

Guterman to Resign As Town Councilman

Alan J. Guterman announced today that he will resign as fourth ward councilman effective next Wednesday, June 22.

Guterman explained that he and his family will be moving to a new home in Westfield, but because the home is just beyond the fourth ward boundary line, the Charter of the Town of Westfield requires that he resign his office.

"Serving the Town during these last several years has been an extremely rewarding experience," Guterman stated. "I have always believed that to have an outstanding community, such as Westfield, every member should contribute in whatever way possible. I have been fortunate to serve as a member of the Town Council. Hundreds of people volunteer their time and efforts to the betterment of our Town. That is the true heart and spirit of our community. While I must resign as a councilman, I look forward to continuing my service to Westfield."

The vacancy resulting from Republican Councilman Guterman's resignation must be filled by a member of the same party. The local Republicans have 15 days in which to submit the names of nominees from which the Mayor and Town Council must, within 30 days, choose a successor. If no names are suggested by the local GOP organization, the local elected officials may appoint a successor of their choice.

It is expected that candidates will be interviewed in the near future and a new fourth ward councilman seated at a summer meeting. The council meets publicly only once in each of the next two months, on July 5 and Aug. 9.

In an early June memo to school staff members, School Superintendent L.F. Greene called June 22, the 180th-day of school for students, "the light at the end of a tunnel—a light that is a sign that we have precious little time left with our students."

Dr. Greene's memo urges staff efforts "to make the remaining school days educationally exciting."

Elementary school students will have full days of classes today, tomorrow, and Monday. They will attend classes from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Tuesday and on Wednesday, June 22, the last day of school.

Mental Health Association Honors Dr. Ho Young Lee

Members of the Mental Health Association of Union County honored Dr. Ho Young Lee, M.D., at their recent 38th annual dinner meeting at L'Affaire, Mountainside. Dr. Lee was presented with an award by Judy and Edwin Klein of the Mental Health Association "in recognition of his contribution to the mental health of the people of Union County and of his dedication to the people of the PREP Program."

In making the award, Mrs. Klein said, "Because of Dr. Lee, over 100 phobics have been freed from the confines of debilitating fear and move about in a continually expanding world." The PREP Program offers individual direction, practical instruction in fear management and the opportunity to become involved in support groups. Dr. Lee has been associated, along with Nancy Marie Bride M.A., R.N., with the program since its inception three years ago.

Dr. Lee lives and practices in Westfield. He is on the clinical faculty of New York University. He received his medical training in Korea and attended the University of Pennsylvania and Western

"This is the best group and best harmony I've heard in five years of choral festivals," said one judge. "Beautiful tone quality and intonation," "excellent disciplined group," and "very nice performance" were other comments. The singers were rated on choice of selections, tone quality, diction, balance of parts, interpretation, appearance and general performance.

Two unusual experiences in the arts were recently enjoyed by Deerfield School students with talents in various disciplines.

Accompanied by faculty members Doris Julian and Lois Radding, ten students attended a two-day Teen Arts Symposium held at Monmouth College.

Two students each represented the areas of visual arts, drama, vocal music, instrumental music, and creative writing.

Working in the setting of Grover Cleveland's "Summer White House," (more recently famous as the mansion for the movie, "Annie"), the students from about a dozen schools worked with professionals in the various arts fields.

They were broken into smaller groups and tackled a project relating to medieval history. As each group worked on its own presentation, new discoveries were made about the diversity of New Jersey students and new friendships were forged.

Almost 50 students attended the Teen Arts

Festival at Rutgers University, which featured student performances, presentations and exhibits.

Highlights of the day were workshops led by professional artists. Students gained hands-on experience in such areas as weaving, clay mask-making, calligraphy, creative writing, and music and dance performing skills.

A group of Deerfield musicians earned appreciative comments in a critique of their performance of selections from "Li'l Abner." The judge's remarks were, "These students are far above students their age. Obviously a lot of effort by many — good thought to costumes. Wonderful singing voices for young students. Good thought to characterization. Student and teachers should be commended. Best diction and projection heard all day. Super achievement for young students."

The festival group was accompanied by parents Daisy Crane and Camie Delaney, as well as Mrs. Julian and Mrs. Radding.

Legion Donates $2,000 To Special Olympics

The Westfield American Legion, through its chairman Al Moeller and Sam Gallinella has announced a donation of $2,000 to the Special Olympics.

Moeller, who is completing his third year as state chairman for Special Olympics for the American Legion, has already turned over $75,000 to the Special Olympics and looks for $25,000 this year to help defray expenses for New Jersey retarded and handicapped to participate in the International Olympics in Louisiana in July.

Moeller says that "support of Special Olympics can bring a new kind of joy to millions of mentally retarded children and adults, their families and friends. It can be the difference between being rejected and ignored and being respected and wanted, the difference between being hidden away where one's light can never shine forth and being brought to center stage where the courage of even the most handicapped can be revealed.

"Special Olympics are a testimonial to the universal spirit of justice and humanity, a tribute to the character of the people and governments who have adopted Special Olympics as a reflection of their concern and respect for the mentally retarded."

Those wishing to donate to the Special Olympics may send donations to the American Legion, 1003 Crossway Pl., Westfield 07090.

Flexibility Training: A Sports Advantage

Looking forward to summer and the chance to enjoy favorite recreational sports? Whether you enjoy golf, tennis, or any other athletic activity, performance is influenced to a great degree by body's flexibility.

Flexibility refers to the body's ability to move freely and fully. When the body is flexible, movement is efficient and a complete range of motion is allowed. A flexible person has a definite advantage when it comes to sports. In tennis or racketball, for example, flexibility in the arm and shoulder will allow the racket to coil far behind the back, permitting the swing to build speed over the longest possible arc. The result: a more powerful serve. In golf, flexibility contributes to a longer, smoother swing and a more powerful drive.

Increased flexibility can reduce the athlete's chance of injury. Most recreational injuries can be prevented by loosening up the muscles and joints before and after a workout. A tight muscle can tear or pull when sudden force is applied; loose muscles can stretch, avoiding injury. How can flexibility be improved? A conscious effort must be made to lengthen the muscles with exercises designed to develop the range of motion. In stretching, good form and technique is often the difference between improvement and wasted time.

Rogers Dance studio, located at 18 Prospect St., offers a program designed to achieve all over flexibility. Flex-A-Cise combines rhythmic stretching with floor exercises to develop a limber body. The classes meet once or twice a week for a 45 minute workout set to music. The summer session will run for eight weeks beginning the week of July 5. Class size is strictly limited, and early registration is encouraged. For information or schedule of classes, contact the studio.

Jackie Rogers, creator of Flex-a-cise, demonstrates one of the stretching movements that characterize her program. Flexibility contributes to efficient movement in all sports activities, and can be developed through a well-planned program of exercises.

Red Cross Launches Disaster Fund Campaign

The Westfield-Mountain-side Chapter of the American Red Cross has launched an emergency fund campaign to enable the American Red Cross to continue relief services for the many victims of disasters throughout the United States.

During the past ten months, $33 million has been expended in a series of major disasters. National goal for the fund campaign is $12 million.

The 4,343 disasters included a hurricane in Hawaii, floods and tornadoes in Mississippi, Illinois, Arkansas, Missouri, Alabama and Louisiana. Texas was struck by tornadoes, storms ravaged the West Coast and an earthquake hit Coalinga California.

Red Cross officials pointed out: "The Red Cross has been helping victims of disasters for 102 years, and that is exactly what we are going to continue to do."

Contributions should be made out to American Red Cross and earmarked "Emergency Disaster Fund." They should be sent to American Red Cross, 321 Elm St.

Red Cross Dedicates New Facility

The Westfield-Mountain-side Chapter of the American Red Cross dedicated its new third floor addition at a ceremony on June 5. The rooms were dedicated to the memory of the late Grace M. Lummis, who left the chapter a bequest enabling them to complete the renovations.

According to Kenneth S. Meyers, chapter chairman, the rooms had been an old attic. With the renovations, the rooms were made into a modern meeting and class rooms, with side computer and disaster service offices.

Present at the dedication were Mr. and Mrs. John Lummis of Connecticut. Mr. Lummis is the son of the late Grace Lummis. As the room was dedicated, Lummis stated that his mother was "very active in civic affairs in Westfield, and would be proud to see the fine facilities dedicated in her name."

... Faster Than a Speeding Bullet

Graduation was marred last year by several incidents and described by some as "one of the worst" graduation nights in Westfield's recent history.

Some of the incidents, unfortunately, appeared to involve the use of alcoholic beverages. Others included use of automobiles. Young people sometimes equate "fun" with "speed," the results of which can be tragic. We urge parents to share the following article, distributed by the Texas Safety Association, with their teenagers who drive, particularly when they might be celebrating their graduation from Westfield High School next Wednesday evening.

What you are about to read is graphic and gory, but worth remembering.

How fast can you die in a speeding car? Some experts — don't ask me how — figured out the answer. So, here is a slow-motion, split-second reconstruction of what can happen when a car — travelling only 55 miles per hour — crashes into a tree:

ONE-TENTH OF A SECOND — The front bumper and chrome of the grillwork collapses. Slivers of steel penetrate the tree to a depth of 1½ inches or more.

TWO-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The hood crumples as it rises, smashing into the windshield. Spinning rear wheels leave the ground, fenders contact the tree, forcing the rear parts out over the front doors. The heavy structural members of the car begin to act as a brake on the terrific forward momentum of the car. But the driver's body continues to move forward at the vehicle's original speed (20 times the normal force of gravity, his body weighs 3,200 pounds). His legs, ramrod straight, snap at the knee joints.

THREE-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The driver's body is now off the seat, torso upright, broken knees pressing against the dashboard. The plastic and steel frame of the steering wheel begins to bend under his terrible death-grip. His head is now near the sun visor, his chest above the steering column. FOUR-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The car's front 24 inches have been demolished, but the rear end is still traveling at an estimated speed of 35 miles an hour. The driver's body is still traveling 55 miles an hour. The motor block crumples into the tree. The rear of the car, like a bucking horse, rises high enough to scrape back off branches.

FIVE-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The driver's fear-frozen hands bend the steering column into an almost vertical position. The force of gravity impales him on the steering shaft. Jagged steel punctures lungs and intercostal arteries. Blood spurts into his lungs.

SIX-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The driver's feet are ripped from his tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal shears off at the floor boards. The chassis breaks in the middle, shearing body bolts. The driver's head smashes into the windshield. The rear of the car begins its downward fall, spinning wheels digging into the ground.

SEVEN-TENTHS OF A SECOND — The entire writhing body of the car is forced out of shape. Hinges tear, doors spring open. In one last convulsion, the seat rams forward, pinning the driver against the steel of the steering shaft. Blood leaps from his mouth, shock has frozen his heart. He is dead.

LETTER TO TEACHERS
Editor, Leader:

One of the most controversial bills to be passed in the Assembly this year was A-585, the "Teachers' Bargaining Bill." In view of the tremendous interest which has been expressed, I wrote the following letter to explain my "No" vote.

Dear Teacher:

Since voting against A-585 I have received congratulations and condemnations. To the latter I say, I sincerely regret that you feel so strongly about my vote against A-585. It gives me little satisfaction that while I received four letters like yours (and I so value your opinion) I received thirty-two letters or calls commending my action. I can only hope that in the weeks ahead you will come to realize that my vote was not against teachers, but in support of the whole educational system — including teachers.

In my judgment this bill has terrible implications. Virtually all matters of public policy, presently decided in open public meeting could suddenly be decided in non-public negotiating sessions. Any adversarial relationship that exists now in public employee negotiating sessions would outweigh the reasoned debate which should occur in open public meetings. Another major problem I have with the bill is that it applies to all public employees and I believe this would open a Pandora's box in public employee relations. Somehow I don't feel that the N.J.E.A. or the teachers want to be affected or influenced by labor relations actions of all other public employees.

As I explained at the Union County N.J.E.A. dinner, I have serious questions on the constitutionality of A-585. A 1978 State Supreme Court ruling clearly defined those items which are not. The decision allows for no permissive category of negotiations for which this bill calls. And don't forget, A-585 applies to all public employees, not just teachers.

I strongly believe that teachers should have a clearly established channel of communication to the school board and to the public. I believe that the Commissioner of Education should make substantial efforts to address the teachers' long standing grievances, and I have expressed this to Dr. Cooperman. However, I sincerely believe that passage of A-585 is not in the best long-term interest of the education system in general, or of the teachers in particular.

Generally, I have backed legislation that has supported the N.J.E.A. and the teaching profession and I will continue to do so. However, I honestly feel that it is my duty as your legislator to be independent in thought and action. My vote should be the result of reasoned deliberation based on experience and research. My vote should never be based upon fear of reprisals or loss of support. To bow to threats and pressure can only result in a level of government which ultimately will sap the initiatives and abilities of the governed.

Hardwick Calls State Budget a "Triumph"

Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick, (R-Union), in a press conference at the State House in Trenton Friday, said that Governor Thomas Kean's budget, to be adopted July 1, is a "triumph" that needed little work during the Joint Appropriations hearings conducted this spring.

Hardwick is the Republican delegation leader on the Joint Appropriations Committee, which has just wrapped up its hearings, and is now formulating resolutions designed to add and subtract from the original budget.

Hardwick announced a package of key Republican resolutions totaling an additional $19.1 million to the state's proposed 1983-4 budget. These additions, Hardwick explained, make the budget "viable, healthy and compassionate."

"The Republican members of the Joint Appropriations Committee approached our task with caution," said Hardwick. "We compiled a list of key resolutions to add certain essential items to the budget, and to add significantly to the effectiveness of state government and the quality of life in New Jersey," he said.

Among the most important and basic roles of state government that are addressed in this budget, Hardwick said, are providing for education and higher education, crime prevention, protection of the environment, maintaining health systems, and helping the needy.

"These important areas have been fully addressed in this budget, in addition to the task of improving government efficiency," said Hardwick, who also is minority whip.

"Governor Kean's budget broke several records," Hardwick said. "It represented the lowest percentage increase in state spending in the past four years, and one of the lowest increases in recent history. The Governor held 17 of the 20 state departments at the 1982-1983 spending levels, and held overall spending down to a 3.4 percent increase. This is remarkable considering that in the last year of the Byrne Administration, state spending was up 15.7 percent," Hardwick said.

American consumers are paying artificially high prices for fresh produce because of archaic federal regulations that allow growers to protect their profits by manipulating the market.

It is estimated that over half of all fruits and tree nuts produced in the United States and about 15 percent of all vegetables are sold under federally sanctioned marketing orders controlled by the growers.

Under the marketing order system, the government gives the growers authority to control the marketing — and frequently the price — by establishing conditions under which a given commodity can be marketed. They set production quotas for the industry, withhold or even destroy produce in order to keep prices up.

Depending on the commodity, marketing orders use a variety of mechanisms to increase grower income and control supplies. They are usually characterized as quantity controls, quality controls, and market support activities to expand demand and encourage consumption. Currently there are 47 marketing orders each covering a specific commodity, ranging from tart cherries and navel oranges to celery and onions.

The orders are issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on the request of growers and handlers of a crop who want to change the way a particular commodity is handled. Once the order is issued by the Secretary and approved by two-thirds of the producers, it goes into effect. Once implemented, it is administered by a committee of growers, handlers, and in some cases, consumer representatives.

The committee have the authority to dictate when a controlled produce goes to market, and to allot the amount the growers can ship. They further govern prices and supply through quality controls on grade, size, and maturity standards.

The marketing order system was devised 50 years ago when crop and price fluctuations jeopardized many farm operations which were critical to the nation's food supply. However, because of new farming techniques and advanced technology for shipping and storing perishable produce, the marketing order system has outlived its usefulness. It has developed far beyond its original intent, and creates inflationary and regulatory excesses which cannot be justified.

These marketing orders are anti-competitive and inappropriate in a free enterprise system. Basically they serve to protect the interests of growers and cartels at the expense of the consumer. This view is supported by a Federal Trade Commission study conducted in the mid-1970s. The FTC concluded that "There is no persuasive evidence that marketing order provisions... are of benefit to consumers. In addition, marketing orders probably create inefficiencies and warp incentives to the detriment of consumers."

Are marketing controls necessary? Should there be complete deregulation of the fruit and vegetable industry? These are questions that need to be answered, and I have asked the Congressional Research Service to conduct an in-depth analysis of the impact deregulation would have on produce growers and consumer prices. The information should provide the basis for legislation that is fair to farmers and consumers.

Resident to Appear on Channel 13 Show Examining Public High School Teaching

Janet Johnston, an English teacher at Holmdel High School for the past eight years and a Westfield resident since 1978, will appear as a panelist on "Symposium," a new public affairs series to be broadcast at 6:30 p.m. Sunday on WNET/Channel 13.

The hourlong program, whose theme is "High School Teaching: A Profession in Peril," takes a probing look at the quality of instruction in the nation's public secondary schools.

Special guest on "Symposium" is Ernest Boyer, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching at Princeton and former U.S. Commissioner of Education during the Carter administration. Program host is Edward J. Bloustein, president of Rutgers University.

During Sunday's broadcast, Dr. Boyer takes issue with both the timing and intent of a report on American public schools released in late April by the National Commission on Excellence in Education. He is especially critical of the commission's allegation that the country's schools are caught in a "rising tide of mediocrity," resulting in part from the failure of teachers to do their jobs.

"In the past few years, all the evidence, not only in terms of public attitude but by almost any measure, indicates that we have started a turnaround (in education)," Boyer states on the program.

"This is not the time to say, 'It's all going to the dogs,'" he asserts. "I'm saying, 'Look, we know there's been a problem, but I think we understood that five years ago.' I'd like to focus on concrete steps we can take and not, once again, go through an orgy of self-flagellation."

Among Boyer's suggestions for reforms within the high school teaching profession are career ladders and an extended school year that would allow extra time for mandatory continuing education programs.

He also advocates a new system of special rewards and higher rank for teachers identified by their own colleagues as the best in their respective schools.

After Boyer's lecture and a brief documentary identifying some of the strongest — as well as the weakest — aspects of high school teaching, a dozen academic and professional experts from New Jersey and New York engage in a 45-minute debate in the merits of Boyer's opinions and on the general health of secondary teaching.

Appearing with Westfield resident Janet Johnston are Gregory Anrig, president of the Educational Testing Service; Edith Francis, superintendent of schools in Ewing Township; Gene Maeroff, education writer for "The New York Times" and author of "Don't Blame the Kids: The Trouble with America's Public Schools"; and Maxine Greene, professor of education at Columbia Teachers College in New York City.

Also appearing on the June 19 program are Octavio T. Reid, Jr., chief lobbyist for the New Jersey School Boards Association; Clifford Swartz, professor of physics at the State University of New York in Stony Brook and editor of "The Physics Teacher" magazine; and Robert Terlizzi, a former high school math teacher who quit to become a staff computer programmer at A & T Long Lines in Morristown.

Ruby Bishar, English teacher at Paramus High School and an active member of the New Jersey Education Association, and two seniors from Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark, Anne Vincenti and Alan Feld, also participate as panelists.

A high school English teacher for 14 years and mother of twin boys who will graduate Westfield High School this month, panelist Johnston says she has been impressed with the amount of support for teachers that has surfaced since the National Commission on Excellence in Education report was released.

"Critics who talk about teachers' failures to prepare kids for the 'real world' ought to be invited into the 'real classroom,'" she notes. "Then they might see that teaching is much more difficult than anyone imagines, particularly as we have more complicated social problems to cope with in the classroom, along with the academic curriculum."

Johnston identifies a recent phenomenon called "a-literacy" as one of the most discouraging aspects of her job.

"This refers to students who know how to read, but don't want to," she explains. "Kids who won't read on their own never get very good at it. As a result, textbooks have to be rewritten in simpler language and everything spirals downwards from there."

"If kids can't read well, it affects their ability to learn almost all other subjects," she says.

The June 19 broadcast of "Symposium" is the second in a series that is slated to become a regular monthly feature of WNET/Channel 13's program lineup, beginning this fall.

Each episode will focus on a different issue of widespread public concern and will draw an academic and professional expertise within New Jersey and the greater New York metropolitan area.

Executive producer of "Symposium" is David B. Levine, director of programming at the Office of Television and Radio at New Jersey's State University.

Jane Petroff, also a Westfield resident, is producer of the monthly series. William Zagorski is director and associate producer.

In addition to "Symposium," the Office of Television and Radio produces four weekly programs, including the "Rutgers University Forum," broadcast on WNET/Channel 13 at 7 a.m. on Mondays.

Other programs are "The Rutgers Bowl," aired on New Jersey Network, and two shows carried by most New Jersey cablestations, "The Rutgers Sports Review" and "Rutgers Business Weekly."

Westfield Summer Workshop Nears 600 Young Registrants

Just what makes the Westfield Summer Workshop the Pied Piper of the arts? What is the attraction that has drawn a whole generation of youngsters back summer after summer. Why has it caused the pursuit of the arts to become a tradition in so many families?

Perhaps it's because directing the Piper's act is Theodore K. Scholesberg, whose brain-child the summer experience was more than 13 years ago, and who continues to orchestrate the successful five week summer program.

From its inception, the Workshop was envisioned by Scholesberg as a resource upon which young people could draw to project to the world their feelings about themselves. He recognized the myriad directions in which latent talent could be made to shine as an expression of self, and the need that gifted youngsters have for the talent to shine, and he set out to provide the means for them to do so.

What he built — the Westfield Summer Workshop — must have responded well to this need for creative expression, for the original enrollment of 350 youngsters has escalated through the years to well over 700, causing expansion to three campuses. Already this summer, with a week to go until the June 18 deadline, more than 600 registrants had signed up for their choices selected from the 100 diversified courses offered.

Today's workshop experience offers almost unlimited exposure to the visual and performing arts, as well as an expansion into the world of languages, computers and other special interests such as song writing, non-fiction and poetry writing and master classes.

Because the workshop's faculty reads like the "Who's Who" of the teaching profession, these master classes provide an outstanding opportunity for students at all levels of accomplishment to specialize in an area for five weeks. One to one coaching is available in the areas of voice, dance, mime and drama, while fine arts students are grouped in classes of four or five.

Like his student participants, Scholesberg himself is in the constant process of reaching for something more. So it is, that having mastered the art of running the summer workshop for school-agers through adults, he is exploring new directions.

"I'm very excited about our new pre-kindergarten program," he remarks. "For these four year olds, 'hands-on' indoor and outdoor experiences and an approach to language development and reading readiness through the arts, as well as early experience with computers, all provide the tools for their awakening creativity."

A record high response to the Westfield Summer Workshop is causing courses to fill up rapidly. Those filing registrations after the June 18 deadline should be sure to give second choice courses. The Workshop runs from June 27 to July 29.

Exercise Course At Overlook

Overlook Hospital's Parentcraft program will sponsor a two-part pregnancy exercise course on July 13 and 20 from 8 to 10 p.m. The course is designed to help the expectant couple prepare for the physical and psychological changes pregnancy brings. Exercises, under the direction of a physical therapist, will help the woman deal with the physical changes. Up-to-date nutrition information, and fetal growth and development are a few of the additional topics covered.

Class size is limited and there is a fee. Interested persons may call the Department of Health Education for further information.

YWCA Adds New Twist To Camping Program

John Kirschner of Westfield is the first camper to sign up for the YWCA's new Wilderness Camp being offered from June 27-August 19. John, who is 12½ years old, is taking advantage of the YWCA's change in the age of campers who are eligible for this program. Previously, 12 years of age was the limit but this year the age has been raised to include campers up to 14 years. Donna Newman, YWCA HPER director says, "We feel that this change is important because it will provide working parents with a safe, fun-filled, learning environment for their children."

The Westfield YWCA has been offering a day camp, Camp Runamok, for many years. "The program staff has continually tried to meet the needs of the various age groups in the community by adding new camping and nature related programs and by conducting early evaluations," Newman says. This year's addition of a Wilderness Unit, which Newman terms "unique," differs from the routine of other area day camp offerings. The three day wilderness unit is designed to extend the campers independence and to provide a first-time camper with a first-hand experience at a resident or sleep-away camp for a three day, two night overnight in a regular resident camp and a 2 day-camp setting.

"This provides the parents with a more economic way of providing a campaign experience. Parents and children will find Wilderness Camp less traumatic with the two nights and three days instead of a weeklong minimal stay at a residential camp. The resultant financial loss if the child finds that resident camp is not for them will be considerably less," Newman points out.

Boys and girls ages 10 through 14 years of age are eligible. The Wilderness Unit will meet at the YWCA on Mondays and Fridays from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. On Tuesdays, the campers will be transported by van to Camp Tall Timbers in Tuxedo, N.Y. This camp run by the YWCA of Central Jersey, is located approximately 1¼ hours from Westfield. The campers will spend Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the camp and return to the YW by 4 p.m. on Thursdays. They will sleep in tents. Shelter is available in case of terrible weather. Activities include: swimming with lessons and plunges, hiking, sports, nature study, canoeing, fishing, games and more.

The YWCA, according to Newman "in keeping with the changes in our society resulting in the need for child care for working parents, has adapted by offering early morning and late afternoon activities for parents needing more child care than the 9-3 camp program. More information about this option can be obtained by calling the YWCA.

Newman, HPER director, has three years experience as a resident camp director for the YWCA of Scranton, Pa.

The flashing caution lights on both sides of Rahway Ave. approaching Willow Grove are now operational. The Tamaques PTO petitioned to have these lights installed because of the number of children walking to school on Rahway Ave. and the potential danger at the Willow Grove crossing. Standing under the light at Clifton St. are from left: Jim Moninger, Jennifer Sentivan and Jane Sentivan, Tamaques PTO Safety Committee chairmen. In front are Corinne and Christina Liebrich.

Baha'is Plan Special Events

The Baha'is of Westfield are commemorating the 1912 visit of Abdu'l-Baha to Fanwood with two events. Abdu'l-Baha, son of Baha'u'llah, the prophet-founder of the Baha' faith, visited the United States in 1912 after being freed from nearly 60 years of exile and imprisonment in Persia, Iraq and the Holy Land. On June 1, 1912, Abdu'l-Baha spoke at a public meeting at the Fire Hall in Fanwood.

Beginning June 14, the Fanwood Memorial Library will feature a display which will include a photograph of a painting of Abdu'l-Baha by the noted Westfield artist Ivanowsky. The Baha'is of Westfield will donate a book of poetry in honor of the visit.

On June 18, at the Franklin State Bank on South and Hetfield Aves. in Fanwood, a filmstrip about Abdu'l-Baha will be shown to the public at 8 p.m. It highlights pictures of the unity celebration which Abdu'l-Baha hosted in Teaneck.

On June 25, at the Baha'i property in Teaneck, Baha'is from the north-eastern United States will gather for the annual commemoration of that unity celebration.

If You Lost Your Hearing Tomorrow, Would You Do Something About It?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. All hearing problems are not alike and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid but many can. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 35095 Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill. 60646.

"Here's the solution to your heating and cooling problems."

"Buy an economical, high efficiency heat pump and get a rebate too!"

"A truly resourceful approach to energy savings."

When you purchase a high efficiency heat pump to heat and cool your home, PSE&G will send you a cash rebate. A heat pump is a reversible refrigeration machine that transfers heat from one location to another.

In the winter, a heat pump moves heat from outside your home to the inside. And in the summer, it takes heat from inside and moves it out. Because the heat pump simply "moves" heat, it is a very energy efficient heating system.

"Investigate the cooling efficiency to determine your rebate."

Heat pump efficiency is rated in terms of COP (Coefficient of Performance) when used for heating and in terms of EER/SEER (Energy Efficiency Ratio/Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio) when used for cooling.

Check with your dealer to determine the heating and cooling efficiency levels of various heat pumps. If you purchase one with a cooling efficiency (EER/SEER) of 7.5 or greater, you'll be eligible to receive a cash rebate from PSE&G. Your actual rebate will depend on the EER/SEER level and the cooling capacity of the heat pump.

"To find out more contact your dealer or contractor."

You can also get more information on the heat pump rebate plan — as well as other energy conservation programs — directly from PSE&G. Simply complete this coupon and send it to us. Or, you can call our Energy Conservation Center toll-free at 800-854-4444, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. weekdays.

"Seal-up and save... it's elementary!"

Concert Series

Dr. Saul Orkin, president of Union County College and Claire Angel, artistic director of Mostly Music, the acclaimed chamber music concert series has announced the co-sponsorship of Mostly Music for the 1983-84 season. Subscriptions to the five-concert series are now being offered to the public.

"Union County College is pleased to join hands with Mostly Music next season to present a concert series of excellent quality to the people of Union County. Having Mostly Music on campus adds another dimension to the College's efforts to serve as a cultural center in the community," says Dr. Orkin. In its first three seasons, Mostly Music has invited such distinguished guest artists as pianist Ken Noda, violinist Cho-Liang Lin, flutist Samuel Baron, oboist Ronald Roseman, soprano Lucy Shelton, French hornist David Jolley, and others to perform with Musica da Camera, the chamber ensemble which features violinist Robert McDuffie, violist Toby Hoffman, cellist Michael Goldschlager and pianists Sandra Rivers and Claire Angel.

The eminent violinist Isaac Stern has praised Mostly Music, saying, "Mostly Music deserves the widest possible support. It presents first-rate artists of exceptional quality." Courier News critic

Frank Edwards has noted, "Union County was blessed with some of the best chamber music ever heard this side of the Hudson. The playing was beyond reproach."

Mostly Music will be held in the Union County College Theatre on Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. Pre-concert talks begin 8 p.m. and a coffee hour where the artists will meet subscribers. The U.C.C. Art Gallery will also be open to concert-goers.

Music to be presented this season will include piano quartets by Faure, Beethoven and Schumann; Schubert's Trout Quintet as well as his celebrated String Quartet in C; Brahms' Piano Quintet in F minor; Haydn's String Quartet "The Lark"; Mozart and Haydn Piano Trios and a variety of Baroque works by Bach and Handel performed with harpsichord.

For information regarding subscriptions for five concerts, contact Claire Angel, Mostly Music, 825 Willow Grove Rd.

Riding high on the enormous success of its premiere performance of June 4th, the Westfield

Symphony announces the schedule of concerts for the 1983-84 season.

"We look forward to presenting our inaugural season for our very enthusiastic supporters," comments Music Director Brad Keimach. "We are very proud of the quality of our orchestra and will be highlighting the virtuosity of our own musicians as well as some superior talent in Westfield."

The artistic proficiency of the new Westfield Symphony was noted by Star-Ledger music critic Michael Redmond who, commenting on the June 4th concert, wrote, "The Westfield Symphony gave a performance that would have been a credit to a long standing professional orchestra." In particular Mr. Redmond praised the orchestra for performing with "sweep, with bite, with a glowing sound and with thorough mastery."

The 1983-84 subscription series will include five concerts, four of them with the 60 member Westfield Symphony Orchestra and one special performance by the Westfield Symphony String Quartet. The Quartet's members are the principal string players of the symphony and among the top professional players performing in New Jersey.

The concert season will open on Sunday, October 23rd, with Paul Kuster of Westfield performing the Chopin Piano Concerto in a minor. Also on the program will be Beethoven's Egmont Overture and Dvorak's Symphony #9 "From the New World". The season's concerts will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield.

"The concert of June 4th was a thrilling experience for me and for everyone in the audience," comments Harry Devlin, noted New Jersey artist and concert host. "I am eagerly anticipating the musical offerings of the Symphony's first season. It is exciting to be a part of something new and so very fine."

Subscriptions for the 1983-84 season are now available. For information write to the Westfield Symphony, Box 401, Westfield, NJ, 07091.

Jane Brandt Pens Unique "Cook Book"

Jane Brandt

Looking for something to serve a thirsty crowd... Or perhaps a change from a daily coffee or tea break... Or something nutritious and different to slip into the children's thermoses for school?

A new book, written by Westfield's Jane Brandt, just might have the answer. The large-size paperback, "Drinks Without Liquor," contains 175 recipes using a variety of ingredients. Brandt suggests flipping fruits, vegetables, cream, coffee, chocolate and even peanut butter into the blender. Results include such libations as Chocolate Sin, Bridal Sweet and Blackberry Dandy. While many of the recipes appear to be calorie-crammed, others are geared for weight watchers.

Brandt has included recipes for morning drinks, hot-weather thirst quenchers and cold weather tummy warmers. Not all require a blender to prepare but many do. Liberally sprinkled with eye-catching illustrations, the book also contains tips and suggestions, all offered in a light-hearted vein.

"Drinks Without Liquor" took four years from concept to publication. "I thought the idea was unique and saleable," asserts Brandt. "I spent two-and-a-half years researching and compiling recipes. The rest of the time involved finding an agent and publisher."

Brandt is married to Town Attorney Charles Brandt. They have six children, ranging in age from 6 to 22. Their oldest, Susan, recently was graduated from Douglass College. Ellen, 19, attends Union College and James, 16, is a junior at Westfield High School.

Additionally, she always has "had one foot in the business world." At present she runs secretarial services in Manahawkin and Forked River. She has been a staff writer for the Beach Haven Times and was a social secretary in New York for eight years. She once was secretary to William Mellon Hitchcock, also in New York.

No slouch as a volunteer, the North Plainfield native, was a town Republican Committeewoman for many years, worked in several board of education campaigns, participated in Grant School Players productions and is a member of the Westfield Service League.

"Drinks Without Liquor" is available at the Town Book Store. At least it was. The first order was sold out, an occurrence which makes an author smile. A new shipment should arrive shortly.

YWCA Offers Last Trip

The Westfield YWCA's last trip of the season will take place on June 21st to the Radio City Music Hall. It's a Rockette spectacular featuring the "world renowned Kick Line," a New York Tradition since 1932. A very special guest star promises to add to the delight of this seasonal offering at Radio City.

Bus leaves the YWCA at 10:00 a.m. and returns by 5:30 p.m. There will be plenty of time for a leisurely lunch and shopping before the performance. Less than 20 tickets left. For information, contact the Westfield YWCA, 220 Clark Street, or phone 233-2833.

managing fly ball and when Lincecum fielded a ball to catcher Dickie Rhodes for a force out at home. San Diego scored four runs before Brian Grubeck caught a pop fly at first and the game was over.

Brian Grubeck played his best game to date making 9 outs as pitcher and first baseman and batting a four for two tally as RBIs on the first and third innings. Grubeck tripled, and 2 singles. Dickie Rhodes, who has been Rhodes' most consistent hitter, batted 3 for 4 with 2 RBIs and turned in his most impressive performance as catcher with three outs to his credit. RBIs were also provided by Tim Lincecum with 3 on a surprise triple in the 4th and 5th innings. Grubeck batted with two each, and Bruce Lowe with one. Bracken Stevers

In a semi final game of the national League playoffs Columbus broke open a relatively close game in the sixth inning with a three run sixth inning to defeat Louisville 22-3. The winners gaudied out 13 hits and drew 13 walks while committing 10 errors. The Cardinals were Defensive, Eric Kiefer made several fine plays at third base after catching 5 innings. Shortstop Mike Cuddihy made a fine play for Columbus and made a fine catch of a longer line left field than "Hank" labeled on it. McGorty Wins Golden West Decathlon

Kevin McGorty, Westfield High School's finest all-around track and field athlete, capped his scholastic career last weekend by winning the decathlon at the Golden West Invitational in Sacramento.

The Blue Devil senior's winning point total of 7,321 points is the second best performance ever by a school-boy. In establishing the Golden West standard, McGorty surpassed the New Jersey record set some 30 years ago by Milk Campbell, who made the Olympic team in 1952 as a high school student in Plainfield. Campbell went on to win the Olympic championship in 1956.

The competition in California was conducted under international standards, using the men's throwing implements rather than the scholastic ones, as well as the full-size hurdles, thus allowing comparison to national and world totals.

McGorty defeated runner-up Steve Kassen of Boulder, Colo., by more than 400 points. His top performances included a pole-vault at 14'7", a 6'9 1/2" performance in the high jump, and a personal best of 22'8 1/2" in the long jump. In the running events, McGorty recorded an 11.1

for 100 meters, 50.8 for 400 meters, 4:41.7 for 1500 meters, and 14.9 for the 110 meters hurdles. In the throwing events, he tossed 36'2 1/2" in the shot, 101' in the discus, and 189'7" in the javelin.

During the competition, McGorty had the best performances in two events, the second best in five others, and took one fourth and two fifths in the rest.

McGorty becomes Westfield High's second national level champion, following in the footsteps of Butch Woolfolk, presently a New York Giants running back, who won the 100 and 200 meter dashes in record times at the International Prep Invitational in Chicago in 1978.

Before travelling to California, McGorty added the New Jersey All-Group high jump championship to his total of 32 individual championships accumulated in spring and winter track and field. The WHS senior soared 6'10" for the All-Groups and then added a third place in the high hurdles in 13.9, another new school record.

Head track and field coach Greg Gorski went to California with McGorty to be on hand when Westfield's and New Jersey's best all-around athlete certified his claim on the national title.

SPRING SOCCER RESULTS

Spring soccer results this week were:

Kicks 5 - Rangers 1
Kicks 4 - Buccaneers 2
Bolstered by intensive practice and determination to avenge past defeats, the Westfield Kicks outscored the Randolph Rangers 5-1 and the Scotch Plains Buccaneers 4-2 to win their Mid-New Jersey Premier Group III soccer. The win was particularly sweet because Randolph was the only team to defeat the Kicks in regular season play.

The first goal scored against Randolph was by wing Chris Freer who took a nice pass from forward Jeff Longo and sent it winging into the net. Midfielder John Emmet Capano then passed to Jeff Longo who netted the second Westfield goal. Center fullback Brad Shapiro played a strong game and assisted on the third goal of the game when he sent a long ball forward to Anthony Coleman who placed it deftly in the net. Anthony then came up with a free kick, he passed to forward Steve Licker who scored the final goal of the half for Westfield.

Fullback John Telling played his best game of the season as he marked Randolph's leading striker and did not allow him to score. Fullbacks Tony Frasso, Glenn McSweeney and Lou Peluso also aided in shutting down the Rangers' offense. The midfield was dominated by Scott Burns, Kevin Tracey and Marc Halpin. Jimmy class played an active role on left wing. Goalie Jim Fox played well by holding the usually high scoring Rangers to a single goal. The final score of the game was by Tom Ward who latched onto a pass from Jeff Longo, carried it down the left side, and carefully slid it past the Randolph goalie.

This gave Westfield a 5-1 win. The game with Scotch Plains turned out to be even more difficult because both teams were weary from past contests. The first Westfield goal was by Jeff Longo who trapped a cross from Tom Ward and deftly placed it in the net. Scotch Plains scored next but Westfield soon answered with a score by Tom Ward who was assisted by Anthony Coleman. The Buccaneers fought back and scored another goal. The Kicks were quite concerned going into the second half for although the goalkeepers were even, Scotch Plains held the edge in corner kicks (which are counted as half points in soccerama play).

However, Westfield was blessed by superb defensive play by Kevin Tracey. Goalie Jim Fox also played exceptionally well and made several outstanding saves. The Kicks speedy front line came through as Chris Freer powered the ball down the right side and sent it steaming into the net. "Ice man" Tom Ward once again scored the final goal to give the Kicks a 4-2 win.

The Kicks final tournament will take them to Ohio over the July 4th weekend.

Rockets Victorious
The Rockets started slow in the beginning of the season, but the team is now playing very competitively. In their last seven games, the team had three victories and two ties. Both losses were in the Westfield Cup to the eventual first and third place finishers. The Westfield Rockets were over Rockaway Township (1-3) and Somerset Hills (3-2) to earn a first place medal in last week's soccerama.

This week the Rockets were led by the great goalkeeping of Junior Didario and the scoring of Mark Cagnassola. He had the hat trick in one game and the go ahead goal in the second. Jeff Suto's strong foot was also on target, as he scored five points with two goals and three assists. His last goal was a thing of beauty. Captain Christian Leshner, who plays center fullback, beat Somerset Hills' striker to a free ball and kicked it some 40 yards and on goal. The surprised goalie couldn't handle the ball and Jeff Suto and Chris McCall pounced on the ball for the score. The same duo of Suto and McCall combined for the go ahead goal, against Rockaway Township with Chris McCall on the final end of the scored. Eric Wildstein played hard and aggressive all day and tallied twice and had an assist. His left wing partner David Sprague constantly beat the fullbacks and crossed the ball to get at least two assists. This team has been led by the defensive quartet Captain Leshner, fullbacks Kevin Cashman and Joey Agnone and the super-sweeper Paul Jordan. The latter was awesome last Sunday. Paul assisted on the first goal of the day and against Somerset Hills he assisted on the second goal and scored the game winner on a great corner back from Jeff Suto. In addition, his aggressive defense kept both teams off guard all day. Kevin Cashman, the steady fullback, made the scoring column on a well executed penalty kick.

Paul Cavalchire and Robby McLaughlin did not score on Sunday. These young men were only asked to play six different positions because of the hot weather. Their versatility was one of the leading reasons for this team's success. Finally, the team has asked its fullback, not only to be very defensive, but to take an active role in the offensive strategy. Michael Stejman, Ross Martin, Kevin Keefe and Todd Luka were substitutes this weekend. They played their positions well and between them had six assists this weekend.

This team's next stop is Farmington, Conn. for their annual July 4th Soccer Tournament.

Comets End Season
The Westfield comets finished their season last Saturday with a memorable victory over Spotswood. The last game took place at the Soccerama tournament in Metuchen and the team performed like champions.

Forwards Doug Augis, Robert Berry, Nick Christakos, Joe Ciccone, Dave Goldner, and Michael Smith coordinated their efforts to make several goals during the game. They were mightily assisted by fullbacks Pete Ciccarelli, J.P. Matoney, and Steve Renshaw.

Defense work was handled extremely well by goalies Brian Shuckman and Michael Wright. They were aided by the fine cooperation of fullbacks Chris Cope, Shawn Feeney, Jimmy Luerssen, and Chris Mackay.

It was a great way to end the season and the families of team members celebrated afterward with a picnic and a "fun soccer" game.

Girls in Final Games

The girls' softball season wound down this week with these results:

National League Play-Off Game
Dodgers 4 - Cubs 0
 The Dodgers entered the championship game after shutting out a determined Cub team with timely second-inning extra base hits by Emily Tell and Lisa DiSalte and RBI single by Courtney Zenner. Maureen Kinney brought home Tracey Hurley, two hits, in the first in the tight contest. Leigh Stokes and Jennifer Suback registered solid base hits.

Pitcher Katherine Wallace capped the victory with a home run blast to deep left field, while back in the eighth inning, stranding a Cub after a triple, Fannie Huang handled four assists flawlessly, anchoring the defense until Emily Tell, Rachel Rubenstein and Robyn Friedman.

Braves 12 - Crusaders 6
 The Braves and Crusaders who finished deadlocked in their division with 87 records squared off in a game showcasing the title with the Braves victorious. Allison Connolly pitched her team to their seventh win in a row allowing no walks and pacing the offense with three hits. Laura May, in the Wolf and Samantha Nichols got on base every time at bat either with timely hits or drawing crucial walks. The defense was solid with an outstanding performance by Allison Connolly. Samantha Hagman is catching everything around the plate with her cat like moves and Cathy Kudlick continues steadily at short.

Twins 7 - Blue Jays 4
 In the regular season finale, the Twins remained undefeated, beating the powerful Blue Jays 7 to 4. Trailing the Jays one in the bottom of the third inning with five runs, and then held on to the lead adding two more runs in the sixth inning to cap their undefeated season. Kara Chambers, the Twins pitcher, added the final victory to her unbeaten string, leading her team mates to the playoffs with solid pitching and heads up useful play. The Blue Jays, who were leading the threat, could not penetrate the Twins defense, and the extra effort plays of Sara Cosewich and Jennifer Battiloro denied scoring opportunities to the Blue Jays. Katie McGeary and Kerry McGeary, Bridgett Perry and Michelle Cose with led the Twins' hitters and were key to the five run surge that spelled defeat for the Blue Jays. Elissa Nelson, Jenny Saunders, Deia Littrell and Sara Fitzsimmons gathered the Blue Jays hits and runs but not quite enough to overcome the determined Twins. A tough defeat and a well earned win for the two steamboat teams.

Blue Jays 8 - Orioles 5
 The Blue Jays won their playoff opener against the Orioles with a 16 hit barrage behind the pitching of Jane Bentz. Regaining their winning stride after a tough loss to the Twins, the Blue Jays strung together a series of sharp singles and alert base running to stay even with the Orioles until the top half of the seventh inning, when they broke a tie ball game with three runs, and then retired the side to win the game. Jennifer Michelle Andre, Chris Perrier, Jenny Saunders and Sara Fitzsimmons all posted better than .500 at bat, and scored the winning runs for the Blue Jays.

Yankees 14 - Blue Jays 10
 The Blue Jays, ahead 10 to 4 in the second inning, watched helplessly as the fired up Yankees scored 20 runs to walk away with game two of the playoffs. Unable to score again after the second inning, the Blue Jays closed their season with a reeling defeat at the hands of the hot hitting Yankees. Blue Jays' Jennifer Bergin hit a grand slam home run, but the Yankees just kept coming on and overwhelmed the Jays. All in all, a tough week for the Blue Jays, with one win and two losses. However, their season record was solid, and they were always a team capable of explosive scoring and solid defense.

Red Sox 15 - Sea Hawks 7
 In a game the Red Sox had to win to secure their division championship, the Sea Hawks battled the Sox "even" until the top of the 5th when the Sox scored four of their runs and built the final score to 15 to 7. Kirsten Froden pitched another solid game completing her record at 7 to 1. She also had two hits and 1 RBI. Leading the hit parade was Jenn Stagaard with 4 hits in 5 at bats, including a double and 5 RBIs. Lynda Kesselman also 4 for 5 with 2 RBIs. Lynda Kesselman with a double and 3 RBIs. Amy Briemer with three singles and 2 RBIs. Nancy McSalis two singles, 1 RBI. Hayley Danser a single and one RBI - the start of a big Red Sox inning.

Highlights on defense were Nikki Lyon's starting a double play in the second inning, catching a line drive and tossing to Amy for the second out. Nikki also caught a near force play on second to end the game.

Jessi made a finger tip catch of a hard line drive to end a Sea Hawk threat in the 5th inning.

Red Sox 6 - Yankees 19
 The Red Sox have finished their season in second place, losing to the Yankees in the finals.

While the Red Sox made a good effort the Yankee machine continued to roll.

Red Sox 12 - Twins 10
 At this writing, this is to be the most exciting game of the season for the Red Sox. This playoff victory by a score of 12 to 10 over the Twins was a hard fought nail-biter right to the end, with Jessi Kunkley making the catch of the game to end the Twins five run 7th inning threat. The Twins showed why they are a great team by coming back with 5 runs in the 7th inning to almost pull it out.

The Red Sox were led by the pitching of Kirsten Froden who helped her own cause with 3 hits and one RBI and good fielding. Jenn Stagaard continued her exceptional play by playing short center in this game making a difficult catch of a line drive and going 3 for 4 with a triple and 2 RBIs. Amy Briemer had two doubles and made an outstanding catch of a line drive and was on the receiving end of a double play ball started when Jessi grabbed a line drive in the 4th inning, throwing to Amy for the double play. Jessi also had two hits and one RBI.

Lynda Kesselman played her usual steady 3rd base and had a hit inning double driving in two runs. Maureen Gray also had a big double and 2 RBIs. Melissa Young was 3 for 4, 2 RBIs and continued to excel as our catcher, grabbing a pop up ending the 3rd inning. Nikki Lyon knocked down a wicked shot, keeping a sure extra base hit to a single. Nikki was 2 for 3. Nancy McSalis had a hit and played confidently in the outfield. Cindy Haesler made a great catch in right field to end a first inning threat by the Twins. Hayley Danser and Pina Miller contributed important RBIs to the team victory.

Braves 9 - Reds 0
 The Braves powered their way into the championship game by winning their semi final game of the championships series 9-0 against the Reds. This game was a pitching duel for the most part of the game with the Braves charging a 1-0 lead into the 4th inning. Samantha Nichols paced the attack with a three hit performance and combined with Allison Connolly's home run and Gina Calvachire's base clearing triple the Braves proved to be a tough opponent.

Defensive standouts were Jodi Gross, Sara Wolf who also had two hits, and Susan Ripberger who might be the best first basegirl in the league. Solid performances were also posted by Michelle Callagari, Jennifer Green, despite being ill and Cathy Fitzgerald.

Dodgers 4 - Phillies 3
 The Dodgers led into a one run lead to defeat the Phillies in one of the best played games of this season for both clubs. This was the final game of the first half play-offs in the National League since the Phillies had defeated the Mets earlier to force the Philly-Dodger playoff.

Mrs. Martin Wins Tourney
 Mrs. John T. Martin won the Marion Faxon Tournament by defeating runner-up Mrs. John Ackerman on the 20th hole in the finals of the Tuesday Group event which was played June 7 at Echo Lake Country Club. Mrs. J.O. Howard was medalist.

The Pirates, winners of the second half, played the Dodgers (World Series Champs of '82) winners of the first half, and won the National League Division and will meet the Senators in the World Series. The Senators had to play off the Indians (World Series runner-up '82) in two games and won the American League Division. As of this writing, the Pirates and Senators have each won one game in the best of three Series final.

Astros 15 - Athletics 9
 The very hard hitting Athletics beat the Astros Sunday in a make up game.

Randy Wojcik, in his last Major League game, had the hit of the day with a home run into left field with Dave Briemer and Matt Watson on base. J.J. McKeon was the other big hitter with a triple driving in 3 runs, and Alex Ho with a single and double. Billy Bonnett made line plays at third as did Brian Slawomirz in center field. Greg Taranto also had 2 singles and did a good job at second.

Getting hits for the Astros were Ken Voorhees with a triple and double, Aubrey Boytos, Rich Fela, and Brian Cheek. Scott Coren pitched 2 good innings and made good plays in the field. John Gelfand and Billy Cavanaugh also pitched. Joe Galata and T.J. Diaz shared catching duties and Ted Flynn played third.

Dodgers 4 - Phillies 3
 The Dodgers led into a one run lead to defeat the Phillies in one of the best played games of this season for both clubs. This was the final game of the first half play-offs in the National League since the Phillies had defeated the Mets earlier to force the Philly-Dodger playoff. Dodger pitchers Mark Kumpf and Roy Jensen did "what had to be done" to beat the tough Phillies by only allowing them 4 hits. The key to the Dodger victory was definitely defense. Stephen Dury started the Dodger defense off by making a great play at second base against the very first Philly player while Brian Egan made another great play at second base against the very last Philly player to close out a Philly rally. Other defensive highlights were David Stravachs play at third base, Mike Harrigfields catch in deep left field and especially Brian Muellers catch lying run in the Philly seventh. Dodger offense was led by pitchers Mark Kumpf and Roy Jensen each collecting 2 hits along with Matt Brown's 2 hits one of which appeared to be a home run only to have the ball bounce off the top of the fence and back into play. Charley Brown also had a solid hit while John Snyder scored one of the big runs. Brian Mueller laid down a perfect bunt to bring in the winning run. Tom Grasso and Ted Jensen helped the Dodger cause.

Pirates 11 - Dodgers 10
 The Pirates won the National League Championship by defeating the 1982 World Series Champion team Dodgers, by one run in a very exciting and well played game by both clubs. The Dodgers went to work fast as they scored 2 runs in the top of the first inning. The Pirates tied the score at the end of one full inning with Greg Johnson and Brandon Lopresti crossing the plate. In the third, the Dodgers struck hard collecting 4 more runs. The Pirates came up with 1 run in the bottom of the inning when Pirate first baseman Ryan Venckus stole home on a wild loose ball thrown by the Dodgers.

In the bottom of the 4th trailing by 3 runs, with one out the Pirates came to life. Jeri Benquist singled and Johnson reached first on a walk. Both runners advanced with 2 outs. Brandon Lopresti singled sending in 2 runs. Ryan Venckus was hit by a pitched ball putting runners on the corners. Jim Migliozzi with 2 strikes hit a double sending 2 runs home. Matt Joelson singled sending in 1 more run, before the Dodgers defense retired the side, with the score 8-6 Pirates.

The Pirates scored 3 more runs in the 5th with Brian Duels, Greg Johnson and Lopresti crossing the plate. Going into the 7th with the Pirates up by 5 runs. The hard hitting Dodgers struck again getting 4 runs before the Pirates defense retired the side ending the game. Simon Kavanagh, Sam Waunderle, Chris Reichhelm, and John Pfister, played great ball, showing good hustle in the field, keeping the Dodger hits in check. Tom Olson and Brandon Lopresti combined for the win striking out 12 Dodger batters.

Pirates 6 - Senators 5
Game No. 1
 The Pirates came out on top as they defeated the Senators 6 to 5 in Game No. 1 of the 1983 Major League World Series. Fans had much to cheer about for both teams, as each club played very good baseball. The Senators scored first in the top of the third with a well hit homerun. The Pirates came right back scoring three runs in the bottom of the inning. Sam Waunderle walked and Jeri Benquist singled. Greg Johnson singled and received 2 RBIs. Tom Olson then singled sending home Johnson. The Pirates scored again in the fourth when Matt Joelson reached first on an error. Joelson scored off of Benquist's second base hit in the game. In the fifth the Senators added two more runs. In the bottom of the fifth with the Pirates up by 1 run, Brandon Lopresti led off the inning hitting a homerun, putting his team up by 2 runs. The Senators struck back the next inning scoring 2 more making the score 5 all. The Pirates defense did their job in the seventh getting the side out in order. With one out in the bottom of the 7th Lopresti singled and stole second and third base. Ryan Venckus the Pirates clutch first baseman singled sending Lopresti home scoring the winning run. Jim Migliozzi made several key plays at second for the Pirates. John Pfister, Chris Reichhelm, Simon Kavanagh and Brian Duels all played their positions well, helping to secure the win.

 The hard hitting Senators balanced the series as they defeated the Pirates 10 to 4. The Pirates being the visitors in game 2 came out swinging and scored 2 runs in the top of the first. Jeri Benquist led off with a single, and Greg Johnson followed with a base hit. Tom Olson walked leading the bases for Brandon Lopresti. Lopresti hit into a fielders choice and Benquist was forced out at the plate. Ryan Venckus then walked, as did John Pfister sending two runs across the plate. The Pirates scored 3 runs putting them up by 1. The Pirates scored in the top of the third when Tom Olson led off with a single and Lopresti singled. With runners on first and second and no outs, Ryan Venckus singled sending home Olson. Jim Migliozzi hit a long fly ball to right field and Lopresti tagged out and scored the second run in the inning. The Senators tied the game in the fourth 4 to 4. The Pirates facing hard Senator pitching, were shut-out the rest of the game. The Pirates scored 3 runs in the fifth and 3 runs in the sixth securing the win.

Elks Pony League Champs

The Elks, Pony League leaders for much of the regular season, swept the Wings in convincing style last weekend for the league championship.

The Wings, who had fought off a challenge from the Bears to clinch the third and final playoff spot had come from a game behind the week before to beat the Leafs in the semi final round.

The Elks, however, played with an eerie confidence which didn't seem to diminish at all, even when the high flying Wings opened the World Series with seven runs in their first at bat.

Derek Muller settled down after that, allowing just two unearned runs in the fifth, while the Elks began to chip away at John Duca. Two in the first, three in the third and two in the fifth and the stage was set as they headed into the seventh down, 9-7.

Muller led off the inning with a single, but was later erased on a fielder's choice, with Tim Dineen up. Following that, and an Ed Stravach double, Mark McLane grounded out up the middle though a throw in infield for the tying runs.

The Elks won the game in the eighth when, after two walks and a sacrifice, Muller drilled his third hit to left field. As the ball fell, Dave Doley came in with the game.

Besides Muller, Dineen, McLane and Ben Pavone led the Elks' 13 hit attack with two apiece. Muller went the distance, allowing nine Wings hits, including two to Steve Tozier, Duca and Mark Benquist.

Sunday's second game took on a different air, with the Elks jumping out in front and having to hold on for a 12-8 win. Five in the first and two in the second weren't enough to kill the Wings, who by the fifth had fought back to within one, 9-7.

At that point, however, Bill Lister relieved McLane and settled things down while the Elks were adding four runs in the sixth inning off Wings starter and loser, Todd Graf. A mild, two-out rally in the seventh produced only one Wings run.

Muller again had three hits, as did Stravach, who also knocked in three runs. Hank Rehner and McLane each had a pair of singles.

Graf and Duca had four of the Wings' six hits.

The seminals saw the Wings spot the Leafs game one, 4-2, behind a strong pitching performance by Mike Juchnik. Juchnik allowed scratch runs in the fourth and fifth, but a three run sixth had already clinched the win. The Leafs collected only four hits off Duca and Tozier, but 10 walks proved to be the Wings' downfall.

Game two saw the Leafs leave the tying or go ahead run on third in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth the Leafs had runners on second and third with none out and a run already in, but could get nothing more.

Graf was the one shutting the door for the Wings, who scored four times in the first and twice in the fourth for a 6-5 win. The game again featured few but key hits, more walks and too many errors to please either coach, although Rick Costantino, Ed Haag and Chris Goud joined Graf from Game 1 with two hit games.

The final was a cakewalk, with Tozier and Mike DiClerico shutting the Leafs down, 8-3. A four-run third clinched it, though the Wings added three insurance runs in the sixth. Graf had two more hits, as did Chris Ziobro and Rob Rowland.
