McCracken Resigns As Councilman

First Ward Councilman C. Chesney McCracken today announced his resignation from Town Council effective immediately.

In a letter to Ronald Frigerio, Westfield Town Republican Committee Chairman, McCracken explained that he has accepted a job with The First National Bank of Boston and, while his family will not be moving from Westfield until June, he will not be able to give the citizens of the first ward and Westfield the full-time representation they deserve.

"As a 23 year resident," McCracken said, "I have a deep affection for Westfield and its people. They have been good to me and to my family, and we will miss them in many, many ways. I consider it a privilege to have served with Mayor Chin and my fellow councilpersons, but depart with the good feeling that the Town is being well served by the Council, Administrator Jack Malloy and loyal town employees too numerous to mention. Sally and I look forward to the future but it will never be quite the same."

McCracken was first elected to Council from the First Ward in 1979. During his first term he served as chairman of the finance committee and as a member of the laws and rules and license committees. He also was the Council liaison to the Recreation Commission. Re-elected in 1981, McCracken is presently serving as chairman of the finance committee and as a member of the laws and rules, public works and license committees.

Pre-Hearing Dates Set In School Staffers' Disputes

The Westfield Board of Education has been notified that two prehearing conferences for attorneys in the cases of two employees have been set by the New Jersey Office of Administrative Law in Newark. One of these involves the controversial suspension of Stanley Ziobro, Roosevelt math teacher.

The first prehearing conference, in the case of a custodian, is set for April 12 in the administrative law court of Administrative Law Judge Ward R. Young.

The second prehearing conference, in the case of Ziobro, a tenured teacher, is set for April 16 in the administrative law court of Administrative Law Judge Robert P. Glickman.

To date, no prehearing conference has been scheduled in the case of suspension of a tenured business office employee.

Controversies beginning in the conference room prior to its public session and ending with an abrupt call for adjournment following a later private session to discuss litigation concerning video game licensing set the tone for a three-hour session of the Town Council Tuesday night. Discussion by the public, however, was minimal, and centered on concerns about improvements for Gumbert Park, where preliminary work is in progress. A $300,815 contract was awarded to Big Top Contractors Inc. at the meeting.

Approval of the bid came after residents of the area expressed their fear that a natural buffer was being destroyed by removal of trees and council approved some last-minute changes in design discussed a public works committee the previous evening. Residents were also assured that no "wholesale" destruction of trees would take place, but were warned by Town Engineer Ed Gottko that some additional trees might have to be removed as the redesign, drainage and other improvements progress.

The change in park plans will eliminate a previously designated handball court; instead resodding of Gumbert Field #1 will be scheduled for the fall and $14,000 of additional 12 to 18 ft. trees — poplar, evergreens and other varieties — will be planted to enhance screening. Amended plans appeared to meet with neighbors' approval.

Councilman Alan Gutterman abstained on the bid. Gutterman also objected — and voted no — on introduction to an ordinance amending the land use law, claiming that stipulations concerning conditional use of properties for residences for "more than six and less than 16" developmentally disabled and mentally ill persons or victims of domestic violence are "discriminatory" and "excessive."

The amendment establishes density in town (limited to 50 or .05 percent of the population) of the number of these persons permitted, established restrictions on size of dwelling and lot, fencing, etc.

Group homes for six or fewer disabled, permitted by State mandate in any residential area, are not restricted by the ordinance, which must gain Planning Board approval prior to public hearing and final action slated for the Apr. 13 meeting of council.

The same ordinance also amends standards for screening of parking areas abutting residential properties and bans the sale of food, other than that provided in vending machines, by service stations or garages.

Councilman John Brady also asked council to consider a substitute chemical spraying program designed to attack infestations of gypsy moths and planned for later this spring in specific areas of town.

First Ward Councilman Brady also reportedly was vehemently opposed to any action on a request for licenses for video games at the Prospect St. The issue has been in litigation and a possible agreement reportedly was under discussion during the council's late-hour private session.

Upon reconvening in public, however, Gutterman promptly called for an adjournment which won votes of six of the eight members present.

Smoother sailing greeted introduction of another ordinance relating to operations of the Recreation Commission. If given final approval April 13, the bill will establish a trust fund for income from the sale of Noel Taylor's books on Brightwood Park, a $1 an

A Night of Debate For the Town Council

RR Station Improvements To Begin Here Soon

Upgrading of the Westfield railroad station is expected to begin shortly, according to Jerome C. Premo, executive director of the NJ Transit.

Renovations began Monday at the Somerville station and are planned at seven other rail stations on the Raritan Valley Line.

Work scheduled at the Westfield station include construction of low-level platforms, repairs to stairways and to the north station building, installation of a new drainage system and lighting improvements.

Improvement work on the eight stations is expected to be completed by the end of the summer.

Della Pello Construction Company of Union is performing the safety and access improvements at the stations at a cost of $581,557. Lighting and electrical improvements are being carried out by Calasanti Electric Service of East Hanover costing $87,150.

In 1980, the federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) awarded NJ Transit a grant of $77,866,000 for the upgrading of the Raritan Valley Line which runs from Raritan to Newark and carries approximately 14,000 passengers each weekday. The grant was divided into three primary parts: The purchase of locomotives, the purchase of push-pull coaches, and rail station improvements.

The initial allocation of funds was used to purchase ten locomotives and 57 push-pull coaches. The locomotives, built by the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors, have already been delivered. The contract for the coaches was awarded to Bombardier Ltd., of Canada and delivery of this equipment will begin next month with all of the coaches to be in service by the end of the summer.

UMTA is providing 80% of the Raritan Valley Line upgrading, with 20% of the money coming from the 1979 Transportation Bond Referendum.

- conflicting nature and hours of employment

The annual school election will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, April 6. On the ballot is a school budget for 1982-83 and four candidates for three full-term seats on the Board of Education.

Bailey: Number 1 Issue Is Quality of Education

Carl Bailey, candidate for a three year term on the Westfield Board of Education, addressed a key educational issue at a recent campaign party. Bailey stated that he has been listening to the Westfield community for several months, "and one issue keeps surfacing. Parents keep asking the same questions. 'Do we have the best teachers and are we getting the most from them? Once teachers gain tenure, do they continue to produce? How do we get the NJEA and WEA to help answer these questions?'"

Bailey believes these questions reflect a basic concern for quality education within the community, and show the frustrations many parents feel with a large and diverse school system. The candidates responded, "I have been a member of the Board of Education for only a short time. While I am not yet familiar with the union contracts or the conditions under which teachers work, as a board member, I will work to establish a plan to review all of these concerns in an organized, planned manner.

"On an entry level, we have an obligation to hire the best teachers we can find," Bailey said. He noted that parents have suggested advertising for teachers in major regional newspapers in the Northeast, as one method of attracting quality teachers. "But after hiring good teachers," Bailey said, "we have to motivate them throughout their professional careers to challenge our children and produce the best educational product they possibly can."

Bailey believes strongly in effective teacher in-service training. He stated, "The dynamics of change

Gorsky Advocates Firm Decisions to Public Concerns

Stanley Gorsky, candidate seeking election to the Westfield Board of Education, continued his campaign this week by appearing at many "Meet the Candidate" affairs sponsored by friends and supporters, as well as informal meetings with school staff and former board members.

"As I have met with various segments of the community this week," the candidate said, "I have encountered genuine interest and support for my candididacy, which I deeply appreciate.

"The audiences expressed diverse concerns and asked many different questions. Areas of concern most frequently discussed were utilization of vacant facilities, reorganization of instruction (K-12), and business office efficiency," Gorsky stated.

"These are long-outstanding issues which deserve firm resolutions. In my opinion, in the next three years, the new board

Home Safety, Security Show At High School This Saturday

Ring alarm systems, free blood pressure screening, and a "jaws of life" demonstration are only some of the attractions of Saturday's Westfield Home Safety and Security Show at Westfield High School.

"The show is for residents of all ages," said Det. Sgt. Robert Kenny.

"It's an opportunity to learn about new concepts in home safety and residential and commercial security."

Organized and sponsored by local agencies, the Home Safety and Security Show answers a growing awareness of the importance of safety and security measures for families and businesses.

Nearly 20 exhibitors will provide a wide range of security devices for visitors' tests and comparison: burglar alarms, lock devices, safes, automatic lighting controls and smoke detectors.

Members of the Union County Prosecutor's Office Arson Investigation Unit will explain arson awareness and new arson detection techniques.

Sponsors' exhibits cover many aspects of safety and security. The P.B.A. will display police equipment and narcotics paraphernalia. Working with the Neighborhood Watch Program, members will explain the program and promote bicycle safety. Rescue Squad volunteers will demonstrate emergency first aid, including the obstructed airways maneuver to relieve choking. The Fire Department exhibit includes a smoke detector movie and fire prevention tips. Edwin Glassman, investigator for the Union County Prosecutor's Office, will present a rape and self-defense program at 1:30 p.m.

Outdoor exhibits include a Rescue Squad ambulance and the Fire Department snorkel. As a finale, Rescue Squad and England: "Plan for Tomorrow's Success Today"

"It was good enough for my father; it's good enough for me." Just consider where we'd be today if the 'man wasn't meant to fly' argument had won out," stated James C. England, candidate for the Board of Education, today.

"I am happy to say, such thinking is in the minority here in Westfield, especially where educational matters are concerned. People who live in Westfield have traditionally shown interest in, and involvement with, our school system, and have supported our school budgets because of a strong belief in the importance of planning ahead for educational excellence."

England continued, "This past week, the Westfield Parent-Teacher Council sent home its P-T Comments and I was touched by the wisdom and relevancy of its message when it stated, 'So far, Westfield has supported "educational" school budgets. If parents don't continue to support a budget that allows continual educational upgrading, Westfield probably won't have such a budget. If educational upgrading is not continuous, the quality of education does not remain the same, it declines. It loses the relevancy and flexibility to respond to the students current needs.'"

England believes the current needs of the educational system must be prepared to meet the needs of the future. "The present Board of Education is doing just that.

"We support the continuance of staff for our many special needs programs. At the same time,

Facility Back To Drawing Board

The Board of Education unanimously voted Tuesday night to reject all bids received for construction of the maintenance facility at 302 Elm St. Recommendations of the operations and facilities committee will be forwarded to the architect for redesign and revamping of plans and specifications along with a request to have the project rebid with all possible speed.

Speaking for the committee, William Vincentsen said that it was hoped that plans could be ready for bid within six to eight weeks and possibly sooner.

The board voted seven to two to show their intent to go ahead with the facility and to augment the funds of the original appropriation of $106,000 if necessary. Leon Senus and James England voted against the proposal.

A policy regarding free use of school facilities for parent-teacher groups was tabled and will go to the policy review committee to ensure proper wording. Board members agree that such groups should be able to use the facilities at no charge unless fees are incurred by the board. The policy is scheduled to be voted upon Tuesday night at a special meeting set for 8 p.m. in the board room. This will be the final public meeting of the 1981-82 board.

Mayor Proclaims Community Center Week

Citing the values of the Westfield Community Center, Mayor Allen Chin has declared this week as one of the commemoration for the center located at 558 West Broad St.

"The Westfield Community Center Association is a part of an international movement, dedicated to working with people to improve their circumstances," Mayor Chin said in his proclamation.

"The Westfield Community Center has been in continuous existence since 1936, serving its neighbors with skills and the services of dedicated workers; and the values of its services cannot be measured in dollars and cents or be measured statistically, but by the constant demand for new and better service."

The Westfield Community Center has scheduled a 45th Anniversary Dinner honoring Dr. Hubert G. Humphrey, Dr. George H. Jones, Mrs. Margaret Morgan, W. Hollis Plinton, Ruth Young, Edward J. Smith, and neighbors in order to dramatize the importance of a better neighborhood, and Chin acknowledged "that a better neighborhood makes better cities, better counties, and a better state, and it is proper and fitting that the public be aware of the vital contributions of the Westfield Community Center to the social, economic, and cultural development of New Jersey.

"Our own Westfield Community Center is devotedly doing so much for our Town and its youth and adults," the Mayor added, inviting citizens to visit the Community Center at 558 West Broad St. and "support the Center's efforts."

Mayor Allen Chin presents Gary McVicker, president of the Westfield Community Center Association, with proclamation for the 45th Anniversary of the Center as Esther Simon, dinner chairman, looks on. A dinner will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at L'Affaire to honor Dr. Hubert G. Humphrey, W. Hollis Plinton, Dr. George H. Jones, Margaret Morgan, Ruth Young and Edward J. Smith. RCAC Endorses Jeff Bell

The candidacy of Jeff Bell for Senator was unanimously endorsed Thursday night by the Republican Conservative Action Club of Union County following his address to members and guests at an open meeting held at the Woman's Club of Westfield.

According to Vice President Steve Sipe of Union, the county group is backing Jeff Bell because of his "firm commitment to President Reagan's programs: a strong national defense, further reductions in federal spending, retention of last year's tax cuts and the New Federalism of returning programs to the states."

At the RCAC meetings, Bell declared that one element is still lacking to make Reaganomics a success, namely reduction of interest rates. "These are now being dictatorially manipulated by Paul Volcker, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who was appointed to his four-year term by President Jimmy Carter in October, 1979," Bell said. In a recession, Bell pointed out, "interest rates traditionally decline, but under Volcker they have been artificially sustained by the Fed. His policy of 'cooling the economy' with high interest rates has resulted in the 'back-to-back recessions of 1980 and 1981 — the first time in U.S. history that they have occurred in successive years. In 1980 there were no Reagan tax cuts, no Reagan budget pairing, no Reagan dedication to a strong defense. The factor, common both years was high interest rates.

"As long as interest rates are in the 20% area, and a man can get a 17% return on his investment in a money market fund, why should he risk his capital in a new plant?" Bell asked. Bell urged President Reagan to persuade Volcker to cut the discount rate of the Fed, since waiting for Volcker's term to expire in 17 months, "could result in economic disaster. If Volcker refuses to cooperate, he should resign."

The meeting was chaired by President Paul M. Brislin of Elizabeth.

High School Students Brighten Sundays of Elderly People

By Pam Meiselman WHB News Service

Each Sunday, three to five high school teens drive to Elizabeth for a very special purpose; offering their time and company to elderly people who have no one to talk to or be with otherwise.

The program, started by the Jewish Family Services in Elizabeth, involves Westfield students who belong to the Temple Emanuel Youth Group and donate a few hours to brighten up an elderly person's life. According to

Martin Gubar '84, the coordinator of the group, "Just to see their faces light up when we see them is worth it."

The group, at first, didn't know quite what to expect. They all felt that they shouldn't pity these people because they really weren't senile, they were just lonely, needing company. Jeff Weill '83, another group member, reflected, "Now we look forward to seeing each other every Sunday."

The group's advisor, Arnie Gluck, was prompted to get involved in this program because of Reagan's budget cuts on elderly support. "Just doing this little good deed, is our small way of compensating for their loss of aid."

When the group goes to the senior citizen's homes, the topic of conversation primarily revolves around his or her past. One man, in particular, was an aristocratic lawyer and judge, as well as a talented writer, in Hungary before Hitler. Since then he has gone through a concentration camp and has lost all of his possessions and family and now lives in a small apartment with no relatives. Martin remarked, "Each Sunday he looks out of the window waiting for us to come. On our last visit to him, it was his 85 birthday and we made a little celebration. When we gave him a piece of cake with a candle, he began to weep. It was really touching and I realized how much our little visit means to him."

The group is all in agreement at the ridiculous stereotype of the elderly being incompetent and useless. One participant commented, "These people might be slower physically, but mentally they are sound and are aware, as anyone younger."

Arnie Gluck concluded, "Our goal is to get more teens involved in this type of program and also to reach more elderly. We are in desperate need of drivers, as well. Just a small bit of time can change these people's lives from being unhappy and lonely." Anyone interested in participating may contact Arnie Gluck at Temple Emanuel in Westfield.

COOKY'S and the ECONOMY. We were astounded recently to hear from a not-yet-famous economist that he has established a direct correlation between our cookies and the economy... whenever the economic situation changes, people eat our cookies! For example, a few weeks ago the prime rate started to decline. We couldn't make our chocolate chunk cookies fast enough. Last week the price of gold plunged, and we were inundated with orders for pecan chocolate chunk cookies. Several days ago, the Dow Jones average shot way up, and the walnut chocolate chunk cookies were being grabbed as soon as they came out of the conveyor oven. When pork bellies advanced recently, everyone pigged out on our oatmeal raisin cookies. Our economist friend went on to explain that our cookies offer stability and old fashioned taste in an uncertain world. In difficult times, people find solace and comfort in Cooky's cookies. And no wonder... our cookies are made with the finest Tabler chocolate, unbleached flour, raw sugar, pure vanilla and tender loving care. At Cooky's, 107 East Broad Street in Westfield, you can escape the stress and strain of today's hectic economy. Fresh, delicious cookies are something you can believe in. Ken and David Welch Owners. P.S. - A tin full of Cooky's cookies makes an outstanding gift for anyone who needs to worry less and needs to enjoy the small pleasures of life more.

P-T Council Supports School Budget Proposal

"Whether or not we would like it to be so, the value of a child's high school diploma is more and more dependent upon money — upon the school budget." Thus begins the public statement issued by Westfield Parent-Teacher Council in support of the school budget which will appear on the April 6 ballot. P-T Council sent their message of support to each Westfield family with children in the school system after taking a unanimous vote to support the proposed budget at council's March meeting.

Members of Council acknowledged that the budget has been criticized for going to the State "caps" level and that the $16 million + figure which will go to the voters for approval "is large enough to cause consternation among property owners who received reevaluation assessments this year." However, Council bases their support "on the strong educational direction of the budget items" and on their satisfaction that "the proposed spending was thoroughly researched before being included in the budget." Citing in particular those programs which have proven their effectiveness like the Project '79 curriculum for underachievers and the summer curriculum writing program by Westfield teachers, Council adduces "a direct relationship between the money to staff such programs and the quality of education Westfield has been able to offer."

Two of the major expenses in the 1982-83 budget are the expanded computer instruction program and the updating of the high school science labs, which appears on the ballot as a separate question. Council has followed the investigations and debate on Westfield's computer capabilities for the last two years and it believes the current plan on which these budget figures are based to be "well-researched and to be well-suited to Westfield's current and projected needs." (The report on computer usage in the district was compiled by a joint citizen-staff committee and is available in each school office.)

The council's message to parents urges support of these budget items by stating, "The difference between one district and another is largely determined by how the district spends those funds in the budget over which it has some discretion if, in fact, the town passes a budget which includes such funds at all. If educational upgrading is not continuous, the quality of education does not remain the same, it declines. It loses the relevancy and flexibility to respond to the student's current needs."

Friends to Sponsor Historical Program

The Friends of the Library will present the Westfield Historical Society in a performance of its "Westfield Comes of Age" on Sunday, April 4, at 3 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building. The special audio visual presentation is narrated by six society members depicting Westfielders contemporary to the 1890's.

Paul Houck moderates in the role of Senator Arthur N. Pierson, longtime civic leader. Houghton Birdsall is Presbyterian pastor Newton Caldwell. Peggy Boss depicts Miss Emma Bridges, who played a prominent role in the founding of several Westfield institutions. Jim Clark has the role of John Henry Frazee, well known Westfield mason and descendant of pioneers. Pam Ferguson is Mrs. Theodore Harvey, who came to Westfield in the 1890's as the bride of one of Westfield's first dentists. Erskine (Bud) Mayo depicts the "olde towne" historian, Robert V. Hoffman.

This free program, sponsored by the Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library, is open to the public. Mrs. Glenn C. Picou is program chairman for the Friends.

Katie is part of a pre-K program for children with special needs which is in its sixth year with Sandy Neilson and Kathi Wildstein teaching. Scouts' Annual Fair Saturday at Edison

The 1982 Westfield Annual Girl Scout Fair will be held Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Edison Junior High School gymnasium. This year's theme is to honor the 70th birthday of Girl Scouting.

It has been a tradition in Westfield for the Senior, Cadette, Junior and Brownie Troops to participate in the Girl Scout Fair to share a particular craft that they have been learning throughout the year. Each Girl Scout troop will demonstrate and teach its particular badge requirement to girls from other troops.

As part of a State-wide Girl Scout day of service, Westfield's Girl Scout will participate in two service projects at the fair. The first will benefit the Westfield Welfare Department. A table will be available to collect paper products, household cleaning products, personal hygiene items and laundry needs. These items will be distributed to those on Food Stamps as they are not permitted to purchase these items with the stamps. Examples of items to be collected are paper napkins, toilet and facial tissue, paper towels, diapers, hand soap, dish and laundry detergent.

The other service project is the collection of cancelled stamps with perforations intact. These stamps will be sent to the stamp bank in Norway where the proceeds will benefit Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the world.

Piano Concert

Steven Masi, pianist, will play at the Montclair Art Museum at 3:30 p.m. Sunday for the last concert in the museum's March series. The concerts are open to the public by voluntary contribution.

Troops will sell coffee, tea, bagels and doughnuts and for lunch, hot dogs, pizza, submarines, soft drinks and deserts.

The 1982 Girl Scout Fair coordinator, Patricia J. Derringer and Cathy Lienhard, invite all Girl Scout families and their friends to the fair to participate, have lunch or browse.

For Safety's Sake

Last week we reported on some pretty promising figures on a decrease in the number of home burglaries — and an increase in the rate of recovery of stolen articles.

Even earlier this year we carried an account of a fire which virtually leveled a home on the northside of town — yet the two sleeping occupants were saved because of smoke detectors near their bedroom doors.

Favorable as these statistics are, they could be better. How?

Through education of all of us — homeowners, apartment dwellers, businessmen, school children, everyone.

Members of the police and fire departments, Rescue Squad, Town Council, Chamber of Commerce and the insurance industry will be among those sponsoring a home safety and security show this Saturday at Westfield High School to display the latest safety and security measures we can employ to make us and our homes safer.

Should trouble come our way, we also will learn how best to cope with it.

Last year, more than 1,000 residents took this opportunity to learn about personal and home safety. This year more are expected to either investigate or update their information in this area.

An hour or two at the high school on Saturday could be the most useful family outing of the season.

Union County Debt Decreases

Growth in the gross debt of New Jersey's 21 counties exceeded $100 million during calendar year 1981, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. The net increase in gross debt was $103.7 million, slightly under ten percent, to a total of nearly $1.166 billion. Union County's gross debt, however, decreased.

Gross debt is defined as debt authorized, issued and not issued, and excludes debt of independent county authorities. Some counties have some cash or receivables in reserve at the end of the fiscal year to pay debt service. Such amounts are allowable deductions from the gross debt to arrive at the net debt amount on which legal county borrowing limits are calculated. State law places a limit on a county's general obligation bond indebtedness of two percent of the average of the equalized valuation of real property in the county for the last three preceding years. Camden County has the largest percentage of net debt, 1.53 percent, which means it is nearer to its borrowing limit than any county. Four other counties have net debt percentages over one percent — Cumberland, Burlington, Mercer and Hunterdon.

Seven counties reported total gross debt decreases of $19.2 million in 1981 — Ocean, Monmouth, Union, Sussex, Hudson, Cape May, and Salem. Total debt of the other 14 counties increased $122.9 million. Counties with the largest gross debt at the end of 1981 were Bergen, Middlesex, Essex and Camden. Counties with the smallest gross debt were Salem, Sussex and Warren. Fifty-one percent, over $½ billion, of the county net debt total of nearly $1.069 billion was in serial bonds. Bond anticipation notes totaled $291.3 million, slightly over one-fourth of the net debt. Authorized but unfinanced debt totaled nearly $240 million; thus nearly half of all authorized debt remains for potential future bond financing.

The Taxpayers Association annual tabulation of county debt was from annual county debt statements on file at the State Division of Local Government Services in Trenton.

The association's annual tabulation of county showed that Union County's gross capital debt totaled $53,162,000 at the end of 1981. Compared with 1980 gross debt this was an increase of $1,845,000. This County's net debt was .47 percent at the end of 1981. The legal percentage limit is two percent.

DISAPPROVES OF BUDGET

Editor, Leader;
 I attended the Board of Education meeting on the school budget for the year 1982-83, Tuesday, March 16 at Edison Jr. High.

Much to my surprise, there were few citizens in attendance for the board's voting on the 1982-83 budget.

This budget will definitely affect the increase of taxes for 1982-83. Of course everyone is aware that the property evaluations which will reflect the market value of the assessment on the 1982-83 taxes, as per the survey made in 1981, raise taxes considerably.

The school budget of $20,200,000 was passed by the board with only one dissenting vote. The rest, apparently, felt that it was worthy of presenting to the voters for passage.

I am one who will not vote for its passage. Just noting the decline in enrollments year by year with corresponding $ increases in the budget prompted me to examine it a little more in detail.

First of all, the enrollment has decreased from a high of 6566 pupils in the year 1978-79 to 5325 in 1982-83. This is a decrease of 1270 or 19.2 percent pupils in four years.

Matching this decline with money expended, it reveals the following:

Year	Pupil	Cost per Pupil
1979-80	381	$2185
1980-81	369	2499
1981-82	233	2946
1982-83	287	3322

From the year 1978-79 to 1982-83 there has been an increase of $1612 per pupil or 73.7 percent.

The board stated that the per pupil cost would approximate $2900 per pupil next year. I do not know how they arrive at their figure. However, whatever is taken out should be reflected in the same ratio for all the years that I have shown above. The fact remains, all the money is allocated to the school budgets and it seems logical to assume that in order to arrive at a cost per pupil, the total money should be used.

If the decrease of pupils on a yearly basis is converted into theoretical dollar savings, the following would result.

Year	Pupil	Cost per Pupil	Total Cost
1979-80	381	$2185	$832,485
1980-81	369	2499	922,113
1981-82	233	2946	686,418
1982-83	287	3322	953,414

From the above it shows that the 1982-83 budget is $270,927 more than the 1979-80 budget. This is an increase of 32.5 percent.

Life In The Suburbs By Al Smith

1979-80, 381 pupil decrease, $2499 cost per pupil
 1980-81, 369 pupil decrease, $2946 cost per pupil
 1981-82, 233 pupil decrease, $3322 cost per pupil
 1982-83, 287 pupil decrease, $3797 cost per pupil

No, folks... don't count on anything. The response I got after being switched to four different people in an effort to get an answer was that there is not enough channels capacity. I suggested that possibly the horse race results on Channel 19 could go. I was told that there are many people who are interested in those results. I suggested that maybe they could get that information from all news radio and more.

straight — they are not a utility; and to prove it, it's time to consider cable in non-exclusive terms.
 Bernard J. Shusman
 165 Tudor Oval

How about all those preview channels that seem to be redundant? I think that Channels 20 & 21 could easily be turned into important new basic cable (no additional cost to the viewer) services. Maybe the Westfield Town Council could okay one of the access channels for an additional basic service until the town is ready to program one or all of the channels allegedly available to it for municipal use.

The beauty of cable is that it can offer new and different things. Why have another channel of rerun movies (Turner's channel from Atlanta) when we can get something fresh and different that is first run. At least why not try it?

This has to be the year that every taxpayer who really cares comes out to vote NO on the budget. A no vote will let the board know that the taxpayers want more productivity of all the employees working in and for the Board of Education... the prime target should be in administration as a place to begin. We need the emphasis of teaching placed on basics of English, arithmetic, reading and reading comprehension, not the promises that the efforts will be turned in that direction. Our kids need the dedicated teacher back in the classroom with the board getting a fair eight hours work from each teacher, with balanced concentration on the average student in the classroom rather than placing efforts for a computerized math course for AP students.

The issue, however, is not that simple as I see it. The issue is that the folks at Suburban believe they have a total lock on the cable programming that is available to this town. It's what they want to program. Sure, it's easy to do that. Most folks don't know what's available around the country. So, what they see is what they get, and what they don't know, won't hurt them.

I suggest that a second cable franchise be authorized in this town. Why not? There's plenty of programming available. Different programming. Cultural programming, sports programming, news programming, adult programming. It's like having a choice of newspapers, radio stations, television stations. Why have one cable franchise? There's too much out there to be satisfied with an easy answer that horse race results, news from Reuters, three channels of program guides-in a teletext form, should take up five significant channels of potential first-run programming.

Suburban had an opportunity when it built this system to provide up to 100 channels for programming. It took not-too futuristic planning and desire to do it.

Suburban seems more interested in adding pay-TV programming. (HBO, Showtime, Sports channel). I predict that if culture goes pay they will find channel space for that also.

If Suburban continues to look upon itself as a utility — we is us. We have enough utilities. They certainly try to act that way by billing us a month in advance (Who said they should have 30-day float on the subscriber's money anyway?) Is that part of the ordinance that gives them the right to operate in this town?

Let's go Town Council. Get on the case. Suburban has a franchise, that's all. Insist they deal with the realities of cable today and its future. Set them

CABLE QUESTIONS
 Editor, Leader;
 "We're a utility!" That's how Suburban Cable Literally thinks of itself.

How do I know that? A few weeks ago I called Suburban to try and get some answers to the following:

- 1) When will Suburban Cable begin offering the CBS Cultural channel? (non-pay)
- 2) Are there plans to offer the soon to be programmed "Daytime" woman's service from Hearst/ABC? (non-pay)
- 3) Are there plans to offer the 24 hour Health channel that will be programmed in the next few months? (non-pay)
- 4) Are there plans to offer the 24 hour weather channel (live weather information as opposed to the teletext/audio service now being programmed). When is programming begins in the next few months? (non-pay)
- 5) How about the other new services — whether cultural — entertainment (Bravo and RCTV), adults (Escapade), news (ABC-Westinghouse), etc. (Pay & non-pay)

Every resident wants Board of Education members who are honest, sincere, dedicated and open-minded. It is, however, the obligation of each voter to look beyond the obvious. It is time to ask which candidates are progressive and forward-looking enough to foresee the needs of our children and fulfill these needs now. It is time to ask which candidates can best fulfill the philosophy of "the best members are called upon to make difficult and often long-lasting decisions. I have found that those members who have owned and managed businesses are better equipped to represent us in this process. Stanley owns and operates his own business. I think he has what it takes to participate in Westfield's educational process.

ENDORSES BUDGET

Editor, Leader;
 At the monthly Parent-Teacher Council meeting held on March 4, the Parent-Teacher Board unanimously voted to support the proposed Board of Education budget to be voted on by the public on April 6.

We feel it is a sound and economical budget and will enable Westfield to continue with its excellence in education.

Margherita Brodo

 P-T Council

APPLAUDS SCHOOL BD.

Editor, Leader;
 We wish to applaud the present Westfield Board of Education. We truly believe this is a board composed of intelligent, sensitive people responsive to the educational needs of our children. This responsiveness was demonstrated by their re-evaluation of class size. By reducing the student-teacher ratio from 26 to 1 to 24 to 1, the Board responded to an over-whelming concern of the public. Responsiveness to future needs was evidenced by the board's directive to the administration to study the feasibility of an intermediate school and a four year high school. This is currently being done with the cooperation of staff members.

The board's awareness of our ever-changing society will be evidenced by our children's experiences with computers through a hands-on approach in both elementary and secondary schools starting next fall.

We commend the board's responsiveness to all of our children's needs and will enthusiastically support this year's budget. And finally we thank the members of the Board of Education for performing a thankless job!

ENDORSES INCUMBENTS

Editor, Leader;
 Lack of major controversial issues in this school board campaign gives the voters of Westfield an opportunity to look closely at the candidates and make use of their valuable votes in order to ensure an educational system that can grow and improve as a result of the new Board of Education's wisdom and resultant decisions.

Every resident wants Board of Education members who are honest, sincere, dedicated and open-minded. It is, however, the obligation of each voter to look beyond the obvious. It is time to ask which candidates are progressive and forward-looking enough to foresee the needs of our children and fulfill these needs now. It is time to ask which candidates can best fulfill the philosophy of "the best possible education for each child according to his/her individual needs." It is time to listen carefully to Jim England and Carl Bailey.

During the next few years the structural organization of the schools will be changed. The four-year high school is in the not-too-distant future; and with these major changes will be accompanying changes in curriculum. As a concerned parent, I would feel confident knowing that Jim England and Carl Bailey are part of the Board of Education which will be directly responsible for these major changes which ultimately will effect every student in the system. Both of these candidates are responsive, innovative men. They are truly concerned parents who want the best educational system for our children as well as for their own. Without reservation, I am proud to support Carl and Jim in their bids for seats on the Board of Education.

Gail Cassidy

"NEEDS DIRECTION"

Editor, Leader;
 It is frequently stated that a lax electorate gets what it deserves. Such is the case with the Westfield Board of Education. Low voter turnout and narrow-focus voters have elected the present board.

It consists of at least seven one-issue candidate members of differing "constituencies" who have to date accomplished nothing. Their interests are so individually parochial, their leadership so weak, and management so lacking that neither issues nor options are being addressed.

I recognize that firm leadership no more equates tyranny than vacillation necessitates anarchy. The board needs direction and management — not from the superintendent, but from within. Board-focus members from the community at large with the gumption to make decisions — even the wrong ones on occasion — are needed. Apathetic and narrow-focus board members do disservice to and discourage both the electorate and those willing to represent all the citizens of Westfield.

The record of recent mismanagement and inaction speaks for itself. You can help. Get out and vote. Question the candidates. Listen. Take a friend to the polls. It's our School System and community. It's also our responsibility.

COMMENDS POLICE

Editor, Leader;
 This is an impulse letter, prompted by your Good News editorial of March 18 from a 25-year resident. Crime certainly does worry the citizen who reads the weekly reports in The Leader and notes particularly atrocious offenses such as a family held hostage at gunpoint.

But we have a police force of high competence and dedication, as proven by the notable decreases in various crime statistics (ranging from 12% to 33%). Incidentally, the dollar decrease of stolen property works out to 26.7%. These decreases are impressive, surprisingly good.

Our security force is a Westfield asset of great value. The members thereof that I have known were invariably helpful and courteous and certainly know their business. I thank them one and all for a remarkable 1981 record.

PRAISE FOR PANCAKE-EATERS

Editor, Leader;
 On behalf of the students who will benefit from the scholarships of the Westfield Rotary Student Fund, we wish to thank all of the members of our communities who supported our recent Pancake Day fund raising activity. For the 16th year, we were heartened by the overwhelming support of our friends in both attending and contributing to this affair. FOR DON BAGGER

Editor, Leader;
 Having known Don Bagger all my life, I was pleased to hear that he was willing to offer his many talents to serving on the Board of Education.

Few people can offer the depth of experience — from the Westfield Town Council to Municipal Administrator of Mountaineer and executive responsibilities with the Port Authority — that will prove most valuable to the Board of Education.

Combining this with his lifelong residency in Westfield gives us, the voters of Westfield, the unique opportunity of electing a person who I believe will make an outstanding member of our Board of Education.

Please vote for Don on April 6.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON
by Congressman Matt Rinaldo
12th District, New Jersey

At a time when Congress is seeking to reduce federal spending and borrowing, the Synthetic Fuels Corporation is preparing to extend $15 billion in taxpayer-backed loan guarantees to oil conglomerates, including an OPEC-owned energy company.

If Congress is sincere in its resolve to cut the federal deficit, it should start by diminishing the federal presence in the credit market and by phasing out the Synfuels corporation. It is benefiting the giants of the energy industry and its easy credit policies for projects of questionable economic feasibility will put additional pressure on interest rates.

Synfuels was established in 1980 as a federal entity with authority to ultimately commit $20 billion in government-backed credit. It was authorized by Congress to guarantee loans for synthetic fuel projects and to guarantee considering the vast improvement in the energy picture, it would be unwise to use taxpayers' dollars to back the borrowing activities of these groups. At a time when consumers cannot buy cars, home buyers cannot afford mortgages, and business cannot finance their inventories and make a profit, the government should be looking to reduce its spending and borrowing activities to relieve pressure on interest rates.

Heavy borrowing under the more than 200 federal loan and credit guarantee programs has contributed to the high cost of money. Almost 50 percent of all capital is absorbed for federal and federally assisted lending. These loan activities have increased more than 130 percent over the past four years, raising to more than $600 billion the amount of outstanding federal credit. The figure is expected to jump another $80 billion this year.

Another factor that makes the Synfuels project less attractive now than when it was presented by its originators, is the fact that many profitable private energy companies are leaning too heavily on government subsidies and not enough on their own resources in developing fuels. It is especially troubling that a foreign nation, such as Kuwait, a member of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, is cashing in on the program.

As a member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, I am introducing legislation to phase out the Synthetic Fuels Corporation. The bill would prohibit Synfuels from offering financial assistance to energy corporations after September 30, 1983, and would terminate the corporation as of September 30, 1984. The bill further provides that until Synfuels is shutdown, loan applicants would be required to pay an "energy equity fee" to the corporation before receiving financial assistance for an eligible project. The fee would equal 20 percent of the total federal financial assistance. The receipts from the fees would be deposited in a special account in the U.S. Treasury and made available for block grants to states for low-income home energy assistance and weatherization assistance. If the Synfuels corporation awards $15 billion in assistance, the fees would raise $3 billion to help the poor meet their heating needs.

Special snacks for little boys - Wilson students taste Chinese noodle cookies at Wilson Plus Some program.

"Wilson Plus Some" Program is Concluded

Wilson Plus Some, an after school program in which children participated in activities ranging from chess and tennis playing to jewelry making and cooking, concluded this week. The parents who donated their time to make these classes possible were guests at a coffee at the home of Mrs. Joan Mund.

The annual Wilson School dessert auction took place this week with bidding on such items as antiques, a Casablanca ceiling fan, a down comforter, lunch at Chez Catherine, and multi course French and San Francisco dinners as well as numerous hand made items. Mrs. Mary Lou Strafaci, Marianne Nicoll, Eileen Gavino and Sundae Taylor, were organizers of the event.

The second grade students of Mrs. R. Gagliardi, Ms. Joan Horn and Mrs. Eileen Grigg had a nutritional breakfast cooked by their parents and teachers at the conclusion of a unit on nutritional value in meals. While learning of the value of a good breakfast the students kept breakfast journals of what they ate each day and how they felt at 11 a.m.; they also made clay models of breakfast foods. They studied the four basic food groups and the value of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates in their daily diets.

Along with swim lessons for adults the staff is also offering life-saving and scuba classes. Participants interested in the scuba class are urged to attend a free class, Thursday, April 1 for a full course and fee explanation.

"Night Stalkers" On College Stage

Wolf, an expert on demons and monsters, madness and mayhem, will be guest lecturer in the fourth program of the College's Student Government Association's lecture and entertainment series. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Theatre on the Cranford Campus. Ticket information is available at the SGA office.

LWV Agrees on Teacher Tenure, But Seeks Modification of Law

The Westfield Area League of Women Voters announced the League's position on tenure in education following a year and a half of study which included resource material supplied by the superintendent of schools, school board presidents, local education association presidents, local representatives from the Administrators Association, and the American Federation of Teachers. While information was obtained from many sources, the actual decision making process was limited to League of Women Voters members throughout New Jersey.

The League's viewpoint is that tenure should be retained but that present laws and procedures regulating its administration must be modified. In addition, the league's consensus calls for multi-year contracts rather than tenure for principals and administrators due to the management nature of their jobs.

The League believes that

Cradle Roll At Temple

The Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El held a Purim party in the Temple Nursery School for all Temple families with a child of pre-kindergarten age.

Paula Saitz, the nursery teacher, led the children in purim songs, games, and arts and crafts. This holiday event marked the Religious School's reestablishment of "The Cradle Roll." This additional school department is viewed as an all-important link between the home and the religious school during the early years of the child's life.

68 at Local Workshop On Fetal Alcohol Syndrome

Alcohol Syndrome

Children's Specialized Hospital, in cooperation with the Union County Council on Alcoholism was host to a workshop on the Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, or FAS. The program, which drew 68 nurses and physicians from seven New Jersey counties, was held in the hospital on Wednesday, March 10 from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Featured presenters for the afternoon, Helen Heim, RN, MA, and Dr. Margaret Symonds were introduced by the hospital's education coordinator, Sallie Comey. Mrs. Heim and Dr. Symonds pointed out that the FAS child is one whose mother has used alcohol during the early days and weeks of pregnancy and who has a collection of birth defects ranging from mild to severe, because of maternal drinking. Those symptoms are mental retardation (sometimes manifested as learning disability) smallness of stature, failure to thrive, a small head and some facial and ear deformities. According to the speakers FAS is one of three leading birth defects causing mental retardation; the other two are Down's Syndrome and spinal bifida. In addition, FAS is the only one of the three which is preventable. FAS can be prevented by the mother abstaining from alcohol during pregnancy, especially during the early weeks.

The risk of chemical substances affecting the development of the fetus was covered by Mrs. Heim who talked about the history of teratogens - substances taken by the mother during the early weeks of pregnancy which cause birth defects - and alcohol as a teratogen. Supplementary to Mrs. Heim's presentation was a slide presentation and a film called "The Unborn Crisis" showing development of the human embryo and how and why development may go awry. Mrs. Heim also spoke on the techniques of taking a health history which are necessary to identify the FAS victim.

Dr. Margaret Symonds, medical director of Children's Specialized Hospital, spoke about assessment and management of the child with FAS.

The Union County Council on Alcoholism, Westfield, was the facilitator for the program. Anyone interested in more information on the subject may call the Council located here at 300 North Ave. East.

Regional District Testing Instruction via Television

The Union County Regional High School District No. 1 is conducting a four week pilot program using television as a means of instruction. The goal of the program is to determine whether small groups of students at different sites may profit from instruction through the use of interactive television.

The pilot program is housed at the Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights and deals with a senior calculus class. A classroom of students receiving teacher instruction is in one location and three students from the same class are at another site in the school receiving the same instruction via television.

Because of declining enrollment, some courses offered in the schools do not have sufficient registrants to meet minimum class size requirements and therefore do not operate. With the television studio equipment the Regional system is developing an alternate means of instruction. If two or three students in one building and two or three students in a second building could be scheduled at the same time as a class in a third building which is receiving instruction, all would receive instruction via television. This permits the district to continue instructional opportunities for small groups of students who might otherwise be denied this opportunity.

"Oklahoma!" Involves Efforts Of More than 100

Overseeing the work of this giant task force of students, former students, teachers, parents, and community friends are co-directors/producers Dr. Debora Clifford and Doris Julian. Their able production assistants are students Shannon Kiley, Ute Pasch, and David Swingle, as well as prompter Stephanie Levine.

The production has been choreographed by Jeanne Wilhelms and Wendy Julian, and musical accompaniment will be from the twin pianos of Doris and Gabe Julian.

Yards and yards of calico were tackled willingly by both students and parents to construct the bright pinafors and other costume needs. In a project financially aided by a mini-grant of matching funds from the Mountainside PTA and the Board of Education, students of both sexes sewed costumes under the supervision of Deerfield home economics teacher Suzanne Muller. Costumers included George DeBuhr, Carol Marinelli, Cindy Moser, Julie Terry-Meisner, Shannon Kiley, Stefanie Spivack, Eileen Schon, Mark Zacieracha and Ute Pasch.

The "Oklahoma!" production is also indebted to the Mountainside Music Association, not only for its help with props and sets, but for the assistance given by MMA members. Working on the backdrop were Birgitte Jaffe, Maureen Barisonok, Michael Wood, Cara Vignola, Theresa Graziano, Laura Bass, David Swingle, Michael Crowley, Davvy Bell and Brian Clifford.

Set responsibility was accepted by Brian Clifford, Fred Moebus, Lois Radding, Jerry Kervel, and Jay and Sandy Kelk.

The technical crew includes Steven Burton, Greg Torborg, Shannon Kiley, Ute Pasch, David Swingle, and Myles Carter.

Props have come from Arlene Hedrick, Virginia and Willis Curtiss, and the Sanford family.

Transforming New Jerseyites into Okies, for at least two nights, will be the makeup artists Sue Winans, Bob Seligo, Linda Dietz, Amy and Wendy Julian, Carol Foresman, Arlene Hedrick, Donna Castelo and Peggy Wilson. Peggy Wilson is handling ticket sales, while Bart and Carol Kay Barre and Lynne Stoddard are responsible for publicity and photography.

Students serving as ushers will be Julie Terry-Meisner, Craig Carson, Jamie Downey, Eric Weinstein, Matt Swarts, and Cristy Hornfischer. Special effects have been created through the courtesy of Harry Swift of Round Valley Farm for the loan of a surrey, which was decorated by Elsa Jackson. Cornstalks in winter were given by Ort Farms in Long Valley, and Laurey's bouquet of silk flowers has been created by Christopher's of Mountainside.

The performance begins at 8 p.m. both Friday and Saturday nights.

When the curtain goes up tomorrow night on the Deerfield School production of "Oklahoma!", it will culminate behind-the-scenes efforts involving 29 students and 31 adults, in addition to the 64-member cast.

Poet Recites At High School

By Maria Fleming WHS News Service Charlotte Mandel, a nationally known poet, recently gave a presentation of some of her work at a conference of WHS English teachers.

Among her selections were poems from her latest book "A Disc of Clear Water" and pieces from the book-long poem on which she is currently working.

Charlotte Mandel has published critical essays, short fiction and a book of satirical verse entitled "Mother Goose Tells It Like It Is." In addition to her writing, she teaches at both the Adult School of Montclair and the YM-YWHA of North Jersey. Mandel has conducted writing workshops for children, teens, and adults and given readings of her poetry at several universities, colleges, libraries, community groups and public schools. "I felt comfortable listening to her," said WHS student and Folio staff member Paul Morenburg. "She's really sensitive," added Evelyn Shen, another Folio staff member who attended the conference.

Mandel has received many awards for her work, her most notable was as a winner in the William Carlos Williams Poetry Contest for five successive years.

In addition to giving readings of her poetry, Mandel advised the students and faculty present about how to improve writing skills. She emphasized that keeping a journal of one's thoughts would be the best way to begin the writing process.

Dental Dialogue

TIPS ON TOOTHBRUSHES

Q. My husband insists on keeping the same old worn out toothbrush. Can't this be harmful.

A. Worn and unclean toothbrushes can indeed be harmful. Worn brushes do not clean the plaque from teeth effectively, and the frayed ends can irritate gums. Toothbrushes not rinsed properly, and put away damp make excellent breeding grounds for bacteria and mildew. Brushes should be rinsed well and after removing any excess water, left to dry thoroughly between uses. Buy your husband a new toothbrush. The price tag is small for helping keep his teeth healthy.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

The British are Coming . . . To Cannonball House Sunday

Living history can be witnessed by visitors to the Cannonball House Museum in Scotch Plains on Sunday when the "Redcoats" and the "Hessians" descend on the historic Osborn House located at 1840 Front St. Dennis Krowe of Scotch Plains, Commander of the 38th Regiment of Foot (British) says that a foraging party of British and Hessian soldiers will attack John Osborn's home between 2 and 4 p.m.

It is a well known fact that Revolutionary War skirmishes were fought on Scotch Plains soil. The Battle of the Short Hills in June of 1777, occurred in the Ash Swamp area of town, and enemy troops marched along Front St. on their way to the pass in the mountains. Krowe says that the Hessian troops were greatly feared by local townsfolk, for the enemy soldiers stole food, poultry and livestock from local residents. In those early days, parents would threaten their children into obeying by saying, "the Hessians will get you."

Stalking about the museum on Sunday will be five British soldiers of the Light Infantry Company of the 38th Regiment of Foot, dressed in their traditional scarlet coats trimmed with yellow. The Hessian Grenadiers from the Muscater Regiment of VonDonop, will be wearing blue coats with red linings, and yellow waistcoats and breeches. If the weather permits, the soldiers will drill on the Village Green adjacent to the museum house.

The Hessians, who were paid soldiers fighting under British command, were professional soldiers, trained and disciplined. Many of them had previously fought with the army of Frederik the Great. They were fierce looking with their thick black mustaches and their brass miter-caps. One contemporary source reported that when he saw the Hessian regiment marching, he said, "they looked like dark soldiers out of an evil dream marching to the beat of: Plunder-Plunder-Plunder."

The museum house (circa 1730) belonged to Jonathan Osborn who was an inn-keeper, tailor and farmer. His three sons, David, John Baldwin, and Jonathan Hand, all served in the Revolutionary War. Jonathan Hand was only 15 years old when he enlisted and became a drummer boy. Captain David became town clerk from 1794 to 1822 and was elected Freeholder in 1818. In 1804, a Post Office was established in Scotch Plains, and David became its first postmaster.

John Baldwin "who bearded the British lion under Washington" is said to have been born in the home at 1840 Front St. His wife, Mary Darby, supported the colonial troops by giving the soldiers who passed her doorway, "everything wearable and eatable that their house afforded." For her efforts, retreating British soldiers fired a cannon at the Osborn home. After returning from the war, Jonathan Hand Osborn learned the art of gravestone cutting. His artistic work can be seen on many of the old gravestones in the Baptist cemetery on Park Ave.

Westfield Rescue Squad Needs Everyone's Help

March has officially been designated Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad Month by Mayor Allen Chin.

"It's the time not only for the Rescue Squad to ask for funds to enable us to continue serving you — but also for us to remind you how to be prepared to help us help you in an emergency," squad fund drive leaders said today.

"An accident or illness can strike you or a loved one anytime, day or night. This is the reason the Westfield Rescue Squad is a resident squad. Squad members man the ambulance 24 hours a day, seven days per week, to give Westfield residents the quick and efficient service they deserve.

"Should there ever come a time when the squad is needed, following a few simple rules will greatly help both the victim and the squad.

"First, the squad can be reached directly by calling 233-2500 anytime day or night or via the Westfield Police Department. It is very important to give the address correctly and attempt to briefly describe the victim's symptoms.

"Secondly, after calling the Rescue Squad, if it is possible, try to have someone on the sidewalk in front of the house to signal the ambulance when it comes down the street. At night, a person at the front door and a lighted porch light will aid in signaling the ambulance. When the squad arrives please re-describe the symptoms, have any medicines handy that the victim has been taking and the name of the attending physician and the name of the hospital where he practices. In the case of a minor, it is vital to have a family member over the age of 18 accompany the squad to the hospital to sign the necessary papers for treatment of a minor.

"Please help the squad maintain its high quality of community service by making a contribution, which can be mailed to: Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad 1982 Fund Drive, c/o Central Jersey Bank and Trust Co., 177 East Broad St., Westfield, N.J. 07090."

70 in Audience At Heckel Talk

About 70 members of the Westfield Area Interfaith Coalition and the public recently attended a lecture by professor of Constitutional Law Dean Willard Heckel at the Community Presbyterian Church in Mountaintop.

The title of Dean Heckel's address was "The Supreme Court Under Attack." His talk began with a recapitulation of events which have threatened the Court in the last 50 years: the attempt to "pack" the Court in the '30's, the 5th Amendment issues of the '50's and the crisis of the Watergate tapes in the '70's.

According to Dean Heckel, the current crisis is "the most dangerous we have confronted. This present grave danger derives from attempts to limit the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court through passage of a series of bills in Congress. These bills would emasculate the Supreme Court and intrude governmental control into the private lives of citizens. The crisis ahead is a clash between Congress and the Court, warned speaker Heckel.

Our system of government is based upon an exquisite balancing, and separation, of the powers of its three branches. The usurping of the prerogatives of one branch by another jeopardizes that balance, and is ultimately destructive to our form of government," he said.

Cyclist Hurt In First St. Crash

A motorcyclist received minor injuries Saturday after his cycle and an auto collided on First St. between Lynnwood Pl. and Hyslip Ave.

The cyclist was traveling west on First St. when he noticed a car backing out of a driveway. He applied his brakes and then released them when he saw the car stop halfway out of the driveway. However the car continued to back up and the cyclist skidded 65 ft., then fell on its side and slid an additional 15 ft. before striking the auto on its left side. The driver of the car told police she did not see the cyclist.

Skills Test Results Due in May

About 1800 Westfield public school students in grades 3, 6, 9 and 11 were given the State's Minimum Basic Skills Tests in reading and mathematics this week.

The State Department of Education provided each school district with a practice test for third grade students for administration on March 16 or 17. Test results should be returned to Westfield by the State Department of Education by the end of May.

Last year, an average of 95.3 percent of the students in grades 3, 6, 9 and 11 passed the New Jersey Minimum Basic Skills tests in reading and mathematics. Ninety-four students who did not pass the mathematics tests and 59 students who did not pass the reading basic skills tests last year were invited to participate in the compensatory education program this year to provide them with extra help.

...Even The Kitchen Sink

Enumerable articles were stolen from motor vehicles during the past week, the largest of which was a kitchen sink. The sink was taken last Thursday from the truck of a Greenbrook man who is remodeling a kitchen on Birch Ave. A Union man reported a theft from his car while it was parked on Sterling Pl.; Thursday while on Monday four vehicles owned by customers were entered and items stolen from them while they were at Reilly Olds; two vehicles, one owned by Westfield Car Rental, the other by McKelvey Olds in Plainfield were entered and an AM-FM Stereo removed and a car owned by a Pinegrove Ave. resident was broken into and a gym bag and dance items were taken.

A G.E. portable radio was taken from the Westfield Fire Department. The Town Book Store reported an attempted burglary Thursday and Greco Carpet Cleaning on Cumberland St. and 18th Century Beauty Salon on South Ave. were burglarized Monday. A West Broad St. residence was entered Tuesday. Entry was attempted at another West Board St. residence Tuesday by breaking the window of a rear door.

A 23-year-old town man was charged with use and possession of marijuana over 25 grams with intent to distribute. He was arrested in the parking lot of Memorial Pool. Bail was set at $500.

A driver for Transport of New Jersey reported that he had been robbed at gunpoint by a male passenger as he drove his bus on Brightwood Ave. near the Scotch Plains line, Tuesday night. The robber fled on foot after ordering the driver to stop the bus.

Gorsky

must make realistic and final decisions in these areas. If elected to this new board, I am prepared and willing to cooperate to the fullest extent in rendering carefully planned and responsible solutions to these very important public concerns, while keeping in mind the main objective in running a school district is to provide the best education possible for our students. This objective is my number one priority in seeking election to the board," the candidate asserted.

"Another item discussed," Gorsky said, "was 'What would be the increase in taxes based on the proposed $20,223,000 school budget?'"

"While this question was posed at the two public hearings on the school budget, no actual figures were set forth by the board relevant to the latest reassessment, other than Mrs. Gulotta, president of the board, stated the increase 'would be substantial,'" Gorsky explained.

"This week, I received a communication from the board office stating, 'To raise $16,767.48 in local taxes, local school property taxes would increase about an average $140 per year (an extra $11.67 per month) for a resident with the present (emphasis theirs) 'average' home assessed at $50,000. This estimated $140 tax increase is just for school taxes and excludes (emphasis mine) the additional tax impact on reassessment."

"The only other point of reference available," Gorsky said, "is the figure quoted in the special edition in last week's Westfield Leader which showed the 'average' home in Westfield (under the new assessment) to be $115,000. With this figure in mind, it becomes obvious that Mrs. Gulotta's projection that the tax increase 'would be substantial' is quite accurate.

"In my opinion, in the board's budget presentation, it would have been better to have included tax increase estimates based on today's 'average' home, rather than use out-dated information which only tends to mislead the public," Gorsky concluded.

Town Council

hour guest tennis fee and a $20 deposit for picnic kits.

Council also amended the 1962 operating budget (but not the amount to be raised by taxation), and gave final approval to ordinances restricting use of unvented kerosene space heaters, setting a $10 fee for submission of bad checks to the tax collector and requiring filing of special forms in cases of claims against the town for personal injury or property damage.

Brady also read a statement objecting to the "tremendously large increase" in county taxes which will be levied against Westfield residents. While the county budget will raise the total county tax levy by 12.2 percent, Westfield's county tax burden will be increased by 16.9 percent, he said.

The county tax rate, Brady explained, varies between municipalities because it is based upon each community's individual tax ratables.

we realize the need to update facilities necessary for proper learning experiences, and also to expand our thinking and educational tools for the future in the realm of computer instruction.

"John Galsworthy said, 'If you do not think about the future, you can not have one.' I am proud to have been part of a body of people whose collective minds were open to change — important changes in an educational era of new ideas," said England. "I urge all Westfield citizens to join me in the next few weeks of this school board campaign and share ideas by coming to coffees and candidates' night."

England concluded, "As adults we face awesome responsibilities towards our youth of today. It matters not what grade our children are in, or indeed whether they have already finished their school careers, we each depend upon the other in a community of caring people to insure and plan for tomorrow's success today.

"Oliver Wendell Holmes said, 'I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving.' "The Westfield school system needs everyone's support to move in the right direction for tomorrow's new world," England concluded.

in the field of education can be so rapid and complete that teachers can be overwhelmed. Beside the educational value of such training, it can restore confidence and provide momentum upon return to the classroom." Bailey pointed out that in certain areas within other professions, such as the legal profession, some states require a certain number of educational credits to be obtained every year. "The concept is sound," Bailey said, "But the training must be positive and effective."

Poet Addresses WHS Conference

Charlotte Mandel, a nationally known poet, recently gave a presentation of some of her work at a conference of WHS English teachers.

Ms. Mandel read several of her pieces to the many teachers and interested students who attended the meeting. Among her selections were poems from her latest book, "A Disc of Clear Water" and pieces from the book-long poem on which she is currently working.

Charlotte Mandel has published critical essays, short fiction and a book of satirical verse entitled "Mother Goose Tells It Like It Is." In addition to her writing, she teaches at both the Adult School of Montclair and the YM-YWHA of North Jersey. Ms. Mandel has conducted writing workshops for children, teens, and adults and given readings of her poetry at several universities, colleges, libraries, community groups and public schools.

"I felt comfortable listening to her," said WHS student and Folio staff member Paul Morenburg. "She's really sensitive," added Evelyn Shen, another Folio staff member who attended the conference.

Ms. Mandel has received many awards for her work, her most notable was as a winner in the William Carlos Williams Poetry Contest for five successive years.

In addition to giving readings of her poetry, Ms. Mandel advised the students and faculty present about how one might improve his/her writing skills. She emphasized that keeping a journal of one's thoughts would be the best way to begin the writing process.

Forget Your Troubles At "Anything Goes"

by Donna Feeney

Taxes are rising; the economy's slack Events in the world seem somehow off-track. You worry and wonder and fret and stew "Has anyone an answer or even a clue?" Give yourself a break from your cares and your woes Head to Scotch Plains to see "Anything Goes." The music is tuneful with lyrics sublime Mr. Cole Porter sure knew how to rhyme. The plot's not so hot—but so what The singing and dancing make up for a lot. Voices in turn are sweet, saucy and zingy Dancing is tappy and perky and swingy Bouquets and applause to director Hank Glass For providing an evening that's really first class.

Mr. Glass and a group of other talented Westfielders are involved in the Scotch Plains Players production of "Anything Goes," a 30's musical which opened last weekend at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. They and the rest of the cast and production staff have whipped together a frothy, enjoyable evening.

The plot, such as it is, revolves around an assortment of characters on a trans-Atlantic crossing on the U.S.S. New Deal. A sexy nightclub performer and former evangelist, Reno Sweeny, is played lustily and effectively by Vicki Tripodo. Her backup group of "angels"—Sabrina Prielaida, Joyce Nelson, Candy Sherman and Joan Wright—bump and grind on cue. Westfield's Stanley Nathanson and Maura McDermott portray a gangster and his moll. He is the type of mobster who carries his gat in a violin case, and the only murder for which he could be convicted is that of the English language. Bonnie, his girl, would be charged for conspiracy, aiding and abetting. They are great fun. A proper but vague Englishman is played by Paul Monte of Westfield with a distracted, dippy demeanor and Dot Nixon is a delight as Mrs. Harcourt, an upscale matron. The attractive young lovers are the sweet Loretta Ann Soriano and the devilish Michael Dundon.

The performers all have fine voices, although the orchestra could play a little more softly during some of the solos. Music is under the direction of Don Behm and a chorus gives resounding rendition of the large production numbers. Among the old standards sung are "You're the Top," "It's Delovely," "Friendship," "I Get A Kick Out of You," "Night and Day" and "Blow, Gabriel, Blow" in addition to the title tune.

The dancers, led by choreographer Bill Inglis, give snappy, sprightly performances and I especially enjoyed the dancer in the red vest during the opening number of the second act.

A few actors overplay their parts and mug a little more than necessary but on the whole the Players have put together a de-lightful evening.

Credit also should go to the set construction crew headed by Jerry Sorrentino who doubles as Mr. Whitney, the apoplectic financier in the show. Costumes were perfectly 30-ish and the lighting crew did a good job.

Final performances of "Anything Goes" are Friday and Saturday. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

"IN THE SPOTLIGHT" Boss Tweed

Imagine yourself in an atmosphere of long ago...the exciting time of Tammany Hall in New York, when Boss Tweed was in charge. He still is! This is the setting at Boss Tweed where many sepia-toned photographs of important figures of that bygone era are hung on the walls and are set off by the brass chandeliers. Add to this the friendly attention of the lovely waitresses in their jaunty brown dresses.

I started on my dining adventure with Shrimp Continental which is shrimp in garlic sauce, topped with breadcrumbs and parmesan cheese and broiled to perfection. They served the Boss Salad Bowl family style at our table. It was overflowing with a crisp combination of the freshest spinach leaves, cauliflower, zucchini, tomatoes, broccoli and beansprouts...and the roquefort dressing had true chunks of cheese. You may have as much salad as you want.

Boss Tweed, which has excellent Steaks and Prime Ribs 7 nights a week also serves the freshest fish possible. One of us had the special fish of the evening which was fresh Brook Trout stuffed with Crabmeat and we also sampled the Broiled Seafood Combination...a bountiful catch of shrimp, scallops and flounder broiled in butter. Just about all of the fish entrees are broiled. The main course includes a hot loaf of bread with butter served on a cutting board, Tweed Fries or baked potato and the super salad bowl.

Finish your evening at The Disco. Dance in either The Gambling Room or Tammany Hall Room. The D.J. begins the music at 10 p.m. Tues.-Friday and Sunday and at 11 p.m. on Saturday and continues until 2 a.m. Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday and until 3 a.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Boss Tweed is a well known luncheon place featuring Boss Burgers, salads, sandwiches and The Boss' Special Lunch. Watch for the daily Blackboard Specials at lunch and dinner. At dinner time they always include a number of vegetable dishes such as Veal Marsala or Francise. We could not resist the Veal Oscar...sauteed veal served with King Crabmeat in a Hollandaise Sauce and topped off with asparagus. Quite delectable!

Boss Tweed is at 618 West St. George Ave. in Linden. They are open for lunch Monday to Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dinner is served from 5 to 10 p.m. Monday to Friday and from 5 to 11 p.m. on Saturday. Sunday dinner is served from 4 to 9 p.m. There is ample off street parking and major credit cards are honored. Reservations are accepted, call 925-1616.

Frederick Tibbitts III pushes one of the buttons on Freddie the Robot as Mindy Duitz, (left) director of the Staten Island Children's Museum and Frederick Tibbitts Jr. look on. Mr. Tibbitts and his son recently donated Freddie the Robot and Freddie the Robot Jr. to the museum collection.

Freddie The Robot

At Staten Island Children's Museum

Freddie the Robot and his "son" Freddie the Robot Jr. have found a new home, the Staten Island Children's Museum. According to Mindy Duitz, director of the museum, the robots are popular attractions and young visitors are thrilled with the electronic duo.

The six-foot robot and his three-foot son were the brainchildren of Frederick M. Tibbitts Jr. of Westfield. Tibbitts and his son, Frederick Tibbitts III, now a seventh grader at Roosevelt Jr. High School, recently donated the robots to the museum. They worked together constructing Freddie five years ago after Frederick III saw the movie "Star Wars."

Using plywood, dryer vents, heavy duty work gloves and Christmas tree lights the father-son team created the original Freddie for less than $200. Freddie has been spray painted silver and can talk via a walkie-talkie.

The robot has been patented and designs and plans have been marketed. A Freddie the Robot fan club was started, complete with Freddie T-Shirts. A book on the "Freddie Story" is planned. Freddie has made numerous appearances locally and was invited to Macy's Toy Department and to ride on a float in Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day parade in Philadelphia.

Freddie and Freddie Jr. may now be seen at the Children's Museum, 15 Beach St., Staten Island. The museum is open from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The building is closed Mondays.

Signing up... A trio of local residents registers for the upcoming session of classes at the Westfield YWCA. From left: Doris Grayson, Eileen Connolly and Rita Eckhardt discuss various offerings before making final decisions.

Two students from Westfield were named to the dean's list for the 1981 fall semester at Rider College in Lawrenceville. They are John L. Berry, a student in the school of business administration and Gail B. Kessler of the school of education.

Coffee For New U.S. Residents

Another in a series of monthly free coffees to acquaint those new to the United States with other new residents and with those who are native to the area is set for Thursday, April 1 at 9:30 a.m. at the Westfield YWCA, 220 Clark St.

The event is designed as a social offering and also as an opportunity for new American residents to practice their English on a common ground.

Babysitting will be provided. Information is available by contacting the YW main desk.

Spaulding Plans Sale and Auction

The Volunteer Auxiliary of Spaulding for Children is planning a two-pronged fundraiser on May 22 at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church on Martine Ave. in Scotch Plains.

During the afternoon, from noon to 4 p.m., a boutique, bake sale and white elephant sale will be held. No admission will be charged. Hand-made items may be donated or offered on consignment. Anyone interested in submitting such items may write Spaulding for Children, 36 Prospect St., Westfield, N.J. 07090.

An auction will begin at 7 p.m. Robert Heller, a professional auctioneer, is in charge. Items to be auctioned include a wash stand set, sterling, crystal, china and certificates from businesses in the area. Items may be viewed in the afternoon and persons may make silent bids if they are unable to attend the evening auction. Ticket information is available from the Spaulding office.

Spaulding places "special needs" children for adoption. These include older school-aged children of all races, siblings and youngsters with physical, mental or emotional disabilities. Spaulding welcomes inquiries from prospective parents, volunteers or interested people or organizations.

Terri Bowers President of Awareness Club

Terri Bowers has been named president of the Awareness Club, a Westfield YWCA-sponsored organization for minority high school students.

Other officers include: Gail Johnson, vice president; Veda Edwards, secretary; Lorie Graves, treasurer; Marcia Austin, sergeant-at-arms; Kim Kirkley, reporter; Sandra Redd, historian, and Pam Tate, social chairperson.

The club plans an ice skating party at Warinanco Rink today and a roller disco party next month at the USA Rink, Edison.

Among planned activities for the future is a social ball to be held in June.

The group also participates in community-oriented projects and currently is collecting clothes, and other items, for a family which lost its belongings in a fire.

Dorothy Kirkley, Outreach chairman for the YW, is advisor to the club.

Woman's Club Notes 87th Anniversary

The Woman's Club of Westfield is celebrating the 87th anniversary of its formation which took place in March 1895; federation of the club followed one year later, in 1896. In honor of that occasion, the officers of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs attended a luncheon at the clubhouse, followed by a special anniversary program held at the Presbyterian Parish House.

Mrs. Charles F. Finkenstadt, president of the Woman's Club of Westfield, introduced the guests of the day, including Woman's Club presidents from the Sixth District who offered congratulations to the Westfield club members. Mrs. George T. Strakosch, president of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs extended her good wishes for the continued success of the club in its social and civic endeavors.

Mrs. Neil W. Pierce, nominations chairman, presented the new slate of officers of the Woman's Club who will commence their two-year terms of office in June. Incoming president will be Mrs. Charles R. Mayer; first vice-president, Mrs. Frederick A. Egner Jr.; third vice-president, Mrs. Donald F. Hancock; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John H. Spellman; finance and club house advisor trustee, Mrs. Charles F. Finkenstadt; "Bulletin"—editorial and advertising trustee, Mrs. Harrison R. Cory; program and publicity advisor trustee, Mrs. David R. Balzer Sr.

Professor James P. Friel, an associate professor of philosophy at the State University of New York, was introduced by Mrs. Dennis Shea, program chairman. Professor Friel addressed the meeting on the subject of "Greek Art and Culture, the Age of Alexander."

Following the program, Mrs. Finkenstadt invited guests and members to the buffet table where club past presidents poured. The buffet table was decorated with silver candelabra surrounded by anemones, snapdragons, and jonquils with various greens. The floral arrangements, featuring the club colors of violet and gold, were created by Mrs. Edward J. Moller.

Mrs. L. John McHugh, hospitality chairman and members of the Antiques department prepared and served the refreshments.

Y-Teens Perform Community Service

A Westfield YWCA-sponsored teen group continues to grow in numbers as well as in its dedication to community service.

The Y-Teens, an outgrowth of the YWCA Girl Guides of several decades ago, recently hosted a St. Patrick's Day party at Children's Specialized Hospital. The club will help supply refreshments this Saturday for the "Home Safety and Security Show" to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the police and fire departments in Westfield.

The Y-Teens operate as a social and leadership-training group which provides recreation and learning experiences for girls enrolled in high school. Irene Flynn, a Westfield resident who recently was named teen director at the Clark St. facility, notes that the Y-Teens plan such fundraising efforts as a candy sale and work at the town Recycling Center to acquire monies to support other activities.

A trip to Cape Cod for graduating seniors planning stage and the teens have finalized arrangements for a camping trip to Bass River in May.

Members of the group take active roles in the operation of the YW itself.

"There are teens on the board of directors and on other YW committees," states Flynn, who also notes that members of the organization attend national conclaves and other teen-oriented sessions to exchange ideas on matters of interest to their respective age groups.

When a trio of teenagers represented the YW at such a regional conference late last year, they were afforded a chance to discuss a score of issues and opinions with teenagers from throughout the East, and, in addition, to vote on matters which might affect their futures.

"It is difficult to find such a sound leadership training unit as that of the Y-Teens," explains Flynn, who hopes to initiate a similar organization for junior high girls next fall.

Among programs scheduled for Y-Teens is an April hair care and makeup demonstration.

"I hope more girls will affiliate with the Y-Teens," states Flynn. "It would prove a rewarding experience."

Redeemer's kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Shirley Carpenter, helps students Billy Glauch and Motoko Mitrali write about inventions they have created.

Kindergarten Days At Redeemer School

Kindergarten Days will be held at Redeemer Lutheran School, 229 Cowperthwaite Pl. today and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Parents are invited to bring children who will be entering kindergarten in the fall to view the class in session and meet the teacher, Mrs. Shirley Carpenter. On Thursday the class will do language arts activities, having reading groups and a math lesson. Friday's session will include independent games and activities covering several academic subjects and a music and rhythm lesson.

Mrs. Carpenter is a graduate of Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Ill. She has 12 years of teaching experience in kindergarten and the primary grades. Mrs. Carpenter states that in the kindergarten program at Redeemer, "we try to get as close as possible to the individual attention and we put great emphasis on building a positive self image." The kindergarten class this year consists of Mrs. Carpenter, a teacher's aide, and 15 students.

Principal Brian Carrigan, speaking about the kindergarten, says, "We are proud of our kindergarten program which builds self-confident, well motivated students. These students have a good foundation for entering Redeemer's first grade."

Redeemer offers a Christ-centered education in nursery, kindergarten, and grades 1-6 with after school programs which benefit working parents. Applications for the 1982-83 school year may be obtained in the school office.

Ben Borowski, public information director of the Casino Control Commission, talks to the Westfield Rotary Club on gambling in New Jersey.

Casino Official Addresses Rotarians

Ben Borowski, public information director of the Casino Control Commission, spoke last week to the Westfield Rotary about the impact that casino gambling is having on New Jersey.

According to Borowski, in the three years since gambling was legalized one and one half billion dollars of construction has been done in Atlantic City. The state treasury has received $207 million. Three quarters of the monies collected have already been distributed to senior citizens and disabled people.

State law mandates that all revenues collected from gambling must be redistributed to senior citizens and disabled people. The money to operate the Casino Commission comes from licensing fees. Casinos applying for a license must pay the cost of the commission's investigation of the applicant. Presently the interest from the undistributed revenues go into the general fund. Borowski said that there is a bill pending that would keep the interest with the undistributed revenues.

After the presentation Borowski answered questions on a wide range of topics including security, future prospects and how the money is handled.

Dave Caffery, PSE&G Senior Staff Engineer, Fuel Supply talks about fuel costs and how they affect your bill.

"I'm in fuel supply at PSE&G, so I know why your energy bills are higher today."

There are many reasons why your energy rates are higher today, but none affects your PSE&G bill as much as the cost of fuel. Did you know that as much as 49¢ out of every dollar you send PSE&G goes to pay for the fuel used to generate electricity as well as purchased power, gas purchased and materials for gas production?

Looked at another way, the 49¢ out of every dollar is equivalent to $4,799.611 a day that PSE&G has to put out for the above operating expenses. Much of it goes to buy oil to generate electricity. We now pay over $34 a barrel. It wasn't long ago that oil was less than $3 a barrel.

What are we doing about it? Plenty. We're trying to reduce our use of oil for generation as much as possible. In 1981, we cut oil-generated electricity by another five percent from the previous year. Nuclear power, for example, saved PSE&G over 580 million gallons of oil and our customers over $432 million on their electric bills last year. Hopefully, our nuclear-generated electricity will continue to increase, as will our use of coal.

As you can see, PSE&G has some control over the fuels it uses, but very little control over their costs. And when fuel costs go up, so do your bills. People who know I'm in fuel supply ask me, "Why doesn't PSE&G absorb these higher costs?" I tell them we don't for the very same reason auto manufacturers increase the cost of their cars when steel prices go up. Or builders increase the price of their homes when lumber prices go up. To stay in business.

Believe me, we're really doing every thing we can to hold down costs, but, sadly, cheap energy has gone the way of the 6 1/2 mortgage.

Like you, all I can do to hold down my electric bill is to save energy around the house. My company has prepared a conservation booklet which I use. It's a good one. Why not send for it?

Local Booters Defeat Wyckoff

Westfield Premier defeated Wyckoff 4-1 in the first game of the New Jersey State Soccer Championships. Westfield scored the initial goal in the first half of the 29 minutes of successive and intensive drives by both teams.

Bruno DiDario delivered a right cross to John Schwartz who instantly headed the ball into the net. Within two minutes of the second half John Schwartz intercepted a pass and scored the second goal.

corner eluding the Wyckoff goalie.

Tony Valles' serpentine movements evaded a string of Wyckoff defenders, shooting a crisp pass to Bruno DiDario who promptly fired it into the net.

Wyckoff never relaxed and retaliated in the last few minutes of the game with a shot into the net from 20 yards out.

Other aggressive plays were carried out by sweeper Greg Bunting, halfbacks Bill O'Herron, Ken Schmalz and Kevin Simons while Westfield defenders contained the Wyckoff offense with halfbacks Ed Smith, Andy Gengos and Steve Ribbecky. In spite of the good defense, goalie Scott Morris made some critical saves, in particular one on a penalty kick which could have turned the tide in favor of Wyckoff.

Wheelchair Hockey Game April 1

Westfield felt the Wyckoff pressure and added two more goals for insurance. Russ Savage decisively dribbled the ball past Wyckoff defenders, down the left side crossing to John Schwartz in the center who in turn passed to Giancarlo Diorio. Giancarlo fired a hard shot 20 yards out from the right

Members of the "A.B.L.E." and the Disabled Students Association of Union County will be pitted against each other in a wheelchair hockey game to be held at Union College on Thursday, April 1.

A.B.L.E. (Association for Broadening Learning and Education), Union College's student service organization dedicated to helping the handicapped, is sponsoring the event. Scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., the hockey game — the first of its kind at Union — will be held in the Campus Center Gymnasium on the Cranford Campus.

Stings Lose 3-2

It's first soccer game of the season, the Westfield Stings were narrowly defeated by the East Brunswick Strikers, 3 to 2. Stings players Maren Tromm scored a goal with an assist from Jennifer Ortleb, and Wendy Maher scored a goal on a breakaway. Maria Schuvert, Wendy Mertz and Joy Shields played their usual aggressive game. Goalie Suzanne Williams made a double save, depriving the Strikers of another goal.

"Buck" Williams Scheduled At Basketball Camp

New Jersey Nets All-Star power forward "Buck" Williams has been signed to appear at the Westfield Recreation Commission Basketball Camp July 28, according to Ruth V. Hill, director of recreation.

Williams, who was drafted by the Nets on the first round of the 1981 draft (#3 overall), is currently the NBA's third leading rebounder behind Moses Malone and Jack Sikma with a 12.1 rebound per game average. Williams is also the Nets number two scorer behind Ray Williams with a 15.4 point per game average.

During Williams' college career he was Maryland's second all-time leading rebounder along with leading the ACC in rebounding last year with an 11.7 per game average. He also was the 1979 ACC Rookie-of-the-year and a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team.

During the Basketball Camp Williams will demonstrate and discuss rebounding techniques and how to achieve a high field goal percentage.

The Basketball Camp will be held at Roosevelt Jr. High School Gym from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. during the weeks of July 19 and July 26.

Among the special features at the camp are Adidas Camp T-shirts to all campers, special trophies for each camp (except tennis) and beverages supplied at lunch (campers are responsible for rest of lunch).

The rest of the sport camp schedule is:

Additional information about the camps can be obtained by contacting the Recreation Office in the Municipal Building.

66'ers Split Weekend Games

The Westfield 66'ers opened the 1982 soccer season with games in Wyckoff and East Brunswick. Saturday's game against Wyckoff resulted in a Westfield 4-0 win. The first goal of the game was scored by Dave Ryan on a pass from Jay Halsey. Tom Fleming followed on a cross from Ed Haag. Fergus MacKay scored the third goal with a header on a curling corner kick from Dave Ryan.

Westfield clearly dominated the first half showing superior skills and teamwork. Fergus

6 Aqua Sprites Place at Meet

The Westfield YWCA Aqua Sprites placed six girls in the Eastern Zone Solo and Duet Synchronized Swimming Championships held at Hamden, Conn. March 13-14. Denise Sawicki, Cranford and Pam Fink, Westfield, placed 2nd and 3rd respectively in solo competition. Michelle Tracey of Westfield, Lori DeBella, Cranford, and Kathy Katsch, Westfield, Robin White, Florham Park, were 4th and 7th in the duet competition. All six girls qualified to compete in the 1982 Junior National Championships to be held at Kean College, Union, April 2-5.

The Westfield YWCA Aqua Sprites and Kean College are co-sponsoring the Junior National Championships which will feature teams from all over the United States and will give New Jersey residents an opportunity to see some of the best synchronized swimmers in the country. Many of these girls will be competing for a place on the 1984 Olympic Team.

MacKay, Tom Fleming, Ed Haag, Steve Shields and Chris Walsweer enabled Westfield to out shoot Wyckoff 12-2. In the second half, Dave Watts made a scrambling save with his feet to preserve the shut-out. Onder Ors and Tom Gordon showed a lot of hustle. The final goal of the day was scored by Dave Ryan off a shot taken by Ed Haag that hit the cross-bar.

On Sunday, the 66'ers traveled to East Brunswick where they lost 2-1. The first goal of the afternoon was scored by Matt Petrik on an assist from Dave Ryan. The play developed as a result of Jay Halsey's interception of an East Brunswick throw-in. In the first half, Declan Cunningham kept the pressure on the East Brunswick defenders and Steve Shields was very impressive on defense. Dave Watts, the first half goalkeeper had a good game. Towards the end of the first half, East Brunswick scored a breakaway goal to tie the score 1-1. In the second half, Westfield was unable to take advantage of several key opportunities which eventually caught up to them as East Brunswick scored its second and decisive goal. Taylor Wright, Dave McEntee, John Houlihan and Jeff Alpaugh showed aggressive play defensively, as did John Ierardi offensively.

The Valerie Fund will hold its sixth annual tennis/racquetball party on Saturday, March 27, from 8 p.m. until midnight at the Warren Racquet Club, Mount Bethel Rd., Warren.

Tennis/racquetball players will be matched according to their ability or their preferences.

Holy Trinity's Title Bid Falls Short

After nine straight wins and a division championship, Holy Trinity went into the league championship game without their captain and high scoring/rebounding All-Star Joe Carnevale.

The heavily-favored St. Agnes team (Clark) entered the title game with a record of 18-0 and opened the first quarter scoring with a lead of 13-4. With Zuckowski and Venzio controlling the boards and Doherty hitting jump shots St. Agnes led at half time 27-13. Holy Trinity's 13 points were scored by Mike Ahern with 8 and Chris Freers' 5 points. Although no one else scored in the first half the whole team played aggressively on defense.

Coach Di Iorio's half time strategy was to go to a deliberate offense and drive for the open shot. The smaller Trinity squad with "desire" and "heart" trimmed the St. Agnes lead to one point difference 39-38. Chris Freer led this drive with 10 points and help from Greg Firgerio (7) and Charley Ramsey's (4). Mike Ahern (2) and Brian Quinn (2). Upheralded but steady Brian Quinn controlled the boards and surprised the St. Agnes team.

With two minutes to play and game still within Trinity's grasp St. Agnes chose to hold the ball because Trinity outscored them 23-11 and with the momentum going their way. Playing on a bigger and neutral court (Johnson Regional High School) the stall was effective and forced Trinity's scrappy defense to come out of their pressure zone and go after the bigger St. Agnes squad. The freeze was effective and St. Agnes hit on two, one-and-one, foul situations to win the league championship 43-38.

The crowd of more than 300 saw an excellent and exciting ball game and Holy Trinity played well despite a deficit of losing Carnevale and a slow start.

Coach Di Iorio now prepares his squad for the Father Dennis J. Whalen Basketball Tournament hosted by St. Agnes Clark.

The Holy Trinity basketball teams (5th & 6th and 7th & 8th) were spurred by cheerleaders Michelle Ceklosky, Maura Duhig, Maureen McCabe, Colleen McKenna, Kristine Scutti, Ann Marie Bruno, Kathy Wickens, Diane Clarke, Diane Corba, Terrienne Maresca, Jullianne Pollock and Mary Vigilanti. The parents and school support was augmented by the team's number one fan, Miss Stella Bisogno, principal of Holy Trinity School.

Ranked Colombian Swimmer Competing with Aqua Sprites

The Westfield YWCA has a shot at placing a champion in the 1984 Olympics in the person of 19-year old Lucy Bueno, a freshman at Kean College synchronized swimming record holder in her native Colombia.

Lucy, a physical education major, swims with the nationally ranked Westfield YWCA Aqua Sprites, and will compete April 2-5 when the Sprites and the Office of Community Services at Kean co-sponsor the 1982 Junior National Indoor Synchronized Swimming Championships at Kean.

The Aqua Sprites placed sixth in the Junior National competition in 1981. At the National Junior Olympics the 13-14 age group team placed second in the nation. The girls also competed in the Senior Nationals in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they placed in the top 15. Lorraine Fasullo is director and head coach.

More than 350 swimmers in a sport that will debut in the 1984 Olympics are registered. They include swimmers over 12 years old from California, Arizona, Michigan, Ohio, Oregon and other states.

Semi-finals will be from noon to 8:30 p.m. Sunday April 4 with finals featuring the top U.S. swimmers on Monday, April 5 from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Admission is free and specific information is available from the Westfield YWCA.

Lucy started her training at the age of 13 in her hometown of Cali and won first prize in 1976 as one of a four-member team in the Colombia National competition. That record still stands. Lucy was born in Buena Ventura.

She also competed in the Central American of the Caribbean Games of 1978 in which her team placed third; the Pan American Games in 1979; the Central American Youth Games in 1979 in which her team placed third and Lucy came in 10th out of 53 in figures; and the South American Games of 1980 in which her team placed first and Lucy made it to third place among 40 in figure competition.

Judging in synchronized swimming is done similarly to ice skating or gymnastics. Competition is done on the basis of figure work, meaning a particular stunt, and on a choreography of the stunts within a solo, duet or team performance.

Lucy, who also competed for Columbia in the 1981 Pan Pacific Games, expects to go to Ecuador for the 1982 World Wide Competition. She will compete in duets for Columbia.

There also is the possibility that Lucy would accept a call to swim for the United States national team.

Lucy smiles and laughs when asked if she'd like to be in the Olympics. "Of course," she says, "but it's so far away!"

Other Aqua Sprites are Michelle Tracey, Pan Fink and Kathy Katsch, all of Westfield Robyn White of Florham Park, Lori DeBella and Denise Sawicki, both of Cranford, and Susan Road of Summit.

The Westfield YWCA Aqua Sprites A Team includes, standing, Lori DeBella and Pam Fink; middle row, Kathy Katsch, Lucy Bueno, Denise Sawicki and Susan Reed and in front, Robyn White and Michelle Tracey.

YW, Kean College to Host Jr. National Swim Championships

The Junior National Indoor Synchronized Swimming Championships, sponsored by the Westfield YWCA Aqua Sprites and Kean College of New Jersey, will be held April 2, 3, 4, and 5 at Kean College, Morris Ave., Union.

Approximately 350 young women representing nationally ranked teams from California, Arizona, Michigan, Ohio, Oregon, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, to mention a few, will compete in solo, duet and team events.

Semi-final competition will be Sunday, April 4, noon to 8:30 p.m. The finals, featuring the top swimmers in the country, will be Monday, April 5, 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Synchronized Swimming Becomes Olympic Sport

Synchronized swimming was recognized as a sport when it was officially sanctioned in 1946 by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) of the United States. Launched in the Mid-West predominately in Chicago, it quickly spread to the West. California established itself as the sport's leader and many teams sprung up throughout the U.S. seeking to emulate them.

The International Olympic Committee has voted to accept the duet event for the 1984 summer Olympic Games in Los Angeles for the first time. The U.S. team, knowing the Olympic qualifications depended upon the number of countries competing, cooperatively spread their skills around the world.

There are now at least 35 countries, including some Soviet bloc nations, which are competing in Synchronized Swimming Events.

U.S. international synchronized swimming participation occurred at the Pan-American Games in Buenos Aires in 1951, and subsequently became a competitive event in the 1955 Pan-American Games. Demonstrations of synchronized swimming have been held at all modern Olympiads beginning with Helsinki in 1952, through Moscow of 1980. Other major international competition included the Pan-Pacific Games, the F.I.N.A. Cup and the World Aquatic Championships. In the latter, the U.S. has won gold medals in every synchronized swimming event since its inception in 1973.

National teams were first formed in Holland, England and tried by Canada and Japan as a possible means of overtaking U.S. supremacy. Credit for the formation of the U.S. national team must be given to the first U.S.O.C. National Sports Festival held in 1978. All star teams were formed from each of the four festival areas - east, mid-west, south and west. The U.S. national team took the gold medal in its first competition during the 1979 Pan-American Games.

The U.S. remains today as the recognized leader in competitive synchronized swimming around the world.

Skating with the Champions — Elisa Scheuermann, a resident of Westfield will be among the soloists in Ice-O-Rama '82 to be presented on April 16, 17, and 18 at South Mountain Arena in West Orange.

Elisa, 11, has been skating for five years. In the 1982 Eastern Championships, Elisa was a Silver Medalist in the intermediate ladies competition.

Several of America's champion figure skaters will join 120 Essex Skating Club members in scenes of "Adventures at Sea." Starring in this charity event will be Elaine Zayak, David Santee, Caitlin and Peter Carruthers, Carol Fox and Richard Dalley, Tiffany Chin.

Ice-O-Rama is a benefit for the United States Figure Skating Association Memorial Fund, a scholarship fund for talented young skaters.

Tickets are available at South Mountain Arena Box Office, Monday through Friday from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Devil Golfers Optimistic

By Chris Loder
Entering his 24th season as head coach of the golf team, Gary Kehler believes that this year's squad may well be better than last season's 13-3 team.

"A good golf team has good balance. This year, I think we have that balance."

Returning from last year's team are Junior Tom Gaffney and seniors Norm Koury and Chris Jones. Gaffney tied for second in the conference a year ago and had the second best dual meet average on the team, with a 43.7 strokes per nine holes. Koury had a 44.8 average last year, while Jones finished with a 46.7 average.

A newcomer to the team is Jim Eisenmann, who is leading the pack for the first playing position on the team.

Kehler believes that there are two teams on the linksters schedule which are outstanding, Summit and Wardlaw-Hartridge. The Blue Devils take on Wardlaw later on in the season, while they begin their 1982 campaign with Summit on Thursday at Canoe Brook in Summit.

JV Stickmen In New League

By Thomas Eisenmann
The outcome of the Westfield High School JV lacrosse team's season will depend on its "young" players, according to coach Ronald Barner, despite the fact that it has switched to a more experienced league.

The team consists of mostly sophomores, with a large number of freshman and a few juniors. A considerable amount of these players are inexperienced. "The key to our season will be if our young players progress rapidly," commented Barner.

Steady goalkeeping and defense are necessary improvements Barner would like to work on to keep up with the more experienced and established teams in the new "A league" which replaces the Garden State League where the team achieved a 5-3 record.

Expected to start are juniors Mike Hone and Tom Kurz on defense, sophomore Dennis Lynch at goalie, and juniors Steve Frank and Mark Wellnitz at midfield. Barner is looking for a great season from sophomore attackman Chris Conabee, although he will be out with an injury until April 26. The first game of the season is on April 1 against Summit behind Edison Junior High School at 4 o'clock.

Jackie Cardillo of Westfield, a freshman at Susquehanna University, is pitching this year for her college softball team.

Good Year for Baseball?

By Paul Stenbjorn
The '82 season should be a successful one for WHS baseball. The team is coming off mediocre 13-14 season (tied for third in conference), but will be returning seven letterman from last year's squad.

The Devils' strong suit should be their offense, which averaged 5.3 runs scored per game last season. The hitting attack will be led by Paul Leifer who was last year's team leader in stolen bases (17) and runs scored (22) and finished second on the team with a solid .351 batting average. Also returning from last year's squad is Rod Yaticilla who led the Devils in at-bats (95), doubles (11) and slugging percentage (.453), while sporting a .337 average. Other returning lettermen are Chris Drabin, the '81 Devils' leader in RBI'S (20) as well as Hitting (.313), Kurt Gillhouse (.311) and Nick Vacca (.337).

The main problem with the Blue Devils appears to be their pitching staff which has only two pitchers with significant varsity experience: Kevin Morris, last year's leading winner (5-6) and the leader in strikeouts (57), and John Kennedy (2-2; 2.78 era). The remainder of the staff will consist of Yaticilla (three varsity games; 1-1), Matt Clarke and Mike Murphy both up from JV. Coach Pete Lima will be looking for pitching help from juniors Chris Dee, Jack Feeney, Dean Luckenbach and Kevin Smith.

If another problem exists, it is that many players will be seeing action in new positions. Leifer will be moving in from centerfield to third base, Vacca will be moving from third to second base, and Gillhaus will shift from second to shortstop.

The Blue Devils will begin their 1982 campaign on April 1 at home against Linden, one of the most feared teams in the state.

Sunday Tennis WTA Style

Although the weatherman emptied the courts outside Sunday at the Plaza Racquet Club were full. The round robin sponsored by the Westfield Tennis Association was well attended with participants able to play a variety of opponents. An afternoon of tennis preceded the mingling of members during the social after play.

The next function on the W.T.A., agenda will be tryouts for the women's town team. These will take place at Inman Racquet Club in Edison in May (date to be announced). Applications for the team will be available at the Recreation Office or from Linnea Rhodes after April 1. All functions of the W.T.A. are available to Westfield residents young and old. Mandi Siegel and Kim Siegel, in back, and Dawn Vierschilling, kneeling, were among winners at last week's gymnastics meet.

Local Gymnasts Excel

At a gymnastic meet last week, young gymnasts between the ages of five and eight competed for the first time using the United States Gymnastic Federation's Class IV compulsory.

In the 5-6 year old division, Dawn Vierschilling, 5, competed in all four events and placed second on vault, third on team and bars, fourth on floor and third all-around.

Juliette Miceli, just turned 7, placed first on beam.

third on floor and fifth all-around after competing in four events.

Kim Siegel and Mandi Siegel, 8-year-old twins from Westfield, competed in the 7-8 age group. Kim placed first on vault, third on beam, fourth on bars, fifth on floor and third all-around. Mandi placed fifth on beam.

All these gymnasts are members of the competitive program of Champion Academy of Gymnastics in Cranford.

Young Wrestlers Place in States

Three Westfield boys grappled their way to distinction by placing in the United States Wrestling Federation State Championships held at Mercer Community College Saturday.

Junior division member Anthony Coleman took a third place win in the 100 pound weight class. Coleman battled through a field of equally talented matmen who, like all competitors there, had to win a first or second place in previous qualifier meets.

East Brunswick Tames Wildcats

The Wildcats of Westfield played a tough soccer game Sunday against strong East Brunswick.

Kelley Clare was outstanding in goal and made more than ten saves. Terri Peluso, Debbie Longaker, Noreen Doyle and Diane Lewis played strong defense. Judy Blanco, Patty Gafney, and Marnee Hall showed aggressive offensive work while Jennifer Albertson, Mary Tweedle and Hope Weinstein worked hard on the wings. Halfbacks Carolyn Ucciferri, Heidi Arnold and Susan Hevert showed East Brunswick their skills, keeping the ball on offense with the forwards deep in enemy territory.

Coach Manfred Arnold kept up the spirit and showed the team the meaning of teamwork and good sportsmanship. Despite all this great effort the Wildcats were defeated 7-0.

Deerfield Advances to Regionals In Olympics of the Mind

All three teams representing Deerfield School at the district competition of Olympics of the Mind, held recently in New Providence, earned second-place slots and advanced to the regional competition, Friday in Allendale.

The Olympics of the Mind is a special kind of competition offering the chance to compete in areas of creativity and problem-solving. The problems are announced in the fall; the Deerfield teams have been at work since then, meeting at least once a week after school to plan and prepare for the district event.

In the Monsters Menacing Mankind division, the student teams created remote control models representing an endangered species, which they had to defend from attack. Students on this team included Matt Haines, Elliott Joffe, David Kadesh, Brad and Scott Krumholz, Brian Mlicke and David Simon. "The Cruppets" were created by Maria Buckley, NaRee Chung, Lurleen Harrison, Tara McGrath and Krista Merklinger. They participated in a competition which required designing puppets, writing an original play, creating sets and performing the play. Their creation highlighted some undersea adventures with Jacques Cousteau in a humorous vein. The last Deerfield team constructed a load-bearing structure of balsa wood within the contest's size specifications. In the competition, the winning team is the one whose structure supports the most weight (added in 5 to 20 pound increments) before collapsing. As an added element of interest, a simulated earthquake shock is administered every 50 pounds by dropping a weight to reverberate near the structure. Deerfield's engineers in this competition were Patrick Attenasio, Craig Carson, Jamie Downey, Andrew Fowler, Jeffrey Sumner, and Matthew Swartz.

Coaches working with the teams included teacher Irene Buchner, and parents Judy Carson and Peg Moser.

Rug-Braiding Demo At Museum Sunday

Many of the crafts demonstrated at the Miller-Cory House Museum have not only historical value in recreating the life of early colonists but are adaptable for today's living not only for aesthetic purposes but also for practical and economic reasons. One such craft will be demonstrated on Sunday, March 28, when Ruth Elcome will show how to braid a rug.

Rug braiding had its origins in New England in the early 19th century. In the cold New England winters housewives wanted a means of covering the floors in houses which had no central heating. The rugs which resulted were practical and were oftentimes made of recycled materials. Although over the years items have been developed to use in the process of braiding a rug, all that is really required is heavy carpet thread and a strong blunt-edged needle. New materials can be used, however, in the interest of

Spirit Week At High School

Spirit Week, sponsored by the Westfield High School Student Council, was held during the week of March 15-19. The week was highlighted by theme days and various assemblies.

SC President Mary Castellone explained that each day of the week was designated to a different theme. "T-Shirt and Hat Day" began the week and Tuesday's theme was "Summer." On Wednesday, "Green" was the theme to commemorate St. Patrick's Day.

Each class had its own specific theme Thursday. The sophomore class theme was "Service Day," in which students dressed in military garb. The junior class theme was "Rock Day" and the senior class chose "Future Occupation Day." The week ended on Friday with "Punk vs. Prep Day."

To add to the spirit, the Council invited different clubs to decorate a hall. Language clubs received first prize for their decorating while the senior class and the cheerleaders placed second and third. Assemblies during the week included drama, choir, jazz band, a student/faculty Quiz Bowl, a Battle of the Sexes, and a variety show.

Spring Hours At Golf Links

Ash Brook, Galloping Hill and Oak Ridge Golf Courses will change their schedules on Monday to provide longer playing time. All three are operated by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation.

On weekdays, the courses will open at 7:15 a.m., while on weekends and holidays, they will open at 8 a.m. Daily closing moves to 7 p.m.

Nursery School Seeks Registrants

Registration for the Westfield Community Center nursery school programs, ages 3-5, is open for the fall semester on a two or four morning a week basis at a nominal cost per month for two mornings or for four mornings a week. It is available to residents of Westfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood and surrounding areas. Those interested may visit the center Monday through Thursday 9:30-11:30 a.m. The center, 558 West Broad St., is a member of United Fund. Information may be obtained from Eileen Levitt, pre-school director.

Sprinkle salt on damp mud spots on your rug. Give the salt at least 15 minutes to soak up the mud, then vacuum up and away.

"Colorful Universe"

To Debut April 3

The astronomer's new abilities to study the sky and gather information from various types of light other than visible will be the basis for the Newark Museum Planetarium show, "The Colorful Universe," which opens April 3 and continues through June 27.

Public performances are offered on Saturdays and Sundays at 2 and 3 p.m. A small general admission is charged.

Hatchery Open House Set for March 28

The annual open house at the Charles O. Hayford State Fish Hatchery in Hackettstown will be held on Sunday, March 28.

This annual event presents an opportunity to view New Jersey's fish-rearing facilities, and to learn first hand what is involved in fish stocking programs.

It also affords the freshwater fisherman with a sneak preview of what will be in store for the coming trout season. Pre-season trout stocking, by the way, will get underway later this month.

There are more than one million fish, in various stages of growth, now in the hatchery. These include lake trout, brook trout, rainbow trout, and brown trout, as well as bass, channel catfish, northern pike and tiger muskies.

Tours of the hatchery will be held to display fish in all stages of development. It is an educational experience that is well worth the effort.

The Charles O. Hayford State Fish Hatchery was established in 1912 and most of the trout production there is about to be phased out. A new hatchery at Pequest is nearing completion and should be ready for operation in 1983. The present fish hatchery will then be devoted primarily to the rearing of warm-water species for stocking.

Also available at the open house will be a number of publications relating to trout and fishing in New Jersey, as well as other statewide publications. Anglers will also be able to get a jump on the season by being able to buy their 1982 fishing licenses and trout stamps.

This is a major event and fishermen and those who would like to be fishermen are urged to attend. The program runs from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., and children are welcomed.
