Teacher Suspension Issue Goes to Trenton

Stanley Ziobro, a tenured Westfield teacher who has been with the local school system for more than 20 years, is expected to appear before an administrative law judge to be appointed by the State Commissioner of Education within the next 120 days at a hearing on charges of "conduct unbecoming a teacher."

The Board of Education, at a private session following its regular public meeting last week, voted unanimously to forward charges against Ziobro in Trenton. The board, in December, had reportedly approved his suspension.

The board action stemmed from allegations made in November by parents of an elementary school girl following an incident in which they claimed Ziobro was involved.

The parents, whose identity was not made public reportedly conferred with police officials but declined to file formal criminal charges.

Police, however, referred the issue to school officials and Ziobro, who is head of the mathematics department at Roosevelt Junior High School, was suspended from his post with pay.

Ziobro's suspension has triggered citizen and parent protests, both in the press and reportedly to members of the Board of Education. Vivien Cook of Dudley Ave. and Carolyn Moran of Raymond St. are among parents spearheading support for the suspended teacher who they claim is the victim of "unfair treatment."

Students also are said to be distributing petitions in the support of the math teacher who has taught in both Edison and Roosevelt Junior High Schools.

Aid also has come from fellow teachers. According to Sally Vejniska, president of the Westfield Education Association, an attorney from the New Jersey Education Association will assist Ziobro and the WEA and his colleagues will offer their "complete support."

In accordance with State statutes, board decisions on personnel matters of this nature are considered in private session. No mention was made at public school board sessions on the Ziobro issue either by the public or by board members. Reporters from neither the radio station nor the daily newspaper which first reported on the controversy were not present at last week's school board meeting, and the source of their information is unknown.

School officials remain silent on the issue, even refusing to name the teacher who was suspended. The only Board of Education comment was a press release issued Friday which said:

"The Westfield Board of Education has suspended a tenured teacher, having found probable cause to credit evidence to file charges of conduct unbecoming a teacher with the State Commissioner of Education."

"The suspension, with pay, was voted unanimously by the School Board on Tuesday (Jan. 19). According to State Statute 18A 6-11, consideration and actions by the Board as to any charges shall not take place at a public meeting. Thus, the vote was taken in private session."

"According to State Statute, after the Board of Education decides that there is probable cause to file charges, the case is referred to the Commissioner who will hold a due process hearing."

"The Westfield case was mailed to the Commissioner on Wednesday, January 20."

"The Westfield Board of Education has not released the names of the individuals involved, said Board President Marilyn Gulotta, adding: The Board has followed State Statutes in observing due process in this case which is now in the hands of the Commissioner of Education."

Procedures followed by school officials appeared in accordance with State Statutes 18: 6-10, 6-11, 6-13, and 25-6.

W. Hollis Plinton of West Broad St. was honored by the Mayor and Town Council Tuesday night for his 24 years of service on the town's Recreation Commission. Plinton, a Westfield native, was awarded the Westfield Citizens Citation by Mayor Allen Chin. He retired from the Recreation Commission Dec. 31.

2383 Question Assessments, 1100 Valuations Changed

Assessments on about 1100 local properties have been lowered because of appeals at the completion of the town's revaluation program, Tax Assessor Robert Brennan told members of the Town Council Tuesday night.

And some of them don't even know it.

While letters have been sent to those who made individual appeals, in some areas entire blocks have been affected, primarily by changes in the value of land rather than buildings. If not advised earlier, adjusted assessments will appear on statements mailed to property owners in June.

The receipt of the new tax books, Brennan said, has been delayed but he expects them on the counter in his office before mid-

February. He expects the town's total property valuation to be $1,135,000,000, but claims Westfield's higher figures will not affect the local county tax bite.

Brennan estimates that he will hear about 500 appeals following certification of the new valuations. About 2,383 appeared at his office following receipt of valuation team's initial figures but many of these seems satisfied with changes made to their assessments.

Property owners have until the end of July to file appeals locally (local tax appeal forms will be available shortly in the tax office) and until Aug. 15 to take their appeals to the county tax office. Brennan suggested, however, that most appeals can be handled locally and he expects to begin personal inspections of properties whose owners have objected to their assessments as soon as weather permits.

Brennan feels that the new valuations are realistic with selling prices of 11 homes in Westfield within the last two weeks within 2 percent of the new assessment figures.

One resident at Tuesday's meeting failed to agree, claiming he felt his four-room home could not sell for its assessed value of $83,000 since a neighbor's larger $79,000 home brought only $44,000. Brennan promised to investigate.

Councilman John Brady offered a new formula for property owners to use in judging what the new assessments would mean in current tax rate terms. With the total town property valuation higher, the 1981 tax rate of $5.49 would have been $2.085. If property owners multiply their former assessed valuation by $5.49, then divide by $100, they would obtain the figure they paid in taxes for the 1981 year, Brady said. If they multiply the new valuation by $2.085, divided by $100, they could determine the amount they would have paid under the new valuation.

Town officials admit such figuring is rather academic; the amount of taxes they will begin to pay later this year will depend on the municipal and county budgets now being prepared, and the vote on the school budget April 6.

Council Approves Extension Of Town Sports Camps

A slightly expanded program of Sports Camps will be offered this summer by the Recreation Commission following a 5-3 approval by the Town Council Tuesday night.

By an "understanding" reached between the YMCA and the Recreation Commission, the town will begin offering a soccer camp for younger children which previously had been the sole aegis of the YMCA.

In return, some concessions will be granted on field use so the YMCA can expand its summer baseball program.

The approval, for the second consecutive year, generated disagreement between councilmen over the role of government versus private organizations, but it was generally agreed that the town's expanded summer sports camp program would be watched and if it is demonstrated that it is financially detrimental to the Y, altered the following year.

Opposing the town's expansion of its summer sports camps were Councilmen Alan Guterman, Chesney McCracken and John Brady. Councilwoman Betty List, who has opposed the expansion in the past, was unable to attend the meeting.

Mayor Allen Chin told residents at the meeting that the council will consider statements made at the meeting, plus other data, before making a decision on participation in a state program of spraying for gypsy moths on the north side of town. Most of the north side — some 895 acres — have been designated by the State as heavily infested and eligible for treatment.

Two of the three speakers at Tuesday night's meeting recommended that if the town proceeds with the spraying that the bacillus Bt be used in preference to Sevin, even though it has been claimed the Bt is less effective and costs more.

Lansing V. Reynolds of Sunnywood Dr., representing 80 families in the Brightwood Association, said about 40 percent of the homeowners have sprayed individually, that the group could plan an area spraying and is interesting in the state proposal.

Two ordinances were introduced for public hearing and final action at the council's Feb. 9 meeting. One would authorize an even exchange of property in the 117-125 West Dudley Ave. property between the town and the estate of Robert Noble Sosman; the other would provide funds for replacement of the concrete deck at Memorial Pool.

Council also approved a public hearing on use of Revenue Sharing funds drew no comments.

Eighteen special policemen were approved by the council. They include Douglas Allen, Jeffrey Boydman, John Fitzgerald, Anthony Garrigan, Charles Harris, Michael Kurdilla, Harold Magnuson, Anthony Manna, Anthony Mascara Jr., John Morgan, Robert Musacchia, Charles Ross, Anthony Shaw Jr., Eugene Sisnety, Richard Slocum, Michael Stoffers, Payl Wygovsky and Paul Zane.

The High Price of Snow . . .

Two salt trucks are on the streets of Westfield every day to respond to complaints of trouble spots in the aftermath of two storms within about 10 days.

The cost of snow removal is running about $2,300 an inch, Ed Gottko, town engineer, said. When an average six inches of snow fell in Westfield Jan. 13, the bill for plowing was $13,700. Snow removal in the central business district and in the South Ave. lot the following Friday night added $10,100 to the tab.

Saturday's storm cost $7,000 to clear. Trucks, manned almost equally by town employees and contractors hired to perform snow detail, plowed about three inches of snow. Cleanup was hampered as the snow turned to rain and then quickly froze.

Unfortunately, Gottko said, snow removal is most often done on an overtime basis, depending on when the storms hit and plowing begins, thus bringing the total cost of this year's snow storms to $31,000. "That's about $1,000 an hour," Gottko commented.

Cost of materials used is in addition to the high price of snow removal, according to Gottko.

Unlike some communities, Westfield still has funds available for snow plowing and removal, Gottko said, and supplies of salt and cinders are adequate. The town received a delivery of six additional loads of salt this week and still has a supply of cinders. More cinders are expected, he said, but it takes a couple of days because they are shipped from Pennsylvania, he said.

Candidates for School Bd. Have Feb. 25 Deadline

Feb. 25 is the deadline for interested citizens to file petitions to become candidates for three seats on the Westfield Board of Education in the annual school election April 6.

The terms of three present school board members will expire this year. They are: Joan H. Unger, who is completing her first three-year term; James C. England, who was elected for one year last April to the unexpired term of Robert Esson who resigned to move to Kansas before his term was completed; and Benjamin Carlton Bailey, who was appointed by the school board on Jan. 12 to complete the unexpired term of Thomas F. Sullivan who resigned in December in his ninth year on the school board.

Citizens interested in running for the school board for a three-year term of office may obtain a nominating petition from James J. Krieger, secretary to the Westfield Board of Education, at 302 Elm St. any weekday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Nominating petitions must be signed by ten residents and they must be filed with the board secretary by 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 25. The candidate also must sign the petition in the presence of a witness.

School board candidates must be able to read and write, be a resident in the school district for at least two years and have no interest in any claim against the Board.

There are more than 5,000 school board members in the more than 600 school districts throughout the state of New Jersey.

The policy-making body for Westfield's nine public schools is the nine-member Board of Education which holds regular business meetings, open to the public, on the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m.

Board members are elected by the citizens for three-year terms on a staggered basis, at annual school elections, which used to be held in February but are scheduled now by State law in April.

Official action of the school board may be taken only at regularly scheduled meetings when a quorum is present.

Some duties of board members are: policy making, selection of a superintendent, appointment of school personnel, approval of textbooks and supplementary books, setting salary schedules, approving curriculum and budgets, planning and approving the school building program and setting up a school calendar.

The other six members of the Westfield Board of Education whose terms of office do not expire this year are: Marilyn S. Gulotta, Leon J. Senus and Alice S. Dillon, whose terms expire next year; Lillis A. Hull, Vincent W. Vincent and Harvey E. Wolfson, whose term expires in 1984.

Westfield residents who wish to vote in the annual school election on April 6 must either be permanently registered in the signature copy register (which is permanent registration) or must do so between now and March 8.

Every citizen of the United States, 18 years of age, who has been a resident of this state for 30 days and of Union County for 30 days shall be entitled to register to vote.

Westfield residents who are not already registered in the permanent registry lists, may do so at the office of the local municipal clerk or at the Office of the County Board of Elections at the Court House in Elizabeth. The registration deadline is March 8.

Westfield residents who have changed their address must notify the municipal clerk or the County Board of Elections by March 8. This may be done by mail.

Plans for Mall

Adjacent To Westfield ?

A hearing on a proposed Route 22 shopping mall in Springfield which could have impact on traffic in Westfield is tentatively scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday by the Springfield Planning Board.

The mall, expected to fill 52.1 acres behind the Howard Johnson's on Route 22 near South Springfield Ave., would be occupied by Bambergers and Alexanders and could house up to 100 additional shops.

Because there is a possibility that the hearing could be adjourned, interested residents are advised to call the Springfield Municipal Building before attending the meeting.

Pay Taxes

Monday

The tax collector's office in the Municipal building will be open Monday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m., in addition to the regular hours, for the receipt of first quarter taxes.

Board to Meet

At Work Session

The Westfield Board of Education will hold an open public work session at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the board meeting room at 302 Elm St.

The agenda includes board discussions in the following areas: Computer Advisory Committee report, board's search for an architect and requests for use of school athletic fields.

Union College, WHS Cooperating To Continue Students' Benefits

M. Evelyn Maloney, director of guidance for the Westfield public schools, announced this week that Union College in Cranford is cooperating with the high school by developing a program for high school students to matriculate now as full-time students, carrying a minimum 12 credits, to be eligible for continued Social Security benefits.

Maloney said that announcements to students taking English (a required subject) mid-term examinations this week are alerting students and parents to this opportunity to continue to receive Social Security benefits which otherwise would be cut.

The new Social Security law stipulates that students must be enrolled in a full-time college or post-secondary program prior to May 1, 1982, to continue to be eligible for Social Security payments between the ages of 18 and 22. Students who wish to participate in the program would take 12 credits at Union College in Cranford and would continue as a Westfield High School student taking the required English, United States history and physical education courses and any additional courses needed for the required 100 credits to receive a WHS diploma at Westfield High School.

Maloney is urging parents and students to double check with any colleges to which the students have applied to be certain that the student taking courses at Union College will be considered as an entering first-time freshman rather than a transfer student to the college they attend in September, 1982.

"Students or parents with any questions about the program are urged to call the student's guidance counselor or me," said

Maloney, noting that quick action is necessary since the Union College semester began on Jan. 25.

To Screen Students For Scoliosis

Plans are being made by the Westfield public schools health services department to visually screen fifth through twelfth grade students for scoliosis — curvature of the spine — according to a state law that mandates annual scoliosis screening in public schools.

Margaret Klick, health services department chairperson, said that scoliosis is a condition of the spine in which the spine may curve to the left or to the right. "It is most commonly found during the time of rapid growth and may progress if not treated," she said. "The purpose of the screening program is to recognize scoliosis in its earliest stages."

The screening program will be conducted in the schools in a few weeks. Nurses in the school system have attended training workshops dealing with scoliosis screening.

A pupil may be exempt from this examination if the parent or guardian makes this request in writing to the school nurse.

"Although hardly a household word, scoliosis is far from rare," said Mrs. Klick. "To some extent, it affects four percent of the population. What is it? Scoliosis is a spinal abnormality — a curvature of the spine. If left untreated, scoliosis can cause permanent deformity and disability. When detected in its early stages; however, scoliosis can be treated to help stabilize the curvature and prevent progression.

"Many students who are found to have some degree of scoliosis do not require treatment, but they should be examined regularly during years of rapid growth."

Mrs. Klick noted that school nurses will screen the students for scoliosis and refer those who are found to have a possible problem to their own physicians for further evaluation and treatment, if necessary.

Treatment will be determined by the physician. Depending on the degree of scoliosis, treatment could include periodic observation, or a back brace to help correct the condition and keep it from progressing. In more advanced cases, surgery may be required.

"Family Living" Curricula Open Meeting Tonight

Tonight at Wilson School, the Westfield Parent Teacher Council invites all interested residents to attend a panel discussion of the "Family Living" curricula as it is taught in Westfield schools. The panel will include Westfield instructors of health and sex education as well as visiting educator in the sex education field from the Parsippany-Troy Hills district.

Tonight's meeting begins at 7:45 p.m. and time for questions will be included in the program.

Symphony Names Soloist

Charlotte Philley will be the featured soloist at the 3 p.m. concert Feb. 14 of the Summit Symphony. Miss Philley, a lyric coloratura, will perform Mozart's 'Exsultate Jubilate.' Miss Philley recently performed Gia-Carlo Menottis' 'The Telephone' in Philadelphia with the Goldovsky Opera Institute in a Menotti festival honoring the composer.

Ira Kraemer, the music director of the Summit Symphony, will conduct the Orchestra in Beethoven's 'Symphony #2 in D Major,' Schubert's 'Rosamunde Overture' and the Polovetsian Dances by Borodine.

Board to Vote on Three Curriculum Proposals Feb. 16

Three curriculum proposals, submitted by Dr. David J. Rock, director of instruction, to the Westfield Board of Education at a special meeting this month, will be voted on by the school board at its regular formal public business meeting on Feb. 16.

The proposals include increasing the required number of credits students must acquire for graduation from Westfield High School from 100 to 115; offering a college-level advanced placement course in physics in 1982-83 to senior students taking either of the two calculus courses offered at the high school; and revising the eleventh grade American Nations I and II courses.

Accumulating 115 credits in grades nine through 12 would not be a burden on students, Dr. Rock noted, adding that most students are now taking 35 credits per year. Adding 15 credits to the graduation requirements would promote fuller schedules for senior students, he added.

WHS Principal Robert G.

Petix said he has discussed increasing the number of required credits from 100 to 115 with staff members, students and parents. "Everyone with whom I have spoken unanimously endorses this proposal," he stated.

Since the change would require a policy change, Board President Marilyn Gulotta suggested that it be presented to the public for a month prior to a Board vote on the proposal. Thus, the vote will be held in February.

Dr. David Stoneback, head of the science department at the high school, presented the proposal for the advanced placement course which was developed in response to student requests. In the science department advanced placement courses are now offered in chemistry and biology.

These college-level courses, for which students can obtain college credits if they pass an advanced placement examination in May, are also offered to high school students in social studies, English, mathematics, and foreign languages. School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene noted that the number of advanced placement courses offered at a high school is one of the benchmarks of a "lighthouse" or outstanding school.

Robert Adriance, chairman of the social studies department at the high school, discussed the revisions in the required American Nations I and II courses which are now offered for two semesters in a student's junior year. The revised course will be a year-long course. Calling it "almost a new curriculum" Mr. Adriance noted that it has been updated, incorporates writing skills and includes economic education. The course will be called "Survey of American History."

Copies of the textbooks for the proposed new advanced placement course and the revised American Nations course are available for interested members of the public to see in Dr. Rock's office at 302 Elm St. any weekday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Caucus to Honor Betty List

The Women's Political Caucus of Union County will hold a victory party brunch honoring the 1981 women election winners in Union County, on Sunday, Feb. 7 at 10:30 a.m. Among the honorees is Councilwoman Betty List of Westfield.

Others include Freeholder Rose Marie Sinnott (R-Summit) and Assemblywomen Maureen Ogden (R-22nd Dist.) and Angela Perun (D-17th Dist.)

Township Clerk winners are Mildred Karlik (R-Hillside) and Nancy Derr (R-Union).

Successful Councilwomen include Jean Anderson (R-Clark), Georgianna Gurrierri (D-Garwood), Betty List (R-Westfield) and Sandra Weeks (D-Cranford).

The Brunch will be held at the Ramada Inn in Clark, off exit 135 of the Garden State Parkway. Chairing the event is Virginia Appelian of Clark. The public is welcome to attend.

The Women's Political Caucus in Union County has Democrat, Republican and Independent women members from 20 of the county's 21 municipalities.

Alicia Smith of Elizabeth is President. Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield is membership vice-president. Josephine Piazza of Roselle Park is second vice-president.

Play to Focus

On Astronomer

"Benjamin Banneker," an historical play for children about an 18th century black astronomer and man of science, will be presented by the Off-Center Theatre Company at the Newark Museum on Saturday, Feb. 6 at 1:30 p.m.

Freeborn in 1713, a landowner and tobacco farmer, Benjamin Banneker taught himself mathematics and astronomy. He compiled all the scientific materials for an almanac which was published annually under his name during the last decade of the eighteenth century. The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington St. in downtown Newark. Admission is free.

Gifted Programs to Include Pre-Professional Courses

EDGE Inc. (Expanded Dimensions in Gifted Education) will begin its spring session Saturday, Feb. 27, and continue Saturday morning programs from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Edison Junior High School through April 3.

EDGE is a private, non-profit organization consisting of volunteers - teachers, parents and others - interested in the education of the gifted child. Established in the summer of 1978, EDGE offers three educational sessions annually: spring, summer and fall. Each session provides enrichment courses in the arts, sciences and humanities to the area's gifted/talented children. The EDGE program is open to all gifted/talented children ages 5 through 14. Provoking enrichment courses are provided in a "hands-on" situation to promote a highly individualized learning track for each student. Class size is limited to ten children.

The aim of EDGE is to provide gifted/talented youths with courses not normally available to them in a traditional school setting. Beginning in its spring session, EDGE will offer a series of pre-professional courses, allowing the 11 to 14 year old an opportunity to sample the professions. A pre-identical course, A Glimpse into the World of Dentistry, will initiate the series.

Among the many additional offerings for this session are: Bugs to Machines, a science course for the 6 to 7 year old; Paleontology, Ancient Egypt, and Microbes and Man for the 8 to 10 year old; Topographical Maps, and Biographical Sketches for the child 11 and above.

A complete description of all courses offered together with applicable ages and entrance requirements is provided in the EDGE spring brochure.

Further information may be obtained by writing EDGE Inc., P.O. Box 333, Westfield, New Jersey 07090.

The Westfield Foundation recently elected officers and trustees. Seated are officers for 1982: Donn A. Snyder, treasurer; H. Emerson Thomas, president; Robert H. Mulreany, vice president; and E. Alfred Herberich, secretary and executive director. Standing are the foundation trustees: William D. Peek, Morris Kamler, Theodore W. Nelson, Charles P. Bailey, Peter D. Falk, Frank A. Ketcham and Charles H. Frankenhach Jr. Not pictured are trustees Mrs. Gordon E. Allen, James J. Gruba, Samuel A. McCaulley, Sheldon Glickman, and Alex Williams.

Foundation Elects Trustees, Officers

This month marks the beginning of the Westfield Foundation's seventh year of work in the Westfield community. The Foundation's newly elected officers and trustees expect 1982 to be the most active year since the Foundation's incorporation. Having greatly increased its assets during 1981, the Foundation is in a position to extend its support to various charitable needs in the community.

Directing the Foundation this year are its recently re-elected officers: H. Emerson Thomas, president; Robert H. Mulreany, vice president; Donn A. Snyder, treasurer; and E. Alfred Herberich, secretary and executive director. Each year the Foundation's 15 member board of trustees elects five members to a three-year term. Alex Williams joins the board this year as a new trustee, and four trustees currently serving the Foundation were re-elected to three year terms. They are Mrs. Gordon E. Allen, Peter D. Falk, James J. Gruba and Samuel A. McCaulley.

The Foundation assets are based on donations from individuals and organizations, bequests, and the recently received assets of the Westfield-Wallace Fund. Assets also include designated endowment funds for the United Fund of Westfield, the Miller-Cory House Association and the Joel B. Langholtz Memorial Scholarship.

Trustees manage the Foundation assets and use the resulting income to make charitable grants benefiting the Westfield community. In 1981, the Foundation approved grants to the Westfield Adult School "English for New Americans" course, the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts, the Westfield Chamber of Commerce holiday lights fund, the Choral Art Society of New Jersey and the College Women's Club of Westfield Scholarship Fund. In addition, the Foundation made grants from the Charles F. and Florence M. Wallace Fund within the Foundation. These included four scholarships awarded to Westfield High School students and a major donation to the United Fund of Westfield's 1981 campaign. Also in 1981, the first Joel B. Langholtz Memorial Scholarship was awarded to a Westfield student from that endowment fund managed by the Foundation.

The Westfield Foundation trustees welcome donations of all sizes and will work with a prospective donor to carry out his desires. Applications for grants may be submitted at any time during the year. Further information about the Foundation may be obtained by writing to:

The Westfield Foundation, 210 Orchard Street, Westfield, NJ 07090.

Members of the fifth and sixth grade chorus of Jefferson School pause between numbers, as their director, Mrs. Debbie McCullum, (standing, right) Jefferson vocal music teacher, introduces their next number. The chorus, along with the band, under the direction of Richard Meisterman, and a number of solo presentations, were featured during December in Jefferson's annual holiday program.

PTA-Soup Savers Make Try for Computer

A goal of 30,460 soup labels has been set in the savings campaign coordinated by the Mountain-side PTA, according to Chairperson Roberta Krumholz.

If the goal is reached, the school district will receive a Texas Instruments Learning Computer free of charge. "This is the largest amount of labels we've ever tried to collect," says Mrs. Krumholz, "so we'll need fantastic support from the community. This is a great opportunity to obtain for free a very expensive piece of equipment — if you throw away a soup label, it's just like throwing away money that could be used for education!"

Feb. 20 is the deadline for submitting labels from any Campbell's soups, "V-8" juice, Campbell's bean products, Swanson canned food products, Campbell's tomato juice, and any Franco-American products.

Labels may be turned in at either Beechwood or Deerfield schools, or someone will pick up your labels if you call either school office or Mr. Krumholz.

A friendly challenge has been issued and accepted between Beechwood Principal James Johnson and Deerfield Guidance Counselor Edwin Sjonell to see which school can turn in more labels before the Feb. 20 deadline. Sjonell is adviser to the Student Council, which spends many hours trimming, sorting, and counting the labels.

Army Opens Recruiting Office

The Army has opened a fourth Union County recruiting office at 2007 Emerson Ave., Union. It joins offices in Elizabeth, Plainfield and Summit in serving the people of Union County. The public is invited to stop by or call for information about part-time or full-time careers with the Army.

Principals Chosen For "Oklahoma!"

Principal cast members for a student performance of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma!" have been chosen, according to Co-Directors Doris Julian and Dr. Debora Clifford. The musical will be presented Friday, March 26, and Saturday, March 27, in 8 o'clock performances at Deerfield School.

Assuming lead roles will be Peter Jaffe as Curly, Caitlin Haughey as Laurey, Marc Franciosa as Jud, Caroline Hedrick as Aunt Eller, Suzanne Crane as Ado Annie, David Dietz as Will Parker, and Michael Crowley as Ali Hakim.

Others with major speaking parts are Bart Christopher Barre, Ike Skidmore; Brad Krumholz, Slim; Chris Dooley, Fred; Charlotte Jaffe, Girl; Cindy Moser, Gertie; Russell Picut, Andrew Carnes; Amanda Maxemchuk, Ellen; Doug Maher, Cord Elam; David Simon, Man; and Jason Schneider, Farmer.

Holy Trinity Parish of Westfield will begin its observance of Catholic School Week on Sunday. There will be a Celebrated Mass at noon in Holy Trinity Church (corner of Westfield Ave. and First St.). An open house at the school will immediately follow Mass. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. "The Good News" in Catholic Education will be the theme of the activities for the week Jan. 31 - Feb. 6.

Holy Trinity School serves 172 families from the local area and has an enrollment of 265 students. Its program encompasses pre-kindergarten through eighth grades. The faculty is headed by Principal Stella Bisogno. The faculty members are: Mrs. Dorothy Sot, Miss Patricia Byrne, Miss Mary Ann Nead, Mrs. Betty Glowacky, Miss Ellen Colandrea, Mrs. Christine Gonko, Mrs. Lauren Berardi, Miss Joanne Schaefer, Miss Kathleen Jones, Mrs. Lois Wallin and Mrs. Irene Scott. Sister Margaret Foster is religious education coordinator.

Special subjects offered at the school include music, art, French, Spanish, gym and library. Instructors in these areas are Charles Romero, Mrs. Joan Mund, Mrs. Judith Kurz, Mrs. June Loughrey and Mrs. Dorothy Demarais. In addition, there is a sports program organized and run by the parents. Included in this are the spring and fall track teams, as well as Girls and Boys League Basketball.

The general public is invited to the Mass at the church and the open house at the school. Registration for pre-kindergarten through eighth grade is available at the open house.

Something to Celebrate

"The Good News in Education - Catholic Schools" is the theme this year of Catholic Schools Week being celebrated from Jan. 31 through Feb. 6. And Westfield's one Catholic school, Holy Trinity Elementary School now occupying the building once used for Holy Trinity High School and extending from Waterson St. (named after a long-time favorite Monsignor) and First St., has much to celebrate.

Mothers March an Old Tradition

It was January of 1950. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was still in recent memory and the specter of polio still stalked the land. Twelve years earlier, Roosevelt had founded the March of Dimes to combat the disease which had crippled him.

United Counties Reports Income

United Counties Trust Company reported net income for the year ended Dec. 31, 1981 of $6,103,418, or $2.80 per share, versus $5,590,695, or $2.38 per share for the 12 months ended Dec. 31, 1980, respectively.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

THE PRESIDENT RESPONDS

The Little Shop on the Corner, staffed and run by the Auxiliary of the Westfield Day Care Center, is completely staffed by volunteers. When President Reagan issued a plea that more people volunteer to help our economy, the following letter was sent to him to let him know that Voluntaryism does work in Westfield.

PUBLIC TRUST VIOLATED?

(An open letter to the Board of Education.) I can scarcely believe what I just heard on the radio! A Westfield teacher was suspended based on the accusation of a child. Why did the Board of Education step in and act so promptly when the parents of the child refused to sign a police complaint?

SUPPORTS ZIOBRO

The recent suspension of Mr. Stanley Ziobro from Roosevelt school disturbs us greatly. He is a most excellent teacher and a man of the highest moral standards. This can be verified by the many present and former students, their parents, as well as teachers, administrators, members of the school staff, friends and residents in the community, who openly and eagerly support him.

Every reliable statistic confirms that Americans have good reason to be fearful of crime. One out of three households in the United States was touched by crime last year. Some experts claim that over a five-year period, virtually every household in the country will be victimized.

County Government: Cooperation Across Town Lines

Helping Youths Find Their Bearings By Rose Marie Sinnott, Member Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders

requiring all counties to provide facilities for youths who are awaiting hearings on such offenses as incorrigibility, truancy and running away.

complaints are lodged by parents and about 70 percent of the JINS cases are based on incorrigibility - which can include staying out too late, abusive language, disrespect for home rules, school or peer-related pressures, or a combination of behavioral problems with which the parents feel they can no longer cope.

Under court auspices, the Juvenile Intake Office determines temporary placement of the youths either at JINS or the Detention Center.

The county's JINS Shelter comprises the entire second floor of a building at Runnells, accommodating 10 girls and 10 boys in separate dormitory and lounge wings, with a common recreation room and snack kitchen.

The primary objective of JINS is to restore the family unit, thus diverting a child from repeated court appearances. When possible, close family ties are maintained throughout a child's stay at JINS and once the child leaves, parents are immediately referred to specific agencies for aftercare assistance.

Every effort should be made to reorganize the court system to speed up trials. Juvenile courts should be allowed to keep records of juvenile offenders and to take them into consideration at the time of sentencing.

A number of years ago the average stay was 60 days, which sometimes led to overcrowding. Over the past three years, more spaces have been kept open because of dedicated staff members who have the ability to resolve situations quickly.

In 1977, the JINS staff used its initiative to organize the first parents group as a pilot program. Now, the county's Division of Youth Services is developing several similar groups to help parents work through those problems which, if unattended, could potentially lead to the more serious JINS involvement.

Career criminals should be sent to state prisons for fixed terms without parole, and federal and state laws to protect witnesses against intimidation should be strengthened.

More than half of the 450 to 500 youths who are admitted each year to the Shelter are females. This statistic reflects a statewide trend and possibly indicates that more assertiveness among girls is causing increased conflict with traditional parental guidelines. Most Schooling is continued at the Shelter on an individual and, when possible, group basis. In addition to on-premise activities which include photography equipment and a darkroom for creative expression, the comprehensive recreational program encompasses supervised use of YMCA and other such facilities located in nearby communities. Volunteers conduct projects such as arts and crafts and representatives from industry, large corporations and the military visit to talk about careers and skills.

Vacation Center Registration Open

Registration for the Senior Adult Vacation Center at Lake Como, Pa., will open on Monday. Since the Vacation Center first opened in the summer of 1972, overwhelming demands for participation has resulted in expansion to six sessions. The capacity was increased last summer by 16, with the addition of eight double rooms. Additionally, asphalt pathways now connect all buildings to facilitate movement by the guests.

The center is located in a mountain resort facility. Interested persons may call senior adult worker Bob Sokol at the YWHA Greater Westfield to make reservations.

This Week's Pet Peeve:

200 at Commemoration Of Gallow's Hill Hanging

(The following account of the hanging of sentry James Morgan is interspersed with stanzas of "The Ballad of Gallows Hill" written by the late Marion Glass. The song was performed by her son Hank at last week's commemoration of the trial of Morgan, a program of the Westfield Historical Society which brought an audience of nearly 200 to the Presbyterian Church.)

Two hundred years ago
On a bleak wintry day so chill

Jim Morgan stood trial in the Westfield Church
A mile from Gallows Hill

American Sons of Liberty
Their courtroom quickly filled
Their judges and their jury

Called for justice on Gallows Hill
On a bleak January day just two hundred years ago tomorrow Westfield was the scene of a hanging with all of the trappings of an execution in the French Revolution.

The snow was deep; the weather bitter cold.

"A bitter north wind swept across the marsh, sending shivers down the spines of the curious town folk, gathered in little groups, watching a procession moving eastward along Broad Street," according to one account.

"It was an unusual procession even in Revolutionary days, and now that the war was over and fighting had ceased. The old town had seen nothing like this in a decade of alarms, of raids, of muskets and Minute Men and the warning clang of the church bell.

"It was headed by a company of infantry, led by a native son, Col. John Scudder, a veteran of the French and Indian Wars. They marched at a funeral pace beside a two-wheeled cart drawn by a horse of all work.

"Seated in the cart was a heavy-set, grim-visaged man, a halter thrown loosely about his bared neck, his hands and feet bound, his disheveled black hair falling across his forehead, his eyes staring vacantly into space. A soldier walked behind, holding the halter rope."

The verdict was: "Wilful murder."

Caldwell-the-parson was killed--

The innocent man who once preached the word
Six miles from Gallows Hill."

Jim Morgan murdered James Caldwell,

His chaplain of zeal and good will:

He shot Caldwell down in cold blood one bright day
Six miles from Gallows Hill."

Behind the cart holding Morgan came a long line of vehicles of all sorts--coaches with clergymen, lawyers, county and state officials; carriages with deacons and elders; wagons and carts with townsfolk and farmers from the Plains and back country. They had come from all parts of the state to attend this grim affair.

This was the day, January 29, 1782, that Revolutionary sentry James Morgan was paying the penalty for shooting and instantly killing The Rev. James Caldwell on a dock in Elizabeth Point the previous November--whether through accident, design, misunderstanding, personal enmity or after having been bribed by the British history has never settled by historians.

Slowly the soldiers tramped over the frozen mud road to the hill near the lane leading to Elizabeth Town, which hereafter was to be known as Gallows Hill.

The judges and jury were zealous

The traitors blood to spill;

But they gave Jim Morgan a chance to speak
Before hanging on Gallows Hill.

Jim Morgan held his head erect

No tears his eyes did fill.

"Sire, it is my destiny
To die on Gallows Hill

"I am no spy, no Tory,
No Redcoat or British swill.

I'm a Continental soldier
Glad to die on Gallows Hill."

The condemned man had begun the day listening to a two-hour sermon on his bad reputation and character by the Rev. Jonathan Elmer based on Jeremiah XLIV.4, "O! do not this abominable thing that I hate."

Sheriff Marsh then showed Morgan his grave in the old Presbyterian burial ground, according to tradition, although no stone marks the spot.

Then Morgan was taken to John Scudder's farm, for the colonel had requested he be hung there.

"No man can live with such torment

Haunting him, breaking his will.

I took charge of my soldiers in front of our ship
But my soul was on Gallows Hill.

"Who goes there?" I called, musket ready

"Parson Caldwell," his voice rang, shrill.

"Stand, damn your eyes" I yelled at him,
"Or I will shoot to kill."

"Then the devil took over my musket

The Devil my soul did fill;

The Devil shot Caldwell into Heav'n

And me to Gallows Hill."

Controversy surrounds even the last words of the executed.

The most popularly repeated story of the condemned man's last minutes has Morgan standing composure in the wagon beneath the gallows, which was constructed with two upright posts, with a heavy piece of timber across the top. He stared out at the morbidly curious multitude freezing in order to see the man's last agonies.

And, he took pity on them. He turned to the sheriff, saying "Do your duty quickly. The people are suffering from the cold."

The rope was fastened about his neck and over the gallows, the wagon drawn from under, and Morgan was dead.

A cynical age may prefer the account by Capt. W.C. De Hart:

"Up to the last minute Morgan denied the crime for which he was to suffer--for turning to the guard which surrounded him he said, 'Soldiers don't do your duty, for I am about to die for having done mine.'"

"Then, turning to Sheriff Noah Marsh, he thanked him for the kindness that had been shown him and added (some say with a profane expression) "Now do your duty quickly, or I shall freeze to death--and I shall be in a better place."

The halter was tightened round Morgan's neck

And the wagon raced down the hill

Till Morgan was dead and his nightmare was o'er

But his spirit haunts Gallows Hill.

Each autumn when dead leaves fall softly

The moans 'round Ghost Pond grow shrill.

And the first snowy footprints in Westfield Town

Are Morgan's on Gallows Hill.

Winter Tree ID Program at Trailside

Visitors to the Trailside Nature and Science Center will learn how to identify trees without using leaves during Sunday's program, "Winter Tree ID." The slide show, talk and nature walk will begin at 2 p.m. in the visitor's center, Coles Ave. and New Providence Rd., Mountainside.

Holly Hoffman, director of this Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility, will host the afternoon activity. Beginning with the slide presentation, she will explain how to identify trees by their bark, buds, fruits and other winter characteristics. A nature walk through the Watchung Reservation to try the new skill follows.

This week's children's planetarium show, "Voyager Encounters," investigates the recent Voyager explorations. It will be presented Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 30 and 31 at 2 p.m. and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 1, 2 and 3 at 3:30 p.m.

Chief Urges Care With Heating Devices

"Each year numerous fires start from overheated or defective heating equipment," according to Westfield Fire Chief Walter J. Ridge.

"The most important thing you can do to protect yourself and your family from fire when installing and using heating equipment is to follow fire safety codes and manufacturer's directions," the Chief stated.

"Chimneys and fireplaces should be inspected yearly for cracks, crumbling bricks, obstructions and creosote build-up." Home fires related to heating equipment start because of inadequate clearances, defective chimneys and overfiring (letting a fire burn too long). "When buying a wood stove look for sturdy construction and a label of an approved testing agency."

The Chief also warned of the dangers of unvented kerosene heaters which are prohibited in Westfield. He cited a recent fire in the county which destroyed the second floor of a home when the heater malfunctioned.

Barrett & Crain, Inc., Realtors is featuring this week in its 43 Elm St. window wire coiled figures showing body movement. These figures were formed by the seventh grade students of Deerfield School, Mountainside.

Each figure expresses the students own feelings for the athletic action he/she has chosen to represent. Some are very serious, others have a humorous accent while the student became aware how the body moves.

Also on display in the Realtors window are Current Homes for Sale.

Petix, Counselors To Visit Yale

Westfield High School Principal Robert G. Petix and guidance counselors will visit Yale University tomorrow to review college admissions procedures with an emphasis on the importance of counselor's letters of recommendations. Penelope Laurans, assistant director of admissions at Yale University, will meet with Westfield counselors to present her perspective, as an admissions officer, in reviewing student applications and letters of recommendations.

"This conference at Yale is a direct follow-up activity to the visit School Superintendent Greene and I made to highly competitive colleges in the New England states in November," said Dr. Petix.

"I am truly proud of the deservedly fine reputation Westfield High School has earned and continues to maintain at some of the finest colleges in the country. Certainly, we are not perfect, but we are committed to excellence in our every endeavor — including offering our pupils every advantage as they seek admittance to the colleges of their choice," he stated in an article about the high school and college admissions in the January issue of the P-TO newsletter, "The Devil's Advocate."

Dental Dialogue
by: Adam Feret D.M.D.

KEEP YOUR BITE BRIGHT

Q. I'm a salesman and my teeth seem to be really yellow. What can I do to whiten them?
A. The color of our teeth is determined by our genes, and some of us have a more yellow tone than others. There is nothing that can whiten them beyond their natural shade, but your teeth can be brightened by a professional cleaning at your dentist's office. This removes discolorations and superficial stains from coffee, tea, and cigarettes and more importantly, keeps your teeth and gums healthy by removing the tartar and plaque. Certainly one of the best assets anyone can have is a bright attractive smile.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Competition Keen at Tamaques Derby

Competition was keen when Cubs of Pack 79, Tamaques School, held their pinewood derby last Thursday evening. The pinewood derby is an annual event in which both father and son participate. In this grand prix for cub scouts the model car represents a cooperative project, and both winners and losers can take pride in their efforts. The derby car must meet certain specifications regarding size and weight, and producing a winner is no easy task. Cars are weighed and carefully evaluated prior to the race. Tension mounted during what proved to be an exciting evening for parents and cubs, and awards were given in the following categories: Speed; first place, David Curtis, second place, John Pushko, third place, Jason Kunicky. Design; Matt Sklar, wolf, Eli Rabin, bear, and John Steurnagel, webelo.

While speaking to Mrs. Jane Griffin's fourth grade at McKinley School, Miss Nancy Pafumi enlisted the aid of her brother, John, and Ingrid Castle, shown above. These students displayed a stuffed Koala bear, a kangaroo fur pocketbook and some Australian money. Miss Pafumi spent three weeks in Australia and traveled across the whole continent. Her interesting talk covered the climate, government, people, animals, plants and sports. She gave the class an Australian flag and several interesting books from Australia. Miss Pafumi provided answers to many of the students' questions concerning this land from "down under."

February Concert For Westfielders

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will present an all-Tchaikovsky program for music lovers of the Westfield area at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6. This concert will be under the baton of the orchestra's music director and permanent conductor, Thomas Michalak. The featured solist will be American pianist, Jeffrey Swann. The concert will be held at Newark Symphony Hall as part of this year's five concert Westfield series.

Fidelity Union Declares Dividend

The board of directors, Fidelity Union Bancorporation (NYSE), has declared a quarterly dividend of 70 cents per share payable Feb. 11 to shareholders of record Feb. 1. The annual cash

This all-Tchaikovsky program will consist of the rarely performed overture to Hamlet, as well as two of dividend rate is $2.80 per share.

Peter Cartmell, chairman, noted the record date for voting at the annual meeting to be held on April 13, is Feb 16.

Parentcraft Course Slated

Overlook Hospital's Parentcraft program will sponsor a two-part pregnancy exercise course on Feb. 3 and 10. The classes will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. The course is designed to help the expectant couple prepare for the physical and psychological changes pregnancy-brings. Exercises, under the direction of a physical therapist, will help the woman deal with the physical changes. Up-to-date nutrition information, and fetal growth and development are a few of the additional topics covered.

Class size is limited. Interested persons may call the Department of Community Education for further information.

the Russian composer's most beloved masterpieces: The Symphony #5, and the 1st piano concerto. Swann has been a top prize winner in every competition he has entered. He has established himself as a pianist of International acclaim, won first prize in the Dino Ciani International Piano competition sponsored by LaScala in Milan; second prize and a gold medal in the Queen Elizabeth Competition of Belgium, and top honors in the Warsaw Chopin, the Van Cliburn, the Viana de Motta and the Montreal competitions. Since these recognitions, Swann has become a renowned recitalist, soloist and recording artist.

Swann has toured the United States as a recitalist performing in New York, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C. to critical accolades. Included on his roster of appearances as soloist are the orchestras of Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Seattle, Indianapolis, Dallas, St. Louis, Ft. Worth, New Orleans, Portland and Baltimore.

In the European realm, Swann has achieved status as a major artist.

The orchestra has announced that this concert will mark the opening of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra's 11982-83 renewal campaign for present subscribers. All present Westfield season ticket holders and their friends will be given information about next season at this concert and have an opportunity to renew their seats. Symphony volunteers will be on hand to take orders.

As for all Symphony Hall Concerts this season, the Jeffrey Swann New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will provide chartered bus transportation. Buses will depart from Edison Jr. High School at 7 p.m. promptly. Anyone wishing to reserve a seat should call the box office; a limited number of good seats is still available.

Free Blood Pressure Screening Wednesday

The Westfield Board of Health will conduct a free blood pressure screening session from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday, in the Civil Defense Room of the Municipal Building.

More than 23 million Americans have high blood pressure and many are unaware they have it. In most cases high blood pressure is painless and produces no symptoms.

Individuals should be screened for high blood pressure if they:

- 1) are 35 years of age or older;
- 2) are not under a physician's care for high blood pressure;
- 3) gave a family history of high blood pressure;
- 4) have not had a blood pressure test in over a year; or
- 5) have stopped taking blood pressure medication without their physician's approval

The early detection and treatment of high blood pressure can enable a person to lead a normal life. It takes only a few minutes to have your blood pressure checked.

WE'RE THE RETIREMENT CAPITAL.

You don't have to be rich today to retire rich tomorrow — Capitalize on our IRA account now!

Let your capital work over time.

If you work for a living, you can really capitalize on our new Individual Retirement Account (IRA) and build a substantial sum of money for retirement. Literally a small fortune over the years, depending upon when you start and how much you contribute.

Who can capitalize?

Just about everyone. And you're eligible for a Capital IRA even if you are currently enrolled in another type of pension plan.

What are the Capital Limits?

Higher than ever! Married working couples can now contribute up to $4,000 of annual income ($2,250 with a non-working spouse). Single persons can contribute up to $2,000 each year. Remember, you don't have to contribute the maximum and you don't have to contribute every year. Naturally, the more you can put away in your IRA, the richer your retirement!

An instant capital tax-shelter!

You capitalize by tax-sheltering your money in two ways. First, every dollar you contribute is immediately tax-deductible. Second, all the interest you earn is tax-deferred until retirement when your tax bracket should be much lower. You enjoy the best of both worlds!

Don't wait, capitalize now!

There's no better time than right now to start your Capital IRA. Your retirement should be a capital investment and we offer two excellent plans to help you retire rich. Simply pick the one that best suits your needs!

Million Dollar Salesman

Philip Waddington, Regional Vice President of Weichert Co., Realtors, announced today that office manager Larry Mueller and sales representative Paul Gagliotti of the firm's Westfield Office have qualified for the 1981 State Million Dollar Sales Club.

Larry Mueller

Mrs. Norman Joins Local Realty Firm

Alan Johnston, president of Alan Johnston, Inc., has announced that Patricia C.

"Weichert is the most organized real estate company in existence. Because of this, Weichert is able to offer a great number of opportunities," noted Gagliotti, a member of the Westfield and Union County Boards of Realtors.

Office manager Larry Mueller has been a licensed broker for 15 years. He said, "Advertising, and Weichert's individually tailored open house programs and public awareness seminars have helped us greatly in achieving success. Here at the Westfield Office, we will continue to build upon this strong foundation."

Waddington said, "Weichert personnel distinguish themselves throughout our state-wide 38 offices. They have the most current marketing tools in the industry today, and are specially trained to understand and respond to individual real estate requirements."

Norman has joined his firm as a sales associate. Mrs. Norman graduated from the University of Manitoba with a bachelor of science degree in mathematics and chemistry and served as child technologist for the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service in Toronto, Ontario. More recently she has completed courses in accounting and real estate at Union College in Cranford and at the Professional School of Business in Union.

Active in community affairs, Mrs. Norman is a former chairman of Twig #3 of Overlook Hospital, Echo Lake Country Club and St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Norman resides in Westfield with her husband, Wilfred H. Norman, a Westfield attorney. They have three grown children.

Mrs. Norma Wang visited Mrs. Sabbagh's grade 1-3 at Jefferson School to help the first grade children celebrate the Chinese New Year. Each child was given the traditional red envelope containing money for good luck in the new year. This custom was compared to gift giving at Christmas. Mrs. Wang's collection of 12 glass animals helped the children to learn the sequence of Chinese years, named for animals. These six and seven year old children were born in the year of the rabbit or the tiger. After making individual wons tons, fondue style, each child ate the traditional New Year's foods of meat and vegetables, the symbolism of which Mrs. Wang explained. Steamed dumplings filled with a mixture of pork and vegetables completed the holiday meal.

Attends Mental Health Institute

Mrs. Ann C. Harris of Westfield, mental health nurse consultant of Visiting Nurse and Health Services, attended a three day Training Institute on "Indicators of Mental Health Disturbance in the First Eighteen Months of Life" at the Capital Hilton, Washington, D.C. recently. The institute, sponsored by the National Center for Clinical Infant Programs in collaboration with the World Psychiatric Association and National Institute of Mental Health, was attended by about 1000 professionals representing infant and child psychiatry, pediatrics nursing, psychology, child development and education.

Highlighted throughout the conference were the importance of early appraisal and assessment of infants' physical and emotional development, and parent child interactions, and the need for community programs and services which provide early intervention through parent counseling and teaching in order to support mutually satisfying interactions between infants and parents which are the foundation for optimal development of infants.

The Visiting Nurse and Health Services offers a wide range of maternal/child nursing services which include assessment, teaching and counseling through their teen parent program, child abuse and neglect program, child health conferences and home care. Anyone interested in these services should call the agency.

You can become a millionaire for under $5⁵⁰ a day.

When you open a new Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Fidelity Union, two marvelous things happen:

1. You cut your tax bill now. 2. You could end up being a millionaire.

Imagine! Now you can save for retirement while saving on taxes. And, depending on how much you deposit, you could someday be worth a million dollars or more!

Open an IRA—if you work, you're eligible!

Thanks to a new change in the law, effective January 1, 1982, everyone who's employed can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) of their own—even those with a company pension plan! You can contribute up to $2,000 annually (that's less than $5.50 a day!) if you're single—$2,250 if you have a non-working spouse (filing jointly)—$4,000 if you're a working married couple.

You defer taxes if you open an IRA—you could pay more taxes if you don't! It's that simple!

Let's say you contribute $2,000 every year to your IRA at Fidelity Union. When the time comes to figure your taxes, deduct the $2,000 from your gross income. It comes right off the top—no ifs, ands, or buts!

But suppose you don't have an IRA? Without the $2,000 deduction, you'll pay the full tax rate on that income. If you're in a 50% bracket, this means you'll give Uncle Sam $1,000 in taxes. Why in the world do that? Take that $1,000 in tax money, put it with an additional $1,000 and you've got your $2,000 annual IRA contribution. Now that makes sense!

Compound interest: it's like a snowball.

Remember when you were a kid and you started rolling a snowball around in the snow? Soon, the snowball got bigger. And bigger. And bigger. Eventually, you had a big, fat snowball!

Deposit $2,000 annually at age:	Retire at 60' with:	Retire at 65' with:	Retire at 70' with:
25	$1,216,042	$2,248,707	$4,145,899
35	347,996	653,950	1,216,042
45	90,815	181,462	347,996
55	14,618	41,475	90,815

*These figures are assuming a 12% interest rate, earned from starting age to retirement age. Interest rates cannot be guaranteed for the full term of an IRA. Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for withdrawal of funds from an IRA prior to age 59½.

Compounding the interest on your IRA deposit works exactly the same way. Your account starts out small, but eventually you may have a big, fat, wonderful retirement account! (By the way, you don't pay taxes on either the principal or interest until you retire, when your tax bracket will probably be lower.)

Good news for the self-employed.

Whether you're a doctor, lawyer, or contractor, if you're self-employed, the new law has something for you too. The maximum yearly contribution to a Keogh Plan has been doubled. Which means you can contribute up to 15% of your income, or a maximum of $15,000. And remember, your tax advantage also doubles! In addition to your Keogh Plan, you can open an IRA as well, and get an even bigger tax advantage.

Talk to an IRA specialist.

It's simple to open an IRA account. But getting answers to your questions isn't always as simple. That's why we have our own IRA specialists ready to help you. They'll answer your questions and explain all the benefits, including how you can select from a fixed-rate or variable-rate investment plan. And they'll show you that when it comes to saving for retirement while you save on taxes, you can't beat a Fidelity Union IRA.

To open your account, stop in at any Fidelity Union branch. And if you want to talk to one of our specialists, call the office nearest you.

You'll get advice that could be worth a fortune.

Foundation Donates $55,000 to Hospital

The Foundation of the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Elizabeth has presented a check for $55,000 to the hospital. According to Mrs. Arline Pass of Westfield, president of the Foundation, the check will go toward the Foundation's pledge of $250,000 for the hospital's new addition. The two-story $6.5 million addition will contain an expanded and modernized intensive care unit, a pharmacy, office space for ancillary services, and the addition of two new elevators.

As Mrs. Pass presented the check to Sister Margaret Doherty, SEH executive director, she said, "Through fulfilling the community's needs by providing excellence in the delivery of health care services, St. Elizabeth Hospital consistently meets the medical challenges which face us today and in the future."

Camera Buffs Slate Competitions

The Plainfield Camera Club will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the United National Bank in Fanwood, 45 Martine Ave. There will be a color slide competition in "Nature" under the sponsorship of the Photographic Society of America, one of several such competitions held during the year.

The second regular meeting of the month will be on Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the same place. The program will be two-fold: a color slide competition on an assigned subject - Vapor, Water and Ice; and an instructional program on "Edifices" by club member John MacLean.

The color chairman in charge of the club competition is Dr. Mark Henry. President Dr. Yuan Li is promoting educational programs throughout the year. Both are from Westfield.

The meetings are open to the public.

Resident Named President Of Economic Development Corp.

Clifford M. Peake of Westfield, president of the Union County Chamber of Commerce, has been elected president of the Union County Economic Development Corporation for the year 1982.

Also elected to new positions were William G. Franklin, Hillside Metal Ware Company, Union, as vice president; Anne T. Gardner, Snelling and Snelling, Plainfield, secretary; and Raymond A. Clayton, Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill, treasurer. Matthew T. Rinaldo, Esq., Rinaldo and Rinaldo, Elizabeth, UCEDC president-emeritus, will serve with the other officers on the corporation's executive committee which includes chairman of the promotion committee, Joseph M. Coleman of Coleman & Pellet, Inc., Union.

The board of directors also has elected four new trustees, Kevin Boyles, Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company; William D. Lanzen, Compu-Med Systems, Kenilworth; Ronald H. Posyton, Smith Motors, Elizabeth; and Frank R. Wesolowski, Baronel Associates, Union.

Board members re-elected to three year terms are, in addition to Anne Gardner, Maurice M. Weill, Murray Construction Company, Springfield; Marvin Katz, Westfield; and Douglas N. Woodson, Crestmont Cleaning Service & Supply Company, Cranford. The Union County Economic Development Corporation is a private, non-profit organization which was established cooperatively by county government and private industry to promote the county, provide business assistance to county firms, and encourage firms to locate in Union County. UCEDC board members include executives from the county's leading financial, industrial, business, and real estate firms, as well as representatives from county government, labor, and education. UCEDC programs are geared to job retention, new job creation, and increasing rates.

Upon assuming his new duties, Peake expressed the board's appreciation for the outstanding job done by his predecessor, Matthew T. Rinaldo, who has served as president for the past two years. He then said, "Since the creation of a county economic development corporation in 1977, we have come a long way. The original idea has been converted into action and accomplishments. But economic development is an ongoing process. The more we do, the better we know what there is to be done. 1982 will be a year of doing more for the economic well being of Union County and its people. I promise you that."

Dr. Cantor Serving On NJAAP Board

A Westfield resident is one of five psychologists selected recently to serve on the board of trustees of the New Jersey Association for the Advancement of Psychology (NJAAP). Formed in 1979, NJAAP is a 250 member state-wide organization which serves as the legislative advocate for the psychological profession in New Jersey. Elected to the NJAAP board was Dr. Dorothy W. Cantor. Chairperson Cantor has a private practice in Westfield and is the director of continuing education at Rutgers Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology,

20's Invited To Join Group

Have you hit your twenties and discovered that you don't know what you want to be when you "grow up"? Had you perhaps hoped that your high school or college diploma would open unexplored doors - but now you can't even find any doors to open? Had you assumed that in your twenties, family would take a back seat while careers, new homes and friends would take over?

The Youth and Family Counseling Service is creating a group so that men and women can explore together where they are, what they want and how to reach their goals. Those interested in joining may call the YFCS in Westfield and ask for Mrs. Pat Veit.

Youth and Family Counseling Service is a family counseling agency servicing individuals and families who experience parent-child, marital, teenage and adult personality problems. The agency serves eight communities: Berkeley Heights, Clark, Cranford, Garwood, Mountainside, Rahway, Scotch Plains and Westfield, and is a member of the respective United Ways and United Funds of each town. YFCS has a staff of professional psychiatric counselors and psychologists, and a consulting psychiatrist. The agency is open five days a week and three nights, which enables the staff to see students and working adults.

CPR Course at Overlook

Overlook Hospital in Summit will offer a four-session American Heart Association CPR instructor course on Feb. 24 and 25, and March 3 and 4. Each class will be held from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

The course is open to anyone who holds a current American Heart Association or American Red Cross basic life support certification card. The class size is limited to the first 25 registrants. Interested persons may call the hospital's Department of Community Education for further information.

Skiers Can Bus to Camelback Feb. 7

The Westfield Recreation Commission will sponsor a ski trip to Camelback Feb. 7, according to Ruth V. Hill, Director of Recreation.

With a vertical drop of 800 feet, nine lifts and nine varieties of 20 slopes and trails, Camelback is the largest of the Pocono's ski areas. From expert trails to gentle beginner areas, Camelback has skiing for all, along with snowmaking to cover all slopes and trails.

Buses will leave for Camelback at 6 a.m. from the Municipal Building parking lot and return at approximately 6:15 p.m. Children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

Further information is available at the Recreation office, 425 East Broad St.

Ancient Cultures Explored In New Library Books

Myth and reality in ancient cultures is intriguingly explored in new books that have been added to the shelves of the Westfield Memorial Library.

Were the Vikings, for example, really the barbarous pagans that scourged the Christian communities of western Europe?

What drove Alexander the Great to daring feats of organization and discipline that would be impossible to believe if they weren't documented by solid archaeological and historical evidence?

Magnus Magnusson, author of "Vikings," who has translated Icelandic sagas into English and excavated major archaeological sites, explores the Viking myth in his book. Few people in history, he contends, have been so feared by their neighbors or so misunderstood by the modern world.

"Vikings" introduces these rough and fearless men as explorers who crisscrossed half the world in their open boats, extended the boundaries of the known world across the Atlantic and North America and eastward through Russia to Turkey and the Mediterranean, served as handpicked warriors in the celebrated Varangian Guard, and introduced the word "law" into the English language.

Magnusson shows the Vikings as town dwellers, architects and craftsmen, and his book is lavishly filled with the latest revelations of modern archaeology and quotes from the saga writers of thirteenth century Iceland.

The myth and the reality of the life of Alexander the Great is explored by Robin Lane Fox in "The Search for Alexander."

This remarkable man, during his boldest adventure, led 50,000 men from Greece on an extraordinary expedition that spanned ten years and a march of 11,000 miles, and ended up fabulously wealthy, and by his conquests, king of the Greeks, pharaoh of Egypt, ruler of Persia and master of the known world.

Fox, in his fascinating and highly readable book, sets out to answer all the questions of enshrouding myth and conflicting legends. His book is stunningly illustrated.

In his book, "The Spartans," L. F. Fitzhardinge proves, by contemporary written evidence and the latest archaeological findings, that all classical writers from about 400 B. C. on were tainted by myth in their view of Sparta. Sparta, according to myth, was converted from the worst to the best governed of Greek states by a divinely inspired legislator, Lycurgus, who gave her a constitution, a military organization and a set of social institutions unique in ancient Greece. Twentieth century excavations, however, reveal quite a different Sparta—a Sparta in the mainstream of Greek culture, where the arts flourished and outside contacts thrived.

Robert F. Burgess, in his book, "Man: 12,000 Years Under The Sea," gives a fascinating account of new discoveries being made in underwater exploration by archaeologists, historians and treasure hunters with refined equipment.

He tells of deep pools of Florida crystal springs which show how Ice Age man lived over 12,000 years ago, and statues sculpted centuries before the birth of Christ, that have been yielded up by Roman argosies sunk in the Mediterranean.

Burgess' fascinating accounts combine the allure of science and adventure, and demonstrate that beyond the drama of the search can be the interpretation of the nautical archaeologist that deepens man's understanding of his heritage and the world around us.

Around the corner... across the state.

"The challenge is to grow in difficult economic times, and we're meeting the challenge head on.

"We've met it in the past by offering the lowest priced 5 1/4% checking in the entire state of New Jersey, met it by providing the tax-free All-Savers Certificate, a savings instrument that beats just about anything Wall Street has to offer, and we've met it by giving our customers the very highest-yielding savings plans available today.

"And now we face tomorrow, prepared to once again meet the challenge. Meet it by providing new retirement accounts in which just about anyone can participate, whether or not currently a member of a qualified pension plan; meet it by continuing to offer financial services that help you meet the challenge of growth.

"Lincoln Federal Savings is dedicated to the financial health and well-being of the people of New Jersey; we will always face and meet the challenge of growth for you - around the corner... across the state."

Icy Roads

Cause Accidents

Snowy and icy roads contributed to three traffic accidents which resulted in injury this week. Two were one-car accidents on Lamberts Mill Rd. A woman and her granddaughter were taken to Union Memorial Hospital in Union after the woman lost control of her automobile on an icy patch of road between Rahway Ave. and Lambert Circle and crashed into a public service utility pole Thursday. The driver of a car which went out of control on the snowy road and hit a tree between Kirkview Circle and Radley Rd. Saturday was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

A car skidded on ice at Dorian Rd. and Scotch Plains Ave. Saturday, went through a stop sign and crashed into an oil truck. The driver of the automobile received slight injuries.

Two cars collided at Central and North Ave. Sunday as the driver of one was attempting to make a left turn. The driver claimed her vision was obstructed by a passing vehicle. Two persons were injured, neither seriously.

Burglaries Reported

Despite frigid temperatures three burglaries were reported to police during the past week. A residence on Ripley Pl. was entered Thursday and two burglaries, one on Cory Pl. and one on Fairmount Ave. were reported Tuesday.

A 1982 brown Lincoln Continental was stolen from Thomas Lincoln Mercury Monday. Thefts were noted also at Stuart's Audio, Tuesday; First St. where a resident indicated that a wrist watch was taken Monday and West Broad St. where a woman had her pocketbook stolen from her while she was in her driveway Friday.

A 22-year-old Belleville man was arrested for possession of fireworks and being a disorderly person, Friday.

Additional Opportunities for Students in the graphics department at Westfield High School will result from this new linotype machine, which was included in last year's school budget. Pictured, during a staff training session for the typesetter which will also be used by high school students for their newspaper, "Hi's Eye," are (left to right) David Harris, graphic arts/instructional arts teacher; Wanda Block, applications specialist from the Morgenthaler Company; Sharon Ramsey, secretary in the school-community relations office; Walt Clarkson, journalism English teacher and "Hi's Eye" advisor; and Anton Durner, industrial arts/electronics teacher.

Mulreany announced the conclusion of the Fund for the Future campaign, launched in October of 1978 to raise funds for the Center for Community Health, which was dedicated on Oct. 3 of last year. Mulreany said that through Dec. 1, more than $7.1 million had been raised for the center and that the total represented the largest amount ever raised by Overlook.

New trustees elected at the meeting included Mrs. W. Austin Tansy Jr. of Short Hills and Donald Moriarty of Summit. Mrs. Tansy is the widow of Dr. W. Austin Tansy who had served as a trustee of the Foundation and for whom Overlook Hospital's Coronary Care Unit was named.

Moriarty is a partner of William A.M. Burden & Co. of New York. He is a former president of the Summit Board of Education, a trustee and former chairman of the board of Holy Cross College, a trustee of the Council on Religion and International Affairs, a member of the Investment Policy Committee of the Smithsonian Institution and a director of the Summit & Elizabeth Trust Company.

Current trustees elected for an additional three year term were John B. Cave of Summit, Kenyon, Mulreany, Henry G. Parker III of Madison and Dr. Robert C. Specht, Summit.

Other Foundation officers elected at the meeting included Sturgis S. Wilson of Summit, vice president; Mrs. George W. Sullivan, Summit, secretary and John B. Cave, treasurer.

George F. Billington, president of Elizabeth General Hospital, has been elected president of the Union County Hospital Society.

Billington succeeds Edward J. Dailey Jr., president and chief executive officer of Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, as Society president. Richard Ahlfeld, director of administration at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, was elected first vice-president. John L. Yoder, director of Rahway Hospital, was elected second vice-president.

The society is an organization of Union County's eight voluntary hospitals, including Alexian Brothers, Children's Specialized, Elizabeth General, Memorial Hospital, Overlook, Rahway, and Saint Elizabeth Hospitals;

Assumable Mortgage Concept Popular Financing Method

"Assumable mortgages are among the most popular of all the alternative financing programs available today in the real estate market," says James M. Weichert, president, Weichert Co., Realtors, the largest residential real estate organization in New Jersey.

Weichert said that company representatives are currently working with three primary mortgage assumption programs. "The most basic of these is the assumption of an existing mortgage. The second is a mortgage assumption with a second mortgage being held by the seller, and the third is a mortgage assumption with a second mortgage being held by a lending institution," he said.

An assumption of an existing mortgage is possible when the lending institution will allow a mortgage to be assumed by a new buyer. The buyer must have a down payment equal to the difference between the existing mortgage balance and the new sales price of the property. For example, if the sale price of a home is $100,000 and the mortgage balance is $75,000, the buyer must have $25,000 to be able to assume the existing mortgage.

The assumption of an existing mortgage with a second mortgage being held by the seller can be negotiated when the seller agrees to take back a second mortgage for the amount of down payment the buyer lacks. The seller may also elect to ask for a lower interest rate than the lending institutions to make his property even more marketable. For example, if the required down payment is $25,000 and the prospective buyer has only $15,000, the seller may hold a second mortgage of $10,000 at a much lower rate of interest than the prevailing market rate. The buyer is able to assume the seller's existing mortgage while the combined payments of the first and second mortgages could be significantly lower than the single payment on a new conventional mortgage.

If a seller has a mortgage assumption available, but is unwilling to hold a second mortgage, a prospective buyer can approach a lending institution which may make monies available but at the prevailing rate of interest. Although this may not be as attractive as a seller holding a second mortgage, it is a viable alternative financing method.

Weichert said an increasingly popular assumable technique is the so-called contract-for-deed. Under this arrangement, a seller might offer his home for sale for $100,000. A buyer assumes the existing mortgage on the property which, for this purpose, amounts to $60,000 at a fixed rate of interest. While the buyer may not have the full amount of equity required under normal assumable conditions, he may, for example, have just $15,000. The seller, anxious to sell, agrees to allow the buyer five-year deferred repayment terms on the final $25,000 provided the buyer pays interest on the $25,000 for a specified time period at an agreed upon rate of interest. At the end of the specified period of time, the buyer would then pay the $25,000 in one lump sum.

"Whatever the form or method of financing, the public can rest assured that the representatives of Weichert Co., Realtors have examined in minute detail each and every aspect of each and every creative financing alternative," Weichert said.

"There are many different ways to qualify a prospective buyer for mortgage financing. The key is to find the very best situation in line with the customer's financial capability. Our job is to sift through all the facts, figures, and possibilities and come up with the very best solution. Based on the record setting sales pace that we experienced through the first nine months of 1981, I think it's fair to say that the Weichert team is getting the job done for the people of New Jersey," Weichert said.

Kenyon Succeeds Mulreany As Overlook Foundation Pres.

Edward T. Kenyon of Summit has been elected president of the Overlook Hospital Foundation at the organization's annual meeting. He replaces Robert H. Mulreany of Westfield who served as both president of the Foundation and chairman of its $7.5 million Fund for the Future campaign since 1978. Kenyon had been a trustee of Overlook Hospital and chairman of the board from 1970 to 1972. He is one of the founding trustees of the Foundation and has served as its vice president for the past four years.

Kenyon is senior partner of the Summit law firm of Bourne, Noll and Kenyon. He is a trustee and former president of the Beacon Hill Club and a trustee of the Trinity Pawing School. He has also served as president of Central Presbyterian Church of Summit, the Harvard Club of New Jersey, chairman of Summit United Fund and trustee of the Pingry School and the Summit Art Center.

It was reported at the meeting that $2,240,000 had been raised by the Foundation for Overlook Hospital during the year in which grants of $1,644,000 were made to Overlook Hospital by the Foundation. A grant of $2,200 was made to provide signs for the Briant Park Fitness Trail.

Mulreany announced the conclusion of the Fund for the Future campaign, launched in October of 1978 to raise funds for the Center for Community Health, which was dedicated on Oct. 3 of last year. Mulreany said that through Dec. 1, more than $7.1 million had been raised for the center and that the total represented the largest amount ever raised by Overlook.

Thomas D. Crittenden Retires

Thomas D. Crittenden

Thomas D. Crittenden of Westfield has taken early retirement as group vice president of the North American Reinsurance Corporation and vice president Swiss Re Management Corporation after a distinguished 30 year career in the insurance and reinsurance industry.

Crittenden joined the claims department of North American Reinsurance Corporation in 1965. He was elected claims group vice president in 1975 and in 1979 he was named group vice president of the newly formed Reinsurance Services Group which included claims, actuarial and corporate communications functions of North American Re.

During his 17 year career at North American Re, Crittenden pioneered the use of many innovative claims techniques and practices now in widespread use throughout the industry. He developed a simplified method for supplemental reserving and initiated an early alert procedure for catastrophic claims. In 1977, Crittenden authored the first paper analyzing the use of arbitration for settling reinsurance disputes in the reinsurance industry which he presented at the annual meeting of the American Bar Association.

Crittenden began his insurance career in 1951 with Chubb & Son and in 1959 he joined Home Insurance Company.

A graduate of Washington & Lee University School of Law, he recently retired as Lt. Commander, U.S. Coast Guard Reserve, after 39 years of service.

Crittenden is a member of the Virginia State Bar, the International Association of Insurance Counsel, the Excess, Surplus Lines Claims Association, the Defense Research Institute, the Central Claims Executives Association and the Southeast Claims Executive Association.

He is a member of the American Bar Association and in 1979-80 served as the first chairman of its Reinsurance Law Committee of the Torts and Insurance Section.

Crittenden plans to pursue his interests in arbitration, consulting and in the practice of law.

Teacher Suspension

These statutes, in essence, forbid the dismissal or reduction of pay of a tenured teacher charged with such an offense of "misconduct" before a hearing is held by the State Commissioner of Education or a person (such as an administrative judge) acting on his behalf. The statutes also require that boards of education provide employees with copies of charges made and an opportunity to submit a written reply. After consideration of the charges and evidence, a board may decide by majority vote whether "probable cause" exists and send such charges to the Commissioner of Education.

The law also permits the superintendent, with the approval of the president of the Board of Education, to suspend an employee, but this suspension must "forthwith" be reported to the entire board.

ORT Plans Antique Show

The Greater Westfield Chapter of Women's American ORT will hold its eighth annual Antique Show on Sunday, Feb. 28, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Temple Emanu-El, 756 East Broad St.

More than forty antique dealers will display their exceptional selections of antique jewelry, furniture, glassware and silver. An admission fee is charged. Children under 18 will be admitted at no charge. Refreshments will be available all day.

Irene Stella of Paramus is directing the show.

Junior Musicians To Meet

The Junior Musical Club of Westfield will hold its sixth meeting of the year at 3 p.m. on Sunday Feb. 7 at the home of Michael Chin, 54 Roland Rd., Murray Hill. Five club members are scheduled to perform: Susan Kassouf, pianist, Kristin Kueter, pianist, Linda Munoz, pianist, Joanna Pecore, Flutist, pianist, and Dorothy Przydzial, pianist.

The club wishes to add to its membership this year, and hopes that private teachers of piano, voice, strings, and other instruments will encourage their talented students to join. Membership by audition is open to students in Westfield and other towns where no organized musical club exists. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. William Irwin or Mrs. Thornton Monez, of Westfield advisors to the club.

Film Series At Union College

"Prelude," a film-lecture series coordinated with the Suburban Symphony Orchestra concerts, will be performed Jan. 29, at Union College Campus Auditorium. This free program is an introduction to the concert the Suburban Symphony will perform in March. The program will feature a film "Bernstein on Beethoven," a discussion by Paul Kueter entitled "Of Emperors, Kings and Archdukes; The Royal Motives in Beethoven's Life and Music" and three Franz Liszt compositions sung by Charlotte Philley. Friends of the Cranford Public Library is co-sponsoring the January "Prelude" with Union College Community Education Humanities Project and the Suburban Symphony Orchestra.

Dancing In "Westward Ho! Ho!"

Recalls Gold Rush

The spirit of the Gold Rush will be reflected in the choreography for this year's Washington School PTA Show. Promoters of "Westward, Ho! Ho!" announced that choreographer Carolee Meglaughlin has created "eight rip-roaring dances with plenty of prancing posesses, marching miners, and curysing cowpokes to thoroughly entertain everyone who comes to Roosevelt Jr. High on Feb. 5 and 6."

Choreographer Meglaughlin, whose son attends Washington School, is a professional entertainer who has sung and danced off-Broadway and appeared as a nightclub artist. She attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, is a member of the American Guild of Variety Artists and Equity, and currently works out at Yvette's Dance Studio. Mrs. Meglaughlin became interested in "dance design" when she assisted choreographer Carol Tener on the tap routines for last year's show.

Kueter To Perform

With Suburban Symphony

Paul Kueter, a Westfield concert pianist, composer and teacher, will perform Beethoven's Piano Concerto #5, the Emperor Concerto on Feb. 6, at 8 p.m. at the Orange Ave. School in Cranford. He will be accompanied by the Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey under the direction of Ira Kraemer, music director of the society.

Kueter was a member of Douglass College faculty, Rutgers University for a number of years and also taught music at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Kueter, who maintains a teaching studio in Westfield, has appeared as piano soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and with numerous orchestras throughout the state of New Jersey. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree in physics from the University of Michigan. Mr. Kueter also has a bachelor of music degree from Chicago Musical College and a Masters of Education degree from Chicago Musical College and a Masters of Education degree from Columbia University. He studied piano with Thomas Richner and Rudolph Ganz. Ganz was the student of Busoni whose teacher was Liszt; Liszt's teacher was Czerny, who was taught by Beethoven, whose concerto Mr. Kueter will play on Feb. 6. Kueter studied composition with Max Wald, his compositions include songs, piano pieces, and three ballets. His "Color Me Ballet" for children has been recorded by Hocter Records Inc.

Kueter is the director of a chamber group whose winter concert was arranged by the Friends of the Westfield Library. His future plans include a recital for the Friends of the College of Union College, Cranford, May 7, a joint recital with violinist Stephen Wolosonovich at Carnegie Recital Hall in June. In the fall he will perform recitals at New York's Kosciuszko Foundation and later he will appear at Brown University in celebration of the Polish composer Karol Szymanowski.

"Makin Whoopee."

Producers Jane Kelly and Beth Upham announced that Mrs. Meglaughlin is being assisted by Judy Minichino and dance troupe of 36 parents. Tickets to "Westward, Ho! Ho!" can be purchased at Jeanette's and Robert Treat Liquors. For further ticket information, contact Mrs. Alfred J. Moskal or Mrs. Robert Singel. There will be evening performances on Feb. 5 and 6 beginning at 8:30 p.m. and a matinee on Feb. 6 starting at 2 p.m.

Mostly Music Warms Audience At Sunday Concert

By Paul Kueter

Claire Angel's "Mostly Music" provided another warm and cheering respite from winter's latest onslaught when members of Musica da Camera and clarinetist David Krakauer played a concert of chamber music drawn chiefly from the Viennese classical school at Temple Emanu-El last Sunday evening.

The String Quartet in B flat, Op. 76, No. 4, subtitled "Sunrise", is one of Haydn's most mature works in that medium. It was vibrantly performed with stylistic authority by Robert McDuffie and Eric Wyrick, violins, Toby Hoffman, viola and Michael Goldschlager, cello. Whether true or not, the group plays as if it had been together for some time. Empathetic subtleties of nuance and ensemble, characteristic of extended togetherness, were, for the most part, beautifully brought out, and the rhythmic fiber of the performance was strong. However, a not inconspicuous tendency on the part of the first violinist to dominate the group tonally was present much of the time, creating a somewhat top-heavy tonal balance. This is not to say that Mr. McDuffie's tone is unattractive. Far from it; his violin sound is quite beautiful in its own right. But side-by-side with his musical comrades his intensity of phrasing and over-riding tonal presence (a bit too sensuous for the Haydn), often casts them in a more muted role than is appropriate for an overall string quartet sound. Somewhat like a Gauguin among Millet's.

Faure's "Elegy" displayed cellist Goldschlager's ingratiating tone and impassioned phrasing tastefully supported by Ms. Angel's piano. Here is a cellist of great musicality and sensitivity who bears watching, indeed.

Schubert's "Arpeggione" Sonata, heard in a previous concert in a transcription for flute, was played this time in its more usual version, that for viola and piano. Mr. Hoffman, performing the rather extended work from memory, played most elegantly and expressively, handling the considerable technical difficulties with masterful aplomb. The work itself is not top-drawer Schubert and one wonders if its presentation, possibly because of the paucity of viola repertoire, is worth enduring the tedium of some of its less than inspired passages.

Mozart's Quintet for clarinet and string quartet completed the musical evening. Historically a comparative Johnny-come-lately to the august society of chamber music instruments, the clarinet has more than earned its membership over the years as illustrated by this gorgeous work. As played by Mr. Krakauer, the sleek silver and black woodwind was eloquent in its softness and brilliant in its technical facility. The strings beautifully distilled the Mozartean essence.

Mostly Music's final concert of this fine season is March 7, which also happens to be Maurice Ravel's birthday. Could one hope to hear either his Trio, Quartet, Sonata for violin and piano or Sonata for violin and cello? Surely a birthday present that the audience would delight in.

Dick Meyers of Cranford will be the caller for the square dance at the Presbyterian Church Saturday. The dance, which is scheduled to start at 8 p.m., is open to members of the church and the community.

The Orphans, a band which has performed at high school events, will play at a school-sponsored dance at Roosevelt Jr. High School tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. The group includes one Roosevelt Jr. High student, two from Westfield High School and two graduates.

Credit Pro and Con

By Gwen Warnis, Extension Home Economist

Credit is a way of using various products and services today with the promise of payment tomorrow, says Gwen Warnis, extension home economist. The use of credit is a fact of life for many people. Credit cards can make shopping more convenient. The use of credit makes it easier to acquire big ticket items, such as a car, which might be difficult to pay for in a lump sum. Credit also provides a means of meeting financial emergencies.

The use of credit also has disadvantages. Because credit is a loan against future income, it reduces one's expendable future income by the amount needed to repay the debit. The maxim of "buy now, pay later," may provide a temptation to overspend. Overlooking this point can lead to debts getting out-of-hand.

Credit is a tool that

Welcome Wagon Activities Set

The Welcome Wagon Club of Westfield will hold a prospective members coffee Thursday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at the home of Alwine Hamilton, 705 Dartmoor.

The Westfield Welcome Wagon is a social club promoting friendship for new residents who have lived in town not more than two years. It offers a variety of daytime and evening activities as well as social events for women and their husbands. Contact membership chairperson Gail Jebens, 93 Barchester Way for information.

Activities scheduled for this week include:

- Racquetball is Monday 9:30 a.m. at the Fanwood Racquetball Club. Call Sue Hildebrand for details.
- Beginners Bridge is Monday 9:30 a.m. Contact Bridgett Howlett to join the group.

Monday Morning Bridge will meet at the home of Jeanne Glass 9:30 a.m.

Thursday Evening Bridge is scheduled for Feb. 11; Jeannie McCullough will give hostess information.

Book discussion meets Tuesday, 8 p.m. to discuss "The Woman Warrior" by Maxine Hong Kingston in the home of Freia Mitarai. Optional reading: "China Man."

Dr. Tinnesz received his medical degree from the Universidad de Guadalajara, Mexico and New Jersey Medical School.

The Tinnesz' now reside in Lavalette and Boynton Beach, Fla.

Parenting Course Set At YWCA

The Mothers' Center of Central New Jersey, Inc. will offer a Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (S.T.E.P.) program beginning Feb. 23 from 12:45 - 2:45 p.m. at the YWCA, 220 Clark St.

This course plans for group interaction in conjunction with text material, tapes and trained group leaders to guide parents; it is organized by the American Guidance Service. It is not designed for the parents of seriously troubled or disturbed children.

The eight weekly sessions will be held in small groups and will cover the following topics:

- Understanding your child's behavior and misbehavior.
- Understanding more about your child's emotions and yourself as a parent; recognizing the difference between "good" parents and responsible parents.
- Learning to use encouragement to build your child's confidence.
- Becoming an effective listener.
- Communicating your ideas and feelings to children.
- Replacing reward and punishment with learning from consequences.
- Acting positively rather than reacting negatively.
- Establishing family meetings that encourage democratic family relationships.

Carla Wilson and Ann Flaherty are trained as S.T.E.P. group leaders. According to Wilson, this program "is not designed for group therapy or problems which require professional assistance. Rather, it is a peer run group which is in between free discussion and family therapy." Through the small, yet democratic group, useable ideas and solutions to everyday frustration and problems are found through sharing experiences of common concern. Ann Flaherty, the other group leader, feels, "this is an ideal program for parents of school age children."

For further information and/or registration, please call the Mother's Center Care of the YWCA. Child care is available.

NOW To Meet Tuesday At YM-YWHA

The Westfield Area National Organization for Women announced this week that an organizational meeting open to the public will be held Tuesday at the YM-YWHA, 305 Elm St., at 8 p.m. Plans will be made that evening for chapter activities, including a drive to secure final ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. The National Organization for Women is committed to securing social, political and economic equality for women and invites participation by both men and women in the community.

Consciousness-raising seminars will also be available to the public. These seminars provide participants the opportunity to explore the cultural definitions of womanhood in a supportive environment. Membership in

N.O.W. is not necessary and anyone interested may contact the acting coordinator Judy Knepper, 755 Prospect St., for more information.

Spaulding To Hold Seminar On Disturbed Child

Spaulding for Children, the free adoption agency, with offices in Orange, Haddonfield and Orange, is celebrating its tenth anniversary by hosting a one day seminar on "Understanding and Treating the Disturbed Child," Monday, March 1 at Temple Emanu-El from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Foster W. Cline, M.D., psychiatrist, lecturer and author of "What Shall We Do With This Kid?" will conduct the seminar. It is open to anyone who has ever asked that question, including psychiatrists, psychologists, foster care and adoption workers, mental health therapists, biological, foster and adoptive parents and students.

Spaulding for Children of New Jersey is a non-profit agency which has been providing adoptive homes for special needs children for ten years. In that time it has placed more than 550 children with permanent, loving families.

Registration should be made at least three weeks in advance. For further information contact the associate director of Spaulding, Phyllis Gold at the office of 36 Prospect St.

Mrs. Waddell Named An Outstanding Woman of 1981

Cynthia Bonney Waddell of 657 Maye St. has been selected as one of the Outstanding Young Women of America for 1981.

Outstanding Young Women of America is an awards program that got its start because its founder, Margaret Long Arnold, felt that the accomplishments of women were going unnoticed. Women from all 50 states are chosen on the basis of outstanding ability, accomplishments and service to the community.

Mrs. Waddell is currently a litigation paralegal of the Westfield law firm of Lindabury, McCormick and Estabrook and a member of the New York City Paralegal Association. She is a past member of the Board of Directors, Los Angeles Paralegal Association, where she founded the Downtown Litigation Section. She has taught classes on paralegal skills and has been a guest speaker before the Los Angeles Bar Association on the topic of the most effective way to utilize paralegals. She was a recipient of a Rotary International Foundation Graduate Fellowship for the study of law in England.

Her husband, the Rev. Thomas N. Waddell, is the minister of youth at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield.

Judy Grant of Maryland displays mice and porcelain dolls which she will exhibit at Mini Mania, a doll and miniature show, to be held Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Jetport in Elizabeth.

Mrs. Larry W. Graf, left, American History Month Chairman for the DAR, receives a proclamation designating February as American History Month from Mayor Allen Chin. Regent of the DAR, Mrs. Gordon O. Perkins looks on.

Woman's Club Announces February Plans

The following departments of the Woman's Club of Westfield will meet at the clubhouse during the month of February. Members and friends are invited to attend these meetings.

The Recreation Department, Mrs. James M. O'Shaughnessy, chairman, will meet Tuesday, at noon for a sandwich luncheon and an afternoon of bridge. Dessert and beverage will be served by hospitality chairmen Mrs. Arthur W. Habeck and Mrs. Harold Carlsen and their committee.

Plans are being finalized for the 21st annual St. Patrick's Day Dessert Bridge, sponsored by the Recreation Department. The bridge is scheduled for Tuesday, March 2 at 12:30 p.m. For reservations call chairman, Mrs. L. John McHugh or ticket chairman, Mrs. Samuel J. Louise.

The Craft Department, Mrs. Carlyle J. Wieseman, chairman will meet on Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Raymond F. Obreek, chairman for February, will demonstrate the constructions of lampshades. A list of required materials will be supplied to members: Mrs. Michael T. Sipple, hospitality chairman will provide dessert and beverage after a sandwich luncheon.

The Social Services Department, Mrs. C. Minot Fogg, chairman and Mrs. Lorentz G. Wade, co-chairman will meet on Feb. 4 at 10 a.m. Work will continue on the items to be used as bingo prizes for the party to be given in March at the Cranford Health and Extended Care Center. Dessert will be served by Mrs. Marshall M. Coolege and Mrs. Preston K. Packard, co-hostesses for the day.

The international Affairs Department, Mrs. Willard S. Magalhaes, chairman and Mrs. Dennis Shea, co-chairman, will join the Literature and Drama Department on Monday, Feb. 22 at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. J.J. Hein, the guest speaker and a member of the Scotch Plains Woman's Club, will give a book review - a journal of early homesteaders in the middle west, specifically Kansas. This will be augmented by History of Virginia Hein's family, who were homesteaders in Kansas in the early days. She will use information taken from a diary left by one of them and now in her possession.

Following the meeting, tea will be served by the International Affairs Department under the chairmanship of Mrs. J.A. Szilard. Please note change of date.

Lion's Dance Feb. 6

The Mountainside Lions Club will hold its second annual charity dance on Feb. 6 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Elks Club on Rt. 22. Proceeds will go to the Mountainside Rescue Squad which is in need of equipment.

The cost per ticket includes sandwiches and dancing. Cash bar will also be available.

Tri Deltas To Meet

The Westfield Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta will meet at the home of Mrs. Norman Franks, 89 Countryside Dr., Summit on Wednesday at noon. After a sandwich luncheon, Jody Melloan will speak on "Continuing Education at Kean College."

Assisting Mrs. Franks are co-hostesses Mrs. Walter B. Moen and Mrs. Carl Shipston.

Classes To Begin At YWCA

A series of new classes begins the week of Feb. 2 at the Westfield YWCA, 220 Clark St. On tap are such courses as the following:

- Tumbling--For those ages six and up, graduated-level classes. Children from 10 to 14 are in separate divisions starting with beginner-level courses. Gymnastics includes introductory classes and those for individuals who have completed tumbling requirements.
- Ballet--Pre-ballet for 3-to-5-year olds and introduction to ballet classes for those six to 12 years of age.
- Danceroletics--Even girls in fourth grade can start danceroletics: a recent class for fourth to sixth graders received a large response. Teen Danceroletics and a score of classes also are available for adults.
- Swimming--From babies to adults who are terrified of the water, the YW offers many classes. Plunges also are available in the newly-renovated Rooke Pool and in the Wallace Pool throughout the day. A small fee is charged for members to take a plunge.
- Fitness Factory--Exercising the fun way to music at the beginners level, with concentrated exercises for those who are more advanced. Available various times with swim included in package deal.
- Adult Creative Classes--Birding, with Vi Devbbie, noted local expert, as teacher; Bridge III, with play and discussion for those wishing to improve, and Open Duplicate games, on Wednesday morning and afternoons and Thursday nights with all games accredited.

Beginning Conversation in Spanish for fun and travel with Viviana Gluckman as teacher; French cooking, where Nicole Mode offers new dishes and taste treats with wine; Learning from Dreams, a major modern approach to the appreciation of dreams with Jenelyn Block instructing the Monday afternoon sessions.

Theatrical Makeup, a Monday night class for theater buffs, both adults and teens, showing applications of makeup. Artist Sandy Gaskins will teach the new course; Flower Arranging--Every second Monday night of the month, under instructor Sharon Manner, with signups available per session; Literature--With group leader Marion Scott, attendees will read and discuss plays, poetry, short stories and novels.

Diet and Exercise--Simple exercises followed by weigh-in and nutritional guidance. Classes for first-time enrollees and those who have been in the class previously.

Cosmetics, Hair Styles--One class only, on Monday, Feb. 1 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Katsuko, a makeup artist, and Ginny Ditzel, hair stylist, will update "your look for 1982."

Calligraphy--Sandy Gaskins will teach the handwriting specialty class which will aid attendees in learning style of writing for invitations, etc.

Enjoying a holiday party in the senior citizens' room at Deerfield School are (foreground, left to right) Liddy Taylor, Louise Wright, Irene Fisher, Bella Eberts, May Ladd and Pauline Alexander. The next senior festivity planned by Recreation Director Sue Winans and Senior Citizen Coordinator Helen Rosenbauer will be a Winter Carnival, set for Jan. 26, in the senior citizens' room.

Mrs. Bennett To Address Garden Club

The Garden Club of Westfield will present a program, "Plan Before You Plant," by Joan Eastman Bennett, on Feb. 9 at 1 p.m. at the Woman's Club of Westfield. Mrs. Bennett is a lecturer, instructor and property designer who uses imaginative design in all phases of her work.

She will give a lecture with slides illustrating basic design principles and emphasizing ease of maintenance, low cost and year-round beauty.

A graduate of Pennsylvania School of Horticulture of Ambler, Mrs. Bennett taught in Brooklyn Botanical Garden and the Horticulture Society of New York. She also teaches courses in adult education. At the request of the Holland American Steamship Lines, she gave programs on "Tropical Plant Material and Gardens of the Caribbean" aboard the Flagship Rotterdam a 17-day cruise.

She has lectured throughout the East, Midwest and Canada, she writes two regular columns each month for the magazine, "Plants Alive," and has been a judge at the Philadelphia Flower Show.

Tatting At Miller-Cory Sunday

The art of tatting will be featured at the Miller-Cory House Museum, 614 Mountain Avenue, on Sunday, January 31, in the museum's series on "Those Creative Colonists." Allison Hoyer, a local columnist, will demonstrate the craft, which dates to the late 17th century. She also will display her collection of antique shuttles by which lace is made.

The museum is open from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sundays for guided tours by costumed docents.

Joan E. Bennett

Hostess chairman for the program is Mrs. Charles H. Shelton assisted by Mrs. Robert H. Silber, Mrs. Samuel M. Kinnew Jr., Mrs. Allen R. Malcolm and Mrs. Robert S. Miner. The Board meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George J. Keyko, Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

The garden therapy group will work Feb. 12 at Lyons V.A. Hospital.

Novat Holding Happy Hour

"Novat," a new B'nai B'rith singles unit for Jewish college grads and professionals in the 21 to 34 age group will sponsor a happy hour tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn Bar on Rte 3 in Clifton. There is no admission fee.

Another happy hour is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 11 at the Charterhouse in Scotch Plains.

Photographers and travelers from Society Expeditions observe penguins on their stamping grounds in Antarctica.

Turner To Give Armchair Tour of Antarctica

The College Woman's club of Westfield will get a glimpse of Antarctica from Richard F. Turner, Tuesday, at 8:15 p.m. at the Fellowship Room of First United Methodist Church, 1 East Broad St.

Mr. Turner, of Turner World Travel, spent three weeks in Antarctica two years ago. He will share information about the continent via a Society Expeditions film, "Antarctica: The Unowned Land." The United States Navy established bases in Antarctica in 1955-part of Operation Deep Freeze, headed by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd. Twelve nations initiated a cooperative research and exploration program on the continent during the International Geophysical Year from July 1, 1957 to Dec. 31, 1958. In 1959, these twelve countries (Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Great Britain, Norway, Japan, New Zealand, Union of South Africa Russia and the United States) signed a treaty delaying settlement of claims for three decades; it was also agreed Antarctica would be used for peaceful purposes.

Travelers to the region have the opportunity to see a continent unpolluted by man. Enormous colonies of penguins, albatross, as well as seals and whales can be observed in a timeless setting.

Originally from Cranford, Mr. Turner has lived and worked in this area for many years. He has been in the travel business nearly twenty years. His agency, Turner World Travel is celebrating its fifth anniversary in February. His journeys have taken him to some of the most unusual and interesting places on the globe: Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda, China, and

How to cope with winter's fury

Bitter cold, snow, and ice storms can create havoc with electric power lines. If your lights go out, see if power is out in your entire house to be certain it isn't a blown fuse. Check to see if your neighbors have power. If they don't, the problem is outside your home. Call us immediately.

If a storm hits and your lights go out, PSE&G will be working to get your power back on as quickly as possible. In the meantime, you can cope with winter's fury by simply following PSE&G's Storm Emergency Checklist. Be prepared! Keep it handy at all times.

STORM EMERGENCY CHECKLIST

REPORT THE PROBLEM

- Call PSE&G. The phone number is on your bill.
- Give the location and nature of the trouble.
- If damage is widespread and our phone lines are busy, the trouble has probably been reported.
- If your neighbor's power comes back on and yours doesn't, please call us again.
- Call the police or fire department immediately if you suspect a gas leak and are unable to get through to our telephones.

WHILE POWER IS BEING RESTORED

- Don't go near or try to move fallen power lines. Notify the police or fire department.
- Turn off all major appliances. This will prevent an electrical overload when power is restored.
- Keep candles and a flashlight handy. Also, keep a battery-powered radio for service restoration information.
- Don't heat your home with any combustion equipment such as your gas range or kerosene stove unless properly vented.
- Avoid opening your refrigerator or freezer. Food will keep cold for hours, and frozen food for a few days. If power is not restored within 24 hours, consider contacting friends or relatives unaffected by the outage and transferring your food to one of their homes. Before transporting, wrap frozen foods in thick newspapers, blankets, or insulated boxes to prevent thawing.
- Avoid opening outside doors. You'll conserve heat.

Cut out this checklist today! Place it near your phone or on the family bulletin board.

With the Collegians

June P. Dunham of Westfield recently was awarded an M.B.A. from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. She was one of 115 graduate students who completed academic work during the fall semester.

Diana K. Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lloyd of 22 Rutgers Ct., was included on the dean's list for the fall semester at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y.

Susan Polman, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Polman of 47 Carol Rd., has been cast in the Paris Junior College production of H.M.S. Pinafore, the Gilbert and Sullivan musical.

Miss Polman was graduated from Westfield High School in 1979 and is a drama major at the college which is located in Paris, Texas.

Two Moravian College students from Westfield are part of a 29-member student delegation and college choir which presented concerts on the island of Jamaica during the week of Jan. 18.

The students are freshman Peter Z. Lega, 52 Tamques Way, and sophomore Wendy J. Talmont, 713 Fourth Ave.

The choir, which returned to Bethlehem Jan. 26, participated in a January term project in the tour which is partly sponsored by the Moravian Church in Jamaica in celebration of the 250th anniversary of Moravian missions.

The January term is a four-week interim period between fall and spring terms in which students are engaged in programs and courses not part of the regular curriculum.

Karen J. Kimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kimble of 908 Columbus Ave., recently was named to the dean's list for the fall semester at the University of Delaware.

Miss Kimble, currently a freshman liberal arts student, is a 1981 graduate of Westfield High School.

Paula T. Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schwartz of 651 Shackamaxon Dr., was named to the dean's list for the first semester at Mount St. Mary's College in Emmitsburg, Md. She is a senior.

Two Westfield students received degrees from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. recently.

They are: Gerard E. Conroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Conroy, 618 Tremont Ave., who was awarded a B.S. in mechanical engineering; and Lorraine S. Sefing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Sefing, 5 Faulkner Dr., who was awarded a B.S. degree in English and business administration. Miss Sefing was vice president and corresponding secretary of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and was named to Sigma Tau Delta, an English honorary society.

She was captain of the varsity cheerleaders and on the staff of the campus newspaper, Brown and White.

The dean's list for the fall term at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., includes Richard Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Elliott of 546 Alden Ave., and a graduate of Westfield High School. He had a perfect 4.0 (straight A) grade average for the term.

Delian DeYoung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DeYoung of Fairmount Ave., is spending January taking an off-campus course offered by Wells College, Aurora, N.Y. Wells, a liberal arts college for women in central New York, designates the month of January as a one-month semester, and offers students the options of internships, interdisciplinary courses, independent study or off-campus courses.

Delian, a sophomore at Wells, is studying music and dance performance in New York City.

Robert Klingelhofer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Klingelhofer, of 2 Rutgers Ct., a junior business management major at Green Mountain College, Poultney, Vt., has been selected for inclusion in the 1982 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Selection is based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

A graduate of Westfield High School he is president of the Student Council, a member of the Outing Club and Green Key, the campus service organization, and has been named to the dean's list in recognition of outstanding academic work.

Two students from Westfield were among the 31 Lehigh University students selected to appear in the 1982 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Students are included on the basis of academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential. Local students named are Andrew Monroe, son of Mr. Dorothy Monroe of 114 Windsor Ave. and Michael Tischbein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tischbein of 5 Burgess Ct.

World Hunger Program Set At YWCA

Donald B. Clark, director of the hunger program at Global Learning Inc., a Montclair-based organization which offers programs in global awareness, food issues, environmental studies and multi-cultural education, will discuss "World Hunger and Peace" at "Learn and Lunch" to be held at the Westfield YWCA, 220 Clark St., on Monday, Feb. 8 at noon.

The one-hour program, which includes lunch and the lecture, is arranged to give working individuals a chance to attend over the lunch hour.

Clark's hunger unit includes among its 1982 objectives the expansion of global education holdings at resource centers, organization and promotion of a number of hunger workshops at the Educational Improvement Centers, distribution of new workbooks to educators, and participation among hunger-related organizations.

Clark, associate director of the United Way of Passaic Valley, is former manager of community affairs at Hoffman-LaRoche. A pharmacist, he also is an ex-member of the faculty at the University of Buffalo School of Pharmacy.

His volunteer credits include working with retired senior volunteer programs and with the state Coalition for Penal Reform.

Reservations for the "Learn and Lunch" close Friday noon on Feb. 5. Signups may be made by contacting the YWCA.

Janet Lundy, head of the YW public affairs committee, is in charge of organizing the event.

Lisa Tipton Named To Nat'l Orchestra Assoc.

Lisa Tipton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Tipton has been named as a member of the National Orchestra Association in New York City.

The National Orchestral Association awards fellowships to gifted instrumentalists who are on the threshold of professional careers, enabling them to rehearse three times a week for seven months as a one-hundred piece orchestra under the direction of NOA's music director, resident conductor, world-renowned guest conductors and a variety of distinguished solo artists.

Orchestra members come from throughout the country and the world to gain performance skills and knowledge of the symphonic literature—classical, contemporary, choral, opera and ballet—which qualify them to join the ranks of leading symphonic organizations of every type. Alumni hold positions, many of them principal, in major orchestras throughout the nation and abroad. The organization is therefore national and international in scope.

Miss Tipton is a 1977 graduate of WHS and a 1981 graduate of Cornell with major studies in environmental studies and music. She is presently doing graduate work at the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College, N.Y. where she is adjunct lecturer. She also was awarded a performing fellowship there in her major instrument, the violin.

18th Century Dress Topic At Miller-Cory

"What shall I wear?" may not have been the burning question for the 18th century woman that it sometimes is for the 20th century woman, but the dress of the 18th century is of interest to Gerri Ferris of Oakland, a student of the subject. She will impart some of her knowledge at the meeting of the Miller-Cory Volunteers Wednesday in the Waterk Room of the Municipal Building.

Mrs. Ferris is a member of the Brigade of the American Revolution, the Bergen County Militia, the Costume Society, United States and the Costume Society of England. For three years she has been head of the Brigade's Civilian (Women's) Costume Committee and Pattern-Mistress. Mrs. Ferris holds an associate in arts degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University and her research includes study of 18th century garments at the Metropolitan Museum, the Essex Institute in Massachusetts, Colonial Williamsburg in Virginia and Chester County High School and the Landis Valley Farm Museum in Pennsylvania. Her special interests within the field of 18th century costume are stitches and construction techniques, various forms of printed fabrics and 18th century textiles in general.

Similar displays and activities in recognition of Afro History Month in February are planned in all of Westfield's public schools.

Gallery Conducts Sales Seminar

A one day management seminar for Gallery of Homes, Inc., owner/principals and general managers was presented recently at the Coachman Inn in Cranford. Called "Survive and Prosper: Your Game Plan For Now," the focus was on running a residential real estate company in today's economy. Discussions were held on the most pressing problems of brokers today and possible solutions. Brainstorming sessions were featured, highlighting ideas that would be helpful to buyers and sellers in the current financial climate. Budgeting techniques and analyses of new markets to be penetrated were included in the seminar.

Wayne Coleman, national director of education for Gallery of Homes, Inc., gave the seminar. Among the participants from New Jersey were Ruth Brewster, of the Boyle Company, Gallery of Homes; Burt Augustensen of Augustensen Gallery of Homes; Robert Coultts of Coultts Gallery of Homes; Hank Friedrichs of H. Clay Friedrichs Inc.; and Dixie Corcoran, John Costa and Don Richard of Eisenhower Gallery of Homes.

Gallery of Homes, Inc., is a national franchise of independent brokers. The oldest real estate franchise in the country, it is renowned for its variety of training programs, computerized relocation services, and local and national advertising programs, distinguished by the palette symbol.

Bell in Race for Senate

Jeffrey Bell, a former Reagan aide and 1978 GOP Senate nominee, has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate. Bell called for the resignation of Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker and for immediate moves to bring down interest rates in order to pull the country out of recession and boost economic growth and job creation.

Jeffrey Bell

"The Congress and the President should immediately cut off the Federal Reserve Board's power to conduct open-market operations and require the Fed to maintain interest rates at a level responsive to the demand for credit," Bell said. "With Paul Volcker continuing on as Federal Reserve Board Chairman, President Reagan's growth oriented tax and budget program is being thwarted by high interest rates and unstable money creation. It is time to replace Mr. Carter's Fed Chairman with a new appointee who will pursue policies designed for growth and prosperity, not austerity and recession." Bell said he also supported a restoration of the gold standard in order to end inflation and permanently lower interest rates, and the establishment of a single tax rate of under 20 percent for all personal and business income, with generous individual exemptions. Bell backed this as "the next logical step in tax policy, building on the Reagan tax reduction program."

Bobalmania-Funded Center Focus of Open House Yesterday

An open house in recognition of the refurbishment of the Career and College Resource Center at Westfield High School was held from 3 to 5 p.m. on yesterday at the center, Room 124, in the high school.

The Career and College Resource Center is open daily from 9 to 3 and on Monday evenings when the Westfield Adult School is in session to serve students. It is staffed by volunteers from the community, under the direction of Rose Benny, part-time coordinator, and Anthony Crimi, guidance counselor.

Refurbishment of the center has been a top priority with the high school's Parent-Teacher Organization. The P.T.O. donated $2,551 to the center for its refurbishment. These funds came from a student-staff presentation, entitled "Bobalmania," in the spring of 1980 in honor of Albert R. Bobal who was retiring as high school principal in June, 1980, after 28 years of service to the Westfield Public Schools.

Dr. Uday Mehta, newly named staff pediatrician at Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside, tends to very young patient.

Joins Hospital as Staff Pediatrician

Dr. Uday C. Mehta has been named staff pediatrician at Children's Specialized Hospital, it was announced by Dr. Margaret E. Symonds, medical director.

A native of India, Dr. Mehta graduated from Grant Medical College of Bombay University and served internship programs there and in the Fiji Islands. He was pediatric senior house officer at a large hospital in Auckland, New Zealand, and served as chief resident at several other health facilities in Auckland, including an acute care hospital for children.

Dr. Mehta's appointment to our staff is another step Children's Specialized Hospital is taking to meet the growing needs of disabled young people who require rehabilitative services, both on an inpatient and outpatient basis," Dr. Symonds said. "Dr. Mehta's extensive background in pediatrics here and abroad will further strengthen our medical services."

As part of his pediatric residency at Overlook Hospital, Dr. Mehta served a portion of his residency at Children's Specialized Hospital on a rotating basis with other physicians.

Most recently, Dr. Mehta was clinical director at Children's Seashore House.

A Fellow in Child Development and Rehabilitation, Dr. Mehta is a resident of Westfield. His wife, Kumudini, is also a physician. The Mehtas have three children.

Hearing Tonight On Transit Plans

A public meeting concerning the draft long-range plan for surface passenger transportation in New Jersey will be held in the Plainfield Library, 8th St. at Park Ave., Plainfield, at 7:30 p.m. today.

The purpose of the meeting, which is being held in coordination with Middlesex and Union Counties, is to discuss the long-range plan and to obtain public comments and suggestions for use in the development of a comprehensive transportation program for the State.

VFW to Host Talk on Benefits

Commander James A. Dowd of Mountainside Memorial Post 10136 Veterans of Foreign Wars announced that the regular post meeting schedules for Tuesday, Feb. 2, has been cancelled.

Instead the post will hold an open meeting to hear Robert Vitolo, a representative of the Social Security Bureau, explain the latest rules and regulations as they relate to present and future beneficiaries. At the same time he will attempt to answer any questions which may be raised and provide the latest literature available on the subject.

With many veterans of World War II now at or approaching the age when they will become eligible for Social Security Benefits, the post, as a civic enterprise, decided to sponsor this activity.

The public, both veteran and non-veteran, are invited to attend the meeting which will be held at the usual location, the Mountainside Elks Home, Route 22, and will begin at 8 p.m.

Antique Gun Display on Sunday

Antique guns will be on display at the Osborn Cannonball House Museum from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday. The exhibit will include Flintlocks and percussion cap rifles and muskets and a 1797 British Brown Bess. In addition to the antique guns, newer copies of old guns will also be displayed.

The Osborn museum located at 1840 Front St., Scotch Plains, is maintained by the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Historical Society and is open to the public every Sunday afternoon.

Lung Association Can Help Smokers Quit the Habit

If your 1982 resolution is to stop smoking, the Central New Jersey Lung Association, (The Christmas Seal People) wants to help. That's the word from Eugene E. Rodgers of Mountainside, association president.

Rodgers said that the Association is offering its Freedom From Smoking Program which will aid smokers to kick the habit in 20 days.

Developed by the American Lung Association, the program is a "self-help" method to stop smoking. It offers a step-by-step way to help smokers to quit on their own without attending group sessions or special classes.

Packed into a comprehensively written and illustrated manual, the Freedom From Smoking Program provides an easy approach to stop smoking in 20 days.

The 20-day effort, according to Rodgers, is a three pronged approach toward cessation. The first seven days are days of preparation, when the smoker learns about this smoking pattern, habits, why he smokes and how to approach the stop smoking point.

"To be successful in any stop smoking effort," Rodgers said, "the smoker should make a commitment to achieve the goal. We are asking all area residents who request the Freedom From Smoking materials to make a donation equal to a carton of cigarettes to demonstrate their personal commitment to kick the habit during 1982."

All requests for the Freedom From Smoking materials should be directed to the Lung Association at 1457 Raritan Rd., Clark 07066.

The smoker will also be informed about how to develop a system of rewards for making progress as he or she tries to kick the habit. During the final days of phase one, the smoker develops a plan of action for day 8 thru 16.

During the second phase (days 8 to 16) the smoker initiates a step-by-step procedure to change the smoking pattern. At the end of phase two, the smoker should be able to stop smoking.

The Association also has available a second manual "A Lifetime of Freedom From Smoking," which the smokers use after he or she kicks the habit to help reinforce the plan developed during the 20-day effort and assist the individual from backsliding into the smoking habit.

Rodgers also reminded all area residents who have not responded to their annual Christmas Seal Campaign to do so as possible. The seal drive is the group's primary source of income to support its patient and community services.

Rosen Concert Feb. 20

Nathaniel Rosen, a cellist, will present a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 20, in the Wilkins Theatre at Kean College of New Jersey.

Byrne Bound For Australia

Dennis Byrne of Westfield has been selected by Youth for Understanding as an exchange student to Australia, and is awaiting his Feb. 2 departure date.

Dennis, along with approximately 100 other teenagers from across the United States, will live and learn in another country through Youth for Understanding.

As a member of his new host family, Dennis will participate in all facets of local life in a way no tourist can, and will be enrolled in the highly competitive Australian school system. Leaving this arctic weather behind, the American students will arrive in the middle of the Australian summer, when temperatures of 100 degrees are not uncommon.

YFU is a non-profit educational exchange program, which has involved more than 80,000 students worldwide since 1951. Students aged 14-18 can live with a carefully screened host family in Europe, Latin America, Japan, the Philippines or Australia for a summer or a full year. The Australian program is only offered on a full-year basis, however.

Conducting Registration Montessori Schools

The Christopher Academy of Westfield and the Montessori School of Cranford announce registration for the 1982-83 school year.

The Christopher Academy was started in 1963 by a group of parents who wanted Montessori education for their children. The school began, on its present site, with eight children in the morning and afternoon sessions. As the school grew, specially designed classrooms were built and in 1981 The Christopher Academy enrolled 104 children.

The Montessori School of Cranford was founded in 1973 as a pre-school with one small session of 15 children, running morning and afternoon. Presently its enrollment is 76 with two pre-school sessions and one combination kindergarten and first grade.

Further information is available at the schools, The Christopher Academy at 500 Hillcrest Ave. or the Montessori School of Cranford, 110 Eastman St.

RECORD COLD WEATHER MEANS HIGHER HEATING BILLS

You don't need to be told that Sunday (January 17) was cold, but did you know it was the coldest day ever recorded in this area? The average or mean temperature at Newark Airport was a very mean minus 4.6°F!

This extremely cold weather unfortunately means that your heating bills will be higher, regardless of what kind of fuel you use.

could delay someone from getting needed heating service.

There is more cold weather ahead but you can control your heating costs by not overheating. We suggest that you keep your home at 65° during the day and 62° at night. Set it back even lower if you plan to be away longer than a day. (These lower thermostat settings do not apply if there are infants, elderly or ill persons in the home.)

ABOUT HIGH BILL INQUIRIES:
The cold weather and resultant higher bills is causing an increase in bill inquiries by telephone. If you do have a question about your bill, please do not call on Monday, or any weekday between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. These are the times we're busiest with service calls, particularly during cold weather. Tying up our phones during these hours

Hardwick Bible School Bill Becomes Law

In the final hours of the 199th session of the New Jersey Legislature, Governor Byrne signed legislation introduced by Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) which will benefit vacation Bible schools. Hardwick's bill, A2064, was designed to exclude vacation Bible schools from youth camp regulations which had imposed such severe restrictions on vacation Bible schools that some were subjected to substantial fines which threatened their continuation.

"This legislation allows vacation Bible schools to operate without state government interference," Hardwick said. Previous to Hardwick's bill, the Department of Health cited several Jersey City

To Look at B'nai B'rith In the Year 2000

"How I See B'nai B'rith In the Year 2000" is the title of the program scheduled for the Feb. 1 meeting of the Northern New Jersey Council of B'nai B'rith at 8:15 p.m. at Temple Emanu-El.

The guest speaker at this Monday evening meeting will be Walter La Raus, executive director of District #1. He will discuss a wide spectrum of thoughts and will zero in on all the problems that B'nai B'rith as well as world-wide Jewry will face in the next decade or two.

Walter La Raus joined the staff of District #1 in July 1966 as the associate director of membership. In June of 1969, he was named program director for District #1 and in March of 1972 he became membership director for the district.

A former vice-president of Parkchester Lodge in the Bronx, his knowledge of B'nai B'rith was gained on a lodge level where he served actively for many

Can Apply For Scholarship

Premiere of DiMura's Work Here Feb. 14

The premiere performance of the written work of Vincent Di Mura will be given in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church Sunday, Feb. 14, at 3 p.m. This concert of sacred music under the sponsorship of the Wesley Singers, will feature three major works by Di Mura. Tickets will be available at the door or from the church.

Di Mura, 21, is currently studying piano with Constance Keene at the Manhattan School of Music, New York, and is a teacher at the Ta'Cher Music Studios, Middlesex. He has won awards from the New Jersey Education Council, the Plainfield Music Club and the New Jersey Teen Talent Search. He performed at Carnegie Recital Hall and with various chamber groups throughout New Jersey and New York. He studied in France with Jean Paul Seville.

The concert will begin with "Opus 13", a string quartet, depicting four impressions of the crucifixion of Christ. The second piece is "Isaiah," a cantata for mezzo-soprano, strings and percussion, with text taken from the biblical prophecies of the book of Isaiah.

The final piece of the afternoon will be "Celebration," Opus 14, for mezzo-soprano, tenor, organ, guitar, percussion and lute. The text is from the Sanctus and Agnus Dei of the Roman liturgy.

The musicians performing in the concert are from the Manhattan School of Music in New York, except for Mark Schaffel, guitar, a student of Di Mura's. They include Gail Hirsh, violin; Evan Kent, tenor; Victor Koulaphides, bass viola; Caryn Lerner, mezzo-soprano; Jeanny Lewin, cello; Janet Lucy, viola; Samuel Noel, violin; Paul Patchell, John Sampson and Mike Waluk, percussion, and Leon Ried, organ.

Volunteers Are Needed for VITA

Volunteers are needed to help other people with their tax returns in the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program cosponsored by the Union County Regional Adult School and the Springfield Senior Citizen Clubs.

Volunteers provide free assistance to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help, particularly those who file short forms and qualify for the Earned Income Credit. VITA volunteers will also assist low income elderly, handicapped and non-English speaking individuals.

VITA volunteers provide assistance in their own neighborhoods at schools, community centers, and libraries which are conveniently located for taxpayers who cannot travel to an IRS office.

Persons interested in participating in the VITA program should contact the Union County Regional Adult School.

churches for non-compliance with the rigid guidelines required of overnight youth camps which Hardwick had described as "bureaucracy at its worst".

The Union County legislator said he was especially pleased that this legislation, which passed both houses of the Legislature, was signed into law, because Governor Byrne had conditionally vetoed the bill until the closing house of the 199th session when he changed his position.

"Vacation Bible schools can breathe a sigh of relief," Hardwick said, "along with the parents of the children who will be able to enjoy the benefits of vacation Bible school programs."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that an ordinance of which the following is a copy was introduced, read and passed on first reading by the Council of the Town of Westfield at a meeting held January 26, 1982, and that the said Council will further consider the same for final passage on the 9th day of February, 1982, at 8:30 p.m., in the Council Chamber, Municipal Building, 425 East Broad Street, Westfield, New Jersey, at which time and place any person who may be interested therein will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning said ordinance.

JOY C. VREELAND
Town Clerk

SPECIAL ORDINANCE NO. AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR DECK REPLACEMENT AT THE WESTFIELD MEMORIAL SWIMMING POOL COMPLEX AND THE ADJUNCTIVE TOWERS OF THE ADJUNCTIVE NECESSARY THEREFOR.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Town Council of the Town of Westfield in the County of Union as follows:

SECTION I. That the following improvements be made at the Westfield Memorial Pool Complex to provide for the proper maintenance and operation of the facility:

(a) Replacement of approximately 5,000 square feet of concrete deck.

(b) All work necessary and incidental thereto.

SECTION II. It is hereby determined and stated that the estimated amount of money necessary to be raised from all sources for the said purpose is $17,000.00. There is heretofore appropriated for said purpose the sum of $17,000.00 from the Swimming Pool Capital Improvement Fund.

SECTION III. The said improvements shall be taken as a general improvement, but the cost thereof shall be paid from funds derived from the membership fees operating revenues of the said swimming pool complex.

SECTION IV. Not more than $300,000 of the said $17,000 may be used to finance those expenses specified in R.S. 40A:2-20.

SECTION V. The Capital Budget for the year 1982 will conform with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION VI. This ordinance shall take effect immediately after final passage in accordance with law.

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that sealed bids for "A Capital Improvement Program for the Westfield Board of Education will be received at 2:00 P.M. prevailing time on February 22, 1982 by the Board of Education of the Town of Westfield, New Jersey in accordance with Drawings and Specifications as prepared by Phillips Kaufman and Associates, P.A., 310 South Street, Morristown, New Jersey, at which time bids will be opened and read aloud.

The Capital Improvement Program consists of construction of a new Maintenance Garage at the Elm Street Facility for the Westfield Board of Education.

No bid will be received by mail and all bids must be submitted in the "Form of Bid" forms furnished by the Architect.

Each Contractor, before submitting a bid, including the major Subcontractors for each Branch of Work as defined in Items No. 1, 2, and 3 inclusive, if a Single Bid for the entire work is submitted, must first have been prequalified, in accordance with New Jersey State Statutes, by the Division of Building and Construction, Department of Treasury, and a notarized affidavit to this effect must accompany his bid. The affidavit shall be in a separate envelope marked "Qualification Affidavit" and attached to the exterior of the sealed envelope containing the Bid.

Separate Bids. Separate Bids will be received for the following branches of the work:

Item No. 1 - Electrical Construction and all work kindred thereto.

Item No. 2 - Plumbing, Heating and Ventilation Work and all work kindred thereto.

Item No. 3 - Electrical Work and all work kindred thereto.

Single Bids for Entire Work. In keeping with New Jersey State Statutes, a Bid for the entire work, including all branches of the work: General Construction Work, Plumbing, Heating and Ventilation Work and Electrical Work.

A Bidder for the "Entire Work" must submit with his bid the names of Subcontractors to whom he will award the work in each Branch of Work Items No. 1, 2 and 3 inclusive, together with the required Qualification Affidavits.

The Bids will be opened three (3) Contracts for the three (3) separate Branches of the Work, or a single Contract for the "Entire Work", whichever the Board, in accordance with law, determines to be in the best interest of the Board.

Each Bid shall be enclosed in a separate sealed envelope marked on the outside "Proposal for a Capital Improvement Program for the Westfield Board of Education". The Branch of the Work for which the Bid is submitted and the name and address of the Bidder shall also appear on this envelope. If the Bid is for the "Entire Work", the words, "Entire Work-Single Bid" shall appear on the envelope in lieu of the designation of the Branch of Work. In all cases, the Qualification Affidavit must be in a separate envelope marked "Qualification Affidavit" attached to the outside of the envelope containing the Proposal.

All Bidders must submit with their bid an affidavit with the names and addresses of Stockholders owning 10% or more of stock as required by Chapter 33, Laws of 1977, Assembly Bill No. 22, 1976 as approved March 8, 1977.

Each Bidder shall submit with his bid, an Agreement of Surety and a Bid Bond drawn to the order of the Board of Education of the Town of Westfield, New Jersey. The Surety Company shall be authorized to do business in the State of New Jersey. The amount of the Bid Bond shall be not less than ten (10%) percent of the Contractor's bid amount.

All Bidders are required to comply with the requirements of P.L. 1975, c. 127 and to submit with their bids a signed Statement (Exhibit D) agreeing to incorporate into the construction contract the mandatory language of the regulations as stated therein.

Immediately prior to the award of the contract(s), the Bidder(s) to whom the contract(s) is awarded must complete the State of New Jersey Affirmative Action Form AA 201A.

Successful Bidders will be required to furnish an acceptable Performance and Labor and Material Payment Bond to the Owner in the full amount of the Contract in such form as the Owner may prescribe and with such Sureties as he may approve.

One set of complete documents may be obtained by properly pre-qualified prime contractor bidders upon application to the Architect and upon deposit of a check in the amount of $50.00 drawn to the order of Phillips Kaufman and Associates, P.A. This deposit will only be refunded to a Bidder if he returns such documents to the office of the Architect within ten (10) days after the date of opening of the Bids and if they are found to be neatly attached, in order, clean, unmarked and relatively free from crayon or pencil marks. No refund will be made to a non-Bidder.

Each Bidder who is a foreign corporation, one that is a Corporation not chartered under laws of the State of New Jersey, must submit with his Bid, an affidavit duly executed by the President of the Corporation, stating in said affidavit that said Corporation has, in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, obtained a certificate authorizing it to do business in the State of New Jersey.

The Owner reserves the unrestricted right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities found therein.

Approved by the Board of Education of the Town of Westfield, Union County, New Jersey

Seventh Grade PAL Starts Season on a Winning Note

The Westfield 7th Grade PAL basketball team began its season with a convincing win against Immaculate Heart in Scotch Plains by a final score of 42-32. Bob Gladden led the scoring for Westfield with 12 points followed by Dave Lavender's 7 points and Kenny Lane's 6 points. However, the Westfield attack was well balanced with Frank Quinn scoring 5 points, Brad Shapiro 4 points and Neil Horne, Dave Brown, Clint Factor and Lou Russell each contributing a basket. The entire team played well both on offense and defense. Although shut out of the scoring, Kevin Stock, Ron Tate, Chris Freer and Glen McSweeney all contributed to this fine win.

In the return match at Westfield, Immaculate Heart defeated a very cold shooting Westfield 7th Grade PAL team, by the final score of 31-27. Scotch Plains took a strong early lead when the Westfield players could not find the basket. The first Westfield score came with about 3 minutes left in the first half by Neil Horne to make the score 2-12 against Westfield and by halftime Westfield was losing 6-16. The third quarter was not any better with Westfield down by the score of 10-24. However, Westfield refused to quit and put on a sensational 4th period to almost win the game. Kevin Stock made the first basket of the last quarter followed by one by Scotch Plains. Thereafter, Westfield scored 13 unanswered points with Kevin Stock getting his 3rd and 4th baskets of the game, Kenny Lane scoring his 4 points, Larry Brown had 2 of his 4 points during this run, Bob Gladden scored his 2 points and Neil Horne hit on a free throw to make the score 25-26 for Scotch Plains. But Scotch Plains then managed to sink 5 free throws to finally win the game 31-27. Kevin Stock led the 7th graders with 8 points and Neil Horne contributed 5 points. Others who almost came back with a sensational win were Chris Freer, Glenn McSweeney, Dave Lavender, Frank Quinn, Ron Tate, and Clint Factor.

In its last game against Berkeley Heights, Westfield again started slowly but finally managed to win their second game. At the end of the first quarter, with 2 baskets by Kenny Lane, and baskets by Dave Lavender and Kevin Stock, Westfield was down by the score of 8-16. In the second period Neil Horne hit for 6 points and Dave Lavender scored the other 4 points to make the score at halftime 18-22. But after intermission, the Westfield 7th Grade PAL staged another tremendous comeback to take the lead 34-32 with Frank Quinn hitting for his 4 points for the game, and Dave Brown contributing another 4 points.

Those scoring one basket each during this quarter were Ron Tate, Glen McSweeney, Neil Horne and Kenny Lane. In the final period Neil Horne led the charge to put the game away with 5 of his 13 game points, Kevin Stock hit for 4 of his 6 game points, Kenny Lane scored 2 of his 8 game points, Dave Brown scored 2 of his 6 game points, Lou Russell scored his only basket of the game, and Chris Freer hit for his 3 game points.

Those who also contributed to this win included Clint Factor and Todd Graff who played a consistent strong game. Continuing to lead the cheers from the sidelines was Brad Shapiro with his broken arm.

Great Swamp Ramble Saturday

Members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club are invited to attend the Great Swamp Ramble on Saturday and the Palisades Hike on Sunday.

Bob Evers will lead the first event — the Great Swamp Ramble. The Meyersville Center is the 10 a.m. meeting site for this scenic five-mile ramble. Hikers are asked to bring lunch.

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation Administration Building, Acme and Canton Sts., Elizabeth, is the 8:30 a.m. meeting place for the Palisades Hike. Fred Dlouhy is the leader of this hike, the length of which will be determined by the weather.

Canoe, Kayak Show

Kean College of New Jersey in Union will open its swimming pool and gymnasium facilities on Feb. 7 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. for canoe and kayak enthusiasts to demonstrate their skills and techniques, in an eight hour boating program. This is the tenth consecutive year the Department of physical Education at Kean College of New Jersey has been co-sponsoring this canoe and kayak show with the New York - New Jersey River Conference.

Harvard Letterman

William R. Kahn of Westfield was among 69 Harvard freshmen football players who received their major numerals for the fall gridiron season.

Pacers and Nets Win In Fifth Grade League

Only two 5th grade games were played on Saturday due to the inclement weather. The other games will be made up on a future Tuesday night. The results of the games played are as follows:

Nets 22 - Knicks 16
The Nets strong offense attack led by Jeff Kopelman with 10 points, Mike Cafaro with 7 points, Mike Kumpf with 3 points and Ken Kotovsky with 2 points was too much for the Knicks defense. Strong rebounding by Dave Briemer and Susan Halpin paved the way for a strong team effort.

The Knicks went down in defeat to a good Nets team. The Knicks missed a lot of easy shots while the Nets capitalized on the turnovers. Brian Beller and Sean Lucas paced the scoring with 5 points each, followed by Jeff Carovellano with 4 points and David Oliveira with 2 points. Bruce Lowe, Michael Conheeny, Lisa Cleverger and Bobby Moskal played well on offense and defense.

Pacers 26 - 76'ers 21
The Pacer offensive

Murphy Promoted by AT&T

Kevin J. Murphy of Westfield has been promoted to director of personnel services and building administration for the Advanced Mobile Phone System Corporation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Basking Ridge.

Murphy, who joined AT&T in 1975 as a staff employment representative, was serving as a business marketing manager at the time of his promotion. He began his Bell System career in 1966 with the finance department of the Western Electric Co., where he later power was back in today's game. Charles "Magic" LaRosa led the scoring with 14 points followed by Joe Murphy with 8 points and Tom Cassidy with 4 points. The offense was helped by the excellent team work provided by Mike Hamilton, John Bomba and Chris Hanlon. These players worked the ball into Joe Murphy who played his best game of the season. Rebounding honors go to Chris Hanlon and Joe Murphy with 7 rebounds each. The Pacers were down 6 points going into the 4th quarter when their defense tightened up and their offense opened up behind the fine shooting of Charles LaRosa.

The 76'ers played a strong game losing the lead only in the last few minutes. Ted Hobbie paced the scoring with 8 points and Lonnie Friedman and Bobby Wischuser chipped in with 4 points each. Phil Landen and Jerry Infantino did a very good job playing defense and rebounding. Doug Cunningham handled the ball well and David Simons controlled both points and rebounding.

Kevin J. Murphy held positions in purchasing methods and general employee benefits.

A U.S. Marine Corps veteran, Murphy holds a bachelor's degree in labor relations from Pace University.

Pru Promotes Patricia Simons

Patricia A. Simons of Westfield has been promoted to planning consultant in the Corporate Services and Buildings Department of The Prudential Insurance Company, Newark.

This promotion represents Simons' second since joining Prudential in April 1979. She had been an assistant planning consultant since September 1980.

After graduating from St. John's University in 1960, Simons worked for Bankers Trust Company, New York, as a pension administrator for more than two years. She took a leave of absence from the business community to raise her five children, Tracey, Kevin, Kim, David and Amy.

Simons was formerly active with the Grant School, Westfield, and the Junior League of Plainfield.

The First Labor Day celebration was held in New York City in September 1882, according to "Important Events in American Labor History, 1778-1978," published by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Spectators had two action-filled evenings as Westfield boys Wrestling leaguers met head on. Wednesday's thriller pitted Bill Miller's Tigers against Keith William's Lions who came up on the short end, 38-18.

The Tigers were still able to press their attack without the help of Ken Voorhees who is sidelined with an injury. Instead, Ned Seel lead the victors by contributing a 3 point team decision, following in Ned's footsteps were Alex Stotler, showing good style, Timothy Quirk, Young Song, Tim Duhig and David Webber who took on two matches and split. Joel Kamins wrestled superbly and took a major (13-0) decision. Sidelined for a whole month, Paul Cavalliere returned to the line up and nailed a 15-1 decider as did Lee Topar with a twin score.

Tommy O'Hara pitched a 9-0 shutout using brilliant techniques against a good opponent. Jeff "Pin Man" Maynard moved in fast for a first period pin along with Hoang Nguyen who has yet to be defeated. Joe Gragnano, a super grappler, moved swiftly for yet another first round fall. Fred Thum will apply for a patent on the now famous "Thum Pin". Fred's unique style helped move his team well ahead of the growling Lions. Sean McGale and David Rice each got the upper hand on their competitors by landing falls.

Moving forward and learning new skills are Scott Goldberg and Matt Prybilski. Jason Ritzke and Charlie Hall continue work on the takedown while Aubrey Boytos will practice faster escapes. Scott Ghedine went three rounds and looked good with a tough grappler. The Lions continue to be hampered with gaps in their line up due mainly to illness. Coach Williams looks forward to the teams next match, hopefully with a full roster.

A little Lion who packs a whollop is Paco Gonzales. Paco wrestled smoothly to bring in a well-earned decision and 3 team points. James Wilton refused to wilt under pressure and posted a nice win. Wilton controlled his opponent from the opening bell. John Povalak seems to be following in his dad's footsteps. Povalak, son of Edison's wrestling coach Steve Povalak, was able to contribute 5 big marks with a very strong pin.

Lots of practice paid off for John Salerno as he quickly escaped, got a reverse and moved in for the fall plus points. Michael Dodd pinned his opposition in a thrilling exhibition bout. Garth Burrill wrestled evenly and produced several good techniques. Getting tougher with each match, David Sanchez and Kelvin Wise refused to give in. Joe Cecla, David Byrne, Damien Lyon and Mark Byrne continue to gain experience each time they step on mat.

Kevin Williams and Andrew McVicker lead the Lions middle weights while Adam Pizzi and Nickey Dilorio gave their all in the higher weight classes. On Thursday night, Pop Grabel's Leapin Leopards overpowered Gary Huns-inger's Cool Cougars who fought valiantly. Adam Labrada led off for the gold-suited Leopards with a decision as Ironman Kielbasa waited on deck. Ironman then got the call and responded with a fine pin. Kurt Duchek took command of his match as Matthew Fahey also added team marks by a fall.

Chris Donzella and Eddie Daniel remain on top with strong wins. Names familiar to sport fans, Louis Rettino and Anthony Reinoso, looked as though they had years of experience on the mats. Each brought in Leopard points. A tough wrestler Michael Davidson pinned swiftly. Danny Haag added 2 with a tie as Jim Luerssen battled his way to a decision. Sam Wunderle put forth a great effort for the big decision.

J R Smiljanic, Chris Gorman, and Casey Noerr provided the large audience with a show of good grappling skills. Nick DiPierro and Andy Bierbaum wouldn't let their opponents get the best of them as they moved fast and furiously. Looking forward to their next match are Matt Fontana, Brendan Doyle, Brian Duels and Ryan Singel. Although the Cougars turned in a commendable performance, they will seek to avenge their 41-25 loss when they next meet the Raring-to-go Lions on Friday evening at Westfield High School.

Risko Joins Newark Brokerage Firm

James A. Risko of Westfield, whose background in mortgage banking and the real estate investment field spans more than two decades, has joined James R. Poole & Co., Newark mortgage brokerage firm, as a partner and executive vice president.

James R. Poole & Co. is a specialist in the placement of mortgage loans, left the firm his title had been executive vice president. He had previously been associated with Mutual of New York as Mortgage Officer from 1966 to 1968 and with Equitable Life for six prior years as an appraiser. Risko began his career in real estate following graduation from Creighton University with a degree in business administration. He later completed courses in the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers at the University of Connecticut, the Mortgage Banking Institute program at New York University where he received his M.B.I. designation, and attended the New York University Graduate School of Business.

During his more than two decades in mortgage banking and real estate investments, Risko was adjunct assistant professor of real estate at New York University's Mortgage Banking Institute, lectured at Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. and paneled and chaired seminars for the New York University Mortgage Conference, Society of Industrial Realtors, and Eastern Pennsylvania market. The company has arranged in excess of $100 million in transactions in its four-year history, mainly with insurance companies and pension fund investors.

Prior to his affiliation with the James R. Poole organization, Risko had been with Feist & Feist International, Inc. in West Orange since 1968. When he

Redeemer Names Discovery Team

Redeemer Lutheran School has named its fourth grade to be the school's Discovery Team. Because of the small size of the 10 member class, they have been appointed to discover some educational horizons a larger class would not have the opportunity to explore. They will do this by taking class trips, doing individual and collective research, and through class projects and experiments. The class will then report their discoveries to the other students in the school.

"Discovering Good Nutrition" is one of the first projects the fourth grade has undertaken. Each student is keeping a chart of what he or she eats each day to discover if a balanced diet is being followed. Experiments are being performed to test for nutrients in different foods. Booklets made by each student show experiment results and pictures of food from the four food groups. A class trip to a local fast food franchise will determine if a nutritious meal is being sold. Although this fourth grade class is unusually small, Redeemer's average class has between 14 and 18 students. This allows for each student to receive individual attention from the teachers. Redeemer offers a Christ-centered education in nursery, kindergarten, and grades 1-6. Extended care and after school programs which benefit working parents are offered through the school's Child Development Center. The school, located at Clark St. and Coperthwaite Pl., is now accepting applications for the second semester which begins on Feb. 1. The school office has further information.

Torts and Courts

If you always thought a tort was a pastry and aren't sure of the difference between a subpoena and a summons, a new T.V. series, "You and the Law," will shed light on these and many more legal subjects.

Sponsored by the New Jersey State Bar Association and New Jersey Network, the series will premiere on February 3, 1982 on UHF Channels 23, 50, 52 and 58.

Cagerettes Win No. 2

By Maria Fleming
The Westfield High School girls varsity basketball team won its second game of the season recently defeating the Montclair Mounties 48-36, only to lose later in the week to Irvington 50-35.

The cagerettes won the game on the foul line in the Montclair match. The Devils sank 22 of 37 (57 percent) from the line while the Mounties hit a mere 2 of 17 (12 percent).

At the end of the first period, Westfield trailed Montclair by four points. The cagerettes spent the second quarter on the foul line to make up the deficit and pull ahead of the Mounties. Hitting 14 of 18 free throws, 88 percent of the points scored in that period. The Devils ended the half with an 11 point advantage. Westfield never let Montclair come within range. Junior Devil forward Noreen Morris sank seven free throws in this quarter and junior guard Lisa McGowan hit six to pull Westfield ahead. The twelve points mark the largest lead the Devils have had in a game this year.

There were several stand-out performances for Westfield in the game. Morris hit 9 for 12 from the line (75 percent) while McGowan was 7 for 9 (77 percent). Morris and junior guard Rosann Fusaro hit 15 and 14 points respectively and McGowan added another to lead the Devils.

The cagerettes dropped their record to 2-11 when they lost to Irvington last week. Irvington outscored WHS in all but the third quarter to earn the win. The third period saw Westfield come within 3 baskets of Irvington only to drop further behind in the fourth.

Fusaro again led Westfield with 18 points. Morris contributed 8 more. The cagerettes will oppose the Union Farmers tomorrow in an away match at 3:45.

JVers Lose Twice

By Paul Rodin
The WHS boys' JV basketball team saw its record diminish to 4-1 last week losing to Montclair 68-56 and then to Irvington 57-56 in a tough double overtime battle.

Against the Irvington Campers, Westfield started out in its usual slow scoring manner trailing the Campers by eight points at one time in the first quarter.

Irvington executed an effective 2-3 zone defense the majority of the game and also employed a full-court press, forcing numerous turnovers into points. This did not stop the Devils from scoring however, and with eight seconds left Chris Rupp shot up two points from the corner and thus tied the game up at 49.

In the first overtime, it looked as if Westfield had taken the game, but then with seconds left to play, the Campers tied the game at 52 all and then proceeded to steal the victory in the second overtime.

The Devils were led by Johnny Miles with 20 points, going 9 from the floor and 4 from the line.

Irvington's high scorer was Eugene Bragdon with 12 points.

Against Montclair, Westfield could not keep possession of the ball very long due to the Mounties constantly forcing turnovers and out rebounding the Devils 36-25. Westfield trailed the whole game falling behind at one point by 20 points. In the final quarter, the Devils rallied to score 22 points but still could not keep the Mounties from scoring an additional 14 points.

Westfield was led by Miles and Rupp again, this time with 16 and 17 points respectively. Rupp had 7 defensive rebounds while Dan Grasso had 6 offensive rebounds.

Tuesday the team played Elizabeth (too late for Leader deadline) and tomorrow the team will try to avenge the Union Farmers at home at 6 p.m.

School Aid Figures Available

Information on the formula recommended for use in the distribution of federal block grant money to New Jersey's local school districts is available for public view for 15 days starting tomorrow (Jan. 14).

The proposed formula and local district figures for the Westfield district is at the office of Union County Superintendent James Clancy, 300 North Ave. East, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The formula was recommended by an advisory committee appointed by the governor and received first-reading approval by the State Board of Education at its Jan. 6 meeting.

The board will consider the formula for final adoption at its next meeting, Feb. 3.

The block grant replaces most of the previously distributed federal categorical program grants with single payment to districts.

In order to qualify for the funds, districts must file an application with the Department of Education and specify how the funds will be used. Districts may spend the money with complete discretion for any of the following broad purposes: basic skills development, educational improvement and support services, and/or special projects. The application may be for three-year periods.

WORKERS' COMP
The first workers' compensation act was passed in 1902 in Maryland, but it was declared unconstitutional, according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor, "Labor Firsts in America."

O'Herron to Play In All-Stars Games

Bill O'Herron

The Soccer Coaches Association of New Jersey has scheduled two North-South All-Star games in conjunction with the New Jersey Rockets and the Cosmos.

New Jersey traditionally a hotbed for soccer in the U.S., provides many top players to universities throughout the country and this will be the first opportunity for top senior high school players in New Jersey to showcase their talent, not only to the general public, but to many college and professional soccer coaches who are expected to attend.

The indoor game is planned for Feb. 5 at the Meadowlands Arena as a preliminary Match before the Rockets game. The outdoor game will be held April 18, the home opener for the Cosmos.

Gene Chysowych director of the All-Star game and soccer coach at Columbia H.S., Walt Leonow of Westfield H.S., and Jerry Sheska of Morris Knolls H.S. will direct the North squad.

The North All-Star team will include Bill O'Herron of Westfield, a standout for the Blue Devils, Watchung Conference and Union County Championship Team, Lenny Armuth (Columbia), Tom Young (Morris Knolls), George McKenna (Kearney), Elias Zurita (Englewood), Todd Panico (Caldwell), Tim Doud (West Essex), Sebastian Ferrera (East Side), Bob Hower (Ramapo), Fabian Sontos (Parsippany), Tom McSpirit (Verona) and Steve Rex (Chatam Boro).

Appointed Nursing Director At Ashbrook Nursing Home

Bonnie Testa, R.N., of Fanwood, a graduate of Newark City Hospital School of Nursing and Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights, has been named director of nursing at Ashbrook Nursing Home in Scotch Plains. Previously she served at St. Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston, and as a nurse in private medical practice.

A member of the Berkeley Heights Business & Professional Women's Club and the Advisory Committee to the Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School Work Study Program, Mrs. Testa is working toward a degree in gerontology at Union College.

Ashbrook's new nursing head was born on Staten Island, N.Y. and raised in Massachusetts. She was nine when her family came to New Jersey.

"Geriatrics (care of the elderly) has become my home in nursing," Mrs. Testa says. "It is a field of importance to all of us and at the beginning of its growth."

The new director is the wife of Joseph F. Testa, chairman of business education at Montclair High School, and has a daughter, Tori.

Franks Moves Legislative Office

As a result of legislative re-districting, the new 22nd Legislative District includes six communities in Essex County and eight communities in Union County, including Mountainside, Fanwood and Scotch Plains. In order to be more centrally located, Assemblyman Bob Franks has moved his legislative office to 3 Beechwood Rd., Summit.

Cagers Fall to 2-12

By Eric Kirschner
The WHS boys' basketball team saw its record fall to 2-12 as they were defeated by Montclair 58-36 and Irvington 56-43.

The Devils were able to play the mounties close for the first quarter, but a second quarter collapse was Montclair enter halftime with a 30-15 lead. The third quarter was more of the same, and it took a late Devil rally to make the score semi-respectable.

Jack Baldwin led Westfield with 13 points. Forward Jerry Basto added eight. Montclair's Curtis Ritchwood passed all scorers with 25 points while also snaring a game high ten rebounds.

The Devils were in a much better position to post their second victory when they battled Irvington Friday night.

After Irvington took an 11-point halftime lead, the Devils stormed back, outscoring the Campers 10-2 and cutting the score to 30-27.

But with the momentum clearly on their side, some funny things began happening to the Devils. Camper forward Cornell Sales hit an easy bucket underneath to raise the margin to five. Westfield came back, but couldn't connect, and seconds later, when Irvington center Mark Baltimore grabbed his one rebound underneath and banked it in, the Campers enjoyed a seven point edge.

Westfield took the ball, but Baldwin was quickly whistled for an offensive foul which was followed by two more Irvington points. Basto was also then whistled for an offensive allowing the Campers to hit two free throws and go up by eleven. Irvington added six more points before the streak ended, building an insurmountable 44-27 lead.

Basto was the Devils' leading scorer with 15 points. Baldwin and Frank Christmas added 14 and 8, respectively. Baltimore led all scorers with 18 points.

FAST BREAKS... Odds and ends from the stat department... Westfield was 34 of 90 from the field during the week for 37.7%... turnovers were also a factor, especially against Montclair where the Devils committed 18 compared to the Mounties 8... against Irvington it was rebounds, fifteen to be exact. Irvington outrebounded the Devils 36-21... forward Troy Best was the only player to go into double figures with twelve rebounds during the week

... the pair of disastrous second quarters this week raised Westfield's second quarter season deficit to 47 as compared to 78 for the other three quarters combined... the Devils have won only one of their last 11 games.

PAL 5th Grade Cagers Win

The fifth grade P.A.L. basketball team got off to a flying start with a 4-1 to 21 win over St. Mary's of Rahway. The boys have been putting in long, hard hours at practice and displayed excellent knowledge and skills in their first start.

The scoring started off slow, but the pace picked up quickly as Lee Krasner (10 points), Jeff Kopelman (9 points), and Ted Hobbie (8 points) quickly found the range.

Westfield controlled the rebounding and this effort was led by John Niedzwiecki, Daryl Robinson, Greg Johnson and Tom Cassidy.

One of the highlights of Westfield's play was the excellent passing and teamwork exhibited by the whole team. Doing a good job in this aspect were Charles LaRosa, Sean Lucas, Pat Quill, Lonnie Friedman and John Pushko.

The coaches feel this team has excellent potential and are eagerly looking forward to the rest of the season.

Nature of Universe Series Begins Feb. 8

An astronomically large subject — the nature of the universe — will be explored in a series of lectures for adults beginning on Feb. 8 at Union College.

The universe will be explored through lectures and discussions, as well as through the Sperry Observatory's 24-inch reflector and .0-inch refractor telescopes during the hour-and-a-half sessions. Members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. (AAI) will serve as instructors for the nine lectures, according to George Chaplenko, education chairman of AAI, who is coordinating the series.

AAI is the organization which jointly operates the Sperry Observatory with Union College on the Cranford Campus.

Offered in conjunction with the college's Division of Continuing Education, all programs start at 8 p.m. and will cover such topics as the nature of light, astronomical instruments, the sun and eclipses and future space probes.

New Jersey Neighbors-Peregrine Falcons, with diving speeds of over 200 mph, once bred in New Jersey. Pollution and land development drove them to extinction in the east by the 1950's. These falcons are just beginning to return. New Jersey is the first eastern state in 30 years to have breeding peregrines. The Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife has a program to encourage these falcons to breed in the state. In 1982, citizens can contribute to this program for endangered species conservation by checking-off item 33 (B) of their state income tax forms. Pancake Day chairman Rich Ahlfeld, left, buys the first ticket from ticket chairman Jubb Corbet to kickoff the Rotary Club's annual scholarship fund event.

Rotarians' Pancake Day March 6

Pancake Day is Saturday, March 6. The Westfield Rotary sponsors this scholarship fund event for the 16th year. The program will run from 8 a.m. till 7 p.m. in the Westfield High School cafeteria.

There will be a number of bands among the live entertainment. Unlimited pancakes are offered to each person who attends. Baked goods and crafts will be sold by the Rotarians. All proceeds go into the Rotary scholarship fund. This year 47 students are receiving financial assistance from the Westfield Club.

Pancake Day is the community's opportunity to join with Rotarians to help send deserving students to college. Tickets are available from Rotarians or at the door.

New Instructors At Y Workshops

Two new instructors have joined the YMCA roster and will teach interior decorating and assertiveness and interpersonal effectiveness.

Arlene Kaplan has been a freelance interior designer and consultant for 16 years, and has taught interior decorating at Rahway and Westfield Adult Schools. Her experience includes lecturing to various groups on interior decorating and conducting tours of New York show rooms and is the owner of Interior Design by Arlene. She resides in Westfield with husband Herbert C. Kaplan, an attorney, and family.

Decorating workshop, an opportunity for students to participate in workshop at students' homes, begins Tuesday, from 7-9 p.m.

Michele Stierchio of Springfield, a certified human relations coordinator will instruct Westfield YMCA's assertiveness workshop. She has bachelor of arts degrees in psychology and English and has completed graduate work in psychology at Columbia University. She is currently teaching human relations and psychology at Union College and administers communication and self-confident development courses. Her background also includes personnel and employee relations individual and group counseling.

The group assertiveness and interpersonal effectiveness workshop teaches assertiveness, communication, reacting to others and alternate ways of thinking and acting in work-related or personal situations. It includes role playing exercises and also starts Tuesday, at 7:15 p.m.

Heads Nursing Staff

Mrs. Norma A. Madsen, R.N., B.A., has accepted the position of director of nursing at Westfield Convalescent Center, 1515 Lamberts Mill Rd.

Mrs. Madsen graduated from Mary View Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., earned her associate degree in business administration at Somerset College and a B.A. in psychology at Rutgers University, where she is currently pursuing a masters' degree in health administration.

Mrs. Madsen, who lives in Greenbrook with her husband and two children, has a varied and extensive background in the health care field.

Zinks Share Dance Talents

A former and present lunchroom aide at Franklin School, Richard and Doris Zink, have joined the list of community volunteers offered by the STS (Sharing Talents and Skills) office in the Westfield public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Zink have been square and round dancing for five years and are members of four dance clubs. The Zinks share their talents in the art of square dancing. They are members of the "Dancing Squares" Club in Cranford and recently visited McKinley School where they demonstrated some basic calls and steps for students in fifth grade classes taught by Bette Tuthill and Christine Bondira.

This was a culminating experience for the students studying about the United States in social studies classes. "Since square dancing is fast becoming the national folk dance of America, we were very happy to have the Zinks share this talent and skill with our students," said School Principal Charles W. Jackson.

Whales at Jefferson

A Jefferson School PTO-sponsored special assembly, "Whales-Giants of the Oceans," was presented to the student body recently by Jack Branagan.

Branagan, a former teacher, now conducts a multi-media show under the direction of naturalist Ozzi Tolsson. The performance began with a discussion of life beneath the sea, enhanced by black lighting effects, sea puppets, diving equipment and use of an over-head projector. The use of the seas for farming and mining and their roles in conservation and "ocean diplomacy" were explained. A puppet show explored the myths and legends abounding about sea monsters.

The show moved on to its main topic, whales, the "gentle giants," now facing extinction. Whales are earth's largest mammals, exceeding in size even the largest of the dinosaurs. Branagan, using slides and recordings showed the various species of whales, their sounds and songs and their interaction with man.

Cultural Arts Chairperson Mrs. Maria Lombardi found this to be one of the most well-received shows Jefferson has presented. A number of the classes went on to do research and reports on the gentle giants.

Byrnes Enlists In Air Force

Justin Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Byrnes of 533 Parkview Ave., recently entered the Air Force dejected enlistment program according to Technical Sergeant Carlton Gatling, Air Force recruiter in Plainfield.

The 1978 graduate of Westfield High School is scheduled to leave for basic training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas.

Byrnes plans to receive technical training in the electronics career field for which transferrable college credits will be awarded.

Fifth graders in Mrs. Betty Ann Glowacki's class have been studying and analyzing plant and animal cell in their science course. The students prepared large posters and lengthy reports illustrating various parts of animal and plant cells. They studied the different functions and purposes of the cells. "This project was a conclusion of the cell study and a chapter well prepared by the students," Mrs. Glowacki said. Holy Trinity fifth graders above, Lisa Griffith, Kim Della Rocco, Steven Callaghan, Jerry Hughes and Craig Munch, display their cell posters from their science class.

Center Offers Tax Return Assistance

The Westfield Community Center, in cooperation with the American Association of Retired Persons and the Internal Revenue, will offer free income tax counseling to older citizens and low income individuals. Volunteers, specially trained by IRS, will render this service on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1 to 5 starting Feb. 1. Residents of the community who would like assistance in preparing their income tax returns should call the center for an appointment.

Caitlin Haughey, co-ed correspondent for Deerfield School, is shown perusing the magazine.

Deerfield Eighth Grader Named Co-ed Correspondent

Deerfield student Caitlin Haughey has been named Co-Ed correspondent for the 1981-82 school year, according to an announcement by Kathy Gojick, editorial director of Co-ed/Forecast Magazine.

Haughey is an eighth grader who has been active in Student Council, music and drama productions, and other activities at the school. She serves on the school district's Affirmative Action Committee and is a participant in the gifted and talented student workshop. As a seventh grader, she was one of a select group of students who were permitted to take the college level Scholastic Aptitude Test as part of a search for academically gifted students conducted by Johns Hopkins University. Selected for her qualities of leadership and her enthusiasm for home economics, Haughey was nominated for the honor by Suzanne Muller, her home economics teacher.

She will serve as a junior advisor to Co-ed editors. Like other Co-ed correspondents throughout the United States and Canada, she will keep the editors informed of activities at her school.

Co-ed, published nationally by Scholastic Inc. for home economics students, contains features on personal development, careers and consumer awareness, as well as the latest trends in fashion, food, beauty, and home furnishings.
