Breaking ground Tuesday for new school maintenance facility at the Elm St. school administration building are, left to right, Dr. James Donovan, assistant superintendent; Dr. Samuel Soprano, acting assistant superintendent of schools for business; C. William Vincentsen, member of the Board of Education and its chairman of operations and facilities; Charles Rietzke, representing the Westfield Support Staff Association; and Steven Zatko, supervisor of the maintenance department. The Board of Education awarded a contract for the $117,305 construction project June 15 to the M & M Construction Co. The cost of the new facility - whose location was a controversial subject for more than two years - is $11,365 more than the amount budgeted in the 1981-82 school budget but the difference will be made up from surplus funds in the same budget.

Council Wants Itinerant Vendors to Keep Moving

An ordinance governing the operations of vendors in the B-1 and B-2 (business) zones of town - and specifically prohibiting itinerants from remaining stationary for more than one hour in the downtown area, won initial approval of the Town Council Tuesday night.

The amendment to the town code is designed to protect legitimate, tax-paying businesses, it was explained.

The ordinance restricting "auctioneers, peddlers, hawkers, transient merchants and itinerant vendors" will join an ordinance appropriating $150,000 and the purchase of a new 1500 gallons-per-minute pumper apparatus for the Fire Department on the Aug. 10 agenda. The Town Council will take final action on both measures following public hearings. The Town Council holds only two meetings during the summer months, one in July and the other scheduled for Aug. 10. Twice-monthly sessions resume in September.

Unanimously approved by council Tuesday were ordinances authorizing an agreement with Union County for participation in the Community Development Revenue Sharing program and appropriating $25,000 for the installation of an automatic traffic control signal at the intersection of Central Ave. and Grove St.

Council also agreed to a $7,000 contract with Edwards & Kelcey of Livingston to serve as a traffic consultant in its opposition to rezoning by Springfield of property adjacent to Westfield to permit construction of a mall housing two major department stores and 80-some satellite shops.

At its second meeting in June, own Council approved the emergency appropriation of $20,000 to aid local "Stop the Mall" efforts. Other resolutions passed at Tuesday's session would extend "no passing" zones on East Broad St. from the central business district to Woodland Ave. and approved assessments for the improvement of Tice Place and Coddling Rd. and the construction of sidewalks on South Chestnut St. and St. Marks Ave.

Drew Landscaping was granted a landscaper license, the Franklin School PTA and Spaulding for Children raffles licenses and Chipwich ala carte a peddler's license.

South Ave. Liquor Mart Granted License Transfer

The Red Ribbon Liquor Corp., trading as the Shoppers Liquor Mart was granted permission by a 5-2 vote of the town Council Tuesday night to purchase the retail liquor license of Cappy's Liquor Store at 331 South Ave. East and transfer it to 341 South Ave. East.

The new store, will occupy about 7,250 square feet of the building formerly housing a A & P supermarket and later a Plus supermarket. The building has been vacant for about a year and a half.

Consent to the person-to-person and place-to-place transfer came from all but Councilmen John Brady and Betty List after about an hour's hearing on the license, necessary because four local retail dealers had opposed the transfer.

Owners of International Wines and Liquors, Peterson's Liquor Store and Robert Treat Liquors appeared to represent four of the existing six retail liquor licensees in Westfield, have previously filed a written protest to Town Clerk Joy Vreeland.

Their objections primarily centered on the size of the operation, problems of security and pilferage and possible difficulties relating to sales to minors. The three owners were the only objectors at the hearing, but reminded councilmen of a request made late last year for transfer of Cappy's license to Shop-Rite Liquors, a move opposed by a number of residents and representatives of parent-teacher organizations.

The Shop-Rite appeal would have, if granted, resulted in the use of the entire building, with about 12,000 square feet for the sale of liquor and 5,000 square feet for milk, cheese and other products. The owner of the new Shoppers Liquor Mart, Howard Nadel a resident of 2051 Wood Rd. Scotch Plains, said his store would be confined to the sale of wines, beers, liquors and some party goods with about 4500-5000 square feet in the front of the store for display purposes, the remaining 2,000-2500 rear space for refrigeration, security, restrooms, etc.

Nadel has owned a liquor store on Route 22 in Union for five years.

Bidding Brisk on Projects, Contracts Below Estimates

The current slump in construction has brought an unfavorable climate to contractors but has produced some rays of sunshine for the town's capital improvement budget.

Three contracts awarded by the Town Council Tuesday night were all appreciably below original estimates for the projects.

An $81,862 contract was awarded to Green Construction Co. for curb replacement at various locations in town; cost of the project had been estimated at $119,400.

F. Farro Contracting won an $84,112 contract for the reconstruction of Ayliffe Ave.; original price tag: $103,405

And reconstruction of Lawnside Pl. will be accomplished by Belott Contracting for $30,006, considerably less than the $37,507 projected for the work.

The town's estimates, according to Councilman Raymond Stone, chairman of the public works committee, were based on previous experience.

At Tuesday night's meeting, both the Ayliffe Ave. and Lawnside Pl. programs brought 11 bids each, ranging from the low bids which received the contracts up to about $121,000 for the Ayliffe Ave. project and up to $40,202 for Lawnside Pl.

"Where Have All the Parties Gone?"

Third in a Series

For four days prior to Prom Night, a mangled car which had been involved in a fatal accident in Fanwood was placed on the grounds of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. Authorities hoped that the auto would serve as a grim warning to students of the possible results of combining drinking and driving.

Statistics from the U.S. Department of Transportation, while less graphic, are equally grim. Drunk driving is the number one killer of men and women in their teens and twenties. In addition to the nearly 8,000 who die in alcohol-related auto accidents every year another 40,000 are crippled or disfigured for life. In the 15 to 19 year old age group, the leading cause of death is the automobile accident and almost 60% of these are alcohol related.

In 1972, before the legal drinking age in New Jersey was lowered to 18, 8.9% of fatal accidents occurred in the 18-20 year old group. By 1978, according to the National Department of Highway Safety, the percentage had leaped to 34.6.

Two years ago the Legislature raised the minimum drinking age to 19. The State Senate recently passed a law raising the drinking age to 21. The Assembly has yet to vote on it.

Teresa McGeary, executive director of the Union County Council on Alcoholism is urging a higher legal drinking age. "Teens can get their driver's license at 17 and need time and experience to develop their skills," she suggests.

Chuck Hardwick, assemblyman from Westfield, agrees that youthful drinking is a problem, however, he plans to sponsor legislation which would permit 19 and 20-year-olds to continue drinking in licensed establishments such as restaurants and pubs, but would prohibit them from buying package goods to take off premises for later consumption. His rationale is that many 19 and 20 year-olds will travel to New

The Union County Council of Alcoholism is a non-profit voluntary program which attempts to combat alcoholism through education and counseling.

Teresa McGeary, executive director, has announced a program specifically for teens, "Alcoholism Training for Peer Presenters," set for July 29 and 27 and Aug. 3 and 10 at 1:30 p.m. at the offices on the second floor at 300 North Ave. East. Mrs. McGeary says that 26 Y-Teens already have signed up for the series.

RAP (Rehabilitation Alcohol Problems) meetings are held every Thursday from 6 to 7 p.m. also at the office.

York where the drinking age was recently raised to 19 (it had been 18) and that drunken driving by youths on highways near New York will increase. If the 21-year-old minimum drinking law bill is the one considered by the Legislature, he says, "I will vote for it."

Whether it is legal or not teenagers admit to drinking alcoholic beverages. Information from the Union County Council on Alcoholism indicates that 90% of teenagers have tried alcohol compared to 53% in the 1940's and 50's. A survey made by the Hi's Eye, the WHS student newspaper, shows that high school students here conform to that statistic.

Results of the survey (which represented 20% of the student body) were published in the Nov. 20 issue of the newspaper. They revealed that 89.5% of the students drink; and beer is the beverage of preference. According to the students most of their drinking (45.9%) is done at parties, however, 91.3% said they would attend a party where alcohol is not permitted. Other drinking spots are friends' homes, their own homes, cars, bars, parks and woods. The article went on to say that after students receive their driver's licenses they are reluctant to drink in cars because they are afraid of being charged with drunken driving.

Five teenagers were among the 56 persons arrested in Westfield last year for driving while intoxicated. Two male

17-year-olds and one female and two male 18-year-olds were charged. All were under the legal

85% of WHS Grads to Continue in 190 Different Schools

Nearly 85 percent (84.4 percent) of 505 graduates in the Westfield High School Class of 1982 plan to further their education, according to a report released this week by M. Evelyn Maloney, director of guidance for the school system.

In June 491 senior students received diplomas. Of these nine were special education students. Included in the 505 students are the 491 students who received diplomas in June and 23 students who will complete graduation requirements by the end of the summer.

Of these 505 graduates, 426, or 84.4 percent, plan to further their education, with 336 students, or 66.6 percent, scheduled to attend four-year colleges; 57 students, or 11.3 percent, scheduled to attend two-year colleges; and 33 students, or 6.5 percent, planning to attend other schools, such as vocational-technical and business.

Four of the graduates have enrolled in the armed forces, 62 are employed and 13 were undecided when the guidance department report was compiled in June.

Where will the 426 seniors continue their education? Mostly, out of state—with students going to schools and colleges in states as close as New York and Pennsylvania and places as far away as France, Germany and Sweden. New Jersey will claim 103 students—56 at four-year colleges in the state and 47 at two-year colleges in the state.

The 505 WHS graduates will continue their education at 190 different colleges, schools and universities across the nation.

School Board to Act On Roof Contract Tonight

The Westfield Board of Education will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the board meeting room at 302 Elm St.

Purpose of the special meeting is to accept a bid for the long-planned reroofing of Jefferson School. The reroofing plan has been approved by the State Department of Education. Funds, approximately $193,000, for the new roof will be taken from surplus.

"The past few Boards of Education have been firmly committed to improved maintenance and capital improvements to protect and preserve our school facilities," said Board President Leo J. Senus. "Two capital bond issues failed in 1980.

"We are fortunate that high interest rates over the past few years on board investments have contributed to our surplus so that we can undertake some of these necessary capital improvements," he said.

"The special meeting on July 8 is necessary," the board president explained, "to act on the roofing bid so that construction work can begin as soon as possible. Every effort is made to have major maintenance and capital improvement work done during the summer when students and staff members are not in the school buildings," he continued.

The board's special meeting is open to the public.

98 Courses in Session At 11th Summer Workshop

Summer of '82 heralds the 11th season of the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts at Thomas Alva Edison Junior High in Westfield.

Activity abounds from stage as well as classroom. Now well acquainted with individualized schedules, students eagerly bustle from class to class in anticipation of the day's activities.

Profs Honored

Two Westfield professors at the New Jersey Medical School in Newark are recipients of appreciation awards. They are Dr. John Tesoriero, assistant professor of gross anatomy, and Edward Flynn, associate professor of pharmacology.

Courses, which number 98, progress in 80 various teaching locations throughout the building. Courses are designed for every level of performance from beginner to the semi-private or private master classes. A staff of 77 teachers and 33 employed students guide pupils through the creative experience.

The spectrum of creativity is spanned in courses from jazz aerobics and juggling to Indian crafts and air brush techniques. All shades of creativity are illuminated from the percussion course, drum and tune to the creative writing of fiction. "Dungeons and Dragons," a strategy game provides a challenge in the current interest area. Meanwhile, the computer technology workshop this year offers not only an enriching program to grades eight and up, but also to the pre kindergarten program.

Talent, creativity, imagination and enthusiasm are all in residence at the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts.

Theodore Schlosberg, director, invites the community to attend Friday's weekly "Happenings" to enjoy informal performances by students and faculty. "Happenings" are free of charge and held from 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the auditorium and gymnasium.

Hardwick to Address Budget, Drinking Age Issues Tomorrow

Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) is scheduled to appear on cable Television's Channel 3 on a show called "The Chuck Hardwick Legislative Report," a comprehensive newsmagazine of the New Jersey Legislature.

The half-hour program will be shown at 8:35 p.m. tomorrow. Topics covered in the show will be the state budget, which Hardwick discusses with Gov. Thomas Kean, and the minimum drinking age, which the Legislature is considering raising to 21.

The Westfield Republican is the Assembly representative for the 21st District, which includes nine Union County municipalities: Westfield, Cranford, Springfield, Union, Roselle, Roselle Park, Garwood, Hillside and Kenilworth.

"This is an informative show for people who want to know what's happening in the state legislature, for those who want to know about actions in Trenton that will affect their lives here in Union County," Hardwick said.

Barbara Nagy's Work Displayed

The pastels and oil paintings by Barbara Nagy are on exhibit at the Westfield Barrett & Crain Office, 43 Elm Street.

Nagy, a former resident of Scotch Plains and a '74 graduate of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, studied with A.E. Atlas of Westfield; L. Lober of Westfield; and international artist, Maxwell Stuart Simpson who resides in Scotch Plains. After high school, Barbara attended the Rhode Island School of Design where she majored in graphic design and illustration. After college, Barbara started with Tele-Pages Inc. of Parsippany as a graphic designer where she eventually became manager of the art department before she left to start her family. Her work has been exhibited in local art shows in Kenilworth and Belleville. She has currently become a member of the Kenilworth Art Association and the West Essex Art Association.

Nagy's work tends to the realistic - photo realistic approach. She is a portrait artist and her collection of movie star portraits has been exhibited before. As an illustrator, her work seems to lend to the viewer a Norman Rockwell quality.

In Barrett & Crain's other display window at 43 Elm St. are photographs of outstanding residential properties currently for sale as well as public service bulletins on community affairs.

Everything Was "Beautiful" For Summer Concert Opener

Beautiful weather and beautiful music created the perfect atmosphere for the opening performance of the Recreation Commission's "Concert in the Park" series last Thursday evening.

The Westfield Community Band, currently under the direction of Conductor Al Zareva, began its 22nd year at Mindowaskin Park by playing to a large crowd of families with their tiny tots dancing and marching to the rhythm. The evening's program covered a diverse assortment of musical styles including the march pieces "Coat of Arms," and "Diamond Jubilee," and such lighter, contemporary works as "Serenata," "Swedish Melody," and "Trumpet Holiday," featuring soloist Edward Munzer, Jr.

During the band's intermission, a musical interlude was performed by the flute duet of Tom Schaefer and Jim Gertano. The highlights of the evening came when the crowd could be heard humming along with the band's rendition of selections from Jerome Kern's "Show Boat." Equally popular was the music from the movie-hit, "Fame" which inspired several of the children to get up and dance.

The band closed with the old standards of "God Bless America" and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" and were then called back for an enthusiastic encore of the "Belles of Chicago March."

The Community Band will perform this evening at 8 p.m. in the Mindowaskin bandshell and will feature James Gertano, lead flutist.

Conductor Al Zareva strikes up the band at the opening performance of the Concert in the Park series in Mindowaskin.

A large crowd turned out to hear the first performance of the Westfield Community Concert Band who play Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. in Mindowaskin.

Julie, a member of the Pathfinders Seeng Eye Puppy Project and the Veterinary Science Club, spoke about how to tell the age of a horse by looking at its teeth. This was Julie's first year of competition.

Both youths had to qualify for the State competition by winning a Blue Ribbon at the County Public Presentation. Milton and Julie were two

Honeywell to Host Westfield Blood Drive

Honeywell Incorporated, located at 574 Springfield Ave. will hold a blood drive on Tuesday, July 13, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The drive, which is cosponsored by the Westfield-Mountain-side chapter of the American Red Cross and New Jersey Blood Services, will be open to the public.

Joyce Fields, chairperson for the Honeywell drive, noted that this was the third year for the company-sponsored blood drive. "We started our yearly drives as part of our community-based responsibility," said Fields. "Our employees are aware of the critical situation in so far as blood supplies go. Knowing that they are helping themselves and their communities means quite a lot."

Don Stouder, executive director of the Westfield-Mountain-side Red Cross pointed out the need for donors with Type O Negative blood. "We have already seen shortages throughout the area," Stouder noted. "We want to encourage every area resident to make an effort to donate a pint of blood in order to ensure adequate blood supplies for everyone."

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health, can donate blood. Seventeen-year-olds require the written consent of a parent or guardian; donors 66 and older must have the permission of a physician to give blood.

For further information, contact the Westfield-Mountain-side Red Cross or the New Jersey Blood Services.

Union College Moves Ahead On Its Merger Plans

Union College took the first steps last week to implement the law authorizing a merger of Union College and Union County Technical Institute to create a public community college in Union County.

Union College's board of trustees, pursuant to the statute signed into law June 24 by Governor Thomas Kean, voted to accept the legislation (S-1307). The law was inoperative without this action by the board of trustees of Union College, an independent institution.

In the resolution, the board of trustees also voted "pursuant to the aforesaid statute, that it impresses the property and funds under its control and ownership and in its possession on June 30, 1962, with a public trust for the use and benefit of the higher education of the citizens of the county."

By this action, the board of trustees made available to Union County its assets valued at more than $20 million, including its 48-acre Cranford Campus, and seven major buildings. The law provides for the governance of the public community college in Union County to be shared by a board of trustees and a board of governors.

The board of governors, currently Union College's

Hospice Aide Completes Course

Erika deMello of Westfield, a Hospice volunteer, was recently graduated at Rahway Hospital after a seven-week training course.

Hospice is a philosophy of care that helps patients and their families through the trying period of terminal illness and death. The program uses the family as the principal unit of care, but also involves an interdisciplinary team of physician, nurse, social worker, clergy person, dietitian and volunteer.

Volunteers are an essential part of any Hospice program. They help keep the home running smoothly and are available to the family even after the death of the patient. They are always ready to listen and to act as a sounding board.

After undergoing a seven-week training course held at Rahway Hospital the volunteers are assigned to Hospice patients as the need arises.

board of trustees, will have between 21 and 30 members, will hold title to the assets of Union College, will serve in an advisory capacity to the board of trustees, and will advise and consent on the appointment of the chief executive officer.

The board of trustees will have "general supervision over and be vested with the conduct of the college." It will have "authority and responsibility" to: determine the educational curriculum and program, appoint members of the administrative and teaching staff and determine their compensation and terms of employment, set tuition and fees, grant degrees, certificates and diplomas, enter into contracts and agreements, accept gifts, grants or contributions, and disburse funds and direct and control expenditures.

In addition, the board of trustees will have "general supervision of the conduct" of Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, and will hold title to all its assets, which primarily are the Technical Institute Building and the Health Technologies Building with an estimated value of $10 million.

The board of trustees will have 11 members: four appointed by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, two appointed by the New Jersey State Board of Higher Education, four appointed by the Board of Governors, and the county superintendent of schools.

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders on June 24 established a five-person search committee to recommend individuals for appointment to the board of trustees. Serving on the search committee are Marjorie B. Allen of Westfield, Robert L. Dixon of Scotch Plains, Jerry Goldman of Elizabeth, former Assemblyman Charles J. Irwin of Mountainside, and former Assemblyman Hugo Pfaltz of Summit.

Union County's public community college will be comprehensive in nature, offering transfer, career, technical and developmental programs as well as extensive continuing education and community services offerings. It is expected to enroll 9,000 full-time and part-time students, utilizing the Cranford and Scotch Plains Campuses as well as the Urban Educational Center in Elizabeth.

Volunteers from Westfield's STS (Sharing Talents and Skills) visited Jefferson School sixth graders during the last week of school. Boys from Mrs. Holly Slaughter's, Mrs. Peggy Krychowecy's and Art Vice's classes enjoyed Robert Sharer's program on backpacking in the High Sierras, shown in the photo at top. Dayton Skills Test Results Announced

The results of the New Jersey Minimum Basic Skills Test administered in Math 1962 to all students in grades 9 and 11 attending Janathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield were recently released by Dr. Francis X. Kenny, Director of Pupil Personnel Services for the Regional District. The Minimum Basic Skills Test is designed to measure student competencies in reading and computational skills.

Two hundred and 20 9th grade students and 264 11th grade students were tested in both reading and mathematics. In reading 94.9% of the freshman students scored at or above the minimum passing score established by the New Jersey Department of Education and in mathematics 96.7% achieved this standard. Ninety-seven point two percent of the juniors tested in reading scored at or above the Department of Education standards and in mathematics 93.1% met or surpassed the minimum passing score.

The minimum passing score on the tests was 75% correct answers on the reading test and 65% on the mathematics test.

The majority of the Dayton students scored in the upper two test score ranges: 85-100% correct answers in reading and 80-100% correct answers in mathematics.

Bedside Graduation — Deerfield graduate Peter Esemplare displays the diploma presented to him in a unique graduation ceremony last week at Overlook Hospital.

Diploma Presented At Overlook Hospital

Eighth grader Peter Esemplare received his diploma in a unique fashion last week. Following a bike accident, Peter was in traction at Overlook Hospital for several weeks and missed participating in graduation ceremonies at Deerfield School.

After the formal graduation exercises, an impromptu "bedside ceremony" team journeyed to Overlook to present Peter with his diploma and to share some ice cream cake.

Board of Education President Arthur Atenasio, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Margaret Kantes, Deerfield Principal Allan Shapiro, and Board of Education Member Robert Gardella were all there to congratulate Peter upon his graduation and to wish him well with his future education.

Also present were Peter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Esemplare, and his three sisters, Mary, Joanne, and Christine.

Local Guardsman Credited With Saving MP's Life

An Army National Guardsman has been commended for his quick actions in coming to the aid of an injured military policeman during annual training at Fort Drum, N.Y.

SFC Benjamin V. Ricciardi, a four-year veteran of Headquarters and Headquarters Troop, 5th Squadron, 117th Cavalry, from Westfield, was undergoing two weeks of annual training with the 50th Armored Division at this upstate military post. Ricciardi has been alerted to an accident involving personal injury at a nearby intersection. He found SP4 Calvin R. Mason of East Orange, a member of the 50th Military Police Company located there, suffering from substantial injuries after having been thrown from an open jeep.

Ricciardi said he applied a makeshift splint to Mason's broken right arm and treated the victim for shock. Other soldiers at the scene directed traffic around the accident and notified other authorities. National Guard officials credited Ricciardi with saving Mason's life with his prompt and complete medical attention until an ambulance arrived at the scene and removed the victim.

Brigadier General Melvin J. Crain, commander of the 50th Armored Division, presented the Army Commendation Medal to Ricciardi for his quick actions on behalf of a fellow Guardsman. The presentation took place as Ricciardi's unit was completing training.

Ricciardi is employed as a firefighter with the Newark Fire Department. He and his wife, Ann, are the parents of two children.

Drinking Plus Driving Equals Trouble

The empty bed of a teenager and the shrill ring of a midnight phone call.

The combination has struck fear into the hearts of parents ever since the telephone - and particularly the automobile - have been invented.

The fear is intensified in recent years when the incidence of driving and drinking has increased, especially among young people whose inexperience with the use of alcohol is coupled with their novice skills behind the wheel.

Statistics bear out that alcohol plays a major factor in automobile deaths of young people - even more than in those of older adults.

Westfield has had its share of tragic teen deaths in auto accidents when drinking is a factor. Almost every family knows of at least one incident which has taken the life of a young person or seriously injured others either still in high school or just beginning their adult lives.

In New Jersey - considered one of the safest states in the country - some 1159 people died and 125,300 were injured on state highways last year. A recent New Jersey State Police report indicates that 58.2 percent of these fatalities involved alcohol. While all of these were not young people new at drinking and driving, an alarming percentage were.

The devastation to the families, the victims and society as a whole does not end at the crash scene. Many of the injured end up permanently injured or scarred emotionally. And the cost of motor vehicle accidents last year in New Jersey alone exceeded a staggering $900 million.

Police reported an unusually active night following graduation this year - and we suspect a lot of parents didn't get much sleep either.

Many of the problems stemmed from drinking, or driving, or the combination of both, although we have no definite statistics. While parties in the parks, or at homes, were more widespread following commencement, the same conditions prevail on other nights of the year to a lesser degree.

Schools have tried education, parent-teacher groups have warned parents on party-giving, police are intensifying enforcement of laws. It's time now for the "in" crowd to set new and safer standards for getting-together with their friends - and perhaps for parents to have a tighter fist on the car keys when they suspect that trouble could be brewing.

It's going to take a cooperative effort to stop the carnage on the streets... and the possibility of being on the receiving end of a mid-night phone call.

START TALKS

The United States delegates are meeting in Geneva with the delegates from the Soviet Union to begin the START talks (Strategic Arms Reduction Talks). It all sounds very good and very encouraging.

But there are serious deficiencies in the program, and it is most important that the American people realize just what is being done or not done. What is not being done is that we are not moved toward a halt, a freeze on further production and deployment of nuclear weapons.

As most of us know, there is a freeze resolution circulating about the U.S. today. It has already been approved by millions of Americans. It will be on the New Jersey ballot this fall as well as on the California ballot. It states, simply:

"We urge the government of the United States to propose to the government of the Soviet Union that both countries immediately agree to a mutual, verifiable halt to all further testing, production, and deployment of nuclear warheads, missiles, and delivery systems as a first step toward mutual, balanced reductions, and to apply the money saved to human needs and tax reductions."

This resolution has been approved by 161 towns in Vermont, 8 districts in Massachusetts, 317 New England town councils, 67 city councils (across the country), 19 county councils, and one or both houses of 11 state legislatures. It has been approved by 20 New Jersey town councils. Last week it was approved by the Democratic Party delegates meeting in Philadelphia.

But President Reagan says that "It will put the U.S. at a military disadvantage." I have looked into this matter and have found the following facts:

Time Magazine, March 29, 1982 - The U.S. has 9,480

Life In The Suburbs

more people in the surrounding areas. Is that an advantage? It is, if you want to kill people. As far as the city is concerned, just one megaton will completely pulverize it and make the debris non-viable for generations to come.

So are we presently at a disadvantage to the Russians? Listen to what the experts have to say: Former President Carter (Newsweek, May 1982), "Our strength and the strength of the Soviet Union balance each other."

Paul Warnke (head of the commission which negotiated SALT II treaty) New York Times, March 21, 1982, "If we could get an immediate freeze, it would be much to our advantage because we're ahead."

And the U.S. Department of Defense, Annual Report, 1982 - "While the era of U.S. superiority is long past, parity - not U.S. inferiority - has replaced it, and the United States and the Soviet Union are roughly equal in strategic nuclear power." The President apparently does not read the Annual Report of the Department of Defense.

Instead, Mr. Reagan gives us talks. It sounds good, but remember, these are talks. The SALT I negotiations took 3 years and SALT II took 7 years. So now we can expect years and years of talks while both sides build more and more and more weapons. It isn't just the cost that concerns us, although $1.6 trillion is something we all should think about. The real danger is that we are building more and more sophisticated weapons which cannot be detected before they strike.

"Great," you say, "We will have better weapons than the Russians." But a look at the history of the last 35 years shows that the Russians have been able to duplicate every weapon we have built. Soon we will be facing each other with weapons which cannot be detected or protected against. How long do you think it will be before we accidentally stumble into a nuclear holocaust?

The freeze resolution has significance because it asks for a mutually verifiable freeze now. The START talks are an evasion of the freeze and a continuation of unlimited nuclear arms production. The American people must express themselves on this issue. Write to your Congressmen. Write to your President. Soon, it may be too late.

CHUCK HARDWICK YOUR VOICE IN TRENTON 20th DISTRICT ASSEMBLYMAN

Excessive alcohol consumption among youth has been one of the most serious problems facing the state Legislature. Because of the concern, the Legislature two years ago raised the minimum drinking age from 18 to 19, a move which I supported.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON by Congressman Matt Rinaldo

Federal grants totaling more than $30 million have been awarded to Union County municipalities over the past 18 months for a variety of public service projects that have served to stabilize the employment situation in the county. These funds are being used for flood control work, economic revitalization, community development, historic preservation and public housing rehabilitation.

One of the major programs receiving federal funding is the Elizabeth River flood control project which has been in progress since 1967 and is now nearing completion. Earlier this year contracts worth $24 million were awarded for work on the final phase involving construction of a 1.5 mile long U-shaped concrete channel from Route 1 to Trotters Lane, Elizabeth. The federal share of this portion is about $20 million, bringing to more than $75 million the amount of federal money received for the five-mile long project. It is scheduled for completion in 1985.

Costume Parade Highlights First Week of Playgrounds

Even one day of rain did not dampen the opening week of the Recreation Commission's Playground Program. Besides the weekly games, softball and arts and crafts, last week was highlighted by a Costume Parade on all six playgrounds. This week's events and projects have been coordinated to go along with the theme of nature. Registration is still open for those interested.

Jefferson School
As of July 1, Jefferson has 67 playgrounders registered and is looking for more. Leader at the playground again this year is Karen Stark, assisted by Laurie Mullen and Mike Nauhauser.

The first day for play was marred by rain. When the rain came playgrounders moved indoors and made Mickey Mouse ID buttons.

Favorite playground games were played Wednesday morning including nok-hockey, paddleball, checkers, kickball, hula hoops and frisbee. Playground champs will be announced at the end of summer. A Costume Parade in the afternoon attracted eight participants for the three awards: cutest costume, Kerry Capone, a monkey; most original, Gina Lukaszewicz and Dana McMillan, twin hula dancers and most realistic, Chris Capone, Rocky III.

Twenty-one playgrounders turned out for softball Thursday. They all played well in preparation for the first game next Tuesday at McKinley School. This year the schedule has been expanded to include games every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m.; Thurs. afternoons (1:30-3:30) are reserved for art lessons with Joe Hawkins.

Friday crafts were followed by a bubblegum blowing contest in the afternoon.

Emily Davis brought a taste of Holland to the Grant Costume parade.

Franklin
Franklin leaders this year are Marita McDermott, returning from last summer, Michele Rouppa and John Kullman. Monday brought many playgrounders to register for the summer. Tuesday's session was held inside because of the weather. The children participated in a kickball game, relay races, and arts and crafts. The playground was closed in the afternoon due to thunderstorms.

Wednesday brought playgrounders in to participate in activities in the morning such as nok hockey, kickball, tetherball, checkers and four square. In the afternoon the children made Mickey Mouse pins and participated in a Costume Parade. The winners of the Costume Parade are first place - Clare Callaghan as Robin Hood and Kenny Silverman as a caveman; second place was shared by Cristen Joyce as a Gypsy and Rachel Silverman as Diana Prince - Wonderwoman. Third place went to Stacey Cunningham dressed as a waitress. Cutest was awarded to Laura Silverman; Most Original to Paul Nazzaro and Steve Callaghan; Scariest Victim to Jennifer Green; Most Beautiful Lady to Megan Green; Most Expensively Dressed to Megan Joyce and the final category was Most Patriotic that was received by Louis Rettino and Jeremy Grisham.

Washington
A full schedule of activities is planned for Washington playground this summer. Beside the usual playground fair, Everybody's Birthday, Art with Mr. Hawkins, etc; there will be scavenger hunts, peanut hunts, candy hunts, milk and doughnut parties, etc.

The first event of the summer was a costume parade. There were the traditional costumes such as nurses (Megan O'Brien), ghosts (Matt Jessup), witches (Cathy Lanam), clowns (Mark Phillips), soldiers (George Moslovsky), and cowboys (Brian Distefano and Chris Rhodes). There were also some less traditional costumes such as a lamp (Ana Smith), a smurf (Jenny Schwarzenbek), and Japanese ladies (Jane Petrino and Heather Myers). All in all there were about twenty different costumes.

The next event scheduled to take place is a peanut hunt. There will also be several tournaments. The softball schedule starts with games against Tamaques and Jefferson.

Franklin playgrounder Kenny Silverman illustrates what won him his prize.

Tamaques
Tamaques Playground began its summer program this week for children between the ages of six and twelve. The playground is open daily between the hours of 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 3:45 p.m. Approximately 74 children have already been registered. The children are supervised by three playground leaders: Susan Murphy, Nancy Smith and Paul Hawkins.

Every day children are involved in quiet and active games, arts and crafts, and other activities relating to the theme of the week. This week the playgrounders participated in a Costume Parade. It was extremely difficult for the judges to choose winners. Prizes were given in five different categories. Gail Weiner away with the prize for having the most original costume.

Next week will be a busy week at Tamaques. The children will be participating in many activities relating to nature. Wednesday morning the children will go on a hike through the park. During the afternoon they will work on projects relating to nature. In keeping with the Nature Week theme, there will be a Pet Show on Friday morning, July 7th.

In addition to these activities the children are also looking forward to having art with Mr. Hawkins, which is regularly scheduled on Tuesday mornings.

Tamaques Playground has a softball team which will play two games this week - Washington at Tamaques and Tamaques at Wilson.

Registration is still open.

Grant
Grant Playground opened for its summer program on Monday, June 28 with registration. In spite of the rain on Tuesday, the Grant Playgrounders gathered to participate in many games such as nok-hockey, hopscotch, 4-squares, spud and paddleball. They also participated in the crafts program in which they each made rock star glasses and rainbow cloud bookmarks.

Wednesday was the Costume Parade and all the children marched around the school in their costumes. The winners of the Costume Parade were: Prettiest - Emily Davis as the girl from Holland; Most Original - Michael Price as Santa Claus; Funniest - Jennifer Gavino as a clown and cutest - Scott Chard as a Smurf. Other participants of the parade included Christine Wischusen, Jennifer Gavino, Lauren Folger, Danielle Gavino, Debbie Woodruff, Christa Chard, Kim and Andy DeFur, Aaron Beyerlyen and Kerry Woodruff.

The Bubble Gum Blowing Contest was held on Thursday. Ribbons were given to the following winners: Fastest Bubble - Bob Kornicke, Smallest Bubble - Jennifer Gavino and Biggest Bubble - Bob Kornicke. Other participants included Kerry Woodruff, Lauren Folger, Susie Folger, Justin Lewand, Janice Woodruff, Melissa Watkins, Aaron Beyerlin, Amy Kornicke, Missy Sheehy, Michelle Rango, Danielle Gavino, Emily Davis, Phillip Crout, Debbie Woodruff and David Crout. They also played a game of wiffle ball and for crafts they made Mickey Mouse pins.

Next week's activities include Wheels On Parade, Obstacle Course Race, Nature Scavenger Hunt, Softball, 4-Square and Paddleball tournaments and many more activities.

McKinley
Summer at McKinley began with 25 children turning out for registration. This week there were many fun and exciting activities. On Monday, there was no program. Tuesday, the children participated in opening day get-acquainted contests. All the playgrounders made name tags so that they could get to know each other. However, Tuesday's activities were cut short by a torrential downpour. On Wednesday the sun came through and playgrounders

Gill Accuses Democrats Of Penalizing Suburbia

Assemblyman Edward K. Gill (R-District 21) today accused the Democrats in the Legislature of drastically changing the budget submitted by governor Kean in March to one which favors the cities and penalizes the suburbs. Gill further accused the Democrats of selectively cutting state aid for minimum aid school districts such as Springfield, by $202,000 and Union County Regional, by $1,010,000. "These two towns in my district, plus 85 others throughout the state are the victims of a Democratic political action that is penalizing suburban school districts. I'm going to do everything possible to reverse this action."

Gill pointed out that because of the loss of the gasoline surtax in the Senate, the governor's initiatives in transportation had to be scrapped and many of his positive programs have been reduced or eliminated. The reduction will mean a loss of $48 million in local road aid and reduced aid in mass transit which will mean a 25% to 40% fare increase. As a member of the transportation committee, Gill predicted a serious impact on highway and bridge programs.

Next to transportation, the largest cut is in the Department of Corrections and will halt the prison reform program offered by the Governor. In Union County, Gill said, we face a serious prison overcrowding that could have been partially alleviated by state action and wasn't. Of the greatest moral repugnancy to Assemblyman Gill, was the inclusion in the Democratic budget of a "Christmas tree" of record proportions containing pork barrel items amounting to $40 million. These items include urban youth jobs $1,000,000, community affairs $7,000,000, educational opportunity $965,221 and many other similar ornaments, according to Gill. "Both parties have agreed this is not a good budget," concluded Gill. "However I urge governor Kean to eliminate all of the pork barrel items that have been added to this budget. These omissions, plus other unnecessary programs will give us a better balance. Finally we should determine what really essential programs can be strengthened through contingency action by the legislature. We owe it to the people of New Jersey to do a better job than has been done."

Twenty five Rotary scholarship recipients come to lunch and pose with Rotarian scholarship committee members James Coventry, Gene St. John, Charles Frankenburg and Vincent Washville.

Rotarians Mark 20th Year of Scholarship Aid

Twenty-five of the 29 new Rotary Scholarship recipients attended the recent Rotarian Luncheon. Statistically, those who are awarded Rotary Scholarships are well above average. Ninety-nine percent of them graduate from college. Nationally, only 45 percent of students who attend college actually graduate. Westfield itself exceeds this national norm with an average of 85 percent. Currently, there are 44 students receiving aid through Rotary, attending 39 different schools in 14 states ranging from New Hampshire to South Carolina to Ohio. This is the 20th year of the Westfield Rotary Scholarship. Chaired by Dr. Stacy (Tex) Ewan Jr., the scholarship committee selected this year's awardees from 100 applicants. The selection is based upon financial need and scholastic ability. As the cost of college continues to escalate, the competition for these awards becomes increasingly more difficult.

Bank Elects Tag Vice President

The board of trustees of New Brunswick Savings Bank has elected Joseph G. Tag of Westfield a vice president of the bank. His primary responsibilities will include planning and marketing. He will also be in charge of community and personnel relations and will be the compliance officer for the bank. Tag is a graduate of the University of Connecticut and the Graduate School of Mutual Savings Banking at Brown University.

ACP to Honor Dr. Fuhrman

The American College of Physicians (ACP) announced that Robert A. Fuhrman, MD, of Westfield has been elected to Fellowship in the 54,000-member national medical specialty society. Dr. Fuhrman, a specialist in endocrinology, will be honored during the convocation ceremony at the college's annual session in San Francisco, Calif next April.

Fellows in the American College of Physicians are recognized by the initials FACP after their names.

Dr. Fuhrman is one of 16,000 physicians honored with Fellowship in the College — 642 have been elected this year. A 1966 graduate of the Chicago Medical School, Dr. Fuhrman has been a resident of Westfield for ten years and is on the staff of the Overlook Hospital, attending in medicine and chief of endocrinology; clinical assistant professor of medicine at Columbia P & S; clinical assistant professor of medicine of UMDNJ; and consultant in endocrinology at Children's Specialized Hospital.

Paintings by Dorothy K. Skrba, of Westfield, are on exhibit in the display windows of Realty World - Joy Brown, Inc., 112 Elm St. She is known for her work in various media, painting landscapes, people, genre and portraiture. She is active in area art groups and has chaired the WAA State Show at Union College as well as member shows in Westfield, Summit and Cranford. She has exhibited in the Spectrum Show at Fairleigh-Dickinson and World Trade Center, New York. Mrs. Skrba's most recent major awards were in the New Jersey Watercolor Society Show and the Plainfield Festival of Art.

Election to Fellowship in the College signifies that a physician has been recognized by his colleagues as having attained a level of medical scholarship and achievement in internal medicine. Usually, Fellowship means that the honoree has authored articles in medical journals, presented papers at medical meetings, is involved in the teaching of young doctors and medical students and has made other notable contributions to the advancement of

What's the Surrogate's Office All About?

By Rose Marie Sinnott
Union County Surrogate

As a Freeholder, I wrote a series of articles to inform you, the citizens of Union County, about the functions and services of your county government.

Now, as your newly appointed Surrogate filling Walter Ulrich's unexpired term, I want to let you know how this office works for you.

The Surrogate's office is very much involved with people on an individual basis. When people come to the Surrogate's office it may well be during very emotional times in their lives. It is our intent in the Union County Surrogate's office to provide the professional, efficient and quality service that is needed at this time.

The Surrogate admits wills to probate, grants letters of administration, appoints guardians and trustees and serves as Deputy Clerk of the Court for adoption and competency hearings.

The duties of the Surrogate — or, "one who takes the place of another" — traditionally date back to pre-Revolutionary times before County Surrogates took the place of the state Governor in certain proceedings. The Governor was granted authority at that time from the Queen of England for such judicial administration as probating wills and appointing guardians for minors, orphans or those incapacitated — all functions once part of church procedures. Eventually the Governor delegated that authority to County Surrogates.

Subsequently, New Jersey Legislatures over the years approved and defined the powers and duties of the office and, as set by the state Constitution, the Surrogate is elected by county residents to a five-year term. The Surrogate is thus a constitutional, elective office (as are the positions of County Clerk, Register and Sheriff.)

As Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court, Law Division, Probate Part, the Surrogate is responsible for maintaining and filing all papers that come before that Court.

My predecessor, Walter E. Ulrich and, before him, Mary C. Kanane, brought to the Union County Surrogate's office the highest level of public-spirited and professional service. Aided by a capable and sensitive staff, I plan to continue to assist county residents and their families on a personal basis and will also continue the tradition of being available as a speaker for educational seminars and other public events.

In future articles, through a question-answer format, I hope to give you some insights into the importance of a properly drawn will; and some of the situations which arise in adoption proceedings as well as the appointment of guardians and trustees.

We are at the Court House during regular hours, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The doors of the Surrogate's office are always open to those needing help or information.

Wolkstein Reappointed To Referral Panel

Leonard A. Wolkstein, Esq. has been reappointed a panelist of the Lawyer Referral Service sponsored by the New Jersey Affiliate of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America (ATLA-NJ). The service has initiated to help people seeking legal counsel about personal injuries, defective products which cause injury, matrimonial problems, and other consumer issues.

Wolkstein, who is conversant in Spanish, is a partner in the Westfield law firm of Gutterman & Wolkstein. He received his LL.B. from Rutgers University and is admitted to practice in New Jersey and before the United States Supreme Court.

Mrs. Vera Lough's kindergartners at Wilson School ended the year with a Japanese-style festival. Parents were invited to join Mrs. Lough and the children for a tea-and-rice snack repete with chopsticks. Kimonos were the order of the day and the food was served on low-legged tables and cartons while guests and hosts alike knelt to eat.

Mini-Libraries At Playgrounds

The Children's Department of the Westfield Memorial Library will bring a paperback lending library collection to the McKinley and Jefferson playgrounds on Thursdays through August 12. The mini-library will be at McKinley playground at 10:30 a.m. and at Jefferson at 11 a.m. The children do not need library cards to borrow the books, but must be registered at the playgrounds. There will be no fines and all books will be due Aug. 12.

The Library is also showing films at the school playgrounds each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in cooperation with the Westfield Recreation Commission.

Theta Kappa Hall of Fame Inducts Resident

Prof. Helene Roholt-Moen of Westfield, professor of modern languages at Union College, is one of ten sponsors inaugurated into the Phi Theta Kappa Hall of Honor. Phi Theta Kappa is the national honor fraternity for two-year colleges. More than 600 chapters throughout the United States are coordinated by sponsors who provide direction while furthering scholarship and leadership among student members. The Iota Xi Chapter has been active at Union College for over 20 years. Prof. Roholt-Moen has been sponsor of the Iota Xi Chapter for the past eight years and was appointed New Jersey State advisor to PTK in 1978. In 1979 the PTK sponsor was recipient of the Fred Baker Scholarship and named for her "outstanding service both to her local chapter and to the activities of Phi Theta Kappa in New Jersey." Admission to PTK is based on academic achievement.

Students with an average of 3.5 for 12 credits or 3.4 for 24 credits are eligible for membership. Prof. Roholt-Moen has been with Union College since 1968. In addition to her duties with Phi Theta Kappa, she recently completed a term as chairperson of the modern languages department and has served as chairperson of the faculty scholarship committee. She is a graduate of the University of Washington in Seattle and received a master of arts degree from Middlebury College in Madrid. Prof. Roholt-Moen holds a Diploma de Estudios Hispanico from the University of Madrid and has studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and the University of Oslo. under the auspices of Union College. Countries visited included Spain, U.S.S.R., England, France, Greece, Morocco, Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Costa Rica, Panama, Venezuela, Columbia and Peru. Many of the trips were part of Union College courses.

Fireworks Keep Police Busy

Westfield police report that they were kept busy over the holiday weekend responding to more than 60 calls from residents complaining about fireworks. Four juveniles were arrested for use and possession of fireworks. Rahway Hospital reported treating one youth for a facial injury caused by fireworks. An M-80 firecracker was used to blow up a mailbox on Raymond St. Monday and vandals threw a rock through a window at Washington School Tuesday and then tossed firecrackers inside the building.

Parties

(Continued from page one) alcohol from the blood stream). Another booklet, "The Drinking Question," distributed by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services provides non-judgmental information regarding drinking. A bill, N.J.S. 18A, requires that schools in New Jersey provide a suitable curriculum for classes on the effects of drinking and narcotics. The bill which was amended and approved in 1980 must be implemented by January of 1983, according to Mrs. McGearry. She adds, "Laws had existed previously dating as far back as 1911, however their implementation often has been spotty." The UCCA is working with the Union County Regional High School district on a pilot program for the fall. Last year juniors at WHS received an intensive four-week series of classes devoted to educating them about the effects of alcohol abuse. This was included as part of the regular physical education program. According to Dr. Robert Petix, principal, the health curriculum for grades 10-12 is being rewritten this summer. Answers to the problem of driving while drunk do not come easily. Newspaper, radio and TV accounts of the results of the sometimes deadly combination are not infrequent. As Westfield Police Chief James F. Moran says, "Every year we warn people of the dangers of drinking while under the influence of alcohol and yet it continues, resulting in damage to property not to mention the toll of human suffering."

Blanche Roth, who holds an MSW in psychiatric social work and who has been employed in counseling-related fields since 1960, is counselor for the YW program. Counseling is limited to 12 hours and other agencies are referred to the client if longer help is required.

Fees are based on an individual's ability to pay. An appointment can be scheduled by calling the Westfield YWCA, 22 Clark St.

DeVido and Weingart Win Dughi Drama Awards

Judith DeVido and Michael Weingart, recent graduates of Westfield High School, were named to share the honors of the 1982 Dughi Drama Award. The annual scholarship is made available by Mrs. Louis J. Dughi, whose support of the high school's dramatic arts program commemorates the interest of her late husband who served as treasurer of the school's drama club, Mask & Mime, class of 1932. Dughi later supported the Westfield Players and other community groups in the area, on stage as well as off.

Michael Weingart years at WHS.

Judy won kudos for her interpretation of "Martha" in the school's production of "Arsenic and Old Lace." Her cameo role of the nurse in the '80 piece, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," won high praise from her school and community. She was an active part of the musical extravaganza, "Bobalmania," the dance-revue, "Dancin' at WHS" and this spring's "Godspell."

Last summer she was accepted to participate in the summer drama program at Carnegie-Mellon University. She will begin a theatre major at Northwestern University this fall. She is presently on a European tour with the school's music group, The Choraleers.

Mike will be remembered for his portrayal of Nathan Detroit in the musical "Guys and Dolls" as well as his rendition of John the Baptist in "Godspell." He was awarded the "Excellence in Direction" award at this spring's Tri-State Drama Festival held annually at Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pa. His direction of Albee's "The Zoo Story" yielded three of the six prizes won by the WHS Drama Team.

Mike will attend Boston College pursuing a biology major. He too is a Cholealer and on tour.

Mrs. Harriet B. Loudon, head of the department of speech and drama at WHS said, "We thank Mrs. Dughi again for the continued encouragement of our very talented and promising dramatic artists at Westfield High School. Her friendship is much appreciated."

Plainfield Symphony Appoints New Conductor

The Board of Directors recently announced the appointment of George Marriner Maul as music director and conductor of the Plainfield Symphony beginning in the fall of 1982.

Maestro Maul currently holds the post of music director conductor with the New Jersey Youth Orchestra and has performed extensively throughout the state during his tenure as assistant conductor of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra.

George Marriner Maul

Maestro Maul will conduct the gala benefit performance of "Die Fledermaus" planned for Oct. 23 in cooperation with the Jersey Lyric Opera and the New Jersey Theatre Forum. Four subscription concerts are planned at Plainfield High School; Dec. 5, Feb. 6, March 20 and April 24.

Maestro Maul began his musical studies with members of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and after earning two degrees in music from the University of Louisville, completed additional studies with honors at the Juilliard School.

He was a finalist in the Baltimore Symphony's Young Conductor Competition and also was one of ten young conductors selected nationally as the recipient of an American Symphony Orchestra League Conducting Fellowship. In 1980 the ASOL awarded a Certificate of Merit for in-school educational programs used in conjunction with Young People's Concerts written by Maestro Maul.

Maestro Maul has appeared as guest conductor with the Orchestra Society of Philadelphia, the Kentucky Opera Association, the Washington Square Festival Orchestra, the Schola Cantorum of New York and the Queens College Orchestra.

He also serves as music director and conductor of the Bloomingdale Chamber Orchestra and as assistant conductor of the Opera Orchestra of New York.

Information is available regarding the upcoming season and opera benefit by calling the Symphony office at 232 East Front St. Plainfield

Coopersmith Receives Mask and Mime Award

Geralyn Coopersmith, graduate of Westfield High School, was awarded the Mask and Mime Award for 1982. Her work in the creative arts at WHS began as script-girl and cast secretary for the all-school productions of "Arsenic and Old Lace" and blossomed into a show-stopper in the musical-extravaganza, "Bobalmania."

As a junior, she played the supporting role of Mrs. Stanley in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" and went on to land the leading role of Sarah Brown in "Guys and Dolls." She played the cameo role of Betty in this year's "The Crucible" and worked behind the scenes on the final drama production, "Our Town."

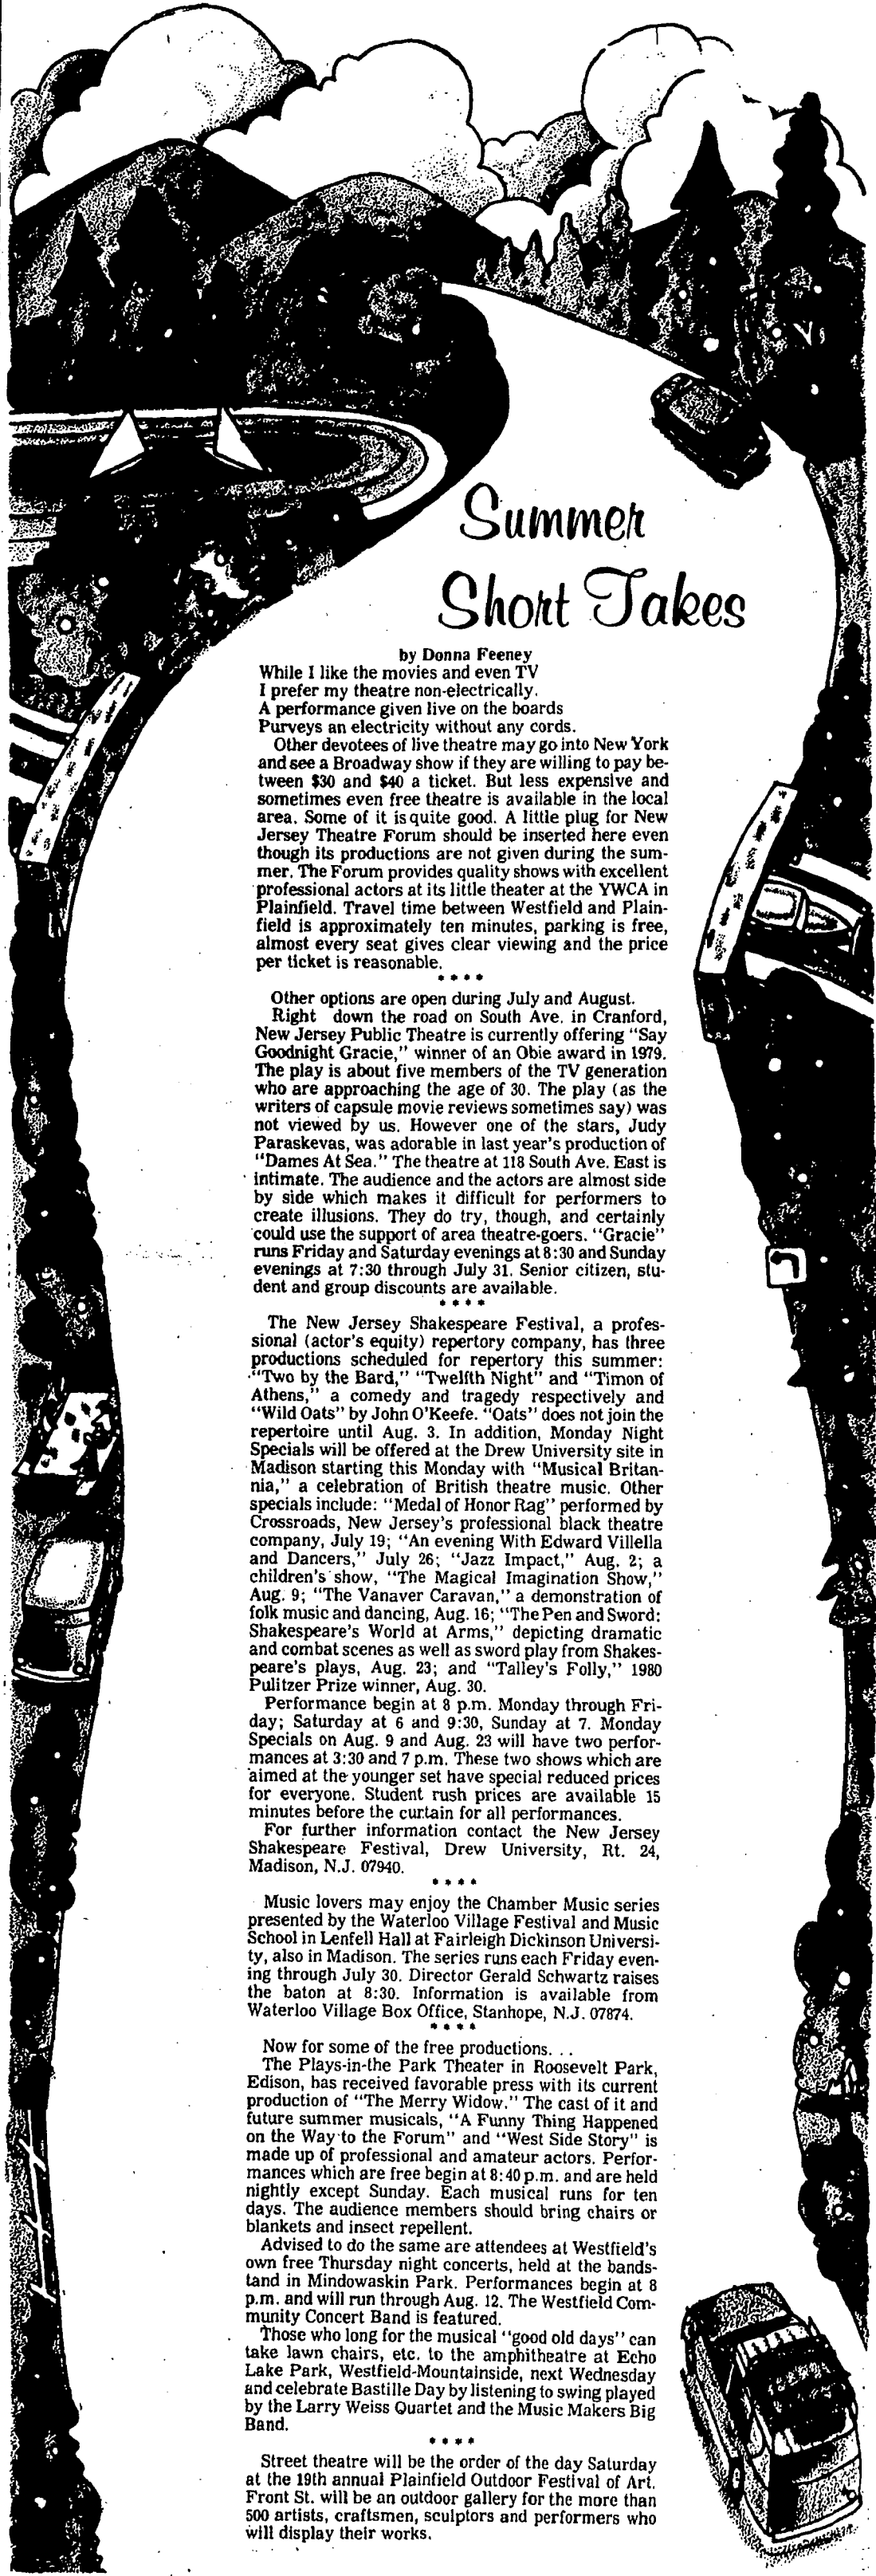

Geralyn won the best director award at the annual Tri-State Drama Festival held at Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pa., in May. Her theatrical entry of the Tennessee Williams one-act, "Something Unspoken," copped two other awards as well. It won the best play award and an award for excellence in acting for Helen Carl's performance in the cast. Her work was an outgrowth of a directing unit in her Drama III class. Geralyn has directed and acted in several showcase-theatre pieces during the year. She has served on the (elected) board of directors of Mask and Mime all three years. She is a member of the National Honor Society and will enter Emerson College this fall majoring in theatre arts and communications.

Bridal Pictures
The Westfield Leader will publish pictures accompanying wedding stories only if they are submitted within three weeks after the marriage. Prospective brides are encouraged to make the necessary arrangements with their photographers.

Summer Short Takes

by Donna Feeney

While I like the movies and even TV I prefer my theatre non-electrically. A performance given live on the boards Purveys an electricity without any cords.

Other devotees of live theatre may go into New York and see a Broadway show if they are willing to pay between $30 and $40 a ticket. But less expensive and sometimes even free theatre is available in the local area. Some of it is quite good. A little plug for New Jersey Theatre Forum should be inserted here even though its productions are not given during the summer. The Forum provides quality shows with excellent professional actors at its little theater at the YWCA in Plainfield. Travel time between Westfield and Plainfield is approximately ten minutes, parking is free, almost every seat gives clear viewing and the price per ticket is reasonable.

Other options are open during July and August. Right down the road on South Ave. in Cranford, New Jersey Public Theatre is currently offering "Say Goodnight Gracie," winner of an Obie award in 1979. The play is about five members of the TV generation who are approaching the age of 30. The play (as the writers of capsule movie reviews sometimes say) was not viewed by us. However one of the stars, Judy Paraskevas, was adorable in last year's production of "Dames At Sea." The theatre at 118 South Ave. East is intimate. The audience and the actors are almost side by side which makes it difficult for performers to create illusions. They do try, though, and certainly could use the support of area theatre-goers. "Gracie" runs Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 and Sunday evenings at 7:30 through July 31. Senior citizen, student and group discounts are available.

The New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, a professional (actor's equity) repertory company, has three productions scheduled for repertory this summer: "Two by the Bard," "Twelfth Night" and "Timon of Athens," a comedy and tragedy respectively and "Wild Oats" by John O'Keefe. "Oats" does not join the repertoire until Aug. 3. In addition, Monday Night Specials will be offered at the Drew University site in Madison starting this Monday with "Musical Britannia," a celebration of British theatre music. Other specials include: "Medal of Honor Rag" performed by Crossroads, New Jersey's professional black theatre company, July 19; "An evening With Edward Villella and Dancers," July 26; "Jazz Impact," Aug. 2; a children's show, "The Magical Imagination Show," Aug. 9; "The Vanaver Caravan," a demonstration of folk music and dancing, Aug. 16; "The Pen and Sword: Shakespeare's World at Arms," depicting dramatic and combat scenes as well as sword play from Shakespeare's plays, Aug. 23; and "Talley's Folly," 1980 Pulitzer Prize winner, Aug. 30.

Performance begin at 8 p.m. Monday through Friday; Saturday at 6 and 9:30, Sunday at 7. Monday Specials on Aug. 9 and Aug. 23 will have two performances at 3:30 and 7 p.m. These two shows which are aimed at the younger set have special reduced prices for everyone. Student rush prices are available 15 minutes before the curtain for all performances.

For further information contact the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, Drew University, Rt. 24, Madison, N.J. 07940.

Music lovers may enjoy the Chamber Music series presented by the Waterloo Village Festival and Music School in Lenell Hall at Fairleigh Dickinson University, also in Madison. The series runs each Friday evening through July 30. Director Gerald Schwartz raises the baton at 8:30. Information is available from Waterloo Village Box Office, Stanhope, N.J. 07874.

Now for some of the free productions. The Plays-in-the Park Theater in Roosevelt Park, Edison, has received favorable press with its current production of "The Merry Widow." The cast of it and future summer musicals, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "West Side Story" is made up of professional and amateur actors. Performances which are free begin at 8:40 p.m. and are held nightly except Sunday. Each musical runs for ten days. The audience members should bring chairs or blankets and insect repellent.

Advised to do the same are attendees at Westfield's own free Thursday night concerts, held at the bandstand in Mindowaskin Park. Performances begin at 8 p.m. and will run through Aug. 12. The Westfield Community Concert Band is featured.

Those who long for the musical "good old days" can take lawn chairs, etc. to the amphitheatre at Echo Lake Park, Westfield-Mountainside, next Wednesday and celebrate Bastille Day by listening to swing played by the Larry Weiss Quartet and the Music Makers Big Band.

Street theatre will be the order of the day Saturday at the 19th annual Plainfield Outdoor Festival of Art. Front St. will be an outdoor gallery for the more than 500 artists, craftsmen, sculptors and performers who will display their works.

Local Volunteers Participate In Child Watch

Thirty-four volunteers in Union County are working on Child Watch, with the assistance of a $300 grant from the Elizabeth-Plainfield Junior League. The volunteers are part of a national effort in New Jersey and 31 other states, to focus on the effects on children and families of the federal budget cuts. The Junior League's grant was announced by Pam Martin, president, as the League's financial contribution to the Child Watch efforts.

Carla Wilson of the Elizabeth-Plainfield Junior League is chairperson for the Union County group, one of five currently working in New Jersey on the Child Watch project initiated by the Children's Defense Fund and the Association of Junior Leagues.

Child Watch volunteers are collecting information on the local personal impact of reductions in federal support for welfare, health, protective services for abused and neglected children, child care, juvenile justice, education and mental health. Volunteers are interviewing a cross-section of consumers and providers in their communities to obtain first-hand information. Their findings will be gathered and shared with social service planners and with elected officials at the local, state and federal levels. Findings also will be reported to the general public regarding the conditions of their communities' children.

More than 10 other national organizations have joined Child Watch, including Church Women United, United Methodist Women, the League of Women Voters, the Lutheran Church of America, the YWCA, the National Council of Negro Women, the National Association for the Education of Young Children, the League of United Latin American Citizens, the Council of Jewish Federations, the Southern Rural Women's Network and the North American Council on Adoptable Children.

In New Jersey, the Association for Children of New Jersey is the statewide coordinator for Child Watch - ACNJ is a non-profit statewide advocacy organization of volunteers that conducts programs in public awareness, fact finding, community organization and technical assistance throughout the state.

Volunteers are currently completing a first round of interviews. A second round is planned for mid-September - Persons interested in participating in September should contact ACNJ, 17 Academy St., Newark, N.J. 07102

Birch Pl. Has Annual Picnic

The annual Birch Place 4th of July Picnic continued in its traditional manner this year celebrating its 30th anniversary. This event first took place 29 years ago in 1953 and has continued on through the years. A record of each year's events, including photographs, is maintained in the 30-year-old Birch Place scrapbook.

Birch Place is a small quiet community situated among beautiful oak trees on the north side of town. Each year the residents of this neighborhood get together on the Fourth for friendly conversation and to eat hot dogs, hamburgers and home-cooked dishes.

This year more than forty Birch Place residents, including children and friends attended the annual occasion. Birch Place was blocked off from traffic at 2 p.m. when picnic tables, charcoal grills, food, drink and games were put into place. The perfect weather complemented the event.

Peg and Norman Mott were planners and organizers.

Others who attended the 30th annual picnic were Dot and Larry Riddle, Sue and Ray Mattes, Deborah Freeman and Fran Walsh, Dave Mracek and Denise Simonet, Dola and Erik Vaher, Dale and Michael Eckhaus, Kathy and Jeff Graass, Geri and Les Finn, Mary Ellen and Joe Leegan, plus family and friends.

Boro Youth Attending 4-H Conclave in D.C.

Milton Smith of Mountainside is one of three Union County 4-H members attending a National 4-H Council sponsored "Citizenship...Washington Focus" citizenship awareness program in Washington, D.C. the week of July 4-10.

Aileen Burke and Tracy Mazza, Junior Troop #430, on their way to Camp Hoover with Girl Scouts from 21 Westfield troops.

The purpose of the program is to find out about citizenship and is designed to help the delegates to identify life and leadership skills. Committees provide the delegates with an opportunity to practice skills, provide leadership and to assist with making the program run smoothly. Workshops help delegates to better understand what is being learned and to apply concepts of citizenship to themselves and to their community.
 Each activity in the program is designed to build upon previous experiences as to fit together. After attending the conference, delegates will go out into the community to teach and share what they have learned.
 Throughout the summer, various states will be sending delegates to the Citizenship focus program. Milton is one of 43 delegates from New Jersey, representing all 21 counties, and as a group is one of about ten states that have sent delegates this week.
 One of the three New Jersey delegation chaparones is Union County 4-H Agent Martha Hewitt. The other Union County delegates are Jennifer O'Brien of Murray Hill and Michelle Burkhat of Cranford.
 Among the activities the 4-H'ers will be participating in are trips to Capitol Hill, the Smithsonian Institution, the Executive Branch, Arlington Cemetery, Washington Cathedral, and Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

out. The next step is teaching family members which exit to use. When the smoke detector sounds, each family member should roll out of bed and crawl to the bedroom door. If smoke is heavy, the best air will be near the floor. Feel the door. If it's warm or hot, don't open it! The fire is outside. Use the escape ladder or other window escape route.
 If the door is cool, family members must know to "stay low and go," crawling all the way outside. Each family member must know an agreed upon meeting place - a street-light, the neighbor's driveway, a big tree - so that everyone can quickly be accounted for.
 Call the fire department from a neighbor's phone, or drive to a public telephone, after everyone is out. Don't go back in the house for anything. Nothing you own is worth your life.
 The keys of home escape planning are: (1) provide two ways out of each room; (2) escape through window if door feels warm; (3) stay low in smoke; (4) meet and ragrup at an arranged spot; and (5) call the fire department from outside the house after everyone is out.
 There's just one more key: practice. Hold home exit drills often and unpredictably. Make sure every family member who may have to clamber down the roof or use a ladder practices the technique until they're comfortable doing it. Home exit drills... they could save your life.

Now draw a rough floor plan of your home. Decide on two ways out of every room - a fire in the hallway could preclude escape through the bedrooms. From some second floor bedrooms it may be possible to climb from the window to a garage or porch roof, from which to jump to the ground; other bedroom windows look out on a stark two-story drop. Check this out and buy escape ladders for the windows that require them. These folding metal ladders are generally attached to the floor under the window so they can be thrown out and dropped down when needed. Make sure everyone whose room is equipped with a ladder practices deploying the ladder and climbing down it.
 Now you've equipped every room with two ways

Here's How to Plan for Escape from Night Home Fires

By Walter Ridge
 Chief, Fire Department
 Sniff. Sniff! You've just awakened. It's 3 a.m. and something smells a little strange... smoke! The house is on fire! Quick, what to do?
 The fire-wise family takes steps to ensure they know what to do at a time like that. Here's how to develop a home escape plan to get every family member out of the house if fire strikes.
 The first step is to buy and install a UL listed smoke detector outside the sleeping rooms and sleep with all doors closed, even the littlest child's room. This gives you early warning of fire and minimizes smoke build-up in the sleeping rooms.
 Now draw a rough floor plan of your home. Decide on two ways out of every room - a fire in the hallway could preclude escape through the bedrooms. From some second floor bedrooms it may be possible to climb from the window to a garage or porch roof, from which to jump to the ground; other bedroom windows look out on a stark two-story drop. Check this out and buy escape ladders for the windows that require them. These folding metal ladders are generally attached to the floor under the window so they can be thrown out and dropped down when needed.  While it is true that over-the-counter drugs are safe in recommended dosages, continued use of any drug can be dangerous. Persistent reliance on such drugs indicate that there may be an underlying problem of which a physician should be made aware. Prolonged use of pain-killing drugs can cause kidney damage while excessive use of stomach upset medicine can cause digestive problems and enzyme imbalance. Over reliance on a seemingly innocuous laxative may mask a serious problem that needs professional attention. Learn to listen to your body's persistent warnings and seek the counsel of a physician.

Bassano Assails New State School Aid Formula

Angered by "cynical, callous and capricious" cuts in the state budget "carefully calculated to do maximum damage to deliberately selected districts" Senator C. Louis Bassano (R-Union) announced today he will join in a lawsuit designed to overturn the new state school aid formula.

Faced with public sentiment demanding slashes in the 1982-83 state budget which increased state expenditures by $643 million, Appropriations Committee Democrats "coldly chose to cut people programs rather than pare the over-bloated bureaucracy," Bassano charged.

"The big losers? The state's school children. Commuters. Motorists. Property owners in towns deliberately singled out to bear a mammoth share of the burden," the Senator explained.

"The result? Glaring inequities. The new state school aid formula supplies 90% of school district budgets in favored (predominantly Democratic) communities. It garnishes not a single cent to blacklisted (predominantly Republican) strongholds," Bassano revealed.

Among the hardest-hit communities is Springfield, double cut in the Democrats tortured state aid formula, said Bassano. Springfield school district aid was cut $202,128 and aid to the Union County Regional District which includes Springfield, Kenilworth, Clark and Berkeley Heights was slashed $1,009,931. "Local taxpayers will have to provide $450,000 more to continue to operate schools at the same level. It could mean drastic curtailment in the budget adopted back in April." "The formula does not supply more aid to needy communities; It's based solely on politics," the GOP legislator charged.

Good solid suburban communities represented by Senator Laurence Weiss (D-Middlesex), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, receive $1,309,242 in state aid. "Not a penny was cut," Bassano revealed. Senator James Bornheimer's district schools in Edison, Metuchen, North Brunswick, Monroe and Milltown receive $4 million. It was not reduced a dime.

"Nor was the injustice accidental."

While Republicans cooled their heels for more than five hours, Democratic members of the Appropriations Committee repeatedly fed figures into a computer in a deliberate attempt to find a formula that hurt Republican districts most," the Senator revealed.

"It's criminal. It belongs in court. And we intend to take it there," said Bassano, who will join a suit being filed by Senator John Paoletta (R-Bergen), who saw $2.5 million in state aid removed from his own school districts.

"The Democrats missed an opportunity to bow to the will of the people and responsibly trim the budget to a reasonable level," the Senator said.

Bassano blasted cuts of $95 million in transportation programs, including $21.5 million in bus and rail subsidies which could signal fare increases for commuters and $48 million in road and bridge repair.

"Commuters have just swallowed two significant and painful fare hikes. Motorists in the state, already paying $644 million in motor fuel taxes and license fees, deserve to have their needs met."

Bassano suggested to save $41 million elimination or cuts in:

- *The "superfluous" Department of Community Affairs, which principally approves local budgets already approved by municipal officials;
- *The Public Advocate's office, which employs 250 lawyers at annual salaries of $30,000 each to sue other state employees and departments;
- *The Department of Energy, which has no power to explore for new energy, clearly the only task the public needs in that field.

"I'm disappointed that the cuts in this mammoth budget did not eliminate a single state job, while resulting in drastic curtailment of services for the people. Why should taxpayers pay more for less."

"The Democratic state legislature has turned the state budget from a finance program to serve the people, into a strictly political document."

Italian Students Looking for Homes

Interstudy, an international student organization, will sponsor a group of Italian students, ages 15-24, for a four week planned program July 30 - Aug. 29. Carol Norton of Fanwood, local coordinator, explains there will be a balance of class activities, field trips, parties, and host family get-togethers.

"We're looking for people willing to open their homes to give the Italian students a real look at American life," says Carol. "We need all kinds of families: with children, without children, single parents and single people.

The common need is the friendliness on all parts, and the rewards are the satisfaction of an exchange of ideas and knowledge."

People who are interested in hosting a student will be asked to list their preferences which will be matched with those of the students. All families will gather for a welcome celebration and for a farewell party.

More information is available from Carol Norton.

Catch the Sun Women's Road Race Here July 25

Women distance runners from throughout the state will celebrate the growth of their sport during the week of July 19-25, proclaimed New Jersey Women's Running Week by the State Assembly.

According to Running Week Co-Chairperson, Pat Goias, the whole focus of the week will be to provide "a happy joyous statewide event to highlight the benefits of being a woman runner," specifically, to celebrate the inclusion of the women's marathon in the 1984 Olympics, to encourage beginning runners, to further support women's running in N.J., and to provide a source of expert information through the Running Week Symposium.

Activities of N.J. Women's Running Week, held in cooperation with the Central Jersey Road Runners Club, include a Running Symposium on July 24 at the Coachman Inn, Cranford, and Catch the Sun, the state's largest women's only road race. The five mile run will be held in Tamaques Park here on July 25.

All runners are invited to come out and participate in the festivities to celebrate women's running. For further information and race applications, write P.O. Box 513, Westfield, N.J. 07091.

"Eclipse Chasers" Organizing June Expedition to Java

The "eclipse chasers," members of the astronomy group headquartered at Union College, are well into preparations for an upcoming expedition to Java in 1983 to observe and photograph the solar eclipse on June 11.

Although organized by Amateur Astronomers, Inc., the trip is also open to non-members. Several people from fields other than astronomy have already signed up for the June '83 expedition.

David and Gloria Kuchinsky of Scotch Plains, both members of AAI and co-chairmen of the Java Eclipse Expedition, traveled last year to the country where the eclipse can best be viewed. They have investigated observation sites as well as "sights" to be included in the group's itinerary next year.

Kuchinsky returned recently from a second "very satisfying" trip to Java where he was able to secure accommodations on the campus of Gadjah Mada University in Yogyakarta, which has been chosen as the prime base of operations.

According to Kuchinsky, the administration and faculty of the university "have shown a great willingness to cooperate" and the observation group will have the use of the auditorium for the pre-eclipse briefing as well as the guest house for lodging. In return, AAI members have offered to provide lectures for students and staff of the institution prior to the event.

Three alternative sites also have been selected Kuchinsky said, all within 30 miles of the "center line" of the eclipse.

Elizabeth Yuil of New York City, also a member of the planning committee, and owner of the Camelot Travel Agency, Ltd., accompanied the Kuchinskys on their 1981 exploratory trip. Yuil worked with travel agencies in the area making contacts for accommodations and for sightseeing tours after the eclipse. Following "E" day, the Bali Hyatt Hotel located on Sanur Beach will be the "perfect spot to unwind," Mrs. Yuil noted.

The group will spend three days there to relax and visit nearby points of interest. One of the most famous places scheduled is the largest Buddhist temple in the world, Borobudur, which took 100 years to build.

In addition to the basic two-week trip, which includes Java, Bali, and possibly Singapore, other tours have been arranged for three and four weeks, one of which will include Australia.

All four tours are open to the public. While the prime objective of the expedition is for the astronomers to view the eclipse and perform experiments, the only criteria is that everyone who signs up for any of the tours must go for the first two weeks. Mrs. Kuchinsky said. Departure may be made from either the East or the West Coast, she added.

Citing various reasons for taking the expedition, Mrs. Kuchinsky said, for example, a psychologist from Harvard University has signed up for the purpose of observing the effect of the phenomenon on people and animals. A Rutgers professor of plant biology is going along to study possible pollution on plants.

And, Mrs. Kuchinsky pointed out, besides observing the eclipse itself - an "overwhelmingly beautiful sight" - part of the pleasure of the trip is seeing another part of the world and getting to know the people and their culture.

Besides making eclipse junkies, AAI holds regular meetings on the third Friday of each month, which include lectures on astronomical subjects. The organization also hosts weekly viewings of the skies on all other Friday evenings in the Sperry Observatory. All programs are open to the public free of charge.

Anyone interested in joining the "eclipse chasers" on any of the various tours may call Mr. or Mrs. Kuchinsky.

Yankee Coaches At Baseball Camp

By Renee Trabert
Major league action came to town last week when the Westfield Recreation Commission Baseball Sports Camp hosted three members of the Yankee coaching staff.

On Wednesday, Mike Ferraro and Joseph Altobelli, first and third base coaches, travelled to Westfield in order to teach the camp attendees some basic baseball fundamentals including catching, fielding and base-running.

On the following day, Bullpen Coach Jeff Torborg, former Westfield resident and WHS graduate, demonstrated the principles and techniques behind better batting ability.

After short, informal lectures, the coaches put the 58 kids, aged from 8-13, through many of the same drills that the Yankee team practices. They were aided in the drills by Camp Directors Bob Brewster and Assistants Larry Cohen, Chris Drabin, Kurt Gilhaus and Kevin Morris. "Quickness is important," emphasized Ferraro. "Baseball was meant to be played on a very quick basis." Added Altobelli, "A scout will look for arm strength and running speed first. Hitting and fielding ability are a close second."

The drills were also geared to helping overcome a natural fear of the ball. "Don't feel badly about having a fear of catching or hitting a ball; I still do subconsciously," stressed Altobelli. "You'll gain confidence when you learn to control your hands and body with your eyes."

Besides developing physical abilities, the three coaches were quick to point out the necessity of developing an intelligent and instinctive approach to baseball. Jeff Torborg emphasized the importance of reading baseball books and building a sports library for resource material. "You have to be smart. Your brains have to match your physical ability," agreed Coach Altobelli.

While the boys appreciated the personal instruction and advice, the real thrill of the day came from discussing major league players with the coaches and handling Jeff Torborg's World Series rings and All-Star bat. The line was also long for autographing the children's mitts, baseballs, pictures and other Yankee memorabilia.

Yet, for the many boys there dreaming of a career in pro-ball, the final question was the most important - "How does one become a major league player?" "You should keep yourself very active and get involved in organized groups such as these sports camps which give a developing player a lot of beneficial exposure and challenge," advised Altobelli. "The best advice I can give you," concluded Torborg, "is for you to give it your 100% all the time and practice because you enjoy practicing."

Other baseball celebrities including Neil Allen and Joel Youngblood are scheduled to appear at the baseball camp in the future. For more information on the sports camp program contact the Westfield Recreation Commission.

Roger Chandler, chairman of the Recreation Commission, greets Mike Ferraro and Joe Altobelli, two members of the Yankee coaching staff who appeared at the Sports Camp.

Tens Select All Star Team

After four days of tryouts, the Ten Year Old tournament team has been selected. These boys displayed a high level of skill, and it was very difficult to pick the final roster, according to the coaches.

The boys who were picked and their positions are: Rick Allorto, pitcher and infield; Billy Bonnetti, third base; Matt Brown, catcher and outfield; Josh Hager, infield; Andy Allorto, pitcher and infield; Sean Cunningham, outfield; Chris Jordan, outfield; Jim Monninger, catcher; Brian Mueller, second base; Craig Munch, third base and pitcher; John Pugliese, outfield and pitcher; Louis Retino, first base and outfield; Ron Shovlin, short stop, out field and first base; Ryan Venckus, first base; and Ken Voorhees, centerfield.

This team appears to have a nice balance with strong hitting from both sides of the plate, good defense at each position, strong pitching, and nice depth at all positions. "If they get their share of the breaks, they could do well in all their tournaments," say coaches Rich Allorto, Charley Brown, Bill Monninger and Bob Voorhees.

Base-running was just one of the many fundamentals Mike Ferraro discussed during the day.

Aquasprites Competing In Hawaii This Week

Eight members of the Westfield YWCA Aquasprites are among swimmers competing this week in the U.S. Synchronized Swimming Senior National Championships in Hawaii.

The Aqua Sprites, coached by Lorraine Fasullo, are among 24 teams from the United States and Australia competing.

Other teams participating in the national event are the Walnut Creek (Calif.) Aquanuts; the Seattle (Wash.) Aqua Club; the Town of Tonawanda (N.Y.) Aquettes; the Ohio State University team; the Richmond (Va.) Dopholinas; the Santa Clara (Calif.) Aquamaids; Hui Kuliike Au of Kailua, Hawaii; the Kansas City (Missouri) Sea Sprites; Glendale (Calif.) Swim Club; Meragua Swim Club of Irvine, Calif.; Potomac Valley Aquanettes of Bethesda, Md.; the Riverside (Calif.) Aquettes; the Hamden (Conn.) Heronettes; The Dayton (Ohio) Aquanymphs; the H.A.R.C. Merionettes and the Cincinnati (Ohio) Synchrogators.

Synchronized swimming is the execution of precision movements on, above or beneath the water, performed to music. Competition included three events - solo, duet and team which consists of four to eight members.

Judging is on the precision of positions and movements and for demonstration of strength and coordination.

Synchronized swimming was first recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and officially sanctioned as a national competitive sport in 1946. It was exhibited by the U.S. at the Pan American Games in Buenos Aires in 1951 and has been on the agenda of competitive sports since the 1955 Games.

In 1980, the International Olympic Committee voted to include duet synchronized swimming as an official event.

This is the second time the senior nationals have been held in Hilo. The first was in 1977.

The championships are hosted by the County of Hawaii's Department of Parks and Recreation and are sanctioned by the United States Synchronized Swimming, Inc.

Fast Pitch Continues Winning Ways

After adding three more wins to its record this past week, the Westfield girls fast pitch team now stands at 7 and 0 in league play and 11 and 1 overall.

"Being in first place is what we've worked for; that's the goal we've set for ourselves, and it feels great to be there," stated assistant manager Megan McNelis.

Megan, who is experiencing her first year on the coaching levels of a fast-pitch team, is thoroughly enjoying the season. "The girls make being a part of this team a pleasure. They work so well together and have such tremendous team spirit, that you're really proud to be a part of it. We've been hit by vacation schedules, but the depth on our bench never leaves us weak. I've been very impressed by this group of girls and I think going undefeated the second half of the season is very possible."

The only disappointment the girls had this week was that the final game of the Roselle Park fast-pitch tournament was rained out two times.

Noreen Morris picked up her second win on the mound, by leading Westfield past Winfield Park 2-3 in the opening game of last week's 3-game stretch. Noreen gave up 4 hits, walked 5 and struck out 1. On the offensive end, Morris batted a very powerful 3/5, with a single, a triple and her first home run of the season. Gail Barker also excelled at bat going 3/3, including her first home run. Later that week, Westfield breezed by Kenilworth 16-4, with Terry Farley as the winning pitcher. Her record now stands at 2 and 0.

Leaders at bat for Westfield were Kim Canata 3/5, Geri Weiss 3/4, Noreen Morris 2/4 and Terry Farley 2/4.

Last Thursday the girls traveled to Chatham and won a very exciting 3-2 game. Ace pitcher Nancy Kasko pitched her first no hitter of the season, striking out 7 and allowing 2 walks. Nancy's teammates on defense were not quite as sharp, committing 5 errors in the field.

Westfield scored its three runs in the first inning on 3 walks, 5 stolen bases and clutch singles by Geri Weiss and Dona Casiere.

In later innings, Ron Fusaro and Patty Wysock connected for triples, but were never allowed to cross home plate.

Chatham scored their 1st run in the fourth inning on 2 Westfield errors. In the 7th, Chatham added 1 more run, again on 2 Westfield errors. Kasko's record now stands at 7 & 1.

In those eight games, the Westfield star has only given up 16 hits. She credits part of her success to Geri Weiss, her catcher.

week vacation, Geri stepped right in. She's been improving with every game and has a major roll to fill on the team, which she has, with style. In addition to her catching, this past week, Geri batted 6/9. Geri knew she had to step in and take charge behind the plate and everyone is very impressed with how well she has done.

Geri has been very excited about the team success; she stated "in the three previous games this week, our superb pitching carried the team to 3 more victories. Our awesome offense has scored almost five times as many runs as our defense has given away. The rain that cancelled the finals of the Roselle Park tournament, managed to dampen the field, but not our spirits. We plan on coming back stronger than ever on Monday to take the finals. The faith and confidence in our coaching staff, led by Jody D'Amato, has been a key factor."

Geri summed it up as well as anyone could, "The measure of true success is team spirit. We work as a team, we play as a team and we win as a team."

The girls play Roselle away on Thursday, and leave for the state tournament on Friday, to play Saturday and Sunday. They return on Sunday night to face Cranford away on Monday and Chatham home on Tuesday.

Ten Year Olds Win Their First Two Games

The ten year old tournament All-Stars got off to a great start as they won a pair this past weekend. These wins came in the Roselle Park Tournament opening round. In their season opener, the Tens played the host Roselle Park team and came away with an extra inning 2-1 victory. The Tens got great pitching from Andy Allorto, and Craig Munch with Craig pitching four shut-out innings to get the win. Good defensive plays were turned in by Josh Hager in the second and Ron Shovlin in the first. But the star of the game in the field was Rick Allorto whose three sparking plays at short saved at least four runs. The RBIs went to Kenny Voorhees in the first inning, and Jim Monninger whose base hit drove in the winning run in the last half of the seventh.

In their second game, the 'til devils won 7-5 as their hitting game started to come around. This victory came at the expense of the always tough team from Colonia. Good hitting by Sean Cunningham, Lou Retino and Chris Jordan keyed the attack as the Tens jumped off to a five run first inning lead. In the fourth inning the Tens got two insurance runs as Matt Brown and Lou Retino drove in the runs. The Tens displayed nearly flawless defense as they made several good plays to shut down Colonia. Craig Munch was solid at third, and Ron Shovlin did a nice job in right. Pitching for the Tens were Rick Allorto who pitched the first three and got the win, and Andy Allorto who pitched the final three and received credit for the save.

Ten Talk:
This year the Ten Year Olds are entered in four tournaments. They are playing in the Roselle Park, Colonia, South Plainfield and Fords tournaments.

Bowlers Bounce Back In 7-2 League Win

The Union County Landscaping Bowlers, coming off a defeat to unbeaten Sacks Pac, bounced back with an impressive 7-2 victory over Finnagels in Men's Softball league action Wednesday night at Tamaques.

Kevin Pecca drove home three runs on two hits. Bruce Moran had two hits and scored two runs and two hits and knocked in a run to lead the Bowlers offensively.

Jim Kontje, Steve Fiore and Scott Denlinger drove in a run apiece for the Bowlers (6-3), who have won six out of the last seven games. Bob White pitched a six-hitter for the victory. He got fine defensive help from second baseman Dave Yattilla and shortstop Kontje. Kevin Valenti had an opposite field single which caught the attention of Bowler coach Glen Kehler.

"I was happy to see Valenti be able to run down first base that fast," said Kehler. "Overall, we played good as a team and I like how we came back strong after our loss to Sacks."

Matt Sullivan, who is hitting .750 in the PBA league, was 3-4 for the Bowlers in their 19-3 victory over Tac

Oil two weeks ago. Sullivan's name was mistakenly omitted from the league article two weeks ago.

The July 4 holiday put a hold on league games last week. Sunday, the Finnagels-Skiers Shop game and the Bowlers and Greco contest are worth watching out for.

Marion Glass Scholarships Awarded To 3 Students

Helen Carl, Gary Glass and Shanthi Clemans, recent graduates of Westfield High School, were awarded the fifth annual Marion W. Glass Memorial Scholarships at formal ceremonies held on graduation night. The scholarships were created by the Henry W. Glass family as a fitting tribute to Mrs. Glass' lifelong interest in theatre literature and her many contributions to local and state theatre. They were made to the graduating seniors, irrespective of need, who have demonstrated excellence in drama as a form of literature.

Helen will attend Mt. Holyoke, Gary will enroll at Colgate and Shanthi will enter Hood College. Helen made her WHS debut as the saucy secretary Maggie Cutler in the 1980 production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner." This year's "The Crucible" offered her a challenge in the character of "Elizabeth." She has worn many hats in her active years in the department of speech and drama, most recent of which was the service-hat of president of Mask and Mime. She co-directed the successful spring troupe of Children's Theatre. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

Gary Glass, son of the late Marion Glass, has been heavily involved in the myriad dramatic and musical activities of the school. His varied and accomplished portrayals of Jonathan in "Arsenic and Old Lace, Nicel-Nicely in Guys and Dolls, Sheridan Whiteside in "The Man..." Danforth in "The Crucible" and more recently, the Stage Manger in "Our Town" have won for him a high place in the history of theatre growth and development at WHS. Gary won the 82 Rider college award for achievement in dramatic interpretation (Advanced Spanish) at the annual tournament this spring. He also was the recipient of the N.J. Foreign Language Award as well as the local Fefa Le Costa Spanish Award made yearly. Gary is a member of the National Honor Society.

Shanthi Clemans has been an active member in all phases of drama in the department. Her co-directorship of the Children's Theatre brought live theatre to more than 1,000 children in the six district grade schools, the area Day Care Centers, Children's Hospitals and class rooms of the area. She made her stage debut as June in "The Man..." and culminated her WHS acting career as Mrs. Webb in "Our Town," for which she won praise for her interpretation of that well-known and much loved universal mother. She is currently working with The Westfield Summer Workshop Theatre.

Ms. Harriet B. Loudon drama director was a friend of the late Mrs. Glass. She said, "I know that Marion would be especially proud of this year's winners. They embody the spirit of the scholarships created to honor her interests."
