Residents Express Concern About 4-4-4 School Plan

Westfield residents had their first chance Tuesday night to react formally to the long-range school needs study released last week when Superintendent Laurence F. Greene recommended closing of four elementary schools by 1982 and implementing a 4-4-4 organization of instruction, at a special meeting of the Board of Education.

Many residents who spoke at the meeting expressed concern over the sociological impact of the 4-4-4 organization, questioning the desirability of placing fifth graders in the same school with eighth graders. "There's no magic answer to organization of instruction," said Dr. Greene who cited other alternatives to his recommendations such as closing a junior high and leaving the elementary schools intact. He added that Mountaineer employs a middle school concept with K-3 in the elementary schools and 4-8 in the middle school.

He emphasized that the 4-4-4 organization and other aspects of his long-range plan represent only recommendations, released early so that the public will have the chance to participate in the decisions. It is hoped that this community input will be facilitated by a series of 11 town meetings to be held at each school between late January and April of this year. Dr. Greene will be present at each meeting to summarize briefly his recommendations and then hear from the public.

A fact sheet, outlining the major points of the long-range study, will be mailed to every household in Westfield, in addition to a special mailing to some 75 "key communicators" organizations with a cover letter indicating that Dr. Greene will be available to speak to these groups if they desire.

Board members also discussed a tentative time line for action on the recommendations. At the board's regular business meeting next Tuesday, it is expected that the board will vote on a motion to allow Dr. Greene to "proceed to explore" his recommendation to close two schools by 1980 and to seek alternative uses for extra school buildings.

After the series of town meetings -- sometime in May according to the proposed time line -- old and new board members will meet to review the recommendations. The time line sets June of this year for a final decision on which two schools to close if present recommendations are accepted.

The subject of which schools to close did generate a little discussion at the meeting, as one resident cited the ages of the four schools recommended to be closed by 1982, with McKinley the oldest, built in 1908, and Washington, according to the resident, "25 years young."

Because of the dominant concern expressed at the meeting regarding the middle school concept, Dr. Greene concurred that more information on the concept should be made available to the public. Other concerns registered by residents were noted by community relations committee chairperson Betty Kopf so that they may be explored and discussed at the meetings scheduled over the next few months.

Board Approves Tentative $15.6 Million School Budget

A tentative budget of $15,602,897 representing a 7.08 per cent increase over last year was given approval at Tuesday night's special meeting of the Board of Education.

Board members emphasized that the budget is only tentative and represents the maximum amount of what can be spent under present state caps on spending and state aid.

Salaries for all personnel increased by $569,493 or 5.1 per cent, represent the largest increase in the proposed budget. Other large increases are proposed for building maintenance, to be increased by $198,582, and insurance, with an expected increase of $125,204.

The tax rate for schools is up 20 points, with $3.04 for every $100 of assessed valuation. Last year the school tax rate was $2.84. The total assessed value of homes in Westfield has increased by $2 million. The amount to be raised by taxation is up by about $1 million.

Estimated revenues from state aid are $2,317,692. Last year state aid totaled $2,304,623. The allocation under the state aid formula is expected to decrease by $205,257. Transportation and

Meetings to Explain Future School Needs

"Town Meetings" at which School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene will present his long-range plans and hear and record community input for presentation to the Westfield Board of Education have been planned Jan. 24 through Feb. 28.

The "town meetings", to which all citizens are welcome, are scheduled for 8 p.m. "We are earnestly seeking feedback from all aspects of the community," said Dr.

Greene. "We want to hear from staff members, senior citizens, students, parents, taxpayers and the business community."

The meetings are open to the public. "If you cannot attend the meeting scheduled in your neighborhood, please attend one of the other meetings," the superintendent stated in appealing to citizens to attend the meetings.

At each meeting, Dr. Greene will present his long-range plan.

Schools Closed

Monday

Westfield's 11 public schools and the administration building will be closed on Monday in observance of Martin Luther King Day.

The school system will resume at the usual time on Tuesday, Jan. 16.

School Board Directive Due

The Westfield Board of Education will hold its regular formal business meeting for January at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the board room at the 302 Elm St. administration building.

On the agenda is a board vote to direct School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene to seek alternative uses for six elementary school buildings in the community and to begin plans to close two elementary schools by September 1980. The Board of Education is not scheduled for a formal vote on closing two schools until June, 1979. Which two schools may be closed will not be decided by the school board until that date.

These are two of five recommendations in a long-range study of school

Future Needs Report Available at Schools

A copy of the 63-page "Report of the Future Needs Advisory Committee" has been placed in each school building. In the Westfield Memorial Library and in the administration building for interested citizens to see the report.

"It is not possible to make copies of the report for everyone who would like one; however, we have placed a copy of the report in 13 locations throughout the community so that anyone who is interested in reading the report can do so," said School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene.

The report was prepared by a citizens committee of a dozen volunteers who have expertise in banking, finance, real estate and engineering. The committee was formed last May to study 10 school buildings to help determine their structural conditions, operating costs and alternate uses. The committee, under the chairmanship of Walter Eckhart, was formed by the Westfield Board of Education with the cooperation of Mayor Alexander M. Williams. The committee was not asked to make decisions about closing any elementary school building. The committee studied each elementary school building, Columbus School and the Elm Street administration building in terms of age, size, location, construction, mechanical systems, predicted life of the building, projected renovation needs and building operating costs.

Apartment Zones Scrapped in New Code

Controversial garden apartment zones on both north and south sides of Westfield have been deleted from a completely-rewritten zoning code introduced at a meeting of the Town Council Tuesday night.

The code, which will be subject to public hearing before final action at the Jan. 23 session of council, is mandated by the State of New Jersey under its relatively new land use law, and must be adopted by the governing body prior to Feb. 1.

The council is expected to meet in joint session next Wednesday with members of the Planning Board, whose adopted land use element differs from the ordinance, in an attempt to resolve differences and explain council's views on the amended code.

Highlights of the proposed zoning act, according to Councilman Ronald Frigerio, are:

- +Deletion of the RM-2 zones (garden apartments);
- +Expanded definitions to avoid confusion;
- +Requirement of site plan review when utilization is modified;
- +Additional restrictions on roomers and boarders;
- +Additional restrictions on professional use, including distance requirements between some kinds of professionals;
- +Restrictions on basement utilization;
- +Restoration of non-conforming use limited by time;

- +Requirements for posting of bonds for all projects involving public improvements under site plan or sub-division variances;
- +Increased side yard and total area, respectively, for RS100 and RS150 (residential) zones;
- +Requirements for zone and building permits.

Also approved unanimously by the council at its session Tuesday night was an 18-month agreement with the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association. Retroactive to July 1, the pact provides a 10.9 percent increase package of wage and fringe benefits. The latter includes an additional paid holiday and increased medical insurance.

A spokesman for residents in the Livingston St.-Windsor Ave. area were advised that the town attorney and building official will ascertain conditions and possible violations of a variance on property occupied by the MG Auto Body shop in the neighborhood. The Concerned Citizens of Windsor Ave. and Livingston St. presented a long documented plea against violations which they claim impair their property rights.

Robert Miller of 615 Fourth Ave., complained of lack of police cooperation in his concerns about parking violations in the area by a

100 Sherwood Pkwy. Residents Oppose Dead-Ending of Street

A contingent of Sherwood Parkway area residents who oppose dead-ending the street on the Mountaineer line presented a petition against a proposal to close the street to Planning Board members at an organizational meeting Monday night.

Neale Hooley of 550 Sherwood Parkway presented the opposition's petition which he said contained some 100 signatures representing 50 homes in the area. He cited a previous traffic survey indicating that traffic on Sherwood Parkway was light and added that rerouting could create problems for Oak and Kimball Ave. residents and school children who use Sherwood Parkway as an access road.

Because of insufficient information, no action was taken by the board on the barrier requested in December by some residents who feel a barrier is necessary to curb heavy traffic and speeding on the street. Newly-elected Planning Board Chairman Joseph F. Dooley read a letter from Fire Chief Norman J. Ruerup stating that he forsores no problems from an operational standpoint that a cul-de-sac might impose. The board has not yet received any traffic studies from the police department, however, which the planners feel are necessary before making any recommendation to Town Council. Mayor Allen Chin added that county and state involvement is needed before any change in the status of the street can be made.

The planners also heard the appeal of Anthony Mormile to construct an auto repair garage at 401-413 South Elmer St. In addition to approving the site plan, the board must also rule on a variance because the lot is sub-standard.

Though Mormile, lot owner Frank Caldora and real estate agent James Buccola assured board members that the exterior of the garage would be colonial and argued that the triangular shape of the lot creates a hardship, the board voted unanimously to postpone action until a better plan, including spe-

Police Locate Car Stolen After Fatal Stabbing Here

Police have located the car stolen from the scene of the murder of 31-year-old Glen Turner at his home on 312 Livingston St. early Friday morning.

Westfield Police Chief James Moran said the car, a 1979 grey Cadillac, was located in Brooklyn, N.Y. on Tuesday. Police had been searching for the car, owned by the victim's mother, Mrs. Ruth Gissendanner, since Turner was found dead about 6:30 a.m. in the bedroom of his home, the victim of multiple stab wounds.

Four Westfield police officers responded to the call from Mrs. Gissendanner on Friday after she had been awakened by the sound of a car being driven away and then discovered her son's body.

Chief Moran said that police are working very hard on the case, and more leads have been developed. The investigation is being conducted by Detective Sgt. William Muth.

The victim was employed for the last three years as a laboratory assistant at Ortho Diagnostics in Raritan and lived at home with his mother and stepfather.

Need to Dispose of Christmas Tree?

What to do with your Christmas tree now that it's been stripped of its holiday trimmings? One thing Westfield residents should not do is put the trees out at curbside. If you're not planning on cutting off the branches to use as a winter mulch in the garden, take the tree to Tamaques Park. The Conservation Center is closed until April, but the Westfield Department of Public Works has set up a special Christmas tree recycling station in the back parking lot at the park, the one near the picnic area. Discarded evergreens should be brought there and not left to roll around at curbside.

"Students and faculty members have enjoyed the course and are delighted to have an opportunity to share their excitement and learning about the Renaissance with other students," said student producer, Maddy Rhum. "There will be dramatizations, music, dance, art slides and skits designed to present the

Spec. Hospital Accredited

Children's Specialized Hospital on New Providence Road has been awarded the Certificate of Accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH). It was announced today by Paul C. Bosland, president of the board of managers.

The two-year accreditation was achieved following a thorough survey of the hospital by a professional survey team, Bosland said. The rehabilitation facility for physically handicapped youngsters was evaluated on the basis of information gained from questionnaires, and an on-site visit.

The accreditation program assists hospitals in pursuing a higher quality of health care through education, self-evaluation and consultation. The JCAH is a private, non-profit organization whose primary purpose is to promote high quality in providing health care and related human services.

Children's Specialized Hospital, founded in 1891, is planning a formal dedication of its new 60-bed patient wing and renovated facilities in the old building, which has allowed it to expand its pediatric rehabilitation services to inpatients and a growing number of outpatients, according to Bosland.

Fun Clubs Provide Vacation Activities

Children in first to sixth grade are invited to "vacation" at the Westfield YMCA, where Vacation Fun Clubs have been running for several years at the "Y" for boys and girls ages 6-12. The Fun Clubs run during the November vacation for the NJEA teachers convention, Christmas vacation, mid-winter vacation and spring vacation.

"Instead of being bored during a vacation, the Vacation Fun Club gives children the opportunity to have a well-rounded program of activities while being able to make new friends," said Claudia Clanton, director of the Fun Club.

The Vacation Fun Clubs have a variety of gym activities: Floor hockey, soccer, kickball, trampoline and tumbling. Arts and crafts projects include working with clay and ceramics, craft sticks and paper mache. Children participate in recreational swimming as well as playing games and watching Experienced counselors and Red Cross certified advanced life-savers supervise the children in their activities from 9:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. A snack and beverage is provided during the morning and time is provided for the participants to eat a lunch brought from home. The program has been judged as "quite successful" in the past and usually there is a waiting list of people who want to attend. Various special events are scheduled from time to time to give the children a great time in their Fun Club programming. Last year, one of the Vacation Fun Clubs took a special trip to the Morris Museum of Arts and Sciences. Star Variables Astronomers' Topic

"Variable Stars" will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the Amateur Astronomers, Inc., to be held at Union College at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 19.

Speaker for the public lecture will be Dr. Ellen Dorrit Hoffleit, senior research astronomer emeritus at Yale University. According to George Chaplenko of Edison, AA1 president, Dr. Hoffleit will discuss the many kinds of variations in brightness undergone by some stars.

Recently retired as director of the Maria Mitchell Observatory at Nantucket, Dr. Hoffleit holds three degrees from Radcliffe College, including a doctorate in astronomy. She was associated with the Harvard College Observatory as research associate from 1929 to 1956. Dr. Hoffleit has been a lecturer at Wellesley, a technical expert in the ballistic research laboratory at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, and research associate and observer at Yale University. In 1976 she was an astronomer adjunct at the Astronomical Observatory of the Pasteur Institute in Strasbourg, France.

A recipient of the Distinguished Achievement Award from Radcliffe in 1964, Dr. Hoffleit is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Meteorological Society, the International Astronomical Union and the American Astronomical Society. She is a past president of the American Association of Variable Star Observers.

Listed in the current edition of "Men and Women in Science," Dr. Hoffleit's fields of research include variable stars, stellar spectra, proper motions, meteors and galactic structure.

Hardwick to Address RCAC

Westfield's own Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-20th Dist.) will address the Republican Conservative Action Club of Union County on state legislative concerns in 1979. The meeting will be held at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 18, at the Woman's Club of Westfield, 318 South Euclid Ave., and the public is invited.

As a Republican, Hardwick, who was elected in 1977, forms part of a small opposition to the Democrat majority in the State Legislature. While the party lacks the power to move legislation, it can at least offer ways to hold the line on spending.

Hardwick was the first GOP newcomer to have a bill passed by his Assembly colleagues, and was the only minority party member in either house named to chair a sub-committee in the 1978 session. His achievements include the introduction of a teen-age drinking bill to prohibit off-premises sales of liquor to those under 21; a proposed N.J. Constitutional amendment providing for orderly succession to the governorship by converting the Secretary of State post to that of Lt. Governor; and legislation giving New Jersey citizens the rights of initiative and referendum so successful in other states following California's Proposition 13.

Hardwick's involvement in the community has been exemplified by his presidency of Calvary Lutheran Church, Cranford and his service on the Union County Welfare Board in 1973 and 1974.

Louis B. Marino of Fanwood, RCAC president who will conduct the meeting, has noted that "all too many voters focus their attention on the national and international scene, and forget the state arena in which so many vital decisions are made. Typical are the repugnant state income tax and the misbegotten new Criminal Code rushed through last fall under which a wife may sue her husband for rape. We need to turn our eyes toward Trenton, and here is a fine chance to do so."

Brass Rubbings on Display

An exhibit of English brass rubbings will be on display at Cannonball House Museum, Scotch Plains, from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday. The rubbings were made by Barbara Hooper the two years she lived in England when her husband's job took them to London in 1968. Mrs. Hooper, a Scotch Plains resident, said that when she arrived in London the hobby of "brass rubbing" was at its height and she soon found many friends who were more than willing to teach her the art. In her two years abroad, Mrs. Hooper made approximately 60 rubbings from 15 different churches in and around London.

The first brass rubbing she made was a 1597 mural of a civilian and his wife from St. Margaret's church in Westminster. That rubbing sparked her enthusiasm and she then purchased books and pamphlets which would inform her about the history and the techniques of rubbing.

First of all, says Mrs. Hooper, it is imperative to obtain permission from the church vergers and pay the small fee charged for rubbing. The fee is based on the size and condition of the brass and the popularity of the brass. Mrs. Hooper preferred using paper with a high rag content, either white, black or gold. After taping the paper to the brass she rubbed the paper with "heelbell" wax using even pressure and a smooth motion.

One of the most popular old brasses is the one of Sir Thomas Bullen, father to Anne Boleyn, second wife of Henry VIII. This brass dates back to 1538 and was on the top of a crypt. The figure is about six feet long. The inscription reads, "Here lieth Sir Thomas Bullen Knight of the Order of the Garter Erle of Wilscher and Erle of Ormundo wiche deceased the 12 dai of Marche in the iere of our Lord 1538." Sir Thomas indeed does wear a garland on which the latin inscription translated reads, "evil be to him who evil thinks." His feet rest on a griffin, a mythological animal.

Mrs. Hooper says that the brasses most often depict wealthy people... landowners, churchmen, knights and government figures. A great deal of English history may be learned from brass rubbings. One of Mrs. Hooper's rubbings which hangs over the piano in her living room, depicts a family group, the husband and wife with children between them. High in the background is the pieta and there are other Christian symbols evident. The inscription underneath has been partially erased. This occurred during the reformation when Cromwell came into power. He considered the prayers a form of idolatry and had them removed from the brasses. The inscription originally read, "Of yours charitis praye for the soules of Andrew Ewyngar citizen and salter of London and Elyn his wyffe on whose soule Jesu have mercy Amen."

Rubbing brasses sometimes took a bit of ingenuity. Kneeling on the cold marble floors or churches and balancing atop ancient crypts proved hard on the knees. Many of the "rubbings" brought along small pillows or even their son's used football pads to cushion the knee joints. Church vicars frowned on the artists borrowing kneeling pads from the pews. In cold months the heelball wax would tend to "harden up." In order to insure smooth flowing wax the secret was to bring along several sticks of wax, and, while using one, keep the others snug and warm inside a sweater pocket. Nowadays brass rubbing is done in a brass rubbing center rather in churches.

Tax Manual Easier to Read

If you are one of those people who has had to fight your way through the tax return instructions each year in order to prepare your federal income tax return, you'll be pleased to learn that help is at hand.

This year's instructions have been thoroughly revised using methods recommended by a readability expert. As a result, the instructions are easier to read and contain as little jargon as possible. Some of the changes include shorter sentences, simpler words, and a less cluttered look featuring a format that corresponds line for line with the return. Because information is presented as it can be used by the taxpayer, the need for cross-referencing and flipping back and forth is minimized.

Form 1040 users will find that besides a new format for instructions, the form itself is somewhat different in appearance from last year, but the line items are the same.

Town attorney Charles H. Brandt cited some of the significant changes in the new zoning ordinance which must be acted upon by Feb. 1, among them, the deletion of the controversial multi-family zones initially recommended by the planners and later opposed by town councilmen. Brandt will discuss the ordinance more fully when he meets again with the Planning Board on Wednesday.

Future Needs Report

Advisory Committee report is a valuable tool, filled with facts about our schools," said Superintendent Laurence F. Greene.

"They have done a fine job and I would like to express my appreciation to them on behalf of the School Board, Town Council, and entire community for their valuable volunteer service."

The committee report includes lists of possible alternate uses of the 10 buildings in accordance with zoning ordinances, building codes and future needs of the town.

Working with chairman Walter Eckhart were the following committee members:

School Budget

building program funds from state also will decrease, but monies allocated for atypical programs will increase by $244,807.

According to state law, the tentative school budget is due at the County Superintendent's office by Jan. 15 for approval.

Sullivan stated: "$150,000 has been placed in the maintenance account but will not be spent unless there is a dire emergency. This money has been earmarked to help finance a capital improvement program that will be offered later to the voters for approval. The advantage of this type of budgeting is to protect future school budgets against an ever-decreasing cap imposed by the State."

To support the proposed tentative school budget for 1979-80, local property taxpayers will be asked to increase their property taxes for schools 7.04 percent. This is an increase of 20 points in the tax rate for schools, from $2.84 per hundred dollars of assessed property tax valued to $3.04 per hundred dollars of assessed property value.

The school board will hold a formal public hearing on the proposed budget on Mar. 6 at Edison Junior High School.

In the meantime, board members have agreed to meet with any interested citizens or organizations in Westfield to discuss the proposed tentative budget.

Westfield Board of Education members have offered to be invited by citizens and community groups to attend meetings at which school board members will discuss the proposed tentative $15 million school budget for 1979-80.

"If any citizens or groups of citizens are interested in receiving further information or in asking questions about the proposed tentative budget, we would be happy to arrange for a board member to meet with them," said Board President Thomas F. Sullivan.

"In seeking community support for the schools, we recognize that the community needs to be informed and involved," he continued.

Any group of citizens or organizations in Westfield interested in having a school board member discuss the budget with them can make arrangements by telephoning the school-community relations office, 654-6400, or board community information chairwoman, Betty Kopf.

Hardwick's First Law Signed, Provides Organ Donors Cards

A bill designed to save the lives and restore the sight of thousands of New Jerseyans has been signed into law by Governor Brendan Byrne.

Authored by Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) of Westfield, the bill will provide an organ donor's card on all New Jersey driver's licenses, the first document police and ambulance attendants check in accidents or illness which might result in an organ donation.

Object is to create the pool of 5,000,000 potential organ donors needed just to supply needed lifesaving kidney donations as well as corneas, hearts and other organs.

Representatives of the Lions Club, Ruth Gottscho Kidney Foundation and Union County Surrogate Walter Ulrich, who have urged passage of the bill, attended the bill signing in the Governor's Office.

"Today there's a dramatic increase in the demand for organ and tissue transplants," Hardwick told the Governor as the bill was signed.

"More than 9,000 Americans who could be saved by kidney transplants die each year for lack of kidney donors, yet many valuable organs and tissues are buried every day," he said.

In New Jersey and New York alone more than 600 people await life-and-death kidney transplants. Some wait 10 years because of the shortage of organs. Many die before an organ becomes available.

"Thousands doomed just a few years ago to hopeless blindness could see with a cornea transplant - 200 are needed today in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

"The driver's license is the ideal vehicle for procuring organs for two reasons. Vital organs such as kidneys must be removed within 60 minutes after death and transplanted within 72 hours.

"Corneas must be removed within four to six hours.

"The driver's license, immediately checked in the case of accident, thus becomes the best source of retrievable organs."

The organ donor card, attachable to the license, will now be provided with every new driver's license. Hardwick pointed out that signing and attachment of the uniform donor card is "completely voluntary" and designed to be removable at any time.

Hardwick's daughter, Ginger, a Cornell University sophomore, attended the signing of her father's first law.

"Joy" is a New Fitness Program

The Westfield YMCA has announced registration for a new women's fitness program entitled "Joy," designed for "fun, fitness and variety" including elements of music, dance, choreographed routines, floor exercise, modern gymnastics, relaxation techniques and cardiovascular workouts and an opportunity to use individual variations.

Joy, as defined by Webster's Dictionary, is a feeling of happiness that comes from success, good fortune, or a sense of well-being.

The "Joy" program at the Westfield YMCA will help develop the individual's feeling of well-being, which may in turn affect that person's outlook on life, according to Y officials, who contend that a fit person has the energy and strength to meet the demands of work and play, with vitality to spare.

Classes begin this week. The morning class meets Monday and Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:15 a.m., the afternoon classes on Monday and Wednesday from 1 to 1:45 p.m., and the evening classes on Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 7:45 p.m.

More information is available from Donna Brown, physical director and instructor for "Joy."

SAT Prep Series at Y

An intensive "High Scores" workshop to prepare students for the Scholastic Aptitude Test will be offered through the Fanwood-Scotch Plains YMCA at its Grant St. facility in Scotch Plains. The workshop will be held from 7-9 p.m. on Jan. 15, 17, 22, 24 and will end Jan. 25 in time for students planning to take the Jan. 27 or Mar. 31 S.A.T.

"High Scores" is a copyrighted method designed to help students review basic concepts in the mathematics and verbal areas and then apply the concepts to model test questions. Students will also be directed in discovering their optimal test-taking pace.

Eugene P. Shapiro, director of High Scores, is a college guidance advisor at a high school who has conducted S.A.T. workshops at Rutgers University and colleges and community centers throughout New Jersey. He holds a master's degree from Clark University and was awarded two national teaching grant awards from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C.

Participants may register directly at the YMCA in Scotch Plains.

To Observe King Day Tomorrow

The Awareness Club of WHS won't let the school forget Martin Luther King Day as it presents their assembly tomorrow. The assembly will begin at 10:55, the beginning of fifth period. Andra Monroe, president of the club, will be the keynote speaker and will introduce the program. The program will be a Black, 40 member choir from Wiquaeth High School of Newark. The club feels it would be good for the school to be exposed to a large number of blacks working together.

Andrea summed up her feelings of Martin Luther King Day and the purpose of the assembly in saying, "It is an important day that should be recognized because Martin Luther King brought everyone together."

The purpose of the club itself is to make the student body aware of the accomplishments of the minorities. The Awareness club does this by raising money for the community centers. They had two discos earlier this year and one coming up this March along with a dinner in spring in order to raise this money.

The club also honors Black History Week Feb. 12-17. Exhibits, speakers and other activities will be featured each day of the week, as well as a black career day.

Volunteers Key To Nursing Services

The Visiting Nurse and Health Services, voluntary, non-profit home health care agency, provides services in homes, schools, child health conferences and clinics. It employs a full-time staff of registered nurses, home health aides and support personnel and it contracts with professional physical and speech therapists. Yet, according to VNHS Executive Director Rosemary Cuccaro, the job of effectively performing services for people in 15 Union County communities would be next to impossible without the help of dozens of volunteers who put in thousands of hours each year.

According to the VNHS' last annual report, board members and interested citizens contributed 4,557 hours of volunteer time in 1977, and that number increased substantially in 1978. Volunteer efforts were largely responsible for sizeable increases in the number of home visits as well as peripheral community health services.

Designs Banner For Hospital's 100th

Sarah Robinson of Westfield, a member of Elizabeth General Hospital's community mental health center staff and a freelance artist, has designed a 36-foot Centennial banner which will be hung on the hospital facing East Jersey St. during the institution's year-long celebration marking its 100 years of service.

The celebration will officially get underway with a part at Newark International Airport Wednesday.

A variety of other educational, social and fundraising events also are planned to commemorate the anniversary of the seven-story, 373-bed facility.

Lincoln School resource teacher Miss Jane Marsac directed her students in the production of a newspaper published just prior to the December holidays. Each child composed one story, picture or word hunt for the paper, then helped reproduce enough copies for each classmate. Shown making copies are, front to back, Elaine Connor, James Gray and Daria Spain.

Local Budget Time Again

Officials in New Jersey's 567 municipalities, 21 counties, and more than 600 school districts are now busily at work on one of their most critical jobs, formulation of the annual budget. Westfield is no exception.

Citizens and citizen organizations concerned about governmental spending and taxes should also be planning for their annual review of various local budgets. First official notice of budget introduction will be news stories followed by advertisements of annual budgets and notices of hearings in local newspapers. In these days of mounting costs frequently accompanied by higher taxes, citizens should study the information provided, attend the hearings, avail themselves of the opportunity to learn about how their tax dollars are spent, and offer comments on the proposed spending programs.

The budget cycle in school districts starts in December with Department of Education notification to districts of the amount of State aid they are due to receive the following year. The recently enacted new school budget timetable provides for later dates for various stages in the budget timetable. Introduction of the tentative Westfield school budget took place Tuesday night. Publication of the proposed budget and notice of the public hearing on all school budgets must be at least seven days before the hearing. Latest dates for budget adoption are also fixed by law. School elections for the Westfield district will be held Apr. 3.

If voters reject the school property tax requirement (levy), the budget goes to the municipal governing body or bodies for review within two days and the decision on the levy must be made by Apr. 18. If a school board disagrees with the municipal governing body's decision, it may appeal the tax levy amount to the Commissioner of Education within 20 days after municipal certification to the County Tax Board.

The timetable for New Jersey's municipalities and counties, unlike that for school districts, does not require adoption of the annual budget until the fiscal year is well underway. Municipalities may be nearly three months into the year with only a temporary budget. Earliest date for municipal adoption is Jan. 29; latest date is Mar. 20. Newspaper publication of the budget must be at least 10 days before the hearing and final adoption must wait until at least 28 days after introduction.

Counties operate under a somewhat shorter budget timetable than municipalities. Latest date for initial approval is Jan. 26. Latest date for adoption is Feb. 26.

New Jersey municipalities, counties and school districts are subject to expenditure limitations called "caps." Each of the three levels of local units is subject to a different formula. A municipality is permitted an increase in total general appropriations, with various allowable modifications, of 5 percent over the previous year's level. Counties have a similar limitation, except that is based on property taxes needed to finance the budget. The school limitation is based on a complex formula which results in widely varying per pupil dollar increases among school districts.

A municipal governing body wishing to exceed the cap must have approval by a majority of municipal voters voting on the additional amount at a special referendum. In such cases, the budget timetable must be speeded up since the referendum must take place within 30 days of adoption of the governing body's referendum resolution, but not earlier than Feb. 23, nor later than Mar. 5. For this special situation, at least 12 days must pass between the time the budget is published and the referendum held. In 1978, 14 municipalities had "cap" referenda. Voter approval was given in only 4.

Budget balancing without increasing property taxes may be particularly difficult for many governing bodies to accomplish in the year ahead unless drastic service reductions can be made. With reduction of Federal aid to municipalities in anti-recession funds, with potential loss of State school aid and some municipal aid, with threat of further inflation, taxpayers face a choice of higher taxes or reduced services. Accordingly, they should avail themselves of every opportunity to become informed about, and to express opinions on budgets for the new year.

POOR REPRESENTATION

Editor, Leader:
The Union County Solid Waste Advisory Council held its monthly meeting on Dec. 27 at the County complex on North Avenue in Westfield. The Council resolutely continues its task of reviewing alternative solutions to the problem of waste disposal in Union County. I am dismayed, however, at the lack of participation of the majority of the municipalities. With the exception of perhaps nine communities who consistently attend, most of the twenty one towns haphazardly send representation and many have not attended at all.

Garbage is a problem we all share. We can recover valuable materials, we can generate steam and electricity, but we cannot continue to landfill. Ask your mayor who your Representative is! Do you want other communities to decide the fate of your town?

Editor, Leader:

I removed my Christmas decorations early this year. Today (Dec. 29), in fact, The reason for this is that someone rode by bike across my lawn last night after I had gone to bed and stole 24 of my Christmas tree lights. I find it so hard to believe that anyone, young or old, would do such a thing. The lack of respect for other people's property is appalling.

It may be more satisfying to the thief to know I was in tears.

12TH DISTRICT - NEW JERSEY

Report from Washington

The steady increase in employment in New Jersey to a record of 3,365,000 men, women and teenagers is one of the more encouraging economic trends. Unfortunately, the employment figures receive much less attention in the daily press than the gloomier forecasts of unemployment and recession.

The drop in unemployment in New Jersey for the third quarter to 5.4 percent of the adult work population 20 and over mirrors the national decline in joblessness. This comes at a time when the working population continues to increase with large numbers of women and teenagers joining the job market.

We have, in short, achieved a remarkable turnaround since the recession with more than 95 million Americans employed, the highest in our nation's history. Almost 60 percent of the nation's working age population has a job. Most of these gains in the past two years have occurred in labor intensive service industries, rather than in manufacturing.

Help wanted advertisements, which are an indicator of a tightening labor market, also have been rising. Indeed, many employers complain they are unable to fill vacancies because food stamps, unemployment benefits, welfare and other forms of tax-free public assistance have made non-work more attractive for those at the bottom of the wage scale.

The tightness in the labor market will make it difficult for the Carter Administration to keep wage rates from rising as fast, or faster, than they have over the last two years, let alone achieve the Administration's stated goal of a lower rate of increase in wages.

Not long ago, economic analysts in private industry and government felt that a jobless rate of 4 percent represented full employment, but the prevailing definition is pegged at an unemployment level of between 5 and 5.5 percent. The upward revisions stem mainly from the brisk rate of growth of the nation's labor force, plus structural changes that include a greater number of teenage workers and more women seeking jobs. There are always workers in the process of changing jobs, training for new positions, or relocating from one area of the country to another. These workers are counted among the unemployed.

In addition, there has been a marked increase in the number of secondary wage earners in recent years. About 60 percent of the nation's working husbands and 90 percent of the working wives have their incomes supplemented by another family member who holds a job.

What all this should tell economists and the public in general is that the official unemployment figure, which has a political punch all its own, does not mean what most people think it means. One thing it does not mean is that 6 percent of the labor force is unable to find work. The fact is that only about 3.5 percent of the family breadwinners are unemployed today.

But the official government figures no longer focus on adult heads of household, who are now no more than two-fifths of our labor force. The other three-fifths are dependents holding second jobs. The unemployment figures also include people who are officially retired but are available for part-time work; millions of teenagers not yet burdened with family responsibilities; unemployed people registered for "employment" in order to qualify for welfare and food stamps; and a sizeable number of full-time students available for part-time work only.

Dumping all these workers into the unemployment mix gives a distorted picture of real unemployment. This is not to say that dependents do not have to work. But our economists and the media should at least give us an accurate picture of the unemployment situation before Congress comes under pressure from various groups to again stimulate the economy.

To correct this situation, I have asked Labor Secretary Raymond Marshall to have the Bureau of Labor Statistics develop a more accurate formula for computing unemployment among U.S. citizens capable and willing to work a minimum of a 30-hour week. Aliens, both legal and illegal; Social Security recipients; chronic welfare cases who are judged unemployable; persons in school or job training programs; and seasonal workers who average less than a 30 hour week should not be lumped into the national unemployment rate. They are different from those who must work full-time in order to support themselves and their dependents.

The familiar saga of the gingerbread man was enacted recently by first graders at Beechwood School, Mountainside, followed by a feast of a gingerbread man baked under the direction of their teacher, Alice Ortolfo. Swim Program At Hospital

Registration is now underway for a recreational swim program for handicapped children to be held at Children's Specialized Hospital on New Providence Rd., it was announced this week.

The 10-week program is open to handicapped youngsters in the Westfield-Mountainside area. The weekly one-hour sessions will begin Feb. 6 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Registration for the program will be held Monday through Friday from noon to 5 p.m., through Jan. 19, at the hospital on a first come, first serve basis, a spokesman said.

A fee will be charged for the program. A recreational therapist will serve as an instructor and supervisor. Participants will be grouped according to age, ability and handicap, and each child will participate on a one-to-one basis with a qualified swim partner.

Interested persons may contact the recreational therapy department at the hospital.

Regional Board

To Discuss Testing

The Union County Regional High School District No. 1 Board of Education will meet in an adjourned regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Westfield Ave., Clark. Items to be discussed include results of the minimum basic skills testing conducted last year and a report of vocational education.

All residents of the Regional District are invited to attend.

YM Offers Private Swim Lessons

The Westfield YMCA is again offering its private swim lesson program. These lessons feature a maximum of three children per instructor to allow the youngsters to get individualized attention. Many children who are having difficulty mastering a particular skill find that a session of private lessons can provide the extra attention needed for mastering the skill. These classes are offered for beginning and advanced students alike, and meet after-school and Saturday morning times.

Registration is limited for this program, and due to its popularity, early registration is necessary. The YMCA is open for registration Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Further information is available from Claudia Clanton at the YMCA.

Conlin Addresses Houston Conclave

A. Bruce Conlin Jr. of Orchard St., addressed members of the scientific, technical and political communities Monday at the 145th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) in Houston. Often described as the "county fair" of American science, the AAAS meeting is one of the country's major annual scientific events.

Conlin is director of state and local government relations for the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME). He was one of four speakers in a session on state and local science policy mechanisms: "Are There Markets for Science in State and Local Government?" His presentation covered several programs sponsored by engineers and scientists which provide assistance to state legislators.

"A number of trends," said Conlin, "are having a substantial impact on the roles and responsibilities of state legislatures. They have begun to reassert their policy setting roles by strengthening their ability to deal with complex issues with science, engineering and technology (SET) aspects. This has led to a rapidly increasing demand for research information."

This is where technical societies can be most helpful, according to Conlin, who has been developing ASME sponsored programs which provide information to legislators relative to current public issues, such as solar water or space heating systems, coal supplies and research, nuclear power plant siting, waste treatment and disposal, air, water and noise pollution control, etc. The programs encourage engineers to provide information prior to the drafting of bills so that legislation will reflect sound technical knowledge. A graduate of Lehigh University School of Engineering, Conlin spent seven years in engineering with Johns-Manville and GAF. He joined the ASME staff in 1957 where he worked with the technical divisions. Since 1975 he has been responsible for government relations programs, most recently at the state and local levels.

A life-long resident of Westfield, Conlin is a member of ASME, the AAAS, the American Society for Public Administration and an affiliate member of the National Society of Professional Engineers. He is a member of the Science and Technology Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures and Secretary to AISLE, a consortium of 38 professional societies which work with state legislatures.

Sixth Annual 40's Dance Scheduled by Band Parents

Preparations are underway for the sixth annual "Swingin' 40's" dance to be held Saturday, Feb. 3 at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

The Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Michael Davis, band director, will provide music of the 1940's including familiar tunes of the Dorsey's, Benny Goodman and Glenn Miller.

Refreshments, including pretzels, potato chips and coke will be available at a nominal fee. All proceeds will benefit the Westfield High School Marching Band.

Those planning to attend are urged to get into the swing of the event by coming in clothing representative of that decade such as bobby socks, school sweaters, skirts, etc.

As in previous years, reservations for tables of 10 will be taken in advance.

Keeping Out the Winter Cold

By: Carolyn Y. Healey, Senior County Home Economist

Cold air coming in around doors and windows can waste precious heat. The following tips offered by Mrs. Carolyn Y. Healey, Extension Home Economist, will help to keep a house warmer.

Extra rooms should be closed off if they are not in use. This means closing off the radiator or heating vents, pulling the shades down or closing the draperies. Use a "bumper" at the bottom of the door. A bumper can be a rolled up blanket or newspaper or a home-made stuffed roll that will fit snugly along the bottom crack of the door, preventing cooling drafts.

In the living areas of your home, keep the shades down or the drapes pulled on the north and west sides or on the side from which the wind is blowing.

If the sun shines in any of your windows, open the shades or drapes for those windows and gain some extra solar heat, unless your thermostat is also in the sun.

Notice any condensation on the windows. If excess steam or ice clouds the inside window, cold air is leaking in around the storm window or window frame. Check caulking in the summer. In the meantime, use masking tape to hold a sheet of clear plastic over the leaky window to reduce drafts.

If a door is unused and the family could enter and exit through a more protected door, then use masking tape to seal extra doorways just during the cold weather. The masking tape will reduce the draft but still be temporary in case of emergency.

Countdown Begins for Grant School Show

The count-down has begun as Sue and Linn Smith continue their efforts in launching the 1979 Grant School spectacular "Taken For Granted."

Sue, who will again be directing the Grant School Show, is a veteran of the theater world. Raised in a Summit family for theater lovers, she caught the bug at an early age. After majoring in English at Skidmore she returned to the area and joined the Summit Playhouse. She is currently a member of that group for which she has both acted and directed productions.

Linn, a former Fairleigh Dickinson drama major, likes to work backstage where he does a superb job as Grant School's stage manager. The owner of Robert Treat Liquors on Quimby St., he is also president of the Summit Playhouse of which he has been a member for over ten years.

Many work behind the scenes in the coming mysterious production; among them is Finky Luerssen who will serve as assistant to the director.

Suburban Mothers To Host Dads

The Suburban Mothers Of Twins and Triplets will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. at the First National State Bank, Fourth Ave. and Chestnut St., Roselle.

The program will be a Fathers Panel Discussion, featuring members' husbands.

Mothers of multiples are invited to attend. For additional information, contact: Mrs. Karen Sauer, 711 Fourth Ave., Westfield.

The first national women's labor organization established in 1967 was the Daughters of St. Crispin, which consisted of female shoemakers. The union lasted until 1878, according to a Labor Department publication, "Labor Firsts in America."

Dispatcher Aubrey instructs producers Janet Barbin and Kitty Mike in modern police methods; but, is solving the mystery beyond even a 20th century police computer?

Kitty Mike and Janet Barbin will be the producers, and Sam Stone will work on special effects and lighting. With needle in hand Phyllis Gormally, Renate Percival and Pat Benham will design spectacular costumes. Set Designers are Fran Faltermeyer and Ann Wischusen again this year, while Nick Zuchino and his hammering crew will construct the set.

Music is a major ingredient in every Grant School Show and the players are again honored to have Paul Kueter as music director. Bill Shepherd and the Space Travelers will provide instrumental music while Carolyn Klingner-Kueter will again direct the chorus.

Dance, another main ingredient of the show, will be supervised by choreographer Carol Tener and her assistants. Tap dancing and disco dancing numbers will be included.

Other important efforts will be offered by: Peggy Stanzel, props; Betty Anne Schuster, publicity; Pat Sheehy, photography; Pat Mangino, ads; Geri Knudsen, program; Celeste Maucere and Julie Hermon, tickets.

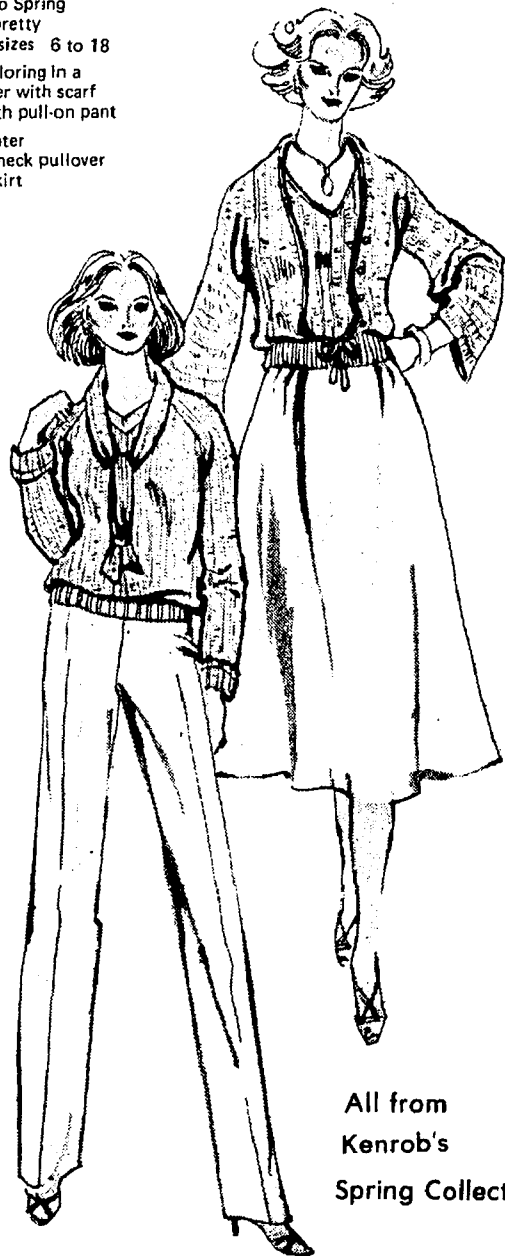

Will fingerprints provide a clue? Producers Kitty Mike and Janet Barbin study the important mystery-solving technique under the able direction of Westfield Police Lieut. Anthony Scutti.

Choral Art Society to Perform Handel Oratorio

The Choral Art Society of New Jersey, under the musical direction of Evelyn Bleeke of Westfield, will open its seventeenth season at 8 Saturday evening, Jan. 20, with the performance of George Frederic Handel's magnificent oratorio "Judas Maccabeus." The concert will be given in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St.

and will feature seven soloists, chamber orchestra, organ, and a 50-voice chorus. Wayne Behr, tenor, a graduate of the Westminster Choir College, Princeton, and currently a member of the Goldovsky Opera Theatre of N.Y., touring numerous American cities, will sing the title role of Judas. Mark Hull, bass-baritone, who has sung lead roles in numerous oratorios, will perform the part of Simon, Judas' brother.

Handel was 61 years old when, in 1746, he composed his oratorio "Judas Maccabeus." The author of the libretto was the celebrated Rev. Thomas Morell, who collaborated with Handel on seven oratorios. The biblical stories of the Maccabees can be found in the books of the Apocrypha.

Handel seized upon an opportunity to celebrate the victory of William, Duke of Cumberland over Charles Edward the Pretender at the battle of Culloden on April 16, 1746. By writing "Judas Maccabeus," he wrote of the celebrated victories of the Israelites over their Syrian enemies, one of which resulted in the observance of Hanukkah, without making direct references to the Duke's battles, thus ensuring the oratorio's timelessness. The oratorio was an immediate success and was performed six times during the first year after its initial presentation. Handel himself conducted the work 38 times in his lifetime. There were many additions to the original manuscript, and some airs and choruses were borrowed from other of his works. The Choral Art Society will sing a special concert edition by Frank Van der Stucken which eliminates some solo portions of the oratorio, but retains all of the choral sections.

Funding for this performance has again been made available by a grant given to the Choral Art Society by the Mobil Foundation, Inc. upon recommendation of the employees of the Mobil Chemical facilities in Plainfield and Edison.

Tickets may be obtained at Jeannette's, 227 East Broad St., or may be purchased at the door the evening of the performance. For further information, contact Mrs. Rita Schnell, at 707 Westfield Ave.

Presided over by President Mrs. Clarence B. Smith Jr., the association luncheon is open to all persons interested in attending. Devotions will be given by Mrs. Charles Holder. Anyone wishing to attend may call Miss Marion Cuddeback for reservations.

Rake and Hoe to Discuss State's Geologic History

"One Billion Years of New Jersey History" will be the subject of The Rake and Hoe Garden Club's meeting at the YWCA on Wednesday, at 12:45 p.m.

Mrs. Ruth Yablonsky will present the program which outlines the geologic history of our state from the time before the dinosaurs, how the rocks were formed, why the mountains are where they are today and the conditions that produced the present day terrain.

Mrs. Yablonsky has earned a B.A. degree in geology from Hunter College in New York and a M.S. degree in geology from the University of Michigan. The field work for her master's thesis was done in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains of Colorado. She taught earth science at the high school level in New York City and geology at Rutgers University in Newark and at Essex County College. Numerous field trips around New Jersey were a popular part of all the curricula.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Carl W. Zeis, Mrs. Maurice E. Lowell, Mrs. Albert J. Sargent and Mrs. J. Wallace Scanlon.

The Community Projects Committee will go to Lyons Veterans Hospital to make bedside arrangements for the patients on Jan. 29, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Grant Risch.

In-person registration for Union College's Spring Semester will be held tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday from 1 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Cranford Campus, according to Patricia Kurisko, director of admissions and records.

Arthritis Telethon Feb. 10

The Saturday Night Fight will once again be aired on WOR-TV, Channel 9. It promises to be a long, hard battle because the opponent is the nation's number one crippling disease - arthritis. The New Jersey Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation will begin its fifth annual Stop Arthritis Telethon on Feb. 10 and continue for 20 consecutive hours.

"More than one million New Jerseyans are affected by arthritis, including over 3,000 children," noted Richard R. Hartman Jr., president of the New Jersey Chapter. "This year we hope to highlight the fact that arthritis affects all age groups - even children. Nationwide, more than 250,000 children have arthritis."

The chapter looks toward the telethon as a major source of funding for its educational, research and patient service programs. Proceeds from the telethon have helped support a juvenile rheumatoid arthritis clinic at Martland Medical Center, Newark, New Jersey and has allowed the establishment of several patient support clubs known as RAP Groups throughout the state.

According to Hartman, the Stop Arthritis Telethon will serve to acquaint millions of viewers in the metropolitan area with the dimensions of the arthritis problem. However, he advises not to wait until the telethon to become more aware of arthritis. For up-to-date information Hartman suggests writing or calling the Arthritis Foundation, New Jersey Chapter, 26 Prospect St. and ask for a free pamphlet, "Arthritis - The Basic Facts."

Reggie Jackson Feature At Hot Stove Dinner

Reggie Jackson, superstar outfielder for the world champion New York Yankees, will head the list of guest speakers at the 43rd annual Hot Stove League Dinner on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 6:30 p.m. This event, sponsored by the Union County Baseball Association in cooperation with the County of Union, Department of Parks and Recreation, will be held at the Town and Campus, Union.

Jackson was born in Wyncote, Pa., the second youngest of seven children, and was a three-sport man at Cheltenham High School. After graduation, he accepted a baseball scholarship in Arizona State University.

During his sophomore year, Jackson hit .327 and set a school record with 15 homers. In 1966, at the end of his sophomore year, he was the Kansas City Athletics' number one draft pick. After less than two years in the minor leagues, he was a starting outfielder with the team now known as the Oakland A's.

Jackson spent eight years playing for Oakland under owner Charles O. Finley. His best year with this team was 1973 when he batted .293 with 28 doubles, two triples, 32 homers, 117 RBIs and 22 stolen bases. He was also named the Most Valuable Player in the American League, the World Series MVP and Player of the Year by Sporting News.

In 1976 he was traded to the Baltimore Orioles where he continued his consistent play and batted .277 with 27 doubles, two triples, 27 homers, and 91 RBIs and 28 stolen bases.

After the 1976 season, Jackson was signed by the New York Yankees in the free agent draft. His first year produced a batting average of .286 with 39 doubles, two triples, 32 homers, and 110 RBIs. In 1978, he batted .274 with 13 doubles, five triples, 27 homers and 97 RBIs.

Jackson will long be remembered for this awesome display of power in the 1977 World Series where he tied Babe Ruth's record of three straight homers in one series game and set a record of his own with five homers in the series.

Before he signed with the Yankees in 1976, he stated that if he played in New York, a candy bar would be named after him. After his stunning performance in the World Series, this prophecy came true. The "Reggie Bar" was introduced to the market.

Baseball fans know of Jackson's obvious pride in his achievements, but there is another less-known side to Reggie Jackson - Reggie the religious man. Jackson has made no secret of the fact that he often turned to the Bible for help during the darkest days of the 1977 season.

Jackson's college roommate, Ron Pitchard of the Cincinnati Bengals, agrees that there is more depth to Jackson than most people know.

Jackson's appearance at the Hot Stove League Dinner was arranged through the efforts of State Sen. John T. Gregorio, who also is mayor of Linden and Gregorio contacted Ron Cappadoci, vice president of Standard Brands, which manufactures the Reggie Bar, and arranged for this super star's visit to Union County.

A limited number of tickets are available through the recreation division of the County of Union, Department of Parks and Recreation, Acme and Canton Sts., Elizabeth.

JV Cagers Edge Bridgewater East

By Tom Kennelly

The Westfield High School JV Basketball team upped its record to 5-4 last Friday night with a hard fought 47-46 victory over Bridgewater Raritan-East.

The game, which was close throughout, saw the Blue Devils come from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat a tough East team.

After a slow first quarter both teams came alive in the second quarter benefiting from good defense and excellent shooting.

Kerry McDevitt and Rick Yawger led the team in the quarter, as they did throughout the game, McDevitt hitting from the outside and Yawger playing strong inside both on offense and defense.

The third quarter saw East come alive with excellent outside shooting as they opened up a seven point lead. The Devils looked sloppy as they were unable to get into their offense and take the percentage shots. "We weren't setting up the offense enough and that's why we weren't getting the good shots," stated Coach Robert Mintz. "When we did get the offense set up we got the good shots."

The Blue Devils came out in the fourth quarter with a full court press and it quickly put them back in the game. Jim Morris had a steal and a layup and Eric Carter had a fastbreak layup, both coming off the press.

McDevitt, who finished the game with a team high 16 points, sealed up the victory for Westfield when he sank an inside shot with just 51 left in the game. East scored again to make the score 47-46, but they failed in a last second attempt to win the game.

The Blue Devils lost earlier in the week to a superior Plainfield team by the score of 87-51. The taller, quicker Plainfield team totally dominated the game as they outshot and outplayed Westfield throughout.

Plainfield opened up quick scoring six straight baskets and by the time the first half was over they led 43-21.

The Devils played Plainfield even for most of the second half until the Cardinals ran off a string of 13 straight points in the final four minutes to raise their total to 87 points, the most points scored against the cagers this year.

McDevitt and Yawger were the high scorers for the Devils in this game too as they came up with 19 and 15 points respectively.

The Blue Devils played Elizabeth Tuesday (too late for the Leader deadline) and they play Cranford tomorrow night at Cranford starting at 6:30.

Torborg to Address League Dinner Jan. 23

Jeff Torborg, a Mount-

ainetide resident and manager of the Cleveland Indians, will speak at the 43rd Annual Hot Stove League Dinner on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 6:30 p.m. This event, sponsored by the Union County Baseball Association in cooperation with the County of Union, Department of Parks and Recreation, will be held at the Town and Campus, Union.

Torborg began his baseball career at Westfield High School where he was selected for the All State Team. After graduation he enrolled in Rutgers University where he gained All-American status in his senior year after leading the nation in batting with a .537 average - a collegiate mark which remains unsurpassed.

Upon graduation from Rutgers, Torborg signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers. He played with the team for eight years and caught Sandy Koufax's perfect game in 1965 and Bill Singer's no-hitter in 1970. He was also a member of the 1966 World Champion and 1966 National League Champion Dodgers.

Torborg was traded to the California Angels where he caught former Met Nolan Ryan's no-hitter in 1971. He retired after three years with the Angels and 11 years in the major leagues.

Although he retired from actively playing baseball, he never retired from close contact with the game. Torborg was asked to join his former teammate Frank Robinson as a coach with the Cleveland Indians. He acted as bullpen-pitching coach before becoming manager in the middle of the season.

Torborg, who was graduated from Rutgers and who received his masters degree from Montclair State, has continued as manager of the Indians for the past year-and-a-half.

A limited number of Hot Stove League tickets are available through the recreation division of the County of Union, Department of Parks and Recreation, Acme and Canton Sts., Elizabeth.

Rahway, Westfield Women To Hear Dr. Salla

Dr. Anita Salla of Newark, head of pediatrics at United Hospital Medical Center in Newark, will be the guest speaker at the combined meeting of the international affairs departments of the Rahway and Westfield Women's Clubs tomorrow. The Westfield members will be the guests of the Rahway Club at the home of Mrs. William Rhoads, where a sandwich luncheon will be served.

Mrs. Anthony J. Stark, 6th district international affairs chairman of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs is bringing Dr. Salla, who volunteered her services to Project Hope. Dr.

Salla set up a pediatric ward in Jamaica giving one year of free service to Project Hope. She will show slides and tell of her experiences during this year in Jamaica.

Project Hope originally started as a hospital ship visiting ports all over the world but because of the inability to visit inland countries, medical centers are now being formed throughout the world. These centers are manned by doctors and nurses in all categories volunteering a one year tour of duty, teaching natives how to operate hospitals and giving medical care.

Flemington, and the Traphagen School of Fashion in New York City. Winners will be awarded scholarships to Traphagen School.

Noting that the principal purpose of the annual competition is to encourage talented American youngsters to seek careers in the fashion design field, S. Rogers Benjamin, president of Flemington Furs, commented, "It is our belief that with the fashion spotlight focused on European designers, there is little encouragement being given to young American designers. By offering these scholarships, our company hopes to help develop young design talent in the United States. We have been most pleased with the results of the past several years."

Announcements of the contest, together with rules and entry blanks were mailed to public, private and parochial high schools in Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Washington, D.C.

Eligible high school students may enter this contest simply by submitting an original woman's, man's or teenage fashion design. Entry blanks are available upon written request to the Fashion Design Contest Director, Flemington Fur Company, 8 Spring St., Flemington, NJ 08822. The contest closes on Feb. 28 and the winners will be announced on April 30.

Irving Gray of Plainfield and Todd Porter of Cedar Grove are rehearsing a song from the upcoming production of "Shenandoah."

Youngsters in 'Shenandoah'

The Scotch Plains Players are presenting the beautiful musical "Shenandoah," with performances beginning next Friday. W.C. Fields once said, "Never go on stage with animals or children." This quotation rings true in "Shenandoah." The cast is being delightfully upstaged by two very talented young boys.

Todd Porter of Cedar Grove plays the role of Robert Anderson, the youngest of six children. This is Todd's first appearance with community theatre but even at age 10, he is a professional. Todd has done several television commercials for the Bonnie Kid Inc. Agency. Todd can be seen currently in commercials for Kenner Toys, Burger King and Duncan Hines blueberry muffins. When not attending school or studying, Todd studies voice and piano with Dr. Laurence Ferrara.

Playing opposite Todd in the role of his good friend, Gabriel, is Irving Gray of Plainfield. Irving is a sixth grader at Evergreen School where he belongs to the Gifted Talent Students. He sings in the school choir and plays the trumpet.

"Shenandoah" will be presented on Jan. 19, 20, 27, and 28 and on Feb. 2 and 3, at the Scotch Plains Fanwood High School. Curtain will be at 8:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and 7 p.m. on Sunday. Both general admission and reserved seats are available.

Noted Artist Featured

The speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Scotch Plains Fanwood Art Association will be Bernard Bresky who will lecture on the fine art of drawing. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Fanwood Railroad Station on North Ave. and is open to the general public at no charge.

Bresky is a graduate of the New York University School of Architecture and the Art Center School of Design in Los Angeles, Calif. He was the art director for several prominent New Jersey and New York package design firms and has to his credit many nationally acclaimed designs.

The artist has exhibited in numerous juried shows and has been included in the New Jersey Artists Exhibit at the State Museum in Trenton for the past two years. He has won several awards in major juried shows and his work is in several private collections.

Presently he is teaching drawing and design at The DuCret School in Plainfield and pursuing his career at his own studio in Fanwood.

Redeemer Nursery Schools Begins Second Semester on Jan. 29

A structured program, which does not separate children according to age, but allows them to work into small group activities, is what the nursery school of Redeemer Lutheran School, Westfield, offers.

This approach, permitting children to learn according to interest, ability and general development, provides for great individual growth. There are plenty of times for the class to work together, too, according to school officials.

Redeemer, which offers morning two-day, three-day, and five-day nursery schedules, is now accepting applications for second semester enrollment. The semester begins Monday, Jan. 29.

"This is a great time to expose a three-year-old to his first regular structured learning experiences," said Mrs. Lou Ann Lottmann, Redeemer's nursery school teacher. She has seven years teaching experience in several schools across the U.S.

"For a child who has turned three in late summer or fall, nursery school is the perfect solution to the blahs of the dull January-March period." She suggests introducing the young child gradually, in Tuesday-Thursday or Monday-Wednesday-Friday programs at Redeemer.

"Young children generally feel comfortable within a structure, a routine," she said. "Of course, that routine always remains quite flexible!"

Redeemer attempts to allow each nursery school child to appreciate the daily presence of Christ in his life. Other aims are to:

Develop an interest and joy in learning to work and play with others; Establish himself "away from home;" Encourage creativity and self-expression; Broaden his self-awareness; Develop security and a feeling of worth.

"Young children are easily directed and eager to learn," said Mrs. Lottmann. "Redeemer's emphasis in every grade is always the child as an individual. We work with him according to his readiness and development."

Redeemer, now in its 26th year, provides classes through sixth grade. Classes are small (12-30 students) with a teacher for each grade plus assistants where needed. Some departmental teaching is done in the upper grades to prepare students for junior high.

The school offers an athletic program (basketball, volleyball, track and field) and will introduce swimming in the spring.

Music classes and individual lessons on guitar, piano and organ are offered during the school day. An art specialist is part of the nine-member professional staff.

Christianity is taught, not as a subject only, but is the permeating influence in all teaching, as well as a guide in all disciplinary and administrative matters, it was explained.

Secular subjects are taught with a Christian approach and from a Christian viewpoint.

"Christian pupil fellowship is one of the most powerful factors in building character and training in Christian living," said Richard S. Salecker, Redeemer's principal.

"Redeemer is family-oriented and parents play an integral part in its workings. Often mothers with teaching experience become regular classroom assistants, adding great strength and diversity to our program."

The curriculum is aligned with requirements of the State of New Jersey. The nursery school is licensed as an approved child center by the State of New Jersey.

Children come from more than a dozen communities

Schools Must Report Violence

New Jersey Governor Brendan T. Byrne today signed legislation directed at reducing violence and vandalism in the state's public schools.

The bill, A-1564 sponsored by Assemblyman Raymond Lesniak (D-Union), requires that violence and vandalism be reported by school employees to the school principal and the county superintendent of schools. The principal is also required to report the disposition of the incident to the county office.

"We expect that the bill will help us get a handle on violence in schools and deal effectively with troublemakers," said Assemblyman Lesniak.

Co-sponsor, Assemblyman Thomas Deverin, (D-Union), believes that the public should be informed when there is trouble in the school. "We must bring the troublemakers out in the open so that school classes can be conducted with the discipline necessary for a proper learning atmosphere."

Education Commissioner Fred A. Burke will be authorized to promulgate regulations implementing the program. It is expected that the program will be conducted on a pilot basis until the end of this school year and be implemented in all school districts at the beginning of the next school year in September.

6th Grade Cagers Open Season

With one month of preliminary activity over, the Westfield Basketball Association (WBA) 6th Grade Basketball League began competitive play this past Saturday, with eight teams, consisting of 86 players seeing action.

Prior to league play, the league conducted extensive tryouts on Dec. 9, in which each player was evaluated in layups, foul shooting, outside shooting, dribbling, stationary passing, moving, passing and game play.

The results of the tryouts, together with the physical attributes of the players was the basis for team selection. To assure balance each coach reviewed the tentative rosters of each team for potential imbalances. This was followed by two weeks of exhibition play during which rosters were kept open to make changes to assure a well balanced competitive league.

In addition to four games every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Edison Jr. High, league activity will take place every Tuesday night at Westfield High School. Up to, and including Jan. 9, the high school gym will be available to each team for individual team practice. Beginning Jan. 16, league games will also be played on Tuesday nights. Two games will begin at 6:30 p.m. and two will begin at 7:30 p.m.

In addition to the instruction received by each player from his/her coach, seven individual seminars will be conducted each Saturday from 10:15 to 10:45 a.m. Each team will attend a different seminar each week and learn such things as in-bound pass plays, give and go, post plays, etc. Other seminars will provide intensified practice in shooting drills as well as dribbling and passing. A movie demonstrating various skills is also being shown to each team.

The league schedule calls for each team to play every other team twice. The winners of the first half will play the winners of the second half to determine the 6th grade champs on March 17th. Between the first and second rounds, the 6th Grade Mid-Winter Basketball Classic will be held. Tournament seating for the classic will be based on the results of the first round of play. The rebounding was provided by Horst Percival and Ed Stravach while the ball handling was led by Chris Telyou and Eddie Yatzilla.

The Wild & Crazy Guys lived up to their name as they were led by Aldo Kosuch and Chris Capano in scoring. Andy Zolotar and John Haggerty were the floor leaders. Knicks, 37 — Lakers, 22. In a well balanced scoring attack, the Knicks scored 37 points. Greg Price led the way with 7 baskets and 2 foul shots. Other scorers included Iron Bowles, David Schnitzer, Pat Brady, Andy Rock, Todd Manning, and Gary Kirschner. Gary Kirschner and Steve Pinkin did a fine job in bringing the ball up court and finding the open man. John Miles led the Lakers in scoring but the steady play of the Knicks was too much to overcome. The score was within three baskets up to the last eighth period when the Knicks put on a nine point surge. Greg Czander, Carin Diaz, and Jeanine Howell also helped the Lakers with the scoring and played well on defense. John Howell, Mike Paola, Jeff Monninger, Philip Moos, Matt Axelson, and Sean Diver showed fine defensive ability and a good sense of the importance of teamwork.

Vincent Tymon of the Knicks, who plays guard and forward, showed his ball handling ability by passing on drives to the basket for several key assists.

Bullets, 49. In a high scoring, free wheeling game, the Bullets defeated the Globetrotters 49-39 in spite of a 22 point effort by Ed Haag and 14 for Jeff Dembiec. The Globetrotters, behind from the opening tip off used all 10 players in an effort to stop the Bullet offense led by Dave Cowell with 20 points and Pete Moun with 11 and Art Pearce with 8. The players with good defensive efforts for the Globetrotters were Linda Mike, Dave Frette, Rob Carney and Dave Zupko, while Mark Wegryn for the Bullets played an outstanding all around game. Brian Duggan at forward and Billy Lister at Center also played well.

Nets, 22. White Shadows, 18. The first quarter of the game was dominated by the Nets with Arcuri and Meyers scoring 4 points apiece and Mirda scoring 2. The score at the end of the first quarter was the Nets 10, White Shadows 4. Both teams played evenly throughout the second and third quarters. The White Shadows started to close the gap in the fourth quarter by scoring 4 unanswered points. However, time ran out. Leading scorers for the White Shadow were Nancy Kasko and Steffen Smith. Dan Jacobson, Ingrid Kosaks, and Steve Rothstein also made the scoring column.

Grade 7 Cagers Begin Season

Madison Square Garden had nothing on the Westfield High Gym Saturday morning as eight of the top college teams in the nation squared off in the first round of seventh grade WBBL play. Close games reflected the equality of the participants, which was one of the goals in developing the team rosters.

North Carolina 16 Marquette 34. A closing rush by Marquette pulled them within 2 points at the half, but N.C.'s fast breaking offense proved too strong in the second. Led by Dan Hauck, Mike Dineen and Mike Teilly, N.C.'s Troy Gwathney, Paul Blanco and Steve Dietz provided the rebounding & defense.

Marquette scoring was provided by Pat Rehwinkel, Vince Lofano, Dan Gilday, Rich Mondelli and Scott Morgan.

Duke 35 UCLA 31. Down at the half, Duke rallied to pull out a close one behind the strong scoring of Carl Kumpf, Earl Hall and Steve Kosch, assisted by Andy Linden. Dave Lovejoy dominated the boards with strong defense from Dave Coates, Matt Petrik and Doug Davoren. UCLA was paced by Brian Neskorla, John Rotchford, Matt Roberts and Chuck Ouellette. Bill Griffin, Cornell Muse and Sean Abruzzo led the defense.

Illinois 33 Notre Dame 29. Like their real counterparts, Illinois keeps a zero in the loss column behind the scoring punch of Chris Freerecks. John Townsend, John Houlihan and Chris Walsweer and the playmaking of Steve Hobson, Carlos Collazo, Steve Kesselhaut and Chris Kelly. Notre Dame had a slight halftime edge but was unable to hold on despite a good balanced scoring effort from Scott Lupia, J.R. Dembiec, Ken Miller, Mike Cauterucci and John Russitano.

Michigan State 44 Louisville 38. Jumping off to a 12-4 tear with defensive pressure, Michigan threatened to blow the game open until Louisville got organized. Rick Shovin, Matt Wofsey and Kevin Thomas got hot hands, combining for 30 points, assisted by good floor play from Ken Cruger and Bill Parizeau enabling Louisville to get back in the game & keep it close.

Michigan State's explosion was paced by Sid Slamowitz and Peter Froden, but they needed help from Rick Bartok and Mike Hindlin in the middle part of the game to keep up with the revived Louisville team. Steady play by Tim Braun, Doug Unger and Dan Brotman at the end helped seal the victory.

"Emergency Fund" Supports Efforts At Junior Senior High Schools

One of the lesser-publicized assists offered by the Westfield School Boosters Association is The "Emergency Fund" given to Athletic Director John Lay which intended to cover miscellaneous purchases for athletic equipment not covered from any other source. The fund totals $550 with $350 allocated to the senior high school and the balance split evenly between the two junior highs.

To date, Lay has been able to approve for purchase video tapes and rule books (soccer); face mask, footballs, kicking tees, and kicking shoe (football); balance beam cover and 15 girls' leotards (gymnastics); pitching machine equipment and awards (baseball); and soccer equipment (Roosevelt Jr. High). Only Edison Jr. High has yet to exhaust their allotment. Varsity Grapplers Upset Seton Hall

By Jeff Factor

The WHS varsity wrestling team boosted its record to 2-1 by upsetting previously unbeaten Seton Hall 22-20 after tying Piscataway 24-24 earlier in the week.

In a see-saw battle with the Pirates, the Blue Devils finally came out on top after trailing 18-17 going into the final two bouts.

At 188, sophomore sensation Lowell Higgins wrestled a powerful first period and went ahead 7-1. Yet the Pirate's Bill O'Brien came back with an escape, a takedown and a reversal to make the score 7-5 going into the final period. Higgins escaped for one point early in the period, then O'Brien recorded a takedown to make the score 8-7. Higgins hung on the rest of the way to give the Blue Devils a 20-18 lead.

The match was now down to the battle of the big boys as Westfield's Craig Plant battled Pete Geguzys of Seton Hall. Plant needed only a tie to give Westfield the team victory while Geguzys had to win for his team to do the same.

Plant wrestled smart throughout the match by not trying any dangerous moves and defensively handling Geguzys. The final bout score... 0-0. The final match score, Westfield 22, Seton Hall 20.

Other winners for Westfield were Vinnie Hurley (115), John Stanzel (122), Ted Allen (135), Paul McDonough (141) and Tom Shields (148) all who won by decision.

108 pounder Greg Schmidt suffered his second setback of the season as he lost 6-0 to arch-rival Joe Spinazzola of Seton Hall. In the process Schmidt suffered a shoulder injury and will be out of action for two weeks.

In the Piscataway match Schmidt and Kevin Bellw (129) won by way of pin to help the grapplers achieve the tie.

PIN POINTS..... Higgins has the best record on the team at 7-1 followed by Shields 5-1-2 and Schmidt at 6-2. Saturday the grapplers travel to Cedar Ridge for a 1 p.m. match.

Cagers Remain at .500

By Steve Sherwyn

The Westfield High School boys' varsity basketball team kept its record at .500 by splitting its two games last week, losing to Plainfield 63-50 before defeating an injury-plagued Bridgewater East team 78-58.

With 4:17 remaining in the first period, Keith Colicchio hit two of his eight points on a followup layup to cut the Plainfield lead to one 7-6; however, this was the last time Westfield would be this close during the afternoon.

The Cardinals of Plainfield went on a 16-5 scoring spree to take a commanding 22-11 lead. Kenny Fields got things started for the Cardinals by hitting a layup upon which he was fouled. Fields converted the foul shot for a three point play, which made the score 10-6 with 3:21 remaining in the period.

The Blue Devils came right back as Tony Hall, who had 13 points for the afternoon, hit a layup to cut the Westfield deficit to two 10-8. But back to back layups by the Cardinals' Randy Young and Charlie Cole opened a 14-8 lead for Plainfield.

With 1:41 remaining in the quarter, Young was called for a technical foul for slamming the backboard on an attempt to block a shot. Chris Bauman, who led all scorers with 19 points, converted the foul shot to make the score 14-9.

The period closed with the Cardinals' Greg McCoy hitting a layup to give Plainfield a 16-9 lead. Westfield retaliated in the opening seconds of the second period as Rob Noonan's jumper from the corner cut the Plainfield lead to five.

But Plainfield then took control for good by scoring six unanswered points on jumpers by Young and Pete Coleman and two foul shots.

Tryouts Saturday For PAL Cagers

The Westfield PAL will hold try-outs for 7th grade boys for the PAL basketball team; any boy interested should be at the high school on Saturday from 3 to 5 p.m. Terry Brady, 805 Ramapo Way, is available to answer any questions.

by Parrish Wormley to take a 22-11 lead.

Westfield did lead in the early going 2-0 on a jumper by Bauman, however, Plainfield never trailed after that and led by as many as 14 points during the fourth period.

Against the Minutemen of Bridgewater East, the Blue Devils had little trouble as the Minutemen entered the game with a 1-7 record and three injured starters, Rick Fiegel, John Fleurant, and Roy Saxe, sitting on the bench.

Westfield opened the game quickly, scoring the first ten points of the evening inside of four minutes. Bauman had four points, while Hall, Colicchio, and Ron Allen had two apiece during the streak.

Bridgewater East refused to fold and pulled within three 16-13 at the end of the quarter. But the Blue Devils came out in the second quarter as if they were possessed as at one point they scored 19 straight unanswered points to take a commanding 37-15 lead.

Jeff Brown got things started at the 6:37 mark hitting a side jumper to make the score 20-15. Allen followed this with a jumper of his to give Westfield a seven point lead.

Hall, who tied for scoring honors with Bridgewater

East's Chris Welti with 16 points, then hit six straight points on two jumpers and two foul shots to make the score 28-18.

Bauman continued the streak by hitting a layup of his own while Colicchio made three of four foul shots to give Westfield an 18 point lead.

Bauman then hit two more of his fourteen points on a jump shot to make the score 35-15. Jim Gilmartin closed out the streak with a layup off a pass from Bauman to give Westfield a 37-15 lead.

During the streak, Westfield held the Minutemen scoreless for almost seven minutes. The Blue Devils went on to open a 31 point lead in the second half as they held on to win by 20. FREE-THROWS: The Bridgewater East game saw the Blue Devils with their highest point total of the year 78. Their previous high was 75 against Rahway. The game also saw good balanced scoring on the part of Westfield and all 12 Blue Devil players playing in a single game for the first time this season.

This is the fourth time this season that the Blue Devils have reached the .500 mark. They have failed in their three previous tries to raise their record above .500. Westfield travels to Cranford tomorrow night for an 8 p.m. game with the Cougars.

Against Montclair, the mermaids swept first place in every heat. In addition, Westfield took second and third places in four events.

Captain Dana Zonneville and sophomore Erin Scott tied the team with two individual first places. Montclair was saving the participation of these swimmers for the states. However, the mermaids presented fine performances."

Another highlight of the meet was to 100 yard backstroke with junior Mary Davis who came through with a winning time of 1:08.7, senior Betty Paul who took second and Nancy Jane Bacso who took third. Against Bridgewater West, both Zonneville and diver Marybeth Dervin set new school records. Zonneville lowered her previous record in the 200 yard individual medley from 2:20.9 to 2:18.8. Dervin, also changed her old record of 197.75 to 198.55 in six dives.

Mermen Sink Elizabeth

By Dean A. Roth
The WHS boys swim team won its first meet of the 1979 season by drowning Elizabeth, 141-30, under the guidance of meet captain Tom Rokosny.

The Elizabeth meet, not being one of the most difficult of the year, according to Coach Perry Coultas, acted as a proving ground where some switches and variations in the lineup were tested.

The Westfield mermen got off to a surprise start when sophomore Chris Isaacson pulled out to a strong lead in the opening backstroke leg of the 200 yard IM relay. His team, however, was beaten by Westfield's other two entries: Chris Graye, Jeff Zeikel, Dave Lightheiser and Tom Rokosny combined for a 1:57.6 win, Bob Kenny, Joel Zingerman, Kevin Byrnes and Bill Wiener took second with a 1:59.1 time, and Isaacson, Matt Bagger, Mike Kolliar and Russ Jones took third in 2:01.3.

In the 200 yard freestyle, Mike Bacco captured first in 1:55.3, Tony Meyers took second in 2:00.0 and Dan Morgan was third with a 2:05.7 time.

Some Westfield point-getters in other events were: 200 yard IM; Art Schmidt, first, 2:11.5; Alan Boylan, second, 2:18.7; Tom Rokosny, third, 2:20.1; 50 yard freestyle; Jim Morgan, first, 24.2, and Ned Banta, second, 24.23.

In the one-meter dive, Mike Smith was awarded first place for a 208.30 point total for six dives. Dave Tibbals placed second with 159.65, and Doug Brugger, third, 151.85.

Dave Lightheiser took the 100 yard butterfly in 1:03.8, Mike Kolliar was second in 1:04.4, and Bill Wiener, third, 1:08.0. In the 100 yard freestyle; Art Schmidt, first, 51.3, Mike Bacco, second, 53.6, Ned Banta, third, 54.7; 500 yard freestyle; Dan Morgan, first, 5:19.7, Matt Bagger, second, 5:43.5, Joel Zingerman, third, 5:59.6.

The 100 yard backstroke saw Alan Boylan first, 1:03.9, Chris Gray, second, 1:10.4, and Chris Isaacson, third, 1:11.4. Winning the 100 yard breaststroke was Tom Rokosny with a 1:08.5 time, Russ Jones was second in 1:09.7, and Jeff Zeikel, third, 1:12.2.

In the 400 yard freestyle relay, Art Schmidt, in anchoring the team of Wiener-Byrnes-Dan Morgan-Schmidt to a 3:38.3 victory, became the first mermen this year to split in under 50 seconds. In second place, with a time of 3:39.6 was the Zingerman-Jim Morgan-Boylan-Meyers team.

"The freestyle relay teams," stated Coach Coultas, "are designed to come out equally" as was represented by the difference of only 1.3 seconds in the times of the first and second place teams.

The mermen meet Cranford, away, at 3:30 tomorrow, Plainfield, away, on Jan. 16 at 3:30, and St. Joseph's, in one of their four toughest meets of the year, in a double meet with the girls, home, at the Wallace pool in the YMCA at 3, Jan. 17.

David Fitzgerald, ninth grader at Roosevelt, is shown winning the freshman one mile race at the recent Union County Development meet held in Westfield. Both David and his teammate John Cacchione from Edison were named to the All State team for freshmen, cross country.
