

Marlene Bodner, curriculum director of the Adult School directs a student to a classroom. The school has opened registrations for its 34th spring term with more than 90 course offerings.

Adult School Opens 34th Year

The Westfield Adult School, now in its 34th year, opened registration for its 1985 spring term this week. The school mailed a brochure to more than 25,000 homes in Westfield and surrounding towns this week in which it listed almost 100 courses as diverse as computer programming and yoga or cooking and casino games. The school also offers "Classrooms on Wheels" by which students can choose a guided tour of SOHO or the New York Botanical Gardens.

"A wide-ranging curriculum has always been our most valuable asset," explained Marlene Bodner, the school's curriculum co-chairman who credits the school's longevity to the popularity of its versatile courses. According to Mrs. Bodner, the perennial favorites are fine arts, aerobics and dance, languages, and crafts but she said students who are looking for job-related skills can find them at the school. The real estate course qualifies students to take the NJ State licensing exam, the secretarial courses give training in medical or legal skills, word processing or typing and additional ones cover personal investing, microcomputers, home buyer's seminar, and travel agent training.

Directors of the school are committed to a two-level course of "English for New Americans" — so committed that they have found financial funding in order to offer it at a minimal rate to students. All school courses are open to high school students and some are specifically designed for them such as SAT Orientation and Driver's Education.

Registrations are being accepted by mail now for the new term which will run from March 4 until May 13 with classes Monday evenings at the Senior High School on Dorian Rd. (A few courses require additional class time which is indicated in the brochure description).

In-person registration will be held at the High School Feb. 11 at 7:30 PM.

For more information persons may write the School at Box 606, Westfield.

School Board Approves Revised Health Curriculum Guide

A proposed revision to the Health/Family Living Curriculum guide for Westfield's three secondary schools were presented to the Board of Education at a special meeting Tuesday.

The Board unanimously approved releasing the draft to the public. Copies of the 78-page guide, with sections for each grade level (seven through 12), have been placed in each school building, in the public library and in offices at the School board administration building, 302 Elm St., for interested citizens to review.

The curriculum guide is too large to make individual copies for everyone in the community. However, copies will be available on a loan basis. Citizens may borrow the curriculum draft after 3:30 p.m. and return it between 8 and 9 the next morning, or they may borrow it for the weekend.

Members of the professional staff committee responsible for the proposed revisions are: David Rock, director of instruction; Margaret Klick, health services department chairperson; Thomas Mullen, audiovisual director; Richard Zimmer, health/physical education department chairperson; Greg Gorski, health/physical education teacher; Carol Weiss, contemporary living teacher; and Sheila Rosen, Jean Wands and Maureen Pigott, school nurse/health educators.

"We are making the curriculum outline available to the community before holding formal public hearings on it," Dr. Rock said.

Public hearings on the proposals are scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 6 at Roosevelt Junior High School (snow date Feb. 25) and Feb. 11 at Edison Junior High School (snow date Feb. 13).

After the public hearings, the committee will review the proposal and draft a final revision. This will be presented to the Board in April and one month later, as is Board policy, the revision is expected to be voted on by members at the May 21 formal public business meeting.

Audiovisual materials for the revised curriculum will be selected after it is approved by the School Board. "The materials will be shown to the public before they are used in the schools," Dr. Rock said.

The health/family living curriculum for secondary school students has been in existence for more than a decade. The revised curriculum, which includes sex education, will be taught by school nurse/health educators. Parents will continue to have the option of withdrawing their child or children, without prejudice, from the entire health program or portions of it.

In a ten minute session of the Westfield Town Council Tuesday, the first reading of an ordinance to provide for a flashing traffic signal at West Broad St. and Scotch Plains Ave. was passed unanimously.

Public Safety Committee Chairman Thomas Quinn stated that although a flashing signal was not the ultimate answer to the problem at the intersection, it was at least the first step in slowing down traffic.

Councilman Garland Boothe noted that the signal was "the subject of a great deal of discussion in 1984," and that the council would have preferred a standard traffic light at the intersection, "but a flashing signal was the most the county felt it was justified in providing."

Also approved unanimously was the first reading of ordinances to amend the Town Code to increase the Library Board from seven to nine members, and readopt the Land Use Ordinance, incorporating previous amendments through 1984.

Council Approves "Flasher" Signal, Library Board Increase

The following resolutions were passed after first readings, authorizing an agreement with Catlin Associates as Planning Board Consultant for 1985; approving an agreement with The Hillier Group Architects of Princeton for consultant services on the Fire Headquarters rehabilitation project; awarding a contract to Katzins Uniforms & Work Clothes, Inc., Newark, for work clothes for Public Works employees; approving investments by the Treasurer, a 1985 Temporary Capital Budget, and sale of Tax Lien Certificate held by the Town on property located at 534 Rahway Ave.; approval of the appointment of Allen Chin to the Rahway Valley Sewage Authority; and approval of Raffle licenses for Family Life Apostolate, Woodrow Wilson School PTA and the American Cancer Society.

Sealed proposals for the rehabilitation of kiddie and training pools at the Memorial Pool were received from Paddock Gunite Pools Ltd. of Albany, N.Y., and Onorato Construction of Orange. The contract has not, at this time, been awarded.

Zoning Board Announces Officers; Denies Garage Variance

Prior to the presentation of the first appeal at Monday night's session of the Board of Adjustment, the slate of officers for the new year was announced.

Officers are as follows: Mary Herberich, chairman; James Kefalonitis, vice-chairman; Eleanor Sanford, secretary; Wayne Positan, Board attorney; and Albert Wiegman, Board liaison.

Highlighting the agenda was the appeal of Louis J. Marcantonio of Springfield, for permission to erect a garage at 592-596 Springfield Ave., for the purpose of storing contracting equipment and two small trucks. The appeal had been previously heard in November, but additional information had been requested by Board members.

Edward Stiso, Jr., representing Marcantonio, explained that his client would face a hardship if the variance was not granted, as he had sold other property in order to purchase the Springfield Ave. parcel with the intention of erecting the garage. Stiso said his client was seeking an extension of a non-conforming use of the property. The property, located in an industrial zone is the site of a residence which Marcantonio, plans to rent in the future.

The Board was reluctant to grant a variance allowing a mixed use of the property and was concerned with possible outdoor storage of materials. Compound by the fact that Marcantonio would not operate his business from the Springfield Ave. residence, the variance was denied.

The appeal of Leroy M. Redd of 518 West Broad St., to extend his one-family residence by adding a recreation room and deck was partially granted. Having allowed Mr. Redd to submit a revised application from last month's meeting, the Board calculated that the total coverage of the property was 21%, exceeding the maximum allowance by one percent. The additional living area and deck would bring the total coverage up to 26%. In a compromise, the Board agreed to allow the living area, for a total coverage of 22%.

The appeal of Edward and Rosalie Meyh of 109 Belmar Terr. to erect an addition to their kitchen was approved. The Meyh's proposed addition would encroach upon the ten foot minimum required side yard by approximately two and one-half feet. Mr. Meyh told the Board that the structure would follow the line of the present house and conform with it in materials and style. Hearing no objections from neighbors, the Board granted the request.

The last appeal of the evening was that of Stanley Kafka, owner/operator of Pan American Cleaners, who proposed to extend his dry cleaning establishment with the addition of a work area. The Board noted that this was the third time Mr. Kafka had come before the Board to expand his establishment. Twice previously variances had been granted. The Board, however, was concerned with the "creeping" effect of the business in a non-conforming use, even though parking space requirements were satisfied.

The Board decided to postpone the appeal until the February session, in order to check on the business' equipment, insurance and fire safety inspection records. Also postponed until next month was the appeal of MacDowell Oil Heat.

Recycling Center Makes Donation To PT Council

Georgia Aquila, president of Parent-Teacher Council, recently announced the donation of $600 by the Westfield Recycling Center for PT Council's 1984-1985 Operating Budget. The Westfield Recycling Center, PT Council's largest supporter, has been contributing $600 for the past four years, ever since Gail Cassidy and Jane Kelly took over as managers of the Center.

According to Jane Kelly, the Center also makes a $1,000 contribution to PT Council's Scholarship Fund in the spring and has supported other Westfield organizations, like the United Fund and the Rescue Squad, when sufficient funds were available. The relationship between PT Council and the Westfield Recycling Center dates back to 1981 when Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Kelly began managing the center. Any profit from the recycling of newspapers, glass, and aluminum, is contributed to PT Council and other deserving local non-profit organizations.

The Center was also instrumental in initiating an in-service training course on recycling for Westfield elementary teachers based on excellent learning materials provided by the state.

The Center will be manned by Edison Junior High School's National Honor Society and Troop #79.

Friday, Jan. 25, is the end of the second marking period. Kindergarten morning and afternoon classes will reverse on Monday, Jan. 28, and secondary school students involved in one semester courses will begin their second semester courses.

Mountainside School Board Revises Calendar

A revised school calendar for 1985-86 and a proposal to restructure the school administration were the main topics at the recent regular meeting of the Mountainside Board of Education.

New on the school calendar is the closing of Deerfield School to observe Martin Luther King's birthday, Jan. 15, 1986. The Board accepted with a 4-2 vote the recommendation of Superintendent Margaret Kantes for a calendar revision of the traditional February vacation week to a two-day break. Students will not attend classes on Monday and Tuesday of the Presidents' Day week but will return to school for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Dr. Kantes cited a better learning atmosphere in February in contrast to the difficulty of holding classes during the fourth week of June when temperatures are in the nineties. With the shorter February break, students will finish school on Friday, June 20, this year for a total of 183 school days. State school laws require 180.

With the anticipated retirement of Deerfield's principal, some Board members have expressed interest in combining the superintendent's and principal's positions. Dr. Kantes voiced her disagreement with the proposal. Board President Delaney expressed the desire to hear the public's opinion on this question. She scheduled the meeting for the newly-remodelled Board of Education board room on Route 22 at New Providence Rd.

In other business, the Board heard Sue Winans, borough recreation director, request permission to locate on Deerfield School property a piece of playground equipment for young children which could be ordered next September. Funds for the equipment, a large cube-like climbing apparatus, would come from a combination of local recreation budget and block grant application sources.

Personnel items approved include appointment of Oliver Deane as wrestling coach for grades 6-8 boys and girls at a salary of $518, the appointment of Susan Kleinman as library-media specialist, at an annual

UC Health Advisory Board Offers Elected

At the annual meeting of the Union County Environmental Health Advisory Board held on Jan. 2, Dr. John S. Dobi of Westfield was elected Chairman. Other officers installed for the coming year are Vice Chairman Dr. Richard R. Lorber, Scotch Plains and Secretary Mrs. Patricia Lafaro, Fanwood. Freeholder Alan M. Augustine of Scotch Plains has been designated as liaison between this Board and the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

The Board approved the following schedule of regular meetings for the year 1985: Feb. 6, Mar. 6, April 3, May 1, June 5, Aug. 7, Sept. 4, Oct. 2, Nov. 6 and Dec. 4. Meetings will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the County Administration Services Building, 300 North Ave. East in Westfield. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Date Set For "Positively NJ"

The third annual "Positively New Jersey," a salute to the state's celebrities and personalities for their positive images and a benefit for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation, will take place March 16, at the Hilton Hotel in Parsippany.

New Jerseyans in the world of art, business, entertainment, government and sports will receive The Golden Tomato Award to commemorate their accomplishments. The award is the black-tie affair's symbol of success because the tomato is said to be the state's most prized fruit. Last year Gov. Kean, opera star Jerome Hines, author and New Jersey historian John Cunningham and Rocco Marano, president of Bell Communications, Inc. were honored.

Dinner chairman for the event is Joseph A. Sullivan, president and chief executive officer of BOMT Industries, Totowa.

Schreiber Association to Donate Fitness Station

The Charles "Buddy" Schreiber Civic Association of Linden has announced its sponsorship of a exercise station in memory of its founder in the Fitness Trail currently under construction in Mountainside.

The Trail, a project of Children's Specialized Hospital in cooperation with the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Borough of Mountainside, is being built on property behind the hospital and Borough Hall. It will contain 18 exercise stations for able-bodied individuals and 10 for nonambulatory people. All 28 stations will be wheel-chair accessible.

According to Franklin Felder, president of the Linden civic group, the association was formed in 1980 by "Buddy" Schreiber to do charitable work. After his death, the group continued the work initially with contributions that came in his memory.

Much of the activity has been centered around Children's Specialized Hospital, explained Betty Ann Schallert of Linden, executive director and niece of the founder. Most recently they provided a clown and gifts for the children at Christmas time.

Other charities which have benefitted from the group's generosity include the Make A Wish Foundation; Brighter Horizons; Deborah Hospital; Meals-on-Wheels and a local holiday dinner for Linden's less fortunate citizens.

Westfield resident Richard G. Birchall appeared with CBS correspondent Mike Wallace on a segment of "60 Minutes" which aired Jan. 13.

Resident Appears On CBS' "60 Minutes"

Attorney and local resident Richard G. Birchall appeared on the CBS broadcast "60 Minutes", Jan. 13. The appearance was in connection with a "60 Minutes" investigation of what the financial press described as the Internal Revenue Service's largest tax shelter investigation to date. Filmed in Washington, D.C. and Denver, Colo. with CBS correspondent Mike Wallace, the broadcast focused on alleged governmental investigative abuses, a number of which were highlighted by Mr. Birchall.

As tax and litigation counsel to United Financial Operation Inc., of Denver and International Fuels Development Corp., a Netherlands based energy company, Mr. Birchall spearheaded a three-year effort to exonerate, among others, United Financial, its Chairman William A. Kilpatrick, and the first foreign bank ever indicted in the United States, The Bank of Nova Scotia, of tax and securities fraud charges. Mr. Birchall's efforts culminated last year in a two-part ruling by Federal Judge Kane of the District of Colorado that not only had the defendants acted lawfully in marketing several coal, oil and gas shelters but also that the Department of Justice and Internal Revenue Service had committed such widespread abuses during the grand jury investigative phase of the case that the entire indictment, some 27 counts, had to be dismissed.

According to Mr. Birchall, such a finding by an eminent federal jurist is extremely rare in general and virtually unprecedented in a tax and securities case with international implications.

In February, Mr. Birchall will be testifying in Washington, before the Senate Finance Committee's subcommittee on IRS Oversight which will hold hearings on the Kilpatrick case in the context of a review of alleged abuses of IRS tax investigative procedures. Additionally, Mr. Birchall will shortly be appearing on other broadcasts around the country, including a follow-up "60 Minutes" segment, in connection with his continuing lecturing and writing in the tax field where he specializes in tax advantaged investments and capital formation.

At present, Mr. Birchall continues as special counsel to United Financial and is also general counsel and a member of the Board of Directors of IMC Corp., a Chicago based investment advisory and equity management concern. Mr. Birchall's two children, Geoffrey and Allison, live in Westfield and attend the Washington School in the sixth and third grades respectively.

Children's Theater Program At Library

Friends of the Westfield Memorial Library will present a performance by the members of Children's Theater at 3 p.m. on Feb. 3 in the library.

Children's Theater is an outgrowth of Mask and Mime, the Westfield High School drama club. Mrs. Harriet Loudon, drama teacher, is moderator of the troupe. Gretchen Krehling and Kathy Cook are student co-directors.

The troupe will perform "A Ground Hog by Any Other Name", "Mrs. Clopsaddle Presents Spring", "Ask Mr. Bear" and selected poems.

The program is open to the public free of charge. Children ages four years to ten years are especially invited to attend.

Mrs. Walter J. Roos, representing the Westfield Garden Club, displays one of the wreaths which decorated the Library and municipal buildings over the holidays. Another club project is to place flower arrangements in the Westfield Memorial Library each week. For January, the following members will make arrangements: Mrs. John L. McHugh, Mrs. Robert E. Savage, Mrs. Raymond E. Paul and Mrs. Thomas B. Thorsen.

Assembly Republican Leader Chuck Hardwick of Westfield, uses a chart at a news conference last week in the State House to show Republican legislation that received support in Governor Tom Kean's State of the State message.

Hardwick Highlights GOP Initiatives

Assembly Republican Leader Chuck Hardwick of Westfield, has called for Democratic support on a number of Assembly Republican-sponsored initiatives supported by Governor Kean in his State of the State message.

"The Democratic leadership says it agrees with the major proposals made by the Governor, and now I am challenging them to move the legislation which would put these proposals into action," Hardwick said in a press conference in the State House last week.

He pointed to several Republican-sponsored bills, which the Governor supports, including:

- The environmental trust bank to help build resource recovery plants, sewer treatment plants, and clean up hazardous waste;
- Returning a total of $90 million of the state's budget surplus to homeowners and tenants in the form of an additional homestead rebate and tenant credit;
- Reforming civil service for a less costly and more efficient government;
- Placing a moratorium on the building of housing mandated by the Mount Laurel II court ruling so a solution that benefits all can be found;
- Closing loopholes for criminals with the so-called "exclusionary rule that would keep criminals from being set free because of minor technical errors in arrest procedures;" and,
- Establishing "Initiative and Referendum," which would permit voters to initiate meaningful reforms through ballot questions.

"What's at stake here is the quality of life in New Jersey, no less," said Hardwick. "What's more, with the exception of the environmental trust bank, none of these bills require any additional taxes," he said.

"These are not special interest bills, but significant reforms that the public is entitled to, and I hope the Democrats find the courage to support them," Hardwick said.

Hardwick said that he wants the voters to "be aware of what's at stake," and unless the Democrats (who hold a majority in the Assembly) support the bills, the governor's proposals to "restore a sense of pride" in New Jersey will be stifled.

Alcohol/Drug Workshops to Commence

Workshops to help elementary school staff members develop skills necessary for the understanding of alcohol and drug-related issues are scheduled today and tomorrow and next Thursday and Friday.

Conducted by Gladys Kearns, executive director of the Union County Council on Alcoholism, Inc., the workshops will help teams of staff members become aware of and deal with problems children live with in today's society.

Twenty-eight elementary school staff members are scheduled to participate in the workshops. Today and tomorrow (Jan. 24 and 25), Jefferson, McKinley and Tamaques School staff members will attend the two-day workshops. The Jan. 17 and 18 workshops were cancelled when school was called off on Jan. 17 due to unsafe road conditions during the snowstorm on Jan. 17 so that workshop series for Franklin, Washington and Wilson School staff members has been rescheduled for Thursday and Friday, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

The workshops are being held in the Board Meeting Room at 302 Elm St. from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

After the workshops, the 28 trained team members in each school will work with other staff members to share with them what was learned at the workshop series.

CPR Course Offered

Overlook Hospital in Summit will offer a three-and-one-half hour cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) course on Thursday, Jan. 30, from 7 to 10:30 p.m., in the hospital auditorium. The course is open to the public, and anyone over the age of 14 is encouraged to attend this class to learn the life-saving technique.

The course includes individual practice on electronic manikins and will highlight the risk factors leading to heart disease; early warning signs of heart disease; early warning signs of heart attack; common causes of sudden death related to heart disease; anatomy and physiology of the heart and lungs; one person CPR; and foreign body airway obstruction techniques, using American Heart Association standards. Those individuals who attend the course will receive a review booklet and a course completion card.

The class is limited to the first 25 registrants. There is a registration fee to cover operation costs.

To register or for further information, interested persons may contact the hospital's Public Relations Department.

WHS Band/Orchestra

Concert Rescheduled

The Senior High School PTO Board has announced that the date of the Band and Orchestra concert has been changed to Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. in order not to conflict with mid-term examinations.

Dr. Lawrence Greene spoke to the parents at the Jan. 9 meeting on how the school budget applies specifically to the high school. He said the biggest problem is the restrictive caps imposed on the school system by the state, which makes it difficult to achieve desired goals. He suggested writing state legislature to apprise, if not put pressure on them to have the caps lifted.

The College and Career Center at the high school will have a professional computer expert give a training program for those interested in volunteering in the center on Jan. 24 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m.

They Will Be Missed

The 1985 Town Council is sure to miss the expertise of at least two of the three councilmen who retired Dec. 31, but it is typical of their attitudes toward community service that both "retirees" will continue to share their knowledge and experience with their town.

We speak of former Councilmen John Brady of the first ward and Ray Stone of the third ward, two of the most devoted and most sensitive public officials Westfield residents have had the wisdom to elect — and return — as their representatives.

Neither John Brady nor Ray Stone jumped into council positions several years ago without solid records in community affairs, Brady's centered on sports and recreational activities, Stone's primarily in the upgrading of neighborhoods and the Community Development Revenue Sharing program.

Brady has accepted a seat on the Planning Board, where Stone will be an alternate, and Stone will continue his work with the NIA which has consistently turned HUD funds awarded Westfield into playgrounds, drainage improvements, improved housing, upgraded neighborhoods, street repairs, housing code enforcement, etc. Stone's efforts are directly responsible for saving the town thousands of dollars for these projects.

Both Brady and Stone were outstanding councilmen. Perhaps Brady's final "success story" on council is his guidance — over a year's period — of the new historic zone ordinance whose impact we will be watching this year. Brady, however, never did less than a thorough job on any proposal to come before the council. Whether its tiered parking lots or whatever. And we'll miss Brady's annual negative vote on the municipal budget — his perennial objection that not enough capital funding is ever allotted for curbing!

Stone has been a most interesting and independent councilman, often a "devil's advocate" on issues and often offering well-thought-out opinions on various concerns. He has performed as acting mayor on several occasions, in a most commendable fashion. And we recall his excellent handling of a most difficult meeting discussing the controversial use of Sevin during a gypsy moth crisis here. While we hope Ray Stone has more time for his golf game, we are delighted that this "professional" will continue his volunteer work on the municipal level as well.

Together, Councilmen Brady and Stone amassed more years in council seats than the entire eight current representatives from our four wards put together.

John Brady, Ray Stone — we'll miss you!

Report from Washington

By Congressman

Matt Rinaldo

7th District, New Jersey

Promises of substantial savings on luxury European autos are luring an increasing number of American consumers into buying gray market cars that do not meet U.S. pollution and safety standards and deprive the government of millions of dollars in tax revenue.

Unfortunately for tens of thousands of consumers, these attractive deals quickly turn sour when the discover that they did not get what they expected and many buyers are stuck with a financial headache of migraine proportions.

Gray marketing refers to the importation and modification of vehicles that do not comply with government auto regulations designed to protect the environment and motorist public. Among the more popular gray market cars are the high-priced ones, which are purchased abroad by both American tourists as well as agents other than franchised dealers. The practice is completely legal as long as the cars are made to comply with U.S. standards.

While only a smattering of gray market cars were entering the country a couple of decades ago, the National Automobile Dealers Association reports that this trickle of non-conforming imports has become "a virtual tidal wave." The number of gray market imports jumped from about 2,500 in 1980 to more than 35,000 last year. The figure is expected to exceed 75,000 by 1988 in the absence of stiffer import restrictions.

The gray marketers are able to offer discounts ranging from 15 to 40 percent under the prices charged by authorized dealers because many of them are small-time operators who buy cars more cheaply abroad, keep no inventory, have no showroom, servicing or parts, and offer no manufacturer's warranty or recall notices. While customers may get a break on the price of these cars, they do not benefit from the manufacturer's warranty protection or recall notices, get less on a trade-in, and frequently end up with shoddy workmanship when the vehicle is modified to meet our standards.

Dealers insist that retrofitted cars are never as good mechanically as factory export models. They claim that among the difficulties or hazards are different compression ratios, which eventually lead to knocking and pinging; weak side door reinforcements; and catalytic converters installed too close to the fuel lines, risking fire. Surveys of dealers who have serviced these vehicles frequently find that the required modifications were not made, and there is no effective system in place to inspect the vehicles to determine whether the work was completed in a satisfactory manner. Because the government cannot keep track of these cars, the gray market practice facilitates evasion of the law. It is estimated that fewer than 5 percent of the cars are in full compliance with the safety and emissions standards.

It is unfair to manufacturers, their dealers, vehicle owners, and to legitimate importers to allow poorly converted gray market vehicles to continue to flow into the country. Not only is the practice contributing to increased pollution of the environment and permitting consumers to be victimized, it also is costing the government a serious loss of tax revenue. The IRS estimates a loss of $30 million per year in gas guzzler tax revenue alone. Millions more are lost in customs and state tax revenue as a result of understating the sales prices of these vehicles.

Because there is really no public benefit in permitting these

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

WPD RECEIVES PRAISE

Editor, Leader;

Rev. Wampler wrote a letter to "The Leader" (Jan. 3, 1985) commending Chief Moran and the Westfield Police Department for the thoughtful and caring procedures which they utilize when it is necessary to inform a family of the accidental death of one of its members.

I would like to add my words of gratitude to the Department. Unfortunately, I have been contacted by Westfield Police on a number of occasions with regard to accidental death, and in every instance, the conduct of the officers has been extremely helpful to all concerned. I concur completely with Rev. Wampler's praise for the WPD.

Rabbi Charles A. Krolloff
Temple Emanu-El of Westfield

Editor, Leader;

We would like to express our thanks and appreciation for the work done by some members of the Westfield Police Department and especially Detectives Murphy, Fuentes, Tracy and Tyrrell for their efforts in investigating and recovering property stolen from our home in a break-in last September.

Police investigating the break-in were thorough, efficient and courteous. Det. Fuentes kept us informed of developments. Det. Tracy was very helpful when we were to locate and identify stolen items at a jewelry store in Elizabeth and Det. Tyrrell couldn't have been more helpful when I had to go to the court house to complete the paperwork at the conclusion of the investigation during which our property was returned to us.

All in all, it was a thoroughly professional job and we are grateful for the efforts of those policemen who were involved in our case.

AGAINST MX

Editor, Leader;

Amateur sleuths can sometimes determine a government's real intentions, which may differ from official publicity. This can be done by putting together relevant facts from various sources and drawing logical and even inevitable conclusions.

For example, we are offered official reports of the Geneva discussions between the superpowers' foreign ministers. They were held ostensibly to lay the groundwork for meaningful arms control negotiations. Since such negotiations are essential to world survival, it's vital that we know the real aim of our government.

Here is one set of facts:

(1) President Reagan and Andrei Gromyko met during the election campaign.

(2) High level talks were announced for January 7-8, 1985.

(3) Said talks took place, apparently constructive.

(4) The President held a news conference, expressing gratification.

So far so good. But, we now encounter fact number (5). Secretary of State Shultz appeals to Congress not to undermine new arms control negotiations by scrapping the MX missile. Says he, the MX system "simply must go ahead from the standpoint of the security of the country."

The MX happens to be a first-strike weapon with deployment in vulnerable silos. It is difficult to imagine a development more dangerous to U.S. security; Congress has been increasingly wary of it. Four separate Congressional votes are required this spring to keep it alive — if just one of these votes is negative, that's the end of MX.

Could it be that the Reagan administration is suddenly keen for negotiations in order to rescue MX? Could that be a logical and even inevitable conclusion?

Editor, Leader;

It was with a high degree of shock that I read of the existence of an organization in Westfield High School called "The Young Leftists Club."

As a citizen who served during the Korean conflict to fight leftism, and as one who has travelled behind the Iron Curtain, been arrested and tortured there, I

Money Management

There's both good news and bad news for Social Security recipients about to file 1984 income tax returns. The bad news is that, for the first time, your benefits may be taxed. The good news is that only one out of every 10 Social Security recipients is expected to have taxable benefits.

You'll have to sift through a new set of IRS formulae to find out if your benefits are taxable. According to the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (CPAs), it helps if you grasp some of the tax law fundamentals.

According to the new rules, benefit recipients above a certain income will pay some tax on benefits received. Those who relied on Social Security as their sole income will probably be exempt. In fact, people 65 or older with low incomes may not even have to file a 1984 tax return. If you are in that age group and single, you need not file if your gross income is below $4,300. A couple 65 or older need not file a return if their gross income is less than $7,400.

If your income exceeds these levels, some preliminary calculations will demonstrate if your Social Security benefits are to be taxed.

Because the rules on taxing Social Security benefits are new, the IRS is taking special care to explain them. For instance, the IRS will send you Form SSA-1069 to show you how much in benefits you received in 1984. Along with the form, you should get a worksheet to calculate your personal Social Security formula. But before going through that, CPAs suggest some easy-to-follow alternative measures to determine if your benefits will be taxed.

On a piece of scrap paper, write down your adjusted gross income. Add to it one half of your 1984 Social Security benefits plus any income you received from tax-exempt securities, such as municipal bonds. If the total is more than $25,000 for a single, or $32,000 for joint filers, part of your benefits will be taxed.

The amount of your benefits that will be taxed is either (1) half the amount over the $25,000 or $32,000 floor, whichever applies to you, or (2) half of your 1984 Social Security benefits. Choose the lesser of the two and add it to your adjusted gross income.

Here's an illustration of how this new tax can affect senior citizens. Let's say a couple has an adjusted gross income of $28,000. They also receive $8,000 in Social Security benefits and earn $3,000 in interest income from municipal bonds. They must add to their $28,000 adjusted gross income half of their benefits ($4,000) plus the $3,000 in interest income from the tax-exempt securities. Since the total of $35,000 is greater than the $32,000 floor that applies to joint filers, they must pay tax on either half their benefits or half the amount over the floor. In this case, since $1,500 is less than half their $8,000 in benefits ($4,000), they will add the $1,500 to their taxable income.

If you still have questions concerning the new rules on taxation of Social Security benefits, CPAs note that the new Form 1040 instructions include an entire section dealing with it. In addition, the IRS is about to release a publication (with greater detail) for senior citizens. Ask your local IRS office for Publication No. 915.

If you need assistance with your 1984 income tax return, the American Association of Retired Persons sponsors a free nationwide outreach program called Tax Aide, carried on by 20,000 volunteers at 9,000 sites. Last year, more than 1.3 million senior citizens were helped. If necessary, Tax Aide volunteers can come to your home. For information on the nearest Tax Aide center, call your local IRS office. The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants may also be of help.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

wonder what the "Young Leftists" are being conned into. They talk of "peace," but we all know that leftist "peace" is akin to the "peace" that exists in Eastern Europe and most of Asia. It is the same sort of "peace" that was enjoyed by American slaves in ante-bellum days. Intelligent people want no part of such a "peace" and will defend themselves against it by whatever means is most effective.

It is appalling that our taxes go to support facilities for "The Young Leftists" and hopefully there will be significant outrage from patriotic Westfielders.

non-conforming cars to be brought into the country, I am introducing legislation which would require that every vehicle entering the country must comply with our emissions and safety standards at the time of entry. Exceptions to our safety and emissions standards are no longer needed and the law is being abused. By doing away with the exemptions, the government can focus on enforcing the law.

NJSCPA Speakers Bureau Offers Assistance

Now that 1984 has come to a close, it's time to focus your attention on the preparation of your federal income tax return. In order for you to make the most of your return, it is important that you are aware of the many changes brought about by the 1984 Deficit Reduction Act which may affect the credits and deductions you are able to take.

As a public service, the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants' Speakers Bureau is offering tax information to professional, business, educational, community and civic organizations. The Society will arrange, at no charge, for an experienced CPA to attend an organization's meeting to present "Your 1984 Federal Income Tax Return," a program which includes tax tips, changes in tax laws, and other tax information geared toward your audience's interests.

In addition to the tax return program, the speakers bureau will address organizations throughout the year on topics ranging from personal financial advice or evaluating business opportunities to more technical financial, accounting and tax topics.

For information on how to schedule a speaker, write to the society at 65 Livingston Ave., Roseland, N.J. 07068.

Convalescent Center Residents Honored

Twenty-seven residents of the Westfield Convalescent Center were honored on Jan. 14 by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of Union County.

Mr. James O'Connor and Mrs. Jo Ann Croteau spoke to a gathering of residents at the center and awarded certificates of service to some and inducted others into the program.

Mr. O'Connor, a retired Westfielder who works in the RSVP, gave a slide presentation of the ways retired citizens can serve the community through the program, which is sponsored in Union County by the Catholic Community Services and supported by a grant from ACTION, a federal program.

As he watched the center's residents literally fill the recreation room with their wheelchairs before the presentation, Mr. O'Connor asked, "Where are the volunteers going to sit?"

"These are the volunteers," replied Shirley Sporman, the center's recreation director.

Like Mr. O'Connor, many are unaware of what residents of nursing homes can do to help others. Residents of the center volunteer their time to collate materials, paste labels on charitable mailings, stuff envelopes, bake, and make crafts for the handicapped.

"It makes them feel good," said Mrs. Croteau. "They are helping others, while they themselves are needing help."

Westfield Symphony Orchestra Chamber Players Reviewed

Paul M. Somers

A chamber group of members of the Westfield Symphony gave a concert of dance music on Friday evening. Though it was, as one might expect, quite well-played, there were some problems which left this reviewer a bit puzzled. But first the good news.

The good news is that the highlight of the evening, in spite of the pre-concert publicity, was really the original chamber version of Aaron Copland's "Appalachian Spring". We are all used to the orchestral version with brass section and percussion battery. But this rarely done small version, using only strings, woodwinds, and piano gives us a much more pastoral, truly rural Appalachian feel. If only the flutist had not pushed so much! Fink sounded as if she would like to overpower a full orchestra. The 12 others were really a unit. One discovery was that in this smaller version the score seems much more dissonant. The blending effects of larger orchestral forces cannot occur; suddenly the conflicts between instruments stand out in heightened relief, leaving a much more rugged score with less glitter and more substance. This "rediscovery" prompts a programming suggestion for next season. May we be treated to the original 13th player "Siegfried Idyll"? The larger version is sure a yawner, but the original sparkles the way Wagner wanted it.

The good news about Bach's Brandenburg Concerto #3 was the clear playing. This was abetted by the seating arrangement in which the three choirs of strings were in a square with conductor Brad Keimach as the fourth side. This lent a real sense of aural order to the work, an order too often turned to mush by less defined seating. This clarity engendered a vivacity which justified the work's appearance on a program otherwise presenting overt dance music, a fact Balanchine realized. The bad news was that Bach very clearly wished an improvised solo by either the principal violin, or more likely by the harpsichordist (no doubt Bach himself) as a second movement. We know this from his autograph copy of the score in which he indicates a second movement and writes in the two final chords of this improvisation. Even in the rather unscholarly performances of my youth lip service was given these chords by the unadorned playing of them. In this instance they were completely ignored. Perhaps this was meant to be a daring choice, but it was wrong. The more imaginative and correct choices would have been minimally a cadenza for one of the above named instruments, or, even more appropriate, a more extensive improvised slow movement by the harpsichordist.

"A Soldier's Tale" by Stravinsky was a truly marvelous performance. "A Soldier's Tale" by C.F. Ramuz was most dramatically read by Emily Nash, and acted by Paul Zimet (Joseph) and George Bartenieff (Devil). But "A Soldier's Tale" by either choreographer Rachel Lampert, or stage director Keimach, or both was baffling. The use of masks to interpolate a show of Joseph's early life worked well, and the connection with the distorted masks later was clear enough. But on one hand to state in the text that Joseph will cure the princess and to have the music show us the cure working, while on the other hand stage a dance in which the princess seductively dances at Joseph while he does nothing, reverses their roles and makes no sense. At least the idea of having the pair dance a pseudo 1920s tango (certainly suggested in the score) was a good touch, making the story not timeless, but more or less contemporary. Perhaps it is because Lampert is a more skilled dancer than Zimet that the whole relationship between the two seemed to show her as stronger. Here the real flaw in the performance showed itself. Ideally this work is to be read by a Narrator, a Joseph speaker and a Devil speaker, while being mimed/danced by separate Joseph, Devil and Princess dancers. In this way there will be no inequality of abilities. Lastly, to have the Devil die at the end of his final dance goes counter to all Faustian mythology. Old Nick may win or lose, but he never dies; he is always waiting for you next.

The playing of this truly "devilish" score was excellent. Though nominally a work for seven players, there is an eighth and most important player — the conductor. Even with Keimach's usual crystal clear conducting, the players confessed to being close to the edge some of the time. Well, when you do "L'Histoire", as it is known to musicians, being close to the edge is the only possibility.

In spite of my problems with various aspects of the program, I do wish to say that it was good to have a concert with such music return once more to Westfield. Many will by now have forgotten that "L'Histoire" was performed in its fully staged version ten years ago in Westfield by the faculty of the Performing Arts School of N.J. Inasmuch as the Stravinsky of the WSO program was performed again for school children at WHS on Saturday afternoon, this surely puts Westfield on the map as the place in New Jersey with the most full performances ever of "L'Histoire"! An unexpected attribute, I'm sure.

Campaign Countdown Continues

"$4000 is needed to reach our goal of $480,000," noted United Fund trustees. "We are counting on the support of all Westfielders. Perhaps you have misplaced your pledge card, or pledged by phone or, as occasionally happens, you were never contacted. Whatever the reason, we really need your help!"

"Our 17 member agencies work for all of us, and they depend on receiving the total allocation promised by the United Fund."

"Many Westfielders have agreed to give, but have not yet returned their pledge cards. Because contributions cannot be counted until a signed card is received, return your card or contribution today to 301 North Ave., W."

Passport Information Available

Union County Clerk Walter C. Halpin is advising any United States citizen planning an overseas trip which requires a valid United States Passport to act immediately to execute the necessary paperwork through his office in order to obtain one without delay.

Halpin said the Federal Passport Office anticipates their biggest year ever because of the healthy economy and the buying power of the American dollar overseas. He also indicated that with only 13 Passport Agencies located throughout the country they will be log-jammed from February through July. This situation will cause applicants grief if they waited too long in applying after their trip was planned and deposits made. As a result they anxiously await their passport arriving on time.

Halpin suggests that any adult who even thinks they may take a trip abroad should apply immediately for their passport, which is now good for ten years, so that when they sit down with their travel agent to plan their itinerary or schedule a flight, they will have their passport in their possession.

Anyone wishing to know the requirements in obtaining a passport can call on a twenty-four hour hot-line in the Elizabeth office by dialing 527-4968 or the Westfield Passport office, 233-9399.

Welcome Wagon Visits Convalescent Center

Laden with bingo prizes and home-baked snacks, the Welcome Wagon of Westfield gave a bingo party for the residents of the Westfield Convalescent Center on Jan. 8.

Mrs. Janet Sweeney, the chairman of this Welcome Wagon activity, called the bingo numbers. Rita Vosper, Pat McKnight, Pat Eckstein, and Susan Baker circulated among the six tables of residents to help those who needed it keep up with the game.

The Welcome Wagon women drew an appreciative crowd, who more than once called out simultaneous bingos. After Mrs. Sweeney validated the winners' cards, her daughter, Laura, distributed markers that residents could exchange for lotions, scarves, perfume, jewelry and other prizes.

Mrs. Marie Bopf, one of the winners, praised the volunteers. "I always come for the bingo," she said, "we all do. And I'm certainly glad I came today."

A resident since the Westfield

Convalescent Center opened, Mrs. Bopf, turned generous at prize time. Instead of picking a reward, she offered Laura a chance to choose one for herself. "It's better," said Mrs. Bopf, "for a little girl to have it."

After the games, winners and losers enjoyed cocoa, coffee, tea and baked goods the women of Welcome Wagon served.

After refreshments, Mrs. Bopf watched a fellow resident exit in a wheelchair. "One thing for sure," she joked, "you don't need gas to come to bingo in those things. And what's nice here is that there's always something to come to."

Shirley Sporman, recreation director at the Center, praised the work of the women of the Welcome Wagon. "They've been doing this for years," she remarked. "They bake things and come over, and the residents love it. It's one recreational activity that we don't have to encourage people to attend. They get here on their own."

Top prize winners in the Washington School poster contest to promote the Washington School Show "That Rascal Robin" are (from left) Matthew Jessup, Mark Kearney, J.P. Maloney, and Annie Feinsod. With them are the producers of the show Julie Hermiston and Camille Hayden.

Washington School recently sponsored a poster contest for 3-6 graders to promote the Washington School Show, "That Rascal Robin." The entries were judged according to grade, and on artistic and graphic design.

Top prize for graphic design was awarded to sixth grader J.P. Maloney, whose work will be reproduced and used as the main poster to promote the show. Tied for second place were Brian Wischusen and Joel Kamins, with Benjamin Klein as the third place winner.

Fifth grader Annie Feinsod, and fourth graders Matthew Jessup and Mark Kearney were first place winners for art design. Second prize was awarded to Christopher Garofalo, with the third place winners being Kelly Maloney, Patricia Friere and Nur Sezur.

The winning posters will be displayed throughout town.

"That Rascal Robin" will be presented at Roosevelt Junior High School on Feb. 1 and 2 at 8 p.m., with a matinee performance scheduled on Feb. 2 at 2 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from Maria Smith or Cathy Schwarzenbek of Harding St.

School Board

Candidates Deadline

Westfield citizens interested in running for three seats on the Westfield Board of Education in the April 2 School Election have until Thursday, Feb. 21, to file a nominating petition.

Citizens interested in running for a three-year term of office may obtain a nominating petition from Dr. William Foley, Secretary to the Board of Education, at 302 Elm Street any week day between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Nominating petitions must be signed by ten qualified voters and residents of the school district and filed by 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 21, with Dr. Foley. Also, the candidate must sign the petition in the presence of a witness.

The policy-making body for Westfield's nine public schools is the nine-member Board of Education. Westfield citizens elect School Board members to three-year terms, which are staggered so that each year three of the nine terms expire.

This year, the terms of Carl Bailey, James England and George Weimer expire. To date, none of these three incumbents has announced whether or not reelection will be sought in April.

Some of the duties of the School Board are policy making, appointing school personnel, approving textbooks and supplemental instruction materials, setting salary schedules, approving curriculum, approving a school budget for presentation to the public at the polls, planning and approving the school building program and setting a school calendar.

School Board candidates must be able to read and write, they must be residents of the school district for at least two years and they should have no interest in any claim against the School Board.

This year the proceeds from the sale of Columbus School have been applied to revenue, helping to decrease the tax call.

The budget will go to the public for approval at the polls April 2. Copies of summaries, showing expenditures on one side and revenue on the other, are available to the public at the administration building, 302 Elm St.

Persons with questions about the school budget are urged to contact Dr. William J. Foley, assistant superintendent for business and board secretary, at the administration building.

CONVERGENCE INSUFFICIENCY IN SENIORS

Many elderly, motivated patients can be helped to improve convergence abilities and eye coordination that has deteriorated with age.

What is convergence? It's the ability of the two eyes to fixate on the same object at a reasonable reading distance. When this visual task must be accomplished by straining the eye muscles, headaches and discomfort occur and the individual of any age is discouraged from reading or other pastimes which require seeing close objects.

The problem of convergence insufficiency reappears in substantial numbers of persons between the age of 50 to 60 or older. For many of these older people, convergence ability can be improved with glasses that include prism, and with visual training. Motivation plays a strong role in correcting convergence insufficiencies in both children and adults.

An Important Message To Homeowners Who Have Switched To Gas Heat

For your protection and comfort, all boiler and furnace installations MUST be checked for safety and approved by Elizabethtown Gas Company.

Here are two important reasons why your new heating system must be checked by Elizabethtown.

1. We want to make sure the boiler or furnace was hooked-up correctly. An improper installation could result in gas leaks or other hazardous conditions.
2. Your gas meter may be too small to handle the new equipment, and you may not be able to get the heat you need in cold weather.

If we have already checked your new installation, there is no need to call.

Elizabethtown Gas will make an inspection of your new heating system and/or change your meter if necessary free-of-charge. Just call our Heatline—289-5000, ext. 354.

Competition Heats Up in Jr. High League

While there was snow on the outside, the high school gym was a scene of some hot basketball in the junior high league. Coach Charlie Karustus guided his team to victory while Coach John Esposito used all his skill to keep his team in the game, before being overcome by a stronger Celtic team. These games were overshadowed, however, by the super game waged by coaches Ben Pavone and Brian Gillen against the super duo of coaches Jay Juelis and Andy Kendeigh, with the latter getting the victory in the closing seconds.

Syracuse 35
Seton Hall 34

Syracuse's Phil Gallagher scored 14 points to outduel Seton Hall's Robby Roth, who scored 19 points. Mike Cohen went to the foul line with seconds remaining and couldn't convert to overcome Mike Smith's basket that proved to be the winning margin. Eric Markey scored five points and Doug Kris four. The victors also saw Mike Loffredo and John Walsh rip the cords for points. Craig Curtiz scored five points and Jerry Infantino four for Seton Hall. Ed Connery and Greg Taranto played well for Seton Hall.

St. John's 44
Georgetown 37

St. John's gained its first victory at the expense of undefeated Georgetown. Tom Cassidy was the college player of the week as he scored 20 points. Teammate Bryan Beller had 10 points, while Lonnie Friedman chipped in for seven. Colin Conway, and Mike Shomaker also scored.

Georgetown got a great game from Richard Poller with 14 points and Dave Briemer had eight. Brian Slomovitz gunned in seven, while Tom Marshall and Chris Hinman shared eight between them.

Connecticut 44
Providence 18

John Pallarino poured in 22 points to lead undefeated Conn. Scott Adams scored eight points and Enis Jenkins nine. P.J. Fischer and Roy Jansen helped the victory.

Jeff Sherman had a super game with 13 points. His team got great support from Jason Hagman, Dave Lukasewicz and Ken Kaftree.

Knicks 45
Rockets 31

This was the Kevin Lombardi show. He hustled to score 20 points and led the Knicks to victory. Pat Houlihan had 10, while Pete Kazanoff canned seven. Kevin Stock guided the offense and assisted in the points scored by Dennis Joy and Chris McEvily.

The loss overshadowed the fine performance of John McCall. He had 14 points and played super defense. Dave Brown was strong off the boards and had eight points. John Macko and Dan Ginsburg shared seven points, while Greg Johnson had basket. The Rockets were helped in the backcourt by Jason and Colin McLane.

Celtics 35
Cavaliers 27

Coach Jim Jackson kept his team undefeated, but not without a scare from the Cavaliers, who pressured Jim Mozoki. Dave Monninger and Andy Guterman kept their team in the first half with great shooting and combined for 18 points. John Esposito played great off the boards while Ross Rosen guided the offense and scored four points. The Cavaliers also got points from Kevin Smith and Ken Riley.

The Celtics got their usual great game from Rob Shovlin. Mark Tabs scored seven points and Mark Pizzi added five. Pat Quill had two buckets and Dave Brzezinski was aggressive on the boards. Jim Jackson and Mike Gagliardi controlled the back court.

Boston College 21
Villanova 18

Coach Dan Schoenberg kept his team undefeated in this defensive struggle. Danny Donayre got hot in the second half and scored eight points to secure the victory. Mike Pushko had five, Adam Schoenberg hit for four and Mike Conheaney and Blake Sturke each had a basket.

Villanova had the lead at half time, but couldn't carry the momentum into the second half. Kevin Copen hit for eight points and Mark Gruba added seven. Joe Bilman and Bruce Lowe played well and Scott Hevert scored three baskets.

Sean Murphy at Delaware

Murphy Named 2nd Team All-American

Junior flanker Sean Murphy of the Towson State University football team, a graduate of Westfield High School, has been named as a second team selection on the Associated Press Small College All-America team.

Murphy tied a TSU single-season record with 61 pass receptions this past season. He finished seventh nationally in Division II with an average of 5.5 catches per game and his 1,128 yards receiving led Division II receivers.

A 5-10, 190-pounder, Murphy helped the Tigers to a 9-4-0 record and their second straight Lambert/Meadowlands Award as the top Division II team in the East. Towson State was also picked as the ECAC Division II "Team of the Year" as Murphy was one of six Tigers honored as ECAC all-star selections.

The Tigers were 8-3-0 in the regular season and earned their second straight berth in the NCAA Division II playoffs. Murphy's three catches for 52 yards and a touchdown in the quarterfinals helped Towson beat Norfolk State by 31-21 and advance to the national semifinals. However, the Tigers dropped a 45-3 decision to home-standing Troy State of Alabama in the semis as Troy went on to beat defending national champion North Dakota State in the Palm Bowl.

"We had another fine year and Sean Murphy is one of the players who contributed quite a bit," said Towson Coach Phil Albert, who was named as the Kodak Region 2 Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season. "He's a tough player for his size and he used his speed quite well. At the start of the season, he was one of the few experienced players we had back on offense, so he was getting a lot of attention. He responded well to the pressure and made some big plays for us."

Murphy has a great chance to finish his career as the Tigers' all-time leading pass receiver. He will enter his senior year with 105 pass receptions for a school record 1,792 yards (17.1 average). He has also caught a school record tying 14 TD passes. He will need only 23 catches as a senior to become TSU's all-time leader.

In addition to his pass catching prowess, Murphy has scored three touchdowns in his career on flanker reverse plays. He had a 67-yard TD run on a flanker reverse at Norfolk State called back by a clipping penalty.

Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of Westfield and is majoring in mass communications.

Perfect Conditions for 30th Klondike Derby

The 30th Annual Klondike Derby was run Saturday at Lake Surprise in near perfect conditions. Beautiful snowy powder greeted the contestants at the starting cannon which signaled the start of six patrols in a wave around the five mile course. There were 66 patrols of about eight scouts each entered in the contest.

At the start, each patrol pushing and pulling a homemade Alaskan type sledge, dashed to "Frost Corner," a distance of about 100 yards. Here they were presented with a map of their course which would take them to six Alaskan towns where they were greeted by a "Mayor" and given a problem to solve.

These problems were in scouting skills, such as first aid, compass, measuring and fire building, as well as lashing and cooking lunch on the trail. They were awarded nuggets based on their proficiency in solving their problems, and the team gaining the most nuggets and making the fastest time was declared the winner.

Governor Don Forbes of Troop 235 in North Plainfield announced the following winners: In the senior scout division, first place was won by the Mustang Patrol of Troop 77, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield. The Mustang's scoutmaster is Fred Egner, Westfield. Members of the winning team, all from Westfield are: Patrol leader Chris Kopf, George Roscoe, Scott Zoufaly, Dean Clayman, Jeff Smith and Bill Ward. The Mustangs amassed 368 points, almost a Klondike high.

In second place was Troop 235, North Plainfield, West End School, under scoutmaster Les Martin, also Lieut. Governor of the event. The Troop 235 Bears had 364 points. Third place was won by Troop 273, Westfield, Jefferson School, while fourth place went to Troop 111, McGinn School, Scotch Plains. The Ravens of Troop 172, Franklin School Westfield, garnered fifth place.

In the regular scout division, Troop 73 of Holy Trinity Church, Westfield, under Scoutmaster Charlie Munch won the coveted miniature golden sledge for taking first place. They had 314 points, outdistancing the field.

Members of the Congo Bongo Patrol, all from Westfield, are Patrol Leader Tom Pryor, Greg Devitt, Craig Munch, Kevin O'Connell, John Callahan, Jimmy Luerssen, David Spina, Brian Egan, St. John Frizell and Jeremy Grisham. Taking second place was Troop 77, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield, with the Bat Patrol 264 points. Third place went to Troop 273, Jefferson School, Westfield, with the Rescue Squad Patrol. Next patrols to place were the Eagles of Troop 107, Road Runners, Troop 235, North Plainfield, Troop 172 Franklin School, Westfield, with the Screaming Jelly Beans Patrol.

In competition for best sled design, the Rescue Squad Patrol from Troop 273, Westfield, was the winner, followed by the Gofers, Troop 72, Westfield, Presbyterian Church, and Troop 199 Cobra's.

The Klondike Derby is sponsored by the Colonial District of the Watchung Area Council, B.S.A. Colonial district comprises the towns of Westfield, Garwood, Fanwood, Scotch Plains, North Plainfield, and Watchung.

The Bulls continued their undefeated season with a convincing win over the Celtics as all six players scored in a beautifully balanced team effort. The physical Lakers dominated a hustling Sixers squad which left its shooting eyes at home. The Knicks trailed through out their contest with the Nets until a strong 4th quarter effort brought victory to the Knicks. Individual game results were as follows:

Bulls 38
Celtics 22

The Bulls won their fifth straight without a loss to remain undefeated. The team was forced to exert an extra effort due to the absence of Jason Kunicky and Mike Kelly due to injuries. All remaining players scored for the Bulls. Rogan O'Donnell and Jon Meyer led the Bulls with eight points each. Roland Boyd scored seven from the guard position. Jason Meyer and Jon Fahey scored six each and led a tenacious defense. Ken Voorhees was outstanding on defense while chipping in with three points.

Jay Koslowsky led the scoring for the Celtics with 10 while Eric Kleser and Steve Burkowski added 4 each. Charlie Foley played aggressively on defense and helped on offense with his ball handling.

Lakers 30
Sixers 9

Exhibiting a tough zone defense the Lakers beat the Sixers. Special mention in the Sixers losing cause were the efforts of Tim Donovan and Mark Bartlett. Overall it was a well played game in which the Lakers defense became the winning fac-

Knicks 23
Nets 17

The Knicks came from behind in the last quarter on the clutch shooting of Erik Holton to defeat a strong Nets team. Pacing the Knicks were David Shapiro's 9 points followed by Erik Holton's 7. Brian Mueller had 6 and Taber Loree scored 1 point. The Knicks were led on defense by Willy Folger, Tom Jividen and Jeremy Burgess.

A valiant effort by five Net players fell short in the closing minutes as three of the five team members were forced to play with 4 fouls a piece. Ryan Gardner with 8 points and Ryan Manville with 6 deserve special mention for the play at both ends of the courts. Ben Beyerlein with 2 points and Wes Smittle with 1 helped the Nets cause. Lance Partelow played aggressively through out but was hampered with 4th quarter foul trouble.

Westfield Cagerettes Maintain .500 Record

by Rebecca Rozanski

The WHS varsity girls' basketball team closed the week with a record of 7-7. The Cagerettes defeated Cranford, 45-34, but lost to Union, 68-36, and to Union Catholic, 50-32.

Against Cranford, Nancy Kasko led the team with 18 points. Junior Tracey Arther followed, sinking 13, while freshman Krissy Jeremiah put in eight points.

The team came from behind, 11-10, in the first quarter to lead, 25-20, at the half. Senior Linda Mike tied the score at 20-20 in the second quarter. Kasko then put one in. Strong shooting by Kasko, Arthur and Jeremiah enabled Westfield to strengthen its lead. During the third quarter, Kasko stole the ball and scored on a lay up, putting the Devils ahead 29-20.

Later, Arther sank a corner shot on a recovery made by Jeremiah to finish the quarter, 35-27. In the final quarter, Kasko scored on a steal by Junior Aimee McNelis which put the team over the top, 41-30.

Against Union, Jeremiah tallied 12 points while Junior Audrey Ceklosky contributed nine and Kasko eight.

Ceklosky led Westfield with five points in the second quarter. However, Union widened its lead, scoring 40 points in the remaining half of the game. Jeremiah scored from the top of the key three times in the half. Westfield trailed, 47-26, at the end of the third quarter.

Against Union Catholic, Kasko stole the ball and scored on a lay up, putting the Devils ahead eight.

Union Catholic is one of the team's toughest opponents, according to Coach George Kapner, and Westfield held tough until the third quarter. During the first half, Westfield scored 16 points. In the third quarter, Kasko led the team with six points including a corner shot which narrowed U.C.'s lead to 29-26. With only eight seconds on the clock in the final quarter, Jeremiah sank a basket from half court, ending the game, 50-32.

Coach Kapner is optimistic about the girls' prospects for the state tournament. He feels the team can qualify with the necessary .500 record. The team will challenge six more teams before the Union county tournament which is held from Feb. 9-21.

The Devils face Scotch Plains in Scotch Plains today at 3:45 and Irvington at home at 12:30 on Saturday.

Parks Department Receives Grants

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation recently received two grants totaling $7,500, which are designed to benefit the arts and handicapped programs.

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts $5,000 Technical Assistance Grant will help support production for cultural organizations and funding research, according to Louis J. Coletti, county manager.

"Basically the grant will help us with publications, particularly with getting out our newsletter and directory of cultural organizations," Coletti said. "The grant will also support arts funding research and will assist the approximately 300 art organizations in Union County."

William Higginson, administrator for Cultural and Heritage Affairs, said that a workshop on the business aspects of the arts to benefit both individuals and businesses is also in the works.

The Parks Department also received a $2,500 Handicapped Persons Recreational Opportunities Grant for the third year. According to Jean Laham, program coordinator of special events it will be put toward a Special Arts Festival for the mentally and physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed and socially maladjusted, ages ten to adult.

County Prosecutor Speaks to Seniors on Crime Prevention

John H. Stamler, Union County Prosecutor, spoke recently to over 100 senior citizens at the F. Edward Bierteumpfel Senior Citizen Center in Union, on crime and the elderly and crime prevention.

Stamler told the audience that his office will prosecute to "the fullest extent of the law," anyone committing a crime of violence against a senior citizen. He added that there will be no plea bargaining for any defendant who commits such a crime.

In addition, he said his office will "move to have any juvenile treated as an adult," if he or she commits a violent crime against a senior citizen.

"All too often criminals think senior citizens are easy targets. This will warn them that we will not stand still and see our mothers, fathers and grandparents beaten and robbed," said Louis J. Coletti, Union County manager.

Stamler also asked the seniors to "join forces with the police and the Prosecutor's Office," to prevent crime by calling the proper authorities if they see anything suspicious.

Medicare Insurance Has Its Limitations

Medicare medical insurance can help pay for physicians' services, outpatient hospital care, outpatient physical therapy and speech pathology services, home health care, and other health services and supplies, according to John H. McCutcheon, Social Security manager in Elizabeth.

Medical insurance generally pays 80 percent of the approved charges after the patient has incurred the first $75 of approved charges; this is the medical insurance deductible. The patient is responsible for the remaining 20 percent of the approved charges and any amount above the approved charges.

Medicare medical insurance payments can be made in either of two ways. Payment may be made to the physician or to the supplier of medical services, or the payment may be made directly to the patient. If payment is made to the physician or supplier, the method of payment is called "assignment."

The assignment method can be used only if both the physician or the supplier and the patient agree to it. When this method is used, the physician or the supplier agrees that his charge for the service will be no more than that approved by the Medicare carrier. Medicare will then pay 80 percent of the approved charge after subtracting any part of the $75 deductible that the patient has not met.

Not all physicians will accept assignment. A list of those who have may be examined at the Elizabeth Social Security office, located at 342 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth.

WHS Cagers Hit Hot Streak, Charge Past Three Opponents

Cranford opened its biggest lead of the game after the first quarter at 14-10. Westfield came back as Jeff Wade, who tallied 16 points for the game and added six assists, hit a floater to tie the game, 20-20. Barden then hit for six straight points to give WHS a 26-22 lead on the way to a 32-28 halftime advantage.

Miles hit a jumper at the start of the second half to give WHS its biggest lead at 38-32. The Cougars then fought back as Norm Wolfrom, who led with 26 points and nine rebounds, hit two free throws to give Cranford a 46-44 lead with 20 seconds remaining. Miles hit a long jumper at the buzzer to tie the game, 46-46.

Steffen Smith hit a key jumper at the start of the final quarter to give WHS a 48-46 lead and the Blue Devils never looked back. Westfield out

Strong Real Estate Market Trends to Continue in '85

James H. Weichert, president of Weichert, Realtors, said that the real estate market in 1984 was "excellent." Gross sales and marketed listing was up 30 percent over the previous year.

He predicted an equally active market this year. "The demand for homeownership is stronger than ever. Lifestyle trends in the metropolitan area have increased the numbers of people who want to become homeowners, upgrade their current housing or purchase a newly constructed home. Others move as a result of a corporate transfer or job change."

New home sales have also increased. John Sims, vice president of Weichert's new homes division said "Our sales increased more than 35 percent, first time homebuyers have been able to find a product they want, at a price they can afford."

Mr. Weichert said, "Weichert plans to continue to develop as a metropolitan area-wide entity, servicing those who seek real estate and related services anywhere in the New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania metropolitan area."

Cancer Society Seeks Volunteers

The annual residential campaign conducted by the American Cancer Society is the backbone of the crusade to raise funds for research, service and education. The number of volunteers involved in the campaign directly affects its outcome, since the fund-raising efforts needed to continue these programs demand the cooperation of many individuals.

"This year we need to get many more people involved," voiced Anne Benoit, Union County residential chairman. Mrs. Benoit, a custom banker with the Summit Trust Company, served as chairman last year and helped the Union County Unit raise over $50,000 in the residential campaign.

"We would very much like to improve on last year's figures," added Benoit, "and the involvement of more volunteers is the key. Last year our crusade lasted well into the summer, but that can be avoided if enough people get involved in the months previous to our April kickoff."

Traditionally, April signifies the official beginning of the American Cancer Society Crusade, with the campaign structured so all towns in Union County conduct their own campaign with a projected goal for each individual town. Last year, only six towns either reached or exceeded their goal and many of the remaining towns fell far short of their projected target figure.

"We need people to be residential chairmen, district captains, block workers, people to stuff crusade envelopes," said Benoit. "We have every type job for anyone who is willing to volunteer his or her time."

The Union County Unit, Elizabeth, has additional information for volunteers.

Siberry Ties For First In Competition

George Siberry, a 1984 Westfield High School graduate, tied for first place in a competition held by the Department of Hispanic and Italian Studies of Brown University for outstanding secondary school preparation in Spanish.

The competition examined writing and listening skills as well as grammatical and cultural knowledge of Brown freshmen.

In a letter to School Principal Robert G. Petix, Brown University professors stated: "We consider it a privilege to work with students such as George, and we congratulate you and your staff in Spanish for the excellent training this student has received."

Essays For Contest

"The Contribution of Black Soldiers or Patriots During the Revolutionary War" or "The Statue of Liberty — The Lady With a Lamp" are the topics for this year's American History Contest sponsored by the Westfield Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution. Contest rules and bibliography suggestions were distributed in the public and parochial schools of Westfield and Mountainside in autumn 1984. Any student in grades 5-8 could enter by following the contest rules for a 300-600 word essay in grades five or six, or 600-1000 words in grades seven and eight on either subject.

From entries to the Westfield Chapter received by Jan. 22, one winning essay from each designated grade will be determined by three judges. These four essays will then be sent for State judging. New Jersey State winners will receive prizes of $50, $20, and $10 for first, second or third placement at each grade level.

New Jersey's top winning essays will then compete in divisional and national levels with awards of $100 on each level being presented in Washington, D.C., to the winners. In the local area winners will be announced in late February after being judged by Miss Rowen Miller of Mountainside, Mrs. John Coulter, Fanwood, and Mr. John Lawson, Scotch Plains, just in time to celebrate American History Week.

Students Win

Music Competition

Five Westfield High School students won the top five places in a competition sponsored by the New Jersey Music Educators Central Jersey Regional Band/Orchestra Association.

Finalists selected in state auditions are: Susan Curtis, flute; Douglas Dubrosky, saxophone; Paul Maurer, French horn; Clarissa Nolde, flute; and Gen Shinkai, flute.

The WHS finalist will audition for the All-State Band.

Drama to Benefit College Woman's Club

Tickets still are available for a benefit performance of "Go Back for Murder," an Agatha Christie work which will be presented Thursday, Jan. 31, at Cranford Dramatic Club.

Proceeds will benefit the College Woman's Club of Westfield, an organization dedicated to the general educational interests of the community. The club annually awards scholarships and grants to members of the graduating class at Westfield High School.

The Jan. 31 event begins with dessert at 7:15 p.m. at the Cranford Dramatic Club, 78 Winans Ave. The performance will follow at 8 p.m.

The College Woman's Club has booked the entire theatre for the evening. Eva Wiley is chairman of the benefit committee, and tickets are available by contacting Sara Roscoe, 526 Clifton St. Those wishing to be listed as patrons are asked to call Jane Fox, 206 Watchung Fork.

An investigation into a murder highlights the Christie play, in which various characters add interesting twists to the probe. To unravel the mystery, the principals recreate the murder during the second act. Kathy Willis portrays both Carla and the latter's deceased mother, Caroline. Other featured performers include Ken Klem, Carol Peterson, Lee Hoffman and Eileen Wicklem. Bill Wicklem will direct "Go Back for Murder."

Lodge Officers Elected

At a recent meeting of the Vincent Lombardi Lodge #2551, Order Sons of Italy in America, the following officers were elected: president, Tony La Ferrara; Vice President, Phyllis Baldacchini; Treasurer, Vincent Ferragamo; Recording Secretary, Georgiana Gurrieri; Finance Secretary, Larry Farina; Corresponding Secretary, Kay DeVenuto; Orator, Joe Barbella.

Elected to two-year terms as trustees were Ann Madorma, Peter Madorma, Jeanne Napolitano and Stephen Napolitano. Presently serving their second year as trustees are Ciro Muscio and Joe Sidoti.

The local organization allocated $200 to be sent to the national lodge's principal charity, March of Dimes and Birth Defects fund. The "Mile of Dimes" to raise monies for this project will take place on various weekends this year, sponsored by lodges throughout the United States.

Little Heart Saver Course

For those who have wondered how they could prevent a child from choking to death, or help save a life if a child's heart stopped beating, Overlook Hospital's Little Heart Saver Course will provide those answers.

The one-session course, to be held on Feb. 5 from 7-10:30 p.m., is an offshoot of the adult Cardiopulmonary (CPR) Resuscitation course.

According to Connie Anderson, CPR coordinator, "We've been running the adult course successfully for many years. However, we felt a need to develop a course geared specifically toward saving the lives of children, because the skills that must be learned are different than those used for an adult. The course could be especially helpful for parents, baby-sitters, and child-care professionals," she added.

The Little Heart Saver course will be taught by certified American Heart Association instructors. Participants will have a chance to practice skills on infant electronic manikins to simulate real-life situations.

Interested person may contact Overlook's Public Relations Department for further information.

Robert Klein to Perform in Metuchen

"An Evening With Robert Klein" will be presented by the Forum Theatre Group in Metuchen on Saturday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

"Returning for his second year, Robert Klein will bring his own special brand of humor to the Forum Theatre as he captivates audiences with his jokes, singing and unique style of storytelling," said Artistic Director Peter Loewy.

Cranford Camera Club

The Cranford Camera Club will meet in Bloomingdale School, 200 Bloomingdale Ave., Cranford, on Monday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m.
