Few Question $20 Million School Tab

Fewer than 15 citizens were on hand Tuesday night at Roosevelt Junior High School for a special meeting of the Board of Education which included a presentation of the proposed 1982-83 $20 million school budget.

Another budget hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Edison Junior High School. At that time the board will vote to approve a budget to be offered to Westfield voters April 6 at the annual school election.

Leon Senus, vice-president of the board and finance chairman, presented the budget. He indicated that the goal of the school board is to maintain "educational excellence" within the school system and to provide each child the opportunity to perform the maximum accomplishments within his or her capabilities.

He said that $15,997,553 or 79.1% of the budget has been allocated for salaries and fringe benefits. At this time a decrease of 20 overall staff positions is anticipated. This includes three administrators, four elementary teachers and three others. According to Dr. Laurence Greene, superintendent of schools, these cuts are dependent on student course selection for next year and natural attrition due to retirements.

A total of $768,911 has been budgeted for books and supplies. A separate capital question to the public will seek approval of $122,000 to improve and update science labs.

Senus said that Westfield expects to spend $2899 per pupil for the 1981-82 school year. The Union County average is $2918; the state average is $2545.

The largest source of anticipated revenue for the proposed budget is the local school assessment of $16,767,418 or 83 cents of each dollar. This is a school tax rate of 1.46 points and an increase of $1.0 or 7.3%. Senus said that this could be translated as an $140 tax increase on a $50,000 home. He cautioned that this does not relate to the assessment increase that will

Town Budget Action Stalled

Action on the 1982 municipal budget was postponed by Town Council Tuesday night pending possible revisions in "caps" laws by the New Jersey State Legislature.

New Jersey lawmakers are considering increasing the percentage by which a municipality may increase the "caps" — restricted portion of its budget from the current five percent to six percent or possibly even more. The Assembly and Senate, however, have not yet agreed on legislation, and when this is finalized, it must be subject to Governor Thomas Kean's approval.

Council also postponed introduction of an amendment which would increase the budget amounts for utilities to meet the higher rates recently approved for Public Service by the Public Utilities Commission. Ironically, one of the few new continuing programs included in the 1982 budget is a small start in improving street lighting in some key areas.

While action was delayed on the $9.7 million town budget, the advertised public hearing was held as scheduled. Neither resident nor councilman, however, had comments to make on the budget which calls for no increases in taxes for municipal purposes.

According to the Town Council's timetable, an amendment to the budget could be introduced at the March 23 meeting — its content based on final decisions made in Trenton — and both the amendment and budget adopted at the April 13 session of council just under the deadline set by the State for its finalization.

Tax Assessor Robert W. Brennan has estimated that residents could face tax rates of $2.22 per each $100 of assessed valuation this year if all three budgets — school, county and town — meet final approval. Of an estimated total $25,585,068 to be raised by property taxes, 65.53 percent would be used for schools, 20.64 percent for county support and the remaining 13.8 percent for town services.

Garbage Is No Giveaway; Costs Could Escalate

First of a Two-Part Series

Garbage Solid Waste Trash
No matter what you call it, Westfield produces about 32,800 tons of it annually, according to a recent study. And, disposal of solid waste is a major and accelerating problem in Westfield, in Union County, in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area, and nationally.

Activities in this area are being monitored by the Westfield Town Council and its Solid Waste Committee under the chairmanship of Councilman Garland C. Boothe Jr.; the other members are Councilmen John H. Brady and Clifford Sheehan.

Westfield's 7,500 households and 2,000 commercial, church and other sources of waste have their refuse collected at present by 23 independent haulers. Each of them is subject to control by the state Board of Public Utilities, but they are not regulated at all by the Town unless a health problem is presented. All haul their collected material to dumps in Middlesex County, making one, or at best two, trips a day.

For the privilege of unloading — "tipping" in the jargon of the industry — a fee is paid to the landfill operator. Landfills themselves are subject to regulation by the State Department of Environmental Protection — which dictates methods of pollution and leachate control, spreading and covering dumped material and even close-down. A recent DEP order closing a Chester dump has caused a major redirection of garbage from Summit and other northern New Jersey towns, and this redirection eventually will impact on Westfield.

Apart from operating costs, the scavengers serving Westfield now have to pay two additional fees or taxes on "tipping": both of these are being passed on to the homeowners. Both became effective Jan. 1. One, 12 cents per cubic yard, is to fund recycling activities, of which more information will be forthcoming next week. The other, 45 cents per cubic yard, goes into a new DEP fund intended to assure, or in some cases pay for, environmentally acceptable closings of dumps when necessary in the future. These fees will cost each household $4.28 per year, according to a recent BPU ruling.

The state took a major step in involvement in solid waste and its management in 1975, with the passage of the Solid Waste Management Act. This law directed each of New Jersey's 21 counties and the Hackensack Meadowland area as a 22nd county to review what was going on with respect to garbage disposal and to recommend future action. The State was given many powers, including review and modification of county plans and, most significantly, the power to direct to what site any garbage collector would have to take his load.

The Union County plan, written in 1979, pointed out the need for in-county facilities to dispose of what was then estimated as a county garbage production of over 3,000 tons per day (a recent county study estimates this figure at 1,300 ton per day). The only in-county facility then — and now — is a dump Linden operates for the use of its own residents. Portions of Union, Hillside, Kenilworth, Roselle, Rahway, Winfield, Roselle Park and Elizabeth were trucked to the Meadowlands; now most of those towns along with the towns this side of the Watchungs, truck to Edison and East Brunswick.

As required by the law, the County established a Solid Waste Advisory Council (SWAC), on which Westfield has long been represented. (Councilman Boothe and two citizen members of the Town's committee, H.P. Callahan and J.S. Seabrook, are the current representatives; Mrs. Joan Buhendorf, a county

Rescue Squad Feeling Pressures of Inflation

"The Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad certainly is not unique in experiencing difficulty as a result of the inflationary economy," officials of the Squad's annual drive said today. "But what can this organization do about the problem?"

"The Rescue Squad cannot raise its prices to combat increased costs because its service is, and always has been, free of charge. The Rescue Squad cannot ask Westfield residents and visitors to have less accidents and illnesses — in fact during 1981 the Squad responded to a record number of calls, 2289. The Rescue Squad cannot request a larger portion of tax revenues because it does not receive funding from federal, state, or local government.

"The Westfield Rescue

Squad's operations are funded solely by donations from the public. In recent years operating costs have been rising at an alarming rate, despite careful attention to controlling the annual budget. However, the receipts of the Rescue Squad have not kept up with inflation.

"It is expensive to operate and maintain a vehicle — the Rescue Squad operates and maintains three. In doing so the Squad had gasoline bills during 1981 in excess of $8000. It cost over $7000 to maintain the ambulances — tires, batteries, tune-ups, repairs, etc. The ambulances must be replaced periodically and to do this the Rescue Squad each year adds money to its reserve fund. With a new ambulance costing approximately $47,000 it has become difficult to set aside enough money each year for this purpose."

Ambulance Lieutenant Glenn Kittleson commented, "We have begun a program of improved ambulance maintenance in

Challenge of Human Potential Cited by Candidate England

"No one has ever been able to find a limit to human potential. Education is more important today than ever before if students are to acquire the skills necessary to cope with our ever-changing world. The Westfield school system must meet this challenge," stated James C. England, candidate for the Westfield Board of Education.

In order to meet this challenge, the Westfield school system will introduce computers as a teaching tool in all schools next fall, he said.

"A growing number of schools, from elementary through college level, use

Expanded Home Safety Show March 27

With alarms ringing and movies reeling, last year's Westfield Home Safety and Security Show allowed nearly 2000 visitors to view, test, and learn about personal safety and crime prevention. In response to their enthusiasm, the show's sponsors will present an expanded exhibition at Westfield High School March 27.

Exhibitors will provide a wide range of security devices for residents' comparison: burglar alarms, lock devices, smoke detectors. Lieutenant Robert Denman of the Westfield

Association of Insurance Agents, presents a donation to the Westfield Home Safety and Security Show. Accepting for the show's sponsors are Norman Greco, president, and Susan Jardine, executive director, of

Suggests New Approaches To Old Problems of Budgets

Donald H. Bagger, candidate for the Board of Education in the April 6 election, has given the Leader some viewpoints and suggestions about the school district's budgeting.

"Since about two-thirds of the local tax levy is imposed for Westfield's schools, it is essential that our educational budget be accurate and responsible. Then, too, as the Board of Education's annual costs require public approval at the school board election (while the county and municipal governments determine their own needs without any referendum), the voters should take extra interest in this budgetary process.

"The board's proposed 1982-1983 budget spreads over more than 100 column inches when published in the Leader. It is virtually incomprehensible in detail to most citizens, yet it totals about $20 million dollars. Westfield education costs real money!"

"It's been my experience to have helped out with public sector budgeting in

The above diagram shows the steps in a typical resource recovery plant of the type contemplated in the Union County area.

Carl Bailey Urges School Budget Support

"The proposed school budget was published in the February 25th edition of The Westfield Leader. Meetings are being held at each junior high school to hear recommendations for changes from the public before the final proposal is approved for presentation to the voters, April 6. I hope each person will give thoughtful consideration to each item in the budget, and agree with their importance." B. Carlton Bailey, candidate for a three-year seat on the board, said today.

Bailey pointed out that the 1982-83 budget provides micro-computers for instruction in the elementary grades to prepare children for an opportunity in the age of high technology.

"Moving beyond the mystery of computers, business, industry and science require competence in computer use if we are to remain a modern nation," according to Bailey. He also pointed out that the budget provides for the initial steps in modernizing the high school science laboratories.

Bailey explained his feeling for the budget as it is being proposed. "As a candidate for election to a three-year term, I am pleased that the budget protects the reputation for excellence the school district has earned, while increasing below the rate

Jerome Hines Establishes Christian Fellowship Organization in N.J.

International opera star Jerome Hines, co-founder of the Fellowship of Christians in the Arts, Media and Entertainment, has announced the formation of a New Jersey chapter of the organization which will meet Tuesday evening, March 23, at 8 p.m. at Grace Church, 1100 Boulevard. Several noted opera stars, published writers and actors have already joined the organization at a preliminary meeting chaired by Hines in January.

Hines explained that the fellowship was formed to give Christian artists an opportunity to share common interests and concerns while providing a voice for the Christian community in the media. The New Jersey Chapter will be coordinated by Michael Redmond, music critic of the Star-Ledger and Joan Smith, public relations specialist from Westfield. Michael Redmond will speak at the first meeting on "Christianity in the Arts".

Professionals in the arts, media and entertainment are welcome to attend the March 23 meeting. Further information is available from Mrs. W. W. Smith of 1739 Boulevard.

Annual Hobby Fair Sunday at Trailside

Local craftspeople will demonstrate the full spectrum of their special talents at the Trailside Nature and Science Center's "Second Annual Hobby Fair" at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The visitors' center, located at Coles Ave. and New Providence Rd., Mountainside, will come alive with artisans working on stained glass, needlework, quilting, tin piercing and scrimshaw and several other crafts. The Festival runs until 5 p.m. inside this Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility.

Trailside's hobby fair will emphasize the "how to" aspect of each craft. Artists will exhibit techniques and supply information. Finished items will be on display, but not all will be for sale. Most craftspeople reside in Union County. Shirley Telgarec will demonstrate how to make stained glass sun catchers. Specializing in clown patterns, the Westfield resident uses glass globes rather than pieces. This results in richer, brilliant colors.

The Seniors of Berkeley Heights, a group of golden agers who range in age from 60 to 94, will demonstrate crocheting, rug braiding, knitting and decoupage. Joining in the exhibit of needle work will be Westfield resident Edna Brown who will display fisherman knit sweaters and tatting and hair pin lace. Brown, who has practiced her talent for more than 40 years, finds challenge in creating intricate designs.

Clark residents Helen Rokosny and Jim Mumford will work on Colonial crafts. Rokosny will demonstrate quilting with traditional patterns, while Mumford will use common household tools to tin pierce lanterns, scones and chandeliers. Both teach their art in adult school.

Palette paintings of landscapes, seascapes and birds will be done by Penny Smit of Union. She studied under New Jersey artists Herb Wyllie and Ed Hughes and her work has been displayed at various shows and exhibits.

Other people and their crafts include: Molly Monica of Berkeley Heights with butterfly culture, Franklin Hansen of Maplewood with silhouettes, Glenn Bukowski of Bloomfield with scrimshaw, John Sofia of Bridgewater with wood-carving and Bob Jensen of West Caldwell with corn brooms.

Rx Eligibility Criteria Eased

Thousands of additional elderly and disabled N.J. residents can now receive low-cost prescription drugs and help with their energy bills, Senator C. Louis Bassano (R-Union) announced today.

A new state law eases income eligibility for the two programs to aid senior citizens and the disabled.

Residents aged 65 and older and disabled residents 18 years of age and above with an annual income of $12,000 if single or $15,000 for a married couple now qualify for the benefits.

"This increase allows the elderly or disabled to earn $3,000 a year more and still reap the benefits of the program," said Bassano.

The new guidelines for the drug program (Pharmaceutical Assistance for the Aged) take effect March 1. Under PAA a participant pays only $2 for any drug prescribed by a doctor, with the state paying the remainder of the cost.

Some 260,000 persons are now enrolled in the program. Applications for the drug program will soon be available at participating pharmacies.

New income requirements for the heating assistance program (Lifeline) which take effect in July, will provide aid to 80,000 more residents. The state will provide $175 per household from casino revenue funds to help cover spiraling heating costs—a $25 increase over this winter. Available to both homeowners and tenants, more than 240,000 were previously qualified.

Ron Frigerio, chairman of the Westfield Town Republican Committee, and former Third Ward Councilman James Caldora, confer on details of upcoming dinner dance honoring Caldora.

Republicans to Honor Former Councilman Caldora

Former Councilman James Caldora will be honored by the Westfield Town Republican Committee at its annual dinner-dance on March 26 at the Westwood, North Ave., Garwood.

Anyone desiring tickets for the dinner-dance may contact Fran Vardalis of 22 Summit Court or Beverly Caldora of 111 Tudor Oval.

Cannonball House to Display Early American Samplers

An exhibit of early American samplers has been re-scheduled for display at the Osborn Cannonball House Museum in Scotch Plains Sunday. A snow storm in January forced cancellation of the display earlier. Walls of the historic Scotch Plains home located at 1840 Front St. will be hung with samplers owned and collected by friends and members of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Historical Society. Visitors are welcome to view this exhibit from 2 to 4 p.m.

In the early part of the 19th century, young girls between the ages of eight and 12, perfected their needlework skills by creating "samplers" on which they practiced various embroidery stitches. Many of these early samplers have been passed down from generation to generation in families, and today remain prized possessions of the 20th century owners.

Stitched into the samplers are the names, ages and dates of the young girls who created them, thus making the samplers useful documents of family history. Some of the samplers retell pious prayers or poems and some simply depict a pastoral scene. Most often the alphabet and numbers have been worked in them.

The dinner meeting starts with a cash bar at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m. Reservations may be made with Grace Nail, Union County Bar Association, Court House Annex, Room 307, Elizabeth.

On display at the museum will be several samplers that appear to have their dates removed. The explanation for this is said to be due to the embroiderer's vanity. As the young girl grew to womanhood and maturity, she would often "unstitch" the date on her sampler in order to hide her age.

The museum is maintained by the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Historical Society.

MOUTHWASH MYTHS

Q. Is mouthwash really effective against germs and bad breath?

A. No. Mouthwash can only freshen your breath temporarily. They can't remove plaque, prevent decay, or cure a cold. They are a cosmetic rather than a therapeutic measure. Also the alcohol they contain, because of its drying effect, can be harmful to mucous membranes. So daily use is not only unnecessary, but could possibly cause problems as well.

Perseverant offensive mouth odor may be an indication of a medical problem or poor oral health. Check with your dentist, and leave the myth of the miracles of mouthwash for the TV commercials.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON by Congressman Matt Rinaldo 12th District, New Jersey

Each year more than 50,000 letters and inquiries are received at my Washington and district offices from constituents on a wide range of issues.

"We are in basic agreement with the present government philosophy of controlling inflation, becoming more competitive, etc., but we feel that the time period over which the government is trying to achieve these goals appears to be the use of high interest rates. We feel that if rates continue at the present high level or possibly even go higher, more harm will be done to the country than good."

In my view, the Federal Reserve Board is following a monetary policy that is too restrictive to allow for an economic recovery even though inflation has moderated.

"I was originally supportive of President Reagan's plan to cut certain program budgets in an effort to balance the overall budget. However, in considering his cuts of social programs and the 18 percent increase in the defense budget, he appears to be building our defense on the backs of the poor and middle class of this country."

I understand your concern about the reductions in federal health, education, transportation, and social service programs called for in the President's budget plan.

able to raise sufficient revenues to maintain these necessary services at their present level if the state loses federal funds. Additional efforts must be made by Congress to eliminate waste and fraud in all federal programs...

Dear Congressman Rinaldo: "My natural gas bill is already too high and I can't afford to be a victim of the Administration's misguided support for gas price decontrol. I strongly urge you to vote against any attempt to speed up gas price decontrol."

Dear P.H.: As a member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, I intend to continue doing all I can to prevent natural gas prices from being lifted more rapidly than permitted under current law.

The public often expects an unequivocal yes or no to their letters regarding a piece of legislation. But legislation must go through the Congressional mill of committee hearings, expert testimony, amendments, and other legislative procedures.

If you have an inquiry, need assistance with a federal problem, or wish to express an opinion about legislation, please write to me. The address is Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, 2338 Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

To Discuss State Nursing Exams

The nursing department, in conjunction with the recruitment and retention committee of St. Elizabeth Hospital, in Elizabeth, will hold an open house and luncheon Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the SEH Educational Center. Directed toward registered nurses and professional nursing students, the theme of the event is "State Board Exams... Where Do We Go from Here?"

because the newly revised state board exams will be given for the first time this June, according to Joan Wheeler, RN, St. Elizabeth Hospital director of nursing. Given throughout the USA at the same time, the NJ state board examinations, which last two days, are taken by nurses who wish to become licensed to practice in the State of New Jersey.

The conference theme on the State Board Examinations is being explored,

There is no charge for the day's events. Further information may be obtained by calling the hospital.

Community Center to Mark 45 Years of Service

Forty-five years ago, a group of concerned community citizens made a formal request to the United Campaign of Westfield Social Agencies for Support to continue the Neighborhood program for children, youth and adults, which started out as a toy lending library under the National Youth Administration.

This step led the group to a permanent organization, with President, Mrs. Evelyn Broch; vice president, Dr. Hubert G. Humphrey; secretary, Mrs. Mildred Talbot; and treasurer, Herbert G. Welch. After many suggestions, the group selected the name offered by Mrs. Olive P. Patch, "The Westfield Community Center Association."

Gary McVicker, president of the Westfield Community Center, has announced that this year, the Center has planned a dinner to celebrate its 45th anniversary and will honor Dr. Humphrey, Dr. George H. Jones, W. Hollis Plinton, Miss Ruth Young, Mrs. Margaret Morgan and Edward J. Smith for their dedication to the citizens and to the community for so many years.

The dinner will be held March 28 at the L'Affaire, Route 22, Mountainside, at 4 p.m. Tickets may be obtained by coming to the Center or by calling Ernestine Howell at the Westfield Community Center.

Former B of E Member Seeks Return to Board

"The Mountainside Board of Education needs experience and knowledge. Since the two incumbents are not seeking reelection and another member is moving in a few weeks, there leaves one board member with nine years experience and three with only two years experience on the board."

their regular classroom work rather than in place of it. She believes that all students should be provided the utmost educational advantages - not only should the accelerated student be challenged but the average and below average should be challenged as well. "All our students should be made to feel good about themselves no matter what their level of learning is," she commented.

This comment came today from candidate Linda Esemplare, who has not only served on the Board of Education for three years but attended board meetings for 14 years before being elected in 1978.

Supporting classroom teachers, during her term on the board Mrs. Esemplare insisted that "our staff be assigned to best meet the educational needs of the students." When this was not possible because of the rapid decline in enrollment she asked that the teachers be given a year to prepare themselves for new and different assignments.

During her term on the Board of Education she served as transportation chairman for two years and reduced transportation costs by consolidating the district's five bus routes into four. Mrs. Esemplare also helped research the advantages of consolidating all the students in one school and supported the board's recent vote to close Beechwood School. She supported curriculum changes and pressured the administration for a viable alternative to the foreign language program. In 1980 the board approved a literature program for the seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Esemplare was also actively involved in the search for the new superintendent.

One of the candidate's main concerns over the years has been the "feed out" programs for the low average student. She believes students should be taught grade level math and reading with remediation given in addition to

President Proclaims Red Cross Month

President Reagan, by proclamation, has designated March to be Red Cross Month. This is the traditional membership campaign month during which residents of Westfield are asked to become contributing members of American Red Cross, according to William Lonsdale, vice-chairman of the Westfield membership and funds committee. "This worthwhile community effort provides a variety of essential services through its staff of dedicated volunteers who give unstintingly of their time and abilities," he said.

President Reagan said "Although chartered by Congress to perform specific duties, the Red Cross relies upon the time and funds of each of us to carry out its work. I urge the American people to assist our Red Cross by giving financial aid and volunteering their time so that, as the 1982 Red Cross theme says, 'Together we can change things.'"

"To those who have given their fair share in the United Fund Campaign, your local Red Cross Chapter sends a special thanks. As generous as United Fund has been, there remains a need for additional funds to cover the Chapter's operating expense for the next 12 months," Lonsdale said.

"The chapter's friends in Westfield have been most generous in the past and, hopefully, will continue their interest in this humanitarian endeavor. No one will call at your door. The membership drive consists of a direct mail campaign only," said Lonsdale.

Teachers Lead, Students Follow Quest Linking Science, Humanities

Two Westfield High School teachers - one a scientist and the other a humanist - have cooperatively planned, gathered appropriate materials and led students on a quest, not so much for answers, but for meaningful questions about the relationship between science and the humanities in the contemporary world. An article about their work has been accepted for publication in "The Science Teacher," a magazine published by the National Science Teachers Association, headquartered in Washington, D.C. Dr. Richard E. Willett, assistant principal and supervisor of science and mathematics at Westfield High School, and Paula A. Roy, head of the English department at the high school, have written an article about their program for students to study the relationship between science and the humanities. The program was included as a unit in an English elective course which examines contemporary issues through the use of film and literature. "Two cultures: Fact, Fantasy or Fiction" is the title of the article as well as the name of the study unit. The study unit developed by the two educators included films, research, selected readings, values clarification exercises, guest speakers and endless discussions. The final activity in the unit involved the students in a hypothetical problem solving situation: due to declining enrollment and budget constraints, the academic program at the local high school must be reduced to basic courses in science and the humanities. With funding available for enrichment in only one area: either from the National Endowment for the Arts or from the National Science Foundation. Divided into two pressure groups - the scientists and humanists - the students were asked to design a curriculum financed by one of the organizations and to convince the school board to accept their area.

Women and Alcohol Subject of Seminar

There are an estimated 2.25 million American women with alcohol related problems and their numbers are growing. They are from all walks of life, all ages and all economic backgrounds. These women are the subject of the Alcohol Awareness Seminar scheduled for tomorrow by the Union County Council on alcoholism. The seminar will be held from 8:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. in the Council offices at 300 North Ave. Women who drink heavily do so because of special social and emotional problems that differ from those of men, it was explained. These drinking patterns and psychological factors will be the subject of one of the morning's featured speakers. Doris Vandeven, a certified alcoholism counselor and director of Mrs. Wilson's half-way house for women in Morristown. She will discuss the existence of a double standard for drinking behavior in our society, that it is "all right" for men to be heavy drinkers and that women, as a result, frequently resort to hiding their drinking. This makes the female alcoholic less likely to seek help and harder to reach. In elaborating on the special patterns and effects of women's alcoholic drinking, Vandeven will talk about how women conceal their problems longer, frequently abuse other drugs, neglect their children and sometimes give birth to defective infants. One in every 750 babies born exhibits defects caused by maternal alcohol abuse. Following Vandeven and the film, "Francesca Baby," which depicts the effects on child development by an alcoholic mother, Judy Knowlton MA, CAC, will speak. Knowlton is the administrator of Alfre, Inc. which runs two half-way houses for recovering women alcoholics, Mrs. Wilson's and Stirling House in Stirling. The organization will open a third facility for women, New Horizons, in Berkeley Heights. In her presentation, Knowlton will cover treatment options for the female alcoholic and talk about why and how such treatment addresses the problems peculiar to the alcoholic woman.

Public Invited To See Scanner

The Rahway Hospital Radiology Department is hosting a "Scan the Scanner" open house on Sunday, from 1-4 p.m. The hospital's new mobile Computerized Tomography (CT) or sometimes referred to as CAT) Scanner arrived in February and has been in constant use since then. In an arrangement that is the first of its kind in the state, Rahway Hospital and Elizabeth General Hospital are sharing this mobile unit. This permits both hospitals to offer CT scans to patients immediately while awaiting the installation of permanent in-house scanners later in 1982. The Union County Republican Committee to select candidates for U.S. Senate and the Board of Freeholders will be held on March 27 at the Roselle Park Middle School, 57 West Grant Ave. The convention is open to all registered Republicans in the County. Anyone wishing to attend should contact Jean Sawtelle, 920 Highland Ave., or Pauline Mount, 105 Dickson Dr., before March 15. Parents of students attending the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School are invited to attend Back to School Night on Thursday, March 25, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The faculty and administration will be available for individual conferences with parents throughout the evening. Students will be located in the center hall, at the main door entrance and in the high school office with a list of the names and room numbers of teachers, guidance personnel and administrators with whom parents may wish to speak.

"Lung Power" Event Adds New Dimension to Aerobics

When it comes to promoting physical fitness, teaching aerobic dancing and directing Dance-A-Thons for the Central New Jersey Lung Association, Jackie Rogers of Westfield has no peers. Mrs. Rogers, president of Aerobics 'n Rhythm and a director of the Lung Association, added a new dimension to aerobic dancing when she conducted the nation's first "Lung Power" Dance-A-Thon last year at Westfield High School in cooperation with the Westfield High School Key Club. On Sunday, March 21, 500 of her students and instructors will assemble in the Dunn Sports Center, Elizabeth, to participate in the 1982 event, the biggest of its kind ever staged in the country for a Lung Association. While the contestants dance their way to better health and fitness, they will also help to raise funds for the Lung Association's patient services for children and adults with long-term respiratory problems. "The success of the initial event," Mrs. Rogers said, "made it necessary for us to move the event to the Dunn Sports Center so that we could register more than 300 dancers, the maximum number we accommodated last year at Westfield High School." Aerobic exercise was first introduced as a cardiovascular fitness technique in 1969 by Dr. Kenneth Cooper of Texas. Because of the obvious relationship, aerobic dance programs attracted the attention of those already involved in dance or dance related activities. Together with her husband, Dennis, Mrs. Rogers has made the aerobics 'n rhythm method of dancing one of the most popular physical fitness programs in the Eastern United States, with more than 7,000 students participating in the activity. At present their staff consists of more than 150 instructors and their students range in age from 7 to 70. "Aerobics help to make you feel alive," Mrs. Rogers noted, "and by dancing your way to fitness, you can enjoy energy, plus improved muscle tone, better posture, coordination, balance and agility." Aerobic means "with oxygen" and aerobic exercise will aid in the better utilization of oxygen by the body, thereby increasing heart and lung efficiency as well as capacity. Incorporated in the Aerobics 'n Rhythm program are stretching and limbering exercises popular in many European countries. "Aerobic dancing is the better alternative to those repetitious and often boring exercise programs," Jackie stated. "We just don't exercise to music, we actually use dance steps from all forms of dance, from jazz to polka."

Jackie Rogers States, with more than 7,000 students participating in the activity. At present their staff consists of more than 150 instructors and their students range in age from 7 to 70.

"Our unique contribution to this program is the great variety of rhythms we have included: Cha cha, samba, ballet, polka, disco, shimmy, Charleston, jazz and many more," Mrs. Rogers said. "The health benefits of exercise and proper eating are so important for general mental and physical fitness, including higher self esteem, stress reduction and a happier existence," she concluded. The public is invited to attend the March 21 event, and to encourage the dancers as they use their good health and fitness to help stamp out lung disease and raise funds for the Central New Jersey Lung Association.

Overlook Hospital's Hospice volunteers recently celebrated the Hospice program's fifth anniversary with a party. Not All High School Kids Sleep Late Saturdays

By Charlie Scharf On a Saturday morning at 9:30, most WHS students are still sleeping, but more than 70 students are in the school auditorium listening to a guest lecturer speak about such controversial topics as gene splicing and nuclear fusion. This program entitled "Saturday Science" was initiated 15 years ago, and due to the high quality of lecturers, it has grown to attract greater numbers of both students and teachers throughout the years. Science department chairman Dr. Dave Stoneback heads the program and is personally responsible for getting the guests. He explained that the guests give their time free because they have a vested interest in talking to highly motivated high school students. A recent Saturday saw Professor Jacques Fresco of the Frick Research Laboratories at Princeton University discussing the possibilities and dangers of genetic engineering. Professor Fresco addressed this controversial topic by first stating that proper precautions had been taken when gene splicing was first developed because no one fully knew its capabilities, and now, some 10 years later, there are still great restrictions, as each experiment must be registered with the government. The bulk of Professor Fresco's lecture was devoted to the possibilities genetic engineering holds. "Within three to five years," Professor Fresco stated, "actual human insulin will be marketed which will have been made through gene splicing." Other hopes genetic engineering holds are improving the quality of food in regions where nutritious food is scarce, and curing both dwarfism and sickle cell anemia. Dr. Stoneback feels, "These programs will enable the students to interact intelligently in our technologically advanced society." Along with listening to speakers at WHS, Saturday Science also sponsors trips to science exhibitions and trips to hear noted science personalities. Earlier this year, the group went to hear Dr. Isaac Asimov speak at the Stevens Institute of Technology and last year the group attended a lecture given by Rosalyn Yalow, a nobel prize winner. Dr. Stoneback feels that the diversity of topics will help to enrich each individual and put recent scientific developments into their proper perspective by having experts discuss these topics. Stoneback said that one of the best things Saturday Science has to offer is the opportunity for each student to question experts in their specific fields. This interaction broadens each student's view of the given topic.

Women's History week is celebrated by the Westfield Chapter of the National Organization for Women through a book donated to the Westfield Library. Irene Flynn (left), a Westfield resident and N.O.W. member, presents two books on women in history to the director of the Westfield Library Jeanne Derosiers. President Reagan named the week of March 7 National Women's History Week to honor all the women who have made outstanding contributions to society throughout history. The new books will give area residents the opportunity to become more aware of women's achievements. Westfield N.O.W. holds monthly meetings which are open to anyone interested in attending. In the near future, the membership plans to sponsor program nights on issues which affect women and other minority groups. More information on N.O.W. is available from Judy Knepper of 755 Prospect St.

Marc Parmet, tenor saxophone player and John Brown, percussion player, both seniors in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band have successfully auditioned for the Region II North All-State Band. Both students auditioned with students from high schools in the Region II area at Hightstown High School in Hightstown. The selected members of the All-State Band will perform concerts throughout the State.

Caribbean Carnival at Jefferson

Jefferson School students recently participated in a PTO sponsored special event: a Mini Caribbean Carnival. Asking, "What is a real carnival?" musicians Danny and Vincent recreated the atmosphere of Trinidad, in the Jefferson auditorium, despite the cold of a Westfield winter. Through story-telling, songs and the music of island instruments, the duo wove the history of both their instruments, and the island celebrations into their performance. The students joined in the clapping, singing and playing of instruments with great enthusiasm. Cultural Arts Chairpersons Maria Lombardi and Barbara Larsen arranged for the program.

Application Date for Home Energy Benefits Extended

The deadline for applying for Home Energy Assistance benefits has been extended to April 30 because the federal government has awarded additional funding.

The state Department of Human Services had anticipated that most of the original funds would have been spent by March but will continue the program for those low-income people who have not yet applied.

"The special Congressional funding was approved in late February and we estimate that New Jersey's share will be about $4.2 million," according to G. Thomas Riti, director of the department's division of public welfare. "This means the county welfare agencies will continue to accept heating applications through the end of April," Riti said.

Under the HEA income guidelines an individual cannot have more than $449 a month in gross income and still receive benefits.

Other maximum income levels are: $593 for a family of two; $737 for a family of three; $880 for a family of four; $1024 for a family of five; and $1168 for a family of six.

Special arrangements have been made to allow senior citizens and the disabled to complete their applications at home and mail them directly to the county welfare agency. Extra applications are also available for the elderly at county offices on aging.

People who have their heating cost included in their rent are also eligible to apply. However, people who live in public housing or receive a direct housing subsidy are not eligible.

Households that consist entirely of students who are tax dependents of another household and people living in nursing homes are ineligible.

In addition to heating assistance, the program also provides for the essential emergency repair of furnaces and other heating units as well as medically-needed cooling assistance.

New Jersey residents interested in the program should contact their county welfare agency.

The board was notified of a decrease of $70,884 in state aid and will discuss possible recommendations and adjustments prior to the next public budget hearing.

In other business the board approved the $10,187.20 bid of ReproGraphics of Westfield for printed forms. Members voted to accept bids for construction of the maintenance facility at the Elm St. administration offices and referred the question back to the operations and facilities committee. The total bids received were higher than the amount appropriated for the project.

Garbage

employee and Westfield resident, acts on behalf of the Union County Environmental Health Advisory Board.)

The committee and the Freeholders began investigating a large solid-waste-to-energy plant. The Merck Pharmaceutical Company in Rahway indicated an interest in such a facility to supply steam to its Rahway offices and plants, and siting has concentrated in that area of the county. After Linden decided not to host the site, Rahway expressed an interest and a willingness to accept the facility at one of two sites in the city.

The plant is well in the planning stage, but a long way from reality. At a SWAC meeting in December the present situation was outlined as follows:

- the plant as proposed is designed to dispose of up to 2,000 tons of refuse a day, using environmentally acceptable technology. Such plants are common in Europe.
- the plant will be designed and built by Widmer & Ernst, a Swiss company with a number of similar plants built in Europe but none in the United States. A number of similar plants - built by others but using the same basic technology - do exist and operate in the United States now - Saugus, Mass., Harrisburg, Pa. and Chicago.
- the plant will be a private venture - not a state or county or public authority project. It will be financed by the sale of debt and/or equity securities. The estimated cost is in the neighborhood of $100,000,000.
- the facility needs some assurance of economic vitality in order to attract the huge capital sums needed for construction and operation and to pay off the bonds that will be sold to finance construction.
- Merck would buy steam produced by the facility, but at a price reflecting what it would cost Merck to produce steam from other energy. The steam produced (and minor revenues from sale of recycled materials and ashes) would not have sufficient value to cover the plant construction, debt service and operating costs.
- as a result, "tipping fees" will be charged at the plant on each truckload. Economic projections, unfortunately, demonstrate that these fees will be substantially higher than present landfill charges. Other projections, however, indicate that landfill tipping charges also will increase.
- a preliminary application to the DEP and a host of other state and federal agencies was filed last August. Widmer & Ernst anticipates that additional requests for information will follow and that up to 18 months will elapse before it obtains its approvals and knows what conditions are or will be imposed on its application.

- the potential disparity between the anticipated high tipping fee at Rahway and the lesser ones at Edison and other landfill sites already has emerged as a major topic for debate - economic, philosophical and practical. Why should Westfield scavengers go to Rahway - or be directed there by the DEP - if tipping there costs more than the drive to Edison (after taking into account travel costs, equipment wear and tear, and unloading and turnaround time)? If such an order is given, then should others still using Edison somehow pay more to help spread the added costs of tipping at Rahway around the rest of the region? Suppose the situation is reversed, and Westfield trash keeps going to the Edison landfill, rather than to the Rahway facility? And so on.

The situation is not merely academic or even fairness to residents of one town versus those in another. Widmer & Ernst or whoever owns and operates the facility must have a guaranteed supply of raw material - read that "garbage" - as fuel to burn 365 days a year, so that it can produce the steam that Merck would contract to purchase. So disposal direction orders to scavengers (whether private as in Westfield or municipal as in Summit and some other towns) will, in the last analysis, be the financial collateral for a very expensive refuse disposal unit.

In summary, the Rahway facility offers the county the means to dispose of much of the total county solid waste production by a method other than landfill dumping. In the process some useful energy will be produced. In an era when landfills are disappearing fast, some alternative disposition is desirable. It is also required by the law; state policy is against new dump openings, and in any event possible areas for such dumps are further and further away and more and more expensive for the scavengers serving Westfield to reach.

At the moment there is little that the Council's committee can do about the refuse collection and disposal problem other than amass data and keep informed. On recycling of paper and other material, however, there is a lot for all to do and benefits for all - that will be the topic discussed in Part II next week.

Town Budget

unanimously defeated a previously proposed ordinance on unvented space heaters and instead proposed two new ordinances on the issue. Like their predecessor, the new legislation places restrictions on the type of space heaters which might be used, and limits such use to single family residences. The new bills, however, amend both the housing code and fire protection sections of the town code to assure uniform regulations. Public hearing and final action is scheduled for the March 23 meeting.

That session also will see action on an ordinance mandating a $10 penalty for property owners who try to pay their tax bills with checks not backed by sufficient funds in the bank, and on another requiring submission of specific forms in the event of claims against the town for injury or damage.

Council also awarded various contracts for a number of items: A pool food dispensing service, containerized service at both the conservation and attic waste centers, uniforms for the police and fire departments and construction of a concrete deck at Memorial Pool.

Before retiring, Mrs. Van Benschoten, a Westfield resident for some 40 years, worked locally with a statistical research firm.

Gorsky emphasized that he welcomed input from the community and could be reached at his Dudley Ave. home to answer questions or through Mrs. Van Valkenburgh.

division manager (people may not like the Port Authority but most folks admit it's managed well - especially in finances and operations). There are subtle but real differences between entrepreneurial budgets and governmental budgets in both preparation and implementation.

"The school district budget as published conforms to the legal mandates of the state. We will probably also be given graphic expenditure charts and "zero base" justifications for the increased school costs accompanying our declining enrollments. Yet there is really little to help the voter to decide - either accept the 20 million dollar levy on good faith or reject it without truly knowing why.

"If elected to the Board of Education, I hope to convince my colleagues that next year's procedures include elements of "performance budgeting" for all discretionary line-items. This will not mean more bureaucratic paperwork; there is too much of that now required by Trenton. What it will need is not only line-by-line review, already part of the process, but shrewd analysis of the line-item's rationale.

"Is the expenditure there because it was last year? Is it now adjusted - almost always upward - to reflect what is - or was - a devaluated dollar? What is its purpose? Who does what? Could someone else help out? Is it done well? What would happen if it were not done at all? It is here that "program review," a common administrative function, should be extended to the additional dimension to permit a "performance budget."

"Then, while adhering to the required budget forms, we could make public to the taxpayers lucid reasons for each continuing discretionary function and each non-recurring unmandated expenditure."

At the meeting, Gorsky named Annette Van Valkenburgh as his campaign manager; Ruth Van Benschoten, treasurer; and his twin sister, Yvonne, as publicity coordinator.

England concluded by stating, "I have confidence in the Westfield school system. That is the first step toward meeting the challenge to human potential. We are not afraid to move forward and help our students meet tomorrow."

Drama Precedes Satisfying Concert

With a scenario fraught with drama and suspense, Mostly Music brought its final concert of the season to a highly satisfying denouement last Sunday evening at Temple Emanu-El. According to Claire Angel, artistic director of the chamber music series, the first violinist of Musica da Camera, the resident chamber ensemble, became ill on the morning of the concert. Frantic phone calls throughout the day finally brought success in the late afternoon in the person of David Kim, who gallantly came to the group's rescue despite the fact that there was no time for a rehearsal. Fortunately the superior musicianship of all the members of the ensemble succeeded in reaffirming the old adage, all's well that ends well.

The opening work, Bach's Gamba Sonata No. 2 in D is a jewel of a work. Michael Goldschlager's lustrous and brilliant cello tone gave the piece another dimension and placed it in a later time slot, perhaps, than the composer had intended (despite Mr. Goldschlager's preliminary remarks in which he hypothesized that Bach might have written it for cello rather than gamba if the cello had been in a higher state of development in the early 18th century.) The cellist's warm, romantic cello tone is quite different from the ascetic, silvery gamba sound, which is also more tonally homogeneous with the harpsichord. Ms. Angel, coping masterfully with a recalcitrantly out-of-tune bass, handled the demanding keyboard passages with high panache.

David Jolley, hornist, displayed a golden tone and admirable technical facility in Mozart's Quintet for horn and strings, with Evan Wilson and Toby Hofman, violas and Kim, violin and Goldschlager, cello. Too bad that some of the tension surrounding the day's events did not pervade the overall performance, which would have made it more exciting to hear. But given the rehearsal-less circumstances it was logical that the players chose to play it safe, seeking serenity rather than drama.

The Schumann "Adagio and Allegro" for horn and piano is one of those rare offerings that live in the mind after the sound has long vanished. Hauntingly played by Mr. Jolley and Ms. Angel, it provided yet another instance of the composer's special, indefinable gift. In the final programmed work of the evening, Mozart's Piano Quartet in G minor, K 478, the ensemble came to life, exuding, elan and confidence that, understandably, had eluded it in its previous Mozartean assay. Tempos were exhilarating and rhythms vibrant; the rondo danced and sparkled. The good ship Mostly Music had weathered its storm successfully and sailed into harbor with flying colors. A musical dividend that was not listed on the printed program came at the end of the concert. Sunday being Maurice Ravel's birthday, two excerpts from his four-band piano suite, "Mother Goose" were played. It would be inappropriate for this writer, who played the secondo part with Ms. Angel's primo, to comment on the performance except to say that it was played lovingly. Preceding the concert Stoddard Lincoln charmed an audience of patrons and sponsors with a witty and erudite lecture-demonstration of the forte piano. Mostly Music, whose strong cultural contribution to the community is now firmly established, is now offering next season's concert prospectus to potential subscribers. To be included in the Sunday evening delights one should act quickly, since seating at the Temple is not open-ended. And a better musical buy would be hard to find in any area, suburban or metropolitan.

Supersonics Win 5th Grade Title; Nets and Pacers Runners-Up

The results of last week's final 5th grade basketball game are as follows:

Championship Game

Supersonics 24 - Nets 12
The Supersonics saw the reward of many weeks of hard work, as they became the league champs. Once again it was hard-nosed man to man defense that led to victory. This was a team that didn't have one high scoring star but rather a hustling team concept of basketball. The job of stopping the Nets high scorer was given to John Niesdwiacki and he responded by holding him to 4 pts. Also playing tough "D" were Mike Loffredo, Alex Graf and Shirley Borghese. The scoring was led by Greg Johnson with 8 pts. Also scoring were Kurt Zilch, Colin Conway, Kevin Schultz and Jim Robins. Leading a strong rebounding effort was Doug Kris.

Consolation Game

Pacers 31 - Trailblazers 23
The Pacers won their final game of the year, beating the Trailblazers 31-23. They finished the season in third place and in style. Their patented 3rd quarter scoring binge again highlighted the Pacer victory. The Pacers win was a total team effort. Congratulations to Tom Cassidy, Charles La Rosa, Joe Murphy, Patrick Quill, Chris Hanlon, Mike Hamilton, Clinton Kajinami, Steve Cohen, John Bomba, Teddy Flynn and Allison Mazur. A fine season was had by all.

Lakers 33 - 76'ers 18

The Lakers played a great game. Mike Pushko got 13 points and his brother John got 4 points. Greg Kilroy, Mike Shomaker and Mike Smith also added strong scoring. Ed Connerly, Paul Darmony, Jim Vaccaro and Chris Larsen had great hustle. The victory was a real team effort.

The 76'ers gave a fine effort in their loss to the Lakers. The scoring was paced by Ted Hobbie with 11 points and Bobby Wischusen with 7. Jon Gelfand and John Steurnagel did a good job handling the ball and David Simons played a fine defensive game. Jerry Infantino did a very good job both defensively and off the boards. Knicks 55 - Suns 30

In an awesome shooting display Lee Krasner led the Knicks with 33 points while David Oliveira and Bruce Lowe had 8 points each. Jean Lucas, Michael Conheeny and Bobby Moskal had 2 points each. David Olivira did an outstanding job rebounding for the Knicks. The team played excellent defense and made a number of outstanding plays on offense.

Robby Roth, the Suns season scoring leader, scored 17 points in a long effort. Erik Markey had his best game with 6 points. Clark Hawgood and Blake Sturke each had 3 points and Sean Duggin scored 2. Phil Gallagher and Steve Dzurly led the team with rebounds and Blake Sturke sparked the team with tenacious defense.

Special thank you's were extended by the league to all of the coaches and parents who co-operated to make the 5th grade basketball season a success. Without their help in refereeing, timing, scoring and coaching, there would be no W.B.A. Special thanks to Tom Cassidy for his efforts in co-ordinating the teams.

Scotchwood Squares To "Play Ball"

"Baseball, the Sport of the Century," will be the topic of an illustrated talk before the Scotchwood Square Club, many of whose members are ardent fans, at 8 p.m., Tuesday at the Rescue Squad hall on Bartle Ave., Scotch Plains.

A film, a compilation of scores of the frenzied scenes of recent years, will present players and officials, data and general information. The narrator is William Conrad. The club president, Sidney Bell, is conducting a canvass on a proposal to change subsequent meeting dates because of conflict with other Masonic activities and he is endeavoring to obtain the preferences of members as to type of programs.

The club will conduct its annual fish and chips dinner at the Scotch Hills Country Club, March 20.

Girl Scouts Visit Diner in Clark

Girl Scouts Troop 522-41 of Jefferson School recently heard Mrs. Ping explain how her mother makes wontons at Pings' Diner in Clark as part of their tasting tour of the diner. In honor of the Chinese New Year the girls learned how to make and tasted fried noodles, shrimp chips and wonton soup.

Budding Journalists Learn Trials of Free-Lancers

By Andrew Elby and Stephanie Prial Aggressively uncovering story ideas, meeting a diversity of personalities, and convincing magazine or newspaper editors to buy articles — these are a few of the many experiences a free-lance writer undergoes.

The life of a free-lancer was discussed by Gary Stern, a New York writer who spoke to the journalism classes at Westfield High School recently. Stern, who also was representing the New York School of Visual Arts' Communications Department during his visit to WHS, spoke about his own experiences and compared the life of a free-lance writer to that of a regular newspaper reporter.

Stern feels that free-lancing is the most interesting type of reporting because of the diversity of subjects the writer deals with, but he admitted that the career lacked financial stability and that most free-lancers must take part-time jobs to survive. A staff or beat reporter for a newspaper receives a steady salary and is usually guaranteed regular publication even if his or her writing is restricted to a particular subject or field.

Getting an editor interested in an idea was the hardest part of free-lance writing according to Stern. He explained the purpose of a "query" letter, which will contain a small portion of the article and an explanation of the rest. Stern has been published in many magazines and in the Sunday supplement sections of the New York Post and the New York Daily News.

To illustrate the need for a fresh approach when looking for a free-lance story, Stern talked about an article he wrote about the bullpen catcher for the New York Yankees, called "The Least Famous Yankee." He commented, "If I had written about Reggie Jackson, an editor would have immediately rejected it" because of the number of pieces already written about Jackson.

Stern stressed that most magazines depend entirely on free-lancers for their articles whereas newspapers work with full-time staffs, making it much more difficult for a free-lancer to get published. "The most important thing about reporting is to show that it is enjoyable," Stern concluded, emphasizing that if the writer is enthusiastic about his or her experience, the reader will be more interested as a result.

Hardwick Asks for Curb On Utility Tax Receipts

In a letter to Assemblyman Robert C. Janiszewski, chairman of the Revenue, Finance and Appropriations Committee, Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) urged action on legislation which Hardwick proposed three years ago to cap the gross receipts tax.

Hardwick opposed legislation passed this week in the Assembly giving all New Jersey municipalities a share of a $120 million growth in utility tax receipts based on the 13% tax imposed on utility bills. The measure has now gone to the Senate for consideration. Calling upon Janiszewski's committee which is holding Hardwick's bill, to act favorably on his legislation, the Westfield legislator said, "It's time to cap this regressive tax and think instead of returning some of that money to the overburdened taxpayer."

Hardwick claimed that the measure passed by the Assembly would only mean higher utility bills for New Jersey consumers and a further escalation of inflation. "On its face, distributing additional money to municipalities sounds wonderful," Hardwick said. "However, it's only wonderful to the municipalities who reap the benefits but not to the individual consumer who pays 13% of his electric bill in hidden taxes." Hardwick added, "I realize our dedicated municipal officials are struggling to balance their budgets and that the state has not offered any realistic alternatives to help the municipalities without penalizing utility users so dearly."

Hardwick said he has called repeatedly for release of his legislation over the past three years. "A cap on the gross receipts tax would serve the taxpayer and curtail inflation which should be our prime responsibility."

IRISH SODA BREAD AND CHALLAH

We thought it would be a brilliant accomplishment to combine two of our favorite breads to the delight of everyone in Dublin, Televiv and Westfield. But alas, the resulting loaf was only good for a tax deduction. Our friends urged us to continue baking IRISH SODA BREAD and CHALLAH separately.

In Dublin, rounds of SODA BREAD accompany every meal, from breakfast to high tea. Each warm, thick slice makes a delectable platter for butter and honey or marmalade. BUTTERMILK and BAKING SODA are used to make the bread rise, and to give it a light, crumbly texture.

The decorative braid of CHALLAH (the Jewish Sabbath bread) is said to symbolize a ladder to heaven. CHALLAH relies on yeasts to make it rise and on many eggs to give it a delicious flavor.

At COOKY'S, 107 E. Broad Street in Westfield, WE BAKE IRISH BREAD DAILY and CHALLAH ON FRIDAY. Please come in and try a loaf or two, or call us at 233-7268 if you want to reserve a loaf.

Mrs. Jasuta To Chair Benefit Book Sale

Book Sale Planned...Dee Jasuta, right, discusses upcoming book sale of The Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library with Joan McDonough, left, the Friends' vice president, and Julie Fitzgerald, president of the organization. The sale opens April 30 and continues for a week.

Dee Jasuta took on the chairmanship of the expanded Friends of the Library book sale simply because she "decided it was a challenge."

At a block party last Labor Day, the Clark Street resident was approached by neighbor Julie Fitzgerald, and asked to serve as head of the spring 1982 event.

"I thought about it, and decided to take it as a challenge," comments Dee.

This year's fundraiser, however, will encompass close to three times the number of sale hours of past events.

After several days of book deliveries and setting up, the sale kicks off at the Municipal Building's Wateunk Room on Friday, April 30 with members of the Friends allowed to purchase books from 9 a.m. to noon.

The public sale begins at 1 p.m. that day and continues for a week, culminating with the famed "Bag Day" bargain sale on Saturday, May 8. For $2, one can carry out as many books as can fit in a bag during the last hours of the sale.

The sale hours have been expanded from 20 last year to a total of 54 this year because, Dee explains, "there were a lot of books left over during previous sales so we thought we might be able to sell more by offering more sale days."

All of the monies raised during the sale benefit the library.

The main worry for Dee, as with past chairmen, is whether enough books will be donated to be sold at the annual event.

But if past experiences are evidence of the generosity of area residents, then collection of used books, magazines, records, classics, children's reading materials, and encyclopedias should not be a problem.

"We have books already," says Dee, "and promises of more to come."

Volunteers canvass garage sales and flea markets for leftover books, and request donations from local bookstores and from individuals willing to donate used books.

Dee is hopeful that many of the books will be delivered to the Wateunk Room Saturday morning, April 24, so that setting up can begin the following Monday.

Again, the Friends will call on veteran book sale volunteers Frances Palmer and Carol Dreizler to help with sorting rare books and collectibles, and on a large corps of town residents who volunteer to set up and to sell during the duration of the fundraiser.

Joan McDonough, vice president of the Friends, will be cochairmen of the sale, with the following serving as committee heads: Marion and John O'Brien, treasurers; Jane Curtis, volunteers; Mrs. Fitzgerald, telephone; Tina Leshner, publicity; and Vicki Bekkedahl, Ruth Hazen, and Mesdames Palmer and Dreizler, advisors.

Information is available by contacting Mrs. Jasuta.

Gonzales, Freedom Sound, At Chapel Wednesday
According to the Rev. Matthew Garippa, Evangelist Frank Gonzales will be at Mountainside Gospel Chapel located at 1180 Spruce Dr., Mountainside, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.
Gonzales has been conducting evangelistic crusades for 22 years in North and Central America. He obtained a master's degree from Bob Jones University and has traveled extensively throughout the world. His life took a dramatic turn from the Hollywood world of entertainment to evangelistic ministry following a two-year bout with tuberculosis.
Gonzales has been traveling for the past 15 years with a group of young people called "Freedom Sound." They present the Gospel in churches, prisons, nursing homes and in plazas. They also go into schools with a drug abuse program which has been instrumental in causing many young people to turn from a world of drugs, alcohol, and confusion. Their medium is music, coupled with a sharing of personal experiences, some as drug and alcohol users. In addition to church services, school drug assemblies, personal soul-winning on the street, radio and TV programs, the Frank Gonzales Evangelistic Association has built an orphanage in Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico. There abandoned children are loved, cared for, and taught, both academically and spiritually.

It is wrong to think that just because a cut (or abrasion) bleeds, it is a clean wound. The dirt and bacteria that enter a wound seldom is removed by bleeding. While washing with soap and water will usually suffice, cleansing with an antiseptic is better as it will inhibit the growth of bacteria. Before applying a bandage to the affected area, an antibiotic ointment may be applied. This will serve to further protect the skin against bacterial contamination. Wounds that continue to bleed will often require sutures. Get your doctor's advice.

Holy Trinity Playing For Suburban Title

Holy Trinity's seventh and eighth grade boys basketball team enters its last week of play with the championship of the National Division for the Suburban League at stake. Holy Trinity hosts St. Pat's (Chatham) for the title at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Holy Trinity, coached by Domenick DiIorio, consists of eight players from each grade who started their season in December. Because of injuries coach DiIorio was forced to start the season with aggressive defense and a varied offense from a strong bench. After the first half of the season Trinity's record was 6-3. Since the return of the injured players Trinity has racked up seven straight wins and a chance to bring the trophy back to Westfield. Holy Trinity is led by their captain and pivot man, Joe Carnevale. Giving him support under the board are Brian Quinn, Charley Ramsey and Mike Ahern. The backcourt is handled by Greg Frigerio and Chris Freer. The bench strength in the early going was the key to Holy Trinity's success and coach DiIorio received yeomen work from Mark Bradley, Keith Brennan and Allen Dente. Other solid performances were turned in by the "Future" team of Glenn McSweeney, Teddy Dombrowski, Johnny Pirich, Donnie Reeves, Todd Della Rocco, Tom Duhig and Timmy Nolan.

The Suburban League All-Star game will be played tomorrow at Holy Trinity with the preliminary game, consisting of fifth and sixth graders starting at 6 p.m.

Kevin Lombardi, who along with Laker Jim Mozoki scored 6 points each, aided Ott in the 1st half. But Robin Suggs of the Celts and Ken Riley with 4 and 6 points respectively, came back in the late stages of the 2nd quarter to pull the Celts within 7 at halftime. With Lynne Cassidy controlling the boards and Kevin Zippler stealing 2 errant Laker passes, the Celts rallied to bring the deficit to 3 at the end of the 3rd quarter. With Mike Gagliardi and the very aggressive Jack McEvily picking up baskets for the Lakers, it appeared a Laker victory was in evidence. But the Celts resorted to some classic basketball of going with percentage shots to close out the season on a winning note.

Rockets 25

Bob Ehret, Tom Ward, Joey La Rosa and Jason Hagwood 27 points between them — and almost equally at that — to lead the very torrid 76'ers to a 35-25 win over the Rockets. Hagwood was particularly impressive playing his best game of the season on defense. Ehret had 8 points — to share the scoring spotlight with the Rockets Dan Ginsburg — with Ehret dominating under the boards. John McCall played an outstanding floor game and had no less than 5 assists. The Rockets had a cold hand in the 2nd and 4th quarter, scoring but 4 points each stanza to end the season on a less than victorious note. But no fault of Mark Pizzi who passed off well and played an astute floor game throughout. The ball handling of Andy Guterman and Paul Emanuel, for the Rockets, was a thing of beauty as was the brilliantly executed picks of Kevin Smith and Mark Bertrand for the 76'ers. For the winners, their 6th consecutive victory to a most successful seasons conclusion.

Pacers 35

Chris Emanuel took total control in the game, scoring 14 points as he led the Knicks to an exciting overtime win over the Pacers 35-34. Emanuel simply was outstanding in every facet of the game as was David Moninger for the Pacers, who scored 15 points. Moninger indeed came from nowhere in the past 6 games and surely warranted all the kudos the fans awarded him. Joey De Rubeis scored 8 points for the Knicks while teammates David Dulan, Bob Kornicke (who had his best game of the season) and Craig Russell all had 4 points each. Mark Gruba, in addition to scoring a key basket, played aggressively throughout. David Waxberg (8 points) and David Brezeginski (4 points) held up their own for the Pacers, but alas, all was to no avail in the most exciting season finale.

Pistons 20

Tim Glynn paced the Net win as he scored 9 points and enjoyed his best outing of the year. Glynn was masterful under the boards in the Nets 23-20 win over the slumping Pistons. Mike Cohen (6 points), Glenn Thompson (4 points) and teammate Jim Jackson (4 points) closed out the scoring as the vastly improved Nets established bona fide creditability in the league with their well played games. Tom Cannerella, Lisa Gray and Wayne Letwink scored not a point but figured materially in the win with their ball control and precision like passing. Phil Cagnassola made a contest out of it scoring 6 points, assisting brilliantly and quarterbacking the Pistons throughout. The "Cag" brought class to the Pistons during the year. Ditto the performance of Glenn Maurer and Roger Albertson who played in the shadows all year but were instrumental in bringing the Pistons a winning seasons ledger. Jeff Sherman, Even Vierra, P.J. Fisher and Jason Hagman had a bucket apiece in the Pistons finale. Bottom line: a good game for both ball clubs. Final Shot: Coaches "dream game" Saturday at 10 a.m. — with awards to teams at EJHS.

Matt Shields Ups Record in Regionals

By Bob Vidaver

In last weekend's Region III Wrestling Tournament in Union, only WHS grappler Matt Shields (135) emerged unscathed, as he upped his seasonal record to 25-1 with a 15-5 decision and two pins.

By virtue of his first place finish, the Blue Devil captain is the lone Westfield representative in the State Tournament in Princeton, which began last night with the pre-quarter final round.

The Devils sent five wrestlers to the regional tourney, but Gary Trenker (129) and Tom Miller (148) were beaten in the opening round.

Haesler (9-6) lost 6-2 to the eventual third place finisher, while Giacone (19-5) was beaten 7-0 by Ed Miller of Brearly Trenker (17-9) won his opening round match 6-2 but was decisively 5-2 by the first seed. In the consolation match, he lost by a 6-4 score.

Tom Miller (15-9) won his opening round match 10-6 but lost a tight 3-0 match to Union's Ken Disko, the eventual 148-pound champion. Miller earned a bronze medal with a 9-3 victory in the consolation.

Shields continued to look sharp throughout most of the tourney, as he justified his first seed by winning the 135-pound class.

In the opening round, the Devil pac-man got off to a rocky start and was down 4-3 at the end of the first period. Matt got on track in the second period and nearly pinned his opponent. By the third period, Shields had worn out his adversary and picked up seven points for a 15-5 win.

Parsippany's Mike Codella came fairly close to upsetting Shields in the semifinals, but the Devil grappler overcame a 7-1 deficit in the third period, by rallying for an 8-8 regulation tie.

Shields explained his third period strategy, "I tried for a Peterson, which I knew I could turn into a five-point move (reversal and back points). After I got called for locking hands, I put him on his back for two more with a cradle with about 16 seconds left." In the second overtime period, Matt packed Codella, again employing a cradle to turn him over.

Matt won by a fall at 1:55 in the final against second seeded Tim Salinaro of Roselle Park. Salinaro was Shields' seventh pin victim in his last eight matches.

For the State Tournament, Matt is seeded fifth. His chief competition will come from Madison Central's two-time state champ Kevin Jacoutot and John Parr of Passaic Valley, state runnerup a year ago.

Grade 5 PAL Has 6-4 Record

The Grade 5 PAL has had a busy schedule in recent weeks and their record now stands at 6 wins and 4 losses. There is one more regular season game and then the team will see action in tournaments in Cranford and Wayne.

Wayne 38
Westfield 26
Westfield traveled to Wayne with only 7 players and put up a valiant effort. They started the game with 2 starters missing and when some questionable officiating put 2 other starters on the bench it was an uphill struggle.

Westfield 48
Holy Spirit 45
Westfield put on their strongest offensive display of the year as Ted Hobbie 12 points, Lee Krasner 9., Jeff Kopelman 8., John Niedzwiecki 8., and Greg Johnson 4. led the way. Also scoring were John Pushko, Daryl Robinson, Sean Lucas and Lonnie Friedman.

Holy Trinity 30
Westfield 29
Westfield lost a heart breaker after jumping out to an early 12 to 4 lead. Even though Holy Trinity was using a couple of 6th graders Westfield gave them everything they could handle. Tom Cassidy played one of his best all around games here.

Immaculate Heart 39
Westfield 36
After trailing most of the game Westfield took a brief lead early in the fourth quarter but couldn't hold on. Immaculate Heart's C. Perillo had given the 5th graders problems in the first half but John Niedzwiecki put the clamps on in the second half enabling Westfield to come fighting back. The scoring was led by Daryl Robinson who played one of his best games of the season, and Lee Krasner.

Adult troop and family trail treks begin at the Watchung Stable, Glenside Ave., Summit on Sunday, March 21. Registration is recommended only for the troop program.

Westfield 29
Immaculate Heart 19

Bolstered by the rebounding of Ted Hobbie who had missed the first game Westfield won the return engagement. Scoring were Hobbie, Lee Krasner, Daryl Robinson, Jeff Kopelman, Lonnie Friedman and John Niedzwiecki. The key to this victory was defense and this hard-nosed effort was led by Greg Johnson and Tom Cassidy.

Wayne 36
Westfield 26
Westfield would like to think of this encounter as two games - Wayne won the first half and Westfield the second half. Westfield jumped out to a 4 to 0 lead in the first minute and then unbelievably scored 1 pt. the rest of the first half and left themselves with a 21 to 5 deficit. However the 5th graders refused to let themselves be embarrassed and came fighting back to trail 32 to 26 with a minute to go and then ran out of time. It should be noted that the Westfield players had just come from their recreation league championship games and seemed to have left a lot of their energy at the other gym.

Lee Krasner led the scoring with 9 points, and the other players who fought to end were Ted Hobbie, Jeff Kopelman, John Niedzwiecki, Greg Johnson, Tom Cassidy, Charles Larosa, John Pushko, Sean Lucas and Lonnie Friedman.

Adults, with and without riding experience, are welcome to join this special Sunday group ride. The one-hour tour leaves at 1 p.m. and features a leisurely jaunt in the riding rings or over bridge trails.

At 2 p.m. each Sunday, the Watchung Stable, a Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility, hosts Family Trail Treks. Families will explore the Watchung

8th Grade PAL Splits Games

The eighth grade PAL team completed another successful week with a tough 48-45 loss to Wayne followed by a 62-48 win over New Providence.

On Tuesday Wayne traveled to Westfield. As has been the case in the previous game, this game was also tightly contested throughout. The offense was led by Brian Gillen - 12 points, Scott Blackman and Mike Walsh - 10 points, Charles Karustus - 5 points and Brian Morris - 4 points. The Westfield team is looking forward to the Wayne tournament on March 23 in hopes of getting a return match.

On Wednesday Westfield traveled to New Providence and came away with a 62-48 win. This game was highlighted by rough play and numerous fouls. Westfield broke open a tight game with a strong fourth quarter, outscoring New Providence 19-10. The offense was led by Scott Blackman with 21 points, Mike Walsh and Jay Juelis 10 points each, Brian Gillen 4 points, Pat Dineen 3 points and Bill Jeremiah with 2 points. The rebounding and strong defense which turned the game in the fourth quarter was led by Jay Juelis and Mike Walsh.

Tennis "Treat" Well Attended

More than 50 participants took part in the free tennis day offered by the Westfield Tennis Association for its members and their guests at the Plaza Racquet Club under the direction of Arthur Carrington. Carrington his staff kept everyone involved for three hours with exercises, drills, strategy and play. Although members were free to rest and have refreshments the majority exhibited stamina by staying on the courts taking advantage of the instruction. The group warmed up first with a series of exercises and then separated into groups according to ability. Instruction followed on strokes - preparation and execution - ball placement and strategy for doubles play. Carrington and Alex Shipman demonstrated on proper grip, follow-through and placement of ball during play. A social hour followed and members had the opportunity to renew their memberships and sign up for the town ladders. The W.T.A. has planned a Round Robin for Sunday March 21 from 3 to 5 p.m., at the Plaza Racquet Club. Anyone interested in playing in it is asked to call Audrey Conrad.

Devils #3 in State Swim Championships

By Ted Ritter

The Westfield High School boys' swimming team placed second in Division A and fourth overall in the State Swimming Championships Saturday, behind St. Josephs, Ridge, and Moorestown, missing third place by only five points.

Junior Chris Nolan led Westfield taking third in the 100 back and lowering his own record by six tenths to 55.1. Nolan also took 8th in the 50 free with an impressive 22.4. The 200 medley relay consisting of Nolan (back), senior Steve Ribicky (breast), senior co-captain James Morgan (fly), and senior co-captain Ted Ritter (free) took fifth place clocking at 1:42.66. Sophomore Jack Ribicky placed twelfth in the 500 free with 5:02.6 and also led off the 400 free relay with sophomore Alan Schmidt, Morgan and Ritter, which placed ninth touching at 3:24.4. Morgan also swam the 100 fly and took eighth with an impressive 54.3.

Divers Matt Frawley, Bruce McLean and Bruce Conover took fourth, tenth and 13th respectively, gaining valuable points.

Following Westfield's strong performance Coach Perry Coultas commented, "The boys did an outstanding job today and I am very pleased. It was a real team effort."

Kentucky, Maryland, UCLA, N.C. Grade 4 Cage Winners

Fourth grade basketball results this week are:
Kentucky 17
Rutgers 12

Kentucky won a hard fought battle against a fine Rutgers team. Kentucky scoring: Chris Ward 8, Jason Meyer 7, and Matt Ahern 2. Fine offense and tough defense were turned in by Susan Daily, Jon Meyer, Jason Kuniczy, Andy Kern and Scott Paris.

Erik Houton, Mark McCaffrey, Robert Weinstein and Brian Mueller led the scoring for Rutgers. T.J. DeCrisifaro and Marlin Rappa rebounded well.

Maryland 19
Indiana 10
Once again Maryland's drive and determination were evident as they beat Indiana. Leading the scoring were Rebecca Krohn 6, Ryan Gardner 6, and Ryan Manville 4. Michael Kelly kept the pace steady plus scoring 2 points. Carolyn Sherman and David Greenberg played strong defense.

Indiana showed great team defense and speed. Michael McIntyre and Jay Koslowsky each scored 4 points and Mathew Taylor added 2. Joe Tinervin dominated the rebounding and Adam Pizzi, Mitchel Gouss and David Alan Crout displayed consistent hard defense.

UCLA 14
Virginia 17
In a closely fought game Virginia edged UCLA to gain a hard earned spot for the championship. Virginia never lost the lead. Tough defense was shown by Scott Coren, Josh Kleinar, Brian Schackman, David Shapiro and Steve Price led the scoring with 8 and 4 points. Jon Davidson added 3 and Brian Schackman had 2 points. Kim Carauana and Jimmy Waterhouse helped Virginia under the boards.

UCLA played a great game but couldn't come out on top. The team was led by Raju Vernagapal 4 points. The balance of the scoring was contributed by Mark Hardy, Terry Quinn, Jim Murphy, Jennifer DeRose and Jogn Pugliese all getting 2. DeRose's shot was from 30 feet out. Great defense was shown by Maite Quinn and David Weinstein.

North Carolina 15
Notre Dame 9

Jeff Skolnick scored on a break away and led North Carolina. Ron Shovlin led all scorers with 7. Jon Fahey has 4 and Brian Egan has 2. Ian Rhodes, Kim McCowam, Mike Price helped on defense.

In an aggressively played defensive game Notre Dame had its second defeat of the season. Leading the way one the defensive side were Marci Bartlett and Ben Beyerlein, Bruce Ricker and Ken Goski. Matt Shea and Lance Partelow again did strong work off the boards. Josh Feinberg and Mark Bartlett had fine games.

The first annual coaches game was held on March 6 pitting former all-Americans against each other. The "dream game," as it was referred to prior to the opening, was anything but. The leading scorer for both teams was "Trigger" Tinervin, unable to get off his feet turned to a push shot. Geoffrey "hot dog" titsworth led both teams up and down the court. This former "star" from the big east won best dressed award.

Big Wayne Holten, every coaches dream was dominate from 20 feet out. Waging an absolute under the boards were "wild" Bill Folger and "gentleman" Jim Sherman. Showing the same quickness as his son Terry was Frank Quinn, a constant threat on defense. Adding their experience and professional skills were Mr. Meyer, Mr. Coren, Mr. Davidson and Mr. Gouss. Upon conclusion of the game, one could hear some 4th graders remarking, "it's a good thing, Mr. Handley can still teach the game of basketball!"

Mermaids Seek Title Tomorrow

By Karen Bellew

The Westfield High School girls' swim team will seek its third straight Group IV State title tomorrow at Lawrenceville.

Coach Marilyn Diamond sees Cherry Hill East, Morristown and Vineland as Westfield's toughest competition. In their dual meet against Cherry Hill, the girls were defeated 94-78. However, Mrs. Diamond commented, "We have as strong a squad as does Cherry Hill."

Leading the team in its quest for the state crown will be the 200 medley relay team of Janney Zonneville, Patty Wysock, Fran Schmidt and Jenny Frawley, which took third place last year and achieved All-American status. Coach Diamond added that the team is again shooting for All-American status this year.

In addition, Zonneville and Kiki Roll will lead the team in both the 200 IM and the 100 breast, Scott in the 100 and 200 free and Frawley in the 50 free. Last year Zonneville placed fourth in the breast and fifth in the IM.

Schmidt and Debbie Zimmer will lead the mermaids in the 100 fly, while Wysock and Cory May are Westfield's hopefuls in the 100 back. Last year Schmidt finished sixth in the fly.

Four of the following:

Scott, Frawley, Schmidt, Zimmer and Frawley will compete in the 400 relay, an event Westfield placed third in last year.

The team is also looking forward to receiving seasonal best times from Cathy and Jenny Horner in the 100 breast and Amy Avis and Zimmer in the 50 free.

Avis, Stacey McCall and Cathy Smith are Westfield's hopefuls in the diving event.

Tri-captain Kiki Roll concluded, "The team always comes together at States and everyone does well. I think we'll give Cherry Hill a tough meet and we're ready to make it three in a row."

PAL Sevens Split Games

The Westfield Seventh Grade PAL split its four games this week:

Springfield 46 Westfield 42
In a very closely contested game, the Westfield Seventh Grade PAL lost to a determined Springfield team by the score of 46 to 42. Westfield again got off to a slow start falling behind at the end of the first quarter by the score of 11-6. Only Neil Horne with 2 baskets and Bob Gladden, two more plus a free throw by Horne, a basket by Bob Brown and 3 baskets and a free throw by Chris Freer for a total of 16 points in the second quarter brought Westfield to a 22-22 tie at the half.

However, Springfield's consistency paid off when Westfield's shooting again turned cool and Gladden and Horne matched their first period output and only David Lavender adding a free throw to put Westfield down at the end of the third quarter by the score of 34-29. In the final period Westfield outscored Springfield 13-12 with Gladden hitting for 4 of his 10 points, Horne getting 5 of his game high 18 points, Freer connecting for 2 of his 9 points and Clint Factor scoring his only basket during the game. Despite the loss, Kevin Stock, Glen McSweeney, Frank Quinn, David Lavender, Bob Brown and Clint Factor all played extremely well and

Westfield 68 Berkeley Heights 24
The Westfield Seventh Grade PAL found the range once again scoring a tremendous 68-24 victory over Berkeley Heights. Led by the fine play of Kevin Stock setting up the plays, Westfield took control early in the first quarter by the score of 14-5 and were never seriously challenged thereafter. Chris Freer led the scoring with 6 baskets and 2 free throws for 14 points. Bob Gladden and Todd Graff each contributed 5 baskets and a free throw for 11 points, while Clint Factor had 5 baskets for 10 points. David Lavender with 3 field goals scored 6 points while Bob Gladden and Bob Brown each scored 2 baskets and a free throw for 5 points. Ron Tate's 2 field goals for 4 points and Glen McSweeney's basket for two points closed out the scoring.

Westfield 77 New Providence 47
Westfield's Seventh Grade PAL continued their high scoring attack for the second game in a row defeating New Providence by the score of 77-47. The game started off very evenly with New Providence in the lead by the score of 17-16. Westfield took command in the second period and pulled away to a 34-27 halftime lead.

In the second half, Westfield dominated play outscoring New Providence 43-20. Todd Graff led the Westfield scoring with 8 baskets for 16 points, followed by Neil Horne with 6 field goals and 3 free throws for 15 points. David Lavender was also in double figures with five baskets for 10 points. Bob Gladden, Kevin Stock and Bob Brown each contributed 4 baskets for 8 points. Kenny Lane, Ron Tate and Frank Quinn each had two baskets for 4 points so that every Westfield player broke into the scoring column.

Wayne 44 Westfield 43
In a game marred by some home court officiating at Wayne, the Westfield Seventh Grade PAL managed to have the game stolen from them and were defeated by the Wayne PAL by the score of 44-43 in the last 13 seconds. Again Westfield managed to start off very slowly garnering only 2 baskets by Todd Graf in the first quarter to be down at the end of the first period by the score of 9-4. Wayne again outscored Westfield in the second period to lead at half-time by the score of 22-14.

In the second period, Bob Gladden hit for 2 baskets and Chris Freer had a basket and a free throw for 3 points. Brad Shapiro returning to the wars after his broken arm hit on his first shot for 2 points and Bob Brown had a free throw to round out the scoring in the first half. The fine defensive play of Kevin Stock, David Lavender, Clint Factor, Glen McSweeney and Kenny Lane kept Westfield in the game and prevented Wayne from running away with the game.

Westfield caught on fire in the third period with a great team effort to pull ahead of Wayne by the score of 32-31 at the end of the third period. Chris Freer hit for 2 baskets for 4 points, Neil Horne had a basket and a free throw for 3 points, and Bob Gladden and Brad Shapiro each contributed a field goal for 2 points.

Westfield continued to pour on the attack going into the lead by four points but the questionable calls kept Wayne in the game and permitted them to score points at the end while denying the ball to Westfield. The scoring in the final period was led by Bob Gladden with 2 baskets and Neil Horne with a basket and 2 free throws, before he fouled out, for 4 points each. Todd Graf had a basket for 2 points and Kevin Stock had a free throw for 1 point to complete the scoring.
