

Mayor Chin Declines Third Term

Westfield Mayor Allen Chin announced today that he will decline to seek the nomination for a third term as Westfield Mayor.

"It is with much personal regret that I will not seek a third term as Mayor," Mayor Chin said. "I have thoroughly enjoyed the office of Mayor during these last three years and three months. I have found it very rewarding and gratifying in meeting so many of our Westfield citizens on a personal basis. These Westfielders have been very friendly and warm and have shown compassionate understanding of the problems that the local governing body faces in dealing with finances, town services, residents' complaints and ever rising taxes. The most enjoyable part of the Mayor's job has been meeting the young people of Westfield. Their enthusiasm and interest in our Town is very encouraging and enlightening.

"My decision not to seek re-election has been made with the comfortable knowledge that there are many well-qualified individuals who are ready and willing to take on the office of Mayor. It is only fitting then that more people are able to share in the very satisfying and rewarding experience that I have personally encountered as the Mayor of Westfield.

"The Mayoral task is not a difficult one since it is supported by a dedicated, loyal and efficient professional Town staff. Westfield is fortunate in having such a reliable, full-time staff that makes the job of elected officials such as myself much easier, and it has been my pleasure to work closely with these fine individuals.

"It has been my policy and the policy of the Westfield Mayors preceding me to place the Town's interest ahead of politics. This is why Westfield has remained a unique, outstanding residential community. I am confident that my successors will adopt and enforce the same policy.

"As to any future political endeavors, I plan to keep my options open and I wish to thank the people of Westfield for giving me the opportunity to serve them," Chin concluded.

School Election to Continue April 20

Insuring the Democratic Voting Process — School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene shows Jennifer Sellne and Michael Leegan, sixth grade students at Franklin School, sealed voting machine which was used Tuesday for the annual school election, called off by executive order of Governor Kean who declared a state of emergency after voting began. Jennifer's mother had voted on Tuesday so her ballot is sealed in the machine. Michael said his parents plan to vote on April 20 when polls will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. for the rescheduled school election.

It sounded like an April fool's joke but it wasn't — Governor Kean cancelled the school election Tuesday with an executive order declaring a state of emergency due to a freak April snowstorm.

Unfortunately, the governor's order to call off the election occurred after the polls had opened.

The votes of citizens who cast their ballots on Tuesday are sealed in the voting booths. School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene, acting secretary of the Westfield Board of Education, and Samuel A. Soprano, acting assistant superintendent for business, visited each of the four polling places in Westfield on Tuesday to see that the booths were sealed according to instructions from the attorney general's office and locked. The machines will remain in the schools until April 20, when the election will take place from 2 to 9 p.m. Official voter signature books and the keys to the machines were returned to the Union County Elections Board yesterday.

Voters who cast their ballots on Tuesday, April 6, will not be able to vote again on Tuesday, April 20. Voters who did not get to the polls on Tuesday, April 6, may cast their ballots on Tuesday, April 20.

The candidates and the school budget amounts remain the same for the rescheduled election. Voting times and places also remain the same: 2 to 9 p.m.

Architects Unveil Proposals to Expand Present Library Facilities Underground

Four unique plans to expand library space at the Municipal Building site on East Broad St. — with price tags ranging from $1.5 million to $3.5 million — were presented to the Memorial Library board of trustees at a special meeting Monday night.

The board is expected to consider these options — as well as alternatives to expand the adult library in present quarters and move the children's library to Grant School, and another to consolidate library facilities with those at the high school — at its regular board meeting Thursday, April 15.

Its decision on expansion plans is expected to be presented to the Town Council next month. Should the council opt for library expansion, the project could possibly be presented to voters in a referendum next November.

Models and plans of the expansion possibilities, as well as tape recordings of the three architects' presentations Monday night are on view in the Wateunk Room of the Municipal Building. Residents are urged not only to review the suggestions, but make some written ones of their own for deposit in a box for that purpose at the display.

The three architects, Musial-Guerra of Elizabeth, Bauman, Blanche and Faridy of Trenton, and Eckman, Sincox and Bader of Westfield, were commissioned by the Town Council last year to submit plans for possible expansion of the library at its current site. Council authorized a total of $16,000 for the feasibility studies in a decision stemming from an earlier Fry Associates, library consultants, report that present facilities of the town library are inadequate.

Expansion at the East Broad St. site was cited in the Fry report as the least expensive method to obtain the desired room.

Least expensive of the architects' plans submitted Monday night was one by the Trenton firm which

Vacation Now... Work in June

Tuesday's no-school "snow day" was a vacation day from school for students and staff members but the spring fling will add a day of school to the end-of-the-year calendar. The last day of school for the 1981-82 school term will be Tuesday, June 23.

The school calendar shows Friday, June 18, as the final day of school; however, two snow-days have to be added to the calendar to provide students with the state-mandated 180 days of school. The first no-school "snow day" was declared on Dec. 16.

If there are no more no-school days, school will be in session for full school days through Friday, June 18, and Monday and Tuesday, June 21 and 22, will be half-days of school.

Brown to Succeed Ches McCracken

Henry B.R. Brown of 585 Highland Ave., founder of the first of the now more than 50 "money funds" in existence, has been selected to replace Chesney McCracken as a representative to Town Council from the first ward.

McCracken resigned his post March 25 because he has accepted a position at a Boston bank and is moving from Westfield.

Brown was one of three candidates interviewed Tuesday night by members of the Town Council. Others were Mrs. Eleanor Kalbacher and Donald W. Belcher.

Brown is expected to be sworn into office at Tuesday night's meeting of the Town Council.

The new first ward councilman, a Republican, has been a long time resident of Westfield and is married to Dr. Betsy Brown. The couple has four children.

A graduate of Shady Side Academy in Pittsburgh, Pa., the 56-year-old Brown also is an alumnus of The Choate School and received a bachelor's degree in economics and chemistry from Harvard. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

For the last 12 years Brown has been chairman of The Reserve Fund Inc., New York, which designs systems and software for in-house shareholder servicing for some 260,000 accounts and assets of several hundred billion dollars. Since 1968 he also has been a partner in Brown & Bent, New York, a firm involved in investment banking, corporate finance, leasing, tax shelters, private placements and consulting work on underwriting, mergers and acquisitions.

Previously Brown had been affiliated with Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America, (Continued last page, this section)

Mother Nature dealt an unusual spring blow Tuesday with about a foot of snow and high winds. This tall pine, about 70 feet high, fell across a driveway at 509 Parkview Ave. Other residents also reported storm damage. Schools and many offices and stores were closed and the school election machinery came to a standstill about an hour after polls opened.

Council Approves Video Games License

A license to operate two video game machines was granted to Larry Darrow, owner of the Prospectors Store on Prospect St. at a special public meeting of the Town Council Tuesday night over the objections of Councilman John Brady, C. Garland Boothe and Betty List. Five votes favored the license.

Unanimously approved was performance permit for a pop/rock concert at Westfield High School Saturday night.

The video games license is the result of a compromise settlement reached between the Town Council and Darrow and agreed to by Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller. The town will permit the licensing of the two games — but never a larger number at these premises — in return for Darrow's dropping an appeal of a prior decision of Judge Feller upholding a previous denial of the license as well as a court challenge of the town's $1,100 licensing fee at least until the end of this year.

Council is expected to review its fee ordinance by the end of December.

895 Westfield Acres Due For Gypsy Moth Spray in May

Roughly a quarter of Westfield, encompassing 895 of the town's 4,000 acres are tentatively scheduled for aerial spraying of Sevin May 14 or 15 to combat damaging infestations of gypsy moths. The program was outlined at a public information meeting attended by about 30 residents at the Municipal Building Thursday evening.

The $8,000 program, funded partially by the State, will be conducted by New Jersey authorities around 5 a.m. on the designated dates following preparation and delineation of spray areas through balloon displays erected by town crews beginning at 3 a.m. Dissemination of the spray is expected to be completed within 15 minutes.

The area to be sprayed is roughly bounded by Route 22 on the north, Scotch Plains on the west, North and Dudley Aves. (Continued last page, this section)

Board Approves Conversion, Subdivision

Monday night's meeting of the Planning Board was slightly delayed in starting as the group had to wait to achieve a quorum. After the fifth member appeared, the board heard and approved the applications of Dr. Joseph Katz to convert property at 127 South Euclid Ave. from residential to professional use and Eva Duels to create a subdivision at 708 Garfield Ave. Both applicants had appeared before the board at recent meetings.

Dr. Katz, whose appeal was held over from the March meeting, was seeking approval for a site plan and three variances for the Euclid Ave. property which is located in a professional zone. He intends to use the building for his ophthalmic practice. He also plans to construct a 400 sq. ft. addition to the side of the structure. Unanimous approval was granted subject to three conditions: He must reduce the driveway from 18 to 17 ft., the sign he plans to place in front of the property must conform to town regulations and planings at the rear of the property must be approved by the Town Engineer.

Town Council Session Tuesday

The appointment of Henry B.R. Brown as first ward councilman, approval of the 1982 operating budget, an agreement with the Police Benevolent Association and introduction of an ordinance on road maintenance and

Eva Duels first appeared at the January meeting of the board in an attempt to subdivide her 108 ft. by 150 ft. property into two lots. At that time numerous residents of the Germantown and Wychwood sections of Westfield raised objections to the application claiming that increased density would lower real estate values in the area. Board attorney Edward Hobbie advised the board, at the February meeting, that the application was not substantially different from one which had been denied in 1965. The board then applied "res judicata," which means that the case had already been decided, and voted that they had no jurisdiction in the application.

Violators who let dogs roam — or perhaps leave droppings on lawns or streets — are subject to fines under local ordinances.

Saturday Night Concert Has Rocky Road to Stage

In an unprecedented two-hour Friday night session, the Westfield Board of Education, in a 6-2 vote, approved the rental of the auditorium to Tom Polman of Carol Road, whose Bouncing Balls, a group primarily comprised of Westfield High School graduates, hopes to impress representatives from Columbia Record Co., executives from other record companies, club owners and critics, as well as others in the audience.

The Town Council, at a special session Tuesday night, unanimously approved a performance license for the show, produced by Polman, Drew Kastner and Tender Records.

The last-minute approvals were granted — but not without considerable debate — when it was revealed last week that the application for rental had not been processed, apparently because the insurance guarantee had not been submitted by the young musicians. The concert producers also failed to realize that a license must be granted by the Town Council. The school board's operations and facilities committee met Thursday night with concert representatives, Police Captain Al Vardalis and Deputy Fire Chief Paul Battiloro. Additional problems arose the following day when it was discovered that the electrical system at the high school could be inadequate for the elaborate sound and light show which will accompany the performance.

The rental agreement is contingent upon a number of conditions imposed by a questioning board Friday night.

Among the conditions are the restrictions to 1107 maximum attendees, compliance with personal and property damage liability insurance decreed by board counsel, police observance, inspection of the generator by licensed (Continued last page, this section)

Lunar Disc Program At Jefferson

Jefferson School fifth and sixth graders were guests at a special program presented recently by Paul Edelson.

Edelson and Marshall Fine, both secondary science teachers in Westfield, have attended a seminar conducted by the Lunar Sample Education Project, based in Houston, Texas. Completion of this training, held at the Godard Space Center in Greenbelt, Md. entitled them to the temporary use of one of 100 "lunar discs", made from the lunar samples brought back by the Apollo program.

These samples, carefully stored in solid nitrogen and guarded from interaction with nitrogen or water, have had thin slices removed from them. Six slices (three soil and three rock samples) are mounted in each lunar disc.

Edelson and Fine visited the six Westfield elementary schools during March, presenting a program which encompassed a film entitled "The Solar System" and visits to the sixth grade classrooms with an audio-visual presentation "Reading The Moon's Secrets", viewing of the lunar disc, and activity work sheets.

Bunnies, Eggs and Stollen

Anneliese recently returned from a visit to her native Austria, and in a flurry of inspiration developed an Easter Stollen which is absolutely exceptional.

Stollen is a yeast bread rich with eggs (from chickens, not rabbits), golden raisins, currants (also not from rabbits), almonds, rum and exotic spices.

Although we bake it fresh every day, the subtle but rich flavor should be given a few days to develop and mellow before being devoured.

Anneliese also makes an Easter Basket out of bread which really holds eggs and can be a beautiful centerpiece for your dining room table. (Made to order only.)

The Easter Stollen and the Easter Basket are available at Cooky's, 107 East Broad Street in Westfield, or call us at 233-7268 to reserve your Easter treat.

Candy Striper Likes Job, Feeling of "Being Appreciated"

By Marie Muscarnera
WHS News Bureau

Many people have heard of the term "candy striper" but many do not understand exactly what a candy striper is. Westfield high school currently has a sophomore, Ellen Pluta, who is working as a candy striper at Rahway Hospital once a week after school.

A candy striper is a volunteer worker at a hospital. The name "candy striper" comes from the pin striped uniforms that the volunteers wear.

Most people do not know that being a candy striper involves "I do what doctors and nurses don't have time for," says Ellen. For example, Ellen might deliver flowers, deliver meals, run errands for nurses, make beds, and sometimes run a patient to X-Ray.

"So far, I've worked more with older people. I deliver their meals and sometimes feed them if they're too weak," says Ellen. Ellen also feels the patients enjoy her company because doctors and nurses are often too busy to see them.

Ellen used to think about being a candy striper, and a while ago when her sister was in the hospital she decided to do something about becoming one.

After finding out about her interest in volunteer work, Ellen's mother went to Rahway for some applications. Ellen was soon scheduled for a personal interview with the head of the volunteer department and before she knew it, Ellen had an orientation of the hospital and a quick lesson in nursing.

Ellen really enjoys her job; she feels that it is a great experience and a big responsibility. "But what's most rewarding is knowing that people appreciate it."

Rahway Hospital employs about 100 candy strippers, all of whom are either junior high or high school students.

The Colonial Chorus, local chapter of SPEBSQSA (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.) is displaying its memorabilia in the Barrett & Crain window at 43 Elm St.

The occasion is the celebration of Harmony Month this month. The society was founded by Owen C. Cash and Rupert Hall on April 11, 1938 in Tulsa, Okla., has grown to an international membership of 37,000 with chapters in Canada, Great Britain and several Scandinavian countries. There are 750 chapters with 1500 registered quartets.

Featured in the window is the Richard C. Berry trophy presented to the winner of the Novice Quartet Contest, this year's winner was the quartet "Next Edition" from Somerset Hills, Plainfield. Richard Berry was the second national director of the chorus. At the rear of the window is the banner which is displayed whenever the chorus sings in a contest or function.

Four or five colored photographs of the chorus in action taken by Roger McQuaid's son, Tod, with a telephoto lens, are included. The most colorful are the pictures of the chorus dressed in clown suits for one of its shows.

Also on display in the Realtors' window are Current Homes for Sale.

$170,000 "Windfall" For Westfield?

Assemblyman Edward K. Gill (R-Dist.21) announced today that Governor Thomas Kean's office has confirmed with him the release of 75% of the anticipated excess increases in the franchise and gross receipts revenue to be used by each municipality to stabilize or reduce property tax.

The practice of incorporating anticipated franchise and gross receipts taxes in making up a municipal budget is generally accepted. Most municipalities budget slightly less than the actual receipts realized the year before. The dramatic increase in utility costs in the past few years, with its accompanying increase in taxes has produced another source of revenue new to municipality budgets. This is the anticipated increase of tax revenues in excess of the usual anticipated revenues. This is the source the Governor is offering to municipalities to help cut taxes for property owners.

In the 21st District the following communities can anticipate these approximate "windfalls": Cranford, $188,000; Garwood, $27,000 and Kenilworth, $68,000. Roselle, $105,000; Roselle Park, $55,000 and Springfield, $110,000. Hillside can expect approximately $148,000, Westfield, $170,000 and Union, $314,000.

"This move is consistent with the Governor's campaign promise to cut taxes whenever possible. I am pleased," Gill concluded, "to be part of an administration that is demonstrating its determination to return to the people the funds, the power and the decisions that are rightfully theirs."

"Little Women" in Rehearsal

Rehearsals are underway for "Little Women," a dramatization of Louisa May Alcott's popular novel about a New England family during the Civil War. The play will be presented May 21 and 22 by the Westfield Drama Workshop at the Elm Street School.

The adaptation by Sara Spenser contains all the comic and dramatic highlights of the book: a Christmas play that ends abruptly in a pile of collapsed scenery; the first acceptance of a story by Jo; a siege of scarlet fever; the wounding of Father in the war; and, finally, a happy family reunion.

Included in the double cast are Toni Garbowski, Carol Culligan, Alvina McTeigue, Andrea Malkin, Amy Metroka and Kathy Jo Yuengal as the March sisters, the little women of the title. Their mother is played by Christine Brennan and Jennifer Yuengal. Gretchen Kreamling and Deirdre Watson portray their crotchety aunt. Others in the cast are Frank McTeigue, Bill Moran, Karen Voorhees, Sarah Stevens, and Andrew Elby.

The Drama Workshop is sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Department and is directed by Jan Elby.

Christopher Academy Registration Begins

The Christopher Academy of Westfield announces registration for the 1982-83 school year. The academy was started in 1963 by a group of parents who wanted Montessori education for their children. The school began, on its present site, with eight children in the morning and afternoon sessions. As the school grew, specially designed classrooms were built and in 1981 The Christopher Academy enrolled 104 children.

Further information is available at the Christopher Academy, 510 Hillcrest Ave.

The Knights of Columbus, the largest Roman Catholic lay organization in the world, marked its centennial this week in New Haven, according to the present local leader John Scruton of Msgr. Waterson Council 1711. The international organization dedicated a museum highlighting its history and re-interred the body of its founder in the church where he organized the society.

Over the years, the Knights have been linked with progressive programs in the church. In the 1950's, the society was one of the most vocal anti-Communist groups in the country. Today, the fraternity is trying to reflect the church's concern for the underprivileged and for family life. While still promoting patriotism among its members, the fraternity stresses the works of charity and social service among its local councils.

The local council in Westfield is presently sponsoring its annual drive for the Charity Fund. A community appeal will be sought before April 23. All funds received are donated to local persons or charitable causes.

"Saturday Night Live?"

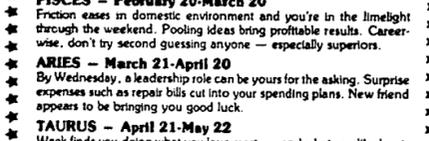

It's quite possible that the Board of Education might be criticized for the stringent list of conditions imposed upon a mostly-Westfield group of young musicians scheduled to give at least at the time of the Leader's deadline-a pop/rock concert Saturday night in the auditorium of Westfield High School.

Who knows? Perhaps the future careers of several Westfield residents hinges on Saturday night's performance and someday they will claim "it started in the old hometown?"

At stake, for sure, is the future of other such concerts. It would seem doubtful that boards of education would again bend easily to last minute pleas such as those last week (although, unfortunately, it established a precedent which could be argued at some other time).

Of greater importance, perhaps, is the "track record" which Saturday's event will establish as far complaints registered, and control and conduct of the crowd before, during and after the concert.

THE GREAT DEBATE

The creation-evolution debate between Dr. Gish and Dr. Doolittle has not yet been aired on national television. The latest information is that it will be shown sometime in the spring.

Gish opened by pointing out there are two different explanations for the origin of the universe and the life it contains. He said let both sides present their scientific evidences, excluding the religious materials, and let students decide for themselves.

Doolittle's rebuttal began by addressing the question: if there is more evidence for a supernatural origin for the creation, why does it have to be the Christian one? He mentioned proofs for man's alleged ape ancestry, claiming that while there are gaps in the fossil record, there are no gaps in the molecular record of evolution.

Gish pointed out the difference between a living system, and a sterile earth, which had no energy conversion as life needs it. In answering the challenge of dating the earth Gish said the debate was not about the "when," but the "how."

In the summary Doolittle said that to put creationism in the classroom is to handicap America. He asserted that human chemistry reflects bacterial chemistry, thus reflecting our evolutionary roots. Saying that creationism is "pseudoscience" he stated that, "Only by an understanding of the logic of evolution are we going to understand the problems that we face as a civilization today."

When we arrived at the theater with my father (who was going to make sure we got in) the people at the theater wouldn't let us in; they said that if we wanted to see the movie, my father would also have to buy a ticket to see the movie he had already seen.

creationism is a viable, understandable and plausible theory for the creation point." Dr. Provine explained that he is an atheist and is convinced of evolution, but he believes in an open discussion of ideas. He is convinced that students will accept evolutionism rather than creationism in the classroom.

Dr. Colin Patterson of the British Museum of Natural History, where he is editor and a respected scientist, is having profound impact in U.S. scientific circles. In a lecture last November he said, "it struck me that I had been working on this stuff for twenty years and there was not one thing I knew about it... (on the changes in evolutionary theory he stated) Well, natural selection is under fire and we hear a raft of new and alternative theories. I've heard four in the last six weeks."

LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD

In a forest of green I once proudly stood And ranked with the tallest of trees. My trunk was firm and designed to secure a long-lasting economic recovery. As a nation we have to be prepared to ride it out for our ultimate economic health and growth. We didn't become great overnight. We didn't fall into this economic abyss overnight, and we can't turn the bleak picture around overnight.

Because the Joint Appropriations Committee is now meeting to work on the state's budget, as a member of that committee I have received considerable mail on the subject. Some samples follow: QUESTION: I object to Governor Kean cutting local aid to education. The education of our children, our most precious assets, is or should be, our utmost priority. I thought our Governor believed in education too. SPR, Garwood.

ANSWER: Confusion seems to exist on the part of the media, some members of Congress and in many taxpayers' minds between the New Federalism which returns decision-making to the states, and the President's budget proposals calling for reduced spending. They are really two separate ideas. The return of authority to the states and the tax dollars to pay for those programs is based on the belief that because states are closer to the people, they can better manage the programs whether spending levels are changed or not.

County Government: Cooperation across Town Line

from county residents to a local professional agent or agents who in turn have access to the specialists at Rutgers Cook College.

This arrangement, a truly cooperative one, emerged from a 1914 Act of Congress which conceived a partnership of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the state land-grant universities and the local county governments to help the people of the United States improve their standards of living within home and community. The Cooperative Extension Service exists today in all 50 states and U.S. Territories.

Each county separately agrees to organize an Extension Service. In New Jersey, every county has one and each is connected to Cook College at Rutgers University, the state's land-grant institution. Sussex County established the first Cooperative Extension Service in New Jersey. As in other areas, its Service was begun through the local department of agriculture. Union County, however, was the first to originate the Service through the Board of Freeholders. In 1930, the Freeholders initiated a home economics division which was followed in 1935 by the agricultural unit.

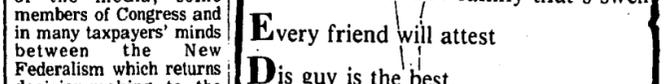

Funding is a cooperative venture, too - 40 percent federal, 30 percent state and 30 percent county. Backed by tax monies, the Union County Cooperative Extension Service is able to offer professional advice, lectures and courses free of cost, except for an occasional small fee to cover materials.

For youths, 4-H programs foster personal responsibility as children move toward adulthood. In Union County, 4-H youngsters, as one of their projects, raise puppies for the Seeing-Eye Foundation, fully prepared to give the dogs - just as farm children in 4-H raise their own calves, foals and other livestock. (I will write a separate article with more details about Union County's 4-H program at the time of the annual 4-H Fair, Sept. 11-12).

Each adjunct of the Extension Service has its own crops of volunteers, such as the 85-member Home Economics Extension Council. Some volunteers, trained to teach Extension courses in local towns, go on to paid teaching positions with formal Adult Education programs offered in many communities. One of the Extension Service's most energetic endeavors is the Nutrition Education Program, a one-to-one effort to guide limited-income families in achieving higher food value per budgeted dollar. Cook College community assistants actually go into each home to help with meal planning, shopping and the like. A newsletter, issued quarterly by the Nutrition Education Program to a mailing list of 5,000, is available to any county resident upon request.

The County Extension's office is headed by Carolyn Y. Healey, senior county agent-home economist. Ellawese McLendon and Gwen Waranis are staff home economists and Steve Bacheider is the agricultural agent. To remove a ballpoint-stain (with glycerine), find out how to cook with tofu or discover why your sassafras is suffering, call, write or visit the appropriate expert at the Extension Service, 300 North Ave., E. Westfield, 07090; telephone 233-9366.

CHUCK HARDWICK YOUR VOICE IN TRENTON

Spring is not just time for buds to appear, it's budget time again in New Jersey as well as in the nation's capitol. New Jersey's Governor Kean has inherited a $527 million deficit, the worst economic situation any governor has inherited since the depression. In Washington, political observers have said President Reagan has inherited the worst economy since FDR. Both President Reagan and Governor Kean are pursuing a course of action to make up for past mistakes. It's a slow, difficult and painful process but the steady moderate course both leaders are taking is

ANSWER: Confusion seems to exist on the part of the media, some members of Congress and in many taxpayers' minds between the New Federalism which returns decision-making to the states, and the President's budget proposals calling for reduced spending. They are really two separate ideas. The return of authority to the states and the tax dollars to pay for those programs is based on the belief that because states are closer to the people, they can better manage the programs whether spending levels are changed or not.

The proposed budget is a separate issue which Congress will debate, to determine at what level of spending various programs should be funded. The concept of New Federalism doesn't necessarily mean budget cuts. Rather, New Federalism refers to a sorting out of responsibilities as to which level of government can best handle which programs. Given a chance to work, the New Federalism should enable people to be better served and to receive the most from all government programs.

Latin Students Qualify For State Convention

Who slew the Nemean lion, cleaned the Aegean stables, and brought three-headed Cerberus back from the Underworld? The answers to these and many other questions on Latin and ancient Greek subjects were offered by students from Westfield High School's certamen team last week as a part of the New Jersey Junior Classical League college-bowl competition.

Willis Martyn, team captain, Gordon Schantz, John Ertmann and Andrew Elby form the upper division college-bowl team that brought victory to WHS. Margaret Siecke, team captain, Danny Fitzgerald, Bill Macaluso and Hans Dieterich composed the Lower Division team. toes and abbreviations. Last Saturday both Westfield teams vied with representatives from Cranford, Wayne Valley, DePaul Diocesan, and Mahwah high schools.

In the upper division Westfield finished first while in the lower division Westfield came in third place. The upper team will now move on to State JCL

Convention April 24 at Gateway High School to battle against the southern champions of Atlantic City High School. If Westfield's upper division team should win on April 24 and become state certamen champions, it will proceed to the National Junior Classical League Convention, at the University of Oklahoma in August.

Westfield Summer Workshop Opens Registration for 1982 Season

The Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts has released its brochures of course offerings for the 1982 season and will begin to accept registrations this month. The five week program of instruction in the fine and performing arts opens June 28 and continues through July 30. Workshop director, Theodore Schlosberg, will accept registrations by mail all during April and has scheduled personal registration and auditions beginning April 26 on Monday through Thursday at Edison Jr. High School, room 133, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Classes are offered in instrumental and vocal music, dance, drama, writing, fine arts, crafts and special interest fields including photography, kite design, chess magic and twirling. The Workshop schedule includes five periods daily, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Students may select classes from any department and may elect to attend for selected periods or selected weeks but must attend for a minimum of two weeks including week one in order to receive basic instruction in each class. Schlosberg and his staff hand schedule each student being careful to place each at the proper ability level. Therefore, students interested in music courses must audition for any placement above beginner's level.

The new brochure introduces several special programs for the 1982 season. In addition to many ensemble groups for instrumental music students on each level, the workshop will form a performing orchestra from proficient students ages 13 through adult. The orchestra will present evening performances and should be a valuable experience for its members since the four weeks of instruction will include three full rehearsals and one session devoted to sectional coaching each week. Barbara Barstow will direct the group. She is director of the New Jersey Prep Orchestra of Union County and has directed all-state orchestras.

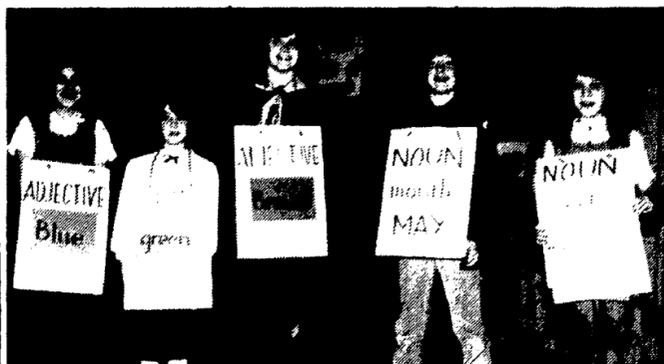

The drama department will present a junior and senior musical production and a dramatic "summer stock" group will perform a play based on the work of Kurt Vonnegut. Dance offerings include new courses in western clog dancing, jazz aerobics and Tai Chi Chuan, an ancient Chinese art form which is enjoying renewed popularity. Photography and chess offerings have been broadened and a complete range of twirling classes appear in the new brochure.

Workshop students are accepted from all of Union county and the surrounding towns and students from four-years-old to adults can find courses tailored to their specific needs. Preschoolers enter this summer program with a self-contained program of "hands-on" creative experiences designed to provide language enrichment and school readiness. Master classes of private and semi-private instruction are available in music, drama, mime, dance or fine arts.

"The Workshop provides a unique experience for our students," says Schlosberg. "The very best instructors work in small classes in an informal atmosphere. Both instructors and students are here because they want to be and so much is accomplished." Schlosberg stresses that each student has the opportunity to perform or exhibit his work as well as the opportunity to explore many creative experiences during each summer season.

To insure preferred scheduling, students are encouraged to register early. For information or brochure they may contact Westfield Summer Workshop, P.O. Box 507, Westfield, NJ 07091.

The creation-evolution debate between Dr. Gish and Dr. Doolittle has not yet been aired on national television. The latest information is that it will be shown sometime in the spring. The debate, however, has taken place and the Bible-Science Newsletter printed a brief review in the March issue. For those who are interested I have prepared a summary.

Creationism is a viable, understandable and plausible theory for the creation point." Dr. Provine explained that he is an atheist and is convinced of evolution, but he believes in an open discussion of ideas. He is convinced that students will accept evolutionism rather than creationism in the classroom.
The Bible-Science Newsletter reports that three prominent British scientists have abandoned evolution. Astronomers Sir Fred Hoyle and Chandra (Wickramasinghe), although not a creationist, testified in support of the State of Arkansas about his anti-Darwinism position recently and paleontologist Colin Patterson have put the evolutionary world in a spin by renouncing essential tenets of the theory on which they had built their careers.

Of Christ's death, which the dogwood still mourns;
That never again shall this tree be destroyed,
But cherished in sad memory
Of the day when the dogwood was used for the cross
On which Christ paid the death penalty.

Spring is not just time for buds to appear, it's budget time again in New Jersey as well as in the nation's capitol. New Jersey's Governor Keane has inherited a $527 million deficit, the worst economic situation any governor has inherited since the depression. In Washington, political observers have said President Reagan has inherited the worst economy since FDR. Both President Reagan and Governor Keane are pursuing a course of action to make up for past mistakes.

County Government: Cooperation across Town Line

from county residents to a local professional agent or agents who in turn have access to the specialists at Rutgers Cook College.
This arrangement, a truly cooperative one, emerged from a 1914 Act of Congress which conceived a partnership of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the state land-grant universities and the local county governments to help the people of the United States improve their standards of living within home and community. The Cooperative Extension Service exists today in all 50 states and U.S. Territories.
Each county separately agrees to organize an Extension Service. In New Jersey, every county has one and each is connected to Cook College at Rutgers University, the state's land-grant institution. Sussex County established the first Cooperative Extension Service in New Jersey. As in other areas, its Service was begun through the local department of agriculture. Union County, however, was the first to originate the Service through the Board of Freeholders. In 1930, the Freeholders initiated a home economics division which was followed in 1935 by the agricultural unit.

Latin Students Qualify For State Convention

Who slew the Nemean lion, cleaned the Aegean stables, and brought three-headed Cerberus back from the Underworld? The answers to these and many other questions on Latin and ancient Greek subjects were offered by students from Westfield High School's certamen team last week as a part of the New Jersey Junior Classical League college-bowl competition.

Willis Martyn, team captain, Gordon Schantz, John Ertmann and Andrew Elby form the upper division college-bowl team that brought victory to WHS. Margaret Siecke, team captain, Danny Fitzgerald, Bill Macaluso and Hans Dietherich composed the Lower Division team. Certamen — the Latin word for contest — is made up of four team members who have developed an expertise in Latin grammar, mythology, ancient history and geography, word derivations and Latin mottoes and abbreviations. Last Saturday both Westfield teams vied with representatives from Cranford, Wayne Valley, DePaul Diocesan, and Mahwah high schools. In the upper division Westfield finished first while in the lower division Westfield came in third place. The upper team will now move on to State JCL

Convention April 24 at Gateway High School to battle against the southern champions of Atlantic City High School. If Westfield's upper division team should win on April 24 and become state certamen champions, it will proceed to the National Junior Classical League Convention, at the University of Oklahoma in August.

The following day, Wednesday, April 14 features four programs. Third through seventh graders will go on a 9:30 a.m. "History Hike" while four and five year olds will learn what animal and plant names begin with D, E and F during "Alphabet Loops" at 1 p.m. Children of all ages can learn about "The Space Shuttle" at the 2:30 p.m. planetarium show. Schlosberg Heads May Festival

Kean College Department of Music and American String Teachers Association-New Jersey are co-sponsors of the Junior-Senior High School Orchestra Festival to be held in Kean College Wilkins Theater, Morris Ave., Union Wednesday, May 26 from 9:30 to 3 p.m. Initiated in 1970 by Theodore Schlosberg, Festival coordinator, to encourage young string students in orchestral performance, the Festival has been expanded this year from the junior high school level to include students in grades 10 through 12. Adjudication will be based upon each orchestra's selected material, and not on a competitive basis.

String and Symphony Orchestra directors who are interested in receiving a registration form should contact Schlosberg at the Thomas A. Edison Junior High School in Westfield.

Joni Lee Jones At Kean April 16

Joni Lee Jones, a member of Collective I Theatre Company Washington, D.C. will present "The Harlem Renaissance Revisited," an oral interpretation of classical black literature at 12:15 p.m. April 16, in the Little Theater at Kean college of New Jersey.

The program is free and open to the public.

Inspired with patriotism, Brian Cook, Brian Hay, Miko Matsui and Janeen Dalassandris perform on their tonettes to the enjoyment of "Uncle Sam," also known as Deborah McCullam, their music teacher.

The occasion was a recent Music Assembly held at Jefferson School for grades K through 3 to celebrate President's Day. Accompanied by sixth graders Michele Beese, Karen Berry and Nancy McSatis on the piano, Mrs. McCullam led the children in various songs for the occasion.

Westfield Summer Workshop Opens Registration for 1982 Season

The Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts has released its brochures of course offerings for the 1982 season and will begin to accept registrations this month. The five week program of instruction in the fine and performing arts opens June 28 and continues through July 30. Workshop director, Theodore Schlosberg, will accept registrations by mail all during April and has scheduled personal registration and auditions beginning April 26 on Monday through Thursday at Edison Jr. High School, room 133, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Classes are offered in instrumental and vocal music, dance, drama, writing, fine arts, crafts and special interest fields including photography, kite design, chess magic and twirling. The Workshop schedule includes five periods daily, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Students may select classes from any department and may elect to attend for selected periods or selected weeks but must attend for a minimum of two weeks including week one in order to receive basic instruction in each class. Schlosberg and his staff hand schedule each student being careful to place each at the proper ability level. Therefore, students interested in music courses must audition for any placement above beginner's level.

The new brochure introduces several special programs for the 1982 season. In addition to many ensemble groups for instrumental music students on each level, the workshop will form a performing orchestra from proficient students ages 13 through adult. The orchestra will present evening performances and should be a valuable experience for its members since the four weeks of instruction will include three full rehearsals and one session devoted to sectional coaching each week. Barbara Barstow will direct the group. She is director of the New Jersey Prep Orchestra of Union County and has directed all-state orchestras.

The drama department will present a junior and senior musical production and a dramatic "summer stock" group will perform a play based on the work of Kurt Vonnegut. Dance offerings include new courses in western clog dancing, jazz aerobics and Tai Chi Chuan, an ancient Chinese art form which is enjoying renewed popularity. Photography and chess offerings have been broadened and a complete range of twirling classes appear in the new brochure. Workshop students are accepted from all of Union county and the surrounding towns and students from four-years-old to adults can find courses tailored to their specific needs. Preschoolers enter this summer program with a self-contained program of "hands-on" creative experiences designed to provide language enrichment and school readiness. Master classes of private and semi-private instruction are available in music, drama, mime, dance or fine arts.

"The Workshop provides a unique experience for our students," says Schlosberg. "The very best instructors work in small classes in an informal atmosphere. Both instructors and students are here because they want to be and so much is accomplished." Schlosberg stresses that each student has the opportunity to perform or exhibit his work as well as the opportunity to explore many creative experiences during each summer season. To insure preferred scheduling, students are encouraged to register early. For information or brochure they may contact Westfield Summer Workshop, P.O. Box 507, Westfield, NJ 07091.

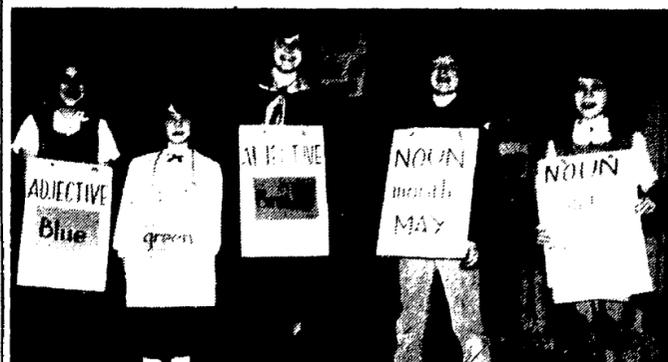

Youth Preparatory Orchestra Rehearsing

Members of the New Jersey Youth Symphony Preparatory Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Barstow are preparing for their first annual spring concert to be held Sunday, May 9, at 3 p.m. at Roosevelt Junior High School.

The Preparatory Orchestra was established during the 1981-82 season as a training orchestra for young musicians. Nearly 100 young string players auditioned for membership early last fall. Forty strings were accepted and performed their first concert in January. Twenty nine new members have recently been accepted to complete the orchestra's woodwinds, brass and percussion sections. Twenty four New Jersey communities are represented in the full orchestra which will perform at the Spring Concert.

Vacation Day
Students, faculty and administrative staff at all five campuses within the Union County Community College System will have a vacation day on Good Friday tomorrow.

The Westfield Leader
Entered as second class mail matter at the Post Office at Westfield, New Jersey. Published weekly at 50 Elm St., Westfield, N.J. 07090. Subscription: $10.00 per year, 25 cents a copy, back issues 30 cents per copy.

Westfield Airman At Sheppard AFB

Airman James M. Personette, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Personette of 910 Cleveland Ave., has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training. During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations. Personette will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field. He is a 1981 graduate of Westfield Senior High School.

Moving and Kids: Avoid Perils, Accentuate Positive, Says Realtor

Moving to a new home — especially a long, cross-country move — can cause fatigue and confusion for adults, resulting in emotions running high and tempers short. But such a relocation can be even more traumatic for children, unless parents take steps to smooth the move, according to Henry L. Schwiering, vice president of Alan Johnston, Inc. of Mountainside, who has some words of advice for families facing such a move.

Moving has become common in America's mobile lifestyle. Statistics indicate that one out of five families moves annually, he says. Often, the effect of relocation on youngsters gets overlooked.

Alan Johnston Inc. is familiar with the potential problems faced by transferring families. The firm is a select member of RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service, a world-wide network of independent Realtors who offer special services at no extra cost to families which must sell a house in one area and buy a home in another. RELO is not-for-profit association with around 1,200 member companies, more than 2,900 offices and 35,000 licensed sales associates worldwide.

"Involve the kids, whatever their ages, in the initial planning of the relocation," advises Schwiering. "Tell them why the move is being contemplated. A promotion and reward for dad and mom usually is the reason. Treat the relocation as a desirable, even joyous event. The way parents feel about the move greatly influences the reaction of children."

Infants, of course, will be unaware and unconcerned about the transfer, but preschoolers will be. Schwiering counsels that such children not be parked with a babysitting relative during the relocation, but stay with the family.

"Little kids can be supplied with their own moving kits — a container of their favorite toys, clothing, etc. They need reassurance that the move will be fun."

Grade-school children are a different problem, he says. Their developing sense of discovery may make the move an exciting adventure. And even though the relocation means leaving friends and making new ones, such bonds at this age are rather easily severed, Schwiering notes.

Teenagers, the Westfield area Realtor says, "may be most affected, and the most resistant to pulling up family roots. They've developed social contacts, activity fields and friendships beyond the family circle."

"Frank discussions with your teenagers will provide clues to how you can help them readjust after the settling-in process. If possible, plan your move during the school year. Schools afford opportunities for making new friends and becoming involved with new activities."

Above all, Schwiering advises, find time to listen to what your children have to say about relocation, both before and after the event. "Making the move a whole-family is basic to success."

Sees July 1 Date For College Merger

The July 1, 1982 target date for the merger of Union College, Cranford, and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, remains attainable, Dr. Saul Orkin, chairman, reported last week at a meeting of the transition team at Union County Technical Institute.

Dr. Orkin reported a petition adopted by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders the previous Thursday to establish a public community college in Union County by joining the two institutions was submitted to the State Department of Higher Education on Friday and was reviewed on Monday and Tuesday by the Department's staff and Chancellor T. Edward Hollander.

The Department of Higher Education still has three major concerns, Dr. Orkin reported: personnel issues, including tenure and pensions, how the facilities of Union County Technical Institute will be made available to the new entity; and UCTI's $1.9 million debt to the Department of Higher Education.

The transition team authorized Dr. Orkin to arrange a meeting of County Attorney Robert Doherty and the attorneys of the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational Schools, which owns and operates UCTI, and of Union College to resolve the facilities use issue.

Dr. Orkin reported the Department of Higher Education is developing language for the proposed legislation to resolve the personnel issues. Team members Joseph Kopf of Cranford and Cynthia Niv of Springfield will consult with the faculty bargaining units of Union College and UCTI on these matters.

Dr. Orkin said all issues must be resolved by April 7, so the petition can go to the State Board of Higher Education before April 16.

The transition team agreed that Dr. Orkin, Kopf, and More should attend upcoming meetings of the faculties of Union College and Union County Technical Institute to inform them of the activities of the transition team.

The transition team reviewed several proposed administrative structures for the new entity and took them under advisement. There was agreement on a basic format, but a number of details need to be worked out, Dr. Orkin reported.

Twenty Westfield Students At Youth Gov't. Conclave

Twenty juniors and senior high school students from Westfield attended the 44th Annual YMCA Youth and Government Conference at the Hilton Inn, Trevose, Pa. and the State House, Trenton, March 25-27.

Representing the Westfield YMCA, each student served as a delegate of the Senate, House of Representatives or Page Corps. Patrice Monaghan, Jon Miller, Dave Harvey, Brendan Broderick and Salli Barash served as Senate members. Scott Johnston, Brad Maak, Rebecca Rozanski, Katie Miller, Shawn Keating, John Maslin, Rene Dierkes, Helen Carl, Jeff Weill, John Cichowski, Mike Hone and Mike Petriano served in the House of Representatives. Mark Rozanski, Sarah Fallows, and Susan Harvey served in the Page Corps where they were obligated to make discriminating judgment concerning messages and communications. Carol Snow, YMCA director and James Geoghegan, Westfield High School social studies teacher, served as advisors to the students. Mark Beckett, former Youth Governor, was the adult advisor to the Senate.

The students attended weekly meetings at the Westfield YMCA to prepare themselves with the legislative process and parliamentary procedure, and to gain experience in public speaking, debating and politicking. Each student had the opportunity to write or sponsor a piece of legislation in the areas of Education, Health and Welfare, Transportation, State and Local Affairs,

Natural Resources or Law and Public Safety. A total of 12 bills were written by the Westfield delegation concerning railroad improvements, juvenile sentencing, gun control, high school curriculum, transfer of dangerous wastes, police force composition, mental disorders, re-industrialization through tax incentives, reorganization of the penal system, protection against X-rays, waste disposal and adult criminal education.

Out of 174 bills written and sponsored by more than 350 students, only 18 were signed by the Youth Governor which included a bill written by Dave Harvey and sponsored by Brad Maak and Scott Johnston. Dave, who displayed legislative and parliamentary procedure knowledge and debating skills, was one of 15 students selected to participate in the National Affairs Conference to be held in Black Ridge, NC. This coming July. Patrice Monaghan was selected as an alternate to the conference because of her leadership ability and parliamentary procedure knowledge. Shawn Keating was selected by the House of Representatives to serve as Chaplain to give them inspirational talks and prayers.

At the conference, all the students gained experience in the theory and practice of determining public policy and displayed quality communication and leadership skills. The conference was especially meaningful because the students raised some of the conference fees through various fund raising events and received a generous contribution from the Y's Men's Club of Westfield.

To Get Tough On Bad Drivers

Chronic violators of New Jersey traffic laws would be taken off the road for a longer time, under a bill sponsored by Sen. Louis Bassano, R-Union, which passed the Senate Thursday.

It is part of a package of bills designed to crack down on bad drivers.

Under this bill, a habitual offender — a motorist who has had his license suspended three times in three years for moving violations — would automatically lose his license for three years.

Bassano said this legislation is essential to stem the rise in fatal car crashes in New Jersey. State statistics show motorists who persistently violate traffic laws are responsible for a large percentage of serious accidents.

"A tragic accident last year in which three sisters were killed illustrates the importance of cracking down on habitual traffic violators," Bassano said.

"The drunk driver who ran a light on Route 22 in Somerset County, killing the three women, had been involved in seven prior accidents in nine years and had been convicted of 17 motor vehicle offenses."

Dr. Labuda Honored By Reading Association

In 1979 Dr. Labuda was presented the New York State Reading President's Award for outstanding contributions to the field of reading.

The Jersey City State professor is active in state and national organizations for reading educators. Dr. Labuda is a state representative and past-president of the American Association of Kindergarten/Nursery Educators, chairman of the gifted and creative group of the International Reading Association, and an executive board member of the Hudson Reading Council and the Morris Area Reading Council.

Vandalism Reported Daily

Acts of vandalism were reported to police every day during the past week. Vandals performed a variety of criminal mischief.

The lawn, trees and shrubs on a Prospect St. residence were damaged Wednesday while 16 ft. of sod were similarly damaged at a Winyah Ave. home Sunday. Pine trees were vandalized on Fairmont St., Thursday.

Officials at Tamaques School reported Monday that the flag pole and bike racks had been vandalized over the weekend.

Electrical equipment damage was reported by an Elm St. restaurant, Friday, and a metal shed on Brightwood Ave. was damaged on Thursday.

Police Report . . .

Three burglaries were reported to police last week. Duke's Sub Shop on South Ave. was burglarized early Sunday morning and a residence on Scotch Plains Ave. was entered last Thursday. A garage was broken into on Mohawk Tr. on Wednesday, a Stevens Ave. resident reported an attempted break-in the same day.

Conversion, Subdivision

(Continued from page 1) Duels, argued that the current application was different from earlier ones: Frontage on the subdivision was now consistent with neighboring properties, the proposed house was reduced in square footage and the side yard increased. He noted also that three subdivisions had been granted in the immediate area in 1969, 1976 and 1978. Board counsel agreed that the application had been changed and the board agreed to rule on it.

Many residents addressed the board regarding the appeal. Speakers were almost equally divided between those who favored it and those who opposed. Those who favored the appeal indicated that the smaller lots would not be out of character in the neighborhood; opponents felt that the increased density would change the appearance of the area, tax public utilities and set a precedent, in addition to reducing real estate values.

Frank Sullebarger, chairman of the board, said he did not think the subdivision would be detrimental to the area. The board voted four to one to approve the application. John Brady, explained his negative vote by saying that Mrs. Duels should have contacted her immediate neighbor to offer the property for purchase before opting for the subdivision.

The board also responded to a letter from Town Administrator John Molloy requesting review and recommendations to an amendment to the Land Use Ordinance. After suggesting "a few word changes the board approved the amendment."

Library Plans

Additional parking would be achieved for 51 additional cars by condemnation of some property on Euclid Ave. and extending current parking facilities to the north. Cost of acquiring the necessary land was not included in the price tag.

Envisioned by the Westfield firm was a subterranean expansion of library facilities beneath the parking area to the rear of the Municipal Building with a two-level parking structure providing space for 66 cars on the upper level and 47 below.

The upper level of parking would be level with the current building and be utilized by visitors to both library and municipal facilities; the lower level would be for delivery services and employee parking. Cost of the project was estimated to be between $2.2 and $2.4 million.

Highest in price was a $3-$3.5 million concept by Musial-Guerra. This proposal, which would provide for additional parking on the lakeside portion of the municipal property, would expand the library facilities underground in front of the building with the main entrance on the park side of the lot.

The architects said the plan would provide for 13,000 additional square feet of space and would cost in the neighborhood of $3.2 to $3.5 to complete.

Construction times for all proposals ranged from about a year to a year and a half for completion of expanded facilities.

Each of the architects was asked by Harrison Watson, chairman of the library trustees' building and grounds committee, to achieve these criteria: Forty additional parking spaces; design in harmony with existing structure; and a minimum of 24,200 square feet of usable library space which is efficient in layout and energy use, safe, offers compliance with handicapped provisions and has other features such as lighting etc.

Specific sizes of interior space called for a 5,850 square ft. main reading room, a 3,350 square ft. children's room, 3,250 square feet for technical services, 2,500 square feet for reference room and specialized collections, 2,250 square feet for meeting rooms, a 2,000 square ft. periodical room, 1,400 square feet for circulation and display areas, a 1,500 square ft. space for microfilm and microfiche, a staff, storage and A-V rooms, a music/typing/quiet study area, and director's and administrative offices.

(Continued from page 1) Store, located adjacent to Jefferson School, has been opposed by a petition signed by about 300 Westfield residents. A number of them also met recently with Mayor Allen Chin on the issue.

Councilman Brady challenged the action of the council at the special meeting Tuesday night, claiming many of the opponents were unable to attend because of the storm. A motion to postpone action until a future session, however, was defeated.

Councilman Alan Gutterman said that, because of council's agreement on the compromise settlement with the Prospector's Store, council approval of the licenses is "only procedural."

Gypsy Moth Spray

About 4,000 homes are located in the area; each of these will be notified by mail of the spraying procedures and any precautions which should be observed during the spraying process. In addition, Edward Gottko, town engineer, said that publicity will be given the program and two notices in late April and early May will be published in the Westfield Leader to meet State requirements.

The spray site was designated for the State program following a town-requested survey Nov. 17 and 18. After public input at meetings of the Town Council Jan. 26 and Feb. 9 and a number of council conference and public works committee sessions, council agreed to cooperate in the program.

Given a choice between Sevin and Bt, local authorities selected Sevin which, according to Gottko, is 90 percent effective. The chemical is used in quantities of 32 ounces per acre for the aerial spray procedure by either plane or helicopter flying about 700 feet over the treetops. Chase planes will monitor the spraying and if rain falls or winds are over seven knots per hour, spraying will be discontinued.

The aircraft will fly from a nearby airport, either Linden, Morristown or Far Hills, according to information received by the town engineer.

The State will resurvey the town next fall, Gottko said, and depending on its findings, either respray or extend the coverage.

Asked why the program was not extended to the southside of town, Gottko said that the State survey failed to find sufficient numbers of gypsy moth egg masses in extensive enough compact areas to warrant the program at this time.

Special precautions must be taken by bee-keepers, Gottko warned, urging these to notify town officials so that bee safety is maintained. The State, he added, has issued no particular alerts to pregnant women.

Westfield is one of three Union County communities participating in the State's gypsy moth program this year (Summit and New Providence are the other two.) About 114 municipalities with 95,000 acres will participate this year, compared with 80 towns with 60,000 acres last year.

The State pays about 12½ percent of the cost of program Gottko said.

Thursday's public session was conducted by Councilman Raymond Stone and members of the public works committee, Councilmen Alan Gutterman, Betty List and C. Garland Boothe Jr.

Saturday Concert

A suggestion that attendees be "frisked" for possible possession of drugs or alcohol was shelved, but a sign at the entrance will warn the audience that no smoking, dancing, drinking or drugs will be permitted on the premises.

A minimum of five — and possibly up to 15 — police officers are expected to monitor the concert.

Supporters of the musical groups appeared to be on the majority at the sparsely-attended Friday night meeting. One of them, Thomas Kelly of Kimball Ave., assured the board that he and other adults would be among the audience and would be willing to serve as "chaperones."

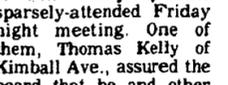

Opposing the rental contract were Board of Education President Marilyn Gulotta and board member William Vincentsen. One board member, Harvey Wolfson, was absent from the meeting.

Vincentsen argued that the concert had been "blatantly misrepresented" and that the high school auditorium is not designed for this use. Mrs. Gulotta, contending that the history of rock concerts is "not good," feared the board "might be asking for trouble."

Saturday night's concert is expected to feature two groups, Animation, comprised of John Schwartz, John Rokosny, John Mysel, Ken Marino, Neil Wasserman and Jackie Allen, and the Bouncing Balls, whose musicians are Polman, John Perry, Bill Siegal and Walter Lott. According to Allen Douches, who acted as spokesman for the concert performers at the board's meeting, all but one are now or have been Westfield residents.

The doors will open at 8 p.m.; the concert will begin at 9 p.m. and last until close to midnight. The concert, according to Polman, will benefit a leukemia fund.

Social and Club News of the Westfield Area

Mrs. Harris To Retire After 25 Years With YWCA

When Hattie Harris departs Westfield YWCA ranks later this month after more than a quarter of a century of service to the association, it will be, in her own words, "like leaving my family."

"I'll miss the people with whom I've worked and those I've met," remarks Hattie about her retirement. "But the friendships I've made will be lasting."

Hattie came aboard as a volunteer in 1956, became a part-timer in 1958, and three years later joined the staff as the YW's first office manager, a post she has retained until the present. Her responsibilities include handling banking duties for the association, supervising office personnel and distributing payroll.

Basically, she contends, she continues to operate in the same fashion which has marked her work through the years.

Except for the addition of a calculator!

"One day a man came to demonstrate a calculator and I said I'd really like to have one but didn't think the YW could afford it. A woman overheard the conversation, and later called me and said she'd donate one to us," laughs Hattie, who still uses the benefactor's gift to tabulate the varied figures with which she works.

She hails the various physical education and women's-oriented programs offered at the Clark Street facility, and admits that she herself has enrolled in YW classes and often used the pool for recreational swims.

"I strongly encourage young people to get involved with the Westfield YWCA," she states. "My own children took a lot of classes here."

Her paid post is only one area of her YWCA service.

Hattie also served three years as a member of the YW's board of directors and as a member of the YW health education committee. She also has been a willing participant in the Westfield YWCA's fundraising endeavors, having achieved recognition for swimming and rock climbing in a chair as donors backed her undertakings with pledge monies.

Since moving to Westfield in 1953, Hattie has served as a volunteer for the Westfield Day Care Center, High School

Hattie Harris

Baccalaureate Committee, PTA board of Westfield High School and president of the Westfield Negro History Club.

As for her reason for retiring, the young-looking Hattie smiles: "I'm tired of working!"

She plans to do "absolutely nothing" for a year.

"Just give me a year," she issues a plea to the many groups which are seeking her services in volunteer capacities. After the initial year, she claims she will do some volunteer work and embark on some travel.

Her message to those who remain in the work force simply is to "Be dedicated. Everything else will come as a result."

Hattie is married to postal employee Rudolph Harris and the couple resides in Westfield. They have two daughters, Delores, of Irvington, a social worker with the Essex County Youth House, Newark, and Arlene Patricia, a lawyer with the City of New York.

The YWCA will honor Hattie at a retirement dinner on April 28 at The Westwood.

Parents Anonymous Established

For those who feel guilty and confused about the way they treat their children or believe that their parents were unfair or cruel to them and they are now repeating the abuse and are looking for a place to get help, Parents Anonymous has established a local chapter which meets weekly at the first United Methodist Church, 1171 Terrill Rd., Scotch Plains.

Sponsored by the Greater Westfield Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, Parents Anonymous is a crisis intervention program designed to help parents prevent damaging relationships between themselves and their children which meets Wednesdays from 8 to 10 p.m.

A self-help group, Parents Anonymous is run strictly by parents with the assistance of a professional social worker. Membership is free.

Weekly meetings provide individuals with an opportunity to share similar experiences in a non-punitive, non judgmental atmosphere. Telephone numbers are exchanged to offer a resource for members in a crisis situation. Confidentiality is considered most important and many members use only their first names.

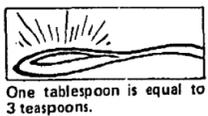

More information may be obtained by calling Parenline or writing: P.O. Box 12, Westfield, N.J. c/o NCJW.

Abendmusic House Tour April 25

A House Tour With Music, April 25, offers ticket-holders the opportunity of hearing four professional music ensembles while visiting four Westfield houses selected for their historical or architectural interest. This tour is a means of publicizing and benefitting Abendmusik, or evening music, an organization comprised of the Men and Boys' Choir of St. Paul's Church and a professional New York group of players of original and reproduction baroque instruments. Abendmusik is dedicated to the performance, in as authentic a manner as possible, of the works of J.S. Bach, Handel, Purcell, Vivaldi and other composers of the baroque period.

Purchasers of tickets to the House Tour with Music will hear madrigal singers, trombone players, a string quartet, and a pianist and baritone.

Art Deco is not an architectural style generally associated with the colonial town of Westfield. But in 1940, Ray Peck, well-known local designer and builder of colonial houses, built as an experiment an Art Deco house that has been included on the house tour. In basic structure this house is curvilinear, with a circular

Many who worked on last year's Overlook Musical Theatre production of "Mame" are "on board" again for this year's production.

Spring Musicales Planned

The Musical Club of Westfield will meet on Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Feathers, 610 Prospect St.

Mrs. Henry Bartolf, program chairman, has announced that Terri Cerrito, soprano, accompanied by Louise Andrews, will begin the program with a group of songs about spring by Franz Schubert, Robert Schumann and Hugo Wolf. Claire Salher, pianist, will then play a group of pieces by Johannes Brahms, Charles Griffes, Claude dining room, whose roundness is echoed by a wall clock shaped like a gigantic pocket watch. A round, glass-topped dining table and light fixtures that look like port holes add to the theme of circularity, which is interrupted by angular window ledges and other inset shelves.

Other features of Art Deco in this modern and luxurious home include a den floor painted in sharp, geometric patterns which give a trompe l'oeuil effect of intricate marquetry work. An oval panel set into a door contains pieces of leaded stained glass arranged in a swirling pattern that is the essence of Art Deco.

The large windows provide views of the property's two-and-a-half acres of wooded slopes and flowering shrubs. "IN THE SPOTLIGHT"
THE Porch Cafe & Restaurant

One of the most delightful dining events this year was the re-opening of The Porch Cafe and Restaurant at the Cranford Hotel. Area folks had long been accustomed to casual drinks and dinner in the downstairs "Cellar," or cocktails and drinks in the convivial atmosphere of the upstairs "Porch." But this year Frank D'Uffello is offering a new culinary opportunity—a full dining menu, with Italian and American specialties aimed to delight the palate as well as the pocketbook.

The kitchen excels. Each dish sampled in two recent visits was excellent. My favorite is the cannelloni—homemade pasta filled with ricotta cheese, spinach and meat, blended with a choice of sauces (the range of sauces applies to other entrees). The calamari was a delightful discovery, too. The kids found their standbys, spaghetti and hamburgers, prepared to perfection.

Numerous other meat and fresh fish entrees tempted us, along with the initial offerings of appetizers and salads. In fact, the remarkable feature of the Cafe and Restaurant is that Frank has been able to provide something for everyone—all in an atmosphere of charm and friendliness.

The Cellar is open daily from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. Newly renovated and redecorated, it features an expanded luncheon and dinner menu plus a real, live log burning fireplace. Stop in any time for cocktails or drinks—the cafe is famous for its pine coladas and strawberry daiquiris. Upstairs, dinners at the Porch are served Wednesday through Saturday from 5 - 11 p.m., and from 4 - 10 p.m. on Sundays.

The Porch is located at the Cranford Hotel, 1 S. Union Avenue (near the intersection of Walnut Ave. and South Avenue). There is ample off street parking. For more information call 276-2121.

Counseling Program For Women To Begin At YWCA

The Westfield YWCA will establish, effective April 15, a short-term counseling program for women.

A community survey, taken by the women's program committee, indicated the need for the program which will provide up to 12 hours of counseling to women with specific acute situations or problems.

Blanche Roth, Scotch Plains, former assistant professor of social and mental health at the Community college of Rhode Island, and a former therapist at Crisis Resolution Center at the YWCA in Woonsocket, R.I., has been named director and therapist for the program.

Roth, who also headed the Providence, R.I. School Clinic for educationally and disadvantaged children and their families, holds a bachelor's degree in social work from Hunter College and an MSW in psychiatric social work from Boston University.

Objective of the program is to aid women with specific problems by building self-confidence, establishing support systems within their lives and identifying their own strengths. Roth believes that short-term help is best in certain situations and does much to encourage independence. It is also pointed out that dependence of client to therapist is not fostered when brief contacts are maintained.

Clients will be referred to another agency if problems require long-term therapy.

According to figures obtained by the YW, a large number of women suffer some form of depression due to stress. Helplessness reportedly is felt in such situations as loss of mate, conflict between careers and personal relationships, loss of reproductive capacity in women over 40 years of age, finance problems, being passed over for job promotions, etc.

Counseling, it is felt, can aid the quality of life for individuals and families and thus cut the demand for mental health services in the community. The YWCA, the oldest multi-racial women's membership movement in the world, is equipped to offer supportive counseling.

"The experience of other YWs with similar programs is that women who avoid seeking therapy at traditional agencies will come to the YWCA where they do not feel labeled," comments Shirley Renwick, executive director of the Westfield YWCA.

The fees will be based on the client's ability to pay. The YW hopes in the future to establish support groups and set up work shops on women's issues and problems.

Information is available by contacting the Westfield YWCA, 220 Clark St.

Woman's Club Sponsors Benefit Bridge

A dessert-bridge, sponsored by the international affairs department of the Woman's Club of Westfield, will be held at the clubhouse from noon to 4 p.m. Wednesday. The money raised from this event will enable the department to meet the expenses of the newly-adopted student, 15-year-old Rosa Elena Diaz Ochoa who currently attends Colegio Benjamin Herrera High School in Cali, Colombia, South America. The support given toward her education is both needed and appreciated. In the past, Deke Dolloar, a Tibetan refugee, was supported by the international affairs department for eleven and one-half years and graduated from Mount Carmel College in Bangalor, India.

Trinity School was started about fifteen years ago by two women in Cali, who decided to do something positive for the poor children in their neighborhood. Cali has a population of 1,000,000 people with 50,000 school age children roaming the streets begging and stealing in order to survive. A school was started in the local church which serves the nearby Barrio Bellavista in order to help some of these children. Since that time Trinity School has educated hundreds of children. As part of the program, the children are fed, bathed and given medical care. Financial support of people in the United States and Colombia has made it possible for the work of this school to continue. It is one of these children that the international affairs department has adopted.

Mrs. Willard S. Megalhaes, chairman and Mrs. Dennis Shea, co-chairman of this department invite members and friends of the club to attend this benefit. For reservations, call Mrs. Howard Senne, benefit party chairman or Mrs. James L. Garrison, ticket chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip McKissick announce the birth of their second child, Lauren Shahnazarian McKissick, on March 20 in Orlando, Fla.

She joins her 18-month-old brother Scott.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James McKissick of Mullica Hills. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shahnazarian of Westfield.

According to Mrs. Charles Mayer, the club will offer for sale artistic, exotic and practical flower containers and pots. "Many unusual shapes and designs as well as plastic components for arranging will be shown," she adds.

A large assortment of clay and plastic pots also will be available at a nominal cost.

Ms. Charme is scholar-in-residence for the chapter, vice president of education and Israel Affairs chairperson.

She attended Hunter College, Ohio State University, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion and holds degrees in education, and teacher and principal certification for New York and New Jersey. Creative Theatre Unlimited's Performance Troupe will perform "Bandits" and "The Greek to Me" for a audience participation play with music at the Wilson School on April 21 at 1:30 and 7:30.

Since 1975, the Princeton based troupe has toured New Jersey schools, libraries and community centers, being few but imaginative props and costume pieces, the troupe performs in guest and multi-purpose rooms with audiences sitting on the floor surrounding the actors. Says Troupe Director Elms Hoffman, "The whole room becomes the theater... In applying the traditional barriers between actor and audience allows both to share the same space and participate equally in the same experience."

"Bandits" is the tale of four bumbling bandits who rob a library instead of a bank and end up jacking out the book-talk tales. "The Greek to Me" shows what happens when Zeus gets bored, and the other gods try to entertain him by playing tricks on mortals. Pandora, Prometheus and Hermes are capped by the Olympians in this original adaptation of three Greek myths.

"Indian Experience" For Old Guard. The Indian Experience by member Emory Skaggs performance will be at the April 25 meeting of the Old Guard of Westfield.

Fade (of Pack Out) Part III "Que' Dub: These are terms which were heard at Union College in Lincoln and can be heard at Senior Television in Plainfield and elsewhere throughout Union County. Easter Egg Decorating Traditions

Traditions of egg decorating have evolved over myths and legends of many cultures. Popular beliefs, imagination and craftsmanship have turned egg decorating into a highly developed and diversified folk art. The eggshell possesses the secret of life, it symbolizes a "rebirth" and is often associated with Easter, spring, dawn and creation. All involve a beginning, and more form or another, almost every living thing comes from or can be traced back to an egg of some sort.

Many years before the birth of Christ, the Persians and Egyptians were coloring eggs. And while the Jews do not celebrate Easter, they too colored eggs at approximately the same time of the year, during their Passover season. In some parts of the world, Jews still use colored eggs for Passover and other religious celebrations. Because of the coincidental nearness of Passover and Easter, Christians may have gotten the idea for colored eggs from the Jews and incorporated it into their Easter celebration.

In many European countries, it was the custom on Easter day to have a "tapping" contest where children would knock the ends of eggs together to see who could keep his egg unbroken the longest. Egg-tapping and egg-tapping games were brought to the United States by German settlers, as was the concept of the "Easter Bunny." Because rabbits multiply quickly and are a symbol of fertility, they became associated with the celebration of Easter. According to legend, the pagan goddess of Spring, Eostre, turned a hare into a rabbit. This may explain why, in some areas, the Eastern Bunny delivers baskets full of colored eggs to children on Eastern morning.

Some of the early German and Pennsylvania Dutch traditions and customs are still in existence today. The most common tradition, still practiced, is hiding eggs for children to find on Easter morning.

The various methods of decorating eggs have also become tradition. Today, a few people still color their eggs by boiling them in natural materials such as onion skins or flowers, but a more universal method of applying color is to use commercial dyes made especially for that purpose.

Stripes, floral and geometric designs, and dot patterns are most common. A slightly more difficult method involves coloring the egg and scratching off portions of the color to expose the shell, creating a "reverse" color effect. Probably the most sophisticated method is "pysanky," a "reast dyed" egg craft which produces intricate designs by using wax.

Mr. Talcott will preach on the subject: "Love Triumphant." Easter Hymns will be played on the trumpet in the Memorial Garden prior to the service and the Schulmerich Carillons dedicated this year in memory of Alice Stiefel will conclude the service with Easter music.

Service of Shadows, Candlelight Tomorrow

A Tenebrae Service of scripture and music will be held at the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Good Friday.
Tenebrae is an ancient service of shadows and candlelight in which the story of the last hours of Christ's life are re-told. Candles are gradually extinguished until, at the moment of His death, the church is total darkness.
Interspersed with the scriptures, which will be read by Dr. Jeffrey Wampler, senior minister, will be music sung by the Canterbury and Westminster Choirs.

Members are in Junior and Senior High School. Songs include "Judas" by Billie Hanks Jr., "Bold Peter" by Bob Huggett with solo sung by Paul Kranz. Also sung will be a spiritual, "Hammering" from Jesus Christ Superstar, "Pilate's Dream;" and from Godspell, "Long Live God."
The community is invited to attend this free service and participate in the dramatic experience. Annette White is the organist and Marilyn J. Herrmann is the director of music.

Film on Women's Service Next Thursday

A film, "Called By Our Baptism," is expected to stimulate members of the Woman's Association of the Presbyterian Church to examine their own lives and thoughts about Christian service Thursday, April 15. Dessert will be served at 12:45 p.m. in the Assembly Hall of the Parish House, 140 Mountain Ave., prior to the meeting. Members of the congregation and community are welcome.
The program, produced for the 1979 national meeting of Presbyterian Women by Nancy Carter, associate of the Psychosynthesis Institute of San Francisco, depicts the various ways in which six women in diverse situations respond to the question, "If someone asked you about your ministry in the world, what would you say?" One woman is a dynamic ordained minister, Dianne is a homemaker, Charlotte lives in a retirement community, Dee is a lawyer, Helena works with older Chinese, and Lynn is a teacher.
Mrs. David Sargent will lead devotions on "Love for God and Love for Neighbor."
Reservations for dessert must be made through the Circles or by calling Mrs. Bryan Campbell, 314 Canterbury Rd., no later than noon Monday. Circles 8, 7 and 2 under the leadership of the Misses Marion Cubberley and Jane Drager and Mrs. Nigel Harlan are responsible for arrangements.

Miss Cubberley's Circle 8 will aid the sewing workshop Thursday, April 22, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Assembly Hall.

Good Friday Service for Children

A Good Friday worship service designed especially for children will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the First Congregational Church, 125 Elmer St.
Through music, story and the acting out of Scripture, this 45 minute service will portray the meaning of Christ's death in a way that children can understand.
"Many young people wonder why Good Friday is called 'Good,' if it is the day on which Christ died," observes John Wilson, pastor of the church. "It can be very confusing for them. We started this worship service several years ago as one way to help them understand this holy day in the Christian year."
Although the service is aimed at children, parents and friends are more than welcome to attend.

The All-State Chorus, with 367 of the best singers in the state, will perform for the annual New Jersey Education Association Convention in Atlantic City in November.
"The music department has again demonstrated its excellence in the field of fine arts," said Jean McDermott, director of fine arts in congratulating Mr. Beil and the students.

Easter Sunrise Service in Park

On Easter Sunday, at 6:00 in the morning, the youth of the Presbyterian Church will present a special Sunrise Service next to the bandshell in Mindowaskin Park. The message, "Easter: A Time for Celebration," will be given by the Rev. Thomas N. Waddell. The service will last a half hour, and afterwards there will be a limited number of tickets available for the annual Easter Breakfast at the Presbyterian Church. If it is raining, the service will be held in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church. Come and celebrate our risen Lord early in the morning at the Easter Sunrise Service.

Judaism Course In 11th Year

The next course for prospective converts to Judaism will begin Thursday, April 29, at 8:30 p.m. at the Rabbinic Center. The oldest continuous program of Jewish studies in New Jersey available to non-Jews and specifically designed for non-Jews, the course covers the basic facets of Jewish Life in nine successive Thursday evening sessions in the Rabbi's Study at 128 East Dudley Ave. Rabbi Irwin Fishbein, a Reform rabbi and licensed marriage and family therapist, will serve as instructor.
The Rabbinic Center is affiliated with the Polydox Jewish Confederation which encourages continued questioning of Jewish tradition in the search for life's meaning. A fundamental principle of Polydox Judaism is the Freedom Covenant, a reaffirmation of the religious freedom of every human being.

Rev. Olson Directs Contact-We-Care

The Rev. Wesley Olson was recently named executive director of Contact-We-Care, area 24-hour hotline for the troubled and for anyone wanting a listening ear for any reason.
The Rev. Olson, who is replacing Marilyn Suter, the teleministry director since its inception in 1975, was formerly pastor of Pilgrim Covenant Church in South Plainfield. A graduate of Western Michigan University, the new director also attended North Park Seminary, Chicago.
Prior to his appointment to the Contact-We-Care directorship, the Rev. Olson served several weeks as interim director. The telephone center currently receives more than 1,000 calls a month from people wanting someone to talk to about problems such as loneliness, depression, grief, drugs, family matters, and other adversities. Contact-We-Care, 232-2880, is staffed by more than 100 trained adult volunteers with access to an extensive file of social service.
Complementing Contact-We-Care, under the same board of directors, Deaf Contact, 232-3000, similarly serves the deaf community using tele-communications equipment. In addition, Deaf Contact offers a means for the deaf to communicate through the center's conventional equipment and relay messages for personal, business, professional, or emergency purposes.

The purpose of the course is not conversion per se but to acquaint the non-Jew with the Jewish holidays, life cycle events, Jewish history and the basic teachings of the Jewish faith. Most of those who have attended the 26 courses given over the past ten years have done so either after having married a Jew or in anticipation of such a marriage. Most often a couple comes because they want to learn about Judaism in order to be able to pass on the Jewish heritage to children. A few participate because they want to explore their mate's religion. Others enroll with a clear intent of conversion.
Anyone interested in attending the course should contact Rabbi Fishbein at the Rabbinic Center in Westfield.

Kroloff of Temple Emanu-El and Dr. Terry Kroloff have responded to popular demand and have scheduled Friday evening, April 16 for further discussion of their trip to the Soviet Union at which time they met with a wide number of Jewish Refuseniks. The presentation will be made following the services at the Oneg Shabbat. The Shabbat Service begins at 8:15 p.m. and the entire community is welcome. At the service, Rabbi Kroloff's topic will be "Judaism: A Religion of Tzedaka," third in a series on Basic Jewish Values. The President's Club of Temple Emanu-El will also be inaugurated at that time.

While nausea is a fairly common complaint, its causes can often be manifold. Internal diseases, pregnancy, motion, stomach irritation and mental upset can all cause nausea. For this reason it is necessary to isolate the cause of the nausea before attempting to select a medication to combat it. A drug that works to prevent the nausea of motion sickness will be of little value to an irritated stomach. When talking to your pharmacist or physician, be sure to emphasize the origin of your discomfort if you can. This will be a great aid in prescribing an anti-nausea drug which is classified by the part of the body it affects.

Diplomats Win Second

The Westfield Diplomats soccer team gained a hard-fought win in inclement weather last weekend. Captain Ken Marsh led a team of strong fullbacks toward their second straight shut-out with a 2-0 defeat of the North Plainfield Roughnecks. He was flanked by Jon Davidson and Sam Wunderle and supported by clever goalkeeping from Jack Dowling and Ned Seel. Defense is the strong suit of the Diplomats and Curt Zilch, Center Halfback, is the glue that keeps this team together. Not only did he sparkle on defense, his first half unassisted goal proved to be the winning margin. Other defensive stalwarts were Todd Keller, Josh Klein, Peter Sananman and Damien Lyon. The offense was led by Raju Vernucopal, Marc Hardy and Chris McCall. The second goal was scored by a beautiful cross from right wing Craig Gilgallon to Mike McIntyre, whose powerful kick ricocheted off a defender and past the goalie. Coach Tony McCall observed that the potential of this team is awesome. Its play was exceptionally good Sunday, despite a very curtailed practice schedule due to the weather.

Emphasis will be on pulse-taking, correct form and pacing, stretching exercises, diet, injury prevention and setting up a running schedule.

The six week course meets for one hour a week and includes a manual of selected reference materials covering all aspects of the beginning woman runner.

Want to know more about the program? Join marathon runner Pat Goias of Edison for a free lecture and slide show. The presentation will be held at the Runner's Edge, Cumberland St. at 7:30 p.m. April 22.

Division II

The Blue Angels split a pair of games during their first weekend of soccer beating East Brunswick 3-1 in a State Cup game on Saturday, March 27, but losing 3-2 to Randolph on Sunday, March 28.

In Saturday's opening round of State Cup competition, the Angels were led by goal scorers Kathy McSweeney, Antonietta Dilorio, and Lauri Valle. Dilorio also contributed two assists while Vali contributed one assist. The Angel defense led by Liz Little, Beth Hamilton, Jacki Lyons and Marie Prisco was outstanding in protecting winning goalie Traci Love who clearly dominated East Brunswick's Strikers. Also contributing strong games for the Angels were Kate McCaffrey, Christen Quinn, Joan Stanzel and Betsy Hazard.

The Angels suffered a let-down during Sunday's loss to Randolph by a 3-2 score, missing several scoring opportunities as well as playing loose defense against corner kicks. Ria Krikiwi, with one goal, Antonietta Dilorio, with a goal and an assist, and Lauri Valle, with an assist, led the Angel offense. Except for miscues on corner kicks, the defense played well with Liz Little, Jacki Lyons and Justine Lewand having strong games. Traci Love made several outstanding saves in goal. Beth Hamilton and Jean Harris led the midfield attack, which kept up relentless pressure in the second half, but came up short in a valiant effort as time ran out.

Other fine offensive efforts were made by Wendy Maher, Karla Rice, Maren Troum, Sue Stokes, Andrea Rennyson and Bridget Perry. Fine midfield con-

Division III

The Division III Westfield Stings edged Randolph, last season's Northern Division champions, by a score of 1-0, raising their season record to 1-1. The two teams played evenly in the first half, but in the second half the Stings pulled away, keeping most of the play in Randolph's end. By the end of the game, the Stings had rattled off 28 shots to Randolph's 4.

The game was scoreless until the 68th minute, when the Stings were awarded a free kick for a handball just outside Randolph's penalty box. Wendy Mertz took the kick, which sailed past the Randolph goalie for the only goal of the match.

Goalie Maite Quinn covered the net beautifully for the entire game making excellent saves and smart clearing plays. Fullbacks Courtney Zenner, Kim Caruana, Jessica Esposito, Jennifer Donnelly and Justine Ceclosky prevented the Franklin Lakes forwards from any significant penetration into Westfield turf until one defensive lapse allowed a Franklin Lakes forward to earn a tie on a breakaway.

Galaxies Tie Franklin Lakes

In an extremely well-played match the Westfield Galaxies dominated the play through the entire game. On excellent passing by the forward line Rebecca Krohn passed the ball across the goal mouth to Rose Marie Miller who shot it past the Franklin Lakes goalie. The mid-field line of Aliza Best, Michelle Mollard and Jennifer De Rosa kept the ball inside of the Franklin Lakes 18 and the pressure was maintained by forwards Regan McGonigle, Laura Jimenez and Megan Kelly.

Aztecs Win

The Westfield Aztecs defeated the Monroe Chargers 3-2 in a well fought soccer game last weekend. Charger Billy Faille scored first on a fast drive down center. The Aztec retaliated as Andy Gutterman booted in a pass received from Ron Schuster. Westfield's second came when Jeff Lowi set up Brendan Flaherty who scored.

Second half saw Andy Gutterman drive down field, fake out the goalie and drill it in. This was followed by Charger Eddie Ziegler scoring Monroe's second.

Aztec forward Mark Garganigo played an outstanding game and excellent games were also played by backs Cagnassola, McGorty, McGee, Chris Fahey (who received the "fullback stonewall award"), Jim Wilton and Bill Ward. Aztec goalies Rick Galvin and Steve Kulpa, as well as Charger goalie Jason Raab, played good games.

'70 Blues to Play At the Meadowlands

The Westfield Division IV 1970 Premier soccer team, coached by Bob Lister, has been invited to play at the Meadowlands on Sunday, May 2, at 12 noon, preceding the Cosmos-Jacksonville Tea Men game. The boys will play a full game (two 25 minute halves). The team members are Vincent Chen, Michael Csorba, Dimitri Czarnecki, Peter Delazaro, Chris Dembiec, Ron Eibschutz, Pat Houlihan, Jeffrey Kopelman, Andrew Michel, Warren Nakatani, Michael Noerr, Drew Parkhurst, Mark Pizzi, Gregg Schmalz, Karam Singh and Mark Tabbs.

The Blues hope that all their classmates, fellow soccer players, relatives, neighbors, and "all of Westfield" can come to the Meadowlands to cheer them on to victory. Bus transportation is available. Ticket information is available from Don Pizzi of 514 Grove St. or Jim Michel of 848 Kimball Ave.

Comets Win Openers

The Westfield Comets soccer team won both its opening games of the spring season.

The season began on a cold and blustery day with the Westfield Comets defeating a new team to the league from West Orange. Brian Meyer and Mike Gelfand were co-captains of the Comets' 5-1 victory. A tight game for the first three quarters, the game was marked by excellent goal play by Fabrice Mode and Lowell Haims. The defense played a solid game with notable contributions by Marc Prybylski, George Roscoe, Billy Lister and Curt Cheesman. Scoring for Westfield was Steve Pinkin, with two goals including one by his alert follow-up on another shot. Mike Gelfand, John Class and Horst Percival each scored one goal. Percival's coming through adept dribbling in heavy traffic.

Having had their skills tested on opening day, the Westfield Comets overpowered a seven-man team from Sayerville. The caliber of play by the Sayerville players was outstanding and it was a shame that they did not have a full squad. Had they fielded 11 players the 17-0 score undoubtedly would have been different. Aldo Kosuch and George Roscoe were co-captains. The Comets promptly took advantage of the number of players, executed well, and had pretty much put the game away in the first 10 minutes. Curt Cheesman and Horst Percival both had hat tricks, two goals each were scored by Class, Kosuch, Pinkin, Bovit and Meyer. Gelfand got one.

The Comets played fairly well in both games, but were obviously rusty from a combination of a long winter and some of the players had neither played together previously or in the positions they were now assigned. However, Coach Alessandro felt that if the boys could improve their physical conditioning and sufficient practice, that they can be as good as any team in their division.

Dental Dialogue

by: Adam Feret D.M.D.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Q. Do wisdom teeth always need to be removed?
A. No. Wisdom teeth (third molars) should not be extracted without a good reason. However about 80% of the population will have at least one impacted molar that will need to be removed. Impacted teeth are those that cannot fully emerge above the gum line. Persons with small jaws usually have insufficient room for the wisdom teeth, while those with large jaws may have no problems. As we get older, impacted wisdom teeth can push against the other teeth and cause damage to the roots. Most dentists agree impacted molars should be extracted, but healthy ones should be left alone.

Devil Batsmen Trounce Linden

By Paul Stenbjorn
The WHS baseball team opened its season with an impressive 13-1 romp over highly ranked Linden.

The Blue Devils blew the game wide open by scoring nine runs in the fourth inning. The big hit in the inning was a bases loaded double with one man out by Rod Yatchilla which scored Brian Keller, Paul Leifer and Roger Brewster. Two more of the runs were scored when, later in the same inning, Kurt Gillhaus singled with the bases loaded. And after runs scored on an error and a passed ball, Leifer cracked a double driving in the final two runs of the inning. While the offense created the excitement the true difference in the game was Kevin Morris who yielded just five hits through six innings of work and giving up only one run, which was unearned. In spite of containing Linden, Coach Pete Lima believes Morris was not at the top of his game, for he had early control problems. But he overcame them and pitched a fine game. Linden's hurler Ed Gryzowski walked eight in only three and a third innings.

The Devils got off to a fast start scoring three runs in the first frame.

Leifer got the season off to an impressive start by laying down a beautiful bunt and beating it out. He followed with some aggressive base running moving to second on an errant pick-off attempt and then stealing third. After Yatchilla walked, rightfielder Mike Stamer cracked a long fly ball over the head of Linden's center fielder Tony Melise. The ball died in the wet outfield grass but not before Stamer was safely on third. He scored as the next pitch bounced off the plate and rolled out of play.

The Devils will be in action today at Elizabeth.

Track Team Wins At Kearny Relays

In its first competitive meet of the season the Westfield High School boys' varsity track team won the overall title at the Kearny Relays Saturday.

Although the team had to battle high speed winds and a cold, rainswept track, it dominated the more than 20-team field by accumulating 24 points to second place Union, Hackensack, and Abraham Lincoln's 12 points.

The distance medley consisting of Brian Bernstein, Hans Dieterich, Andy Jacob and Dave Fitzgerald literally ran away with first place. Along with the weather, Bernstein had to battle a would-be opponent from Farrell in the 800 (200.8) and gave the baton in a tie for first. Dieterich then ran the quarter mile (53.4) with his counterpart from Farrell by his side. He too gave the baton in a tie for first. Andy Jacob then took the lead for Westfield in the 3/4 mile leg (3.19) and gave Dave Fitzgerald a 50 yard lead. Fitzgerald proceeded to lengthen the lead to 100 yards in his mile leg of 4:21.4. The final time was 10:39.1.

The 800 yard relay of Wayne Tiller, Barron Chambliss, Melvin Blanton and Rich Forbes won their qualifying heat but were disqualified due to an illegal pass. The same team later came back to win the 440 yard relay by 10 yards in 44.2.

Westfield took 2nd place in the sprint medley with a time of 3:42.1. Tiller and Blanton both ran the 220 in 23.9 and 22.9 respectively. Dieterich ran the 440 in 53.1 and Fitzgerald anchored the 800 in 2:01.9.

The mile relay came in 2nd also. Bill Byrne led off in 53.7 for the 440 yards. Chambliss ran 50.9, and Bernstein and Forbes ran 53.6 and 51.6, respectively.

Ken Hurley and Hung Song made up the pole vault relay placing 4th.

The shuttle hurdle relay of John Schaefer, (16.3), Adam Sommerstein, (16.0), Bill Wallack, (18.2), and Jeff Kasko (14.4) came in fifth with a total time of 1:05.7.

Also placing 5th was the 2 mile relay consisting of Greg Kasko, (2:04), Jim Fisk, (2:05.6), Byrne, (2:05.2), and Mike Shapiro, (2:07.8) for a final time of 8:22.4.

The sophomore boys team, although not counting in the scoring, did well also. The distance medley came in 4th. Brian Martin ran 7:12.4 for the 800. John Thomas, 60.3 for the 400. Andy Ziarnik, 3:31 for the 3/4 and Bob Mertz 5:01 for the mile.

In the sophomore 800 Dan Tante, (25.9), Steve Smith (23.0), John Ertman (25.0) and Hans Clark, (24.6) combined and each ran a 220 to get 5th in 1:40.5.

On Tuesday the team was scheduled to run against Summit in a dual meet but due to deadline it cannot be reported. On Saturday the team goes to Plainfield to run the Union County Relays.

JVers Post 10-5 Win

By Leigh Montana
The Westfield High School junior varsity baseball team, coached by Robert Brewster, began this season with a swinging start beating Linden 10-5 Friday at Tamaques Park.

The Devils scored six out of ten runs in the first four innings. Kevin Price hit a double driving in two runs and Mike Padula's homerun drove in two runs.

Devil pitcher Steve Buontempi prevented Linden from getting ahead after starting pitcher Dean Luckenbaugh was unable to hold them back.

Shortstop Danny Hauck and Second baseman Dave Faris aided by centerfielder Mike Parrish and catchers Kenny Miller and Dan Grasso provided a strong up the middle defense.

At the bottom of the fifth inning Linden came alive scoring four runs and completed their entire batting order.

From this sudden shock the Devils faltered, but regained their footing when Dan Grasso put the game out of reach with another homerun.

The game ended with pitcher Jack Feeny on the mound in the seventh inning maintaining Westfield's lead.

Brewster's goal each year is to win 15 games, "after that the rest is just topping on the cake," he said. Five past teams have reached this goal, two have not.

Golfers Split Two Openers

By Chris Loder
The WHS golf team split its first two matches of the season last week, as they dropped a 229-252 decision to Summit, and defeated Pingry 15 1/2-2 1/2 at Baltusrol.

Battling a tough, hard wind, and a tough team in Summit, the linksters managed only to have two golfers break 50. They were senior Bill Rankin, who shot a 48, and junior Tim Gaffney, who scored a 49.

The golfers fared better against Pingry. Five out of the six golfers who played shot below 50 on the championship course. They included Rankin and Jim Eisenmann, who both carded 46's. Others who shot below 50 were Gaffney (46), Nick Perretti (47) and Chris Jones (48).

The linksters were scheduled to Elizabeth at Ask Brook Tuesday (too late for Leader deadline). They play Roselle today at Roselle, at 3:30.

Softball Team Defeats Linden

By Kathleen McCall
The Westfield High School girls' varsity softball team opened its season with a 5-2 victory against the Linden Tigers. The game was televised live by TV 3.

In the first inning Junior Alicia Sugrue began the scoring for Westfield when she stole home on a "passed ball." Senior Patty Heron, during the third inning, hit a solid ball straight down the third base line for a triple, then, taking advantage of an overthrown pitch to the catcher, stole home scoring the second run. In the fifth inning senior captain Mary Castellone hit the first home run of the season with two people on base to secure the victory for Westfield.

Starting pitcher junior Louise Arkel, although having no previous varsity experience, pitched a strong controlled game. Arkel did have some problems in the first inning, but she kept her composure and held the Tigers scoreless. Freshman Nancy Kasko, following Arkel with the same consistency, struck out the first two batters that she met. This was also her first varsity experience, ending the game as she struck out the last batter.

Westfield's strong defense consisted of infielders: first basemen

The softball team will be away this week. April 14 at 1 p.m. will be its next home game.

The season will be limited to eight weeks in June and July, and matches will be played in the mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. A and B matches will be played on Monday mornings, C matches will be held on Thursday mornings, and practices will take place on Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. Westfield will field A, B, and C teams, consisting of four doubles teams each, to play against surrounding towns. Westfield placed second overall in the league last year, so participants will be assured fine competitive play at each level.

Stickmen Lose To Summit 6-0

By Thomas Eisenmann
WHS's JV lacrosse team suffered a loss to Summit's league-championship-contending team last Thursday by the score of 6-0.

Summit scored two quick goals off of sophomore goalie Dennis Lynch, within the first few minutes of play. The third goal came on an elusive shot made by a Summit midfielder, which bounced its way past Lynch. The other three goals were scattered throughout the second half.

Westfield's starting mid-field, consisting of Brian Halpin, Ron McGann and Mark Wellnitz, along with attackmen Chris Conabee and Scott Flaherty, worked hard to penetrate Summit's defense, but were unsuccessful.

Due to a rainout, the stickmen were unable to redeem themselves in their next game against West Morris. The game has been rescheduled for May 25. Their next game is this Saturday against Delbarton.

Chuck Clarke

Local Wrestler At Susquehanna

Chuck Clarke of Westfield earned his second letter with the wrestling squad at Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove, Pa.

The Crusaders had an 8-7-1 record in dual meets and finished fifth of 20 teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships.

Clarke had a 10-6 dual mark and a 2-2 tournament record at 167 pounds.

A senior psychology major, Clarke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke of 725 Austin St., and a graduate of Westfield High School.

Division III soccer team The Westfield Lancers traveled to Metuchen last weekend to come home with a 4-3 win.

The first goal was scored by Tim Nolen who lofted the ball over the goalie's head. In the second half some great passing provided two quick goals, both by Robbie Macaluso. The Metuchen club came alive and scored two goals to make the game a little more interesting but Danny Soucek put in an in-

Y Organizing Indoor Soccer

The Westfield YMCA is forming an indoor soccer league for boys and girls aged 6-12. The Soccer League is part of the "Y Winners" year round sports program that believes "everyone's a winner."

Two leagues will be formed — the first for 6-8 year olds and the other for 9-12 year olds. All games will be played on Saturdays from 9 a.m. — 12 noon. Every child plays every game.

A few men and women are needed to help coach, officiate and help coordinate league play. A coaches workshop will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Registration for league players will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. continuing through April 17 at 6 p.m.

All participants joining will be assigned a team and T-shirt shortly afterward. Al Forsythe, Westfield YMCA, has additional information.

Fury Loses 6-0

To Rahway Booters

The Westfield Fury was shut out 6-0 by an excellent Rahway Rowdies soccer team Saturday. The Fury played well and kept up its enthusiasm in spite of cold, rain and wind, but they were unable to stem the Rowdies' constant assault and strong defense.

The Fury offense was hard pressed to reach the Rowdies' goal, but center halfback Klaus Dolling made a fine showing along with midfielders Jeremy Burgess, Martin Dau, David Russell and Adam Pizzi. Showing exemplary hustle on the front line were Charles Foley and William Rhodes, with several break aways to their credit, and Michael Marinelli, Scott Coren, Simon Kavanagh, and Matthew Taylor.

The Fury defense, which was constantly under attack, played an excellent game. Fury fullbacks Mark McCaffrey, Tom Hanlon, Glen Kurz and Joe Tinervin all made spectacular plays in many attempts to stop the Rowdies. Goalkeeper Mark Gilrain made 11 great saves — an impressive tally in the driving rain.

Lancers Lose

Insurance goal which made the score 4-3.

The defense of David Fried, Louie Peluso, John Telling and Marc Halpin contributed to the win. Robbie Macaluso, B.J. Taylor and Jared Kolbert controlled mid field. The front line, Alex Zuniga, Danny Soucek, Stephan Dolling (who played very good full back in the second half) Hampden Tanner, John Hancock, Matt Zanger and Angelo Ben-civenga tried hard.

Volleyball Team Has Limited Week #1 Success

By Nancy Rowe
In the first week of the season, the Westfield High School girls' volleyball team lost its first match but was able to beat Belleville in an 11 team tournament.

Westfield was defeated by Nutley last Thursday in a two game match, 15-4 and 15-1. Despite the loss Lisa McGowan and Kathy Harbough both made outstanding efforts, says Coach Kathy Ryan.

As spikers, McGowan and Harbough stand close to the net and make the final hit to the opposite side. The best possible shot for a spiker is one that drops between the first and second line of players. The procedure is called a dig.

The spikers for the Nutley game were Natalie Czorba, Irene Lenart, Alicia McGowan and Alison Datch along with Harbough and Lisa McGowan.

The setters were Lisa Martin and Lana Leinbach. A setter stands in the middle of the court and hits the ball high to a spiker.

Last Saturday the team played in the Columbia Tournament at Columbia high school. Westfield beat Belleville in one game, 16-14. Westfield will play against Belleville later in the regular season.

The junior varsity volleyball squad chose Alicia Poole and Ruth Landers as captains.

The next match is Friday, April 16, away against Union.

Bernstein Wins Fencing Title

Irwin Bernstein of Westfield registered his 14th N.J. Epee Championship by capturing the 1982 team title Sunday as a member of the Hungarian American Athletic Club (of New Brunswick). The day long annual event was held at the Montclair-Kimberly School in Montclair, and drew five teams of four fencers each representing N.J. Clubs or Colleges.

The victorious HAAC team successfully defended its championship by winning all four of its matches by large margins. It thereby qualified to represent N.J. in the National Championships being held in June at George Mason University in Virginia. Princeton University placed second with two match victories.

Bernstein, who has now won 10 team and 4 individual N.J. Epee Championships since 1959, is also active in local tennis competition and serves as a vice-president of the Westfield Tennis Association.

Paper Sculpture At Newark Museum

"The Dome Series," an exhibition of handmade paper sculpture by Irmari Nacht, will be shown in the Mini-Gallery of the Newark Museum through May 16.

The small dome-shaped sculptures, made from natural fibrous materials, form villages, cities, battles of opposing armies, landmarks and other earth structures.
