Susan Freund and Ira Sarbone stake out a claim behind the Crestmont Savings & Loan "camp" on Elm St. in preparation for seeking one of a limited number of 10.65 percent New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency mortgage loans offered to first-time home purchasers. Crestmont was allocated $2.1 of the $142.8 million available. Susan and Ira said Monday afternoon that their two and a half day camp-out appeared successful and should bring them closer to purchase of a home in Edison. Prospective homeowners were offered the low-rate mortgage loans on a first-come basis at about 70 lending institutions throughout the state.

Mayor Says Library Vote Vital in November Election

"Do Westfield voters want a new library constructed on the Grant School site at a cost of $3½ million dollars?"

The need for residents' opinions to be voiced by their votes on a library construction referendum at the Nov. 6 General Election is vital, according to Mayor Ronald J. Frigerio who is seeking a second term of office at the same election.

"The Town Council and I unanimously voted in August to place the library construction issue as a non-binding referendum on this year's ballot, Frigerio said, "because we believe that taxpayers should decide whether or not they are willing to shoulder the financial responsibility."

At his first meeting with his campaign staff, Frigerio said that construction of a new library could cost the average homeowner about $50 a year in taxes over the next 15 years.

The Mayor said that it is estimated that costs of principal and interest on a bond issue to finance $3 million in construction costs and a half-million dollars for contents would cost $40 to $45 each year for the average property taxpayer. Estimates for increased operational expenses could average an additional $5 to $9.

The design submitted by architects Bouman, Blanche, Faridy, Thorne & Maddish is merely a concept needed to establish cost estimates for a ballot question, Frigerio stressed. "Plans can be substantially changed; costs however, will not vary after voters have spoken."

"While the referendum is non-binding on the council," Frigerio added, "I personally will be guided by the will of the voters as long as essential existing services of the town are not threatened." The Mayor cautioned, however, that the town operates under state-mandated caps and some re-thinking of budget terms might be necessary.

Frigerio recounted the history of the library issue during both his two terms of office as a Town Councilman from the fourth ward and his almost two years as Mayor. "Our local Republican municipal government approaches spending in a most conservative manner," he said. "While at times it appears we move slowly, we do so because it has been proven that study and investigation often result in cost savings for our taxpayers."

The need for a new library has been clearly illustrated by the Fry report, and its recommendations have been fully studied, Frigerio said. "We had three different architects look at the present site for expansion since this would be the most cost-efficient way to increase library space; none of these plans was acceptable either to the library board of trustees or to the town government.

"The original proposal of the Fry report - that we use the site of the Grant School, which I understand will be given free of charge to the Town by the Board of Education, was found to be the most appropriate solution." The existing building, however, Frigerio added, cannot be adapted to a library facility because of unresolvable structural inadequacies.

"It is my understanding that members of the board of trustees of the library and the active Friends of the Library are eager to explain needs and plans of the library to interested Westfield groups and individuals. I urge all voters to explore the library issue before voting on the referendum Nov. 6," Frigerio concluded.

Property Owners Granted Variances

Monday evening's meeting of the Board of Adjustment saw the approval of all appeals presented.

Charles Andrews of 816 Sherbrook Dr. asked the board to grant a variance to increase the living area of his one-family dwelling. Andrews plans two additions, one 12 by 24 feet, the other, 8 by 20 feet. Meeting no objection from neighbors, the board gave its approval.

Permission was granted to Richard and Carol Pouch of 528 Grove St. to construct an uncovered deck, 10 by 8 feet which would continue along the line of the house.

Jack Leitner's appeal to extend the second floor over the existing garage and family room and create a bedroom and bath at his 1127 Ripley Ave. dwelling also was approved.

Albert and Janet Getz of 9 Burgess Ct. asked that they be granted a variance to construct an uncovered deck, 20 by 16 feet, to the rear of their home. The proposed deck violated the 35 foot rear yard requirement by four feet. No objections were raised by neighbors and the board gave its approval.

The board also gave its permission on the modified application of Gregory Avis of Carlton Rd., to subdivide two lots into four on Boynton Ave. with the intention to build. Permission is subject to Avis' building a fence along a stream located on the property, which is to be filled in 1986.

Redistricting a Solution?

Redistricting is the long-term solution to imbalanced elementary school classroom sizes, Jefferson parents who complained to Board of Education members at Tuesday night's meeting were told by Superintendent of Schools Laurence F. Greene.

Jefferson parents argued that their children in grades 1, 5 and 6 are being educationally short-changed because class sizes in these grades were larger than those in other schools, and that additionally, a 5/6 grade cluster class is imbalanced.

The school has shown an increase of only three students this year, but fourth day enrollment statistics show two first grade classes of 26 each, two fifth grade classes of 28 and 27 and three sixth grades, one a 6/5 cluster, of 29, 27 and 25. Jefferson parents are requesting an additional teacher, but were informed that a study must be made on funding this additional position.

Two students have been voluntarily transferred from Jefferson's fifth grade to Tamaques, but none offered the switch have opted to transfer from fifth and sixth grades, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Eugene Serrilli, a previous volunteer, was requested to begin a student census at Jefferson School in hopes that efforts in the Jefferson area would trigger a district-wide data base on which to determine the course of possible town-wide redistricting.

The Westfield Board of Education and the Westfield Association of Administrators and Supervisors, representing 24 administrators and supervisors and 19 department heads, have reached agreement on a salary package for the 1984-1985 school year.

At the public board meeting Tuesday, the school board approved 1984-1985 salaries for these 24 administrators and supervisors and 19 department heads. Salaries range from $28,899 to $56,274.

Per the agreement, administrators and department heads will receive salary increases of 6.1 percent plus merit — merit increases range from $0 to $1500 for 12-month employees and $0 to $1325 for 10½-month employees. Merit consideration is given to administrators and department heads who have performed extra duties and responsibilities beyond the normal standards for the position in question and/or demonstrated meaningful participation in professional organizations and activities.

The board and the association achieved a two-year contract in October, 1983. That contract, effective July 1, 1983 through June Columbus School Sale Nets $319,000 for Bd.

Net proceeds of $319,600 from the sale of the Columbus School property have been received by the Westfield Board of Education. At its Tuesday 18 public business meeting, the school board noted for the record the completion of the sale on Aug. 24.

The Columbus School property was purchased by Joseph Scalzadonna of Westwood Associates. A condition of the sale stipulated that the purchaser demolish and remove the former elementary school which was built in 1928 and removed from service as an elementary school in 1973. The building had been leased to the Union Educational Services Commission for use as a special education school from 1973 to 1980.

The property located at 742 Grandview Ave. includes 14 building lots eligible for single family dwellings or two family dwellings provided there is a common wall between each pair. A large adjoining lot will be given by the school board to the Town of Westfield for development as a minipark.

The funds will go into the school board's general revenues account.

Hely Calls ELCC Liquor License "Immoral, Illegal Giveaway"

"The giveaway to Echo Lake Country Club of plenary liquor license by the Town Council was immoral, illegal and disgraceful," according to Democratic mayoral candidate Jim Hely.

In late 1983, the Westfield Town Council voted to issue without bid a plenary liquor license to Echo Lake Country Club. Democrat Brian Fahey and Republican James Capone were the only dissenting votes. The present mayor and other council members who belong to the club abstained.

By state law, a municipality may put up for public bid a liquor license if it decides to issue a new one, and the Town can maximize its revenue by taking the highest bid. However, when Echo Lake Country Club got its license, no bidding took place.

"How that license could be given away to a small, elite group of people at taxpayer expense is beyond my comprehension," said Hely. "A public bidding process may have raised as much as $100,000 for the Town. Instead the license goes to a private organization to which few have access."

"To make matters worse, the way the license was issued in this case was illegal," according to Hely who is an attorney.

"State law provides that if any member of the Town council is a direct or indirect part of an organization which seeks a license, then such a license may only be issued by the State," said Hely, citing N.J.S.A. 33:1-20, the particular law. "The purpose of that law is to avoid the favoritism and cronyism apparent in this case."

"When I was a boy, I worked many summers at Echo Lake Country Club caddying and helping at the pool. I met a lot of nice people there," Hely recalled. "I just can't imagine the membership there really wanting or needing this handout at the expense of the Westfield taxpayers. I'm sure there's a lot of embarrassment about it."

Hely pledged that regardless of what happens in the November election, he will see that the "giveaway" is rescinded. "I volunteer to serve as lawyer to a citizen suit to have that license rescinded. I have little doubt that it would be successful, but it would be a shame if it came to that," remarked Hely.

School Holidays

All Westfield public school students and 10½-month school personnel will have holidays when school is closed on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 27 and 28, Rosh Hashanah.

Secondary school offices and the administration building will be open on Thursday, Sept. 27, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be closed Friday, Sept. 28.

Town Council Meets Tuesday

Approval of an ordinance extending the improvement of Elizabeth Ave. to include the block between Irving and Grandview Aves. is expected following a public hearing at Tuesday's 8:30 p.m. public meeting of the Town Council.

The sale of no-longer used fire alarm boxes and authorization of emergency repairs to a town truck are among other items to be considered on a routine tentative agenda.

Library Slide Show Available to Groups

The Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library are spearheading a publicity campaign to call attention to the town's need for a new library. As part of this campaign, a nine minute slide presentation is being shown to various organizations in Westfield. Entitled "To Serve Us Better," the presentation compares the services the library now provides with a larger and more efficient facility. A new library would increase the volume capacity from 95,000 to 150,000, increase seating areas, provide a story hour area for children, accommodate the increasing audio-visual collection along with providing space for microcomputers, include a library program room and display area and finally, a reference section with an adequate quiet study area.

The presentation, narrated by Joan McDonough, a representative from the Friends, and Barbara Thiele, library director, is scheduled, in the next few weeks, to be shown to various organiza-

Veteran Volunteers Lend Services to United Fund

M. Jockers Vincentsen has been appointed chairman of the Major Gift Division for the 1984 United Fund of Westfield Campaign. This is his seventh consecutive year in this position. He is being assisted by co-chairman Richard B. Ahlfeld and W. Merritt Colehamer, also veterans of the division.

Their appointments were announced by Frank Sullebarger, general campaign chairman.

"Jock, Rich, and Merritt have proven their vital interest in Westfield and in the United Fund by their various associations within the community. We are most enthusiastic about their acceptance of these key positions on the 1984 Campaign Cabinet and we are confident we shall again see a dynamic approach in the Major Gift Division through their dedicated efforts."

Friends of Library Seek More Friends

Mrs. Howard Dreizler, President of the Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library, has announced that the annual membership drive is now underway. Membership is open to all residents and dues help support the services of the Friends.

The Friends of the Library was organized in 1972 and is a volunteer group dedicated to broadening the range of library services and to providing an opportunity for greater community participation. The Friends deliver books to shut-ins, coordinate the work of the volunteers, are responsible for the community display case and the community calendar, maintain the rental book collection and operate the Xerox machine at the library.

The Friends' gift book project offers a way to add to the library collection. The Stop and Swap rack at the railroad station is stocked by volunteers of the Friends.

Through the annual books sale and other fund-raising projects the Friends are able to provide funds for special projects and equipment not included in the regular library budget. This year the Friends supplied the library with a second terminal for the computer, a motorized microfilm magazine index, filmstrip viewers and filmstrips for the Children's Department, and video cassettes.

On Wednesday, Oct. 10, Friends of the Library will tour three mansions along the Delaware and lunch at the historic King George II Inn.

This fall the Friends will take an active part in supporting the new library referendum which will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Mrs. Robert Hunziker, membership chairman, urges all interested persons to join the Friends. Membership is available on individual, family or sponsor levels. Those who join are invited to work actively on Friends' projects, but this is not essential to membership. Those interested may fill in the applica-

Konet Testifies On Crisis Program

Richard Konet, assistant principal at Westfield High School, testified in Trenton recently at a public hearing on Senate Bill 2005 (Adolescent Suicide Prevention Programs).

Konet was invited by Senator Richard Codey who sponsored the bill to discuss Westfield High School's "Crisis Management Team."

"It was appropriate to discuss Westfield's Crisis Management Team," said Konet, "since it is a program in place to help youngsters in crisis situations." Senator Codey's bill calls for the State Department of Education to encourage and institute programs in the schools to prevent teenage suicide.

The Crisis Management Team at Westfield High School is composed of faculty members from various disciplines. Training has been provided for team members to improve their skills in dealing with a student in crisis. The team's function is to make an initial assessment of those students who appear to be extremely withdrawn, depressed or in crisis. Those students who have been identified as having a particular need are referred to the proper agency for services.

Field House, Library, Support For Student Events WHS "Needs"

Community awareness of high school needs and goals was stressed at the WHS PTO board meeting Wednesday night by president Marty Wright. "Together we can make a difference," the theme of this year's PTO campaign, attempts to highlight some of these needs for the town so that "something concrete and positive can be achieved," says Dr. Robert Petix, high school principal. Six major issues will be addressed for the coming year.

One of the more innovative programs this year is the Crisis Management Team, a group of high school staff available as a support system for students in the event of severe emotional stress. Elizabeth Coricell, a representative of this program and a member of the English department, explained how the program worked and how attuned the staff was to the needs of these students.

Mrs. Judy Mencher and Mrs. Peggy Cruger membership chairpersons, announced that a $5 membership fee instead of a fund raiser would ultimately make more money with considerably less effort by just a few people. The money is used for awards, scholarships, parent newsletters and various projects for the students' benefit.

Parents, it was noted, could be kept abreast of school events, personalities and directions by supporting the award-winning "Hi's Eye," newspaper. The $4 subscription is vital in order to maintain its publishing schedule, it was stressed.

The music and drama department needs attendance, according to Mrs. Pat Marsh, chairperson of the fine arts committee, along with Mrs. Kay Andre and Mrs. Joyce Yarrington. "The students work arduously and their talent and efforts should be appreciated by a much larger audience," Marsh commented.

The "deplorable" condition of the field house "was emphasized by Dr. Petix. The need for the public "to know what a blight this facility is on the community and those who must use it" was pointed out. An invitation from Gary Kehler, director of athletics, for a personally guided tour, was issued. For information or viewing appointment, call the school, ext 215. It was felt that this is a community which, if it understood, would support the restoration of "such a substandard building."

Another serious problem is the reorganization of the high school library. Mrs. Barbara McIntyre, library chairperson, said that it must be improved if the school is to maintain the quality standard it has set.

The next meeting of the board will be Oct. 10, at 7:45 p.m. in the high school library. The agenda will include a discussion of PSAT's and SAT's. The public is invited to these monthly meetings.

The executive board of the PTO consists of president, Mrs.

Marty Wright; vice president, Larry and Marsha Broadwell; recording secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Ungvarysky; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Patricia Perry; and treasurer, Mrs. Lynn Tweedie. Kathleen Martin is the Board of Ed. representative and other committee chairpersons are as follows: Mrs. Joan McTeague, Mrs. Ann Yearly, Board of Ed. liaisons; Mrs. Lynn Turiel, career and college; Mrs. Dorothy Kirkley, children and youth; Mrs. Lorraine Cunningham, homeroom, along with Mrs. Betty Riker and Mrs. Rose Horne; Mrs. Peggy Donleavy, hospitality, along with Mrs. Jean Peluso; Mrs. Aliza Margulies, legislation; Mrs. Myrna Cummings, liaison for Students from other countries; Mrs. Joanne Martin, newsletter; Mrs. Charlotte Biren, PT scholarship; Mrs. Francis Meiselman, publicity; Mrs. Jane Macaluso and Mrs. Karen Miller, special education.

W.H.S. Staff liaisons are Anthony J. Frinzi, Spanish department; Michael Seiler, chemistry department; Brenda Lupo, guidance counselor; James Drummond, history department; Pat Perry, mathematics department; and Paula Roy, English department.

800 Residents are Lifesavers, More Participants Recruited

The Westfield Rescue Squad has launched an appeal to individuals and groups to register for the free courses being offered as part of the Squad's "Lifesaver '84" Community Education program.

The "Heartsaver" course, created by the American Heart Association, teaches recognition of heart attack signs and symptoms a plan of action for medical emergencies instruction in CPR (Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation) and management of a choking victim. Offered free of charge and complete in one three and one-half hour sessions, it is taught at various times during weekdays, evenings and weekends. Taught by specially trained Squad personnel using films, lecture demonstrations, and hands-on practice with Resusci-Anne mannequins, the course is also presented to business groups, clubs, churches and other organizations at their own meeting places or at the Squad building.

According to the Community Education Committee, the "Heartsaver" course is suitable for those aged 12 through adult. A one-hour "Breathsaver" course is also available for younger children. Offered after school hours for Scouts, Brownies, and other children's groups, it teaches even very young children how to effectively respond to life-threatening medical emergencies.

Citing the Squad's dedication to the program, Mel Bailey, squad president states that "While it is gratifying that, to date, nearly 800 people have taken the course, we hope through our continued commitment to train many more in these life-saving techniques."

Those wishing to register for a course, or to arrange for a group presentation, may complete and return the pre-registration form in today's Leader.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1984

Big Year for Voters

Westfield voters have a big stake in this year's General Election.

Locally, we will vote on an important referendum concerning the future of the Westfield Memorial Library - a $3.5 million question involving use of the former Grant School property as future home for what many consider an outmoded facility in the Municipal Building on East Broad St.

We also will determine an entirely new makeup of the Town Council; with incumbents in three wards (Wards 1, 3 and 4) declining to seek reelection it is a certainty that three newcomers will join our municipal leadership on the council. With Ward 2's and the Mayor's seat also on the ballot, newcomers on the 1985 local government's roster could reach a total as much as five-but it is doubtful.

A number of state referenda also are on the ballot and nationally, we will choose a President and Vice-President, a New Jersey representative in the U. S. Senate and a member of the House of Representatives.

County-wide we will elect three Freeholders to three-year terms, a fourth to an unexpired term...also another area where leadership could change from one party to another.

But if you are not registered to vote by Oct. 9 you will lose a chance to map our future. Realtors, candidates, political parties, etc. have all been seeking to register new voters, but individuals 18 years and older should not have to wait for an invitation.

There are new hours in the Municipal Building which could make registration easier for many Westfielders. The Town Clerk's office welcomes new voter registrations between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Fridays and will offer extended hours for this purpose Oct. 4, 5 and 9.

There's no excuse not to vote in this year's General Election - but you must be registered first!

Letters To The Editor

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number, so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized. Only one letter endorsing candidates for election will be used each week; no letters on political issues will be used the week prior to the General Election (Nov. 1 issue).

Letters must be written on one side of paper and typewritten. No letter longer than 1½ pages double-spaced will be considered for publication.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

NEW LIBRARY NEEDED

Editor, Leader;

I am writing in response to a recent letter which appeared in the Westfield Leader on Thursday, Sept. 6, concerning the expansion of the Westfield Memorial Library. The author of the letter was Mr. Ken MacRitchie.

Clearly, the only motive for Mr. MacRitchie's letter is to express his disagreement with the proposal to expand the present library site to where Grant School now stands — an area adjacent to Mr. MacRitchie's street. He is primarily concerned with protecting his own interests it seems and not viewing the situation as a whole when thinking about the future of Westfield's library facilities. The present site is clearly not fit to be expanded as Mr. MacRitchie points out, citing the Fry report. Yet extensive work was done by consulting firms to verify this and much time was put in by the library staff at evaluating the feasibility (or in this case the lack thereof) of expanded library facilities at 425 East Broad St. Mr. MacRitchie's suggestions for further expansion at the present site, while thoughtful seems somewhat impossible. Having been on the staff for four years at the WML, I feel that I am qualified to make that statement.

Preventing expansion to the Grant school site would also prevent possibly the installation of full automation, added workspace for employees, and much needed space for the ever growing collection. Being on the staff of the WML enabled me to see these conditions which may not seem so prevalent to the general public. I think a close inspection of the suggested library floor plans as compared to the old will yield a much improved situation for both patrons and employees.

As I first mentioned, Mr. MacRitchie (and probably many other residents of the Grant School area) do not want to deal with such problems as increased traffic flow through their neighborhood. This is the same type of argument used by residents of North Euclid (amongst others) when a suggestion was made to expand the library to the park area on North Euclid. It is also this type of thinking that inhibits the expansion of viable and much needed programs and facilities in Westfield. That is, the concern with the here and now and the 'me' mentality far outweighs the concern for Westfield 5, 10, and even 20 years from now.

Having been on the library staff, I have had much exposure to this entire situation from its earliest stages. Yet let me remain somewhat objective. While I respect Mr. MacRitchie's (and others') opinions concerning the added problems with erecting a new library at the Grant School site, I cannot fully agree with them. If a new library would benefit not only the students in Westfield but also the entire population of Westfield and its library patrons. It is about time that this concern for one's self take a back seat in Westfield so as to allow for a new library structure which will greatly improve this town's future.

CITES LIBRARY NEEDS

Editor, Leader;

Allow me to express my agreement with Paul Hawkins' letter to the editor last week. Westfield needs a new library. The facility we now use has served the town well since 1954 but it is no longer adequate to serve our needs. There is need for more space for books, to say nothing of space needed to expand the libraries' audio-visual equipment. Every day more and more reference information is being stored on micro-film or micro-fiche. The library owns four micro-film readers and two printers, but the space available for their use precludes adding any additional machines, and micro-computers for patron use would be out of the question. If we are to keep pace with available reference material, we need more space.

Also, Mr. Julian Couzens has expressed his objections to the present plot plan. Boumann, Blanche, Faridy, Thorne and Maddish, the architectural firm who have drawn up the preliminary plans that are on view in the library re-arranged their original plan to pacify the residents on Arlington Ave. and Archibold Pl. by moving the entrance to the parking lot to Broad St. and putting the lot in the front of the building so that headlights would not shine into the rooms of the houses right next to the present site. That it is not ideal, I would agree, but since the large shade trees that surround the site will be preserved and a screen of evergreens will surround the lot, it is not impossible. It may even be possible to paint the asphalt green and add a line of pear trees down the center of the parking space. The preliminary plans are only preliminary. The question the town has to decide is should a new library be built on the Grant School site. I say yes.

REC. FIELD TOURS AVAILABLE

Editor, Leader;

Three cheers and hooray for the editorial depicting the archaic conditions our student athletes work under at Recreation Field. In 1932 when Westfield had only football in the fall and baseball/boys' track in the spring, the Recreation Field was a "showcase." Presently we have soccer and football in the fall, winter track (male and female), and baseball, track, and lacrosse in the spring. We offer ten sports for males, ten for females plus three coed which include varsity and J.V. competition.

The demands on facilities are more than five times our 1932 quotas for meeting dressing and training needs, not taking into consideration competitive use on the track and field, bleachers, restrooms, and refreshment stand.

I would welcome the opportunity to show the facilities to any interested Westfielder or answer your questions concerning our program. Please contact me at 654-6400, extension 215.

Our students need your support not only at contests but also to make their training safer by having adequate facilities.

Letters To The Editor

NUCLEAR FREEZE

Editor, Leader;

Thousands of volunteers are signing up hundreds of thousands of voters all across the nation to support the nuclear weapons freeze. The significant Freeze Voter '84 Pledge signed by each voter reads as follows: "As an American, I believe that a bilateral, verifiable nuclear weapons freeze between the U.S. and the Soviet Union is crucial to our survival. Therefore I pledge that the freeze will be a key determining factor in how I vote in 1984. As a Freeze Voter I will stay informed of how each candidate views the freeze and related issues."

In the Presidential race this translates into a vote for Walter Mondale, who has supported the nuclear weapons freeze in no uncertain terms. His plan is to communicate with the Russian leader on his first day in office proposing an immediate mutual and verifiable moratorium on all nuclear testing and weapons deployments. Why? Because the world is ready under threat of 50,000 nuclear missiles, and new first-strike types like MX are the last thing we need.

Further, candidate Mondale promises to initiate promptly the negotiation of a comprehensive freeze with the moratorium lasting for a fixed negotiating period and so long as the Russians comply. Doesn't that make more sense than buying every weapons system the Pentagon technicians can invent, while negotiating reluctantly or not at all? We have had too much of fair words about arms control — Walter Mondale offers specific deeds.

LIBRARY QUESTIONS

Editor, Leader;

I agree entirely with the observations and suggestions put forward by Kenneth L. MacRitchie in his letter to The Westfield Leader dated September 6, 1984. However, allow me to expand even further with some additional pertinent comments:

1.) No information whatsoever, other than the 3.5 million dollar cost and possible site locations, has been directed to the residents of Westfield.

2.) No valid reasons have been offered as to why the current library should be abandoned other than the excuse that the current facility has suffered from age and is not modern enough.

3.) No current information as to present usage of the existing library has been made known to include student use, or casual use by the general citizenry. In other words, is the demand for a new library coming from various sectors of our townspeople, or is it just an idea being promulgated by a select few?

4.) What new services and benefits will be offered by such a costly venture that do not already exist?

Once some of these questions

can be intelligently presented to our people with valid answers will we be in a position to address the Referendum on our November ballot. Just recently, the wisdom of the voters easily passed a new school budget for Westfield, and we agreed that it was needed and worth paying for. This does not necessarily mean that every new request which will impact on our taxes will or should be met with such acclaim. Hopefully, the taxpayers of Westfield will begin to take a more active interest in where their hard-earned dollars are being spent, and that such money is being directed into necessary projects. There is no room for apathy in this regard.

Let us assume for the moment that the old library cannot be rehabilitated, and that the need for a new structure has been proven without a doubt. Should any of the proposed 3.5 million dollar cost (and it will probably go higher when started) be passed along to the taxpayer? I say no. Westfielders have always rallied to a good cause and are a generous lot. I propose the following:

- 1.) Offer bonds for sale at a reasonable rate of interest and date of maturity.
- 2.) Launch a door-to-door fund raising campaign coupled with a direct mail appeal.
- 3.) Solicit benefactors and memorials.
- 4.) Involve our school children to save and collect pennies, nickels and dimes.

Just think for a moment that the refurbishment of the Statue of Liberty is being paid for by an outpouring of patriotism in the form of donations from the public and private sectors. The same plan is not too far-fetched right here in Westfield. In any event, it's going to be up to our voters to give their decision one way or the other. I hope the decision will be a right one.

"YES" ON LIBRARY

Editor, Leader;

One visit to the Westfield Memorial Library will prove to anyone the crying need for more space. On Election Day; Nov. 6, the voters of Westfield will have the opportunity to initiate a remedy to this situation. If passed, the question on the ballot will give Westfield permission to build a new library to fill the growing needs of our community. Once the voters have said, "Yes" then the detail work will begin: Site plans, parking facilities, and other suggestions and ideas from the community.

On Nov. 6, go to the polls and vote for the candidates of your choice, and also vote for the town where you have chosen to live. Vote Yes for The Westfield Library.

THANKS PLAYERS

Editor, Leader;

The outcome of the Westfield-Cranford Slo Pitch softball finals brings congratulations again to Rorden Realty for another championship season. A season of slick fielding, outstanding catches, strong arms and timely hitting. RR has won the league championship trophy five times in the past seven years of competition, giving Bill Taylor, manager and players a record to be proud of.

Thank you one and all players from all teams for a season of fun and excitement.

DISAGREES

Editor, Leader;

The September 6th editorial found in the 'Award Winning' Westfield Leader is a clear demonstration that Publisher Walter Lee and his staff have no idea what is currently happening in the Westfield public schools.

Perfectly adequate shower and coaching facilities are available to our athletes at the High School and across the street at Edison. We can share them with visiting athletes if they wish, although I have been informed that they prefer to go by bus to their own schools to shower, change into their own clothes (normally left at home school), and to turn in equipment (normally stored at home school).

Who wants to take off a dirty uniform, shower and put back on the same dirty uniform? Maybe the Westfield Leader staff - certainly no athlete.

Those from the Leader covering board meetings should listen for a change.

We now have part-time librarians in some elementary schools, a reduced number of reading instructors, elimination of the WECEP and K-2 ALPS programs and higher than desirable class sizes in some elementary schools due to financial limitations.

I certainly hope that any found money, such as the proceeds from the sale of Columbus, will be channeled into the restoration of program cuts. To do otherwise would be truly irresponsible.

As a twice elected member of the Board of Education I feel my primary responsibility is to give our children the best possible education - to prepare them for a rewarding and productive life. I have little concern as to whether or not our town's visitors feel our Rec Field is a showcase.

I am surprised that our local paper isn't more sensitive to the needs of the kids of Westfield. We need more substance in education than show.

August Rainfall Set Near Record

As the temperatures cool down and summer seems to be slipping away, here's one last look at the warm days of August. August 1984 marked the second highest total precipitation through that month ever recorded by the Union County College Cooperative Weather Station on the Cranford campus. This total is second only to that recorded through August last year.

According to Prof. Raymond J. Daly of Watchung, station director, the total precipitation recorded in August was 43.62 inches. The total precipitation for August 1983 was 44.54 inches. The total rainfall for the month, however, was only 2.15 inches, a departure of 2.28 inches below the norm.

Of August's five days of measureable rainfall, four were rocked by thunder. The greatest amount of rainfall in 24 hours was 1.25 inches on Aug. 5. This compares to a record high of 10.64 inches in 1971, and a record low of 0.48 inches in 1964.

The highest temperature was 91 degrees on Aug. 1. The low, 43 degrees was reached on Aug. 21. The mean temperature for the month was 72.82 degrees, which was above the norm by 5.67 degrees. The highest daily average was 83 degrees in Aug. 4; the lowest was 61 degrees on Aug. 20 and 21. The highest temperature on record for

August is 98 degrees, which was reached in both 1973 and 1983. 1965 saw the lowest temperature on record for August when the thermometers dropped to 41 degrees.

August started out in true summer form, with a maximum relative humidity of 99 percent recorded on the 5th. The average relative humidity per day remained fairly high at 73.19 percent, and reached a minimum of 46 percent on August 24.

Local Red Cross Chapter Marks Progress at Meeting

The 68th annual meeting of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross was held at the L'Affaire Restaurant in Mountainide last Wednesday with 75 persons in attendance. Chapter Chairman Kenneth S. Myers presided over the luncheon meeting.

The guest speaker was Frank Herrmann, a volunteer from the Morris Area Red Cross and Exxon Chemical Company executive, who serves as volunteer field service chairman for the territorial chapters in Northern New Jersey. Herrmann spoke on the recent reorganization of the Red Cross in New Jersey and its impact on the local chapter. He cited the Westfield-Mountainide chapter for its active participation in resource sharing, particularly during the recent flooding in New Jersey.

"Your Chapter's Disaster Action Team's assistance was invaluable during the crisis," Herrmann stated. The local Chapter's contribution of two volunteer consultants in the area of financial development and the acquisition of a new staff member in the area of health services has made the chapter a forerunner in the implementation of the national organization's "In Search of Excellence" goal.

Myers presented the following service pins and awards:

One-year service, Ruth B. Ayo; five-year service, Robert Meiklejohn, Mrs. Gail P. Moffett, Steven Perry; twenty-year service, Mrs. Hope G. Lee; twenty-five years service, Mrs. Beryl Marsh, Robert Willard; Swim-A-Cross awards, Mrs. Elizabeth Lennox, Robert W. Rennie; certificates for outstanding volunteer service: Mrs. Dagmar

Big Year for Voters

Westfield voters have a big stake in this year's General Election.

Locally, we will vote on an important referendum concerning the future of the Westfield Memorial Library - a $3.5 million question involving use of the former Grant School property as future home for what many consider an outmoded facility in the Municipal Building on East Broad St.

We also will determine an entirely new makeup on the Town Council; with incumbents in three wards (Wards 1, 3 and 4) declining to seek reelection it is a certainty that three newcomers will join our municipal leadership on the council. With Ward 2's and the Mayor's seat also on the ballot, newcomers on the 1985 local government's roster could reach a total as much as five-but it is doubtful.

A number of state referenda also are on the ballot and nationally, we will choose a President and Vice-President, a New Jersey Representative in the U. S. Senate and a member of the House of Representatives.

County-wide we will elect three Freeholders to three-year terms, a fourth to an unexpired term...also another area where leadership could change from one party to another.

But if you are not registered to vote by Oct. 9 you will lose a chance to map our future. Realtors, candidates, political parties, etc. have all been seeking to register new voters, but individuals 18 years and older should not have to wait for an invitation.

There are new hours in the Municipal Building which could make registration easier for many Westfielders. The Town Clerk's office welcomes new voter registrations between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Fridays and will offer extended hours for this purpose Oct. 4, 5 and 9.

There's no excuse not to vote in this year's General Election - but you must be registered first!

Letters To The Editor

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number, so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized. Only one letter endorsing candidates for election will be used each week; no letters on political issues will be used the week prior to the General Election (Nov. 1 issue).

Letters must be written on one side of paper and typewritten. No letter longer than 1 1/2 pages double-spaced will be considered for publication.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

NEW LIBRARY NEEDED

Editor, Leader;

I am writing in response to a recent letter which appeared in the Westfield Leader on Thursday, Sept. 6, concerning the expansion of the Westfield Memorial Library. The author of the letter was Mr. Ken MacRitchie.

Clearly, the only motive for Mr. MacRitchie's letter is to express his disagreement with the proposal to expand the present library site to where Grant School now stands - an area adjacent to Mr. MacRitchie's street. He is primarily concerned with protecting his own interests and not viewing the situation as a whole when thinking about the future of Westfield's library facilities. The present site is clearly not fit to be expanded as Mr. MacRitchie points out, citing the Fry report. Yet extensive work was done by consulting firms to verify this and much time was put in by the library staff at evaluating the feasibility (or in this case the lack thereof) of expanded library facilities at 425 East Broad St. Mr. MacRitchie's suggestions for further expansion at the present site, while thoughtful seems somewhat impossible. Having been on the staff for four years at the WML, I feel that I am qualified to make that statement.

Preventing expansion to the Grant school site would also prevent possibly the installation of full automation, added work-space for employees, and much needed space for the ever growing collection. Being on the staff of the WML enabled me to see these conditions which may not seem so prevalent to the general public. I think a close inspection of the suggested library floor plans as compared to the old will yield a much improved situation for both patrons and employees.

As I first mentioned, Mr. MacRitchie (and probably many other residents of the Grant School area) do not want to deal with such problems as increased traffic flow through their neighborhood. This is the same type of argument used by residents of North Euclid (amongst others) when a suggestion was made to expand the library to the park area on North Euclid. It is also this type of thinking that inhibits the expansion of viable and much needed programs and facilities in Westfield. That is, the concern with the here and now and the 'me' mentality far outweighs the concern for Westfield 5, 10, and even 20 years from now.

Having been on the library staff, I have had much exposure to this entire situation from its earliest stages. Yet let me remain somewhat objective. While I respect Mr. MacRitchie's (and others) opinions concerning the added problems with erecting a new library at the Grant School site, I cannot fully agree with them. It (a new library) would benefit not only the students in Westfield but also the entire population of Westfield and its library patrons. It is about time that this concern for one's self take a back seat in Westfield so as to allow for a new library structure which will greatly improve this town's future.

CITES LIBRARY NEEDS

Editor, Leader;

Allow me to express my agreement with Paul Hawkins' letter to the editor last week. Westfield needs a new library. The facility we now use has served the town well since 1954 but it is no longer adequate to serve our needs. There is need for more space for books, to say nothing of space needed to expand the libraries' audio-visual equipment. Every day more and more reference information is being stored on micro-film or micro-fiche. The library owns four micro-film readers and two printers, but the space available for their use precludes adding any additional machines, and micro-computers for patron use would be out of the question. If we are to keep pace with available reference material, we need more space.

Also, Mr. Julian Couzens has expressed his objections to the present plot plan. Boumann, Blanche, Faridy, Thorne and Maddish, the architectural firm who have drawn up the preliminary plans that are on view in the library re-arranged their original plan to pacify the residents on Arlington Ave. and Archibold Pl. by moving the entrance to the parking lot to Broad St. and putting the lot in the front of the building so that headlights would not shine into the rooms of the houses right next to the present site. That it is not ideal, I would agree, but since the large shade trees that surround the site will be preserved and a screen of evergreens will surround the lot, it is not impossible. It may even be possible to paint the asphalt green and add a line of pear trees down the center of the parking space. The preliminary plans are only preliminary. The question the town has to decide is should a new library be built on the Grant School site. I say yes.

REC. FIELD TOURS

AVAILABLE

Editor, Leader;

Three cheers and hooray for the editorial depicting the archaic conditions our student athletes work under at Recreation Field. In 1932 when Westfield had only football in the fall and baseball/boys' track in the spring, the Recreation Field was a "showcase." Presently we have soccer and football in the fall, winter track (male and female), and baseball, track, and lacrosse in the spring. We offer ten sports for males, ten for females plus three coed which include varsity and J.V. competition.

The demands on facilities are more than five times our 1932 quotas for meeting dressing and training needs, not taking into consideration competitive use on the track and field, bleachers, restrooms, and refreshment stand.

I would welcome the opportunity to show the facilities to any interested Westfielder or answer your questions concerning our program. Please contact me at 654-6400, extension 215.

Our students need your support not only at contests but also to make their training safer by having adequate facilities.

NUCLEAR FREEZE

Editor, Leader;

Thousands of volunteers are signing up hundreds of thousands of voters all across the nation to support the nuclear weapons freeze. The significant Freeze Voter '84 Pledge signed by each voter reads as follows: "As an American, I believe that a bilateral, verifiable nuclear weapons freeze between the U.S. and the Soviet Union is crucial to our survival. Therefore I pledge that the freeze will be a key determining factor in how I vote in 1984. As a Freeze Voter I will stay informed of how each candidate views the freeze and related issues."

In the Presidential race this translates into a vote for Walter Mondale, who has supported the nuclear weapons freeze in no uncertain terms. His plan is to communicate with the Russian leader on his first day in office proposing an immediate mutual and verifiable moratorium on all nuclear testing and weapons deployments. Why? Because the world is ready under threat of 50,000 nuclear missiles, and new first-strike types like MX are the last thing we need.

Further, candidate Mondale promises to initiate promptly the negotiation of a comprehensive freeze with the moratorium lasting for a fixed negotiating period and so long as the Russians comply. Doesn't that make more sense than buying every weapons system the Pentagon technicians can invent, while negotiating reluctantly or not at all? We have had too much of fair words about arms control - Walter Mondale offers specific deeds.

LIBRARY QUESTIONS

Editor, Leader;

I agree entirely with the observations and suggestions put forward by Kenneth L. MacRitchie in his letter to The Westfield Leader dated September 6, 1984.

However, allow me to expand even further with some additional pertinent comments:

1.) No information whatsoever, other than the 3.5 million dollar cost and possible site locations, has been directed to the residents of Westfield.

2.) No valid reasons have been offered as to why the current library should be abandoned other than the excuse that the current facility has suffered from age and is not modern enough.

3.) No current information as to present usage of the existing library has been made known to include student use, or casual use by the general citizenry. In other words, is the demand for a new library coming from various sectors of our townspeople, or is it just an idea being promulgated by a select few?

4.) What new services and benefits will be offered by such a costly venture that do not already exist?

Once some of these questions

can be intelligently presented to our people with valid answers will we be in a position to address the Referendum on our November ballot. Just recently, the wisdom of the voters easily passed a new school budget for Westfield, and we agreed that it was needed and worth paying for. This does not necessarily mean that every new request which will impact on our taxes will or should be met with such acclaim. Hopefully, the taxpayers of Westfield will begin to take a more active interest in where their hard-earned dollars are being spent, and that such money is being directed into necessary projects. There is no room for apathy in this regard.

Let us assume for the moment that the old library cannot be rehabilitated, and that the need for a new structure has been proven without a doubt. Should any of the proposed 3.5 million dollar cost (and it will probably go higher when started) be passed along to the taxpayer? I say no. Westfielders have always rallied to a good cause and are a generous lot. I propose the following:

- 1.) Offer bonds for sale at a reasonable rate of interest and date of maturity.
- 2.) Launch a door-to-door fund raising campaign coupled with a direct mail appeal.
- 3.) Solicit benefactors and memorials.
- 4.) Involve our school children to save and collect pennies, nickels and dimes.

Just think for a moment that the refurbishment of the Statue of Liberty is being paid for by an outpouring of patriotism in the form of donations from the public and private sectors. The same plan is not too far-fetched right here in Westfield. In any event, it's going to be up to our voters to give their decision one way or the other. I hope the decision will be a right one.

"YES" ON LIBRARY

Editor, Leader;

One visit to the Westfield Memorial Library will prove to anyone the crying need for more space. On Election Day, Nov. 6, the voters of Westfield will have the opportunity to initiate a remedy to this situation. If passed, the question on the ballot will give Westfield permission to build a new library to fill the growing needs of our community. Once the voters have said, "Yes" then the detail work will begin: Site plans, parking facilities, and other suggestions and ideas from the community.

On Nov. 6, go to the polls and vote for the candidates of your choice, and also vote for the town where you have chosen to live. Vote Yes for The Westfield Library.

THANKS PLAYERS

Editor, Leader;
The outcome of the Westfield-Cranford Slo Pitch softball finals brings congratulations again to Rorden Realty for another championship season. A season of slick fielding, outstanding catches, strong arms and timely hitting. RR has won the league championship trophy five times in the past seven years of competition, giving Bill Taylor, manager and players a record to be proud of. Thank you one and all players from all teams for a season of fun and excitement.

DISAGREES

Editor, Leader;
The September 6th editorial found in the 'Award Winning' Westfield Leader is a clear demonstration that Publisher Walter Lee and his staff have no idea what is currently happening in the Westfield public schools.

Perfectly adequate shower and coaching facilities are available to our athletes at the High School and across the street at Edison. We can share them with visiting athletes if they wish, although I have been informed that they prefer to go by bus to their own schools to shower, change into their own clothes (normally left at home school), and to turn in equipment (normally stored at home school).

Who wants to take off a dirty uniform, shower and put back on the same dirty uniform? Maybe the Westfield Leader staff - certainly no athlete.

Those from the Leader covering board meetings should listen for a change.

We now have part-time librarians in some elementary schools, a reduced number of reading instructors, elimination of the WECEP and K-2 ALPS programs and higher than desirable class sizes in some elementary schools due to financial limitations.

I certainly hope that any found money, such as the proceeds from the sale of Columbus, will be channeled into the restoration of program cuts. To do otherwise would be truly irresponsible.

As a twice elected member of the Board of Education I feel my primary responsibility is to give our children the best possible education - to prepare them for a rewarding and productive life. I have little concern as to whether or not our town's visitors feel our Rec Field is a showcase.

I am surprised that our local paper isn't more sensitive to the needs of the kids of Westfield. We need more substance in education than show.

August Rainfall Set Near Record

As the temperatures cool down and summer seems to be slipping away, here's one last look at the warm days of August. August 1984 marked the second highest total precipitation through that month ever recorded by the Union County College Cooperative Weather Station on the Cranford campus. This total is second only to that recorded through August last year.

According to Prof. Raymond J. Daly of Watchung, station director, the total precipitation recorded in August was 43.62 inches. The total precipitation for August 1983 was 44.54 inches. The total rainfall for the month, however, was only 2.15 inches, a departure of 2.28 inches below the norm.

Of August's five days of measureable rainfall, four were rocked by thunder. The greatest amount of rainfall in 24 hours was 1.25 inches on Aug. 5. This compares to a record high of 10.64 inches in 1971; and a record low of 0.48 inches in 1964.

The highest temperature was 91 degrees on Aug. 1. The low, 43 degrees was reached on Aug. 21. The mean temperature for the month was 72.82 degrees, which was above the norm by 5.67 degrees. The highest daily average was 83 degrees in Aug. 4; the lowest was 61 degrees on Aug. 20 and 21. The highest temperature on record for

August is 98 degrees, which was reached in both 1973 and 1983. 1965 saw the lowest temperature on record for August when the thermometers dropped to 41 degrees.

August started out in true summer form, with a maximum relative humidity of 99 percent recorded on the 5th. The average relative humidity per day remained fairly high at 73.19 percent, and reached a minimum of 46 percent on August 24.

Local Red Cross Chapter Marks Progress at Meeting

The 68th annual meeting of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross was held at the L'Affaire Restaurant in Mountainside last Wednesday with 75 persons in attendance. Chapter Chairman Kenneth S. Meyers presided over the luncheon meeting.

The guest speaker was Frank Herrmann, a volunteer from the Morris Area Red Cross and Exxon Chemical Company executive, who serves as volunteer field service chairman for the territorial chapters in Northern New Jersey. Herrmann spoke on the recent reorganization of the Red Cross in New Jersey and its impact on the local chapter. He cited the Westfield-Mountainside chapter for its active participation in resource sharing, particularly during the recent flooding in New Jersey.

"Your Chapter's Disaster Action Team's assistance was invaluable during the crisis," Herrmann stated. The local Chapter's contribution of two volunteer consultants in the area of financial development and the acquisition of a new staff member in the area of health services has made the chapter a forerunner in the implementation of the national organization's "In Search of Excellence" goal.

Meyers presented the following service pins and awards:

One-year service, Ruth B. Ayo; five-year service, Robert Meiklejohn, Mrs. Gail P. Moffett, Steven Perry; twenty-years service, Mrs. Hope G. Lee; twenty-five years service, Mrs. Beryl Marsh, Robert Willard; Swim-A-Cross awards, Mrs. Elizabeth Lennox, Robert W. Rennie; certificates for outstanding volunteer service: Mrs. Dagmar

Collegians

Stephanie Levine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schlossberg of Westfield, began classes Sept. 5, at Beaver College, Glenside, Pa.

Stephanie is a graduate of Gil St. Bernard High School.

Outgoing Chapter Chairman Kenneth S. Meyers of the Westfield-Mountainside American Red Cross, left, receives award for outstanding leadership from Gertrude A. Elster, executive director, and Richard B. Ahlfeld, treasurer.

Election '84: Issues on National, State, County and Local Levels

Republicans Slate "85 for '85"

Westfield Republican Chairman Jean Sawtelle introduced the local GOP ticket to a group gathered at her home to kick-off this year's campaign. Mrs. Sawtelle noted to the Republican Committee members and volunteers that the GOP has slated '85 for '85. The Republican ticket this year brings, in addition to a wide range of professional experience, a record of some 85 years of voluntary service to Westfield," Mrs. Sawtelle added.

Incumbents Mayor Ronald J. Frigerio and Ward 2 Councilman Garland C. Boothe Jr., both of whom will seek reelection in November, will be joined on the Republican Ballot by Frank J. Rodgers, Beverly A. Caldora and Shirley Ann Cordes, candidates for the first, third and fourth ward council seats. Rodgers seeks to succeed run for a fifth term on Town Council, and Mrs. Caldora is a candidate for the seat now held by Raymond W. Stone who also has declined a new term of office. Mrs. Cordes is an aspirant for the fourth ward position now held by Democrat Brian W. Fahey, who also will not run for reelection.

Born and educated in New Jersey, Rodgers lives at 720 Clark St. A graduate of Rutgers University with a degree in engineering, he formed his own business, NYCOIL Company, in Westfield in 1958 and the firm has since grown to three manufacturing plants located in Fanwood, Greensboro, N.C. and Greenville, S.C.

Rodgers, a member of the Republican party since moving to Westfield and a current town committeeman, has been active in the Westfield Rotary Club for more than 15 years and in the Boy Scouts which he serves as district chairman and a member of the board of directors of the Watchung Area Council.

An avid traveler, skier and hiker, Rodgers and his wife Lorraine have three sons, all graduates of Westfield High School. One son lives in North Carolina, the other two attend college.

Mrs. Caldora, of 11 Tudor Oval, and a long-time Westfield resident, has been a member of the Westfield Town Republican Committee for 10 years, serving on the executive committee and third ward leader.

A member of the Planning Board of the Town of Westfield, she was twice the chairperson for the campaign of former Mayor Allen Chin. Mrs. Caldora also is a member of Holy Trinity Parish Council and executive board, a second grade religious education teacher and den leader for Cub Scout Pack 73.

She is a licensed real estate salesperson and notary public.

Married to James A. Caldora, president of Westfield UNICO and a former councilman from the third ward, the couple has a 10-year old son, Danny.

Nottingham, Pl., with her husband, Eugene, and their two children, Matthew and Jennifer, who are presently attending Bowdoin College. Mrs. Cordes moved to Westfield about five years ago from Indiana where she was active in civic affairs. She served as the chairperson and a member of the local Municipal Environmental Commission. She was also active in local politics in Indiana, serving as the county committee nominating convention. She is an active participant in the League of Women Voters in the Westfield area.

Mrs. Cordes is a member of Common Cause and has served on the New Jersey Bell consumer panel. She had a Ph.D. in biochemistry from Brandeis University, a bachelor of arts in general chemistry from Radcliffe, and is working on a master's degree in science and environmental reporting at NYU. She had previously been employed at the Aerospace Research Application Center in Indiana as a consulting chemist, acting director of technical services and a staff chemist.

Mrs. Cordes stated, "We have been residents of Westfield for the past five years and we believe that it is a beautiful and well run town. I am anxious to contribute some of my time, efforts and talents to preserving the beauty of Westfield and at the same time learn more about how town government works. I look forward to meeting the residents of the fourth ward and I am planning an ambitious door-to-door campaign in order to meet the people of the town on a person-to-person basis."

Frigerio is completing his first two-year term in the office as mayor. Elected in 1982, Frigerio previously had served as a town councilman from the fourth ward for four years, had been a member of the Westfield Planning Board and chairman of the Westfield Town Republican Committee.

A partner in a general insurance agency in Union, Mayor Frigerio is a member of the Westfield Chapter of UNICO and of the 200 Club of Union County. He also has been active in Holy Trinity School affairs.

An 18-year resident of Westfield, the incumbent mayor and his wife Janet have three children, Susan, Gregg and Cheryl.

A resident of Westfield since 1959, Boothe was appointed to the council in September 1980. He was elected to two-year terms in 1980 and 1982. He is now chairman of the public safety committee, and has been active on the public works, traffic and transportation and solid waste committees.

"Serving on the Westfield Council and dealing with the problems and improvements to this wonderful town has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my life," the candidate said. "I have enjoyed being a part of successfully completed projects, such as the Gumbert Field renovations, and I look forward to working on several things now underway, including the Fire-

Dancer Celebrates Studio's 15th Year

Ann Crowell Inglis is celebrating her 15th year in her own dance studio in Westfield.

Mrs. Inglis began her dance training in Atlanta, Ga., and danced with the Atlanta Ballet. She moved with her parents to San Francisco and continued her dance training with the Christensen brothers. There, she danced with the San Francisco Ballet, appearing in operas and musical comedies in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

After coming to New York, her first job was in the Broadway musical, "Call Me Madam," with Ethel Merman. After leaving the show, she auditioned for George Balanchine and was accepted as a member of the New York City Ballet and danced with the company for seven years.

Mrs. Inglis trains students in classical ballet, teaching them techniques to continue dance as a career or simply to learn to love ballet as a student and as a part of an audience. There are no recitals but there is a class demonstration given at the studio for parents and friends at the end of each year.

Mrs. Inglis recently appeared on channel 13 in the acclaimed "Salute to Balanchine." Mrs. Inglis has been involved with local dance productions in Westfield and also in Morris County.

WHW Center Receives

Positive Response

The first branch office of Women Helping Women (WHW) Center of Middlesex County began in mid-August in Union County at the YWCA of Westfield, 220 Clark St., and the response for information on the counseling program and other support systems has been very gratifying. Gloria LaBelle, executive director of the YWCA, and Teresa McGeary, coordinator of the program in Union County, are very pleased at the direction the program is taking.

An advisory board is being formed and members of the community interested in this program, especially representatives of women's organizations or centers, are invited to the meeting at the YWCA, tonight, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Women Helping Women offers low cost individual counseling for women in crisis and transition in Union County by professionals at the Masters level. There is a fee for this service, however, no one will be turned away for the inability to pay. An appointment can be made by calling the YWCA.

Eventually other programs such as Self-Help Peer Group and Community Education Workshops will be offered. Meanwhile, women are invited to attend some of the on-going programs at the WHW Center, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, 17 Oak Ave., Metuchen.

Currently the programs at the Metuchen center include a six-week course on Tuesday evenings on Group Leadership Training. Workshops have an admission fee and include such topics as "Herbs, Vitamins, Nutrition and You: Guidelines to Creating a Better You," and "Our Parents - Our Selves: What do we see when we look at our Aging Parents?"

The public is invited to attend.

"Little Shop" Luncheon Tomorrow

The Westfield Day Care Center Auxiliary will celebrate the relocation of its "Little Shop on the Corner," with a luncheon tomorrow, Sept. 21, at the Center's playground, 140 Mountain Ave. The event will take place from noon to 2:30 p.m., and ticket holders will be entertained by Westfield accordionist, Carolyn Klinger-Keuter. In case of rain, lunch will be served in lower Westminster Hall, adjacent to the playground.

The "Little Shop," now located at 116 Elm St., will open at 10 a.m., and shoppers will be served light refreshments from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Luncheon tickets may be purchased at the shop or from auxiliary members.

Pets Can Learn Tricks at Club

Do you have a dog or cat? How would you like your pet to be the smartest in town? Your pet can learn to ride a skateboard, a seesaw, push a carriage and jump rope.

Frank McSweeney will lead the 4-H Club. McSweeney and his animals have appeared on TV and at local 4-H fairs.

The first meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 4 from 6 to 7 p.m.

Concert Series to Begin

Mr. Donald W. Belcher, president of the Westfield Community Concerts Association, announces the final opportunity for local residents to purchase subscriptions for the ten-concert series to begin Sept. 30.

A membership for all ten concerts may be purchased by contacting Dorothy Walters or Anne Arkel of Westfield.

The concert on Sept. 30 will be The Empire Brass Quintet, at 3 p.m. at the Plainfield High School.

This concert will be followed by the Gregg Smith Singers on Wednesday, Oct. 3, 8:30 p.m. in Westfield.

Future concerts include Stecher and Horowitz, pianists, the Chamber Ballet U.S.A., John O'Connor, pianist, The Roger Wagner Chorale, Ida Levin violinist, the Aman Folk Festival Dancers, Constatine Orbelian, pianist, and the New York Light Opera.

Cottey College Rep. to Give Workshop

Cottey College admissions counselor, Betzy Fry, will meet with young women interested in learning more about the College on Saturday, Sept. 22, 10 a.m., in the Westfield, Scotch Plains and Fanwood area.

Cottey College is a two-year liberal arts college for women, with a resident enrollment of 350 students from more than 40 states and 15 countries. Cottey's limited enrollment and an 11:1 student-faculty ratio, allow for a high degree of personal attention. More than 90 percent of Cottey's graduates transfer to senior institutions across the country.

Cottey is the only college owned and supported by a women's organization. The college is a project of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, a philanthropic educational organization.

Located 100 miles south of Kansas City, in Nevada, Mo., Cottey will celebrate "A Century of Commitment to Women" during its Centennial year in 1984.

Betzy Fry

Miss Fry, a 1981 Cottey graduate, received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon.

For more information about the workshop contact Mrs. Janet Newill or Mrs. Libby Andrews.

The fourth and final summer bridge sponsored by the Women's Club of Westfield will be held at the clubhouse on Wednesday, Sept. 26. Pictured from left to right are Mrs. John H. Spellman, bridge and craft chairman, Mrs. Ethan A. Hescocock, travel chairman, and Mrs. Donald K. Miller, music chairman. Missing from photo is Mrs. Dennis Shea, chairman of international affairs. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Kenneth A. Koleda of Scotch Plains, general chairman of the summer luncheon-bridges.

Greek Festival to Be Held

Notis and Theresa Kotsolios of Westfield will serve guests at the Greek Festival, 250 Gallows Hill Rd., on Sept. 28, 29, and 30.

The 19th Annual Greek Festival of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church will be held on Sept. 28, 29 and 30 in the Parish Center at 250 Gallows Hill Rd. The hours will be 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 11:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Authentic Greek food, drinks and entertainment will be provided by gaily costumed community members extending the proverbial Greek "philoxenia" (hospitality). The Center will be decorated as a village "Taverna," a most pleasing atmosphere for a gathering of family and friends — rain or shine.

Lunch will be accompanied by live entertainment, featuring Ntinos on the keyboard and singing Greek songs. Evening guests will enjoy the young adults of Holy Trinity folk dress dancing to the live bouzouki music of the Litos Brothers Band.

The highlight of Festival dining for many is the large selection of cakes and pastries made with the finest puff pastry and filled with chopped nuts and honey. Favorites include baklava, diples, loukoumades, karedopeta, raveni and kourabiedes.

By popular demand, take-out orders of food and pastries will be available.

Festival Boutiques will feature a wide selection of imported items for guests' shopping pleasure. This year there will be a broader display of jewelry in all price ranges. Pottery and ceramic items include some country-look pieces as well as classical designs in Grecian urns and vases. Other items include Cobalt vases by Spyropoulos, embroidered table linens, needlepoint canvases, handpainted icons and colorful "smaltos" (enamelware). The "Kiosk" is a favorite boutique for children's shopping with many affordable items.

Festival guests are invited to visit Holy Trinity Church, adjacent to the Parish Center. The church is an excellent example of Byzantine architecture, crowned with a majestic dome and filled with icons, stained glass windows and mosaics portraying religious figures and events in the traditional Byzantine style. An audio tour prepared and delivered by Rev. Alexander G. Leondis explaining the purpose and meanings of various parts of the church will run continuously.

BPW Sponsors Workshop

"Focus on BPW," a training workshop sponsored by Districts one and two of the New Jersey Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., will be held on Saturday, Sept. 29 at Drew University in Madison from 9:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

For more information contact the local BPW office. Registrations should be sent to Dolores Roach, P.O. Box 353, Convent Station, N.J. 07061.

CHOOSING A CONTACT LENS PRACTITIONER

Q: How do you find a qualified contact lens practitioner?
A: It is best to start by asking friends who wear contact lenses successfully about the optometrist who fit them. You can also telephone your local optometric association and ask for recommendations in your area.

Find out how experienced the practitioner is and whether or not he carries soft, hard, and gas permeable lenses manufactured by several different companies. Your best fit may not be the brand that is advertised on television.

Very often the optometrist himself will teach you how to insert and remove your new contact lenses. Just as often, that job may be left to an assistant. The assistant should be cordial, clean, patient, and careful when working with you. In addition to learning how to insert and remove your lenses, you should be instructed in how to care for your lenses, and provided with a starter kit for doing so. Patient education is an integral part of a successful contact lens-fitting practice.

Be sure that your optometrist can be reached in emergencies, or makes provisions for emergency coverage. Be certain that he will see you at frequent intervals after the initial fitting, and that he will try other lenses on you if the initial pair do not prove comfortable.

Election '84: Issues on National, State, County and Local Levels

Jim Hely, Democratic candidate for Westfield mayor, stands at the entrance to Echo Lake Country Club. Hely criticizes the granting of a plenary liquor license to the club without public bidding. (Story on page one)

"Freeze" Group Assails Reagan's "Warlike Tendencies"

The Union County committee for a nuclear weapons freeze has announced its opposition to Ronald Reagan in the current election, based on his "frightening warlike tendencies."

Susan McNevin, coordinator of "Freeze Voter 84" of Union County, made the announcement in Cranford at a peace rally last week where Vice Presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro accepted the endorsement of both Freeze Voter 84 and Sane PAC on behalf of the Mondale/Ferraro ticket. McNevin cited Reagan's "ill-considered 'star wars' proposals," his "bloated" military budget, and his desire to stockpile "hideous nerve gases" as convincing arguments to vote for his Democratic rival, Walter Mondale.

"To top it all off," said McNevin, "President Reagan then went so far as to sneer at people who support a nuclear weapons freeze and call them 'jackasses' in his Aug. 24 speech to the American Legion. 'Polls show that 70 percent of the people in this country support a nuclear weapons freeze, and I say that President Reagan is showing his own frightening warlike tendencies when he calls them 'jack-asses'." McNevin also cited Reagan's high publicized "joke" about bombing Moscow as another example of his "dangerous mindset."

The "Septemberfest" being held Saturday and Sunday in Elizabeth, will be the next concentrated effort by the freeze voter group to seek voters' pledges. People who support a bilateral, verifiable nuclear weapons freeze between the US and the Soviet Union will be asked to sign a pledge stating that the candidates' position on the freeze will be a "key determining factor" in how they vote this year. The Union County group has collected nearly 2000 voters' pledges so far, and they hope to increase that number significantly from among the estimated 250,000 people expected to attend the weekend event in Elizabeth. The freeze voter table will be set up near the International Food Pavilion and volunteers to help man the table are invited to call the "Freeze Phone."

Cosquer Names Campaign Aide

Dr. Armand Cosquer, Democratic candidate for the Town Council from the Third Ward, announced the appointment of Dr. Edward A. Boyno as his campaign treasurer. "I'm delighted that a person of Dr. Boyno's caliber and commitment has agreed to serve," said Cosquer. "He'll bring a knowledge on many issues which concern Westfielders of all ages."

Dr. Boyno is an associate professor of mathematics and computer science at Montclair State College. He is a graduate of St. Peter's College and holds the degrees of master of science and doctor of philosophy from Rutgers University. He is a member of the American Mathematical Society and in his second term as president of the New Jersey Conference of the American Association of University Professors.

Boyno is also a charter member of Montclair State's Faculty Senate, an organization he served as president from 1982 to 1984. He lives with his wife Mary Ann and his son Ned in a modest house with a huge mortgage on Belmar Terrace. They are communicants at St. Hohen's Church.

Dr. Boyno welcomed Dr. Cosquer's candidacy as "a person ready to make decisions necessary for the future of Westfield."

He brings the leadership and determination required to effectively represent the Third Ward. "As division president of Neighborhood Housing Services of Union County, Dr. Cosquer served on the personnel and finance committees. He knows that it takes time and effort to launch and maintain a successful program. As an educator and administrator, he is aware that the Westfield library is entirely inadequate to service this community," stated Dr. Boyno.

"It's time for Westfielders to pressure our Republican Council to move off dead-center on this issue," Cosquer asserted. "I do not believe that they appreciate the need for better research facilities for our college-bound students nor do they realize what a good library can do for the spirit of a community."

Diamond to Survey Ward Voters

What do Fourth Ward residents think about Westfield's parking problems? How does the neighborhood feel about the proposed new library? What about in-town transportation, teen recreation, and town services?

Michael Diamond, Democratic candidate for the Fourth Ward Town Council seat, plans to find out just what residents think about these and other important local and regional issues. All fourth ward voters will shortly receive an opinion survey allowing them to mark their agreement or disagreement with statements on a range of issues from parking to solid waste management. Diamond hopes to learn, for example, how residents feel about an in-town minibus, how people think the proposed new library might be used, and what residents believe to be important about solid waste disposal.

"I want to know the priorities for fourth ward residents so that I can represent them fairly on the issues they find of greatest concern," stated Diamond.

Another outcome expected from the survey is the level of citizen awareness on various issues. "As voters, we often suffer from an 'awareness gap' about such complex issues as the environment or transportation," Diamond pointed out. "One of a council member's most important responsibilities is to fill that gap with the kind of information voters need to make informed decisions. The survey will help me find out what people want and need to know more about."

In designing the survey, Diamond consulted people with special expertise in each of the areas voters were asked about. Residents will also have space for their own comments.

"The few minutes needed to complete the survey and send it back to me will be an investment repaid many times over by strong representation of fourth ward views before the Council," the candidate asserted.

"Advertisements are the most interesting and difficult of modern literary forms." Aldous Huxley house renovation, computerization of the Police Department and meeting the needs of parking and the library.

One of the most challenging matters in which Boothe was active was the "Stop the Mall" campaign of 1982. Working with former Councilwoman Betty List and the Westfield Chamber of Commerce, Boothe actively participated in 18 hearings before the Springfield Planning Board. These culminated in the application by a developer being rejected. The project would have allowed a massive shopping mall at Springfield Ave. and Route 22, with tremendous impact on Westfield's traffic and business community.

Boothe is no stranger to community service. He was president of the Westfield Senior Citizens Housing Corporation while it planned, financed, built and occupied the 172-unit $6 million facility on Boynton Ave. Prior to that he was president of the Youth and Family Counseling Service and vice-president of the Westfield Jaycees.

For two years he was director of the Westfield Baseball League Major League program at Gumbert Field. He was also active in the Grant School Players and Community Players.

Since coming on the council, Boothe has also become involved in county-wide matters as well. He was appointed by the Board of Chosen Freeholders to the Industrial Pollution Control Financing Authority of Union County in 1983 and is the authority's treasurer. Recently he was elected as chairman of the Union County Solid Waste Advisory Council, which is concerned among other things with construction of a new refuse-to-energy plant to dispose of the county's residential and commercial waste.

A lawyer by training, he is manager of the trademark law department of American Cyanamid Company. He previously practiced general law in Newark and Westfield. Boothe graduated from Princeton University and Harvard Law School.

He is married to Gaile K. Boothe, presently a mathematics teacher at Roosevelt Junior High. Their daughter, a Duke University engineering major, is pursuing a MBA program at Boston University. Their son Gary will graduate at the end of May from Bucknell University with a degree in engineering, and their other son, Douglas, is an engineering sophomore at Princeton.

The Boothe family resided for 21 years at 633 Arlington Ave., Recently they moved to 6 Hawthorne Dr.

Mrs. Sawtelle concluded the evening by commenting that the Westfield Republican party has "a proven track record of responsible leadership and service to the town. While it might be advantageous to ride the crest of President Reagan's popularity, the local slate will run on issues directly relating to the management of Westfield Government," she stated.

Anyone wishing to volunteer is asked to contact his or her council candidate directly.

Soccer Association Offers Fall Coaches' Clinics

The Westfield Soccer Association kicked off its fall series of Coaches' Clinics this week for all coaches of boys and girls soccer teams in town.

These special instructional sessions are designed to familiarize new coaches -- and to review for more experienced ones -- the fundamentals of soccer play and the rules of the game, as well as safety and First Aid considerations.

According to Tom Ward who heads up the WSA training effort, "The key to improved skills and game success for our young players is making sure they receive the best instruction in all aspects of the game."

Coaching instruction is being provided at these clinics by WSA members Peter LaTartara, Tom Ward and Dr. Bernard Rosenbaum. Walt Leonow, a member of the WSA as well, and coach of the Westfield High School varsity boys soccer team, will also offer instruction.

Clinics which began this past weekend, will continue on Sept. 22, with sessions scheduled for coaches at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. at Memorial Field. In addition, a special clinic for boys and girls who are interested in playing goal keeper will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. at Memorial Field.

Stagaard, Yarrington Co-Captain Gridders

The Westfield High School football team has elected Michael Stagaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stagaard of 125 Elizabeth Ave., and Timothy Yarrington, son of The Rev. and Mrs. David Yarrington of 201 Embree Crescent as co-captains this year.

Booters Win Opener

By Todd Brecher
The Westfield High School varsity boys' soccer team, ranked seventh in the Star Ledger preseason poll, opened its season last Friday with a hard-fought 3-2 victory over a surprising East Brunswick squad.

Westfield had come out sluggishly in the first period and East Brunswick, playing aggressively, managed to control the early portion of the game. However, they were unable to get a good shot on goal and when the Blue Devils got a chance to score midway through the period, they capitalized on it. Rob Sidebottom scored on a pass from Taylor Wright and Westfield had a 1-0 lead.

Neither team was able to score for the rest of the first half and the Devils took a 1-0 lead into the locker room.

Westfield scored again early in the third period when forward John Ierardi took a pass from John Ganas, dribbled around two defenders, and scored to give Westfield a 2-0 lead. East Brunswick did not give up, however, and scored with 9:58 left in the third period on a header by Shinya Takadta. Then, one minute into the final period, Westfield goalie Dave Zupko made a rare error, letting a free kick go through his legs, and the game was tied 2-2.

The rest of the game was filled with fast-paced action as both teams tried to get a go-ahead goal. Zupko and East Brunswick goalie John Semple each made excellent saves and Westfield fullbacks Chris Capano and Mike Drury also made fine plays.

The game seemed to be heading for overtime when, with 17 seconds left to play in regulation, Westfield was awarded a free kick after an East Brunswick foul. Goalie Semple saved one Westfield shot but Ierardi knocked the ball out of his hands and Curt Cheeseman scored the winning goal with only nine seconds left.

Although the Devils won, Coach Walter Leonow was not satisfied with his team's performance. "If we don't play better against St. Joseph's we're going to be in a lot of trouble," he commented. The Devils played St. Joseph's, ranked 19th in the Star Ledger poll, yesterday (too late for the Leader deadline) and will travel to Cranford tomorrow.

Netsters Win 4-1, 5-0

By Gary Winzelberg
The Westfield High School girls' tennis team began its season on a successful note by winning its first two matches against Columbia and Cranford 4-1, 5-0 respectively.

In the match against Columbia, Amy Kern played her first match at first singles. During the match she fell victim to nervousness and made several unforced errors which her tough opponent, Becky Friedman, capitalized on. Amy lost the first set 6-2 but seemed to gain momentum by breaking Friedman's serve in the first game of the second set.

Friedman was able to maintain her confidence and she won the next six games and the match 6-2, 6-1.

Second singles player Amy Briemer used consistent ground strokes to gain a 6-4, 6-3 victory over her CHS opponent in her first match for WHS. At third singles, Linda Katsch overpowered her opponent en route to a 6-2, 6-3 win.

In the doubles matches, Marnee Hall and co-captain Theresy Smith used their experience as a team to help win their match 6-2, 6-3. This is their second consecutive year together at first doubles, and they always were in control. At second doubles the tandem of co-captain Karen Sharpe and freshman Jennifer Comstock seemed to work well as they came away with a 6-2, 6-4 win.

In their next match, the netsters dominated a weak Cranford team. Amy Kern handled the pressure well as she won her first singles match. At second singles Amy Briemer prevailed in a tough three-set match, and Linda Katsch won easily in her third singles.

In doubles action, the first doubles team of Marnee Hall and Theresy Smith had an easy victory, and Karen Sharpe and Jennifer won their second doubles match against Cranford by default.

The highlight of the evening was the opportunity to honor outgoing President Chuck McGill and thank him for an outstanding year.

President Kessler stated that, "The Boosters have been an active group in Westfield since 1945, whose purpose is the promotion and support of athletics and related extra-curricular activities in Westfield's Jr and Sr high schools. United Fund Greet the Dawn ... and Commuters

Photos by Ken O'Brien

Linda Maggio, executive director of the United Fund explains her hopes for a $480,000 goal to Westfield commuter Ed Verwholt and Dr. David Spelkoman, director of Cerebral Palsy.

Frank Sullebarger, 1984 Campaign Chairman, serves coffee to a New Jersey Transit Conductor.

It has become a campaign tradition to rise at the crack of dawn one fall morning as the United Fund of Westfield continued the kick-off to the 1984 campaign by recently greeting hundreds of early morning commuters. Representatives from the fund's campaign team and from the 17 member agencies were on hand to distribute campaign literature and to encourage giving, while the American Red Cross served coffee.

Carolyn Klinger-Kueter brought a bright note to Westfield's commuters with her accordion music and was assisted with a serenade for the early risers by Milton Faith, executive director of Youth and Family Counseling Service.

Democrats Suggest Series of Debates

The four Democratic candidates for Union County freeholder have called on Union County Republican Chairman Alfonso Pisano to deliver his four candidates to a series of nine debates on issues facing voters in the county.

Republican freeholder candidates must answer, and we would like to give our opponents the same courtesy."

Okrasinski said that the debates they proposed would be in addition to the function sponsored each year by the League of Women Voters.

Wood Show Reveals Experts' Techniques

Anyone involved in the art of woodworking, from amateur woodcarver to professional furniture maker, will find "Woodworking: Tools of The Trade '84" to be full of practical information, facts and useful hints on the craft.

The show is scheduled to run Sept. 28, 29 and 30 at the Westfield Armory, 500 Rahway Ave. More than 40 national and international manufacturers of quality hand and power woodworking tools will exhibit their products and conducting almost continuous demonstrations emphasizing proper tool usage, safety and technique.

In addition, seminars conducted by nationally known experts in the woodworking field will be held. Toshio Odate, wood-working author and member of the Pratt Institute of Design in New York City, will lecture on Japanese wood tools and practices. Brooklyn based Mario Rodriguez will demonstrate special tools and techniques required to reproduce antique Windsor chairs - examples of which have been noted for their excellence by the national publication "Fine Woodworking." An improved method developed for wood joining will be shown by Mark Duginske, a fourth-generation woodworker.

The show's sponsors, Garrett Wade Company, Inc., of New York City, and Force Machinery Company of Union, New Jersey, both stress that the show has been planned to cover the entire woodworking industry. Exhibitors were invited so that every facet of woodworking, for both the part time tinkerer and full time professional, would be covered.

Chemical Task Force "Sticks Its Neck Out"

The Chemical People Task Force of Westfield has announced that a "Drug Awareness Week" will be held Oct. 21-27 in Westfield. Education will be the key element of this community-wide effort. Betty List and Nancy Walbert, co-coordinators of the Task Force, report that the four chairpersons of the sub-committees, prevention, intervention, advocacy and publicity, and all other youth related organizations are enthusiastically supporting this major emphasis.

Since its inception last November, the Task Force has completed a number of projects, including the publication of a "Directory of Cooperating Families." This booklet was mailed to more than 600 families who signed a "Parent Pledge" not to serve drugs or alcohol to minors attending parties in their home. In addition, the Task Force sponsored a workshop for ten elementary grades. On a commercial level, the Task Force succeeded in obtaining the signatures of all liquor store owners in Westfield who pledged not to knowingly sell liquor to minors.

Future plans for the Task Force include establishment of a "Parents In Crisis" Hotline, establishment of parent and student peer groups, and the expansion of sensitization workshops for all school staff in elementary and secondary schools.

The Chemical People Task Force of Westfield is composed of parents, school personnel, local police and government officials, religious and service organization representatives and interested citizens of all ages who have joined together to prevent drug and alcohol abuse among our youth. The committee's slogan this year will be "Westfield Sticks Its Neck Out for Its Kids - Help Us Fight Drug Abuse."

Those who would like further information - or an opportunity to volunteer their help - may do so by calling Mrs. List or Walbert.

"The most important thing in life is never to have too much of anything."

Pictured above is a painting of Martin's Hundred plantation in Virginia, as it was being constructed around 1620 ... at the top is the earliest dated piece of British-American pottery yet found and at the left two helmets of that period ... all vital clues in a gripping detective story called "Search for a Century" which will be shown at the Westfield Historical Society meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Grant School.

Four years in production, this film is a chronological account of archaeological discoveries of Martin's Hundred, a settlement along the James River in Virginia, begun in 1619 and ended three years later after an Indian massacre.

This accomplished documentary production was awarded a gold medal at the International Film Festival of New York, has been shown by Public Broadcasting's Educational Network and has been included in British Broadcasting Corporation's acclaimed "Chronicle" series.

WHS President Ralph Jones is in charge of Wednesday's meeting. Bob Jonas, co-chairman of the archives committee, arranged for the program, and Vice-President Bruce Baker will present the background story of the film.
