Mountainside Committee to Review School's Family Life Curriculum

A committee of community volunteers has been named to review the family life curriculum used in the Mountainside School District. Their names were announced by Dr. Margaret H. Kantes, Superintendent of Schools, at the January meeting of the Mountainside Board of Education.

Mountainside residents who will serve include Dr. Leon Anson, Michael and Nancy Bonaventura, Dr. Charles Dooley, the Rev. Edward Eilert, Kay Farrington, the Rev. Matthew Garippa, Rabbi Joshua Goldstein, John and Jane Hoopingarner, Anne Hose, Edwin and Lesley McDonald, Abe Neuman, Louis Salemy, Carolyn Sempepos and Rabbi Israel E. Turner.

Serving with them will be school administrators Dr. Kantes, James Johnson and Allan Shapiro; teachers Sandra Davis, Joan Krystow, Alfred Landis, Barbara Meyer and William Orloff; and Board of Education members Camie Delaney, Robert Gardella and Linda Schneider.

"Family life" is not a separate course, but includes such topics as interpersonal relationships, human development, responsible personal behavior, and community and family life. These subjects are covered in different classes at varying grade levels.

The teaching of family life is not new to Mountainside, but the state requirement to have its various aspects in written form becomes effective September, 1983. The committee will review the curriculum as it has been written, based on how the material is usually covered in the school, and will offer suggestions and input before the written curriculum is put in its final form.

"We are appreciative that so many interested residents volunteered to serve on the committee," says Dr. Kantes. "They represent a wide range of knowledge; the comments and ideas of each person will be valuable to us in improving what I feel is already a strong family life curriculum."

The committee's first meeting will be in late February.

Varied Fare For Council

A potpourri of business will be transacted at the 8:30 p.m. public session of the Town Council Tuesday.

The Mayor and councilmen will introduce an ordinance providing for the purchase of Public Works Department equipment, hold a hearing on use of Federal Revenue Sharing funds, authorize warrants for property tax reduction pursuant to county judgments, authorize submission of an application for a recycling grant application, and action various sidewalk, hydrant and street projects.

The council also is expected to authorize a refund for a liquor license application fee which Hahne's does not now want because the department store finds it difficult to meet the mandated seating capacity. A hearing date will be set on ABC violations allegedly occurring at the Shoppers Liquor Mart on South Ave.

An auction for sale of foreclosed property also is expected to be authorized.

The Board of Adjustment decided on two applications at its first meeting of the year Monday night. Stanley Kafka received permission to construct a storage room addition to his business, Pan American Cleaners, at 510 South Ave. Loretta and Richard Wilson and Marianna and Joseph Muoio were denied their appeal to build a two-story office building at 166 Mountain Ave. The latter appeal was initiated at the October meeting and had been continued until this month.

Although Kafka appeared before the board requesting permission to build an addition in which he could store cleaned garments, members of the board voiced objections to what they considered to be an inordinate number of signs on his property. "Yours is one of the worst looking buildings in town as regards to signs," observed Mary Herberich, board chairman. She added, "On March 9, 1973, a sign application was denied by the board and yet a sign similar to the one proposed then is now attached to the building."

She also listed a number of other signs which exist on the site.

Board member Jean Sawtelle noted that the business is "so well-known in town" that she did not understand why so many signs were necessary.

Kafka countered that some of the businesses on the site were leased and that the leases had erected signs identifying their individual shops. He said also that many of the window signs were seasonal in nature.

A quid pro quo eventually was reached. The board agreed to allow the addition on condition that a number of signs be removed. The "illegal" sign is to be removed immediately. Herberich was the only dissenter to the approval.

Kafka, who has owned Pan-American for 26 years, said that the addition will not be used for any purpose other than storage and that he does not anticipate a substantially greater quantity of dry cleaning. He indicated that because of the uniqueness of his operation he needed more room to hang cleaned garments prior to their being picked up. He commented, "Due to the recession, some customer's clothes are almost used as a deposit."

Sawtelle described the purchase of 166 Mountain Ave. by the Wilsons and the Muoios as "an investment which turned out not to be such a good one." The house, which is located in an RMI (one and two-family) zone, was purchased in 1978 for $48,000. It is currently rented as a single-family residence. Mrs. Wilson conceded that the investors thought that the building could eventually be used as others on the block were. Attorney William Imgrund, who represented the applicants, had viewed the area as "transitional."

Herberich noted that while other buildings in the area were used as offices, their use pre-dated the current land use ordinance and all contained residences on the second floor.

The board had requested that the applicants submit financial data to prove economic hardship.

Wayne Positan, board attorney, stated that such hardship had not been proven, because the property still retains value as it is currently zoned.

In summing up her reasons for denying the application, Herberich remarked that to grant a variance to permit an office building in the area, would, in effect, rezone the neighborhood. She felt that zoning prerogatives should remain with Town Council.

The board unanimously denied the appeal.

Al Wiegman and James Kefalonitis disqualified themselves from voting on the appeal; Wiegman because his office is on Mountain Ave., Kefalonitis because he had been absent at the earlier part of the hearing in October.

School Bd. Approves Tentative Budget

Two public hearings — March 8 and March 15 — will be held on a tentative 1983-84 school budget of $21.6 million dollars prior to board adoption at the March 15 meeting and submission to the voters in April.

The tentative budget, anticipating about $2.75 million in state aid, calls for a 10-point increase in the school budget and is 7.9 percent, or $1.5 million higher than the current budget of $20 million.

Major increases are in the categories of instructional salaries, up $651,296 from $11,774,965 to $12,426,263; books and supplies for instruction, up $137,612 from $768,911 to $906,523; tuition costs up $87,740 from $444,920 to $532,660; and maintenance of buildings, up $87,064 from $322,549 to $409,613.

A significant saving will be in the cost of debt service, down $158,575 from $473,831 to $315,256.

The tentative budget was adopted by the Board of Education in a unanimous vote at Tuesday night's regular monthly board meeting, when members also voted to hold a public hearing Feb. 15 on a tentative schedule of maintenance projects in the amount of approximately $1.5 million. Funding for the proposed maintenance program is expected to come from surplus funds accrued by the board in recent years.

Anticipated projects include boiler work at Washington, Wilson, Jefferson, Roosevelt and Westfield Senior High Schools; reroofing at Wilson, Franklin, McKinley and Edison; brick pointing at Wilson; door replacement at Wilson and Edison; emergency lighting at Edison and Roosevelt; miscellaneous repairs to the field house; and fire and building code updates at all schools.

While this list has a price tag of about $1.6 million, board members anticipate that bids in May should be less than the architect's estimates.

Major appointments approved by the board Tuesday night included those of Faith Divisek as principal of Franklin School at an annual salary of $40,800 and the naming of Gary Kehler as athletic director for the 1983-84 school year at an annual salary of $39,800.

Board member Lillis Hull cast the lone dissenting vote on Mrs. Divisek's appointment, although her colleague Harvey Wolfson called advance press releases of the new Franklin School possible appointment action "pre-empting the authority of the board," "premature," and "ethically unacceptable."

"I did what I thought made sense," responded Superintendent of Schools Laurence F. Greene.

Transfers approved by the board included those of Patrick Rooney from acting principal at Jefferson School to acting principal of Tamaques School; Shirley Neibart, acting principal of Tamaques School to elementary teacher, Tamaques School; and John Holbrook, acting principal, Franklin School, to elementary teacher, Franklin School.

A salary adjustment from $26,175 to $28,075, was awarded John Scafaria, high school Italian teacher, who has attained a masters plus 30 credit level on the salary guide.

In the other action, the board:

- Approved a grade 11-12 5-credit full-year course on American Issues.

- Approved a Fencing Club at the high school.

- Approved the springs sports schedules for secondary schools.

- Approved awarding of a credit for participation in the Symphonic Band.

- Set Feb. 15 and 16 and March 9 and 10 for teacher in-service dates.

- Tabled action on a maternity leave for Patricia Baer pending clarification.

- Tabled and asked for further study on participation in a joint out-of-district transportation service with member schools of the Union County Educational Services Commission.

- Agreed to study staff participation in a mini-CPR training course in cooperation with the Red Cross.

- Will investigate a program to offer cut-rate season tickets to the public for admission to fee-charged high school sports contests (football, wrestling and basketball).

A Stoneleigh Park resident, Martha Weber, said she plans to appeal to the Commission of Education on charges that "reverse

To Discuss WHS Dual-Ranking System

A proposed dual-ranking system for Westfield High School students will be discussed by Principal Robert G. Petix and Guidance Director M. Evelyn Maloney at an open-to-the-public academic session of the Westfield Board of Education at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, in the board meeting room at 302 Elm St.

The academic session is for information purposes only. A school board decision about the proposal will be made at a later date.

At present, all courses at the high school carry the same weight, although on certain courses are included in the determination of class rank. The proposal includes two ranking systems: a general ranking system and a weighted academic ranking system. In the general ranking system, every subject taken by the student is included and given equal weight. In the weighted academic system, only courses in academic areas, accepted as academic units by college admission officers, are included in the ranking. In addition, those courses designated as Honors Courses or Advanced Placement Courses would be given additional weight in determining the student's grade point average.

In the dual-ranking proposal both the general rank and the weighted academic rank would be reported to colleges, including a description of how each rank was determined.

Woolfolk, #1 draft choice of the Giants, discussed heroes at the program for Dr. King, for whom a special tribute was written by another WHS graduate, Ron Allen, a member of the Westfield Police Department.

Originated by the Colonial District, the Klondike Derby has been adopted by Districts and Councils across the country.

Scout patrols placing second through sixth were the Wolves, Troop 273, Westfield; Hawk, Troop 77, Westfield; Fox, Troop 235, North Plainfield; Knights, Troop 73, Westfield; and Eagles, Troop 111, Scotch Plains.

Grant to Fund Sports Day

Assemblyman Edward K. Gill (R-Dist. 21) today announced that the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs has awarded the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation a $2,500 grant to fund their "Sports Bonanza Day" scheduled for sometime in September.

"Sports Bonanza Day" is being planned for handicapped children between the ages of 8 and 18. The events will be tailored for those physically disabled, visually impaired, deaf or mentally retarded. Activities will include tennis, volleyball, new games, horseshoes and track and field.

"I am very pleased to announce this grant," Assemblyman Gill stated. To give our handicapped youth an inspiration to set and attain goals is a measure of a caring society. Although the County Parks and Recreation Department will be organizing participants through groups known to them, any child in Union County who qualifies will be welcomed to share "Sports Bonanza Day."

Lower Waiting List Age For Senior Citizens Housing

In order for Westfielders to pre-plan their retirement, the board of directors of the Senior Citizen Housing Corporation reminds them that they may apply for entrance at age 58.

This does not mean that the 62 year entrance age is being lowered. At present it seems to be taking from two to three years to gain entrance from time of application. If the 58 year old applicant reaches the head of the waiting list before 62, the name is set aside until the 62nd birthday and considered as being at the top of the list when the applicant is 62 years old.

Applications and additional information may be obtained from Al Jago, administrator of the project, or by going to his office at 1133 Boynton Ave.

Merck Chairman Heads Committee to Honor Shinn

John J. Horan of Westfield, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Merck & Co., Inc. will serve as chairman of the Manhattan College De La Salle Medal Dinner Committee which this year will honor Metropolitan Life Insurance Company chairman and chief executive officer, Richard R. Shinn. Presentation of the college's coveted De La Salle Medal will be made on Jan. 27 at New York City's Sheraton Centre. Some 800 are expected at the black tie affair being headed up by a committee of more than 85 leaders in business and government.

A graduate of Manhattan College, where he was awarded an honorary doctor of science degree, Horan is also the recipient of a juris doctorate degree from Columbia University Law School. Starting in the legal department of Merck & Co., Inc. in 1952, Horan served as director of public relations, executive director and research administration, and director of corporate planning before being appointed executive vice president, marketing, and president of Merck Sharp & Dohme. In 1976 he was named chairman and chief executive officer.

A member of the board of General Motors Corporation, NCR Corporation and Morgan Guaranty Bank, Horan also is a member of the Conference Board, the Council on Foreign Relations, the National Board of the United Negro College Fund and the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association to name but a few.

Horan and his wife have four children.

Joseph Daniel and Arlene Wiley are pictured before the current display at the Westfield Memorial Library featuring examples of "Depression Glass." In the early 1930's during the Great Depression, the glass industry started mass production of "tank" glass. A great deal of the glass-ware was colored, probably to offset the "hard" times. The elaborate pattern designs were not just decorative but used to cover up imperfections in the glass. The glass was inexpensive and sold in five-and dime stores. Depression glass is turning up in antique stores, flea markets and garage sales.

Cannonball House to Feature Antique Molds on Sunday

Collections of antique molds will be featured at the Osborn Cannonball House Museum on Sunday. These useful utensils, found in every Colonial kitchen, include carved butter molds, tin candle molds, pottery jelly molds, pewter ice cream and candy molds, steamed pudding molds and wooden cookie molds.

Especially interesting will be some early Rockingham and Bennington pottery molds. All types and sizes molds can be seen at the museum, located at 1840 Front St., Scotch Plains, from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday afternoon. Costumed docents will guide visitors through the museum and answer questions concerning the colorful history and furnishings of the historic clapboard home.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, the regular monthly meeting of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Historical Society will be held at 8 p.m. in the Curran meeting room of the Scotch Plains Public Library. Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. William Elliott, curator of the Osborn Cannonball House Museum, will show slides depicting the step-by-step restoration of the early Scotch Plains home.

The museum house, leased by the Historic Society in 1972, has undergone extensive restoration in the past 10 years. The kitchen has been returned to its Colonial origin, complete with the 1742 open fireplace and bee-hive oven. An early recessed porch was also rebuilt. Many pieces of antique colonial and Victorian furnishings have been loaned or donated to the museum. The evening meeting is open to anyone interested in local history.

"Guide to Intelligent Giving" Foundation Guide for Donors

During January the Westfield Foundation will distribute its newly published booklet, "A Guide to Intelligent Giving", to area lawyers and bank trust officers. The booklet is available through the Foundation to anyone who requests it. The guide defines itself on the flyleaf as "an idea handbook of proven ways you can use the Westfield Foundation to do more good with your charitable contribution and save on taxes." Incorporated as a community foundation, the Westfield Foundation can receive donations in a variety of forms from many donors and this booklet discusses a range of options for the individual donor, for organizations and for corporations. Foundation trustee William Peek feels that the guide should be of particular help to estate or tax planners.

The Westfield Foundation was founded in 1975 to establish a fund which could be used to benefit the charitable needs of the Westfield community. By 1980, the Foundation embarked on a grant-making program through which it has emerged as an increasingly important force in the charitable activities of the Westfield area. As a community foundation, it possesses the ability to respond to a wide range of philanthropic projects and the Foundation has used this flexibility to benefit local arts programs, a variety of scholarship funds, historic preservation, child care and youth activities, health care, senior citizen programs and educational programs for both children and adults.

Through designated endowment funds within the Foundation, trustees administer assets which provide dependable income for specified charities. Other contributions made to the unrestricted funds of the Foundation enable the trustees to flexibly respond to the changing charitable needs of the community. The guide book describes this kind of gift as that "which provides maximum benefits to the entire Westfield community."

"A guide to Intelligent Giving" is intended to acquaint donors with the versatility of the Westfield Foundation as an instrument for charitable giving," explained Foundation Director E. Alfred Herberich. The

M. Scott Eakeley, the vice president and trust officer of the National State Bank, discusses the Westfield Foundation's recently published book - "A Guide to Intelligent Giving" - with Foundation trustee William Peek. This handbook for donors is being distributed to area lawyers and banks by the Westfield Foundation. Copies may also be obtained by contacting the Foundation directly.

booklet outlines many of the advantages the Foundation offers to potential donors. Among these are "the ease of giving," the "permanence of administration," an "advantageous tax treatment," and "the flexibility of charitable response." Those who wish to explore the options offered by the Westfield Foundation can receive a copy of the donors guide by contacting: The Executive Director, The Westfield Foundation, 210 Orchard St., Westfield, NJ 07091.

The trustees emphasize that gifts of all sizes are welcome and that trustees are available to work with a prospective donor to carry out his desires to the extent possible under the laws regulating the Foundation.

WHS Orchestra In First Concert

By Stephanie Prial
WHS News Bureau
The WHS Orchestra held its first concert of the year last night in the high school auditorium. According to Director Charles Oerthmann, the orchestra played a variety of music. The music program started with Fidelio Overture by Beethoven, pieces by Handel, and the Divertimento by Heiden. For a change of pace, the orchestra played Jazz Pizzicato by Lerby Anderson, the director of the Boston Pops. This piece is unusual because it mandates that the string players pluck the strings on their instruments instead of using the bow. The concert ended with selections from Fiddler on the Roof and Marche Slave by Tchiakovsky.

Mountainside Seaman On USS New Jersey

Navy Operations Specialist Seaman Apprentice Michael A. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Young of 127 Parkway, Mountainside, is a member of the battleship USS New Jersey, homeported in Long Beach, Calif.

The New Jersey, the first of the four "Iowa" Class battleships to reenter active service, was recently recommissioned at the Long Beach Naval Shipyard. The ceremony included President Reagan as the primary speaker.

The battleship was originally commissioned in May 1943 for use in World War II. Following the war, the massive ship was decommissioned and "mothballed" until it was reactivated for use during the Korean and Vietnam conflict.

Plans for reactivation of the New Jersey began in 1981 and were followed by an extensive overhaul period. Advanced radar and communications systems were installed, and "Harpoon" and "Tomahawk" missiles were added to the ship's arsenal, which includes nine 16-inch guns and 20 5-inch guns.

The New Jersey is 887 feet long and carries a crew of approximately 70 officers and 1,600 enlisted members. It is capable of carrying helicopters and "Harrier" vertical take-off aircraft.

YW Has Classes For Exercise, Health

YWCA registration for adult physical education and aquatic classes has begun for the winter session. Classes will begin the week of Jan. 31; sign up may be completed at the YWCA desk or by phone.

Danceroics, a twice weekly aerobic fitness program designed to increase heart lung capacity, will again be offered. E-Z Duz It dancercise for the women who want to exercise moderately, is a slower and easier version of danceroics. Fitness Factory at both beginner and experienced levels will include a swim following class.

For those not interested in danceroics, there is a strenuous aerobic course being offered. This co-ed class will include a warm-up session, a period of vigorous exercise and a cool-down period.

The YWCA will also offer an adult ballet class; no prior experience is necessary.

Diet and Exercise is a class designed for those who do not feel ready for one of the regular exercise classes. The class involves some simple exercises, weigh-ins, and tips for a successful and nutritional weight loss regime.

The Westfield YWCA has a scholarship fund available for financial assistance; applicants need not be out of work to qualify.

Pops to Strike Up the Band

The New Jersey Pops Orchestra, under the direction of Michael J. Buglio, will present a free concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Newark Museum, 49 Washington St. Sunday's concert will feature favorite classical works, and Broadway and Hollywood show tunes, as well as other popular selections.

Gymkins Swim. At an individual pace, the child learns water adjustment, breath control, kick, and floats using a fun and games approach.

Junior Gymkins swim designed for children ages four and five and is also taught at an individual pace. Water adjustment, breath control, kick, and floats are stressed in the class.

All of these swim classes can be combined with a gym class. Classes begin the week of Jan. 31.

Troop 172 Tours Washington

Twenty seven boy scouts and nine adult leaders from Troop 172 under the direction of Scoutmaster William Towns recently toured Washington, D.C. on a two and a half day outing. The troop "camped" in the field gymnasium of Bolling Air Force Base, the trip included a tour of the White House, visits to the Air and Space Museum, the Museum of Natural History, and side trips by small groups with a leader for special interests such as the Capitol, Botanical Gardens, National Museum of Art, the Archives, and the National Portrait Gallery.

Evening activities included night views of the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial and Jefferson Memorial, as well as the new Memorial to Vietnam Veterans. The gymnasium facilities of Bolling Air Force Base were also available for use when the scouts returned to "base."

Following Sunday morning services at the Washington National

Swapping Hazards

Last week we observed a Fire Department emergency vehicle attempting to follow the shortest course from the Dickson Drive entrance to Tamaques Park to an area by the picnic area.

The maneuver required driving into the one-way Tamaques Park circular, then backing up (with Fire Department personnel direction) before reaching its destination.

The route to the picnic area, until mid-fall, had been accessible by a direct route. Late in October or early November a point was extended to deter motorists from illegally exiting from the park via Dickson Drive.

While we are sure that the neighborhood association which pushed for the barrier extension felt that the safety of Dickson Drive children and pedestrians would be protected by the barrier, since existing "no exit" signs and a previous difficult egress pattern appeared less than successful, we are not convinced that one potential hazard is not been exchanged for an even more dangerous one.

With the new park point barrier, there is no direct route to the popular picnic area and its parking facility — site of the current Christmas tree disposal area.

There also is no direct route to Tamaques Pond — which, weather permitting, is, because of its shallowness, one of the first spots to freeze for ice-skating in Westfield.

Driving at near-legal speed, it takes roughly two minutes for an emergency vehicle to navigate the one-way drive around Tamaques Park to reach either the pond or the picnic area where it used to take only seconds to arrive at these points via Dickson Drive before the new construction.

We are concerned about hazards of high speed and sometimes careless and illegal egress from Tamaques Park onto Dickson Drive, but we feel there is an equal or perhaps greater potential for disaster in impeding swift access to picnic and pond areas of the park.

While the new "peninsula" has definitely cut down on motorists' park exit access to Dickson Drive, it has not proven 100 percent effective even for that purpose. Ingress to the pond, picnic area and its parking lot, where time can be a really crucial factor in case of fire or accident has, however, been definitely hampered.

While perhaps well-intentioned, we feel the new extension is ill-conceived.

WEEK OF: JANUARY 20, 1983

AQUARIUS — January 21-February 19

Your best arguments may not win points, experiment with more creative tactics. Good week for sorting out money matters with partner and for launching home-improvement schemes.

PISCES — February 20-March 20

Doubts over friend's loyalty are put to rest, and a distant family member can become a staunch ally. Local travel is highlighted, but be sure that dress is appropriate.

ARIES — March 21-April 20

Remember that the long way is often the short way. In setting forth goals and launching projects, spend ample time preparing the foundations. Romantic intrigue is accentuated on weekend.

TAURUS — April 21-May 22

Troublesome and perhaps costly obligation will be shared, much to your relief. Try a compromise approach to health and recreation concerns — avoid tendency to do too much too soon.

GEMINI — May 23-June 21

Variety is the week's big word. Experiment with new concepts, consider new areas of interest. Acquaintances may surprise you with revelations about a mutual friend.

CANCER — June 22-July 22

Conflict with a Pisces or Capricorn can be resolved, but timing is critical. Partnership ventures bring handsome rewards if both parties are willing to put in overtime.

LEO — July 23-August 22

Week is off to a bright start, with the accent on romantic reconciliations. A bolder approach helps you sell your ideas; modesty is hardly your style now.

VIRGO — August 23-September 22

Leadership role is yours this week, with superiors noting your performance. Health worries should be investigated, no matter how trivial they seem. Old friend is unexpectedly stubborn.

LIBRA — September 23-October 22

Avoid tendency to underestimate your achievements — positive thinking is critical. Friend may be carried away with his image. Relative sees your side in a difficult family matter.

SCORPIO — October 23-November 21

Financial news is generally bright, but collecting outstanding debts requires a firmer approach. Romantic situation does not coast — it takes work, and dialogue, and honesty.

SAGITTARIUS — November 22-December 22

Career project comes to a standstill, but a flurry of activity takes place by the end of the period. Stuffy relationship becomes less formal. Faraway news requires follow-up.

CAPRICORN — December 23-January 20

You're the center of attraction, and a role-model for youngsters. Loved ones can be moody. Teamwork leads to a combination of personal and financial success by Wednesday.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

Compassionate, sensitive to the needs of others, and interested in making material gains. Long-range projects conclude by midyear and a major career program can be launched early in the fall. Throughout the year, take time out to work on your social life.

BORN THIS WEEK

January 20th, actress Patricia Neal; 21st, singer Placido Domingo; 22nd, singer William Warfield; 23rd, actor Randolph Scott; 24th, singer Neil Diamond; 25th, actor Dean Jones; 26th, singer Eartha Kitt.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number, so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written only one side of paper and typewritten.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

MISSING MAIL

Editor, Leader;

This letter is intended to alert your readers to the fact that mail posted on Sunday, Dec. 19, 1982, in the out-of-town box located on Lenox Avenue near the Westfield Post Office driveway, may not have been received. It is reasonable to assume that much of the mail posted that day contained "Greeting" cards. Since it is not customary to ask intended recipients whether or not they have received "greeting" cards, the mailer would not be aware if the cards had not been delivered.

Three pieces of my mail directed to three different states, which included payment of a bill, have been lost. There is now an interest payment due on this bill.

I would like to suggest that if your readers have experienced a similar situation, they register a complaint with the Westfield Postmaster.

Sylvia Kuntz

A CHRISTMAS THANK YOU

Editor, Leader;

While this thank you is somewhat belated, it is no less sincere. As is our custom, we put up our outside display of Christmas lights shortly before Christmas. One evening we found on our doorstep a box and an unsigned note. The note indicated the sender liked our Christmas lights, could no longer use what was in the box, and thought we might be able to. The box contained four strings of outdoor lights.

We suspect we will never know who put the box of lights on our doorstep. But the gift caught the true spirit and feeling of Christmas and added greatly to our pleasures. We hope the sender reads this and knows that we received and greatly appreciated the gift. The lights will be displayed next year as part of our gift to our neighbors at Christmas.

Thank you — we hope you had an especially Merry Christmas as a result of the pleasure you brought us.

SHOW A TRADITION

Editor, Leader;

1983 is a landmark year for a unique Westfield institution — the Grant School/Washington School Show. This annual PTA benefit is a tradition that was begun by Grant School 35 years ago and carried on by Washington parents after Grant was closed in 1980. Originally billed as a "Talent Night," the show evolved over the years into a full-scale production of an original musical comedy. A major fundraiser for the Washington School PTA, the show is the remarkably professional result of the efforts of over 100 parents and teachers.

It was our great pleasure to be part of the Washington School Show for two years. As enthusiastic alumni, we urge all Westfielders to join us in the audience at Roosevelt Junior High School on Feb. 4 and 5 for "Inn Trouble."

Life In The Suburbs

OPEN LETTER

Editor, Leader;

We have between our WHS Varsity and Jr. Varsity basketball teams about 28 talented and semi-talented players, but we do not have a winning or even a decent representation of basketball played on the court. After watching six games of both squads, there are some blatantly obvious reasons, some of which I'd like to state.

1. Starters on both squads are not necessarily the most talented ones.
2. Substitutions are not made according to talent needed in a given situation.
3. Players with good ability are not playing, even as subs, merely warming the bench.
4. Players are becoming disillusioned and frustrated because they are being made to play a game they love in a way they cannot understand.
5. Talented players who try out for the team and do not make it, feel it is because of their ability or lack of it. Usually it is not. Many talented players or individuals have stopped trying out for the schools team and decided to play for the town because of the unfair and biased choice selections of who plays.
6. Players should be chosen for talent and ability only. Favoritism, height, age or grade year should have no place in the selection.
7. Text book basketball can not be played on the basketball court.
8. Our boys lack "Team Spirit" due to "the reasons stated above and moral is becoming dangerously low.

It is to their credit, these players, that they do not want to hang on street corners, take drugs or quit the team. For them the sacrifice of their time and bodies to play basketball is nothing as long as they can play the game. And in return they should be applauded and supported, especially in these times. But what happens, they play foreign basketball, bench warm and become demoralized. WHS may play teams that are good, but not necessarily better, but these teams have learned to use the ability of every player and thus created a positive attitude and "Team Spirit."

Is this what the future holds for these and future players of WHS basketball? If so, it would be the worst crime a system could perpetrate on these youngsters.

Since most of the players, on the present teams, are sophomores and juniors, it is not too late to develop a better system, which would give all the boys a chance to play and create a more positive attitude, thereby, giving basketball at WHS "Team Spirit," which combined with a little talent could even create a winner.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

by Congressman

Matt Rinaldo

7th District, New Jersey

The recently concluded 97th Congress was responsible for passing more veterans-related legislation than most other Congresses in recent years. Six major veterans measures were enacted into law, three of them containing specific provisions for the Vietnam-era veteran.

The Veterans Health Care, Training and Small Business Loan Act will serve to meet a broad range of veterans' needs. A major provision of the new law extends priority hospital and outpatient care to Vietnam veterans who believe their current medical conditions may be the result of exposure to Agent Orange or other defoliants used in Vietnam, as well as for other veterans who may have been exposed to radiation from nuclear testing following World War II.

The Vietnam Veterans Readjustment Counseling Program was extended for three years in another major provision of the law. Also contained in the statute is a provision requiring the VA to operate and maintain a minimum of 90,000 hospital and nursing home beds and to maintain the number of additional beds necessary to fulfill VA's contingency responsibility as a back-up to the Defense Department during time of war or national emergency.

A third significant provision extends until December 31, 1984, the period of time a Vietnam-era veteran may use his GI Bill education benefits to pursue on-the-job or vocational training. A companion provision extends the authority for veterans readjustment appointments under which eligible disabled and Vietnam-era veterans may receive non-competitive appointments in the Federal Civil Service.

Another feature of the law is a major new initiative to benefit young veterans in the business world. Vietnam-era and certain service-connected disabled veterans are eligible for loan guarantees and direct loan assistance for five years in order to acquire, expand, or start a business. The program is similar to business loan programs provided to veterans of previous wars.

A second bill enacted, The Former Prisoner of War Benefits Act, provides priority medical care for ex-POWs and establishes an Advisory Committee of former prisoners of war to advise the Veterans' Administration on POW policy and procedure.

The Veterans' Disability Compensation, Housing and Memorial Benefits Act authorizes cost-of-living increases in compensation rates for service-connected disabled vets and in dependency and indemnity rates for surviving spouses and children. It also provides for VA guaranteed home loans with variable interest payments.

An Act passed in 1982, now Public Law 97-306, provides increased job training and placement assistance for veterans of the Vietnam-era. It extends the GI Bill for apprenticeship, on-the-job training, and vocational and secondary education programs for these veterans.

Along with these bills, I also cosponsored legislation increasing the disability compensation payable to veterans who suffered total loss of light perception as a result of a service-connected disability. A companion bill extended to blinded veterans additional benefits for any other service-connected disabilities such as the loss of a limb. These measures were enacted into law as part of a third bill which increases the rates of compensation payable to disabled veterans and to surviving spouses and children.

While the VA did absorb some reductions during the two-year session of the 97th Congress, no major programs were diminished or eliminated. In recognition of the special needs and problems associated with service during the Vietnam era, Congress made every effort to address such needs and problems and to expand existing programs to meet those requirements.

YFCS Sets Feb. Program For Remarried Persons

A new workshop for divorced and widowed people who are planning to be remarried or who have remarried will be run in February at the Youth and Family Counseling Service in Westfield.

In three meetings, to be held on Feb. 3, 10 and 17, Mrs. Miriam Rosenthal and Mrs. Pat Veit, two staff therapists, will lead discussions on how to merge two families, handle custodial and noncustodial children, when and where to see relatives from the previous marriage, how to survive on reduced incomes, reduced time, reduced space and greatly increased demands.

"Customs change with remarriage," explained Pat Veit, "because old models are based on the assumption of life-long marriages, and these models are not necessarily appropriate for the reorganized family so common today."

During these workshop meetings, participants can learn what to expect from children at different age levels, what to expect from a new spouse with his or her own children, and how to handle the transition of becoming a new family.

"Often in remarriages," said Miriam Rosenthal, "the adults marrying want very different things out of the relationship this time around and it's helpful if they can share what their hopes really are and plan accordingly."

These three evenings will combine an educative approach with open discussion. For those couples who would like to have a meeting with their families, Mrs. Rosenthal and Mrs. Veit will offer an additional consultative hour.

The hours on these Thursday evenings of Feb. 3, 10 and 17 will be from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the agency, 233 Prospect St. Interested persons are asked to call either Mrs. Rosenthal or Mrs. Veit at the agency for further information and registration.

Saturday Program

At Westfield Y

The Westfield YWCA will offer a Saturday morning program for boys and girls aged 5 through 8, from 9 a.m. to noon.

This unique program is geared to offer new experience for these children. The program includes a gym period where a variety of activities from tumbling to games will be covered, an instructional swim period and cooking.

Staff will instruct the children on safety tips in the kitchen - the do's and don'ts. The children will learn how to prepare basic, nutritional meals. Included will be meals for breakfast, lunch, snacks and some baking.

This program will begin on Feb. 4 and continue for eight weeks. Registration for this and all YWCA class offerings is now in progress at the YWCA.

Breakfast Meeting For New Friends

New Friends of Temple Emanuel will hold a continental breakfast on Sunday, Feb. 13, at 10:30 a.m. in the lower social hall of the Temple.

Dr. Sherwood Chorost and Rona Geiser, co-chairpeople of Temple Emanuel's Caring Community program, will speak on "What the Caring Community Means to Each and Every One of Us."

Everyone 39 and over, without a partner, is invited. Lou Tischler will lead a sing-a-long.

Florio to Keynote Club Anniversary

Congressman Jim Florio (D, 1st district) will discuss civic associations and their changing role in the community at a dinner party honoring the Michael F. Alper Civic Association's first anniversary and Mike Alper's 29th birthday.

The event, which is open to the public, will be held Monday evening Jan. 24 at El Pescador Restaurant in Roselle Park.

Rotary Club of Westfield's newest member, Bob Wallace, right, is welcomed by Jim Coventry.

Rotarians Gearing Up For Pancake Day

In the last two weeks Rotary's own members provided the Tuesday luncheon lectures. Irv Weiss's film on "Man and his Gold" provided insight as to the value and allure of gold from primitive through modern times.

Bob Eckman explained the competitive aspects of road and track bicycle racing. He showed slides of races in the tri-state area and demonstrated the use of rollers for indoor training.

In December, the wives of Westfield Rotary members and students receiving Rotary scholarships from last year's Pancake Day, were guests for lunch. The Westfield High School Choraleers and their director Jim Beil entertained with traditional and medieval songs of Christmas.

Preparation for this year's Pancake Day and Craft Show on March 5 are in full swing. Tickets may be obtained from any Rotary member or by calling Bill Raney.

Slightly Lower Electric Bills Beginning in Feb.?

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has announced that it expects to request permission from the Board of Public Utilities to lower its levelized Energy Adjustment Charge, effective Feb. 1, by approximately $104 million spread over the 17-month period, February 1983 through June 1984.

This is the second reduction in the charge since it was last increased. Effective June 1, 1982, the company reduced the charge $250 million over the 13-month period, June 1982 through June 1983. This additional reduction results primarily from the higher percentage of nuclear generation experienced in recent months and anticipated for the upcoming period. Softer oil and coal prices have also contributed to lower overall costs.

The impact on the average customer of the February 1983 reduction will be approximately 2.5%. For example, a residential customer using 500 kilowatt hours will have this bill reduced from $49.28 to $48.01. A residential electric heating customer's bill for 1,000 kilowatt hours will be reduced about 3.25%, declining to $75.28 from $77.81.

The Energy Adjustment Charge is a separate charge on the customer's bill and is related solely to the cost of fuel to generate electricity. The change in this charge is in no way related and has no effect on the company's request filed earlier this month for a change in base rates.

Sayonara Dr. Paskow! Jeff Eckert, of Frances Bloom's fourth grade class at Wilson School, bids farewell to Dr. Herbert Paskow of Westfield while wearing the traditional kimono of Japan. Dr. Paskow presented a slide presentation on Japan to the students as part of the school system's STS (Sharing Talents & Skills) office.

Introducing this year's longest, widest luxury car.

Every year, Detroit presents its new line of luxury cars. Unfortunately, in its quest for gas efficiency, it's quickly doing away with some of the luxuries that made you buy luxury cars. Comfort. Quietness. An interior you can really stretch out in.

You won't find them in most of today's new cars. But you will find them in the new cars NJ TRANSIT is now running on the Raritan Valley Line.

We've replaced all the old trains with new ones that are considered the most comfortable commuter cars ever built — providing the smoothest, quietest ride ever.

With year-round climate control, carpeting, reversible high-back cushion seats, soft interior lighting and many other "standard" features, these new cars will make every trip you take more comfortable. And faster, too. For example, they can take you from Plainfield to Penn Station in Newark in 30 minutes — from Westfield, a mere 20 minutes. From Newark, there are convenient transfers to midtown New York (Penn Station) on NJ TRANSIT trains and downtown via PATH.

We're also adding new platforms and making other improvements at many Raritan Valley Line stations.

To save you money and add extra convenience, NJ TRANSIT offers 10-trip, weekly and monthly discount tickets. And Mail-Tik, our computerized ticket-by-mail service, can save you the hassle of

Westfield Jaycees Help Brighten Year for Huntington's Foundation

Stan Cuba, president of the Westfield Jaycees, presents donation to Rita Faden, New Jersey Chapter president of H.D. Foundation, joined by Gloria Sherman, national president of H.D. Foundation, and Ed Stavenick, Jaycee's distributions director.

Most people know very little or nothing about Huntington's Disease. And yet it is a devastating, hereditary and terminal illness for which researchers have been unable to find a cure. Nevertheless, there is a group of concerned individuals in New Jersey who have banded together and have founded the New Jersey Chapter of the Huntington's Disease Foundation. Under the leadership of New Jersey Chapter President, Rita Faden, the Foundation has not only raised funds for further research, but has helped establish the first of its kind, Huntington's Disease Clinic, in connection with Rutgers Medical School in New Brunswick, is specifically intended to help those suffering with the disease and their families learn to cope with the progressive, debilitating illness.

The Huntington's Disease Foundation is one of several charities to whom the Westfield Jaycees donate funds each year. The Westfield Jaycees are comprised of young men, ages 18 to 40, who are interested in bettering themselves and the community in which they live. Their monthly meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month at the Westwood. Those interested in learning more about the Westfield Jaycees may attend a dinner as a guest of the Jaycees.

Lincoln Federal Joins MAC, Automated Teller

The Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan Association has become the 100th financial institution to sign up as a participant in the MAC program of automated teller machines and electronic consumer banking services.

The event was marked by a ceremonial signing Monday at Lincoln's headquarters here by Robert S. Messersmith, chairman of the board and president of Lincoln Federal, and Frederick Heldring, deputy chairman of the Philadelphia National Bank (PNB). The MAC program is operated by participating institutions by the Money Access Service, a correspondent banking service of PNB.

Heldring presented Messersmith with a framed certificate honoring the association as the 100th MAC participant, and the 25th participant in New Jersey.

"This event symbolizes the impressive growth of the MAC service in New Jersey, where there are now well over 100 automated teller locations to serve the customers of participating institutions," Heldring said.

"The Money Access Service is proud to work with excellent institutions like Lincoln Federal to provide the ultimate in convenient electronic services to New Jersey consumers," he said.

Messersmith said that Lincoln Federal, which is the fourth largest savings and loan in New Jersey, had sought an automated teller program which would "give Lincoln depositors the best possible 24-hour banking service."

He said that MAC, with ATMs throughout New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania and in Delaware, would offer both superior convenience in locations and superior operating experience. In addition, customers will have the potential in the future of signing up for Plus, a national network of automated tellers.

"When we initiate services in the spring, we believe our customers will be getting the most convenient and efficient ATM program available," Messersmith said.

Lincoln has 20 offices serving Burlington, Hudson, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex and Union counties, with total assets rapidly approaching $1 billion.

Bonnie E. Hill, director of financial institutional marketing for the Money Access Service, said that 80 participating institutions (62 in Pennsylvania, 17 in New Jersey and one in Delaware) currently have 346 active MAC locations, of which 109 are in New Jersey.

By spring, she added, 400 locations are projected, with 150 of them in New Jersey.

As of the time Lincoln Federal made its decision to participate, 12 other Pennsylvania and seven other New Jersey institutions had signed up for the program, she added.

seal-up & save

PSE&G, together with the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities, has designed a variety of conservation programs to help you save energy and money. The programs include weatherization measures, appliance rebates, and subsidized loans. Most will be available shortly for both homes and apartments. Full details of each program will be announced to you in newspaper ads, on radio and TV, in literature you will be receiving with your utility bills, in additional informational pamphlets that PSE&G is now preparing and through the forthcoming PSE&G Energy Conservation Center. Plan now to take advantage of as many of these programs as possible. Remember, PSE&G will let you know when they are in place.

1 Certified Home Energy Audit

This program is available now! For a fee of $15, a New Jersey Department of Energy certified auditor will inspect your home to determine your energy problems and tell you how you can reduce your heating and cooling costs. Or, at no charge, PSE&G will give you a workbook that shows you how to do an audit yourself. After the audit, PSE&G will help you select a contractor to perform the conservation measures, and aid you in financing. Or we will recommend steps you can take yourself and provide a list of suppliers. Watch for additional information in your mail.

2 Water Heater Wrap-Up Program

PSE&G will provide a $5 rebate to customers who insulate their water heater. Instructions on how to wrap the water heater will also be provided. Rebate coupons will be mailed to all PSE&G customers in the coming months.

3 Air Conditioner Rebate Program

Customers who install room or central air conditioners with high Energy Efficiency Ratios (EER) or high Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratios (SEER) will receive a cash rebate from PSE&G. Rebate application forms and an explanation of EER and SEER can be obtained from air conditioner dealers later this year.

4 Heat Pump Rebate Program

The electric heat pump is becoming a popular way to heat and cool a home. Rebate application forms will be available at heat pump dealers. To be eligible for a rebate, the installed heat pump must have a high Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) or high Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER). Watch for details.

5 Seal-Up And Save Loan Program

To help finance the installation of major energy conservation measures in homes heated by gas or electric, PSE&G will provide loan subsidies depending on the homeowner's income level. The homeowner must first have had a home energy audit to determine which conservation measures should be installed.

6 Customer Conservation Seal-Up Program

All electric or gas heated homes or owners of electric gas heated buildings are eligible for this program which will start in the Spring of this year. PSE&G will provide an energy specialist to wrap your water heater with insulation and turn down its thermostat for a $10 charge. Other cost-effective conservation measures can be installed for additional charges at the customer's request.

7 Energy Conservation Center

This Center will be the hub of communication for all PSE&G conservation programs and activities. The Energy Conservation Center will be operational in eight to ten weeks. Energy conservation specialists will staff toll-free telephones during normal business hours and will respond to all conservation request. The Center will also maintain a library of brochures and pamphlets about each individual program, and literature will be mailed to callers. The Center's telephone number will be widely publicized as soon as the Center is open.

Please don't call PSE&G now.
You will be advised when the programs are in effect.

8 Conservation-On-Wheels

A mobile unit will feature exhibits and displays of energy conservation materials and techniques. Literature will be available. The exhibits will highlight PSE&G's varied conservation programs. The conservation trailer will tour PSE&G's service areas and will be located in high pedestrian traffic areas such as shopping malls, schools, etc. The mobile unit is expected to be completed by mid-1983.

9 Small Business Energy Audit

PSE&G will arrange for a professional energy auditing firm to conduct energy audits at a nominal fee to determine how much energy is being used for various end-uses and will enumerate ways to conserve energy as well as the cost and savings associated with these measures. Or PSE&G will provide a self-audit workbook. Small businesses will be notified shortly as to how to make an application.

10 Low-Income Programs

Weatherization measures program — Through community agencies, PSE&G will provide low-income families with free do-it-yourself weatherization kits containing materials for conserving energy. A typical kit would include insulating storm windows, caulk, electric outlet and switch sealers, weatherstrip tape, low-flow showerhead, faucet aerator, doorsweep insulator, and water heater blanket.

Seal-up program — PSE&G will provide for the free installation of a package of weatherization materials in low-income households or to owners of buildings in which such customers reside. A state governmental agency will select the customers to participate in this program. The seal-up program will start in the Spring of '83.

Direct grant weatherization program — Through state governmental and community agencies, PSE&G will provide free grants for weatherization assistance to low-income families.

11 Other Programs

Other programs that would benefit our customers are now being studied. These additional programs will be made known to you as they are developed and approved through our advertising and Energy Conservation Center. Watch for them.

1982 Weather Patterns Were a Strange Mix

Meteorologically speaking, 1982 in this area was a mixed-up year. It experienced the coldest August ever recorded by Union County College's Cooperative Weather Station, as well as the warmest December ever recorded at the facility, which has maintained records since Jan. 1, 1960.

According to data released by the station's director, Raymond J. Daly of Peapack, the record mean temperatures for August of only 69.9 degrees and for December of 40.6 degrees, are in addition to yet another record set in 1982 — the greatest April snowfall in 22 years of weather data collection by the station. Snowfall for April was measured at 6.5 inches, with six inches falling on April 6, and another half-inch recorded on April 9.

Records for snowfall in 1982 were established in other months, including January, 8.5 inches; February, 0 inches; March, 0.5 inches; November, 0 inches; and December, 1 inch. The total snowfall amount for 1982, 16.5 inches, exceeded last year's by only .8 inches, when 15.7 inches were recorded.

The greatest amount of snow to fall in any 24-hour period was 6 inches on both Jan. 13 and April 6. The record-high one-day snowfall is 21 inches, which accumulated on Feb. 3, 1961.

Total precipitation for the year 1982 was below normal. In fact, the 41.38 inches recorded by the weather station marks the third consecutive year that total precipitation has been in excess of six inches below normal. Total precipitation for 1981 was 38.25 inches, which was 9.5 inches below normal. And precipitation for 1980 totaled only 38 inches, which was a 15-year record low. The greatest total precipitation on station records was measured at 63 inches in 1973.

January of 1982 was the wettest month of the year, when 5.84 inches of precipitation fell, while October was the driest, with only 1.62 inches of precipitation measured.

Temperature wise, the high for the year was 97 degrees, recorded on July 18, while the low was established on January 17, when temperatures dipped to a frigid -6 degrees. The mean temperature for the year was 52.40 degrees, with the monthly high mean of 73.53 degrees set in July and the monthly low mean of 24.32 degrees recorded in January. The highest temperature on record at the station, is 102 degrees, set on July 21, 1980. The lowest temperature on record is -8 degrees, set on Jan. 22, 1961 and Jan. 13, 1981.

The accumulated degree days for the year totaled 5,149.5. While the heating degree day season normally runs from September through April, the months of May in 1981 and 1982 were unusually cold, so the extra degree days of these months, 134.5 for 1982 and 202 for 1981, were included in this year's total. Degree days for 1981 totaled 5,564, an unusually high number.

Police Report...

A 46-year-old Garwood woman was charged with simple assault Friday following an incident at the drive-in line at a local bank. Chief James F. Moran said that a Fanwood woman told police that while she had been waiting in the drive-in line at the bank, she blew her horn at the vehicle in front of her. The woman in the first car then flashed a gun and threatened her.

Moran said that when the Garwood woman was apprehended a short time later, it was discovered that the gun was plastic. Police confiscated the toy.

Few entries appeared on the police blotter during the past week. Two 17-year-old youths were apprehended for criminal mischief; one last Wednesday, another on Tuesday. The former was charged with causing damage to a lawn by driving over it. According to Det. Sgt. Wesley Moore, restitution has been promised to the victimized householder.

A two-door white Cadillac Eldorado was reported stolen Thursday by the manager of Norris Chevrolet. Another vehicle reported stolen Friday was returned to the owner Saturday.

Arrested following an accident Saturday, was a 26-year-old Cranford man. A theft from a car on Carleton Rd. was reported Monday.

The owner of Block Island Breakout told police Tuesday that three dresses had been stolen from the shop.

Lorre Korecky, observer for the League of Women Voters of the Westfield Area, presents copies of handbook to Mayor Ronald J. Frigerio. All the Town Council members will receive the 1983 "Citizen's Handbook and Calendar for Voters" of the League. This informative handbook, published by the League of Women Voters of N.J., is on sale at the Westfield Public Library and the Quimby Street Bookstore, the Book Barn in Mountainside, the Scotch Plains Bookstore, the Novel Place in Fanwood, or by calling the League phone number.

Vandals Break Windows

Vandalism reported in town during the past week included the breaking of windows Monday at Edison Jr. High School and the First United Methodist Church. Snowballs had been tossed through the part of the church used for classrooms.

Two incidents occurred at Westfield High School. A tire was punctured Wednesday and glass on an inside door was broken Monday.

Insulated Attics Need Proper Ventilation

Most homeowners these days are aware that attic insulation makes a house cooler in summer and warmer in winter. But a Westfield area Realtor says there are other advantages — and a warning — to be considered.

Besides adding to your comfort, adequate attic insulation can save you substantial money in cooling and heating costs and also add to the resale value of your home.

Henry L. Schwiering, president of Alan Johnston, Inc., Mountainside, says homebuyers are increasingly concerned about energy conservation and know that adequate insulation is a plus value. People who plan to sell homes now or in the near future are likewise aware that a well-insulated home can bring a higher price and speed a sale.

Schwiering's word of warning is that proper ventilation is vital in getting maximum benefit from added insulation and avoiding problems which can be costly.

"In the winter," he explains, "moisture from the house works its way through the insulation blanket, even if you have a vapor barrier to prevent it. This moisture can get into the cold attic, condense and coat roof shielding, rafters and the insulation with water droplets. And damp insulation loses a lot of its effectiveness. The result can be peeling paint on the outside of your house and higher heating bills, unless ventilation is provided."

Schwiering says heightened understanding of the benefits of attic insulation is not uncommon among families relocating to this area from other parts of the country. Transferees are aware of, and interested in, climate changes and ways to adapt to them.

His company is a member of RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service, a Chicago-based network of nearly 1,200 independent Realtors especially skilled in handling corporate and other relocations — selling a home in one community and finding another in the transferring family's city of destination.

In sum, Schwiering says, "by all means insulate your attic, but do install an exhaust system to realize all the benefits you desire."

Minor Mishaps On Icy Roads

Twelve minor accidents occurred between Saturday and yesterday attributable to snowy and icy roads. No serious injuries were reported.

Gary Lozier, 33, of 12 Wychview Drive was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Rescue Squad following an accident Friday night at 8:40 p.m. on North Ave. between Westfield Ave. and Tuttle Pkwy. Lozier was admitted to the hospital and was discharged Sunday according to a hospital spokesman.

Police reports indicate that Lozier was traveling west on North Ave. when he struck a parked vehicle owned by Walter Castiglia of 860 North Ave. Castiglia's car traveled approximately 72 feet after being struck and came to rest next to a tree at 870 North Ave. Police said both cars sustained front end damage; the rear of Castiglia's car also was damaged.

Lozier received a summons for careless driving.

Elona Harkins of 212 Benson Place, who was injured in a two-car crash Monday, Jan. 10 at South Euclid Ave. and St. Marks Ave., remains at Overlook Hospital in the intensive care unit.

A midterm examination schedule for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 26, 27 and 28, for the town's two junior high schools — Edison and Roosevelt — has been released.

Ninth grade students will report to school at 9:45 a.m. on all three days. English and social studies midterm examinations are scheduled on Wednesday, science and mathematics on Thursday, and foreign language and make-up examinations on Friday. Ninth grade students will have a lunch period in the school cafeteria during the midterm examination days.

Rescue Squad Visits Jefferson

John Keppler, father of John Keppler Jr., a fourth grader in Mrs. Cindy Andzel's class at Jefferson School, visited the classroom recently to explain the work of the Westfield Rescue Squad.

Keppler began by discussing several potentially life-saving techniques which children can use until trained help arrives. Applying firm direct pressure to a wound can slow or stop bleeding and prevent shock; if a victim is not breathing, tilting the head back till the chin points up can open an airway. Keppler promised to return when the students are in sixth grade, at which time they will learn rescue breathing techniques.

The students next toured "the rig," ambulance 52, which cost the Westfield Rescue Squad $100,000. They were able to see and touch some of the specialized equipment and learn how it functions in a medical emergency.

Keppler left the class with several reminders to share with their families. He asked that they mark the phone numbers of Westfield's various emergency services both near the phone and in the telephone book. He pointed out that a first aid guide is included in the New Jersey Bell System phone books.

Keppler also asked the children to see that their house number is displayed near the front door in numerical form. Lastly, each child was presented with a Vial of Life and instructions for its use.

After-School Program in Progress

The Westfield Recreation Commission after-school program is open to all Westfield residents grades 4, 5, and 6 according to Ruth V. Hill, director of recreation. Mrs. Harold Mellen of Westfield, who has been a volunteer at the center for over ten years, is shown here helping Damien Lawson of Westfield with his numbers. The center, which has been in operation for 15 years would find it hard to continue its work without the help of its many volunteers. In addition to helping in the classroom as Mrs. Mellen does every week, volunteers help in the office, in the lunch room, and on the grounds. Men, women, and students contribute many valuable hours each week to the center. Those who would like to be a volunteer at the center may call the director, Mrs. Peterson, at the center or Vivian Harries, volunteer chairman, of Stanmore Pl.

Hardwick Calls for 4-Pt. Program on Foreign Trade

A state Assembly committee on exports, whose chairman is Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick of Westfield (R-Union), has called for a four-step program to increase New Jersey's share of foreign trade.

"We have held a series of hearings and taken 171 pages of testimony on these proposals, which are important steps to help revive New Jersey's economy," Hardwick said. The recommendations by the Legislative Committee to Encourage Exports call for:

- * Creating an Export Bank Authority to provide low-interest loans to help small firms develop overseas markets. The proposed authority would be patterned after the state Economic Development Authority.

- * Opening a state trade office in Tokyo as an experiment using temporary office space available there, and without any additional requests for state money. Hardwick called this recommendation "key" because "the competition from other states already is in place."

- * Developing an export trading company through the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey on a five-year trial basis to aid small businesses without resources to develop foreign markets by acting as their agents within foreign markets.
- * Updating a 1979 study of state export performance to cite trends and encourage further business awareness of the types of exports and existing potential markets.

Hardwick explained that the state commerce department's Division of International Trade indicates that, from 1977 to 1980, New Jersey's trade ratio of exports to imports grew less than half of the national average, causing the state to lag by $800 million behind its potential growth.

"That breaks down to more than 8,000 jobs which were not created," said Hardwick. "Even more significant, there are some 900 firms that could benefit from this program, and we have the raw materials — port facilities, transportation connections, manufacturing and warehouse facilities, and an able work force — to meet the needs of the increased export flow."

Pennsylvania is "a classic example" of the possibilities created by foreign trade offices, Hardwick said. There, officials have created a foreign trade market with offices in Europe, Asia and Central America, which has provided jobs for more than 150,000 persons, he said.

The committee's report concluded that there is no reason why, "given adequate financial and managerial assistance, New Jersey's performance in the export market cannot lead, or at least be competitive with, the rest of the nation."

Vegetable Bulletin

Rutgers University grows vegetables in field trials to determine which grow best under New Jersey conditions. Based on the results of these experiments, Rutgers publishes a list of vegetable varieties suitable for New Jersey. This bulletin is available through the Cooperative Extension Service, 300 North Ave., East.

Mrs. Weber was told that when Columbus School was closed to achieve racial balance, students were bused to their new schools for safety reasons, explaining why the Weber child must walk to Tamaques School while her friend a block away is transported.

Choral Society To Present Bach Mass

J.S. Bach's "Mass in B Minor" will be presented by The Choral Art Society of New Jersey, Inc. at its annual winter concert Saturday, Jan. 29, at 8 p.m., at the First Congregational Church, 125 Elmer St. This performance will be directed by Evelyn Blecke and will include soloists, semi-chorus, full chorus, and orchestra, with organist, Annette White.

The great choral work, known as the B Minor Mass, consists of four manuscripts, which Bach bound together without name, several years before his death. Though never performed as one work during his lifetime, this Mass is now considered Bach's greatest achievement, and has become the most popular of his large choral masterpieces. The demands of its performance provide the greatest of challenges to its singers and instrumentalists.

The soloists for this concert will be Beverly Myers, soprano; Mary Ann Hart, contralto; Mark Blecke, tenor; and Wilbur Pauley, bass.

Beverly Myers is a graduate of Manhattan School of Music and has an extensive operatic background. She has performed as soloist with Musica Sacra, under the direction of Richard Westenburg, and with the New York Choral Artists, and the New York Philharmonic.

Mary Ann Hart has a master of music degree from the University of Illinois and has studied and toured throughout Europe. She is pursuing her career in New York City, aided by a career development grant from the Martha

Evelyn Blecke

Baird Rockefeller Fund for Music.

Mark Blecke, a graduate of Westminster Choir College, sings regularly with Musica Sacra and the New York Philharmonic Choir, and is a member of the choir at St. Thomas Church in New York.

Wilbur Pauley, also a graduate of Westminster Choir College, is a soloist with the Choir of Men and Boys at St. Thomas Church, New York and a member of the Ensemble of Early Music, Musica Sacra, and the New York Choral Artists.

Tickets for this performance are available at the door or from any Choral Art Society member. For additional information, please contact Susan Hull of Cranford.

Talented Pair Helps Stage "Inn Trouble"

"Inn Trouble" playwright Penny Alexander (seated) and show director Pinky Luerssen compare notes as curtain time nears for the Feb. 4 and 5 Washington School Players production set for Roosevelt Junior High School. Tickets for the annual PTA benefit show are available at the door prior to each performance. The show will be at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. There will be a 2 p.m. Saturday matinee.

When the curtain goes up Feb. 4 and 5 on this year's Washington School Players production, "Inn Trouble," it will be thanks to the efforts of more than 150 parents and teachers, not the least of whom are playwright Penny Alexander and show director Pinky Luerssen.

"Without the dedication, talent and energy of dynamic people like Penny and Pinky, this annual PTA fundraiser could not become a reality," says Joe Pellicone, Washington School principal. "Their off-stage work and that of more than 80 other parents is vital to the show's success. Add to them the 70 people in on-stage roles and you begin to grasp the magnitude of this production which integrates the entire school community."

Inn Trouble, a musical comedy, is being staged at Roosevelt Junior High School at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights and at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Tickets are available at Jeannette's Gift Shop and Robert Treat's Liquor Store. They are also available from Mrs. Ronald Burkett and Mrs. Edward Hendrak, ticket co-chairpeople.

Playwright Penny Alexander is a relative newcomer to Westfield, having moved here from Michigan three years ago with husband, Jim, an AT&T employee, and children Ken and Karen.

As a volunteer at Washington School, she staged a student production of "There's a Frog in My Circle of Friends" two years ago. This year she directed 80 children in a performance of "Once Upon a Rainbow." She will team with music teacher Muriel Northover this spring to do "The Electric Sunshine Man," a program about Thomas Edison, with the fifth and sixth grade choirs.

A former elementary school teacher she now does substitute teaching, she learned the "ins and outs" of children's dramas as an apprentice to Jo Anne Laman, director of the Lathrup Youth Theatre outside Detroit. Although Inn Trouble is Alexander's first script, she hopes it is not her last. In keeping with the importance she places on dramatics for children, she would like to write "meaningful" educational children's plays.

Director Pinky Luerssen is a seasoned veteran of Washington/Grant school productions. This will be her second year as director. She became involved in 1977 as props chairman and as the show's "Card Carrying Cutie" and was assistant director for four years with Sue Smith. Luerssen also chaired the Westfield Junior Woman's Club Drama Department for several years and helped that group bring home a first place award in a statewide competition in 1975.

With husband, Dave, an assistant district manager for Public Service Electric and Gas Company, she wrote the Grant School Players 1978 production, "Loco-Motion," and its 1980 production, "Fowl Play." The 1978 play was co-authored by Jim Hogrefe. George Sherman co-authored the "Fowl Play" script.

A sales associate with Century 21 Taylor & Love, Luerssen is a member of Century 21 Million Dollar Club, chairs the Westfield Board of Realtor's Political Action Committee, and received a N.J. Association of Realtor's Community Service Award.

For both Luerssen and Alexander "Inn Trouble" is special. It will be their last production, as Washington School parents. Their youngest children, Ann Luerssen and Karen Alexander, are to be graduated from Washington at the end of this year.

Winning Pairs

by Jean Prebluda

Partnering was a major theme at the fine concert given by Mostly Music Sunday evening. With a few exceptions, the evening featured duet playing. Traditionally, this intimate form of music was most often played as a home item rather than as part of a concert hall program. Brought to Temple Emanuel in Westfield, the equal sharing of musical parts unfolded as another delightful chapter in the chamber music experience.

A pre-concert performance introduced those fortunate enough to arrive early to the fine musicianship, phenomenal technique and tone control of Sandra Rivers, the evening's guest pianist. Sandra Rivers was awarded the First Prize for Best Accompanist in the prestigious Tchaikovsky International Violin Competition in Moscow. She is a graduate of the Juilliard School where she was a scholarship student of Sascha Gorodnitski. She has performed with violinist Itzhak Perlman at the Kennedy Center, with Cho-Liang Lin at Alice Tully Hall and the Mostly Mozart Festival at Avery Fisher Hall.

Sandra began with a solo piano sonata, the late E flat major by Haydn, which was impressive for the clarity, delicacy and ravishing coloristic effects she drew with such ease from the keyboard. She is a sensitive pianist, yet strong and in total command.

The first partnership of the evening followed, as Music da Camera's pianist, Claire Angel joined Sandra in a piano duet, the great F Major Sonata, K. 397, for piano four hands. Mozart's writing paired two independent piano parts at one keyboard, both players equal in importance. It is a wonderful and complex work, symphonic in scope, with themes imitating each other contrapuntally, overlapping, interrupting and interjecting themselves onto the whole. It was a listener's delight, belying the difficulties inherent in piano four hand production — projecting unity while needing to skillfully escape the hazards of physically close encounters of a high speed kind. There were some problems of balance as the secondo or lower register part tended to overpower the primo or upper part played by Ms. Rivers.

After an enjoyable break of wine and cheese, the first pairing on the main program brought Robert McDuffie, violinist, and Sandra Rivers together in a thrilling performance of the late Baroque composer Tartini's "Sonata in G minor," called "Devil's Trill." What a fine virtuoso Musica da Camera has in Robert McDuffie! The warm, secure and full-bodied singing tone he exhibited in the opening movements was climaxed by a dazzling technical display in the final movement. The audience loved it and rightly so; he is a violinist par excellence.

Next Toby Hoffman, ably partnered Robert McDuffie with a full, rich sound in Mozart's "Duo," K. 424 for violin and viola. Here the two instrumental parts were interwoven beautifully by the players as they traded themes back and forth between them.

The "Sonata in c Major," K. 521 for piano four hands by Mozart followed, as Claire Angel and Sandra Rivers joined forces once again. Here the balance worked very well. It was another beautiful Mozart sonata, intricate in detail, with a playful closing rondo, and it exhibited some very fine pianism from the players.

The pianists traded places for Brahms' "Hungarian Dances," nos. 1-7. These lilting dances have gypsy elements requiring constant shifts in tempo and many rubato effects, difficult for partners to handle without benefit of a conductor. However, they handled it very well as they accelerated and retarded together as if one person were performing. It was a very long first half but filled with so much enjoyable music.

After intermission, the audience was recharged by the Mendelssohn "Trio in D minor," op. 49 for piano, violin and cello. Michael Goldschlager, cellist, joined Robert McDuffie and Sandra Rivers in a brilliant performance. The first movement set the stage with its vigorous and energetic interpretation, the melodies being introduced by the lovely cello sound of Michael Goldschlager. The Andante movement's lyrical melody was introduced by the piano, answered by the violin and cello in harmony. It had the sweetness of the composer's "Songs Without Words." The elfin-like Scherzo was captivating in its airy and buoyant quality, skittering away so attractively at the end. The final movement's soaring melodies floating so freely and beautifully from the strings balanced perfectly with the impressive playing of Sandra Rivers.

Stoddard Lincoln again offered the right touch of informative background, tinged with lightness and humor. Everyone went home smiling, as you would have too, had you been lucky enough to be there.

On his toes, Glen Kurz demonstrates a classic wrestling hold which resulted in a fall.

Eleven year old T.J. Diaz outsmarts his rival by reversing for two points and chalking up another win for Westfield at a recent dual.

All Stars Rout Bound Brook In CJMWL Opener

Westfield wrestlers got off to a good start by defeating Bound Brook in their first dual meet of the season. The Central Jersey Midget Leaguers took a double forfeit at 50 pounds to begin the match six all.

Nevada Hurt pulled a superior decision (16-0) over Greg Sorriano to ignite the Little Devil drive. Hurt utilized a variety of moves putting Sorriano to his back five times.

Following Hurt's win young Andrew Hanlon, former State Wrestling Champ, faced Kevin Fidacaro. The 57 pounder shot in low for the initial takedown. Unable to score, Fidacaro was behind by six before being pinned in the second period. Continuing Westfield's onslaught, Willie Gottlieb answered the call by shutting out David Marquis 4-0. The fourth grade grappler took takedown and reversal points.

Coming out on top of a 13-6 decision over Brian Allen, Jeff Eckert controlled the entire match. Seven back points, two takedowns and a reversal gave Eckert the win.

The seventh face off pitted Joe Balash against All Star Patrick Monninger at 67 pounds. Balash eked out a 3-1 victory to give Bound Brook their final points. A Brook default followed when T.J. Diaz' opponent could not continue due to injury. At that point Glen Kurz decided to pick up the pace. Kurz, a methodical wrestler, wasted no time pinning Jay Pressler: 47 into the first period.

Scotty Gilgallon's 5-4 decision over John Ormsby added three more marks to the visiting team's score. Scott was down by two at the second buzzer but turned Ormsby to his back from offense position for 3 to pull it out. Another win over 80 pushed Bound Brook to the point of no return as Mark Hoffmann decided Brian Balash 6-4.

Contact We Care Commissions

Eighteen telephone worker volunteers were commissioned as full time staff by Contact We Care and Deaf Contact at the hotline center's annual meeting Tuesday at the Westfield Presbyterian Church. The new volunteers just completed 50 hours of professional training and join the more than 100 other trained workers on the 24-hour helpline for the troubled and the hearing impaired. The newly commissioned staff members made up the 12th training class since Contact We Care originated in this area in 1975.

Currently the center handles an average of 2000 calls a month from those wanting someone to talk to anonymously and from the deaf needing personal messages transmitted from teletype to conventional phone services. Contact We Care (232-2880) and Deaf Contact (232-3333) depend on donations for their around-the-clock community service: P.O. Box 37, Westfield, N.J. 07090.

First German Reformed Church

German Church 125 Years Old

The First German Reformed Church, Deutsche Evangelische Kirche, which represents 125 years of activity, will celebrate its long history October 2, 9 and 16. The church began as a congregation in August 1857 when some German people, living in Plainfield, asked John Henry Oerter, pastor of the Warren Reformed Church, to conduct meetings Sunday evenings in German.

By 1858 Rev. Oerter organized the church with 54 German settlers. A schoolhouse was purchased in 1859 in Plainfield, and was used as the sanctuary. The families of the Congregation tended to be large, but there was a high degree of turnover due to the westward move of many families and the population depletion from epidemics.

In 1888 a dream of the congregation became a reality when the cornerstone for the church was laid. The "Ebenezer" building, in which the members worship today, was completed and dedicated. Architect Oscar S. Teale of New York had given the German people of the Plainfields a building of the style they were accustomed to from the romantic village of south Germany and Austria.
Music too has always played an important role in the services. Members brought their mandolins and zithers to enhance the services and the choir presented a concert each month. In fact, a new singing group "Die Liedertafel" was formed in the Church and a silk banner, embroidered in Switzerland, was presented to this new musical group, which eventually became the Sangerbund of the Plainfield Gesang- und Turnverein. The Christmas Service always attracted friends from far away. People would walk 2-3 hrs. or came with horse and carriage to celebrate the traditional German-style festivities. The Church was lit with gas lamps, and the live Christmas tree was decorated with wax candles and ornaments from the Black Forest and Bavaria.

Trinity Parishioners Invited to Party

All adult parishioners of the Catholic Church of the Holy Trinity are invited to attend a wine and cheese party in the Parish Council Room from 8 to 10 p.m. tomorrow. It will be an opportunity to meet fellow parishioners for an evening of "fun and relaxation."

John Maher and Cheryl Sueskind, students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield set out to deliver posters for the Art Auction to be held at Deerfield Middle School in Mountaineer at 7 p.m. Jan. 29. The Choral Parents Society is sponsoring this event to support the extra-curricular activities of the Vocal Music Department at the school.

An aggregation of germs in the body may be likened to a human city. The only difference is in the rapid growth of germs. Otherwise, they eat, drink, reproduce, compete and defend themselves like a human city. They also pollute. Usually, the body acts to combat the poisoning and pollution of germs. When the germs are able to spread beyond a localized area, the infection becomes a general disease. Most likely, an antibiotic is called upon to either stop the reproduction of the germ cell or kill the germ. The dosage of the antibiotic depends upon germ sensitivity and the patient's predisposition to side effects.

HANDY HINT: An antibiotic will have no effect on a virus.

"A's" Crush Cranford, "B's" Slice Summit

The A and B All Star wrestlers each had their own team victory Saturday overcoming weather and opponents alike.

At Westfield High the "A's" jolted Cranford's young Cougars 58-10. With Paco Gonzalez at the helm, Stephen Webber, Christopher Jordan, Jeff Pinkin, Sean Cunningham and Randy Wojcik compiled 36 Devil points in pins. Willie Gottlieb collected six when Cranford couldn't match weight.

Third grader Paul Jordan's 19-0 Superior gave the hosts five more as T.J. Diaz and Mark Hoffmann majored. A decision from Matthew Brown (6-2) finalized Little Devil scoring.

Cranford's ten came from Eric Nowicki 4-2 over David Webber, Josh Siano's 12-5 over Jeff Eckert and a Major 9-0 win by David Nordstrom topping Ryan Venckus who was moved up in weight.

The "B's" traveled to the home of Summit's Hill-toppers routing them 57-25, the most points scored against them to date. Two forfeits, a Major decision at 63 and three points from a 4-0 decision accounted for Summit's tally.

Nevada Hurtt (53), Jim Chmielak (60), Glen Kurz (73), Gerald Benagusta (77) and quick fill in Brenden Doyle (85) succeeded with falls. Patrick Monninger had the lone

Kentucky 48 Virginia 35

Virginia went down to a tough defeat against a good Kentucky team. Virginia played a great game the night before in a non-conference game but couldn't get their fast break going against Kentucky. John Niedzwiecki played his best game of the year as he led the scoring with 17 points. The rest of the scoring was done by Greg Johnson with 8 points and LeRoy Gallman, Jason McLane and Dave Olivieri. Playing hustling defense were Mike Loffredo, Jim Robbins and Kevin Schultz. Scott Aquila did a nice job on the boards.

Kentucky was led in scoring by Lee Krasner with 18 points and Darrell Robinson with 14 points. Robby Roth, Katie Feingold and Bill Callahan all had 4 points each and handled the ball well from their backcourt positions. John Pushko and Roy Jansen did yeoman work off the boards.

Rutgers 22 Seton Hall 11

Rutgers played an excellent game both on offense and defense. Tracy Martin and Jamie DelGuidice led the offense with 6 and 10 points respectively. Robbie McCoid and Oran Margulis did a great job handling the ball. Terry Hegarty and Greg Tranto rebounded very well and Greg chipped in with 2 points.

The ball just wouldn't fall through the hoop for Seton Hall. Hustling and playing tough defense were Jennifer Feldman, Ken Kotonsky, Robert Filipone and Jeff Cronin. High scorers for Seton Hall were Jon Gelfand and Kyle Bergin, each with 4 points. Seton Hall is looking to get into the winning column next week when it faces Princeton.

Penn State 41 Notre Dame 21

In a high scoring game, the Penn Staters displayed great teamwork. Leading the scoring were John Kiseli with 16, Adam Schoenberg with 2, and Josh Hager with 10 points. David Lukasiewicz played excellent defense and had many key rebounds.

Shirley Borgese and Brian Beller each had 4 points for the Irish. Doug Kris and Dave Briemer scored a basket each. Chris Donzella played a strong game off the boards. Lee Clarkson, Alex Graf and Andrienne Dwyer played a good defensive game.

Thank goodness for our Super Soup Sale.

To help everyone in your family stay well this winter, there's nothing like good, healthy servings of good, hearty soup.

What's the secret of soup's nutritional value? Simply this: when you cook meats and vegetables in water, their nutrients are cooked out into the water. Throw away the water and you throw away the best part. Keep the water and you have the best of all possible foods: Soup.

And while some soups are more nutritious than others, nothing makes "nutritious" more delicious than soup.

So think about making broth, bouillon, bisque, chowder, consomme, puree, Potage, or some other favorite soups. And don't forget those soups that become meals in themselves, such as Goulash, Petite Marmite and New England Boiled Dinner.

Our Super Soup Sale has all the ingredients you need, whether you want to get out the cookbook and make your own or open a package of ready-made soup.

You'll find Kings Specials this week on vegetables, soup greens, soup bones, soup meats, canned soups, dehydrated soups, frozen soups and ready-to-eat, home-made soups — all in our shopping list below.

And when you come in, you'll find a free copy of our Soup's On brochure waiting for you at the Courtesy Corner or Butcher's Corner. It gives you the meanings of a whole glossary of soup terms. It tells you "How to Keep a Stock Pot," "How to De-grease Soup" and more. And it gives you some delicious soup recipes from our own kitchens.

Come see us this week for our soups and all the other things that make us a Super Market called Kings.

Mermaids Edge Mountain Lakes

By Ken Pope

The WHS girls' swim team defeated Mountain Lakes last week by a score of 59 to 57, bringing their record to four wins, one loss. The Mermaids stayed ahead throughout the meet; they needed either first of second in the last relay to win the meet and they took second, coming from behind in the third leg. "The relays," said coach Marilyn Diamond, "were critical for points."

A seasonal best time was achieved in every race, with freshman Karen Linnenberg, who provided a critical win in the 100 yard breaststroke, attaining two personal best times. Linnenberg, along with senior Kelly Scott, was a double winner. Results of the meet (* designates seasonal best time):

Devils Back in Swim

By Laura Schwartz

After losing two close dual meets last week, the WHS swimming team was back to its usual winning ways as it defeated Elizabeth, Irvington and Mountain Lakes. These three wins extend the Devils' record to 5-2.

Against Elizabeth Westfield captured an early lead taking first and second places in the 200 medley relay. Once it had obtained the lead Westfield was never to give it up and the boys prevailed 70-57.

In this meet several Westfield swimmers had their best times this season. Jim Crossin placed second in both the 200 Individual medley and 100 Breaststroke, clocking 2:20.39 in the IM, and a 1:12.06 in the breaststroke. Eric Czarner was first in the 100 breaststroke (1:09.29) and third in the 50 freestyle (25.03). Others included Jim Born, 100 backstroke (1:07.49). Chris Nolan first in the 200 IM (2:13.75), second in the 500 freestyle (5:38.59); Alan Schmidt, first in the 100 butterfly (1:02.59) and second in the 50 freestyle (24.02).

When Westfield defeated Irvington 93-29 it made a clean sweep of all of the first places and all but one second place.

First 200 medley relay, Scott Dunn, G. Czarner, Crossin and Paul Schirmer (2:04.39); second, Matt Frawley, Chris Banta, Born and Lynd; 200 freestyle, first, Schmidt (2:27.30); second, Bill Meehan; 50 freestyle, first, Greg Hackenburg (24.40); second, Crossin.

Diving, first, Frawley (2:32.25) second, Eric Pundock; 100 butterfly, first, Crossin (1:07.75) second, Schirmer; 100 freestyle, first, Dunn (58.95), second, G. Czarner; 500 freestyle, first, Banta (6:04.02); 100 backstroke, first, Nolan (58.19); 100 breaststroke, first, McMeekan (1:14.20) second, Hackenburg.

Once again Westfield refused to surrender a first place as it soundly defeated Mountain Lakes 76-40.

Mountain Lakes captured a quick two point lead in the first event which was the closest it came to winning. As Westfield jumped ahead of them in the second event by a one point margin and continued to increase their lead towards eventual victory.

Nolan, E. Czarner and Schmidt each took two first places and competed on the 400 medley relay team. The threesome combined for 30 of Westfield's 76 points: Nolan: 50 freestyle (22.99) and 100 backstroke (1:09.44); E. Czarner: 200 IM (2:13.82) and 100 freestyle (52.27); and Schmidt: 200 freestyle, (1:54.91).

Other first placers were Hackenburg, 100 butterfly, and Bord, 500 freestyle. A key factor in the Devils' success has been the superb diving team. In the four out of five meets that Westfield has had, the divers have yet to surrender a first or second place to their opponents. The divers are prime contenders for the Union County Championship coming up on Feb. 4 in Elizabeth.

Cagerettes Lose to Linden, Easily Defeat 'Plains Raiders

By Maria Fleming

The Westfield girls' varsity basketball team split their games this week, losing to the Linden Tigers 42-34 and defeating the Scotch Plains Raiders 45-24.

Against the Raiders, Westfield took early control of the game, winning a slight edge in the first quarter of the game. The Devils continued to build their lead throughout the remaining three quarters in which they outscored Plains 13-7, 14-7 and 13-6.

Nancy Kasko led Westfield scoring with 12 points. The WHS forward also pulled down eight rebounds. Senior forward Noreen Morris contributed eight points to the Devil cause. Senior guard Lisa McGowan had seven rebounds for Westfield.

In the WHS-Linden contest, the cagerettes again took an early lead, however were unable to maintain it. Their first quarter two point advantage was quickly erased as the Tigers rattled off 14 points to the Devils 7 in the second period, making the half-time score 20-15.

In the third, Linden continued to build its lead, outscoring WHS 13-9.

Although they held the Tigers to under ten points in the last quarter, the Cagerettes were unable to make up the difference, losing to the Tigers by an eight point margin.

Morris led the Devil offense with 13 points in addition to shooting 60% from the foul line. Junior center Traci Love followed Morris in scoring with eight points.

Westfield's record now stands at 4-5. Tomorrow the Cagerettes will face a tough Irvington squad, home at 3:45.

Cagers Split Games, Lose To Linden, Defeat 'Plains

By Dave Coates

The Westfield High School boys' basketball team continues to keep its bid at a .500 season alive, for the fifth consecutive week, the cagers split two games. The Blue Devils opened the week with a disheartening 68-48 loss to a fine Linden team, but rebounded to defeat a sputtering Scotch Plains squad 52-41.

Don Franco, Linden's outstanding guard, singlehandedly subdued the Devils last Tuesday, as he scored 25 points and grabbed seven rebounds. Westfield's John Miles countered with 19 points and rebounds of his own, but it wasn't enough as Linden pounded the Devils 68-48.

Linden jumped out to an early seven point first quarter lead, and from there they continued to pour it on. The Devils fell behind by as much as 14 points in the second period, but clawed back to pull to within ten at the half 33-23.

An 11 point spurt by the Tigers at the start of the second half gave them a 55-32 lead that the Devils could not make up.

Along with Miles' 19 points, Chris Rupp threw in 11 and claimed four rebounds. Guard Chris Frerecks added eight points to the cause.

Playing without the services of leading scorer Chris Rupp, who is recovering from a knee injury, the Blue Devils put together one of the year's best team performances to overcome a scrappy Scotch Plains team.

The Blue Devils put the game out of reach early, as they outscored the Raiders 20-12 in the second quarter. Frerecks and Miles combined for 14 points in that quarter alone to pace the Devils to a 32-20 halftime lead. Scotch Plains staged a comeback late in the third and early fourth quarters to get as close as 41-35, but two unanswered Westfield baskets put the game away as the Blue Devils glided to a 52-41 victory.

Balanced scoring was the key to this victory. Coach Soviero had three players in double figures and two that were very close. Miles led all scorers with 16 points and seven rebounds, Jack Suto added 11 points, Frerecks ten, and Dan Hauck had eight and four assists. Edmond Roberson, making his first varsity start, was a dominant force on the boards, snatching seven rebounds to go with seven points.

First in 1:33.7. Leading off for the team was Wayne Tiller 23.4. Tiller handed off to Kelvin Blanton who ran 23.4 for his 220 yards. Dan Biegler was next in 23.9 and Rich Forbes anchored in 22.8.

The mile relay also did well as it placed second. Tiller again started. His time was 54.5. Bill Byrne and Blanton were next in 52.6 and 51.5, respectively. Forbes finished off in 50.9. The final time was 3:29.7.

Also placing second was the distance medley. Brian Bernstein led off the half mile leg in 2:04.7. Bill Byrne ran the quarter in 51.7. In the 3/4 leg Andy Jacob ran an indoor personal best of 3:12. Greg Kasko anchored the mile in 4:29. The overall time was 10:37.6.

The team of Jim Fisk 2:04.7, Kevin McGorty 51.7, Mike Shapiro 3:22, and Tom Splaine 4:37 combined for a 10:57.6 and a fifth place finish.

McGorty Leads Princeton Field

The Westfield High School boys' winter track team continued its march toward a state championship last Saturday as it went to Princeton's Jadwin Gym to run in a T.A.C. development meet.

There are also clinics offered for players at all levels of play during the week. An intermediate clinic covering the forehand, backhand, serve, volley, lob and overhead will be held Fridays from 4 to 6 p.m. It will also include some singles and doubles play.

There's a beginners, advanced beginners and a well devised pee wee clinic for youngsters who may be looking to get started in the sport or just hoping to have some fun.

Adults should also take advantage of the Sunday programs. A beginners clinic will be held from 12 to 1 p.m. and for the more advanced players, singles and doubles strategy clinics will concentrate on competitive play along with drills on all phases of the game.

The North Jersey Tennis Academy also has group lessons for adults. Each week will focus on a different stroke.
