

Four Year High School Almost Five Years in Future

The 1987-1988 school year is the date that the Steering Committee for K-12 Reorganization has recommended for the districts move to a four-year high school, two intermediate schools for grades 6, 7 and 8 and six elementary schools for grades K-5.

According to M. Evelyn Maloney, chairperson of the nine-member staff steering committee: "The recommended date is based on many considerations, particularly maintaining adequate instructional facilities at the high school when the ninth grade becomes part of that facility."

The steering committee has been meeting to plan the future reorganization since it was formed a year ago by Superintendent Laurence F. Greene after the Board of Education voted in November, 1981 to direct administration to plan for a four-year high school, to develop a seventh and eighth grade program at Roosevelt and Edison that will allow for the sixth grade entrance into those schools at a future time, to establish an interim program for the sixth grade and to plan for grades K-5 at six elementary schools.

The recommended date for the future reorganization has been submitted to the superintendent of schools who will study it before making a recommendation to the Board of Education for approval.

Future work of the committee includes studies in the areas of facilities, curriculum, staff in-service and budgeting.

Five sub-committees of the K-12 Steering Committee are also working on future plans. These include a staff development committee which is planning visits for teachers to outstanding middle schools. The visits, in teams of five, with a trained leader, will gather information, evaluate it and share it with other staff members.

An Intermediate Planning Committee has developed proposed curriculum sequences for the intermediate school for grades 6, 7 and 8 which will be new to Westfield. The Elementary Planning Committee and the High School Planning Committee are completing studies to determine the impact of the proposed curriculum sequences for the intermediate school on the elementary school program and the high school program. A Research and Development Committee continues with plans for a survey of pre-school children.

In addition to Maloney, who is director of guidance for the school system, the K-12 Steering Committee includes Edward Braynack, assistant principal at Edison Junior High School; Peggy Krychowecy, sixth grade teacher at Jefferson School; Alan Lantis, Project 79 and history teacher at the high school; D. Joseph Pellicone, principal of Washington School; Dr. David J. Rock, director of

Springfield Denies Mall Proposal in Unanimous Vote

With a unanimous decision last Wednesday night, the Springfield Planning Board voted to deny the zoning application which would have allowed construction of the Springfield Mall. Citing 21 reasons for a denial, board member Robert Weltchek moved that the planning board attorney draft a resolution to "specifically deny" General Growth's application for a zoning change and to recommend that the site remain zoned as I-40 (light industrial/office use) in accordance with Springfield's master plan.

During 18 special sessions of the board which spanned 11 months, an exhaustive examination of the proposed mall's impact had been presented by expert witnesses on both sides of the issue. The hearings had drawn a consistently a large crowd of area residents opposed to the mall and when the final vote was cast, it was greeted by cheers and applause. Weltchek's statement enumerated traffic problems that would result from "the roadway network is inadequate to handle estimated traffic." He cited the "increase in incidents of criminal activity" related to mall developments as "unacceptable." Saying that "zoning must be based on the safety, health and welfare of the residents," Weltchek found the mall proposal to be "detrimental" to the best interests of the township.

In addition to its concern with detrimental impact, the board's denial was based on its determination that the site could, in fact, be developed under its present zoning. General Growth, Inc., representing Bambergers and Alexanders, had sought to prove that its 52-acre site could only be developed successfully as a shopping center. The board, believing that the present zoning is "compatible and reasonable in relation to the adjacent area" citing the existing development in surrounding I-40 lots, concluded that the developer had made "no serious effort to market the land for its intended use." Stating that "increased profit for the owner is not sufficient reason to rezone," Weltchek proposed that the board vote to "maintain the present zoning as protection for the existing businesses and land uses surrounding the site."

The mall proposal has been opposed by residents in the surrounding communities of Cranford and Westfield as well as by Springfield residents. In making its decision, the Springfield board acknowledged that "zoning should consider the negative impact on surrounding towns." Board member M. Forman cast her vote with the comment, "Zoning should not be in conflict with the development of surrounding communities... that considered in accordance with the roadway system, zoning should discourage congestion and blight from traffic." She concluded that "residents are entitled to as healthy an environment as possible."

The board's vote may well be the end of the mall proposal. The developers have the option to appeal the board's decision before the township committee but a majority of that body is already on record as opposed to the mall. There is also the option to appeal the township decisions in the courts. However, a similar appeal concerning a mall proposal at a site a few miles east on Route 22 was denied by the court just last month in a decision which upheld Union's rejection of a shopping mall proposal for its industrially zoned area. Robert Podvey, the developers attorney, would not comment on what further action his clients are considering.

Chairman of Westfield's "Stop the Mall" committee, Warren Rorden, called the board's decision "a real victory for grass-roots citizens effort." Commenting that few people believed the mall could be stopped when his committee formed, Rorden credited the "widespread support of many, many individuals" as being the deciding factor in defeating the mall.

Council Rejects "Railroading" Of RR Station Status

Claiming it was being "railroaded," Town Council Tuesday night went on record that it opposes the State and Federal historic site designation of the north and southside railroad stations.

It's not that the town does not want to preserve the buildings, described as "unique and of Romanesque architecture" by Mayor Allen Chin, who said the council plans to discuss their future early next year.

"We plan to preserve the buildings," Chin added.

What soured seven of the eight elected officials at Tuesday night's meeting is that the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, in a letter dated Dec. 3 and received Dec. 12, gave town officials 30 days to request nomination for the historic registry be considered, and that this time limit spanned a holiday period which permitted little time to study the ramifications.

"Request for consideration of historic sites should be initiated by the Town Council, not by State agencies," commented Raymond Stone, a remark which won agreement from his colleagues.

Another consideration concerning historic sites is another bit of Westfield history. The North Ave. firehouse was listed on the historic site registry a few years ago, but town officials have run into problems over effecting needed renovations — at least in a style and price range it can afford.

"There's no free lunch," said Councilman Garland Boothe, "and no roof either."

Lone objector to the resolution opposing the historic site designation at this time was Councilman John Brady, who noted that registry listing would insure preservation of the heritage of commuters who helped build Westfield. Brady felt that federal funding would follow registry designation of the two historic railroad station sites.

Council unanimously approved a resolution requesting the county to reconsider a bridge access to a proposed apartment development on Riverdale Court in Scotch Plains.

Councilmen feel that a second ingress and egress is needed for the site which, under current plans, would be served only by one access route to Lamberts Mill Rd., thus increasing traffic on that thoroughway. The bridge access route had originally been planned but the Board of Freeholders reversed its decision to require the bridge following objections by residents adjacent to its location. It was explained.

In more routine matters at its last 1982 meeting,

Board Lists 21 Objections To Springfield Mall

Twenty-one reasons to reject the proposed Springfield Mall adjacent to Westfield were cited by Springfield Planning Board member Robert Weltchek last week prior to a 9-0 vote denying the General Growth application for a variance for the site.

The board's decision will be forwarded to the Springfield Township Committee.

In his motion to deny the developer's appeal, Weltchek listed the following objections:

- "1. The present zoning as I-40 is reasonable and appropriate to the surrounding area. The property is adjacent to successful and viable industrial and office development.
- "2. This particular site can be developed and marketed for its present permitted uses although it may take a longer period of time. Additionally, these permitted uses will not have the severe and intensive negative impact on the surrounding areas, including nearby residential areas, in terms of traffic, safety, crime and the like that a regional shopping center would have;
- "3. The applicant has failed to establish that the site in question cannot be marketed given its present zoning. The record indicates that no serious and meaningful effort was made by the applicant during the past 12 years approximately in which it owned the property, to market the site for its permitted uses, either by sale of the entire parcel to a developer, or through development by the use of subdivision.

"4. The applicant, through the testimony of its witnesses failed to take into consideration applications by existing industrial users in Springfield to expand their facilities. The records of the building department over the last several years show many expansions to existing industrial uses. This fact suggests the continuing viability of the subject site for development under its current zoning.

"5. The subject site is in close proximity to residential areas in Springfield, as well as to those in adjoining municipalities. The proposed development of a regional shopping center will have a serious and negative impact upon those residential areas...

"6. The maintenance of the existing zone classification of the subject site will assure the continuation of the character of Springfield as principally a mature, suburban community which provides a high level of services to its residents.

"7. Development of the subject site

Addition to Decrease Lot Coverage on Hanford Place

Question: How can a homeowner receive permission to add a 10 ft. by 12 ft. kitchen to his home and wind up with less lot coverage than he originally had?

Answer: When the Board of Adjustment grants the addition on condition that the homeowner remove the roof from a covered patio on his property.

Kenneth Marsh of 534 Hanford Place appeared before the zoning board Monday night requesting a variance to allow him to expand a cramped kitchen. He and his wife, Joyce, claimed that because a 24 ft. by 54 ft. parcel of land had been subdivided from their property long before they had purchased it, they exceeded the maximum coverage allowed. "If the property had remained as it was, the coverage would be only 20% even with the proposed addition," Marsh explained.

Arthur E. Downer of 249 Hanford Place, the man who purchased the parcel in 1965, addressed the board on the Marshes' behalf: "I don't see how the addition can affect the aesthetics of the neighborhood. Besides, if the board would grant the variance, my guilt feelings would be assuaged."

Downer was unwilling to sell the property back to the Marshes and the board was reluctant to permit 24.8 building coverage.

A solution was affected when the Marshes agreed to remove the roof and screens from their screened 12 ft. by 12 ft. patio, leaving only the basic framework of the structure. The change from enclosed patio to vined arbor was permitted after a perusal of the zoning ordinance by Board Attorney Wayne Positan unearthed no indication that a roofless ground-level structure could be considered an above-grade building.

The board unanimously agreed to the compromise, however Albert Wiegman disqualified himself from the hearing; he had sold the home to the Marshes.

Although Benito Bontempo was admonished by chairman Mary Herberich for his vocal outburst, he left the council chamber loudly deprecating the board after it refused to hear his appeal to expand a non-conforming use at 169 Mountain Ave.

Bontempo had sought permission to use the basement of the building for professional use. The site which is located in a one and two-family dwelling zone currently houses a dentist on the first floor and an apartment on the second. James Flynn, who represented Bontempo, said the structure is "underutilized."

Herberich noted that similar requests by Bontempo had been denied in 1968 and 1980. Positan added that denials had been advanced in 1966 and 1967 and suggested that the board invoke "res judicata" which means that a case which has been decided does not have to be heard again unless the request is materially different. Board members agreed with the recommendation and unanimously denied to hear the appeal.

George Plenty and Albert Wiegman disqualified themselves from the discussion; Plenty is an elder at the Presbyterian Church and Wiegman owns property on Mountain Ave.

Town's Ready for Winter

Although the weather continues to be rather mild and winter officially has only begun, preparations for the snow storms that are sure to follow have been completed by the Department of Public Works.

Town-owned equipment and privately owned contracted equipment are in readiness for plowing and snow removal, and the salt and cinders to combat icy roads have been stockpiled, according to Town Engineer Edward Gottko.

Town policy is to begin plowing when there is an accumulation of four inches on the ground, and more forecast, or if temperatures are forecast to stay below freezing, and melting conditions are not expected after the storm.

The main purpose in plowing is to open the main streets to accommodate emergency equipment, fire and ambulance vehicles. Priority is given to main, or collector streets, main intersections and school districts. After all streets have been opened, the crews continue to clean, "curb to curb" to accommodate any storm which might occur later so there is ample room for emergency vehicle access.

To cope with slippery conditions, the department has a pre-arranged "salt route" which gives top priority to main streets, important intersections, intersections with a grade and around schools. No attempt is made to salt and cinder all residential streets, first because it would be much too costly, and

Mountainside Joins in Protesting State School Aid Cuts

Representatives of the Mountainside school district attended a meeting last week of suburban school districts from Union County.

Districts affected by the recent cuts in minimum state aid were gathered at the meeting, which was convened to share ideas about how local districts can join forces in the state funding crisis. Similar meetings are being held in other counties throughout the state.

At last week's meeting, held at Hillview School in New Providence, delegates from various boards reviewed the actions of the governor and legislature over the past few months. In actuality, the uncertainties over state funding have existed for several years, with funds withdrawn, restored, and withdrawn again.

Reactions from Union County districts ranged from dismay to anger over the failure to fund education as constitutionally provided. Deploping the politicizing of the issue, districts represented agreed that long-range solutions for the state funding problem are needed, and that additional sources of state revenue must be developed.

Thomas Reilly, a member of the New Providence Board of Education, was appointed to

New Phone Format For Time, Weather

New Jersey Bell last week announced a plan to change the way public announcements, like time and weather are provided in 1983.

To comply with changes ordered by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in October 1981, the company has asked the Board of Public Utilities (BPU) for permission to discontinue its Public Announcement Services and offer instead a "Dial-It" network. The FCC order prohibits New Jersey Bell from providing stored or recorded information but allows the company to set up a system to transport such announcements over the local telephone network.

As of January 1, 1983, New Jersey Bell will offer the "Dial-It" network over which an independent vendor will offer informational programs. The vendor also will provide and maintain the recording equipment, which will not be located on New Jersey Bell premises. While New Jersey Bell will be responsible for operation and maintenance of the "Dial-It" network the vendor will be solely responsible for program content and delivery. Program topics may include sports, lottery, entertainment, seasonal holiday and travel.

The charge for all calls to the independent vendor will be billed and collected by New Jersey Bell. Sundial Productions, a Newark-based announcement firm, was chosen from among 30 vendors who submitted bids.

Effective January 1, 1983 charges for calls placed over the new "Dial-It" network will be billed at a rate of 13 cents each, or two local message units. Local coin rates will apply to calls placed from coin phones.

Red Cross Seeks Blood Services Chairman

At the Dec. 8 quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of American Red Cross, Chairman Kenneth S. Meyers announced that the chairmanship of the Blood Services Committee is open due to a resignation. Meyers said that this important position need not be limited to medically-related personnel. It requires, more than anything else, good management skills, he asserted.

Any citizen of Westfield or Mountainside interested in serving as chairperson of the blood services committee is asked to contact Donald B. Stouder, executive director, at 321 Elm St.

Citizen blood donors give blood free on a voluntary basis. The only costs incurred by the Red Cross are for collecting, testing, storing and distributing the blood to hospitals. The hospitals reimburse the Red Cross for these expenses. The hospitals, in turn, pass these costs on to the patient.

Meyers pointed out that our medical system depends on the blood donated by volunteer citizens. There is only one way that blood can continue to be made available, and that is for a continuous program of collection by the Blood Services Committees of local Red Cross chapters, he concluded.

MEL HUNTER

hand-drawn original lithograph in nine colors by Mel Hunter

Our world is full of myths and puffery, but Vermont truly is a place of deep forest silences, cold clear streams, and skies that are unaltered by man's works. Travel up old hill roads yields glimpses of farms seen by few but their owners. The woods abound with enigmatic bits of overgrown and forgotten stone walls, bridge foundations along the twisting streams, and cellar holes abandoned since the stampeding dreams of the gold rushes and the terrible casualty lists of the Civil War sliced away streams of young men.

Those who remained and survived produced descendants who are a hardy, retiring lot, given to interesting understatement and a complex love of the land and animals.

Lucky Lady is a little Welsh pony, nuzzling her special holiday ration of sweet apples. She is well known to all the local children, and to those who commute past her pasture, not so much for her utility in a machine-wheeled age, but as an affectionate gracie in a formidable landscape.

This original lithographic print was created by the artist directly from seven intricately overlapping images, drawn in various black pigments and inks on sheets of grained Mylar. The artist then burned these separate drawings onto metal plates, making further alterations to the images on the plates till he was satisfied. No color painting or sketch was used by the artist as he drew, and the completed image emerged for the first time as he visualized the ink colors and directly supervised each color impression coming from the press. Edition complete, the plates and color Mylars were then destroyed by the artist.

Brownies Make Edible Edifices

Brownie Troop 609 recently took time out from its various service projects for some tasteful fun. The girls constructed cookie houses out of graham crackers, icing, and assorted decorative candies.

Hard work, patience and some taste testing transformed the Brownie room at the home of Gail Jebens into a scene out of "Hansel and Gretel." Despite untimely cave-ins and some pieces that made it to the mouth rather than the houses, each Brownie took home an edible edifice.

Service projects completed by the group this season have included park clean-up, donation of a basket of food to a Westfield Day Care Center. The group also presented the Day Care children with cookies they had baked.

Assisting the girls with the cookie houses were Gail Jebens, troop leader; Charmaine Cummings, assistant leader; and Murielle Cooper.

Foundation Makes Major Grant To United Fund Campaign

For the second year in a row, the Westfield Foundation has given a major gift to the Westfield United Fund campaign. "The Foundation's grant is vitally important in helping us reach our goal of $417,000," said Linda Maggio, director of the United Fund. The United Fund's ambitious fund raising efforts will support 18 members agencies that serve the Westfield area. "Both major gifts like this one from the Foundation and thousands of individual gifts from Westfield residents are needed for a successful campaign," Maggio explained.

The Foundation grant continues a tradition of support for the United Fund by that institution. The Foundation began its charitable work in the community in 1977 with a grant to that year's United Fund campaign. Both this year and last year, the Foundation's grant to the United Fund was made from the Wallace Fund within the Foundation. As a private family foundation, the Wallace Fund had made major gifts to the United Fund campaigns since 1957. Last year the Wallace Foundation assets were transferred to the Westfield Foundation for management. At that time, Westfield Foundation trustees stated that they felt "a responsibility as well as sincere satisfaction in continuing the tradition of giving to the United Fund."

The Westfield Foundation has been an increasingly active force in the community during the last few years, making a variety of grants to a wide range of organization which provide local charitable support. This annual United Fund grant is the largest single award made by the Foundation because — as the executive director, E. Alfred Herberich, explains — "In contributing to the United Fund, the Foundation is able to assist a number of agencies, all of which we believe are working to improve the Westfield community."

The 18 agencies of the Westfield United Fund provide service to young people, to the handicapped, the mentally retarded, the ill and to the emotionally or mentally disturbed. In Classic Studio President of the board of trustees for the United Fund of Westfield, T. Milton Kupfer, accepts the major gift donation made to the Fund by the Westfield Foundation. Presenting the grant for the Foundation is Executive Director E. Alfred Herberich.

Westfield, two out of every three residents benefit directly from the services of at least one of these member agencies. During these years of shrinking governmental support, United Fund campaigns often become the most dependable source of funding for helping agencies.

Their yearly budgets depend upon the success of United Fund efforts.

The Westfield United Fund campaign is still short of its targeted $417,000 goal as 1982 comes to an end. The Foundation trustees make their grant in "the belief that it will help many" and in the hope "that many Westfield residents and organizations will make their contributions to the United Fund now."

Mrs. Bregman $1 Million Salesperson

Dwight F. Weeks, President of Barrett & Crain Realtors has announced that Nancy L. Bregman, Realtor Associate, has qualified for membership in the 1982 N.J. Real Estate Million Dollar Sales Club for her second consecutive year. The rules are so strict that over $2 million must be negotiated in a 12-month time period for membership. Active in real estate in Westfield for eight years, Mrs. Bregman was Salesperson of the Month in May and August for the firm, by having the most transactions in sales, listings and referrals.

Parents of four children, and members of Temple Emanuel-El, Nancy and her husband, David are 19 year residents of Westfield.

Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus

One of the most famous newspaper editorials of all time, has to do with Christmas. It first appeared September 21, 1917, in the pages of a leading newspaper of the day, the New York Sun.

Virginia O'Hanlon, eight years old, was torn between the doubts placed in her mind by playmates, and her own sincere belief that each Christmas a jolly old man came to help spread joy through the world.

Francis Pharcellus Church replied as follows: "Is there a Santa Claus?"

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

"Dear editor: "I am 8 years old.

Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus Papa says 'If you see it in the Sun it's so! Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

Virginia O'Hanlon 115 West 95th Street

"Virginia your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your Papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove?"

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, not even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

"No Santa Claus? God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now Virginia, maybe, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

SENATOR

C. LOUIS BASSANO

- 21st Legislative District: Cranford, Roselle, Garwood, Roselle Park, Hillside, Springfield, Kenilworth, Westfield, Union.

It's appropriate that the bill restoring the legal drinking age to 21 was finally approved by the N.J. Legislature in the midst of the holiday season.

The under 21's may not believe it - but Legislators viewed the vote with mixed emotions. We were: *relieved because the battle to increase the drinking age back to 21 had been long and often bitter.

*hopeful that the age hike would cut fatalities that have tragically ended so many young lives, and maimed so many. (300 young people would not have died on our highways since the age was lowered.)

*sad, because the experiment to permit youngsters to drink at 18 had failed, and because some young people are so resentful over the return of the minimum drinking age to 21 that they may rebel against it to their own detriment.

*impressed at the great dedication of the Coalition for 21, that dedicated group of police officials, educators, doctors, parents and social workers who worked so tirelessly to halt the soaring number of traffic fatalities, wasted school years and ruined young lives due to alcohol.

We who were in the Legislature back in 1973 when the drinking age was lowered (along with 53 other "legal age" changes made when giving 18-year-olds the right to vote) were grateful for the opportunity to rectify our mistake. (Governor Thomas Kean, one of the legislators who unanimously approved the experiment, is now ready to sign the legislation hiking the age back.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number, so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written only one side of paper and typewritten.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

APPRECIATES SUPPORT

Editor, Leader: My wife joins me in expressing our sincere appreciation to those who supported me during my recent ordeal.

Although I would have preferred to answer each piece of correspondence personally, the overwhelming numbers made it virtually impossible. The hundreds of letters that I received from many students, parents, teachers, administrators, friends, and people that I have never met, sustained me and my family throughout an extremely difficult period. I am truly grateful for your support.

May I assure you that your faith and belief in me has been well placed. At the proper time, I will speak specifically to all aspects of this unfortunate situation.

Stanley J. Ziobro 61 Fair Hill Drive

THANKS, SANTA!

Editor, Leader: Not too many years ago, as a child growing up in Westfield, one of the highlights of the Christmas season was Santa's arrival at the firehouse and the party at the Rialto Theater that followed.

Last Saturday, I had the pleasure of taking my own daughter to the party. It is a little different now - Santa arrived on the roof of Roosevelt School and entertained the children in the school auditorium. But the fire department still brought Santa down from the roof top and escorted him to the door, and the Exchange Club still provided music, gifts, entertainment and a wonderful morning for the children and their parents.

My thanks to the young people who held the audience spellbound with singing, dancing and acting, and to the Exchange Club for carrying on this beautiful tradition for these many years.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON by Congressman Matt Rinaldo

Violent crime, increasingly senseless and brutal, is one of the most serious domestic problems facing our nation today.

Despite the fact that it has reached crisis proportions and poses a challenge that must be addressed more forcefully, not a single piece of legislation to significantly combat violent crime was passed and enacted into law during the just-concluded 97th Congress.

The inaction on the part of Congress is disappointing and cause for concern. Law abiding citizens are frightened and are demanding that something be done to bring crime under control so they will be safe in the streets and secure in their homes.

Several bills were introduced during the two-year session to step up the fight against crime. However, only some relatively minor bills were passed.

PROTESTS TICKETING

Applause, applause to the meter-person who ticketed my car in Westfield on Dec. 12 while I was Christmas shopping and was about four minutes late getting back to the meter.

At a time when the economy is in such wretched shape - our merchants praying for business - does it make any sense to slam a ticket on a window so quickly?

The Leader had an editorial recently on this topic - critical of the town for increasing the penalty. The editor should have saved his ink!

Other towns cover their meters during the holiday season - not so in beautiful downtown Westfield. The malls are very attractive in this respect - how nice to park, have lunch, and never think of the ever-diligent men/maids pursuing their miserable shore.

I'd like to say it's the principle, but I have to admit, it's the money! Bah, humbug!

Mary E. Burke Fanwood

changed a lot of minds. That change cut 19-year-old traffic fatalities linked to drinking by 23%.

The experience of other states which have already returned the legal age back to 21 has also been a powerful persuader. The National Institute of Highway Safety reported 380 fewer young drivers died on the road each year in the 14 states which have returned the drinking age to 21.

I know that when those now underage become adults, they will understand, appreciate and I'm sure endorse the 21 drinking age. Until then, I would rather have them angry at our action than injured by a lack of the Legislature's courage to take that action.

By John P. Sheridan Jr. Commissioner, NJDOT and Chairman of the Board of NJ Transit

With 1982 drawing rapidly to an end, I suppose it is only natural that all of us begin to review our accomplishments and to compare the goals we set for ourselves 12 months ago with our achievements.

On the public transit side, I am proud of the strides NJ Transit has made to upgrade rail service, ranging from the introduction of new Comet II cars on the Raritan Valley Line and the North Jersey

NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

1035 Parkway Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey 08625 609-292-3105

Coast Line to the provision of specially-equipped vans and minibuses to health and community service organizations in Red Bank, Lakewood, Paterson and elsewhere throughout the state to improve the mobility of the elderly and handicapped.

The rail station improvement and leasing programs continue to provide new focal points for community rehabilitation and restoration in Red Bank, Bound Brook and other locations along our extensive rail network.

New bus shelters have been installed statewide with more on the way and agreements for the design and land acquisition for the inter-modal transportation center in Asbury Park have been completed with construction expected to begin this coming spring.

Even as staff and the board of directors at NJ Transit struggle to break free of the destructive spiral of fare increases we suffered this past year, we continue to seek ways to improve management, reduce overhead and rationalize routes and fare structures to provide the best service and most modern equipment for those of you who depend on NJ Transit for your daily commute to and from your jobs.

Public participation in fare and service hearings is especially important now, and will continue to be vital in the future as we work with Governor Kean and the New Jersey Legislature to develop funding strategies that will benefit all of us.

I have also reviewed the year's accomplishments on the state and local highways in New Jersey and there, too, I am pleased with the amount of progress we have made this year to insure that the roads and bridges we all depend on are in the safest condition the DOT can provide.

Despite budget cuts during the appropriations process in April and again in October, our highway and bridge maintenance and construction crews have chalked up an impressive number of widening, dualization, reconstruction, and safety improvement projects throughout the state including:

- 15 intersection improvements in Fairfield, Hackensack, Roselle and Passaic;
- construction of a new bridge on Wood Ave. in Linden and reconstruction of the Nutley Ave. Bridge in Nutley;
- new bikeways in Englewood, Rivervale, River Edge and Oradell;
- bridge-deck repairs on I-495 in North Bergen and on Route 208 in Glen Rock;
- deck repairs, resurfacing, drainage improvements, new lighting, guide rail and signing on Route 80 in Parsippany-Troy Hills, Montville, Wayne, Fairfield, Totowa, Paterson and West Paterson;
- safety improvements on Route 3 in North Bergen, Weehawken, Secaucus and Union City;
- bridge rehabilitation, approaches, curbing, drainage improvements and resurfacing on Route 4 in Teaneck and Englewood;
- drainage and safety improvements, resurfacing and replacement of bridge superstructure on Route 9W in Fort Lee;
- improvements in signing and barrier curb installation on Route 21 in Newark, Clifton, Passaic, Belleville, Nutley and Wallington.

As 1983 begins, I hope to be able to bring you good news about the future of New Jersey's transportation network and the funding for the improvements we are all so eager to see. On behalf of the staff at both DOT and NJ Transit, I wish you all a happy holiday season and a prosperous and healthy New Year.

Merry Christmas ...And Safe Holidays

By Walter Ridge
Chief, Westfield
Fire Dept.

Here are some fire-wise tips for making your holidays safer and more enjoyable.

Shut off lights and decorations and extinguish candles before leaving the house for a long period. The possibility of electrical fire from a string of lights is remote but worth going out of your way to avoid.

It's also wise to exercise care during the presentation of gifts. Particularly with families of adults or adults and older children, the exchange of gifts is held late in the evening, accompanied by candle burning and lubricated with large quantities of Yuletide cheer. Wrapping paper plus candles — especially where alcohol is also involved — can be a recipe for trouble.

Immediately after the exchange of gifts, clean up the wrapping paper that litters the room. Some families set out festive department store shopping bags as receptacles for use as packages are unwrapped, to keep the papers in one place. That's a great idea but be sure to discard the bags of paper in a plastic or metal trash container promptly.

Boxes and other manufacturer packaging should also be disposed of quickly, though "quickly" here may denote an interval of days while final disposition is made of a large number of still-boxed gifts.

Common sense is also in order for holiday party giving. If you're inviting over a group of close friends and setting out a festive assortment of nuts and cheeses on a coffee table, you're going to have all kinds of people dressed in their holiday best reaching over and on to that table. Is this a smart place to put the traditional bayberry candle?

As at any time of year, if a guest drops a cigarette or lighted match retrieve it at once. Remember that overstuffed upholstery can retain heat and ignite again hours after a fire has been "extinguished" with water. Even a small fire on a sofa cushion, for example, means that the cushion should be placed outside overnight — or that you should call the fire department just to make sure the fire is really out.

Common sense, a little imagination and a little wisdom can make a holiday celebration that's not only dramatic and festive — but safe. Have a happy holiday and take care. After all, fire and burns aren't on anyone's Christmas list!

"The Great Paper Airplane Factory" Signifies More than Flights of Fancy

The children in Mrs. Lorraine Mullen's and Ted Kuhar's ALP classes have been involved in the making of paper airplanes as a method of investigating the laws of aerodynamics. By launching their homemade projectiles, the children were able to graph the relationship between variations in design and flight.

Each class was divided into three or four groups whose purpose was to organize a company which would engage in the manufacture of paper airplanes. Each company's goal was to make a profit. This, they learned, was done through wise management, hard work and careful planning. Each company began with some initial capital, part of which was used to purchase a license necessary to operate their business. Additional capital was gained in three ways: By retaining part of their original capital, by selling or renting raw materials to other companies, or by winning the various prizes in the final airplane contest.

In their planning, each company utilized the techniques they have been learning in their study of Creative Problem Solving, i.e. brainstorming for ideas, substituting one idea for another, combining two or more ideas, adapting, modifying, minifying an idea, eliminating or reversing a portion. These same techniques, they learned, are the same used by big "think tank" corporations.

Balance sheets were kept daily by each student which enabled them to record all business transactions. Companies had to bid for the materials needed in order to construct their planes. Only those materials purchased at this auction could be used during the construction phase, however groups were able to buy, trade, or rent supplies from other companies.

The history of flight, beginning with stories in mythology, the drawings of Leonardo da Vinci, all the way up to the present space shuttle were researched and illustrated by the ALP students.

The children also investigated the 1st International Paper Airplane Competition held by Scientific American Magazine in 1967 in which 11,851 planes were entered representing 28 different countries. The classes used the same four categories designated by the Scientific American Contest: distance, altitude, duration of flight, and aerobatics with the addition of a creativity and helicopter category added to the ALP contest.

The Great Paper Airplane Factory simulation proved to be all-encompassing, exposing the children to the laws of aerodynamics, economics, vocabulary development, scientific method (keeping conditions constant and verifying results), following directions, writing directions, graphing, mathematics, as well as research skills.

Realtors Return

Walter E. Eckhart, president, Westfield Board of Realtors, led a large contingent of Realtors and Realtor-Associates attending the 68th Annual Convention of the New Jersey Association of Realtors in Atlantic City, Dec. 1-4. The annual meeting, the largest state convention in the country, met at the Bally, Sands, and Claridge Hotels where more than 3,000 heard experts in innovative financing, legislative developments and market analysis. A highlight of the four day meeting was an address by Governor Thomas Kean on Dec. 3.

New Jersey Realtors Optimistic

An easing of mortgage interest rates, rising household income and a slow rate of home price appreciation are making homeownership generally more affordable than it was earlier this year, according to a National Association of Realtors study of 15 of the nation's largest metropolitan areas.

The improved state of affairs was a major topic at the annual New Jersey Association of Realtors Convention held recently at Bally's Park Place in Atlantic City.

"Business is way up in New Jersey and the Realtors' moods are optimistic," said James M. Weichert, president of Weichert Co., Realtors. Weichert declared that the housing recession has drawn to a close, based on year end figures depicting a dramatically improved housing market. The firm projects a 1982 sales volume in excess of $3/4 billion.

A number of factors were cited by Weichert as fostering the housing recovery:

- 1) The lowest rates on government backed mortgages in 27 months
- 2) The easing of credit by the Federal Reserve and the resulting drop in conventional interest rates
- 3) The wide selection of quality homes in top condition with attractive terms
- 4) Home prices in many areas are at 1980 levels.

"These factors, coupled with the American desire for homeownership, have brought about the improved condition of the market and lead us to advise our clients that, in their best interest, the time to buy or sell is now," said Weichert.

"The positive attitude and confidence in the market portrayed by New Jersey's Realtors is prevalent, and will play a significant role in leading the continued recovery of

Weichert also attributes the growing health of New Jersey's real estate market to the influx of new corporate headquarters from New York and out of state. "Corporate relocation and the successful transfer of employees and their families have been a major part of our services," said Weichert.

"For many reasons, not the least of which is fluctuations in the mortgage instrument, real estate has changed from a seasonal to a market driven business," said Weichert. "A progressive real estate company that is more adept in helping people to deal with the changing nature of mortgage financing is truly prepared to meet the needs of today's homebuyers and sellers," he explained.

Weichert went on to describe his view of the role of the major independent broker in the 80's. "Real estate has been and will continue to be an intensely personal business.

It's a 'one on one' sales associate to client business. Quality sales associates who deliver quality service will always be successful. Our goal is to continue to build on the quality of our people and our services. That's the key to our past and our future successes," he said.

An old piano tinkling, a plum pudding steaming on the wood burning stove, little boys playing with cast iron cars and blocks, little girls with dolls, school with slate boards and books - All this can be seen in the Christmas window of Realty World-Joy Brown, Inc. 112 Elm St. The old toys dating from 1800 through the early 1900's are from a collection of Carolyn and Wynant Wilday, sales associates of the Joy Brown office. These toys have been in Mrs. Wilday's family for years and have made many trips across the country from San Francisco to Salt Lake City on to Pittsburgh and finally Westfield.

We pause for a moment during this joyous season to wish you, our valued customers...

A VERY

Merry Christmas

Kaplus Returns From Mediterranean

Navy Boiler Technician Fireman Apprentice Scott Kaplus, son of Gerald Kaplus of 233 Avon Road, has returned from a deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and the Indian Ocean.

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile destroyer USS John King, homeported in Norfolk, Va. During the six-month deployment, the ship participated in exercises and task assignments with other units of the Sixth and Seventh Fleets. The John King participated in escort duties associated with the evacuation of PLO troops from Beirut, Lebanon and provided support for the U.S. Marine peacekeeping force in the region.

The ship also participated in "Operation Daily Double", an unprecedented four aircraft carrier exercise in the Mediterranean, and various anti-submarine and surface warfare operations in the Arabian Sea. As part of the carrier battle groups, the ship sailed with the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal and other Sixth Fleet units.

The John King is 437 feet long and carries a crew of 354. It is armed with guns, missiles, anti-submarine torpedoes and rockets.

Arts Management Collections Available

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts (NJSCA) invites residents to use the Arts Management Collections located in libraries throughout the state.

Those who visit the library, should ask for the guide to the collection to help in their search. The participating library in Union County is the Free Public Library at 11 South Broad St., Elizabeth.

Man Hurt In Crash

An Oak Ridge man was taken to Memorial General Hospital, Union, by the Garwood Rescue Squad following a collision Thursday morning on Springfield Ave. and East Broad St.

George A. Spencer, 26, was treated and released. According to police reports, his car was struck in the rear by one driven by David O. Matilsky, 18, of Hillside. Matilsky told police he had stopped for a red light and when the light turned green his vehicle rolled into the car driven by Spencer.

Vandals Cause Extensive Damage

Numerous incidents of criminal mischief were reported to police during the past week. Most of the vandalism occurred on the weekend.

Three schools were targeted. An arrow pierced the new roof at Jefferson School Thursday causing $200 damage. A vehicle damaged the field at the rear of Edison Junior High School Friday and a window was broken at the high school, Saturday.

Lawns were vandalized on Kimball Ave. and Lynn Lane Friday. A lamp post was damaged and lawn ornaments pushed over on Longfellow Ave. Sunday and a 25 ft. evergreen was cut down from a South Ave. site Thursday.

Firewood was thrown through the storm door of a Clark St. residence Tuesday. A door was smashed at Flair Cleaners on the Boulevard Sunday and a storm door was broken on Cottage Place Wednesday.

A rock was tossed through a window of a Highland Ave. residence Saturday. A windshield was broken on a car parked on South Ave. Thursday and another car parked on South Ave. was extensively damaged Sunday.

William Vincentsen was named an alternate to serve with the group.

Discussing the computer program in the schools, it was revealed that 56 percent of high school students have received experience with computers as the number of students who use the facilities continues to increase.

Objections

under the existing I-40 designation would be much less intense than that which is proposed.

"8. With respect to the traffic impact, I conclude that the site in question, given the surrounding roadway network is neither adequate nor appropriate for a regional shopping center, on the scale proposed here, from a traffic safety and access point of view.

"9. In this regard, I do not believe that the market area suggested by the applicant, i.e., 15 minute drive time is accurate and credible. The market area seems distinctly under-estimated. Other testimony leads me to the conclusion that it will include such areas as Newark, Hillside, Elizabeth, Irvington, Plainfield, and the Oranges, etc. It will be as Mrs. Moscovitz suggested, the "down town" of Union County and draw into the community vast numbers of people each day which the road system is simply not capable of handling, even with the improvements suggested by the applicants.

"10. There is insufficient right-of-way on South Springfield Ave. for the improvements and widening proposed by the applicant. In addition, these improvements to be effective should be extended along South Springfield Ave. in a southerly direction towards the site and beyond the site. But again there is simply insufficient right-of-way to do so. I note that Mr. Keyes testified that without these improvements on South Springfield Ave. which he proposed the project was not workable. It is clear that there is simply insufficient right-of-way to do these improvements. Additionally, to widen the road and eliminate curbs and sidewalks would create an extremely dangerous situation.

"11. The ramps connecting South Springfield Ave. and Route 22, in both directions, but particularly for traffic seeking to go westbound on Route 22, or to go southbound on South Springfield Ave. from Route 22 west, are inadequate and not capable of handling the vast additional traffic that this regional mall would generate.

"12. The fly-over connecting westbound Route 22 and the site to be an adequate or effective improvement would have to be two-way. The applicant has proposed only a one-way fly-over and offered no testimony on the feasibility of acquiring additional land in order to make it two-way.

"13. The development proposed will create extensive additional and unsafe back-ups on South Springfield Ave. near Access "A", which the roadway is not capable of handling. There will be a severe depreciation in the levels of service. This will have a detrimental impact on the residential areas which adjoin South Springfield Ave., in the area of the site, as well as on other roadways and other residential areas in close proximity to the site such as Mountain Ave. and Hillside Ave. and the surrounding environs.

"14. I incorporate by reference the traffic count studies, traffic generation analysis and other conclusions reached by the Planning Board's expert, Henry Ney, on the traffic impact of the development. I am also taking into consideration the conclusions of Mr. McMillin.

"15. The development of the site for a regional shopping mall will subject the pedestrian traffic, and pedestrian school children traffic on South Springfield and Hillside Ave. to unsafe conditions.

"16. A regional mall of this size will generate a variety of criminal activity, such as shoplifting, which is not found as a general rule in industrial zones. Additionally, this mall would substantially increase the numbers of criminal incidents.

"17. I am impressed by the testimony of Mr. Humbert, and the statistics provided with respect to the experience at the Livingston Mall which reflect police calls in 1980 and 1981 respectively which were in excess of 1100 per year. I believe a similar result is likely to occur here. This will not only adversely affect the safety of our own residents and visitors to the mall, but necessitate the increase in municipal public safety services to meet those needs. Those problems are inadequately set-off by a potential increase in tax revenues. A regional mall development will substantially increase the crime rate in Springfield which is an adverse affect specifically to be avoided to maintain the character of the community. Under our ordinance, we must be principally concerned with the safety, health and welfare of the community and its residents.

"18. I also believe that such a regional shopping mall will have an adverse regional impact upon residential areas in surrounding towns, their existing business centers, as well as our own.

"19. I believe the applicant proposes a rezoning so that the development is more profitable for the applicant. That is not a sufficient basis for rezoning where, as here, the property can be developed and utilized for its permitted uses, either as a whole or in subdivided parts.

"20. The property as a whole is particularly adapted to the presently authorized commercial industrial and office uses.

"21. The current industrial classification provides a greater degree of protection of existing land uses surrounding the site than will a regional shopping center.

Aid Cuts

serve as Union County's representatives to a coordinating committee made up of delegates from the other 20 counties. The group is expected to press for further action by the New Jersey School Boards Association in protesting state aid cuts and in seeking funds specifically dedicated to education.

Although suburban school districts have been most affected by the minimum aid losses caused by shortfalls in projected state revenues, the local representatives pointed out that all school districts will be affected eventually, if educational cuts go deeper.

Attendees at the meeting agreed to urge school parents and residents to express their feelings about educational cuts to their legislators, either through phone calls, letters, or mailgrams.

"It was pointed out that failure to fund minimum aid is a subtle way of imposing a statewide property tax," says Dr. Margaret Kantes, Mountaine superintendent of schools. "If no minimum aid is a political reality, then local communities will be more heavily burdened in supporting their schools."

Dr. Kantes and Dr. Levin Hanigan, retired Mountaine superintendent, represented Mountaine at the meeting.

A further 3% cutback in state funding was announced early this month, and is across-the-board, affecting every district in the state. The 3% means a $42.3 million cut. It is in addition to the $84 million reduction announced last summer for the minimum aid districts, which meant a loss to Mountaine of $111,574 for the current school year. For many districts, the additional 3% loss may make a critical difference in preparing next year's budgets.

The New Jersey School Boards Association has announced that it will go to court to challenge the state's failure to meet its constitutional obligation in financing public education. A federation of more than 600 local school boards, the association will seek a judicial order blocking any cuts in 1982-83 school aid and restoring full funding of the T & E formulas for the current school year.

near Bontempo's.

Three other applications were unanimously and speedily granted. Richard and Donna Puschel received permission to construct a three-room addition atop their home at 1415 Boulevard. Although their setback is less than the required 40 ft., their neighbors are similarly situated.

Charlotte and Stanley Larmee will construct an extension to the back of their home at 588 Terrace Place even though the addition will give them 20.7% coverage rather than the 20% allowed under the ordinance.

Rene and Maria Smith of 1008 Harding St. will add a garage to the left side of their home. The setback will be 35 ft. rather than 40 ft., however Herberich commented, "The appearance of the house will be greatly enhanced by the garage."

Rogers' Announces Winter Programs

Celebrating its eighth year in Westfield, Roger Dance studio announces the opening of registration for the winter 1983 semester which begins Jan. 10. Rogers offers a comprehensive curriculum which includes dance, exercise, ballroom and jazz.

The studio owners recently earned national acclaim for their choreography. Jackie and Dennis Rogers of Westfield created an aerobic dance production for 78,000 spectators at Giants Stadium. Their dancers also appeared at Madison Square Garden in a performance for the National Ballroom Championships.

The Rogers have planned a wide variety of course offerings for the coming semester; classes are available for adults, teens, and children. In January, flex-a-cise joins the Aerobics 'n Rhythm classes, providing a total fitness program.

Flex-a-cise combines rhythmic stretching movements with floor exercises; the exercises are designed to tone and condition all of the large muscle groups of the body. The choreographed program aims at keeping the body loose and limber, allowing it a full range of motion. Classes are held once a week for 45-50 minutes in an eight-week session.

Cardio-vascular fitness is the goal of the Aerobics 'n Rhythm program. Students dance their way to fitness with choreographed movements selected to strengthen the heart and lungs and to increase stamina. Classes are held twice weekly for 12 weeks; each session lasts 55 minutes. A combination of flex-a-cise and Aerobics 'n Rhythm offers a complete fitness regimen: flexibility, strength, and endurance will be enhanced.

Stage I classes offer the fun and benefits of aerobic dancing in an easier-paced format. It is geared for those who prefer a slightly slower pace; students perform routines at a brisk walking pace.

Rogers continues to offer its ballroom dance classes, with beginner or advanced ballroom classes this January. Private instruction in social dancing is available by appointment.

Jazz classes are available for adults at beginner or intermediate levels. Children and teens may take jazz classes designed for their age group. Classes are held once a week for 12 weeks.

Class size is strictly limited; advanced registration is advised. For information, contact Rogers Dance Studio, 18 Prospect St.

A Mostly Music Jolley

by Jean Prebluda

Each Mostly Music concert affords its listeners not only an evening's enjoyment of fine chamber music, but also gives them some elements in music to reflect upon or with which to illuminate their musical experience. At times there is the introduction of seldom heard music, or variety in instrumental combinations, differences in musical styles, or outstanding young artists and guest artists of exceptional talent.

Sunday evening's Mostly Music concert at Temple Emanu-El in Westfield featured David Jolley, a leading French horn virtuoso, whose playing could easily win converts to a favorite musical instrument club for the French horn.

The concert was preceded by Stoddard Lincoln's helpful description of the music in store, and a brief historical profile on the French horn, its difficulties, and its evolution as an orchestral instrument from a simple open coiled brass tube with crooks, to a hand-stopped instrument, to one with modern valves to change the pitches.

Beethoven's "Sonata in F Major," op. 17 for French horn and piano illustrated Beethoven's effective and conventional use of the French horn. The sonata is characterized by horn calls, the classic thematic association of this instrument with the hunt. In Beethoven's hands the themes echoed back and forth between horn and piano, creating a musical dialogue. The piano, played very well by Claire Angel, tended to cover the mellow sound of the horn in spots, especially in the slow movement where it might have been more ethereal. Balance in chamber music always presents some difficulties, but it was nevertheless a most rewarding listening experience. Mr. Jolley's tone is so warm and velvety, his technique so secure, the fact that his instrument is one of the most difficult to play is completely concealed.

After Beethoven, the French horn became the essence of nineteenth romanticism and was often associated with nature and forest scenes. Brahms' contribution to French horn writing was his treatment of the horn as a melodic instrument. While the very beautiful "Trio in E Flat Major," op. 40 for horn, violin and piano made some traditional "hornistic" references, the horn essentially played long, flowing melodic lines. The opening Andante movement slowly built its lovely melodies to a dramatic climax. The Scherzo had a quiet, mysterious trio, and the Adagio mesto was a breathtakingly beautiful blending of the three instruments. The fugue between horn, violin and piano is a very difficult texture to balance. The violin, so beautifully and lovingly played by Robert McDuffie, tended to take the lead, sometimes covering the horn. The pianist Claire Angel, playing a very difficult part so ably, held back so as not to obscure the others. But a richer sonority and more supporting bass was needed in the piano to balance the texture. The performance was an admirable one, easily the highlight of the concert.

Earlier on the program we were treated to Schubert's "Trio in B Flat Major," for violin, viola and cello, an early work, light, melodic and expertly played by Robert McDuffie, Toby Hoffman and Michael Goldschlager. Toby Hoffman and Michael Goldschlager also played a Duo for viola and cello composed in 1949 by Walter Piston. It is a lovely piece illustrating the art of dissonance and consonance.

As before, the evening was another tour de force for Mostly Music.

Players Announce Open Casting

Open casting for Neil Simon's drama "The Gingerbread Lady," to be presented by the Westfield Community Players will be conducted at their theatre, 1000 North Ave., W., Sunday at 3 and 8 p.m. and Monday at 8 p.m.

When it opened on Broadway it starred Maureen Stapleton, Betsy von Furstenberg and Charles Siebert. Described as a drama with comic overtones, it portrays a group of people facing life crises. The leading character is the mother whose alcoholism forces her to attempt to dry out and reestablish a good relationship with her daughter. Others are adult characters familiar to much of the New York scene.

Copies of the play are available at the Westfield Memorial Library.

Workshop

Sets Auditions

The Westfield Drama Workshop will hold auditions for its spring production, "The Indian Captive," on Wednesday, January 5 and 12, at 3:15 p.m. in the Elm Street School (Board of Education Administration Building). The show will be presented April 29 and 30. Auditions are open to Westfield boys and girls in grades six through nine.

"The Indian Captive" is a dramatization of a true incident in American history. Eleanor Lytell, a pioneer girl, is captured by Indians and taken to their camp by Chief Cornplanter. There she is regarded with distrust until, in a dramatic scene, she proves her courage. She is adopted into the Seneca tribe and all grow to love her except Cornplanter's wife, whose hatred causes much trouble in the camp. When Eleanor's mother comes to seek her, they disguise the child and threaten to kill her mother if Eleanor makes any sign of recognition. Eleanor keeps faith with the Indians while longing to make some sign of love to her mother. Cornplanter finally realizes that her happiness lies with her own people, and with a heavy heart he lets her go.

The Drama Workshop is sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Department and is directed by Jan Elby. Rehearsals take place on Wednesday afternoons after school at the Elm St. School. Questions concerning auditions and the Workshop will be answered by calling Jan Elby, 1040 Tice Pl.

Christmas at Calvary

Calvary Lutheran Church will celebrate the birth of Jesus with two services of Holy Communion on Christmas Eve and one service of Holy Communion on Christmas Day. The Rev. C. Paul Strockbine will conduct all services. The services on Christmas Eve will be at 7:30 p.m. and 11:00 p.m., preceded by 30 minutes of music beginning at 10:30 p.m.

The Christmas Day liturgy begins at 11:00 a.m. The service at 7:30 p.m. is especially for families and children with the Alleluia and Junior Choirs singing several anthems and the entire Sunday Church School will sing a special carol. Instrumentalists providing the prelude music are Heather Stark, Sarah Stevens, Rachels Stevens, Andrew Luka, Cecily Stark, Kim Williams, Ian Rhodes and Karen Alexander.

The music beginning at 10:30 p.m. will be performed by the Calvary Choir and Mary Lou Stevens. Organist. Selections will include: "Oh, Come, All You Children" arranged by Paul Christiansen, "The Quemmas Celebration" arranged by Carl Schalk, "Jesus Child" by John Rutter, "Hodie, Christus natus est" by Healey Willan, and two spirituals arranged by Paul Christiansen, "Mary Had a Baby, My Lord" and "Rise Up, Shepherd."

On Christmas Day, Barbara Gilbert, soprano soloist from Westfield, will provide special Christmas music.

The Christmas creche was made this year by the members of the Sunday School at the First Congregational Church of Westfield. The project was directed by Mrs. Steven Moran, assisted by Mrs. Shaun Cherewich and Mrs. Richard Styskal. "Working to create the figures made the story come alive for the children," observed Mrs. Robert Loughrey, superintendent of the Sunday School. "They love to pet the sheep and point out to their parents the things they helped to make." The creche may be seen at the Christmas Eve service at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Two Services Tomorrow At Congregational Church

There will be two services at the First Congregational Church tomorrow, Christmas Eve. The family service will begin at 6 p.m. and the candlelight service will begin at 11 p.m. The family service features music presented by the young people of the church, as well as the reading of the Christmas Story and the presentation of the Christmas pageant. The youth choirs, under the direction of Fred Fischer, will sing "Away In A Manger," "Noel, Noel," "December's Child," and "Jazz Gloria." The service is designed for all ages to be present in the sanctuary, but there will be child care provided for those who wish. The 11 o'clock service will feature the singing of favorite Christmas carols, the reading of the Christmas story, music by the Chancel Choir of the church and a guest harpist, Peggy Dabrowski. The service will conclude with the singing of "Silent Night" by individual candlelight. The public is invited to each service. The church is located at 125 Elmer St.

Four Soloists to Perform In January Bach Cantata

Johann Sebastian Bach's Christmas Cantatas 110 and 191 and Overture-Suites in C Major and D Major will be presented Sunday, Jan. 9 at 4 p.m., at the First United Methodist Church, 1 East Broad St. The Oratorio Choir and Orchestra, with soloists, Dilys Smith, Lindsey Christiansen, Stephen Sturk and Daniel Pratt, will perform under the direction of Philip R. Dietterich.

Stephen Sturk

"Bach never used technical devices just for their own sake," remarks Dietterich. "He placed his vast technical skills at the service of the theological and spiritual texts which he was communicating. His music is full of emotion and imagery. He made music which joined art and science, which moves people's hearts and disciplines their minds in a compelling, living experience in time."

he prepared the Music. Sacra for guest conductor, Karl Richter. As a composer, Sturk has written a wide range of choral and chamber music. Two motets will soon be published by Associated Music Publishers.

As a tenor soloist, he has sung with the New York Ensemble for Early Music, the Cathedral Singers at St. John the Divine and the Columbia University Baroque Ensemble. A native of Chicago, he received his training at Chicago Musical College of Roosevelt University and at North Central College. Tickets for the Jan. 9 concert are now on sale at Jeannette's Gift Shop and at the office of the First United Methodist Church.

"Bach took the opening movement of his fourth Overture and wrote choral and solo voice parts above the orchestral parts to create one of the most jubilant and joyful of all his Christmas Cantatas - 'Unser Mund sei voll Lachens' ('Our mouths shall be filled with laughter')." Dietterich continued.

Stephen Sturk, tenor, will perform in Cantata No. 110 and also in Cantata 191, "Gloria in excelsis Deo." He has had an active and varied career as conductor, composer and soloist since his first appearance in New York in leading roles in musicals. Music director of the New York Motet Choir since 1976, he also conducts the Juilliard Singers at the Juilliard School of Music. He attended the Bach Aria Festival and Institute at Stony Brook (SUNY) under the fellowship. For the Basicaily Bach Festival at Lincoln Center, Clara Mook of Westfield Convalescent Center and Mary Dries of Ashbrook Nursing Home play Welcome Wagon Bingo at Westfield Convalescent Center. Members of Welcome Wagon served homemade cookies and cakes and awarded bingo prizes. Guests from Ashbrook, Mary Dries, Julia Daane, Rita Fletcher, Connie Griffith and Dorcas Shilton were treated to a holiday luncheon by the Flesta Baking Club of WCC.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS
 by Kitty Duncan, Pharmacist

We stock a wide selection of drugs in order to have them available when you have a prescription that needs to be filled. JARVIS PHARMACY, 54 Elm St., 233-0662, 0663, 0664 welcomes all third party prescriptions and will be happy to provide some guidance in filling out the forms. We still have a fine selection of greeting cards, Whitman's candies and gift items for Christmas. Hours: Mon. thru Fri. 9am-9pm, Sat. 9am-6pm, Sun. and Holidays 9am-1pm. All of us at JARVIS PHARMACY wish you and your families a very merry Christmas.

When a pharmaceutical company develops a new drug, it is usually patented and given a brand or trade name. The company then is given exclusive rights to the drug for seventeen years. After this period of exclusivity has expired, other drug companies are allowed to manufacture the drug under other brand names or under the drug's generic or common name. In most cases, the cost of the generic drug is lower than the branded item. In most states, with doctor approval, pharmacists are permitted to dispense a generic drug instead of the branded product. However, be aware that not all multi-source drugs are "therapeutically equivalent," meaning that they have the same effect on the body.

HANDY HINT: The FDA publishes lists of drugs which can be safely distributed for another.

Wants 21-Year-Old Drink Age Extended to Federal Transit System

Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) has called upon President Reagan to set the legal drinking age on federally regulated transportation systems at 21. In a letter to Reagan, Hardwick said that the Federal Aviation Authority (FAA) has no regulations on a minimum drinking age, nor is it clear what age a person must be to drink alcohol on Amtrak trains crossing state borders.

Hardwick wrote, "I suggest that you direct the appropriate regulatory agencies to require a drinker to be 21 on federally regulated transportation systems such as Amtrak and the airlines." "Your federal directive to Amtrak and the airlines would also set an excellent example for the states and would strengthen the states' actions to move forward for uniform state laws," Hardwick wrote.

Hardwick said that he had discussed the proposal with Reagan aides last week and over the weekend, and that the proposal had been well received. The Westfield lawmaker serves on the President's Federalism Advisory Commission to help formulate national policy on state and federal relations.

Seventh Grade WBBA Games Go Down to the Wire

The "B" Division of the WBBA was sparked with close, hard fought games that weren't settled to the fourth quarter. The "A" Division of the seventh grade league was slightly one sided as two teams appeared to be in mid-season form.

North Carolina 55
Notre Dame 27
The North Carolina team

came out running. With great passing, players rolled up the score and took command. Andy Gutterman led the first half attack scoring 12 of his game-ending 14 points and Neil Horne generated the momentum and led all scorers with 17 points. The running game was highlighted by the fact that guards Mike Gagliardi and Kevin Kippler each had eight points. The boards were controlled by Lynn Cassidy and Dean Huddleston. Notre Dame couldn't get their game on track, despite the fine play of Joey Deer and Kevin Lombardi, who each contributed 8 points. Forwards Dave Brown and Dan Ginsburg showed good strength in the battle for rebounds in the losing effort.

Georgetown 39
Virginia 25

The victors were led by the strong play of Mark Nelson, who led all scorers with 15 points. Forward Tom Ward had many rebounds and scored 8 points and Clint Factor contributed 6 points. This team was greatly aided by the fine play of Jack Evily, Ken Riley and John Esposito and Kevin Smith was in good form. Virginia was led the first half by Jim Mozoki and John McCall as they were the only scorers. The second half was the team led by Kevin Stock, Colon McLane and Darryl Newman. Robert Mollard controlled the boards for the team.

St. John's 26
Kentucky 15

St. John was guided by the great play of Mark Tabbs, who had 10 points, and the fine ball handling of Mike Cohen. Steve Miller led the team in rebounding and added eight points. A solid defense keyed this team and the stars of this all important segment of the game were Robert Kornicke and John Duffy.

Big Tim Glynn starred for Kentucky with 6 points. He was supported by the strong play of Matt Daley, Dave Brezezinski, and Glenn Thompson. Mark Gruba and Dave Waxberg showed they will both be big contributors to this team.

Louisville 11
Villanova 9

The score tells the tale of this game. Both teams played super defense and the game's lead kept changing hands. The outcome was finally settled when Dave Goebic went to the foul line and calmly sank a free throw to ice the game. Louisville was guided by the back court play of J.J. McKeon and strong scoring of Mike Daniels. Team mates Bill Ward, Jason Hagman, and Adam Yemin sparked the winning effort.

Max Wunderle starred in the losing cause with 5 points and was ably assisted by Glenn Maurer. The back court was controlled by the fine play of Vincent Chen and Matt Davis.

JV Cagers Split Games

By Steven Smith

The JV Basketball team started off the 1982 season with a 84-28 crushing defeat of St. Pat's of Elizabeth on the Blue Devils homecourt Dec. 17.

Westfield completely dominated the game from the opening tap. St. Pat's never led in this game as the Blue Devils built a comfortable 34-16 halftime lead. By the end of the third quarter the game was completely controlled by Westfield at 53-25.

Everyone on the entire team scored. The top scorers were Richie Thomas with 14, Dan Grosso 13, Steve Weinstein 10, Aldo Kosuch 8 and Bill Mottier 7.

The JV Blue Devils were not as successful on Dec. 18 when they traveled to Edison Tech to play St. Mary's of Elizabeth. The Blue Devils suffered their first defeat 56-47, even though Westfield seemed to be in the game the whole way. St. Mary's lead was 14-8 at the end of the first quarter. Westfield stayed close to be only eight pts. down at half 30-22. In the third and fourth quarters the Blue Devils cut the lead to six many times after being down by 12 pts. at other times. The high scorers for Westfield were Thomas 10, Grosso 9, Dave Cowell 7, Jeff Dembiec 6 and Cornell Muse and Steffen Smith each with 4.

Declares Dividend

The board of directors of United Jersey Banks has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 31 cents per common share, payable to stockholders of record Jan. 6.

Town Wrestlers Square Off; Leopards, Lions Dominate

Jason Calvert, bottom, staves off foe by refusing to get on his back. Calvert exchanged positions and copied a 12-1 decision for the Lions.

The ferocious Lions out-wrestled the Cougars 33-18 by sheer strength and determination. Taking complete charge of this meet were T. J. Bergeron, Kenneth Marsh, Ned Seel and Matthew Luecke who pinned their opponents. Bergeron scored using the classic reverse cradle while Marsh's foe saw the lights in the first period. Seel stuck to his man like glue until the Ref slapped the mat in the third set. Luecke upset his challenger in a very close match.

Picking up decisions were Nate Lee (15-7), Pack Gonzales (9-2), Michael Davidson (6-), Jason Calvert (12-1), David "It's a Cinch" Sanchez (9-0), Craig "Stay Tough" Korb (tie), and Steve Knepper (8-0).

Brian Buldo, Matthew Freeman, Todd Phillips, Jimmy Luerssen and Sam Wunderle hung in there to give their opponents a difficult time. Coach Ken Marsh was proud of his team's sportsmanship and looks forward to Wednesday's matchup with gusto.

The "Chargin' Cougars" took the defeat hard but remained optimistic. "We'll just practice longer so we can win next time" a first-year grappler was heard to exclaim. Eugene "Pin Man" Watkins and Robert Garcia had the Cougar big points for the day. Coming in beautifully with decisions were Lee Frankel (10-0), Timothy Quirk (tie), Robert Cook (9-0), Casey Noerr (8-4), and Anchorman Brendan Doyle (9-0).

Jason Reitzke simply ran out of time but showed remarkable aggressiveness and is to be commended for his improvement. Glenn Wojcik, Matthew Connell, Matthew Tainow and Chris Wojcik displayed a good deal of what it takes to become wrestlers. Mark Kostro made an exciting come back when he pinned in a "no points" match.

Damian Lyon, Brian Hegarty, Bobby Hermiston and Steven Hegarty each faced a "Haystack Calhoun" but refused intimidation. Billy Vesey and Craig Hunsinger pulled their own weight wrestling with much determination.

LEOPARDS 58
TIGERS 19
The Tigers had their work cut out for them Saturday as challengers of Grabel's Leopards. Bill Miller's Pin Men for this dual, Danny Higgins (brother of former varsity standout for WHS, Lowell) and Chris Edling knew the exact moves this week while Ryan Hughes and Timothy Martin saw BIG decision victories. Ned "Reversal" Ward tied for two team points in an even event.

Participating and giving encouragement to each other were David Webber, James Howlett, Alex Stotler, Rich McCoy, Scott Tinervin, Jeremy Barbin, B. Kossler and Paul Cavalchire. Also, David Cavan, Adam Burnstein, James Harrison, B. Crocco, Roger Sullivan, Keith Hertell and Donald Wilson. The Leopard scoresheet was unavailable in time for "Reversal" Leader deadline.

This week's amateur wrestling bouts for the Town League are scheduled for 12/22, 6 p.m. at the Westfield High School gym. On the card the Tigers will be looking to even their record against the Lions as the Clawin' Cougars try to do the same, versus the Leopards.

Devils Edge St. Patrick's, Lose 55-34 to St. Mary's

By Dave Coates
The Westfield High School boys' varsity basketball team opened its season last weekend with a 46-43 win over St. Patrick's Friday, and a disappointing 55-34 loss Saturday to an aggressive St. Mary's team.

In a game that was close from start to finish, the Blue Devils downed a scrappy St. Patrick's squad. John Miles and Chris Rupp lead the Westfield attack with 20 and 14 points respectively. More impressive than Rupp's scoring was his domination of the boards; he grabbed 11 rebounds to go with his 14 points. Jack Suto added 8 points, while guards Dan Hauck and Todd Wimpfheimer combined for 11 assists and strong defense.

Close throughout, the game was in doubt until Wimpfheimer hit a jump shot, his only points of the night, with just under a minute remaining to give the Devils a hard fought 46-43 win.

The cagers got off to a 26-25 halftime lead, but tried to preserve the lead by slowing down the tempo of the game. This strategy backfired as St. Patrick's grabbed the lead at the end of the third quarter. Both teams played stingy defense, which kept the contest close until Wimpfheimer's eventual game winner.

The following night the Blue Devils encountered a solid St. Mary's team that jumped out to an early 6-0 lead it never relinquished. The Devils were harassed by a swarming St. Mary's defense, that caused numerous Westfield turnovers. Rupp's play was the only bright spot in an otherwise dismal team performance; he scored 14 points, grabbed 6 rebounds, and blocked 3 shots. Miles contributed 7 points to the effort.

The cagers played Irvington Tuesday, too late for Leader deadline, and will face Scotch Plains away tonight. Next week the cagers are scheduled to compete in the Summit Christmas Tournament.

Slow Start

Senior Milan DiPietro (126) and sophomore John Schaffer (98) placed third in their respective weight classes for the varsity grapplers Saturday at the Governor Livingston Invitational Tournament.

The grapplers placed seventh in a tournament of eight teams overall. One member remarked about the outcome, "We weren't as prepared mentally as we were physically."

Contributing good efforts were senior Tom Snyder (185), junior Ron Parisi (167), and freshman Mark Giacone (119) placing fourth in their weight classes.

Junior Jim Dodd and sophomore Mike Staggard each won two out of three of their matches and placed fifth only because they each lost their first match.

Although their performance was disappointing, they hope to overcome their weaknesses in the upcoming matches.

Returning to practice early this week was senior Tom Miller (158) after being injured in a pre season scrimmage.

Mermen Open With Win

By Laura Schwartz

dividual medley, timing 2:23.54 minutes.

Coossia and juniors Chris Morgan, Eric Pundock (a diver) and Paul Savin. Sophomores include Chris Banta, Greg Gander, Scott Donn, Matt Frawley (a diver), Greg Hackenberg and Bill McMeekau. The two freshmen on the team are Jim Bora from Edison Jr. High and Paul Shirmer from Roosevelt Jr. High.

The team looks strong as evidenced by their domination of every first place position in the Dayton Regional meet. The Devils hold their home meets at the Westfield YMCA swimming pool at 3:45.

Trackmen First In Four Relays

Despite below freezing temperatures and winds, the Westfield winter track team competed in the St. Joe's Invitational in Montvale Saturday.

Although no team championship was at stake the team placed first in four of the nine relays, better than any other team. Captain Kevin McGorty had an excellent day leading the high jump relay team to victory with a jump of 6'6". Seniors Greg Kasko, 5'6", and Kelvin Blanton, 5'6", combined with McGorty for a total of 17'8".

McGorty teamed up with Co-captain Rich Forbes to clinch first place in the mile relay. Senior Wayne Tiller led off with a 54.4 quarter leg. Tiller then handed off to Bill Byrne who ran 53.8. The third leg was run by McGorty in 53.7 and the baton was passed to Forbes 10 yards behind their arch-rival Shabazz. At the 220 mark Forbes overtook his counterpart, beating him 15 yards in 50.2. The combined time was 3:32.2.

In the distance medley Kasko led off in the 3/4 leg handing off to Hans Clark in 3:22. Clark's 53.7 quarter leg put the team into second place as he gave the baton to Byrne. Byrne regained the lead in his half mile leg of 2:05.5 with the pack of three less than a second off him. Andy Jacob then proceeded to literally run away with the race, finishing his mile leg in 4:30.5 with a 100-yard lead. The final time was 10:51.7.

The team of Tiller 23.7, Blanton 23.3, Dan Biegler 23.5 and Forbes 21.5 combined to take first place in the 880 yard relay in 1:32.6.

A second place finish was handed in by the sprint medley consisting of McGorty 53.7 in the quarter, Blanton, 24.4 and Mike Padula 24.8 in the 220 and a 2:00.0 half mile by Andy Jacob. The total time of 3:43.5 was just .5 off of the winning time.

Also placing second was the 3200 yard relay led off by Jim Fisk in 2:06 for the half with Mike Shapiro, 2:05.5, Tom Splaine 2:05.1, and Greg Kasko 2:09.4. The time was 8:27.

On Monday the team travels to Lehigh University to compete in what they hope will be another profitable relay invitational.

Only Galloping Hill Open to Golfers

As of Dec. 27, the Oak Ridge Golf Course in Clark and the Ash Brook Golf Course in Scotch Plains both will be closed to players until March 1. The announcement that Ash Brook would be closed as of that date has already been made, but now Oak Ridge will join Ash Brook in closing.
That leaves the third county course, Galloping Hill Golf Course in Kenilworth, open for play throughout the year. As long as players can see the greens, parks officials said, golf is on at Galloping Hill. When it does snow, Galloping Hill becomes a winter wonderland of outdoor sports, offering ice skating, sledding, downhill and cross country skiing.
