Seven in Teen Theft Ring Arrested

Seven Westfield teen-agers were arrested Thursday and charged in juvenile complaints with stealing $50,000 worth of property during a three-month burglary ring operation in Westfield and Scotch Plains.

The Union County prosecutor's office reported four of the seven juveniles were ordered to the county's juvenile detention center in Elizabeth after preliminary hearings before Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court Judge Steven J. Bercik. The others were released in their parents' custody.

Asst. Union County Prosecutor Louis Ippolito said the youths are suspected of having robbed 14 homes in Westfield and at least two in Scotch Plains. The juveniles, all boys, range in age from 14 to 17.

Ippolito said five other Westfield juveniles had been arrested this month in connection with burglaries in the Westfield area. He said the five previously arrested by Westfield police are being investigated to establish whether they are part of the theft ring broken up Thursday.

Ippolito said that the five juveniles were arrested last week, several days later by the arrest of three adults in connection with a rash of burglaries. Dean Segall, 19, of Elizabeth, and his father, Sigmund, 56, of the same address, were charged with possession of stolen property. They are suspected of disposing of stolen property robbed from homes by the juveniles.

Jeffrey Stember, 18, of Forest Ave., was arrested at the same time. He pleaded guilty to participating in several burglaries with juveniles in an appearance in Westfield municipal court.

Ippolito said the investigations to date have been conducted by Detectives Nicholas Bettelli, Robert Kenny, Wesley Moore and Michael McCabe of Westfield, Detective Donald Currie of Cranford and Detective Carl Scicola of Scotch Plains.

"One juvenile was the link, and is charged with participating in 13 of the break-ins," Ippolito said. "Most of the property was not taken for personal use; it was sold," Ippolito said. Efforts to recover the stolen property have been only partially successful.

"Ninety per cent of the good stuff is gone. They sold it right away. Some of it, we suspect, was taken into New York where it may have been sold off at pawn shops," he said.

The complaints against the seven juveniles charge them with break-ins beginning with one on Dec. 29 and ending on March 23.

Vandalism Study Begins

A study of vandalism in Westfield was initiated last week at the first meeting of the Council Committee to Study Vandalism at the Municipal Building. The committee, established by a resolution passed Jan. 25, is made up of concerned citizens, both student and adult. Committee members are: Councilman Charles H. Boright as chairman of the committee.

The purposes and objectives of this committee are as follows:

1. To compile statistics to define the extent and nature of the vandalism problem in Westfield, including, but not limited to, the determination of any pattern of offenses; period of time when such offenses appear to occur; an estimate of the cost of vandalism; the type of property damaged; the age group primarily engaged in perpetrating such offenses.

Dems to Screen Candidates

A special candidate encouragement committee of Westfield Democratic Committee has been formed to interview potential candidates for the four seats on the Town Council at stake in this year's election.

Democratic Municipal Chairman Robert A. Loder Jr. said the committee will interview candidates during the next few weeks before the filing deadline. "We hope to encourage as many potential candidates as possible to consider running for the Town Council," Loder said. "Those wishing to seek the Democratic nomination for the council should have the same commitment to open and responsive government that the Democratic Party's past candidates and members of the Town Council have demonstrated."

The committee hearing candidates is headed by Donald C. Caulfield of 214 Sunset Ave. Other members are, from the first ward, David A. Newall of 800

Forest Ave.; from the second ward, Mrs. Judy Gerson of 20 Manitou Circle; from the third ward, former Councilman, James R. Eisenmann of 120 Park St.; and from the Fourth Ward, Brenda Gladis of 725 Willow Grove Rd.

Greene to Appear Before State Board

Westfield Superintendent of Schools Dr. Laurence F. Greene will appear before the State Board of Education at its regular public April meeting on Wednesday, in Trenton.

Dr. Greene will discuss the new "Thorough and Efficient" law and its impact on education in Westfield.

$72,000 for financial assistance and grants for housing rehabilitation and preservation in the Central Ave. area between South Ave. and Grove St., $6,709 for improvement of a mini-park located at the corner of Cacciola Pl. and South Ave., $7,500 for after-school child care and senior day camp child care at the Westfield Community Center; $6,000 (shared with Linden) for pre-school child care by the New Jersey Association of Retarded Citizens, and $4,000 for the Visiting Home-Makers-Home Health Aides of Central Union County based in Westfield.

Freeholder Boright stated, "The total amount of funds being requested from the federal government for Union County is $2,205,000 for various housing, facility, social service, and drainage proposals. All of these monies represent Union County's fair share of federal tax dollars. The expenditure of these funds will not cause any increase in property taxes."

"As a matter of fact," continued Freeholder Boright, "had many of the communities undertaken these projects without this aid, the cost would have been reflected in property tax rates. It is extremely fitting, therefore, that we commend the various local representatives to the Union County Community Development and Revenue Sharing Committee for aggressively and thoroughly pursuing these funds."

With the exception of one member, the board of directors of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce this week endorsed the proposed PATH extension through Westfield to Plainfield. All 24 members of the board were polled on their stand on the issue.

Burcat began the "T & E" monitoring Monday when he visited Jefferson and Wilson schools. On Tuesday he was scheduled to visit Franklin School. The following schedule has been set up for other schools: Edison

To Reveal Junior High Study Findings Wednesday

The Ad Hoc Citizens Advisory Committee to Study Junior High School Education in Westfield will hold an open-to-the-public meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of Westfield High School. Purpose of the meeting is to provide information to the public and to receive input from the public.

According to Douglas J. Campbell, general chairman of the ad hoc committee, "Wednesday's meeting is an opportunity for Westfield residents to find out the facts about unequal enrollments in the town's two junior high schools, to react to several suggested solutions which the committee will present and to present suggestions for committee consideration."

"The 62 citizens serving on the committee have been hard at work on this study. Their preliminary findings will be presented to the public for reaction Wednesday night."

"I strongly urge all interested members of the community to attend Wednesday's meeting," he concluded.

The citizens advisory committee was formed last May and has been working under the leadership of Campbell and George A. Plenty, vice chairman. Both Campbell and Plenty are former presidents of the Westfield Board of Education.

The committee was broken down into six subcommittees for indepth research and findings. The six subcommittees are: enrollment, plant, curriculum, extra-curricular activities, staff and community relations.

Heads of the six subcommittees belong to a steering committee which will present a report with recommended solutions to the problem at a later date.

200 Seek Job In Rec Dept.

"The search for an assistant director of recreation is well underway," declared Westfield Recreation Chairman Robert Duncan, Jr., in a recent interview. "To date nearly 200 applications have been received for the position which was established this month by the Town to fill a growing demand for recreational services. Members of the commission's committee on staff relations have been working with director Ruth V. Hill, reviewing the applications and interviewing the most outstanding candidates."

Explaining that the position requires an individual with a bachelor of science degree in recreational administration and experience in pool management and playground operation, Duncan said the assistant director will be responsible for preparing and administering programs for the summer playgrounds, pool, tennis, after-school, youth center and adult activities under the supervision of the director. He added that "We are especially pleased by the excellent qualifications of the applicants who have responded to our nationwide search."

According to Mrs. Hill, the deadline for applications is Apr. 15, and the commission is expected to make its final selection for presentation to council by early May.

$115,000 for Hospital

A $115,000 grant by the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation, Morristown, to Children's Specialized Hospital, was announced today by Paul C. Bosland, president of the board of managers of the rehabilitative hospital for physically handicapped young people.

In making the announcement, Bosland said it was the largest foundation grant of this kind to be received by the hospital to date. The money will be used for the purchase and installation of equipment and furnishings in the hospital's expansion program.

Children's Specialized Hospital is completing an expansion program that will almost double present bed capacity and expand its current facilities, including areas for out-patient clinics.

The building program includes a new addition that will raise bed capacity to 60. The new modern inpatient building is scheduled to be ready for occupancy early this summer. The foundation grant will be used to complete this first phase of the expansion program, according to Bosland.

"This generous gift from the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation is another indication of the widespread support for the rehabilitative work being done here at Children's Specialized Hospital which is unique in the care of physically handicapped young people," Bosland added.

Voters Approve Regional Budget

Amounts to be raised by taxation totalling $10,628,971 for current expense and $196,645 for capital outlay were approved last week by voters of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 in the annual school budget election.

In addition to the budget approval, Mrs. Virginia Muskus of Clark and Roland Hecker of Berkeley Heights were reelected to three year terms on the regional Board of Education while Mrs. Margaret Hough was elected to fill one of the two Springfield positions on the nine member board.

Districtwide, current expense was approved 1033 to 646. Berkeley Heights approved the current expense portion of the budget by 396 to 110; Clark voted in favor by 161 to 128; Kenilworth 66-64; Moun-tainville 124 to 103; and Springfield 244 to 199. In Garwood, voting on current expense ended in 42-42 tie.

Capital outlay appropriations were approved by a 990 to 885 margin. Berkeley Heights voters approved it by 383 to 122; Clark 157 to 131; Mountaintide 120-111; and Springfield 231 to 205. Kenilworth (57-72) and Garwood (42-44) voters turned down capital outlay.

Roland Hecker earned his second, three year term on the Board of Education with 344 votes to Alfred D'Emilio's 186.

In Springfield, Mrs. Margaret Hough defeated Mrs. Marjorie Grossbarth by a 288 to 173 count.

Running unopposed, Mrs. Virginia Muskus won a second term on the Board with 217 votes. There were two write-in votes.

Dog Bites Evoke Postmaster's Warning

Three recent dog bites involving Westfield area postmen has prompted Postmaster Dominick J. Cardillo to advise residents on preventive measures. Medical attention was required in each case, he said.

"It is the responsibility of the owner to control his dog," Cardillo said. "Dogs are self-elected and often highly trained protectors of their masters and their property. To them, the letter carrier may be considered an intruder. They have been known to come right through screen doors, jump fences and at times bolted through the door when the owner opens it to collect his mail. Care must be exercised in avoiding these possibilities. It is the owner's responsibility to see that his dog is not running loose as there is a town ordinance which prohibits this. If a dog menace occurs in a delivery area, it can result in curtailing deliveries not only to the owner but possibly others in the immediate area. Postal employees sustain more than 7000 painful dog bite injuries annually resulting in serious loss of sick leave and costly medical treatment. The annual estimated cost is over $1 million. To combat this problem, the employees are equipped with a dog repellent which will be used to avoid a dog bite. The repellent has been accepted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Pesticides Regulations Branch. Veterinarians have thoroughly examined it and have stated not only is it safe and effective but it is a very humane method of controlling animals."

Library Receives Gift Of American Music

The Westfield Memorial Library has received the first set of 20 records in a 100-record collection of American music produced by the Recorded Anthology of American Music and presented as a gift from the Rockefeller Foundation.

The library was notified that it has been chosen by the foundation for the gift "because of your commitment to musical education and scholarship, and for your ability to make these records accessible to a large public."

The Recorded Anthology of American Music is a non-profit company created through a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation to produce the record series tracing the social and cultural history of this country through its music. The records will be issued over the next three years on the New World Records label.

The collection represents American music in all mediums and from all periods - folk and jazz, symphonic and chamber, religious music from gospel to liturgical, country and western, avant-garde and traditional, musical theater in all its variety. Approximately half the records, recorded by the most distinguished American artists, are largely devoted to works never before recorded. Extensive multi-page liner notes accompany each record, with selected discographies and bibliographies to guide the listener to further in-depth exploration.

Mrs. Patricia B. Winter, assistant library director and head of the audio-visual department, called the first two sets of records "a really superior collection."

Asks Return to GOP "Honesty and Frugality"

State Senator James Wallwork of Caldwell, who has fought crime and corruption in Trenton under three administrations and has been an "unflinching foe" of a state income tax, last week likened New Jersey citizens to the "battered child syndrome." Speaking at the Woman's Club of Westfield under the auspices of the Republican Conservative Action Club of Union County on "The Problems of New Jersey," Wallwork called for a return to the traditional Republican principles of honesty, frugality and dedication in government.

The speaker emphasized that "state spending must be cut, not expanded as has been done under Governor Byrne. The productivity of all officials, both elective and appointive, must be increased. Bus subsidies running to $45 million a year could be pared by $12 to $15 million. Termination of engraved stationery for legislators would lop off another $40,000. The new bureaucracy which came in with T&E (thorough and efficient education) and with the unnecessary income tax should be eliminated. Economy in expenditure of state aid to education must be required.

"Why," he asked, "should it cost $3100 per classroom per year to clean Newark schools, and only $1150 to clean Freehold schools?"

The Republican leader pointed out that every working day $3 million is being taxed out of New Jersey pay checks. The income tax must be repealed, as per his bill S. 1681, co-sponsored by senators Peter McDonough and Garrett Hagedorn, and A. 2188 in the Assembly. He called for "a producing type of society in New Jersey" with new technology jobs for high unemployment areas. Along this line, Wallwork offered a specific suggestion of sewage treatment, recycling waste into fertilizer, as is being done successfully by private enterprise in Michigan.

A capacity crowd attended the meeting, chaired by RCAC President William S. Dean of Fanwood. Kurt C. Bauer of Westfield introduced the speaker and John H. Wachter conducted the patriotic ceremony. Mrs. John G. Mann, corresponding secretary, poured at the coffee table.

A local Legion Auxiliary spokesman recalled that Westfield has produced two Girls' State Governors, Janet Roguski in 1961 and Susan Hawkins in 1964.

Meeker Supports Senator Bateman

John K. Meeker, Jr., councilman from the third ward, announced his support today for State Senator Ray Bateman in his bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. In endorsing Bateman, Meeker said "in view of the troubled times in Trenton and dissatisfaction with the present Byrne administration, it is important to choose a man who cares about New Jersey and its people. Ray Bateman is this man."

"I have known Ray for over 10 years and have seen him on action on the Assembly and Senate floors where he has proved his effectiveness in recognizing and meeting the needs of our state."

"Ray has earned the trust of his constituents who have time and again re-elected him to the Assembly and Senate. He has served for an unprecedented three consecutive terms as Senate President and also more than 100 days as Acting Governor."

"His record in education includes the enactment of the Bateman-Tanzman formula which brought more aid to urban and suburban schools. He helped to expand higher educational opportunities including the state's medical schools.

"He successfully secured enactment of the first Green Acres legislation. And before the winter of 1977, he introduced legislation to develop a state master energy plan."

"I believe that Bateman is the person who can return us to sound fiscal government and untangle the tax mess. I was pleased to see the warm reception Ray received at the Westfield Town Republican dinner last Friday night and believe he is the most qualified candidate we have for Governor."

"Let's restore faith in government and put an effective leader, Ray Bateman in Trenton."

Matthew S. Bosner, son of Mrs. Jacqueline Waleson, was named by Muhlenberg College to its fall semester dean's list.

Weather Delays College Course

Spring will be a little late this year and to accommodate the season, Union College has postponed the opening of its eight-week non-credit course on native wild plants until Wednesday, Apr. 6, it was announced today by Dr. Frank Dee, dean of special services and continuing education.

The course, which is scheduled for consecutive Wednesdays from 1 to 3 p.m., will be conducted out-of-doors on the college campus and in Nomahegan Park, weather permitting. Three field trips have been scheduled to the Great Swamp and to the Watchung and South Mountain Reservations.

Spring is important to the class, according to Irma Challen, field botanist for the Great Swamp Outdoor Education Center and course instructor.

"It is the season of growth, beginning with the blooming of the skunk cabbage, the first sign of spring," she said.

A Look at High School Resource Rooms

By Amber E. Cabot
The room is small. At the left Miss Carol Loshin sits at a table with two students, discussing math with one while the other studies. A bulletin board with a map on it serves as a divider between them and the right hand side of the room, where Bob Mintz gets his three students settled with their work and says to one of them, "Okay, let's see what you've got." A drawing hanging on the wall above one of the booths says, "Love is what you make it," and on the other wall there is a picture of the Fonz. Meanwhile, in an even smaller side room, Bill Lee is conversing with two other students.

The above mentioned scene takes place in the resource center at Westfield High School, designed to help students who need individualized assistance with their work. This is not to be confused with particular study area resource centers. Participation in the program by students requires a comprehensive screening process by the school's child study team, consisting of school psychologist, social worker, and learning consultant. This is the first year that rooms have been provided strictly for this purpose, with equipment designed to meet the individual needs of the students.

Another difference from last year is that the three tutors (Mintz, Lee, and Miss Loshin) are certified special education teachers, whereas the two previous ones were not. Also, the number of students using the resource center has greatly increased from about 20 last year to about 55 now.

The methods of helping students that the tutors use fall into three main categories: supportive, remedial, and preteaching. Mintz explained that supportive tutoring involves helping students with their assigned work, whereas remediation is reteaching material to students who are below grade level expectancy in that area. Mintz also explained that they are starting to get into previewing the material that a student will learn in class before it is formally taught to him.

There is strictly a one to one relationship between tutor and student this year. Previously, however, a relationship of one tutor to one, two, or three students at a time was used, according to overall coordinator of special services in Westfield, Dr. James Donovan.

Lee and Mintz do supportive work in science and remedial work in English, history, and math. Miss Loshin takes mainly a supportive role, tutoring mostly English and some history, math and biology. Methodology used includes making up questions that are worded differently than the ones given in class to aid the students in better understanding the material, the use of workbooks, pretesting students on subject matter before they are tested in class, giving oral quizzes, explanation, and the use of taped written material to aid in comprehension of it. Mintz explained that he tries to have students grasp the main ideas of a course such as English instead of concentrating on individual details.

Students interviewed about the program had very favorable responses. One senior, new in the program this year, claimed that there is nothing negative about it. Students said that it helped them in their work and that their grades had gone up. One student felt that the questions Mintz made up about the books he was reading, having read them himself in advance, helped him. One participant, who has only been in the program for a short while, said that it has helped him because Miss Loshin makes him do the work. Another student said that Mintz "forces" him to do the work, whereas in a study he might not get it done.

Mintz felt that one of the drawbacks of the system is the lack of space and the crowded conditions, sometimes up to 10 students at a time in the larger of the two small rooms, which causes students to get distracted from their work. The students interviewed, however, felt to the contrary. One student felt that he could work better with many people there than in a quiet room; another liked it because his friends are in the room. One student claimed that it was not too distracting but that they could use a larger room because at times it becomes a little "rowdy."

Both Mintz and Miss Loshin felt that there is not enough communication between them and the teachers of the students' other classes due to lack of time and schedule conflicts. Mintz said, however, that the teachers are very cooperative now that they have learned more about the new program.

In addition to the room at the high school, Dr. Donovan says that resource rooms have been established in Westfield for students aged three through the twelfth grade.

educational processes and theoretical constructs as well as administration and finance.

"Dr. Greene's talents as a leader have permitted our district to focus on educational issues, and significant growth has resulted," Dr. Payne declared.

Dr. Payne noted that he leaves Westfield with mixed emotions; however, "the opportunity to direct a total district's efforts toward improved education was too appealing to refuse."

Dr. Payne compared Wyoming, Ohio, to Westfield, adding: "I look forward to working with Wyoming residents and educators who share similar aspirations for educational excellence."

Good Friday

The sanctuary, built in the round, provides a striking setting for both the dramatizations and the worship service.

The cooperative Lenten service, sponsored by Church Women United, is an outgrowth of the local group's wish to expand beyond the women's community to embrace the larger community of families.

It is the first effort of a new committee of CWU that will work with interested clergy in planning new Christian celebrations for the entire community. Mrs. Leland K. Beach, first chairman of the new committee, extends a invitation for all Christian families to attend. Reservations for child care may be made by calling the office of the First Baptist Church.

Monies collected following the service will go to the Westfield Day Care Center. Church Women United has been a major benefactor of the center since it was formed eight years ago following a CWU survey that indicated a need for such a facility.

Vandalism

and other matters related to defining the problem.

2. To research and compile source material from other communities, state and national organizations who have studied and dealt with the problem, so that a wide variety of source material is available to the committee and to the town and school officials to help combat the problem.

3. To conduct workshops and seminars to involve citizens and community service groups in the study efforts.

4. To attempt to determine causes for the problem of vandalism by conducting interviews with juveniles, parents, police, disciplinary principals at schools, and other persons concerned with the problem.

5. To make recommendations to the Mayor and Town Council by September of 1977 concerning steps which should be taken by the town and the schools to combat the problem of vandalism and reduce its impact on the Town of Westfield.

At last week's meeting there was a general discussion of the committee's work and sub-committees were formed in order to carry out the above objectives and purposes as follows:

Statistical committee: Mrs. Thelma Hobson, chairperson, Police Detectives Wes Moore and Bob Kenny, and Mrs. Betty Kopf. Student survey committee: Samuel H. Hazell, chairman, Mrs. Nancy Walbert, Mrs. Mary Wright and students John La France, Kevin King and Miss Marcia Roll. Resource development committee: Mrs. Betty Preston, chairperson, Edward Hobbie, and Hazell. Community involvement committee: Mrs. Alice Dillon, chairperson, James R. Widenmann, the Rev. Basil Tadlock, Mrs. Preston, and La France. When the appointment of the new assistant director of recreation is made known, that person will also serve on this sub-committee.

Following the organization of the sub-committees, the committee viewed a film on vandalism.

The next meeting of the committee will take place at 8 p.m. Apr. 25 at Town Hall. Hobbie, an attorney, will present a report on the operation of the Juvenile Justice system in New Jersey. The committee also plans to hear Judge Nicola, the Middlesex County Juvenile Judge, speak on this subject on Apr. 30.

Boroite Explains State Income Tax Computation

The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants today offered advice to New Jersey taxpayers designed to eliminate some of the confusion surrounding the determination of which segments of 1976 income are taxable under the new State Income Tax.

Theodore Romak, CPA of Mountaintop and president of the society, explained that most taxpayers file their Federal tax returns on a calendar year basis, thereby creating some difficulty in determining what income was received in the first half of 1976 and what belongs in the second half.

The New Jersey Gross Income Tax is imposed on the New Jersey taxable income of residents and non-residents for taxable years ending on or after July 1, 1976. The New Jersey Capital Gains and Other Unearned Income Tax, repealed when the Gross Income Tax went into effect, continued for the first half of 1976 and applies to capital gains, interest and dividends.

Romak stated: "In order to ease the problem for taxpayers, the New Jersey Division of Taxation has established a formula which will be accepted in determining that portion of the New Jersey income subject to the tax - provided that there is no distortion. This formula involves multiplying the entire year's income by 184 - the number of days after June 30, 1976 and dividing that result by 366.

"This method can also be used to determine the amount of dividends and interest, reported on Form 1099, which would be taxable in each period."

Romak cautioned, however, that "where the individual's W-2 form or Form 1099 shows the actual amount of wages paid from July 1 through Dec. 31, 1976 - in the box labeled 'state or local wages' - that amount must be used in preparing the New Jersey income tax return."

He noted that the Division of Taxation does not require employers to report salaries and wages paid between July 1 and December 31, 1976, but will accept the W-2 form as it was submitted to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. This form, he said, includes the wages for the entire year and the amount of New Jersey income tax withheld.

The NJSCPA president pointed out an example of a distortion that could occur. He said:

"The taxpayer would not be presenting a true picture if he began working on July 1 and effectively reported only one-half of such income as taxable by use of the formula. By the same token, anyone beginning work after January 1, 1976 but prior to July 1, 1976, should make the appropriate adjustment to the 366 days used in the denominator.

"This does not, however, preclude taxpayers from including on their returns only wages received after June 30, rather than following the above procedure."

Romak also reminded taxpayers that both the Capital Gains and New Jersey Gross Income Tax returns must be filed by April 15, 1977. He added that, if there is still any confusion, the taxpayer should seek the professional advice that only can be provided by a trained CPA who is thoroughly familiar with the new tax laws.

Jr. High Study

suggested the formation of the ad hoc citizens committee last May, he noted that the two junior high schools have unequal student enrollments. Edison Junior High School, which was built in 1958 with an addition in 1965, currently has 785 students. Roosevelt Junior High School, which was built in 1926 with an addition in 1966, currently has 1070 students.

At the outset of the study, Dr. Greene asked that the committee take into consideration two criteria which mark Westfield education: educational excellence and fiscal responsibility.

Cars, Windows Vandals' Targets

Vandalism to cars and property continued this week with 21 incidents reported during the week ending Saturday.

Six of these occurred Mar. 20, when lawn post lamps were broken on the Boulevard and Fair Hill Rd., windows were broken in stores on Prospect St. and Elm St., vandals damaged the fence and bushes near a Stoneleigh Park home and also jumped on the roof of a car parked on Prospect St.

Residents complained Monday that youths were breaking whiskey bottles on Barchester Way, windows were broken in a business complex on Elm St. and the door broken by a rock in another Elm St. location, a lawn post lamp was broken, garbage cans overturned and one placed on the roof of a car on Cowperthwaite Pl. and owners of two cars on Forest Ave. reported that vandals had egged the vehicles and broken mirrors and antennae.

A storm window was broken on Lawrence Ave. Tuesday night and an Oak Tree Pass home window broken Thursday. Vandals damaged, stoned, smashed a windshield and overturned a Volkswagen in incidents on Bradford Ave., West Broad St., Harding St. and Everson Pl. on Friday.

Vandalism to cars parked on Clark St., Edgewood Ave., and Hanford Pl. was reported Saturday, when a Prospect St. apartment window also was broken.

The police blotter also revealed the theft of a wedding ring and earrings from an Otisco Dr. home Thursday, and the arrest of a juvenile shoplifting at Woolworths, another youth charged with possession of more than 25 grams of marijuana, the theft of a car battery on First St. and hub caps on Edgewood Ave. Friday.

A Cranford Ave. home larceny and the apprehension of a juvenile on a drug count were listed Saturday. A bomb scare at the railroad station Sunday proved unfounded, and the theft of $200 from a Roanoke Rd. home was reported Sunday.

The theft of a lawn edger from a Columbus Ave. home was listed Monday, when a wallet also was reported stolen from the YMCA and a Drummond Rd. boy allegedly was attacked by an unknown assailant.

Larcenies from cars on Plymouth Rd., Bell Dr. and First St., as well as a break-in on North Ave. West, were among complaints Tuesday.

Jersey Subscribers Spend Fewer Days in Hospital

New Jersey Blue Cross members, fortunately, don't spend as much time in hospitals as their counterparts do regionally and nationally.

A report issued by the national Blue Cross Association in Chicago shows that during the first nine months of 1976, New Jersey Blue Cross averaged 702 days of hospital inpatient care for each 1,000 members. The Plan has over four million members.

The average for Blue Cross Plans in the Northeast was 735 days per 1,000 members. The national Blue Cross average was 8-1 days. If the New Jersey Plan's inpatient days had equalled the regional average, the cost of these additional days would have exceeded $15 million. If it had equalled the national average, the additional cost would have been over $45 million.

A spokesman attributed the lower utilization to the Plan's intensified effort to encourage the use of less costly alternatives to hospital inpatient care. "Last year we constantly urged our members, physicians and hospital officials to use alternatives to hospital inpatient care as a means of containing costs. "Fortunately we have been successful. If our members were hospitalized at the same rate as either the regional or national averages, our financial position at the end of last year would have been even worse than our deficit of over $18 million at year-end."

The programs Blue Cross is encouraging as alternatives to hospital inpatient care include pre-admission testing, nursing home care and home care.

Under PAT, tests for scheduled surgery are performed before a person is admitted as an inpatient thereby reducing the length of the stay. Nursing home and home care benefits are provided by Blue Cross to persons who can be transferred from a hospital to either of these programs for a continuation of treatment at lower cost than is the case with hospital inpatient care.

Joins Y Staff

The Westfield YMCA recently welcomed James McCarthy to the professional staff.

McCarthy comes to Westfield after currently serving the YMCA of Bayonne as the assistant executive director.

As program and membership director, he will look to expanding the physical and non-physical education programs, as adding to the leadership in programming for the Y's membership.

McCarthy began his YMCA career as an adult program director. After graduating Jersey City State College with a B.A. in mathematics, he joined the Bayonne YMCA staff as the youth program director. Most recently he was the assistant executive director responsible for the development and quality of youth and adult programs. He is presently enrolled at Springfield College's master's degree program in community leadership and development.

James McCarthy

An active member of the Bayonne community, he was the first vice-president of the local Lions Club, a member of the community education advisory council, loaned executive of the United Way, Boy Scout representative, as well as in church activities. He received his senior directorship by attending the YMCA prescribed at the Blue Ridge Assembly in North Carolina.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written only on one side of paper and typewritten.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

PATH ACTION

Editor, Leader:

On Mar. 8 the Town Council passed a resolution withdrawing support for the PATH extension to Plainfield. The subject was discussed again in the council caucus of Mar. 15 and the council meeting of Mar. 22. I attended both of those meetings and came away with two main impressions.

First, I am astounded by the lack of concern evidenced by Westfield commuters over this change in the council's position.

Second, I am impressed by the council's patience and interest in hearing from its constituents.

The decision was made in the council meeting to table action on PATH pending further study during the next 3-4 weeks. I urge all commuters to contact their councilmen during this time and let them know you support PATH. We commuters represent 20-30 percent of the families in Westfield and we must make ourselves heard on this subject.

George W. Lehmann

VANDALISM

Editor, Leader:

The following letter has been addressed to the Westfield Board of Education:

What is the relationship between vandalism, thefts and increased drug and alcohol use by teenagers? Teenagers under the influence of drugs and alcohol are easily open to suggestions. Their inhibitions are lowered and with heavy usage may not recall their anti-social behavior. Living in fear of being detected, they panic easily. Their judgment is impaired.

I believe it is necessary for the board and Town Council to recognize and deal with a national social problem - our local epidemic - significant use of drugs and alcohol by teenagers. Should there be a curfew? Should there be a drug counselor in the high school? Direct drug charges and drug-related offenses could be referred to a qualified dynamic counselor. Drug dependents need education for survival for dealing with life, to learn to cope without chemicals in an imperfect world.

The results of the prevention type of program presently in our schools are difficult to measure once the chemical abuser is identified, treatment could begin. Drug dependency is a progressive illness and if left untreated has devastating consequences.

Is the town denying the problem? A recent Westfield Leader carried this paragraph: "The Planning Board also approved a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance which would tighten up the institutional use by prohibiting dispensaries, drug clinics, alcohol abuse centers, etc."

P.S. Marijuana is a drug.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Editor, Leader:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those involved in my campaign for the Board of Education. First and foremost I thank you to my wife, Annemarie and my children, Danielle, Tara and Matt for their support and encouragement. Secondly, I want to acknowledge Joan Munzinger, my campaign co-ordinator, who did an incredible job of directing and managing our effort, and her husband, Fritz, for being so understanding. To Jane Petroff, who so ably handled publicity, to Barbara Jones, our treasurer, to Doris and George Bolwinick, Jan and Don Strauss, Cathy and Les Maravetz, Jean and George Gillen, Harriet and Micky Diamond, Jim and Judy Eisenmann, Larry and Marsha Broadwell, and all who made phone calls, hosted coffees, distributed literature and contributed money, my sincere and deep gratitude.

Thank you to those who came to hear my views during the campaign. The exchange of ideas was both stimulating and informative. To you may I add, stay informed and involved. It is crucial. Finally, though the outcome of the election is unknown as I write this letter, I pledge my continued interest and involvement in our educational community.

CANDIDATES REACTION

Editor, Leader:

I have had an experience, unique to me, in the past several weeks and feel that I should share it with all citizens of Westfield, as a tribute to the interest of the public in this town, its representatives, its schools, its children and, above all, its future.

Deciding to run for the Board of Education was hard for me; the prospect of influencing the education of 7000 students, the careers of some 600 professionals and the expenditure of 14 million dollars annually of public money was, to put it mildly, awesome.

However, once declaring my candidacy, I found a large immediate, warm and super-encouraging response on the parts of so very many people that I was and am still, overwhelmed.

Attendant to this was the opportunity to meet a great many people, in and out of the school community, who are aware and concerned with present and future education in New Jersey.

Basically, I find the feeling one of optimism in a very practical sense. That is, although we are aware of declining achievement scores, decreasing school population, invasion of our standards by remote agencies, yet this is apparently spurring Westfield into exerting that much greater an effort to make sure our traditional goals of excellence are maintained.

We have a problem and accept the challenge - a type of thinking and unity unfortunately lacking in many areas around the country.

To all of you who have supported me and have spent so very many hours on my behalf, I thank you. I am sure with your continued interest and involvement in education, the children of Westfield cannot help but benefit.

Marilyn S. Gulotta
570 Colonial Ave.

Every now and then some action of government outrages the American people, and I quickly hear about it in an avalanche of mail.

This kind of grassroots reaction came in the wake of the Federal Food and Drug Administration's decision to ban saccharin. My office was deluged with letters and telegrams urging that the only dietary sugar substitute still on the market be kept available to those who want it.

Most of the protests came from worried diabetics and from people on diets. They have been writing in dismay, expressing strong displeasure over the effects the FDA edict could have on their health.

Nearly all the protesters questioned the significance of experiments in Canada on which the FDA action was based. In these tests, rats developed cancer after being fed an amount of saccharin equal to a human drinking 800 bottles of diet soda every day for life.

Many complained that the FDA action is an unwarranted intrusion into their lives and an infringement on their rights.

The extreme restrictiveness of a 1958 law, known as the Delaney Clause, which requires the FDA to outlaw any food additive found to induce cancer in humans or animals, also came under fire.

A married couple in reward in itself. Win or lose, I shall always cherish this experience.

Thank you so much for affording me this opportunity.

George Drabin
1612 Boynton Ave.

Elizabeth, both of whom are diabetic, complained: "There is nothing else for us to use but saccharin, and it is important to our everyday existence."

A Union Township woman wrote: "My mother takes insulin by needle. I have been taking insulin orally but must now go on the needle too. The action of the FDA seems unjustified to us as diabetics. Must the majority of people who may continue to live and enjoy the pursuit of happiness by use of saccharin now suffer?"

From a Cranford diabetic came the comment: "I am dependent on saccharin to make some of my food palatable. Under no circumstances would I ever use the amount of saccharin that was fed to rats in the Canadian experiment."

And a Plainfield woman asked: "When is the hand holding going to stop? Aren't we all being a little ridiculous? Why not ban cigarettes, booze, nail polish, etc. since they have something wrong with them also?"

Looking through these letters and telegrams convinces me that I was right when I moved quickly in Congress to block the FDA ban.

A bill I have sponsored would ensure that saccharin remains available to the public providing it carries a small label warning that it might be dangerous to the user's health.

The measure is with the Health and Environment Subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of which I am a member.

Several other bills have been introduced that would permit the FDA to weigh

Congressman

Report from Washington

benefits versus risks in deciding whether a substance should be banned from the market.

Additionally, congressional hearings have been held on the proposed ban. Testimony at these hearings provided overwhelming opposition to the FDA action. Among the expert witnesses who appeared before the House Committee, Dr. Kury Isselbacher, a Harvard Medical professor, stated that the possibility of saccharin causing bladder cancer in humans, as it did in test rats, "is remote." He noted saccharin's 70-year safety record among humans, and charged that the experiments on rats have been over-interpreted in regard to their application to man.

Because of the flurry of concern, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Joseph A. Califano, Jr., has ordered a top level review of the issue.

Both of the major approaches being taken in Congress - the move to allow continued sale of saccharin with warning labels, and legislative changes easing the Delaney Clause - have strong support. Consequently, I am hopeful that the saccharin ban will be blocked.

It's one thing to provide adequate protection against disease. But quite another to over-protect or over-react - particularly under the circumstances involved in the FDA's rigid interpretation of the Canadian experiments. The proposed ban leaves too many doubts about FDA procedures in controlling the use of food and drugs.

Winter Was Hard on Trees, Shrubs

By Eric H. Peterson Jr., Senior County Agent

The severe winter combined with the brief thaw on the weekend of Feb. 12 has resulted in widespread damage to a large variety of conifers and evergreen trees and shrub species in New Jersey. Damage has been reported on pyracantha, hemlock, pine, spruce, azalea, rhododendron, holly, camellias and yews.

Injury occurs after a period of cold weather when an increase in temperature, often accompanied by drying winds cause excessive loss of water from the leaves. Water cannot be replaced because the soil moisture, being frozen, is not available to the roots. The injury is basically a form of drought.

This condition manifests itself by browning of the foliage upon the advent of warm weather. In cases of severe injury, all the leaves or needles and buds are killed and the tree or shrub dies. Generally, even though all the leaves appear brown, the buds normally escape injury and the plant survives. Although winter injury is noticeable now, the full impact can not be determined until the summer months.

Farewell and Welcome

The school election is over and most everyone wants to know: Who won?

The election of our three new school board members Marilyn Gulotta, Carmen Vitale and William Liggitt is today's page one news.

Citizens who cared enough to vote in the annual school election on Tuesday are to be applauded for exercising their right and responsibility. They had a choice of three from a slate of six very capable citizens willing to serve as board members.

We ask all to take a moment now to reflect on those who have served - Sally S. Allen, six years, and John J. Daly, Jr. and Donald J. Knapp, three years each. At their last "public" meeting, they expressed their appreciation to the community for giving them the opportunity to serve as school board members. We think the community owes them - and all volunteers - appreciation for the countless hours they give. All three outgoing board members spoke favorably about the school system after serving a combined total of 12 years, 21 weeks.

In a community that prides itself on a quest for excellence - not only in the schools but also in every area of endeavor with the help of volunteers (ranging from the mayor and councilmen to umpires at little league baseball games), we think that the citizens of Westfield owe a deep debt of gratitude to any and all who serve. Thank you Sally, Jack and Don. Welcome Marilyn, Carmen and Bill.

In Your Lifetime

Once again there is a hopeful theme for the American Cancer Society's April Crusade: "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

Is there substance to this hope? The trend over the last four decades shows that there is a real basis for cautious optimism. In the later thirties less than one in five cancer patients was being saved. Twenty-five years ago it was one in four. And today one of three who get cancer is saved.

Medical experts believe that with present methods of treatment one out of two cancer patients could be saved, providing detection and treatment come in time.

Advances in the treatment of cancer have come from research and improvement of surgical and radiation therapy. In a slow but steadily growing number of cancers, drugs have been effective.

But there can be little difference of opinion about what is needed for the final conquest of this ancient enemy of mankind. The scientific effort has to be broadened and stepped up. This means more money is needed for brain power and manpower, more equipment and research facilities.

When an ACS volunteer comes to your home in April, remember the goal: "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

League Lines

BY THE WESTFIELD AREA LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Board of Education elections are now behind us, but it is time to get ready for another election - the primaries. This spring the primary election will select candidates for governor and for state senate and assembly as well as for various county and local officials and committee men and women for the political parties.

Right now, eligible but unregistered citizens should register so that they will be able to vote on June 7. Voters already registered should also take stock now, because a voter must declare a party preference in order to vote in a primary election. This preference must be registered by filing a party declaration form. Here in Westfield, the form may be obtained at filed at the Municipal Building. The deadline for first filings and party changes is Apr. 18.

The primary election is a good opportunity to maximize your effect as a voter. In addition to the obvious benefit of insuring the best candidates for the general election, your vote actually has more weight in the primaries because fewer people go to the polls. In 1975, only 14 percent of those registered and "declared" cast votes in the primary. The probability that a single vote could make the difference is much higher than in the general election. At the same time that this fact is heartening to the voter who regularly participates in primaries, it is the factor that underscores the importance of widespread participation. A general election state chosen by a mere 14 percent of the voters (and thus an even smaller percent of the general population) may or may not include candidates that the public at large would choose as leaders.

While the importance of voting in the primaries cannot be emphasized too much, the importance of doing some homework on the candidates must also be stressed. Because of the short interval between the filing deadline for candidates and election day (five weeks) it is virtually impossible for nonpartisan information operations like the LWV voters service "candidates sheets" or "candidates nights" to be organized to cover all elective offices. For the gubernatorial candidates, the NJ LWV is hoping to videotape "candidates nights" for TV viewing before the primary, but for other offices, voter access to nonpartisan information may be quite limited. There are always partisan opportunities to be informed, however, and voters should make use of them. Political parties sometimes offer "meet the candidates" sessions, and, of course, each primary contestant issues press releases to area newspapers and engages in other activities designed to publicize points of view and qualifications for office. Some candidates have already declared themselves and are making information available now.

So...register and declare your party by Apr. 18; inform yourself; and vote on June 7. Remember: (1) Allowing others to choose the choices really leaves you very little choice, and (2) Democracy is not a spectator sport!

Taking Stock of W. Jubb Corbet Jr., Chamber Board Member

By Joan Smith

Stockbroker, W. Jubb Corbet Jr. has been investing his time and energies in community affairs in Westfield where he and his family of four have lived since 1959. For the past five years he has been an active vocal member of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce executive board. Currently, he is president of the Westfield Rotary Club, one of the largest Rotary memberships around. A tireless worker for the United Fund, serving on the special business committee over the years, he has established an excellent record for inspiring generous contributions from the business quarter.

In his "spare" time when he isn't engaged in one of his volunteer endeavors, or advising clients on investments, Corbet heads for the Atlantic with his family, all inveterate sailors. The Corbets own four boats, a Marshall Cat, a Lightning, a Blue Jay and a Laser. To a landlubber it would seem that Jubb Corbet had generously purchased one boat for each family member, his wife Joan, his 18-year-old son Billy and his daughter Maggie, 17. It was quickly made clear that the reason for the four boats, which used to number seven, is because the Corbets are competitive sailors who have entered national competition with impressive results.

W. Jubb Corbet Jr.

The lure to the sea was not a lifelong hobby of Jubb Corbet but came as a result of a conscious effort to find a suitable sport for Billy who had been born with a congenital hip defect. Although Billy's problem was alleviated with successful surgical procedures, he definitely was not going to be a contender for the hundred yard dash, so his father settled on sailing as a possible athletic outlet. His introduction to this sport couldn't have been more propitious. At the age of six Billy was hanging around the Mantoloking Yacht Club looking for an opportunity to attach himself to a crew. Along came Peter Comette, only a few years older, who had a boat which required a companion. All Peter cared about was having someone lightweight and Billy filled the bill. Once aboard, Billy proved to be more than the obligatory second passenger and learned greedily from Peter who just happened to be the Atlantic Coast Midget Champions and later an Olympic contender. Learning from the best turned Billy into one of the best himself. When Billy enters regattas in competition with 12 other clubs along the New Jersey shore, he'll race one boat in the morning and switch to another in the afternoon which, I discovered, is the reason for the proliferation of boats in the Corbet family.

The Corbet family not only share an enthusiasm for the sea but they also seem to gravitate to Pingry. Jubb Corbet was raised in Elizabeth, virtually in the backyard of the Pingry campus. His father W. Jubb Corbet was a Pingry grad, Jubb graduated in the early fifties and now both children are enrolled. Billy in his senior year and Maggie in her junior year. Jubb Jr. now a trustee of Pingry's alumni association, recalls that three of his 10 fellow graduates are Westfielders: Bob Siegel, owner of Clara Louise, Warren Radcliffe, a dentist and Dick Hartkopf, veterinarian.

After Pingry Jubb entered Lehigh where he earned his BA, majoring in investments and minoring in journalism before joining the Air Force for a three-year hitch following the Korean conflict. Initially a pilot, Jubb describes himself as a "lousy pilot...the Air Force was better off without me." It seems that he had faulty depth perception.

During his tour of duty at Edwards Air Force base in California, Jubb and Joan would spend occasional weekends visiting Jim Ryan, an uncle who also was a top Hollywood agent. As Jubb recalls, they "met them all." On one memorable weekend Jubb suffered an unforgettable devastating moment. Invited on John Ford's "Searchers" set, the Corbets met John Wayne, Ward Bond, Jeffrey Hunter and Pat Wayne. Unfortunately, the young lieutenant was so Air Force-oriented that the soundstage totally resembled a hangar and thus, in keeping with military tradition, he retained his hat. After a fight scene, John Wayne and Ward Bond shook hands with Jubb as a "frontier mama" approached. Caught up in the Western atmosphere, Jubb said, "Howdy, ma'am!" When Wayne and Bond pounced on him: "Ain't you got no manners? Don't you take your hat off when you meet a lady?" Totally humiliated, when the next "take" began, Jubb realized he'd been "had".... Wayne and Bond had been reciting the dialogue for their next scene, naturally with the frontier mama.

Corbet today takes his hat off to Ev Thomas, former Chamber head. "He was well-tuned-in on everything that went on in town," Corbet explains. "He was personally a big help to me, introducing me to a lot of people." Corbet maintains that his "continuing interest in the Chamber is probably a 'thank you' to Thomas for boosting his career.

Corbet's "pet peeve" is that "practically no one shows up at various meetings," such as those held recently on Path and the Prospect Street apartments, until work is well underway and then "they suddenly want to change things." Corbet would like to see Chamber members unite so that they react more quickly to potential problems as they arise" at the same time recognizing that in a town like Westfield where things are going well, that people tend to just sit back."

He may sound like a politician but Jubb Corbet is quick to point out that there is only one politician in the family: his wife, the former Joan Kervick, who lived around the corner from him in Elizabeth. A graduate of Manhattanville College in Purchase, N.Y., Joan is in her second year of a three-year term on the Board of Education. "She loves politics and 'may windup in Congress,'" boasts her proud husband.

As vice president of Wood Walker since 1974, Jubb Corbet has been with the firm since 1969 when Wood Walker purchased F.P. Ristine, the brokerage house he joined in 1962 with his father. Corbet Sr. had been with Ristine since 1922. Jubb describes his father as "20 percent retired" since he "works four days...not bad after 55 years in the business."

Eagle Scouts Honored by Troop 172

Steve Sullivan, Bruce Clark and Chris Paul were awarded their Eagle Badges, the highest achievement honor of the Boy Scouts of America, at the 38th annual dinner and court of honor of Troop 172 of the Franklin School. Nineteen other Scouts also received recognition for advancing in rank.

Steve Brunnequell, an Eagle Scout and former Senior Patrol Leader of Troop 172, made the principle address for the evening stressing the significance of the points of the scout oath and law in establishing a mans permanent code of values. Steve is a senior at Lafayette College and is active in Scout leadership development programs.

Assistant Scoutmaster Alan Ebersole, troop treasurer Phil Bailey, and Scoutmaster Robert Kerwin presented biographical sketches of the new Eagles pointing out their achievements in Scouting and in outside activities. The formal Eagle charge was read by Scoutmaster Kerwin and the awards were presented jointly by Brunnequell and Kerwin.

Steve Sullivan has been an active participant in Troop 172's program for seven years. He is currently attending Union College preparing himself for a career as a sports writer. For his Eagle service project Steve designed and fabricated an 8'x4' framed cork bulletin board for use in the Bicentennial Center. He proposed this project to the town Recreation Commission and utilized materials provided by the Recreation Department.

Bruce Clark has served in leadership positions in Troop 172 since 1974 when he transferred from Troop 604, Delaware. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow, served as senior patrol leader, and recently led the Sundance Patrol to victory in the Klondike Derby. At Westfield High School is a member of the National Honor Society and is on the varsity soccer team. As an Eagle service project he designed and supervised the construction of a rustic boat dock on Shaw Island in Middle Saranac Lake during the troop's summer expedition to the Adirondacks. The 20' dock was made from notched and fitted 6" diameter support timbers and planked with 2" diameter wood. Bruce plans to pursue a career in engineering and will attend the College of Engineering and Physical Science of Lehigh University.

Chris Paul joined Troop 172 in 1974 as a transfer from Troop 1894 of Annandale, Va. He has served as patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader, and senior patrol leader and has been elected to the Order of the Arrow. He was chief helmsman of the Troop's Upper Delaware River Raft-a-thon, has completed two Adirondack canoe expeditions, and last summer served on the staff of the Council's Troop Leadership Development course. He has consistently been among the winners of the Great Canoe Race. In high school, first Holy Trinity and now Westfield High School, he has served on the Student Council, has been elected to the National Honor Society and this year was nominated to High School All Americans. His sport is track and in this he has earned 13 varsity letters.

Files Suit Over Arrest

John E. Boyd of 202 West Dudley Ave. filed suit Monday in Superior Court charging Patrolman Charles Haller and Town of Westfield with false arrest when he was handcuffed and taken to police headquarters Feb. 23 on what turned out to be a Board of Health violation.

Boyd is asking $15,000 in compensatory and punitive damages. He said that the patrolman failed to show him the complaint or an arrest warrant or to permit him to call a lawyer, but accused him of resisting arrest and placed handcuffs on him.

The Board of Health warrant ordered Boyd to appear in municipal court Feb. 24 to answer complaints from tenants in a building Boyd owned who said they were without heat. Boyd claimed in his suit Monday that the situation was caused by a boiler failure which was repaired.

Dr. Austin Cited For Research

Dr. R. Marshall Austin, formerly of Westfield, has been cited as one of two national winners in the 1977 Sheard Sanford Award competition of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists. Austin, a sixth year M.D.-Ph.D. fellow at Duke University School of Medicine, presented his award-winning research to the society this past week at its annual convention in Miami Beach, Florida. His paper, entitled "Inhibition by Rheumatoid Factor, Anti-Fc, and Staphylococcal Protein A of Antibody-Dependent Cell-Mediated Lysis Against Virus-Infected Cells," was based on studies published in the August edition of the Journal of Immunology.

Austin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason McVay Austin Jr. of 729 Shackamaxon Dr. He is a 1967 graduate of Westfield High and a 1971 graduate of Lafayette College. He was awarded his Ph.D. degree in experimental pathology this past May in commencement exercises at Duke University.

Color Slide Albums Augment Great Masters at Library

The Westfield Memorial Library has added a 19-volume set of color slide albums on the history of Western art to the popular 14-volume set of Great Masters Albums in its audio-visual collection, according to Mrs. Patricia B. Winter, assistant director, who is in charge of the audio-visual department.

The Western Art set provides a color slide survey of the history of Western art from the revolutionary break with tradition that took place in 14th-century Italy through the modern art of the United States. The set contains a total of 456 full-color slides of the world's greatest art masterpieces. The standard 35 mm. slides are designed to be projected to the full size and in the true colors of the original works of art. Each album contains 24 slides of works of art of a specific period. The text describes and interprets the period - its background, its chief masters and their most important works.

The series includes: Early Italian Paintings, Early Flemish Painting, Early Renaissance, 15th Century Italian Painting, The High Renaissance, Italian Painting, Mannerist Painting, 16th Century Baroque Art in Italy, German Painting, The Old Masters, Spanish Painting, The Golden Century, Flemish Painting, 17th Century, Dutch Painting of the 17th Century, French Painting of the 17th Century, English Painting: 1730-1860, European Painting: 18th Century, Romanticism and Realism, Impressionist Painting, The Post-Impressionists, American Painting: 1560-1913, Origins of Modern Art: 1905-1914, and Painting Between the Wars: 1918-1940.

Each of the 14 Great Masters albums contains an illustrated essay on the artist and 20 color slides of his finest paintings and individual commentary on each of the slide pictures. The artists covered are Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, Titian, Rubens, Bruegel, Rembrandt, Goya, Toulouse-Lautrec, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Renoir, Degas, Chagall and Picasso.

The 48-page text in each album discusses the reasons why the painting is considered great, its place in the development of the artist and the biographical and historical background of the masterpiece.

The art slide volumes, which circulate for two weeks, are suitable not only for individual use but as program material for art study groups and other organizations. Patrons also may borrow a slide viewer from the library to use with the art slide volumes.

Language Students "Make Merry"

Seventh grade Latin and German students at Roosevelt Junior High School recently celebrated the traditional Roman and German customs of Carnival (which comes from the Latin - Carne, Vele or Oh flesh farewell!) and Fasching (its German counterpart).

Carnival and Fasching are ancient traditions of feasting and making merry before the advent of the austerities of Lent.

According to Thomas H. Brown, German teacher, and George T. Riggs, Latin teacher, the dual-celebration provided an opportunity for students to have some fun while learning about cultures and peoples of Rome-Italy and Germany.

Tina Miller and Adolph Franzl were crowned King and Queen for wearing the most appropriate Mardi-Gras type costumes. Nancy Rowe won the Greek goddess contest; Claudia Jacobs won the Heidi contest; Damian Robertson, the authentic World War I German general contest; and Nancy Carlson and Cheryl Janisko, the Perchten (ugly costume) contest. Purpose of the ugly costume contest is to drive away winter.

Various games were played in the tradition of Rome and Germany and prizes were awarded to all winners. The games culminated with the dropping of balloons from the ceiling - one balloon contained a prize.

Both Brown and Riggs expressed gratitude to the students who helped decorate the school cafeteria and to students

Trace Own "Roots"

Long before "Roots" became so chic, students in Tamaques School classes taught by Joseph Hawkins and Barbara Susman began tracing their family trees, customs and traditions concerning their ancestors.

Culmination of the study included a luncheon planned by both classes with representative foods of the students' ancestors. Jane Curtis, volunteer classroom aide in Hawkins' class, served as co-hostess for the event.

Republicans Gather to Dine and Dance

The Mountainside Inn was the scene last Friday of the annual Robert L. Evans Awards Dinner and Dance sponsored by the Westfield Town Republican Committee. Former First Ward Councilman Lee M. Hale was the guest of honor and received the committee's Award for Service. Hale served on the council from 1975 to 1977 and was chairman of the finance committee.

"The dinner was a great success both financially and socially," said dance chairman Robert Dinamore.

"There were more than 70 new faces at this year's affair."

The dance committee which included Mrs. Shirley Budd, Mrs. Robert Cagnassola, Mrs. Robert Dinamore, Mrs. George Lowish, and Mrs. Richard Trabert, and in an advisory capacity Mrs. Alex Williams, gave a special award to retiring Republican Chairman Richard F. Trabert who has served as head of the local Republican party since January 1973.

Politics had to be the topic of discussion when GOP gubernatorial hopeful Assemblyman Thomas Kean visited Mayor Alex Williams' table with his campaign manager Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott. Present for the discussion were (seated) Joseph A. Hunoval, Mayor Williams, Mrs. Williams and Eli J. Loranger Jr.; standing: Mrs. Hunoval, Assemblyman McDermott, Mrs. Kean, Assemblyman Kean, and Mrs. Loranger.

Honored guest Lee M. Hale, former first ward councilman, says a few words of thanks after receiving the service award as his wife Anne and Westfield Republican Chairman Richard F. Trabert look on.

Red Cross Needs

More Drivers

The local Red Cross transportation service's need for drivers has grown at a great rate since beginning its senior citizens' program; volunteer drivers supplement the paid drivers for the program.

The chapter transports veterans to and from the hospital, patients for treatment at the request of doctors and senior citizens to various activities in town as well as to a school lunch program several times a week.

For many years, volunteer drivers have transported the special education classes from school to the Westfield Y for a swim and gym program and daily to the summer playground.

Potential volunteers may contact the Red Cross at 321 Elm St. any day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Senior Citizens To Display Crafts

Members of the Greater Westfield YM-YWHA will display their own crafts Wednesday, Needlepoint, knitting and art work will be displayed and discussed. Those who have a craft to share may take a sample. The meeting will be held at the Westfield Rescue Squad, 335 Watterson St., from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dessert and beverages will be served to supplement guests' own Passover lunches. Transportation is available from Westfield and Mountainside residents from the Westfield Red Cross. Additional information is available from Carolyn Weil or Box H., Westfield.

Robert Clifford Hill will be awarded his M.S. degree this month at Auburn (Ala.) University.

Seek Senior

Senior citizens in Union County are being given an opportunity to be considered for a two-week $600 internship on the Washington staff of Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo, R-N.J. Rinaldo said today that the Washington experience is being offered through a senior citizen intern program in which his office will participate from May 16-27.

A committee representing senior citizen organizations in the 12th Congressional District will review applications and select the senior citizen to join the intern program.

The Union County Congressman, who is a member of the House Select Committee on Aging, said said anyone aged 65 and over who lives in the 12th District can apply. Applications should be in the form of a one-page letter to the Rinaldo Senior Citizen Intern Program, 1961 Morris Avenue, Union, N.J. 07083. The letters should include brief background information about the applicant and give the applicant's main reasons for seeking the internship. Two letters of recommendation should accompany each application. The deadline for applying is Apr. 19.

Rinaldo said the successful applicant will receive a stipend of $300 a week but will be required to meet travel, food and accommodation costs.

The chosen intern will participate in congressional briefings, attend congressional committee hearings, review legislation affecting elderly Americans, and work with Rinaldo's staff on matters relating to senior citizens.

The 12th District comprises all of Union County except Hillside, Linden, and Winfield.

Mrs. Carlton Quentin Brown

Carlton Quentin Brown, Med Student, Wed to Miss Norris

The First Unitarian Church in Providence, R.I., was the setting early Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Carol Ann Norris to Carlton Quentin Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Tracy Brown of Scotch Plains. The Rev. Thomas Ahlborn performed the six o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Squantum Club, Riverside, R.I.

Mrs. Brown, a graduate of the Peabody Demonstration School, received her B.A. degree in economics from Brown University. She has been employed in Providence as a claim representative for the Aetna Life and Casualty Insurance Company. Her husband, an alumnus of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, received his B.A. degree in psychology in 1974 from Brown University where he was a member of Phi Delta Beta. He is now in his third year at Emory University School of Medicine. After a honeymoon in Destin, Fla., the couple will live in Atlanta, Ga., while Mr. Brown completes medical school.

Mrs. James R. Rood

Lucinda Robinson, Mr. Rood Are United in Marriage

Miss Lucinda L. Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Robinson of 633 Kimball Ave., and James R. Rood, son of Mrs. Joseph E. Rood of 6 Manchester Dr. and the late Mr. Rood, exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon, March 5.

The Rev. Canon Richard Hardman officiated at the two o'clock ceremony in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. A reception followed at the Chanticleer Chateau, Warren Township. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian styled wedding dress of ivory chiffon with appliques of Alencon lace, sequins and seed pearls. Her full length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of matching lace. Mrs. Ralph Robinson, matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wore a long, persimmon colored dress. Similarly costumed were the bridesmaids, Mrs. James Sullivan of Hagerstown, Md., Miss Kathy Pattison of Norfolk, Va., Miss Lea Batzold, Mrs.

Archeologist Herbert Kraft

Archeologist to Discuss N.J. Indians Since 10,000 B.C.

The College Women's Club of Westfield will present archeologist Herbert Kraft as featured speaker at its last meeting of the program year on Tuesday evening, April 5, in the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St., at 8:15. Kraft, professor of anthropology at Seton Hall University and president of the New Jersey Archeological Society, will give a slide lecture on "New Jersey Indians Since 10,000 B.C."

Kraft has conducted annual "digs" in the Tocks Island area. These excavations have attracted national attention and have been manned chiefly by students drawn from colleges all over the country. His researches, uncovering an astonishing range and number of Delaware Indian artifacts, have helped push back 12,000 years our knowledge of New Jersey Indian prehistory. The most important discoveries he has made to date include the first Indian "long houses" ever found in the state, and the first petroglyph, an enormous boulder faced with Indian ceremonial etchings. Professor Kraft's discussion will encompass identifying, excavating and analyzing an archeological site, as well as what has been learned about the way of life of New Jersey's Indian.

Host Families Are Needed For Students

Youth for Understanding is now accepting applications for host families for the 1977-78 school year. For those interested in a different and memorable experience for the whole family, this may be an answer. The only requirements are: A good family life, willingness to learn about other countries and their customs and most important, to show the student real American life. The R.W. Clarks of Dorian Rd., as a family, have hosted 13 students and guests in the past four years. They have been selected as the local representatives for Youth for Understanding and would like very much to share their experiences at an informal meeting with their present students from Germany and France on Sunday afternoon, April 19, at 3 p.m. Further information may be obtained by calling their home in the evenings.

Mrs. Barnes Honored by Service League

At the March meeting of the Westfield Service League, special recognition was given to Mrs. Robert P. Barnes who is moving from the area. Mrs. Lawrence Shaffer, president, noted Mrs. Barnes' 15 years of membership and paid tribute to her many contributions to the League. As Consignment Shop chairman, she was the moving force behind the League's purchase of the house at 114 Elmer St., where the Thrift and Consignment Shops are now located. She served as president of the League from 1966 to 1968. Because of her many years of service, Mrs. Barnes was made an honorary member of the League and was presented with a plaque commemorating the occasion. Mrs. James Jordan, treasurer, announced that donations of more than $6400 were made during January and February. Recipients were: Mobile Meals, Westfield Welfare, Westfield Community Center, Youth and Family Counseling, Visiting Nurse and Health Services, and Children's Specialized Hospital. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Weimer, Dr. Roger Plankow spoke about the operations and aims of the Center for Counseling and Human Development located in Cranford.

Day Care Center Continues Its Appeal for Sale Items

"Response to the appeal for donations has been very good so far," reports Mrs. Charles L. McGill, chairman of the tenth annual Garage Sale, May 7, at 330 Hillside Ave., sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary for the Westfield Day Care Center.

Mrs. McGill adds that she hopes items will continue to come since there are many booths to stock and that much more will be needed to make this fund raiser a truly successful one. The Westfield Day Care Center is in need of funds and this is one way in which the Auxiliary assists the charitable organization. As in previous years the public's generosity is and will continue to be greatly appreciated.

Everyone is asked to search belongings for new or never used merchandise which may be sold in the Gift Shop. Also, welcome, and gladly accepted, are small appliances, furniture, toys and games, linens, hardware, sporting goods, housewares, greenery and plants, baked goods, jewelry, white elephants, Christmas decorations and crafts.

Tax exempt receipts will be issued for all donations and all sale proceeds go to the Day Care Center. Sale hours are from 9:30 to 3:30 p.m. Rain date is May 14.

For pick-up call Mrs. Larry Biederman, 225 Watchung Fork, or Mrs. Heinn Tomfohrde, 880 Bradford Ave. Articles may be dropped off at 330 Hillside Ave. No mattresses, large appliances or clothing will be accepted.

Arthur Brody To be Honored

Barbara Gray of Westfield is a member of the committee for the annual dinner dance of the Solomon Schechter Day School, Union, May 5 at the Patricia Caterers, Livingston. The party serves as the culmination of the school's ad book campaign.

The school will honor Arthur Brody, currently serving his third consecutive term as president of the Jewish Community Federation of Metropolitan New Jersey. He is a member of the school's board of trustees.

Five Homes to be Open For Woman's Club Tour

Five homes will be open Saturday, April 30, for the fifth annual House and Kitchen Tour sponsored by the Woman's Club of Westfield.

The Watner home of Georgian architecture was built in 1907. Off its center hall with an attractive stairway is an enclosed foyer where an organ had been installed and the "Fern Room," a powder room decorated in greens and yellows with hanging baskets and ferns. Focal points of the large living room, furnished with 18th century collector pieces, are a French tapestry hanging and a mid-18th century French Trouneaux mirror. Blue predominates in the formal, banquet sized dining room adjacent to a modern kitchen, decorated in yellows and oranges, and the family room. There is also a walnut paneled den, a library and four bedrooms in which Mrs. Watner has achieved a delicate elegance with carefully chosen appointments. During the tour hours from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., brunch will be served at the Woman's Club on North Euclid Ave. Men as well as women seem to enjoy watching Jerry Holmes of New York, the "Omelet King" make five omelets at a time with a variety of fillings.

Tickets are limited and will not be sold the day of the tour. They may be obtained now from Mrs. Anthony J. Stark Jr., Mrs. Harold H. Bracher, Mrs. George Fraser or at Lancaster Ltd., 76 Elm St.

Others opening their homes for the tour are the Priviteres, the Franklins, the Levins and the Wiegmanns. Over 150 members of the club will be assisting. Greeting guests at the door will be members of the Junior Woman's Club and the two evening membership departments, Intermediates and Fortnightly.

Mrs. Herbert Connor of Mountinside, left, vice president of the Senior Auxiliary to Children's Specialized Hospital; Richard B. Ahlfeld, director of Administration, and Mrs. Sidney Kellerman of Westfield, Auxiliary Spring Parties program chairman, study construction plans in the lobby of the hospital's new addition scheduled to open in early summer. The parties have, in recent years, assisted the Auxiliary in meeting their pledge to the building program, and will continue to make possible their support of special hospital projects.

Spring Parties Give Support To Children's Hospital

Afternoons of spring partying on April 19, 20 and 21 will help Children's Specialized Hospital open its doors to a new era in rehabilitative care for physically handicapped young people.

The proceeds from the Annual Spring Parties, sponsored by the hospital's Senior Auxiliary, will continue the organization's ongoing support of hospital projects.

The community's fine support for the spring parties in recent years was instrumental in the Auxiliary's payment of $50,000 pledge to the hospital building fund for a new addition.

Scheduled to open early this summer, the addition will nearly double the present bed capacity of the rehabilitative facility. It will also provide more space for clinics, therapies, new x-ray equipment and classroom areas so that the hospital can help more physically handicapped young people "reach a maximum degree of independence and live as productive and satisfying lives as possible."

The parties, which will be held at the Shackamaxon Country Club, Scotch Plains, are a major source of funding for the hospital's projects, according to Mrs. Grant Buttermore, parties chairman.

A fashion show by Jane Smith Shops of Westfield, featuring fashions ranging from casual to formal wear, will highlight the parties this year. A variety of prizes, luncheon, cocktail hour and bridge playing, will also be featured. Tickets may be obtained from any Auxiliary member.

First held in private homes in the 1920's, the parties are an annual tradition of the Auxiliary, according to Mrs. George Keenan Jr., co-chairman.

Town's Master Plan Topic for Learn-Lunch

"Up Dating Westfield's Master Plan" will be the subject of a mini talk at the April 11 Learn and Lunch at the Westfield YWCA. William Bass, attorney for the Westfield Planning Board for the past seven years, will be the speaker. He attended Princeton University and Rutgers Law School.

Mr. Bass will explain the present master plan published in 1965 and the action of the Planning Board in revising it. The Land Use Act enacted in the past few years requires all towns to bring their master plans up to date every six years.

The Learn and Lunch program, sponsored by the YWCA's public affairs committee, is open to anyone interested in current affairs. Luncheon is served at 12 noon and the mini-talk concluded by 12:45. Reservations are requested by calling the YWCA before Friday, April 8.

Armchair Tour

An armchair tour of Australia and New Zealand will be taken by members of the travel department of the Woman's Club of Westfield at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the clubhouse when Mrs. William Childs shows slides of her travels. Tea will be served before the program.

A new cookbook, "Not By Bread Alone," compiled by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El, is presented by its editor, Ina Herman, right, to Jeanne M. Desrosiers, library director.

Library Presented With Copy Of Sisterhood's New Cookbook

A copy of "Not By Bread Alone," a new cookbook compiled by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El, has been presented to the Westfield Memorial Library.

The cookbook, coordinated and edited by Ina Herman, has been published to raise funds for the temple. Copies are on sale at local stores, at the temple and at stores in Summit and Garwood.

"Not By Bread Alone" was nearly three years in the making. Done in calligraphy and script in earth colors, the book contains 400 new recipes, covering 16 cuisines. It is designed "for both the novice as well as the experienced cook in its simplification of menu planning."

According to the foreword by Mrs. Herman, "the book contains detailed bread baking instructions for those who have revived the pleasures of fashioning bread by hand. Many recipes for protein and mineral rich breads are included. For those who must budget their time, there are hints for advance cooking and freezing. The recipes range from hors d'oeuvres to desserts.

"Not By Bread Alone" is the second cookbook of favorite recipes compiled and published by the Sisterhood. The library also has a copy of the first, "Look Who's Cooking."

Rabbi Charles Kroloff and Cantor Don Decker conducted a model Seder service for those unable to observe the holiday with their families.

The Passover holiday commemorates the escape of the Jewish People in Egypt and the service repeats the story of their deliverance. The foods served represent the bitterness of their enslavement and their gratitude for freedom.

VNHS SHREDDER Audrey Martin, a member of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) of the Visiting Nurse and Health Services, operates the home health agency's new heavy duty shredder, purchased through a grant from the Westfield Service League. Mrs. Martin and a number of other RSVP volunteers from the 15 communities served by the VNHS, spend a good deal of productive time at the agency's Elizabeth headquarters performing this and other similar tasks.

VNHS Has Shredder Through Grant of Service League

A $600 grant for the purchase of a heavy duty shredding machine was awarded to the Visiting Nurse and Health Service by the Westfield Service League as part of the League's continuing effort to assist the VNHS, a voluntary non-profit home health agency serving 15 communities in Union County. According to VNHS executive director, Rosemary Cuccaro, the shredder will be used to destroy and preserve the confidentiality of outdated patient records in accordance with Federal and State regulations. This work was done in the past by an outside agency.

Mrs. Robert Bunting of the Westfield Service League's education committee, notes that, in addition to the shredder's operational importance to the Visiting Nurse and Health Service, it represents additional tasks for the agency's Retired Senior Volunteer Program (R.S.V.P.). Volunteer RSVP workers from the VNHS service area will handle the shredding operation in addition to the other office tasks performed by members of the group.

Dealer Receives First Diesel Rabbit

John J. Cox, president of Union County Volkswagen Inc., authorized Volkswagen Dealer, 1124-1134 South Ave., Plainfield, now has available for test-driving the new Volkswagen diesel rabbit which has been certified by the Environmental Protection Agency at 52 miles per gallon on the highway and 39 miles per gallon in city driving. Though the mileage the ordinary driver may get may vary from this number based on the way he maintains his car, the way he drives it and the operational equipment he puts on it, the mileage he gets should approximate the EPA number.

The Diesel Rabbit at Union County Volkswagen, Inc. is one of the first to arrive in this country, the local VW executive announced. It arrived recently with some 50 others at Port Newark on the Troll Park, one of the ship's in the VW fleet. Hillside Youth Injured in Crash

Robert O'Brien, 18, of Hillside, was injured early Thursday when his car overturned in the center median on Route 22 and struck a tree while it was being pursued by police.

Patrolman Edward Roworth issued O'Brien a summons for speeding 85 miles an hour in a 45-mile-an-hour zone in the east-bound lane of the highway. Roworth said the driver refused to stop.

Police in Mountainside said the driver apparently was attempting to make a U-turn just before reaching Police Headquarters there when his car went out of control. O'Brien was taken to Overlook Hospital for treatment of back injuries.

International Geneva Assn. Selects Motters as Restaurateurs of Year

William Lorch, president of the New Jersey Chapter of the International Geneva Association, today announced that Elizabeth and William Motter of Mountainside, proprietors of the Tower Steak House, Mountainside, have been selected as the golden anniversary recipients of the highly coveted 1977 International Geneva Association Award as the outstanding restaurateurs of the year. The Motters are the 12th annual IGA award recipients and were selected on the basis of competence, efficiency, creativity and developing and refining of personal management techniques.

William and Elizabeth Motter will be honored at the annual dinner of the 100-year-old fraternal association of restaurateurs and hotelmen Apr. 25 at the Manor, West Orange.

The Motters were selected, Lorch explained, "because their fine restaurant has lived up to the highest standards of excellence set by the Geneva Association. Bill and Elizabeth Motter and the Tower enjoy an enviable and well-deserved reputation, not only here in New Jersey, but throughout the nation and in many other parts of the world."

The 1977 winners join such previous Geneva Award recipients as Martin L. Horn, owner of Mayfair Farms and Pals Cabin of West Orange, William Naeue of the Roost, Newark; Steven Morland of the Chanticleer, Millburn; Harry Knowles of the Manor and Rod Keller, Rod's of Convent Station. The Motters, who reside in Mountainside, opened the Tower as a bar and sandwich shop in 1947. The name was taken from a water tower which was demolished to make room for one of the three expansions the Route 22 restaurant has undergone. The couple, who emigrated from their native Aachen, Germany, in 1928, began up-grading their cuisine shortly after acquiring the restaurant. "From the outset," explains Motter, "Elizabeth and I wanted to build a fine restaurant. We moved up from sandwiches to steaks and kept adding other items to our menu as the years passed."

Along with improvements to the menu came other changes which completed the transition from sandwich shop to haute cuisine. Linen tablecloths, fine china and standardized uniforms for the service personnel gradually replaced the items in the original restaurant. And the Motters presided over every step of the transition. "There is no way a restaurant can become and remain a fine establishment without personal supervision," Motter maintains.

The silver-haired restaurateur and his wife, whom he describes as "the guiding light of the Tower Steak House," have placed their personal stamp on their establishment. The Tower's salad, for instance, consists of mixed greens topped with Roquefort cheese and a secret formula dressing developed by Elizabeth Motter many years ago. It has become one of the restaurant's trademarks. Either the husband or the wife—and frequently both—invariably presides personally over the operation of the 100-employee restaurant. The Tower, which serves luncheon and dinner every day except Christmas, can accommodate more than 500 persons at a sitting in its five dining rooms. On such busy occasions as Mother's Day or Thanksgiving, the Tower can serve as many as 2,000 guests.

Despite the growth they have enjoyed, the Motters have tried to retain the personal touches that contribute to the restaurant's character and ambience. "Our's is a family restaurant," Motter notes. "We like to treat all our patrons as if they were guests in our own home."

The Motters' sons—William Jr. of Westfield and Roger of Mountainside—have been associated with the Tower for a decade. Bill Jr. as maitre d' and Roger as head of the purchasing and bookkeeping departments.

In addition, Roger Motter personally attends to such touches as the colorful decorations adorning the restaurant for such traditional holidays as New Year's, Valentine's Day, Mother's Day and Thanksgiving. Every year he scours trade shows and exhibit houses in New York City seeking new and unusual displays to serve as the centerpiece of the year-end holiday decorations.

Like many other larger restaurants, the Tower has gone into catering in a big way. It boasts of being able to serve groups ranging from 20 to 200 in size in the various private party rooms inside the three-story structure. Three years ago, the Tower introduced its off-premises catering facility, capable of serving parties as large as 1,000.

The Tower has received several industry accolades over the years, the most recent being a "Great Menu" award from the National Restaurant Association last year. The NRA also gave the Tower a "Golden Award" for its wine list—the only such presentation made to a United States restaurant in 1976. In 1970, 1971 and 1973, the Mountainside restaurant was honored for having one of the ten best menus submitted to the NRA. Hospitality Magazine cited The Tower in 1971 for a table setting entered in a national competition it sponsored.

The success of the Tower has been a family team effort, Motter emphasizes. The restaurateur underscored this point in explaining the phenomenal growth and success of the Towers since its inception 1947. Motter gave full credit to his wife and family as well as a loyal, dedicated staff saying in part, "My own family and the people on my staff, who are also in a sense part of my family, have made the Tower what it is." "This award we have won really belongs to all of them as much as it does to Elizabeth and me."

To Conduct Cornerstone Services At Holy Trinity Church Sunday

Archbishop Iakovos will officiate at the cornerstone services of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church at 10 a.m. Sunday, according to the Rev. Alexander G. Leondis, pastor.

His Eminence will conduct a blessing service and then set the cornerstone in its place. A sealed compartment will be placed in the stone containing a chip from Christ's Tomb given to Father Alexander in Jerusalem in 1961. An official proclamation and the names of the parishioners will be also enclosed. A banquet will follow in the parish center.

Father Alexander sees a significant spiritual message in the rite. He said: "Jesus Christ is the cornerstone of Holy Trinity who makes us all one, His People, His Body, His Church. Without Jesus as our cornerstone, we would be a collection of loose timber, broken bricks, shattered glass and twisted steel. Each has his place in the church."

"You, too, are built upon the foundation laid by the apostles and prophets, the cornerstone being Christ Jesus himself." (Ephesians 2:20)

Archdeacon Methodios will accompany and assist the Archbishop at the Divine Liturgy and cornerstone service. Mr. and Mrs. George Anast, godparents of the church, also will take part in the cornerstone rite.

Archbishop Iakovos has served as primate of the Greek Orthodox Church in this country since 1969. A newspaper reporter once wrote about him: "a tall bearded man with a shepherd's staff and a resolute vision in stimulating a broader role for Eastern Orthodoxy in the West. He is Archbishop Iakovos, head of the Greek Orthodox Church in North and South America."

The Archbishop is the representative of the Ecumenical Patriarchate in Constantinople at international religious meetings and seminars. His Eminence has served as president of the World Council of Churches for eight years. He is the chairman of the Standing Conference of Orthodox Bishops in the Americas, and Chairman of the Orthodox Commission for Dialogue for the Roman Catholic, Anglican and Lutheran Churches. He travels thousands of miles annually attending meetings of the Orthodox Church, interfaith and ecumenical gatherings and making pastoral visits in the

Resident to Direct Good Friday Program

The Chancel Choir of the Dunellen Presbyterian Church will present Stainers "Crucifixion" on Good Friday, Apr. 8 at 8 p.m. under the direction of D. Eileen Jacob of Westfield.

"Great men, like nature, use simple language." Voltaire

The new church building is crowned with a dome and is designed according to Byzantine architecture, which has been traditional in the Orthodox Church for almost 1,500 years. The church is divided into the sanctuary; nave and narthex and seats more than 400 people. The Byzantine edifice was designed by Julian K. Jastremsky, architect from New York and built by Joseph Houseman Construction Company from Metuchen for the cost of almost $800,000. The church's interior is being completed with icons and stained glass windows which are being designed by John Spillo of the Byzantine Icons Studio, New York and executed by Appleton Rubec Stained Glass, Waldwick.

On hand to greet the guests and visitors will be Theodore Demetrius of Chatham, parish council president; Nicholas J. Bouras, Summit, building committee chairman; and Avi Kiriakidis, Kenilworth, hostess committee chairman. The Holy Trinity family extends an invitation to all those desiring to attend these services.

Oratorio Choir

Daily Lenten Week Services at Presbyterian Church

The celebration theme of the 9 a.m. Lenten services at the Presbyterian Church will continue this Sunday with a predominantly musical service. The Oratorio Choir, under the direction of Marilyn J. Herrmann, will present the Lenten portions of "Messiah" by George Frederick Handel. Karl Lein will be the tenor soloist and Annette White will be at the organ. Mrs. White will play Bach's "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" as preparation music before the service begins. Robert Blumenscheid is the layman in charge of the service.

Throughout these Lenten services the Apostles Peter, Andrew, and John have reminiscenced about their experiences with Jesus. On Palm Sunday they will retell what happened at this most poignant time of His life.

Palm Sunday begins a special week at the Presbyterian Church.

French Horn Quintet

To Play at Temple Tomorrow

A French horn quartet will be heard at Temple Emanuel during evening services tomorrow, performing an instrumental interpretation of the Hashkiveinu "cause us, Oh Lord, to lie down in peace."

The original melody was composed for choir by Sholom Secunda, and has been transcribed for horn by Theodore Schlossberg, Westfield resident. His inspiration to attempt an instrumental transposition of the melody occurred during the years he directed choirs for Temple, Jewish Community Centers, and Hillel on college campuses. According to Schlossberg, "In the brass family of instruments, the French horn is best suited to transcribe choral works because it has the widest range covering four and a half octaves, and when utilizing playing techniques unique to the horn, can produce varied tone changes with the richest quality."

Schlossberg first performed this melody on French horn during a public recital at Montclair State College in 1972. In tomorrow's performance, the horns will represent the choir, with solo horn passages in the role of the Cantor. "The Synagogue has a long history of horn usage in its liturgy, dating back to the first use of the Shofar, which is a ram's horn," added Henry Wyatt, another member of the quartet.

The musicians will be performing together for the first time to offer this instrumental interpretation. Schlossberg holds B.A. and M.A. degrees in music education from Trenton State College, and is a Ph.D. candidate in creative arts at Rutgers University. Currently, he is instrumental music director at Thomas A. Edison Junior High School, and director of the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Performing and Fine Arts which he initiated in 1973. Wyatt received a B.S. from Syracuse University with a major in French horn, and an M.A. in music history from the University of Pennsylvania. Wyatt, whose mother taught religious classes at the Temple for many years, performs professionally with area orchestras. He is a proprietor of Wyatt Brothers, men's and boys' clothing in Westfield.

Henry Babcock, resident of Roselle, is a graduate of the University of Colorado, where he performed with the Denver Symphony. He currently performs professionally in the New York area, and is an instrumental music instructor with the Cranford school system.

Howard Katz, a third year student at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, performed a French horn recital last year in Westfield where his family resides. He is a Westfield Music Club scholarship recipient, and has attended Music Camp in Michigan. Following his initial instruction with the instrumental music teachers in the Westfield schools, he is a student of Harry Berv, who for years performed with the Toscanini Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestras.

29 Join Contact Service

Twenty-nine volunteers were commissioned as staff members of Contact-We Care, area hotline for the troubled, at a special service Tuesday evening at Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Plainfield.

The Rev. Robert Shoemith of Scotch Plains Baptist Church delivered the commissioning address to this, the fourth training class since the telephone center originated two years ago. Also participating in the service were the Rev. G. Milton Johnson of Gethsemane Lutheran Church; Donald Naragon, Contact-We Care president; Marilyn Suter, the center's director; the Contact Singers, and Georgette Denlinger, organist.

Contact-We Care, which can be reached at 232-2880, offers a listening ear around the clock for the troubled, worried, or lonely who need someone to talk to about adversity or problems, or who require information about social services for these misfortunes. The center handles about 1000 calls a month.

The newly commissioned class brings to 180 the number of volunteers who have completed the 50-hour training course required by Contact-We Care, with which Contact-We Care is affiliated. The present staff includes about 100 persons of various ages and backgrounds who serve at the center eight hours a month. A new training class started Mar. 23.

Tenebrae Service At Baptist Church

The Maundy Thursday service of worship at 8 p.m. Apr. 7 at the First Baptist Church of Westfield will celebrate the Lord's Supper and observe Tenebrae—the Vigil of Darkness.

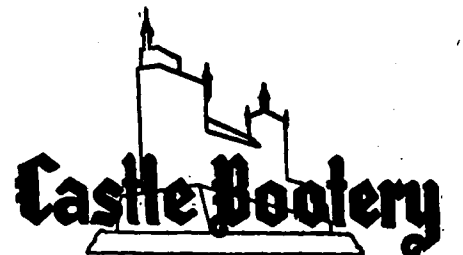

This observance dates back to the fourth century. In this service, candles are gradually extinguished symbolizing the flight and denial of the disciples and friends of Jesus after the trial and crucifixion. At the close of the service, only a single candle remains lighted.

The Chancel Choir will sing "Deliver Me from Death Eternal" by Faure and "Lamb of God" by Bowman under the direction of Christina Emra. New members will be received. The Rev. Wilmont J. Murray will lead the worship experience. Friends of the church and interested persons are invited to participate.

Todd Ruppert

Ruppert Third In Championships

Former Westfield Y and Blair Academy swimmer Todd Ruppert was part of the 16-member Kenyon College team which finished third among the nation's small colleges in the NCAA Division III championships held Mar. 17-19 at Oberlin, Oh.

Though not making the All American cutoff in the 100 and 200 yard backstroke events, Ruppert's performance drew praise from Kenyon College coach Jim Steen.

Ruppert managed to better the times he posted in both events three weeks earlier at the Ohio Athletic Conference championships. In that meet he placed sixth in both events. Kenyon overwhelmed the OAC field winning the title for the 24th year in a row and bettering its own NCAA record for consecutive swim titles.

Places to Fish Listed in Guide

The list of waters stocked with trout, published in the New Jersey Summary of 1977 Fishing Laws, makes a good guide for places to fish when the spring trout season opens on Apr. 9, the state Division of Fish, Game, and Shellfisheries said today.

The trout-stocked waters in the list are currently closed for pre-season stocking. All will be open to fishing at 8 a.m., Saturday, Apr. 9.

No. 2 at Rutgers

Rutgers freshman Tom Chacko is slated to play the number two position this spring on the university's tennis team, which opened its spring season this week.

Westfield Soccer Teams Score Impressive Victories

The Westfield Soccer Association Division V Westfield Rangers travelled to East Brunswick Sunday and remained undefeated after a hard fought defensively dominated game that ended with the score tied 1-1. This classically played game matched two well-coached soccer teams which each displayed weeks of disciplined training.

East Brunswick took control of the early minutes of the game and scored at the three minute mark. Gradually, with continuous hustle, Westfield took control of midfield late in the third quarter. Mike Mirda, who played an outstanding game, intercepted a goal kick and drilled the ball home to tie the score. The Ranger defense was led by fullbacks Chris Alpaugh, Pat Rosalanko and Mike Perry and halfbacks David Guterma, Brian Quinn and Steve Pinkin. The Ranger offense played aggressively throughout the game, particularly wingers Jamie Petrick and Cristin Quinn and inners Jon Bovit and Robert Schmalz.

For Division IV National, Westfield started off very strong. Jay Halsey, unassisted, took the ball from underneath the goal keeper and scored Westfield's first goal. Steve Shields scored from close in on an excellent assist from Jay Halsey. Strong play from half backs Brian Jennings, Eric Munzinger, Ed Haag, kept the Westfield team almost constantly on the attack. Jay Halsey scored his hat trick from a Chris Walsweer line pass. Todd Feinsmith made a series of outstanding plays at fullback to turn back the few deep penetrations the Summit team had. Jay Halsey scored his fourth goal from a perfect pass from David Watt, after Watt beat three men. Chris Walsweer put in a nice goal after a good pass from Pat Brady. John Ierardi, unassisted, cracked in a 30 yard shot from Westfield's seventh goal. John Ierardi scored the final goal from a Steve DeFelice rebound for an easy Westfield victory with the goalkeeper having only four saves. Final score was Westfield 8, Summit 1.

Two friendly games were played by the Div. IV Premiere team, both out of town, against the Bridgewater Soccer Club team and against Chatham. The Bridgewater game ended in a 4-2 victory for the Westfield players. Just as last week, the score was opened by Michael Chin thanks to a perfect pass by Matt Petrick. The second goal was realized from a mix-up of Bridgewater's defense. The third goal was a result of a leading pass by Ron Johnson to Nikhil Singh. The fourth was another left wing penetration: M. Shuvart received a long pass by D. Fitzgerald, crossed to center and N. Singh made it 4-2. Chatham beat Westfield 3-1 in a very tough and fast game.

Both teams missed good chances with Westfield hitting the goal post twice and missing a penalty shot. The defense was hard tested and performed well; the wings, however, seldom penetrated. Westfield's only goal came late in the game from a tremendous personal effort by N. Singh, who outran the defender, withstood a hard tackle and shot in the left corner.

From start to finish Westfield's Division III Premiere players dominated the game; the score was 9-1 over Colts Neck. Giancarlo DiOrio scored the first three goals assisted by Bruno DiDario, Tony Valles and Joe DiBella. The next goal was scored by Tony Valles, unassisted. Ken Chin scored the most beautiful goal of the game with a sliding shot on a cross from Bruno DiDario. Tony Valles opened the second half by scoring his second goal assisted by Cam Dunnan. Then Frank Blanchette scored three goals, one on a penalty shot. John Kennedy did a super job; he goal. Exceptional performances were given by Mark Bleiweis, Cam Dunnan, but especially by Joe DiBella. Solid defensive performances were also given by Arthur Stock, Marc Holmes and Bob O'Herron.

The Westfield Division III National went out of town to play a very tough Carteret team. The final score was 2-0 in favor of the Westfield team. The Westfield players fought for every ball, controlled the mid-field with outstanding performances by Marc Telling, Eddie Smith, and James Darrow. The fullbacks Walter Sobanski, Andrew Gengos, Derek Keuter played an excellent game and the goalie James Morgan repeatedly saved his net. The forward line of Larry Van Kirk, Jeff Schmalz, R. Harrison and Steve Weill put in a passing exhibition and constantly put pressure on the excellent Carteret goalie. Goals were scored by Jeff Schmalz on a beautiful and very smart pass by Larry Van Kirk. The second goal scored by Steve Weill was his fifth in two games.

The Division V Premiere Team travelled to Raritan on Saturday and came out with a 3-0 win under difficult field and wind conditions. Going uphill against strong winds in the first half, Raritan was able to contain many scoring threats. However, the constant pressure of the forward line finally paid off when Curt Cheesman dribbled around two defenders on the left wing, passing to John Ganas who fed Jimmy Dodd, who fired a bullet from a difficult angle to open the scoring. Shortly thereafter, center half Robert Rogers delivered an indirect kick behind the Raritan defense that sent Dodd one on one against the goalie who came out to cut down the angle. But Dodd deftly went around to score into an open net. Midfielders Jimmy Miller, Dennis Kinsella and Paul Maravetz were able to constantly contain the Raritan offense with hard tackling and good positional play. On the rare occasions when Raritan broke through, the fullbacks Aldo Kousch, Billy Lister and Joe Carnevale protected their goalkeeper from most difficult shots. Goalkeeper David Zupko preserved his second shutout in a row by diving on any loose balls in front of the net. The second half scoring came when a very alert John Ganas neatly touched in a Jimmy Post rebound. Richard Covington and Timothy Dodd provided fresh legs in the second half to solidify the win.

On Sunday the Westfield team, Division V Premiere team, faced its strongest opponents to date at Chatham and held on to a 2-1 win behind the goal tending of David Zupko. The strong rivalry between the two towns over the past years drew a good crowd of parents, spectators, and coaches who realized the games are always close and that the respective towns' soccer programs produce exciting matches. The first half action could be characterized as probing, testing and tentative with the Westfield defense consisting of Robert Rogers, Jimmy Miller, Dennis Kinsella, Aldo Kousch and Billy Lister equal to the task of eliminating any scoring threats. The forward line was able to penetrate often, but Chatham's defense seemed impregnable. After some defensive realignment in the second half, Peter LaTartara fed Jimmy Post free on the left, Post's return pass to an open Jimmy Dodd paid off with a hard drive resulting in the first goal. Peter LaTartara added an insurance goal which turned out to be the game winner a few minutes later on a high deceptive shot that fooled the goalie. Westfield then went into a defensive shell with Paul Maravetz and Timothy Dodd providing needed energy coming in off the bench. However, goalkeeper David Zupko maintained his outstanding play with several key saves, in spite of a fluke goal which brought Chatham within 1 late in the game.

The Division II National team also picked up two victories: an easy 4-1 over Bridgewater, and a very hard and tough one over Somerset Hills by 2-1.

Blues Split Weekend Play

The Westfield Soccer Association Blues Division V Northern Region team split its first two games this past weekend. On Saturday they lost to New Providence 7-2. After spotting New Providence four quick goals, including a hat trick by Tom Brett, the Blues pulled the defense together and played them even for the remainder of the game. George Roscoe kicked in the first goal from a direct kick, and Erik Berger scored the second goal. Fine defensive play was turned in by Dave Hone, Brad Cole and Mike Emanuel. Mark Davidson played a good game in goal having been challenged many times.

The next day the Blues easily handled Bridgewater 4-0. Binny Jones converted a rebound for the first score. George Roscoe passed off to Erik Berger who put the Blues ahead 2-0 in the first half. The third goal was started in the defensive area by Dave Hone who passed off to Lowell Holmes; Lowell centered the ball to Mike Davary who kicked it home. The final score came from John Kelly on a long boot. A fine defensive effort was given by Rolfe Gotsch, Richard Rocco and Brad Cole. The game was marked by excellent play on the wings by Susan Stokes, Andrew Graf, Matt Cotler and Jim Shepherd. Robert O'Hara played aggressively on the front line and Andrew Holmes ably supported the defense.

Five Compete In AAU Event

Five Westfield boys traveled to North Hunterdon High School Sunday to compete in the New Jersey AAU state wrestling championships for the Intermediate Division.

Mark Wolin placed third at 75 lbs., winning his consolation round 4-2. Richard Shields also took a third after a 5-2 win in the 95 lb. consolation. Philip Gottlieb, 100 lbs., lost a hard fought match in the quarter finals to one of the Angstadt brothers from North Hunterdon, who finished the day competing with each other for first and second place. Lowell Higgins, at 158 lbs., pinned his first man in the preliminaries but following an injury, lost in the quarter finals to the eventual firstplace winner.

Bill Hargrove, wrestling in the unlimited weight class, became the state champ after pinning Bill Musa of Hillsborough in 2:43. His hardest match of the day came in the semi finals against Jeff Sgro, a 220 lb. J.V. wrestler from Demarest, whom he defeated 2-0. Bill also registered a pin at 2:05 in the quarter finals. This was Bill's fourth year in state competition, having placed fourth in 1974 and second in 1973 and 1975.

Bantam Icemen Win Title

The Cranford Bantams closed their season by capturing the championship trophy at the Pasack Valley Invitational Tournament in Monsey, N.Y. Cranford's first string centre, Ken Jacobsen was recognized as the Most Valuable Player in the tournament after an eight point performance with one goal and seven assists in two games.

In the opening round, the "blueshirts" blanked Garden State 4-0 with netminders Ralph Kunsman, Bob Shuttner and Jerry Monitonica sharing the shut-out. Jim Walsh led the attack with two first period goals on assists by Jacobsen. In the middle stanza Mitch Handler, of Westfield and Kevin McKenna added two more goals on power play situations, again with Jacobsen making the plays. The third period was scoreless although Garden State picked up the tempo and outshot the "blues" 11 to 10. Overall Cranford had 46 shots to 27 by G.S. in coasting to their opening victory.

The finals pitted Cranford against Englewood Field Club which had eliminated host club, Pasack Valley 7-4. In their only other meeting with the Field Club this season the "Blueshirts" had been stopped 5-0 when high scoring Si Hiberson and defenseman Blake Stevens both ended in the hospital as a result of game injuries. As a result, Cranford had no problem "getting up" for the championship game and crushed the Field Club 7-2 to win the tournament.

Walsh opened the scoring on assists from Jacobsen and Handler. Hiberson notched the second goal from McKenna and Jacobsen, with McKenna and Hiberson making the play widened the score to 3-0 at the end of the first period. Handler continued the Cranford attack in the middle period on assists from Walsh and Jacobsen. Hiberson extended the margin to 5-0 on a play by Jacobsen before Ed Woods broke the shut-out for Englewood. Defenseman Greg Johnsons blasted his first goal of the season from the point on a fine combination from Walsh and Jacobsen to give the "blues" a comfortable 6-1 margin.

Both clubs traded goals in the final stanza with Handler getting his second tally from Jacobsen and Stevens. Dwight got the final goal for the Field Club in the last minute as the Cranford defense became loose with victory already assured.

This capped a 47 game for the Bantams which saw them finish fourth in the nine team Jersey Youth League "A" Division and place second in the strong Ironbound Christmas Tournament. Graduates who will be moving up to Midgets next season are netminders Shuttner and Monitonica, Johnsons and Bob Hanke of Westfield for the defense corps and forwards Chip Amman, Peter Brandt of Westfield, Kevin McManus, Marc Muscant, Scott Holmes of Westfield, McKenna, Handler, Hiberson, Jacobsen and Walsh. The only returnees will be Kunsman in goal, Mark Holmes and John Kullman, both of Westfield, and Stevens on defense and James Roth from the front line. Coach David Malcolm and Manager Ken Holmes, also Westfield residents, are also retiring after lengthy service with the Cranford Hockey Club.

Horne to Head B'ball Camp

The Central Jersey Basketball Camp, co-directed by Neil Horne and Wayman Everly, varsity basketball coaches at Westfield and Watchung Hills High Schools respectively, will again be held for two seven day sessions in August. The camp, located at the Lawrenceville School, is in its fourth year of operation and has proven to be one of the most rapidly growing and successful resident basketball camps in the east. The camp staff is composed primarily of high school coaches from Somerset and Union Counties.

Among the coaches who will instruct are Joe Soviero, Bob Flynn and Dick Gralewski.

The camp has featured many outstanding college coaches as guest lecturers in the past including Tom Young of Rutgers, Lou Garnececca of St. John's, Bill Rattery of Seton Hall, Al Lobalbo of Fairleigh Dickinson and Fred Barakat from Fairfield. George Lehman, a former ABA scoring star and who now tours the country teaching and demonstrating the art of shooting, will again be a guest lecturer at both sessions along with several outstanding college coaches to be announced at a later date.

The camp, for boys ages 9-17, will be held for two-one week sessions from Sunday Aug. 7-Saturday, Aug. 13 and Sunday, Aug. 14-Saturday, Aug. 20. A boy may attend camp for either or both sessions. Anyone wanting further information can contact Horne or Everly any evening.

Devil Batsmen Open Season Saturday

A youthful and confident WHS boys varsity baseball team will open its season Saturday against powerful Morristown, with high hopes of improving on last year's mediocre 12-12 record.

The road to improvement will not be an easy one, however, as the Devils must face the likes of Scotch Plains, Union, and Essex Catholic, not to mention Morristown.

The season opener against the Colonials should be a good indication of how the Devils will fare this season. The Colonials had what was considered an off year last season, though they still finished above .500. This year, however, they will be bolstered by the return of All-Morris County second basemen Mark Zimmerman and all-state outfielder Paul Croft. Along with Zimmerman and Croft, a host of other starters are returning, and Morristown should once again be in the thick of the state race.

The "Young" Blue Devils have only three returning lettermen in third basemen Frank Mirkow, center fielder Larry Cohen, and catcher Dennis Gibbons. Mirkow hit .363 a year ago and was a second team all-county selection. Cohen batted .313 and was honorable mention all-county. The two led the Devils in 10 offensive categories last year as well as being named to several summer league all-star teams. Gibbons switched between the outfield and catcher but will settle down behind the plate in his senior year. Coach Pete Lima will look to these three to lead the Devil offensive attack.

According to Coach Lima, the difference between a mediocre or successful season could depend upon the success or downfall of the pitching staff. The opening day assignment will go to junior K.C. Knobloch. The J.V.'s number one hurler a year ago, Knobloch was brought up to the varsity late last season and shutout Linden in his only start. K.C. should be in left field when not on the mound.

Junior southpaw Kurt Stock will follow Knobloch in the rotation. Stock relies on a variety of off speed pitches to stifle opposing hitters, while also possessing an excellent pickoff move. Stock is slated to play first base when not pitching. Seniors Brad Seip, Ken Wilshaw and Cohen appear to be the top candidates for the number three spot in the rotation.

Defensively, the key for the Devils, according to Coach Lima, is their strength up the middle, with the play of senior Joe Della Badia at second base and junior Owen Brand at shortstop. The keystone combination will try to cut down on the high number of errors that have plagued the Devils in recent years. Both are blessed with excellent speed and will look to run when on base.

Switching between right field and first base will be senior Scott Selert, the leading hitter on last year's 19-6 J.V. squad. Juniors Dave Saltzman and Jim Piantkoski should also see a good deal of action in the outfield. Tom Biggs is a versatile reserve infielder, while Robert Hearn has looked good both behind the plate and at bat during preseason.

Offensively, the basemen will attempt to take advantage of their speed afoot, and thus far, they have stolen 34 bases in 37 tries covering five scrimmages. The Devils have committed just 15 errors in 60 preseason innings, a significant improvement over the five errors per game that they averaged over the past two years. Unfortunately, all these statistics will be thrown out the window when the Devils play for keeps beginning on Saturday.

Summing up the Devils' hopes for the upcoming season, Coach Lima states, "The ability and potential is there both offensively and defensively to make us a very competitive team." Just how competitive the Devils will find out when they host Morristown the day after tomorrow, beginning at 2 p.m.

Local Icemen Lose in Playoffs

Cranford was eliminated from Union County Hockey play-offs at Warinanco by Rahway in a thrilling 2-1 overtime victory last week after the series had been evened at one game apiece.

The "blueshirts" outshot Rahway 31 to 16 but spectacular net-minding by Williams and McGurr who shared the duties in the Rahway cage spelled the difference. After a scoreless first period during which Cranford outshot Rahway 11-0 the control of the game began to turn in favour of the underdog Rahway squad.

Frustration overcame poise for the "blueshirts" in the middle stanza with consecutive penalties to Bill McKinlay, Wyatt Malcolm and Tim Browne, all of Westfield, but still Rahway only managed five shots on goal to 10 for Cranford. The deadlock was broken near the end of the period when Lloyd Liskent Rahway into the lead on a fine play from Steve Haas and Joe Jelenowicz.

In the third period,

Cranford finally got on the scoreboard when McKinlay converted a Malcolm pass-out to even the score and send the game into sudden death overtime. Again penalties stalled the "blues" attack and in spite of several end to end rushes by their defensemen Cranford was outshot 7-2. This wide-open style proved disastrous as Rahway came back, three on one, in the last minute of play and Robert Vail out-manoeuvred veteran John DeKovics in the Cranford nets for the winning goal. Making the play were Tom O'Connor and Mark Lombardi.

The Rahway squad, coached by Dale Rice, has to be the most improved team in the league and showed great desire in ending the season for the high scoring Cranford sextet which finished second in league standings with only three losses. Playing their last game for Coach David Scales, "blueshirts" were net-minder DeKovics, Russ Hunchak, Bernie Chowdury and Mike Curlock of Westfield.

Baseball Leagues Need Volunteers

The Westfield Major and International Baseball Leagues have opportunities available that may appeal to certain Westfield High School students or parents. Volunteers need not have brothers or sisters or children in the leagues to participate. These two leagues are in need of assistance in the areas of umpires, assistant managers and administrators. All interested parties may call Bob Parkinson at 233-2420.

Any boys and girls, ages 10 to 12, still wishing to sign up to play baseball in the International League also may call Parkinson.

Mutual respect and trust is always better than a contract.

James E. Parker of North Plainfield was elected to succeed George M. Rounds as president at the 55th annual meeting of the West Fields Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution recently at the First Baptist Church in Westfield. Subsequently, the gathering was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. G. Ernest Long with slides and a talk on "Five Revolutionary Sites in Summit."

Elected with Parker were Bryan Husted of Mountaintop, first vice president; John E. Fleming of Summit, second vice president; Charles G. Carl, third vice president; Harold R. Beck, secretary; John H. Wachter, treasurer; Harold A. Mellen, chaplain; Herman A. Fischer, historian; and James D. Buckley Sr. of Mountaintop, captain of the color guard. Trustees elected for two years were Dr. Henry C. Hamilton and Russell H. Tandy Jr. to serve with one year incumbent trustees Herbert A. Halsey and Samuel A. McCaulley.

Two tasks that will soon be conducted by the new administration are participation in the Memorial Day Parade in Westfield and the celebration of Independence Day, traditionally organized by the SAR and held at Minnowskan Park preceded by a mini-parade from the East Broad St. Monument.

Mrs. Long presented her talk on the "Five Revolutionary Sites in Summit" as her husband showed slides. The five sites described were Briant's Tavern, once Washington's headquarters but now covered by blacktop as Route 24 at a point half way between Springfield and Morristown. Another was the French Bakery once located across Route 24 from the present site of Altman's at the Short Hills Mall.

The third site is the revolutionary farm house that later came to be known as the Muchmore Farm and was the place where Washington caused Captain Charles Asgill, British officer captured at Yorktown, to be held during summer and fall of 1782 as a possible hostage for expected executions of patriots by the Loyalist Association of pro-British Americans.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Apr. 19, at the Baptist Church. Speaker will be the Rev. Donald R. Pepper, Minister, First Presbyterian Church, Bernardsville. His topic will be "The Spy in Washington's Army." Wives and friends of members are invited.
