids earlier in the day.

A demolition deposit will be returned to M.R.

Bicycle ordinance amendments will be considered by the Town Council at its next public meeting on Tuesday, and the council has expressed its hope that all interested citizens, whether in favor of or opposing the new ordinance, will attend the meeting to make their views and opinions known. No action on the ordinance is expected on Tuesday pending consideration of public comment.

The council is considering the adoption of a proposed amendment to the Town's bicycle ordinance, which will substantially change the existing bicycle regulations. The new ordinance, which is based upon the report and recommendations of the (Continued on page 14)

Five Westfield school matrons will receive a total of $14,211 in back pay following approval Tuesday night of adjustment of their salaries for the period from July 1, 1972, to June 30, 1974.

The action was taken at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education following a review of suits throughout New Jersey in which the U.S. Secretary of Labor has alleged violation of the Equal Pay Act Provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and recent amendments.

Specifically, the Labor Department has said that the difference in the rate of pay between the matrons and the custodians is not justified by a difference in the work performed. Because of an opinion filed Apr. 19 in a similar action against the Jersey City Board of Education which is typical of 22 suits filed in the U.S. District Court for New Jersey, the Westfield board determined that the local settlement is in the best interest of the system.

Beginning July 1, 1974, with the new contract ratified at last month's meeting, all custodial personnel will be paid on one salary guide.

Matrons who will receive back pay for both straight and overtime hours include Mrs. Katie Miller, $3,687; Mrs. Effie Washington, $3,726; Mrs. Geneva Parker, $3,652; Mrs. Anna Zaklinsky, who left Mar. 1, $2,709; and Mrs. Agnese Cuccaro, who began duties Mar. 1, $435.

Parents attending Tuesday's meeting at Roosevelt Junior High School objected to high numbers of students in Franklin School's second grade, where the 28-29 class size is above others in the system. The limitations of the library at Westfield High School also were questioned by Frank Scott, a teacher there, and another resident inquired if plans were considered to close schools on Monday, Dec. 23. The Christmas vacation begins at the end of that school day, and continues until Jan. 2.

The second year of a lease on Columbus School with the Union County Educational Services Commission was approved in the amount of $27,435, $2,000 more than the first year. The ESC operates the Westlake School there for 105 county students. A $4,200 lease on 305 Elm St., administration building of the school board, also was (Continued on page 5)

Vote Today on 2-Year Pact Granting 16% Pay Hike

The Westfield Board of Education and the Westfield Education Association negotiators have accepted and will propose to their groups the recommendations of a Public Employment Relations Commission fact finder for a two-year contract.

Clark S. Leslie, chairman of the school board's staff relations committee, reported at Tuesday night's public meeting of the board that the recommended contract includes a proposed 1974-75 salary guide representing an average increase of eight percent and a proposed 1975-76 salary guide representing an average increase of 8.8 percent. The average increases include the normal increment teachers receive yearly based on experience.

Julius Malkin, fact finder appointed by PERC, held four sessions before submitting a report on Sept. 20. The WEA membership was informed of the proposed contract Tuesday afternoon and is expected to vote on the agreement this afternoon. The Board of Education will call a special public meeting shortly thereafter.

"Both sides have been working very hard to achieve an agreement," commented Dr. Laurence F. Green, superintendent of schools. Negotiations began a year ago, in October, 1973.

Beverly J. Geddis, president of the WEA, said: "Although it was a difficult year for negotiations, the resulting two-year agreement will prove a benefit to both parties."

Lauding the two-year aspect of the agreement, Mr. Leslie noted: "The acceptance of this agreement will enable the board to prepare a school budget for 1975-76 based on solid facts."

Referring to the eight percent average increase included in the proposed salary guide for 1974-75, he said, "The board must find ways to cover the costs of the agreed increase in salaries and stay within the school budget."

The proposed salary guide for 1974-75 ranges from $9,400 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree to $20,100 for a teacher with a doctorate and 15 years of experience. The range, at the same levels, proposed for 1975-76 would be $9,900 and $21,400.

With the proposed new salary guide, Westfield would remain competitive with other school districts in Union County.

In addition to the average eight percent increase in salary, Westfield school teachers would receive other fringe benefits, such as improved medical and hospital coverage which benefits all employees of the school system.

The proposed contract also includes increases, recommended by the fact finder, for coaches, department heads and special assignments.

The entire agreement package, including fringe benefits, would cost approximately $558,000 in 1974-75 and $620,000 in 1975-76.

The Board of Education's staff relations committee, chaired by Leslie, also includes John Daly, Allen Malcolm and Thomas Sullivan.

The WEA negotiators, headed by Mrs. Geddis, include Marshall B. Fine, Louise Larson and Barbara L. Woertz.

Clark S. Leslie, chairman of the school board's staff relations committee, reported at Tuesday night's public meeting of the board that the recommended contract includes a proposed 1974-75 salary

'Lovers' Quarrel Triggered Strangulation

The strangulation of 25-year-old Linda Sisko in her South Ave. apartment Feb. 7, 1973, was admitted Monday by a former civilian police dispatcher who claimed a lovers' quarrel turned into name-calling and violence.

Jacob B. Erlich, 34, was to have gone on trial before Union County Judge Edward W. McGrath in Elizabeth Monday. Instead in an apparent last minute decision - he pleaded guilty to a lesser charge in the killing.

Erlich, a short, stocky man, told the court how a quarrel over their relationship had led him to kill Linda Sisko early on the morning of Feb. 7, 1973.

"We had an argument over the phone about our relationship to each other," said Erlich, who had been seeing Miss Sisko for several months. "I was upset. Later that night, I decided to see her. I drove down to Westfield and the argument continued there."

"She said things about me and smeared me," he said. "Then things got violent. I started pushing her and I may have hit her. Then I strangled her."

Barker Explains School Funding

A "thorough and efficient" presentation on the subject of school finance was given by Richard A. Barker, chairman of the Westfield Board of Education's legislative committee, at Tuesday night's public meeting of the school board.

In his remarks, Mr. Barker gave definitions of several terms currently being used in discussions about school finance.

"Equalized valuation per pupil is the total value of the taxable real estate in a given school district divided by the total number of pupils enrolled in that district," he said. Westfield's equalized valuation per pupil of approximately $7,000 is above the current $53,000 average in the state and below Union County's average of $67,000.

"Current expenses per pupil is the current portion of the school budget divided by the school enrollment," Mr. Barker said. This is the average cost of educating one child for one year, exclusive of capital costs. Once again, Westfield, with $1,381 cost per pupil, is above the entire state (Continued on page 14)

1,500 Expected to March In Halloween Parade

A trio of town officials will present the prizes when the Westfield Y's Men's Club presents its annual town-wide Halloween parade for children Sunday, Oct. 27.

Mayor Donn Snyder, Superintendent of Schools Lawrence Greene and Police Chief James Moran will hand out more than 50 trophies and $50 in prizes will be awarded to individuals and groups participating in the annual event.

"Every child in town is invited to join the line of parade - and most do," said Parade Chairman William Patrick Wilson, who anticipates that more than 1,500 will join this year.

Participants are asked to assemble in costume at 1:30 p.m. at the Elm Street Playground for judging. Marchers will step off precisely at 2 p.m., led by the Fire Company's shiny yellow snorkel, with the (Continued on page 4)

Safety Tops Ward 4 List

What problems concern Fourth Ward residents the most?

Democratic Councilman Lawrence Weiss maintains extensive records on citizen complaints, his action on them and the follow-up by town officials.

"A review of these files on complaints from residents of the ward shows that public safety matters topped the list," Weiss said. "More than 40 percent of the complaints received were in the public safety category," the councilman said. "These include concerns on inadequate street lighting, traffic problems such as speeding, parking (Continued on page 14)

Hale Seeks Park Expansion

In a policy statement on recreational and park facilities, Lee M. Hale, Republican candidate for council in the first ward, says "we should seek to expand, improve and beautify our facilities so that we continue our reputation as a premier suburban living area and number one sports town in the state."

Hale said that Westfield's reputation as a town is based on many things - absence of industry, ex-

Asks Rotating Waste Bins

Repeating his proposal for rotating bins for attic waste collection, third ward council candidate Frank Murphy commented today on the Oct. 8th reopening of the North Avenue attic waste site. "I applaud the actions of the Mayor and Town Council in moving to reopen the attic waste central site at the Department of Public Works yard. However, this action still does not fully meet the needs of many of our residents who simply cannot manage to haul bulky items from their homes to the central site," the (Continued on page 4)

Republican nominee said. "This is a problem to which the council must now address itself. And, I do not consider the recent resolutions introduced at council calling for pilot curbside collection programs in the third and fourth wards as moving towards the right solution to this problem. I am convinced that the people of this town remain opposed to curbside collection due to the unsightliness which invariably accompanies such programs."

Asks Crackdown On Speeders

James R. Eisenmann, third ward Democratic council candidate, called for stepped up enforcement of speed limits on the side streets in the third ward. "The complaint most frequently heard during my door to door campaign is that traffic is too heavy and speeding is the rule rather than the exception," Eisenmann stated. "I am vitally concerned with the safety of the residents, and speeding on residential streets is a very hazardous situation."

"One of the simplest and most immediate ways to reduce speeding violations is to increase the number of radar patrols and make the surveillance more visible," Eisenmann said. "Traffic control efforts on Rahway Ave. are a good example of what effective police enforcement can do to slow down traffic. This type of enforcement should be used more frequently in other areas of the ward."

In addition, Eisenmann recommended that the police restudy the placement of stop signs on certain side streets including Summit Ave. and Boulevard where long stretches between stop signs encourage speeding.

Fife Calls Local Planning, Zoning 'Chaotic'

John D. Fife, Democratic candidate for mayor, warned today that "the creeping encroachment of commercial zoning threatens to undermine some of Westfield's key residential areas and, ultimately, the overall character of our community."

"Why is it necessary," Fife asked, "for groups of residents to continually find themselves faced with this spreading growth into their areas?"

"Hardly a month passes without the granting of some detrimental zoning variances by a Zoning Board of Adjustment apparently more concerned with pleasing the speculators or the special interests than protecting the (Continued on page 14)

Proposes Award For Homeowners

Alex Williams, Republican candidate for Mayor, has proposed an awards program to give recognition to Westfielders for outstanding achievement in maintaining and upgrading their properties.

Ward 4 Debate Set for Oct. 20

"Charles Hardwick promptly welcomed the opportunity to debate the incumbent Democrat in Westfield's fourth ward. I believe the public can see through Chuck's opponent's weak attempt to fabricate an issue where none exists by continuing to call for a debate," said Al Molowa, Hardwick's campaign manager.

"Most office holders seeking reelection run on the basis of their record. If the accomplishments are meager, it's expedient to divert attention through phony issues. Chuck will debate at the Temple Emanuel on Oct. 20 at 11 a.m. The public is invited to meet Chuck and hear his views. I think they would (Continued on page 5)

Fund Gap Threatens Services

A one-per-cent-per-year increase in United Funds over the 17 years of its existence - in a period when the cost of living in Westfield skyrocketed 89.6 percent - has created a fund gap that threatens human care services to the people of Westfield. "Our 17 per cent increase compared with the 89.6 general cost increase leaves us with a gap of 72.6 per cent in funds agencies use to provide services."

That was the warning today from Fund President Mrs. A.C. Patterson as the Fund entered the second week of its residential division drive.

"That dramatic discrepancy highlights the problem the agencies are facing today," she said. "Consider how the cost of living has increased since the Fund's inception in 1957, and compare the cumulative 17 per cent increase in United Funds with other costs:

Food Up95.8
Housing Up94.6
Apparel and upkeep Up66.5
Transportation Up81.7
Recreation Up96.8

The figures are from the U.S. Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index.

"It goes without saying that our agencies cannot continue to pay higher prices and survive on so much less."

Mrs. Patterson noted that UF National Executive William Aramony has called for at least a 7.5 to 8 per cent annual campaign growth rate.

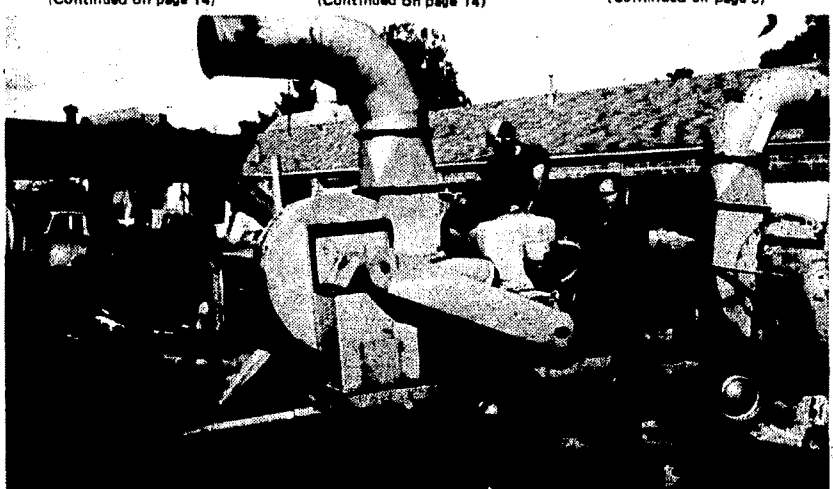

"Even this at today's inflation rate, does not provide much growth in services," he's pointed out. "The major issue beyond inflation affecting future UF campaigns is the existing gap between the UF result and the true level of need."

Seek School Budget Ideas

Providing an opportunity for Westfield citizens to inform the school board about items they wish to see included in or excluded from the 1975-76 school budget is the purpose behind two public "input" meetings which the Westfield Board of Education has scheduled for Nov. 6 and Nov. 21.

Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the board's finance committee, announced at Tuesday night's public meeting that the two public input hearings will be held prior to the preparation and proposal of the 1975-76 school budget.

The two public "input" sessions will be in addition (Continued on page 14)

The second ward's two Republican committeewomen today were named campaign chairmen for Charles H. Brandt, who is seeking election to Town Council in that ward.

They are Ginner Kiselica, committeewoman in the first district and Suzee Rowland, committeewoman in the second district.

The duo also acted as co-chairwomen of last year's GOP picnic and cocktail party for the Town Republican Committee.

"Brandt's intelligent analysis of the major issues affecting the second ward and his workable solutions to them make him an uncommon candidate," said Kiselica.

"His many contributions to the ward and the town through the Grant School PTO, Y's Men's Club, and as a member of the Recreation Commission demonstrate how significantly he will

Groups To Question Levin, Rinaldo

A coalition of women's groups in Union County has invited the Democratic and Republican Congressional candidates to a discussion on women's issues at the Westfield YM-YWCA on Monday, Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. Evelyn Albu of New Providence, coordinator of the event, announced that Republican Matthew Rinaldo and Democrat Adam Levin will be asked to explain their positions on a variety of women's issues such as employment, pensions, day care, rape prevention, and abortion.

"Women, who constitute 53 percent of the population, have long been neglected by politicians," said Dr. Albu. "We have a right to know where candidates stand on the issues most important to us."

Representatives of the various groups will explain the goals and concerns of women. Mr. Levin and Mr. Rinaldo will be asked what they intend to do to help women realize these goals. All women of Union County are invited to the discussion and members of the audience will be able to ask questions of the candidates. Sponsoring groups are Union County National Organization for Women, the Women's Center of Summit, Union County Women's Political Caucus, and Summit Area National Organization for Women.

Gerard C. Reidy (left), Democratic candidate for Town Council from the second ward, congratulates Gerald McCabe on his election as Democratic committeeman from District 2 in the ward. soccer and the rise in tennis activity, the facilities of the town must be expanded."

Hales agrees with the Republican Mayoral candidate, Alex Williams, who said last week that the existing facilities must also be kept in good condition by an active rejuvenation program. Additionally, Hales believes there should be a stand-on-going program to make these facilities an attractive part of the community by tree lines, hedging, fencing and other forms of beautification.

According to Hales, the Brightwood Park area development should go forward, including development of this area as a generally passive park, probably with picnic areas, footpaths and a lake. "The concept for this area should be studied by the town planners to make this naturally beautiful area tasteful and useful."

Lovers Quarrel

After he recounted the killing, Ehrlich, who was a dispatcher for the Parsippany-Troy Hills Police Department at the time, told Judge McGrath he did not want to go through with his trial. Instead, he offered to plead guilty to manslaughter.

Assistant Union County Prosecutor Neil Cooper agreed to the offer and said he would recommend Ehrlich be given the maximum 10 years in prison when Judge McGrath sentences him Nov. 1. Ehrlich will remain free on $27,000 bail until then.

Miss Sisko's body was found by police at about 10:30 a.m. in the kitchen of her three-room apartment to which she had moved only a week before.

She had worked as a secretary at Modern Business Systems in Scotch Plains. She had been so punctual and dependable at work that her supervisor became alarmed and called police when she did not get to work on time that morning.

The series of incidents leading to the killing had begun the night before, Ehrlich told the court, when he had called Miss Sisko from work about 7 p.m. They had quarrelled about their romance, he said, and so he decided to drive to her apartment when he left work at 12:30 a.m. Feb. 7.

Ehrlich said he and Miss Sisko quickly picked up the argument between them. She called him names, he said, and slandered his two children by an estranged wife. He began to push her around the apartment and finally strangled her with his hands.

JV Girls Defeat Edison

By Paul Lewis and Diane Henry

The WHS JV field hockey team won its first home game of the season last Friday by overpowering Edison 8-0.

Leading the scoring for Westfield was junior Diane Henry who scored four goals. Senior Laurie Zitch scored twice and sophomores Allison Frawley and Frannie Chentitz scored one apiece. Westfield dominated the action from the beginning of the game. After several scoring attempts by the Westfield forward line, Henry drove the ball in for her first goal. Several minutes later Henry scored again by pushing the ball past the surprised goalie. Westfield continued to pressure the Edison defense by taking numerous shots on the goal. Then Edison took the ball past midfield only to have it taken away by sophomore Debbie Milford.

people in Westfield," said Hardwick, "and I am delighted that she is able to work on my campaign."

Mrs. Maggio has served Westfield in many capacities a few of which are: President of the Tamaques P.T.O., vice president of the Edison Jr. High P.T.A., member of the board of directors of the YWCA, member of the board of trustees of the United Fund and as a member of the Youth Guidance Council. Mrs. Maggio stated, "Chuck puts forth sincere and conscientious effort in all that he does, and I believe that when he is given a chance to serve on the Town Council, he will become one of Westfield's greatest assets."

The telephone committee which Mrs. Maggio will head is just one segment of the "Hardwick for Hard Work" campaign. The first efforts of the campaign were pointed toward getting new residents of Westfield registered to vote. Hardwick personally delivered many register-by-mail forms to new people in the fourth ward. He feels that the telephone committee will be a good follow-up to this effort because the committee has been set up to give voter information to the people of the Fourth Ward. The telephone committee will inform voters about the locations of voting places and answer any questions they might have on the issues of the campaign.

A large group of volunteers will be working on the telephone committee and they plan to contact as many fourth ward voters as possible.

Jack Daly, a member of the legislative committee, urged residents to notify their State Senators on their views of S-1087 which passed the Assembly and is due for consideration in the State Senate today. The bill amends PERC legislation and broadens the powers of public employees. Daly said residents should contact State Sen. Alex Menza at 125 Broad St., Elizabeth, or State Sen. Frank Dodd, Mountain Ave., Llewellyn Park, West Orange, chairman of the committee. Action on a proposed policy on instruction was postponed to permit feedback from groups such as the Instructional Council and Parent-Teacher Council, which, according to Superintendent Laurence F. Greene, "will result in a more effective set of guidelines."

also like to hear exactly what the incumbent has accomplished during his two years on Council," Molowa added.

Molowa said Hardwick's campaign would continue to focus on the key issues such as traffic management and on providing voter services. Following the successful registration-by-mail program, Hardwick supporters will be making telephone calls with information on absentee ballots, election hour and poll locations, and will answer any last minute questions about the issues.

"Chuck Hardwick has refrained from entering a name-calling contest with his opponent. Chuck feels it's inappropriate and not in the long-run best interest of Westfield. I think he's right," concluded Molowa.

Councilman Lawrence Weiss discusses Knollwood Terrace-Nancy Way school safety problem with Mrs. Bernard Turlet (l.) and Mrs. Richard Coates.

School Route Concerns Parents

Councilman Lawrence Weiss, candidate for reelection to Town Council was contacted recently by several fourth ward parents whose concern was the safety of children in the Knollwood Terrace-Nancy Way area on their way to and from Tamaques School. Many children in that area walk along Robinson's Branch as a 'short cut' to Tamaques.

The Robinson's Branch improvement project will lengthen the journey of many Tamaques children and perhaps add more children to the already crowded lunchroom facilities available at the school.

Councilman Weiss spent an afternoon at the municipal office of James Joseph, Westfield's town engineer; they discussed the problems involved and met with representatives of the PTO and the principal of Tamaques School, Joel Langholtz at the Robinson's Branch improvement project site to explore possible solutions.

Realtor Head Reviews Mortgage Situation

Henry C. Friedrichs Jr., president of the Westfield Board of Realtors, today reviewed the current mortgage situation saying: "Current reports in the area press have indicated a shortage of mortgage money. Mortgage funds are indeed in short supply but our Realtors have the knowledge and expertise to know where to look for it."

"The impression is abroad that the real estate market is depressed but figures developed by the Westfield Multiple Listing Service show the dollar volume for sales in the Westfield Board area is above 1973 figures and the discerning home buyer and investor is buying now."

"The selection and pricing of homes is favorable with many choice listings available and the traditional idea of real estate being the best hedge against inflation is still the fact."

"A house purchase now will have a guaranteed interest rate for the life of the loan - the interest will not rise and the buyer knows the principal and interest for the term of the mortgage. But this is not the fact for home prices which are presently rising which means investments made now will continue to grow. "All mortgage interest paid can be deducted in computing income taxes. Five years from now, at the current rate of inflation in the prices of land, materials, and labor, a $60,000 home may rise to $75,000. In the current situation, a home purchase now may be the soundest and most productive investment possible."

Open Council Sessions

Opening up council sessions - either its executive sessions as proposed by Councilman Lawrence Weiss or adding an "extra" public information meeting as proposed by Councilman Alex Williams - will give the Westfield public no more than they now have a right to expect from their public officials.

Both suggestions went down to defeat in recent council meetings, but no doubt will be revived for voting.

Weiss' proposal would open up the conference sessions of the council to enable citizens to hear the give-and-take among councilmen prior to their arriving at a decision. Naturally, some matters could not be discussed publicly (negotiations, perhaps personnel problems, etc.) and would require the council to also hold a closed-door meeting.

Williams' idea is to add a third public meeting each month at which residents would be allowed to speak through its entirety on a pre-determined agenda of topics. These monthly sessions would be held on a trial basis for one year to evaluate their effectiveness.

We certainly appreciate council's efforts in the public's "right to know," but we can't help wondering if additional public sessions are not merely an excuse for more political rhetoric. We don't think the public's "right to know" is in any jeopardy as things now stand.

Each of the councilmen now has the opportunity to tell the public exactly why he votes the way he does - and more often than not, he does exercise this privilege at the public meetings. In addition, each of the elected officials can express himself through news releases, in meetings with his constituents, or on a one-to-one basis should he so desire.

On the other hand, we often wonder if the public really "wants to know" even though he makes big noises - and should - if he thinks that right is being threatened. Note, if you will, the scant attendance at most public meetings of the Town Council, Board of Education, Board of Adjustment and Planning Board. Obviously, the public does not take advantage of its "rights" in any great numbers - would it really seek more meetings to attend?

Under our democratic process, the public elect men and women to represent our views in their respective levels of government. As our representatives, they are our eyes, ears and voice when and where they serve. If they fail to echo the majority viewpoint of their constituents, they obviously fail to win reelection.

The public expects its representatives to study and evaluate issues, seek public opinion and make decisions which will be in the best interests of their town, county, state and country. Most of them get paid to do this; in effect, they are "hired" by the public to make decisions.

We believe residents of Westfield already have ample access to their local councilmen, but few take advantage of opportunities to share their views. We do not think that views of councilmen are "hidden," but we do feel that an honest exchange now prevalent between councilmen of both parties could be hampered by open sessions and quite probably be supplanted by "grandstand plays" to the audience. Public conference sessions might only result in additional hours required of councilmen and we don't think this should be so on their salaries of $1 a year.

In short, while citizens are not now exercising their privileges of sharing already scheduled town meetings, we think more are unnecessary, and might even be considered a waste of heat, electricity and gas, as well as time.

The United Fund thru a Realtor's Eyes

By Nancy F. Reynolds

In this era of the constant transfer of executives, it requires a great deal more to bind the citizens of a town like ours into a cohesive unit than was the case years ago.

Then, indeed, most citizens lived their entire lives in the town of their first choice; in some cases the couple or one member of it had grown up in the community where they started the new family. The members of such a community were bound together by long association, by common interests. Today we are a community with a very large proportion of newcomers; they come from all over the United States, from Europe, from China - from far and wide.

The family who has lived in Westfield only 4, 5, 6 or 7 years is in the preponderance; those with 25 or 30 years residence here are "Old Timers" - they have watched the town grow. A few of our citizens have been born here but they are the exception.

When these newcomers first arrive, they are anxious for information about the town, the schools, the town government. Next they ask about the activities, do we "have a Y" and when they hear that the YMCA and the YWCA live together happily under one roof, they are impressed. They ask if we have Girl Scouts? Boy Scouts? What centers are provided for groups - they are much interested to hear about the Community Center - the VNA, the Psychiatric Clinic, the Neighborhood Council, the Red Cross, USO, YES, the Youth & Family Counseling Service, the Cerebral Palsy, and the Retarded Children. They are reassured when they learn that we support the work of the Visiting Homemakers.

Yet, we have from this heterogeneous group a town that is frequently likened to the typical and beloved New England village of years ago. With a background of over 50 years in the real estate business in Westfield, the writer cannot recall a half dozen cases where families have left our town because they don't like it. Though so many must move on for the same reasons that they came here - transfer by the employer - many of them keep up their contacts with Westfield friends and neighbors. Many, too, say when they leave "If we ever get transferred back to this area, we are coming straight back here to Westfield and find another house - we do love this town."

The refrain from many who write to us after they move away is "We miss Westfield."

Why? We believe that much of the reason lies in what Westfield means to each of these families, for here we work together on such a multitude of projects - especially the vast volunteer work that is put into the United Fund of Westfield. This involves so much of what our town's people give of themselves. With expenses a constant consideration in operating the United Fund, the great mass of the work is done by men and women who volunteer. It's more than soliciting, it's the planning by the officers, the trustees, the campaign chairmen, all of whom work with the paid executive director. It's the meeting

PRAISES HARDWICK

Editor, Leader:

Westfield is a wonderful town, and our family is glad that we moved here, particularly that we moved next door to the Hardwick family. We know first hand what good neighbors they are and isn't that what good government is really about - being good neighbors who work for the best interests of their town.

Chuck Hardwick is now the Republican candidate for Town Council from the fourth ward, and he has the intelligence, understanding and integrity to make an excellent representative. Chuck not only knows the problems facing Westfield, but he has worked hard to help solve them. He has given of his time and talents serving on committees and boards, circulating petitions and registering voters, and he has presented ideas to the public that will help for the future. Let's help put this good neighbor on the Town Council where he can represent us more fully. Vote for Chuck Hardwick for Town Council on Nov. 5.

Mrs. Marcella Garcia

SUPPORTS HALE

Editor, Leader:

The First Ward is once again fortunate in having an opportunity to vote for an extremely able citizen running for Town Council. Lee Hale has demonstrated his concern for Westfield and the things it stands for by getting involved in civic affairs. His involvement has been greatly enhanced by an ability for calm and constructive deliberation of the important issues. Your vote for Lee Hale will assure the first ward and the Town of Westfield of the most capable kind of representation.

FOR BRANDT

Editor, Leader:
Council candidate Charles Brandt is forging ahead in his bid to win a seat on Westfield's Town Council. I urge all Ward 2 residents to follow his campaign and then support him Election Day, Nov. 5.

A lifelong resident of Westfield, Mr. Brandt will bring a valuable background to Town Council. In addition to holding degrees in engineering and law, he has been an active participant in town affairs over the years. He did an outstanding job serving on the original town pool committee and was instrumental in writing up the original rules governing the use of the pool. He now serves on the Recreation Commission.

Charles Brandt is a knowledgeable, qualified candidate who is willing to put in the necessary time to serve you well - won't you vote for him Nov. 5?

Frederic A. Bauman

FOR EISENMANN

Editor, Leader:

I believe the Town Council is not and ought not be an arena of partisan politics. While our elective process necessarily relies on political identification of the candidates with one or the other of the parties, this is perhaps unfortunate in the case of council candidates since no party has a monopoly on capable candidates willing to freely devote themselves to making Westfield a better town.

One such candidate running on the Democratic ticket is Jim Eisenmann from our third ward. He has all the qualifications to be a good Councilman and I recommend him to our voters.

Vincent E. McGowan

LAUDS WEISS

Editor, Leader:

On March 12, 1974, Councilman Larry Weiss promised to introduce a resolution calling for Westfield's council meetings to be open to the public. In April he did so; he is still working toward this goal.

When his constituents in Westfield's fourth ward told him they favored curbside pickup of large household discard items he pressed to have this disposal method given the same trial as the central site favored by the Town Council's Republican majority. He was able to keep the central site out of the fourth ward. Westfield citizens with drainage problems, litter problems, school safety problems have found him at home or in his Westfield office ready to listen and as an attorney knowledgeable about all the legal aspects of a situation.

Attention: First Ward Voters

We are certainly most fortunate in having Lee M. Hale as our Republican council candidate.

Mr. Hale has proven his ability and leadership not only in the business world, but in civic activities for many years.

His idea to accomplish more to further improve our town by involving more people in cooperative effort is excellent.

Let's support L.M. Hale on Nov. 5.

BRANDT SUPPORTER

Editor, Leader:

Dedication and involvement are prime requisites for an effective voice in government.

We residents of Westfield's second ward are fortunate to have a candidate for council who fits these criteria.

Charles Brandt, a lifelong resident of Westfield, has been dedicated and involved as a concerned citizen. His background as a graduate engineer, business experience in economic analysis and related fiscal activities plus a current occupation as an attorney make him eminently qualified to serve on council.

The opportunity to have a candidate of Brandt's calibre available to us is worthy of every second ward resident's consideration.

We urge all of them to join us in support of him on Nov. 5.

ENDORSES NO ONE

Editor, Leader:

Every year at this time the Leader is filled with letters written by friends of the candidates endorsing them. As perhaps a refreshing change of pace, I would like to take this opportunity to endorse no one.

This is not as negative as it may first appear, but rather a reflection of my belief, based upon a careful reading of the Leader, that all the candidates are virtually equal and that to favor one over another would be unfair. The latest issue of the Leader provides several instances to support this view. On page 2 I find a picture of Allen Chin and Charles Hardwick as they "review traffic maps of Westfield" proving, I guess, that the town is full of streets. On page 5 we see candidate Williams pictured first in a swamp and then in a dump. I'm sure they will both be gone by the next election. Not to be outdone by 'Williams' swamp caper, on page 10 we see candidate Eisenmann as he dialogue accompanying this expose" since Ellis and I co-authored three Grant School shows together I imagine it went something like:

"Hole in the fence Charles"

"Right Ellis, hole in the fence"

Jefferson catchers can look forward to a season of secure backstops next year.

Given the wealth of talent we are offered, I think it is unfair to favor any candidate - friend or stranger, Democrat or Republican - over another. My only question is why, after all these years and all these elections, there are still so many swamps to stand in, sewers to unclog and fence holes to mend. Maybe we should send the successful candidates their press clippings after the election.

PATH ISSUE

Editor, Leader:

Now that the local campaigns of candidates for governmental office are in full swing, positions on a major issue, the PATH extension to Plainfield, are conspicuously absent from platforms.

The Citizens Committee to STOP PATH urges the voters to press candidates to take a position on this extravagant proposal. If incumbents or challengers take a position supporting the squandering of tax money on the PATH expansion, voters should ask what it will cost local communities in additional taxes. The PATH proposal does not include parking facilities at stations or access roads to stations. These will have to be built by local governments, most likely at local expense.

In addition to wasting Federal and State funds, for a second rate transit system, the Port Authority proposal apparently will cost local communities substantial amounts of money for supporting facilities. With voters becoming more and more interested in where their tax dollars are going, candidates running for office should state their positions on the PATH issue and its associated costs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NOON GAMBLING

Editor, Leader:
I find it hard to believe the printed comments of those who supposedly favor "Casino Gambling" for New Jersey. Do they really believe this will be good for the State?

Is there any doubt in the mind of anyone that if we vote for casino gambling we're also voting for the promotion of casino gambling? Isn't it clear that to be successful with casino gambling, we must attract the big gamblers by giving them what they want? Isn't there enough hedonism in the world without going out of our way to concentrate it in New Jersey?

I think that anyone with his or her eyes open will admit that big vice follows big gambling and that wherever you have big vice and big gambling you also have big criminals. We have enough big criminals in the State of New Jersey.

Let's put a stop to this power-play by the gambling interests before it's too late. Vote "NO" on Casino Gambling.

ENDORSES TWO

Editor, Leader:
Westfield is entitled to the best available talent in the individuals who serve us in the town government. We have available such men that can and will serve us on a high plane.

One is Alex Williams, a present councilman who is candidate for the office of mayor. He deserves the vote of every discerning citizen. He has proved his ability as he has served us well on the Town Council, having served as chairman of the important finance committee and as a member of the building, town property, parking, public safety and license committees.

His wide experience as a councilman as well as his university training, his banking-business experience and his civic activities will serve us well as he would carry out the duties as our mayor.

Another is Lee Hale who is candidate as councilman in the first ward where I live. His work on the management team of Merck & Company as well as his varied civic work have prepared him well to serve us on the Town Council.

We have been noted for having high quality men willing to serve our town as mayor or councilman and I sincerely believe Alex Williams and Lee Hale will continue this quality service.

For the betterment of Westfield I am going to vote for both of them on Nov. 5 and hope you will also.

SUPPORTS HALE

Editor, Leader:

Mr. L. M. Hale is running for the council in Westfield in Ward 1. The town of Westfield is fortunate to have a man of such ability and integrity willing to contribute his talents to it's government. It has been my privilege to work with Lee Hale on occasion in other endeavors and he is, unquestionably, that type of individual most needed in government today. His financial and business ability has been demonstrated not only in his corporation but in many other associations. There is no question in my mind that, if elected, Lee Hale will do a conscientious, honest and productive job for Westfield.

FAIR A SUCCESS

Editor, Leader

Since February of this year, it has been my distinct pleasure to be associated with an amazing collection of talented, intelligent, warm and generous Franklin School and Elm Street School parents, teachers and administrative officials; Westfield Rescue Squad and Westfield Police Department personnel; and town personnel in general. That date started the October 5, 1974 PTA-PTO Wild West Fair on its way. The plans, meetings and endless phone calls led to our enormously successful fair of this past Saturday.

We had a huge turnout; children and adults alike spent hours enjoying themselves at games and rides, shopping and snacking and, in general, fun-producing events. The weather was great and the feeling of all concerned - both workers and consumers - equally warm and sunny.

I cannot mention all the people to whom I am in eternal debt for their superb imaginations and cooperation which led to this pleasurable event. The list is immense.

These people gave, literally, hundreds of their hours planning, worrying, coordinating, creating - especially creating! They were innovative and highly selective as well as necessarily practical and efficient.

And what a wonderful way to cement many new friendships! With so many people involved, it was a uniquely harmonious group. This made my own going that much easier.

To all involved, thank you so very much.

OPPOSES REFERENDUM

Editor, Leader:
On Nov. 5 the voters of New Jersey will be asked to vote Yes or No on a referendum to approve Casino Gambling in New Jersey. The referendum reads:
"Shall the amendment of the Constitution, agreed to by the Legislature, (1) authorizing the legislature to enact general or special laws permitting the establishment and operation under the authority and control of the State of gambling houses and casinos which may be located in specified municipalities, (2) providing that the entire net proceeds of any such establishments shall be paid into the State Treasury, and (3) prohibiting the location of any such gambling establishment within any municipality unless the voters of both the municipality and the county in which the municipality is located have approved such location by referendum, be approved?"

It is a simple Yes or No, but let's look at what it is really allowing. Under (1) this referendum allows the legislature to enact Special or General Laws. Special laws are put through to cover a variance or a special case. Usually they allow a person to become a police officer if the physical requirements are not met. What kind of a state would we have if the legislature could be influenced to pass special laws for the establishment of gambling and casinos? The loop hole is there. Under (2) it sounds like a lot of money and all for the state, but, the expenses are pretty high and a good operator who would have to be imported, or a poor operator, could eat up that net in no time. And then, where is this lovely tax money, probably in somebody else's pocket. (3) says that we have to have another referendum to determine the locations. And if Union County and Westfield or Mountainside or Scotch Plains approve, there is no way to stop putting a casino here. The governor says "I want it only in Atlantic City." The referendum does not read only in Atlantic City.

Many people tried to convince the legislature last spring to vote against this referendum. The majority voted to let the people decide whether they wanted gambling in the State of New Jersey. I would like to commend Senator Alexander J. Menza from this county, who voted against putting the referendum on the ballot. It is now up to you and me to keep gambling and casinos out of New Jersey. The loopholes in this referendum are frightening. Please vote NO on the casino gambling referendum on Nov. 5.

BACKS FIVE

Editor, Leader:
I believe that the residents of Westfield have a rare opportunity to elect a Mayor with proven ability, foresight and integrity. John Fife has been a councilman, a concerned citizen and the first elected official in Westfield to champion public participation in the council chambers.

John Fife represents the young, energetic leadership that Westfield needs if our growth is to be intelligently planned. He is beholden to no one and, as those of us who remember him as a councilman can attest, will make his decisions solely on what's right and proper for our community. John Fife will be a breath of fresh air in Westfield. I urge everyone to support his candidacy.

HALLOWEEN HELP

Editor, Leader:
For those of us who enjoy having youngsters come to our doors on Halloween, there is a way this year to give them something a little extra. That little extra comes from buying Halloween candy from the Westfield YWCA.

The YW has a sizeable deficit this year. To help overcome it, members are selling the same kinds of bagged candy that one can buy in retail stores. By purchasing our treats from the YW we can each help support the swimming, the gymnastics, and the social programs that enrich our children's lives so much. Until Halloween, the candy can be bought daily from the main desk at the YWCA on Clark St. or from any member of the YW board.

On Saturdays a special candy station is open in the garden of the Suburban Trust on Elm St. or at Taylor's Hardware on rainy days.

Most of us will buy candy for Halloween trick or treaters. Let's buy it at the YW, where our kids are "treated" all year long.

COMMENDS HALE

Editor, Leader:
"A tradition of response" was the theme of United Fund appeal campaigns for several years. I would like to use this phrase to describe an outstanding Westfield citizen: Lee Hale.

During his 23 years in Westfield Lee has served as president of the Westfield Hospital Association, chairman of the budget review committee of United Fund, trustee of the Westfield YMCA and president of the Westfield School Boosters Association. He also found time to be a baseball and basketball Little League manager. Truly, Lee Hale has a tradition on response to his community.

Now Lee is vigorously campaigning for a seat on Town Council. I believe that Westfield needs a man of the caliber and dedication of Lee Hale to represent them on Council.

On Nov. 5 elect this man who has repeatedly shown his deep concern for our town.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

Editor, Leader:
As you pointed out in your recent editorial, Newspaper Week (Oct. 6-12) does give all Americans "a chance to reappraise this most important guardian of a fine society: the constitutionally guaranteed free press." This guarantee and the vital function which a newspaper performs cannot be taken lightly, and in this regard I congratulate you. The Westfield Leader is an example of hard working local journalism.

Although I have not always agreed with some of your editorial policies, I do applaud your interest and dedication to local affairs and the maintenance and improvement of the good life in Westfield.

James R. Eisenmann

ENDORSE EISENMANN

Editor, Leader:
Our family has lived in Westfield for nearly five years, and we have known Jim Eisenmann and his family most of that time.

We have been impressed with Jim's concern for the town and all its citizens. Knowing Jim as we do we are pleased to be able to endorse his candidacy for councilman from the third ward.

MURPHY FANS

Editor, Leader:
There are many attributes which we look for in a candidate for public office. He should be knowledgeable of civic affairs. He should be capable of extraordinary outputs of energy. He should be extremely interested in the public welfare. And there is one other quality that the history of the past six years brings forcibly to mind: he should be honest.

We know that we have such a candidate for the Town Council in Frank Murphy. He has all of the finest qualities that an officeholder in government requires. We have known Frank for fifteen years, and we can state to the electorate of our ward, the third ward, that he is a man of extraordinary integrity.

Frank Murphy has demonstrated his ability in public leadership through the many management functions he has performed for his church and for the community. He can give our community the leadership and efficiency it needs for proper functioning.

We are fortunate in Westfield. We have men of high quality who wish to dedicate themselves to the back-breaking and (often) unappreciated labor of town

In some parts of rural England, it's believed that fat from the snake that bit you will cure snakebite.

"Nostalgia Night" Tuesday At Library

Tuesday night will be "Nostalgia Night" at the Westfield Memorial Library.

As part of its October four film nights series, "Film as Experience," the library has slated two films, "The 60's" and "Hollywood: The Dream Factory," from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Wateunk Room.

"The 60's," a 14-minute Pyramid Films release, offers a forceful review of the events of the last decade. It was made by Braverman, the film-maker who is well-known for such shorts as "The American Time Capsule."

The 52-minute film "Hollywood: The Dream Factory," which includes highlights from some of the best-known Hollywood productions and documents the history of the movies. Narrated by Dick Cavett, it presents a behind-the-scenes view and a glimpse of the great stars of the last 50 years.

The Tuesday night series is designed to show what's new and seldom seen in award-winning and experimental short films. It is open to all adults and senior high school students.

The parking lot of First Church of Christ, Scientist on Broad Street, across from the library, will be open to provide additional parking facilities.

Warriors Add To Skein

The juggernaut which represents Roosevelt Junior High School in the Union County soccer wars continues to roll over the opposition again this year. Scotch Plains Terrill went down before the onslaught last Tuesday and Cranford's Orange succumbed by an identical score two days later. The Warriors now own a 4-0 record, three of the victories coming via the shutout route.

The tri-captains for the Blue and Gold were the scoring heroes in the Scotch Plains contest with Andy Biederman setting up two scores and Bill Pavlow and Mark Binaris each notching one goal. The game was 25 minutes old before Biederman centered a crossing pass which Carmen Vella put his chest to and ricocheted the score past the startled Terrill goalie. Binaris then fired one from 20 yards out and Biederman set up Bill Pavlow for the perfect shot to end the scoring.

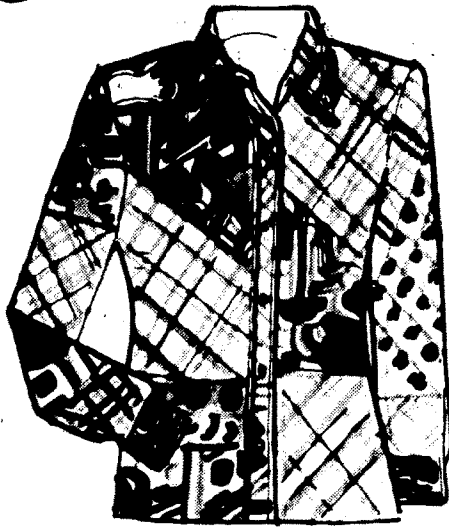

Cranford's offense got off more shots than any previous opponent but Ron Poyton was untouchable, making 14 saves in racking up his third shutout. Meantime, Roosevelt's - halfbacks, Mark Binaris, Bill Buchanan, John Midkiff, Jamie MacKenzie, Grant Bode, and Doug Newsome played a strong midfield, getting the ball up to their forwards time and again.

The Warriors played away at Hillside on Tuesday and travel over to Hillside school in Cranford tomorrow. They will be home at Clark Park for two games next week; Kenilworth on Monday and Governor Livingston on Thursday.

YMCA's 36 Rooms Home to Many . . . For One Night to 37 Years

Doctors, lawyers, Indian students . . .

Hindus, Moslems, Hebrews and Christians of all denominations . . .

Californians, Floridians, Minnesotans, Pennsylvanians, Oklahomans, Iowans, Oregonians, New Yorkers.

Harvard research fellows, surveyors, international bankers, military policemen, accountants, laborers, chemists, dental technicians.

All have shared quarters at the Westfield YMCA within the last three years and found themselves warmly received as part of the Y "family" which provides instant fellowship and eases difficult periods for many.

Some stay a single night. One has remained 37 years. To their surprise, when men from virtually every state, country and continent begin to rub elbows they find how much more they have in common than surface differences would suggest.

Simplicity is the keyword in the 36-room, two-floor residence in the 50-year-old building.

Each of the rooms has a bed, dresser, easy chair, desk and closet. More importantly, the residence provides a welcoming community in a suburban setting of mostly marrieds which provides few opportunities for solitary males to get acquainted. (A recent demographic study revealed that a much-higher percentage of Westfield males are married than is the case in most communities).

After-work chat in homey atmosphere is enjoyed by Al Ravanel (seated) and Ray Henn, who both work in distribution. Ravanel for Grants and Henn for Crown Drugs.

"It can be a lonesome old town for someone here on a short assignment for his company, someone who is house hunting for a family following a transfer," explains Residence Director John A. Leitch. He's managed the facility for the last three years.

Some of the long-term residents are single, separated or divorced.

The diversity of the residents makes for an interesting "home" life, reveals the Y's unofficial historian, George Hitchcock, a 57-year-old former cratemaker, who is an amateur writer.

"Take the generation gap, for instance. It seems to disappear around here when fellows share the same interest," said Hitchcock.

Thus, when 70-year-old Bill Rourke roomed next door to Engine City Technical Institute student Mark Goldberg, it didn't take them long to find out that the other was a rabid baseball fan.

Rourke was a semi-pro ballplayer. Goldberg a San Francisco Giant fan, and they followed the season together. When Rourke moved out to assist an ailing sister, it was Goldberg who drove him to the house, saw that he got his mail.

Great interest always surrounds foreign residents - and there are always a few. Harry Pennoh of Liberia, West Africa, admits that his first months in the U.S. as a student at Engine City Technical Institute were lonesome indeed.

"George Hitchcock helped me find good restaurants, and took me to the Episcopal Church until I was accustomed to the town. Now I meet people on the street who know me and I feel welcome here - and happy."

Says Hitchcock: "There are always a few men who become a self-appointed welcoming committee for the Y-ready to drive a newcomer around town, introduce him to stores and restaurants or to a good cleaner or a real estate agent."

Domestically, the life is carefree for the man alone. A matron cleans rooms and changes linens, a switchboard operator logs phone calls. Moreover, residents receive use of all Y facilities including use of two pools, weight and wrestling room, steam room and handball-paddleball court.

The Y also fills in for absent families and "people we can rely on in emergencies," Hitchcock points out.

East meets West as YMCA residents Harry Pinnoh of Liberia, West Africa and George Hitchcock, longtime Y resident, pay bill to receptionist Marge Marr.

All lectures are open to the public, free of charge.

Westfield Police Reserve Capt. Charles Ross explains the fine points of bicycle safety inspection to Town Council candidate Frank Murphy and Miss Isabel Van Deusen of Mountain View Circle.

Observes Bike Registration

Town Council candidate Frank Murphy took time out last Saturday from his door-to-door visits with residents of the third ward to observe the inspection and registration of bicycles at Town Hall.

"With the rapidly growing popularity of bicycling for fun and exercise, the importance of a fine program of bicycle safety inspection and registration such as we have in Westfield cannot be overstated," Murphy remarked.

"Unfortunately, along with the growing number of bicycles in use in our town, we are also experiencing an alarming rise in bicycle thefts. This is particularly disturbing when one considers that most bicycles being stolen belong to youngsters and may have been purchased only after great sacrifice by parents, and frequently, by youngsters themselves."

"Any parent who has seen a son or daughter work many hours at mowing lawns or babysitting in order to earn money towards the purchase of a new bicycle, only to have that bicycle stolen, knows the heartbreak that this despicable form of crime can bring. This is why," concluded Murphy, "that I look forward as a member of the Town Council to working with our police officials and the Mayor's bicycle task force to develop an effective program of bicycle safety and theft prevention."

In a gala carnival-like atmosphere complete with wheels of fortune, balloons, clowns, free hot dogs and soda, a large carnival tent, and planes flying messages overhead, Lincoln Federal Savings officially opened the doors of its new permanent savings center in Brick Town Saturday. The new building is shown above. Approximately 8,000 to 10,000 visitors joined in the festivities and danced to the dixieland and rock 'n' roll bands that played throughout the day. The celebration started at 9:45 a.m. as Karen Morrison of Illinois, the reigning Miss USA cut the official ribbon, assisted by Robert S. Messersmith, president of the $220 million savings institution, and George Giraud, manager of the Brick Town office. The day was one that will long be remembered in Brick Town. According to Mr. Messersmith, president of Lincoln Federal, "we wanted to give our friends and neighbors an opening to top all openings as a way of saying thank you for the response we received since opening our temporary trailer office last year." Lincoln Federal currently operates four savings and home financing centers. In addition to Brick Town, they are located in Westfield, Scotch Plains and Plainfield.

Walk into just about any automobile showroom and start asking some questions. Like:
"Does the car come with electronic fuel injection?"
"No."
"What about just fuel injection? Forget about electronic."
"No."
"Can I get a timed preheater?"
"Sorry, but..."
"Four-wheel independent suspension?"
"Nope."
"Steel-belted radials?"
"Sure. But you've got to pay extra."
"How about the Owner's Security Blanket?"

"The what?"
"With Computer Analysis?"
"With what?"
Our point is simple:
When you buy a Volkswagen 412, you get everything you've just asked for. For nothing. That's right. You don't pay anything extra for the "extras."
And since our car is a luxurious Volkswagen, it also comes replete with plush seats, thick carpets, big windows, flo-thru ventilation, and room, plenty of room. Also at no extra cost.
Getting anything for free these days is a luxury in itself.

WON'T YOU ASK?
It might well happen that you would read our column some week and not see advertised the particular type home that you are seeking. We hope that you realize that this doesn't mean that it isn't available. Goodness, no! It's simply that our lists are so varied that we cannot possibly cover all, or even all the highlights. So, if you're at the moment is for something really striking in the $200,000 category, just ask us what we'd suggest... you might be surprised. It occasionally happens, too, that owners prefer not advertising, no matter how discreet. We always like hearing from you and we try to concentrate on filling YOUR specifications.

Fife

residents of Westfield and their areas," Fife said.

"If we are to maintain the integrity of our zoning and planning in Westfield, we must stop this piecemeal approach to development," the Democratic candidate said. "It is far past the time when we should have reexamined the master plan and put into effect those measures which will prevent commercial encroachment on residential areas.

"Steps must also be taken to unclog the traffic congestion in the center of the community and make the maximum use of our open lands for both passive and active recreation," Fife said.

"Without a comprehensive approach to these problems no neighborhood is safe from a detrimental change in its character. Indeed, the overall character of Westfield is in jeopardy," Fife said.

"As mayor, I would spearhead an updating of the master plan and revisions in our zoning code to plug the loopholes through which the speculators and the special interests are plunging," Fife said. "The goal of my administration would be to bring order—and increased protection for residents—out of the chaotic planning and zoning situation that exists in Westfield today.

"A vital first step is the opening of all zoning and planning board meetings to the public," Fife said. "The speculators and special interests can do little harm to our community when the public is able to scrutinize all aspects of planning and zoning matters facing the town."

Homeowners

effort on their properties. On almost any day of the week, any week of the year, you will see Westfielders working on their homes and yards — maintaining them and improving them.

"You don't see many run down properties in Westfield," Williams observed. "Call it 'pride of ownership,' 'pride in community,' 'consideration for neighbors' or just plain 'economic good sense,' we are an attractive town because we work to keep it that way."

"I propose," Williams said, "that the Town give official recognition to this effort which is so important to all of us. This could be done through the aegis of the Westfield Cultural and Beautification Committee. Each year the committee could receive nominations for the most improved residence in Westfield. From among the properties nominated, the members of the Committee could select a 'Most Improved Residence.'"

"The owner could then, with appropriate publicity, be given a special award, perhaps a plaque which could be permanently affixed to the home," Williams suggested.

"Similar awards could be given for the 'Best Maintained Residence,' the 'Most Beautifully Landscaped Residence' and so on," Williams added.

"The Homeowner Recognition Program would have a twofold effect," Williams concluded. "It would emphasize the Town's commitment to maintaining Westfield as an attractive place in which to live and it would give recognition where it is due."

a strong effort now, this year, at a minimum not to fall behind the rate of inflation, and thereby suffer that silent cut in voluntary services which inflation represents," the national executive said.

"Westfield has so much more to do," said Mrs. Patterson. "We have to somehow fill that distressing 72.6 per cent gap."

YOUTH ARRESTED

A 14-year-old boy was apprehended by police yesterday in possession of property stolen Sunday from Wilson School. He was released in custody of his parents for juvenile bureau action.

Bike Rules

Citizen's Task Force on Bicycle Programs presented to the Mayor and Council in March, imposes additional safety equipment requirements for bicycles and establishes stronger and more effective methods for enforcement of the ordinance.

The major addition to the existing annual registration provisions would now require that all bicycles be permanently equipped with headlights, tail lights and horn signals meeting the State requirements for night operation. The proposed new ordinance also establishes local enforcement procedures for youthful violators, which would employ the offices of a referee or hearing officer appointed by the Juvenile Court, following investigation and referral of complaints by the Bicycle Board.

Budget Ideas

to the legally-required formal public hearing which the Board of Education usually holds in January after the budget has been prepared and proposed. There will be a formal public hearing sometime in January.

Urging residents to attend one of the preliminary sessions, Mr. Sullivan said, "We hope to see (and hear) as many residents as possible at one or the other of these public 'input' sessions. We've scheduled them on two different nights in different parts of town so that each citizen may have the opportunity to come and be heard."

Preparation of a school budget for next year is in the beginning stage which includes seeking input from Westfield citizens.

"We urge residents to convey their thoughts to board members as we begin deliberating on a school budget for next year," Mr. Sullivan said.

The first "input" session on the budget will be held following the board's regular public meeting at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 6, in the auditorium of Edison Junior High School. The second meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Roosevelt Junior High School.

School Funding

average of about $1,100 and below Union - County's average of $1,475. All these figures are from 1972-73 actual costs.

"Districts with high equalized valuation per pupil can raise money for schools with relatively lower tax burdens than districts with low equalized valuation per pupil," Mr. Barker said. "There is a strong tendency for school districts that have high valuations per pupil to spend more per pupil for schools than districts with low valuations."

Mr. Barker attributed this disparity in equalized valuation per pupil to be the root problem that precipitated the Robinson vs. Cahill court decision that New Jersey's school finance system must be changed. He noted that Governor Byrne's school finance proposal would have guaranteed every school district in the state a minimum valuation of $108,000 per pupil.

Another feature in the governor's finance proposal was "shared costs" with the state paying part of the local district's school costs, presuming that local school districts continue to levy a property tax in order to raise their share of school costs.

"The shared costs concept permits a structure in which communities that want to spend more than the average on schools can do so simply by taxing themselves more," he stated. "Districts that want to spend less than the average would benefit from a somewhat lower tax burden."

He noted that two school districts which spend the same amount per pupil would have different tax rates, without state aid, if one district had more real estate value behind each pupil than the other.

Mr. Barker announced that the same or similar presentations on school finance can be given to interested groups of Westfield citizens who can arrange for them by telephoning Mr. Barker or Jack Daly, who is also a member of the school board's legislative committee.

Ward 4 List

and pedestrian and bicycle safety, and vandalism.

"The second largest category involves public works problems," Weiss said, "specifically centering on street and road complaints."

"People of the ward are most concerned about paving and snow removal as far as streets and roads are concerned," the councilman remarked.

"Flooding and leaf collection concerns completed the public works category which accounted for a total of 30 percent of citizen concerns," Weiss said.

The councilman said that recreation problems ranked third in the list of citizens concerns and most dealt with program activities, particularly involving tennis.

Weiss said public concern over zoning and the housing code accounted for 10 percent while miscellaneous complaints on various problems accounted for the rest.

Weiss, a candidate for reelection to the council in the coming election, said "I think the record is clear on my promptness of my reaction to citizen problems and the high percentage of success I have had in solving a number of problems during these first two years of my service to residents of the fourth ward. "I believe the fact that my law office is in the community and my accessibility to the people is an important factor in my providing representation to the residents of my ward," Weiss said.

The State Civil Defense-Disaster Control Rescue School at Hammonton, staffed by State Police, has graduated nearly 7,000. The training has attracted students as far away as South Carolina and Canada.
