Action on Elm Street Condominiums is Postponed

A revised plan to use property at 305 Elm St. for condominiums will be presented at the Aug. 15 meeting of the Board of Adjustment after a proposal by the Thomas-Doerrier Co. to construct eight condominiums at the site was rejected by the zoning board Monday night.

The construction of condominiums at the proposed location is contingent upon granting of a use variance since the area is zoned for one and two family residents. Other violations also exist. The coverage proposed Monday night would be 23.8% instead of the required 20%, and the set back would not comply with the 40 foot front, 20 foot side regulation.

The company argued that the property in question had been granted use variances previously for the Board of Education administrative offices and the Jewish Community Center, that condominiums are in short supply and great demand in the Westfield area, and that fewer condominiums would be an inequitable project for the company to undertake. The proposal was met with opposition from several concerned citizens who reminded the board of the historic nature of the neighborhood and predicted the spread of such variances if a precedent were set.

All other appeals brought before the board were approved.

Byron P. Cooper was granted permission to extend his one family residence at 300 Wells St. although it will cover 21% of the lot instead of 20%, and the side yard set back will be 11.95 feet instead of the required 17.95 feet.

Thomas and Joanne Carey were granted permission to erect a deck at 113 Vernon Terr., although the rear yard will be 31 feet instead of 35. This is a change to a previous plan approved by the board.

The appeal of the Westfield Convalescent Center to extend the nursing home at 1515 Lamberis Mill Rd. was extended to permit construction until July 1984. Permission had been granted in 1980, but the center was forced to halt construction because of approval delays at the State level.

The appeal of John Putnok, of 420 Palsted Ave. to erect a deck was withdrawn and will be considered at the Aug. 15 meeting.

Board Names New WHS Ass't. Principal

Florence S. Senyk, school program coordinator for the New Jersey State Department of Education in the Union County Superintendent's office, was appointed assistant principal of Westfield High School by the Westfield Board of Education at its public meeting Tuesday night at an annual salary of $38,050.

Mrs. Senyk, whose appointment is effective Aug. 15, replaces Dr. Richard Willett who resigned as assistant principal in June to become principal of Columbia High School in the South Orange-Maplewood School District.

Westfield High School's new assistant principal was selected from among nine candidates interviewed for the position. There were 130 applications for the assistant principal post.

"Mrs. Senyk possesses excellent academic credentials, a unique professional background and all other qualities necessary to achieve success in this position," said WHS Principal Robert G. Petix. "It is my opinion that she will complement this administration and add a new dimension that will enable us to serve the students of our high school even more effectively."

In addition to Dr. Petix and Mrs. Senyk, the high school administration includes Richard Konet and Frank Scott as assistant principals.

Mrs. Senyk has experience as a classroom teacher, as a department chairperson and as an administrator. She is a member of the Watchung Borough Board of Education and the

Florence S. Senyk
Somerset County Educational Services Commission.

The new assistant principal began her career in education in 1965 as a French teacher at the Wardlaw-Hartridge School in Edison where she remained until 1978, assuming the modern language department chairmanship in 1971 and serving as dean of girls in the 1977-1978 school term. During the summer of 1977, she was principal of the summer pro-

Heat Brings Crowds To Pool

Soaring temperatures during the last week have brought crowds to Memorial Pool, where record numbers have cooled off, according to Mrs. Ruth Hill, director of the Westfield Recreation Department.

A few more memberships are available, according to Mrs. Hill, for those who wish to find some relief in the hot summer days still ahead. Membership fees for Westfield residents are, for a family, $125; individual, $85; senior citizen, $25; handicapped, $1; and totally disabled veteran, no charge. Fees are doubled for non-residents. Inquiries about membership may be directed to the pool office in the Municipal Building, 425 Broad St., from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Staying cool is Chris Battiloro, who is object of sponge toss at last week's Tamaques playground fair.

22 Juveniles Apprehended For Violations in Parks

Police Chief James F. Moran reports that in this month to date, 22 juveniles have been apprehended in town parks for violations of the alcoholic beverage laws, possession of marijuana and for violation of the park curfew law of 10 p.m. All were charged with juvenile delinquency in the Juvenile Court.

Chief Moran notes that the statutes covering activities in the parks are being vigorously enforced, and requests the continued cooperation of the public in reporting any infractions they may observe.

Musical Classics In Tonight's Concert

Serious music lovers will get their night in the park tonight at 8 p.m. in Mindowaskin when the Recreation Commission's Community Concert Band performs a program of classic wind literature.

The featured artist tonight will be Beth Martyn who will be performing the Rondo from Mozart's Concerto for Clarinet. Also featured in the program will be the percussion section during "Camata."

Rounding out the evening will be two lighter pieces, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" and the "William Tell Overture."

The band brought the audience down memory lane last week with its rendition of Leroy Anderson's famous works. "Bugler's Holiday" was coordinated by the trumpet trio of Ed Munzer, Jr., Tom Duncan and Chris DiCicco. Scott Joplin's "Maple Leaf Rag" and "Boogie Woogie" by Clarence Smith were highlighted by strong woodwind and brass sections. Two highlights of the evening were "The Typewriter" featuring first chair typist, Jerry Conway and the show-stopping encore of Anderson's traditional favorite "Sleigh Ride."

Bd. Renews Grant School Lease, Advances Wilson Masonry Project

The lease on Grant School to Catholic Community Services was renewed by the Board of Education at its regular monthly business session Tuesday night at its Elm St. School offices.

Mt. Carmel Guild will continue to use the school for special education students at a rental of $53,500 from Sept. 1 until June 30. The rental fee is $1200 more than the 1982-83 contract.

Continuing its major summer maintenance program, the board also agreed to a $56,000 contract with Ormond Contracting Inc. for masonry restoration at Wilson School. Action on this bid had been postponed from last week's special session of the board. An attorney for an unsuccessful bidder for the project appeared at the meeting to request the board review the qualifications of the bidder prior to awarding the contract but board members failed to act on this appeal.

Another second bidder however, became a contract winner for computer communications equipment when the successful bidder, Continental Resources Inc. of Scotch Plains withdrew its full bid of $19,900 awarded June 12 after concluding, after consultation with the telephone company, that the equipment proposed in its bid will not perform satisfactorily. TSC Data Terminals, Roselle, was awarded the contract which ended up at less cost than the original successful bidder. TSC's first bid was $24,760 for 32

B of E Declines to Rule On Congressmen's Morality

"God, country and morality." Public officials, England added, should be "role models" and indicated that his resolution would instruct district Congressmen to vote for expulsion of Republican Congressman Daniel Crane of Illinois and Democratic Congressman Gerry E. Studds of Illinois for incidents involving sexual activities with student aides in Washington.

Board member James England said he felt the resolution, which was not introduced at the meeting, would indicate a stand for Congress." England urged.

Senus contended that personal activities of Congressmen are not the concerns of local school boards and argued that the resolution should not be subject to board action. Senus was joined by board members Gail Cassidy, Kathleen Martin, Carolyn Moran and William Vincenzini in this decision. England was supported by Harvey Wolfson and Carl Bailey.

Quinn Takes Oath as Councilman

Thomas Quinn of 726 Austin St. was sworn into office as councilman from the fourth ward at ceremonies conducted Monday morning at the Municipal Building by Town Clerk Joy C. Vreeland.

Quinn was named recently to succeed Republican Alan Gutterman in a fourth ward seat after Gutterman resigned because he is moving from the fourth to the third ward and can no longer legally represent Ward 4 residents. Under law, a vacancy on council must be filled by a member of the same political party as his or her predecessor.

Councilman Quinn, one of three Republicans considered for the post, will complete the unexpired term of Gutterman until Dec. 31; he is a candidate for election to a two-year term in November's General Election.

Quinn, 43, is currently affiliated with Wang Labs, having previously been employed by Datapoint Corp., Sperry Univac, General Electric Information Systems and ITT Telecommunications and four years on communication assignments abroad as a lieutenant with the U.S. Navy. He is a 1961 graduate of St. Peter's College where he earned a bachelor of science degree.

Married and the father of four children, Quinn has been active locally in the Neighborhood Improvement Association and Senior Citizens Housing Corp. He has been a coach of girls' and boys' Westfield Soccer Association teams for 11 years, active in barbershop singing, the Scotch Plains Jaycees.

At Holy Trinity Parish, he has served on the parish council. Home and School Association, choir, board of education and in parish community relations.

Greene: District in Compliance During Last Week of School

Educational standards designed to meet State-mandated requirements of 180 days of school were maintained during the final week of school last month, Superintendent of Schools Laurence F. Greene stated at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

But Greene admitted that attendance was low, although actual figures were not made public.

A special program had been prepared, said the superintendent, at the high school, focus of criticism at last week's meeting by John Burke of Elm St., father of a WHS student. Burke had contended that the State requires 180 days of "classroom instruction" and that the high school program did not comply. Dr. Greene offered to supply Burke with copies of the program offered at the high school and said that a check by his office indicated that classroom attendance was taken and teaching occurred at the junior high school level. Classrooms were open and manned at other schools, he added.

"Dog Days"

Prompt Postmaster's Plea

With the arrival of the "Dog Days of Summer" Westfield Postmaster Mike Collins has asked dog owners to help protect their pets and their letter carriers from the literal and figurative pain of dog bites.

Collins said that 6,879 of the nation's letter carriers suffered dog bite injuries last year.

Collins said that eight local carriers were bitten by dogs last year, and four dog bite cases have been reported to date this year.

"Dog bites can be disastrous," says Postmaster Collins, "and that's why we're asking for cooperation from dog owners. We're hoping they will help to protect both their pet and their letter carrier."

Collins suggested that dog owners keep their pets in an area away from the mailbox and the areas used by the mail carrier for access to the property. "If the pet is not kept behind a secure fence, then we suggest the owner restrain the dog with a leash or keep it inside during the usual hours of the carrier's delivery," he said.

The Postal Service has the right to protect its carriers by refusing to deliver mail to a household with an unrestrained dog. In the case where a dog is allowed to run loose, delivery to the entire neighborhood could be affected. The Postal Service also provides counseling to bitten carriers wishing to seek action against the dog owners.

"Things don't have to go that far," Collins says. "We constantly alert our carriers to the problem, but the real solution to dog bites is for the owners to help us. It's the old story of an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure."

Duggan, Halluin and Wright Receive Troop 72 Eagle Awards

The highlight of Troop 72's June Court of Honor was the achievement of scouting's highest rank, Eagle Scout by Patrick Duggan, Russell P. Halluin and Daniel Wright. These Scouts are Troop 72's 110th, 111th, 112th Eagle Scouts to achieve Boy Scoutings highest rank since 1960.

Assistant Scoutmaster Stanley Lipson presented the Eagle Award to Patrick Duggan. Lipson observed that Patrick has already begun practicing the motto of: "once an Eagle Scout, always an Eagle Scout" by assisting and teaching some of the 26 new Troop 72 Scouts the fundamentals of Scouting since satisfying the requirements for the Eagle award.

Lipson also recounted the highest point of Patrick's Scouting career: a five-day backpacking trip along the Appalachian Trail, through the Shenandoah National Forest, one of Troop 72's most difficult trips of the many it has conducted in recent years.

Patrick's service project benefited the American Red Cross Blood Drive held last December. He organized the distribution of posters and flyers by other Troop 72 Scouts advertising the blood drive and Patrick made more than 200 telephone calls to previous donors. In addition, he and other Scouts helped the Red Cross staff on the day of the drive to greet donors, serve them refreshments, and babysit.

Among some of Patrick's accomplishments during the past six years include three historic medal awards, two mile swim awards, four International Awards, the Shenandoah High Adventure Award, three Klondike Derby awards and Order of the Arrow. Patrick has also held leadership positions as Chaplain's Aide, Patrol Leader and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Duggan of 505 Parkview Ave.

Assistant Scoutmaster John Wright presented the Eagle Award to Russell

Halluin. Wright traced Russell's scouting history from an inexperienced Tenderfoot Scout struggling along the rugged Appalachian Trail a few years ago to an accomplished camper during Troop 72's 100-mile cycling trek in Maryland last fall.

Wright has been tour leader on both these scouting events, and he noted that on the cycling trip Russell successfully used his gear, despite the rain and snow that occurred during the trip. Wright also noted that Russell has been one of the most active Troop 72 Scouts in recent years having earned 31 merit badges (10 more than needed for the Eagle Badge) and hiked, canoed and cycled more than 600 miles in the past 3½ years.

As Russell's service project, he organized and led other members of the troop in refurbishing the courtyard and garden at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Among Russell's scouting accomplishments are six Historic Trail Awards, five Century Patrol Awards, three International Scouting Awards, the World Conservation Award, the 50 Mile Award, three Great Canoe Awards, four Klondike Derby Awards, and two Troop 72 Boy Week Awards. Russell was also selected as Troop 72's Scout-of-the-Year for two successive years. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Halluin of 325 Orenda Circle, has held leadership positions as den chief, troop historian and patrol leader. While patrol leader, he led his patrol to the Patrol-of-the-Year Award.

Daniel Wright's Eagle Award was presented by former Scoutmaster Jay Rochlin, who noted that Dan came from a scouting family traceable to his grandfather, the late John D. Wright, a professional Scout Executive in St. Louis, Mo. Rochlin recalled that he first met Dan when Dan joined Troop 72 as a new Scout and observed that he was one of the most friendly and enthusiastic new scouts in the troop. Later he became one of the most active during the 1979-1980 Scouting year.

In a special ceremony, Dan's grandmother, Mrs. John D. Wright, pinned her late husband's Eagle pin on Dan.

Dan's Eagle Service Project involved cleaning and carpeting five 50 gallon steel drums for the Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountaintop. Dan obtained the barrels and with the help of other Scouts carpeted the barrels inside and out. The finished barrels are being used in physical and recreational therapy at the Hospital.

Among some of Dan's accomplishments during the past six years include five Historic Trail Awards, seven Century Patrol Awards, three International Scouting Awards, the 50-mile Award, the Mile Swim Award, two Troop 72 Boy Week Awards, the God and Country Award, three Great Canoe Race Awards (having won first place in 1979 and 1981), four Klondike Derby Awards being on the winning team in 1981; and winner of the Scout-of-the-Year in 1980. Dan, who attended the National Jamboree in 1981, also attended the Watchung Area Council Troop Leadership Training program and he is a member of the Order of the Arrow. He has served leadership positions including Chaplain's Aid, Assistant Patrol Leader and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader in the Leadership Corps. Dan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Wright of 307 Canterbury Rd.

The Eagle charge was given by James A. Wright, the brother of John Wright and Dan Wright's uncle.

Another award given at the ceremony included the Award of the Silver Eagle Palm to Lester Lynd. This award, in recognition of his earning 10 additional merit badges beyond those required for Eagle, was awarded by Scouting Executive Lester Friedman.

Several Scouts were recognized for advancing in rank. They included the Life Scout Badge to Kevin Culligan, David Patterson and Tim Yockel, the Star Scout Badge to Greg Senus and the Second Class Badge to Sean Duggan.

Twenty-six boys have joined Troop 72 during the past few months and these boys were recognized in a special induction ceremony organized and carried out by Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Miller. Several of these new Scouts and their dads are joining Troop 72 this week in the annual week-long campout on "Scout Island" near Ontario, Canada.

Troop 72 holds its meetings every Monday night at 7:15 p.m. in the Westminster Hall of the Presbyterian Church, located at the corner of Broad St. and Mountain Ave. during the school year. Boys 11-17 years old or in the sixth grade and above are eligible to join. Any questions about joining Boy Scouts or Troop 72 may be referred to Scoutmaster Howard Hall at 226 Edgewood Pl. or Troop Committee Chairman Brendon Culligan at 869 Winvah Ave.

Junior Music Theater Presents

"The Truth about Cinderella"

"The Truth About Cinderella," a Westfield Summer Workshop Junior Musical Theater Production, promises a special evening for playgoers young and old. Scheduled for July 26, 27, and 28 at the Roosevelt Junior High School auditorium, 301 Clark St., the curtains will open at 8:00 p.m. From the viewpoint of "the play's the thing," the youthful cast of "Cinderella" soon makes the audience forget their ages — both of the cast and their own, while veteran talent proceeds to tell "The Truth About Cinderella."

Starring as Cindy is Whitney Berkable, an eighth grader at Westfield's Roosevelt Junior High School. Mark Pizzi, an eighth grader at Edison Junior High in Westfield, co-stars as Prince. In feature roles are Roosevelt ninth graders: Stephen Sherman as Sir James (Cindy's father), Betsy Lynch as Lady Lily Laughingtower, and Robert Gross as Greg. Also playing key roles are: Amy Holzapfel, from Orange School in Cranford as the queen, and Glen Miske, a seventh grader at Deerfield School in Mountaintop as the king.

Berkable and Lynch have previously participated in Junior Music Theater productions of "Our Miss Brooks," and "Logger's Lament," as well as Roosevelt's "Brigadoon." Lynch has appeared also in the Westfield Summer Workshop production of "Ask Any Girl," and Roosevelt's

"Anything Goes."

Also members of the "Logger's Lament" troupe were Holzapfel Miske and Pizzi. Holzapfel is soon to appear in "Wait Until Dark." Miske has added to his credits appearances in "Li'l Abner" and "Oklahoma" at Deerfield School, while Pizzi has been a cast member of "Annie Get You Gun" at Edison Junior High. Halluin Appointed Patent Counsel For Cetus Corp. in Calif.

Cetus Corporation of Berkeley, Calif. has announced the appointment of Albert P. Halluin of Westfield as its general patent and trademark counsel.

Halluin has practiced property law for more than 18 years, including, most recently, as counsel to Exxon Research and Engineering Company in Florham Park, and prior to that as senior patent attorney at CPC International Inc. in Englewood Cliffs. A former patent examiner, Halluin is currently chairman of the chemical practice committee of the 4500-member American Patent Law Association and an officer with the New Jersey Patent Law Association. He has served as chairman for legislation committees with both the New Jersey Patent Law Association and the American Patent Law Association, and in these capacities he was instrumental in the passage of enabling Congressional legislation relating to reexamination of patents and the newly formed Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Halluin was most recently selected to be in Who's Who in American Law.

Michael Ostrach, vice president and general counsel of Cetus, noted that Halluin's extensive experience will enable Cetus to accelerate the development of a strong proprietary position in its technology and products. Halluin's book chapter "Patenting the Results of Genetic Engineering Research: An Overview" (Patenting of Life Forms Banbury Report 10 published by Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory on Long Island) has been generally recognized as a major contribution and one which gives a overview of the possibilities of patenting the results of genetic engineering research. Experts have credited Halluin's writings as basis for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's decision to reject Stanford University's basic recombinant DNA patent application. This decision on the most fundamental patent rights covering recombinant DNA has been reported to possibly place in jeopardy as much as $1 billion in potential royalties.

Cetus Corporation specializes in genetic engineering and other modern molecular biological and recombinant DNA techniques for the commercial development of pharmaceuticals, diagnostic tests, cancer therapy, human and animal vaccines as well as research in agricultural applications. The company, now headquartered in Emeryville, Calif., operates research and development facilities in Berkeley and Palo Alto, Calif., and Middleton, Wis.

Halluin has been active with the Boy Scouts in Westfield, serving as troop committee chairman and assistant Scoutmaster with Troop 72. He and his two sons and wife Joanne will move to Danville, Calif., later this summer.

Summer in the "City"...

There was something for everybody in Westfield Thursday night - a real "summer resort."
Downtown streets were busy with ice-cream eaters, shoppers, "lookers" and even a little combo on Elm St. In the park were some 200 people for the weekly summer band concert. For those who wanted to complain, inside the Municipal Building was a public hearing on proposed fare increases for rail and bus lines.
For the record, there were a lot more people outside than in, more people enjoying than complaining.
For those of us who are summer-bound in town, there are a surprising number of activities... for little or no money. Playground activities for the young, tennis, golf at nearby inexpensive county courses, sports activities for spectators and participating alike (one can almost always catch a ballgame in progress at Tamaques Park). Brightwood Park trails to stroll, on-the-water activities at Echo Lake Park and Surprise Lake, activities at Trillside Nature Center in adjacent Mountainside, ducks in town park lakes to watch, productions staged by the Summer Workshop, other amateur theater group productions, the premiere of "I Ain't Gonna Dance Alone," concerts in the park, strolling through the business section, activities for the young and books, video tapes, etc. for the older to borrow at the library, and on and on...
"Summer in the City" is a lot more than people might think.

Report from Washington

By Congressman

Matt Rinaldo
7th District, New Jersey

The skyrocketing cost of housing over the past few years has made it virtually impossible for many people, especially young couples, to come up with the money for a downpayment on their first home.

In fact, the President's Commission on Housing reported last year that the inability of potential home buyers to obtain enough capital for a downpayment is one of the principal obstacles to home ownership.

The following facts and figures bring the problem into sharper focus:

* In 1977, 45 percent of all home buyers were first-time purchasers. Today that number has dropped to 40 percent.

* In 1976, first-time buyers spent 23 percent on their annual income for housing expenses. Today they spend about 36 percent, including utilities, which have jumped from an average of $360 a year to about $1,250 annually.

* The median price for a first time home has risen from $23,400 in 1970 to about $70,000 annually.

* The annual income required for first-time purchasers has more than quadrupled from $10,258 in 1970 to more than $42,000 today.

* Average monthly payments (including utilities) for first-time buyers have risen over 450 percent, from $202 in 1970 to more than $1,250 today.

To help first-time homebuyers, I have joined a bipartisan group in the House in sponsoring the Homeownership Incentive Act of 1983. Structured after the successful Individual Retirement Account (IRA) concept, the bill would permit individuals to accumulate the money for a downpayment by placing some of their earnings in an individual housing account (IHA). Under the measure, tax deductible contributions up to $1,000 for singles and $2,000 for couples could be made annually to the account. The maximum amount of contributions to the IHA could not exceed $10,000 and all interest would be tax free.

To minimize the revenue loss to the Treasury, all withdrawals from the account would be recaptured as ordinary income at a rate of 10 percent per year for 10 years.

In addition to limiting the program to first-time homebuyers, the bill provides that if the funds are not used to purchase a home, the accountholder would be subject to a 10 percent penalty on top of the regular taxes that would be due.

The National Association of Realtors and the National Association of Homebuilders, both of whom have endorsed and are strongly supporting the bill, have estimated that the enactment of the measure would reduce from 6 to 3 years the average time required for a young family to save for a downpayment on a home. As many as three million first-time purchasers could be aided by the program.

Besides helping families fulfill the American dream of homeownership, the legislation also would serve to fuel the economic recovery. The National Association of Home Builders estimates that the construction of each 1,000 single family homes generates more than $32.5 million in wages. The total economic impact of 1,000 units is estimated to be close to $149 million, generating $104 million in taxes.

This bill provides a cost-effective means of assisting millions of Americans who want, but cannot now afford, to purchase a home.

MX MISSILES

Editor, Leader:

During the next few weeks Congress is expected to vote again on the appropriation of funds for MX missile production. The Bennett-Mavroules amendment calls for a cut-off of funds for all further MX production.

Should we cut off these funds? Do we need it for national security, or do we need it simply as a bargaining chip? The American people may very well be confused. This letter will attempt to clarify the issue.

During the 1970s the Soviet Union began to modernize their land-based missiles. They undertook especially to improve the accuracy of their missiles, an area in which they had been deficient. They developed two new missiles, the SS-18 and -19. They are huge missiles, MIRVed with 4 to 8 warheads on each missile, and with a rated accuracy of 315-425 meters CEP (circular error probable). This means that half the missiles are expected to fall within a circle of this radius, with the target at the center. Our own existing Minuteman III has a CEP of 220-280 meters, considerably better than the new Russian missiles. Nevertheless it was recognized that the SS-18s and -19s were capable of destroying American ICBM missiles if launched on a first strike.

It should be mentioned that the Soviet missile system in no way threatens our submarine missile system, nor our air-based missiles in the Strategic Air Command. We have 2400 nuclear warheads in submarines, ready to be launched at a moment's notice. In addition there are 500 cruise missiles ready to be launched by the Air Force. The "window of vulnerability" is a myth, as the Scowcroft Commission has agreed.

Nevertheless, during the Carter Administration, we undertook to develop a new land-based ICBM, bigger and more accurate than anything the Russians had, and invulnerable to a first-strike attack. The MX is indeed bigger (it carries 10 warheads per missile), it is more accurate (its CEP is less than 100 meters), but it is no more invulnerable to attack than any of the previous land-based missiles now in existence.

The question then arises: Why should we spend $20 billion to create these new missiles? What are the pros and cons? The pros are these:

(1) It will increase the vulnerability of the Russian missile, silos, and therefore provide an added incentive to the Russians to negotiate an arms reduction with us.

(2) Our system of land-based missiles is aging and needs modernizing.

(3) It will convince the Soviets that we should both shift to single warhead weapons.

The arguments against the MX are the following:

(1) The history of the last 35 years has shown that the Russians have stepped up their own nuclear program every time we have produced a new weapon. All of the recent news dispatches from Geneva bear this out. The threat of the MX missile has certainly not been an incentive for negotiation on either side.

(2) Our system of land-based missiles is indeed aging and needs replacement, but very little of strategic value is gained if the great flaw of vulnerability is maintained. If we are going to spend large sums of money for the security of this country, isn't it time to move away from the outmoded concept of static silos, which invite a pre-emptive strike?

(3) The Scowcroft Commission recommended that we move away from multi-warhead missiles, toward single-warhead missiles. By building this 10 warhead monster we are hardly moving in the right direction. The MX is both vulnerable to attack and highly threatening to the Soviet Union. It makes an attractive target for a pre-emptive Soviet attack at a time of crisis. This will lead both sides to adopt a hair-trigger launch-on-warning policy.

(4) The MX is not necessary for national security. The Scowcroft Commission has confirmed that we do not face a "window of vulnerability." Even if our land-based missiles are vulnerable, our strategic air force and submarines will provide a strong deterrent to Soviet attack.

(5) The MX is costly and wasteful. It is expected to cost at least $20 billion over the next five years.

Wasting money on a program of dubious value will result in underfunding of other programs.

These are the pros and cons of this terribly important issue. The issue is money and, life itself. On balance, the answer should be clear. The MX is money wasteful and life threatening. If you feel the same way, ask your Congressman to support the Bennett-Mavroules amendment deleting MX production funds. Only Congress can stop this terrible mistake.

MORE WOMEN WORKING

Since 1970, nearly half of the increase in the female labor force has been among women aged 25 to 34. Today, one out of four women workers is in this age group, according to "Women at Work: A Chartbook," published by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Course to Aid Adults Returning to College

Adults who may be feeling anxious about returning to college after a number of years out of the classroom may find a special two-day session being offered by Union County College will alleviate some of their anxieties.

The course, "Preparation for College Study," will be conducted on the college's Cranford campus on Tuesdays, Aug. 23

Compared to men, women have always been at the low end of the salary scale. But there is one time in their lives when females come out ahead - that's when they are still teenagers.

According to interviews with 3,250 teenagers, girls from 13 to 19 amass more from allowances and odd jobs than boys of those ages. No matter what your sex, however, those teenage years are a good time to learn to manage money, advises the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (CPAs).

Managing money is not difficult or even complicated if you establish goals and priorities. In business, goal setting is an initial step so basic that groups forming a company fix their goals before raising capital. CPAs who guide them through that process will set up a financial reporting system, which shows how revenue is spent. Keeping track of money spent is just as important for teenagers who want control over their financial affairs.

When it comes to spending, boys and girls are also different. For instance, boys 13 to 15 average $11.05 a week from allowance and another $10.50 at jobs, most of which goes to hamburgers and cokes. Girls that age get an average weekly allowance of $11.20, earn another $11.05, and spend it mostly on clothes.

Older young women - 16 to 19 - still spend most of their money on clothes, but boys spend it mainly on entertainment and dating. In this age group, girls receive weekly allowances averaging $21.25 and earn an additional $30.50. Boys collect $20.55 in allowance, and earn $29.90 a week.

Once you decide how you want to spend money, set up a realistic budget. Project your income and expenses over a period of time, say several weeks. Family budgets are usually quarterly projections, but you may want to simply budget for the remaining weeks of summer.

In addition to regular income from allowance or jobs, be sure to list money owed you by friends, or birthday or other gifts you can anticipate. When figuring out expenses, list all your "fixed" costs such as busfare to your job, or lunches you eat away from home.

Your discretionary income, what's left after you've paid fixed expenses, may be needed for movies, or records. However, this is also income to subsidize a trip or a major purchase like a bike or a home computer.

If you want to buy a "big ticket" item like a stereo, estimate the cost and figure out how much a week you'll have to save to be able to afford it. An $80 tennis racket, for instance, could mean saving $8 a week for the next ten weeks. Then include that amount in your budget.

Planning for some large purchase may mean you'll have to drop something out of your budget. But if the list of what you usually buy is complete, check off whatever you can do without, a procedure controllers follow in business organizations. To save $8 a week for a tennis racket may mean cutting out movies, records or snacks for awhile. Play with your budget, CPAs suggest, until you work out a plan you can live with.

Saving is always easier when you have a definite goal. If you spot something on sale that you really want to buy, but don't have the extra money in your budget, consider borrowing from your parents. Offer to pay them back over time. If you have strong budget figures to show, it may be easier to persuade them to grant the loan.

A lot of kids save part of their money. The Youth Research Institute found that 77 percent of those interviewed do save money. That includes short-term savings - for expensive items like a stereo or vacation trip - and long-term savings - for college, a car or even marriage.

Once you set up a budget, stick with the planning habit, CPAs suggest. When the summer passes, a good budget can help you with your back-to-school spending.

And if your allowance lags behind the national averages, do what the big companies do. Raise your prices for home chores.

Changes to Take Place In Social Security

By John H. McCutcheon
Manager in Elizabeth

Up to half of the Social Security benefits received by people with higher incomes will be subject to the Federal income tax starting in 1984 under one provision of a new law. The new law is designed to solve the financial problems faced by the Social Security system. The money saved and new income raised by the law is designed to put Social Security on a sound financial footing.

Under the new law, up to half of a person's Social Security benefits will be included in his or her Federal taxable income if adjusted gross income plus nontaxable interest and half of his or her Social Security benefits exceeds a base amount. The base amount is $25,000 for an individual; $32,000 for a couple filing jointly; and zero for a couple filing separately. The amount of benefits that will be included in taxable income will be the lesser of:

* One-half of the benefits received, or
* One-half of the excess of the person's combined income - adjusted gross income plus one-half of benefits - over the base amount.

People receiving benefits should keep a record of the benefits they receive in 1984 to make figuring their 1984 taxes easier.

Detailed information about how to figure taxes will be available from the Internal Revenue Service later in the year.

A free leaflet, "Social Security Strengthened," which tells about all the changes in the Social Security law, is available at the Elizabeth, Social Security office, located at 342 Westminster Ave.

Decorative Painting Displayed in Windows

Barrett & Crane is exhibiting decorative painting on wooden pieces done by Eileen Stephens of Westfield. The style of painting on these pieces is called Bauernmalerei, which means "peasant painting" in German. This folk art evolved over three centuries and originated in the Alpine regions of Germany, Switzerland and Austria.

Toward the end of the Middle Ages people in the mountainous regions of Eastern Europe began using soft pine wood in their furniture making. At first the woodcrafters painted the furniture in an attempt to preserve the wood. Eventually they became more elaborate in their designs and were influenced by the painted ceilings and woodwork in the village churches and castles. Even though the cabinet-makers had no formal art training, designs full of birds, flowers and hearts evolved. Clusters of three flowers represent the Trinity of God. Birds represent happiness and hearts are for love. This primitive folk art is full of symbolism. Soon people began to commission the cabinet-makers to make and decorate furniture to commemorate special events in their lives.

Eileen Stephens has been painting for six years. She sells her items from home and in local shops. She studied with Scottie Foster in Virginia. Stephens also decorates furniture on request.

Also on display are Current Homes for Sale.

Visiting Nurse Therapist Improves Knowledge in Field

Anne Marie Griffin, R.N., B.S., the enterostomal therapist on the staff of the Visiting Nurse and Health Services, Elizabeth, recently attended a four day national conference in Kansas City to add to her knowledge in this specialized field of nursing.

Enterostomal therapy deals with care of patients with colostomies and related surgeries for intestinal and bladder diseases. This nursing specialty is only 15 years old and there are only 1700 qualified enterostomal nurses in the country. Miss Griffin took her first intensive (two months for seven days a week) course on the subject in 1972 at the Cleveland Clinic, at a time when only 88 nurses were qualified in that field in the U.S. She has returned regularly to national conferences to keep abreast of new developments in enterostomy.

The focus of the recent national conference was an update on skin care. This is of the utmost importance to a patient's ability to use the appropriate equipment and function independently of nursing assistance as much as possible.

The Visiting Nurse and Health Services, which provides home health care service in 16 communities in Union County, has had this unique service since 1972 when Miss Griffin was named as its enterostomal therapist following her specialized training. "Management of these patients has improved greatly in the last ten years," she states. "Ostomy equipment and products available for skin care are now much more sophisticated."

Miss Griffin, in addition

Anne Marie Griffin

to performing care for patients with a variety of other diagnosis, also provides a consultant service to fellow VNHS nurses who request assistance in customizing the care and equipment needed for a patient when a problem is encountered. As a part of their orientation, new staff nurses of the VNHS participate in a class conducted by Miss Griffin to provide them with a greater understanding of enterostomal patient care. They gain some of her expertise in this way. Miss Griffin also discusses with manufacturers the effectiveness of their new and old products that are available for these patients.

Miss Griffin, a graduate of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing, who has a B.S. degree from Jersey City State College, has been a member of the VNHS staff since 1967. The VNHS, a United Way agency, has been serving the public for more than 70 years. Service is provided in the following municipalities in Union County: Clark, Cranford, Elizabeth, Fanwood, Garwood, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Mountainside, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union, Westfield and Winfield.

County College Promotes Levitt

Lee Levitt of Mountainside has been promoted to instructor on the Union County College faculty. It has been announced by Dr. Leonard T. Kreisman of Westfield, vice president for academic affairs.

Mrs. Levitt, a laboratory instructor in biology at the college since 1978, earned her bachelor of arts degree in pharmacy from the University of Connecticut. She taught biology and chemistry at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, prior to joining UCC. Mrs. Levitt is also president of the board of trustees of Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, and serves on the board of trustees of the YWCA of Westfield.

Housing Prices Vary Regionally

For corporate transferees, a career-related relocation may be good news or bad news — or both, says a Westfield area Realtor who specializes in relocation services.

Henry L. Schwiering, president of Alan Johnston, Inc., Mountainside, says such transfers of executives and specialists and their families usually involve both a promotion and a salary increase. And declining to accept a transfer can mean the end of upward mobility. So such relocations generally are accepted, but can mean either an increase or a decrease in housing costs, he says. Census Bureau statistics show a wide variation in the prices of homes across the United States, Schwiering reports. Housing prices on the average are highest in the West, lowest in the South. And relocating to Hawaii is the most expensive change in location. California and Alaska rank closely behind Hawaii as the most costly housing areas, while a transfer to Arkansas from almost any other state can result in sharply reduced costs for the average home, Schwiering says.

He cites Census figures showing that the average price of a typical owner-occupied single family home in 1980 (latest period for which statistics are available) was $47,300. Half of U.S. homes cost more, half less. Schwiering says factors resulting in price variations include land costs, labor and materials costs and imbalances in housing supply and demand. The continuing Westward migration of Americans has resulted in such imbalances.

The median value of the average home in Hawaii was $119,400. In Arkansas, it was $31,100. Prices have fluctuated since the last Census report, but the variations remain essentially the same today, Schwiering believes. Such statistical information is of value to Alan Johnston, Inc. because the company is a member of RELO, the nation's leading referral network of independent Realtors specializing in helping families sell a house in one geographic area and buy a home in another. Here's a state-by-state list of median prices compiled by the Associated Press:

Balloons to Soar from

Up, Up and Away!! Tomorrow is Balloon Ascension Day on the playgrounds. The children at all six playgrounds will release brightly colored helium balloons that have their names and addresses attached by string. There will be a contest to see whose balloon went the farthest distance and prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the annual Ascension, Circus Week has been filled with such special days as Everybody's Birthday. No matter what day of birth, all the playgrounders were treated to a birthday celebration complete with games and cake. Last week's annual Playground Fairs were a great success. All the money collected will be used to make the summer even more exciting for the playgrounders, thanks to all the children and parents who lent a helping hand. It's time to get in shape for next week's activities including the Olympics on Wednesday.

McKinley Last week, the children of the playground enjoyed the opening of the weekly Monday morning swim. In the afternoon, the children worked hard to make posters and flyers in preparation for the playground fair on Wednesday.

On Tuesday, the children continued on their preparation for the fair. The hard work was interrupted by an obstacle course race, which required a variety of special skills in order to win. The winners in the obstacle course were Nevada Hurt with a score of 31, Mike Shedy with a score of 37 and Mary Anne and Matthew Watson with a score of 38.

As a result of all the work Monday and Tuesday, Wednesday's fair was a huge success. There was a large variety of game booths and concession stands. Even though all booths took in a large amount of money, the three booths which grossed the highest intake were the "Jello Surprise" stand attended by Lisa Isolda the "Shave the Balloon" booth attended by Lisa and Richard DeGutis, and the "Squirt the Candle" booth attended by Terri Sue Scelama and Brenda Alburn. Other booth helpers were Ingrid Castle, Christopher and Mike Ferraro, Nevada Hurt, Garrie, Lisa and Joanna Moran and Mike Shedy. A raffle also found its place in the fair. Raffle was a chocolate cake won by Kereme Washington and a large chocolate bar won by Lee Rush.

On Thursday featured a visit from the mobile library and the construction of a club house. The club house will be used for "story time" and for inside games in the event of bad weather. That afternoon, the children took part in a treasure hunt which lead them to a "Barrel of Monkeys." The winner of the barrel was Eddie Groover.

Joe Hawkins began Friday's adventure with another art project, but he was not the only one to show the children how a work of art is created. In another "fantastic voyage," the children of the playground found themselves at Hill's Ice cream Shop learning all about the art of ice cream making. After this art lesson, the kids tasted the final result.

This week's "citizens of the week award" went to Lisa DeGutis and Christopher Ferraro. Up coming events... Baby olympics, All-Playground Olympics, and Beach Day.

Washington Many Days were spent in preparation for the big event the Washington Fair which was a huge success. At least 30 children helped make the booths and many challenging games and popular Haunted House.

All the children participated in a Pet Show with two categories, "Real Animals" and "Stuffed Animals." In the "Real" contest, Matt McCall's "Butterscotch" won for the Brightest Eyes award with "Boomer" owned by Michael Liggera in second. The Biggest was "Lady" owned by Todd Phillips and the Furriest was "Muffy" brought by Diane Petrone. The Most Active was first place — "Dusty Jr." owned by Bob Moskal; second — "Og" owned by Sylvi Bouvet and third — "Binky" owned by Gregory Lewis. The Softest was won by Heather Salamone for "Levi Buchanan III" and Adam Weinstein's "Sally" came in second. The slightest was Mark Phillips's two Newts. The most talented was "Laila" brought by Nicole and Mirit Cohen and second "Tim" (a snail) was brought by Katie Moskal.

The friendliest pet was Katie Cook's "Sandy" and the Dirtiest (worms) were Kim Kraynor's "Hermit and Kermit." The Scariest was Kim Cross's spider — "Sarah" and the best dressed award went to "Ian" owned by Katie Lanan. In the "Stuffed" contest, the biggest went to Ana Smith's "Missy" and the Softest — Jenny Swartz-bek's "Teddy" and the Loudest — Beth Aitken's "Silky."

"Citizen of the Week" awards went to Christian Harris and Kim Traynor.

Kite Day started the Grant playground week with Andrea Duchek, Kurt Duchek and, Shannon and Sean Curry decorating the skies with colorful kites.

The first annual Pet Rock Race was a huge success. Each playgrounder painted his favorite rock and then raced it down an incline. The competition was great with more than 20 participants. In the 6 to 8 category Michael James Cunningham won the first place ribbon, Andrea Duchek — 2nd place and Amy Watkins — 3rd place. Taking first, second and third in the 9 to 12 category were Justin Lewand, Jennifer Kasunic and Willy Folger.

During the Frisbee Contest, Mark Legones threw the frisbee the farthest and Chris Rosengen won the hoop throw in the 6 to 8 category. Ryan Singel threw the frisbee farthest and Mike Conheeny won the hoop throw in the 9 to 12 category.

The Four — Square Tournament was successful in determining the Grant four-square champs. Mike Conheeny won 1st place, Peter Wright-2nd place and Mark Legones — 3rd place. Hawaiian Day brought leis, grass skirts and sundresses to the playground. Missie Sheehy and David Alan Crout won the title of Mr. and Mrs. Hawaii. Shannon and Tricia Goodenow won the cutest Hawaiians and Philip John Crout won most native. The remaining Hawaiians were Mike Cagliardo, Mark Legones and Mike Conheeny.

On Button Day, the playgrounders wore an array of buttons. David and Philip Crout won ribbons for the most buttons and Sean Curry captured the ribbon for having the biggest button.

How do you throw an egg? Very carefully said the participants of the Grant Egg Toss.

The playgrounders celebrated their earlier days on Baby Picture Day. Lauren Folger was selected as the cutest baby, Mark Leonges, the smallest; Shannon Curry, the baby with the biggest smile; Sean Curry, the baby who still looks the same today; Adam Yannuzzi, the sleepest baby; Suzy Folger and Michael James Cunningham won the best dressed babies.

Preparation for the Grant school fair started early this year and that proved helpful to its success. The playground was full of family and friends enjoying the many interesting booths. Suzy Folger and Jessica Harris ran the penny in the flour booth, Andrea Duchek and Lauren Folger — the make-up booth, David Crout and Willy Folger — the Wheel of Fortune, Aaron Beyerlein — the basketball toss, Philip Crout — popcorn sale, Anne Feinsod — the lollipop hunt, Elizabeth and Michael Fisher — the ping pong toss, Beth Ann and Michael James Cunningham — the Garfield bean bag toss — Justin Lewand — the ring toss; Tricia and Shannon Goodenow — The bean drop; John Pecore — bobbing for apples; Mark Borton — the sock toss; Amy Tourtellotte and Laura Jimenez — the dart throw; Alexandra and Stacey Tourtellotte — the sponge toss; Kurt Duchek and Michael and Billy Stappas — black jack; Shannon and Sean Curry — dress-up table; Adam Stappas — penny toss; Robbie Cook — ring toss.

game against Tamaques and Wheels on Parade. Jefferson won against a young Tamaques team. Hitting home runs were Jeff Suto and Dan Haag. The most original for Wheels on Parade was awarded to Kirsten Lauer who wore decorated roller skates. The afternoon was occupied with making signs for the fair.

Wednesday was Tournament Day and Fair Day. Tournament participants are listed on the bulletin board every week. The Fair was a big success many children displayed their ingenious and challenging games to help raise money for the playground activities. One of the biggest hits seemed to be Amy Derrington and Dee Dee Chambers helium filled balloons. Also on display at the Fair were the Art Show winners and entrants. Award winners were: 1st-2nd-3rd grades: 1st Joe Pelosi, 2nd Marci Linney, 3rd Kerry Capone; 4th-5th-6th grades: 1st April Hild, 2nd Linda Bruett, 3rd Audra Heatly; 6th-7th grades: 1st Christa Heatly, 2nd Fannie Huang, 3rd Kristen Lauer.

The week concluded with a visit from the library, art and a movie. Friday marked the holding of the first Obstacle Course in the morning and Hobo Day in the afternoon.

This week's activities include the Monday pool swim and penny hunt, softball, crafts, Tournament Games, Best Looking Legs and Hair Contest, Art, and Hero Day.

Tamaques
Some pretty ghastly sounds could be heard coming from the Tamaques School Fair. The "Boos" and "Creaks" one heard escaped from the Haunted House, which was just one of the many activities featured at the fair. All monies will be used to fund playground activities for the rest of the summer.

In conjunction with the fair, there was an Outdoor Art Exhibit. Prizes were given in different categories. Taking the first, second, and third place ribbons in the creative drawing contest were Yvonne Cranwell, Michelle Carratura, and Daniel Wislocki. In the leaf rubbing contest, first, se-

Summer Short Takes

by Tracy Stein

In our sentimental desire to "get back to nature" we often overlook the wealth of science and industry that must enter into our modern day conception of it. We think of tall trees and fresh air and imagine that we somehow touch the experience of our pioneer forefathers. Untrue. Today we understand more about nature, botany, and zoology than our forefathers and this must temper our perception. Moreover we now view our natural resources as precious, something needing our help to preserve, not the adversary our forefathers must have understood them to be. That is why, for any nature lover, even the purest, time spent in naturalist pursuits, that is the pursuit natural history, is time spent valuably.

There are many resources throughout the area that afford us an opportunity to commune with nature, only some of these offer insights into the study of it as well. This column will touch on only a few very close by.

In the immediate area lies the Watchung Reservation in Mountainside. Besides the pleasures of picnicking by Surprise Lake or enjoying a not too strenuous 1/2 mile hike along one of four trails there is the Trailside Museum open 1 to 5 p.m. daily. A collection of shells, taxidermied animals presently or at one time indigenous to the area, and a display of the taxiderming process are housed on the floor above a live animal exhibit, including seven types of snakes. The Nature Center, separate from the museum, is an environmental education facility staffed by trained naturalists. Besides presenting programs to any school or organization that requests one, they host Wednesday matinees at 1:30 for adults and children. The planetarium hosts sky shows on Sundays at 2:00 and 3:30 p.m. There are also occasional star gazing evenings through the reservations telescope. Information about all Watchung activities can be found by phoning the trailside museum.

If you plan a day at the shore consider driving farther south on NJ 35 to Island Beach State Park in Seaside. This 2,300 acre, ten-mile strip of land is one of the few barrier beaches remaining in this part of the country. This land is however, reserved. Visitors are not allowed to hike through but only alongside the high and low dunes covered with holly clumps and briar thickets. There are also bird refuges and a sizable piece of land set aside as a botanical refuge. There are guided nature tours at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. each day. Swimming and surfing are permitted in guarded areas, dogs and picnicking are not. However if you keep driving down the main road of the park you will pass a toll booth which permits you into the much less crowded unguarded beach area. Here dogs, picnicking, and scuba diving are permitted. The sparsity of people allows you to enjoy the vista with its large rolling breakers white dunes in peace.

Etc...

Not for naturalists, but sure to be fun is the crafts fair at Allaire State Park in Monmouth County Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Part of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Summer Festival '83, the fair will host 36 of the state's outstanding craftspeople, displaying handcrafted pottery, woodcarvings, fiber, metal, and stained glass pieces available for sale. Also featured will be 12 "hands-on" demonstrations including ceramics, quilting, and weaving. In addition there will be bluegrass music by the Magnolia Road Band of Belmar. Rain date for this event is July 30.

Tonight the Westfield Community Band will continue their series of free concerts in the Mindowaskin Park. The concert is entitled "Our Band Plays-- Seriously" and will feature classical music. The program begins at 8:00. Remember the lawn chairs or blanket.

ANISEIKONIA OR "TWO-EYED" VISION

The word "aniseikonia" is defined as "a defect of binocular vision in which the two retinal images of an object differ in size." Patients with this disorder experience "two-eyed" vision. They cannot see a perfectly straight line as being perfectly straight. For them, it just doesn't look "true." Some vision experts have called this condition a tug of war between the eyes.

Eye doctors sometimes treat this problem by placing a patch over one eye. Through this procedure, they can rule out causes of aniseikonia which might be of a psychological, rather than a visual nature.

Sometimes if there are signs that the patient is experiencing a stress condition which affects his vision, he might be referred to a specialist in another field of health care.

Whatever the underlying cause of aniseikonia or "two-eyed tug of war," your eye doctor is qualified to diagnose the problem.

Barbecue our steaks and chops. And our fruits and vegetables.

You can make the summer meals easier and cooler to cook—and more interesting to eat—when you broil or bake them on your outdoor grill.

And this week we have some delicious ideas to help you do just that. So think about adding the marvelous smokey flavor of charcoal broiling to the familiar taste of fruits and vegetables.

Broil apples and pineapples, oranges and grapefruit, peaches, plums, cherries and grapes, zucchini, acorn squash and eggplant, broccoli and cauliflower, mushrooms, onions, peppers and corn-on-the-cob. Or bake them in foil over the coals. Bake your potatoes, yams and greenbeans in foil, too.

Enjoy the sweetness of fruit flavors in contrast to the spicy taste of marinated beef, pork or lamb in the same dish.

The possibilities are endless, but the point is simple. You can have fun and enjoy outdoor cooking with just two things: Great foods and good ideas.

And we're here to give you both.

So come in and pick up our little recipe sheet called "Grill our Fruits and Vegetables."

Then shop to your hearts content among the finest steaks and chops and the best fresh fruits and vegetables anywhere. Where else but Kings?

Emotional Problems major Concern in "Contact" Calls

Emotional health is involved in more of the 1000 calls Contact-We Care handles monthly than any other reason, according to a recent analysis by the area 24-hour hotline for anyone wanting a listening ear for any purpose. More than half of the calls embrace emotional problems.

About a third of the calls involve interpersonal relations. Others of the 10 categories into which anonymous calls are classified are physical disability, substance abuse, and sexual matters. Generally calls are received only slightly more frequently from women than from men, and almost half of the callers are estimated to be in the age bracket between 18 and 35 years.

Commenting about the analysis, Contact President Weyman Steengraef of Westfield noted, "These data indicate that Contact-We Care and Deaf Contact continue to serve the community by a sustained number of calls from a wide variety of callers, and this is testimony to the fine job our telephone workers are doing."

Contact-We Care and its allied service, Deaf Contact, which uses both teletype and conventional equipment, continue to average more than 2000 calls a month. Both services are staffed by more than 100 adult volunteers who have undergone 50 hours of professional training and who serve on the phones at least eight hours monthly.

Contact-We Care (232-2880) and Deaf Contact (232-3333) depend on donations for their operations: P.O. Box 37, Westfield, NJ 07090.

Seminar participants learn craft project under direction of Florence Degenhardt and Peg Clark at Chapel's Vacation Bible School.

Seminar for Women at Chapel Vacation School

A seminar on "What Works When Life Doesn't" covering areas of problems, people, priorities and pain will be the subject of a seminar to be conducted by area residents Mrs. Florence Degenhardt and Mrs. Peg Clark daily from 9 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. Aug. 1-5 at Mountainside Gospel Chapel, 1180 Spruce Dr. in Mountainside.

Mrs. Degenhardt is a frequent speaker at area churches with her "Patches and Praises Ministry" relating her experience in quilting with significant spiritual experience. This year's craft project will be candlewicking and fabric frames taught by Mrs. Degenhardt and Mrs. Clark.

The seminar and craft will form part of the Chapel's free daily vacation Bible School for children from three and a half years to ninth grade, the seminar being provided for mothers and others. According to program directors, Robert and Linda Cushman of Westfield, the Bible School and the seminar are "not for the solicitation for church members or any other motive except love for God and concern for children." Further information and registration are available at the chapel.

Holy Trinity Scout Troop 73 Spends Week Wilderness Camping in Adirondacks

The scouts of Troop 73, Westfield, recently returned from their annual wilderness campout in the mountains of New York State's Adirondacks. Their camp was set up on "Umbrella Point," described by state rangers as a "peninsula" of land extending into the waters of Middle Saranac Lake.

Although this was an annual trek for Troop 73, this year Westfield neighbors camped in the same area. Scoutmaster Bill Towns of Troop 172 had his boys on nearby (15 minutes by canoe) "Shaw" island. So it was old homework for both troops who shared a major campfire midweek on "Shaw" hosted by Troop 172.

The weather in this region is indeed strange since it is in the "jetstream." What this means is that weather patterns change very quickly. Violent thunderstorms dampened all but the boy's spirits for the first two days of the week. Winds shifted and sun predominated for the remainder of the time. The ever shifting winds kept the water choppy one hour, calm the next. Winds do have a good side-effect, for when the wind is blowing, the mosquitoes aren't biting, but when they stop, it is better to have your insect repellent handy.

Moving canoes, tents, and enough camping gear and food to handle 24 scouts, six adult leaders, two Eagle Scouts (emeritus) and one guest adult over 300 miles across land, and everything and everyone across water can be a tricky undertaking. Personal gear must have a limitation, so all involved were limited to one large duffel bag. The adults cheat a bit by having the luxury of bringing a cot and a chair with them.

Being in a wilderness situation is the perfect time to earn merit badges like canoeing, camping, "jetstream." What this means is that weather patterns change very quickly. Violent thunderstorms dampened all but the boy's spirits for the first two days of the week. Winds shifted and sun predominated for the remainder of the time. The ever shifting winds kept the water choppy one hour, buses, trains, planes, television ... and best of all ... no telephones! Of course, on the negative side; no hot showers, flush toilets, morning papers, evening TV news.

Boys interested in joining Troop 73 may contact Committee Chairman Brian Dunleavy or Scoutmaster Charles Munch. Both are listed in the Westfield phone directory.

Marsha Pederson

Sanctuary Series

Features Violinist

Violinist Marsha Pederson, student of Samuel Applebaum, will perform in recital at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Presbyterian Church. The Sanctuary Series, directed by Marilyn Herrmann, will sponsor the event.

The pianist accompanying Miss Pederson is Elizabeth Tipton, well known in the Westfield area. Participating in the recital is Annette White, organist for the Presbyterian Church and accompanist of The Choral Art Society. All three musicians recently performed as soloists in the Bach Marathon held in the church. Mrs. Tipton and Miss Pederson are also members of the Musical Club of Westfield.

A most ambitious program has been selected. Miss Pederson has chosen the Frank Sonata in A for violin and piano, the unfamiliar but equally beautiful Dvorak Romance in f minor, op. 11, for violin and orchestra, and the technically demanding Bach Ciaccona from the unaccompanied Partita No. 2 in d minor. While the Ciaccona is considered a virtuoso work, it is also one of Bach's greatest and most elaborate masterpieces. The shorter works of the program will consist of several Kreisler selections along with two of the most popular showpieces of Heifetz.

Music and Drama At "Somebody's Place"

The "Somebody's Place" coffeehouse will take place at the Alliance Church, Retford Ave. at Cherry St., Cranford, from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Bones and Joan, a trio from the local area, and the "Somebody's Place" drama group will perform. Admission is free and refreshments will be available.

For aching muscles, many people look to a pharmacy's shelves for minty-smelling balms. These substances are known as counterirritants. When spread upon the skin, they cause an expansion of local blood vessels that increase blood flow. This in turn produces a warming effect on the underlying muscles as the blood automatically flows through them in an effort to reach the skin. The increased blood flow provides more oxygen for the muscles. If the cause of muscles pain is a lack of oxygen or a constriction of blood vessels, the counterirritants will generally bring relief. The major constituent of counterirritant analgesics is menthol which stimulates nerves to feel cold yet depresses pain nerves.

HELPFUL HINT: Menthol is a derivative of peppermint oil.

Westfield's Conover and Best To Compete in 5-Miler Sunday

Westfield's Betty Conover and Cindy Best, two of the state's leading road racers, will compete against the best from three states in the Women on the Run-Catch the Sun 5 Miler, to be held in Westfield on Sunday, July 24, 1983, race director Pat Goias announced today.

Betty, one of the state's hottest road racers over the past year, placed eighth last year at Catch the Sun and might place higher this year. Her best race to date came at the President's Cup night race in Millburn in June where she placed second to third-ranked Nancy Briennann of Princeton in 17:08 for the five kilometer distance.

Seventeen-year-old Cindy Best has run 30:00 for the five mile distance and thus should place in the first wave of finishers.

Also entered in this year's race are defending champion Shirley Finken of Blawenburg; last year's runner-up and international-class middle distance runner Cindy Wuss of New York; Pennsylvania's Jan Yerkes, one of the country's leading marathoners; and Doreen Ennis-Schwarz of Bloomfield, ranked number one for 1982 for Running New Jersey magazine.

In only its third year, Catch the Sun has become the state's premier all-women's road race, and thus far a record 1200 entries have been received for this year's event.

The race highlights what Gov. Thomas Kean has proclaimed as New Jersey Women's Running Week, July 18-24. Activities also include a free seminar on Saturday, July 23, at the Coachman Inn, Cranford, featuring experts in the fields of women's running and fitness.

Entries for Catch the Sun will be accepted the morning of the race from 7 to 9 a.m. in Tamaques Park, Westfield. Each entrant will receive a specially-designed shirt and short from the race's major sponsor, Women on the Run, a leading manufacturer of women's running apparel.

Tennis Academy Has Openings

There are still a few openings available for those interested in attending summer programs at George Basco's North Jersey Tennis Academy in Montclair and Edison.

Basco, formerly president of the U.S. Professional Tennis Association, directs the summer camp along with noted teaching pro, Steve Diamond of Union, at Montclair-Kimberly Academy, Montclair from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The morning sessions are devoted to stroke work and the afternoons to match play. Players are given the option to sign up for morning, afternoon or full day activities.

Summer camp programs are also held at the Ashbrook Tennis Club, Edison under the direction of Kim Schmidt of Westfield. Schmidt is a former school-girl state champion from Westfield High who later won the NCAA Division III title at Drew University.

Special afternoon and evening drill clinics, covering all aspects of the game, will be offered at all three locations.

A full slate of clinics are scheduled for Montclair-Kimberly, Monday thru Sunday from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. The hour long sessions will include everything from stroke work for all skill levels to mens and ladies singles and doubles strategy, mixed doubles strategy and even pee wee clinics for youngsters just starting out. Similar clinics are held Monday thru Sunday at Ashbrook.

For more information call George Basco at 62 Westbrook Rd.

Girls' Fastpitch 8 and 1

With only one game left in regular season play, the Westfield girls fast pitch team finds itself tied for first place in the Western Division of the Inter County Girls Fastpitcher League with the Clark Junior Wildcats.

Winners of two out of three games last week, the teams record now stands at 6 and 1 in league play and 8 and 1 overall.

After defeating Clark last month in their first meeting, the Junior Wildcats walked away with a 13 - 7 victory early last week. Westfield, weakened by vacations and player injuries, played a very good game, keeping the score very close until the sixth inning, when Clark opened up for five runs. Leaders at bat for Westfield in the contest were Jen DiClerico 2/4; and Jen McCoy 2/3.

The team then traveled to Berkeley Heights and came home with a 6 - 0 win. Sue Costa pitched Westfield to the victory allowing one hit and striking out eight.

A beautiful exhibition of offensive and defensive skills, the girls looked like the league champions of last season. Westfield opened up the game with two runs in the first inning on leadoff singles by Sally Parizeau and Sue Costa. Kathy Harcourt then came through with a two RBI single.

Going into the fifth inning, Westfield was holding onto a slim 3 - 0 lead, when the Westfield bats brought two more runs across the plate. With bases loaded, pinch hitter, Jen McCoy ripped a single to center field.

Last Thursday, the team went on the road again to take on Chatham and brought home a 13 - 7 victory. Sue Costa again earned the win and pitched an excellent game against a very powerful Chatham team.

Westfield scored one run in the first inning on singles by Sue Costa and Jen DiClerico; and three runs in the second on singles by Jackie Florian, Kerry Lucke, Sally Parizeau and Sue Costa. The winners added two more in the fifth on Chris Brown's triple and six runs in the sixth to bring the victory home to Westfield.

The sixth inning rally was put together by the bats of Kerry Lucke, Sue Costa, Jen DiClerico, Jackie Florian, Sally Parizeau and Chris Brown. "Kathy Harcourt, a three year member of the team, has not only grown and improved tremendously, but has the true team spirit that makes her so valuable. Kathy starts in the outfield and has 12 put outs to her credits. She handles grounders and flags down fly balls as well as anyone in the league. Her ever constant desire to work and improve would make any coach proud to have her on their team," states coach Jody D'Amato.

Kathy has enjoyed the season so far and is looking forward to the upcoming tournaments, as she comments; "The season so far has been most successful. In addition to having a good time, and meeting new friends, we have been able to continue working on our softball skills. This is my third year on the team and I am enjoying it as much this year as I have the past two seasons. I have been kept quite busy in left field and I am looking forward to our first out of state tournament in Richmond, Virginia this weekend, followed by our final tournament of the season in Colonia."

This week the team will take part in the Inter County League tournament, a single elimination event, closed to the 10 teams in the league, five of which are in the Eastern division that Westfield has not faced yet this season.

In the opening round, Westfield, currently tied for first place in the West division, will face the Cardinals, who are tied for the same spot in the Eastern division.

The girls pack their bags and leave tomorrow for Virginia to represent Westfield in the double elimination event, to return on Monday, the 25th, and go into the Colonia tournament.

Team captains of the Westfield Girls Fastpitch Team this season are (from top to bottom) Co Captain, Geri Weiss; team captain Kim Canata; and co-captain Chris Gireli.

Finnagels Wins Three Games

Finnagels has begun its stretch run towards the Westfield Men's Softball League playoffs by winning three games last week.

The Bowlers, another playoff caliber team, suffered through a 1-2 week. Dilorio and Dilorio, this year's sleeper, was 2-1 during the week.

On Sunday at Tamaques, Finnagels flexed with power with a 15-6 victory over Greco Chevron. Rod Pederson and Bob Slahor were three for four apiece.

Other standouts in that victory were Don Tallman and Kevin Richards, who were each two for three. Tom Biggs, who was two for three, and Brad Pederson and Ken Metz drove in two runs each. Greco Chevron fell to 4-11.

Thursday, again it was a high-powered offense that lifted Finnagels to a 14-1 victory over Greco Steam. Biggs was two for two with four runs batted in and three runs scored. Brad Pederson drove in two runs.

The tune was changed to defense for Finnagels in its 6-1 victory over Dilorio and Dilorio. The infield of Tom Bowden, Tallman, Charlie Lyons and Richards didn't commit an error to help pitcher Mark Muth record the victory. Metz was two for three and Slahor was two for three in the offense. Finnagels ended the week at 11-6.

The Bowlers started off the week with a 10-4 victory over Continental Lodge on Tuesday. Don Ciliotta paced the offense with a three for four game. Other hitting standouts were Dave Yalcilla with two RBIs, Bruce Moran with two hits and two RBIs, Chris Assmann and Roddy Yalcilla with two hits each.

Bob White earned the victory for the Bowlers by fooling Lodge batters with an assortment of fast balls and off-speed pitches.

Dilorio and Dilorio jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the first inning against the Bowlers and held on for a 5-4 victory.

Another five-run outburst hurt the Bowlers as Westfield Window took a 5-1 victory Sunday. The window team scored five runs in the sixth inning.

Dilorio and Dilorio defeated Greco Steam and Barrett and Parker beat Portasoft in other games on Sunday.

EXTRA BASES — Ben "Truck" Robinson, stand-out forward for the Knicks, has carried over his talents to the Westfield Men's League. Robinson has joined Dave Kervick's Barrett and Parker team as a right fielder. Word has it that Sacks Pac may be after Buck Williams of the Nets to play while other teams have expressed interest in Mike O'Koren. Brad "Ham-Ham" Husch of the Bowlers may be up for social chairman of the year award for the league. Word out west says that Jeff "Zubb" Herguth, Portasoft star, is doing quite well in Colorado, where he works.

One WSA Playoff Spot Still Up For Grabs

By Jamie Buonanno
With two weeks left to play in the WSA, things are really heating up in the Westfield Softball Association.

Garwood Metal and the Sultans are in a struggle for the final playoff spot as five teams have already clinched spots with the division title up for grabs. Rorden Realty and the Banditos met head-on Sunday to see who would have the bragging rights or the proud holder of first place. Things were not settled though as both teams split with Rorden taking the first 6-5 while the Banditos won the second 7-6. The standout hit on the day was a grand slam by the Banditos' Jimmy Murphy.

The Sultans won two over Southside, game one by a forfeit and game two by a count of 8-5. Dennis Fiorino picked up his sixth victory on a run for the Sultans.

Zaders took a doubleheader from Tiny Tots with the scores reading 16-15 and 11-3. Keith Monkel had six hits for the Raiders.

Leesville Auto pinned a big disappointing loss on Garwood Metal 6-0 and 12-7. For Leesville, Chuck Specht and Frank Verde were the offensive show for Leesville.

Dittrick's Pub is looking like it's ready for the playoffs handing Mancino Shoes a double setback 10-8 and 15-6.

The Unicorns picked up victories four and five with a trouncing over hapless VFW 16-3 and 15-5. Armand Diana went seven for seven for the Unicorns.

Thirteens Undeclared

After earlier victories over Cranford and So. Plainfield, the Westfield 13 year old tournament team defeated a strong Edison team 3-2 to win the South Plainfield Tournament. Clint Factor pitched five and two-thirds innings while holding the opposition to only four hits. Chuck Mueller came in for the save. Kevin Stock having a great day at the bat went 3 for 4 with Mueller and Factor having the other hits of the game, with Factor's double putting Westfield ahead in the fifth. Catcher Doug Heintz made two great plays in late innings when he threw out runners attempting to steal extra bases. Other game results are:

Westfield - Colonia
In defeating Colonia, the 13-year-old squad won its first championship. Leading the attack was Clint Factor with a single and a homer. Helping his own cause as a pitcher was Craig Mastrangelo who also produced with his bat contributing a single and a double. Wee Willy Zippler, Kevin Stock, Jack Duels, Steve Chesney and Catcher Neil Horne all had singles with Horne the only one in the group coming up with more than one.

Westfield - Metuchen
Westfield's Lucky Thirteens did a walk away when facing both Metuchen and Madison Park. In their debut against Metuchen, Westfield beat its opposition into a submission with an 11 hit attack. Chuck Mueller, Westfield's anchor in center, produced the first homer of the year blasting one over the right field fence and going 3 for 3. Kevin Stock Joe DeReubis each getting 2 hits with C. Stamer, C. Mastrangelo, Pugs Pugliese, N. Horne, D. Heintz, D. Hawkins, J. Pallarino and Kevin Zippler getting singles.

Madison Park's game was no different. With Kevin Stock on the mound, Westfield's Warren Spahn shut down its opposition. Stock also had an outstanding day at the plate going 4 for 5. Mueller, Factor and Chesney all produced a double and single with Zippler, Dereubis, Stamer and Mastrangelo getting singles. Outstanding fielding by third sacker Ken Riley all but negated Madison's offense.

Westfield - Edison
Continuing their winning ways, the Thirteens opened with a resounding win in the Edison Tournament by defeating So. Brunswick 13-2. Again strong offense was the name of the game. With a ten hit attack, the Westfield squad led Mastrangelo, Stamer, Mueller and Factor all with extra base hits gave the squad a lift to do the same. Following the example, St. Chesney, Pugs Pugliese and J. Duels all came through with hits of their own.

Westfield - Spotswood
In attaining their tenth win the Westfielders beat Spotswood by a score of 17 to 1. The torrid hitting attack continued. Starting pitcher and winner Steve Chesney like all his predecessors helped himself with the win by hit hitting. A triple by C. Mueller and two singles and a double by C. Factor all but put the Spotswood squad to bed. It seems that the Westfielders are developing some gold gloves in Wee Willy Zippler and Ken Riley who by the way also had a double and single and knocked in five of the 17 runs himself.

Charlaine Tatz of Scotch Plains practices putting at Ash Brook Golf Course before her victory at the Union County Public Links golf tournament.

Tatz Triumphs in County Public Links Golf Tourney

Shooting a four under par score of 70, Charlaine Tatz, 18, of Scotch Plains, was the victor in the recent 40th Annual Union County Public Links Golf Tournament at Gallop Hill Golf Course, Kenilworth, a Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility.

The ladies par for the tournament was set at 74 (35 each nine holes), which translated to a total of eight strokes under the previous record.

Her smashing round included five birdies and one bogie. In addition, Tatz hit all par five's in two shots.

A recent graduate of Scotch Plains/Fanwood

High School, Tatz comes from a family of locally recognized golfers. Her father, Charlie Tatz, is the golf pro at Ash Brook Golf Course in Scotch Plains, one of three county golf courses operated by the Parks Department. Last year Charlaine triumphed over a field of six of her peers to win the second qualifying round of the N.J. Jr. P.G.A. Championships, going on to compete in Florida with golfers from all over the country.

Winning the county Public Links Tourney will qualify Tatz to compete in the Ladies' U.S. Open and Ladies' U.S. Amateur Golf Tournaments this year.

ONE OF THE OLDEST AND LARGEST

All-Stars Eights In Semi-Finals

The Westfield Boys Baseball Association All-Star 8 year old team advanced its record to 9 and 7 by beating Rahway, Merrill Park and Cranford in the Fords-Clara Barton tournament. The victories avenged earlier narrow defeats by both Merrill Park and Cranford and placed the Westfielders in the semi-finals of the tourney.

Westfield 15

Rahway 5
The Westfield Boys Basketball Association All-Star 8 year olds stopped their Rahway counterparts 15 to 5 behind the pitching of Mike Ryan who struck out 8 and allowed only one hit in the four inning contest. The game was abbreviated by the 10 run rule which ends the game if one side is leading by ten runs at the end of four innings of play. This was the fourth such Westfield win in that manner this season.

In the first inning Westfield scored one run when Leon Burton reached first on a walk and stole second and third base. He came home when Calvin Wise grounded out. Rahway also scored one run in the first. In the second inning Chris Infantino, Glen Wojcik and Leon Burton all scored when Mike Ryan hit a bases-loaded single. Rahway came back to knot the score 4-4 at the end of two innings of play. In the third inning Westfield batted through the lineup and Danny Higgins, Jeff Periera, Paco Gonzales, Glen Wojcik and Leon Burton all scored. The key blows in the inning were Higgins' booming three bagger and Burton's single. Rahway did not score.

In the fourth inning Westfield again batted through the line up and Danny Higgins, Jeff Periera, Matt Fountain, Chris Infantino, Chris Capone and Leon Burton scored on a double by Higgins, a single by Burton, and a triple by Calvin Wise. Rahway was only able to answer with one run and the game ended 15-5.

Westfield 17

Westfield upped its record to 2 and 0 in the prestigious Fords-Clara Barton tournament with a 10 run victory over previously unbeaten Merrill Park in the 5th inning-shortened game played by the Westfield 8 year olds. Leon Burton went the 4th inning distance allowing only one hit while striking out 6.

Kalvin Wise went 3 for 3 and reached on a walk. Two of his three hits were for extra bases including a triple and a towering 2 run homer that cleared the fence at the 200 foot mark. Mike Ryan went 2 for 3 including a three bagger. Paco Gonzales was 2 for 2 and Chris Capone and Danny Higgins went 1 for 1. Matt Fountain was excellent with the glove at first base and scored a run.

Left-fielder Chris Infantino robbed Merrill Park's Nathan Leadham of a extra base hit with a sensational grab in the third and third sacker Jeff Periera made a nice play on the Merrill Park catcher Lou Grasso to help end the second inning uprising in which the opponents scored 6 of their 7 runs.

Westfield 22

Cranford 6
Westfield handily beat Cranford behind the pitching of Tom Oravez who went the four inning distance scattering 6 hits and striking out three. The victory marked the third 10 run plus victory in as many nights for the eight year olds.

Westfield jumped to a 1 one run lead in the top of the first on singles by Lean Burton and Calvin Wise, but Cranford tallied 3 runs in their half of the inning and lead 3-1. In the second Glen Wojcik, David Duels and Mike Ryan crossed the plate on singles by Ryan and Danny Higgins. The first two Cranford batters singled but fine glove work by Mike Ryan and Glen Wojcik got the next two batters and Tom Oravez fanned the third. Westfield cracked the game open in the third when 16 batters came to the plate and Jeff Ryan, Glen Wojcik and David Duels scored twice while Lean Burton, Mike Ryan, Calvin Wise, Danny Higgins, Matt Fountain and Tom Oravez scored once each to make the score 16 to 3 at the end of three innings when the Cranford side was set down in order. Paco Gonzalez took a base hit in to right field and fired to first baseman Matt Fountain for the third out. In the fourth the Westfielders tallied 6 more times with timely triples by Leon Burton and Calvin Wise and a single by Danny Higgins. Cranford scored three more times in the fourth and the game ended because of the 10 run rule. Jeff Periera and Mark Neinberg also played and showed a good eye by drawing walks in their appearances at the plate.

Almost a hundred campers turn out to hear John Stearns speak at the Recreation Commission's Baseball Sports Camp.

John Stearns at Baseball Camp

By Renee Trabert

One shot at a career in professional sports is all most athletes get in their lifetime. Yet, for one famous baseball player, the opportunity to join the ranks of the pros knocked twice. Mets catcher John Stearns was that lucky player and he was on hand at the Recreation Commission's Baseball Sports Camp to share his knowledge about the sport he decided to pursue.

For John Stearns, baseball wasn't always a way of life. In fact, after accepting a football scholarship to the University of Colorado, it appeared that the NFL was the next stop for the young athlete. Coming out of college, he was drafted by both the Buffalo Bills of the NFL and the Philadelphia Phillies baseball team. Stearns opted for a career in professional baseball.

Not regretting his choice, Stearns told the campers he felt an obligation to share with young children the experience he had gained from learning from some of the best ball players. Stearns discussed some of the skills he felt were essential to a good player including throwing and hitting.

"Most kids try to throw side-arm," said Stearns. "You've really got to learn to keep the elbow above the shoulder. Throwing overhand is more accurate, gives more velocity and reduces the chance of injury."

Protecting against injury is something Stearns emphasized. The ten year veteran of the major league has been out of this season's play because of an elbow injury that required surgery.

"The second essential skill a good player needs to work on is their running," remarked Stearns. "First, remember to run out everything you hit and secondly, always run it hard all the way down the line and through the bag. A little extra effort can make the difference between being out and being safe."

Base-stealing, according to the Mets player, requires not only knowing how to run, but also knowing how to think. "While you're sitting on the bench watch the outfielders and watch their throw," suggested Stearns. "Check out the pitcher and know his move to first base and home. When you're on a base, keep track of the outs; don't take chances unnecessarily. Finally, Stearns spoke to the campers about his favorite position on the field—behind the plate. While most kids don't aspire to be a catcher, a position often considered unglamorous, Stearns told them not to overlook the job. "Catching is one of the most physically demanding positions. You are in the action all the time. Every team needs a good catcher so for many aspiring players, catching is a way to get your foot in the door of the major leagues."

Stearns shows the campers his batting technique.

Recreation Commissioner Roger Chandler and Mayor Ronald Frigerio welcome Mets catcher John Stearns to the Baseball Sports Camp.

Ashmont's Pitches, Sot's Hits Make Local No. 1

Four leaders in the county legion league—Westfield, Union, Springfield and Roselle—went into Sunday's games practically tied. When the day was over the Westfield team was on top, defeating Springfield in the morning and Roselle in the afternoon.

It was all Ashmont in the Springfield game as the locals won 5 to 2. Ashmont allowed but two hits while striking out 13 batters. Tom Barrett drove in two runs while Ed Sot and Jack Failla drove in one each to get the victory for Ashmont.

In the nightcap against the Roselle Legion, Westfield went into the last inning on the end of a 5 to 4 score. Jack Failla opened the inning with a long drive to center that Roselle's centerfielder caught up with but dropped for a two-base error. Terry Gatens walked and Tom Barrett laid down a perfect bunt batting it out for a base hit loading the bases. Ed Sot, with two strikes on him, drove one over the centerfielder's head to score the tying and winning runs. Terry Gatens had a triple in the first inning with the bases loaded to tie the game at that point 3 to 3.

Tens Split Season's Openers

The Westfield 10 year old tournament baseball team opened its 1983 season on July 10, with back to back games in Roselle Park and Cheesequake.

Westfield 1

Cheesequake 5

In this first game of the season Westfield could not get its offense on track. In the first inning Rich Fela singled and moved to third on Jeff Suto's double but both were stranded. In the second inning Tim Dinan walked but was thrown out at home when Jack Dowling doubled. Peter Asselin then doubled moving Dowling to third but Cheesequake's defense held and they were left on base. Jeff Suto was pitching well but after three innings he was trailing 3 to nothing when Westfield again failed to score and left two more runners stranded.

In the fourth inning, Westfield catcher Jack Dowling started off with a walk and then stole second. He moved to third on a well executed sacrifice by Billy Campanile and scored on a passed ball.

Westfield was trailing 5 to 1 with two outs in the top of the sixth when Paul Diemer and Billy Campanile singled and Brian Egan walked to load the bases. Roland Boyd, who had relieved Jeff Suto on the mound, hit a screaming line drive down the first base line. The crack of the bat had all the sound of a base clearing smash but it was hit with such speed that the runner could not move out of its and Westfield's rally, and the game, ended with the hit runner.

Westfield 0

Millburn 6

In the second game of the day, played in Roselle Park, Westfield still could not get its hitting out of neutral. Singles by Rich Fela, Tim Dinan and Martin Dau combined with only three walks issued by Millburn were not enough to score.

Tim Dinan and Brian Cheek shared the pitching duties for Westfield.

Westfield 5

Merrill Park 11

In the second game of the Roselle Park tournament, Westfield jumped out to a 5 to 3 lead at the end of the first inning. The 5 runs came from walks issued to Brian Egan and Rich Fela, doubles by Jeff Suto, Roland Boyd and Tim Dinan combined with a single by Brian Cheek.

Merrill Park came right back in the top of the second and scored six runs. With the score 9 to 5, Merrill Park shut Westfield down, allowing only 5 more hits and three walks.

Jeff Suto came to the mound for Westfield in the middle of the second. He pitched well, giving up two runs on three hits.

Westfield 8

East Brunswick 5

With the team having lost its first three games, Manager Rich Fela, his assistant Reggie Suto and coach Gregg Cagnassola were faced with the problem of keeping the team's confidence up. A pep talk and the encouragement of bat boy David Fela turned the tide in the second game of the Cheesequake tournament.

After a scoreless first inning, Westfield finally unleashed its offense. The entire team came to the plate in the second inning, scoring Roland Boyd, Martin Dau, Matt Radtke and Mark Cagnassola.

In the game Martin Dau had a double and two singles, Rich Fela had a triple and a single. Tim Dinan had a single and a double, Jeff Suto had two singles and Jack Dowling had a double.

Westfield also used good defense to earn the win. Jeff Suto made several good plays at short stop. Catcher Jack Dowling picked off a runner at second with a good throw to second baseman Rich Fela who ran the runner down towards third for the put out by third baseman Tim Dinan. Mark Cagnassola continued his steady infield play as did Billy Campanile.

The 10 year old tournament team is managed by Richard Fela, assisted by Reggie Suto and coached by Gregg Cagnassola. David Fela is bat boy. The team members are: Peter Asselin, Roland Boyd, Mark Cagnassola, Billy Campanile, Brian Cheek, Martin Dau, Paul Diemer, Tim Dinan, Jack Dowling, Brian Egan, Richard Fela, Matthew Radtke and Jeff
