Robert Barnes Declines To Seek Third Term

Republican First Ward Councilman Robert P. Barnes today announced that he would not seek re-election to the Westfield Town Council in this year's general elections. The five-year veteran of municipal government said that he felt frequent changes in the governing body is the best way to insure its vitality.

Barnes stated that he believed that he had made some significant contributions to the Town during his tenure, but that he was most proud of his accomplishments in keeping the municipal budget in line with the realities of today's economic climate.

Councilman Barnes entered office in 1971 as an appointed replacement for former Councilman Dom Snyder who had been elected Mayor in the 1970 elections. Barnes was subsequently elected to office in 1971 and re-elected in 1973. During his tenure he has served on various committees and has chaired the Public Works Committee and the Buildings and Town Property Committee. He is currently chairman of the Finance Committee, and a member of the Town Planning Board. A native of New Jersey and a 21-year resident of Westfield, Barnes attended Amherst College, where he was Phi Beta Kappa, and the Harvard Business School. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and was awarded the Bronze Star. Active in civic affairs, he is the past chairman of the United Fund's Budget Review Committee and a member of its Board of Trustees. He is the treasurer of the Buffalo Tank Division of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Mr. Barnes and his wife, Shirley, reside at 555 Colonial Ave. and have three daughters. Mrs. Barnes is the former president of the Westfield Service League.

Board to Name Staff Tuesday

The Westfield Board of Education will hold a special public meeting to appoint the school staff for the 1975-76 school year at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the board room at 305 Elm St.

Council Rejects Salary Guide, Votes Funds for Library, Field

Town Council by a 5-3 vote Tuesday night rejected the proposal to establish a personnel position and salary schedule for municipal employees. Voting against the measure were Councilmen Thomas A. Pluta, Lawrence Weiss, Charles Brandt, James Eisenmann and Allen Chin. In favor were Mayor Williams, Councilmen

Robert Barnes and Frank MacPherson. Councilman Lee Hale was not present at the long meeting which began at 8:30 and adjourned just before 12:30 a.m. None of the Council was in solid agreement on all aspects of the proposal, with a strong feeling that it might create serious inequities in salary ranges among many employees. Mayor Williams feels that the skilled consultant was better equipped than Council laymen in evaluating employee salaries. Brandt, whose move to table the ordinance was defeated, questioned the wisdom of any salary guide for such a small group (about 75 employees). Weiss noted that he is in favor of the concept but that further study is necessary in fairness to the employees and to the taxpayers. Pluta, who questioned the validity of the $6,700 study by Hanawald Associates, emphasized that it was not his intention to ignore a salary guide, but to correct defects before one is passed. Twelve grades would be established under the guide. Chin said some of the bottom levels represent increases of 16 and 28 per cent over present salaries of persons in those positions. Past councils rejected salary guides recommended in 1965 and 1968 by the firm of Booz & Allen.

Other ordinances introduced for public hearing April 29 will provide for the construction of a balcony mezzanine in the Memorial Library, provide free admission to the Memorial Pool for 100 percent disabled veterans, permit consumption of beer at Tamaques Park after the Volunteer Fire Company's 100th anniversary parade September 20 and to permit the mayor or town administrator to close streets such as the entrance to Tamaques Park from Dickson Dr. for a trial period of 60 days.

Resolutions were adopted amending the 1975 capital budget to include $130,000 for acquisition of land in the Gumbert Field area, granting the variance approving construction of the Masonic Association clubhouse at 1011 Central Ave., authorizing rebates of $339.40 in overpaid taxes, awarding the contract for plumbing work at Memorial Pool to Gaston F. Raffaelli (which was opposed by Councilmen Eisenmann, Pluta and Weiss), approval of pool managers' salaries, and of a budget transfer of $35.10 to the reserve for payroll deductions and raffle licenses for Washington School PTA and Westfield Day Care Center. Resolutions concerning Old English Village will be considered at a later date.

Council passed an amendment to traffic regulations to allow parking on a section of Fourth Ave. and to prohibit parking on the westerly side of No. Scotch Plains Ave. from South to Newark Avenues.

The Council adopted amendments to the bicycle ordinance by an 8-0 vote so that penalties may be meted out by local authorities if bicycles are not properly equipped for safety. This includes impoundment of the bicycle. Robert Bixler, bicycle board chairman, believes the measures will help curb thefts by permitting on the spot inspection by police. Resident Raymond Stone said the amendments are unconstitutional. Former Mayor Donn Snyder said the amendment was definitely needed, if not perfect.

Dems' Dollars Support Mayor ... At Least for Dunk in Pool

At least one effort in Westfield this spring will receive bi-partisan support - the gym-and-swim-along slated May 2 and 3 by the YMCA and YWCA of Westfield.

Mayor Alex Williams will lead the "splashdown" at 6 p.m. Friday, May 2 - with the backing of all eight Town Councilmen, Democrats as well as those from his own Republican party.

"The only stipulation the Democrats made in agreeing to sponsor my swim is that I wear a lead belt while I swim my laps," quipped the Mayor. Each Councilman will pay the Mayor 10 cents a lap for the 25 laps he intends to swim. That makes a grand total of $20 - but he has other sponsors, such as Town Administrator John F. Malloy Jr., Administrative Secretary Mary Jo Howell and Betty Kopf.

"I'm approaching the $35 I need to win a Super T-Shirt," said the Mayor. Perhaps better known as a jogger, the Mayor decided to swim because he enjoys that sport, too, and so he can participate with his children Toni and Bill.

Maggi and Peter Coffman are shown with Mayor Alex Williams, who will share Y pool with youngsters at May 2 and 3 gym-and-swim-along to raise funds for Y's.

A cheering section composed of Town Hall employees also intends to be on hand to provide support for Williams.

Not content to raise funds by his own athletic achievement, Mayor Williams is also a sponsor for the gym-and-swim-along.

He's agreed to sponsor one of the youngest participants in the event - winsome Maggi Coffman, just turned 5. Maggi intends to swim 10 laps, and has been practicing since February to go that distance.

Her brother, Peter, will also participate - but he intends to swim exactly twice that distance.

Thirty full hours of activity are slated at the Y beginning with the Mayor's splashdown at 6 p.m. Friday, May 2 and continuing through midnight May 3.

There are four possible ways to participate and

A public hearing will be held April 29 on the ordinance introduced Tuesday night extending multiple dwelling and professional office zones, but no action was taken on a proposed rent-leveling ordinance sought by apartment tenants which brought many to the Town Council meeting.

Proposed are changes in the two family zones of Temple Pl. and a section of Central Ave. near Washington St. which would permit the erection of apartments, condominiums or town houses. Also a section of Grove St. near the indoor tennis facility for professional zones. The areas are now zoned for two family houses. Concern was voiced by Councilman Charles H. Brandt who voted yes although he said he would prefer to change the zoning only on the lot where the Masonic Temple once stood. Councilman James Eisenmann was the one dissenter, feeling that the old houses are fine for young couples with large families who can afford them and can maintain them.

Tenants of Wychwood Gardens implore Council to pass an ordinance which they requested two months ago to keep rents in reasonable limitation.

Thirty of them have in the meantime, received notices of 11 percent increases, they said. Their attorney, West Orange Mayor William F. Cuzzo, urged speed in the matter. Mayor Alexander Williams was taken to task by a number of tenants when he said that he does not believe a rent level ordinance is appropriate for Westfield just because it is in other communities. Councilman Brandt defended the Council, noting that it is not a simple problem and that there are legitimate issues on the sides of both the tenants and the landlords and that the Council is still waiting for answers to questions from the landlords. Councilman Lawrence Weiss, noting that the N.J. Supreme Court is deciding if the rent laws in West Orange are legal, asked Cuzzo to let Council know how close it is to its decision since it would obviously affect any ordinances in Westfield.

Chamber Names Frankenbach Civic Person of Year

Clyde Fitch, president of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce, has announced the selection of Charles H. Frankenbach, Jr., of Westfield as the Chamber's Civic Person of the Year.

Little League Season Opens Saturday

The 1975 Major League (WBL) baseball season gets underway Saturday morning at the Gumbert Field complex with a nearly full slate of games. Eighteen of the ML's twenty outfits will take to the diamonds in colorful, new uniforms beginning with a pair of 9 o'clock National League clashes.

In these initial '75 contests it will be the Astros against the Braves at Gumbert One and the Cubs and the Reds at Gumbert Three. The American League season starts two hours later when the Angels and Athletics square off at G 1, the Indians and Red Sox play at G 2, and the Senators and Tigers meet at G 3.

Only the Cards and the Giants have off opening day. The Cards'll start their 1975 pennant drive on Sunday against the Astros, while the Giants open up on Monday versus the Dodgers. Both of those team openers are at G 3.

The teams and the sponsors Angels - Braunsdorf Assoc., A's - Geigers, Indians - Connell Rice, Red Sox - Lincoln Federal, Senators - Hills Ice Cream, Tigers - Rotary Club, Twins -

Central Jersey Bank, White Sox - Exchange Club, Yanks - West'd Bd. of Realtors, Dodgers - Hamrah-Emerson, Giants - First Federal, Mets - Martino Studios, Phils-McDowell Oil Pirates - Reilly Olds, Cubs - Peacock Agency, The Astros, Braves, Cards, Reds, and Orioles also play.

Two hundred sixty ten to twelve year olds are playing Major League baseball this spring. Under the tutelage of their respective mentors, every Major League player will have been practicing more than a month come opening day. Some of the teams having played over a dozen pre-season games.

During the regular season, the players will be involved in 18 games. Each player being mandated to play a minimum of at least two innings and bat at least once in each game.

These rules, allowing all Major Leaguers to have playing time, are some of the reasons why the ML calibre of play is so high.

and Alexis Moore leading the way.

Cubs - The defending NL champs could go a long way to a third straight pennant behind the bats of Bill Harcourt, Jeff Bloom, Bill Rankin, Chuck Harcourt, Todd Jacobs and Steve Pearson. Sponsored by the Peacock Agency, the Baby Bears are coached by Bob Muncy and Jim Harcourt.

Giants - Sal Vella and Flip Chambliss coach this First Federal sponsored team. Lyons, Sacks, Mussell, Shubitz, Giacone and Tomassi will lead the way. Lyons will do the bulk of the catching.

Mets - Drew Kronick, Charlie Burdord, Bill Carlson, Ray King and Mark Hoffman, the big sticks for the Mets who open against the Pirates, are coached by Bob Smith and sponsored by Martino Studios.

Phils - The Phils could be one of the teams to beat in the NL if coaches Handler and Della Badia have their way. John Costa, John Edelblut, Mitch Handler, Dave Della Badia, Dave Sherwyn and Mike Compadonico should be a few of the Phil standouts. Watch out for the bat of Handler, the glove of Della Badia, and the arm of Edelblut to fuel the McDowell Oil sponsored team.

Pirates - George Pierce is once again at the helm of the Pirates who are sponsored by Reilly Olds. M. Rosenberg, M. Napoliello, C. McCarthy, A. Singhal and K. Simons will do a great deal of hitting for the "Rats."

Reds - The Reds have only six returnees from last year's 500 ball club, but coaches Giordano and Brunetto seem to always come up with a winner so watch out for the year of the Reds Lowell Higgins, Steve Libonati, Robert Wood, Joey Brunetto, John Giordano and Kevin Morris are the fine returnees. Morris and Wood will pace the pitching staff.

Taxpayers Chide Council For Disregard of Budget Vote

"After the voters defeated the Westfield school budget, town councilmen disregarded what the taxpayers voted and trimmed less than 1 per cent from the 1975-1976 fiscal document," stated Kurt C. Bauer, spokesman for the Westfield Taxpayers Association.

"Holding an election becomes academic, if elected officials do whatever they please, rather than what they are expressly instructed to do by the voters," he said.

"The most incredible statement offered during council's hearing to review what should be done with the defeated 1975-1976 school budget was made by Third Ward Councilman James Eisenmann, a Democrat, who cast his vote against the paltry $50,000 reduction, not because it wasn't enough, but because he didn't feel anything should be deleted," Mr. Bauer said.

"What is even worse," Mr. Bauer said, "is that Councilman Eisenmann's ward defeated the budget 2-1, the widest margin in any of the town's four wards. His action is nothing less than contemptuous of the expressed instructions of his constituents at a state-mandated election," Mr. Bauer said.

"The Democrats were a total loss to the taxpayers at the hearing on the school budget. Thus they joined three Republicans in doing nothing to offer tax relief to Westfield's homeowners, over 90 per cent of the population," he said.

"Only Fourth Ward Councilman Allen Chin, a Republican, had a factual approach to the budget, and while his cuts were somewhere around $100,000, much less than the WTA advised, at least his arguments were cogent and tried to deal with the ever-increasing and wasteful school budget," Mr. Bauer stated. He was joined by one other Republican, Second Ward Councilman Frank MacPherson.

On Apr. 3 the WTA elected a slate of interim officers pending a general town-wide meeting in October. Elected were Hugh Platt of 526 Wychwood Rd., president; John H. Wachter of 550 Clark St., treasurer; and John R. Mandel of 416 Elm St., secretary.

Heading committees were A. V. Strand of 808 Franklin Ave., membership; Platt, program, and Bauer of 431 Hillside Ave., publicity. By-laws suggested by the

New Jersey Federation of Taxpayers for taxpayer groups were adopted with revisions as was a plan of action to urge economy at public meetings.

Dues are $2 a year per person and may be mailed to Wachter at the Clark St. address.

Named Liaison Contacts With Parent-Teacher Groups

The Community Information Committee of the Westfield Board of Education has appointed board members to serve as liaison contacts with the parent-teacher groups at the high school, the two junior high schools and with the Parent-Teacher Council which includes representatives from each of the nine elementary schools.

Sally Allen and Joan Corbet will meet with the Parent-Teacher Council. John Daly and Donald Knapp will meet with Westfield High School Parent-Teacher Association. Lenore Kalbacher and Thomas Sullivan have been assigned to Roosevelt Junior High School and Richard Barker and Allen Malcolm have been assigned to Edison Junior High School.

"There will be an opportunity for an exchange of information between elementary school parents and teachers through the Parent-Teacher Council and Board members who look forward to meeting parents and teachers at school functions throughout the year," Mrs. Corbet, chairman of the community information committee, stated.

Schedule for Memorial Pool

Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, Director of Recreation, has announced a new operating schedule for the Westfield Memorial pool for the 1975 season. The pool questionnaire which is circulated each summer indicated that many members would like after-school hours in June so young people can swim after classes on some of the hot June days. Hours from 4 P.M. until 8 P.M. have been established by the Commission for the weeks of June 9 to 13 and June 16 to 20. After June 23 and weekends, from opening date of June 7 the pool will be operating on the regular, full time schedule. The managers and most of the lifeguard staff are not available on a full time basis until the school year is finished. The Department is hoping the new hours will fill another community need and provide recreation for numbers of Westfield residents.

New ping-pong tables have been purchased for the pool complex and nok-hockey, checkers, chess, paddle ball and volley ball, of course, will again be available. The volley ball team competition introduced last year by Manager Jack Dalton proved successful and enjoyable and produced a grand champion at the end of the summer and Mr. Dalton expects to again organize his volley ball league.

Round out the opportunities for recreation at the pool during the summer is the free swim Monday mornings, offered to Westfield children registered in the playground program. Playground supervisors will have permission slips available for those enrolled at their fields and these entitle the children to swim Monday mornings under the supervision of the playground leaders. Parents are expected to deliver and pick up their children at the pool complex.

Residents Asked To Save Books For Library Sale

A first call for about-to-be-retired books was issued today by Mrs. Edward L. Swan Jr., president of the Friends of Westfield Memorial Library. In announcing the annual Book Sale, scheduled for June 12, 13 and 14, Mrs. Swan asked area residents to begin setting aside usable printed materials of all kinds for donation to the Friends' fundraising project.

"The sale offers three advantages to everyone," Mrs. Swan said. "It finds a new home for your no longer read books, gives you an opportunity to pick up summer reading at bargain prices, and raises money for special library needs."

All categories of reading matter are welcome: hard and soft cover books, fiction and non-fiction, adult and juvenile literature, reference works, dictionaries, textbooks. Back copies of "National Geographic," "Scientific American," and "Antiques" are quick sellers, as are recent issues of special interest hobby publications, such as "ham radio" and sports car magazines.

Records, sheet music, and jigsaw puzzles will have their own corner in the Waterunk sale room. Questions about other possible items may be directed to Mrs. J.F. Kingham and Mrs. Robert G. Pecka, sale co-chairmen.

Lincoln PTO Meets Wednesday

A parent education meeting is scheduled for Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln School auditorium. The topic will be "Open Education."

The speakers are Richard Hess, consultant with Bank Street College in New York and Peter Pardo, guidance counselor in charge of special programs at Hubbard School in Plainfield.

There will be an opportunity for parents to ask questions and discuss the topic following the program.

Garden Theme For Senior Citizens

Gardens, gardening and garden books will be featured at the April Senior Citizens' Day program at the Westfield Memorial Library Tuesday from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Anne Vondra, the library's chief cataloguer, will speak. Senior citizens are invited to bring their lunches. Coffee will be served by the library.

Y's Outdoor Center Opens Registration for Day Camps

Registration for the three Four Seasons Outdoor Center Day Camps which feature "a well-rounded summer in the great outdoors" is now open.

For boys and girls ages 6 to 13, the camps offer "a unique opportunity to youngsters to grow healthily and happily in the fresh air, and broaden their horizons away from the suburban environment -- the asphalt and cement that surround them the rest of the year," said Center Director Pat Schriver. Located 35 miles away on the rural beauty of Hunterdon County's Lebanon Township, the camps are sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA of Westfield.

Three separate camps are carefully tailored to meet the needs and interests of youngsters of varying ages and stages of development.

Pioneer Camp for boys and girls grades 1 to 6 concentrates on nature study and native crafts in a program centered around 32 environmental education stations.

Daily swim instruction is included, and rowing for youngsters ages 6 and 7, canoeing for those ages 8 to 11.

There's fishing for everybody, at the Center's 3-acre pond which was stocked last year with bass and trout, or at the neighboring Ken Lockwood Gorge, one of the top fly-casting facilities in the state.

Basic campcraft will be taught, along with cookouts, learning to an optional overnight. Youngsters will also get a chance to try their hand at gardening.

Ranger Camp is an advanced program for boys and girls grades 4 to 6 -- including survival skills, orienteering, campcraft and firebuilding, handling and use of equipment, lashing and knots. A four-night overnight will be held each two-week period.

A new feature of the campouts will be "primitive camping" for at least one night, sleeping out of tents on the ground under the stars, and without "all the comforts of home."

For the first time this year, the Four Seasons offers a camp for junior high schoolers -- an Adventure Camp. Backpacking on the Appalachian trail is the high point, after a one-week "in camp" preparation for the adventure. Boys and girls acquire the ability to survive and thrive in the wilderness by making efficient use of natural resources.

Convenient bus routes which pick youngsters up at their neighborhood schools between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m., (depending on the stop) and transport them to the camp in Lebanon Township are a feature of the camp which the youngsters are returned to their bus stops after 4:15 p.m.

"Reveling in the 153 acres of our Center -- exploring the rolling hills, sparkling streams, hiking over old Colonial paths, climbing pre-Revolutionary walls and exploring haylofts gives youngsters a chance to taste what life was like in a less hurried time," she Ms. Schriver.

"With the Bicentennial coming up, they'll have the opportunity at Four Seasons to work and play on one of those rare pieces of property kept intact since pre-Revolutionary times. They'll develop a sense of history through the Center's 18th Century house (now a nature library and small item museum) the old barns and cemetery.

Environmental education becomes a natural process when it comes through use of our 32 environmental education stations designed by Benton Cummings, professor of environmental education at Kean College of New Jersey.

"Our three-acre pond offers swimming and boating. We're looking forward to a wonderful summer and we hope a lot of youngsters join us for it."

Camp Periods are June 30 through July 11, July 14 through July 25, July 28 through Aug. 8 and Aug. 11 through Aug. 22.

Further information may be obtained at 233-2700. The Four Seasons Camps are operated by the YMCA and YWCA of Westfield.

Toastmasters Instruct Girl Scouts

Sixteen Senior Girl Scouts were honored at a special graduation ceremony sponsored by the Toastmasters of Westfield and the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council.

The girls completed a ten week course in public speaking and leadership instructed by members of Toastmasters. During the course the girls learned to compose and present speeches. At their graduation ceremony, five of the Scouts participated in a speech contest. The Toastmasters of Westfield judged the girls and awarded Miss Anne Pavelka of Union with the best table topic of the evening. Mr. Holland Van Volkenburg, President of Toastmasters, made the awards.

Participating in the Youth Leadership program were: Marion Dennick of Berkeley Heights, Nancy Fallon of South Plainfield, Crista Leeks, Kathy Lewis, Betsy Poggemeier, Wanda Rodriguez, Donna Ruvolo and Deborah Shirley of Elizabeth, Cheryl Muench and Iris Schwartz of Hillside, Bridget and Sue Palmer of Scotch Plains, Anne Pavelka of Union, Debbie Salzar of South Plainfield, Laura Smith of Berkeley Heights, and April Yasenchak of Fanwood.

Concert Apr. 25

Works of Bach, Mozart, Beethoven and Chopin will be featured on Friday, Apr. 25, when Dr. Thomas Richner, internationally renowned pianist, presents his ninth annual piano recital for the Friends of the College of Union College at 8:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Theatre.

Bicentennial Briefings

This month marks the official beginning of Bicentennial activities throughout the country. It is the 200th anniversary of Paul Revere's ride and that is the event that was selected as the Kick-off of the festivities although there have been many activities all over the nation preceding this Westfield included.

As of now, however, the Westfield Bicentennial Committee is instituting a new facet to its program. Each month, in this column, a calendar of forthcoming events, concerning bicentennial activities, will be featured along with any pertinent information that may be of interest. Warren T. Vilet is in charge of this "Calendar of Events" and if any person or organization has a Bicentennial activity planned, the date and information should be sent to him at 905 Tice Pl. Each event must be approved by the committee to be sure it meets the requirements set down by the American Revolution Bicentennial Committee, before it can be included in the calendar.

Following are some events that will take place during the next three months that have received committee approval:

April 15-19 Boy Scout Troop 172 are on a 200 mile Delaware River raft trip for the benefit of the Union County Unit of the N.J. Association of Retarded Children.

April 21 Atlas Lodge number 125, F & A.M. will meet at 8:15 p.m. at the Scotchwood Masonic Temple, Mountain Ave., Scotch Plains. The meeting will be addressed by, Lewis Parker, PGM of F. & A.M. of New Jersey and Chairman of the Grand Lodge Bicentennial Committee.

May 10 There will be a Bicentennial Book at the Lincoln School Fair.

May 26 Memorial Day Parade. The American Legion, V.F.W., the Town of Westfield, and any other organization wishing to participate should contact A. Bruce Conlin, Jr., 246 Orchard St.

June 27 The Washington Park Girl Scout Council will hold its Colonial Caravan at Westfield High School.

Side note: Mr. Vilet, in charge of the Calendar of Events, volunteered for the job after receiving the questionnaire distributed by the Bicentennial Committee. If you have not answered yours, why not do so now? If you have not received one, they are available at the Town Clerk's Office at the Municipal Building.

For those who have answered the questionnaire, and there were hundreds, the evaluations and sortings have been completed and all will be contacted soon. It has been a gratifying experience to realize that so many of Westfield's residents are truly interested in the Bicentennial Celebration.

Jockey Hollow Ramble Saturday

A ramble through the Jockey Hollow Park is planned for Saturday for members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club. Paul Stryker of Morristown will be in charge of the six mile walk. The meeting place will be the Tempe Wick house at 10 a.m.

Sunday, is the date for the club to conduct its annual clean-up of sections of the Appalachian Trail which are assigned to the club. Participants in the trail clearing will meet the leaders, Robert and Anne Vogel of Cranford, at the Packanack Wayne shopping mall at 9:30 a.m.

Information about the Hiking Club is available through the Union County Park Commission's recreation department.

Pilot education can help you spend more time with your farthest client

One of the secrets of being a successful salesman is getting to know your customers.

To get to know them well, you've got to give them a lot of time. The farther away they are, the harder it is to give.

Unless, of course, you learn to fly.

A trip that takes four hours in a car takes less than two in a Cessna 150 airplane.

Flying takes you off the road and puts you into your client's office.

A Cessna Pilot Center provides businessmen with fast, flexible and thorough flight training.

To Dedicate New Trailside Center Sunday

Planned for the last ten years, the expansion of the Trailside Nature and Science Center, operated by the Union County Park Commission in the nursery area of the Watchung Reservation, will materialize on Sunday, afternoon, when dedication ceremonies are scheduled for the new building.

The dedication, listed to begin at 2 p.m., will take place almost 24 full years after the dedication of the original Trailside Museum, which continues in use. Trailside has grown from a humble beginning and scattered interest in May, 1951, to become the most popular single facility of the entire Union County Park System. No admission charge is made.

Dedication ceremonies will take place inside the auditorium of the new structure, seating about 200 persons. The new half-million dollar building is constructed of reinforced concrete frame and concrete block. Most of the capital funds for it were provided by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders. It is located at the opposite end of the parking lot from the existing Trailside and Planetarium buildings.

John G. Walsh, president of the Park Commission, will dedicate the new building. Also expected to participate will be Freeholder Director Thomas W. Long and other officials, George T. Cron, general superintendent and Secretary, and Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, among others, with brief discussions of past activities and future concepts for Trailside. The ceremonies will be open to the public.

The Trailside director and members of his staff have been busily engaged for some time in preparing a series of completely new displays which will add a different aspect to the exhibit areas and the programming. In front of visitors as they enter the main reception and lobby area on the upper level, will be a globe, which the staff terms "Space Ship Earth." The globe, painted and created by staff members following the construction of the framework by maintenance employees of the park system, will include a cut-out portion in the midst of the Pacific Ocean. This will show the staff's concept of the earth under its surface down through the core.

To the right of the entrance, new displays are being prepared for introduction to the viewers. They include such subjects as the foundation of the solar system, the changes taking place in the earth at different times, how life began and the relationship of one species to another. A dramatic two-version display will be on the atmosphere, one side showing the earth in a beautiful stage, the other side depicting it as becoming polluted and ugly. Another display is concerned with the effects of the winds and the tides in the oceans. This will serve to introduce displays in the lower level area.

The exhibit area on the lower level will include various mounted specimens and marine tanks. Only a few of the major and most interesting exhibits now kept in the old building will be transferred to the new center area.

A balcony area over the main entrance will include staff offices and a library, with space for some small meetings. Drapes in the building are rust-colored. Sturdy blue carpeting has been laid throughout the building.

The building, as designed by Michael Graves, Princeton architect, is capable of being enlarged at some future date, by means of extensions of wings or bays, as well as upward.

Considerable landscaping work has been carried on to provide an atmosphere of added beauty to the surroundings. Of special interest is a terraced memorial garden which will honor the memory of W. Richmond Tracy, who was the Park Commission's first Engineer-Secretary, from 1922 to 1957. He died late in 1972.

500 Student Loans Available in County

Almost 500 low interest student loans will be made available at Kean College, Union County Vocational and Technical Institute and Sawyer School in Elizabeth under a federal allocation announced today by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union.

A total of $218,586 in federal matching funds will be provided by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Rinaldo said. It will cover 90 per cent of the total of the loans, with the rest of the loan money put up by the institutions.

The three per cent education loans must be paid back within 10 years starting nine months after the student either graduates or drops out of school. The final conditions covering the loans, however, are left to the college administrators.

Wants Nursing Home Info

State Assemblyman Joseph L. Garrubbo, democrat, district 20, today urged town citizens who may have complaints about local nursing home conditions, to contact his legislative office at 1961 Morris Avenue, open 9:30 to 3, Monday through Friday.

Serving on the state's special Nursing Home Study Commission, Garrubbo has requested this information in preparation for the panel's first public hearing, to be held sometime this month.

"To best evaluate existing conditions concerning proper treatment and health care of nursing home residents, we need the public's assistance," The Assemblyman emphasized, "First hand information from any citizen, or about their relatives, who have experienced undesirable nursing home conditions, will be tremendously helpful in alerting us to subpar health care operations."

"Our commission's study can be better strengthened by specific public input about nursing home problems...important information that will help us present to the Governor, valid and accurate recommendations necessary to insure quality standards of health care and treatment within New Jersey's nursing home industry."

Assemblyman Garrubbo's current legislative efforts to protect nursing home residents include a package of bills that would guarantee patients certain basic rights, provide for unannounced inspections of homes and establish a "nursing home ombudsman" in the Department of Public Advocate.

Says School Budgets, Quality Being Hurt by Inflation

Runaway prices are affecting school budgets to the point where school quality is suffering damage. Reports the New Jersey Education Assn.: "Inflation is cutting deeply into educational programs across the country."

The bad news is reported in the current issue of the teacher association's professional journal, the NJEA Review. Quoting a national survey done by the Education Commission of the States, the NJEA publication states:

"So far, the most widespread cutbacks have occurred in the purchase of instructional materials, in new construction projects, and in the maintenance and repair of school facilities."

"The prospect is that education, which accounts for about 40 per cent of all state-level expenditures in the United States, for a long time to come will be living with austerity."

Actually, reports the NJEA Review, the financial situation in the public schools, the NJEA Review report says, but many of them are at a loss to suggest long-range solutions to the financial squeeze.

"Some officials frankly acknowledge that their agencies have developed no specific anti-inflation plans," the NJEA reports, "and are turning to their legislatures for help, but often without success."

In New Jersey, the NJEA roundup adds, a survey by the N.J. Assn. of School Business Administrators has shown a scarcity of some school items coupled with escalating prices of "nearly everything."

To Demonstrate Garden "How-to's"

An eighth grader from Edison Junior High school will join members of the children's staff of the Westfield Memorial Library in a demonstration of "how-to's" for young gardeners at the House and Garden Plant Show in the Children's Department from 2 to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

The student, Andrea Monroe, will bring in terrariums she has made and explain how she made them. She also will show and discuss different containers that may be used and methods of starting and growing plants indoors.

Miss Margaret Baughman of the children's staff will bring in a large terrarium and explain how it was made, and Mrs. Sally Wehr, children's librarian, will show the children how to plant and grow simple houseplants.

Boys and girls from pre-kindergarten through eighth grade may enter plants in a competition, which will be judged by Stephen Bat-chelder, Union County Agricultural Agent. Entry forms and rules and planting suggestions are available at the children's desk. Plant entries may be made until Apr. 15.

Prizes for the best plants will include seeds and small house plants.

The plant show is part of the children's department's observance of National Library Week, Apr. 14 through 19.

Booklists For "Battered Buyers"

To help beat the high and rising costs of living, the Westfield Memorial Library is offering "Books for Battered Buyers" - book lists that are geared toward saving money and avoiding financial traps.

The booklists, which can be picked up free at both the adult's and children's desks, are part of the library's observance of National Library Week, this week. Included in them are books that deal with cooking and gardening, sewing and crafts, personal finance, occupations, auto repair, home repair, consumer protection and education.

Mrs. Jane Basile, reference librarian, who compiled the lists of "Books for Battered Buyers" was enthusiastic about this latest addition to the list of services the library has to offer the community. "If people only knew how much the library can help them with free information," she said, "they'd come in and take advantage of it."

Ralf Kronsted, Danish goldsmith of the Royal Copenhagen Porcelain Corporation, will exhibit a collection of typically Scandinavian, plain design jewelry, many of which are award winning pieces, from noon to 8:30 p.m. today, and noon to 5:30 tomorrow at Anne Nielson on Elm St. Kronsted served his apprenticeship at A. Michelsen in Copenhagen, Danish Crown Jeweler, and subsequently joined George Jensen of Denmark, until in 1974 he became affiliated with Royal Copenhagen. The exhibition consists of 14 karat gold, sterling silver, and porcelain jewelry.

"Bicentennial Blast" Seeks "Talented People"

An appeal to the "talented, creative people of Westfield" went out today for Bicentennial Blast boutiques.

They'll be featured at a fair at next fall's town-wide fair for the Betty Marik Scholarship Fund. The fund, a memorial to a Roosevelt Junior High School teacher, provides aid for youngsters going into teaching.

Theme of the fair to be held all day October 18 at the Westfield High School is a "Bicentennial Blast", as the nation celebrates its 200th birthday.

Fair co-chairman are Lisa Gorsky and Linda Griswold. Gift items lovingly and painstakingly handcrafted by Westfielders have always been one of the high-points of the fair.

"Beautifully-made things you couldn't purchase anywhere else at twice the price have made fair boutiques immensely successful," points out Fair Boutique Chairman Sue Richards.

"Naturally, it's important to get an early start to give handcrafters time to plan and make the items."

"With the bicentennial theme, and all the possibilities for Colonial crafts, working on the boutique offerings ought to be a greater challenge and more rewarding than ever."

Handknits, crocheted work, embroidery or crewel, quilted and needlepointed items, handfinished or stained items, pottery have all been popular in the past, Mrs. Richard points out.

Hostess gifts, Christmas decorations, dolls and other stuffed animals for children have quickly sold out.

Ceramics have been popular in recent years.

"We're looking for people who will provide items themselves - and those willing to conduct workshops and teach others to make offerings for the boutique."

Interested people are asked to call Mrs. Richards at 233-5587.

Local Teachers Start Dialogues

The Westfield Education Association has initiated a series of parent-teacher dialogues with the Parent Teacher Council. The presidents of the PTA's and PTO's have met, on a rotating basis, with the WEA teacher representatives and principals once a month.

Mrs. Frank P. Elby and

Mrs. William Burke of the PT Council have coordinated the organization of the dialogues with Gaile Boothe, Arthur Vice and Daniel Watkins of the WEA. Topics of mutual concern have been discussed. Anyone interested in the dialogues, should contact the WEA office at 232-2133.

Long Range Planning Needed

Rejection of the school budget... Student enrollments expected to drop to 7,300 in 1980, 6,220 by 2000. Increases in the number of the elderly... These are predictions of things to come in Westfield and the time to start preparing for our changing society is today.

We think that some long-term planning would necessarily involve our school system. With declining school enrollments, particularly at the elementary school level, this should include the consolidation of schools and the elimination of some teaching positions at this age group. Not a popular idea, we are sure, but one which may be an economic necessity.

School buildings - particularly older ones, are expensive to maintain and costly to heat, but it's not easy to give up "old friends," even if they are only brick and glass and concrete.

School districts are even more difficult to realign, but changing times may also dictate that. Fewer teachers? This too may have to happen. Successful big businesses don't retain more employees than they need to operate an efficient operation and the school system is big business - Westfield's biggest business with more employees than any employer in this community.

Should we phase out the Elm St. School and move Board of Education offices across the street thereby saving rental of the house currently used by the board? How expensive is it to maintain Grant School? Should this school, probably Westfield's smallest, be consolidated with other northside schools? Where else should we look to begin the painful process of re-trenching?

How can we make the process least painful for the children, the homeowners, the teaching profession?

We think that serious consideration should be given long-range planning so that parents of school-age children can make appropriate plans should they consider buying a house in Westfield or changing their location here. We think that taxpayers and the senior citizens we all hope to become someday should be assured that their interests, too, are being protected. And the school staff, too, will have to adapt, for quality is not necessarily commensurate to quantity.

Time is needed to avoid mistakes and misunderstandings, to explore the future use of school plants and possible effects on neighborhoods. Once the community is aware of what steps will be taken, and when, residents are much more likely to accept the plans, even though they may not be initially pleased.

Let's bat the future around now, before it hits us first.

Your Local Library:

A Bargain

In these days when too little costs too much - way too much - where can every member of your family, from the youngest to the oldest, go for social activities, entertainment, education and cultural enrichment every day for only $5 a year?

Sounds impossible, doesn't it? Well, that's what the Westfield Memorial Library is offering and will continue to offer for as long as it can absorb its losses internally. It seems inconceivable that in a town as library-oriented as Westfield - where 72 per cent of the residents are registered library members and the number is growing steadily - an allotment of only $5 of each $1,000 collected in taxes goes to cover the myriad of services offered by the library. It's well below the per capita allotment of $8.18 shown for the average library in Union County in the New Jersey Public Library Statistics for 1974.

And this year, the library's allotment of state funds, which totaled $33,720 - $1 per capita - in 1974, may be pared by 25 per cent or more. This means a loss of $8,400 which the library must absorb.

To date, the library has no plans to cut down on the services its patrons have enjoyed. But it can't go on forever absorbing the losses.

Book prices, like everything else, have gone up, while the quality of paper and bindings - hence the longevity of the books - has gone down. Added to this, is the loss of an estimated $5,000 a year in missing and defaced books and other materials.

A security system would cost over $10,000 to install. True, it would pay for itself in two years by cutting down on costly losses. But there are no funds available to pay for its installation.

A survey has shown that the library's patrons want more arts and crafts books and more best sellers. Some have suggested keeping the library open on Saturday nights, Sundays and holidays. It all costs money.

Most of us are aware of the special children's programs, the movies for teenagers, the Senior Citizens' activities, the services to travelers, the reference aids - and many of the other library services. But there are new trends. The Westfield Memorial Library is almost becoming a college library with more and more women going back to school and with both men and women attending adult education programs. The student population has grown and is growing and encompasses a wider age span than ever before. There has been a tremendous upsurge in the use of our inter-library loan service. And it all costs money.

The library looks gratefully to its outside gifts - books and funds for books provided by memorials and through the honorarium of the Friends of the Library. And there are proceeds, too, from the Friends' book sales.

But now, during National Library Week, April 14 through 19, we might all do well to consider just how important our library is to us and to our children and how we can help. And now - not tomorrow or next week - we might write to our local Assemblymen and State Senators and ask that the 25 per cent cut in state aid be restored. It's at least one step in the right direction!

It was once believed that serpents cured blindness with fennel roots.

SEX EDUCATION - BAP

Editor, Leader:
An effort is underway to introduce Benzigers, "Becoming A Person" (B.A.P.), sex education program in the Catholic schools of the Archdiocese of Newark.

Our diocesan consultant on this sex education program is Sister Rosalie Curran. Sister Rosalie calls BAP a religious guidance program geared to reinforce our Catholic value system. In no way would I call BAP a religious guidance program, and there is nothing Catholic about it.

For starters - Father Imborski, the author of BAP, recently left the priesthood to marry his co-author in a civil ceremony. Now I ask you, is this the authority we want directing our children's sexual morality?

What kind of a Catholic sex education program is it which nowhere mentions the word Catholic; nowhere uses the term immortal soul; nowhere mentions the doctrine of original sin. There is no mention of Mary; no mention of the use of the sacraments to help maintain chastity (only one sacrament, Confirmation, is mentioned at all).

Masturbation is considered a form of immaturity. The teaching of the Church is that it is objectively an evil act.

Report From Washington

Congressman Matt Rinaldo

The outpouring of offers by Americans to adopt Vietnamese orphans has revealed the difficulties involved in adopting children, whether they are American or foreign born, for thousands of couples and for single people in the United States.

American couples are having trouble adopting children because most of them want very young children. The liberalization of abortion laws in the United States has made the adoption of foreign children much more common. But another side of the problem is that private adoption agencies in the United States are confronted with a maze of state laws and regulations, and very often lack information on adoptable children in other states.

I was struck by a letter from a New Jersey couple who wrote to me describing their anguish in trying to adopt a baby. They have a good income, a three-bedroom home in the suburbs, and are not able to have children. "Both of us have a great deal of love, understanding and patience, and would enjoy the challenge, excitement and rewards of helping a child grow, love, learn and mature," they wrote.

The adoption agency informed them after several interviews that no white children were available for adoption. They went to another agency that put them on a waiting list with 350 other applicants. They did so with the knowledge that only 75 of the 350 couples would be accepted - because of the lack of adoptable children.

There is not much chance that this couple and many others will ever have the opportunity to adopt an unwanted child or orphan. It is no wonder that several thousand American couples have opened their arms to Vietnamese children despite the cries of a few critics that the children are better off

Home Relocation On Increase

Long distance relocation is steadily accounting for a more significant portion of total home purchases in North America.

Year end 1974 statistics released today by Gallery of Homes, Inc., the nation's oldest and largest residential real estate marketing network, bear out such a noticeable trend.

According to Hank Friedrichs, President of H. Clay Friedrichs, Inc., Realtors, Gallery of Homes, exclusive affiliate in the Westfield, Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Watchung-Warren area, the National Gallery network, accounted for a 33 percent increase in city to city sales in 1973. In turn, 1973 figures were nearly 100 percent larger than 1972.

Total dollar volume of homes sold by Gallery of Homes affiliates also increased substantially in 1974. Nearly 100 million in aggregate home sales were recorded by Gallery in 1974 compared with slightly more than 60 million in 1973.

Realtor Friedrichs predicts an even stronger relocation market in Gallery in 1975. Both despite and because of the turbulent economy, many cross-country moves are taking place.

As they buttress themselves for financial rigors, many companies are moving keymen to new jobs. Employees shifting from jobs with ailing companies to other viable firms also are accounting for many moves.

Friedrichs added that buyers, sellers and the companies they work for are becoming justifiably demanding in the service they expect from a national marketing network.

Their goal is to have a family moved from one city to another promptly, and efficiently. In addition, they expect an equitable sale of the home being left and knowledgeable assistance in selecting a proper new residence. As Realtor Friedrichs sees it, Gallery of Homes with its 1,600 offices throughout the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean is distinctly poised to render the Professional services required by the transferee.

co-sponsored by 125 Members of the House, representing a total of 48 states.

The reason is simple. At the present time, a tax deduction is allowed for certain medical expenses connected with child birth. But with private adoption expenses running as high as $1,000 or more and $500 through a public agency, potential parents are finding it increasingly difficult to afford an adoption. These expenses consist of legal fees, social agency costs which sometimes include the medical care of the natural mother and infant, court costs, and the costs of making social studies to insure that the child is placed in the correct home.

The loss of Federal Revenue would be small when you realize that a child would leave the formal atmosphere of a foster home and become a part of a family. Moreover, a 1972 study by HEW indicated that adoption, as opposed to 18-years of foster care, saves the American taxpayer an average of $60,000 per child. If we can afford a $2,000 tax credit for new home buyers, certainly we can afford to encourage the adoption of children.

Most of the estimated 190,000 orphans are Black, Puerto Ricans, and American Indians. In addition, many of the hard-to-place orphans have physical handicaps, emotional problems, want to be adopted in a group with brothers and sisters, or are considered too old to be placed. Once a child reaches eight years old, it is much more difficult to find a home. In contrast, so many couples want to adopt infants or very young children that they must wait as long as five or six years for a child.

HUNG UP

A wife writes:

I have 4 daughters and now my husband wants us to have another child. He wants a son very badly. I do not want any more children. I can't wait until the last one is out of diapers and I can go to work part-time. But I have a few fears: 1) If I don't go along with my husband's wishes, he'll become angry with me again and Lord knows we argue more than enough. 2) And even if I had another child, a son - how would he treat our daughters? What do you think?

Answer: I can spot three distinct problems which would speak against your having another child. First, you don't want another child. You are happy to have your youngest out of diapers. You want to work part-time. If you submit to your husband's wishes, you will be resentful and become depressed. You will feel more entrenched in your dilemma. Secondly, you say that you argue "more than enough". This would suggest some difficulties in the marriage. If true, this should be evaluated. Thirdly, your husband has a need to have a son. He is not alone in this. But when this possibly becomes an obsession, he is really attempting to satisfy his needs and is using you to this end. Your concern re his relationships with you and your daughters is understandable. The time has come to force him to sit down with you - and a counselor, preferably - to figure out your priorities.

A TV viewer writes:

My family and I enjoy watching the "Rhoda" TV show. Rhoda's mother reminds me of my mother. My mother made me feel guilty whenever I did what I wanted to and not what she wanted me to do. She would say things like "Go ahead - do whatever you want - don't worry whether you upset me or not" or, "go ahead - aggravate me - I have a strong heart, I can take anything..." She made me feel very guilty when I opposed her wishes. The funny part is, I still feel guilty today whenever I do something that she doesn't like (or that anyone might not like). I just don't tell her about it. Is it so wrong?

Answer: We all grow up with definite attitudes and feelings which stay with us for a lifetime and which we carry into our relationships with all people. There is no right or wrong in your behavior; I think it unfortunate that you have to walk around with so much guilt and discomfort, and that mother and her judgments of you are in your everyday thoughts and feelings. Would it not be nice if you could say and do whatever you wanted without feeling guilty? Without worrying about the other person's reactions, expectations? It doesn't appear that you are a free agent - an adult who has to use her own judgments and decisions and pay the consequences whatever they are. I would encourage you to talk to a professional counselor if you continue to feel guilty and want to change. Everything hinges on your comfort or discomfort re how you handle your feelings.

A teen-ager writes:

I have a terrible habit of eating everytime I have an argument with my parents. I don't even have to be hungry to eat. But I get so mad and the food feels so good. I have a weight problem and I'm beginning to look like a hippy. Why does the food taste so good when I'm upset?

Answer: Many people eat whenever they are anxious. They feel upset and frustrated and will eat almost anything available. One person once told me "I feel like I'm filling a gap inside of me - an empty, deep gap". We frequently associate food with feeling good - and feeling loved. As infants, as children, so much of our lives were filled with putting things into our mouths to satisfy us and help us feel comfortable: thumb sucking, pacifiers, bottles, liquids, foods. Many times, our mothers showed love and caring by feeding us and showing concern over what we ate. We are told, as we grow up, that we will feel content and less frustrated if we put something into our mouths - foods, tranquilizers, sleeping aids, dieting aids, "the pill", etc. Frequently, when one becomes upset, and the anxiety continues, food is seen as a comforting aid, not really related to physical hunger. But the food may fill an emotional gap. It may help one feel emotionally satisfied, less alone and unloved. Often, too, over-eating may also be an angry way of getting back at mother. It is in your best interest to speak to a counselor should this over-eating problem continue.

YWCA Celebrates YW Week

The 1,853 members of the YWCA in Westfield will join with the more than two million members around the country to celebrate National YWCA Week, April 20-26.

"This year, the theme, 'Women on the Move,' reinforces the YWCA's commitment to women and girls, and to work toward the elimination of racism," said Mrs. Jeanne Attenborough, president. "Moreover, the YWCA's emphasis on the provision of peace, justice, freedom, and dignity for all people has been expanded to include specific empowerment of women, youth, and Third World people."

Mrs. Attenborough continued: "Since we recognize every year as women's year in the YWCA, we know our total thrust has to go past any attempts merely to 'piggyback' on the activities scheduled for International Women's Year, and really deal with our priorities for women and

(Performing a vital function for the youth of the community - the Children, Youth and Recreation Committee of the Westfield Parent-Teacher Council.)

The function of the Children, Youth and Recreation Committee is to research and discuss programs available to young people and to learn about and discuss problems affecting young people.

This year the committee heard Mr. Pat Schriver, director of the Four Seasons Outdoor Center, describe the recreational activities available to families and the opportunities for young people in the camping programs sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA at the Center.

Miss Jeanne Desrochers, head librarian of the Memorial Library, discussed the programs offered at the library for people of all ages and discussed specific problems such as the theft and destruction of library materials, which parents should become aware of.

Mrs. William Burke described the work of a Mayor's Advisory Task Force, which was created to study bicycle safety in Westfield. Their work

Council Offers

Free Story Hour

In keeping with its purpose to provide free educational and recreational programs for area children, the Westfield Neighborhood Council, along with the Urban Council of the First United Methodist Church is launching a free story hour program, beginning April 23, it will be held Wednesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 until 11:30.

It will provide an environment where concerned people will promote the children's growth in terms of their individual personalities while helping to develop and maintain basic values: a sense of curiosity, responsibility and achievement.

There will be nursery school type learning experiences. A variety of materials will help stimulate the children's imagination and develop their manual skills. The children will learn good manners, to respect one another's rights and belongings and develop a sense of fair play.

The program will be staffed by volunteers under the supervision of Sue Rowe. Volunteers include: Nancy Bates, Joy Cowles, Frances Goodwin, Alberta Jacobs, Jerry Leuteritz and Gail Via.

The program is for 3 and 4 year olds and will be limited to 16 youngsters. They may be registered at the Westfield Neighborhood Council, 127 Cacciola Pl., any weekday morning.

At a recent committee meeting with Police Chief Moran it was learned that the trends in drug use and juvenile offenses in Westfield are following the patterns of the nation generally. Although the use of hard drugs among the youth appears to be diminishing, the use of marijuana and alcohol is increasing. Vandalism in Westfield is at an all time high. He appealed to parents to know where their children are and to check on their activities.

Annual Pinewood Derby Held by Grant Cubs

Shouts and cheers filled the Grant School auditorium Friday evening as Cub Pack 170 held its 1975 Pinewood Derby car race. Awards were given for the fastest and best made car in each den and in the pack as a whole. Derby cars are made by each boy, with some help from his Mom or Dad, from a kit supplied by the pack. To conform to the Derby rules, cars must not exceed certain fixed dimensions. The starting end of the Derby track is raised above ground to provide initial momentum for the motorless cars. Winning cars are well lubricated and sleekly styled to provide a minimum of resistance.

Winning gold medals were Danny Brotman of Den 3, Chris Conabee of Den 2, Alex Helander of Den 7 and Jon Pollack of the Webelos Den 1. Second place silver medals were awarded to Milton Ball, Den 3; Paul Frantz, Den 2; Tim Gaffney, Den 7; and Steve Pearson, Den 1. Bronze medals for third place were earned by Kevin Price of Den 3, John Tretout of Den 2, Vic Pecore of Den 7 and E.J. Rowland of Den 1.

Receiving a huge trophy as the over-all race champion was Webelos winner Jon Pollack. Danny

Brotman earned the runner-up trophy after a close fiveheat run-off. Wild card finalist entry Steve Pearson was awarded a bronze plaque for placing third in the final races.

An additional trophy was awarded to John Tretout for Best Workmanship in the entire Pack. Vic Pecore, Danny Brotman and Mike Garafalo won silver medals for best workmanship in their respective Dens. All awards were presented by Derby Chairman Vic Pecore.

Cubmaster Marty Pollack announced that the final Pack meeting of the season would be held May 18. A family picnic will be held on June 1.

YWCA Schedules Women's Program

The Westfield YWCA has scheduled classes for adult women interested in learning the fundamentals of synchronized swimming. Fashioned after the training program used by the Westfield Aquaplates, the program will concentrate on basic synchronized swimming figures, body control and coordination. The program will highlight physical fitness as a prime objective while progressively learning the sport of synchronized swimming. The program is open to women aged 18 to 35 increased in swimming for fun while learning to perform water ballet figures as outlined in the basic A A U rules for synchronized swimming. The program will be conducted by Lorraine Pasullo, former National Solo Synchronized swim champion, who is the instructor for the Aquaplates, New Jersey State Synchronized Swimming Champions since 1972.

Registration will start Wednesday, April 23 at the YWCA desk. Instruction classes and general information will start at 10 a.m. April 23. For details involving pre-requisites, interested applicants may call the YWCA desk.

Guides to Spend Day At YS Four Seasons Center

Every boy and girl in the Westfield area who will be in first, second or third grade next year is invited to attend an Indian Guide-Indian Princess Fun Day at the Four Seasons Outdoor Center on Apr. 27.

Highlight of the afternoon will be an appearance by the Thunderbird Indian Dancers from the McBurney YMCA in New York City. They'll present a program of Indian dances, then show the audience how to do them.

But that's not all. A craft show, to exhibit to visitors and other tribes what Indian Guides and Indian Princesses of the Westfield YMCA have accomplished this year will be featured.

A picnic will finish off the day. A chance to explore the 153-acres of the Outdoor Center, 35 miles away in Lebanon Township will also be featured.

"It's a family affair," points out Pat Schriber, who directs the Y's Indian Guide and Princess Program. "Moms, and older or younger brothers and sisters are invited."

One of the most successful of Westfield Y programs, the Y-Indian Guide and Y-Indian Princess program is based on the belief that Dad plays a vital family role as teacher, counselor and friend to his son or daughter.

The Y believes father can influence his child in many healthy ways - and have a wonderful time in the process. Therefore, the program provides the time for him to fill that role in the typically busy schedule of the modern male.

To foster companionship of father and child, fathers and sons are organized in Y-Indian Guide tribes of 6 to 8 pairs; fathers and daughters into tribes of Y-Indian Princesses on a school or neighborhood basis.

Tribes meet in the homes of their members and the program picks up the activities and interests the big and little braves and princesses enjoy most - everything from winter and spring campouts to candlelight dinners, Indian dancing and crafts, swimming, hiking, fishing, trips to interesting places.

Will Demonstrate Making Tin Ware

Club Names Students For Girls' State

Two girls who are juniors at Westfield High School have been chosen as delegate and alternate to The Citizenship Institute June 14-20 at Douglass College to represent the Women's Club of Westfield. Jill Vejnoska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Vejnoska of 9 Bates Way, is delegate and Paula Bagger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Bagger, 1840 E. Broad St., is alternate.

The decision was made by vote of the faculty of the High School at the request of the club. The Institute is sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs and representatives are sent from each of the clubs in the Federation for a week to learn of social and political problems of contemporary society and to encourage original thought on women's role in the coming decades. The girls will tour the college, live in a dormitory, participate in athletics, present a skit for fun night and give a concert.

Paula Bagger

Jill, a member of the North Atlantic State Evaluations Committee, will be editor next year of the High School Yearbook. She has been a life-guard at the Highland Swim Club, participated in the National Council of Teachers of English writing contest, is a member of the school chorus and has competed on the YWCA swim team for five years. Jill has been a cheerleader for 2 years.

Jill Vejnoska

Paula will be associate editor of next year's school Yearbook. She has been a member of the Westfield YWCA swim team for 10 years, is on the steering committee for the Middle States Evaluation of the high school. She also has been a life guard at Westfield Memorial Pool, vice-president of the French Club and teaches Sunday School at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Annual Meeting Of S.A.R. Set For Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Westfield Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Watonsk Room, Municipal Building will feature a presentation by the Historic Arts Committee of the Junior League of Elizabeth and Cranford entitled "Belcher-Ogden Mansion, a Landmark - Restored." Following the social hour, officers will report on patriotic accomplishments of the past year, a new slate of officers will be elected, and plans for the Bicentennial Year will be discussed.

The Belcher-Ogden Mansion and nearby Boudinot House in Elizabeth are two of the most distinguished Colonial buildings in New Jersey. Belcher and Ogden were early governors of New Jersey. Washington and Lafayette are said to have been wedding guests in the mansion when the then owner and Revolutionary War leader, William Peartrees Smith, married his daughter Catherine to Elias Boudinot. Lafayette was again a visitor during his triumphant tour of America in 1824.

Built in the late 1600's by John Ogden, the Pilgrim, the mansion has passed through many owners and has recently been completely restored by the Elizabethtown Historical Foundation. The 30 minute slide presentation by Mrs. William O'Herron and Mrs.

Larry Biederman will depict the restoration process while the commentary will relate the historical events associated with this landmark.

Members, friends and guests are invited. More information may be obtained by telephoning John H. Wachter, 232-5074.

Detective Speaks

To Old Guard

The April 10 meeting of the Old Guard of Westfield held in the YMCA featured a talk by Valentine Corell of Westfield, an Old Guard member and former Chief of Detectives in New York City, who retired with the rank of Inspector. Mr. Corell spoke on crime prevention, using incidents ranging from his initial assignments to the Bomb Squad in 1913 to security measures in World War I and later activities relating to bootleggers, extortionists and gambling.

Louis E. Ehlen of Westfield was welcomed into membership and a life membership badge was presented to Wesley J. Moren on attainment of his 90th birthday.

With program planning in mind, vice-director Gerald Muller announced that the meeting today will center on a discussion of "What is the Old Guard, its interests, preferences for its weekly programs, and its future?"

Wednesday, May 7, Old Guard bowlers will hold a tournament at Federal Lanes matching the best of the Federal Lanes group against the best of the Clark Lanes group.

A May 14 luncheon is planned at the Watchung View Inn where the program includes the show "Odd Couple".

Local Scouts Begin "Raft-a-thon Trip"

Saturday an historic "first" took place in Minnowskin Park as the Leadership Corps of Westfield Scout Troop 172 launched two rafts they constructed for a 200 mile "Raft-a-thon" down the Delaware River. Pledges of more than $10.00 per mile ($2300.) have been received from various businesses, organizations, and individuals for the benefit of the Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children.

An enthusiastic crowd witnessed Miss Susan Newcomb and Miss Denise Smithman, members of Girl Scout Troop 778, christen the patriotic red, white, and blue rafts "Freedom Rafts I and II". The Reverend W.J. Murray of the First Baptist Church gave the invocation prior to the christening.

Councilman Thomas A. Pluta, representing Mayor Alexander S. Williams and the Town of Westfield, commended the patriotism, initiative and community concern of the scouts and their leader, assured the boys of Westfield's pride in their accomplishment, and wished them well on their 5 day journey.

Stan Corwin, Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 172 and Advisor to the "Raft-a-thon" group explained the route and techniques to be used on the river.

Mrs. Joseph H. Pate, chairman of the Westfield Bicentennial Committee, announced that the raft expedition has been accepted as an official Bicentennial Project in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord on April 19, the last day of the trip. Mrs. Pate presented the group with an official American Revolution Bicentennial Flag to be carried down the river, and expressed the best wishes of the Westfield Bicentennial Committee for a safe voyage.

The Union County Unit, NJARC was represented by Mrs. C.P. Reis, treasurer, who expressed the unit's appreciation for the fund raising activity. Her appreciation was echoed by Scoutmaster Walter C. Douglas of Special Troop 276, whose members were on hand to witness the launching. Owen Waltman, chairman of the Troop Committee, and father of one of the rafters, served as master of ceremonies.

Following the ceremony, the rafts were transported to Hancock, N.Y. on a Dow Chemical Co. Truck where the branches of the Delaware meet to form a single river. The watery journey began at 5:30 with current strength of 6-8 MPH.

and water temperature of 38 degrees F. They expect to arrive in Trenton Saturday where they hope to be greeted by Gov. Brendan Byrne and members of the Trenton Bicentennial Committee.

The scouts are Dave Brunauell, Bruce Clark, Pete Hoff, Chuck Irwin, Jim Longenbach, Chris Paul, Dave Schantz, Bob Sullebarger, Dennis Tourangeau, and Mark Waltman. Tim Avis and Steve Kennedy are alternates. Members of the Leadership Corps of Troop 172 are senior scouts who provide instruction, demonstrations and carry a major share of leadership responsibilities of the troop which is sponsored by the Franklin School PTA. Their interest in retarded children was kindled when they served as volunteer aides on several outings of Troop 276 for special scouts, sponsored by the Union County Unit of NJARC.

The rafts were designed by Corwin and constructed by the boys with all lumber, paint, steel, cable, and drums donated by local companies. Each is built around eight steel drums tied together with nylon-sheathed steel cable. Twenty-six inch planks make up the frame which is topped with a plywood deck. Each raft has two 12 foot sweep oars for steering in addition to poles and paddles for navigational aids. The rafts are equipped with canvas canopies which can be rigged like tents in case of rain.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution is invited to send it to Stan Corwin, 77 Fair Hill Dr., Westfield, with checks made payable to the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children.

Atmosphere Topic For Astronomers

Those interested in learning about the variety of atmospheres that surround the far-flung planets are invited to attend tomorrow's meeting of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., beginning at 8 p.m. in Union College's Cranford Campus Theatre.

The guest speaker will be Dr. John F. Moore of Plainfield, director of engineering at SPEX Industries, Inc. of Metuchen, and chairman of a U.S. Navy Advisory Board for Research and Development.

Amateur Astronomers, Inc. is the organization that operates the Sperry Observatory on Union College's Cranford Campus in cooperation with the College.

Dr. Moore's lecture, entitled "Planetary Atmosphere," will deal with the many varieties of "gaseous envelopes" that surround the most famous heavenly headlines. In addition to a wide differential in composite matter, each planet's atmospheric intensity differs greatly from that of its far-off neighbors. For example, Venus is surrounded with an extremely thick atmosphere while that of Mars is extremely thin. The moon has no atmosphere at all.

Stars Brighten Paper Mill

Arlene Dahl, Julie Newmar and Scott McKay are co-starring in "The Marriage-Go-Round" at Paper Mill Playhouse which opened April 16 to an enthusiastic audience. The sophisticated comedy will run through May 4.

Miss Dahl and Miss Newmar, renowned for their beauty, are cast as a chic professor and a sleek Swede. McKay is cast as the academician married to one and nearly seduced by the other.

The story is a light-hearted account of an avant-garde genetic experiment; Mix one happily married college professor with one noble Scandinavian chick (who thought of the idea in the first place), add the supposed consent of the wife (who matches him in brains and her in beauty) and the result should be a Super Person - right? Wrong! As "The Marriage-Go-Round" reviles, so does the man's indecision: Should fidelity supersede scientific advancement?

Admiring Doorstop Dolls which will be among the many items sold in the "Country Store" during the annual Westfield Antiques Sale April 29, 30 and May 1 in the Congregational Church are, from left, Mesdames Dean Cherrington, James M. Freeman, Henry F. Koller and Walter Berghahn.

Country Store To Offer Crafts At Antique Show

Pretty things like patchwork skirts and nonsense things like tooth fairy pillows are among the hundreds of crafts being made for sale in a special section during the first Congregational Church Antiques Show, April 29, 30, and May 1.

Throughout the winter women of the church have been gathering at workshops, held in homes, to fashion the needlework and knickknacks that have been popular in the Country Store section of the Antiques

Show. According to Mrs. James Freeman, who has held several workshops, some of the items, like the fanciful little Polish witches, are hard to stock because the church women themselves buy them the minute they are completed.

Among the other needlework turned out at the workshops are "mama-san" Japanese aprons, patchwork tennis covers, needlepoint cases and burp towels.

One church man has assisted the women by turning out handtooled lamp bases and Swedish candlesticks in his basement workshop.

The store's food counter will have a large wheel of cheddar cheese, bags of carmel corn prepared in the church kitchen, and dozens of cakes and pastries.

The Antique Show will be held at the church parish house, 125 Elmer St. Lunches will be served each day.

Discussing plans for "One Week for UJA" are, from left, Eileen Nathanson, Westfield and Mountainside coordinator; Fran Gold, public relations and publicity chairman for "One Week"; and Valerie Feigenbaum, chairman of hostesses. "One Week for UJA" will be held from April 25 through May 1.

"One Week For UJA" To Begin April 25

"One Week for UJA," sponsored by the Women's Division of the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey, is scheduled for the week of April 25-May 1.

In other years, the event spanned just one day but it has been enlarged to "One Week for UJA" this year to "reach out more effectively to the Jewish women in our community," said Mrs. Eileen Nathanson, chairman. "Our goal," she continued, "is to include every woman in our plans and to convey to them the great needs of our local area, overseas and in Israel. We also want to give as many women possible an opportunity to make a commitment to the 1975 campaign."

The week will begin with UJA Sabbaths on Friday evening, April 25 at temples in each community.

A Business and Professional Women's Brunch is planned for 10:30 a.m. Sunday, April 27, at the Y.M.-Y.W.H.A. Union.

From Monday, April 28 until Thursday, May 1, "One Week" will continue with coffees held in homes in every town throughout the area. Meeting in small groups, women will have the opportunity to be informed by speakers from Israel and also from among the Jewish leaders from our country. Coffees are planned for different times of the day and evening so as to be convenient for all who wish to attend.

Westfield women working on "One Week" are Valerie Feigenbaum, hostess chairman; Fran Gold, public relations and publicity chairman; Eileen Nathanson and Sue Heller, Westfield and Mountainside area coordinators.

Hostess will be Sue Horowitz of Highland Ave., Rhoda Lowenstein of Breeze Knoll Dr., Betsy Haveson of Otisco Dr., Sadie Schoss of Knollwood Terr. and Carole Kabakow of Clifton St.

N.J. Symphony To Give Three Concerts Here Next Season

Mrs. Charles R. Mayer, subscription chairman of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League's Westfield Chapter, has announced that that musical ensemble will be returning to Westfield for its seventh consecutive year.

As in the past, a three-concert series will be given in Westfield High School at 8:30 p.m. on one Friday and two Saturday evenings.

Music director of the Symphony, Henry Lewis, will conduct the first two; guest conductor Sixten Ehrling will be on the podium for the final concert. The dates are Nov. 1, Jan. 16 and April 10. According to Mrs. Mayer, the Symphony expects to duplicate the success of its 1974-75 "sold out" status in Westfield.

On Nov. 1, the electrifying Cuban-American, Jorge Bolet, will be featured guest soloist in two works for piano and orchestra: "The Symphonic Variations" of Cesar Franck and Franz Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasy." Harold Schonberg of the New York Times says of Bolet, "He is one of the great Liszt pianists of the century, with the fingers of a Horowitz and the tone of a Lhevinne, and his Liszt playing is without peer in the world today." The Program will open with Haydn's "Symphony No. 102" and conclude with one of the most dazzling orchestral showpieces of all time, Ottorino Respighi's "The Pines of Rome."

Mayumi Fujikawa, the young 1970 Tchaikovsky Competition Silver Medal winner, will be heard on Jan. 16. Miss Fujikawa will be performing her brilliant interpretation of Alexander

Jorge Bolet

Glazounov's "Violin Concerto." The program will additionally include Robert Schumann's "Fourth Symphony" and a new composition by a New Jersey composer whose identity will be revealed later.

Guest Conductor Sixten Ehrling will take over the Orchestra April 10 for an all-orchestral program. Maestro Ehrling is remembered for conducting last season the first complete Ring Cycle at the Metropolitan Opera House in almost three decades. His program here will consist of Beethoven's "Symphony No. 8," the "Bacchus and Ariadne Suite" of the contemporary French composer, Albert Roussel, and Shostakovich's historic "Symphony No. 5."

Subscriptions to the concert series are now being offered at a 33 1/3 per cent discount from regular box office prices. For information, call Mrs. Mayer, Subscription Chairman, 220 Eton Pl., or contact the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, 150 Halsey Street, Newark.

Day Care Center Registering For Summer Program

ARE YOU IN HOT WATER? By Charlotte Mitchell

Director of
Consumer Information
Elizabethtown Gas

Hot water is a strong weapon against dirt, disease and infection. It is also a prerequisite for everyone who takes pride in personal appearance and a clean home.

You can get the hot water you need with a modern gas water heater. Today's gas water heater is a fully automatic appliance which is designed to be on duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The quick recovery performance—or heating more water to replace hot water used—of a gas water heater properly sized to the needs of a household can deliver oceans of hot water when needed.

Family needs determine correct size of the water heater. To be sized correctly, it should have enough capacity to provide all the hot water used in the peak use period in your home.

A water heater improperly sized wastes water, money and fuel. When replacing a water heater a good rule to follow is to choose the next size larger.

To help determine your hot water requirements, here are the average hot water quantities needed for normal household and hygienic tasks:

	Gallons
Bathing (shower, tub)	10-15
Washing hands and face daily	1-3
Shampooing hair	3-5
Automatic washer (per load)	18-30
Automatic dishwasher (per load)	6-12
Hand dishwashing (per meal)	2-5
Rinsing (per meal)	1-4
Food preparation	2-5
General housecleaning (floors, etc.)	2-10

Abortion Survey Underway

The Right to Life Committee of Union County has begun a voter survey on the question of abortion.

Already underway, it is intended to target those voters who will form the basis for a pro-life voting block. Mary Ellen Mulholland, chairwoman, has stated that a survey in other states has proven to be instrumental in the elections of pro-life candidates at all levels of government.

According to the committee, the major political parties are going to have to consider which candidates will best attract the anti-abortion, anti-euthanasia voter.

Former Pastor Reuning Returns for Redeemer's 50th Anniversary

Mayor Alexander Williams has signed a 50th Anniversary Proclamation of Redeemer Lutheran Church, setting aside April 20 as Redeemer Lutheran Church's 50th Anniversary Week and urged all citizens of the community to join the members of Redeemer in its commemoration of an important segment of local history.

The Rev. Walter A. Reuning, pastor emeritus, now of St. Petersburg, Fla., who was pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church from 1923-1940, will be the featured speaker at the "Fiftieth Anniversary Dinner" to be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Westfield. William Heine of Mountaintop, member of Redeemer, will serve as master of ceremonies for the dinner. Mayor Al

Williams will attend the dinner to bring greetings from the community of Westfield. Chorus of the parish will furnish musical selections along with some community singing. The historical feature film strip will be presented by Louis Hestrich of Cranford, a member of the parish. The Rev. Willis Fegemeier, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church of Elizabeth, circuit counselor, will present the greetings of the New Jersey District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, of which Redeemer is affiliated with in the State and nationally.

Members of the clergy of the community and jurisdiction, parishioners past and present, friends of Redeemer and people of the community will be in attendance at the anniversary dinner.

The second weekend anniversary event will be a special "Anniversary Service of Praise and Thanksgiving" to God for blessings upon the parish and community. The theme selected for the 50th anniversary year of Redeemer is taken from Isaiah 41:10, "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord." The guest preacher for the anniversary service will be the Rev. Reuning. The Rev. Walter L. Zeile, president of the New Jersey District, will participate in the service and also speak. The Rev. Eugene A. Rehwinkel, pastor, will serve as liturgist and celebrant and Vicar Kim Bode, intern, will serve as the lector. The deacons for the service will be Harry De Rozario and Melvin Erdman. Acolytes for the service are Kurt Stock, Norman Geuder, Paul Becker and Jeffrey Hueston. All four parish choirs will participate in the service under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lou Stevens and Alan Koch. The two 50th anniversary banners, one for window display done by Mrs. Mina Sturck and Mrs. Edna Klein, and the processional banner designed by a former vicar, the Rev. Terry Dittmer of New Orleans, and made by youth and adults under the direction of Mrs. Rowena Matz and Donald Blumard. The anniversary service will be incorporated in the "Fiftieth Anniversary Booklet" to be given out at the service. Glean Klinefleiter, anniversary booklet chairman stated.

The special "Fiftieth Anniversary Thankoffering" of the parish will be received and given to the newest mission parish in the New Jersey District, Village Lutheran Church of Forked River, as the congregation remembers how it was financially assisted in 1925 by the jurisdiction. Also participating in the service in behalf of Village Lutheran Church will be the Rev. Dr. Richard Schultz, pastor of the Forked River congregation.

Walter Blanken and Mrs. Donald Baeder, co-chairman of the 50th anniversary committee are grateful to the mayor's office, members of the community ministerium and the community of Westfield for their letters of congratulations, their prayers and expressions of appreciation. "For the members of Redeemer Lutheran Church, as we daily celebrate life in God and proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ, on this our 50th anniversary, we are grateful to be a part of this Community, and ask that we could be used by almighty God in greater service to God and our fellowmen as we look forward to continued truths and values of commitment of the Judeo-Christian tradition," stated Pastor Rehwinkel.

The mayor's proclamation reads: "Whereas the growth and development of our Town and Community of Westfield, of our State and of our Nation has been nurtured by the religious faith and dedication of our citizens, and

"Whereas the Town of Westfield has enjoyed a long heritage of religious freedom and has grown and matured from the service offered by all the Churches and the Temple in the Community, and

"Whereas Redeemer Lutheran Church of Westfield has contributed to this growth and development by its education programs and its commitment to the truths and values of the Judeo-Christian tradition, and

"Whereas Redeemer Lutheran Church has now completed 50 years of service and concern for the affairs of God and the Community, celebrating the Fiftieth Anniversary on Sunday, April 20, 1975, and

"Whereas Redeemer Lutheran Church of Westfield is grateful to Almighty God for the blessings we have received in this Community as a part of the "Community of Christ" in this place, grateful to the People of the Community, grateful to the religious community, and looking forward to greater service to God and our fellowman in the future, in our Community, State, Nation and World,

"Therefore, I, Alexander Williams, Mayor of the Town of Westfield, do hereby proclaim the week of April 20 to April 26, 1975 as Redeemer Lutheran Church Fiftieth Anniversary Week and urge all citizens of our Community to join the members of Redeemer Lutheran Church in its commemoration of an important segment of our local history.

In celebration of National YWCA Week, April 20-26, the YWCA is launching a membership drive. The Membership Committee, under the direction of Earlene Troeger, will call women and girls who are not presently affiliated with the YW.

"Being a member is such a good investment for every woman and girl as a person because the YW offers so many courses and activities as well as opportunities for new friendships," states

The Scotch Plains Players are well into rehearsals for "Zorba," the musical version of "Zorba, the Greek" which is being directed by Marcy Decker, assisted by Ira Kraemer on music and Bill Ingalls on dance. "Zorba" will be presented May 23, 24, 30 and 31 at Terrill Junior High School.

Co-producers are Sonia Lewis and Jerry Garrison. The crew includes Paul Preuss, lights; Betsy

Mrs. Troeger. "But more than that, being a member means being part of an international women's movement that since 1855 has pursued a commitment to human rights with freedom, dignity, and justice for all."

Presently there are 2,417 women, 1,249 girls, and 297 Y-Teens who are members of the YW here. "You can tell from our membership figures that we are already serving a large number of women and girls. But we have plenty of room for more. We need the YW in this community," says Mrs. Troeger, "and one of the best ways to show support for it is to join if you're not now a member." Anyone wishing membership who is not contacted by phone may call the YW for further information.

Common Cause Meets Here

Common Cause of the 12th N.J. Congressional District held a public meeting Thursday at Temple Emanuel-EI here. The meeting was addressed by a number of state and national officers of the organization, which was founded in 1970 by John Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare in the Johnson administration. Its present membership is over 300,000 nationally and 13,000 in New Jersey. National Board member Dinah Stevens described the early years of the organization. N.J. State Chairman Dick Zimmer reported the current campaign in Trenton for legislation to open up meetings of governmental bodies to the public, to reform gubernatorial primaries, and to require public officials to disclose their income and assets. N.J. Executive Director Nancy Becker provided insights on lobbying.

As the major Common Cause accomplishments on the national scene, the speakers cited open committee hearings and the end of the seniority system in the House of Representatives, and new legislation passed by Congress to reform campaign financing. Common Cause also took a leading part in the campaigns against the Viet Nam war and the supersonic transport. The organization is now increasing its activity in the area of political party reform, and is holding a seminar on this subject from 1 to 5 p.m. this Saturday in Dickinson Hall of Douglass College in New Brunswick.

Marvin Gilbert of Westfield, the newly elected district coordinator, presided at the meeting. He presented a scroll of thanks to his predecessor, Linda Brewer of Mountainside, and introduced the committee heads: Beth Bjorklie, Laura Kerecky, Dick Mathison, and E. Klingberg. He extended an open invitation to the meetings of the district steering committee, held on the third Wednesday evening of each month at the Bjorklie residence, 122 N. Euclid Ave.

Moravian Alumni To Meet Monday

Volunteers in the northern New Jersey area in the Moravian College $0.1-million imperative Step campaign will launch that portion of the fund drive Monday at The Towers in Mountainside. A reception will be held at 7:30 p.m., followed by an 8 o'clock dinner.

William S. March, Mountainside, class of 1968, is area vice chairman.

Team captains include Glen Bliswode of Mountainside, and Mrs. Sandra Arden of Westfield.

Riders Get Stickers for Contest

James Englehart, Jon Keelenko and Marvin (Chip) Stith are busy getting their orange safety stickers affixed to their bikes in readiness for the "spotters' contest."

If during the four weeks in May a rider is spotted by designated "spotters" obeying the rules of the road he or she may be stopped. If the sticker is on and the bike is registered and has an audible signal the rider will be one of the winners of the Westfield Safety Bike Contest. The reward is $5.00. The stickers will soon be distributed at schools and stores to be announced later. No more than one sticker per bike will be allowed.

Local Girl's Poem In New Book

A poem by Amy Daly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daly of St. Marks Ave., is now part of a new book, There's a Sound in the Sea, A child's-Eye View of the Whale, just published by The Scrimshaw Press, San Francisco.

Her work, along with pictures and poems of other children was sent to Tamar Griggs in 1972 in response to a request she made through several magazines for children to submit poetry and paintings which showed their feelings about the plight of their friend the whale. Out of 15,000 responses, Ms. Griggs edited and compiled the 68 pictures and 27 poems which make up There's a Sound in the Sea. The book expresses a plea to help save the whale from extinction.

Among some Central African tribes it was a cause for divorce if the husband was too lazy to sew his wife's clothes.

Today is "New Jersey Day"

Today is "New Jersey Day" - and every community in the State has been urged to celebrate the next "New Jersey Day" during the key Bicentennial year of 1975 by planting a "Liberty Tree."

The suggestion has been forwarded to every mayor in the State by the New Jersey Bicentennial Commission with the endorsement of Governor Brendan T. Byrne.

In 1970, the State Legislature designated April 17th of every year as "New Jersey Day." It commemorates the decree signed on Apr. 17, 1702, by Queen Ann of England consolidating East Jersey and West Jersey into the geographic area that today constitutes the State of New Jersey.

The State Bicentennial

Commission said the "Liberty Tree" program would be an excellent way to combine statewide participation in the national Bicentennial celebration with a date of special significance to New Jersey.

The Commission has recommended that young red oaks, the State tree of New Jersey, be used as "Liberty Trees." The proposal was sent to every community a year in advance because of the considerable amount of planning necessary to obtain the trees, select suitable sites and arrange appropriate ceremonies.

In many colonial towns, a "Liberty Tree" marked the spot where local leaders gathered to plan the birth of independence from England. The trees became a focal point and symbol of the struggle for freedom. Barclay Morrison of Morristown, chairman of the Bicentennial Commission's Liberty Tree Committee, said today:

"We are proposing that each community rededicate itself to the ideals of freedom and justice by planting a 'Liberty Tree' in an appropriate public place."

Devil Trackmen Score Well In First Meets

By Paul Lewis

Excitement and tension were the key words last week for members of the Senior High School spring track team, as it battled down to the wire in two hard fought dual meets and struggled to defend its Union County Relay crown.

While in the process of defeating Columbia 70-61 Tuesday and losing a heartbreaker to Summit 72-68 Thursday, several stunning performances and fantastic races were turned in. Most of the highlights came from the events in the county relays. Westfield emerged from Saturday's relay battle at Williams Field, Elizabeth, with a third place total of 29 points, behind Plainfield with 39 and Roselle Catholic at 30. Scotch Plains captured fourth place with 26 points and Springfield snapped up fifth with 24½.

The two mile relay was the only record shattering event of the day, as both Westfield and Roselle Catholic destroyed the old county relay record of 8:00.7. In the meantime, the all junior team of Lew Graves, Marc Giguere, Brian Clancey and Andy Hubsch, set a new school record at 7:56.7, though it lost the race to R.C. by two tenths of a second. Graves led off and his 1:59.7 was faster than anyone else and he handed off to Giguere with a three yard lead over R.C. Giguere came through with a 2:02.0 which was good enough for second place. Clancey's time of 2:00.7 kept Westfield in second place but R.C. managed to gain a seven second lead. Westfield appeared to be out of the race for first at this point. Andy Hubsch then ran the second fastest half in WHS history at 1:54.3 and brought Westfield within a yard of winning the race.

The only gold medals earned by Westfield came in the mile relay as juniors John Aloia (53), Lew Graves (51.9), Andy Hubsch (49.4) and Tri-captain Frank Polese (52.3) managed to edge out Scotch Plains for the victory. Hubsch again brought Westfield from behind but had the satisfaction of anchoring a winning team this time.

Two other relays took second place, the high jump and four mile. While the efforts of senior Pete Nostrand (5' 10½") and juniors Jim Thomas (5' 10½") and Rod Pederson (5' 7") were not enough to beat Plainfield, their total of 17' 3½" was enough to emerge from a tightly contested field and take second. The four mile relay was no different, as the real battle was for second place. Roselle Catholic ran away from the field to win easily in 18:19.5. Westfield battled with Plainfield and Scotch Plains down to the wire for the silver medal. Two juniors, Jeff Nelson (4:39.0) and Paynter Ingram

(4:44.0) ran the opening legs and kept Westfield in the race. It was up to sophomores Terry Brady (4:46) and Mike O'Brien (4:35.4) to keep Westfield in it the last two miles. The pack made up distance on Brady, who was in second, even though he ran the fastest mile of his life, and challenged O'Brien until the last quarter, where his 62.4 time was enough to out-distance any competition.

Gathering third places in the county were the javelin relay of senior Greg Wanko (157' 9"), Jim Kinsella (155' 1") and junior Bob Czarny (142' 11") and the 880 Relay featuring Aloia (23.9) and seniors Frank Boate (23.6), Polese (23.2) and Glen Kehler (23.0).

A new event, along with the javelin, long jump and pole vault relays was the discus relay. Westfield captured fourth by the efforts of sophomore Bob McNally (128' 1") and seniors Joe Massa (113' 9") and Kinsella at (105' 8"). Westfield also took three fifth places; in the shuttle hurdles, the 440 relay and the long jump relay. In the shuttles, juniors Al Morasso (16.7) and Bruce Hoelzer (16.3) led off and sophomore Tom Byrne (17.8) and senior Frank Boate (15.2) completed the race for a total time of 66 seconds. Senior Joe Lundy led off the 440 relay and handed off to juniors Rick Papsin and Stu Morse. Dan Dillon anchored for the team and helped accomplish the 45.6 final time.

Although junior Glen Wright and senior Lance Henry both fouled twice in the long jump relay, their jumps of 19' 7¾" and 17' 8" were enough to back up Lew Graves (20' 2½") for fifth. In other events, the shot put relay of McNally (43'), tri-captain Don Cillotta (40' 9"), sophomore Ken Ciarrocca (40' 6") and senior Pat Mullen (38' 3") and the one and ¾ mile medley turned in good performances. In the latter juniors Tom Flournoy (2:08) and Steve Brugger (54.6) led off and handed off to sophomore Ken Cooper, who turned in a 2:20 time of 25.1. Junior Carl Becker anchored with a 4:48.3 mile.

In other events Saturday, a Westfield team captured fourth in the sophomore Distance Medley at the Memorial Relays with a time of 11:29.6. Scott Mackenzie ran a 2:11.5 half and handed to John Kramer, who turned in a 59 quarter. Bob McDonough came through with a 3:31 third quarter time and John Lefebvre anchored with a 4:48.1 mile.

At Summit, the main contest featured the running events as Summit swept the shot put and pole vault and scored first in every weight event and all other jumping events except the high jump. In this, Pete Nostrand turned in a great performance and leaped to victory at 6' 3¾". Rod Pederson took second with a leap of 6'. In the triple jump, Joe Lundy took second with a 38' 9" and Glen Wright was third at 37' 8½". Lew Graves scored the only points in the long jump to take second with a jump of 16'.

In the Javelin, Greg Wanko took second with a throw of 155' 8" and Bob Szarny's heave of 146' 5" was enough for third. Bob McNally took second in the discus at 140' 11" and Pat Mullen did likewise in the shot put with a throw of 40' 4".

Frank Boate ran to victory in both the high hurdles and intermediates with times of 15.5 and 41.7. Al Morasso took third in the high with a 16.4 and Tom Byrne took third in the intermediates with 45.5. Tri-captain Glen Kehler ran second in both the 100 and 220 with times of 10.3 and 23.2. Lew Graves nipped Summit at the finish to gain third in the 440 at 54.1.

Andy Hubsch ran to victory in the half mile at 2:04.5, followed by John Aloia in second place by half a second. Brian Clancey and Mike O'Brien ran away from the field in the mile and tied for first at 4:38.3. Paynter Ingram made its sweep with a 4:41. Westfield was stunned in the two mile as the only points scored came from Marc Giguere, in second place at 9:57.6. The Blue Devils emerged victorious in the mile relay however, behind the efforts of Aloia (54.7), Polese (53.5), Graves (53.7) and Hubsch (51.5) for a total of 3:32.6.

The story was different against Columbia, as Westfield emerged with its first victory of the season. Three of the most exciting races occurred in the 880, mile and two mile. In the half, Graves was edged out by Somers of Columbia and had to settle for second in 2:04.0. Terry Brady came through with a great performance to capture third in 2:04.5.

In the mile, Marc Giguere battled with Columbia down to the tape and emerged victorious by one second in 4:35.5. In the two mile it was the same story with a different ending as Brian Clancey went down to defeat after a hard struggle and finished second with a 9:57.4. Mike O'Brien ran third in 10:06.5.

Andy Hubsch won the 440 in 51.8 as John Aloia finished second at 53.5. Hubsch finished second in the 220 with a 23.1, followed by Kehler in third with a 23.3. Kehler tied for second in the 100 with 10.3. In the hurdles it was again Boate sweeping to victory in both the high (15.4) and intermediates (42.3). Al Morasso was third in both events with times of 16.0 and 44.7. The mile relay was won by Columbia though Graves (56), Brady (55), Lefebvre (56.4) and Aloia (52.2) all ran good races for a total of 3:40.

Westfield emerged victorious in every weight event as McNally (141") and Kinsella (128' 1") combined for first and third in the discus, Kinsella (164' 2") and Wanko (155' 5") went 1-2 in the javelin and Cillotta (44' 6") and McNally (42' 11") went first and third in the shot put.

Sophomore Scott Ashcroft surprised many people as he vaulted into a tie for second place in the pole vault at 9'. Pederson (5' 9") and Nostrand (5' 9") combined for a 1-2 punch in the high jump, while Graves leaped 19' 3½" to capture third in the long jump.

Today the Blue Devils host Cranford at home and go to the Highland Park Relays this weekend. On April 26 they travel to Philadelphia for the Penn Relays.

YW Girls Swim Team Holds Annual Banquet

The YWCA girls swim team held its 11th annual Banquet at the YWCA Sunday. ## JV Nine Bows To Roselle Catholic

By Richard Clinch

The WHS JV baseball team was stunned in its opening game last week when Roselle Catholic scored six runs in the sixth inning for a come from behind victory, 8-4.

Going into the bottom of the sixth inning, Westfield held a 4-2 lead. Then came disaster as three errors, three hits, a walk, and a wild pitch gave up the six runs.

Two runs scored on a throwing error by Jamie Buonanno on a bunt. Another scored on Phil Good's wild pitch, and two more tallied on a line drive triple by the Lions' Roger Horneck.

Westfield took a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Frank Mirrow singled to center to start the game. Don Assman then struck out and Joe Della Badia hit into a force play, taking Mirrow's place at first. With two outs, Della Badia stole second and was knocked home by Buonanno's single to right.

Jeff Kelle, starting pitcher for the Devils, did an excellent job for four innings. He held Roselle Catholic to two unearned runs, in the second, and one hit, while striking out 8 of the 18 batters he faced.

The Devils retook the lead in the fifth, 3-2, when pinch hitter Tom Grancy walked and later scored on a wild pitch, and Assman was awarded a base on balls and came home on Buonanno's sharply hit grounder that went through the shortstop's legs.

Westfield added another run in the sixth to build the lead to 4-2. Dennis Gibbons reached base on an error by Rico Manto, and then stole second. He scored on Grancy's single to right, when the right fielder, Juan Alvarez, overthrew the catcher, allowing Gibbons to score easily.

Then came the bottom of the sixth where sloppy play by Westfield and Phil Good having control problems enabled Roselle Catholic to tally six runs and all but wrapping the game up.

Some drama remained however in the top of the seventh. With the bases loaded and two outs, Bob Kinningham pinch hit for Paul Campbell. He worked the pitcher to a full count, but then struck out on a hard swing.

Gibbons had the big hit of the day for Westfield with a double in the second. Buonanno almost got one in the same area, but center fielder Luis Piniera made a diving catch for the out.

The team will play against Edison today, home at 4 o'clock and Scotch Plains away on Saturday at two.

Senior High School Wrestlers Honored

The Westfield High School Wrestling team was honored at a coffee dessert held in the high school cafeteria last week. Highlighting the program were the awards made in several categories.

Jim Howard, Westfield's super heavyweight, who finished in third place in the recent state high school championships, won the "most pins" trophy, and was also named the winner of the Tommy Graham memorial award. His name will be inscribed on the memorial plaque which is on display in the high school trophy case.

David Brown, a senior and co-captain, who ended his three year varsity career with a brilliant 66 and 8 record was honored by the Westfield Boosters Association. He was named as the team's most valuable wrestler and was awarded the trophy by Booster President Bud Davis. This award, made in all sports categories, is won on the basis of leadership, dedication and teamwork, and is voted on by teammates.

David Tinnesz, the exciting sophomore, who was the only undefeated varsity member in dual meets won the coveted "takedown" trophy which goes to the grappler who gains the most takedowns points. He had over 20 per cent of the team's total count. Billy Hunziker finished the season with the best won-loss percentage with his 25-2 record in his junior year.

Graduating seniors from the varsity squad this year are co-captains John Williams (19-2) and Dave Brown (22-2), as well as John Jacobson, Ernie Parizeau, and John Wilson, whose careers ended abruptly through injuries, as well as Jim Howard.

Returning juniors Jerry Gottlick, Bill Hunziker, Tim Kenny, Chuck Cosenza, John Selert, Pete Pinto, Ken Cirrocca and Joel Potyk should form a strong nucleus for a good team next year. Also, several strong junior varsity wrestlers will be ready to move up, like Ron Sozio, Rich Baeder, Chip Haesler, Steve Brown, Bill Clarke, Bill Miller, Brian Shuart, Bill Rippe, Mark Dugan, Bob Wessels, George Kley, and Rick Schadle. Returning sophomore varsity wrestlers will be Joe Birmingham, Chris Harvey, and Dave Tinnesz.

Prospects are high for another successful season following this year's fifth place finish in the NJSIAA coaches poll.

The Roosevelt Junior High School team's recent exploits were reviewed by coach Bill Odenkirk. "Several boys showed great future talent from this squad," he said, "most notably John-Igler and Chuck Whedon, both of whom completed undefeated seasons as did Chris Harvey last year, who made the varsity squad in his sophomore year."

Due to a prior commitment, Coach Tony Valpone, who led the Edison Junior High team to an 8-1 season, was unable to attend. His team's exploits were reviewed by Pete Tinnesz who pointed out the highlights. Chuck Clarke and Jim Tinnesz, co-captains, finished the season with no losses. Greg Schmidt, an 8th grader, also finished undefeated at 4 and 0.

The program, mc'd by George Polman, who welcomed more than 200 guests, began with an invocation and pledge by Jim Howard. School superintendent Dr. Laurence Greene then spoke briefly of his admiration for Westfield's commitment to its youth. John Lay, school director of athletics, commented on the fine record of the 1975 teams such as winning the Wad-chung Conference title and the District titles, as well as the Union County Novice team title by the J.V.

The varsity cheerleaders were present and acted as hostesses. They also presented a gift to their advisor, Carol Weiss.

The highlight of the program came when head coach Gary Kehler reviewed the season and pointed up the individual achievements. In the Union County Novice Tournament first place finishes went to Bill Clarke at 101 lbs., Ron Sozio at 129, Rick Baeder at 141, and Rick Schadle at Heavy. Second place finishes went to Bill Rippe, Mark Dugan, and Bob Wessels.

In the District XV State

Most first place medals were won by Tim Kenny, Dave Tinnesz, Dave Brown, Jerry Gottlick, Joe Birmingham, Bill Hunziker, Chuck Cosenza, John Williams, and Jim Howard. John Selert, moving up to the varsity to fill in for the injured John Jacobson, took a second place medal.

State Region IV winners were Dave Brown and Bill Hunziker. Second place in the Regionals went to Dave Tinnesz, John Williams, and Jim Howard. Tim Kenny, Joe Birmingham and Chuck Cosenza took third places. This showing put seven Westfielders into the state finals at Jadwin Gym, Princeton. Jerry Gottlick and Joe Birmingham joined the other eligibles when injuries to other Regional winners were incurred. The team with the next most wrestlers in the state finals was North Hunterdon with five.

An innovation of last year's season which again met with huge success was the presentation of a series of slides during coach Kehler's individual comments on the wrestlers. His quips and several slides taken of mothers in the stands during the matches brought the house down. An exchange of humorous gifts made by co-captains Dave Brown and John Williams to the coaches was also enjoyed.

Devil Golfers Continue Wins

By Richard Watten

The WHS golf team put together two very fine performances last week. In the first round, the team won 18-1 at Ash Brook and Roselle, 18-9 at Echo Lake, two days later. The golfers averaged 64.7 as a team against Jefferson and that was easily low enough to dominate the match.

Each golfer felt the wind affected his play, but you'd think Nick Sidorakis

Mat Donations Near Quota

Larry Shaffer, chairman of the wrestling mat committee reports that donations by "Friends of Wrestling" in Westfield have reached a total of $1875.

The goal is $1800, and at the rate that checks are being received the goal will be reached. This amount represents one-third of the $5,500 needed to purchase a wrestling mat for each of the Junior High Schools. The Board of Education allocated one third, and the Westfield School Boosters Association donated a one-third share.

The mats have been severely needed at both Junior High schools for some time, and their purchase will enable a significant improvement in facilities. In addition to the primary use for wrestling they will be used for gym classes for both boys and girls and aid in the rapidly growing girls' calisthenics and gymnastics programs.

The Wrestling Mat Committee roster includes Larry and Judy Shaffer, Dave Burdge, Terry Clarrocca, Fran Gold, Dick Gottlieb, Alice Kehler, Jack Miller, Tom Shields, Al Wolin, Bob Zitch, and Pete Tinness, 625 New England Dr.

Women's Golf

The Ashbrook Women's Golf Association started the season off with a Kicker's Tournament Thursday. Results were: 18 holes - A Flight: 1st, Mrs. Paul Bantz - net 88, 3rd, Mrs. Robert Payne - net 83, B Flight: 1st, Mrs. Seemon Pines - net 80, 2nd, Mrs. Robert Parret - net 85, Low Putts: Mrs. Robert Reinhardt - 38, Mrs. William Glickman - 36.

9 Holes A Flight: 1st, Mrs. A. Barnett - Net 44, 2nd, Mrs. Robert Bailey - net 44, 3rd, Mrs. William McGuire - net 45, B Flight: Mrs. Henry Lawyer - Gross 62, Low Putts: Mrs. Henry Lawyer - 18, Mrs. Robert Bailey - 18.

wouldn't be one to say that Nick fired a 62 to lead the team.

Tom Andre and Keith Graham followed with 47's. Andre, who beat his opponent 2 1/2-1/2, felt his putting could have been better. While Graham, a veteran senior, explained that although he hit only two greens in regulation, without the wind he might have hit seven.

Carl Forsberg, the team's number one starter, couldn't manage to improve on his 44 the previous day because he was plagued by minor putting problems. Jeff Campbell fired a 44 also, in spite of a triple bogey on the par three sixth hole.

Tony Bruges defeated his opponent 2-1, but was unsatisfied with a 52. Two days later, however, he improved to an impressive 43 against Roselle. He explained: "I chipped great" and that enabled him to use only 12 putts throughout the nine holes.

In that second match of the week, Bloomfield was scheduled to meet both Westfield and Roselle, but didn't show up. They might be considered fortunate in not competing as Westfield as a team enjoyed an average of 40 for the day. The weather was much better Thursday, and the score reflected it. Andre carded a 41 and Sidorakis and Forsberg both had solid rounds of 46. Carl's round was impeded only by a couple of three putts.

As if those scores weren't good enough to humiliate Roselle, Graham fired the team's lowest round of the year, a 37, while Campbell carded an excellent round of 36. One thing that made Jeff's round easier was the way his ball repeatedly landed within a 15 foot radius of the hole.

Despite the apparent ease of achieving their 4-0 record, the golfers will be wary of meeting such fine teams as Scotch Plains, Cranford and Bloomfield.

The Devils will host Plainfield Monday and Colonia a week from today at Echo Lake.

HS Girls Tennis Team Again Rates High

Coach Kathy Luckey is unsure whether the girls' tennis team will win the state championship for the third consecutive year, but the team is off to a good start, winning its first three scrimmages.

West Essex, a strong team Westfield beat last year, was the first opponent. Winners were first singles Kim Schmidt, third singles Sandy Yearly and first doubles Pemy MacKenzie and Darlene Robinson.

Against J.P. Stevens, Schmidt, Yearly and MacKenzie and Robinson again won. Laurie Schramm and Marcia Bond won at second doubles.

The girls met Kent Place with a change in the lineup. Schmidt continued to win at first singles. Sue Gannon won for the first time this year at second and Robinson lost in her first effort playing third singles.

Yearly and MacKenzie teamed up to win first doubles. Terry Moore and Bond played together to win second doubles.

The team lost three important players from last year's team. First singles Avis Fromer finished school in January, second singles Debbie Deer switched to a private school and Karen Smith, a member of the first doubles team graduated.

Fromer is being replaced by Schmidt, a sophomore who, recently won the Westfield JCC tournament and Middlesex Women's Open. The varsity team provides her first team experience. Miss Luckey feels she has the ability to fill the top position.

Gannon, one of the two seniors on the team will play second singles. Last year she was in the third slot on the state championship team. Yearly, MacKenzie and Robinson also were part of that team.

Other team members include Betsy Gildersleeve, Dawn Spencer, Frani Chentiz, Jane Taylor and Carol Graham.

Miss Luckey predicts Livingston will provide the toughest match of the season. It is the only team Westfield lost to last year. The revenge match will be the first of May at home.

New this year is the Watching Conference for girls, and the coach feels Westfield will do well in there but commented there are a lot of new and up coming teams also participating.

Matches are played in Tamaques Park at 3:45 p.m. Miss Luckey would like "people to come out and cheer the team on" to another successful season.

Girls Softball Looks Strong In Openers

By Hope Canfield
The WHS girls' varsity softball team opened its season last week losing to Nutley 10-8, and then bouncing back to defeat Millburn 12-7.

In the Nutley game, Westfield scored 8 runs on 12 hits. Nutley scored 13 runs on 10 hits. Carol Knott was the losing pitcher giving up 4 hits and 10 walks, while she struck out 4.

Top hitters for Westfield were Kathy Tegen going 3 for 3, with all 3 hits being singles. Knott went 2 for 3, with a double and a single. Diane Henry also went 2 for 3, with 2 singles.

On defense the girls had ball control most of the time it was in the field. Left fielder Robin Lawyer and short stop Julie DeCosta led the team with their defensive fielding to first base and home plate.

On offense, Westfield did a good deal of hitting but because of Nutley's defense, it had trouble getting hits past the infield. The locals' bunting power helped to aid the team in scoring.

Top scoring innings were the second and sixth with 3 runs in each. Scorers for WHS were Lawyer with 2, Connie Tweedie, Ann Gable, Sue Early, Beth Rennicks, Tegen and Mary Ann Whitcombe with one each.

In the Millburn game, Westfield scored 12 runs on 8 hits, Millburn 7 on 5. Patty Lambert was the winning pitcher giving up 5 hits and 2 walks and striking out 2. Leading hitters were Lawyer and Tweedie, each going 2 for 4 with 2 singles each.

The fifth inning was the highest for Westfield with six runs scored. De Costa, Early, Lambert, Lawyer, Whitcombe, and Knott were the scorers in the sixth. Lawyer and Whitcombe were the teams' high scorers with 3 runs each. Tweedie and Tegen led WHS in defensive playing, Tegen made several good throws to Tweedie to get the runners out at second base. Tweedie made several good catches in short field as well as receive the ball from Tegen to get runners at second.

Westfield had 13 stolen bases in the game. Early led with 3, followed by Lawyer, Whitcombe, Knott, Tweedie and DeCosta with 2 each.

Salsinger Ends Season As Goalie

Douglas Salzinger of Westfield, a freshman at Nathaniel Hawthorne College, in Antrim, N.H. has just completed a fine 14-4-1 season on the Highlander hockey team. Doug was a valuable asset to the team in his position as goalie. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Salzinger, 56 Summit Ct.

Blue Devil Nine Splits Openers

The Westfield High School baseball team started its 1975 season on the "up and down" last week against a pair of Parochial powers, nipping Roselle Catholic, 6-5, then falling to Essex Catholic, 7-3.

The Blue Devils will next be in action at home today against Edison at 6 o'clock, although they will have faced Union, the State's number one team on Tuesday (too late for Leader deadline). Saturday afternoon, Westfield takes on rival Scotch Plains, in what promises to be an exciting tilt, on the road at 2.

Westfield took advantage of R.C. errors and real fine base running to tally a trio of runs in the first and third innings in its opener April 8. Scott Jones rapped out two hits, Chris Asmann scored two runs, Dave Yalcia reached base three times and Andy Kowalczyk hit baseballs brought home three runs to pace the Devil offense.

Westfield's first two runs came in when, with the bases loaded, Roselle Catholic shortstop Bob Keenan booted Kowalczyk's hit up the middle, allowing Bruce Jester and Jim Reid to score. Chris Asmann, who had moved to third on the "E", then scored on a double steal.

The Blue Devils scored what turned out to be the winning runs two innings later. Another shortstop error bringing home two runs and a Kowalczyk single a third. Ironically, Westfield tagged the loss on the Lion's Jay Boyle, a Westfield resident, who transferred to the Roselle school in September.

Junior Jeff Stember got the win for Westfield, allowing just six hits, as he went the route. Stember struck out nine and walked six. Down 6-3 in the seventh, Roselle threatened the Devils, sandwiching a pair of singles around two walks to cut the lead to just one with two men on and two out, before Stember got Jim Dermody to pop up to Jim Reid.

It was Westfield's turn to make the costly errors and fall short with a last inning rally Saturday against the State's second ranked Essex Catholic nine.

Westfield outlived E.C. 8-3, but ten walks and a half dozen errors more than negated the slugging advantage. Essex Catholic scored two runs in the first, when with two out, WHS hurler Craig Alexander filled the bases by allowing a pair of walks and a single. A wild pitch and two more base on balls did the damage.

Westfield tightened the game with a run in the bottom of the third; Rick Schadle scoring on an errant pick-off attempt.

Essex Catholic, however, all but put it away in the fourth, sixth and seventh innings by adding five runs. Most of them coming as a result of walks and defensive miscues.

Two last inning Westfield runs made it closer, but in the end it was the control pitching of the visitor's Jim Casey (just two walks) and Westfield control and error problems that spelled the difference.

Yalcia went 3 for 4 in the leadoff spot to keep his on base average at a super .750 and up his batting average to .600.
