Once again the agen cies requests reflect the problems of limited funding, changing markets and an ever-worsening inflationary spiral," stated changing needs and available funds makes the allocation process continuing challenge.

Among the major objectives of the budget review process is the consideration of the overall priorities and needs of the community; to guard against duplication of services; to help maintain a high quality of agency staff, programs and facilities; and to assist member agencies with their own budget process. Each agency answers such questions as what their programs are achieving, how many people they are serving, what alternate sources of income are tivities from canoeing to what are the problems in

The members of the Baha'i Faith in Union County share an urgent concern with religious and humanitarian groups all over the world for the plight of the 400,000 member Baha's Community of Iran who, because of religious prejudice, are being singled out for a singled out for a systematic eradication of all traces of the Baha'i faith in that country. Because the principal concern of Baha'i's throughout the world is the "Oneness of Humanity" or to state it simpler, "the fact that mankind is one," the Baha'i's of Westfield feel an urgent need to demonstrate that "prejudice of all kinds must be eradicated from the face of the planet and that it is truly possible with a dedicated effort." That effort will begin with the first annual Race Unity Day celebration Sunday, June

More Bugs on the Way

We haven't heard the end of the gypsy moths yet, and the Union County Division of Mosquito Control and Extermination, directed by Walter R. Davis Jr., now warns us about the current peak breeding time of mos-

We never have quite believed the tales about the Jersey mosquitos being bigger and more fearsome in this state than any other. Perhaps that's because man has learned to do something about them and does it.

We were informed by the mosquito commission located, incidentally here in Westfield at the county campus at 300 North Ave. — that mosquitos are a problem year-round, but we've yet to see one face-to-face in the middle of a snowstorm.

The commission says it is impossible to eliminate mosquitos entirely but they can be controlled to an acceptable level so they do not become a health hazard or rise to an intolerable nuisance level during their peak breeding time from early May through early

The majority of known breeding habitats in Union County are mapped and charted, but unknown places such as abandoned swimming pools, discarded tires, unused and uncovered receptacles (trash cans, pails, fish ponds, bird baths, low areas in a yard, etc.) can hold water and become stagnant thus providing the mosquitos with perfect breeding spots.

The public is urged to eliminate all standing water, dispose of old tires, empty buckets and cans, clean clogged roof gutters, change water in bird baths and fountains weekly, stock ornamental pools with fish, circulate swimming pools when not in use, empty watering cans and flower pots and cover trash cans.

We suspect that after our recent rainfalls that mosquitos can find numerous places suitable for breeding in almost any yard.

If you think that you have a mosquito problem you can call the Mosquito Commission (attached to the County Department of Public Works) and they promise to answer your complaints within 24 hours and keep your call "in the strictest confidence.

Phone lines are open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily Monday through Friday. Call either 233-7321 or

County Government: Cooperation across Town Lines

Union County - The Home of Streetcar Suburbs

By Rose Marie Union County Freeholder

In Union County, we are certainly aware that many of our communities started as what can be called 'streetcar suburbs.'

New Jersey's first suburbs originated along major corridors of transportation. At the turn of the century. streetcars became additional transit links from outlying municipalities to the center of these cities. With the mass mobility provided by trolleys, workers were able to move out of Newark into suburbs which included Elizabeth.

As a member of the Union County Trans-portation and Advisory Board, I was particularly interested in "The Anatomy of a Streetcar Suburb", a conference I recently attended in Haledon, near Paterson.

Sponsored by the American Labor Museum with funding from the N.J. Committee for the Humanities. the conference traced some of the reasons why so many streetcar suburbs started in this state.

American cities in general evolved as centers for commerce and industry. Their growth was directly related to the accessibility and growth of reason, it is often said that railroads built America. In the early cities the extent of travel was deter-mined by walking distances. People walked everywhere. It was natural, therefore, that any

San Francisco's cable cars of the 1880's represented the first technological advance in urban transportation. Suburbs took further shape in relation to effective trolley service.

Summit, an older rather than any system of suburb which blossomed as a summer resort when the railroad came through, is an example of moderate growth. Low-intensity growth is seen in such places as Berkeley Heights and Scotch Plains, which remain primarily "bedroom" communities remain of single-family residences and a sprinkling of light industry

Industrial growth has oc curred in Union County in direct relationship to transportation facilities and is concentrated in Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway. Commercial centers are in the central business districts of Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield and Summit Other concentrations occur in "strip" fashion - that is, directly on major thoroughfares such as U.S Route 22.

Supreme Court. However, the District Court ruling was stayed on appeal by the state Democratic leadership pending a decision by the Supreme Court as to whether it will hear arguments in the case or let the lower court's invalidation of the plan stand. Because the high court has heard arguments in all the cases it is expected to rule on before recessing for the summer on June 21, it is unlikely that the court will hear on the New Jersey case before the fall term begins in October. Considering the serious consequences of this issue for New Jerseyans, it is unfortunate that the Supreme Court did not act more exgress from New Jersey in urging the court to quickly settle this dispute by not hearing an appeal by the Democrats of the lower federal court decision overturning the map.

The redistricting was undertaken by the Legislature in accordance with the federal laws requiring the reapportion-ment of Congressional districts every ten years to reflect changes in the national population. Because New Jersey did not grow as fast as some other sections of the country, it was necessary to reduce the number of Congressional districts from 15 to 14. But in remapping the state, the Democratic-controlled Legislature abandoned reason and fair play and created a weird configuration of Congressional districts that make no common or geographic sense.

For example, the 12th District, which I have represented since 1972, and which has consisted of 18 municipalities in Union County, has been divided into two districts that ininclude municipalities that do not have the slightest community of interest. The new 12th District stretches Plainfield, Roselle, Roselle COMING SOON: What I through 7 counties and 64 Park, Scotch Plains, intend to do about statemunicipalities. The new Westfield.

It is obvious that the plan violates the public interest by failing to create districts that are compact, by ignoring common social and economic interest, and by not recognizing county lines and present Congressional district boundaries. This blatant gerrymandering is the type of shameless indifferences to the interest of the public that invites distrust of government and generates voter apathy. It has also created confusion, with the result many citizens have no idea

Once upon a time, when state salaries were inferior to those in business and industry, the practice may have been justified as an attraction for more qualified candidates for state jobs. But state salaries are equal or even better than private industry today.

Donner Softball Camp in 3rd Year

Feivelson, Kevin Jacox, Michelle Quill.

Carol Donner, head coach at Westfield High School, will conduct her third anual softball camp this summer. The camp will be held in two ses sions: the first will be held from June 28 to July 2; the second will be from Aug. 2 to Aug. 6. Both sessions will be conducted at the Westfield High School Field on Rahway Ave. from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The camp philosophy has the basic fundamentals of softball. New skills will be taught to intermediate and advanced players, in order to make the game more enoyable and challenging. All players will be grouped according to age and skill level, in order to insure maximum learning.

The program includes the basic fundamentals: Baserunning, batting, catconditioning, fielding, pitching, and throwing. The Strategies of hitting, offense and Soup, sandwiches, salads, defense will also be specials and desserts will covered. There will be special pitching instruction which will include all the basic mechanics and styles Lalian Sausage, Onion & pepper on Hoagie basic mechanics and styles of delivery, as well as alternate pitches and defensive responsibilties. There will also be special drills for infielders, outfielders, pitchers, and cat- Tossed green Salad

The additional staff will include Barbara Hudock, Hillsboro High Schol softball coach, Hallie Cohen, head coach of the Fairleigh Dickinson women's softball team, and Westfield High School varsity players acting as aides. A one coach to ten player ratio will be maintained.

The camp will also feature use of pitching and Both sessions will in-

YOU SHOULD BE COOKING ON A NEW GAS RANGE

Here's why. You use your range almost every day, so you naturally want a range with all the modern features to make cooking easy, economical!

EASY CLEANING OVENS

No one likes to spend hours cleaning an oven. That's why you'll really appreciate the time-saving, work-saving convenience of a gas range that you can set for self-cleaning, or the oven that continuously cleans itself while it

AUTOMATIC IGNITION

New gas ranges light automatically, without a pilot. They use about half the amount of primary energy as electric ranges and cost up to 30% less to operate than older gas ranges with continuously burning pilot lights.

ENERGY-SAVING DOLLARS

You can cook with gas for only pennies a meal -- about half the cost of cooking on an electric range. During the lifetime of your energy-efficient gas range, these savings are substantial.

GREAT NEW FEATURES

Today, many gas ranges feature pilot-less ignitions, top griddles, thicker insulation around the ovens, programmed cooking, and thermostaticallycontrolled top burners. You can even buy microwave and gas combinations. Of course, gas ranges still give you instant on-off burners and just the right amount of heat for each cooking need.

SMOKELESS BROILING

Broiling with gas is cleaner than broiling with electricity. Most electric range manufacturers recommend broiling with the door open. But when using gas, you broil with the door closed. The flame consumes most of the grease spatters and smoke.

SEE OUR COMPLETE SELECTION OF NEW GAS RANGES TODAY!

Democratic write-in campaign for Mayor, the local Primary lacks excitement, but Westfield voters will have some options on both Republican Democratic ballots for some county, state and

Brian Fahey, chairman of the Democratic Committee of Westfield, urges today a write-in for Mrs. Kueter for nomination for Mayor.

Congressional nominees.

"She has been Westfield resident for more than 23 years, Fahey states," and during this time she has served the community well on a variety of civic committees that have improved the quality of life in Westfield for all of us. "Carolyn deserves the chance to serve as Mayor," Fahey continues, "but she needs the voters" help. Although she has been officially endorsed by the Democratic Party of Union County, her name will not appear on the voting machine ballot. In order to vote for her, one must write in her name with a pen or pencil in the blank tab that is above the column on the voting machine labeled machine labeled "MAYOR" There are blank tabs above all of the columns, so care must be taken to use only that tab above the column 'MAYOR" to cast your vote for Carolyn.

"Voters must bring their own pen or pencil. None be provided at the polls," Fahey adds. "In order for each vote to count, one must write all of the following: Carolyn K. Kueter, Democrat. If anything is left out, the vote won't count."

grading of the science labs. "Deliberations on the board's annual operating budget did not result in a reduction for three reasons.

"First, without doubt, the most significant reason was support by some Councilmen for the board's tendency to budget up to CAP. Only two of eight on Council (the Mayor was away) felt the operating budget should be cut. This cut would have been acreduction in the operating expenditures portion of the budget — thereby not negatively affecting thorough and efficient' education in Westfield. Betty List and I believed "Miscellaneous Revenue" line was underestimated by $3-4,000,000. I also felt the "Debt Service Interest" expenditure line was overestimated by

"The rest of the Council, however, agreed with the Board of Education and felt the "up to CAP" figure allowed by the CAP law was a "Town Asset" and should not be lost because the future budgets might 'need' this leverage. To voter dissatisfaction with budget under CAP limit their property revaluation percentage is probable in a way the 'formula' lags student enrollment figures. The CAP law is exerting a "budget up to CAP" pressure and this pressure should be eliminated because it is counter-productive to the expressed goals of the CAP law. However, the majority of the Council agreed with the 'Town CAP Asset' philosophy.

"In neighboring towns, this "Town Asset" has been used to transfer education-associated costs, such as crossing thorough review. More imguards or recreation program costs, from the an improved CAP law with understand when you realize the municipal thorough review.' budget CAP is 5%, and the education CAP is 8.5% inspite of decreasing enrollments.

"I propose the following

CAP law change:

If a Board of Education does not budget up to the full CAP amount allowable in the current budget year then this under budgeted difference should be declared a 'Town Asset.' This Asset, or 90% of it should be added back into the base amount the following year, as if it has been budgeted, prior to calculating that years' up to CAP amount allowable. "This change would defuse the argument that Boards of Education should budget up to CAP by negating the future penalty realized when a board budgets under CAP. This is needed especially in a year when a large decrease in enrollment is forecast.

"Second, the interval allowed for review by Council as determined by the State Legislature was reduced as a result of the snow storm. This made a manifested itself in a couple of years due to the negative budget vote. This was a direct result of the average resident getting hit in the near future with a larger tax bite due to the Town-wide property reassessments. How large a role this played in the Board of Education budget defeat is surely debatable. The Board of Education thought this was a significant factor, but most of the Council disagreed. "In summary, if there is another budget defeat, I hope future Councils will be given enough time for a portant, however, we need municipal budget to the a built-in CAP ASSET Board of Education carryover accounting pro-budget. A Birthday Party In Good Taste

On Saturday, June 5th, a couple of musician friends have decided to celebrate COOKY'S first birthday with several hours of old-fashioned string band music, starting at 1 PM.

The past year has been hard work, and we are delighted that you have been so supportive of our effort to produce the highest quality baked goods, using the finest ingredients available.

We hope that our cookies, English scones, buttermilk biscuits, apple strudel, Linzer torte, absolutely sinful brownies and special breads have made life a bit more tasteful.

You have been extremely complimentary of our latest offering -CROISSANTS - and we are trying hard to keep up with the demand. Thank you for making COOKY'S an integral part of Westfield.

Audiology Services Mark Second Anniversary at Children's Hospital

Audiology services at Children's Specialized hospital celebrated its second anniversary May 14, complete with a huge cake for staff and patients. Appropriately enough, the anniversary came during National Better Hearing and Speech Month, designated by the American Speech Language and Hearing Association to heighten public awareness of the communicative disorders which affect one out of Americans. every

With communication impairment the largest disability among school-age children, it was only natural for Children's Specialized to develop facilities specifically designed for the diagnosis and treatment of pediatric hearing disorders, according to pediatric audiologist Ellen Hansen.

Early diagnosis is especially important, explains Hansen, because hearing loss can adversely affect speech, language, and cognitive development. In short, she says "the child's total social, emotional and communicative world.

Currently, about 100 outpatients are being seen in audiology. Every patient is routinely tested, too, to determine if he or she has hearing impairment. Since hearing and speech dif-ficulties usually go together in children, Hansen works closely with the ten speech pathologists on the staff.

Although the service tests and treats otherwise normal children referred by teachers and pediatricians, it is particularly noted for its ability to assess hearing sensitivity in children who can't be tested using conventional audiometric techniques

(i.e., earphones). Included in this category are mentally retarded autistic and physically handicapped youngsters and children with severe behavioral or emotional problems. These patients are tested in a special sound-treated booth large enough to accommodate speakers, sophisticated audiometric equipment, a wheelchair or stretcher, and either Ms. Hansen or staff assistant Amy Goldberg.

It is often asked if there is any medication that can stop snoring. It must first be explained what causes this disruptive noise. There is a soft, fleshy cap, which covers the opening of the windpipe. Its purpose is to block this air passage so that food will not be inhaled into it while eating. An individual, who sleeps on his back, especially, will sometimes breathe so as to vibrate the flap creating the snoring sound. When awake, an involuntary control stops the flap from moving. Gently awaken the snorer and suggest that he sleep on his HANDY HINT:

A stopped-up nose can cause one to breathe through the month and can cause a dry throat as well.

International League Playoffs Begin This Week

Each team had a schedule of 11 regular season games. However, due to last weekends rainouts, only six teams had a chance to play all 11 games. Since all teams are parlicipating in the playoffs and with the World Series scheduled for Saturday. June 12, it was imperative that playoff action begin this week. Playoff positions were thus calculated on the basis of 10 complete games. Any team who had played a fie or suspended game, and did not show sufficient effort to complete those games by the start of playoff action, was given credit for a loss. FINAL LEAGUE STANDINGS shared 7 strikeout victims enroute to the only pitching shutout of the entire 88 game International League schedule. Good solid learn defense also was a key factor against the well coached Salt Lake City nine. Shortstop Jeff Pinkin and outfielder Danny Gerber had key RBI hits and played tough defense. Dodgers 13 After the ground crew at Gumbert Field turned an apparently unplayable wet field into a truly major league conditioned field, the Dodgers continued their winning streak by defeating the Twins 11-1. If was Dodger "12 year olds" Ken Riley, getting 3 hits for 4 at bats and Lamont Pierce who retired 11 Twins in a row out of the 4 innings he pitched, who showed the Dodgers the way. Giving Riley offensive support were Dodger teammates Tom Grasso with a bases loaded double and Chuck Mueller, Paul Wampler and Pierce each getting RBI singles. Defensively Matt Brown and Mark Kumpf combined their pitching talents in relief of Pierce to hold the Twins to only one run while Lowell Schantz, Roy Jansen, David Stravach, Brian Muetler and Charley Brown turned in their normally fine defensive efforts.

Two weeks of less than ideal tennis weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the players on the Westfield Tennis Association's Men's Singles Ladder struggling to improve their positions. Thirty eight of the current top 50 in the standings played at least one match, and a total of 41 matches were recorded. In addition, four new players have joined the ladder. The last published standings contained a number of errors caused by several properly reported matches not being reflected. The current standings include corrections for these errors. They are:

Diplomats Win

The Westfield Diplomats has the motto "awesome" and played up to their billing by bealing a tough Rahway soccer team 6-2 last week. This victory over the Arrows was spearheaded by the sensational play of Marc Hardy and Chris Mc. Cali. Each not only scored their lirst goal of the season, but went further. Marc added another goal in the second half and assisted on two others and Chris added two more assists to maintain his team leadership in this area. Rowdies Win

The Westfield Fury was shut out by its nemesis, the Rahway Rowdies, for the second time this season. The Fury had improved their play vastly since their first encounter with Rahway; but, un-fortunately, so had the Rowdies.

A very accomplished Rahway pulied out all stops thwarting every attempt on goal by Fury forwards William Rhodes, Simon Kavanagh, miniam Knodes, Simon Kavanagh, Tom Hanton, and Michael Marinelli. Fury halfbacks David Russell, Adam Pizzi and Joe Tiner-vin did their best under the leader-ship of Klaus Dolling who played an excellent game. Glen Kurz, Jeremy Burgess, and Scott Coren stood up very well against the constant pressure of the Rowdies' forward line but were unable to prevent them from scoring. Goalie Mark Gilrain kept Rahway scoreless in the first quarter and made 11 impressive saves in the first half. Matt Taylor made a fine debut in goal in the second half and tatleyed 10 saves.
