Council to Review Local Movie Fare

Representatives of the management of the Rialto Theater will be asked to discuss future films to be shown here before the Town Council acts to renew its theater license.

Councilmen, led by Jack Meeker, chairman of the license committee, raised objections Tuesday night to the type of movies being shown at the Rialto, and tabled action on the $200 license application. A meeting between the council and George Karros, manager, and/or an executive of the theater owner, the Metropolitan Playhouse in Great Neck, Long Island, N.Y., is expected to explore future billings at the theater, but council members said they might reject the theater license application unless a session is held.

In addition, on request of Councilman John Brady, the council will study obscenity legislation in other communities to determine whether such statutes might be considered here.

Meeker said Tuesday night that so far this year, five weeks of PG (parental guidance) movies have been shown at the Rialto; the remainder have been categorized as R (restricted to adults). Two of the latter, "Cheerleaders" and "Flesh Gordon," Meeker added, had been listed as "R" in New York.

The Rialto Theater, Meeker added, has been operating without a theater

To Study Resurfacing Of Tennis Courts

Five members of the newly formed Westfield Tennis Association met with Mayor Alexander Williams and members of the Town Council last week when long and short term goals for tennis court construction and maintenance were discussed.

John Vreeland, a tennis court contractor of the firm of Vreeland and Guerriero, New York City, also was present at the invitation of First Ward Councilman John Brady. Vreeland provided an appraisal of tennis court specifications. It is his opinion that the most durable and satisfactory court would have a urethane surface and that the presently existing Westfield courts could be re-surfaced with urethane if the substructure is strong. James Josephs, town engineer, also was present.

Workshop to Offer New Summer Courses

Radio broadcasting, photography and jazz band arranging are among the new courses being offered this year by the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Performing and Fine Arts, Inc. However, they can be placed on the master schedule only with sufficient enrollment, according to Theodore Schlosberg, workshop director. Early registration is urged to avoid disappointment of not being assigned first choice course selections.

The workshop, which offers courses in all areas and performance levels of music, art, dance and drama, is available to New Jersey residents including students in grades kindergarten through 12, adults and senior citizens. "The younger students have the opportunity to begin a musical instrument that they can continue in school in the fall, while the more advanced musicians can specialize in building their solo repertoire," said Schlosberg while describing the program's versatility. Harp, piano, organ, creative writing, chess, international folk and contemporary dance which includes the "hustle" are among the popular requests. Sculpture, painting, ceramics and macrame are art favorites.

Registration is continuing by mail, and in person daily between the hours of 3:15 and 4:30 p.m. in Room 133 of Edison Junior High School where the classes will be held from June 27 - July 29 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Registrants can select from one to five classes daily, for the full session or selected weeks. Brochures are available in school offices, and further information can be obtained from Schlosberg and Mrs. Sylvia Kuntz, volunteer secretary and registrar. The workshop is a non-profit organization sustained by tuition and donations to cover staff salaries, and sponsored this year by the Recreation Commission.

Westfield residents are playing an important role in the gubernatorial campaign of Assemblyman Thomas H. Kean. The Republican candidate for governor and his wife Debbie confer with his state campaign coordinator Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott; his county coordinator Barbara Claman; and his Westfield coordinator Richard F. Trabert. The occasion was a recent fund-raiser for Kean at the Town & Campus Restaurant in Union.

Brandt Endorses Kean

Former Westfield Town Councilman Charles H. Brandt has endorsed the candidacy of Assemblyman Thomas H. Kean in his bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in the June primary election.

Brandt joined several current Westfield officials in supporting Kean who is giving up a ten-year career in the Assembly to seek the state's highest office.

Brandt in his endorsement statement noted that he has been counsel to the Republican minority in the Assembly for the past three years and has had the opportunity to observe Kean closely.

"Kean is a perfect choice for governor," Brandt said. "He was an excellent leader during his term as minority leader and knows state government better than anyone else. More importantly, he is very honest and principaled in all his dealings. I know no one better qualified to fill the post."

Kean's support in Westfield has grown significantly since he made his first campaign visit here in March to attend the annual dinner-dance of the Westfield Town Republican Committee. Since then, three incumbent councilmen, Frank Sullebarger, Allen Chin and Ronald Frigerio, have endorsed Kean's candidacy as well as Westfield Republican Chairman Richard F. Trabert. More endorsements are expected.

Angus: Restore Fiscal Credibility

GOP gubernatorial primary candidate William A. Angus called for the state to establish fiscal credibility or face the prospect of becoming "the next ward of Washington."

Addressing the annual meeting of the Republican Conservative Action Club of Union County at the Woman's Club Thursday evening, the former mayor of Moorestown asked that business be given "the opportunity to straighten out the New Jersey mess." Himself a successful business man, he recommended that business methods be applied in Trenton, with zero based budgeting and cost effective management." Once fiscal responsibility is assured, Angus predicted that industry could be lured back to the Garden State because of its centrality to markets. Thus, many of the 200,000 jobs lost here in the past five years could be regained, with unemployment substantially reduced, he declared.

Angus termed unemployment and the state income tax the major concerns of New Jersey residents. An implacable foe of the income tax for many years, Angus pledged categorically: "If I am governor, there will be no income tax."

In introducing Angus, Charles Wiley of Parlin, his campaign manager, told the audience: "Listen to what Angus says on Monday, and you will know what Bateman and Kean will be saying on Tuesday."

In the annual elections, presided over by John R. Mandel of Westfield, William S. Dean was reelected president and Louis B. Marino was elected first vice president. Both are Fanwood residents. A. Donald Green of Westfield was re-elected treasurer. Mrs. Dean was hostess of the evening and Mrs. Green poured at the refreshment table.

Girls Qualify For State Contest

Roslyn Hardy and Jane Bauman of Westfield have qualified for statewide 4-H public speaking statewide competition next month at Rutgers University. Both recently were winners in the County 4-H contest held recently in Westfield.

Henrigues Retires

Wilbur D. Henriques of 727 Warren St. has recently retired from the Exxon Research and Engineering Company. He held the position of senior research technician in the analytical and information division at the Exxon Research Center.

To Offer Free Swim Instruction

The Westfield Young Women's Christian Association will sponsor the annual free Learn to Swim Week for Westfield girls grades 7-12 the week of June 27-July 1.

Registration cards are available at the YWCA, the Community Center, the Neighborhood Council, Holy Trinity School and all Westfield schools.

Girls are requested to promptly return the cards to the YWCA.

Students Schedule June Pool Parties

Students of Roosevelt Junior High School and Westfield Senior High School will have end of the year pool parties in June at the Westfield Memorial Pool. "The parties highlight an exception to the rule," states Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, Director of Recreation. "The pool complex is only open to the upper grade levels of the Westfield school system, as we have only so much pre-season time for these activities, and we shall not infringe upon the membership season."

The Memorial Pool, she added, not as yet owned by the town of Westfield, is financed by its members.

Valerie Fund Children's Clinic at Overlook Hospital was dedicated May 15 in special ceremonies as a memorial tribute to nine year old Valerie Goldstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goldstein of Warren, founders of the Valerie Fund. The Valerie Clinic is the first such specialized child cancer treatment center in Northern New Jersey. Pictured here are Congressman Matthew Rinaldo, who was keynote speaker; Dr. Gloria O. Schrager of Westfield, director of pediatric education at Overlook and Dr. Joseph Boylan of Westfield, chief of pediatrics for the Overlook medical staff; and Dr. James A. Wolff, director of pediatric hematology-oncology at Columbia Presbyterian Babies Hospital, with which Overlook is affiliated.

Russo Wants N.J. TV Coverage

Township Committeeman Anthony E. Russo of Union, the Democratic candidate for the State Senate in District 20, today pledged to fight to tear away "the velvet curtain of silence imposed by New York television stations regarding coverage of New Jersey events."

Russo, a veteran of 15 years on the Union Township governing body, said the "number of news events in this state that have been covered by the major New York television stations is negligible.

"A glaring example of the arrogance of the New York media was the scant coverage accorded the ceremonies attendant to Union Township's winning All-America City designation. And I understand that each station was given more than sufficient time to provide coverage. Still they decided to ignore us.

"If I am elected to the New Jersey State Senate in November, I pledge to lead the fight to force New York television stations to remove the shadow of obscurity in which they have deliberately cloaked us for so many years. New Jersey deserves its place in the sun, and I pledge to do everything within my power to see that we get it."

According to one expert, there are 2,728,100 letters in the Old Testament.

Among the many Republicans to attend the opening of Assemblyman Thomas H. Kean's Union County campaign headquarters were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Mount and Mrs. Robert Cook, all of Westfield. The headquarters, located at 454 Park Ave. in Scotch Plains, will be the county center for Kean's drive for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Kean Support Seen Increasing

Assemblyman Thomas H. Kean has now gathered the public support of six Republican municipal chairman in Union County including the endorsement of Richard Trabert of Westfield.

The support was announced by Union County Freeholder Walter Ulrich, county campaign manager of the Tom Kean for Governor Committee.

The other five GOP chairmen to endorse Kean are Geraldine Mattson of Cranford, Edwin S. Votey of Summit, Edward Gibadlo of Mountainside, Richard Hatfield of Scotch Plains, and Earl Henwood of Union.

The campaign manager noted that the bulk of Republican votes come from those six towns in Union County in a GOP primary election.

"These six towns represent more than 55 per cent of the vote in a Republican primary," Ulrich remarked. "We know that this strong show of support is a sure sign that Tom Kean is going to carry Union County - and carry it by a wide margin."

Student Plays This Evening

Repertory Theater will present its spring production tonight at Westfield High School.

This year marks the first time that the plays being presented are written by students. Repertory Theater is totally student-run with all the plays being student acted, directed, produced and all the backstage work being done by students.

This spring two of the three productions were written in a new playwriting course at the high school. The first of these is "Games in the Undertow" written by sophomore Maryann Melloan. The play is directed by senior, Nancy Sur. The play is about a boy, Russ Johansen, who doesn't get along with his mother, Judy Deer. Other cast members are Maureen Kelly who plays Carol and Josh Cantor who plays Jerry.

The second play is "Sunbeams, Moondreams." written by Billy Zack '78 and is directed by senior Suzy Sullivan. This play involves a cast of 10.

The last play is directed by Junior Neil Krupnick and involves a small group of actors and actresses who call themselves Public Insanity. The group will present short skits before andbetween the two student written shows. Tickets are available at the high school and will be sold at the door.

Americaine Souvenir Society to better the relations of the people of France and the United States. In the words of Leocard, "the French people may have forgotten that the American soldiers gave their lives for France in two world wars but the citizens of Draguignan have not."

Leocard was a French Freedom Fighter who struck out from the hills to harrass the Nazis. Leocard and Warburton decided that they would raise enough money through the society to finance a trip with all expenses paid to the next of kin for two weeks in France over Memorial Day. During their stay they would be honored by the mayors of Draguignan, Nice and Monton along with enjoying the hospitality of the members of the society. Moeller has the job of tracking down the survivors of those buried in the Rhone cemetery.

This year Moeller has found the two nieces of Pfc. Edward J. Swarz who was killed in action in Southern France on Sept. 5, 1944. They are Mrs. Monica Keenan of Clifton and Miss Marcus Binsted of Lodi and will be the first visitors to his grave since his burial. They are his only living survivors. Over the years Moeller has sent mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters, a son and a wife. The first one chosen was a wife, Mrs. Marie Jendras, wife of Sgt. Anthony Jendras who visited on Memorial Day 1969.

Moeller who is employed by Hallmark Cards as an area market development manager, is already working on finding the guests for 1978. He along with his wife, Alice were honored by the French people during their visit to France in 1976. He was presented with the medals of the cities of Nice and Draguignan by the mayors of each city at dinners. Last year's guests were Ed and Pat Renner, the son of Edward Renner killed in 1945. When his son was nine months old, the elder Renner played baseball with Moeller on the same team in Jersey City after high school graduation in 1937-38 but Moeller had lost touch with him after that.

Eight hundred and 61 Americans are buried in Rhone from 47 states, District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Carved in Marble at the cemetery entrance are these words "We who lie here died that future generations might live in peace."

An appropriation of $20,000 for a security system for the Westfield Memorial Library won initial approval of the Town Council Tuesday night.

The library has reported losses of $6,000 annually, according to Miss Jeanne Desrosiers, librarian, who claims library patrons are particularly scissors-happy with cookbooks and those on home maintenance. Considerable loss of reference books also has been noted.

Council also will hold public hearing and take final action June 14 on an ordinance which will increase to 12 the number of site plan copies which must be submitted for applications being considered by the Westfield Planning Board.

Rejected were bids of three proposed tennis courts at the Memorial Pool site on North Scotch Plains Ave. pending further study of court specifications. This is in line with previous discussions with the Westfield Tennis Association, whose spokesman, Fran Comstock, Tuesday night added that the immediate concern of residents is waiting time at local courts.

Mayor Alexander S. Williams was not optimistic that the three new courts will be completed this year, but council members hope to expedite bidding and contract procedures to provide new facilities as apon as possible. A $3,000 sum was allocated for the hiring of a consultant on the courts and on a playing field on Lamberts Mill Rd.

Robert Brewster, a member of the Recreation Commission, said that the commission favors the building of three new courts and funds for renovation. Adding that it hopes for the "most for its dollars," he added that the commission seeks for "middle-of-the-road courts," not the "Cadillac-type" or "Model T" variety. Leftover funds, he said, could be used to renovate Elm St. courts and Court No. 7 at Tamaques Park, now out of commission.

Special tribute was given by Mayor Williams and the Town Council to Leonard Shen, a Presidential Scholar, and to the Westfield Soccer Association whose teams have registered a commendable record with one team being invited again to play before a Cosmos game in the Meadowlands July 6.

Unanimously approved were a $53,500 appropriation for drainage maps in conjunction with flood control projects and an ordinance prohibiting vendor vehicles from emitting sound while not in motion.

Contracts were awarded for a $33,200 reconstruction project on the attendant parking lot off Elm St. and for a $5,600 retaining wall on Rahway Ave.

Clifford Harvey of Trinity Pl., a resident of the condominium there, spoke for the first time during his 50-year-residency in Westfield to object to litter along the streets and parking problems in the area. Sam Tucker of South Chestnut St. asked the council to consider proposals relative to federal spending and Jack Newman of Prospect St. asked that bike and pedestrian access be given from Munsee Way to Prospect St.

Councilman Frank Sullebarger was named to replace Charles Brandt as a member of the committee on vandalism; Julian Couzens, local architect, was named to the Construction Board of Appeals.

Burdge

Burdge's confirmation, Democrat Thomas Pluta charged the council with inconsistencies on criteria in selecting Burdge for the council seat. Pluta said that in a similar situation last year - when Arthur Fried was named to replace Judge Lawrence Weiss, a Democrat, in a fourth ward seat - the Republican majority selected a candidate who chose not to run for election to the seat. Pluta's contention of a "double standard" was challenged by Mayor Alexander S. Williams who said the criteria were his alone and that the primary concern was the obligation of the Town Council to select the best candidate.

"We did that last year and again this year," Williams said. The name of a second candidate under consideration for the Republican second ward council seat was not revealed during the discussion.

Burdge, a resident of Westfield for 10 years, is middle Atlantic district sales manager for the Miller Co., Meriden, Conn., manufacturers of copper alloy stripping, and maintains an office in, Mountainside. A member of the Rotary Club of Westfield and Echo Lake Country Club, Burdge is a trustee of the First Congregational Church, past president of the Westfield School Booster Association and Highland Swim Club, a former member of the Westfield Bicycle Board and active in both the Westfield Boys' Football and Wrestling Leagues. He and his wife, Nancy, have two children, Pamela, 19, a student of the University of the Pacific in California, and Bruce, 15, a freshman at Suffield Academy in Connecticut.

Dr. Donovan expects to have 35 teachers in the program. He will conduct special workshops for participating teachers on Aug. 1 and 2.

Last year, 80 special education students received a total of 18 hours each of one-to-one instruction during the special education summer school.

Dr. Donovan expects more than 100 students will be enrolled in the 1977 summer program.

Memorial Day - Join the Parade

As usual, Westfield's Memorial Day Parade is a highlight of the holiday weekend, as thousands march and more watch local organizations and bands honor those fallen in wars.

This year will be no exception as plans have been formulated under the direction of Tom Bailey and Joseph Sisto. And from reports of holiday traffic, hometown picnics and parade-watching may be the most pleasant of Memorial Day pastimes.

Higher average speeds, excessive drinking and non-use of safety belts could make driving a dangerous experience this Memorial Day weekend, says the New Jersey State Safety Council.

Alcohol has been found to be a factor in about one-half of the fatal motor vehicle crashes and excessive speed or speed too fast for road or weather conditions is partially responsible for three out of every ten fatal collisions.

The council pointed out that the rush of activity during the first long weekend of the summer season, which begins at 6 p.m. tomorrow and ends at midnight Monday, makes driving this weekend different from the usual everyday driving to the office or shopping center in that a great deal of travel is done in heavily loaded cars on roads that are frequently jammed to capacity.

Researchers estimate that if safety belts are used by all motorists over the upcoming holiday that the death toll could be reduced by as much as 25 per cent and a substantial number of injuries prevented.

On a happier note, the Safety Council says the way to enjoy the ride to the beach or family picnic is to be a defensive driver, obey the traffic laws and avoid peak periods of travel.

Last year 455 persons were killed over the Memorial Day weekend - 15 on New Jersey roads. Why not stay home for picnics and parades instead?

Higher County College Aid Pending

Increased enrollments, spiraling education costs and an uncertain State aid situation involving New Jersey's 18 community colleges have contributed to county budget problems. A tabulation by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association of 1977 adopted county budgets indicates appropriations for operating the two year colleges totals $42,942,765, an increase of more than $1.9 million, or 4.7 percent over total 1976 expenditures for community colleges in county budgets.

County budgets include only that portion of the total county college budget to be financed from the property tax or other general revenues after deducting State and Federal aid and other college income, including tuition. Counties also provide about $2.5 million to help pay tuition for resident students attending another county's college.

Largest percentage increase in county budget requirement for the college was Passaic County's 18.3 percent. Two other counties had budget appropriations for community colleges with percentage increases over 1976 expenditures of 10 percent or more--Morris, 17.5 percent and Essex, 10.0 percent. Three counties had decreases in the community college requirements from 1976 expenditures--Salem, 15.0 percent; Camden, 2.5 percent; and Atlantic, one-half of one percent.

New Jersey's county college financing difficulty has become a topic of growing concern among local property taxpayers who are bearing the brunt of the college's operational costs, students confronted by increased tuition, educators attempting to maintain the integrity of the "open access" admissions policy, and legislators presented with demand for increased State financial support.

In 1966, when the New Jersey community college system began, the State's portion of the community college operating costs was the lesser of one-half of actual costs, or $600, plus one-half of State approved capital (land, buildings, equipment) costs. The law remained unchanged despite the fact that inflation and other factors have forced operating costs up significantly, thus decreasing the actual percentage of total cost borne by the State.

In 1976-77 the average college operating cost per equated full-time student (FTE) is estimated to be about $1600. The regulatory tuition ceiling has been boosted to $500, the State aid grant is $600 per FTE, leaving a balance of $500 to be financed by the counties. Since most community college tuitions are below the $500 tuition ceiling and there is a lag in reimbursement by the State for over-enrollments, the county share is actually greater.

Assembly Bill No. 3182, which is moving through the Legislature, would increase State operating support for community colleges from the present $600 per FTE to $700 per FTE. In addition, the State Commission on Financing Post-secondary education has recommended a new funding formula to supplement the traditional flat State aid grant and the State Department of Higher Education has a new formula under study.

The fiscal 1978 State Appropriations bill provides $47,950,000 for county college operating aid for 1977-78 FTE enrollment of 68,500 at $700 per FTE. This is an increase of $6,850,000 over the Governor's recommendation and an increase of $12 million over the 1976-77 appropriation. The State's budget problem as it relates to county colleges is that its annual level of aid funding usually is equivalent to the total number of students actually enrolled two years earlier. While each State budget includes a prohibition against paying future aid for over-enrollments, a year later the Legislature reverses itself and provides funds to reimburse counties for students enrolled in excess of original State budget limits. The 1978 appropriations bill authorizes $4.8 million to reimburse counties for 1974-75 overenrollments, including up to $2 million from projected '77 year-end unexpended funds.

The inconsistency between "open access" policy and State imposed enrollment limits on funding needs solution, suggests NJTA.

Union County appropriated $42,942,765 for its county college in 1977. This is an increase of $1,934,779 or 4.7 percent over 1976 expenditures.

Letters must be written only on one side of paper and typewritten.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

KEAN SUPPORTER

Editor, Leader:

Most of my informed friends, both Democrats and Republicans believe that this year's gubernatorial primary is important. The sheer number of candidates is testimony to the fact that New Jersey has had an unqualified governor for the past four years, and we need a change.

As a Republican I want the most qualified candidate to head the Republican ticket in November, and I am going to support Assemblyman Tom Kean in the primary. Mr. Kean has ten years experience in the Legislature, and has held every important leadership position. He is also a businessman with the skills necessary to govern this state.

Tom Kean has the stamina, the drive, and the campaign know-how to get himself elected and also bring with him a Republican legislature, which will restore some sanity in Trenton.

I urge all Republican voters to join me in voting for Tom Kean in the Primary election on June 7.

SUPPORTS GRIFFIN

Editor, Leader:

I am writing to urge support by all registered Republicans of the candidacy of Irene Griffin for the office of State Republican Committee woman in the June 7 Primary.

Mrs. Griffin of Westfield is the incumbent and has served faithfully and with distinction.

As a former Assemblywoman, she was well known for her dedication to the interests of the children in the field of education and health.

She is referred to as "Mrs. Republican" because of her fervent support of Republican principles.

I request and urge you to vote for Irene Griffin on June 7. You will find her name under 15-B.

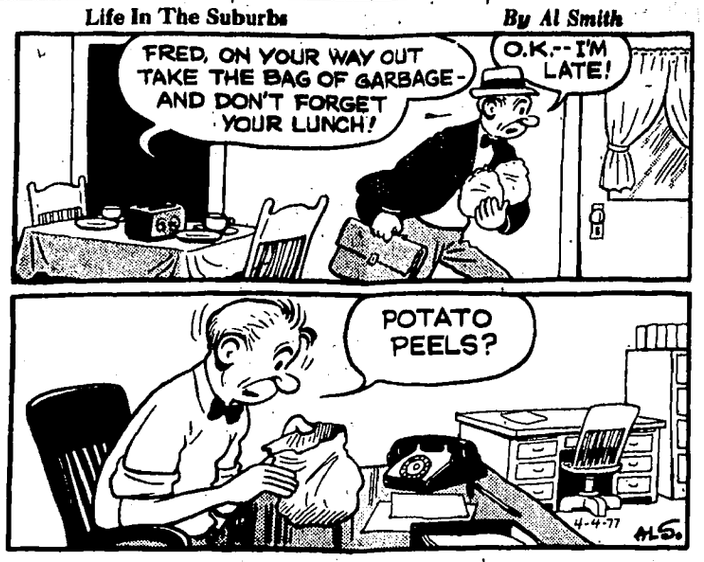
Life In The Suburbs — By Al Smith



Congress has focused much attention lately on energy problems, budgetary issues and ways to combat continuing high unemployment.

But the fact that May is Senior Citizen's Month has not been overlooked.

For the past two weeks, senior citizens from all parts of the nation have been in Washington working as interns in congressional offices.

This special intern program, established in 1972, strengthens the link between Congress and the growing segment of our population over the age of 65.

It has proved to be an effective program, and one in which I am happy to participate this year as a newly appointed member of the House Select Committee on Aging.

But this program is only part of the way in which increased attention has been given to the needs and concerns of the elderly.

Additionally, a White House conference brings together President Carter and top administration advisers with members of the Select Committee on the Aging. We will be reviewing major goals of the committee and ways in which the Administration can help to get necessary senior citizen legislation enacted into law.

The conference provides an ideal occasion to remind President Carter of promises and statements he made on senior citizen issues during his campaign days.

In speeches in Pittsburgh and Miami, for instance, Carter declared: "We do not need to wait for the enactment of a national health insurance program to improve health services for older people. One important reform we can begin immediately would be to shift the focus of our programs away from institutions and toward outpatient and home health services."

This philosophy is in line with bills I have co-sponsored as a member of the Select Committee on Aging. The bills would expand home health benefits under Medicare and Medicaid as an alternative to often inappropriate and costly full-time institutionalization of the elderly.

Additionally, bills supported by the committee would establish multi-purpose senior centers providing basic assistance in health, nutritional guidance, recreation and social endeavors. The creation of more outpatient clinics specializing in geriatrics also has been recommended by the committee and in bills that I have co-sponsored.

The White House conference gives the President a timely opportunity to recommit himself to this important area of senior citizen legislation.

While on the campaign trail, President Carter also pledged support for housing programs for the elderly, and specifically section 202 housing assistance for the elderly.

Congress has authorized $3.3 billion over a three-year period for such housing. However, HUD policies and decisions have created problems and have delayed full implementation of the program.

The Administration can and should use its influence to cut through the red tape and get this essential program moving.

Another issue being reviewed at the White House conference involves the transportation needs of the elderly -- and here again campaign statements of the President are worth recalling.

He commented: "Many older Americans cannot drive automobiles because of physical problems or because they cannot afford them. [illegible] we might help solve this problem would be to provide subsidies through the Urban Mass Transportation Administration to cities that provide free transit services to older people during off peak hours."

Legislation to provide such aid for the elderly has been supported by the select committee. The Administration can help by backing these bills and also by insisting that the Department of Transportation require that bus lines receiving federal funds are made more accessible to the elderly.

In these and many other ways, greater cooperation between the Administration and the Select Committee on Aging can provide positive benefits for elderly Americans and for the nation. Senior Citizens' Month is an appropriate time to launch a joint effort.

To Set Priorities For Superintendent

The Westfield Board of Education is currently working on compiling a set of objectives of the superintendent for the 1977-78 school year.

Eight objectives of the superintendent for the 1976-77 term were approved by the board at the Oct. 5 public board meeting in 1976.

Those objectives involved the following areas: "thorough and efficient;" curriculum development in literature, business education and economic education; guidance; the junior high school study dealing with enrollment imbalance; a comprehensive plan for staff development and inservice training; reconstituting the role of department chairpersons; evaluating resource rooms for the handicapped and consider computer uses in instruction, business, personnel and special services.

"We are anxious to have public input into the setting of objectives for 1977-78," said Betty Kopf, chairman of the Board's Community Information Committee. "This is an opportunity for citizens to get involved in decisions before they are made," she continued. "Let us know now how you feel about priorities in our educational system. Setting the objectives for a superintendent for a school year does, in effect, set priorities."

HUNG UP

A man writes:

Several months ago you wrote a column about games people play in marriage. What about in divorce? From what I can see, there's a lot of game playing in divorce situations.

Answer: Yes, people play games here too. Let me list a few.

First, we have to be aware that finances become the priority concern when two people separate and head for a divorce. Finances, which supported one family unit, must now support two. Most frequently, each party is vying to obtain as much money as possible. Individuals who have lived together in some kind of ongoing relationship suddenly show their aggressions and hostilities. The husband talks about his new financial burdens, i.e. supporting two apartments, etc. The wife feels she must protect her financial security, take care of expenses, children's needs, etc.

Secondly, each person wants to believe that he-she has been wronged, hurt, rejected, abused. An attempt is frequently made to tell his-her side of the story. Each often describes in detail, the insensitivities to which he has been subjected. The wife, or husband, will compete to win, to his side, the friendship and continued loyalty of friends and relatives.

Thirdly, and most importantly, children are used in this game of the hurt, injured and angered parent. I have seen parents compete for the child's affection; there are attempts to have the child prefer one parent over the other. This is accomplished in one of several ways. I have seen a parent confide in a child (regardless of age), telling the child what the parent has gone through "at the hands" of the other parent. The youngster is made aware of conflicts and hostile situations which took place between parents. The parent hopes that the child will favor him-her. Frequently, distortions occur; the child is made upset, feels guilty. He wants to remain loyal to both parents; he loves both parents. But he is ripped apart by truths and untruths.

Some parents attempt to buy their children's love by buying them expensive gifts. Fathers suddenly present lavish toys when visiting. Also, visitations and visitation rights become battleground areas. Each parent may want visitation time based on his-her convenience rather than taking into consideration the needs of wishes of the child.

These are some games parents play. Not by all parents; not all the time. Should you find yourself in any of these situations, please try to analyze what you are doing-and whom you may be hurting.

A girl writes:

I am 9 years old and I try to read your articles. Some I do not understand. Some I like, You write a lot about people and how they are. I am very happy and I want to tell you why. Maybe this poem will make a lot of other people happy too.

My mother and father like
each other.
And I like them - so
the reason I am so happy
Is because they like me
from head to toe.
My mother and father
sometimes fight a while
But then they give each other a hug and a smile.
We never go to bed angry
We never go to bed mad
We always talk and make up
Cause we never want to go to bed sad.

Answer: Thank you. I am sure many people will enjoy your poem. "Out of the mouths of babes.."

A reader writes:

Can a person really escape from reality like Sybil did in the TV show "Sybil"?

Answer: Yes. The need to escape from traumatic, painful experiences may create a need to detach oneself from reality. Although we may not detach ourselves as Sybil did, (disassociate ourselves from our personality) we often fantasize, daydream or isolate ourselves for a period of time (from everyday reality). Most of us, however, are healthy enough to return to the everyday frustrations of life and cope.

Scouts, Fathers Vie at Campout

The Colonial Scout District held its 40th annual Father-and-Son Weekend at Camp Watchung, Glen Gardner, last weekend, sustaining a tradition that spans a generation in both the ages of its participants, and in its history.

For scouts and their fathers from troops in Westfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Garwood, Watchung and North Plainfield, the activity comprised two days of camping for a full program of competitive field events that matched father-and-son teams against each other in scout-age groups, as well as fathers against scouts.

The games included tent pitching, pole lashing, stretcher race, chain gang race, knot tying and cooking. The latter, always a highlight, involved flint-and-steel fire making and cooking of a pancake by the scouts, who then rushed the flapjack to the father to eat. The first dad to whistle won for his team.

Competition was concluded for the day with a mass tug of war in which puffing, slightly overweight fathers, pulling a bit uphill outtugged an equal number of physically fit young men.

Under the management of Scoutmasters Fred Egner and William Holt of Troop 77, Westfield, a council fire Saturday night marked the end of the first day's activities; the weekend officially concluded with noontime parade ground ceremonies Sunday.

Residents To Play At Polish Festival

A stage program featuring the familiar music of leading Polish composers will climax the full day of activities scheduled for the sixth annual Polish Festival on Sunday, June 5, at the Garden State Arts Center, it was announced today by Walter Kross of Morgan, general chairman of the event.

The stage program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the Festival orchestra and chorus, conducted by Walter Legawiec, violinist, composer and conductor of Mountainside, who will interpret works by Chopin, Elsner and Moniuszko. Legawiec will also perform as violin soloist in his own composition for violin and orchestra entitled "from Carmel", based on the depth of his impressions while residing in that California community.

Another feature of the stage program will be a dream-fantasy of Ignace Paderewski playing his now familiar Minuet while the Polish American Dance Company performs in colorful formal costume. Pianist Paul Kueter of Westfield will portray Paderewski, in costume, accompanied by the Polish Festival Chorus, conducted by Legawiec.

YES Completes13th Year

The Youth Employment Service of Westfield (YES), located on the north side of the railroad station, has just completed its 13th year of providing service to homes and businesses in Westfield. More than 1,000 jobs have been filled by students registered in the active files.

YES operates 51 weeks a year, five days a week. The volunteer staff is in the office from 2-4:30 during the school year. The office will be closed on Memorial Day. Summer hours will go into effect on Monday, June 20 when YES will be open from 9-11:30. Residents interested in being a YES volunteer are asked to call 233-8494.

The United Fund-sponsored service has many students who are capable of helping fill job needs. The studens are Westfield residents aged 14 years through college. Many of these students are trying to earn money to help defray the rising costs of education.

Syracuse to Honor Wende and Harry Devlin

Syracuse University's highest award to alumni, the George Arents Pioneer Medal, was presented Saturday to Harry A. and Dorothy Wende Devlin of Westfield, '39 and '40 respectively. The awards, for excellence in the recipients' fields, were established in 1939 by George Arents, who was elected vice chairman of the university's board of trustees in 1933. Arents became chairman in 1950, chairman emeritus in 1953 and continued to serve on the board until his death in 1960.

Chancellor Melvin A. Eggers presented the medals during a formal ceremony at the Alumni Association's Kum Bak Dinner at Drumlins.

Wende and Harry Devlin met while both were earning bachelor of fine arts degrees at SU. Their collaboration has resulted in a dozen books for children, a movie, a successful comic strip, and seven children, two of them SU graduates. As writer-artists, the couples's works are familiar to readers of Good Housekeeping and Ladies' Home Journal as well as to their younger fans. The humor in the Devlin books, according to Norah Smaridge, author of "Famous Literary Teams For Young People," is the exaggerated kind which children most relish. Their work has been published by Encyclopaedia Britannic Press and Parents Magazine Press.

Harry Devlin, a native of Elizabeth, is an author, illustrator and cartoonist, and in 1956 won an award as best cartoonist of the year. Together and individually the Devlins have won many awards for their painting and books. They are the creators of the now discontinued comic strips, "Fullhouse" and "Raggmopp," and Devlin draws cartoons for a number of national magazines and books. He is honorary president of the National Cartoonists Society, and the only person to have won three national awards for editorial and advertising cartooning. He has published several books on historical homes and culture of New Jersey. The Devlins' film, "Old Black Witch," which starred Hermione Gingold as the witch, won first prize for children's movies at the Venice and Chicago Film Festivals. The Devlins will receive the Arents Medal for excellence in art and literature.

New Officers For Mobile Meals

At the May meeting of the board of trustees of Mobile Meals held at the home of the president, Mrs. R.J. Breslauer, a new president was elected and several changes and additions to the board were made.

Local Firemen To Join Muster

Fire buffs dressed in period costumes, hand-drawn and horse-drawn antique fire trucks and Dalmatian mascots are hallmarks of the annual antique fire appartus muster that will take place Sunday, June 5, at the Newark Museum. Among those participating will be Westfield fireman.

From 1-5:00 p.m. the Muster will celebrate the 10th Anniversary of the Newark Fire Museum with a parade, special exhibits and a concert by the Newark Police Department Band. The public is invited to attend, rain-or-shine.

The oldest piece of firefighting apparatus that will parade on Washington and Broad Streets in downtown Newark is an 1830 hand-drawn hose cart from the Neshanic Volunteer Fire Company. There will also be an 1875 "Little-Giant" hand-drawn pumper, as well as many early-20th century pumpers manufactured by American LaFrance and Ahrens-Fox.

The Newark Fire Department Historical Association's recently-restored 1931 Ahrens-Fox motorized pumper will lead the parade. More than 40 antique trucks and pumpers have been entered, from as far as Staten Island and Connecticut.

Although the majority of antique engines have been entered by municipality fire departments or their auxiliaries, many are privately owned and restored by fire buffs.

All apparatus manufactured prior to 1947 will be judged in categories including hand-drawn, horse-drawn, motorized apparatus and best costumes.

As special exhibition of "Fire Photos of Newark," photographic records of the City's fires and firefighters dating from the 1850's, will be opened in conjunction with the Muster.

The Newark Fire Museum, a cooperative project of the Newark Museum and the Newark Fire Department Historical Association, is located at 49 Washington St., in downtown Newark. Information may be obtained by contacting the Newark Museum.

Union Slates Summer Classes

Union College's Summer Session I will open Tuesday with an anticipated enrollment of more than 2,000 students, it was reported today by Prof. John Wheeler of Westfield, director

Close to 100 courses in all major disciplines will be offered in day and evening classes during the six-week session, Prof. Wheeler said. Courses parallel freshman and sophomore offerings at four-year colleges and universities. Areas include liberal arts, fine arts, business administraton, biology, physical science, engineering and criminal justice.

Classes will be conducted Monday through Thursday with the exception of three Fridays, when classes will be held to make up for holiday closings. Summer Session I runs through Friday, July 8.

A second Summer Session will be conducted from Monday, July 11, through Thursday, Aug. 18. It is possible, Prof. Wheeler said, for a student to earn up to 24 credits by taking courses day and evening in both sessions.

The Westfield High School Jazz Ensemble will stage a jazz rock concert at the high school auditorium on Saturday, June 4, at 8 p.m. Three members of the 23 member Ensemble, pictured above, are Chris Dellarso, Todd Sawicki and Laura Brown. Tickets may be purchased from any band member or at the door.

Leader Store Marks Golden Anniversary

Fifty years and three generations later, the Leader Store on East Broad St. is marking its 50 years of business in Union County. Thirty of these years have been in Westfield.

The original Leader Store was opened by its founder, Abe Spector, in Elizabeth in May 1923. He had come to New Jersey from Ottawa, Ill. where his son Sidney, present owner was born. The store was located diagonally opposite the Courthouse at 27 Broad St., in the Stamler Building. Broad St. was one of Union County's busiest throughfares. In those days street cars clogged this main artery on their way to Bound Brook, Perth Amboy, and Newark.

Saturday was the busiest retail day of the week, Spector recalls. Many shops were open until as late as 11 p.m. In the exciting twenties, America lacked shopping malls therefore all shopping needs were catered to on "Main Street" U.S.A. Shopping was a family affair and often a day's outing. After lunching on large 10 cents Texas hot dogs, some rested or sent the childen to the 'Movies" for the matinee performance. Organ music accompanied the silent films. Vaudeville shows with orchestra followed some of the silent movies at popular show houses. During the 1930's one could enjoy these shows with sound tracks at 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults.

Men's apparel styles during this period were very different from today's casual look. Men changed their Van Heusen collars daily. Collar buttons and cuff links helped hold their shirts together. School boys wore long socks tucked under their knicker pants. Boys of every age wore neckties.

Sales over the counter were transacted in cash; credit charge plans were unheard of. Occasionally the local storekeeper was asked by a regular customer for "trust" and usually he did wait for that money.

The Leader Store's customers worked for Durant Auto Mfgs., Esso Standard Oil, and the Singer Mfg Co. but the depression of the thirties almost brought business to a halt. Recovery plans helped to revive volume during the 1930's. British sailors became some of the stores most regular customers during the early forties, Spector said. Despite convoys many of their freighters were sunk and the fortunate ones returned often for new outfits. By 1943 the Elizabeth store was closed as its employees left to serve in World War II.

In 1947 the Leader Store reopened in Westfield, occupying the former Glasser Shoe Store. Some surplus items were featured because they were good value and there were still merchandise shortages due to World War II. As it still does, the business featured casual wearing apparel, athletic goods, and camping supplies. The growth of the operation necessitated its enlargement by the addition of the University Shop in 1958. The store's Golden Anniversary marks three generations of the family serving the public. Joe joined the staff in 1973. Items suitable for both sexes such as blue jeans and sneakers are now featured lines of the store. Major charge plans are available.

Several of the municipal employes opposed the ordinance which provides adjustments for only some employes.

Dr. Symonds At Conclave

Dr. Margaret Symonds, medical director of Children's Specialized Hospital, is a delegate to the White House Conference on the Handicapped this week in Washington, D.C.

The conference, with delegations from all 50 states, will make recommendations to Congress and state legislatures on priority areas and solutions to problems facing handicapped persons.

Formerly director of outpatient services at the rehabilitative facility for physically handicapped children and adolescents, Dr. Symonds also recently returned from the 6th annual meeting of the President's Committee on the Employment of Handicapped Individuals.

Half of the delegates to the conference this month are handicapped persons, one-quarter are parents, spouses, or other persons involved with their immediate care, and one-quarter are other interested persons such as health professionals, Dr. Symonds said.

Each state delegation is presenting a report on its findings and recommendations to the conference, Dr. Symonds noted. Dr. Symonds was appointed a member of the New Jersey delegation, after participating in all six workshops which were held throughout New Jersey last summer in preparation for the conference. She was coordinator and a delegate at workshops on treatment, diagnosis, technology, applications of technology, and research, which resulted in the state delegation's report.

She was also a speaker on "Child Development as it relates to safety capabilities," at a recent local meeting of the National Safety Town Center, a non-profit, publically supported organization, concerned with the safety education of children.

MTA Concludes Season's Sessions

The next Mountainside Teachers' Association meeting is scheduled for Oct. 5 in Deerfield Middle School.

Resident Puts Act Together In Education, Show Biz

A summa cum laude graduate who worked her way through college as an entertainer is putting her new act together in the diverse worlds of education and show business.

Gail Marie Nelson of Westfield has been named director of Upsala College's paralegal program and in her spare time has been preparing an act with a friend for engagements in New Jersey restaurants and night spots.

The 25-year-old is a woman of multi talents. While majoring in English at the University of Connecticut, she sang and played the guitar at coffee houses, restaurants and drinking spots in the Nutmeg State. After graduating with high honors, she pursued paralegal education and went to work for a lawyer in East Orange and Cranford for three years.

In the meantime she attended Kean College at night and obtained her teaching certificate. She's been teaching English on a part-time basis at Scotch Plains Junior High School since August of 1976 when she also began teaching a course in litigation and legal research for Upsala's paralegal program.

Under Gail's direction, the Upsala paralegal program will begin its second year on Tuesday, June 7, with a 14-week course that will end on Sept. 2. Applicants for the course must be college graduates and must be interviewed before accepted. Sessions are also being planned for the fall and spring on a two night a week basis.

"We do not require previous training in law, but we maintain very selective admissions policies and are interested in highly motivated, intelligent and personable applicants with good academic backgrounds in the traditional liberal arts," Miss Nelson said.

While her academic assignment prepares paralegals for work with the bar, she also has been practicing on music bars so she might work this summer in places that have still another type of bars. She and a friend, Chris Grzesik of Westfield, who plays bass and trumpet, are preparing their act.

"There are a lot of restaurants around and the musical field appears to be opening up for duos and trios, so we hope to get an engagement or two during the summer," she said.

Gail, who lives at 836 South Ave., comes from a musical family. Her father, Melvin, a chemical engineer, also plays the guitar and her mother, Anna Marie, is an organist. Gail was born in Wayne, attended Wayne High, then was graduated from Governor Livingston High when her family moved to Berkeley Heights.

Westfield Mom to Graduate As Nurse with High Honors

"Keeping up your average" is a dilemma for most college students. When the student is a wife and a mother of four, keeping up that average while cooking, shopping, keeping house and holding down part-time jobs and maintaining at 4.0 (A) is indeed an achievement.

Thus, with high honors, Beverly Hargrove of Westfield, will graduate in June from the three-year Cooperative Program in Professional Nursing conducted jointly by Union College and Elizabeth General Hospital.

"It seemed like it would never end," said Mrs. Hargrove, referring to the two years she spent commuting between Union College's Cranford Campus and Elizabeth General Hospital. She had started her college education in 1956 at the Hartwick School of Nursing in New York. Three years later she was compelled to leave her studies in order to raise a family.

Her earlier experience with nursing was rather harsh due to living-in programs, erratic working hours and hectic study. The nursing program she was confronted with at Union College was enjoyable, although she did wake up at dawn many days to catch up with her assignments.

With so much time being devoted to studying, Mrs. Hargrove's family life and social activities had to face many compromises. "I had to place many calls to the 'Colonel' for fried chicken orders on the eve of exams," she related.

While she had to drop out of many of her activities, like singing for the church choir and acting as leader for the Cub and Girl Scouts, Mrs. Hargrove has remained faithful to her children's sports activities. She is always driving her son, Bill, a state wrestling champion, to his various matches. The other children are also very athletic and compete in sports ranging from swimming and track to softball and football.

Besides her work as a mother and housewife and the "horrible term papers," Mrs. Hargrove has been working as a Licensed Practical Nurse on a part-time basis at Overlook Hospital.

Upon graduation Mrs. Hargrove will work full-time at Overlook in the Intensive Care Unit, while she plans to study for her bachelor of science in nursing through the New York Board of Regents' External Degree Program.

With the Collegians

Juthith M. Pryor of 731 First St. was graduated May 15 with high honors from Castleton State College in Vermont. She has been a member of the Alpha Lambda Honor Society for the past four years.

Sally Gilman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Gilmore of 15 Tudor Oval, received the B.A. degree May 8 in commencement exercises at the University of Richmond. She majored in English at Westhampton College, the women's undergraduate division of the university, where she was a dormitory president and named to the dean's list.

Lynn Elliott, a freshman at Southern Seminary Junior College, participated in a fashion show recently at the college given by students of the home economics clothing fundamentals class. They modeled clothing they had made during the semester. Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Elliott, 1044 Rahway Ave.

Awarded degrees May 15 from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, were Kevin M. Crofton of 2059 Hilltop Rd., B.A.; Dan E. Derringer III of 335 Wychwood Rd., B.S. in business, and Richard C. Percy of 528 Birch Ave., B.S. in education.

Mrs. Beverly Hargrove a member of the Class of 1977 in Elizabeth General Hospital's School of Nursing, has received awards for general proficiency, psychiatry nursing award and highest academic achievement. She will be graduated from the three year cooperative program conducted by the hospital and Union College.

Children's Golf Sessions Slated

The Westfield YMCA has opened registration for a "Learn to Golf Clinic" to be taught by Jon Ballinger, professional at the Scotch Hills Country Club Golf Course.

Each day children will meet at Scotch Hills at 9 a.m. for lessons. Classes conclude at 10:45 at which time they will be brought back to the Y for a recreational swim. "This program offers the opportunity for youths, 10 to 18, to learn the proper technique of playing golf early enough to use the skills for the remainder of the summer," a spokesman said.

The major topics for instruction will be the use of woods, irons, putting, as well as golf etiquette. Under the expertise of Ballinger, the participants also will have the opportunity for actual play on the course. All necessary equipment will be provided.

Schedules are two one-week periods. The first week will begin Monday, June 22 and conclude Friday, July 1. The week of July 4 will be used for rain make-ups. The second session will begin Monday, July 11. Class enrollment is limited to 10. Registrations must be at Westfield Y.

Walking Tour Acquaints Students with Town

Jefferson School fourth grade students and parents watch with interest as Annesley Swicker, teacher, demonstrates the technique of wax rubbing from old cemetery stones.

Twenty-three fourth grade students in Annesley C. Swicker's class at Jefferson School recently took a five-mile walking tour of Westfield "to appreciate the present by being more aware of the town's past."

The walking tour lasted from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. and included visits to Westfield High School's annual fine and industrial arts display, to Mr. and Mrs. Noel Tipton's Victorian house and barn on Westfield Ave., to the Old Burial Ground in the Revolutionary War Cemetery off Mountain Ave., to Mindowaskin Park for lunch and to the Miller-Cory Museum Shop and Bicentennial Centre at the Railroad Station.

Students prepared for the walking tour by studying Westfield's early history and architectural styles of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Other houses of architectural interest along the way included the Moses Ross house on Rahway Ave., the 1844 Becker farm on Rahway Ave. and the Woodruff House.

Mrs. Betty Schenck of the Westfield High School art department arranged for student guides through the high school's annual art exhibit.

Miss Helen Whitcomb, a volunteer, served as guide at the Revolutionary War Cemetery where she discussed old stories, both fact and legend, surrounding stones.

Techniques of wax rubbing were demonstrated by the students' teacher, Miss Swicker.

Mrs. Joanne Venezio, a parent of one of the students in the class, surprised everyone with watermelon dessert following their picnic lunch in Mindowaskin Park.

Mrs. Jesse Plant Brown made a special effort to keep the Miller-Cory Museum Shop and Bicentennial Centre open so that students would have the opportunity to browse.

Special Night For Lincoln Brownies

Lincoln School Brownies and their parents recently met for a special dinner and court awards ceremony. The event, attended by more than 80 people included special guests Mrs. Doris Peterson, principal of Lincoln School, Mrs. Barbara James, Junior Girl Scout leader and Brownie Consultant at Lincoln, and Gail Rehein and Shelly Letto, 6th grade Junior Scouts who have helped the Brownies all year.

Brownie songs were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Janet Tirone.

The 2nd grade Brownies of Troop 36 received their Brownie circles and star from Mrs. Ann Dalton, their leader. The 3rd grade Brownies, under the leadership of Mrs. Lynn Bilman, received Brownie circles, patches, and star and wings to fly up before crossing a small ceremonial bridge signifying their advancement or fly up into Junior Scouts. They were given special pins by their new leader Mrs. James and greeted by their parents. In return, each girl gave her parents a certificate of appreciation from the troop thanking them for their support during their two years as Brownies.

The evening ended with skits performed by all the girls. Troop 36 enacted the Girl Scout laws and Troop 573 dramatized the three B's in Brownies, "Be a discoverer, Be a friend-maker and Be a ready helper."

Sharon Bilman crosses the ceremonial ridge linking Brownies and Junior Scouts. She is assisted by Junior Scouts Gail Rhein and Shelly Letto.

Two rambles are scheduled this weekend for members of the Union County Hiking Club and their guests.

The five-mile South Mountain Ramble, led by Nat Coyne, is set for Saturday. Interested hikers will meet at Locust Grove at 10:15 a.m.

Ray Carriere and Helene Black will lead Sunday's Sandy Hook Walk. Hikers will meet at Sandy Hook Park at 10 a.m.

Boro May Hike Fees

The Mountainside Borough Council has introduced three ordinances increasing fee schedules.

The first increases the clothing allowance for members of the fire department from $25 to $50 in each category.

They will be as follows: Chief, $775 to $825; assistant chief, $625 to $675; captain, from $450 to $500; lieutenant, from $425 to $475; and fireman from $400 to $425. Members of the department for less than a year will be increased from $275 to $300.

A second ordinance would establish fees for paid playground personnel as follows: Supervisor, $1,050; assistant supervisor, $860; arts and crafts supervisor, $840.

The third ordinance establishes salaries for the employes of the municipal pool as follows: Managers, $3,725; first assistant, $2,731; second assistant, $3,250; swim team coach and instructor, $1,715; swim instructor, $65 to $100 per week; guard $55 to $90 per week; main gate attendant, $1.90 to $2.20 per hour; maintenance, $1.90 to $2.50 per hour; and pool secretary, $1.90 to $2.20 per hour.

Public hearing will be conducted on all ordinances June 21.

Aerobic Dancing Exhibit June 1

A free demonstration of aerobic dancing, a Jacki Sorensen fitness program, will be offered at American Legion Hall at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. Classes will begin Monday, June 6, at 9:15 a.m. and run for four weeks. Classes will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Aerobic dancing was originated by Jacki Sorensen, a professional dancer and choreographer, and clinician for the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, as a "fun means" to cardiovascular fitness. Mrs. Sorensen choreographs all dances to the mood of the music, which might be cha-cha, rock, folk, charleston and many others. Using combinations of hopping, walking, jogging, bending and stretching the dances are simple enough for the non-dancer but challenging enough for all.

Each class begins with a five-minute warmup dance to prepare the participants for the more vigorous dances to follow, and ends with a cooldown dance to bring the heart back within normal range. Between dances the participants walk, take heart rate, and learn new steps. Continuous movement and fun constitute the theme of the program. Every 12 weeks a complete program of new dances is introduced and new students are invited to join the classes.

Handicapped Teens Learn Phone Usage

The United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County has implemented, with a loan of equipment courtesy of New Jersey Bell, a telephone training system to teach a class of handicapped teenagers how to use the telephone for social, vocational and emergency situations. The system utilizes nine telephones on an intercom hookup which enables any one station to call another station by dialing various digits.

The laboratories of New Jersey Bell have devised various modifications to accommodate each particular form of disability. For example, a client with limited use of his hands may be accommodated by using a headphone-microphone set hooked up directly to the phone.

The center will be using a specialized training program to instruct the teenagers on various aspects of telephone usage.

Used Book Sale June 16-18

Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library will hold their annual used book sale on June 16, 17 and 18 in the Wateunk Room of the Municipal Building. Miriam Blonsky and Frances Palmer, co-chairmen of the sale, urge all residents to save their usable books, records, sheet music and jigsaw puzzles for donation to this fund raising project.

"The sale offers everyone an opportunity to find a new home for old books and to choose summer reading at bargain prices," says Mrs. Blonsky. "It also raises money for special gifts to the library."

Donations of all hard and soft cover books are welcome as well as special interest magazines such as "Scientific American," "Antiques" and publications devoted to hobbies. "National Geographics" and condensed books cannot be accepted. Books may be brought to the Wateunk Room on June 13, 14 and 15.

Redeemer Pupils Back to Nature

The Koinonia Creation Learning Center is "School away from School" this week for the pupils and teachers in grades 4-6 of Redeemer Lutheran School. Forty-two pupils and three teachers, David A. Janisko, Jeffrey Krempler and Miss Lisa Levine are participating in the three-day outdoor education experience at the environmental education center near Highland Lake, N.Y.

While at Koinonia the pupils are involved in various experiences and activities some of which include homesteading, pond study, farming, wilderness trips, star study, orienteering, animal and plant ecology, canoeing, Indian village and culture.

Koinonia is a year around outdoor education center. It encompasses 1200 acres of upland and lowland forests, wetlands as bogs, streams, marshes, and lakes. Lying between the Pocono and Catskill Mountain ranges the landscape is primarily a result of erosion of glacial and pre-glacial geological formations.

To Observe Pentecost Sunday

Pentecost - the birthday of the church all over the world - will be celebrated at the First United Methodist Church Sunday, at the 10 a.m. worship service. All are invited.

Pentecost - the beginning of the church - has many symbols, including the descending dove, the Holy Spirit. There are seven gifts of the Holy Spirit - Power, Wealth, Wisdom, Might, Honor, Glory and Blessing. Other symbols include wind and fire. The church sanctuary will be decorated with banners of Pentecost made by groups within the church, church school classes and individual church members.

The service, sponsored by ecumenical affairs, a committee of the outreach ministry, will conclude with a procession of the banners from the church to the Fellowship Room. Leo Reetz is chairman of the committee.

Special music for the service will be provided by a teen-age handbell choir from the Congregational Church, Naugatuck, Conn., directed by Rick Mumford, who grew up in First United Methodist Church. They also will play during the birthday party following the service. Other music for the service will be by the combined Youth and Sanctuary Choirs. Dr. Robert B. Goodwin, senior minister, will preach on the theme, "Happy Birthday."

The birthday party in the Fellowship Room will feature punch, cookies, cake and balloons, and a gigantic birthday cake decorated with seven candles - indicating the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit (Sanctus Spiritus). The children of the church will blow out the candles.

Special music during the party will be provided by Maren Burke on the bagpipes, and the Westfield Fife and Drum Corps.

Grant Provides New Service

A "community support system for Union County's mentally handicapped adults will be developed, financed by a $25,000 grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, it was announced today by the Association for Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped.

The planned support system will be based on a model developed by the AAMH in Mercer County to help mentally handicapped adults achieve a high degree of independence through individually tailored efforts to fill such basic needs as jobs, housing, social activities, medical care, money management, and adult education.

Linkage of community social service resources that can contribute to the well-being and self-sufficiency of mentally handicapped adults is another primary objective of the AAMH program.

AAMH Executive Director Arthur Rittmaster, Jr. said: "We've already found a great deal of enthusiasm and support in Union County for the development of a chapter. If all goes well, the new chapter should be formed and the basic program under way within the next four months."

NL Girls Fight for Lead

After another week of action, the race for Girls National League division titles remains heated as the undefeated Yankees and Dolphins did it again in the first and second divisions respectively. The third division saw the second place Packers upset the first place Giants causing a three-way tie between the two teams and the Phillies, while the last place Rangers handed the Cheetahs a solid defeat to knock them out of first place which they had shared with the Cubs. Two more big wins this week put the Cubs well on their way to the fourth division title.

FIRST DIVISION
Yankees 6 Bearcats 5

Despite good fielding by Bearcats Greta Wagner, Carol Campanelli, Nancy Coyne, Sharon Coyne, and Laura Inieta, homeruns by Yankee outfielder Jane Mencher and pitcher Kathy Harbaugh proved crucial as the Yankees squeaked by the Bearcats 6-5. Good hits by Zolita Vernagopal, Lisa Zicchino, and Kate Morehouse also contributed to the attack while Martha Laurent, who made three outstanding plays at second, and outfielders Elizabeth Klezer and Marcy Kessler halted a sixth inning rally by the Braves.

Yankees 15 Mets 11

Trailing 11-10 going into the last inning the Yankees scored five runs as a result of doubles by Lisa Zicchino, and Jennifer Jackson, singles by Jean Murphy and Lisa Miraglietta, who went 4-4, and a bases clearing triple by Susan Frigerio. Outstanding defense was provided by Martha Laurent, Zolita Vernagopal, and Libby Newson.

Seals 22 Cardinals 7

The Cardinals got off to an early three run lead behind Kathy Kirnnson, Michele Sheuermann, Mary Taylor, and Linda Gillesberg but failed to hold it as the Seals' strong offense highlighted by Laurie Williams home run and four RBI's each by Cory May and Williams took control of the game. Liz Lwerssen and Karen Schneider shared the pitching chores for the Seals and each did an excellent job in holding their opponents to only seven runs.

Seals 15 Bearcats 9

It was an offensive battle between the Seals and the Bearcats with the Seals outscoring the opposition by six runs. Cory May headed the Seals attack with two homeruns and a double while teammate Tracie Love also hit a homerun along with a triple and Liz Iwerssen added three RBI's with a double and a triple. For the Bearcats, Wendy Walpert hit a home run and Jill Cardillo connected for three hits including a triple, while Jean Harris also contributed three hits.

Astros 13 Cardinals 4

Their victory over the Cardinals gave the Astros their sixth win of the season, Nancy Darrow, Eileen Garrity, Kristen Doerrer, Amy Avis, Lisa Brown, and Elizabeth Troeger were each two for three at bat for the Astros. Kathy Kennedy homered for the Cardinals and timely hits were contributed by Christine Geris, Michele Scheuermann and Buffy Spear.

SECOND DIVISION
Browns 22 Bruins 18

Pat Wysock hit the circuit along with as extra home run and Laura Gottlick had three hits including a bases-loaded triple as the Browns compiled 22 runs in a game that was called after five innings because of darkness. Despite excellent performances in the field by Cindy Checchio and Karen Taylor, the Bruins managed 18 runs in a good effort which fell short of five runs to win.

Browns 18 Vikings 6

A strong Browns offense proved devastating to the Vikings as the Browns totaled 18 runs on 23 hits. Cindy Checchio with 2 homers, Pat Wysock with one, Laura Gottlick with two doubles, and Elaine Scheater and Sarah Powell with three hits apiece were the main reason for the slaughter. The second base-short field combination of Cindy Checchio and Karen Taylor led the defense in holding down the Vikings.

Bruins 12 Colts 11

Kim Price led the Bruins with a three run homer and excellent defense at a crucial point as they edged past the Colts 12-11. A successful team effort particularly in offense by the Bruins highlighted the game.

THIRD DIVISION
Phillies 5 Braves 3

Sharp fielding in a Phillies team effort and excellent pitching by Ellen Kinney held the Braves to three runs as Libby Doherty connected for two key hits, and Jodi Scher, Amy Sherman, Rachael Spasser, and Hayley Feldstelin all contributed for the five runs. Defensively for the Braves, Stephanie Levine made a running catch on a fly ball to left field, while Janice Guglielimi, Ann Schmidt, and Liz Markwell helped keep the Braves alive offensively.

Giants 13 Royals 12

Caroline McDonald knocked in the tying run in the bottom of the sixth with a long fly to center field and then scored to give the Giants a close edge over the Royals. Lauren Chambliss, Sally Stokes, & Nikki Dzugan homered for the Giants while Stokes, Dzuganm and Jill Bonnetti also tripled.

Giants 21 Braves 10

Capitalizing on 15 hits and 17 walks, the Giants totally destroyed the Braves defense which was highlighted only by a spectacular over-the-shoulder catch by Laura Nakatoni. Again the Giant's offense was sparked by a homer from Sally Stikes, a triple by Nikki Dzugan and a double from Margie Rapsin.

Packers 20 Giants 7

The Giants managed to score only seven runs on 17 hits including two home runs by Nancy Davison and a triple and double by Sally Stokes as their usually strong defense fell apart under heavy offensive pressure from the Packers, particularly Katie Birmingham. Ellie Perry and Susan Sonntag made fine catches for the Packers.

Falcons 12 Royals 5
Royals 20 Falcons 9

Falcon's shortstop Rosan Fusaro hit two doubles and pitcher Margaret Sieche hit a home run while teammates Maria Carnevale and Ann Horn also hit well in the first of the two games as the Falcons trounced the Royals 12 to 5. However, it was the Royals offense led by Carol Traynor and Lauren Chambliss that saw victory when the Royals successfully sought revenge by scoring twenty runs off the Falcons in the second game. The Falcons managed some good defensive play by the sister combination of relief pitcher Denise Horn and catcher Anne Horn.

FOURTH DIVISION
Cubs 23 Reds 6

Powerful batting dominated as the Cubs rolled over the Reds 23-6. Gigi Gilmartin was outstanding as pitcher and at bat where she unloaded three triples and a double. Lisa Donkik also hit a double and a triple while Kim Canata had four hits and Debbie Blackman and Andrea Cunningham each had three.

Cubs 16 Rangers 11

Again, heavy hitting was the main factor in the Cub's victory over the Rangers. Mary Lou Steurnagel, Lisa Dorchek, Christine Mc Adam, and Debbie Blackman all contributed at bat.

Pirates 10 Rangers 9

Wendy Brady's triple, Allison Drabin's double and Alexandra Landrum and Laurie Valli's timely hits helped push the Pirates past the Rangers. April Price played excellent defensive ball at shortstop while Kristen Sherman did the same in left field.

Pirates 16 Saints 14

Scoring a nine run lead in the first inning on hits by April Price, Mary Jane Lynch, and a home run by Wendy Brady, the Pirates never lost it as Allison Drabin, Laurie Valli and Phyllis Wood sparked the defense.

Cheetahs 11 Reds 10

Ziva Marcus at shortstop saved the game for the Cheetahs with her last out catch that would have otherwise scored the tying run. Patty Bizink and Carol Canino had timely hits while Christine Pardini, Katie Howard, Charlotte Tweedie, Lisa Ricca and Robin Sitcer each had a double.

Rangers 12 Cheetahs 3

The Cheetahs just couldn't get it together as they were worked over by the Rangers in the biggest upset of the week which knocked them from first to second place. Nancy Micions and Lisa Ricca scored the three Cheetah runs.

Cheetahs 14 Pirates 10

Team cooperation paid off as the Cheetahs broke a 10-10 tie in the last inning by scoring four runs to win the game. Three doubles by Katie Howard and batting power from Cindy Jones, Tracey Muldvon, Amy Brow and Charlotte Tweedie scored the Cheetah's runs. Wendy Brady's bases loaded triple for the Pirates accounted for some of their runs while Allison Drabin and Sheila Young each had three hits.

Race Sparks AL Girls' Play

All-Star tryouts for the American League will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. at the high school field. American league tryouts are open to every girl who has played in the league this season. Fifteen players will be selected from the girls who tryout for the all-star team which will participate in the Union County elimination tournament. The tryouts are at 3 p.m., not the earlier time stated to managers.

As the league goes into the home stretch, the third division has an exciting race between the Pilots and Jets, the Wildcats and Senators are giving the Red Sox a challenge, and the Stars, a dark horse, are coming from behind to chase the Cougars. The Pandas appear to have the first division under wraps.

Senators 5 Warriors 4

The Senators pulled a close game out of the fire on the great fielding of Mary Davis at short, Ellen Kalbacher at first and Diane Hart short field. Linda Coyne, Marybeth Clarke and Sheri Hingel led the Senators hitting.

Senators 5 Tigers 1

The Senators came up with five runs in the first inning and defeated the Tigers 5-1. Dianne DiIorio hit a homer for the Tigers only run and Jennifer Dobbins pitched 4 and 2/3 shutout innings for the Tigers. Theo Gude and Gwen Scher both made great outfield plays.

Bonnie Bell held the Tigers scoreless for five innings with her fine pitching. She was backed by the defensive plays of Carol Patterson, Ann Balletto, and Ellen Kalbacher. Karen Zingerman and Diane Pollak were offensive stars for the Senators.

Bisons 14 Tigers 10
Bisons 1 Wildcats 17

The Bisons split two games this week. In the game against the Tigers, Kim Bonnetti tripled for the club, Ellen Patnaude had a double and single, as did Chris Bonnetti. Suzy Huey had two singles for the Bisons. Every girl on the team had at least one hit as they beat the Tigers in a hitters duel 14-10.

The Wildcats handled the Bisons easily and rolled over them for a 17-1 victory. Bison catcher, Laura Oibeter, and Robin Humiston and Kim Bonnetti played well for the team.

Red Sox 13 Warriors 6

The Red Sox remain undefeated and defeated the Warriors on the strong hitting of Jackie Cardillo with 5 RBI's, and the hits of Diane Whitcombe, Alison Daitch, Andrea Sawicki, Loz Cooney, Carlene Doll, Beth Asin, and Heidi Anderson. Candy Cure, Kathy Niedzwiecki, Jill Tracy, and Cara Zaurba all contributed to the Sox defense. Heidi Anderson pitched an excellent game for the team.

Dodgers 11 Pelicans 8

The Dodgers battled from behind to win their first victory of the season paced by the steaky pitching of Maria Blancato. After falling beind, the Dodgers tied the game in the fourth and put it on ice in the fifth on Sue Fontana's homer with two on.

The Dodgers turned in two double plays and cut runners off at home plate as excellent defensive plays were executed by Sue Fontana, Lori Fontana, Laura McLinden, Eileen Rainey, Becca Avis, Tracy Reilly, Karen Clarkson, Debbie Valli, Heidi Harting, and Karen Hargrove.

Dodgers 27 White Sox 32

In the hardest hitting game of the season, the Dodgers were defeated by the White Sox 32-27. Home runs were hit for the Dodgers by Debbie Valli, Laura McLinden, Lori Fontana, Elleen Rainey, and Sue Fontanta. Outstanding defense was contributed by Heidi Harting, Karen Clarkson, and Karen Booth.

Linda Kosuch led the White Sox with 3 homers, a double, triple, and single foc eleven RBI's. Eloise Cordasco and Sue Taylor added to the Sox Power.

Bears 13 Dodgers 12

In a hard fought game, The determined Bears defeated the Dodgers 13-12 on a triple by Lynda Murphy and doubles by Ann Bousquet and Cindy Stewart in the sixth inning. Nancy Norchington had a clutch double and Melissa Stewart doubled, driving in two runs for the Bears. Peggy Tobey made a bases loaded catch in shortfield to stop a Dodger rally and Kim Walsh starred defensively for the team.

Eileen Rainey, Sue Fontana, Tracy Reilly, and Maria Blancato had perfect days at the plate for the Dodgers. Karen Hargrove, Sue Fontana, and Karen Harris played well in the field.

White Sox 12 Twins 6

Sue Taylor at second and Emma Kuhn at first turned in outstanding defensive plays for the White Sox as they chalked up their fourth victory of the season. Sue Taylor had two triples, and Lori Bregman had a three run homer for the team. Eloise Cordasco handed in a home run for the Sox.

Pandas 12 Pelicans 1

Ann Bennetson, Beth Lally, and Alida Clemans led the Panda hitting attack. Jennifer Pruden pitched a beautiful game, striking out eight Pelicans. Barbara Donnelly, Kelly Butchart, and Sandra Redd played good defensive ball for the team and Lynn Tomfohrde was outstanding at first base.

Kirsten Loft, Robin Collins, Kiki Roll, and Alison Halsey played well for the Pelicans.

The game was ably umpired by Messrs. Halsey, Tomfohrde, and Trabert.

Robins 6 Athletics 4

The Robins pulled out of a three game slump and played a tight defensive game to down the Athletics 6-4. Nancy Miner, Paula Kowalczek, Cindy and Erin Scott, Kirsten Conover, and Mary Rita Balogh were outstanding in defense, and Nancy Smeaton pitched in offensively with a homerun.

Val Wright and Laura Myers paced the Athletic attack with homers and Liz Albrecht, Leslie Best, Holly Hansen, and Denise Seaton sparkled for the team.

Cougars 12 Chargers 2

The Cougars mauled the Chargers on the four hit pitching strength of Chris Diemer. Pam Kraft and Karen Iglar played tough defense. Sarah Kroloff and Lorrie Kwasek hit well for the team and Chris Diemer led the Cougars hitting with two triples for 5 RBI's.

Stars 6 Athletics 1
Stars 9 Chargers 3

The Stars picked off two teams of their drive for the fourth division title.

Denise Comby had ten strikeouts and was backed by the suberb plays of Alison Harley, and Stacey Protewig. Phyllis Colicchio and Judy Rich each had homeruns for the Stars and Laura Splitt hit well for the team.

Val Wright and Barbra Bohlin managed the only hits off the Star pitcher and Caroline Burke, Kathy Kane, Lisa Sladkus, and Julie Cheesman turned in good defense against a strong star team.

The Stars rocketed to an easy win over the Chargers on the excellent all round play of Barbie Higgins, Denise Comby, Sandy Cox, Robin Rice, and Megan Daly.

Pilots 5 Angels 3

In a close, exciting game that the lead changed hands three times the Pilots defeated the Angels 5-3. Marilyn Jenkins was the winning pitcher, and was backed by great defense of Lisa Karp, Kathy Johnson, and Elaine Schenkel. Julia Melton scored two Pilot runs and Lisa Wieghorst drove in tow.

The Angels stranded many base runners in the loss. Christy Gingerich in short field and Suzanne Barker at third played well defensively for the Angels.

Pilots 6 Orioles 0

The Pilots grabbed another win this week as they challenge the Jets for the third divison championship. The game was halted because of rain in the fourth inning. Johnnie Mae Jenking, Jill Valenti, and Julie DeFelice were the Pilot hitting stars. Elaine Schenkel, Jeanne Burton, and Loisa Wieghorst played gread defense.

Jets 16 Orioles 0
Jets 5 Panthers 4

They Jets walloped the Orioles as Gail Raney pitched an excellent game and coasted to her seventh victory of the season. Laurie Smith, Mary Hearon, and Patti Hearon backed Gail's pitching and Jenny Clark, Chris Cosenza, Cheryl Gleason, and Jean Guididas all had perfect days at the plate.

The Panthers came up 1 run short in a last inning rally when Jayne Warne doubled with the bases loaded. Linda Root homered for the Panthers and Jennifer Clark, Jet centerfielder, caught a long drive off Root's bat to end the game and cap it for the Jets. The Jets squeezed through for the victory on three runs in the fourth inning off the bats of Jean Guididas and Gail Raney. Going into the bottom of the 6th, the Jets were ahead 5-1. The Panthers scored 3 runs bringing the score to a grueling 5-4, with one out. The game was saved for the Jets by Colleen Elliott, Jet catcher, and Jennifer Clark in center.

Westfield 3rd in County Track

By David Hoff

The Westfield track team, paced by four first places, took third Saturday at the Union County championships. Westfield scored a total of 37 points winning the two-mile, mile, 220 and 100.

In the two-mile, Chris Paul ran to victory over Matt Makowski of Scotch Plains who had beat him the week before at the conference championships. Paul ran a total time of 9:36.8 to beat Makowski in the last 220. Chris stayed close to the front in the first mile, running in fifth most of the way and clocking a 4:53.5 mile. Then in the first quarter of the second mile he jumped to second place and remained there until the last quarter when he passed the leader Makowski to win the race.

In the mile, David Miller pretty much ran his own race in the blistering heat as he took first in 4:21.9, 20 yards ahead of the second place man. Taking the lead in the first lap, he built it up in each successive quarter to coast in to victory.

In the 220, Butch Woolfolk was the victor for the Blue Devils as he ran 21 to finish .3 seconds ahead of second place teammate Frank Kelly. In the 100 they switched positions as Kelly was first in 10.0 seconds, beating Woolfolk right at the tape. Woolfolk recorded the same 10.0 time.

The mile relay team of George Risse, Terry Brady, Bob McDonough and Werner Wyrwich took second in a 3:24.6 time. As McDonough handed off to Wyrwich the team was way back in fourth, but Wyrwich flew with the stick to move Westfield up a place and record a 49.7 quarter. He was going so fast in fact that the Rahway relay team which was in second got scared and one of their runners started running alongside their anchorman (an illegal move). They were disqualified which put Westfield in second behind Plainfield in the race.

The one scorer in the field events for Westfield was Dean Boylan in the shot put with a 50'6" throw.

Earlier in the week, Westfield suffered its first dual meet loss of the season to Plainfield, 72-59. A definite factor in Westfield's loss was the fact that on the day of the meet, top weight man Bob McNally was removed from the team for disciplinary reasons. A Westfield victory would have probably been possible with the points he could've scored.

Butch Woolfolk was the one double winner for Westfield as he took the 440 in 50.5 seconds and the 220 in 22.7. Other victories for the Blue Devils included Frank Kelly in the 100 (9.7 sec.), David Miller in the mile (4:28.7), Chris Paul in the two-mile (9:44.4), and Jim Belcher in the javelin (181'4"). The Blue Devils record now stands at 6-1. They finished their dual meet season yesterday in a meet against Jefferson at Westfield.

Saturday, the track and field men travel back to Elizabeth for the sectionals. Top competitors for Westfield should include Butch Woolfolk and Frank Kelly in the 100 and 220, David Miller in the mile, Chris Paul in the two-mile and Jim Belcher in the javelin.

Soccer Teams Faring Well This Season

The Westfield Blues defeated Chatham 2-0 in a Division V, National Soccer League game Sunday. The Blues' strong defense, led by Mark Davidson in goal and Brad Cole, registered the fifth shutout in eight league games. The other fullbacks, Rich Rocco, Rolfe Gotsch and Mike Emanuel played up and charged the Chatham offense turning the ball back to Westfield's advantage. The halfbacks played a good positional game and kept the ball up and on the wings. John Kelly worked well with Lowell Haimes who set up several shots on the Chatham goal. On the other side Dave Hone sent the ball up to Binny Jones and Susan Stokes. Both Binny and Susan were effective at penetrating the Chatham defense.

The game was characterized by good ball control, effective passing and constant pressure on the Chatham goal. The Blues' first goal, toward the end of the first period, was started by Rolfe Gotsch who passed to Susan Stokes. Susan centered to Mike Drury who passed to Erik Berger whose kick changed the direction of the ball into the net. Mike Drury set up several fine plays, and Erik Berger had numerous shots on goal, many from difficult angles. Andrew Graf played effectively on the inside controlling the middle and started many good plays. Jim Shepherd brought the ball up well on the wings as did Andrew Haimes.

The Blues' second goal also in the first period, came on a penalty shot as Rolfe Gotsch sent a beautiful kick into the net. Rolfe and George Roscoe shared duties at center halfback, and both sent many plays in on goal. Robert O'Hara and Matt Cotler played well at halfback. The Blues had numerous shots on goal including one by George Roscoe that bounced off the crossbar.

The Westfield Rangers continued an undefeated season with an imposing 5-0 victory over Hillsboro. The Rangers' defense, led by fullbacks Chris Alpaugh, Jimmy Hutton and Pat Rosalanko, stopped every Hillsborough scoring effort and repeatedly triggered the Westfield attack. Andrew Yearly, the Rangers' center halfback and leading scorer, drilled home the first goal with Robbie Schmalz getting the assist. Mike Mirda, who played another strong game at right wing, closed out the Ranger scoring in the first half with a long, sharply angled low drive.

The second half was completely dominated by the Rangers. Midway through the third quarter David Lavine set up the third goal with a perfect crossing pass to Andrew Yearly who netted the ball. The Rangers' last two goals were scored on direct penalty kicks. David Gutterman placed one low and deep into the left corner and later Brian Quinn kicked one high into the right corner. With their fourth shutout victory, the Rangers solidified their hold on first place in their division.

The Division V Premiere team successfully defended their first place unbeaten status with a 2-0 shutout of their second place rivals, the East Brunswick Hurricanes last Sunday at East Brunswick. The Westfield defenders once again rose to the level of competition by outplaying their opponents man-to-man in midfield and in their own penalty area. Halfbacks Dennis Kinsella and Jimmy Miller had their hands full against strong Hurricane wings and consistently turned back the attackers with good lead passes and throw-ins to hustling forwards Curt Cheesman, Peter LaTartara, John Ganas and Jimmy Post. The Hurricanes' scouting report must have indicated the midfield strength of Westfield as they were using the long wing pass and marking center half Robert Rogers, as well as resorting to the physical game. The halftime score was 0-0 with East Brunswick having the better of the scoring opportunities. Fullback Aldo Kosuch made several outstanding sliding tackles and good clearing passes to help goalkeeper Paul Maravetz preserve the shutout. Billy Lister and Joe Carveale turned in strong performances on defense. The second half opened with David Zupko streaking up the left wing with an inside pass to Jimmy Dodd who sent a crossing pass to Art Pearce who fired home a hard shot that deflected off the goalkeeper. Jimmy Dodd scored the second goal from a scramble in front of the net.

In the National League the Division IV Westfield team played an unlucky game marred by rough play and injuries. On a slow, high grass field, which favors hard kicks and high play rather than precise disciplined passes, the Westfield players, two goals were not enough to win against a bigger Mountainside. David Watts played an intelligent game and was responsible for the two goals: the first, with a leading pass to Joe Ierardi, the second with a precise pass to Steven Shields. Chris Walswere, ready to shoot in goal, collided with an opponent and suffered a leg injury and had to be taken off the field. Goalie Paul Frantz also suffered a neck injury. After missing a penalty shot and in spite of the outstanding game played by J. Houlihan at halfback and Kurt Munzinger, local players could not contain Mountainside any longer and the game ended with a 5-2 score.

The Premieres last weekend displayed will power as well as excellent fundamental technique and beat East Brunswick to remain undefeated and untied. Westfield had to win this game and the players went to Eggers Field in East Brunswick to do just that. On a very large field and in very hot weather, the precise short passes of the Westfield players tired their opponents and little by little the halfbacks started to control midfield and impose their game. East Brunswick scored first on a lucky shot following a fullback's mixup. Joe Longo, saving a penalty shot, gave the team a good shot in the arm. The turning point in the game came as Nikkil Singh passed left to Mike Shuvart who shot on the fly and scored. One minute later Ron Johnson intercepted and gently pushed forward a pass to Nikhil Singh and the score was 2-1. Three minutes into the second half Tom Miller directed a high ball to the far post and the incoming Michael Shuvart leaped high and headed the ball low in net. Another pass from Ron Johnson gave Steven Kantor his first goal.

Steven's second goal resulted from a good Danny Fitzgerald-Matt Petrick combination. Mike Chin got the sixth goal when he alertly shot in goal a good cross from Matt Petrik. Ron Johnson's game was most effective, his constant control of midfield both attacking and defending, and his selfless, accurate passes creating opportunities for his teammates allowed the Westfield forwards and midfielders to systematically penetrate the East Brunswick defense. Billy Macaluso was outstanding in his center back position and should be credited for containing the opponents' attacks.

Westfield Division III National faced a strong Clark team and held on to a 3-1 win. The first half action saw both teams playing a very good ground passing game, with the Westfield boys controlling and passing a little better. After 17 minutes of play on a beautiful pass from Steve Weil to John Giordano to Robert Harrison, Robert lost no time scoring the first goal of the game. The second goal was scored by Jeff Schmalz on a pass from Steve Weill. In the final minutes of the first half the Westfield boys missed other good chances of scoring. In the second half Westfield put strong pressure but the Clark defense was able to contain many scoring threats. Clark scored the only goal after 25 minutes into the second half. Westfield scored the third goal on a long pass from Steve Weill to Walter Sobanski. Solid defensive performances were given by Marc Telling, Eddie Smith, James Morgan, David Schultz and Stephen Ribecky. Jonathan Pollack repeatedly saved his net.

Softball Assn. Opens Season

The Westfield Softball Association began its second season Sunday with a slate of six doubleheaders. The slow-pitch league has expanded in teams (from eight to 12) and schedule (from 28 to 32 games).

Defending league champs C.Y.M. picked up where they left off after sweeping through last year's playoffs. C.Y.M. cruised to a 13-3, 17-6 sweep over Crossway Amoco. Ron Paragallo belted two HRs in the first game while Warren Haacke, runner-up for both the HR crown and MVP last year, drilled three circuit blasts in the night-cap for the winners. Tied with C.Y.M. atop the National Division is World War Wilson. Wilson took two wins when Norton + Williams couldn't field at team with too many players still away at school.

The other National twinbill was opening day's only split. The Westfield Brewers stopped the Cranford Elks 18-14 in their opener. The Elks, with a seven run first inning took the second 20-7. Ken Ccoper paced the Brewers with 5 hits and 4 RBIs, Pete Lewis and Bill England each knocked in 3 runs while Dave Wright had 5 hits. The Elks were led by Jerry Haney with 7 hits including an HR. Chuck Korner and Ron Sawicki each had 3 hits in the first game with John Colinari adding an HR in the second.

In the American Division there were three sweeps. Dittrick's Pub, regular season leaders at 22-6 and losers in the playoff finals last year, needed late inning explosions to down Andrew's Shoes-Southside 14-1, 16-4. Both games were 2-1 after 5 innings. Dan Burke continued the torrid hitting that earned him MVP last season. He blasted 3 HRs including two grand slams, scored six runs and drove in 10. Dittrick's also was led by Brian Brophy with 4 hits and 6 runs and John Rowe's excellent defense.

The Franklin Bowlers unleashed a 46 hit attack as they routed Zader's Raiders 17-6 and 26-8. Willie Obeceny tied fot the league lead in homers with three. Ed Belford added two more, Kevin Kelly and Kevin Pecca each had six hits while Mark Muth had five. The lone bright spot ina long afternoon for the Raiders was Mike Fitzgerald's three run HR.

In a battle of expansion teams T.F.W. took a pair from Cranford Pizza House 11-9 and 9-1. For the winners Ron Watts had both wins on the mound and helped his cause with 6 hits. Carl Lewis had 5 with Mike Astolis chipping in 3 including an HR. For Cranford Pizza House Russ Swiatek had two doubles and a 3 run HR, Bob Sherm had 3 doubles.

This Sunday's featured twinbill has the Franklin Bowlers meeting T.F.W. at Elm St. at 2:30. Other Elm action has Dittrick's Pub and Zader's Raiders at 9:30, C.Y.M. vs. World War Wilsons at noon and Cranford Pizza House and Andrew's Shoes-Southside at 5. Over at Tamaques Park in 9:30 doubleheaders Norton+ Williams faces the Westfield Brewers and Crossway Amoco vs. the Cranford Elks. Single game action at Tamaques at 9 has Pizza House and Wilson and at 10:30 C.Y.M. vs. Andrew's Shoes.

A conflict over fields put the season in serious jeopardy. Commissioner Pete Lewis commented, "We were really on the ropes but Mr. Brewster from the Westfield Recreation Commission came through in the clutch and got us some fields at the last minute for the first four weeks of the season when the conflict with town little leagues left us without fields. Without him we were nowhere."

The 12 teams play tripleheaders eight Sundays and doubleheaders four with the 32 game season ending Aug. 7. The top three teams in each six team division qualify for playoffs in mid-August.

Just a Little Boy

He stands at the plate, with his heart pounding fast,
The bases are loaded the die has been cast.
Mom and Dad cannot help him he stands all alone –
A hit at this moment would send his team home;
The ball nears the plate he swings and he misses –
There's a groan from the crowd with some boos and some hisses;
A thoughtless voice cries: "Strike out the bum!"
Tears fill his eyes the games no longer fun.
Remember he's just a Little Boy who stands all alone;
So open your heart and give him a break;
For it's moments like this a man you can make;
Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget,
He's just a Little Boy and not a man yet.

Compliments of "A Father" and J. Barton, Tulsa Coach

Uprisings in the first, third, and fifth innings were led by the big bats of Russ Halluin, Daniel Soucek, John McHugh, Kevin McAdam, Kevin Tracey, Jim Sweeney, Jon Walsweer, John Meier, Geoffrey Tischman, Scott Asbjorman, and Teddy Martin. John McHugh's homerun in the fifth inning high-lighted the slug fest for the Stars. A stingy defense which choked off every Jet scoring threat was led by Adam DiBella, Richard Sokolosky, and Billy Farrell. Playing well for the Jets were Steve Weinstein, Adam Mazur, Scott Fehsenfeld and Brian Tilyou.

Mars vs Comets

Mars beat the Comets 13-12 in an exciting game that went to the last out. Outstanding defensive plays were made by Matt Montana, Billy Jeremiah, Jimmy Colonias and Kevin DePalmer. Hits by Alexis Collazo, John Pepper, Rob Beatty, Mat Christian, Pat Dineen, and Tim Yockel contributed to the victory. For the Comets Doug Smarako hit a triple. Doubles were hit by Kevin O'Brien, Billy Tozier, Joey Merrill and Hampden Tener. Sparkling defensive plays were made by Robby Macaluso, Doug Smaracko and Karen Lauster.

Meteors vs Rockets

Led by a base clearing triple by Mike Drury and 3 singles by John Capano and Keith Komar, the Meteors defeated the Rockets 8-6. Komar and Drury also sparkled in the field. John Mackin, Damon Quirk, and Frank McTeague also singled to pace the Meteors. The Rockets were led most of the way with a heavy offense of hitting by Jon Fuhrman, Brian Noerr, Todd Pearsall, Chris Masterson, Tim Coultas, and Johnny Prich.

Missiles vs Porpoises

The undefeated Missles stemmed a last minute Porpoise drive to win 26-21. Starring for the Missiles were Chris Ritchie and Scott Kumpf with 3 singles and a double; Jim Fox with 4 singles and John Telling with 2 singles and a double. Singles were hit by John Dunnan, Robert LaMastria, Kenny Lane, Sarah Cozewith, Michael Holmes, Robert Rosolanko, Jamie Meiselman, and Henry Span. Gregg Cruger had a double. Despite the hitting of Todd Graf, Doug Marino, Chris Tobey, Brent Spear, and David Gilgallon and excellent fielding by David Lavender, Robbie Gladden, Shawn Delhagen, Timmy Nolan, Matt Kotovsky and excellent backstop play by Grace Zupko and Amy Shubitz the Porpoises went down to defeat.

Barracudas vs Dolphins

Last weeks Grasshopper league saw the Barracudas completely overwhelm the Dolphins 23-4. The game started out as a defensive dual with each side making some great plays in the field. The defensive stars for the Dolphins were Matthew Lalor, Matthew Tibbals, Paul Kieltyka, and Glenn McCormick. The little hitting the Dolphins accomplished was supplied by the bats of Matt Tibbals, Michael Locascio, and George Mueller who hit a homerun. The Barracuda hitting attack was started by David Lissner with 2 homeruns and a triple; doubles by Gabe Rosanio, Joe Grande, and Chris Duanno. A good defensive effort was turned in by 1st baseman Marc Napolitello, 2nd baseman Dennis Cheng, and centerfield John Pavese. Extra hitting by Robyn Holloway and Tom Connolly also helped the attack.

They combined for 13 strikeouts. Carter also contibuted a home run among his three hits. Nick Vacca and Scott Lacke combined for 14 strikeouts as the Yale hurlers. Greg Bunting led the attack with two hits.

Yale 11, Dartmouth 3

Columbia 8, Syracuse 7

Joe Savard singled home the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning, Mark Cunningham scoring from first when the ball took a bad hop. Columbia only managed six hits but got strong chucking from Kurt Gillhaus, Jerry Basto and Jim Fritz. Todd Jacobs and Jim Engelhart stood out on defense. Syracuse's attack was spearheaded by Ken Schmalz with three hits, while Paul Valentine and Roger Brewster each had two and Bill Kennedy pitched well.

Yale 11, Dartmouth 7

Nick Vacca had three hits, Scott Fisher had a pair and Mike Stamer scored three times to spark Yale.

Rutgers 9, Syracuse 8

Jack Baldwin struck out five in two innings of relief pitching and got the key hit, along with David Jackson, in a three-run fifth inning to lift Rutgers. Mike Sacks had four hits, including a leadoff homer in the first, while Baldwin and Jackson each finished with three. Baldwin and John Damato fanned 13 Syracuse batters. Paul Valentino and Tim Coheeney each had three hits for Syracuse, while Ken Schmalz, Valentino and Coheeney combined pitching efforts to fan 13 Rutgers batters.

Colgate 10, Rutgers 5

Rutgers exploded for four runs in the first, but that was pretty much the end of the attack. Mike Sacks and David Cafaro led the Rutgers attack with a couple of hits. Roddy Yatcilla belted a leadoff homer for Colgate and got two other hits, while Paul Leifer, and Mike Armellino also had three hits.

Colgate 13, Harvard 9

Colgate 8, Princeton 0

John Rokosny and Roddy Yatcilla did the pitching, Rokosny going five and striking out six. Yatcilla also led the offense with three hits, including a triple. Chris Drabin shone for Princeton with a couple of hits.

Linksmen Shatter Records, Win Title

By Phil Robinson

Shattering two records in the process, the Westfield High School golf team ran away with Monday's Watchung Conference championship.

The linksmen's team score of 480 on the par 71 Suburban Country Club course gave them a convincing 17 stroke victory over runner-up Scotch Plains. The total also set new conference and school records for the event.

Coach Gary Kehler termed the winning score a "wonderful achievement" and a "heck of an average for six people."

In addition, the Devils captured two of the top three positions in the individual competition. Tom Ansbro turned in his finest effort of the season, a 75, to earn second place honors. Jeff Campbell finished in third place, one shot behind Ansbro, with a five over par 76.

Ansbro believed his round could have been in the low 70's had he putted better. Starting off on the back side, Tom bogeyed the first hole, but proceeded to par the next eight in succession for a 36.

On 10, Ansbro missed a short six foot birdie putt which really "hurt" according to Tom. Ansbro succumbed to double bogey on the next hole, over powering his drive into the woods and placing the next shot in a fairway bunker.

Chipping in a sand wedge from just off the green, Tom picked up his only birdie of the day on the par four seventh.

Campbell, who felt the course played "fairly easy", had some difficulty holding the greens with his approach shots. Jeff's lone birdie of the day came on the 412 yard eighteenth, dropping in a 15 footer.

John Sidorakis, while reaching only six greens in regulation, still managed to turn in an excellent round of 80 which included ten pars.

A "tremendous" driving round aided Flip Amato to his ten over par score of 81. Flip recorded consecutive pars on the fifth through eighth holes to post a 39 on the front side.

Finishing the final three holes in one under par, Bill Sutman shot an 83. Sutman knocked an eight iron to within 10 feet of the pin on the 388 yard seventeenth, and rolled in his putt for birdie three.

John Meeker, playing what he described as a "steady" round, carded an 85 over the 6680 yard layout.

The linksmen continued their success in match play last week with a 18-0 shutout over Linden. Campbell and Sidorakis were low men for Westfield with rounds of 34 and 35 respectively.

FAIRWAY NOTES ... Averages per nine holes: Campbell 38.9, Ansbro 40.1, Sidorakis 41.9, Amato 42.4, Sutman 42.6, Meeker 43.5 ... Match play records: Campbell 13-1, Meeker 13-1, Ansbro 10-2, Amato 11-2-1, Sutman 11-2-1, Sidorakis 9-2-2 ... Coach Kehler plans to use a lineup of Campbell, Ansbro, Sidorakis, and Sutman in the Union County championship at Echo Lake today.

Devil Netsters Split Matches

By Michael Bartek

The Westfield High School boys' team split six matches last week to move its record to 12-6. However, the Devils were eliminated in the second round of the state tournament by Columbia.

Two of the three losses were at the hands of Columbia, both by 3-2 scores. The first loss was a regular season match, while the second was in the state tourney.

The two matches followed a similar pattern, with Columbia winning first singles and the two doubles matches each time. Dave Kramer topped Westfield's top player Doug Yearley twice by 6-3, 7-5 and 6-2, 6-2 counts.

Joel Katz had two easy straight set victories at second singles over Columbia's Bruce Huberman. Westfield's Jeff Factor won the final point of a third set tiebreaker against Peter Fekentie in their first meeting, but the sophomore star had an easier time in the next meeting, but the sophomore star had an easier time in the next meeting, winning 6-4, 6-4.

The doubles proved to be the key for Columbia as Scott Freeman-Ivan Neibart and Jan Goldman-Jim Pasarell were able to top the Devils' duos both times. Andy-Biederman-Sri Navargikar played first doubles in the first meeting and at the second position in the second match. Gerry Conroy teamed with Brian Schuvart in the regular season match and with Jim Perry in the state tourney.

The other Westfield loss was to perennial power Christian Brothers Academy, 4-1. CBA is the defending state champ and is currently undefeated. Peter Henderson showed some excellent tennis in downing Yearley 6-3, 6-4. Joel Katz fought hard but was topped by Dana Russell 6-4, 5-7 in a very tight match.

Jeff Factor played superbly in handing CBA's Dean Jaeger his first loss at third singles. Factor was on the verge of defeat several times but came back for a 4-6, 7-5, 6-4 upset win.

The Devils' victories were all 5-0 shutouts over Plainfield, Mountain Lakes, and Linden. The Linden match was the opening round of the state tournament.

Yearley, Katz, and Factor won all three of their singles matches in straight sets. Biederman played first doubles in all matches teamed with Navargikar in two and with Perry in one. Conroy, Schuvart, Mark McGovern and Dan Perach all played in second matches.

The victory over Plainfield clinched the Watchung Conference title for the Devils. Westfield has been a dominant force in the Conference for several years.

FOOT FAULTS: Netsters closed out regular season against Metuchen and Governor Livingston earlier this week (too late for Leader deadline)....Devils played in the Union County tournament today and continue tomorrow for their final action of the season....All Westfield's players are seeded in the tourney: Yearley (4), Katz (2), Factor (1), Biederman-Navargikar (1), and Conroy-Schuvart (2).

Boys Eke Out Victory In "Battle of Sexes"

The first annual "Battle of the Sexes" was held Friday, at the WHS varsity gym. The spectators were treated to a hard-fought, exciting competition which the boys won by squeaking by in the last seconds. Going into the final event, each team won four events. The boys had won in basketball shooting, table tennis, volleyball, and the relay races; the girls had won in hula hoop, throwing, jump rope and the tug of war. The obstacle course was to decide the winner for 1977, and even that was tied up until the last running.

Albert Bobal, principal of WHS, presented the trophy to the victorious boys' team, and the girls, while gracious in defeat, said "Wait 'til next year".

The various competitions and the winners are as follows: Rob Wessels, Brian Hughes, and Rick Crosta comprised the winning team in basketball shooting, although Beth Rennicks did make a basket for the girls. Marianne Yateilla, Wendy Tibbals, Toni Pinto and Margaret Kowalczyk shut out the boys in the hula hoop. Rick Yarbenet, Bob Kelly and Any Tibbals won in table tennis. In a close game, Scott Landale, Tom McGale, Brian Hughes and Bill Kane won in volleyball. In throwing, the team of Carol Serko, Phyllis Manella and Debbie Graf defeated the boys although Tom Ansbro scorred 1 ½ points. The team of Ann Gottlick, Cathy Graye, Toni Pinto, Brenda Bentley and Sue Dustin won in rope jumping, but, Bob McNally showed he could jump with the best of them.

In the relay races, the team of Tim Babb, Larry Cohen, Craig Hyldahl and Joe Della Badia shut out the girls. The big surprise of the evening was the girls' victory in the tug of war. Robin Lawyer, Colleen Burns, Clair Rowe, Marie Demarais, Brenday Bentley, Valerie Swart, Ann Gottlick, Jerilyn Boylan, Tony Pinto, Marianne Yatcilla and Stacey Schrope startled the valiant opposition. In the obstacle course the winners were Ann Gottlick, Scott Landale, Beth Rennicks, Brian Hughes and Tim Babb.

The judges for the "Battle" were Marnie Burke and Larry Ritchie, Robert Petix, vice-principal at WHS, was the announcer. Gary Kehler and Greg Gorski of the WHS Physical Education Department coordinated the event.

The "Battle of the Sexes" was presented to benefit the Betty Marik Scholarship Fund. Maggie Cimei, who worked on programs, and Stanley Gorsky who worked in ticket sales also helped toward the success of the evening.

Devils Advance to Semis In County Tournament

Riding the crest of a four game winning streak, the WHS varsity baseball team (13-10) advanced to the semi-finals of the Union County Tournament and the quarterfinals of the North Jersey, Section 2 Group 4 State Tournament.

Yesterday's county clash against Berkeley Heights was too late for Leader deadline. However, if successful, the batsmen will play for the championship Monday in Union at 2 p.m. Westfield shut out Berkeley Heights 1-0 earlier this year on a two-hitter by Larry Cohen.

The Devils made it to the semis by stunning Scotch Plains and Ed Reilly by a 10-2 score. It was the second time this year Westfield has routed Scotch Plains (21-3) and Reilly (8-3).

Scotch Plains drew first blood in its first at bat. Reilly, an all-stater last year and sure to repeat this season, doubled home leadoff man Scott Rodgers, who had walked. A perfect relay from Cohen to Owen Brand to Frank Mirkow caught Reilly trying to stretch the two-bagger into a triple.

The Raiders added another run in the fourth, but Westfield tied it in its half on Jim Piantkoski's sacrifice fly and Bob Hearon's RBI single.

Then, as in the first meeting of the two teams, the Devils erupted for a big inning to break the game open. Reilly lost his control and his poise as Westfield sent 11 men to the plate in the sixth, scoring eight times.

Five walks and singles by Dave Saltzman and Mirkow sent the Westfield fans into an uproar and Reilly into right field, fuming at the plate umpire. Jeff Nicholson came on in relief, but yielded two-run singles to Kurt Stock and Cohen. Nine of the ten runs in the game were charged to Reilly.

K. C. Knobloch (7-3) walked three and struck out seven in his route-going performance.

Both the Raiders, defending UCT champs, and the Devils had voted earlier in the week to make the County Championship this year's top priority. It is conceivable that the two teams may meet again, in the state sectional finals.

In first round state tourney action, Westfield pounded out 15 hits in handing sixth seeded Newark East Side a 12-2 loss.

Stock and Hearon led the onslaught with three hits apiece, while Knobloch belted a three-run homer. Brad Seip pitched five strong innings in upping his record to 2-3. Mirkow finished up with two scoreless innings of relief.

Westfield also defeated Bloomfield and Jefferson last week, by 8-5 and 5-2 scores.

Cohen evened his record at 2-2 in going the distance against Bloomfield, but control problems forced him to struggle throughout the game. The senior right hander walked six, including the bases loaded in the fourth, when Bloomfield scored twice on a throwing error.

Westfield scored the winning run in the fifth on Mirkow's sacrifice fly, and iced it in the sixth on Bill Bloom's triple, Joe Della Badia's double, and two wild pitches.

Owen Brand made his first start of the year against hard-hitting Jefferson and with Knobloch mopping up for two innings, picked up an impressive win. Jeff scored both its runs in the fourth when they collected three of the four hits Brand allowed. Owen had the Minutemen off balance with good breaking stuff. Westfield took advantage of Mike Peterson's wildness (nine walks) in scoring its runs.

EXTRA BASES

In state tourney action, batsmen played Jeff on Tuesday (too late for Leader deadline). If successful, they will travel to Irvington tomorrow...Loss to Jeff will bring Plainfield to town tomorrow for regular season game...

Coach Pete Lima plans to use Knobloch in counties and Seip in states for now, with Cohen, Mirkow, Ken Wilshaw and Brand handling regular season games...

Della Badia raised average to .382 with six for 11 week...Saltzman now at .345, while Scott Selert has improved tremendously to .286...Knobloch continues to drive runs in every conceivable way: he now has team leading 14 on only 10 hits...

Jayvees Win Three

By K. C. Knobloch

The Westfield High School junior varisty baseball team now (12-8), making a surge in the latter part of the season, concluded an impressive week of baseball, beating Hillside 8-6, Bloomfield 5-2, and Jefferson 6-5.

The Devils used their offensive output wisely (six hits per game), and kept their errors at a minimum (three errors per game) to stage three victories.

The Hillside game, a usual see-saw battle for the batsmen, saw the Devils jump out to a four run lead in the fourth, only to see that margin slip from their grasps in the fourth inning when the Comets darted across three runs on the only errors of the game for the Devils. Hillside then tied the game in the fifth on three hits. However, the Devils would not give up, exploding for three runs in the sixth. A walk, a stolen base, and an advancement to third on a wild pitch by Chitty combined with a walk to Jim Kontje set the stage for Bill Gingerich's triple, scoring both baserunners. Gingerich scored what proved to be the game winning run on a suicide bunt by Mark Coles. Gingerich had the big bat collecting three hits and as many r.b.i.'s for the waste not Devil offense. Gary Miller was the winning pitcher upping his record to (2-0).

Bloomfield (11-7), was never in the ballgame, trailing from the beginning by four runs. The Devils for the most part collected their runs on errors, however Mark Coles did rip a triple to drive in Gingerich in the third. Bloomfield could only muster two runs in the fifth on three errors and two hits off of winning pitcher Dave Kelly (2-3). Gingerich, again delivered two r.b.i.'s and a triple for the Devil cause.

In the most wildest game of the season, the batsmen handed Jefferson a tough game ending triple play loss. Down 4-0 in the fifth, the Devils exploded for all of their six runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Trailing by three, Coles and Bell collected singles, along with the big blow, a three run triple by Mike Ruth, enabling the Devils to take a two run lead. The T.J.'s crossed the plate one more time in the seventh before the game ending play. Ruth was the winning pitcher, now (5-2). Gingerich collected his sixth hit in his last 12 at bats on a single in the fifth inning.

Girls Conference Titlists

By Betty Ann Chisholm

The WHS girls softball team captured the Watchung Conference title last week, but was unable to repeat as Union County Champions. The team defeated Battin 15-3 and Plainfield 19-5, but lost to Rahway 9-10 in the semi-finals of the Union County tournament.

Westfield finished with a 5-0 record in conference competition, to win the title. Brenda Bentley collected her tenth win against Battin. Westfield scored quickly in the first inning on a double by Jacki Booth that scored two runs. The Devils took a 5-0 lead and added four more runs in the second. Becky Davenport batted three runs in with a double. Davenport had two doubles and five RBI's for the day. Battin managed to score a run in the sixth on errors. The final total was 15-3.

The Devils beat Plainfield for the second time this season, 19-5. Phylis Mannella hit three for five and collected five RBI's. Robin Lawyer, Ann Cosenza and Bentley were also big hitters. Bentley was also the winning pitcher.

Westfield was unable to retain its Union County title because of the loss to Rahway in the semi-finals of the tournament. Rahway lost in the finals to Scotch Plains 2-1. Rahway avenged a regular season loss to Westfield with the victory. Jean Laurent started for Westfield, but was relieved by Bentley who suffered her first loss.

The Devils jumped to an 8-0 lead by the third inning. With bases loaded in the second, Mannella singled in two runs. Lawyer walked and Booth doubled for two more runs. Beth Rennicks equaled Booth's effort with a double and two RBI's. Mannella singled again in the third to account for two more runs

However, Rahway surged in the bottom of the third by scoring six runs to leave Westfield with a slim two run advantage. Both sides scored a run in the fourth and Rahway added one more in the sixth. So, going into the last inning Westfield led 9-8.

Westfield couldn't rally in the seventh for more insurance runs. Rahway had bases loaded and the tying run was walked in. A single up the left side scored the winning run.

The Devils finished the regular season on Tuesday against Cranford (too late for Leader deadline). The team competes in their first round of the state tournament today. Westfield faces Livingston at home, starting at 3:45.

Lacrosse League To Organize

The Westfield Summer Lacrosse League is in the final stages of preparation. The newly formed program sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Commission and organized by Coach Shaun Cherewich will have an organizational meeting at 3:30 p.m. June 9 in the auditorium of the Elm St. School. All youngsters who have joined or want to join must attend this meeting.

Cherewich, coach of the Westfield High School Lacrosse Club, has lined up four college lacrosse players to instruct participants on the fundamentals of the game during a two week clinic scheduled for June 27 through July 8 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Sycamore Field.

The Westfield Summer Lacrosse League will be broken-down into two divisions consisting of three teams each. Division A will consist of boys in grades 10-12. Division B will be made up of players in grades 6-9. Each team will have a four game schedule running from July 11 through July 28. Playoffs and finals in each division are scheduled for Aug, 2 and Aug. 4.

There is no fee or entry charge for joining the Summer Lacrosse League. The recreation commission and lacrosse club will supply gloves and helmets for participants. Each boy, however, is urged to buy his own lacrosse stick. These sticks can be obtained at any good sporting goods store.

Coach Cherewich feels that "the summer program will be a major step in developing an outstanding lacrosse program in Westfield. With the caliber of athletes Westfield develops in every sport, in a few years Westfield lacrosse teams should be challenging the best teams in the state." Coach Cherewich also emphasized that parent, booster and town support has been high and growing. "Support from parents and the town have to be one of the major reasons for the many athletic accomplishments in Westfield. Nowhere have I seen such avid support."

RJHS Girls End at 7-1

The Roosevelt girls softball team ended a successful first varsity season with a 7-1 record, losing only to Summit.

In the last game of the season, the girls played an exciting game against a strong Cranford team, and defeated them 17-16. Kelly Butchart pitched in relief and allowed only four runs in six innings, with nine strikeouts. Alison Harley made an outstanding running catch in right field to stop a Cranford rally, and Lynn Tomforhrde stabbed a ball while playing third base to save the game for the club. Sue Fontana played a great game at short.

All the Roosevelt players hit well, punching singles into Cranford fielding holes. Liz Wagner had a great day at the plate, and Lori Fontana led the hitting attack with two triples and a double.

The girls who contributed to the last, outstanding varsity game were Alison Harley, Lynn Tomfohrde, Elizabeth Wagner, Sue Fontana, Karen Muldoon, Lori Fontana and Kelly Butchart.

Other members of the Roosevelt team were Pam Kraft, Denise Comby, Heidi Anderson, Ann Bousquet, Aliza Marcus, LuAnne Ierardi, Debbie Plantikow and Missy Wolff.

Javonne McMoore and Kathy Wagner helped manage the Roosevelt team.

To Attend Skating School this Summer

Several Westfield residents will participate in a nine-week 15-hour-a-day ice skating workshop this summer being conducted this summer by Hans Gerschwiler, 1947 world champion and Olympic silver medalist, at the Florham Park Ice Palace.

They are Kirsten Anderson of 140 Brightwood Ave., Pamela Chicella of 242 Scotch Plains Ave., Jodie Price of 29 Summit Ct., Elisa Scheurman of 623 Dorain Rd., and Christopher Spahr of 715 Forest Ave.

About 1,300 to 1,500 dogs are expected to be entered in Union County Kennel Club's Annual Spring Dog Show, scheduled for tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Warinanco Ice Skating Center in Roselle.

The show, under the direction of Ed Harvey of Jamesburg, will be making its third appearance at Warinanco. It drew 1,100 dogs in its 1975 inaugural, 1,300 entries at last year's outing, and should exceed last year's total, possibly reaching the 1,500 mark this year.

Edison Girls Undefeated

Coach Cal Connolly's Edison Junior High Girls' softball team have an undefeated season through the first seven games.

Its closest game was with Summit, a 12 to 7 victory on May 18. In that game Summit had one big inning, scoring 6 of their 7 runs, but Edison held the strong hitting Summit nine scoreless through the last 3 innings, pitcher Bonnie Bell becoming more effective as the game progressed.

The Birds got excellent pitching from Brad Wiener and Steve Garvey, and Wiener and John Monte had key RBI hits. Tom Snyder got a pair of hits. For the Angels Jeff Blatt had a pair of singles and Scott Roes a triple. The big inning for the Orioles was a seven-run fifth inning producing a 9-4 lead at that point.

Giants 6 Pirates 4

Pirate pitchers Mike Murphy and Matt Feigenbaum allowed the high-flying Giants but six hits and between them they struck out 12 batters, but an unusual display of bad fielding cost the Bucs a 6-4 decision. Dave Musell and Terry Gunning shared the Giant hurling duties, and Musell had a perfect day at the plate with a single, double and a pair of walks. Gene Corcoran led the bucs hitters with a pair of singles.

Fran Dick hit a triple and a pair of singles, and Jay Abella drove in two runs with his triple. The pitching effort for the sox was from Ebert, Mike Cauterucci and Pete Bourque. The last came in with one down in the final stanza and struck out the last two, holding the Yanks one run short. The Yanks never gave up, with Dean Luckenbaugh hitting a triple with the bases loaded in the final Yank stanza. Greg Gleason had two hits and pitched great in relief. Batting also for the Yanks were Bruce McLean, Mike Murphy with a trio of hits and Larry Smaracko. In the second, the Angels scored again but the Twins came back with 3 runs to take a 5-2 lead. Striking back with two in the third, the Angels came within one but couldn't catch up. The Twins scored one more in the sixth inning to make their total of 6 runs.

On the mound for the Twins were Jeff Schneider and Kevin Smith, who blanked the Angels for the final three innings.

Cubs 12 Giants 0

The Giants fell from the ranks of the unbeaten as the red hot Cubs trimmed the Giants by a 12-0 count. The Cubs struck quickly by scoring four first inning runs, sparked by Billy Byrne's 2-RBI double. For the next few innings Giant hurler Terry Gunning and Cub pitcher Eric Heinbach were mowing down the other side batters. The Cubs erupted for eight runs in the fifth and sixth to put the game away for Cub reliever Andy Gengos. Byrne knocked in two more with a double, John Cacchione tripled in a pair and Gengos homered to deep center to provide the baby bears with their final scores of the day. Lou Matino went 3 for 4 at the plate for the Cubs and Rich Franco had a pair of hits for the Giants.

Scharf and Chris Nolan again handled the pitching assignments for the Dodgers.

Cubs 6 Braves 2

The Cubs' 6-2 win over the Braves was more of a pitcher's duel than the score suggests. The game was nip-and-tuck until Andy Gengos rapped a homer in the fifth to give the cubs their last trio of runs. Gengos had a perfect day at the plate with a pair of triples added to his mover. Both teams displayed solid infielding, and clutch catches in the Cub outfield by Mike and Timmy Dineen, Eric Heinbach and Jim Clabby saved the Cubs. John McElroy led the Braves hitting with a triple. John Cacchione rapped a homer for the Cubs to give them their go-ahead run.

Twins 13 Senators 5

The Senators jumped out to a three run lead in the top of the first on hits by Mike Padula, Linden Hu and Jamie Moore. But the Twins countered with 3 runs in their half of the inning on Barry Farbstein's hit with the bases loaded and Billy O'Herrons steal of home. The pitching of Dave Faris and Chris Nolan sparked the victorious "boys in blue." At the plate, Kevin Henry's second inning triple brought home two tallies. Charlie Scharf accounted for two singles. Faris and Pete Strawbridge picked up the two remaining hits. "G.B." Kolker at third also played sparkling baseball. The Dodgers had jumped out to a 5-0 lead after 3½ innings, but three tallies by the Cards tightened up the game.

Arnold Still Singles Titlist

By Pete Lewis

The first set ended in a nine point sudden death tie breaker. McManigal forced the tie breaker after rallying from a 5-4 deficit in games. He took a 4-3 lead and had set point but double faulted. A fine placement by Arnold turned the tables, gave him the set, and ended McManigal's threat.

Arnold hit a horde of passing shots and McManigal's mistakes were more numerous as Arnold cruised through the second set 6-0 for the match.

The champ had to go three sets in the semis to get by Walt Robinson 5-7, 6-4, 6-1. McManigal also had a tough time, needing three sets to stop Bill Montwid 7-6, 2-6, 6-2. Bill Rudnick was the consolation winner. He beat Joe Kelly in a marathon match 6-4, 7-5.
