Local Improvements Delayed by State Budget Dilemma

Paying no attention to the tape recorder being used for the first time at Tuesday Night's Council meeting, members of the Council proceeded to transact mostly routine town business. Mayor Alexander Williams said the recorder was being used on an experimental basis.

Hearings on proposed ordinances for improvement of various sewer systems and for the purchase of equipment for the police department were deferred. Mayor Williams explained that the ordinances would be taken up again after the state had adopted its budget and the town would know what state funds would be available.

Council approved the addition of a balcony at the Memorial Library, accepting bids for the work in the amount of $54,963. Also accepted was a bid of $52 an hour for the rental of an asphalt paving machine with operator. Bids for furnishing and installing three dump truck bodies were referred to committee for study.

Resolutions were passed authorizing applications for Green Acre grants for land acquisition at Gumbert Field in the amount of $57,250 and for improvements to Brightwood Park in the amount of $294,000.

Renewal licenses for the sale or consumption of liquor were approved, four for consumption, seven for distribution, four for clubs and five for beer sales only.

Mayor Williams, noting that the bicycle ordinance was passed for the safety of riders, urged parents to see that their children comply with the regulations. He said that the ordinance was and will continue to be enforced.

Kenneth Goski, president of the Jaycees, asked that rules for the use of the town tennis courts not preclude their use for his organization's annual tournament. He was told that the rules are made by the Recreation Commission and that he should consult with it.

Mrs. Frank G. Rogers of Clark St. citing from a survey she had made, asked the Council to consider providing space where large cartons and cardboard could be discarded. Mayor Williams said the Council would consider the matter.

The next meeting of the Council will be held July 15. Traditionally only one meeting is held in the months of July and August.

Bank Given OK On Building Addition

An application for variances which will permit the construction of a third floor addition to its building on Lincoln Plaza was granted, with conditions, to Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Monday night by the Board of Adjustment.

The institution plans call for a penthouse to house equipment for elevators and air-conditioning on top of its proposed third floor addition. The penthouse exceeds the height permitted under the town's zoning code. Variances also were needed for extension of an existing sidewalk violation on Prospect St. and a parking space deficiency.

Also granted with conditions was a variance to permit Michael and Elisa Sanaman to erect a 12 foot fence at their property at 544 Elm St.

Denied were sign ordinances variances for Turcotte Associates Inc. of 254 East Broad St. and Barbara Newman for premises at 806 South Ave. Granted were numerous applications of homeowners.

Central Ave. Improvements Are Slated

Driving into Westfield from the Garden State Parkway will be less congested because of improvements the State is making on Central Ave. in Clark, according to State Senator Alexander J. Menza (D-Union).

The Department of Transportation is accepting bids in Trenton today for construction work which will extend from the Central Ave. Circle at the Parkway exit 135 to the Lehigh Valley Railroad site.

Menza, who has been in communication with Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner, said the improvements would

School Continues For 100 Teachers

Approximately 100 Westfield elementary school staff members have volunteered to return to school today and tomorrow after school is officially finished to participate in a "manipulative materials" workshop.

Kindergarten through sixth grade teachers from the town's nine elementary schools will work, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days, developing materials for use in the classroom in September.

Manipulative materials include teaching aids and games designed to make the learning process more interesting by stimulating and encouraging individual growth, understanding and development, mainly in the areas of language arts and math. The materials are used to reinforce the basics, such as multiplication.

Participants in the workshop have been asked to bring a "survival kit" including items such as glue, staples, magic markers, magazines, pencils, rulers, and crayons.

The following 15 teachers will serve as group leaders: Lorraine Mullen, Doris Zobel, Frances Bloom, Josephine Kmak, Susan Snauffer, Louise Larsen, Mayzette Stover, Gail Boothe, Donna Stein, Grace Ewen, Anna May Johnson, Eleanor Wallace, Barbara Woerz, Doris Perego and Ted Kuhar.

July 4 Plans Near Completion

The Independence Day mini parade and ceremonies in Mindowaskin Park on July 4 are developing nicely, according to George M. Rounds, president of the sponsoring organization, the Westfield chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

"We have a good town crier in Compatriot Sam McCauley who will report the signing of the Declaration of Independence as it sounded to Westfield townspeople 199 years ago," Rounds stated, "and our former mayor, Donn A. Snyder, is expected to give us another of his thought provoking talks."

The parade will assemble

Reviews Revenue Of Attendant Lots

Councilman Allen Chin, Chairman of the transportation, parking and traffic committee of the Town Council, which has been reviewing the proposal to establish an attendant parking lot in Westfield, advised today that information his committee received from Summit as to their attendant lots showed an increase in revenue over that of metered lot.

"The figures that were supplied to us by Summit's parking authorities show a definite increase in net revenues over a 5 year period," stated Councilman Chin. It was noted that this differed from statements made by one of the owners of the property adjoining Parking Lot 4, which is the lot that would be converted to attendant parking, if Town Council decides to proceed with the project.

Westfield YMCA General Director William R. Hawkins in relaxed moment with Chalice Weiss, chairman of the committee of management of the Four Seasons Center, one of major achievements of Hawkins' administration.

Hawkins to Leave YMCA

William R. Hawkins, general director of the Westfield YMCA for the last five years, will leave that post July 14 to assume a position with the National YMCA.

As regional associate for the Middle Atlantic Region of the National Council of YMCA's, assigned to work in the Tri-State Metropolitan Conference of YMCA's of Metropolitan New York, Hawkins will provide training and consulting services to 18 YMCA's in northern New Jersey.

James J. Grubba, president of the United Fund of Westfield, praised Hawkins as "an outstanding general director who had cooperated with other United Fund agencies to maximize the use of the Y, its pool and plant to the benefit of other agencies, the community and its people."

"I'm sure he will be most successful in his new position," said Gruba.

YMCA President Richard C. Griggs lauded Hawkins' "deep interest and expertise in corporate planning which has set the YMCA on a long-range path to successful operation."

"Moreover, I look upon Bill as a close friend and I am personally sorry to see him go."

Said United Fund Director Linda Maggio, "His impact on the community has been great. The National Y's gain has been Westfield's loss."

Milestones of Hawkins' administration have included: --The development of the Four Seasons Outdoor Center, a 153-acre environmental education, family recreation and day camp facility 35 miles away in Lebanon Township.

--Last spring's decision to become a family-centered association

--Increased collaboration between the Y and other agencies museum. The house has been entered on both national and state registers of historic places.

In its present "Archaeological Excavation of the Miller-Cory Site," the society hopes not only to locate the original fireplace wall but also to determine, for an architecturally authentic restoration, whether it contained such items as a beehive oven, stairways, or exterior entrances as well as a fireplace.

The first tour bus will stop at Miller-Cory House in Westfield where Westfield Town Council members and Girl Scout Board members will be on hand as Scouts present the bicentennial flag to Miller-Cory House. The flag will be given in recognition of the colonial cooking lessons which Miller-Cory volunteers have given to Scouts. The tour will proceed for a "nooning" at Washington Rock Park, Green Brook, and tombstone rubbing in the Revolutionary cemetery on Mt. Horob Road in Warren.

The second tour bus will visit Boudinot Mansion and Belcher-Ogden Mansion on East Jersey Street in Elizabeth. Later the girls will enjoy a "nooning" at Droecher's Mill, Cranford, followed by tombstone beverage). GIRL SCOUTS MOUNT COLONIAL CARAVAN Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will be hostess to 75 Girl Scouts who were selected from 37 states across the country and Canada as part of the Colonial Caravan, a National Girl Scout Opportunity. According to Mrs. Bryce Johnson of Warren and Mrs. Cathy Conti of Chatham, volunteers in charge of the event, the purpose of Colonial Caravan is to offer local Girl Scouts the opportunity to share the rich heritage of the area with other Scouts.

Not only will the participants observe and experience slices of our colonial past, but they will also be preparing to participate in the planning of their own home town's bicentennial celebration.

The Colonial Caravan is a part of the Washington Rock Living Heritage Program, under the direction of Mrs. Betty Pate, from Westfield. The program, which began in 1971, was designed to stimulate Scouts to learn about their community, to recognize the advantages of living in a culturally diverse area and to take an active part in the nation's bicentennial celebration. During the four years of the Living Heritage Program, the Scouts have researched and produced a tour map highlighting historic points in the 23 towns of the Council jurisdiction; they have explored the "lost" colonial arts; they have identified the contributions of the many groups of people who populate the area. Hundreds of Girl Scouts are proudly wearing an official heritage patch on their uniform. Several troop projects have earned national attention.

Highlights of the opening day ceremony tomorrow will include the Governor's proclamation, the introduction of the Colonial Caravan participants, and "The lore and legend of our Flags," presented by Mrs. Pate.

Immediately following the ceremony, the girls will board four air-conditioned tour buses to explore the historical highlights of the twenty-three towns in the Council jurisdiction. Each bus will be accompanied by a Girl Scout tour guide who will point out significant landmarks. These Scouts prepared themselves by participating in an eight week speakers course given by Toastmasters of Westfield. After studying the Council's heritage map, the girls prepared complete tours for the visiting Colonial Caravan participants. Each tour will include a visit to selected historical buildings, a "nooning," and tombstone rubbing in historical cemeteries.

produced a tour map highlighting historic points in the 23 towns of the Council jurisdiction; they have explored the "lost" colonial arts; they have identified the contributions of the many groups of people who populate the area. Hundreds of Girl Scouts are proudly wearing an official heritage patch on their uniform. Several troop projects have earned national attention.

Highlights of the opening day ceremony tomorrow will include the Governor's proclamation, the introduction of the Colonial Caravan participants, and "The lore and legend of our Flags," presented by Mrs. Pate.

Immediately following the ceremony, the girls will board four air-conditioned tour buses to explore the historical highlights of the twenty-three towns in the Council jurisdiction. Each bus will be accompanied by a Girl Scout tour guide who will point out significant landmarks. These Scouts prepared themselves by participating in an eight week speakers course given by Toastmasters of Westfield. After studying the Council's heritage map, the girls prepared complete tours for the visiting Colonial Caravan participants. Each tour will include a visit to selected historical buildings, a "nooning," and tombstone rubbing in historical cemeteries.

The first tour bus will stop at Miller-Cory House in Westfield where Westfield Town Council members and Girl Scout Board members will be on hand as Scouts present the bicentennial flag to Miller-Cory House. The flag will be given in recognition of the colonial cooking lessons which Miller-Cory volunteers have given to Scouts. The tour will proceed for a "nooning" at Washington Rock Park, Green Brook, and tombstone rubbing in the Revolutionary cemetery on Mt. Horob Road in Warren.

The second tour bus will visit Boudinot Mansion and Belcher-Ogden Mansion on East Jersey Street in Elizabeth. Later the girls will enjoy a "nooning" at Droecher's Mill, Cranford, followed by tombstone beverage). GIRL SCOUTS MOUNT COLONIAL CARAVAN Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will be hostess to 75 Girl Scouts who were selected from 37 states across the country and Canada as part of the Colonial Caravan, a National Girl Scout Opportunity. According to Mrs. Bryce Johnson of Warren and Mrs. Cathy Conti of Chatham, volunteers in charge of the event, the purpose of Colonial Caravan is to offer local Girl Scouts the opportunity to share the rich heritage of the area with other Scouts.

Not only will the participants observe and experience slices of our colonial past, but they will also be preparing to participate in the planning of their own home town's bicentennial celebration.

The Colonial Caravan is a part of the Washington Rock Living Heritage Program, under the direction of Mrs. Betty Pate, from Westfield. The program, which began in 1971, was designed to stimulate Scouts to learn about their community, to recognize the advantages of living in a culturally diverse area and to take an active part in the nation's bicentennial celebration. During the four years of the Living Heritage Program, the Scouts have researched and

Graduation - 1975

Born in the relatively "good years" of the mid-50's, and graduated in the less than rosy times of the mid-70's, amid thunder and lightning, heavy rain which prompted a premature and hurried processional and perhaps even some uneasiness that commencement ceremonies might also echo the bleakness of our current "economy."

This is Westfield High School's Class of 1975. Even the diplomas of the class of 1975 were dated wrong - they read June 25 instead of June 24 which all calendars told us the date really was.

Raised in the era of plenty for most of their lives, the 663 graduates of the high school and the 54 of Holy Trinity High School go from their high school years into a world where their own state of New Jersey faces an unemployment rate of 13 percent, where spending outraces revenue and shortages exist not only in the job market, but gasoline, energy and other items, and where almost every day one reads of a new "crisis."

A gloomy prospect? We think not. The graduates of 1975 appear to be a confident lot with many of them placing high scholastically and more than 80 percent of them opting to continue their education. We think the challenges of the times will be met with purpose and adversities will be turned into advantages.

We predict that they will not have an easy time, but one where prizes will not be won without effort or success without conscientious endeavor, which maybe is the best route of all, anyhow.

We wish them luck, good times and happiness.

25th Anniversary of N.J.

Optional Municipal Charter Law

In a year when much attention is being focused on the anniversary of events 200 years ago, the anniversary of an occurrence only twenty-five years in the past may be easily overlooked. While the Bicentennial commemorates events of national, state and local importance, the anniversary of New Jersey's Optional Municipal Charter Law is primarily of State historical importance, points out the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The Optional Municipal Charter Law of 1950 (OMCL) is listed among the many legislative accomplishments during the term of the late Governor Alfred Driscoll. The nine-member Commission on Municipal Government was his brainchild. Its purpose - to study the need for strengthening local government in keeping with provisions of the 1947 State Constitution, an even more important highlight of the Driscoll administration.

The product of the study commission was a law which has been utilized by the State's municipalities over 175 times since its passage. The OMCL provides for a referendum on study of the existing form of a municipality's government initiated either by voters or by ordinance of the governing body, and election of a five-member commission. Charter study commissions have been elected by citizens in 100 different New Jersey municipalities and 14 have had more than one study. The study commissions may choose from three basic forms of government provided in the law: mayor/council, council-manager, or small municipality. Other changes may be proposed such as a special charter which requires pre-legislative approval, or administrative changes for purposes of efficiency and economy not requiring voter approval.

The OMCL, often called the Faulkner Act after the chairman of the study commission which proposed the law, has been used to bring the mayor-council form to 43 municipalities, council-manager to 30, and the small municipality plan to 9. In addition, 3 municipalities have chosen special charters or amendments to existing charters following charter study. (In three of the municipalities which have adopted the law, change will not become effective until 1978). Four municipalities now have charter study commissions underway. The population of those municipalities which have adopted the Optional Municipal Charter Law exceeds 40 percent of the State total.

The OMCL brings to local governments a charter which represents significant changes from the older township committee, city, town, borough and commission forms of government in basic principles such as a short ballot, separation of powers, undivided executive authority and responsibility, professional administration, broader discretion over internal organization, and powers reserved to the people such as initiative, referendum and recall.

While governmental technology has not been developed to provide scientific and objective evaluation of the success of the Optional Municipal Charter Law, the record shows that only two municipalities which adopted the law after the required trial period reverted to the previous form, while five municipalities chose a different form or option after operating at least five years with the form originally adopted.

The Faulkner Act has had an indirect impact on other municipalities throughout the State. Four municipalities which have petitioned the Legislature for special charters have drawn extensively on the Charter Law for their charter provisions. Over 135 municipalities faced with the need to coordinate administrative activities have created business administrator positions with duties patterned from those of the Charter Law business administrator or manager.

"It is likely that by the year 2,000 half the principal municipalities of the State will be under modern governmental forms such as provided in the Charter Law," predicts Frank Haines, Executive Director of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

"I believe there are alternatives to brownouts and blackouts, and alternatives to homes without heat and factories without power. I believe there are alternatives to foreign domination of our major energy resource, and alternatives to broad-scale social and economic disruptions. And I believe these alternatives need not be at the expense of a livable world. To the contrary, I believe they may insure a livable world for the future." - Mr. Wayne E. Aspinall, former U.S. Representative from Colorado.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

WPERA Replies

Editor, Leader:

We believe it is in the best interest of the citizens of Westfield that people like Mike Rowland voice their complaints. Mike Rowland's letter to the editor (Westfield Leader, issue of June 12, 1975) described the poor conditions of the baseball fields at Gumpert and attributed the condition to the "Public Work's Park Men."

Employees-members of our association can only perform assignments given to us by our supervisors. Complaints such as described by Mr. Rowland could be directed to the Department of Public Works (232-9011), so that a crew of men can be directed to cure said problem.

We welcome letters and complaints, because we take pride in our work. We want to continue the excellent performance we have always given to the Town of Westfield.

CAR WASH SUCCESSFUL

Editor, Leader:

The Westfield Aquasprites Synchronized Swim Team wish to express their appreciation to the citizens of Westfield and the surrounding towns for their overwhelming support of their recent "thrifty" car wash. A special "thanks" is extended to Bills, Citgo Station for the water and space provided alongside the station. The funds recognized from this car wash will be used to help defray the costs of transportation of the team as they travel to Hamden, Connecticut, Rockville, Maryland, and East Lansing, Mich. to compete in Junior and Senior synchronized swimming competitions during July and August.

The Aquasprites hope that many of those interested in watching synchronized swimming will come to the Westfield "Y" on June 27-28 & 29th to observe some of the top synchronized swimmers in the Eastern United States as they vie for top place in the Region 1 Age Group Finals. There will be no charge for spectators. Solo competition will be the afternoon of June 27, duets the afternoon of June 28 and team routines all day Sunday June 29. Awards will be given to the winners Sunday afternoon.

ABORTION ISSUE

Editor, Leader:

There is a commercial on New York radio from the Department of Health. It says if you're going to have an abortion, don't do it after first three months of pregnancy. It says: "Why take chances with your health?"

They're finally catching on that abortion is not the simple operation it was propagandized to be.

But abortions are not safe in the first three months either.

Countries which have had legalized abortions for many years are now discouraging them as too dangerous.

Consider Czechoslovakia. In a study of two million women who had abortions in their first three months, it was found that induced abortions greatly boost the risk of spontaneous abortions, premature births, and ectopic pregnancies later on.

Only 57 per cent of the women were able to carry their other babies full term. Spontaneous abortions happened more than twice as often to women who had had induced abortions. So did extrauterine pregnancies. And sterility was prominent as well.

To have successful pregnancies, many of the women had to have their cervix sutured and sometimes spend the entire nine months in the hospital. It was also found that abortions affect a woman's emotional and sexual lives. But the worst part is, many of these women could not have any other children as a result of their abortions. That's something for teenagers to consider very seriously.

Teenagers, who suffer more complications from abortions, are the most tragic victims. For many of them, as for many of the older women, the child they just destroyed is all the family they are ever going to have.

It would be wise for parents to insist that these facts be brought out when sex is taught in the schools.

An underarm spray, or a headache tablet, with only a fraction of the dangerous side effects of abortions, would have been banned by the government long ago. But abortion is becoming more popular, and we spend well over $50 million in tax dollars to keep it going.

TENNIS

As a Westfield taxpayer

and an avid tennis player, I feel that reserved court time should be granted to the Westfield Jaycees' Youth Tournament, the Westfield High School tennis team, The Y.W.C.A. instructors, and any other group that is helping our children to better understand sportsmanship and the game of tennis. Westfield's youth has done exceptionally well in athletic competition, and, in addition to being proud of this fact, we should continue to give them our full support.

I would also like to commend Mr. Walter Katz for his devotion to tennis. We should all be pleased that such an unselfish individual is able and willing to spend so much time with our children.

There are, apparently, people in this town who feel that by granting a few hours of court time a dangerous precedent is being established. Is it dangerous to help our youth?

SPORTSMANSHIP

Editor, Leader:

Last Saturday, June 7, I attended a baseball game of

Report From Washington

Congressman Mitt Rinaldo

Telegrams, letters and phone calls have been pouring into my Washington office supporting a stand I have taken against proposals that the United States relinquish its sovereignty over the Panama Canal zone.

This nationwide support for continued U.S. control and operation of the Panama Canal is encouraging. It has given me extra incentive to resist a senseless and dangerous give-away plan advanced by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Because of my active involvement in the situation, I am deeply concerned over a new development in which the Defense Department, with the support of Dr. Kissinger, proposes loaning three U.S. military landing craft to a communist military junta that has taken over the Panama government.

The proposed loan of LCMs to forces led by General Omar Torrijos is reckless. It is a move I intend resisting with all the force I applied to the equally senseless proposal to relinquish U.S. sovereign rights.

Of greater immediate significance, however, is the point that lending military craft to an unstable junta that is antagonistic to the United States, and wants the U.S. out of the canal zone, would be dangerous and foolish. It would be interpreted as a sign of weakness by America and could encourage reckless attempts to force the United States into abandoning ownership.

The antagonistic, militaristic outlook of the Torrijos regime was seen recently when Ambassador Bunker turned over a 540-acre Panama airfield to the new government forces. Torrijos heralded that move as a "conquest."

Inquiries I have made show that the only sure way to block proposals to loan LCMs to the Panama government is to have Congress expressly forbid such action.

As a member of the Panama Canal Subcommittee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, I joined a congressional fact finding mission to Panama in April. What I learned then reinforces my conviction that American must not only retain full control of the canal zone, but must refrain from loaning military equipment to the Torrijos forces.

The right of the United States to remain in the canal zone is beyond dispute. The United States was given sovereignty over the canal zone in perpetuity by a 1903 treaty. Since that time the U.S. has invested more than $6 billion in the canal construction and operation. The treaty was amended twice - in 1936 and 1955 - but the sovereignty and perpetuity clauses remained intact. Our legal right to be there and to defend our right to be there is beyond question.

The world cannot count on the avowed good intentions of an unstable revolutionary government to control such a vital waterway. Responsibility demands that the United States retain control over the canal.

It must be made clear to General Torrijos that the Panama Canal Zone is ours. We paid for it. We developed it. We operate it. And we intend to defend it should that become necessary.

playing time remaining. As a result, the coaches of the two teams agreed that this particular game would be defined as six innings of play in order to use up the allotted time. The game ended at about 4:45 p.m.

I was abashed when I read an article in your paper relating the results of this game. The score, after 5 innings of play, was indeed 11-6, but what the reporter of the article neglected to state, was that after six innings of play the official score was 12-11, in favor of the Froppies.

I am disturbed by what the reporter for the Mars team is teaching young people:

1. That winning is so important we will lie in order for you to win.
2. That you are not a person unless you win.
3. That there is no such thing as good sportsmanship.
4. That agreements really don't mean anything.
5. That truth as it exists in reality doesn't matter. What matters is how some people interpret and communicate events.

6. That you cannot always believe what you read in the newspaper because the reader has no control over the honesty or value system of those who are feeding the media.

7. That real winners do not always receive all of the glory or recognition they have earned because of a lack of integrity on the part of some reporters.

It is one thing for a coach to try and make his players believe something for whatever emotional feelings or needs he felt they had. But, for him to publish a lie as the truth, in what I've always considered a reputable newspaper, undermines everything I believe in regarding young people, the media, truth, and honesty.

Sincerely,
Ida Diaz

HUNG UP

A teen-ager writes:

I rarely read the paper or your column but I want to write about that frustrated teen-ager who wrote to you about her parents' fighting and her wish that they'd split because it's upsetting her. Not all kids feel the same. My parents argue a lot and I know that they will separate when my sister and I are older. Even though they argue, I'd hate to see them split. I love them both. So not everybody feels the same. I don't think their arguments "damage" me; I know what's happening and I say to myself "I won't let this happen to me when I marry; I'm not going to let their battles drive me up a wall." Is my reasoning worse than the other teen-ager's?

Answer:

Each situation is different and each of you reacts differently. You have obviously given this a lot of thought and feel that your love for your parents outweighs any hardships that their relationship produces. You've even resolved that you will try to avoid a similar relationship when you consider marriage. This is wise and I hope you will be sensitive when entering into young adult relationships. Your reasoning and resolve are as legitimate as the other teen-ager's were for her.

A woman writes:

I think my husband has a girlfriend. He doesn't seem interested in sex; he always finds an excuse not to be bothered. He says he's too tired, works too hard, and so on. We seem to get along well, so I don't understand. He's 39. I'm 33. I'm becoming frustrated and I've begun to respond to my neighbor's compliments on how pretty I look, etc. What should I do?

Answer:

Don't get involved with your neighbor or anyone. First try to work out the sexual problem with your husband. Age 39 is too young to become indifferent or disinterested in sex. If your husband claims he is too tired, urge him to see a doctor in order to clarify whether any physical problems exist. If none exist, it may suggest that an emotional problem exists. If that is the case, seek professional help. You would be compounding your difficulties and frustrations greatly if you were to become involved with your neighbor without resolving your marital (sexual) problem first.

A husband writes:

My wife and I went to see the movie "Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore", and since then, our relationship has gone to pieces. She keeps telling me that I didn't let her become an independent person. She says she always catered to me, submitted to me because she was afraid I'd be angry and reject her. And now she admits to being angry. She says she won't take it anymore and will do what she wants to do. She is so convincing that I am beginning to believe that I have dominated her and I feel very guilty. No more movies for me - about women's struggles, anyway.

Answer:

C'mon now, you'll miss many good realistic movies. I doubt that this movie created the angry feelings in your wife. I suspect that she has been harboring them for a long time and she identified (saw herself) in the Alice character. She has probably kept her feelings inside and was either aware or unaware of them. Seeing the movie triggered the pent up emotions. Instead of feeling guilty, encourage her to tell you, in SPECIFICS, what bothers her about her relationship with you. Help her see that you were unable to relate to her feelings since she did not express them. This will show her that you are not rejecting of her. It is possible that both of you can give a little without feeling angry or uncomfortable. And after you've worked out the problems, take her to

Bicentennial Briefings

By Fran Gold
EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT THE WESTFIELD BICENTENNIAL

Q. How can you achieve happiness and fulfillment living in Westfield during the bicentennial decade?

Q. Who is in charge of the Westfield Bicentennial?

A. Mrs. Joseph Pate of 546 Boulevard is the chairman. A steering committee assists her.

Q. What is the function of the steering committee?

A. To organize and coordinate all the activities dealing with the Bicentennial by groups in town. Under the loosely organized umbrella structure of the steering committee, it is possible for any group in town to participate in the Bicentennial in its own way.

Q. What are the major operating committees on the steering committee?

A. Finance and Ways and Means, Permanent Projects, Events, Heritage, and Public Relations.

The actual committee membership keeps expanding and changing as new projects are undertaken for the Bicentennial.

Q. Where did Westfield's Program come from?

A. The Bicentennial program is structured in response to the ideas relayed to the committee from the questionnaire that went to every resident in June 1973. It was from these answers that the celebration is based. This program was submitted to and approved by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (the national organization to celebrate Bicentennial).

Q. Is it true that Westfield was one of the first to receive Bicentennial approval?

A. Yes, Westfield was among the first four towns in N.J. to receive designation as "an approved Bicentennial community."

Q. In what ways can a group participate in the Bicentennial?

A. There are three different types of Bicentennial projects and events.

1) Projects and events sponsored and executed by the Westfield Bicentennial committee.

2) Projects and events co-sponsored by the organization involved and the Westfield Bicentennial committee.

3) Organizational projects and events given sanction by the Westfield Bicentennial Committee.

Q. What has been the guiding philosophy in all of the Westfield Bicentennial Committee's plans?

A. The committee has strived to encourage the widest participation of citizens and organizations in Westfield in the Bicentennial celebration. The committee is organized so that anyone and any group can fit into the common structure.

Q. What are some of the projects and events that the Westfield Bicentennial Committee has executed so far?

A. Some of the Bicentennial events have been the "Massing of the Colors," the "Portrait of a County" exhibition, the Stagecoach Run, the Miller-Cory Living Museum, the county Bicentennial celebration at Kean College and a film produced by N.J. Public Broadcasting detailing bicentennial activities in N.J.

Q. I would like to participate in the Bicentennial. Whom can I call?

A. Fran Gold, at 233-8277, Ella Conlin at 233-7323 or Betty Pate at 232-9473.

Q. How long will the WESTFIELD N.J.

BICENTENNIAL 1776-1976

Bicentennial Celebration take place in Westfield.

A. The Westfield celebration is not geared just for the year 1976. We began to get ready in 1973 and will continue through the Bicentennial era into the 1980's.

Q. What are some events that will happen soon?

A. The Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will present its "Colonial Caravan" tomorrow at Westfield High School. Gov. Byrne is expected to arrive by helicopter at 9:15 a.m. He will greet the participants who have traveled here from all parts of the U.S. and Canada. Four girl scouts

Teenagers Win Bicycle Awards

Teen-agers took a bigger interest in the Bicycle Safety Spotters Contest this week as six of them won $5 from the Bicycle Board. Spotted riding safely at night and to and from school, these junior and senior high school students had their bikes properly registered and were obeying the rules.

The contest will be extended another week until the end of June, according to Mrs. Sylvia Thorkelson, chairman of the Bicycle Board, because there is still money remaining since the quota has not been reached every week.

The money donated by the Rotary Club, Junior Woman's Club and local realtors, has enabled the Bicycle Board to give prizes each week to safe riders of all ages. "We will finish our job," Mrs. Thorkelson said, "because it is important to find safe bike riders. Just because school is out, don't forget bicycle safety. As a bike rider, you have the responsibility of obeying the safety rules which govern your vehicle. Think of the other person and don't forget that pedestrians have the right of way and that cars can't maneuver as quickly as bicycles. Have a safe biking summer.

What's Special About Snoopy?

What's so special about Snoopy? The Westfield Memorial Library's Children's Department wants to know.

So it's conducting an essay contest for all school-age children. It's asking them to explain Snoopy's charisma in 25 words or less during "Snoopy's Super Summer," in connection with the reading club programs. Boys and girls will find a box in the children's room where they may drop their entries. The winner will receive his or her prize at the big costume parade and party when the reading clubs close in September.

The regular reading club is open to all children who are members of the Westfield Library and who have completed first grade. The mini-club is designed for all those who can read by themselves but who are ineligible for the regular club. Registration for each began June 16 and will continue throughout the Summer until the clubs close on Monday, Sept. 8. The clubs are not designed as competitions. The only requirements for their members are that they enjoy reading and that they read books that are in the library's card catalogue. Regular club members who read ten books will receive Snoopy doghouses with their names on them for mounting on the library's big bulletin board. When the children complete 20 books, Snoopy characters will be added to the doghouses. Mini-club members will have Snoopy and Snoopy doghouses with their names on them mounted on the mini bulletin board when they read 10 books.

Teacher to Direct Program At Y's Four Seasons Center

A teacher, tennis coach and scout leader whose hobby is fishing, has been named Program Director for the Four Seasons Outdoor Center Day Camps.

David F. Heithmar, 26, a teacher at Dunellen High School for the last four years, will assume that position for the three day camps which open June 30.

Varied to meet the tastes, interests and needs of a variety of boys and girls, the camps are held at the 153 acre recreational and educational Center in Lebanon Township, operated by the YMCA and YWCA of Westfield.

Daily swim instruction, nature study, native crafts, boating, archery, basic campcrafts, cookouts, games, and fishing are featured in Pioneer Camp, for boys and girls ages 6 to 12.

Ranger Camp is an advanced camping program featuring survival skills, orienteering, campcraft, firebuilding, handling and use of equipment, lashing and knots.

For junior highschoolers, Adventure Camp features five days of backpacking on the Appalachian trail as the highlight of a two-week program. The first week is spent in preparation for the adventure with instruction in backpacking at the Four Seasons Outdoor Center.

A graduate of Seton Hall University, Heithmar is attending Rutgers graduate school. He has worked in a Head Start program in Newark and raises tropical fish as a hobby.

Letting others do your own thinking is just thoughtlessness.

Westfield-Based Film Has Premiere Here

There were no spotlights, no autograph seekers, no limousines in sight. But there was a movie premiere, nonetheless, last week at the Echo Lake Country Club.

"One Day," a new Metropolitan Life Insurance Company film produced by the company's health and welfare division, was shown for the first time to a group of Plainfield and Westfield community leaders and residents, many of whom had "starred" in the production.

Host for the dinner and reception that preceded the film showing were Dr. William R. Cannick Jr. of Westfield, vice-president and deputy chief medical director of Metropolitan Life, and Frederick E. Kutner, C.L.U., district sales manager of the firm's Plainfield office.

Filmed locally, "One Day" pictures a typical day in the life of a community and portrays specific situations in which Metropolitan Life's health and safety materials are relevant to an individual's and a community's well-being.

The film, prepared for the company by Weiler Communications, Inc., captures the drama of an ordinary day - a day in which a baby is born, a child plays, a young couple marries, a businessman faces a tough situation at work, a middle-aged man suffers a heart attack, an elderly woman celebrates a happy birthday. And although there is little dialogue, there is a subtle suggestion throughout that Metropolitan Life's health and welfare pamphlets and programs have a part to play in all these situations, and can make a difference.

"Metropolitan Life has a long history of involvement in health and safety," said Dr. Cannick, "and 'One Day' is an expression of our long-standing commitment to health education and community service."

Filming was done in cooperation with such local groups as Muhlenberg

Hospital in Plainfield, Jefferson School in Westfield, and the Westfield Recycling Center and Rescue Squad. The film will be available to community groups throughout the United States and Canada without charge.

Tomfohrde Named Essex Tr. Capt.

Rick Tomfohrde of Westfield was named captain of Junior Essex Troop B at its final review held Saturday at the Union County Stables in Watchung. Other officers include Thomas Horan, first lieutenant; Griffin Barkie, second lieutenant; and Peter Nelson, second lieutenant.

Robert Jackson presented the following awards: American Legion Best Trooper, Peter Nelson; Hoopstick Farm Best Military Horseman, Rick Long; Best Marksman, Greg Smith; Hess Best Show Rider, Paul Weaver; Senior Advisors Trophy, Chris Clare; Best Recruit, Mario Massa; Best First Year Marksman, Peter Drescher.

The Junior Essex Troop is one of Westfield's oldest youth organizations, dating to the early 1930s when cavalry horses were stabled at the Westfield Armory. Its purpose is to develop self discipline, responsibility and leadership in young men between the ages of 11-18. The spring and fall programs emphasize horsemanship riding. The winter program emphasizes leadership training, and instruction in rifle marksmanship under NRA instructors. Qualified troopers participate in horse show and rifle teams which compete with other schools and clubs in the area. A weekend campout is held each spring.

The troop's activities are organized and run by its own cadet officers and non-commissioned officers under the guidance of two senior advisors and a senior board of directors.

Boys living in Westfield and nearby communities who wish to join the troop should contact Patrick Kelly, 8 Avon Rd. Clark.

Deserted Village Tour Sunday

The semi-annual guided tour of the one-time "Deserted Village" of Feltville in the Watchung Reservation is scheduled for Sunday afternoon. Interested visitors will meet at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center at 2 p.m. and proceed by car to the tour area.

The leader, Charles S. Hoag, a resident of the area, will provide historical background information, dating back to glacial times, through Indian habitation and the first white settlers, on to the Revolution and to the mid-1800's when Feltville became a thriving small industrial center. Later it became known as the "Deserted Village." The tour will go through remains of the village, passing large and historic trees, and on down Cataract Hollow Road to the glen and the ruins of old mills. The tour will close at a restored cemetery of the Revolutionary War era.

The same day the program to be presented at the Trailside Planetarium will be about objects in the catalog of Charles Messier, the French astronomer. The program is listed for 2, 3 and 4 p.m. A new program at the Planetarium, on "Mars Science for Earthlings," will begin on Wednesday, July 2, at 8 p.m.

Local Boy Learns Farm Skills in Vt.

Spurred by a desire to work outdoors and to acquire skills that 50 years ago would have been common knowledge, two area students opted to participate in the unique Grassroots Project in Vermont.

Kirk Neal of Cranford and Warren "Whitey" Rankin of Westfield recently completed participation in the 30-week program of practical and academic work in the fields of agriculture,
forestry, and wildlife management. Both were graduates of the standard
New Jersey high school college-preparatory curriculum and had no special training.

In recent years a number of post-high school one-year programs like Grassroots have been developed to meet the need in some students for a period of growth before college or a career job. Operated by Sterling, a fully-accredited, non-profit educational institution in the rural "Northeast Kingdom" of Vermont, the Grassroots Project is unique in its emphasis on teaching employable outdoor skills and at the same time providing time for growth and introspection.

Because of the success of the initial year of the Grassroots Project, Sterling
will operate six-day summer workshops to provide high school juniors and seniors with exposure to outdoor careers. These residential programs are designed to give liberal arts high school students, aged 16-19, a practical picture of the career possibilities in the fields of agriculture,
forestry and wildlife
management that may be pursued with or without college training. The summer workshops are offered July 27-August 2 and August 24-30.

Whitey Rankin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren
Rankin of North Chestnut St. is now completing work for Grassroots certification in Horse-management by working with draft horses on a Vermont farm. He graduated from Westfield
High School in June 1974.

Further information is available from the Grassroots Project, Sterling

Drama Workshop Begins July 2

The Westfield Drama Workshop, beginning its seventh summer season,
is welcoming new talent.
Sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Commission, anyone interested in drama,

learning and performing may attend the first workshop next Wednesday in the Watenunk room from 7:10-30 p.m.
The theatre group, under the direction of Edwin Illiano, has grown with a core of talented actors and actresses. People of senior high and college age are encouraged to develop and cultivate their interest in the dramatic arts. The summer workshop will culminate in a presentation of several scenes.

Throughout its history the workshop has offered highly acclaimed productions of full musicals and plays.
Illiano directed and trained young people for the successful presentations of "Lil

Abner," "Gypsy," "Picnic," "Man of La Mancha," "Guys and Dolls," and a workshop presentation each summer of scenes featuring individual talent.

Both Director Illiano and assistant Barbara Sheridan have pursued dramatic interest and talent. Illiano, a Fullbright scholar, attended the Juilliard School in New York and La Scala Opera in Milan. An operatic baritone, Illiano has performed with the Los Angeles and San Francisco operas. Mrs.
Sheridan has also pursued a local dramatic career.

Mary Beth Sheridan, a member of the Westfield Drama Workshop, works under the direction of Edwin Illiano. The theatre group's summer season will begin next week. New talent is welcome.

Since variety is said to be the spice of life, it is no wonder that we find our business so fascinating. Sooner or later we know that we'll be able to meet the basic specifications.

So, if you think our requirements are a bit out of the ordinary, don't hesitate to tell us all... we'll love trying to find the right answer.

Why not switch, it's no chore at all when you do house-hunting with us. Do give us a call — soon.

As you meander up the winding walk leading to this Early American home in Warren, you suddenly feel as if you've been transported to historic Williamsburg. The rolling lawns are lush, and the scent of cherry trees and climbing wisteria fragrance the air. Inside the original wing, the living room with original wideplank floor boards, walk in fireplace and all colonial appointments convince you time has not aged this home at all. In the basement the original kitchen with cooking fireplace and brick floor further this feeling of timelessness.
You'll also be delighted with this home's 6 fireplaces and the 2 Franklin stoves in the dining room and sitting room. All the kids can have their own room because there's 4 spacious bedrooms, each freshened by windowfuls of country air. The 15 year old new wing is as charming as the original with its huge sunny living room, fireplace, master bedroom, alcove and private bath.
And you won't want to miss the brick patio which overlooks the lush green backyard and the original barn. We think you'll fall in love with this very special home rich in heritage and listed at $99,000, and we'd be proud to show it to you. Why not pay a delightful visit this weekend?

Two Residents in Play Benefitting Chaplaincy Service

Two Westfield residents are prominent in the cast of "Africa of the Dark", a mystery farce being produced by the St. Andrew's Theater Group of Murray Hill. This is the second year for this theater group and their first straight play, the first two having been musical revues stressing nostalgia. This time the production is to be a benefit for Overlook Hospital Chaplaincy Service.

The story is about a young couple, newly married who arrive at an isolated country estate, "Stone Mansion" for their honeymoon and the adventures and strange characters they meet roaming through the old house. The part of Mrs. Mayhew, sinister housekeeper is played by Jane Brandt, who lives on Euclid Ave. with her lawyer, councilman husband Charles and five children. Leta Dority, also of Westfield, has the part of Mata Hari, mad spy. Patti Pickens Shreve, wife of Rev. Canon Charles Shreve, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Murray Hill, is the producer and David Shreve is directing.

Patti Pickens Shreve has had a long and successful career in the theater, starting at age 14 as one of radio's Pickens Sisters. She has done Broadway shows, has appeared in theaters and supper clubs, has made movies, records and has done much summer stock. Her son, David Shreve is also experienced in the theater, starting at age 15 by making records on the MGM label and appearing on the Ed Sullivan TV show. He has been involved in little theater for a number of years, has acted in and directed many shows and is currently president of the Edison Valley Playhouse.

Canon Shreve feels that the Overlook Hospital Chaplaincy Service is a most worthy cause for a benefit, for they render many services to the

Grant Faculty Feted at Cookout

A sparkling red, white, and blue decor enhanced the back yard of Ann and Bill Shepherd at the annual Grant School PTO board steak cookout honoring faculty members of the school. Pierced tin lanterns made by Grant students and displayed at their recent "Colonial Frolick", provided a war glow at each table.

Host and MC Bill Shepherd, speaking on behalf of the PTO board, expressed special gratitude to two faculty members. Grace Ewen is taking a sabbatical after ten years at the school, and Winnie Trout is retiring from full-time teaching after being at Grant for seven years.

Mary Jo Daly, outgoing president of the PTO board, thanked Joanne Maslin and her committee for coordinating the dinner and commended Bob Dillon, Chuck Maslin and Bob Mendoza, master chefs at the steak grills. Slides of the "Colonial Frolick", an outdoor day-long event in which the entire school was involved, were shown by Mrs. Daly.

At the final board meeting of the year a tape recorder, blank cassette, and a tape of Dr. Gold's speech about learning disabled children was presented to the school's Learning Center by the special education committee. The board voted a $100 donation to the free summer bus program.

patients at Overlook and are in need of funds to continue their work. Last year, St. Andrew's Theater Group was able to raise $1000 for the Chaplaincy Service.

"Afraid of the Dark!" may be seen June 20, 21, 27 and 28 on the stage of The Church parish house, 419 South Street in Murray Hill at 8:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the St. Andrew's Church office; tickets also are on sale at the hospital gift shop and may be purchased at the door.

Winifred Debbie, retiring after 18 years as the executive director of the Westfield YWCA, was honored by the YWCA board of directors and staff at a luncheon at the Suburban Country Club in Union last Wednesday. Joanne Attenborough, president of the YWCA board of directors, left, expressed the appreciation of the board and staff and presented an engraved watch to Miss Debbie on the occasion.

Patrick Brennan, best man; Albert Florio, bridegroom; Trudy Lynne Lickett, bride; the Rev. William Frederickson of the First Baptist Church of Westfield; and Christine Brennan, matron of honor, at colonial wedding.

18th Century Wedding Conducted By Westfield Baptist Minister

Jockey Hollow, Morristown National Historical Park, Morristown, was the setting for the June 1 wedding of Albert Florio of Bernardsville and Trudy Lynne Lockett of Cranbury, members of John Lamb's Artillery, a part of Morgan's Rifle Corps, and the Brigade of the American Revolution. In keeping with their interest in Revolutionary War history the couple decided to have an 18th century style wedding. Jockey Hollow Park was chosen as the site of the ceremony as it is the home site of Morgan's Rifle Corps and Lamb's Artillery. The ceremony, conducted by the Rev. William Frederickson of the First Baptist Church of Westfield, was written by the couple after much research and included an exchange of nutmegs, recitation of biblical verses, sharing a goblet of wine and exchanging of rings. Best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Brennan of Westfield, members of Lamb's

Artillery. The bride was escorted by Sgt. Joseph S. Rixon of Mendham, commander of Lamb's Artillery and superintendent of maintenance at Jockey Hollow Park. Immediately following the ceremony the couple received the traditional military "Feu de Joie," fire of joy, from the assembled members of Morgan's Rifle Corps concluding with a canonade by members of their own unit.

Mrs. William Wallace of Westfield, member of the Northern New Jersey Herb Society, created the bridal wreath and bouquet and the tussie-mussies for the ladies of the bridal party using herbs and flowers from the Terence Wick herb garden at Jockey Hollow, all of which had a special meaning for a wedding.

A "frolic" in celebration of the wedding took place at the home of the Rixons at which all beverages and foods were made from 18th century recipes. Music was provided by the fifes and drums of the Morgan's Rifle Corps Music and Lt. Kerry Jost of Woodbridge playing the bagpipes, member 23rd Rgt. of Foot, Drum Major General of the Brigade. Contradancing under the direction of Dick Meyer of Cranford was enjoyed by the wedding guests under the stars.

Six Become Eagle Scouts At Troop 72 Court of Honor

Six scouts of Troop 72 were awarded Eagle rank at a recent court of honor held in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church of Westfield.

Receiving the highest award in scouting were Richard W. Akerly, 820 Sherbrooke Dr.; Frederick V. Hoffmeyer, 403 West Dudley Ave.; Alexander V. Moomjy, 1081 Minisink Way; Clayton Dale Pritchett, 13 Barchester Way; Peter C. Walls, Clark, and Kevin R. Wegryn, 53 Michael Dr.

The honors were presented by Dr. Joseph Boylan, scoutmaster emeritus of Troop 72, and Roger Preuss, Colonial District Commissioner, Watchung Council of the Boy Scouts.

In winning their Eagles,

the six scouts were responsible for a wide variety of Eagle projects.

Rich Akerly indexed and cross-referenced for dates the more than 1,200 names that appear in the "Marginal Jottings from the Almanacs of the Scudder Family," a 100-page chronicle of the life and times of Benjamin Scudder and his family, who resided in this area in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. The document is kept at Westfield's Miller-Cory House.

Fred Hoffmeyer's project was in two parts. At the Children's Specialized Hospital, he reorganized the storeroom for crutches. And at Troop 72's headquarters in Westminster Hall, he repaired some damaged walls in the area of the troop's supply room.

Alex Moomjy organized a work team of 13 scouts to sand and paint the walls and ceilings of two rooms at the offices of Spaulding for Children, a voluntary adoption agency located in Westfield.

Dale Pritchett sanded and refinished furniture at the Westfield Day Care Center. Over the one-year period in which he did the work, he allowed the children to "help" him enthusiastically.

Peter Walls' project involved a pollution study of two tributaries of the Rahway River near his home in Clark. He mapped the streams and took water samples that were tested with the help of the Rahway Water Department. He then prepared and distributed fliers urging citizens of the area to keep the streams free of debris.

And Kevin Wegryn checked the medical supplies and equipment that have been stored for 15 years by the American Civil Defense Agency in 22 "disaster trunks" kept at various locations throughout the county. None of the trunks had been checked since 1950, and much of the equipment was outdated and useless. Kevin brought the supplies up to date and catalogued them.

A number of other awards were made during the ceremonies. Kevin Wegryn won the Robert Roff Memorial Award for Scout of the Year. The award, in the amount of $100 to be used for summer scouting activities, was given for participation and advancement during the scouting year. For their performance in the same contest, 21 other scouts won $50 each for this summer.

Kevin Wegryn also led the Navajo Patrol, a senior patrol, to win the Patrol of the Year Award. The

Griggs Reelected Y President, Will Be Succeeded by Roger Love

YMCA President Richard C. Griggs has been re-elected to a third term in that office. To insure a smooth transition of administration, Roger D. Love, like Griggs a lifelong resident of Westfield, was named president-elect of the organization.

Love will work closely with Griggs during the next year in preparation for assuming the presidency in the late spring of 1976.

The recent tradition of youthful leadership is thus upheld, for at 36, Love becomes the second youngest president - second only to Griggs who was elected three years ago at the age of 33.

winning patrol among the younger boys was the Cheyenne Patrol, led by David DuBois, followed by the Panther Patrol, led by Randy Rochlin.

Advancement awards were presented that involved all the ranks of scouting. John Boshier won an Eagle Palm award, for work beyond the rank of Eagle. Ralph Carlson became a Life Scout, and new Star Scouts are Joseph Terardi, Randy Rochlin and Gregg Smith. First class rank was presented to John Dalton, Jeff Hilsinger, Tom Roff, Rick Russell, Bob Salinger and Tad Wood. Winning second class were Dave Pyley and Cliff Sheehan. Robert Moomjy became a Tenderfoot.

In addition, a total of 70 merit badges were awarded.

Walter Blumenscheid, troop committee chairman, expressed the troop's thanks to Ted Reiner for his service as scoutmaster. He also introduced Jay Rochlin, who will serve as scoutmaster next year. It also was announced that Reiner will become an assistant district commissioner.

The Eagle Charge was given by Rochlin, and Reiner gave the scoutmaster's benediction.

It also was announced that the following boys have been elected to serve in key posts at the troop next year: John Boshier, senior patrol leader; Ralph Carlson, quartermaster; Ted Reiner and Bob Salinger, chaplains; John Freeman and Dick Blumenscheid, scribes, and Jeff Hilsinger and Rob McGovern, librarians.

Following the ceremonies, refreshments were served. The troop is sponsored by the Men's Triangle Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church.

Griggs was re-elected by the YMCA board of directors at its monthly meeting.

She has served the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council and national program for five years as a successful administrator and supervisor. Mrs. Hill is currently a member of the resource and referral committee for the Westfield community Girl Scout Service Team and delegate for the annual council meeting. She initiated the Troop Wing Scout Troop as well as developed, directed, and coordinated an international survival encampment program in the United States and Canada. She received the Amelia Earhart medal for developing this program.

Mrs. Hill also belongs to and has served the "Ninety Nines," an international organization of licensed women pilots. She has served as director of Support for Youth, a program to aid youth and adults in aviation education training. Cabbage, Onion Sets Premature

There are many reasons why cabbage plants and onion sets go to seed prematurely in your home vegetable garden.

Eric H. Peterson Jr., senior county agent of the Union County Cooperative Extension Service, explains what is happening and what you can expect in the heat of summer.

The onion sets you planted are the victims of the short daylight hours combined with the abnormally low temperatures we had for more than a week in April. Low temperatures for an extended length of time will encourage onion sets to send up seed stock.

Premature flowering can also be triggered by poor storage conditions on the part of the grower before you bought your onion sets.

In either case, there isn't anything you can do but cut the seed stock as soon as it forms. You won't have high quality onions but you can use the fresh ones for the table. When harvest time comes, store the thin-necked onions that have dried down. The thick-necked ones will get "neck rot," cautions Mr. Peterson.

If your cabbage plants are going to seed instead of forming good solid heads, the low temperatures or a heavy application of fertilizer may be the cause. Fertilizer high in nitrogen will encourage rapid production of large plants. These large plants are susceptible to early seedling.

ARE YOU IN HOT WATER?
By Charlotte Mitchell

Director of Consumer Information
Elizabethtown Gas

Hot water is a strong weapon against dirt, disease and infection. It is also a prerequisite for everyone who takes pride in personal appearance and a clean home.

You can get the hot water you need with a modern gas water heater. Today's gas water heater is a fully automatic appliance which is designed to be on duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The quick recovery performance—or heating more water to replace hot water used—of a gas water heater properly sized to the needs of a household can deliver oceans of hot water when needed.

Family needs determine correct size of the water heater. To be sized correctly, it should have enough capacity to provide all the hot water used in the peak use period in your home.

A water heater improperly sized wastes water, money and fuel. When replacing a water heater a good rule to follow is to choose the next size larger.

To help determine your hot water requirements, here are the average hot water quantities needed for normal household and hygienic tasks:

Gallons
Bathing (shower, tub) 10-15
Washing hands and face daily . . . 1-3
Shampooing hair 3-5
Automatic washer (per load) . . . 18-30
Automatic dishwasher (per load) . . . 6-12
Hand dishwashing (per meal) . . . 2-5
Rinsing (per meal) 1-4
Food preparation 2-5
General housecleaning (floors, etc.) 2-10

Need More Hot Water?

REPLACE your old gas water heater with a NEW gas water heater

A new gas water heater big enough for your whole family can keep you in hot water—while conserving gas at the same time. With a modern unit, you'll have all the hot water you need for dishes, laundry, and baths or showers. No waiting, wishing or wondering.

These new efficient models, with their advance-design safety features, recover hot water much faster yet consume less gas than older units. So you'll get that nice feeling that comes from conserving energy and saving money at the same time.

Visit our nearest showroom to see new models by famous Lovekin and A. O. Smith, ready for fast delivery. All carry a one-year warranty on parts and service. The tank has a ten-year warranty. At Elizabethtown, the price includes delivery and normal installation. Liberal credit terms are available.

Opposes Dual Office-Holding

At its regular meeting last Wednesday, the steering committee of Common Cause of the 12th N.J. Congressional District passed a resolution urging passage of N.J. State Assembly Bill A1278, which would prohibit dual office-holding and thus eliminate the conflict of interest affecting office-holders who represent more than one constituency. As an example, the group cited Senator Thomas Dunn is also mayor of Elizabeth, thus serving two different constituencies whose interests may conflict. Members of Common Cause were asked to write or wire their Assemblyman or Assemblywoman in support of A1278.

Common Cause is the citizens' action organization founded in 1970 by John Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Johnson administration. It has been working in all 50 states for reform of campaign finance practices, elimination of unnecessary secrecy in government and other changes intended to make politics more open to the average citizen.

The meeting was held at the home of Beth Bjerklie of 122 North Euclid Ave. In the absence of District Coordinator Harris Gilbert, Jim Dechesare of Elizabeth presided.

The Edison and Roosevelt Teen Centers will sponsor shore trips every Wednesday throughout the summer program. Any registered member of a teen center may go to the shore with a permission slip. More information is available at the teen centers. Registration is Monday from 1-3 p.m. at Edison and Roosevelt.

Students Study Colonial Era

How America lived and worked during the Colonial and Victorian eras was experienced by second grade students from Wilson and Jefferson Schools recently during a visit to the Clinton Historical Museum. Costumed guides conducted the children on a tour which included rooms and homes furnished in the style of both eras, a harness and tin-smith shop, a carpenter's shop, a display of Edison's inventions and toys, tools and costumes of both eras. Favorites of the students were a large Victorian doll house and a working model of the mill.

The children also visited a cooper's shop, a potter's shop, a general store and post office, a barber shop and blacksmith's shop and rang the bell in a little red school house. The mill is set in a ten acre park and affords a delightful area where the group picnicked and fed flocks of wild ducks and geese.

Hikers to Ramble Over Weekend

Two rambles are on the schedule of the Union County Hiking Club for members and guests during the weekend of Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday, Dorothy Treacy of Cranford will conduct a six mile walk in the Watchung Reservation. The meeting place at 1:30 p.m. is the parking lot of the Trailside Nature & Science Center.

The Sunday walk will also be about six miles, in the South Mountain Reservation. This ramble will begin at 10:15 a.m. at the Locust Grove area in Millburn with Nathan Coyne of Irvington and Herman Essing of Newark in charge. The ramble will end with lunch.

Attends Workshop

Florence Jacobs of 401 Clifton St. recently attended the National Keyboard Arts Teaching Techniques '75 Workshop held in Princeton, a three day workshop designed to develop more effective ways to teach and more enjoyable ways to learn piano.

Included in the workshop were sessions on sight-reading ear-training, jazz-improvisation and composition.

Mrs. Jacobs received her bachelor of music degree from Yale University School of Music and is presently conducting a studio at her home.

Philadelphia Visit For Washingtonians

Washington School students have been on the move lately, participating in learning experiences through travel. Fifth graders taught by Mrs. Anne Gallagher and Mrs. Eleanor Wallace visited the United States Mint in Philadelphia then proceeded on to Independence Hall, Congress Hall and the Betsy Ross House. The sixth grade classes, accompanied by teachers Mrs. Martha Koury and Joseph Russoniello, journeyed to Franklin Institute in Philadelphia where they saw demonstrations of paper making, electronic music, weather, man made lightning and the show "The Sun's Family" at the planetarium. While the older groups traveled outside the school for learning experiences, Mrs. Mary O'Toole's first grade students entertained parents and friends at a Mother Goose play "Mary's Birthday Party" in the Washington School auditorium.

Class Stages

Shakespeare Classic

Members of Joseph Hawkins' sixth grade class at Tamaques School recently wrote and produced their version of Shakespeare's classic "Romeo and Juliet." Sets were designed and constructed by students. Parents and members of the class contributed their talents to making costumes of the Renaissance period and appropriate music and dancing provided background for the production.

Port Authority Offers Ways to Save Time

In addition to the new change makers who have proved effective in speeding traffic flow and reducing backups since their recent introduction the Port Authority has announced it has also taken the following steps to reduce delays at its vehicular crossings:

Opened six additional toll lanes: two at the George Washington Bridge, and one each at the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, Goethals Bridge and Outerbridge Crossing.

Added temporary collectors for greater toll lane coverage.

Made available to the change makers and toll collectors a supply of 100,000 half-dollars to speed up transactions.

Also, the Port Authority called attention to the availability to motorists of toll scrip - long used principally by trucks and buses - as a "convenience ticket" for automobiles. The scrip can be bought in books of 25 tickets worth $1.50 each for $33.75, which represents a ten percent discount. The books are valid for any automobile and are good until used up.

Scrip is sold only by mail and order forms are available at the toll booths of the George Washington Bridge, the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, the Bayonne and Goethals Bridges, and Outerbridge Crossing.

Signs placed in front of the toll lanes remind motorists that "Exact Fare Speeds Your Trip." It is hoped that patrons who receive half-dollars in change will use them on their next trip.

The new change makers, wearing bright orange vests and carpenter style aprons, work in conjunction with increased toll collector coverage during periods of heavy traffic.

The Port Authority reported that addition of the change makers and collectors helped alleviate toll booth delays on Father's Day when traffic, especially at the Judson River Crossings and the Goethals Bridge, was exceedingly heavy. It has likewise contributed to the speeding up of traffic flow during typical daily rush hours.

The Port Authority also has urged motorists purchasing 20-trip tickets for $20 to do so conveniently by mail and thus reduce congestion at the toll booths. The ticket books, normally good for 30 days, are valid for 35 days when purchased by mail and an extra two days are provided to allow time for return mail delivery.

Order forms for the 20-trip book, as well as for scrip and carpool ticket books - which can be ordered only by mail - are available at the toll booths. When accompanied by check or money order, completed order form envelopes may be handed to any toll collector for convenience.

Requests may also be mailed directly to The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey Ticket Sales Office, P.O. Box 1160F, 220 South Marginal Road, Fort Lee, New Jersey 07024.

Baptist Minister Returns as Guest Here Sunday

The Rev. Elbert E. Gates Jr. will return to his former Church on Sunday when he preaches at the First Baptist of Westfield. He pastored the church from 1949 to 1959.

The Rev. Mr. Gates and his wife are currently serving in the American Church in Kowloon, Hong Kong. They are in the United States to attend the biennial meeting of the American Baptist Churches which is being held in Atlantic City this week.

Before leaving Hong Kong, the Gateses met the Queen of England and Prince Philip at a reception in the crown colony. Then they went on safari in Nairobi, Africa. They arrived in the United States via the Queen Elizabeth II.

After visiting Westfield, the former pastor and his wife will travel in the states before returning to Hong Kong.

The service of worship at First Baptist is at 10 a.m. Mr. Gates will preach on the theme "The Power of a Name." Following the worship service, there will be an informal reception. The board of deacons and the ministers extend an invitation to the community to share in this experience.

Friends of the community unable to attend the morning service and reception are invited to an informal reception for the Gateses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Heidi Slocum, 843 Mountain Ave. at 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Ministry Heads Are Appointed

At the first meeting of the Church Council of Calvary Lutheran Church, Cranford, the governing board of the congregation, Mrs. Gale Metzger, the new council president, appointed the following to key chairmanships of the five ministries: W. Gaylord Fernstrom of Scotch Plains, Christian nurture; Walter Bischoff of Cranford, operations; Dr. Max Stutz of Fanwood, pastoral and social concerns; Mrs. Clarence Walbert of Westfield, proclamation; and William Sherm of Cranford, youth. Mrs. Metzger also announced that she and the pastor would meet with the ministry leaders at 8 p.m. tonight to staff these five ministries. The congregation recently conducted a thorough survey of all the members to discover those who really wanted to participate in its ministry. Pleased by the large response, Calvary has as a goal using every member who desires to serve.

Service is held at 9:30 a.m. during the summer months. An experimental service in Fellowship Hall will be held at 7:45 a.m. this Sunday.

The smartest place to start a diet.

Robert L. Weeks

Patton, senior vice president, Summit & Elizabeth Trust Company.

Campaigner awards were presented to Robert L. Weeks, "for outstanding leadership in directing the Sixth Annual United Way of Union County Campaign," and Neil McGinley, business agent, Local No. 461, I.U.E., AFL-CIO, "for outstanding leadership in the United Way," by John L. O'Marra, outgoing president of the United Way Board of Trustees. Recipient of the "Man of the Year" award was John L. O'Marra for his "excellent leadership and outstanding performance."

In his annual report to the voluntary association, O'Marra said, "Thanks to you, voluntarism is alive and well in Union County, and let's do our very best to keep it that way."

About 200 representatives from leading industry, agencies and volunteers participated in the program. "A Nite at the Races" as part of the entertainment for the evening, where contestants vied to name the winning horses for prizes donated by industry. Master of ceremonies for the event was Chuck Leonard, actor, announcer, radio and television news reporter, disc jockey, writer, lecturer, entertainer and multimedia design consultant. Leonard has had parts in several major motion pictures and most recently wrote and directed a medical educational film in California. Locally, he is best known as the only reporter locked inside Rahway State Prison during the riots.

You pay less for electricity made by nuclear energy.

This fact seems to surprise a lot of people. But right now, PSE&G pays 9 times more for oil and 7 times more for coal than it does for an equivalent amount of nuclear fuel to produce electricity. The lower price that PSE&G pays to produce electricity with nuclear energy is automatically reflected in your bills.

Recent nuclear savings.

This past April, our customers' electric bills dropped an average of 9 1/2% and in May they were reduced an average of 12% over the preceding months because of PSE&G's increasing reliance on nuclear energy.

PSE&G is part owner of the Peach Bottom Nuclear Generating Station in Pennsylvania. Its operating record clearly shows that nuclear energy is far and away the cheapest way to produce electricity in this area.

Unfortunately, other costs are going up.

PSE&G is counting on its current nuclear construction projects to help provide further fuel savings in the future. Unfortunately, other costs are not going down. But at least nuclear power will continue to help reduce the effect of fuel costs on your bill.

Economic effect on industry and jobs.

Competitively priced electric energy is a prime requisite for industry remaining in New Jersey. Naturally, industry provides the jobs which are so vital to personal and family security and to the economic welfare of New Jersey. Nuclear energy offers the best opportunity to keep electric costs reasonable enough to maintain and attract industry.

PSE&G's nuclear projects.

Even PSE&G's nuclear construction projects themselves are providing enormous work opportunities in New Jersey. The Salem and Hope Creek Generating Stations, located on the banks of the lower Delaware River, will continue to provide thousands of jobs. In fact more than 4,000 New Jersey workers will be on the job at these sites during the next two years.

Timely completion of nuclear projects is vital to New Jersey's economy.

Nuclear energy is already showing its important impact in saving you and all our customers money. To continue this trend of more economical electric production, PSE&G's nuclear projects must be completed on schedule. After all, it's money in your pocketbook.

Indians Capture A.L. Title

The Indians captured their second straight American League (of the Westfield Baseball League's Major League) title last Wednesday with a well-played 7-1 play-off triumph over a well-knit White Sox outfit.

Both teams had entered the one-game AL championship battle with identical 15-3 records, an AL 'Halve' championship, and a previous two-run win over their opponent, but when he squads left the crowded Gumbert Field complex the Indians - at least on June the 18th - had proved themselves worthy to be termed 'the 1975 American League Champions.'

The talented squads had met twice before last week's encounter with each club prevailing once. In the First Half of the season, the White Sox came out on top 7-5, while in the Second Half battle the Tribe triumphed, 5-3.

Lance Ritchie was the big gun for the Indians going four for four at bat, pitching three shutout innings, and playing flawless defense, although Gavin Brady, Rich Chenitz, Jack Baldwin, Tom Ripberger, Roger Brewster... well, in fact, the whole Indian Tribe helped pull out the victory.

The Indians got all the runs they needed in the top of the first. Surprising most ML observers by winning to toss and choosing the be the visiting team seemed to pay off, as Ritchie singled to center to lead off. He advanced to third base and second batter Brady to second, when after Brady was hit by a pitch there was a pass ball. Chenitz, batting third, lofted a sacrifice fly to center to score Ritchie and move Brady up to third. Then, on an appeal at second base, Brady alertly raced home for the gamer. Bill Stanzel and Bob Cullen hooked up on back-to-back doubles for the Sox in the third to produce the home team's lone tally.

Key Indian defensive plays were registered by Ripberger (who turned a would-be squeeze bunt run into a double play), Scott Fischer, Ritchie, Brewster, and Baldwin.

For the White Sox, Cullen was the hitting star going three for three, Stanzel, Willy Stune and Jay Ferguson also collected hits. Ferguson and Cullen limited the Indians to seven hits, walking just two and striking out seven. Matt Clarke, Frank Dick, Pete Borque, Stanzel, Ferguson, and Mike Ebert made outstanding defensive plays for the White Sox.

The Indians insured their victory behind the strong pitching of Baldwin and Ritchie, their, aforementioned excellent defense, and five extra runs. Baldwin, throwing for four innings, yielded just the single run, spacing six White Sox hits, striking out five and walking one. Ritchie'd three and let up just one run as he closed the proverbial door during the last three frames.

Paul Valentino, Brewster, Ritchie, Chenitz, and Greg Gilligan were instrumental in getting the Indians their five insurance runs.

And members of the 1975 American League Champion Indians: Jack Baldwin, Brian Bernstein, Gavin Brady, Roger Brewster, Jeff Brown, Rich Chenitz, Scott Fischer, Tom Ripberger, Lance Ritchie, Sandy Ritchie, Dan Snyder, and Paul Valentino, Tim Babb, Rick Baldwin, and Daryl Brewster are the coaches. Connell Rice and Sugar of Westfield sponsors the Tribe.

Union County 200 Club President Russell Bauer presents plaque to Valor Award Winner, Det. Sgt. Andoloro of the State Police, Sgt. Julian Hilongos of the Elizabeth Police Dept., and Fireman Robert Jones of Elizabeth. The occasion was the annual luncheon at the Towers Steak House, Mountainside.

200 Club Honors Policemen, Fire Fighter

Russell Bauer, president of the "200" Club of Union County, welcomed 250 members, three valor award winners and guest speaker, New Jersey's Attorney General, William Hyland at the recent 200 club's seventh annual awards luncheon at the Towers Restaurant in Mountainside.

Hyland reiterated that one of the most demoralizing facts of life is that so much of the excellent police work done in the detention of crime and the apprehension of offenders is wasted because of the inability of the law to deal adequately with offenders.

Hyland also announced the creation of a new corruption bureau that will devote its primary attention to streamlining the state's law enforcement agencies.

Three valor award winners: Sgt. Julian Hilongos of the Elizabeth Police, Fireman Robert Jones of the Elizabeth Fire Dept. and Det. Sgt. Andoloro of the New Jersey State Police, each received standing ovations, a $500 savings bond and an engraved plaque in recognition of their brave conduct. Their wives were each presented with a gold "200" Club pin.

President Bauer also announced the "200" Club of Union County has extended its benefits to all armed members of the Motor Vehicle Department.

The 200 Club is a non-profit group of Union County residents and businessmen who are concerned with the 3,000 state troopers, policemen and firemen who protect property, families and lives. Thus far, the club has paid over $30,000 in assistance to the widows, children and families of those public servants who gave their lives in the line of duty.

Buy PA Toll Books by Mail

The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey urges those motorists purchasing $20, 20-trip tickets to do so conveniently by mail to avoid congestion on the tolls plazas.

Pre-addressed simplified order forms are available at the toll booths of the George Washington Bridge, the Holland and Lincoln Tunnels, the Bayonne and Goethals Bridges and Outerbridge Crossing. Completed order forms, accompanied by check or money order, may now be handed to any toll collector, and if they are received by 10 a.m., the ticket book will be mailed out the same day.

Requests may also be mailed to the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey Ticket Sales Office,

P.O. Box 1160F, 220 South Marginal Road, Fort Lee, New Jersey 07024.

The 20-trip ticket books, which are normally good for 30 days, are valid for 35 days when purchased by mail. In addition, an extra two days are given all mail orders to provide time for delivery.

The Port Authority also noted that the new $30, 60-trip car-pool ticket books are transferable between vehicles and good for six months in addition to the month purchased. Available to passenger autos occupied by three or more persons, the 66-2-3 percent discount ticket is valid on weekdays, except certain holidays. The carpool tickets are sold only by mail and completed carpool ticket order forms may similarly be given to any toll collector for convenience. The carpool ticket book reduces the round-trip toll to 50 cents when fully used.

WESTFIELD BASEBALL LEAGUES

To paraphrase an old weather report . . . "tomorrow fair and warmer, followed by little boys and girls with gloves . . ." just about describes WBL activity once summer is upon us. Players with gloves — 1400 of them — are assigned to leagues according to age and ability, ranging from the exuberant eight-year-old beginner in the Minor League to the teenagers in the Pony and Mustang Leagues.

A total of 106 teams have been formed this year. They are playing on diamonds throughout Westfield. Many of your neighbors — 400 of them — have given guidance and assistance during this baseball season. There are umpires, managers, coaches, scorekeepers and other officials who devote their time, all on a voluntary basis. Mothers perform as chauffeurs, fans and heads of training tables.

The active support of the Town Council, Board of Education, Recreation Commission, YMCA, service clubs, local shops, banks, and industries assure that the WBL will be continued each year.

The officers of this civic, non-partisan, strictly voluntary and non-profit endeavor deeply appreciate the interest, kind words and cooperation contributed by parents and friends of the boys and girls. There is a place for every Westfield boy or girl and parent in the WBL.

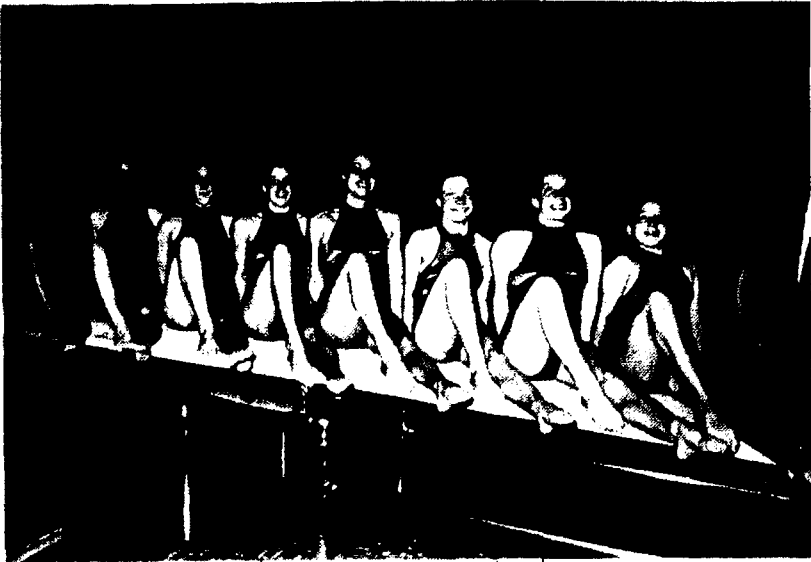

COME SEE THE GAMES

SUMMER LEAGUES

In addition to the full scale spring league schedule, the WBL has for many years entered competitive teams in various out of town tournaments and also in leagues comprising various other neighboring communities. The WBL has also started a Summer Instructional League which provides fun for the youngsters as well as helping them to improve their baseball skills.

What is Synchronized Swimming?

by Cullie Willis Jr., Vice-Chairman
New Jersey Synchronized Swimming Association

(Note: In Part I of this series, we outlined the sport of synchronized swimming as a competitive challenge for young women. We defined the pre-requisites for this form of water sport and outlined the discipline necessary to overcome the fear of incompetence.)

The A.A.U. establishes age group levels of competition; namely, 10 and under, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-17. There are also open meets between qualified competitors regardless of their individual ages. The A.A.U. book of regulations for synchronized swimmers covers all of the executed figures, rules, penalties and historical achievements of women in this sport for the past 29 years.

In State, Regional and National competition, required and optional figures are executed and evaluated by a panel of 5 to 9 judges. The scoring is zero to 10, the same as used in other A.A.U. competitive sports.

The swimmers of solo, duet and team routines are evaluated by a select group of 7 judges who have passed the A.A.U. judging position tests. Each solo swimmer, duet and team are judged on the level of execution of each demand figure in their routine, plus the content of the overall routine. The final score also includes the earlier figure exponents. Awards are recognized from first through third place, except in figure meets where this recognition continues through seventh place.

Having mastered most of the basic figures, a synchronized swimmer is ready to compete in any or all of the three recognized categories: solo, duet and team (8 swimmers maximum). In collegiate competition, trio swimming is also a recognized part of a meet.

In solo competition, the swimmer and the coach work many hours preparing the pool pattern of movement, the sequence of figures to be executed, the hybrid water movements that tie the routine together and the stroking between executions. Timing is important to conform with the beat of the accompaniment, as well as overall time the swimmer is in constant and continuous motion.

In duet and multiple-swimmer routines, precision timing and split-second coordination and mandatory to unfold true synchronization of all parts of the body. Each swimmer executes according to the place of the music and not relative to a nearby swimmer. This is the only way true synchronization above and below the surface of the water can be achieved. An under water sound system aid the swimmers as they pass beneath the water line during the course of a complete routine.

Yes, I have learned a lot about synchronized swimming in these past five years. It is truly a difficult water sport which has been acknowledged by many in the field of sports broadcasting and writing. In 1974, the United States team took first place at the International Meet, Belgrade, Yugoslavia. The way things are looking up, synchronized swimming may soon be part of the World Olympics, a final plateau in a long struggle for world recognition.

Would you like to see synchronized swimming in action? The New Jersey Association is hosting the Region 1 Age Group Finals in the Westfield YWCA Wallace Pool on June 27 through 29. Mayor Alexander S. Williams of Westfield has proclaimed the week of June 22, as the beginning of "Westfield Synchronized Swimming Week." The Westfield Aquasprites State Championship team has extended an open invitation to the public to be their guests and observe over 400 swimmers in action during this 3 day meet. It has been suggested that Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday will enable spectators to see all of the categories of synchronized swimming competition.

Many of the swimmers also competed in the Nationals at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. in April. Many of the swimming sequences have appeared on WABC-TV "Wide World of Sports" and WNBC-TV "Champions". The Westfield Aquasprites competed in the Nationals at

Mayor and Governor Proclaim Synchronized Swimming Week

The week of June 22nd has been proclaimed "Synchronized Swimming Week" by the Mayor of Westfield, Alexander S. Williams and by Governor Brendan T. Byrne. This week the New Jersey Association Synchronized Swimming will host the Region 1 Age Group Finals in the Westfield YWCA Wallace Pool. In his proclamation Mayor Williams urges the citizens of the Town of Westfield to join in making this week a success. Governor Byrne, in declaring this week New Jersey Synchronized Swimming Week, relates that over 500 swimmers, coaches and officials from the New England States, New York and New Jersey will participate in this most important final meet of 1975, for age group competitors.

The Westfield Chamber of Commerce has joined the Westfield Aquasprites in welcoming their guests with posters appearing in many of the local merchants places of business. The public has been invited to visit the Y during this meet as guest of the Aquasprites to watch these top synchronized swimmers as they compete in this event featuring figure competition, solo, duet and team routines. There is no charge for this meet. Ample space should be available in the Wallace Pool balcony observation area.

Returning from the East Coast Championships at Springfield, Mass. this past weekend, the "A" team is again in practice with the other age group contestants on the Aquasprite 53 girl team. New Jersey Television will tape the Regional Meet on June 27th-29th. Television tapes of the Aquasprites in practice took place this week for presentation over Channel 50 and 58, and other video-media by courtesy of New Jersey Television. This past weekend on WNBC-Channel 4, the Synchronized Swimming Duet Finals were televised having been taped at Ft. Lauderdale, Florida in April. This National competition included the Aquasprites "A" team in team routine competition only.

After the Regional meet, the Aquasprites "A" team will travel to Rockville, Md., to compete in the Junior National Team Competition, then to Hamden, Conn. for the Junior National Duet Competition. In early August the "A" team will travel to East Lansing, Mich. to compete in the Senior National Outdoor Championships. Coach Lorraine Fasullo of Clark is the spirit behind this team and the foundation upon which they have achieved their top place in New Jersey Synchronized Swimming.

Shack Event Won By Jill, Warren Victor

A perfect golfing day greeted the Annual Shackamaxon Country Club "Parent & Junior" golf tournament. The field included some of the top "Juniors" in the State. At the conclusion of play, in a rather remarkable round, Jill Victor teaming with her father, Warren Victor, took the first place title. Jill, 15 years old of Westfield High School, only recently took up golf during a recuperation from a tennis injury. She is well known on the tennis tournament circuit.

Basketball.... For Girls, Too

The Westfield Recreation Commission's summer basketball league is open to both girls and boys. An article in the June 5 Leader erroneously stated that the program was for boys. As always, all recreation commission programs are co-ed and open to all Westfield residents. Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, director of recreation, emphasized that the commission has never denied participation to anyone in any program on the basis of sex.

Westfield Wins Mid Jersey Soccer Title

The 1975 season of the Mid Jersey Youth Soccer League officially ended last Sunday when all final games for all divisions were played. The first championship game was the Division IV game which put Westfield's 10 year olds, winners of the Northern New Jersey region, against the Sayrewood Soccer Club, winners of the Southern New Jersey region. Under a bright sun, with parents and fans of both clubs cheering the players on, the game got underway at 11 a.m. sharp. The first minutes of game were quite contested as both teams moved the ball back and forth in each other's half of the field with Westfield having better chances at scoring. Sayrewood favored long diagonal passes while the Westfield boys were playing their usual fast, short passes game.

Twenty minutes into the game a forward pass by Marc Bleiweiss was controlled by F. Frank Blanchette, who dribbled past a defender and scored with a high ball in the far corner. Ten minutes later, on a drive started from the left, Ken Chin very smartly again clipped a high ball past the Sayrewood goalie to end the first half of play with a 2-0 edge for Westfield. After the five minutes rest period, and after listening to their coaches Smith and LaTartara exhort them to faster passing and sharper shots on goal, the Westfield boys did just that. The tight marking of defensemen Edgar Smith, Marc Bleiweiss, Arthur Stock and Tom Shepherd, the constant passes to the wings by the halves Frank Blanchette and Joe DiBella, the relentless fast passing attack by Ken Chin, Giancarlo Dilorio, Ken Schmalz, Kevin Hood, Larry Van Kirk, Jeff Schmalz, and Jim Edelblut forced Sayrewood in a constant defensive position.

At intervals of five minutes each, Westfield's players scored seven more times in the thirty-five minutes of the second half. Jeff Schmalz opened the scoring by alertly jumping on the goalie's rebound and putting the ball in the net with his chest; Giancarlo Dilorio, following a fast give and take from Blanchette and Chin, shot in goal for a 4-0 lead; then Frank Blanchette again, using a defenseman as a screen drove another in the net. Fulback Marc Bleiweiss scored twice. Frank Blanchette got his third goal for the game, and Ken Schmalz finally made it 9-0. This smashing championship victory was also witnessed by the President of the Mid New Jersey Youth Soccer Association, Mr. Robert Reichenbach, who personally congratulated the players and handed out their well deserved trophies.

Westfield coaches Peter LaTartara and Edgar Smith were congratulated by the league vice president for having been able to teach such an effective and modern type of soccer to such young players. It is quite understandable why the New York Cosmos invited this Westfield team to play a curtain game at Downing Stadium on Randall's Island last month and why three of those boys (Joe DiBella, Larry Van Kirk, and Frank Blanchette) were invited to demonstrate their soccer skills on the television program "Wonderama."

Another Westfield Soccer Association team won their regional championship. Division III A team, coached by Mike Nolan, after ending the season in first place, played an unfortunate semi-finals game which did not qualify them for the finals. The game was played against Chatham, and saw the Westfield 12-13 year olds start by controlling most of the game. Down 0-1 after ten minutes of play, the game was tied three minutes later and after the forty-five minutes of play of the first half the score could have been 3-1 for Westfield. In the second half, with the score still tied 1-1, forward Frank Edelblut collided with a Chatham player and fractured his leg.

Somewhat shocked by the accident, the team seemed to lose some of its effectiveness and the game ended with a 5-1 score for Chatham. The boys on the Division III A team are: Dave Boate, Tim Graney, Kevin Bunting, Brian Ashforth, Gary Swart, Steve Glantz, John La France, Frank Edelblut, Jeff Alpert, John Garrett, Walter Gotsch, Steve Farbsstein, and Mike Gengos.

In all the other Divisions, I, II and V, Westfield's teams all ended the season in second place in the central region tournament, a remarkable accomplishment for one club! The Westfield Soccer Association will be holding its yearly end of season banquet at the Westwood Lounge on North Ave. in Garwood at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

This year's Pony League World Series was won by the Police Athletic League Bisons in the 8th inning of the third and deciding game. Going into the third and final game, the Bisons had won the first game 7 to 6 over the tough Clements Bros. Chiefs team when Tom Rokosny knocked out a base hit in the bottom of the 6th inning at bat in the deciding two runs of the game. Up until that point John Byrne and Tom Rokosny had pitched a fine 4 hit game after Kevin Kerwin failed to keep the powerful Chief line up. The Bisons hitting was led by John Byrne with two hits in three times at bat; also adding a hit were Tom Rokosny, Mario Giacome, Bobby Bell, Mark Muzzi, Jim Kowitz, Mark Lavender and Ed Destefanis. The Bisons had 9 hits in 26 times at bat and 2 errors. For the Clements Bros. Chiefs it was Sexton going 2 for 3; Jack Harley went 1 for 2 and Pete McCarthy, who pitched the whole game had 1 hit in 4 turns at the plate. The Chiefs ended up with 8 hits in 30 trips to the plate, including one fielding error.

Game No. 2 of the series was won by the Chiefs in another last inning rally where Kevin Kerwin and John Byrne walked in three runs and Ferguson knocked in the winning run with his second hit of the game. The only other hits were by Jeff Yacilla and the pitcher, Piantowski. The Chiefs had 4 hits in 25 times at bat and an errorless game.

The Bisons hitting consisted of a perfect day for Bobby Bell who went 3 for 3, Tom Della Badia, 1 for 2 and Dave Kahn, Doug Fisher and Ed Destefanis all had one hit apiece. The Bisons finished 7 for 25 with only one error in the game.

The third game was the rubber game of the series. In the first inning, the Bisons took a 2-0 lead. In the bottom of the third, Jeff Yacilla and Sexton batted out hits to knock in 4 runs. At the end of 7 innings the score was tied at 8 to 8. When the Bisons came up to bat in the 8th, two runs were walked in and then both Tom Rokosny and Tom Della Badia knocked in two more with 2 consecutive hits. Fine pitching was exerted by John Byrne, Kevin Kerwin and Tom Rokosny. Hitting perfection was shown by Mark Muzzi, Tom Della Badia and Mario Giacome who all had 2 hits. The Bisons batted .300 in the last game with 11 hits in 26 times at bat. The final statistics for the Bisons were 27 hits in 79 times at bat for a .350 world series average, including 6 errors. The Chiefs went 16 for 85 for a .189 series average. Their fielders accumulated 4 errors. The leading hitters for the Bisons were Tom Della Badia and Mark Muzzi, both going 3 for 5 and scoring 2 runs apiece for a .600 average. Bobby Bell went 4 for 7, scoring 1 run for an average of .571. John Byrne went 3 for 8, including 4 runs.

Ending his season at .375 Mario Giacome scored 4 runs and batted 3 for 9 at .333.

Major Leagues Ending

The playing of the National and American League play-off games and the Major League World Series all but brings to an end a successful 1975 Major League baseball season. The but, however, is a very big one as the finest 12 year olds in town will be playing National versus American League - tomorrow evening, at 5 at Gumbert Field.

Under the directorship of Dave Landale, all 180 Major League games scheduled were completed and the results and the happenings during them kept at a zenith ML excitement.

Both the American and National League races were extremely tight with Play-Offs and championship games needed in both leagues. Although it was the Indians and Dodgers who finally finished first, all twenty teams played good baseball and made Major League baseball 1975 all the much better.

MAJOR MESH ...

1975 was a very good year for the ML not only on the playing field, but also in the front office ... the leadership this spring of the Major Leagues was excellent ... the First Hats-Off Award has got to go to the Major League Director, Dave Landale, who did a fabulous job all year long ... be it manicuring the fields, obtaining field manicuring equipment, getting the games in, solving disputes, or just plain keeping the league running the former Angel coach was almost always on hand at Gumbert and the result was a job well done

MLD-wise in '75 ... sure, there were those decisions which to some were unpopular, but that's part of an MLD's job and this year's Director did a superb job while handling the same and more ... Bob Murphy will take over as MLD next year.

Another area of excellence this year was umpiring ... never before, at least in this reporter's recollection, were the 'men in blue' as good as they were in '75 ... congratulations have got to be in order to all the ump's who showed up, who worked hard, and who helped the youth of Westfield out so much ... Bob Lavender (overall) and Dick Miller (AL) and Ralph Hobson (NL), league ump directors, are also to be commended ... 1975 Major League umpiring was a Grand Slam!

One last fellow who must be recognized for long hours, hard work, and not too much glory is the ML's player agent Dick Breach ... for three years this PA has labored over the scoresheets to make sure the ML's playing rules were enforced ... to Dick Breach, to the ump's, and especially Dave Landale the success of the 1975 Major League Baseball season is because of your hard work.

Marion Dieme, William Rock, tournament chairman, Tom Chacko, Kin Schmidt and Bob Geller share the spotlight at recent Jaycee tennis tournament.

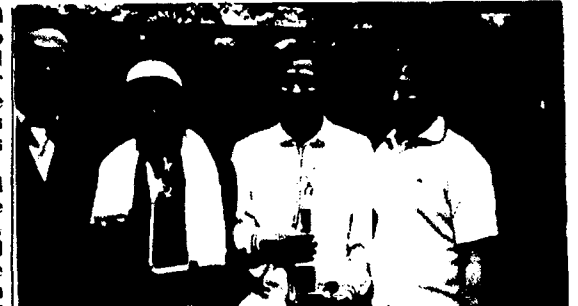

Schmidt Wins 3rd Jaycee Tennis Title

Competitive intensity and superb sportsmanship marked the 13th annual Westfield Jaycees Junior Tennis Tournament. The event was divided into boys and girls groupings for ages under 16 and under 18.

Kim Schmidt of Westfield won her third consecutive Jaycees championship. Kim, 16-year-old Westfield High sophomore and the state school girls' champion upheld her number 7 seeding in the girls 18 and under play with a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Leslie Prosk of Roselle. She had taken the 16-and-under crowns the previous two years.

Westfield contenders also captured two of the other three titles. Westfield High doubles star Tom Chacko took the 16-and-under crown by stopping Andy Biederman of Westfield 6-2, 6-0.

Marion Dieme, another rising young Westfield tennis star, was the winner in the girls 16-and-under competition. Fifteen-year-old Marion, who was seeded four, took the match 6-2, 6-0 over Beth Daaleman, also of Westfield.

In the boys 18 division, the verdict went to Bob Geller of Plainfield. The steady playing Geller outlasted hard hitting Jim Selters of Westfield with a 6-4, 6-2 win. The annual tournament was sanctioned by the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association and drew a field of 102 players.

SCUBA Class at YMCA

An eight-week SCUBA course providing 24 hours of instruction and leading to national YMCA SCUBA certification is now open for registration at the Westfield YMCA. Classes begin July 1 and are held from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesday evenings.

All equipment, including use of the air tank, regulator, air, plus the manual and SCUBA test fee are included in the cost of the underwater instruction.

The course is open to men and women 15 or older. Safety as well as physiology of diving is stressed in the course, which is taught by Irvin Rubin, a certified instructor for nearly 15 years.

"The water is the last frontier left for the average man to explore," contends Rubin. "The Wild West is gone. Outer space is too expensive for the average man to adventure in. But 3/4 of the world is water and most people have never really seen what is in it."

Registration is held daily through June 29 from 9:30 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. at the Y Front Desk, 138 Ferris Pl.

Dodgers Top League

Willy Kahn put a dramatic finish to the 1975 National League championship game, two Tuesday's back, by blasting a last-of-the-last home run that catapulted the Dodgers over the Cards, 5-4, and to the NL title.

The Dodgers, winners of the NL's second Half crown, trailed the First Half champion Cards throughout the ball game and were behind by a 4-3 margin when Kahn stepped up to bat with Paul Harbaugh on first base in the bottom of the seventh. Kahn wasted no time in drilling a fast ball into the foliage of right center field to win the ball game and the 1975 NL crown for his Dodger ball club.

With Mike Elliott, Jim Marvosa, and Bobby Glenn leading the way, the Cards had jumped off to a 2-0 first inning start. Harbaugh, however, hit a homer for the Dodgers to cut the Card lead to 2-1 after the first frame. The defenses and the arms of the Cards Paul Leifer and Marvosa, and the Dodgers Harbaugh and Jim Mike, then took over with each team pushing across just two runs until the bottom of the seventh.

Mike was especially effective for the Dodgers, mixing his pitches well enough to blank the Cards in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings. Tal Jacobs, Paul Kranz, and Chris Drabin made several key defensive plays for the Dodgers.

Brad Bonnett, Marvosa, Alpert, Leifer, Mike Cotter, and Elliott starred for the Cards.

In previous meetings the two NL powerhouses had split, the Cards winning the First Half match-up and the Dodgers prevailing in game two. The Cards are sponsored by the National State Bank of Westfield and the Dodgers are sponsored by George Hamrah and Sons of Plainfield.

Schmidt Loses in Finals

Fourteen year old nationally-ranked Caroline Stoll of Livingston dashed the hopes of Westfield's own Kim Schmidt in the finals of the 45th edition of the Anne Cummings Memorial Tennis Tournament at the Westfield Tennis Club June 15. Miss Stoll, who is 6th ranked in the United States in the 14 years old and under division and possesses equally impressive credentials in the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association, 14 and under, 16 and under and 18 and under divisions, exhibited too wide a variety of shotmaking for Miss Schmidt.

Miss Schmidt did, however, return widespread local interest to the tournament by "upsetting" three seeded players enroute to the finals, including an unexpectedly easy win over first seeded Sarah Thornton of Bronxville, N.Y., 6-0, 6-2. Demonstrating an ability to concentrate which belied her 16 years and taking advantage of consistently accurate baseline strokes, Miss Schmidt showed participants and spectators alike why she is the reigning queen of high school tennis in New Jersey. Kim, who is the daughter of Cranford's tennis coach, Al Schmidt, yielded surprising few games on her way to the prestigious final, which is also known as the New Jersey Junior Women's Tennis Tournament.

Because seedings are based on last year's Eastern rankings and tournament record, Miss Schmidt was not seeded. She quickly gave notice, however, that she will be a force with which to be reckoned on the Eastern tour this year. Winning her first round easily, she then embarrassed Miss Thornton by winning the first seven games of the match, turned back seventh-seeded Laurey Gross in the quarterfinals and defeated fifth-seeded Nancy Fellman, of Ridgefield Park, 6-0, 6-4, in the semifinals.

Miss Stoll disposed of another wunderkind in the quarterfinals, Kim Medd, a 12 year old New Jersey lass, who enjoys a high Eastern ranking in that age group, and then she ousted third-seeded Sally Roberts of Greenwich, Conn., 6-0, 6-3, in the semifinals. About three hundred people came to the tennis club for the finals. They saw close tennis for the first six games, as the girls split them. Miss Stoll then showed why she is so highly regarded, as she took advantage of her opponents weaknesses by bringing her to the net with short shots and then passed her with precision passing strokes to become one of the youngest winners of the renowned tournament.
