"Good" and "Really Good" News On Local Students' Test Scores

There is "good news" and "really good news" about the test results for Westfield public school students in grades 9, 10, 11 and 12 who took the state-mandated Minimum Basic Skills tests in reading and mathematics this year.

The "really good news," according to David J. Rock, director of instruction for the school system, is that: "Of the total tested population, 496 or 99.96% met the State's standards in reading and 501 or 99.97% met the State's standards in mathematics."

"Our students continue to perform well on tests required by the State Department of Education," said Dr. Rock.

The "good news" is that in the high school in the 1985-1986 school year, there are just 22 students remaining deficient in skills necessary for graduation. The remaining 1,434 tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade students have already met the Minimum Basic Skills requirements or have been exempted from the requirement because of a handicapping condition.

Students who have successfully passed the State's Minimum Basic Skills requirements in reading and mathematics will continue to work toward meeting other State and local Board of Education curriculum and credit requirements so that they can qualify for a high school diploma.

Of the 22 students still deficient, four are seniors, four are juniors and 14 are sophomores.

Some students need help in both computation and communication skill development while others are deficient in one or the other. The staff will be working with 15 cases of extra help in developing computational skills and 18 needs for communication skill development. "All students who are able to pass the Senate tests must do so in order to graduate," said Dr. Rock.

"We will communicate with parents of those students needing remediation to seek their cooperation and we, as a team of educators, will do all that we can to help each and every student achieve these basic skill levels."

Art Show and Sale to Benefit Hospital

A collection of original oil paintings and watercolors with subjects and themes ranging from country scenes to still-life compositions in juvenile settings currently decorate the halls at Children's Specialized Hospital.

The paintings are part of the hospital's first Westfield Art Association Show which will be in progress through Sept. 18. All the works are on sale and a percentage of each sale will be donated to the hospital by the artist.

Paintings hanging in the show include: "Out on a Limb" and "Still Life with Copper Kettle" by Francis Aldi; "Window Series #3" by Carol Balliett; "Romance" and "Jerusalem" by

Principals' Transfers Evoke Protests, 6-2 Board Vote

"One hard decision."

This is how Board of Education President Leo Senus described the board's 6-2 vote to name Margaret Scheck principal of Wilson School, to shift Wilson principal Frank Almroth to McKinley school and McKinley principal C. Wilson Jackson to Jefferson School. Scheck was recently hired by the district as an unassigned elementary school principal.

Senus was joined by Gail Cassidy, vice president of the board, in voting against the move, saying after the meeting that they had backed an alternate resolution, but declined to specify its nature.

The school board's decision followed a recess of a little more than an hour which was called following public discussion of the motion to transfer principals.

Close to 50 parents — many of them from either McKinley or Wilson School — attended the special session to voice their opinions. Wilson parents generally pushed for the change but McKinley parents were concerned about losing Jackson.

Citing a "personality conflict" at Wilson School, Mrs. R.A. Dexter of Kimball Ave., said a new principal will diffuse "a tense and hostile situation" at Wilson with a "fresh new start." Reappointment of staff, added a Kimball Circle resident, offers a "challenge" which often brings out the best in individuals.

266 At Summer School

School may be closed for summer vacation for Westfield Public School students but there are 266 students attending the Academic Summer School and more than 170 staff members are working as 12-month employees, as Summer School teachers or in summer curriculum writing workshops.

This year's Academic Summer School for make-up and review has an enrollment of 266 which is just about the same as last year.

Florence Senyk, assistant principal at the high school, is serving as principal of the Summer School. Robert Eyre, English teacher at the high school, is serving as administrative intern assisting the principal of the Summer School.

About 50 of the students attending the Westfield Summer School are from out of the school district. This is a comparable number to the out-of-district enrollment last year. Summer School is tuition free for

Some Home Additions Require Town Approval of Variances

Fourth in a series
on home remodeling
Find your lot is too shallow or too narrow for the kind of renovation you are planning? Do your remodeling plans fail to meet other zoning standards? Were you told by the town's building official that you cannot get a building permit unless you are granted a variance by the Board of Adjustment or the Planning Board?

Under current land use ordinance restrictions, some types of appeals may be heard by either the Planning Board or the Board of Adjustment, whose members are appointed for varying terms by the mayor and council.

First step is to visit either Eleanor Sanford, secretary of the Board of Adjustment, Dorothy Muth, secretary of the Planning Board, or any official connected with the building department which is headquartered in the Public Works Center, 959 North Ave. West (corner of Crossway Pl.) Town employees are very helpful, can advise you on the necessary steps needed to be included on a future agenda of the board which handles the type of variance you may require.

What happens then? Applications generally should be made to town boards a month in advance of public meeting dates, so plan ahead.

Property owners applying for a variance to the zoning code have certain responsibilities. They must supply required plans (and in sufficient number) to the board hearing the case as well as publish a legal notice in the official newspaper (Westfield Leader) at least 10 days in advance of the meeting. Property owners within 200 feet of the property involved in the application must be notified of the request for a variance either by certified mail or in person. The town, state, or county must also be advised if the variance applies to property within 200 feet of land owned by any of them. Some fees are involved, depending upon the type of appeal.

The Board of Adjustment generally meets the third Monday of each month, the Planning Board on the first Monday of the month. Both boards meet at 8 p.m. in the council chambers of the Municipal Building.

The proponent of the appeal, whether it be the property owner, someone who needs a variance in order to sell the property in question, or an attorney, is called upon to present his or her case. At either board meeting, views of residents and particularly of neighbors in the vicinity are welcome, and often provide board members of a clearer view of the situation, whether speakers are supporting or opposing a variance proposal. Witnesses are often asked questions by board members and sometimes "expert testimony" — such as from realtors or traffic safety consultants — augment the appeal (or opposition) to an appeal.

Meetings are generally fairly low-key, with the Board of Adjustment, because of its specific responsibilities, possibly the more formal of the two. Those who really want to plan well in advance might benefit by attending a meeting of the board before which they appear in advance if they wish to see how cases are handled.

Actions taken by the boards are official following publication of their decisions.

As seen from its Summit Lane entrance, the new "state of the arts" Watchung Stables boasts accommodations for 100 horses.

A young equestrienne mounts her horse at the new Watchung riding facilities, which are now open to the public. Lessons and rentals are available on an hourly basis.

500 Spectators Join Mounts At County Stables' Opening

Approximately 500 spectators turned out Saturday for the opening ceremonies at Union County's new Watchung Stables, on Summit Lane in the Borough of Mountainside. The relocation of the stables was necessitated by the construction of Interstate 78.

Following the lowering of the American flag and the playing of taps at the old stables, a procession of 70 horses ridden by senior troopers was led by members of the children's troop on foot and Lakeland Brass, a band from Rockaway Township. Other riding clubs and organizations affiliated with the stables including the Junior Essex Troop were represented.

The cavalcade paraded down Glenside Ave., past Lake Surprise, reaching the new complex by a back road.

Thomas Nolan, county director of parks and recreation, introduced several guest speakers, including Union County Manager Louis J. Coletti, and Vincent Murphy, president of the U.S. Equestrian Team.

Bill Keegan, a former Watchung riding instructor, was given the honor of cutting the ribbon to the stable's center corridor.

Riders then proceeded to lead their mounts into the new stable. Several horses, apparently excited by the day's festivities and the band, could not be induced to enter their new home until they had been walked around the unfamiliar surroundings. Other horses, already secured in their stalls, made a break for freedom, snapping their lead ropes and bolting into the crowds, before being recaptured.

The ceremonies concluded with the raising of the flag and the release of blue and gold balloons, the Watchung Troop's colors.

Still under construction, the new stables will feature stalls for 100 horses, four rings, an outside course, an isolation barn for 10 animals, hay and straw storage facilities, an equipment shed, paddock and riding trails.

The public is invited to visit the new facilities and enjoy the activities available as of July 23.

Somerset Hills Wind Ensemble To Perform at Mindowaskin

The Somerset Hills Wind Ensemble under music director and conductor Barry Furrer will return to Mindowaskin Park on Thursday, Aug. 8 at 8 p.m.

The Basking Ridge based ensemble consists of 40 musicians made up of professional players, music teachers, college and all-state level high school students.

Thursday's program will include the marches "Fairest of the Fair" by John Philip Sousa and Sweeley's march "Repas de Band." The overtures to Verdi's "Nabucco" and von Suppe's "Light Cavalry" will be heard along with Bucalossi's descriptive piece "A Hunting Scene."

Featured soloists include Christopher Hill of Ringoes performing von Weber's "Concertino for Clarinet" and Matthew Paterno of Belle Mead giving his rendition of DeLuca's euphonium solo "Beautiful Colorado."

Special guest soloist is trombonist Steven Dillon of Edison performing Del Riego's "O Dry Those Tears." Dillon is the leading authority on research of Arthur Pryor who was trombone soloist in Sousa's Band. Pryor played ten thousand solos with Sousa between 1892 and 1903 and the Del Riego composition was Pryor's favorite encore piece following one of many difficult solos he performed. Dillon, who is preparing a book on Pryor, will play the work on Pryor's 1893 custom-made trombone. A six-piece dixieland band will be featured in Warrington's arrangement "Original Dixieland Concerto" based on three well known tunes.

Two turn-of-the-century novelties will highlight the program. They are "The Whistler and His Dog" composed by Arthur Pryor, and John Bratton's "The Teddy Bear's Picnic." Both works employ special sound effects supplied by designated band members.

Familiar works to be performed are "Armed Forces Salute" arranged by Bob Lowden and selections from Rodgers & Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music" which is celebrating the 30th anniversary of the motion picture.

The concert is free and open to the public. Lawn chairs are suggested and in the event of rain, the concert will be canceled. The concert is part of the summer band concert series sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Department.

Pharmacy volunteer: Jeanne Gallagher of Mountainview is a mother, a wife and a valued volunteer in the Children's Specialized Hospital pharmacy in Mountainview.

Helping to rebuild lives: William Geary of Scotch Plains used to build buildings, now he's helping rebuild lives as a volunteer working with Dawn and other head-injured children in the cognitive remediation program at Children's Specialized Hospital.

Volunteers with Varied Skills Needed at Children's Hospital

William Geary of Scotch Plains worked in construction as a pipe-fitter before he retired. Now he is a volunteer at Children's Specialized Hospital.

Jeanne Gallagher of Mountainview is a wife and mother. She too uses her acquired talents and skills while volunteering her free time in the hospital pharmacy.

Anyone who has already acquired skills or talents and is interested in helping children, Children's Specialized Hospital has areas in its volunteer department which may be of interest.

"I was looking for something to do in my retirement," Geary explained. "I wanted to do something helpful, so I decided to volunteer. I find it very rewarding."

Geary volunteers with head-injured students enrolled in the new cognitive remediation program, monitoring their scores as they work on a computer. He can also be found in the hospital swimming pool, working with children experiencing hydrotherapy.

"All of our volunteers work under the direct supervision of a staff member," explained Shirley Biegler, community resources coordinator. "At this time we are specifically in need of people who wish to use their previously-acquired skills to help children in inpatient and outpatient programs."

There are opportunities available in both patient and non-patient contact areas. Teachers, office workers, those involved in business and housewives are among those who have the skills and maturity needed for volunteer work. For example, in the patient contact area, people with either skill or interest in computers can become involved in the cognitive remediation program. The inpatient classroom utilizes volunteers to reinforce special education teachers who work on a one-to-one basis with the children. Or a volunteer might opt to spend a few hours simply providing companionship to a patient.

Those wishing to work in non-patient areas can use clerical or business skills in a variety of departments including the medical library, contribution office, or assisting present office personnel.

"A sense of commitment, using one's time in a constructive and meaningful manner, are important to our volunteers. We try to meet these needs," Mrs. Biegler said.

Currently, Children's Specialized Hospital has a volunteer staff of 230 men and women who reside primarily in Mountainview, Westfield, Summit, Garwood, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Roselle Park and other surrounding communities. Those interested in volunteering first meet with Mrs. Biegler on a one-to-one basis to explore areas of interest to the volunteer and how they fit with the needs of the hospital. This is followed with a tour of the hospital and then the volunteer is usually placed in a suitable job.

"Volunteers here are able to use their specialized skills in a very special way," Mrs. Biegler said. "Their commitment of time and energy helps the children, and at the same time helps them to feel great satisfaction from their work."

Further information about the volunteer program at Children's Specialized Hospital may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Biegler at the hospital.

New Recreational Facilities Enhance Local Area

Residents in the Westfield-Mountainside area are indeed fortunate. The recent completion of two popular recreational/fitness facilities certainly enhances our opportunities.

Latest of these, of course, is spanking-new — the modern state-of-the-art Watchung Stables which opened Tuesday in the Watchung Reservation in Mountainside. While the development of Route 78 was vociferously debated as it cut into the county parklands, the new stables is a happy result. Many local boys and girls learned to ride at the stables, and many people of all ages continue to enjoy the facilities — now better than ever and heralded as among the best in the country.

Not much older is the fitness trail winding behind the Mountainside Borough Hall and Children's Specialized Hospital. Funded and created by various levels of government, this mile-long track provides facilities for the handicapped and can be reached by a special route from Children's Specialized Hospital. Not only are there various stations at which to test skills along the route, but the path is scenic for just plain old strollers as well. Use of the trail, beginning behind the borough hall, is free.

Nice to know that such facilities are in our back yard and join the many other recreational opportunities which we seem to take for granted but are so much a part of living in this area.

Report from Washington

By Congressman

Matt Rinaldo
7th District, New Jersey

While the United States government spends more than $1 billion a year to enforce anti-narcotics laws, the thriving drug paraphernalia industry is making millions and possibly billions of dollars encouraging the use of illegal drugs.

Drug Paraphernalia people are peddling everything from rolling papers for smoking marijuana to inhalers for snorting cocaine. They also offer a variety of publications bearing such titles as "The Cocaine Handbook," "Marijuana Catalog" and "A Child's Garden of Grass." Sales for the array of devices available to those in the drug culture are estimated at anywhere from $50 million to as much as $3 billion annually.

While 38 states, including New Jersey, have adopted model drug paraphernalia statutes to prohibit the sale of these accessories in so-called "head shops," record stores and other commercial outlets, dealers are getting around the law by selling their products through the mail.

What they are doing is legal, but from my point of view there is an inherent contradiction in the sale and advertising of articles primarily — and in some cases exclusively — designed for use with controlled substances which are illegal. There is mounting concern that the free and unrestricted sale of these accessories not only lures young people into drug experimentation, but also leads them to believe that the controlled substances are equally accepted as legal.

This is not the message we want to convey to young people. To crackdown on these dealers, a bipartisan group in the House, including myself, is sponsoring legislation to ban the mail order sales of drug paraphernalia. Basically the bill would make it illegal for anyone to use the U.S. Postal Service or a private parcel service to sell or transport drug paraphernalia. Violators would be subject to a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment and a $100,000 fine.

The unregulated sale of drug paraphernalia through the mails and in interstate commerce glamorizes the drug culture and promotes drug use. What is particularly disturbing is that some of the advertising for these products has been directed at children. A magazine advertisement promoting a marijuana pipe, called the "Pocket Size Power Hitter," claims it "Fits Small Hands, Delivers a Big Hit." Another accessories dealer offers "Practice Grass" and "Candy Quaaludes," also apparently intended to appeal to the young.

Recent figures on drug abuse indicate that more than 20 million Americans use marijuana on a regular basis and approximately 8 to 20 million are regular cocaine users. The sale of illicit drugs grossed an estimated $110 billion in 1984, and the cost in terms of prevention, treatment and law enforcement efforts related to drug abuse approached $100 billion.

By banning the sale of mail-order drug paraphernalia, Congress would be providing federal support for the important efforts of state and local law enforcement agencies and drug-abuse prevention groups to deal with this national problem. Those who promote and profit from illegal substances at the expense of our youth should be put out of business permanently.

Letters To The Editor

Both the 1963 Treaty and the Nuclear Non-proliferation Treaty of 1968 committed the nuclear powers to negotiate a comprehensive test ban (CTB). Article VI of the latter treaty bases the compliance of the 100-plus signatory states on superpower progress toward a CTB. Progress has been negligible for lack of political will on both sides. Most recently, a treaty was almost completed when talks between the U.S.A., U.S.S.R., and Britain were broken off in 1980. Nothing has been done for five years, while weapons tests steadily continue.

Consider these CTB advantages: (1) A test ban would be a major step toward ending the nuclear arms race. (2) Existing verification technology will safeguard the contracting parties — e.g. in the late 1970's the Russians agreed to accept ten unmanned, tamper-proof seismic stations on their territory, also on-site inspections if questions arise. ("This was psychologically a tremendous step for our side to take," said Soviet CTB negotiator Roland Timmerbaev.) (3) Reliability of nuclear stockpiles won't be affected for at least ten years under a test ban. (4) The spread of nuclear weapons to other countries would be prevented.

The international community continues to call for a CTB. In our House of Representatives, Congressmen Bedell (Democrat) and Leach (Republican) have sponsored a resolution urging an end to nuclear testing, H.J. Res. 3. The resolution urges President Reagan to resume negotiations on a Comprehensive Test Ban (which he abandoned in 1982) and to submit the Threshold Test Ban and Peaceful Nuclear Explosion treaties to the Senate for ratification. This resolution merits public support. Forty years of slipping toward the precipice must stop — why not this year?

ARMS RACE

Editor, Leader:

Exactly forty years ago, the world was going through a period of ominous anticipation, though only a very few people knew it. From July 16, the date of the first atomic bomb test, to August 6, the date when Hiroshima was destroyed, three weeks of planning and decision resulted in the momentous attack whose reverberations are felt and feared to this day. The nuclear age, the nuclear arms race, arms control efforts — who does not know of these tremendous developments?

The superpowers have negotiated from the start to find some way to get out of the vicious cycle of fearful competition, technical innovations, weapons systems that now threaten world survival. In 1963 the initiative of President Kennedy resulted in the limited Test Ban Treaty; the atmospheric tests which poisoned babies' milk (Strontium 90, etc.) were forbidden. The air we breathe was thereby protected, but weapons development continued unhindered via underground tests. Worse, the comprehensive test ban promised as the next step has gone nowhere in 22 years.

"Renaissance Astronomy" will be featured in tomorrow's slide show to be conducted at the Sperry Observatory on Union County College's Cranford Campus. The free Friday night program presented by Amateur Astronomers, Inc., which jointly operates the Observatory with the College, is one of a series of slide shows to be offered during the summer months, according to Prof. Kenneth Hanselman of North Caldwell, who is substituting for Barry Malpas as the voice of "Sky News" during the month of July. Prof. Hanselman, a member of the engineering/physics/engineering technology department, is also a member of AAI and teaches astronomy at the College.

1985 is the first full year in which the new capital gains requirements apply: Assets purchased after June 22, 1984 need be held more than six months to qualify for long-term capital gains or loss treatment. Taxpayers should be aware that 60 percent of any long-term capital gain is excluded from income, while short-term capital gains — when assets are held six months or less — are treated as ordinary income.

Looking ahead to the new year, the tax situation is far from clear. The possibility is growing that a new tax law may be enacted, resulting in broad, sweeping changes in tax rules.

Resident Leo Richman

Cardiac Rehab Graduate

A group of patients accept diplomas to the applause of family and friends. The scene takes place at Overlook Hospital and the participants are "graduates" of its Cardiac Rehabilitation Program. Among them is Westfield resident Leo Richman.

The three-year-old program which helps cardiac patients who have experienced a cardiac event ranging from heart attack to angina, or who suffer from hypertension, is a complete and individualized prescribed exercise and "well-being" course.

Patients not only build their strength through exercise, they learn that even though they have had a cardiac event, in many cases they can return to active living. They also learn about good nutrition and weight control, they may stop smoking and they learn how to manage stress in their lives.

The 16-week rehabilitation program is part of the comprehensive services offered to Overlook patients through the cardiopulmonary department, which is directed by John J. Gregory M.D. The rehabilitation process often involves a major lifestyle change and requires the up-beat support of a dedicated staff. Nurses specially trained in this area monitor the activities of patients sent to them by their physicians not only for exercise, but for the motivation and good morale needed for a "new start."

Laura Hockstein R.N., and Ellen DelVecchio R.N., co-supervise the program working with staff nurse Maureen Chapnick R.N. These nurses test patients before, during and after the program to determine capability and progress. As patients complete their 12th-week stress test, they earn T-shirts proclaiming "A New Start for My Heart." At completion of the program, patients become eligible to attend the annual graduation ceremony.

Those who attend have the opportunity to meet others who have had similar experiences.

Summer Blood Drive Scheduled

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct a summer blood drive Thursday, Aug. 8, at the Chapter House, 321 Elm St. The drive will be open to the public from 2 to 7:30 p.m.

Jack L. Cohen, chairman of blood services for the chapter, urges all residents to give blood this summer. "The need for blood during the summer is especially important," said Cohen. "more accidents occur while families are vacationing and fewer people donate during the summer months."

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, who weighs at least 110 pounds and is in good health is eligible to give blood every 56 days. In New Jersey, 17 year-olds must have the written permission of a parent or guardian.

Further information is available from the Red Cross.

Contests Spark Park

Concert Performances

The Westfield Community Band, sponsored by the Recreation Department, continues its weekly concert series in Mindowaskin Park. Last week's program under the direction of band director Elias "Al" Zareva included old favorites such as "Procession of the Nobles" and "Overture from the Barber of Seville," as well as current favorites, a "Porgy and Bess Medley" and selections from the block-buster movie "E.T."

A highlight of the evening was solo baritone Anne Laib's rendering of "Atlantic Zenith." Also a favorite was the Instant Concert Medley Contest, in which the audience was encouraged to name each tune of the quick paced medley in sequence. The contest will continue and last week's winner will be announced tonight.

In addition to the medley contest, tonight will include a special performance by Fred Morris. The contest will begin at 8 p.m. While bleacher seats are available, the audience is encouraged to bring lawn chairs or blankets.

Cyclists

To Stop in Westfield

Cyclists fighting hunger, a group of Harvard-Radcliffe students, will be in this area Aug. 4 after a transcontinental bike ride which began in San Francisco on June 8. They will be at Mindowaskin Park at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 4 to lead the way to a picnic at Taylor Park, Millburn, beginning at 6 p.m. A police escort will lead the way to Taylor Park.

Westfielders are invited to join the touring group and bike to the old-fashioned picnic, and those who attend are asked to bring a picnic supper with some to share with a cyclist. Festivities will include music by "The Midnight Special."

The young people have stopped along their journey to tell of their adventure and to share their vision of a better world. The monies raised by this group are distributed through Oxfam and the Save the Children Federation.

They have made stops in Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, hitting small towns and large cities, including Washington, DC.

From here, the group will go to New York and on to Boston arriving there Aug. 10.

Principals' Transfers

Upset over the impending move, Cathy McGee, past president of the McKinley PTA, stressed stability as a "clear factor" in her objections to the transfer of Jackson to McKinley School. Claiming that disruption will follow, she said that the school is "well-managed" and that Jackson is the "single most important person."

Prior to retiring to executive session, Sensus said the board would weigh all comments of the public in its decision but cautioned that this input was not the sole criteria on which a decision would be made.

Asked for specifics on why the transfers were being made, a resident was told there were "no problems." "I'm completely unenlightened," retorted the questioner.

"We look to make the best match possible for the district," said Superintendent of Schools Laurence F. Greene. Greene added that the school staff is hired not for particular schools, but to serve the district. "For many reasons change is good."

Kerry Hertell Sets New Pool Records

Kerry Hertell continued her assault on the record books as the Westfield Memorial Pool swim team raised its record to 5 wins without a loss with victories over Madison, 232-172, and — for the first time in ten years — over Livingston, 261-142.

Hertell, swimming in the 15-17 age group, broke the butterfly record against Madison and lowered it further at the Livingston meet. She also maintained her undefeated status winning all four of her individual events and anchoring two free relays. Ted Pollack (8 & under) has had his share of record-breaking swims, setting new standards twice in freestyle and coming very close in backstroke and butterfly. Robbie Schundler, also an 8 and under, established a new mark in breaststroke with his win against Livingston. The relay team of Darren Hertell, Scott Kaslusky, Derek Van Derven, and Bryan Zenger knocked down two old records in the freestyle and medley relays.

Many other swimmers had fine performances in a winning effort: Glenn Thompson (13-14) had four firsts and swam on a winning relay to remain undefeated; Andrea Duchek (8 & under) had two firsts and swam on two winning relays; Val Gude (13-14) had four firsts and two relay wins; Ginger Comstock (9-10) had two individual first places as did Jennifer Bang (11-12); Mike Payne (13-14) had two firsts and a relay victory; Bill McMeekan (15-17) had three firsts and a relay win; Mark Linenberg (11-12) had two firsts and two relay wins; Mike Linenberg (15-17) and Melissa Wells (13-14) each had one individual first and two relay wins; Rusty Schundler (9-10) had one first and one relay win; Maga Garcia (15-17) had one individual first and swam on three winning relays; Judi Brawer (15-17) contributed two individual wins and one relay victory; and Jamie Zenger (8 & under) and Carolyn Ribardo (13-14) each won one event and helped out on a winning relay.

Although not winning any individual first places, Jackie Mundy (8 & U), Lindsay Garner (9-10), Anne Leegan (9-10), Kathy Kelly (13-14), Heather McGovern (11-12), Maite Quinn (11-12), Steve Rennyson (11-12), Mike Leegan (13-14), Tom Kelly (15-17), David Schaller (8 & U), Tom Mann (9-10), Scott Aldrich (11-12), Brian Leegan (13-14), Andrew Hughes (8 & U), Dave Rennyson (15-17), Chris Payne (8 & U), and Brian Ramsthaler (9-10) all swam on winning relays.

Still more swimmers captured all-important second and third place points, including Sara Lewandowski (8 & U), Sarah Clarke (8 & U), Christie McGovern (9-10), Liz Hogan (11-12), Mike Schwebel (8 & U), Jon Jones (8 & U), Max Wunderle (15-17), and Keith Zadourian (9-10).

The team puts their record on the line this week as they go into the second half of the season with return meets against Maplewood, Morris Township, and New Providence.

Kathy Kinney Wins Gold Medal At Augusta Invitational Regatta

Kathleen M. Kinney, daughter of Jean and George Kinney of Trinity Place in Westfield, took a first place medal with her teammates from Jacksonville University in the "women's Lightweight four" category of rowing competition in the Augusta, Georgia Invitational Regatta held recently.

This was Kathy's first year on the Jacksonville University crew team. Jacksonville University is located in Florida on the St. John's River where the double practices are held daily, in addition to weight training and running. A veteran of high school varsity swimming, softball, and basketball teams, Kathy found the sport of sculling to be more rigorous than any other in which she has participated. Kathy served both as rower and coxswain during the season.

The highlight of the college rowing season is the Dad Vail National Championships held for three days on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia. It draws more than two thousand participants from eighty colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada. Although Jacksonville University with 2,500 students is relatively small, its crew teams are highly competitive among the giants such as Temple, Georgetown and Ohio State University. The JU women's lightweight four with Kathy as coxswain (cadence caller) qualified for the finals after successfully surviving several heats and they finished fifth.

Klein Sets Record In 5-Mile Run

Cindy Gerard Klein of Richmond Hill, N.Y., upset 1984 Olympic marathoner Julie Isphording of Cincinnati and Kate Washburn of Berkeley Heights to win the fifth annual Women on the Run five-mile race Sunday at Tamaques Park in the record time of 27:05.2.

Despite the heat and humidity, about 1200 women competed in the race and spectators lined most of the five-mile route.

Isphording was second with 27:34.5 and Washburn third in 27:48.9. The three first-finishers were leaders from the beginning of the race.

The top ten finishers were: 1-Cindy Girard Klein, Richmond Hill, N.Y. 27:05.2. 2-Julie Isphording, Cincinnati, Ohio 27:34.5. 3-Kate Washburn, Berkeley Heights 27:48.9. 4-Linda King, Roxbury 28:04.0. 5-Allison Quelch, Seymour, Conn. 28:06.9. 6-Mary Beth Evans, New York 28:25.9. 7-Doreen-Ennis Schwarz, Bloomfield 28:29.2. 8-Debbie Mueller, Framingham, Mass. 28:29.3. 9-Fairfax Hutter, Princeton 28:41.5. 10-Jeanne Pare, Staten Island 28:49.0.

Westfield Marine to Compete In Pentathlon in Oslo

Marine Corps Reserve Second Lieut. Christopher J. Davis draws a bead on a target during marksmanship practice at the U.S. Confederation of Interallied Reserve Officers training camp, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Marine Corps Reserve Second Lieut. Christopher J. Davis of Westfield is on the competition road after earning a berth on this year's 18-man military team currently training here to compete in the annual Confederation of Interallied Reserve Officers pentathlon in Oslo, Norway, Aug. 7-9.

The son of Doctors R.C. and J.T. Davis, 158 North Euclid Ave., Davis, 23, along with other pentathletes from Reserve and National Guard units across the nation, will pit their skills against those of their NATO colleagues from 10 nations.

The three-day competition is comprised of five events: Running a 500-meter land obstacle course, swimming a 50-meter obstacle course, firing the host nation's pistol, rifle and submachine gun in the marksmanship phase and a combined skills portion which includes map reading and grenade throwing.

An aspiring infantry officer and navel aviator, Davis said he believes the Norwegians are the one to watch at the competition.

"From what I've heard from the veterans on the team, our toughest competition will be from the Norwegian team, which is particularly strong in orienteering," said Davis, one of the team's rookies. "And while I consider shooting and swimming to be my strongest events, I don't feel that I've had enough experience in orienteering to feel confident competing against a team as strong as the Norwegians."

Davis said competing in CIOR is not only an important sporting experience, it is applicable to his military job also.

"From a ground officer's view, the CIOR training is extremely valuable, for not only does it emphasize excellence in basic military skills, it also furnishes the small-unit leader with a core of knowledge with which to conduct effective training."

The competitions are hosted each summer by one of the NATO nations. Last year, the competition was held in Rome and rotates between the CIOR member nations of United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Denmark, Greece, France, Canada, Belgium, West Germany, the United States and Norway. But competition isn't necessarily the name of the game, David said, for camaraderie also plays a major role in the event.

"I entered CIOR competition basically for the opportunity to compete on an international level," said the 1980 graduate of Westfield High School. "And having to compete with fellow teammates is always difficult when team slots are limited, as they are in CIOR. However, it forces me to constantly strive for better performance, no matter what I'm doing."

"But the friendships and experiences gained from this training and competition are added bonuses no competitor can resist."

Davis earned a bachelor's degree in industrial economics in 1984 from Union College, Schenectady, N.Y.

The Westfield 10's are having their most successful year since starting together as 8 year olds. They won the South Plainfield Tournament coming out of the losers bracket and avenging an earlier loss to home team South Plainfield by beating them twice in the finals by scores of 4-2 and 7-3. They went all the way, undefeated in the Colonia tournament and claimed the first place trophy by beating Edison 14-11 in the finals. Westfield finished second in the Islin tournament as they lost to home team Iselin 8-4 in the finals. The 10's are also doing well in the East Brunswick tournament and have beaten their first 2 opponents, Elizabeth 15-0 and Woodbridge 1-0. The team is made up of 13 players, 9 of which have played together since they were 8 years old, and 4 new additions this year which have all contributed to the outstanding 17-4 record the 10's now enjoy.

Eight and under swimmer Ted Ploock had an outstanding week with six individual wins, one relay victory, a second in the 9-10 butterfly, and a team record in the backstroke. Darren Hertell (11-12) nearly duplicated his feat with 5 firsts, 3 relay wins, and a team record in the backstroke. Tom Mann set a new mark in the 9-10 boys butterfly and had three wins and three relay victories. Eight and under Andrea Duchek was the only female record setter with a new standard in the backstroke, six firsts, and two relay victories. Frank Rohm (11-12) has yet to be beaten, adding six firsts and two relay wins. Glenn Thompson (13-14) had five individual wins and Bill McMeekan (15-17) had four. Westfield Twelves Lose to Iselin

The Twelves lost in the semi-championship round in Iselin to the last team 12-5. Westfield had beaten Iselin earlier in the tournament, but could not repeat that feat. John Fox and Roland Boyd each connected for a home run; however, the pitching and defense did not hold up for the Blue.

Saturday, the Twelves started two new tournaments — Colonia and South Plainfield — with big wins. At Colonia, Westfield beat their old nemesis, Edison 4-0 as Jeff Suto was a one-man wrecking crew, throwing four hitters, while striking out four batters, and getting two hits and driving in three runs. John Fox, Pete Asselin, Mark Cagnassola and Roland Boyd also provided offense, while Asselin, Rich Fela, Chris Battiloro and Suto were brilliant in the field. This was the first win — ever — over Edison and one of the finest games seen played by this age group team.

The first game in South Plainfield ended after a four innings as Westfield crushed South Brunswick 11-1. Roland Boyd threw a one hitter, striking out five, Chris Battiloro hit his first home-run of the season and Matt Radtke laced a three-run double in the first inning. Jack Dowling got his first hit and again Cagnassola, Asselin, Fox, Suto, and Boyd provided the offense. Tim Dinan, Grant Cowell, Josh Fischer and Rich Fela were outstanding on defense.

Olympics and Tournaments at Playgrounds This Week

Up! and away flew the balloons, marking Westfield playground's annual Balloon Ascension Day. Children from each playground released brightly colored helium balloons with hopes of their postcard being returned the quickest or returning from the farthest distance. For most campers it will be anxious three weeks while awaiting the results.

Circus week is a time of many special activities. Along with Balloon Ascension Day, other special events held this week were Hobo Day and Every Body's Birthday. Physical fitness is next week's theme with the weekly swim, playground tournaments and Town Olympics scheduled.

The fair at Jefferson playground was held Wednesday evening July 19. The turnout was very good thanks to the predicted storm not coming. The staff sold hot dogs, and Jessica Meszaros helped with the cat-snip and mustard. Other food booths were iced tea sold by Danny Soto, Kool Aid sold by Matthew Coltrera, homemade cupcakes sold by Michelle and Maryann Infantino. Bunkers sold by Paul Boudreau and popcorn sold by Lucy Valkenberg.

The various game booths were a wet sponge toss run by Tommy McGinn and John McCormack, a clothespin drop run by Renee and Chrissy Skubish, a penny drop run by Jeff Hagg, a quarter toss run by Shane Flood, a Pac Man ball toss run by Gina Lukaszewicz, John and Linda Bruett, a can toss run by Frankie Martorina, and a ball toss run by Jenny Topolewski. A very special thanks goes to Frank, custodian, Mrs. Valkenberg, Mrs. Coltrera, Mrs. Hagg, and Mrs. Topolewski.

Thursday morning brought another softball game, and the team travelled across town to Washington School. This game brought the Jefferson team another victory. The players and positions were Chris Wojcik at first base, Mike Ryan at second base, Pat Cosquer at third base, Rich Fela at mid field, Jeff Suto at short stop, Steven Haggerty in left field, Kevin Boyle and Paul Baly alternating as pitcher, Brian Haggerty in center field, Brian Gray and Ricky Molinaro in right field, and Mark Sullivan and Ken Topolewski alternating as catcher. The opening innings were a battle as both teams fought to score, then Jefferson shot ahead to gain a 17-0 victory. Thursday afternoon was spent quietly with a movie and art with Mr. Hawkins.

Friday morning was spent doing crafts. The afternoon brought a pet show. Many different pets came. Chameleons, hermit crabs, lightning bugs, snails, a dog, a goldfish and others.

Monday morning campers made tissue paper flowers, and the afternoon was backwards day: kids came with backward shorts, shirts and shoes on the wrong foot. The Jefferson playground softball team continued its undefeated season with a win over Wilson. Jefferson remained on homefield to secure an 8-0 victory over Wilson. Players included in the lineup were Gina Lukaszewicz-pitcher, Chris Wojcik-first base, Mike Ryan-second base, Pat Cosquer-third base, Jeff Suto-shortstop, Glen Wojcik-midfield, Steve Haggerty-left field, Brian Haggerty-centerfield, Scott Mueller-right field and Mark Sullivan as catcher. Both teams played well, but Jefferson's strong fielding kept Wilson from scoring.

On Wednesday playgrounders celebrated Everybody's Birthday. The party began by decorating the grounds.

Caipkay Wins WTC Invitational

Tom Caipkay of Wyckoff, beat former touring pro Jim Delaney of New York, 6-2, 7-6 (7-0), Sunday to win the 23rd annual Westfield Invitational at the Westfield Tennis Club.

Caipkay, who was unseeded, has been in three of the last four Westfield finals. The 25-year-old assistant pro at the Maywood Tennis Club lost a three-set final to Steve Siegel of Teaneck in the 1982 championship round and beat Steve Kendall of Short Hills for the title in 1983.

Caipkay, who received a top prize of $500 from tournament director Doug Squires of Scotch Plains, dropped only one set in five rounds over the three-day competition. He beat Jim West of Westfield, 6-1, 6-3; Rich Razzetti of Rye, N.Y., 6-2, 6-2; top-seeded Butch Seewagen, New York City, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, and, in a morning semifinal Sunday, ousted Rick Peck of Clifton, 6-2, 6-3.

Tennis Club Holds Mid-Year Tourneys

The Westfield Tennis Club held its annual mid-year tournaments as Eric Rauschenberger, Peter Jankowski and Rusty Schundler took home three of the four titles.

Eric Rauschenberger won the 11:15 group by defeating Josh Schwartz 8-1 in the finals. Aggressive play characterized the match as both players used their strong groundstrokes. Eric reached the finals by defeating Damien Lyon, in the semi-finals, while Josh downed Todd Palumbo in the other semis.

The 10:30 group crown went to Peter Jankowski as he defeated Mike Shenoy in the finals by an 8-3 margin. Peter coupled consistency with accurate passing shots to offset Mike's attacking style. In the semifinals Peter defeated Jim Waterhouse, while Mike downed Matt Taylor.

Rusty Schundler captured the 9:00 group title as he defeated Chris Gorman 8-3 in the finals. Both players used consistent groundstrokes throughout the match as Rusty was able to outlast his opponent. In one semis match, Chris downed Marisol Reichelm. Rusty defeated Casey Noerr in the other semis.

The 9:45 group tournament had not been completed yet. Mary Duthie defeated Chris Reichelm 6-4 in a semis match that proved to be one of the tournaments most exciting matches. In the finals she will face the winner of the semifinal match pairing Brad Bonner and Jay Ball.

Eye Openers

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Q: Though I recently had a thorough eye examination and a prescription change, print begins to blur when I read for long periods of time. What shall I do?

A: Call your optometrist and make another appointment. The eyes are constantly changing, and discomfort after reading is a signal that something is not right. Other signs that indicate the need for prompt professional care are:

- unclear distance vision
- pain of any kind in the eye
- squinting
- eye irritations
- repeated eye fatigue
- a decrease in accurate eye/hand coordination
- inability to learn at a normal rate (especially in children)
- headaches.

Regularly scheduled eye check-ups are as important as regularly scheduled visits to the doctor or dentist.

Rev. David Harwood "Back Home"

As Methodist Church Minister

Coming home to Westfield where he grew up, the Rev. David F. Harwood is "very excited" about returning to a church where he was a member before he was a minister, and where he has been appointed the senior minister of the First United Methodist Church of Westfield.

Harwood, who served pastorates in Woodbridge and Whitehouse before Westfield, was once the minister of Christian education at Westfield First United Methodist. He feels he has been a part of the church's history for the last 23 years. "History is more than time and dates," he says, "and this church's history is the influence of laity and clergy throughout the years on people scattered throughout the world."

"There is an expectation of high standards in community pride and leadership, and I have a compelling need to become the 'pastor' of this church," Harwood stated. "I will spend my first year mostly listening and getting to know the people. Developing a pastoral relationship is quite a responsibility."

IN order for the Harwoods to meet the church members, small neighborhood groups are being set up by the membership and evangelism ministry and staff/parish relations committee of the church for July, September and October. These meetings will be a sharing of ideas and an introduction to the new minister and his wife.

Westfield Churchwomen Sponsoring "Peace Ribbon" Trip to D.C.

Sunday, Aug. 4, will mark the 40th anniversary of the bombings of Nagasaki and Hiroshima. Nearly 100,000 people are expected to gather in Washington, D.C. to participate in a prayerful and peaceful demonstration featuring the Peace Ribbon.

Church Women United is sponsoring a bus that will leave Westfield at 6 a.m. and return around 10 p.m. For reservations, contact any C.W.U. representative or Mrs. Eleanor Smith of Salter Place.

This "Ribbon" is really a giant needlework project over two years in the making. Individual segments of cloth, each measuring 36 x 18 inches, were made by men, women, and children from all across the nation and some internationally. The panels are embroidered, tie-dyed, painted, silk screened, or appliqued, with no two being alike. Much of the artwork depicts things that would be missed in a nuclear war. Peace and peacemaking are the dominant themes.

The idea of encircling the Pentagon with a ribbon came to Justine Merritt, a former high school teacher from Denver, following a religious retreat. Just like tying a ribbon around your finger, it is intended to serve as a reminder that we love the earth and all its people. Due to the tremendous outpouring of creative energy, the Peace Ribbon now measures some 10 miles in length. Plans have been approved for thousands of people to carry the ribbon around not only the Pentagon, but also the Capitol and the ellipse next to the White House. Ceremonies will climax at 4 p.m. when all will come to a halt in silent prayer with church bells across the nation ringing.

Band at Coffeehouse

"Somebody's Place Coffeehouse" will present "The Messiah Prophet Band" Saturday at the Cranford Alliance Church, Relford at Cherry St., Cranford. The coffeehouse, which has been in existence since January 1983, is open to people of all ages. Requirements are available and admission is free.

with streamers. When this had been done the cake arrived and everyone ate cake and cupcakes which had been brought by Michele and Maryann. Infantino. When everyone was done eating several races resulted in candy for prizes.

Monday's annual Memorial Pool swim marked the fourth week of the playground season. The children of the McKinley playground along with children from the other playgrounds splashed around in the pool water to help put a damper on the warm, humid morning. In the afternoon the children played various games and took part in various tournaments. In the Hula-Hoop contest Pam Rivera took first place, Andrea Shond took second place, and Lisa DeGutis took third place.

Tuesday began with softball practice, as the scheduled game was cancelled. In the

There is child care throughout the morning.

Dozens of children attending the Franklin Playground appear to be having a blast, and will continue so for the remaining three weeks.

The fruits of all the hard work are already blooming, as "Everybody's Birthday" highlighted this week's activities. The children had fun making party hats on Tuesday for the gala affair on Wednesday. Cake and Soda were followed by games such as pin the tail on the donkey, relay races, and the most fun of all, musical chairs. Small games and candy were awarded, along with a few McDonald's gift certificates. All loaded with energy, the kids wrapped up the party with a quick marathon around the field.

Although the softball game was rained out, many furry creatures showed up for the "Pets on Parade" contest. Gina Aspoeh's dog Aster won for the cutest, Alicia Albee's dog Fife won funniest, Philip Vinegra's gerbil Jerry was the smallest, "best groomed" was Lauren McGovern's dog Prancer, "best behaved" went to Brian Williams' dog Brandy, and Megan climate at the church," Harwood explained. "As is the Methodist characteristic, there is also a great diversity among the people I have already met."

Harwood and his wife, Phyllis, have two children, Karey, 15, and David Jr., 10. He holds degrees from Ohio Wesleyan University and Colgate Rochester Divinity School. He received his elder's orders in 1973 from the Northern New Jersey Annual Conference. He serves on the Board of Ordained Ministry of the Northern New Jersey Conference. He is a member of the board of directors, Institutes of Religion and Health, and the Blanton-Peale Graduate Institute, New York City. A Rotarian, his other interests include music - piano, organ, singing - and gardening.

With a strong professional background in the behavioral sciences, Harwood feels he has a "unique advantage" in returning to First United Methodist Church, and his main function is to be the spiritual leader of a church whose motto is, as carved on the front main doors, "for the Worship of God and the Service of All."

Redeemer Bible School in August

Redeemer Lutheran Church, 229 Cowperthwaite Pl., is now accepting registration for its 1988 Vacation Bible School. This year's theme is "Let's Share the Good News of Jesus." This theme is highlighted through a videocassette program titled "Nanny and Isaiah Learn to Share Jesus."

Through the use of puppet characters, Nanny and Isaiah, the children of Vacation Bible School will learn to share their faith not only through a Sunday school evangelism week, but as a natural part of their daily lives.

In addition to the video program the VBS teachers and aides are offering a program of games, music, crafts and Bible stories designed to help the children in sharing their faith.

Vacation Bible School is scheduled for Aug. 5 - 8 and 12 - 15, 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. Enrollment is limited; children 3½ years through seventh grade are welcome.

More information and registration data is available at the church or from Mrs. Lana Hahn of 632 East Broad St.

Joyce's hamster Fluffy won for "most cuddly." Winners for the "Four Corners" tournament were Caitlin Jordan, 1st; Katie Mullen, 2nd; and Jennifer Kassakian and Nicole Wygowski, tied for 3rd place.

Balloons went up on Friday, over the hills to faraway towns where unsuspecting people will catch them.

Thanks to both the parents and the playgrounders, this year the Washington Fair was a total success. The profits were well over those from last year's fair. The money has enabled the staff to make the playground much more exciting for the children. Now, instead of giving out ribbons to the winners of many contests and games, the staff can award the children with such prizes as frisbees, bubbles, toy airplanes, and candy.

A great deal of the money went to Everybody's Birthday Party which is one of the biggest events of the summer. Balloons, crepe paper and birthday hats created by the children gave the playground a joyful spirit. The children enjoyed pizza and soda and after singing "Happy Birthday" they found room for ice cream and cake.

Though the birthday party was the biggest event of the week, many other contests and games took place. Last Thursday was "Wild Shorts Day" and prizes were awarded to the three people with the wildest shorts on. Rebecca Hanscom, Brian Hamilton and Jamie Clark came in first, second, and third place, respectively. The same day a frisbee throwing contest took place. Chris McCall came in first place for throwing the frisbee the farthest and Matt McCall and Todd Phillips came in second and third respectively. For throwing the frisbee closest to the pin, Jimmy McDermott won first place, Kelly Garrity came in second and Vicki Liantonio came in third. Friday morning the children participated in a peanut hunt and the three people who found the most peanuts won prizes. Matt Connell and Jessie Czar came in third. That afternoon there was a bubble gum blowing contest. There were three categories: Loudest pop, biggest bubble, and smallest bubble. Scott Aldrich and Kelly Garrity won for the smallest bubble, Peter Lau and Corie Sollenberger won for the biggest bubble, and Jessie Czar and Joey Tomlinson won for the loudest pop.

In the tetherball tournament, Joey Tomlinson won in the 6-7 yr. old division and Matt Connell won in the 8-11 year old division. Corie Sollenberger was the winner of the 62 foot rolls in the "How Many" contest this week by hitting the nail on the head with a guess of 62.

Finally, this past Tuesday was Hobo Day at the playground. About 20 hobos arrived at the grounds and the staff judged them in four categories. Dana Clark won for the ugliest hobo, Robby O'Brien and Jamie Clark tied for the cutest hobo, Megan O'Brien won for the most original hobo, and Chris Roesgen won for the toughest hobo. The children participated in three hobo games. In the first round of the penny plink Kevin O'Brien and Jeff Roesgen were the winners and in the second round Matt Connell and Garrett Horrocks were the winners. In the two relays the members of the winning teams were Anne Feinsod, Rebecca Hanscom, Kelly Garrity, Matt Mistrretta, Mike Wyatt, Leslie Takonis, Kevin O'Brien, and Jesse Levine.

Treatment of acne and other skin problems sometimes requires an examination by a physician before using medication. For prescription medications come to JARVIS PHARMACY, 54 Elm St., 233-0662, 0663, 0664. We are happy to quote the price of any prescription before filling it. Western Union service is available for sending money orders, mailgrams and regular telegrams. Open: Mon thru Fri 9am-9pm, Sat 9am-6pm, Holidays 9am-1pm.

TREATING ACNE
Benzoyl peroxide is one of the strongest and best medications for treating acne. It is an irritant which is designed to cause mild peeling of the surface layers of skin. Pores that have become plugged with sebum and dead cells are opened and this unwanted plug is eliminated. Benzoyl peroxide is available in five percent and ten percent concentrations. Treatment should be started with the five percent dosage. The ten percent concentration is reserved for those cases that are resistant to the five percent dosage. Many patients are unable to tolerate the added irritant effect of this more potent ten percent dosage.

HANDY HINT: Studies have not proved that there is a link between diet and acne.

Footlights Beam on Workshop Stars

As the culmination of a five week "summer stock" instruction at the Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts, young actors will take the stage in two musical comedies and one dramatic production — all of which are open to the public. The Workshop's senior thespians offer a rollicking performance of Mame at Westfield High School on July 31, Aug. 1, 2 and 3. The junior musical cast presents The Wizard of Oz at Edison Jr. High School on July 29, 30, 31 and Aug. 1; and drama students in the Studio 1 class have prepared a charming children's theatre production of Charlotte's Web that is also staged at Edison Jr. High School on July 30 and 31.

The plays are fully costumed and the musicals have professional lighting and set design that is accomplished by student technicians. The stars of both musicals bring an impressive range of performing experiences to their roles.

Deborah Lichtenstein, who leads the cast of Mame in the title role, is a senior at Bridgewater-Raritan H.S. She has had featured roles in The Apple Tree, The Me Nobody Knows, Taming of the Shrew and in a P.B.S. educational film, Living with Technology. Deborah has performed in both the county and state Teen Arts Festivals and is a member of the "Drama Shop" at the Somerset County Performing Arts High School.

Mame's orphaned nephew, Patrick, is played by Ken Feinsod — as Patrick the boy — and by Rob DelGuidice — as Patrick the young man. Both actors are juniors at Westfield H.S. and have performed in numerous theatrical productions during the last few years. Rob has been a soloist and featured actor in the Workshop productions of Sweet Charity and Grease and in student productions of Brigadoon, The Music Man, Bells are Ringing and Don't Drink the Water. He works with several rock bands and writes his own music.

Ken (young Patrick) had lead roles in Anything Goes, Brigadoon, Music Man and The Bells are Ringing — these are the most recent of the seven plays he has performed in in the last four years.

Mame's leading man, Bearuegard Burnside, is played by Matt Vitale, another Westfield High School student who is appearing in his third Westfield Summer Workshop musical, the others being Grease and Sweet Charity. He has also played in Bye, Bye Birdie, Applause, Annie Get Your Gun and Godspell. Matt is a member of the 1985-86 All-State Choir and participated in this season's Bucks County Drama Festival. Janice O'Rourke, who plays Mame's sidekick, Vera Charles, also took part in the Bucks County Festival where she received the best supporting actress award for her portrayal of Mother Superior in Agnes of God. Janice has appeared in three other WSW productions and in several school produced musicals including a leading role in Bye, Bye Birdie and in the community production of Godspell and a featured role in Bells are Ringing.

Playing Agnes Gooch — the character who supplies the anchor of common sense in Mame's flamboyant life with Patrick — is Hope Weinstein, a veteran of four WSW musicals. She has also appeared in Indian Captive, Free to be You and Me, Stagedoor, The Sound of Music and has performed in summer productions during two years of study at Stagedoor Manor Theatre Camp.

The stars of the junior musical, The Wizard of Oz, are students in the 6th through 9th grades but despite their youth, are already accomplished performers. The play has a double cast — one set of leads to perform on Monday and Wednesday, the other set on Tuesday and Thursday. All the performers take part in all productions — playing two (or occasionally more) parts. As Dorothy, the Kansas girl who wishes herself "Over the Rainbow", are two talented vocal soloists — Karen Zippler and Amy Shaw. Both girls have performed lead roles in Workshop and school musicals. Karen also played in the Sound of Music with the Parish Players of Plainfield; she enters 7th grade this fall. Amy has performed in The Music Man and Kiss Me Kate and will be in 9th grade in September.

The WSW also presents The Wizard of Oz with two sets of lead performers that alternate appearances on July 29, 30, 31 and Aug. 1, at Edison Jr. H.S. Opening night cast 1, to r.: Susan Gray, Marcus Burnstein, Jennifer Perillo (seated), Karen Zippler as "Dorothy" and Marc Hardy.

In Oz, Dorothy meets three of the most-loved characters in American entertainment — a scarecrow, a tinman and a cowardly lion. Katy Lynch and Jennifer Perillo play the Scarecrow; both girls have performed in the Workshop productions of Funky Figaro and The Truth About Cinderella. They also sing in school choirs and stage productions. Katy in Westfield and Jennifer in Scotch Plains. The Tin Woodman searching for his heart is played by Marcus Burnstein and Jamie DelGuidice. These two boys performed in the Workshop production of Funky Figaro and both are in select choirs. Marcus also performed in The Truth about Cinderella, Jamie was in Kiss Me

The Tuesday/Thursday lead players in "Wizard": Amy Clayman, Jamie DelGuidice, Katy Lynch, Amy Shaw as "Dorothy" and Bob Wischusen.

Kate and sang with the NJ State Opera Company in Newark. He also sings with the Performing Artists of Westfield. The comic cowardly lion is acted by Marc Hardy and Bobby Wischusen. Bob appeared in Once Upon a Rainbow, The Electric Sunshine Man, The Music Man and in Kiss Me Kate. Marcus has had two solo parts in two previous Workshop productions: in Oklahoma, and in Shenandoah, with the Chatham Community Players.

Supplying the shivers and shrieks in "Oz" are the Wicked Witch of the West stars, Amy Clayman and Susan Gray. These two girls are members of The Performing Artists of Westfield and they have sung in their respective school productions: Amy in Kiss Me Kate and Music Man and Susan in The Speak-Easy in Shushan at Solomon Schechter Day School. Amy and Susan have both appeared in previous Workshop productions, dramas as well as musicals.

Tickets for all performances are available in advance through the Workshop ticket office at Edison Jr. High School or may be reserved by calling the Workshop. Tickets are also available at the door.

regulars turned out for the Memorial Pool swim. Monday afternoon brought heavy humidity. When playgrounders cooled off by taking a hike to Baskin Robbins. The children enjoyed picking out their favorite flavors. Everything from chocolate mousse, fudge ribbon, pink bubble gum to just plain old chocolate.

Tuesday began with Hobo Day. Winners were Matthew Bagley, Tripp Swart and Coley Lechner. The children finished up the morning playing hobo games. Tuesday morning also brought Wilson's second baseball defeat. The team played valiantly but lost 8 to 0. Mr. Hawkins came in the afternoon and instructed the children on how to make their own pastel crowns. The children used these crowns to decorate for Wednesday's birthday party.

Wednesday began with a rip-roaring kickball match. Some participants were Aaron Beverlein, Mark Borton, David Caprario, Rob Cook and Michael Cunningham. Chris Demassi made several home runs. Sean Dougherty made two superior catches in the field also. The afternoon brought the annual favorite: Wilson playgrounders all celebrated their birthdays at the same time. They enjoyed pizza, juice and watermelon at the Everybody's Birthday Party. The children also played many birthday games such as drop the clothespin, pin the tail on the donkey, egg toss, the water relay, blind drawing and musical chairs.

In keeping with Circus Week, Thursday morning began with clown day. Children came in clown make-up and clown outfits. Christine Bartolomeo was chosen most beautiful clown. Alicia Nicole was the cutest clown and Pat, Molly, and Eileen Rock won for the best clown family. Thursday afternoon concluded with the craft-of-the-week which was scratch art. Playgrounders colored various designs on their papers. They then painted over their pictures with black paint. Playgrounders later scratched out designs. The library also showed a movie before closing. Balloon Ascension wrapped up the week on Friday. Many playgrounders turned out to let their balloons go and to enter the contest. Citizens of the week for Circus Week were Molly Rock and Adam Yannuzzi. Coming events to look forward to are the baby olympics, the talent show and beach day.

Tamaques
The leaders at Tamaques playground thank all the parents and playgrounders that worked and attended the Fair. The fair was a success, due to the efforts of the following children that ran various booths: Susan and Elizabeth Brediau, Krysten Van Angelen, Sarah Tibbott, John and Tim Sullivan, Chris Brucia, Adam and Marcus Burnstein, Billy, Bob and Natalie Bradley, Kathy Hanna, Leslie Kileger, Amy Wheeler, Jonathan and Lawrence Ho, Marcus Cognelli and Megan Brotherton.

Thursday the playgrounders participated in an Obstacle Course set up by the leaders to prepare them for the Olympics that are just around the corner. Friday Tamaques was visited by Piers Gorden and Gloria Vanderbilt designing and painting plain tee shirts and sweat shirts.

Monday arrived with the annual swim at Memorial Park and an afternoon full of gum in the playgrounders' mouths for the Summer Fun Bubble Gum Blowing Contest. The categories for the contest were Biggest and Smallest Bubble, Most Double, Weirdest, Cutest, Most Invisable and Best Effort.

Tuesday children dressed up as hobos. Winners were Jonathan Ho as Most N.Y.C. Like, Susan Brediau as Most Original, Elizabeth Brediau as Most Creative and Christie Michaels as Lil' Abner. Excitement and Everybody's Birthday arrived on Wednesday with streamers decorating the entire playground. All the children sang Happy Birthday around the chocolate covered sheet cake and candy. Every playgrounder participated in a Candy Hunt and Pin the Nose on the Clown. Winners for ages 5-6-7 were first place Sandy Malek, second place Elizabeth Brediau, third place Lindsey Conover. Winners for ages 8-9-10-11-12 were first place Tim Sullivan, second place Jenna Garner, third place Matt Kieffer.

The next major event for the playgrounders is the Olympics held at W.H.S. Field House on Rahway Ave.

On behalf of the United Fund of Westfield, the Rev. Dr. Robert L. Harvey, a newly elected member of the Board of Trustees, presents "People & Events: A History of the United Way" to Westfield High School principal Dr. Robert G. Petix. In accepting the book on behalf of the school library, Petix stated "I am pleased to be able to accept this generous gift for the library, and it is certainly a welcomed addition to our shelves." Harvey noted "the hardcover book, dedicated to the spirit of voluntarism, is a unique and original edition of the history of the United Way. The impact in giving this book to our high school library is that the youth of our society provide the foundation for the continuance, strength and vitality of voluntarism tomorrow."

Rorden Realty Celebrates Best First Quarter

The members of the Rorden Realty team celebrated the firm's best first quarter in its history, by competing on the bowling alleys.

President Warren Rorden contributed money for prizes and various colored team shirts. Rorden Realty staff matched the money and then they and their spouses donned the shirts one evening and went to Linden Lanes as the "Greens," "Greys," "Yellows," "Blues," and "Tans."

After some heated contests, the "Greens" captured the top prize money, and the "Yellows" took home the crying towel. The entire group then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cisneros for a pot luck meal.

Warren Rorden, president of Rorden Realty, Inc., 44 Elm St., attributed the successful quarter to two major things. "First," he said, "we had a drop in interest rates which encouraged prospective buyers into the market."

"But perhaps more important," he continued, "is the team spirit and effort that Rorden Realty people have been making recently. That spirit certainly was evident in the results last quarter, as it was present in our bowling party and celebration."

Rorden Realty team celebrates its best first quarter in history at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cisneros.

"Escapade" Tonight On Village Green

"Escapade," featuring the sounds of the last three decades of popular music, as well as the golden oldies, is the fifth in a series of outdoor concerts presented free to the public by the Scotch Plains Cultural Arts Committee (SPCAC) on the Village Green, next to the Municipal Building on Park Ave.

Green-goers are asked to bring blankets or lawn chairs to tonight's 8 p.m. hour-and-one-half performance. If it rains, the performance is cancelled. July 18's performance featured Chuck Bower and the Stardusters, a country and western band, and the Dancing Squares.
