New Town Equipment Could Save Thousands in Costs

The proposed expenditure of $130,000 to purchase a five cubic yard dump truck, a tractor and two 25 cubic yard trailers could pay for itself in about three years, according to town authorities.

The Town Council Tuesday night took the first step by introducing an ordinance for the appropriation — $110,000 in bond anticipation notes and $20,000 from capital improvement funds — for the purchase of the Public Works Department equipment. Public hearing and final action will be held at the Feb. 8 meeting of council.

According to Town Engineer Edward Gotko, the equipment would be used at the Conservation Center for removal to a dump site of garden debris deposited on the Lambert's Mill Rd. site, for the annual leaf collection program, and to supplant some contracting service for snow removal operations.

The town currently spends about $40,000 annually for container service to remove waste from the Conservation Center, and additional funds for contractors for leaf and snow removal programs.

Henry Callahan was appointed to fill an unexpired term on the Board of Appeals and Leonard Seigel named as a temporary alternate on the same board. The Board of Appeals is expected to meet tomorrow to rule on a building code issue involving the Southview Plaza office building under construction on South Ave. just west of the Circle Plaza intersection.

Based on county judgments on 93 tax assessment appeals taken to the county, the council approved rebates of about $20,000 to 93 homeowners. A total of 166 appeals had been made following last year's revaluation of about 10,000 properties in Westfield, Councilman James Capone noted. Of these, 93 were made before the county and remainder through local Tax Assessor Robert Brennan.

Council also approved a temporary capital budget which will provide for retooling of parking meters and some capital items and the transfer of about $20,000 from the police account to other accounts.

Submittal of a recycling grant application was approved and is expected to return to Westfield funds earned under a new state program rewarding local recycling efforts. Councilman Garland C. Boothe commented that about 11,000 tons of materials had been recycled in Westfield last year — some through the Conservation Center and additional scrap — paper, glass, etc. — through the twice-monthly recycling center operated at the railroad station.

Also approved were:

- A license of the town's second cab to Ron Grant trading as Westfield Taxi Service.

- The refund of all but $200 of liquor license fees to Hahne's because the department store chose not to meet the 150-seat capacity demanded under ABC regulations for a consumption license for its restaurant.

- The 9 p.m. Feb. 8 date for an ABC hearing on two violations of selling liquor to minors allegedly occurring at Shoppers Liquor Mart on South Ave.

- The auction of three foreclosed properties on

New Ward Lines to Shift Some Southside Voters

Hundreds of southside Westfield residents will find they have a different ward, and a new councilman, when the Town of Westfield is re-warded early in March.

Ward lines will be changed to provide a more equal distribution of population for each of Westfield's four voting units. The Union County Board of Elections has announced that the formation of the Westfield Ward Commission will take place at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at its offices at 53 Rahway Ave., Elizabeth.

The commission will be comprised of four members of the Union County Board of Elections: Donald J. Ludwig, Republican, chairman; Catherine M. Lehr, Democrat, vice-chairman; Margaret A. Brooks, Republican, and Gerald H. Biener, Democrat, and will also include Westfield Town Clerk Joy Vreeland.

The Ward Commission will have 30 days to revise lines of existing wards to meet criteria set down by a law signed in the final days of the Byrne Administration. Sizes of the largest and smallest wards must not differ by more than 10 percent an average size struck by dividing the town's population by four, the number of wards existent in Westfield.

According to Charles Brandt, town attorney, Westfield wards do not meet this criteria. With figures from the 1980 Census, Ward 1 totals 7,379; Ward 2, 6,772; Ward 3, 8,021; and Ward 4, 8,138. To comply with the state law, he said, a shift of population from both southside wards 3 and 4 to Wards 1 and 2 on the northside is needed.

Brandt has submitted a re-warding plan to the Union County Board of Elections; he said that Fourth Ward Democratic Councilman Brian W. Fahey also has sent a plan to the Commissioners.

It is expected that the new ward boundaries will become effective before the Primary Election, but whether or not they will be implemented before the April school vote is uncertain at this time.

Redistricting of the town's four wards — which now contain a total of 22 districts — is expected to follow the re-warding. The process will be done by employees of the Board of Elections and is subject to approval by the board. Whereas the ward size is based on population figures, the district size is predicated on the number of registered voters living within its boundaries.

The optimum number of registered voters in each district has been unofficially described as between 600 and 650, which would increase the number of districts — and therefore, the political clout of the town in the county — of both Westfield political parties.

Westfield, according to reliable sources, has not been re-warded or re-districted since the early 1950s.

New Developments in Ziobro Case

Discussions are underway which could lead to the final chapter in the more than year-long dispute involving teacher Stanley Ziobro and the Westfield Board of Education.

Following a meeting Monday, Ziobro's attorney Stephen E. Klausner and board attorney Joseph A. Rizzi will meet again Feb. 7 to submit documents to Administrative Law Judge Robert Glickman. Glickman is expected to forward these to State Commissioner of Education Saul Cooperman for his consideration in what could be the final disposition of the case.

Ziobro, former head of the mathematics department at Roosevelt Junior High School and a teacher with the Westfield school system for more than 20 years was charged late in 1981 by the school board with "conduct unbecoming a teacher" following an incident involving a sixth grade student.

The charges were funneled to the State Commissioner of Education who ordered hearings held before Administrative Judge Glickman last September. These hearings ended dramatically when Ziobro reportedly became too ill to take the stand. A consent order was agreed to by all parties in the dispute and Ziobro, who had been continued on the payroll from the November, 1981, incident, resigned his post. The resignation, effective Feb. 1, 1983, was accepted by the Board of Education in December.

Judge Glickman's decision was forwarded to Commissioner Cooperman Oct. 26, but in a decision signed Dec. 13, Commissioner Cooperman asked for further clarification.

His decision follows: "The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter including the initial decision dated Oct. 26, 1982, rendered in the form of an Order of Settlement by the Office of Administrative Law, Robert P. Glickman, ALJ.

"The Commissioner is constrained to observe that the language of the Consent Order signed by the parties and the ALJ, fails to indicate the effective date of respondent's resignation from the board's employ. The only

Fahey Proposes Direct Train Commute To New York

"By immediately altering its system of train locomotion New Jersey Transit can prove that it is really dedicated to improving their passenger train service for its Union County train riders," Westfield Councilman Brian W. Fahey said in a letter forwarded today to Martin E. Robins, the Deputy Director of New Jersey Transit. "What we need is a direct run into New York without a change over of trains in Newark," Fahey explained.

"New Jersey Transit assumed control of passenger train operations on Jan. 1 of this year and they have already begun an aggressive program of cooperation with municipal governments in making maintenance agreements for existing railroad stations," Fahey added. "A direct ride to New York would be a tremendous step for New Jersey Transit."

A great many Union County businessmen are still avoiding the train because of the switch-over and inconvenience involved when the train stops in Newark. "If New Jersey Transit is really serious about improving the quali-

5-Pt. Parking Program, Chamber Study Suggested

A five-point program to improve parking in the central business district, coupled with a recommendation that the Chamber of Commerce hire a consultant to study parking trends and new proposals have been suggested by Councilman John Brady, first ward Republican councilman.

Better regulation of the on-street parking supply is the first element of his parking plan, said Brady. "Allocation of parking spaces among various uses and restricting the duration of parking so that it coincides with the shoppers' needs will improve short-term parking at the curb side. Stuffing meters by employees and long-term parkers must be halted. Short and long-duration parking supply should equal demand. An increased turnover of on-street parking spaces should result in increased numbers of shoppers.

"The second step should be the implementation of a Residential Parking Permit Program (RPPP) which provides a means for controlling parking in residential neighborhoods adjacent to the central business district (CBD). RPPP's allow neighborhood residents to park on-street with no restrictions while prohibiting long-term commuter, employee or other type parking. The cost of implementing and maintaining an RPPP program is usually covered by charging a very small annual fee for the permit. Protection of the residential neighborhoods border-

Architect to Review Proposed School Projects Tuesday Night

St. Faridy is a member of the architectural firm of Bouman, Blanche and Faridy, architect of record for the Westfield Board of Education.

At its January business meeting, the Board of Education discussed a plan to designate $1.5 million in "surplus" funds to carry out 16 maintenance projects. The "surplus", as of June 30, 1983, has accumulated over several years from unexpended appropriations and unanticipated revenue in school budgets.

The maintenance projects to be discussed Tuesday night include:

- boiler work at Washington School, $48,000
- at Wilson School, $9,500
- at Jefferson School, $51,500
- at Roosevelt JHS, $206,000
- at Westfield High School, $285,000
- reroofing at Wilson School, $120,000
- at Franklin School, $325,000
- at McKinley School, $80,000
- at Edison JHS, $160,000
- brick pointing at Wilson School, $110,000
- door replacement at

Wilson School, $9,500 at Edison JHS, $31,000

- emergency lighting at Edison JHS, $11,800
- at Roosevelt JHS, $11,800

- miscellaneous repairs at the field house, $13,500

- fire and building code updates at all schools, $160,000

Tuesday's special meeting is open to the public. School Board President Leo Senus noted that the Feb. 1 meeting has been scheduled in addition to a previously announced public hearing on the maintenance plan for Feb. 15. "We are making efforts to provide more information to the public by having the architect attend a meeting to discuss the projects," he said, urging citizens to attend the public meetings.

There will be a second public hearing on Feb. 15 at the school board's

Booze/Moonlighting Blend New Problem for Policemen

Municipal policemen may not moonlight for any establishment holding a liquor license located within the confines of the community in which they are employed as law enforcement officers.

A letter which had been requested by Union County Prosecutor John H. Stamler interpreting state statute NJSA 33-1.26.1 was sent to John F. Vassallo, the director of the Division of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission. Copies were then mailed to county police chiefs this week.

The letter, which was drafted by Lauren J. Fleischer, deputy attorney general, indicates that police officers may not be employed off-duty at liquor license-holding establishments located in the town in which they serve as policemen even if they are to be utilized outside the premises.

Police Chief James F. Moran had asked Stamler for clarification of the law which is under the jurisdiction of the ABC. He wanted to know whether his men would be able to work off-duty at Echo Lake Country Club and local supermarkets. Off-duty officers had worked in traffic control at supermarkets and had patrolled the golf course from trespassers and vandalism.

An amendment to the state statute was approved July 23, 1982. It permits police officers to sell, serve and deliver alcoholic beverages as long as they work no more than 24 hours a week in such an establishment; do not wear uniforms, badges or insignia; and are employed outside of the town in which they serve as police officers.

Chief Moran says that off-duty and on-duty policemen are able to arrest anyone committing a crime at any location in the state.

Kehler "Roast" to Draw Number Of Coaches, Colleagues, Civic Leaders

Luminaries from throughout the area are being lined up to serve as official roasters of Coach Gary Kehler, when the Westfield Boosters and friends roast the highly successful mentor on Saturday, Feb. 19 at L'Af-faire on Rt. 22.

Tickets for the event are available at Taylor-Love Real Estate, Riorden Real Estate, Greco Steam Cleaners, John Lay at the High School and members of the Booster Assn. Lowell Higgins in handling seating and ticket arrangements.

A partial list of roasters are: Lou Retino-Union High School, highly successful coach, fresh from winning the 1982 Group 4, Section 2 championship; Glen Kehler, son of the roastee and former all state high school running back and outstanding performer at Rutgers University. Frank Burns, head football coach at Rutgers and Coach Kehler's first coach at Rutgers; sport-caster of station WERA and former standout at Penn State, John Pepe; the recently retired Mayor of Westfield and sports fan Allen Chin; and Dick Zimmer, long time associate coach and close friend. Former rival on the playing field, adversary in probably the most exciting game played in the last two decades, former Barringer head coach, Frank Verducci, and close friend and golfing instructor of Coach Kehler, the soon-to-retire Athletic Director, John Lay will also participate.

The Feb. 19 testimonial will provide a way to say good-bye to Gary Kehler the coach and hello to the new director of athletics. It also will provide a humorous look at Kehler and his storied career.

Coach Kehler, perhaps the Garden State's most outstanding schoolboy football coach of all-time, retired from coaching this past fall after 22 years at the helm of WHS. During his tenure, the Blue Devils never had a losing season and posted a remarkable 172-26-7 record in football. A wrestling record of 237-44-10 and a golf record of 299-38-5 also were part of a record that few can match.

Bob Baldwin is chairman of event.

Roosevelt's "Quality" Music Program Featured in "Tempo"

Roosevelt Junior High School's "quality" choral music program is the subject of an article in the January issue of "Tempo," the official magazine of the New Jersey Music Educators Association, a department of the New Jersey Education Association and the Music Educators' National Conference.

The article, written by Richard Thompson, arranger-clinician, is based on Thompson's visit to the junior high school at which more than 550 students participate in the choral music program on a daily basis.

The writer notes that the article is a result of "an intensive search for a quality choral program" where there is adequate provision made for the boy's changing voice and four part singing is utilized.

He points out that choral grouping in each grade level at the seventh-through ninth-grade junior high school is "a progressive experience" that takes care of the constantly developing vocal needs of the adolescent chorister and "gives him or her a 'new subject' to take each year."

Thompson's visit to the junior high school was arranged by Jean McDermott, director of fine arts. He met with Drude Roessler and Peter Bridges, the two junior high school vocal music teachers who are responsible for seven choruses.

McDaniel spoke to the students of Sylvia Cummin's business education class as part of an outreach program to the community from Lincoln Federal and was scheduled through the school system's STS (Sharing Talents & Skills) office.

Full House at WHS For King Observance

By Rick Bostok
An assembly in honor of Martin Luther King was held at WHS on January 14. In a special guest appearance, Butch Woolfolk, Giant running back and WHS alumnus, spoke in honor of Dr. King. The program was organized by the Awareness Club, whose function is to recognize minorities in the school.

"Martin Luther King is one of my three heroes," Woolfolk stated during his speech. He went on to say that he felt it necessary for everyone to remember what Dr. King did for the blacks. Although this was by no means one of Woolfolk's first times as a guest speaker, he said that it was one of the most important in returning to his former school. During his presentation, he read a poem given to him by a friend, Ronald Allen, who is a policeman in Westfield. The poem was about peace in the world.

The assembly opened with Pam Tate, president of the Awareness Club, reading a poem about Martin Luther King. The poem honored Dr. King and the actions he took. Robert Whack also hosted the assembly and talked about Dr. King.

During the assembly, Kristal Hardy, an eighth grade student from Edison Junior High School, sang a song concerning Dr. King's basic principle — peace on earth. A filmstrip entitled "The Search for Black Identity: Martin Luther King" was presented to the student body. The film depicted the actions Dr.

King took in order to gain freedom for blacks and also included some of his speeches.

According to Principal Robert Petix, it was one of the best assemblies WHS has ever had. Although attendance was not mandatory, the entire auditorium was filled, with students from both Edison and Roosevelt also in attendance.

Red Cross Launches CPR Business and Industry Program

The Westfield-Mountain-side Chapter of the American Red Cross announced this week that it will initiate a free training program for employees of local business and industry in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation, commonly known as "CPR."

According to Donald B. Stouder, executive director of the chapter, the program's goal is simply to train as many people as possible in the lifesaving technique. "Although our courses for the public are usually filled," stated

Stouder, "some people find it difficult to come out in spare time, so we decided to go to where the people are, the workplace."

Stouder continued to say that the need for CPR training is great. According to Red Cross statistics, some 600,000 citizens died in 1982 due to heart failure, and over half of these people died before they ever got to a hospital; 150,000 died within four minutes of the attack. In addition, three out of four of these sudden deaths were witnessed by bystanders who, because of the lack of training, were unable to help.

CPR is the technique of mouth to mouth breathing and chest compressions used to sustain a heart attack victim until medical help arrives. "The key to saving lives," according to Stouder, "is to start CPR right after the attack, if the victim has no breath sounds or heartbeat. These people will die within four minutes, and they can't wait for rescue personnel to arrive."

Funds to start the program were donated by the Westfield Foundation. For any business, industry or professional office, the chapter will provide the free three hour course at the place of business or the chapter, whichever is easiest to the students. Interested employers should contact Stouder at The Red Cross on Elm St. "We hope the business owners and employers of the area will support our program and allow their employees the time to take this training," stated Stouder. "It's the best fringe benefit they could ever provide."

6 Westfield Students Nominees for Academies

Six Westfield students and 12 from Scotch Plains and Fanwood are among the Union County residents nominated by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, R-N.J., to compete in 1983 for appointments to U.S. service academies.

Among the nominees for appointment to the Military Academy at West Point are Roger Brewster of 1028 Harding St., and Jill Bajus and J. Christopher Bonner of Fanwood, and James Burchfield, Richard Eschle, John Lamastra, Herpaui Sidhu, and Glen Tomlinson, all Scotch Plains.

Nominated for the Naval Academy at Annapolis were Michael Barton of 631 Kensington Dr., Cheryl Berkebile of 220 Wychwood Dr., and Matthew McDermott of 312 Massachusetts St.; Jon Daidone and John Santo Salvo of Scotch Plains, and Timothy Callahan and Scott Ziegler of Fanwood.

Brian Long of Fanwood, was nominated for the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y., and William Byrne of 762 Knollwood Terrace and Lester Lynd Jr., of 809 Nancy Way, for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Rinaldo said his nominations were based on college test scores of the applicants. The appointments are being made by the academies following an evaluation of the candidates' college entrance examination results, their academic and extracurricular records in secondary school, and their potential for careers as officers in the armed forces.

In the country, including Canada, Roosevelt and Edison ranked 14 and 20, respectively, for the scores achieved by the team of eighth grade students from each school.

ALP teacher Judith Drogan noted that more than 200 schools participated in the Atlantic Pacific Mathematics League tests.

The Newark Museum will show the film "Artists at Work," a documentary focusing on the visual arts programs of the New Deal at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Sunday.

The Corner Store Dancers

Dancers to Perform at Jefferson Today

The Corner Store children's dance theater will present two performances at Jefferson Elementary School, at 12:45 and 2 p.m. today.

The Corner Store offers a program of dances based on stories, poems, props, and songs, created specifically for elementary school-age children. The six performers all dance, taking speaking parts, and play a variety of instruments in a revue-style program set to catchy, original music. Such dances as The Musical Mouse, Shopping for Shoes, and Balloons! incorporate humor, improvisation, and audience participation. This year's program also features The Principal's Vacation, in which the school principal has an adventurous trip, and then comes home and copes humorously with some surprising souvenirs.

The members of The Corner Store all work professionally with children, and their program is designed to educate as well as to entertain.

In the 1981-82 season, The Corner Store performed for 1800 elementary school children in the tri-state area, and last summer toured 42 parks and day camps in New York State under the auspices of the Westchester County Department of Parks, Recreation and Conservation.

Pamela Finey, artistic director, formed the group in 1976. She has been director of the West Center Dance Group in Bronxville, N.Y. since 1966, and teaches professional dancers in New York City, where she is also principal dancer with the Laura Pawel Dance Company.

Ed Di Lello, musical director, is director, choreographer, and composer for his own company, the Ed Di Lello Group, in New York City.

Pre-Kindergarten Program at Trinity

Holy Trinity School, 336 First St., offers a pre-kindergarten program for children who will be 4 years old by Dec. 1, 1983. There is a three-day class on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and a two-day class meeting on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Class is in session 9-11:30 a.m.

The program emphasizes social and learning experiences for children who will be entering kindergarten the following September. The curriculum includes listening skills, art experiences, activities for large and small muscle coordination and readiness skills for kindergarten.

Registrations for classes starting September 1983 are now being accepted. The public is invited to the open house at Holy Trinity School on Sunday, Jan. 30, at 1 p.m. to meet Mrs. Lois Wallin, pre-kindergarten teacher, and to visit the pre-kindergarten classroom. Further information may be obtained at the Holy Trinity School office.

Anniversary Antics

By day they ride the rails or buses, fume in cars, stuck in traffic jams on their way to and from work; they toil in classrooms, banks, offices and labs; they teach in classrooms, wipe runny noses of kids, fidget over budgets.

But when the last of the holiday decorations are annually returned to their shelves, they emerge each year to transform winter doldrums into fun and frolic - and more times than not, a lot of money.

"They" are the Washington Players, spawned by the Grant School Players, who for 35 years now, have unveiled their sometimes latent talents into annual shows which have built a solidarity of neighbor friendship and benefited first Grant School, and since that school's closing almost three years ago, Washington School.

The parent-written, parent-produced shows - which call upon some of the "alumni" as well - have such provocative titles as "Mix Well and Stir," "All for the Kids," "Fowl Play," "Taken for Granted" (just prior to school's closing), "Curse of Greed," "Makin' Whoopee," and this year, "Inn Trouble," on the Roosevelt Junior High School stage, Feb. 4 and 5.

And it's an unusual production that doesn't poke a little fun at some local "sacred cows."

In addition to "importing" some local notables to the stage - mayors, town officials, etc. - the shows have rarely lacked some talked-about events - like in 1974, when the Radio City Rockettes gave the Grant moms some silver tap shoes for their footwork... or in the following year, when leading man John Molden was injured in Act. I, but returned to stage in Act. II, with stitches.

Linda Foosse, whose husband Bob was a former WHS principal was the producer of beginning shows. Others who have sustained long interest in the productions include, among many, Morris Kamler, owner of Jeanettes', who continues to play in the band; Alice Dillon, Bill Shepherd and Betty Kopf, present or former members of the school board; Hank Glass, well-known for his directorship and amateur theatrical performances; Bill Inglis, choreographer who has danced here and abroad with American Ballet Theater and The New York City Ballet; and Paul Keuter of local musical fame who also has played in concerts at Carnegie Hall and Town Hall.

Local professionals, parents, teachers, neighbors and others make the annual shows very profitable community spoofs where the audience may well recognize themselves - but hope the characters on stage are portraying their neighbors instead.

Spanning 35 years - and two schools - the "fun for profit" event has resulted in such PTA gifts as field trips, equipment such as TVs and projectors, and library resource material, as well as the establishment one year, at Grant School, of the Irion Learning Center in memory of a second grade teacher.

Happy 35th anniversary to the Grant/Washington Players. We're sure "Inn Trouble" will be "Out Standing."

HUNG UP

An appreciative reader writes:

Now that the holidays are over, I want to take this opportunity to thank you for helping to make Christmas, Chanukah and New Years so pleasant. My daughter and son-in-law visited. We celebrated both Christmas and Chanukah since they are of different faiths. Years ago, I would have rejected Bob, my daughter's husband, but now I realize that they are happy, try to please each other, and that's what really counts. Reading your column for over 10 years has helped me realize how to enjoy life and people. I'd like to share these thoughts with you and your readers. I'd like to do what you do - make a list of 10 ideas I live by - and it works for me.

(1) Try to tune in to your feelings. The more aware you are of them, the more comfortably you can deal with them. (2) Try to express your feelings, rather than have them build up inside of you. (3) I've always had trouble expressing anger. So I tried to become aware of my anger and I use judgment when to let it out and keep it in, rather than hurt someone. (4) I always tried to tell my daughter how to behave, what to do, when to date, what goals to have. I was critical of everyone she dated who was not like us. I drove her, and me, up a wall. Therapy helped me see that she was a bright, good girl who made good choices for herself. This helped me accept her choice of a spouse, even though he was from another religion. Try to respect another person's beliefs and feelings. Don't tell him how to live. (5) It is easier to compliment and see the good in people, than to criticize and attack. (6) Marriage is a two way deal. I try to satisfy many of my husband's wishes (they are usually quite reasonable) and he wants to make me happy too - this after 33 years of marriage. (7) A healthy body is a healthy mind. Keep yourself in good shape and you will be pleased with yourself. Liking oneself is one of the most important things. (8) Try to enjoy today and don't wait forever to get satisfaction in relationships and in goals. (9) Enjoy holidays and specific celebrations like birthdays, etc. Try to be with family and friends. Don't isolate yourself. It is important to share your joys, your traditions with others in such a fast moving world. (10) Say "I love you" to those about whom you care. It pays off!!

THANKS JUNIORS

Editor, Leader:

The American Heart Association, Metropolitan Chapter, would like the Westfield community to know of a gigantic effort on the part of the Junior Women's Club of Westfield in connection with our February residential campaign.

These young women graciously accepted an enormous volunteer task - the responsibility for addressing the 10,000 letters that will be sent to Westfield residents in the course of this campaign. Their undertaking is of immeasurable help to the Chapter in its pursuit of funds to support the research, public and professional education and community-service activities that are winning the fight against early death and disability due to the heart diseases.

On behalf of all our officers, members and those who will be helped by their efforts, we would like to express our sincere appreciation to the following: Social Service Department Chairmen Judith Ganum and Patricia Esposito and committee members Joan Agresta, Eileen Cambria, Diane Di Carli, Theresa McKeever, Norma Neme, Lyn Ryan, Sharon Sullivan and Danielle Walsh.

This is a group of whom Westfield must be very proud.

ANOTHER OPEN LETTER

Editor, Leader:

I had decided after writing my previous open letter, I would not under any circumstances write another. But after attending another basketball game, on Jan. 13, 1983, and witnessing what happened in the WHS gymnasium, it prompted me to do one more.

Last night (Jan. 18), at approximately 5:15 p.m., a first of many firsts took place. Let me explain.

1. It was the first time every player on the team was put into the game.

2. It was the first time they were allowed to play basketball the way it should be played.

3. It was the first time the kids had fun.

4. It was the first substitutions were made ability to situation.

It was the first time the kids smiled and smiled and smiled.

I could go on, but the point I am trying to make, is that every child deserves to play, last night they did. Every child has some ability which can be put to positive use in the right situation, last night it was. Everyone needs to feel a part of something positive, last night the WHS JV basketball team did, for the first time all season.

The high-fives, the smiles were a gift, a deserved gift, to themselves and to everyone watching. It was a joy to watch all those eager faces of the WHS JV, trying to please, helping each other and realizing for the first time we are a team, individuals, but still a team, playing the kind of basketball they dream of playing.

It was the first time the WHS bench cheered for their teammates, and each substitute walked on to the court with pride and confidence.

Is this a new beginning for WHS basketball. It takes so little to keep the vitality and spirit of a youngster going, a kind word here, a word of encouragement there of their positive attributes and they'll go out to slay the dragons.

If encouragement can produce positive results, why then, do we feel the need at this level to teach with humiliation, degradation, threats and etc. The pressures of growing up are more than enough to handle, shouldn't there be one place or thing in lives that makes them feel good about themselves and ease the emotional pressure of the teen years.

Children are our most precious resource, let us not turn them off to the positive aspects that sports can have in their lives. Let us stop using sports as a weapon and start using as a tool, which can be used to help them over the rough spots of growing up.

QUESTIONS BUDGET

Editor, Leader:

Westfield is presently at the crossroads of 1983-84 budget preparations.

The Board of Education released their proposed budget of $21,611,381 which was reported in the Leader in the January 13 issue.

This is an increase of $1,592,801 over the 1982-83 budget or 7.9%, as permitted by the State Board of Education. Incidentally, this is the second largest increase in the last six years. The highest took place in the budget year 1980-81.

This comes when the economy is floundering and unemployment is soaring, and the future presents a bleak picture.

Just what justification is there in presenting a bill of this magnitude to the taxpayers, other than the argument that it is mandated by the State?

We went thru the same scenario last year when the budget was defeated at the polls.

Unfortunately, approval, without alteration, was consummated by the Town Council, indicating at the time "that the public should specifically watch the district's surplus funds, estimated to be at least $300,000,000 this year and noted that the Board appears to be conservative in estimating its revenue as well as its expenses."

In June, 1982, the Board of Education went on a spending spree to the extent of $600,000 of surplus funds.

In July, 1982, after the Board's spending spree, one member of the Board indicated that "Westfield voters could possibly face a bond referendum to fund capital improvements and necessary maintenance in Westfield schools sometime early next year." However, his feelings for such a program, since two bond issues had been defeated in two previous, successive years, had little chance of success.

Now, in the January 13, 1983 issue of the Leader,

Life In The Suburbs

By Al Smith

the Board is on the verge of spending $1,500,000 estimated surplus funds on necessary maintenance projects in 1983. These funds are an estimated surplus (or unexpended fund balance) anticipated for the end of the present fiscal year - June, 1983.

These surplus funds are mind boggling, since $600,000 and the $1,500,000 add up to $2,100,000.

Once again, I wonder how much surplus is left after this.

Getting back to the 1983-84 budget.

The student enrollment continues to shrink to an estimated total of 5,215. Nevertheless, the budget swells by $1,592,801. This represents a cost per pupil of $4,144.

Since the 1978-79 budget the number of students has decreased by 1380 or 20.9%. This budget has increased by 49.9%. This is difficult to comprehend. However, if you understand how the Cap Law is being used, then, the student enrollment could be reduced to zero and the budget would be in the millions to support nothing.

The Governor threatened a 3% cross the board budget cut of the state budget, unless expenses were not reduced. But the Legislature decided to impose an addition to the sales as well as the income taxes to keep the budget in balance. I look forward to a like situation next year unless our representatives address the problem in a fiscal responsible way in Trenton.

I am in favor of the best possible education for all children and support whatever means are necessary to attain that goal. However, I am fully convinced that it takes something more than just the expenditure of large sums of money, which education seems to demand today without resultant improvement.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

by Congressman

Matt Rinaldo

7th District, New Jersey

As if heating bills are not already alarmingly high in New Jersey and other Northeast states, Administration officials are again talking about imposing a tax on imported oil as a means of raising revenue to reduce the federal budget deficit.

A $5-a-barrel assessment on imported crude is among revenue measures being considered by the White House as part of a contingency plan that would be implemented in 1985 if needed to reduce the government's swollen deficits.

The proposal has emerged as the Administration and Congress prepare to negotiate the details of the fiscal 1984 budget which is scheduled to be delivered by the end of the month. The tax options to deal with the deficit problem are expected to be included in the budget proposal. If approved as part of the fiscal 1984 budget, the $5-per-barrel tax could cost consumers in excess of $30 billion a year in increased oil prices and would serve to retard the economic recovery.

As a senior Republican on the House Energy and Commerce Committee, I am opposed to the tax. When it was first proposed last year, I urged the President to reject the tax as inflationary and unfair, especially to New Jersey and other states in the Frostbelt. A fee of $5 on a 42-gallon barrel of imported oil would boost the price of gasoline and home heating oil by 12 cents per gallon, according to a study prepared by the Congressional Research Service.

The agency further estimated that a $5 tax would cause unemployment to rise by another 98,000 workers and inflation to increase by 1.5 percent. While the tax would raise an estimated $4 billion to $9 billion in 1984, its regressive features could actually increase the deficit in fiscal 1985 by $5 billion by retarding economic growth and employment.

New Jerseyans are already paying a heavy price to heat their homes and fill their gas tanks. It would be unfair to saddle them with another tax at a time when gas and oil prices are moderating because of the temporary glut, and right after the federal tax on gasoline was increased 5-cents per gallon to finance highway, bridge and mass transit improvements. It also would be contrary to the President's policy of reducing taxes and inflation to stimulate economic recovery.

The housing and automobile industries, already crippled by the recession, would be further depressed. So would agriculture and tourism, which are important to New Jersey and also are acutely sensitive to fluctuations in oil prices.

It is not necessary to impose an additional tax as a "quick fix" solution to our mounting deficit problem. Congress should seek to reduce the revenue shortfall by curtailing federal spending and repealing over generous tax breaks that benefit a few at the expense of the vast majority of working men and women.

For example, substantial savings could be achieved if Congress eliminated unneeded rural electrification, water and irrigation programs, along with expensive subsidies for peanut, sugar and tobacco growers. Billions more could be brought into the Treasury by closing tax loopholes, repealing the windfall tax breaks granted oil producers and investors, and by moderating the growth in defense spending.

"Catch the Spirit" Scouts' Anniversary Theme

Colonial District, Watchung Area Council, BSA will celebrate the 73d anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

February 6-12 has been designated Scouting Anniversary Week with an estimated (1500) Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers expected to participate in various activities in the area.

Bill Holt, chairman of this event, said exhibits will be staged at various stores in Fanwood, Garwood, North Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Watchung and Westfield.

On Scouting Anniversary Day, Feb. 8, youth members of the movement will be encouraged to wear their uniforms as a demonstration of their membership in the largest youth organization in the free world. The day also will give them an opportunity to rededicate themselves to objectives outlined in the Cub Scout Promise, Boy Scout Oath, and Explorer Code.

Scouts will participate in religious observances at their own places of worship on Feb. 6, Scout Sunday, and on Feb. 12, Scout Sabbath.

More than 45 percent of all packs, troops, and posts are chartered to religious groups. Approximately 21 percent are chartered to educational institutions and 32 percent to other community-based organizations.

Lester Friedman, district executive, said Scouting principles strongly coincide with those of chartered organizations seeking structured youth programs.

National theme for the 1983 Anniversary Week is "Catch the Scouting Spirit."

"Poet in Residence"

The fifth and sixth grades of Westfield's Advanced Learning Program, taught by Annesley Swicker and Barbara Woerz, will soon have a poet of their own "in residence." Judy Juanita, a published writer and 1982-83 winner of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Grant for Poetry, will spend the month of February working with the ALP students within each elementary school. She will seek to heighten their arts awareness and explore the creative process with them, while at the same time working on her own writing.

Juanita, a resident of Ridgewood, is a part of the Artist in Education

Judy Juanita residency sponsored by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts in the Westfield public schools.

SAR to Participate In Eagle Scout Program

The National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Boy Scouts of America have joined to form an award program for those scouts who have attained the rank of Eagle.

Willard N. Woodward, president of the West Fields Chapter, announced that 73 recognition certificates have been awarded to Eagle Scouts of the Watchung Council. Each one also received an application and a four generation genealogy chart so that he might join in a competition that might eventually lead to an award of a $2,000 scholarship given by the National Society, SAR, headquartered to Louisville, Ky.

To compete, the 73 Eagle

Scouts of the Watchung Council must return the forms and also write a short patriotic theme.

The Watchung Council winner will be invited to a West Fields chapter meeting and awarded a bronze Good Citizenship medal. He will then compete with other council winners in New Jersey for the State award of a Bronze Eagle trophy.

All State winners will be judged and the top Eagle Scout will attend the National Congress at Atlanta, Ga. to receive the $2,000 scholarship.

Wants Banks to Install Bullet-Proof Barriers

The fatal shooting of a 36-year-old bank executive in Livingston in a holdup last week points up anew the need for bullet-proof barriers between bank personnel and customers, Senator C. Louis Bassano (R-Union) said today.

The barriers would discourage potential bank robbers by making it virtually impossible to pull off a robbery successfully — in addition to the even greater benefit of protecting the lives of bank personnel, the Union County legislator asserted.

Bassano is author of legislation requiring all banks in New Jersey to install security devices and procedures to make their facilities as theft-proof as possible.

It specifically prescribes such things as the installation of bullet-resistant glass in front of teller's windows and executive's desks, as well as the installation of more sophisticated camera or closed-circuit television equipment.

According to FBI crime statistics for six months in 1980 a grand total of 3,459 bank robberies were committed in the half-year period, resulting in an astonishing loss of $22,144,853, Bassano said.

"The perpetrators employed violence in a disturbing number of incidents, resulting in 129 discharges of firearms and 75 other forms of violence including beatings, pistol whippings, etc., and a total of 59 hostages were taken."

"Anything we can do to protect bank personnel is clearly going to save lives and prevent injuries," Bassano said.

"Bank manager John Luley died from one bullet that hit him in the chest as he was talking on a telephone at the rear of the Stuyvesant Village Branch of Investors Savings and Loan Association in Livingston Jan. 13, when three bandits entered to commit the robbery."

"A barrier would have shielded the bank official from the bullet."

"A study by the Virginia Commonwealth University demonstrates the value of barriers as a deterrent."

"For example, the Marine Midland Bank, with 299 domestic offices in 203 communities in New York State, suffered losses of more than $250,000 in bank robberies in 1976. The bank identified 25 banks as "most robbery prone" and installed the barriers. The following year, robberies had dropped astonishingly to just $15,000.

"The National Bank of Detroit, similarly, suffered $250,000 in losses before the obstacles were installed, and only $50,000 over a three-year period afterward."

"The Virginia study favors the barriers over armed security guards since they preclude the possibility of a shoot-out in a crowded bank, inexperienced or ill-equipped personnel and the expense of full-time guards."

Bassano dismissed the argument that barriers would decrease the friendliness of the business climate.

"As AT&T has proved, you can reach out and touch someone even over a telephone wire. You need not have physical contact to maintain a warm business relationship."

Students Seek the "Perfect Pancake"

Mrs. Carla Cannon's third grade class at Franklin School were involved in an exciting learning experience last week. As an outgrowth of an English lesson centering around a story entitled, "The Perfect Pancake", by Virginia Kahl, the children were encouraged to learn about the various ways in which many ethnic groups use some form of pancake as food.

With the cooperation of several of the classroom mothers, Mrs. J. Cunningham, Mrs. W. Fizzell, Mrs. P. Coulter, Mrs. A. Lee, Mrs. R. Mason, Mrs. T. Stotter and Mrs. H. Weisslitz, a special event was held in the classroom. "The Perfect Pancake" luncheon allowed the children to enjoy freshly made pancakes, latkes, tortillas and dessert crepes with fresh fruit. This culinary experience was only a part of the overall lesson which included letter writing, giving directions, study of word meanings, synonyms and sur-

After-School Program at Y

A program designed to provide after-school care for children in grades 1-6 of working parents will begin Feb. 28 at the Westfield YMCA.

The Y will transport children from school to the YMCA by bus, give them a nutritional snack and afternoon activities including swimming, gym activities, arts and crafts, tutoring, values education, and sport skill classes designed for specific age groups.

The program will be held Monday through Friday from school dismissal time until 6 p.m. Registration begins Monday and may be for three, four, or five days per week. Enrollment is limited. For more details, including registration, parents' responsibilities and fees, call Carol Snow at the YMCA. The program is available to Westfield schools only.

Adult School Mail Registration in Progress

The spring brochures for the Westfield Adult School will be delivered to area residents this week. Brochures will also be distributed to local libraries, banks and real estate offices.

Classes will start March 7 and will be held Monday evenings at the Westfield High School, 550 Dorian Rd. and Monday through Thursday afternoon at Edison Junior High School, 800 Rahway Ave. Registration forms, which are printed inside of the catalogue, may be sent to the Westfield Adult School, Box 606, Westfield.

The Westfield Adult School was founded nearly 40 years ago and has served over 50,000 area residents since its establishment. The school curriculum has a variety of courses designed to appeal to a wide range of interests, and includes numerous new courses.

In person registration will be held Feb. 28, in the Senior High School between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. Because some courses have limited enrollment, however, residents are encouraged to register by mail.

Adult School Registrar May Furstner will be available to answer questions on the spring semester. She can be reached at the Westfield Adult School phone number listed in the telephone directory.

Super Science Weekend Jan. 29-30

After all, how many other luxury cars offer you the added luxury of not having to drive?

Every year, Detroit presents its new line of luxury cars. Unfortunately, in its quest for gas efficiency, it's quickly doing away with some of the luxuries that made you buy luxury cars. Comfort. Quietness. An interior you can really stretch out in. You won't find them in most of today's new cars. But you will find them in the new cars NJ TRANSIT is now running on the Raritan Valley Line.

We've replaced all the old trains with new ones that are considered the most comfortable commuter cars ever built — providing the smoothest, quietest ride ever. With year-round climate control, carpeting, reversible high-back cushion seats, soft interior lighting and many other "standard" features, these new cars will make every trip you take more comfortable. And faster, too. For example, they can take you from Plainfield to Penn Station in Newark in 30 minutes — from Westfield, a mere 20 minutes. From Newark, there are convenient transfers to midtown New York (Penn Station) on NJ TRANSIT trains and downtown via PATH.

We're also adding new platforms and making other improvements at many Raritan Valley Line stations.

To save you money and add extra convenience, NJ TRANSIT offers 10-trip, weekly and monthly discount tickets. And Mail-Tik, our computerized ticket-by-mail service, can save you the hassle of

Fidelity Union Reports Earnings

Peter Cartmell, chairman of the board, Fidelity Union Bancorporation announced that the board of directors today voted the regular quarterly dividend of $0.70 per share, payable Feb. 11 to shareholders of record Feb. 1. The annual cash dividend rate on the Bancorporation's common stock is $2.80 per share.

Cartmell also reported income from continuing operations before securities transactions of $12,596,000 for 1982 which compares with $24,877,000 for 1981. On a per share basis, earnings amounted to $3.33 in 1982 and $6.57 in 1981. The primary reasons for this 49.4% decline were lower net interest income, a loss in 1982 related to a long standing equity investment and higher income taxes.

Net interest income, on a fully taxable equivalent basis, amounted to $131.6 million in 1982 and $142.9 million in 1981. This decrease was largely the result of a narrowing of the net interest rate spread which was partially offset by a modest increase in the volume of interest earning assets. The spread declined principally because of an increase in the proportion of interest earning assets supported by interest bearing sources of funds.

Total other operating income increased 7.4% during 1982 to $28.6 million from $26.6 million a year earlier. This improvement was attributable to an increase in trust income and higher service charges on deposit accounts.

Total other operating expenses, which include a contribution for two years to the employee savings plan, amounted to $118.1 million in 1982 compared with $114.6 million in 1981, a 3.1% increase.

Applicable income taxes increased largely as a result of the Bancorporation's inability, in 1982, to recognize the maximum Federal tax benefit related to its operating results for the year. This was not the case in 1981 when the Federal tax benefit associated with that year's operations was recognized thereby lowering total income tax expense.

The provision for loan losses amounted to $6.7 million in 1982 compared with $5.9 million in 1981. This increase was primarily reflective of a significant growth in loan volume during the latter part of 1982. Net loan charge-offs were $4.7 million in 1982 and $6.0 million in 1981. The allowance for loan losses applicable to continuing operations totaled $19.9 million or 1.09% of loans at December 31, 1982 compared with an allowance of $17.9 million or 1.13% of loans at year-end 1981.

A significant step was taken in late 1982 to correct the Bancorporation's unfavorable Federal tax position. During the fourth quarter, $104 million of tax-exempt securities were sold at a net after-tax loss of $9.8 million. This step will result in 4 major benefits: (1) it positions the Bancorporation to enter 1983 in a positive Federal tax position, (2) it allowed the Bancorporation to invest the proceeds from the sale in higher yielding assets, (3) it shortened the maturity of the investment portfolio, thereby providing more flexibility in managing the balance sheet and (4) it allows the Bancorporation to claim a $10 million refund of Federal taxes paid in prior years. Including this loss and a $1.1 million loss on the discontinued operations of Suburban Finance Company, net income amounted to $1,761,000 in 1982. Net income for 1981 amounted to $17,523,000 which included a $7.2 million after-tax loss on the discontinued operations of Suburban Finance Company. Net income per share for 1982 was $9.46 compared with $4.63 for 1981.

For the fourth quarter, income from continuing operations before securities transactions amounted to $2,249,000 in 1982 which compares with $5,450,000 in 1981. On a per share basis, this amounted to $0.60 in 1982 and $1.44 in 1981. The 58.7% decrease was primarily attributable to a loss related to an equity investment and a higher loan loss provision prompted by a significant growth in loan volume.

Net interest income, on a fully taxable equivalent basis, was $33.3 million for the fourth quarter of 1982 and $32.3 million for the fourth quarter of 1981. This improvement was principally the result of a significant increase in loan volume which was partially offset by a decline in the net interest rate spread.

The provision for loan losses amounted to $2.8 million for the fourth quarter of 1982 compared with $1.7 million a year earlier. This increase was primarily the result of the significant growth in loan volume during the fourth quarter of 1982. Net loan charge-offs for the quarter were $3.4 million in 1982 and $1.3 million in 1981.

As explained above, the Bancorporation sold a substantial portion of its tax-exempt securities portfolio at a $9.8 million after-tax loss during the fourth quarter of 1982. As a result, a net loss of $7,576,000 was reported for the last quarter of 1982 compared with net income of $5,363,000 for the fourth quarter of 1981. On a per share basis this amount to a loss of $2.00 in 1982 and earnings of $1.42 in 1981.

Total assets were $3.4 billion at Dec. 31, 1982 and $3.1 billion at Dec. 31, 1981. Total deposits at Dec. 31, amounted to $2.8 billion in 1982 compared with $2.4 billion in 1981. Shareholders' equity totaled $202 million at the close of 1982 and $211 million a year earlier.

Housing Market Improves, Says Realtor President

Moderating home prices coupled with declining mortgage interest rates make now an excellent time to invest in a home according to Walter E. Eckhart, president of the Westfield Board of Realtors.

"Mortgage interest rates have declined substantially in the past six to eight months — as much as 3-4 percentage points," Eckhart said. "While there are many factors contributing to the affordability of housing, none are more important than the effect of high mortgage rates."

The Realtor Executive explained that for each percentage point reduction in mortgage interest rates, a prospective homeowner's monthly payment is reduced between $40-50 on the average. He also stressed that there are now an estimated four million more American families qualified for mortgages than last year.

He noted that home prices have stabilized during the past 18 months, again largely due to unusually high interest rates.

"The average sale price of an existing single-family home showed only a slight increase in the past 12 months," Eckhart said. "But that moderation in price has been reflective of the high mortgage rates. If interest rates continue to decline, the appreciation rate will undoubtedly return to the levels homeowners have enjoyed for years."

According to the Realtor President, the National Association of Realtors is predicting a 34% increase in sales volume of existing single-family homes in 1983. With lower mortgage rates and moderate prices, it is now definitely a buyer's market, Eckhart concluded.

Amelia (Judy) Smith, former Westfield Resident and Realtor associated with H. Clay Friedrichs "Gallery of Homes" for 10 years, was installed this month as president of the Ocean County Board of Realtors at a dinner-dance held at the Holiday Inn, Toms River, attended by more than 225 people.

Jefferson Kindergarteners Acquire Oklahoma Friends

Mrs. Anne Marie Petriano's kindergarten students at Jefferson School are participating in a Weekly Reader — sponsored pen-pal program. Weekly Reader pairs schools from two diverse areas and the children take it from there.

The Jefferson kindergarteners have been corresponding with children from the Pleasant Grove School in Seminole, Okla. This rural public school has an enrollment of about 150 students, many of them American Indians, in grades 1 through 12. In addition to letters the children have exchanged photographs, drawings and things from their geographical environments.

The Oklahomans sent a newspaper clipping covering the 75th anniversary of their statehood; mistletoe; their state flower; Osage oranges; the curriculum on Indian education; and pecans, which the children gather and sell, to earn

Hardwick Attends Trade Exposition

Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) recently accompanied Governor Thomas Kean to an international trade exposition, as part of the administration's efforts to increase New Jersey's share of the nation's export market.

Kean had invited Hardwick to the exposition in Rhode Island, which was held earlier this week. Hardwick is chairman of the new Legislative Committee to Encourage Exports, which recently issued a four-point plan to help New Jersey's businesses begin, or increase, exporting.

The exposition, called "Northeast Exports: Export Trade and Economic Expansion," was organized by the Coalition of Northeastern Governors.

There was a forum on expanding small business exports, the role of the state and federal government in export financing, and implementing the federal Export Trading Company Act," said Hardwick. "I have learned things that I can use in my efforts to help revive New Jersey's economy," he said.

The coalition includes New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and all the New England states, except Maine. New Jersey also was represented by Ming Hau, director of the state Division of International Trade, and a number of business executives, Hardwick said.

Di Francesco, Franks, Ogden To Seek New Terms

State Senator Donald T. DiFrancesco, Assemblyman Bob Franks and Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden have announced their intention to seek reelection this year.

The three legislators, all Republicans, represent District 22 which includes 14 communities including Mountainside in western Essex and Union counties. They announced their reelection intentions in a joint statement released today.

Senator DiFrancesco, recently re-elected to his second term as Senate Minority leader, lives in Scotch Plains. He won a special election in 1979 to fill the unexpired term of former Senator Peter J. McDonough and was re-elected in 1981. He had served two terms in the State Assembly after his election in 1975.

Assemblyman Franks is completing his second term. A resident of Berkeley Heights, Franks is a member of the "Sex and Heart Disease" will be the topic of the next Community Health Education lecture held at Rahway Hospital on Wednesday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. The speaker for the evening will be Edward Partenope, M.D.

There is a widespread belief that sex puts too great a strain on a damaged heart, but according to hospital personnel, the cardiac risks of sex are far less than the average person thinks. Dr. Partenope will address this problem and answer questions from the audience.

This program is free and open to the public.

Dr. Robert Hyatt To Conduct Symposium

Robert S. Hyatt, acting director of special services for the Westfield public schools, will present a research report at the winter conference program of the New Jersey Reading Association, Feb. 5, at William Paterson College.

Dr. Hyatt will conduct a research symposium dealing with reading and special needs at the conference which has been planned along the theme of "Challenge and Options in Reading: Materials, Media and Methods."

Donald Stouder presented a CPR program to local Rotarians last week explaining how cardiopulmonary resuscitation can help to save lives. If a person's heart and lungs stop functioning because of a heart attack, shock, drowning or other causes, artificial circulation and cardiac compressions can be administered manually. This stimulates the natural functions of the heart and lungs. A person trained in CPR can make the difference between life and death by administering life sustaining help while professional medical care is being sought, Stouder said. Invitations have been sent to craft dealers for display tables at this year's Rotary Scholarship Pancake Day on March 5. Further information is available from Bill Raney at P.O. Box 234, Westfield, N.J. 07091.

WHIS Latin students Sara Barcan, Pam Stock, Jane Arkel and Kristen Kueter observe one of the displays in the Search for Alexander Exhibit of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. Fifty Latin students and their teachers, Madelyn Tochka and Michael Dunn recently took a field trip to view the collection of artifacts from the 4th century B.C. Macedonia. According to experts, these recent finds are from the tomb of King Philip of Macedonia, father of Alexander the Great. Included in the exhibit were many examples of finely-worked gold and bronze including an extraordinary diadem of golden oak leaves.

Members of the scholarship committee of Far Brook School in Short Hills discuss eligibility requirements for the new merit scholarships for seventh graders which the school is offering this year. From left to right are Mary Wearn Haigh, director of Far Brook School; Betty Crum (seated), business manager; Raymond Nippes, president of the board; and Peter Segal, board treasurer. Two partial tuition scholarships of $1,500 each will be awarded to two seventh graders -- one in music/drama/arts and one in science/mathematics. Interested parents or students should contact Far Brook.

Gambling Hidden Disease in State

Compulsive gambling is a serious, but hidden and underestimated problem plaguing the state, according to Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union).

In his "Chuck Hardwick's Legislative Report," appearing on Thursday evenings on Suburban Cablevision's channel 32 through the month of February, Hardwick examines compulsive gambling, what causes it, who it affects, and how it can be helped.

National State Bank Assets Up

W. Emilen Roosevelt, president and chief executive officer of the National State Bank, Elizabeth, has reported that assets of the bank exceeded $1 billion for the first time in its history and that earnings for 1982 set a record for the fourth consecutive year.

Income before securities transactions in 1982 amounted to $9,916,000 up $1,111,000 or 12.62% from the $8,805,000 earned in 1981. The equaled $3.31 per share compared with $2.93 in 1981.

Net income after security transactions was $9,686,000 up 10.17% from $8,792,000 the year earlier. Per share net income equaled $3.23 versus $2.93 for 1981.

Chester B. Pearsall

Former Westfield resident Chester B. Pearsall, 94, died Friday, Jan. 21 at the home of his daughter, Alice P. Tilley, with whom he lived in Litchfield, Conn.

He was born Aug. 26, 1888 in Westfield, the son of the late Edgar R. and Mary Ferris Pearsall.

A graduate of Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pa., he was a member of Tau Beta Pi.

During World War I, he was a pilot with the Army Air Corps.

Mr. Pearsall was retired from Continental Can Co. where he had been a sales manager.

Commander Edward Ellsberg

Edward Ellsberg, a naval salvage expert whose daring exploits in raising vessels from the bottom of the sea captured the public imagination between the two world wars, died Monday of cancer in Bryn Mawr, Pa. He was 91 years old and had lived for the last three decades in St. Petersburg Beach, Fla.

Whether in or out of naval service, the retired rear admiral, who was best known as Commander Ellsberg, was called on when difficult salvage operations were required. His first successful recovery, the raising of the submarine S-51, after it was sunk in a collision off Block Island in September 1925, earned him worldwide acclaim.

Three years later he was summoned when another Navy submarine the S-4, went to the bottom in a collision off Cape Cod. And in 1938, when the submarine Squalus was sunk off Portsmouth, N.H., several crew members were saved and the Squalus was raised as a result of salvage equipment he had developed after the earlier tragedies.

Commander Ellsberg was also an author. Several of the books he wrote dealt with salvage. One book, "Pigboats," was made into the film "Hell Below."

Ellsberg said he considered life in the peacetime Navy dull and frustrating, resigning his commission three times but returning when he was needed.

Edward Ellsberg was born in New Haven, the son of Russian Jewish immigrants. When he was a year-old, his father became a dairyman in Colorado and he spent most of his youth a thousand miles from the sea that was to become his career. He had lived in Westfield during the 1930's, residing on Handford Place.

Appointed to Annapolis, he graduated at the head of his Naval Academy class in 1914 and was assigned to graduate engineering studies.

His wife, the former Lucy Knowlton Buck, died in 1978. He is survived by a grandson, Edward Pollard of Wayne, Pa. by a granddaughter, Ann Heilakka of Brooklyn, and by a great-grandchild, Nicholas Pollard of Wayne.

Ziobro Case

significant date which appears within the body of the Consent Order appears to establish the fact that respondent has been continuously on suspension with pay from his teaching position as of January 31, 1982.

"It is further observed from the record of the transcripts in this matter that the board had presented and concluded its evidence and direct testimony of witnesses in support of the tenure charge against respondent which was subject to cross examination. However, on Sept. 14, 1982 counsel for respondent represented to the court that respondent, upon advice from his physician regarding the poor condition of his health, was unable to proceed with presentation of any evidence or testimony on his own behalf in defense of the board's tenure charge against him. More specifically, it was represented to the court by respondent's counsel that it would be a life threatening ordeal for respondent to go forward in this case.

"Consequently, respondent was prepared to resign from the board's employ if it were an acceptable condition to the court and the board as a matter of final disposition of the tenure charge against him. (Tr. 15 (Sept. 14, 1982))

The record of this matter contains a letter dated Sept. 15, 1982, from respondent's physician confirming the representation made to the court by counsel for respondent.

"Upon review of the record the Commissioner finds and determines that it is necessary to remand this matter to the Office of Administrative Law for the purpose of determining the effective date of respondent's resignation from the board's employ inasmuch as it cannot be ascertained from a review of the initial decision or the Consent Order attached thereto.

"Assuming arguendo that the Commissioner were to accept the settlement reached by the parties herein as not being violative of public policy for payment of services not rendered, the Commissioner is constrained to observe that the extremely serious nature of the tenure charge as contained herein is of significant concern relative to respondent's future role within the public schools of the State of New Jersey. Consequently, the Commissioner, assuming clarification of the status of respondent herein, feels compelled to point out that respondent's resignation does not preclude his being answerable under existing regulations for charges of conduct unbecoming a teacher. In the absence of the matter presently before the Commissioner being brought to fruition herein, the Commissioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6:11-3.7 has the option of referring this matter to the State Board of Examiners for its consideration pursuant to a due process hearing as to whether respondent should or should not be deprived of his certificate.

"Accordingly, the Commissioner directs that respondent be given an opportunity to decide whether or not he wants to go forward with his defense of the tenure charge against him in view of the above determination. Respondent is required to reach this decision and inform Judge Glickman prior to the time this matter on remand is transmitted from the Office of Administrative Law for the Commissioner's final determination."

Ziobro's resignation, approved by the school board in November, is effective next Monday. In the consent order, signed Oct. 17 by Glickman, Rizzi, Klausner and Ziobro, the date had mistakenly been listed at Jan. 31, 1982, instead of Jan. 31, 1983.

than the actual costs of legal parking. The most important benefit of enforcement will be the increased availability of legal on-street parking spaces for short-duration parkers.

"An improved parking ticket processing system is needed which insures collection and adjudication while effectively measuring the parking enforcement program's performance and resource utilization," Brady added. "The continuation of a healthy retail and business activity in the center of Westfield will permit the town to continue to receive a substantial portion (12%) of the town's tax income from this area," Brady contends. "Off-street parking investments are as important to the business community as parks, schools and libraries are to the residential community."

Brady said he favors financing of off-street parking facilities through the use of bonds secured by revenues from the operations of the parking facilities and from on-street parking meter revenues.

Claiming that use of the Elm St. athletic field "is a mistake" because of athletic needs and its location, the first ward councilman said that a ramp style parking deck which is "probably needed" could be located on any of the five major lots in the northside business district.

Polishing song and dance routines for the Washington School show, "Inn Trouble," are music director Mary Lou Stevens, seated; choreographer Carolee V. Meglaughlin (dark leotard); and assistant to the choreographer Judy Minichino. The show is being staged on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 4 and 5, at Roosevelt Junior High School. Evening performances are at 8 p.m. Saturday matinee is at 2 p.m.

Parents, Teachers Ready For "Inn Trouble"

Washington School parents plus 10 Washington teachers and principal Joe Pellicone are polishing their lines, their dancing shoes (including some given to them by the Radio City Rockettes) and their song and dance routines in preparation for "Inn Trouble," the 35th annual PTA benefit show being staged Friday and Saturday, Feb. 4 and 5, at Roosevelt Junior High School. Evening performances are at 8 p.m. There is a 2 p.m. Saturday matinee.

The musical comedy concerns the efforts of Kenny Dooit to fulfill the conditions of his uncle's will so he can inherit the fashionable, but financially-shakey Mild Manor Inn. Complicating his task are two rival gangs holding conventions in the hotel: Richie Slirmons and his Health Hounds and Wendy Wonka (of chocolate fame) and her Snack Packs. Helping Kenny are his Wits, which he must keep about him; Maid Mary with her MBA, and a quintet of lovely ladies who get down to the bare essentials when faced with a crisis!

The action-packed "can-he-do-it?" includes twenty dance and song routines performed by a 36-member dance troupe and a 40-member chorus.

Tickets for the three performances are available at Jeannette's Gift Shop, Robert Treat Liquor Shop and from Mrs. Ronald Burkett and Mrs. Edward Hendrak.

Lin To Perform With Noda

Chio-liang Lin

Violinist Chio-liang Lin will be heard in concert with Ken Noda on Saturday, April 16, at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Emanu-El, 756 East Broad St. They are being presented by "Mostly Music" in its new "Young Artist Series."

Lin first caught the public's attention when he appeared as soloist with the National Symphony Orchestra, by special invitation of its conductor, Mstislav Rostropovich. The occasion was the inaugural concert for President Carter in Washington's Kennedy Center. Lin was one of five young artists chosen by Isaac Stern to celebrate his 60th birthday at Carnegie Hall. Stern has called Chio-liang Lin "a genius."

Lin left his native Taiwan at the age of 12 after he had won the Taiwan National Violin Competition. His mother sent him to Australia to continue his studies. After winning top prizes there he applied to New York's Juilliard School where he was accepted as a scholarship student by the violin teacher, Dorothy Delay.

He arrived in New York alone, at age 15, and ever since his career has steadily climbed. He won international competitions in Madrid and Aspen. On New Year's Eve 1981, Lin made his debut with the New York Philharmonic under Mehta. Critics have been unanimous in their praise. He now performs more than 100 times a year world-wide with leading orchestras, including those in Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, London and Berlin; last summer he performed at the "Mostly Mozart," Spoleto and Marlboro Festivals. In 1981, he toured China and Australia. Chio-liang Lin and Ken Noda have been asked by CBS Records to record all the Mozart violin and piano sonatas.

Robert McDuffie, violinist, and Sandra Rivers, pianist, will open the "Young Artist Series" on Saturday evening, Feb. 19. McDuffie will perform with Yehudi Menuhin at Carnegie Hall in March. Rivers, an international first prize winner, will appear at New York's 92nd St. "Y."

JV Wrestlers Win Over Millburn, Cranford

By Robin Sitzer and Jennifer Arpino
Last week was a profitable one for the WHS junior varsity wrestling team when it defeated both Millburn and Cranford.

The score at the Millburn match was 38-21 which included four pins made by sophomores Jim Post (100), Jay Factor (157), Larry Smaracko (187), and Sean Boatwright (HWT).

Post, wrestling in his first match of the season, was aggressive and fought hard to acquire the pin. Factor again showed his skill when he pinned his opponent after getting points for the takedown and for reversals. Smaracko got points for the takedown as well as for a nearfall which eventually led to the pin. Boatwright, also wrestling in his first match of the season, did well in getting the pin.

Exceptional grapplers included Doug Kehler (140), Frank Giannone (134), Hung Song (128), and Todd Sacks (100). Kehler again fought hard in his match. He added up points by executing reversals as well as many nearfalls. He only let his opponent obtain two points total throughout and won the match by superior decision. Giannone also had an outstanding match and registered a win as did Song and Sacks.

When the grapplers opposed Cranford, the outcome was that of Westfield being victorious by a score of 42-14 with outstanding efforts by all team members.

The key contributors included sophomores Dave Cagnassola (169) and Boatwright. In Cagnassola's match he came from behind to take the advantage and with a strong effort pinned his opponent.

Boatwright again did an outstanding job and pinned his man 57 seconds into the first period.

Although they didn't have pins, Factor, Kehler, and Joe Valenti did their fair share to further Westfield's lead. Factor fought very hard and didn't let his opponent get any points and won by superior decision. This was done by executing reversals as well as nearfalls and escapes. Valenti as well won major decision after a great match.

Also registering wins were sophomores Curt Cheeseman (107), Giannone, and Dima Ostrofski (147). Junior Song tied his match which gave two points to Westfield. Smaracko's Match was forfeited.

The next match will be at home on Feb. 4 at 6 o'clock.

WHS Cagers' Record 6-6

By Dave Coates

The Westfield High School boys' basketball team continued its roller-coaster of a season last week. The Devils upped their record to 6-5 Tuesday, with an impressive victory 66-47 over Berkeley Heights, only to see it even off at 6-6 on Friday, after being trounced by Irvington 62-33.

Three quick fast break baskets by Chris Frerecks at the start of the second half, gave the Blue Devils a 40-30 lead that sealed Berkeley Heights' fate. The Devil offense got going early and kept the same pace throughout the game, not permitting the Highlanders to get closer than four points at any time in the contest.

An outstanding team performance was the key to this overwhelming victory, as the Devils produced, for the first time this season, four players scoring in double figures. Chris Rupp scored 8 of his team's high 18 points in the first quarter alone, this sparked the Devils to a 16-10 first period lead. Balanced scoring in the second and third quarters allowed Westfield to cruise to one of its most impressive victories of the year, 66-47.

Rupp also added 8 rebounds to his 18 points, and Frerecks threw in 14 while dishing out four assists. Dan Hauck and John Miles each scored 12, with Miles claiming 10 rebounds and Hauck distributing a career high 10 assists.

A stronger, quicker, and intimidating Irvington squad gave the Blue Devils a lesson in team basketball Friday, as they scored the first 18 points of the game and never let up.

The Campers outscored the shell shock Devils 18-4 in the first quarter, and continued to add to the lead. Irvington's Cleve Hutchins pummeled the stunned Devils with 16 points and 9 rebounds, he appeared to control both the offensive and defensive boards. Behind Hutchins, Irvington compiled a 30-18 half time advantage, which Rupp and company could not make-up. Rupp led Westfield with 15 points, with Miles contributing 12 and 9 rebounds.

Bowlers Move Into #2 Spot

By Kathleen McCall

The Westfield High School varsity bowling team finished its week by defeating Kearny and Union 5-2. The Devils moved up a notch in the Watchung Conference standings. After moving down into third place throughout the week, the strikers' victory over Union upped the team into second place.

The strikers rolled into their first victory of the week as the team defeated Kearny 5-2. The bowlers took an early command of the match winning their first two games 859-790 and 855-773. Junior Dave Russo lead the Devils to their first game victory with 201 points. He also captured the lead of the third game with a score of 190. Junior John Russitano bowled a 200 point game to dominate the scoring of the second game. Even with a strike and spare in the last frame by senior captain Chris Troy, the Devils lost the third game 873-933. Troy bowled the highest series of the team with 551 points, followed by Russo with a score of 547.

Defeating Union 5-2, the strikers bowled their fifth victory of the season. The bowlers captured the first two games of the match beating Union 823-777 and 883-786. Troy bowled the highest series of the team with 532 points. He also led the third game scoring 201 points. Russo and Russitano led the first and second games for the Devils bowling 184 and 193 respectively. Russo had the second highest series of the team with 527.

With 173.6 point average per game, Russo leads the varsity squad. He is followed by junior Scott Leshick (166.4 points) and Troy (165.7). Knocking down 14,848 pins in six matches, the Devils average 824.9

points per match. The Strikers have recorded 33 points with 14 wins and 4 losses so far this season. The Strikers will bowl against third place Roselle Catholic today at 3:30 at Echo Lanes.

Trackmen Recapture Relay Championship

The Westfield High School boys winter track team repaid rival Elizabeth for last year's two point defeat in the Union County Relay Championship on Monday. Westfield won the elusive title back from Elizabeth by the same two point margin in a 23-21 upset.

Going into the meet the team realized that every point was crucial and that the outcome would probably be close. Those thoughts were put into actions as they placed in all six events.

The distance medley placed first in the competition with a final time of 11:16.3. Mike Shapiro led off the medley in 2:12 for the half mile leg. Kelvin Blanton was next for Westfield as he ran the quarter leg in 55.1. In the 3/4 leg, Tom Spaine ran 3:24.1. Andy Jacob clinched the victory in the mile spot as he ran 4:44.9.

Also placing first was the two mile relay, Jim Fisk led off in 2:07 for his half mile leg. Bill Byrne who ran 2:07.6, Greg Kasko ran the third leg in 2:02.9 and handed the baton to anchor leg Brian Bernstien who ran 2:05.9. The total time was 8:23.9.

Although the wins were impressive, one of the major factors in the winning of the team title was the shot put relay. The relay is voluntarily coached by Greg Gorski. Winter track coach John Martin feels that the work Gorski is putting in is a real help to the team's success. Said Martin, "Greg's been great. The time he's put in with the team has been invaluable. I don't know what we'd do without him."

The team of Myron Pilecki 44"4", Vince Lotano 43" 4", Kevin McGorty 37" 8" and Harvey Grage 37" 7" combined for a total of 162" 9" and second place.

In the sprints, the 880 relay team of Wayne Tiller 23.8, Kelvin Blanton 23.2, and Rich Forbes 24.4, placed third in 1:40.6. The mile relay placed fourth in 3:41.6. Tiller led off again. His time was 56.6. Blanton and McGorty ran 55.1 and 57.8, respectively. Forbes anchored in 54.1.

The shuttle hurdle relay team was also fourth. McGorty led off in 7.8. Dan Beigler ran 8.3. Both Noby Ohta and Hans Clark ran 8.9. The total time was 34.4. At the state relay meet the team was not successful as they placed third overall.

Kevin McGorty 6'8" and Greg Kasko 6'2" combined in the high jump relay. They tied for first and set a school record of 12' 10".

The 880 relay team of Tiller 23.8, Blanton 23.5, Byrne 23.9, and Forbes 22.8 placed third, in the 1:34.1.

A new school record was set by the sprint medley as they placed fourth in 3:40.1. Tiller again led off in 23.7. Blanton ran 23.8. Forbes ran 50.8 and Kasko anchored in 2:02.1.

The two mile relay also placed fourth. The team was led off by Byrne in 2:02.2. Shapiro was next in 2:03.1. Brian Bern Stein was third in 2:01.9 and Kasko finished 2:02.4. The final time was 8:10.3.

The team has the weekend off to recoup and will start next week on its individual competition.

Cagerettes Lose Week's Games

By Maria Fleming

The Westfield High School girls' varsity basketball team slipped to 4-7 last week, losing to Governor Livingston 71-46 and to Irvington 50-40.

The Blue Devils fell behind early in the game against Governor. By the end of the first period they found themselves down by seven points. Although the girls held their ground in the second, they slid again in the third as GL outscored the Devils 18-8 in the period to put the game out of reach.

Foul trouble and a number of turnovers did not help the Devil cause. By the end of the first half, Westfield had starters Lisa McCowan (forward), Rosann Fusaro (guard) and Nancy Kasko (forward) spending time on the bench with three fouls apiece. By the end of the fourth quarter, all four had fouled out. Nearly 20 of GL's points were scored on the foul line. WHS also had 35 turnovers in the contest, 13 of which were committed in the detrimental third quarter.

Offensively, WHS was led by Kasko who totalled

11 points for the day in addition to shooting over 70% from the foul line five for seven. Forwards Traci Love and Carol Traynor followed with nine and eight points respectively.

In the Westfield-Irvington match, the Devils managed to stay within a few points of their opponent throughout the first half. Again a poor third quarter hurt WHS. By the period's completion, the Devils found themselves down by 22 points. A strong fourth quarter effort in which WHS rolled off 20 points (twice more than in any other quarter) was not enough to catch the tough Irvington team.

Forward Noreen Morris paced the Devils with 12 points, ten of which came in the final period. McCowan chipped in eight. Tomorrow Westfield will face the top-ranked Union the Devils found Farmers, home at 3:45.

Westfield High School Football Coach Gary Kehler will be honored at a testimonial dinner on Saturday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m. at L'Affaire Restaurant, Route 22 in Mountainside. The event is sponsored by the friends and boosters of the Westfield sports program and will be in the form of a roast encompassing Coach Kehler's 22 years at Westfield High School as a successful teacher and coach of football, wrestling and golf. Dinner chairman Bob Baldwin promises an exciting and memorable evening "full of the surprises, successes, and interesting events from Coach Kehler's career at Westfield High School."

Tickets are limited and will be sold on a first come first serve basis from any member of Westfield School Boosters Association or at the following in-town locations: Century 21 Taylor & Love Realtors, 436 South Ave.; Greco Steam Carpet Cleaning Co., 405 Cumberland St.; and Rorden Realty, 41 Elm St.

Matmen Win Two

By Robin Sitzer and Jennifer Arpino

The WHS varsity wrestling team was again defeated last week by Millburn and Cranford.

In the first match of last week the grapplers were defeated 11 to 36. The wrestlers who brought in points were Milan Di'Pierro (129) who pinned, Tom Snyder (189) who won a regular decision and Darren Pinto (122) who tied. The second match of the week against undefeated Cranford proved a much better fight. Though the 31-13 score indicates a large loss, the individual matches were very competitive. Ron Parisi (169) won a major decision and Pat Burgdorf (140), Jim Dodd (134) and Tom Snyder (187) all received regular decisions.

Sermon On Mount Subject Of Series

The February program for the Triangle Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church in Westfield was recently approved by its executive committee. The Rev. J. Wilbur Patterson has accepted an invitation to present a series of studies entitled "Kingdom Perspectives From the Sermon on the Mount."

The Rev. Patterson is an ordained clergyman serving currently as the program director for volunteers in mission for the program agency of the United Presbyterian Church. He is a member of the Elizabeth Presbytery and a member of its mission committee, the planning division and the planning committee of the Presbytery. He is chairman of the Presbytery Peace-keeping Committee and has held other responsible offices in prior years.

The Triangle Bible Class wishes to share this study opportunity and has extended an invitation to all town residents to meet each Sunday morning, beginning Feb. 6 at 8:45 a.m. in the lounge of the Parish House of the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain Ave.

"Stone Age Cinderella" At Newark Museum

The classic story of "Cinderella" will be transformed into a Stone Age setting at the Newark Museum, in a free performance on Saturday, beginning at 1:30 p.m.
A 12:30 p.m. live animal talk precedes the theatre program on January 15. The museum is located at 49 Washington St. in downtown Newark, and is open every day from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free to the museum and to the theatre program.

Converts Course Begins Feb. 15

A 15-week course for Prospective Converts to Judaism and others interested in Judaism will be offered by three Rabbis in Union County beginning Feb. 15. The 15 Tuesday evening sessions will take place at Temple Emanu-El, 756 East Broad St., from 7:30-9:30 p.m. The course will offer instruction in basic Hebrew, a survey of Jewish History, an introduction to the Jewish Holidays and a discussion of the principles of the Jewish Faith.

According to the three Rabbis sponsoring the conversion course, Rabbi Gerald Goldman, Rabbi Charles Krolloff and Rabbi Joshua Goldstein, Judaism is not a missionizing religion; nevertheless, over the centuries, many persons have studied and accepted the Jewish Faith and become part of the Jewish People. Except for a period of time during the Middle Ages, when Jews were forbidden by the State to accept converts, the Jewish People have always welcomed those who wish to learn about Judaism and become part of the Jewish Faith.

Persons interested in further information about the course are invited to contact Rabbi Goldman at Temple Shalom, Plainfield; Rabbi Krolloff at Temple Emanu-El of Westfield or Rabbi Goldstein at Temple Sha'arey Shalom in Springfield.

Young and old will gather at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Assembly Hall of the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain Ave. for a pot luck supper followed by an 8 o'clock program of storytelling for all ages.

Professional storyteller Kathy Pierce of Phillipsburg will pull some favorites from her repertoire of stories. Mrs. Pierce is adept with audiences of all ages, especially family groups. She feels an identity with her stories and through her voice and body movements, relays that to her audience. She says, "I like the kinds of tales that people will think about later, that will ask questions and give an audience a different view of life."

Members of the community are invited to the program at 8 p.m. No reservations are needed.

Free Movie January 20 At Mtside. Gospel Chapel

A Distant Thunder, a Mark IV Pictures production, will be presented by Mountainside Gospel Chapel at 7 p.m. on Jan. 30 in the Auditorium Chapel.

The 78-minute color film is a sequel to Mark IV Pictures' 1973 release, A Thief in the Night.

The film is an interpretation of chapters 6, 7, and 8 from the Book of Revelation, showing how conditions might well be during the times of tribulation foretold in the gospel.

The film stars Petty Dunning, Sally Johnson, and Sandy Stevens and was produced under the direction of Donald W. Thompson.

A Distant Thunder portrays events foretold in the Bible through the predicament of Patty, the leading character, who, with her two friends, Wenda and Sandy are among a large number of people held prisoner because they have not received the "Mark of the Beast" under the reign of terror prevailing in the world during the time of tribulation. Those who refuse the "mark" face death and martyrdom.

In the portrayal of biblical prophecy, the world is plagued by earthquakes, famine and terror. A new world government tries to explain away the events by denouncing the

by Kitty Duncan, Pharmacist

If you have a question concerning the expiration date of your prescription talk to our pharmacists at JARVIS PHARMACY, 54 Elm St., 233-0662, 0663, 0664. We can special fill orders on any item not found in stock and do it with a minimum of delays. Greeting cards, Whitman's candies, franchised cosmetics and toiletries are stocked for Valentine's Day and other occasions. Open: Mon. thru Fri. 9 a.m.-9 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Holidays 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

The extent to which a drug will retain its effectiveness is often a function of its age. The type of coating on a pill, its exposure to air, the temperature and the bottle type can all affect a drug's potency. On occasion, age is not critical. For instance, when moisture seeps into a bottle of aspirin, it will simply render it harmless over a period of time, neither good, nor bad. However, a drug, such as an antibiotic, may undergo chemical changes after its expiration date which make it potentially harmful. For example, taking an antibiotic after the expiration date can result in a serious liver disorder.

HANDY HINT: Throw away all drugs whose expiration date has past.

Sixth Grade Cagers Active

Sixth grade WBA cager results last weekend were:

Kentucky 41 Georgetown 30

In a toughly fought game, Kentucky defeated Georgetown 41-30. Kentucky was led on offense by Darrell Robinson with 13 points, Lee Krasner with 12 points, Robbie Roth with 9 points, Mike Hamilton with 6 points and Katie Feingold with 1 point. Kentucky led all game with a quick breaking offense. Jeff Carovillano, Phil Linden, Bill Callahan, John Pushko and Roy Jansen played sparkling ball with fine screens, picks and rebounding.

Georgetown was led in scoring by Mike Pushko, Charles LaRosa, and Jeff Kopelman with 5 points each. John Macko (4 points), Greg Kilroy and Dave Stravach did a yeoman job off the boards. Pat Quill, Bobby Wischusen, Erik Markey and Mike Coheeny each helped with a timely basket and handled the ball well.

Rutgers 26 Penn State 17

Rutgers kept on the winning track against a fine Penn State five with a 26-17 outcome. Tracy Martin led all scorers with 8 points with Oran Margulis, Jerry Infantino and Jamie DelGuidice each contributing six. Helping to spark the offense were Terry Hegarty and Greg Tranto. At the other end of the court Sara Wolf, Paul Darmony and Robbie McCoid were responsible for shutting down the well coached State quintet.

Active Seniors May Enjoy Playing Ancient Scottish Game of Curling

A special curling program and league for active retirees and senior citizens of this area has been set up by the Plainfield Curling Club, it has been announced by Les Cook of Summit, the program's organizer.

Cook, a retired industry executive and former president of the club, commented that this sport, which like shuffleboard or bocce played on ice, was begun in Scotland in the 16th century and had as one of its many devotees Queen Victoria of England. The sport has spread to about a dozen countries, including Canada and the United States. There are 38 curling clubs in New England alone.

Curling is particularly popular with senior citizens because it requires no special equipment beyond a pair of rubber soled shoes and a warm sweater. Cook would like to see this area's senior citizens and retired persons participate more actively. The Plainfield Curling Club, which has been in existence for 20 years, has active leagues for women curlers and men curlers. There is also a league in which men and women curl as teams, and an active group of junior curlers (aged 10-18).

The Plainfield Curling Club has a "warm room" equipment with a small kitchen and bar where the non-curling spouse or friends of the curlers can watch the activity while playing bridge or chess or play the part of a "warm room skip," the curling equivalent of the back seat driver.

Thursday afternoons from 12 noon to 3 p.m. has been designated as "open curling" time by the Plainfield Curling Club, a time during which all who are interested are encouraged to drop in and participate or watch. If this time is not convenient, Cook will schedule a time for any individual or group for another day in the morning, afternoon, or evening.

Anyone interested in watching or trying what the Scots have called "the roaring game" should contact Les Cook at 25 Whitridge Rd. in Summit.

Eight RJHS Poets Gain Recognition

Eight Roosevelt Junior High School students have received certificates of merit from the National Poetry Press for their writing abilities.

Salvatore J. DeSimone, English department chairperson at Roosevelt, said that writing samples of these students will be considered for publication in the next anthology published by the National Poetry Press.

Certificate winner include: Mei Eibschutz, Sarah Grisham, Marc Harris, Karen Linenberg, Stefanie Moss, Suzanne Pollack, Sabrina Prielaida and Henry Span.

The Westfield Recreation Commission will again sponsor Westfield Junior Lacrosse with three 1983 teams:

Elementary Lacrosse for players in grades four through six; Junior High School Lacrosse for players in grades seven through eight; and Ninth Grade Lacrosse.

Each team will have its own schedule, playing teams from outside Westfield. Some towns already on the schedule are Summit, Montclair, Clark, Pingry, Clifton and Mountain Lakes.

Any boy interested in joining any one of the Westfield Junior Lacrosse Teams should contact Coach Shaun Cherewich at Westfield Senior High School, 550 Dorian Rd., or at the Recreation Commission, Westfield Municipal Building, giving name, address, age, grade school and phone number.

Westfield Grade 7 PAL Undefeated

Westfield Grade 7 PAL Undefeated

Westfield's 7th grade PAL basketball team has opened its 1982-83 season with four consecutive victories. Back in December, tryouts were held for any 7th graders that were members of the Westfield Basketball Association. Of the approximately 35 boys that tried out for this all-star team 13 were selected: Jim Mozoki, Kevin Stock, Clint Factor, Dave Brown, Mark Nelson, Neil Horne, John McCall, Dean Huddleston, Andy Gutterman, Tom Ward, Kevin Zippler, Dan Ginsburg and Bob Ehret. These boys will play a 24 game schedule against similar 7th and 8th grade CYO teams. They will also enter several state-wide tournaments at the end of March. This year's team seems to have not only outstanding talent, but also the good team chemistry which will hopefully lead to a highly successful season.

Westfield 60 St. Mary's 53 The Little Devils traveled to play St. Mary's 7th and 8th grade CYO in Rahway and came away with a 60-53 win. Team scoring was very balanced led by Factor with 15, Mozoki with 11, and Nelson with 10. Displaying a super fast break led by the ball handling and passing of Horne and Stock, Westfield raced out to an 18-10 first quarter score and was never behind. Ginsburg and Ward scored 6 and 3 points respectively coming in off the bench.

Westfield 56 South Orange 8

Led by Horne and Nelson with 12 points, Factor with 10, and Ward with 8, Westfield dominated from the beginning to end. Gutterman and Huddleston did an outstanding job with several assists and Brown was shooting well from the outside.

Westfield 52 St. Agnes 24

After trailing 6-2 at the end of the first quarter, Westfield woke up by employing a tough half court trap on defense and proceeded to gradually pull away. With Mozoki, Nelson and Ward dominating the boards inside and McCall, Horne, Zippler, Brown and Factor taking turns making the steals outside, the running game by the Devils proved too much for the St. Agnes team. High scorers were Nelson with 12 and Mozoki with 10.

Westfield 45 Millburn 23

Led by Nelson with 17 and Horne with 12, Westfield used its combination of board domination by Mozoki and Nelson and the excellent passing and shooting of its guards to once again dominate its opponent. Outstanding defensive plays were produced by Stock, McCall, Gutterman, and Zippler.

Tennis Enthusiasts

Kick-Off 1983

The Westfield Tennis Association inaugurated the new year with a mixed doubles tennis social at the Inman Racquet Club Saturday. Sixty four players kept all eight courts busy and an ample supply of food and door prizes added to the festivities.

The WTA plans another full year of activities, including tournaments, ladders, and lessen programs to satisfy the needs of a wide range of players. The winter tennis social was just one of the many events operated each year by the Westfield residents who volunteer their services to the WTA for the benefit of all Westfield tennis players.

7th Grade League Ends Fourth Week

The tables were turned in this week's Grade 7 WBA schedule. The highly competitive Division B saw two teams completely dominate as Boston College and St. John's recorded their most impressive victories to date. There were a couple of personnel changes in the Division A and if the performance is any indication, the league was really tightened up. Virginia went to double overtime to record its victory, while North Carolina put on its fourth quarter surge to remain undefeated. Through the four week period the records are as follows:

North Carolina	4	0
Georgetown	2	2
Virginia	2	2
Notre Dame	0	4

Boston College	3	0
St. John's	3	1
Louisville	2	1
Kentucky	0	3
Villanova	0	3

Virginia 43
Georgetown 42
Far and away the most exciting game of the season. Virginia went to double overtime to revenge an early loss to Georgetown. Robby Mollard sparked a Virginia offense with 12 points. The back court combination of John McCall and Kevin Stock combined for 14 points. Despite fouling out in the overtime period, Jim Mozoki scored all of his points in the first overtime and led his team in rebounds.

Aiding in the victory was the timely scoring of Colin McLane and Chris Dembiec. The disappointing loss of Georgetown, overshadowed the great performance by Mark Nelson who scored 20 points. Tom Ward helped his team with strong rebounding and chipped in for 5 points. Jack McEvily tallied 8 points as he combined in the back court with his new teammate Dave Brown. Kevin Smith has his usual sound game and added 4 points.

North Carolina 36
Notre Dame 32

North Carolina remained undefeated because of a strong performance in the fourth quarter for the third consecutive week. Notre Dame dominated the first three quarters led by the team of Clint Factor, Dan Ginsburg, and Joey Deer. North Carolina roared back in the fourth quarter scoring 14 points and holding their opposition scoreless. The attack was led by the great play of Dean Huddleston who scored 10 of his 26 points in the fourth quarter. Point guard Neil Horne chipped in for 8 points and was well supported by Mike Gagliardi and Robin Suggs.

Boston College 50
Villanova 21
Boston College jumped off to a 14 point lead in the first quarter and then breezed to a victory. The team was led by the great play, both offensively and defensively, of D. Moninger, who hit for a career high 24 points. Following closely in the scoring was K. Jeremiah who scored in all quarters to total 16. E. Gerehens hit for 6 and those points were aided by the great passing of K. Copen and M. Hanna.

The Villanova team was just overwhelmed by Boston College. Despite the loss, a fine game was turned in by G. Maurer who tallied 11 points. M. Wunderle was tough off the boards and added 5 points. M. Davis played steady throughout the game and also tallied 5 points.

St. John's 43
Louisville 14

St. John's had the best team effort of the season to dominate this game although Louisville's hopes were decimated by losing some of their best players to a school activity. Steve Miller led his team with an outstanding performance off the boards and scored 13 points. The balance of this team was reflected by the fact that everyone scored. Mark Tabs, Bob Kornicke and Mike Cohen all had 6 points. Point guard Jeff Sherman was excellent as the floor leader and also had 4 points.

Louisville was led by the fine play of Brendan Smith who hit for 8 points. Good performances were put in by Jason Hagman, Brian Slomovitz and Adam Vella.

As the wrestling season winds down for WBWL town Leaguers some new faces are beginning to show in the winner's circle as most youngsters are now "standing on their wrestling legs." Gone are the soccer kicks, football tackles, baseball slides and swimming strokes. The boys are now used to "cross-face," "shoot the half," "sit out," "arm bar" and an assortment of other phrases well known to the sport.

Cougars 28
Tigers 11

Gary Hunsinger's Orange Crush put the squeeze on Tiger Miller Men with two six point pins and the rest by decisions. Cougar juice poured in from upper and lower weights while scattered wins in the middle helped to clinch the dual.

Glenn Wojcik, Wally Bilotta, Matthew Connell and Lee Frankel controlled for the lightweights as Robert Garcia, Brendan "Undefeated" Doyle, Eugene "Undefeated" Watkins and Bobby Hermonston tightened things up. Anchorman Jason Reitzke put up points by draw in a thriller.

Scotty Goldberg, Chris Wojcik, Damian Lyon and Steven Hegarty also helped to cap off the win for the Cougars.

Craig Hunsinger and Billy Vesey put in a hard day's work wrestling tough challengers. Casey Noerr, Brian Hegarty and Timothy Quirk moved fast despite obstacles.

Leopards 34
Lions 18

The Leopards appear to be the team to beat as they still remain undefeated for the season. They faced a stiff challenge last Thursday evening but turned the roaring Lions away at once again.

The arm bar is used by Leopard John Povalac to turn his opponent to his back for a near fall worth three points. Bill Jordan officiated at the match.

Eric Klezer, John Povalac, Jeff Maynard, and J.R. Smitjanic knew the right moves to pin successfully. Jeff Maynard (13-3), Matt Gierisch (2-0), Chris Gorman (1-1-0), Jim Jividen (1-0-0), Martin Jimenez (4-2), Josh Cooper (6-4), Brian Duels (7-0), Eddie Conery (4-2), and Michael Payne (7-4) added up the decision points. John Salerno, Ironman Kielbasa, David Duels and Kelvin Wise were all aggressive grapplers who stayed with their opponents' to the buzzer. Matt Sheehy, Joe Gragnano and Anthony Reinoso clocked in commendable efforts against very strong foes.

The Lions had Steve Knepper, Jimmy Luerssen, Jason Calvert, Michael Davidson, Paco Gonzalez and Brian Buldo posting post marks for their team in the confrontation. Coach Ken Marsh was pleased with the boys' determination and never-give-up efforts. Nate Lee, Jon Chatham and Matt Freeman gave their rivals a hard time while Ned Seel almost pinned in the first set.

All Star "B's" Sting Roselle Park

One forfeit, a tie, plus a decision was all Roselle Park could muster Tuesday against the undefeated Westfield (3-0) B team wrestlers.

Seventy-seven pounder Adrian Freyer copped a 6-4 decision, Steve McCauley picked up a quick 6 by forfeit at 70 while fellow Panther Eugene Belle drew Michael Dodd 1-1 at 90. The Belle-Dodd match was clearly wrestled with equal aggressiveness as each opponent scored a neutral refusing any further advantage.

A fine bout between Little Devil Cliff McCoy and Park's Peter Ausiello grappling in the optional Heavyweight spot, saw both men psyched for the confrontation. McCoy sustained a pressing attack in the second set but used the arch effectively to last out the period. The feisty youngster staved off his foe's advanced maneuvers to go the distance.
