United Fund's $500,000 Goal Highest in History

The United Fund of Westfield will ask Westfielders to repeat their successful history by meeting the annual campaign goal for the 1985-86 drive. This fall's goal has been set at $500,000, the highest in the fund's history, to help support the operations for its 18 member agencies.

Westfield's United Fund, headquartered at the north side train station, has met its goal each and every year since 1975 for a ten year track record of success, assuring the agencies of their allocations.

The fund's board of trustees adopted the 1985, $500,000 goal after Gail Cassidy, chairperson of the budget review committee, presented recommendations for allocations to the board, concluding a three month, 1,000 man-hour investigation by her committee which scrutinized the budget proposals and programs of the 18 member agencies.

For the difficult task of making the allocations, the committee held weekly meetings during April and May with all of the member agencies. At these meetings, the agencies' budgets and programs were discussed and questions were posed to the representatives.

The committee this year included John Akerly, Walt Blumenscheid, Fred Buhendorf, Joan Corbet, Nancy Fleischman, Larry Hartzell, Allen Malcom, Sallie Muehlenhard, Jim Nixon, Thomas Sullivan and David Wallace.

In addition, individual visits were made to the agencies by the committee, assisted by special representatives Phil Berkebile.

Council Asked to Add Parking Spaces In CBD, Up Meter Fees to 25¢ an Hour

Recognizing the deficiency of just over 200 parking spaces revealed by the recent Ramp report, members of the parking committee of the Town Council have unanimously recommended a single deck structure at the municipal parking lot bounded by Lenox, Central and North Aves.

In addition, the committee asks council to switch from attendant parking in the lot behind the stores on East Broad St. between Elm St. and Mountain Ave. in favor of two-hour meters, and switch the 63 three-hour meters in the Prospect St. lot as well as spaces in the South Ave. railroad station lot to two hours.

The committee, headed by Richard Bagger, also asks that street meters with one hour limits and lot meters with two hour limits be increased from 10 cents an hour to 25 cents an hour. Members feel that the meters should be converted to accept nickels for 12 minutes, dimes for 24 minutes and quarters for 60 minutes. Proceeds from these rate increases would help make construction of new spaces feasible, according to Bagger.

The committee will analyze the parking consultant Ramp's proposal to double rates of long-term and permit parking before making a recommendation in this area.

While recommending 200 additional parking spaces in the central business district, the committee asks that this be done in two stages, 100 during 1985-86 and the remainder during 1986-87.

The North-Central-Lenox area single deck would add about 100 spaces to the central business district, but the committee has reserved its opinion on how the additional 100 spots should be achieved in 1986-87. Ramp has suggested single-decking the lots between Central Ave. and Elmer St., but other plans might be explored as well.

The committee specifically asks that the Town Council ordinance the design phase for a single deck parking structure in the lot opposite the Post Office and is discussing with Ramp a proposal for design services and the estimated cost of the design phase. The Ramp report had placed an $848,000 construction price tag on decking the site.

Building a single deck structure with the capability for future vertical expansion would add roughly $500,000 to the total cost, and for this reason, the committee recommends that the single deck not be reinforced.

Council is expected to begin implementing some of the recommendations by ordinances either next month or in September, according to Bagger, who also remarked that "these recommendations are in no way complete or exhaustive of the parking issues which the Town Council must address. The parking committee will continue to work on the remaining issues and will periodically make recommendations to the Town Council."

Members of the parking committee include, in addition to Bagger, Garland C. Boothe Jr., Thomas Quinn and Frank J. Rodgers.

Bd. May Assign Principal to School

The Westfield Board of Education will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, July 16, in the board meeting room at 302 Elm Street.

The agenda includes personnel appointments, including the assignment of a new elementary school principal — Margaret Scheck — to a school and the appointment of staff for Summer School and summer curriculum writing workshops.

The meeting is open to the public with time for public input on any agenda item at the beginning of the meeting and time for public input on any educational item at the end of the meeting.

Citizens interested in finding out what is on the agenda for Tuesday's public meeting may telephone the school administration building at 654-6400, ext. 293, on Monday and Tuesday.

WHS Junior Not Only Earning College Credits, But Owns Successful Business

From design and construction of Freddie the Robot eight years ago to the current design and creation of computer software in his own company may not seem impossible in today's business world. But it is somewhat unusual when the robot was the product of an eight year old and the firm, Charon, that of a 16-year-old.

But then Fred M. Tibbitts III, who lives at 800 Forest Ave., is not your usual teenager. Just turned 16 in May, Fred will enter his junior year in Westfield High School in September, right after he earns his 13th credit hour at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Tibbitts, teamed with FDU senior Mark A. Van Doren, 21, run a company which specializes in software for food service companies such as ARA Leisure Services in Philadelphia and Bamberger's in Newark.

The firm produces custom application software for business and industry using the IBM PC, Apple Macintosh and Prime 750 Minicomputer. Charon has been designated by the Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management Institute at Purdue University to review its "Computer Applications in Foodservice" correspondence course and also has been named the primary consultant to the Academy of Culinary Arts, Atlantic Community College at Mays Landing, for two projects implementing computers in courses for foodservice professionals.

Charon expects to branch out to other fields and for each business, analyzes the industry prior to adapting software for its use.

34 Teachers Developing Curricula at Workshops

Thirty-four Westfield public school teachers are developing curricula in 16 summer curriculum writing workshops during July and August.

The Westfield Board of Education approved stipends totaling $17,500 for the workshops at a special meeting on June 27.

Four elementary summer curriculum writing workshops will be undertaken for mathematics for grades 5 and 6, for math testing in grades 1, 2 and 3, to develop grade level skills for grades 1 through 6 and to develop a mid-year examination in mathematics for students in grade 6.

Seven curriculum workshops at the secondary level include: problem solving supplements for algebra I and II, geometry, trigonometry and calculus; spiral math skill review supplements for all secondary mathematics

Tibbitts, whose Freddie the Robot won him fame years ago, is not limited to taking computer courses, although he earns a 3.50 average at Fairleigh Dickinson in such courses as data structures and related 300 level computer science studies.

During his first year of Latin studies at Westfield High School, Tibbitts earned a cum laude citation for his outstanding performance in a national Latin exam. Locally he also plays tennis and

Council to Act On Ordinances

Public hearings and final action are expected at the 8:30 o'clock public meeting of the Town Council Tuesday evening on three ordinances. If approved, these would give the town more flexibility in establishing permit parking spaces at the southside railroad station, authorize additional funds for rehabilitation of the Hahn pumper of the Fire Department, and amend an agreement pertaining to Community Development funds.

The permit parking flexibility would aid the town in compensating for the loss of some permit parking spots during renovations at the station by NJ Transit.

Approval also is expected for the sale of five fire alarm boxes to Plainfield, contract negotiations for the North Ave. curb and sidewalk project, a contract award for the improvement of Elizabeth Ave., and various licenses.

Resident Charged with Killing Mother at Dudley Ct. Home

A 31-year old Westfield man was arrested Monday after allegedly beating his mother to death in their Westfield home.

Police, responding to a call about a family dispute, arrested Raymond Helmar of 528 Dudley Ct., shortly after midnight. Helmar has a prior arrest record of assault and alcohol abuse.

Helmar was charged with aggravated assault and aggravated manslaughter in the death of his 58-year old mother, Elizabeth Trobert.

Police found Mrs. Trobert inside her home, injured and complaining of chest pains and difficulty with breathing. The Westfield Rescue Squad conveyed Mrs. Trobert to Overlook Hospital, Summit, where she died at approximately 1:30 a.m.

An autopsy performed found death to be caused by "severe contusions of the left lung due to multiple fractured ribs," according to Union County Assistant Prosecutor David Hancock.

Helmar is being held in the Union County Jail in Elizabeth. No bail has been set.

In December 1983, Helmar was sentenced to 18 months in state prison for an assault on his ex-wife. He successfully completed an alcohol abuse program at a clinic in Verona, and was released from prison in December 1984, continuing on parole for four months.

As a result of his arrest Monday, Helmar was additionally charged with assault on police officer James Lavelle, and weapons charges.

Local and county authorities are continuing their investigation of the homicide.

Zoning Code Restrictions Apply To Additions of Decks to Homes

Second in a series on home remodeling

One of the most frequent types of appeals to come before the Board of Adjustment in recent years deals with the construction of decks, frequently built by homeowners themselves and frequently without benefit of building permit or knowledge of zoning restrictions.

A deck or a "raised patio," according to definition of the Land Use Ordinance of the Town of Westfield, is "a structure of wood, masonry, metal, stone, asphalt or other substance without a roof elevated above ground level and used for recreational purposes and is not an accessory use and is not subject to the provisions of that section (of the land use ordinance), but shall be considered as part of the principal structure or building and subject to all requirements for such a structure or building for the zone in which it is located."

"Accessory use" applies to such things as private tennis courts, detached garages, wood and tool sheds, greenhouses, swimming pools, tennis courts etc., in other words, a structure occupied or devoted exclusively to an accessory use on the same lot with and subordinate to a principal structure.

Where homeowners often err is in not only thinking a deck is an accessory use, but failing to take into account the percentage of lot coverage the addition will consume, or possibly the rear, side or front yard areas required under the town code.

No matter in what residential zone a home is located, structures — and a deck is one — may not cover more than 20 percent of the total lot area. Lot size for the RS-150 zone (property requiring 150 foot frontage) is 40,000 square feet; for the RS-100 zone, 12,000 square feet; for the RS-70, 8,400 square feet, and for the RS-50, 6,000 square feet. As an example, lot coverage by structures in the 50 ft. frontage zone is limited to 1200 square feet.

In addition, lot coverage by all above grade buildings or structures or other improvements including but not limited to accessory uses, sidewalks, parking areas or driveways cannot exceed 50 percent coverage. (Flood water detention basins, however, have a special status.) Again, as example, only 3,000 square feet may be utilized on a lot in the RS-50 zone.

Distances between houses are protected by side yard requirements of 15 feet in the RS-150, 13 in the RS-100, and 10 in the other two one-family residential zones. In addition, front yards of from 60 feet in the RS-150, 40 in the RS-100, and 40 in the other zones are mandated, as well as rear yards measuring 50 feet for the 150 ft. frontage property and 35 feet for the others.

Local Educator Participates In National Fellows Program

A principal's ability to effectively communicate with a variety of people and organizations often determines the success of a school's educational program.

That was the conclusion reached by Charles W. Jackson, Principal of McKinley Elementary School, and nearly 250 other educators from throughout the country at the third annual National Fellows Program this week.

The National Fellows Program is a week-long seminar designed to strengthen leadership and instructional skills of elementary and middle school principals, sponsored by the National Association of Elementary School Principals (NAESP) Foundation in cooperation with NASA's Johnson Space Center and the University of Houston, Texas.

The ability to communicate goals and ideas to school staff, students, parents, and the community can make the difference between a school that truly meets the needs of its students and one that struggles with low student achievement, the participants agreed.

With the theme of "Communications for Quality Leadership," the session explores current educational issues, as well as examining the increasing importance of communications as a critical skill in the professional leadership of outstanding principals.

Dancercize Programs Begin for Summer

The Dancercize program offered by the Westfield Recreation Department resumed July 1. The hour long session emphasizes a work-out that is designed to help tone the entire body while providing aerobic exercise. Dancercize is a combination of dance steps and moves and special exercises set to contemporary music.

Instruction is given by Barbara Wheeler who also choreographs the dances. Dancercize is offered on two nights — Monday and Wednesday at 5:30 and 7 p.m. at the Elm St. School Auditorium. The class will run till the end of September, according to Mrs. Ruth V. Hill, director of recreation.

An investigation is being conducted by the Westfield Detective Bureau and the Union County Prosecutor's Office.

County 4-H Fair Sunday Afternoon

Members of 4-H clubs from throughout Union County will display their projects on Sunday at the annual 4-H Fair, to be held this year at Trailside Nature & Science Center, Coles Ave. and New Providence Rd., Mountainside. The fair is open to the public and admission is free.

The fair exhibits will open to the public at 12 noon with a ribbon cutting ceremony immediately followed by a fashion revue featuring garments constructed by county 4-H members. Judging of 4-H project entries will take place earlier in the morning on clothing, foods-nutrition, crafts, veterinary science, twirling, photography, gardening and small animal projects.

Fair visitors can enjoy a Seeing Eye and Double Dutch presentation, games, hayrides and pony rides, buy 4-H balloons, watch a Planetarium show on Halley's Comet, and a performance by a jazzercise group. Refreshments will be sold by the 4-H Association.

The 4-H Teen Council will sponsor

sor milk drinking, bubble gum blowing and watermelon eating contests. Fair visitors can sign up for 4-H and for 4-H Camp. Tours of the Cooperative Extension display garden will be given, and the Union County Police Department will sponsor a children's fingerprinting service and a demonstration of the Breathalyzer Test.

One of the highlights of the day will be the awarding of rosettes to the 4-Hers who exhibited the best entry in each division and the crowning of the two teens who will serve as the 1985-1986 Outstanding 4-H'ers.

The Union County 4-H Fair is the direction of Erika U. Fields, County 4-H Agent and Marlene Brown, 4-H Program Assistant. The 4-H Youth Development Program is open to all boys and girls 7-19 years of age, and is sponsored cooperatively by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and County Manager, Rutgers-The State University and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Hardwick Bill to Require Crime Victim Restitution

Convicted criminals would be required to repay their victims for items ranging from stolen goods to funeral expenses under legislation approved 71-0 by the General Assembly.

The bill (A-2804), sponsored by Assembly Republican Leader Chuck Hardwick, R-Union, changes the current law which makes restitution optional.

The measure also broadens the field of what must be paid for by the criminal, and expands the definition of "victim."

"I want to ensure that crime victims get back what is owed them," said Hardwick. "It should not be a matter of a judge's discretion. Under my bill, a judge must require restitution, but the court can determine the method of payment — whether the payment be made immediately upon sentencing or in installments — depending on the criminal's financial resources." The amount of payments would range from up to $100,000 for a first or second degree crime, to $500 for a disorderly persons offense, Hardwick explained.

In property cases only, restitution would be limited to the value of the property lost or damaged, and a separate hearing may be conducted to determine the exact amount of the loss, Hardwick said.

"In addition," Hardwick said, "the amount of restitution would be based on the initial charges and not the final charge, which may be reduced in a plea bargaining agreement."

"Where applicable, criminals also would be required to pay for medical expenses and related costs, funeral and burial expenses, lost income, and property damage," Hardwick added. "The repayment is in addition to any fine imposed by the court."

Resident Jigsaw Puzzle Contest Entrant

A Westfield resident is putting speed, dexterity and patience on the line by pitting herself against the champions during the 1985 Hallmark National Jigsaw Puzzle Championships Aug. 17-18 in Athens, Ohio. Susan B. Callahan, 436 Hillside Ave. is hoping to snap her puzzle pieces into place faster than any other contestants during this annual exercise in puzzle mania. Winners will bring home a "piece of the action" in the form of each prizes totalling nearly $8,000 plus puzzles and memorabilia.

Contestants may enter as singles competitors or in doubles teams. Entry forms are available from participating Hallmark Card Stores or by writing the Dairy Barn, PO Box 747 Athens, OH 45701. Deadline for entry is Aug. 2.

Sponsored by the Dairy Barn Southeastern Ohio Cultural Arts Center, the Athens Area Chamber of Commerce and Hallmark Cards, Inc., the fourth annual competition is expected to draw up to 800 competitors.

Contestants will use brand-new Springbok Puzzles, manufactured by Hallmark. Designs and die-cuts will remain a guarded secret until the championships begin.

A display of nearly 100 puzzle designs by amateurs and leading artists and photographers will be exhibited during the championships. Antique jigsaw puzzles dating from the 18th century will also be on display.

Freeholder candidates, from left, C. Richard Malgran of Plainfield, William H. Holdridge of Berkeley, and James J. Fulcomer of Rahway launch their Republican Freeholder campaign from the steps of the Union County Court House. They pledged "fight for the people" to receive the many problems which they say last year's Democrat freeholder board failed to solve and to build a better Union County.

A community is known by the schools it keeps. Mountainside, a borough of about 2200 homes, keeps three fine schools: Our Lady of Lourdes, a Catholic grade school; Vail-Deane, an independent, private school for grades K-9; and Deerfield, a public school with classes for pre-K through 8th grade. A display depicting the schools is in the Elm St. window of Barrett & Crain.

Deerfield School graduated 72 students on June 19, among them the eighth grade boys and girls who take home economics. One of their spring units was a joint project with the kindergarten.

Designed to acquaint older students with young children and to introduce five and six-year-olds to the safety rules and reading and number skills necessary in the kitchen, the lessons in making pretzels and peanut butter were educationally valuable as well as lots of fun and tasty!

Bank Personnel Honored As Deposit Counselors

Marylyn Hullfish, branch manager of the Westfield office, and Kay Pearce, account representative of the Westfield Personal Financial Center, are honored upon graduation from the School for Deposit Counselors.

Arthur C. Campbell, senior vice president, director of retail banking at the National State Bank, and John F. Cavicchia, senior vice president, director of the trust division, congratulated Mrs. Hullfish and Mrs. Pearce at a ceremony in their honor at the Coachman Inn in Cranford. Cavicchia noted, "The complicated nature of today's savings and investing environment requires a higher degree of knowledge and expertise among bankers who advise customers about money management and financial planning.

At National State Bank, we offer our customers the best in professional service through our deposit counselors."

"Our counselors attend classes in economics, finance, securities, and money market investments, as well as principles basic to financial counseling. Each graduate must display an above average ability to deal effectively with the financial customer in a personable and professional manner," added Richard Page, vice president, regional administrator.

The school is sponsored by Financial Products Group, Inc., a financial marketing and consulting firm based in Chicago.

The July 25 performance features "Escapade," a program of music from the 1950's to the 1980's.

Snitchers on Dumping

To Get Rewards?

Assemblyman Peter J. Genova (R-Union) has introduced a bill in the Assembly that would establish an incentive for those who notify authorities of illegal dumpers. Genova said his measure would aid in the state's efforts to crack down on those who illegally dispose of garbage and other waste in New Jersey.

"By granting a reward, more people may become more inclined to reporting these violations, which, in turn, will ultimately lead to a safer and cleaner environment," Genova said.

Genova explained that a fee equal to 10 percent of the penalty imposed on the illegal dumper would be awarded. "The public must play a part in bringing illegal dumpers to justice," Genova said. "We all have a stake in a cleaner New Jersey."

Three Local Physicians Join Overlook Medical Staff

On the recommendation of the medical staff, the board of trustees of Overlook Hospital has appointed Westfield doctors Ralph W. Besho, D.M.D.; David A. Dersh, D.M.D.; and Susan T. Kaye, M.D.

Dr. Besho is a dentist with a practice in general dentistry in Westfield. A graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Teaneck, with a bachelor's degree and Fairleigh Dickinson University, Hackensack, with a D.M.D. degree, Dr. Besho did a one-year residency in general practice dentistry at Overlook Hospital.

He is a member of the Westfield Jaycees and lives with his wife Annette in Westfield.

Dr. Dersh also is a dentist with a practice in general dentistry in Westfield. A graduate of Albright College, Reading, Pa., with a bachelor's degree and the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey in Newark with a D.M.D. degree, he is in practice with Dr. Bruce Malcolm.

Dr. Dersh is a member of the Academy of General Dentistry and the Central Jersey Dental Society. A 1976 graduate of Westfield High School, he lives in Somerset with his wife Patricia.

Dr. Kaye is a family practitioner with Chatham Family Practice Associates and Overlook Family Practice Associates. A graduate of Brown University, Providence, R.I., with a bachelor's degree and the New York University School of Medicine with a medical degree, Dr. Kaye did a residency in family practice at Overlook Hospital and held a family medicine fellowship at the Family Practice Faculty Development Center of Texas, McLennon County Medical Education and Research Foundation, Waco, Texas.

Dr. Kaye is associate director of Overlook's Family Practice Residency Program and is a member of the New Jersey Academy of Family Physicians, the American Academy of Family Physicians, the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine and Physicians for Social Responsibility. She is a Diplomate of the American Board of Family Physicians.

Dr. Kay lives in Westfield with her husband Roger Bilheimer and their daughter Alicia.

Capt. Morelli Completes Search/Rescue School

Civil Air Patrol/United States Air Force Captain George Morelli of Westfield completed the annual U. S. Coast Guard/Air Force National Search and Rescue School held June 24 and June 28, at the Coast Guard Installation on Governor's Island, New York.

This school provides advanced training to Air Force, Coast Guard, and NATO forces personnel engaged in search and rescue activities.

Captain Morelli was selected for one of 28 positions nationwide. Morelli is commander of Linden Squadron, CAP.

Civil Air Patrol has three missions: emergency services, which includes search and rescue and disaster relief, aerospace education, and cadet training.

INSTALL AN ENERGY-EFFICIENT GAS WATER HEATER AND GET A $50 REBATE:

Then the real savings start.

To encourage energy conservation, we're giving $50 rebates to Elizabethtown Gas customers who purchase (from any retailer) and install energy-efficient automatic gas water heaters in existing residential dwellings by December 31, 1985.

The efficiency of gas water heaters is measured by an energy factor based on overall performance in recovery efficiency, standby loss and energy input. Rebates will be provided for units with energy factors of: .56 (30-gal. unit), .54 (40-gal. unit) or .51 (50-gal. unit).

But that's only the beginning of your savings. In use, energy-efficient automatic gas water heaters give you more hot water for less money. The more you use it, the more you save.

For more information, mail the coupon below or call toll-free:

1-800-221-0364

This offer is available to owners of one- to four-family homes who are Elizabethtown Gas customers.

No Drought of Ideas On Water Conservation

In many parts of this state we're in, water is getting more scarce than it should during periods of below-average rainfall. True, we've been having a so-called drought for the better part of a year, which means that rainfall builds up a deficit over a period of months. But should this, which is bound to happen sooner or later, turn into a disaster? Not really.

It's true too that reservoirs are very low for this time of the year, and that half of the country is beset by abnormal weather patterns. What we've had all along is a set of situations which make it especially perilous for New Jersey to get into such a predicament.

For one thing, this is America's most densely populated state, which can't be helped. But we've destroyed too many wetlands that naturally store water; we've built drainage systems that rush water from mountaintop to sea; we've paved over areas where water once percolated into the soil to recharge groundwater supplies; we've migrated from cities to one-time farmlands, leaving leaky old water distribution systems behind while demanding new systems where we move; we use more water on a per-person basis and, worst of all, we waste a lot of water. All of those things can be helped.

That's quite a list, and it helps focus on the fact that we had better begin managing our water better than we are. For starters, that means we've got to quit wasting water.

Water, like air, is something our culture has taught us to take for granted. We assume that it's always there, just waiting for us to twist a faucet or flush a toilet. Many other parts of the world share vastly different attitudes about water, because people grew up knowing that it is scarce.

I favor an idea proposed in a bill (A-3538) recently introduced into the state Legislature, to institute a Municipal Residential Water Conservation Retrofit Program. The sponsors, Assemblywoman Marlene Ford and Assemblymen John P. Doyle of Ocean County and Anthony Marsella of Camden County, would have municipalities distribute water-saving devices to residential water users.

It's not too complicated an idea. The bill would put the state Department of Environmental Protection in charge of the project, with the towns actually designing their own programs for distribution of free water-saving shower heads, toilet dams and sink faucet aerators.

The bill would appropriate $1.2 million for this, but I for one wouldn't hesitate to use the state's existing $350-million water bond issue as the money source. Water conservation is an integral part of the bonding legislation's purposes.

Any home built today should conform to a statewide building code mandating low-volume toilets, showers and faucets. Sadly, however, too few building inspectors seem to be enforcing that regulation. That is for state government to address.

The legislation would cure a sort of wet discrimination against builders of new houses. While they are supposed to install water-saving fixtures, countless thousands of older homes are gushing out far more water per flush, shower or teeth-scrubbing than is necessary. Hence the logic of retrofitting those older places so that they too can comply.

For lots of us, retrofitting our homes to save water is already accomplished, but I fear we are a small minority. The fast majority of homes remain ill-equipped to save water. Some help has come from utility companies making available kits to save hot water. That's good, because it saves both energy and water, to say nothing of money.

But when we realize that residential water use accounts for almost half the water demand in New Jersey, we can see what a boost our supplies would get from a 10 or 15 percent reduction in residential use. While surcharges for high use during low-supply times are a good idea, high prices for high use should become a constant factor. So should the kind of common-sense conservation promoted by Ms. Ford's bill!

C. LOUIS BASSANO

DISTRICT OFFICE: 224 Chestnut Street, Union, N.J. 07083

The ink was barely dry on Governor Kean's proclamation recognizing the first week of June as National Safe Boating Week when tragedy struck twice in New Jersey waters.

A 68-year-old Hamilton Square man lost his life when a speedboat collided with his boat and literally jumped over it on the Metedeconk River in Brick Township. The accident happened during safe boating week.

Seven days later, a three-year-old Rumson child was the sole survivor of a boating accident that claimed the lives of four people on the Navesink River. Among the dead was the child's five-year-old brother. The two boys, three adults and a dog piled into what is described as a two-man kayak for a day of boating. The vessel capsized, tossing its occupants into the cold river water.

Keeping New Jersey's waterways safe is a growing problem. Two years ago, there were 284 boating accidents in our state's waters, killing 13 persons and injuring 130. Pleasure boating is growing in popularity year after year. There are more than 200,000 pleasure boats registered by our state. Thousands of tourists flock to New Jersey's 127 miles of coastline, numerous lakes, rivers and creeks to enjoy boating and other water recreational activities. However, too often, people don't take the proper precautions before they go boating. They are determined to have a good time, but this good time can turn sour in an instant.

Pleasure boaters take tremendous chances, chances that risk their own lives as well as the lives of anyone they come in contact with out on the water. State marine officials estimate that only 20 percent of New Jersey boaters have formal training in "the rules of the road."

RESENTS SETTLEMENT

Editor, Leader:

The following letter has been sent to:
Dr. Saul Cooperman,
Commissioner of Education:

As a citizen who works hard and who dutifully pays local, state and federal taxes, I vehemently object to the outrageous $91,000 "settlement" described in the attached article. The question I want answered is, "What I and my fellow citizens must do to reverse such a 'settlement'?" It is a mockery of our educational system and I expect you to actively assist in correcting this outrage.

Moral turpitude takes many forms: politicians working for themselves not the voters and trusted educators engaging in overt illegal activities. In a society where we allow such things to take place we can only expect a constant breakdown of law and order.

Money Management

Do you know what happens to the rest of your money, once you've paid the rent and covered other essentials? Are you aware of the most economical way for you to pay bills? Have you calculated how much money ought to be set aside so you could begin serious investing?

Those are questions which can best be answered with information developed by some simple recordkeeping that takes only a few minutes to carry out. In fact, less time is involved than might be spent fretting anxiously over your finances.

Here are some practical suggestions from the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) on forecasting your expenses and budgeting your income. They can help you regain control over your financial life, stretch your dollars and probably even improve your lifestyle.

The first step pertains to attitude: Think positively. Learn to regard your personal (and family) finances as a small business. Your personal finances mirror a business, though on a smaller scale. Like a business, you have costs, and accounting procedures to deal with them: plant, payroll, credit and financing and long-range plans. You control expenses, decide on investments, allocate capital, pick vacations and make important decisions affecting your income and expenditures. Overlooking for the moment the more specific business practices, you should concentrate on ways to keep more dollars in your pocket.

To take hold of your financial future, you have to be able to forecast cash flow — a basic essential for financial planning. Cash flow shows how much money you will have left after the bills are paid. It's a way of demonstrating how much money comes in and where your money goes; it leads to an evaluation of spending practices.

For sustained record keeping, strong motivation is sometimes needed. It helps to have a detailed mental image before you of what rewards financial planning can yield. So, before sitting down at the kitchen table with your receipts and stubs, test drive the sports car you've been eyeing; walk through the condo your friend is trying to sell, or pore over travel brochures.

For recordkeeping, you'll need only a pad and pencil, plus a little patience. First, set up your financial records along these lines: Across the top, in bold letters write: CASH FORECASTS. Down the left margin, list these headings: Cash on Hand, Receipts (schedule all income), Total Cash Available. Leave some space, then go on with these headings: Fixed Payments (mortgages, insurance, taxes, alimony), Variable Payments (utilities, medical, auto, food, savings). Follow that with a line for Total Payments, then to summarize — list Total Cash Available, Total Payments and Cash Balance At End of Month — the commanding figure that reflects on your day-to-day spending practices and helps you decide if you should go out Saturday night.

One more step: Across the top of the page, set up three columns, designated Last Year's Revenue and Expenses, Monthly Estimate for this Year, Actual TOTAL. Duplicate the basic form for other months covering the year.

Now for some observations: Last year's expenses — compiled from check stubs and other payment receipts — are likely to reveal vital financial data. In most households, movies, dinner out, parties, cable-TV, vacations, hobbies or sports consume a sizeable percentage of income.

Once you know where money goes, you can predict your expenses month-by-month for the year ahead. Wasteful expenditures are easy to spot and remedial steps bolstering your financial condition are obvious.

Here are general rules of thumb recommended by CPAs:

- Limit short-term credit to about 20 percent of your take-home pay.
- Set up an interest-bearing checking account.
- Take advantage of the "float": Don't be in a rush to pay bills.
- Use your checking account; it's not a "warehouse" for savings.
- Gain control of your finances by planning, and you're on the way up the economic ladder.

STARSCOPE

WEEK OF: JULY 11, 1985

AQUARIUS — January 21-February 19

Good week to issue reminders to friends, coworkers and neighbors. Potentially rewarding prospects open up, but pursue all angles before making a commitment. Romance is on the upswing.

PISCES — February 20-March 20

Financial news-brightener may arrive by the end of this period, making surprise expenses easier to take. Your creative ideas are novel and catch the attention of people in high places.

ARIES — March 21-April 20

Week favors wrapping up old projects, then launching new ones. Friend may be overly demanding of your generosity or time. A firm but kind approach may be the only solution.

TAURUS — April 21-May 22

Plans are subject to last-minute changes, often with positive results. Friendship cannot be taken for granted. Diplomacy is essential when handling a personality problem.

GEMINI — May 23-June 21

Opt for a more realistic, less romantic approach to family dilemma. Children are your best teachers through this period. Announcements related to finance require clarification.

CANCER — June 22-July 22

Legal matters dominate much of your time; don't hesitate to ask basic questions. Financial bonanza could brighten the weekend. Lost items may be found by Tuesday or Wednesday.

LEO — July 23-August 22

Business matters demand a professional, not casual, approach. Guarantees and agreements should be in writing. If you want to change someone's mind, subtlety is all important.

VIRGO — August 23-September 22

Observation is important and can pay dividends. Keep aware of current news happenings and goings on in work environment. Partner is nearly ready to make a commitment.

LIBRA — September 23-October 22

It's a week to hold on to your purse strings. Socializing can be more costly than anticipated and bargains may be deceptive. Family health needs should be reviewed.

SCORPIO — October 23-November 21

You tend to be nostalgic, but this week focuses on the future. You may be learning about modern machinery, updating your skills, or planning a very contemporary look.

SAGITTARIUS — November 22-December 22

A challenge at work heats up and brings out the best in your work. Watch tendency to impose your standards on others. Financial news-brightener may arrive after the weekend.

CAPRICORN — December 23-January 20

New relationship may become more intense than expected; the key is for both parties to be honest about degree of commitment. Small financial bonus boosts your morale.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

Beneath a hard exterior lies a very tender person — and one with a vivid imagination. Resourcefulness is the operative word this year. You learn on the job and can make significant career strides. One caution: watch that you're not so easily flattered.

BORN THIS WEEK

July 11th, actor Tab Hunter; 12th, actor Bill Cosby; 13th, host Dave Garraway; 14th, actress Polly Bergen; 15th, singer Linda Ronstadt; 16th, actress Ginger Rogers; 17th, actress Diahann Carroll.

Report from Washington

By Congressman

Matt Rinaldo

7th District, New Jersey

Political terrorism is not exclusively a phenomenon of Beirut and Central America. The campaign of violence against tourists, businessmen and diplomats covers most of the world, and the United States is not immune. Governments are increasingly seeing international terror as a third form of warfare that coexists with conventional guerrilla violence.

The TWA hijackings by Shiite Moslems from Lebanon and the killing of 331 persons in two airline bombings linked to Sikh extremists have demonstrated the vulnerability of the United States and other friendly countries. In the words of one of the terrorists who was involved in the Olympic massacre at Munich, "There is no such thing as an innocent bystander."

Vice President George Bush has contacted the heads of state of western governments to signal a new initiative to prevent terrorism and to employ diplomatic and economic sanctions against nations that harbor, train and finance their activities.

According to the U.S. Department of State, there were more than 650 incidents of terrorism in 1984, or 30 percent more than the number of attacks in 1983. Western Europe had over 250 incidents, up one-third; the Middle East had almost 200 incidents, up two-thirds; Latin America held steady between 110 and 120. Because of our power and worldwide influence, the United States is the main target of terror. Of the 500 terrorist attacks reported in 1983, 200 were directed at the United States. We have been targeted in part because we have refused to capitulate to extremism in the Middle East and to forsake our alliance with Israel.

The Libyan connection to terrorists operating in Lebanon, Central America, the Philippines, Asia and in Europe has been well documented by intelligence agencies and experts on the subject. They point out that Shiite Moslems involved in previous attacks and kidnappings of American diplomats, businessmen and tourists were trained at five centers in Libya and were supplied with weapons purchased with Libyan funds.

The Ayatollah Khomeini's "hate America" campaign has given the Shiite Moslems in Lebanon a spiritual license to kill, but it is Libya's Qadhafi who provides the guns, explosives and training for an assortment of political lunatics. Qadhafi is the most visible symbol of government sponsored terrorism, including the murder of an English policewoman outside the Libyan embassy in London. As long as Qadhafi can act with impunity and get away with murder, other terrorists feel that the West is powerless to stop them.

In a speech marking the seventh anniversary of the Libyan revolution, Col. Qadhafi bragged about the Beirut bombings that killed over 260 U.S. Marines. "If we have to export terrorism, we will export terrorism to it (the United States)," the Libyan leader said. "We are capable of exporting terrorism to the heart of America. We are also capable of physical liquidation, destruction and arson inside America."

While we can take unilateral action to block all commerce with Libya as an expression of our determination to curb international terrorism, we must do everything within our diplomatic power to convince other friendly governments to join in a systematic worldwide effort through diplomatic and economic means to disarm and starve out terrorists. There must be no safe haven anywhere for terrorists.

The withdrawal of all American, European, Japanese and other foreign technicians and investments from Libya over the next several months would paralyze the country and push Col. Qadhafi into an impossible situation. Libya's government and economy would be crippled and we would succeed over a period of time in effectively shutting down a major arms supplier of world terrorism.

A bill that I am introducing in Congress would block all U.S. commerce with Libya, an idea that has already received support from Secretary of State George Schultz. But, in order to be effective, U.S. efforts must be coordinated with similar economic and diplomatic sanctions by our allies, including Japan and European nations that purchase Libyan petrochemicals, gas and oil. With a glut of oil on the world market, the time is appropriate to shut off Libya's pipeline to the outside.

Furthermore, I favor a full-scale effort through a variety of international organizations — banks, commercial airlines, ports, communications agencies, and United Nations agencies — to suspend agreements with nations whose government assist terrorists. This would include lifting their diplomatic immunity and passports, and barring these nations from participating in activities of international organizations.

By starving out the Libyan connection to terrorists, we would send a message to other nations that the West and Japan have reached the limits of patience and tolerance. It would be a declaration of economic and diplomatic sanctions against all forms of terrorism.

speeds, literally becoming guided missiles in the water. Making a sudden stop for an emergency is extremely risky. Boats can flip over or strike other vessels.

Far too many boaters fail to stock their vessels with life preservers or other flotation devices. People believe that if they are strong swimmers, they don't need life preservers. This misguided opinion costs lives. If a boat capsizes, a person can be knocked unconscious or become immobilized after hitting extremely cold water.

Carelessness on the water is dangerous but combined with alcohol, the results can be even more devastating. New Jersey has some of the toughest drunk driving law in the nation. Yet, the same stringent penalties do not face an intoxicated man piloting a boat. With his coordination and judgment impaired, this boater is literally an accident waiting to happen.

Boaters should be aware of the fact that it is against the law to operate a vessel "in a reckless and negligent manner so as to endanger the life, limb or property of any person."

Safe boating practices are not difficult to adopt and most simply involve common sense. It is a good idea to take some kind of safe boating course before attempting to pursue this sport. The Coast Guard Auxiliary offers many classes statewide. Familiarizing yourself with the waters you will be boating on and learning the "rules of the waterways" will go a long way toward making boating a pleasurable experience, not a tragic one.

Playgrounders Looking Forward to Fairs, Circus Week

During nature week, playgrounders had many new experiences. In addition to weekly activities, scavenger hunts, nature hikes and rock races and hunts made it a busy week for all. Playgrounders are anticipating an exciting fair week. Circus week will begin Monday with the weekly Memorial Pool swim. Other activities scheduled next week include Hobo Day, Everybody's Birthday and Balloon Ascension Day. More details on the week's activities can be found in the flyers and bulletins at every playground.

McKinley
As June rolled into July, the McKinley school entered the second week of its playground program, a week marked by games, contests, arts and crafts, and a theme of nature.

On Monday, children began the week by swimming in the Memorial Pool in the morning and by playing games and coloring pictures in the afternoon.

As Tuesday began, the children engaged in softball practice in preparation for a game in the morning against the Tamaques playground. In the game, the game started with Tamaques getting two runs in the first inning. In the bottom of the sixth inning, two runs were scored by McKinley, and subsequently the game ended in a tie.

The highlight of Tuesday afternoon was the bike rodeo, in which children got to display their bicycles and their bike riding technique. First prize was awarded to Adam Bortoff, who performed a number of stunts. Second prize went to Andrea Strond, whose bicycle was best decorated. Third prize went to Nicky Constantino, who also showed his riding talents.

On Wednesday morning, the kids played games of tetherball and nok hockey, and the main event of the afternoon was the scavenger hunt. As the theme of the week was nature, the children had to find such things as twigs and berries. The prizes were awarded to the teams that collected all the items fastest. First place went to Adam Bortoff and Dan Truong, second place to Becky and Amy Clark, and third place to Lisa DeGutis and La-Tesha Holmes. Later on during the afternoon, rocks collected were painted and glittered.

On Thursday, the playground was closed for the Fourth of July and was reopened the next day. Mr. Hawkins came on Friday morning to lead the children in making art projects. In the afternoon, the kids participated in the usual games and crafts. Citizens of the week were La-Tesha Holmes and Stacy Reeves.

Jefferson
On Monday, July 1, the playgrounders opened the week at the Memorial Pool. Despite the cool weather, 20 playgrounders came out for the swim. In the afternoon they played games and did crafts.

On Tuesday, July 2, the Jefferson Playground softball team opened its season with a win over Franklin School. The team traveled to Franklin to secure a 13-5 victory. Included in the line up were players Gina Lukaszewicz pitcher, Jim Jividen at first base, Mark Coxson at second base, Pat Cosquer at third base, Jeff Suto at short stop, Glen Wojcik and Ed Preter alternating right field, Chris Wojcik and Gary McMillan alternating at mid-field, Kevin Boyle and Paul Baly alternating at center field, Rich Fella in left field, and Ken Topolewski and Mike Albanese alternating at catcher. Both teams played very well during the opening and looked ready for a fun and competitive season of softball.

Tuesday afternoon the playground held sunglasses day. Some of the playgrounders decorated their sunglasses and eagerly awaited the results which followed. Most original: Janine Guttiko - first place; Dana McMillan - second place; Karen McGuler - third place; Most Creative: Lee Listewski and Gina Lukaszewicz - tie for first place; Kerry Capone - second place; Most Unique: Pretre - third place; Prettiest color: Kathleen O'Hanlon and Lisa Brown - tie for first place; Punkiest: Diana Daniels - first place; Biggest: John Bruett - first place; Funkiest: Richard Fella and David Fella - tie for first place; Amy Guttiko - second place; Kevin Brown - third place; Coolest:

Wednesday arrived with the annual Wheels on Parade in the afternoon. The decorated bicycles were lined up on the grounds as the children anxiously awaited the parade. After riding around the playground the results of the contest were announced. They are as follows: Most Original: Paul Wengertler and Judith Wengertler - tie for first place; Thomas Wengertler - second place; Kevin Brown - third place; Toughest Looking: Bobby Meyer - first place; Chris DeMonico - second place; Cutest: Robert Pelosi - first place; Mike Pelosi - second place; Most Creative: Matt Hammond - first place; Debbie Salem - second place; Most Unique: Craig Heim - first place; Jeanine Guttiko - second place; Jeff Checchio - third place; Most Colorful: Amy Guttiko - first place; Kerry Capone - second place; Lisa Brown - third place; Brightest: Lucy Valkenberg - first place; Most Patriotic (appropriate for July 4): Shawn Touzeau and John McCormack - tie for first place. Other participants in the parade were Chris Wojcik, David Coldner, Kevin Boyle, Glen Wojcik, Chris Teitelbaum, Paul Baly, and Kevin Toth. After the parade the children spent a quiet afternoon doing crafts and playing stickball.

Wilson
Wilson playground began Nature Week with a scavenger hunt. Some of the objects found were clovers, pine needles, various bugs and rocks. The rocks were saved and later used in a create-your-own-pet-rock craft. The playgrounders were put on teams of two. The quickest scavengers who returned with all the objects were the teams of Scott and Audrey Desch, and Eileen Rock and Jennifer Gavino. Each team earned a first place ribbon.

The penny hunt's results are as follows: out of about three hundred pennies that were hid, Brad Northrup came back with eighty-three, earning him first place. Jennifer Gavino returned with fifty-three and Chris DeMasi found thirty-five. Ribbons were given or various types of pennies. The dirtiest penny was found by Chris Lenton and the shiniest was found by Lindsay Napor. Matthew DeMasi had the best Canadian penny. The ribbons for oldest and newest penny went to Jamie DeChellis for his 1959 penny and to Eddie Bartolomeo for his 1976 penny.

Mr. Hawkins came on Tuesday for an art lesson after a Bonaparte tournament with players including Rob Cook, Chris Lenton, Adam Yannuzzi, and Abigail Bomba. The art lesson lasted about an hour, and the playgrounders made "grass-flowers" from colored paper.

On Wednesday, all the playgrounders brought their lunches for Bring-a-Lunch day. Along with this, there was a bike Parade with many bikes decorated for the Fourth of July holiday.

After a holiday on the Fourth of July, the playgrounders came back for a hike for lunch at Mindowaskin Park. Friday was hobo day, and the playgrounders brought products of all their interests.

In the coming week, Circus Week, plenty is scheduled. Monday the playgrounders will walk to Baskin Robbins in town. Wednesday is Everybody's Birthday Party, and Friday will end the week with a balloon ascension.

Franklin
It was a busy week at the Franklin playground as the playgrounders competed in a baby picture contest, a Nok-Hockey tournament and an obstacle course, along with their first softball game. After a tedious judging period by leaders Bonnie Anderson and Kris Haag, winners in the Franklin Baby Picture contest were: Brian Parks, Kim Musler, Eddie Joffe, Allegra Flore, Steven Shannon, Gina Anspach, Alicia Manion, Elizabeth Shannon, Andrew Shannon, Brian Joffe and Lauren McGovern.

The Nok-Hockey Tournament drew an eighteen participant field as Mike Payne and Megan Joyce came out on top in their respective divisions. Second place ribbons were given to Brian Ramsthaler and Jennifer Kassakian while third place ribbons were given to Edward Joffe and Kim Musler.

Other participants included: Trudy Schundler, Lee Musler, Keith Zadorian, Corey Hayes, Chris Payne, John Fox, Rusty Schundler, Pat Glynn, Lee Topar, Casey Noerr and Tommy Anspach.

The Obstacle Course was by far the most popular event of the week as 24 playgrounders competed. In the end, Megan Joyce won first place while Nate Lee and T.J. Bergeron placed second and third respectively.

Also turning in good times were Chris O'Connell, Brad Ainsley, Ryan Orzillo, Jeff Bernstein, Melvin Williams, Mary Kate Killeary, Paul Hayes, Amanda Kong, Caitlan Jordan, Brad Jankowski, Noelle Bergeron, Kenny Silverman, Kim Robinson, Laura Silverman and David Schaller. The only disappointment in the playgrounders week was in their softball game against Jefferson. Franklin staged a valiant comeback in the late innings of the ballgame, but came up short.

Good plays were turned in by Mark Schundler, Scott Tinervin, Matt and Mike Commandini, and Chris Rogoso.

Citizens of the Week for the first week of playground activity were Patrick Glynn and Andee Moore.

Tamaques
Tamaques Playground continues to bubble over with exciting competitions and enthusiastic campers and counselors. On Thursday, the playground activities included a kickball game in the morning and arts and crafts in the afternoon. Also, Thursday afternoon marked the first of the weekly movies.

On Friday morning, Tamaques was presented with two additional counselors, Bill Connolly and Jeff Weill. Bill is a student at William and Mary in Virginia. Jeff is a student at Brandeis University.

Due to the threat of rain, Friday morning activities were held in the gymnasium. The skies were grey but the faces were bright and the excitement was high as the playgrounders participated in various activities such as Dodgeball and Tag. Friday afternoon the grounds were closed due to the rain.

The next week began the weekly Monday morning swim at Memorial Pool from 10:30-11:30. Then in the afternoon, the playgrounders participated in Rock Day. First they were able to let their creativity flow by painting their rocks. They put their hearts and souls into the rocks, and many interesting works of art emerged. When the painted rocks had dried in the summer sun, the competition began. The first set of contests consisted of rolling the rocks down the slide. The winners of the slowest rocks in age group 5-6-7 were Brian Murphy, Matthew Cognetti, and Elizabeth Cooke. For the fastest rock winners in order were Elizabeth Bredlan, Greg Dial, and Matthew Cognetti. The winners of the same age group for the rock that went the furthest was awarded to Elizabeth Bredlan.

Judith L. Ellsworth Weds Vincent L. Gaul

Judith Louise Ellsworth, daughter of Mrs. Paul F. Hawkins of Westfield, and the late Robert E. Ellsworth, became the bride of Vincent Leslie Gaul in Tyler, Tex., on Saturday, June 8. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha Gaul of Tyler, and Dr. Roy D. Gaul of Houston.

The marriage was performed in the Green Acres Baptist Church by the Rev. Jerry Williams, with a reception following. Special music for piano and organ was arranged by Edmund Kerr of Lindale, Tex.

Escorted to the altar by Paul F. Hawkins, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with an overlay of English net embroidered with a small flower motif. The high crown collar and bodice were of matching Schiffli embroidery. The bishop sleeves were of embroidered English net, and the chapel train was framed by a wide ruffle flounce of Schiffli. The bride chose a matching lace cap with pearl accent and a fingertip illusion veil edged with Schiffli. She carried a bouquet of sonia roses, sym-bidium orchids and stephanotis on a family Bible.

Mrs. Richard K. Herrman of Columbus, Ohio, was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Margaret Smith of Westfield was maid of honor, with Miss Candace Power of Carmel, Ind., serving as bridesmaid. The attendants wore pale peach coupe de ville with an ecru overlay of organza, accented with a flowery lace trim. They carried long stemmed sonia roses and baby's breath with peach ribbon. Flower girls were the Misses Crystal and Anna Olson, with Miss Jerilynne and Master Christopher Williams as ringbearers. The girls wore peach dotted Swiss and carried nosegays of starburst poms and sonia roses.

Serving as best man was Mark Olson of Little Rock, Ark. Ushers were Warren Gaul, brother of the bridegroom, from Waco, Tex., and Steve Miller of Lindale.

Mrs. Gaul is a 1978 graduate of Westfield High School and Indiana University at Bloomington, in 1982, where she earned a B.S. degree in public affairs management and administration. She was employed as a computer operator and secretary for Harvest Ministries.

Roberta L. Walbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence

Carolyn J. Wells and Alan C. Partridge Wed

Carolyn June Wells of Saxtons River, Vt., formerly of Westfield, and Alan Cheney Partridge of South Windham, Vt., announce their marriage of June 22, at an outdoor garden ceremony and reception at the Vermont home of the bridegroom's parents, Capt. (U.S.N. Retired) and Mrs. Benjamin W. Partridge of South Windham. The bridegroom's mother, the Rev. Cora Cheney Partridge, an Episcopal priest, held a communion service and conducted the wedding ceremony with family members participating in reading the Scriptures. The bridegroom's family hosted a rehearsal party at their home.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Wells of Westfield, wore an ecru cotton Edwardian wedding dress she made herself.

It featured a lace trimmed yoke of tiny tucks with lace inserts which continued in a panel to the hem with a section of tucks around the fitted waist and long puffed sleeves with bands of lace. Lace insertions formed an intricate design on the full circle skirt which ended in a wide ruffle. All the lace used had belonged to the bride's two grandmothers. She wore her great-grandmother's family heirloom rosepoint and duchesse lace wedding veil, first worn in 1885, and carried a bouquet of pale blue, white and beige silk flowers which were caught up in the wide silk gauze bow, once carried by her grandmother. The bridegroom wore a beige embroidered Philippine dress barong.

Barbara Wells Hotelling of Saxtons River, matron of honor for her sister, wore a long navy blue skirt scattered with tiny beige flowers, which was trimmed with beige lace and narrow bands of beige satin, and a beige Victorian cotton and lace blouse. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pale peach, blue and beige silk flowers. Cassandra June Hotelling and Rosie Friedman of New York, nieces of the bride couple, were flower girls and wore lavender, blue and white dresses and carried baskets of potpourri which were decorated with flowers, lace and white ribbons.

Capt. Partridge was best man for his son. Also in the wedding party were the bride's young sons by her previous marriage, Mathias Gene and Tyler Wells Hotelling, and her nephew Dustin Lewis Hotelling.

Mrs. Partridge graduated from Westfield High School and New York University with a degree in oceanography. Mr. Partridge is a graduate of the Vermont Academy and the University of Vermont with a degree in economics. He is self-employed.

Following a wedding trip to Martha's Vineyard, the couple resides in South Windham.

Eye Openers

FARSIGHTED AND UNDER FORTY

Hyperopia is the textbook name for farsightedness. Any individual, even a child, may be plagued by this condition which makes it difficult to focus on near objects, while no difficulty is experienced when looking at things in the distance.

Sometimes hyperopia causes blurred vision. Some patients maintain clear, close vision by "overworking" their eyes when focusing on letters or numbers. In time, this "overworking" produces headaches, fatigue, and eyestrain.

Uncorrected hyperopia often causes the individual to shun near vision tasks for any sustained length of time. In children, it frequently causes reading problems that compound as the student grows older.

A skilled eye doctor will discover this condition with a thorough examination. Glasses are usually prescribed for reading and other close work.

Greg Dial and Brian Murphy.

Winners in the 8-9-10-11 year olds slide contests were, slowest Scott Murphy with first, Greg Murphy's two rocks taking second and third place ribbons. For the fastest winners were Susan Bredan, Marcus Cognetti and tie for third Colette Carmen and Greg Murphy. Finally, for the farthest rocks in the 8-9-10-11 year old group, the winners were Scott Murphy, Colette Carmen and Susan Bredan, taking the first, second and third place ribbons.

After the rocks came a tumbling down the slide, the counselors judged them for their artistic creativity. The Most Original Rock, Greg Dial won for the 5-6-7 year olds. Susan Bredan won for the 8-9-10 year olds, and Kathy Hanna won for the 11-12 year olds. In the Best Colors contest, Craig Carmen won the ribbon for ages 5-6-7, Amy Wheeler won for the 8-9-10 year olds. In the Weirdest Rock contest, the winners were Brian Murphy, Jeffery Williams and Scott Murphy. Finally, the winners for the rocks with the Best Name were Elbeth Cooke with her "me", Greg Murphy with "Wind Wally" and Scott Murphy with "Big Mouth".

On Tuesday, July 2 Tamaques playground was visited by Mr. Joel Hawkins who instructed the playgrounders in Arts and Crafts. While some of the kids were involved in Arts and Crafts at Tamaques School, others went to the McKinley School playground to play softball. The teams played a good game and ultimately tied at 2-2.

Wheels on Parade was the feature event of Tuesday afternoon. Many playgrounders adorned their two-wheelers creatively and rode them proudly around the playground.

"How to Study" Offered in Boro

A course in "How to Study" will be offered during the last 2 weeks in August for students entering grades 5-8. It will be held at Mountainside's Community Presbyterian Church.

"We are trying to meet the needs of students in the area who may be underachieving in school simply because they lack some very important study skills and test-taking skills," says Dihann Geier who will be teaching the course for her fourth year. "How to Study" was the most popular course at the Center for Intellectual Achievement in Princeton, a school for gifted and talented of which she was director in 1981. She explains, "Study skills seem to be a weak area for many students, regardless of how bright a child might be. This course is offered just before school opens in the fall to prepare students for the new school year."

The course will run two one-week sessions, Aug. 19-23 and 26-30 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Mrs. Harry C. Jester, Chapter Registrar, at right, is shown presenting volume of genealogical records to Reference Librarian Pamelyn Ferguson for inclusion in the library's Hopkins Room Collection.

DAR Presents Library With Historical Records

The Westfield Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution recently presented to the Westfield Memorial Library a collection of early genealogical records compiled by the chapter in April 1926.

The volume contains records of marriages, deaths, baptisms, funerals and burials — some going back 200 years — gleaned from early records of the Westfield Presbyterian Church and Cemetery. It also contains Bible records compiled then by the chapter's Genealogical Research Committee.

The Westfield DAR Chapter, organized in 1920, has 114 members. The DAR, whose members are descended from ancestors who fought for independence in the American Revolution, fosters patriotism and love of country as well as encouraging historic preservation and historical research.

Pat Miller, Trailside staff member, instructs participants making wreaths at Special Arts Festival.

Special Arts Festival For Handicapped at Trailside

Trailside Nature and Science Center in Watchung Reservation was the site of the fourth in the series of events in the Special Arts Festival for the Handicapped. Union County is cosponsoring these activities supplemented by a grant from the State Department of Community Affairs.

Participants at the Nature Crafts session made spring wreaths using spanish moss, statice, spring flowers and birds. They also saw a slide show presentation of Trailside activities and participated in a nature walk of the area.

After a brief summer hiatus, the year-long Festival will reusme on Sept. 14 at Rahway River Park with a presentation of and participation in dance aerobics. Needlecrafts at Mattano Park on Oct. 19 and sculpture ceramics at Cedar Brook Park on Nov. 16 will complete the scheduled events in the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation Special Arts Festival for the handicapped.

Any handicapped resident in Union County wishing more information of registration forms for any of these programs can call Elaine Stemmler at the Union County Department Park and Recreation.

Central Jersey Basketball Camp

Scheduled for August

The Central Jersey Basketball Camp, co-directed by Neil Horne and Wayman Everly, will again be held for two-six day sessions in August. The camp, located on the campus of the Lawrenceville School, is in its twelfth year of operation and has proven to be one of the most successful resident basketball camps in the area with more than 300 boys and girls attending the camp last summer. The camp staff is composed primarily of high school coaches and college players from Union, Somerset, Hunterdon and Mercer counties.

The Central Jersey Camp will offer a camp session for girls during the week of July 28 through Aug. 2, along with the boys. Chuck Preston, the highly successful girls basketball mentor at Bernards High School will co-direct this program.

The camp has featured many outstanding college coaches as guest lecturers in the past including Tom Young of Rutgers, Al LoBalbo and Lou Carnesecca of St. John's, Herb Magee of Philadelphia Textile, Fred Barakat of Fairfield, Rolie Massimino of Villanova, Rich Aduato, assistant coach with the New York Knicks, Pete Carril of Princeton, Bob Dukiet of St. Peter's and Jim Lynam, coach of the Portland Trailblazers, to name just a few. George Lehman, the former ABA scoring star who now tours the country teaching and demonstrating the art of shooting, will again be a lecturer along with several outstanding college coaches to be announced at a later date.

The 1st week of camp for boys and girls ages 9 - 17, will be held from Sunday, July 28 - Friday, Aug. 2. The second week will run from Sunday, Aug. 4 - Friday, Aug. 9. A boy may attend camp for either/or both sessions, while girls may attend the first week only. Anyone wanting further information may call Horne or Everly, both of Westfield any evening, or write to Horne at 627 Hanford Pl.

Alan Deombeleg, Allan Myself, and Milford Blonsky. The written reports of these visits were included with the other materials reviewed by the committee and used by them in arriving at an allocation. In her report to the board of trustees, Cassidy stated, "I believe the committee made these allocations in an equitable and compassionate manner and should be commended for a job well done."

"The $500,000 goal for the town campaign, scheduled to be kicked-off in September, is challenging; it's a 4% increase over last year's goal," said Austin B. Sayre, president of the Fund's board of trustees. "Building upon the success of the past ten years, we are confidently planning a campaign to meet this goal. Under the capable leadership of Frank Sullebarger and Larry Hartzell, general campaign co-chairman, combined with the efforts of every Westfielder, we should once again deliver every dollar allocated. These dollars provide the maximum in human services for all of us."

The annual drive provides much of the operating expenses for the 18 member agencies, which are the American Red Cross (Westfield-Mountainside chapter), Association for Advancement of Mentally Handicapped, Association for Retarded Citizens, Boy Scouts of America (Watchung Area Council), Catholic Community Services, Contact We Care, Girl Scouts (Washington Rock Council), Jewish Community Center, Union County Legal Services, Union County Psychiatric Clinic, United Cerebral Palsy League, USO, Visiting Homemaker Service, Visiting Nurse & Health Services, Westfield Community Center, Westfield Neighborhood Council, Westfield Y, and Youth and Family Counseling Services.

SPORTS NEWS

Foul Shooting, Skateboard Contests Added to Family Fun Day '85

New activities for basketball and skateboard enthusiasts are among the events being planned for the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce - The Westfield "Y" Family Fun Day '85. The eighth annual Fun Day is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 8, with most activities scheduled in Tamaques Park.

A basketball foul shooting contest, sponsored by All Star Sport Center Inc., will be conducted by Bill Kuchar at the Tamaques Park basketball courts from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Competition will be arranged in ten divisions: 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 year olds and 18 yr. old and over, with trophies awarded to all of the division champions. Kuchar, varsity basketball coach at Saint Joseph's High School in Metuchen, has run many similar foul shooting contests at the Rim & Net Basketball Camp he directs during the summer. Skateboard contests will be held at the Tamaques basketball courts from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. following the foul shooting contests. Freestyle skateboard champions will be named in three divisions: 12 yr. old and younger; 13-15 yr. olds; and 16 yr. old and older. Trophies will be awarded to the three freestyle skateboard champions and for the most decorative skateboard in each age division. Danny Bauer, All Star Sport Center's Skateboard specialist, will direct the competition, for which full safety equipment is required.

To enter the basketball and skateboard events, preregistration is required before Sept. 1. Forms and further information are available from Bill or Danny at the All Star Sport Center on Elm Street (closed Wednesdays). There is a $2 entrance fee for each event, which will benefit the Westfield Special Olympics.

Bowlers #1 in Men's Softball League Play

The Bowlers flexed their muscles and pounded DiIorio & DiIorio, 18-5, to take over first place in the Westfield Men's Softball League before a roaring crowd at Tamaques Park.

The Bowlers victory improved their record to 12-1, while D & D fell to 11-2. In other action, Jerseyland beat Jacobs Construction, 15-2, and Sacks Pac defeated Centennial Lodge, 3-2.

The Bowlers pounded out 22 hits in their romp past D & D.

The Bowlers exploded for nine runs on nine hits in the first inning. Owen Brand drilled a solo homer and Jim Piantowski slugged a three-run blast that reached the upper deck to highlight the nine-run eruption.

Brand, the Bowlers' slick-fielding shortstop, ended the game with three hits and two RBI. Pin finished four for four, drove in four runs and scored three times.

Jeff Kole had three hits and scored three runs, as did Dave Yacilla. Bruce Moran, Tim Laspe and Rod Yacilla each finished with two RBI.

Craig Nielson, Kevin Pecca and Diane Gryziec combined to hold D & D to four hits.

Earlier in the week, the Bowlers squeaked out a 4-2 victory over Greco's in eight innings. Rod Yacilla and Willie Obenry rapped two hits apiece to lead the attack.

EXTRA BASES: Special thanks to the guys from Union, which include Jim Jones, Tony Imbrago, Eric and Detroit Lions' fullback Dave D'Addio, for throwing a buffet for the Bowlers before their victory.

Coach Glen Kehler received a symbolic award for his devotion to the team.

Betty Conover to Compete In Hometown Race July 21

Betty Conover of Westfield, one of the state's premier female road racers, has accepted an invitation to compete in the Women on the Run Five Miler on July 21 in Westfield, race director Pat Goias announced today. Among her competition that day will be an Olympian, a five-time collegiate All-American and the winner of the recent Waterfront Marathon, as well as nine of the ten top-ranked road racers in the state.

Betty, who currently ranks tenth among New Jersey's female runners, was one of only a dozen women to receive an invitation to compete in the event.

"The addition of a runner of Betty's caliber to our already strong field helps ensure that we'll have our most competitive race ever," said Goias. "She's a proven winner and a tough competitor. We're thrilled she will be a part of this event."

Her toughest competition will come from three out-of-staters with national-class credentials. They are Julie Isphording of Cincinnati, who ran the first women's marathon in the 1984 summer Olympics in Los Angeles; defending champion Shelly Steely of Gainesville, Fla., who was a member of the U.S. national cross-country team which competed in the world championships in Portugal last winter; and Laura Alberts of Grand Rapids, Mich., who won the women's division of the Waterfront Marathon in May by a whopping ten minutes.

More than 2000 women are expected to compete in the five miler or accompanying two mile run, which has become New Jersey's largest all-women's sporting event. Thus far, entries have been received from 13 states. Prize money will be awarded to top finishers, as well as merchandise awards and trophies.

The races culminate Women's Running Week in New Jersey, as designated by Governor Tom Kean. Other activities include a free fitness seminar at the Ramada Inn, Clark, on Saturday, July 20. All events are sponsored by Women on the Run, a leading manufacturer of women's active wear. The Westfield race is the ninth of a national 11-race series which spans both coasts.

For further information on the races or the seminar, contact Tina DiRienzo of Westfield.

Twelves Open Season

The 12 year old Westfield All-Star Baseball team opened their summer season in Roselle Park. Playing one of the strongest games possible, Westfield moved out to a 7-0 lead with Roland Boyd hitting a two-run home run followed by a three run smash by Jeff Suto. Tim Dinan pitched three hitless innings, while striking out four Readington players. Jeff Suto, John Fox and Rich Fela made several strong plays in the field, while Pete Asselin collected two hits and was on base four times. The roof then caved in and, while a heavy rain fell, Westfield lost in the final inning 8-7, a strong defense and big offense bode well for the twelves when they play their other tournaments in Iselin, East Brunswick, Colonia, South Plainfield and Fords.

PCC 18-Holers

In a Red and White Tournament held by the women's 18-holers at Plainfield Country Club last week, winning four-somes were: first, Jane Weldon, Helen Jarema, Daria Romankow and Helen Kaskin net 60; tied for second, Carolyn Connelly, Kay Funkhauser, Carol Spein and Rose Scanlon; and Betty Doeringer, Sue Walker, Lois Bicknell and Elaine Lockwood, net 63; tied for third, Ruth Tate, Judy Dwyer, Lu Brower and Betty Fitzpatrick and Nancy Anne Gonder, Peg Thune, Mary Peck and Betty Critchley, net 64.

Anzelone Advances in AAU Track

Jenee Anzelone, a member of Holy Trinity's track team, won the Region II AAU Junior Olympic 11-12 year old 800 meter run with a time of 2:30.6.

The Regional Championship Meet, which was held June 30 in Ambler, Pa., brought together various district qualifiers from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware.

Being the Region II Champion qualifies Jenee to compete in the International Youth Meet of Champions to be held Aug. 3-4 at Plainfield's Hub-Stine Stadium.

Doubles Tournaments

Scheduled July 13, 14

A men's doubles and a women's doubles tournament for Westfield tennis players will be held on Saturday, July 13 and Sunday, July 14 at Tamaques Park in Westfield from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Interested teams can obtain entry forms from the Recreation Commission Office in the Municipal Bldg., All Star Sports Center III, and Rorden Realty.

Entry deadline is Thursday, July 11. Trophies will be awarded by the Westfield Tennis Association, tournament sponsor.

Colonias 8

The Westfield Nine's celebrated the 4th of July with their own fireworks display.

The team opened its season banging out 17 hits enroute to a 19-8 victory over Colonia in the Cranford Tournament.

Westfield jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead in the first as 11 batters came to the plate.

David Fela, Jeff Haag, Patrick Cosquer, Billy Rodd, Steve Flynn, Adam Yannuzzi and David Broad all scored in the inning.

Also aiding the rally was Rodney Hayes with an R.B.I. single.

Colonia rallied back in the middle innings cutting the margin to 10-4 after 4 innings.

Westfield regained its hitting touch with Keith Zadourian and David Fela ripping triples and Jeff Haag, Ron Mammiano, Kevin Boyle and Adam Yannuzzi adding singles.

Westfield continued its fireworks display exploding for four consecutive extra base hits producing the 19-8 final score.

Leading the offense was K. Zadourian with 4 R.B.I.'s, J. Haag and A. Yannuzzi with 3 R.B.I.'s each and D. Fela with 2 booming triples.

Adam Yannuzzi, Kevin Boyle and Pat Cosquer all turned in solid pitching performances in their tournament debut.

Kenilworth 2

Westfield chalked up its second win in the Cranford tournament on Saturday with a victory over Kenilworth. Falling quickly behind 1-0 after one inning, Westfield rallied back for four runs with Rodney Hayes, David Broad, David Fela and Steve Flynn all scoring.

Ron Mammiano delivered the key hit driving home two runs. Kenilworth cut the margin to 4-2 in the third but Westfield again came back.

Westfield pushed across three runs with Pat Cosquer and Keith Zadourian driving home runs making it 7-2. Steve Flynn and Jeff Haag raced home on a Ron Mammiano hit to cap the scoring giving Westfield a 9-2 victory.

Defense highlighted the game with the play-of-the-game award going to P. Cosquer, S. Flynn and A. Yannuzzi for picture perfect 6-4 double play to kill a Kenilworth rally. Pat Cosquer and David Fela both turned in strong innings on the mound.

Contact Helplines

Elect Officers

Contact-We Care and Deaf Contact, area 24-hour helplines for the troubled and the hearing-impaired, recently named Robert Barnum of Scotch Plains president succeeding Weyman Steengraef of Westfield.

Other officers elected by the phone center's board of directors are Nancy Enright of Cranford, vice-president; Paul Vignone of Summit, treasurer; and Robin Lueddeke of Kenilworth, secretary.

Contact-We Care (232-2880) earlier this year completed a decade of around-the-clock service for area people needing someone to talk to for virtually any reason. Its affiliate, Deaf Contact 201 (232-3333), enables the deaf to communicate over conventional telephones via relay through teletypewriter equipment. By means of its more than 100 trained volunteers, the agency handles some 2000 calls a month.

A 29-year local resident, Barnum is retired from Exxon Research. He is past president of the Fanwood Lions Club, has served on the boards of the Westfield Neighborhood Council and the First United Methodist Church, and is a member of the Lavallette Yacht Club. Enright, a contact telephone worker of several years, teaches at Seton Hall and Kean College, and is pursuing a doctorate at Drew University.

A graduate of LaSalle College and Seton Hall, Vignone is manager of the Prudential Insurance Co. Greater Newark Agency. He is a lawyer and a Certified Life Underwriter. Lueddeke, also a longtime area resident and contact volunteer, is a publisher's executive secretary.

Staff for Free Junior High Program Announced

Young people in grades seven through nine will be offered a special junior high program at Mountainside Gospel Chapel's free Daily Vacation Bible School from Aug. 6 through 10 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The Chapel is located at 1180 Spruce Dr., Mountainside.

The junior high program will include craft projects and activities and a trip to Great Adventure, according to the minister of Christian education and the school's director, the Rev. Robert R. Cushman.

The Rev. Cushman stated, "The school provided a learning environment that included recreational activities to develop good sportsmanship, a comprehensive music and Bible program planned to develop new skills and encourage wholesome interpersonal relationships. A staff of dedicated and responsible Christian adults, consisting of professionals, collegians and mature high school students, carries out the program."

A number of area residents will be assisting with the program, including teachers Mrs. John R. Farrington, Mrs. John Hoopgarner and Mrs. William A. Crane of Mountainside, and Mrs. John McGarvey, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Nahalka, Mrs. Jeffrey Drown and Eleanor Cortelyou of Scotch Plains, Mrs. Joseph Krason of Union, Hal Ottenstein of Elizabeth, and Mrs. Philip Ruecktenwald of North Plainfield.

Also teachers' helpers, Matthew Garippa, Kiri Schmey and Maria Bourlotos of Mountainside, Emilia Riccardi of Westfield, and Sharon Todd of Berkeley Heights. Baby care: Mrs. William S. Crane and Mrs. Richard Talcott of Fanwood, Chris Boneti, Mrs. Douglas Heyns and Kris Jensen of West-

Tony and Joan Monteleone

Monteleones Coordinate Transit For Encounter Convention

Tony and Joan Monteleone from Westfield recently completed their role as transportation coordinating couple for the Worldwide Marriage Encounter Convention, Celebrating '85 - The Journey and The Dream on June 28, 29, 30 at William Paterson College in Wayne. The convention was attended by an estimated 2500 married people and priests from Maine to Delaware and was the first of ten such conventions being held this summer across the nation. Unique to the Marriage Encounter Convention at Wayne was that presentations were made in English, Spanish and Korean and were signed for the hearing impaired.

While basically a regional convention, an international flavor was added with the attendance of a community of priests and couples from 7500 miles away in Korea.

The theme of the convention, "The Journey and The Dream", is based on the story of Don Quixote del Mancha and his beloved Dulcinea so often used by Marriage Encounter.

Messages of best wishes for the leadership and those in attendance at the convention were received from Pope John Paul II, President Ronald Reagan and Senators Bill Bradley and Frank Lautenberg.

The Monteleones experienced their initial Marriage Encounter Weekend some four years ago and, since that time, have been active as a presenting team couple on the Weekend of the Worldwide Marriage Encounter movement and have served in various leadership capacities. They have been married for 19 years and have two children, Kristine and Lisa.

SUMMER COLDS

Summer sniffles can seem worse than winter colds. The reason is because adenoviruses, one of the four groups of viruses primarily responsible for summer colds, can make one miserable with conjunctivitis. This virus can also make a cold last longer than at other times of the year. These viruses thrive in underchlorinated pools and swimming holes. Do not deprive yourself of water sports, however. Hundreds of other cold-causing viruses can survive on a variety of surfaces for hours at a time. You can catch a cold almost anywhere. Fight a summer cold by taking plenty of fluids. Perspiring depletes the body's fluids. If traditional cold remedies do not bring relief, allergies may be the problem.

HANDY HINT: If you get a "cold" at the same time each summer, it is probably an allergy.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

1985 Ideal Time to Buy Or Sell Real Estate

A number of leading indicators point to continued gains in the real estate and housing sectors of the nation's economy, according to the president of Weichert, Realtors.

"Interest rates, inflation, housing supply and demand — all indicate that the second half of 1985 will be a very good time to enter the real estate marketplace, either as a homebuyer, seller, or investor," said James M. Weichert, head of the real estate firm.

"Affordable interest rates, accessible mortgage money, and pent-up demand have created the most active marketplace in recent history."

"Property values are on the rise," said Weichert. "Demand for housing is increasing, which in turn boosts the value of real estate properties. In addition to providing a place to live, housing today is a better investment than ever. It's the ideal time to upgrade, and many homeowners are putting their property up for sale now to take advantage of the positive market conditions."

Trends in the demand for housing make the second half of 1985 a very good time to enter the real estate marketplace, said Weichert. "The nation's prime homebuying group — 20-39 years old — has increased by seven million in the last five years, and will increase by another two million by the end of 1986. But, there will only be about 1.5 million new housing starts in 1985, which is not enough new housing to fill the needs of this buying group. So, those people who now own their homes will be holding good investments in the long term."

Eileen Grace Wins Weichert Award

Eileen Grace of the Westfield staff of Weichert Realtors, has surpassed all previous sales and marketing records with 35 transactions that produced sales of more than $5 million. She was named by Westfield Weichert manager Lawrence Mueller as the highest dollar volume producer on the Westfield staff for 1984.

Mrs. Grace says that when she joined Weichert five years ago she promised herself to never "look at the dollar. The real reward is in finding just the right home for people, no matter how long that search may take."

Mueller says Mrs. Grace's success can be attributed to her "extensive real estate knowledge, her patience and her completely professional attitude."

Mrs. Grace has received Weichert's marketing and sales awards and has been named to the New Jersey Million Dollar Club for two consecutive years. She has a degree from the College of St. Elizabeth. She and her husband, Dan, have four daughters.

Weichert in Westfield is located at 185 Elm St., and is one of 93 offices the company has in the metropolitan area.

Elsa Wenger Joins Weichert

Elsa Wenger of Mountainside has joined the Weichert Westfield staff as a full time sales associate, Larry Mueller, Westfield manager, announced today.

Mrs. Wenger says, "Weichert is expanding its efforts in the Westfield area and I wanted to be part of this exciting and skillful company." She is a member of the Union County and Westfield Boards of Realtors. She has been involved in real estate in the Westfield, Cranford, Mountainside, Scotch Plains and Clark area.

She is a graduate of the State College Solothurn, Department of Commerce and Business, Switzerland. She is involved in activities of the YWCA and is a member of the Swiss Society of New York.

Mrs. Wenger and her husband, Franz, have lived in Mountainside for 15 years. In her spare time she enjoys swimming.

Weichert

Weichert's Local $ Million Group—Nine members of the Weichert, Realtors staff in Westfield were named to the New Jersey Million Dollar Club for 1984. They are, left to right, Lou Faruolo, Westfield assistant manager Joan Kasko, Harriet Kelber, Margaret Papp, Westfield manager Lawrence Mueller, Dorothea Baun, Joan DiFrancesco, Eileen Grace and Pierce Joyce. In order to qualify for this group, a sales associate must be responsible for at least $2 million in real estate transactions during the year.

Joan DiFrancesco Named To Million Dollar Club

Joan DiFrancesco has again been named to the New Jersey Million Dollar Club. Mrs. DiFrancesco is a full time sales associate on the Westfield staff of Weichert, Realtors.

Mrs. DiFrancesco says, "Weichert is so committed to excellence that we had more associates named to the state Million Dollar Club for the 11th straight year."

Mrs. DiFrancesco, a resident of Scotch Plains, is a licensed broker and is a member of the Somerset and Westfield Boards of Realtors, the New Jersey Association of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors.

She has qualified for the Weichert and the New Jersey Million Dollar Clubs for the past two years. She is the former owner of a travel agency and she retains this interest with travel as a hobby. She is also past president of the Scotch Plains Junior Women's Club and the School

Joan DiFrancesco

One PTA. She is a member of St. Bartholomew's Church in Scotch Plains. She and her husband, Ernest DiFrancesco Jr., have two sons, Dino and Ricky.

Jean Jackson Joins Weichert

Jean Jackson, a member of the Cranford Board of Realtors, has joined the Westfield office of Weichert, Realtors, according to Lawrence Mueller, manager.

Mrs. Jackson, who is a licensed broker, says, "The Weichert enthusiasm is contagious. Everyone on the staff is so hard-working and enthusiastic, I know I'm going to enjoy being part of this company."

Mrs. Jackson is the mother of three children who were professional models and the grandmother of five, Samantha, Chris, Jennifer, Brian and David, the newest family member, who was born Feb. 20. Mrs. Jackson and her husband, Gene, have lived in Rahway for 16 years. She enjoys swimming, travel and biking in her spare time.

Mrs. Jackson has lived in Italy and traveled in 17 foreign countries. "I think I can really appreciate the difficulties and the exciting parts of many moves," she said. I can help people who are moving into the area in finding the right community and adjusting to their new environment."

Weichert in Westfield is located at 185 Elm St.

Sylvia Cohen Qualifies For $Million Club

Sylvia Cohen, a sales associate on the staff of Weichert Realtors' Westfield staff has qualified for the 1985 Million Dollar Club again. She accomplished this by February, far ahead of the September deadline.

Mrs. Cohen is a member of the Westfield, Somerset and Summit Boards of Realtors. She has been named to Weichert sales and marketing clubs many times as well as the New Jersey Million Dollar Club. Last year Weichert again led in numbers of associates to be named to the NJ Million Dollar Club with 426 associates in the group.

Mrs. Cohen, who was a teacher before entering real estate, is a member of Temple Beth Or and lives in Scotch Plains. She and her husband, Samuel, have four children: Stuart, Fred, Larry and Joyce. In her spare time

Mrs. Cohen enjoys tennis, reading and music.

Boosts Summer as Season To Sell or Buy a Home

There was a time that every May a fresh crop of "for sale" signs would spring up with the crocuses, and the daffodils heralding the home selling season. But nowadays, the time to put your home on the market is no longer limited to a few brief months of spring — there are substantial advantages with every season.

Lawrence Mueller, manager of the Westfield office of Weichert Realtors, says, "Traditional thinking on the best time to sell has changed over the past ten years, while spring used to be the only appropriate season to sell, today's homeowner has more options and more say in making a move."

"The situation ten years ago was often very difficult for the homeowner, we saw couples separated for months because of a job transfer, the husband would precede the wife by months, while she waited out the time for the best selling season to roll around. Fortunately current real estate trends have made this circumstance a thing of the past,"

Mueller says.

Buyers and sellers in today's market are more aware of home items like home financing and energy efficiency and they move when they feel the time is right, for their family, not when a particular season rolls around, Mueller says.

The long, hot days of summer are a definite motivational point, Mueller points out. A family may decide they want to move to a home with a pool or central air conditioning, so they put their home on the market and look for these features.

Parents like to move in summer for their children's emotional well-being. A change in school during the year can be disruptive. A child settled in a new neighborhood prior to the beginning of school in September is likely to feel better adjusted for school.

And, from a very practical standpoint, summer can be a great time to move because you can get the new lawn into shape, apply a fresh coat of exterior paint or install new gutters.

Housing Market Reflects

Continued Optimism

The steady decline in mortgage interest rates has brought continued optimism to the real estate market and has allowed many families to qualify for home purchases, says Ann Allen, vice president of Alan Johnston Inc.

She also cites figures from the National Association of Realtors indicating that the typical American family in March had 89.4 percent of the income needed to qualify for a home selling for $74,500. The NAR's affordability index has not been at this high a level since November, 1979, when it stood at 92.1 percent.

Ann Allen adds that current mortgage interest rates are at their lowest level since spring 1983. In addition, the boom in May in apartment construction sent housing starts at their highest rate in a year.

In making her observations, Allen echoed the sentiments of White House presidential spokesman Larry Speakes, who recently noted, "Prospects for continued growth in the housing industry were boosted when Bankers Trust Co. of New York, the nation's eighth largest bank, cut its prime lending rate to 10 percent, the lowest level in six years."

"Today's real estate market offers outstanding opportunities," Allen adds. "There is a lot of pent-up desire on the part of 'move-up' buyers who are being attracted to larger properties now while prices and interest rates stabilize and homes are still within their affordability ranges. Earlier, these buyers were reluctant to get into the market for fear they could not sell their current homes. The market also is most favorable for first-time buyers. The time to buy is definitely now since many indicators point to an improved economy," she emphasizes.

As for the immediate home buying future, Allen cites a recent survey of RELO-member brokers which noted that prices of existing single-family homes will remain stable through the second quarter of 1993 and little change from the present is expected in mortgage interest rates in the next several months.

That survey of relocation specialists also revealed that a continuing high level of transferee activity by corporations is anticipated this year. "The increase in relocation activity being reported, particularly by corporations, provides optimism for a banner year in the relocation field as well," contends Allen.

Allen points out that the RELO Service network, of which Alan Johnston, Inc. is a member, is composed of nearly 1,100 member companies with more than 2,800 offices nationwide and stands ready to provide personalized service to transferring individuals and their families.

Alan Johnston, Inc. is a member of RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service, the nation's oldest and largest referral network of independent real estate brokers headquartered in Chicago. The RELO Service network this year is celebrating its 25th anniversary of helping individuals and families sell a house in one geographic area and purchase a home in another.

Hye-Young Choi Named

Top County Sales Associate

Hye-Young Choi, a sales associate with Schlott Realtors' office in Westfield, has been named top salesperson in Union County for the month of May. She earned the honor by attaining a listings and sales production greater than any of Schlott's Union County associates. Her sales volume over six weeks totaled more than $1.8 million.

A member of the Westfield and Union County Boards of Realtors, Mrs. Choi joined Schlott Realtors last year. She already is a leading sales producer in her office.

Before beginning her real estate career, Mrs. Choi was an accomplished actress and opera singer. One of her most successful roles was in the "King and I" with Yul Brynner on Broadway. She has appeared in recitals at Carnegie Hall and at the Royal Festival Hall in London, and has won numerous awards.

Hye-Young Choi

Mrs. Choi holds two master's degrees in music and music education. She formerly taught music courses at area colleges as well.

A native of Korea, Mrs. Choi has lived in New York City and now resides in Cranford with her husband.

Highland Sharks Bombard Barracudas

Highland Swim Club welcomed Willow Grove Swim Club to the first swim meet of the 1985 Westfield Outdoor Swim League season. The Highland Sharks bombarded the Barracudas to stretch their winning streak to 33 consecutive victories. Final score of the meet was Sharks 246, Barracudas 115.

Three Sharks' records fell on opening day. Eight year old Caroline Faraldo set a new record in the 25 meter freestyle with her time of 17.08. Christine Knudsen set the mark in two events with her 15.13 in the 25 meter freestyle and her 20.49 in 25 meter breaststroke for 9/10 girls.

The Sharks will swim at Nomahegan Club on Saturday morning.

On Sunday evening the powerful Sharks, composed of 125 teammates will compete in the Cranford Relays at the Cranford Municipal Pool complex. Highland will endeavor to regain the #1 spot it narrowly missed in 1984.

Business Briefs

Thomas A. Andruskevich of Westfield is the new vice president of education and professional development of the New York chapter of the National Association of Accountants. Andruskevich is senior vice president of finance of Tiffany & Co. Previously, he served the NAA as vice president of administration and director of technical programs.

Mr. Andruskevich is a graduate of Lehigh University. He lives here with his wife Connie.

Sabin Phelps, senior counsel for the international division of McKesson Corp. in San Francisco, has been named general counsel of the international office of The Nature Conservancy in Washington, D.C. He is the son of Julian Phelps of Westfield.

Phelps has been with McKesson since 1978. He was formerly with the San Francisco law firm of Sullivan, Jones & Archer and the New York City law firm of Conboy, Hewitt, O'Brien & Boardman. Prior to that Phelps spent two years with the U.S. Peace Corps in Colombia and later operated a wilderness trekking company in that country.

He is a 1963 graduate of Amherst College and received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1968. Phelps is married to the former Shirley Shoemaker of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The Nature Conservancy is a nonprofit land conservation organization which owns and manages the most extensive private refuge system in the U.S.

Former resident William L. Brower Jr. has been promoted to vice president, finance and will assume the responsibilities of chief financial officer at McNeil Consumer Products Company in Fort Washington, Pa.

Brower began his career with Johnson & Johnson, the parent corporation of McNeil, in 1967. He joined McNeil Laboratories, Inc. in 1977 as controller. He was promoted to assistant treasurer of McNeil Pharmaceutical in 1978 and appointed vice president, finance and chief financial officer of McNeil Pharmaceutical in 1983.

A native of Westfield, Brower currently resides in Hopewell Township. He is a graduate of Lehigh University and received an M.B.A. from that university. Brower served as a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army from 1967-1969.

The investment firm of Smith Barney has announced the appointment of Westfield resident Ronald T. Dilks, vice president, sales division, to resident manager of the firm's 650 Fifth Avenue branch, in Manhattan.

Dilks has been with the firm since November, 1984 and was previously employed for 16 years by Thomson McKinnon Securities, Inc.

A graduate of Villanova University in Philadelphia, Dilks now resides here with his wife and two sons.

Kenneth M. Lantz

The appointment of Kenneth M. Lantz as a Division Vice President at Fieldcrest Mills Inc., New York, was recently announced by Herbert M. Bergen, Jr., President, Bed and Bath Division of the North Carolina company, nationally known manufacturers of home textiles and carpets and rugs sold under the Karastan Label.

Born in Plainfield, Lantz joined Fieldcrest in 1980 as a sales representative in the Minneapolis area. Later transferred to Los Angeles, he had the distinction of being number one in West Coast sales for two years in succession.

Transferred to New York in 1982 to take on responsibilities as product manager for Fieldcrest's bath products, he has been working directly with plants located in Columbus, Ga. and Scottsboro, Ala.

His current promotion as Division Vice President keeps him in the area of marketing bath rugs.

Mr. Lantz is a graduate of Rider College, where he obtained a B.A. degree in political science. A resident of Westfield, he lives with his wife, the former Gail Bornkamp and their son, Ken Lantz, Jr. He devotes what spare time to golf and gardening. His mother, Mrs. Fred Lantz, lives in Matawan.

James F. Boyle, assistant vice president in the Westfield office of Butcher & Singer Inc., has been appointed to the company's President's Club. The President's Club is composed of a select membership that has demonstrated outstanding sales leadership.

Boyle holds a B.A. degree from Yale University. Prior to joining Butcher & Singer 4½ years ago, Boyle was a senior investment officer at Fidelity Union Trust Company.

Butcher & Singer Inc., a member of the New York Stock Exchange, is one of the largest regional brokerage firms in the nation. The Westfield office, one of 31 in 11 states, is located at 127 Central Ave.
