

School Monitoring Team Schedules Jan. 15 Meeting

Westfield's Level II Self-Study Monitoring Team will meet Thursday, Jan. 15. The 12-member team, composed of parents and school professional staff members, has met with county monitors over the past few months. These include Archie Chiles, Dorothy Dallah, Midge Negro and Linda Levine - all from County Superintendent Vito Gagliardi's office. The team will meet Thursday (Jan. 15) with Theodore Kozlik, director of special services and School Superintendent Mark C. Smith.

Board of Education for failing to satisfy every one of the required indicators in the Level I state monitoring process. When county monitors visited Westfield last spring, they found the district in compliance in 46 out of 51 indicators. Five indicators, deemed unacceptable by county monitors, fall into three general areas: bilingual education for Japanese-speaking students, the use of instructional aides vs. certified teachers in the Basic Skills Improvement Program for elementary mathematics students, and the identification of education in some resource rooms as supplemental rather than special education. Westfield's self study team has been reviewing recommendations made by the county monitors in each of the three "unacceptable" areas and will submit its report to the superintendent of schools. Dr. Smith will discuss the report with the Board of Education before it is submitted to the county superintendent's office. Westfield's Level II Self-Study Monitoring team is headed by Marie Scian, coordinator of elementary education, personnel and Affirmative Action officer. Team members include the following community representatives: (Continued on page 10)

Mayor Plans to Redesign South Avenue Traffic Circle

A redesign of the South Avenue traffic circle to ease congestion in the town is one of several major projects to be considered for 1987, according to Mayor Raymond W. Stone. The project was among those outlined during the mayor's annual "state of the town" address at organizational ceremonies Tuesday evening. Construction on the parking deck at the corner of North, Lenox and Central Avenues and the new Westfield Memorial Library on the site of the present Grant School are expected to begin early this year. Mayor Stone also reported that the completion of the 100 space permit parking lot at the corner of North and Central Avenues, delayed by inclement weather is also expected this spring.

Also in the mayor's forecast for the new year are a study of the findings and recommendations of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Land Use as it pertains to the future of condominiums and common wall housing; the solid waste disposal issue and source separation of all recyclable materials in the community. (The Mayor's annual address can be found in its entirety on this page.) Sworn into their first terms of office as Town Councilmen were Christian Abeel and Mike Panagos. Councilman Garland "Bud" Boothe was sworn into his third term of office, and Councilman Frank Rodgers took the oath of office for a second term. Councilman Bud Boothe was named acting mayor with James Heimlich as alternate. Other appointments include: Court and Violations Clerk - Dorothy L. Worth; Board of Adjustment - Mary D. Herberich; James J. Kefalonitis; Lawrence J. Mannino (alternate); Planning Board - Richard Bagger; Raymond Stone; Edward A. Gottke; Carol Molnar; Marilyn Shields; Town Administrator - John F. Molloy; Town Attorney - Charles H. Brandt; Prosecutor - Thomas V. Manahan; Public Defender - Clifford J. Sheehan; Labor Attorney - Frank X. McDermott; Official Newspaper - The Westfield Leader.

Mayor Raymond W. Stone

Local Assistance Board - James J. Kefalonitis, chairman; Elizabeth A. Willard; Board of Health - Ashton C. Cuckler; Beverly Chandler; Recreation Commission - Jonathan W. Jones; Frances P. Comstock; Dennis F. Kinsella; Ralph Hobson; Memorial Library Board - Arnold Resnick; Bicycle Board - Susan Dinan; Marjory Burke; Alfred Riker; Youth Concerns Committee - Stanley Corwin; Joanne Sullebarger; Nancy Walbert. Community Development Revenue Sharing Committee - Raymond Stone; Jack Bilman (alternate).

Kozlik to Meet with Parents Of Special Ed Students

Westfield's new director of special services, Theodore Kozlik, announced today that he will meet with parents of special education students, by appointment, on the first Monday and Wednesday evenings of each month. Mr. Kozlik, who came to Westfield, Nov. 1, said that he has been and will continue to meet with parents during the regular 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. office hours at the administration building; however, to meet the needs of parents who cannot make daytime appointments, Mr. Kozlik will meet during the evening hours on the first Monday and Wednesday of each month. The meetings, to be held in Mr. Kozlik's office, will be scheduled by appointment only.

Bike Registration This Saturday

Bicycle registration will be held Saturday, Jan. 10. Bicycle owners may register their vehicles from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, in the parking lot behind the Westfield Municipal Building. Registration is usually held the first week of the month, but was postponed because of the New Year holiday weekend.

Smith and Kozlik To Address Parents

School Superintendent Mark C. Smith and Theodore Kozlik, director of special services, will address parents of special education students at an open-to-the-public meeting set for 8 p.m. on Monday (Jan. 12) in the Board Meeting Room at 302 Elm St. The meeting is sponsored by the Westfield Parent-Teacher Council's Special Education Committee.

Recycling Information

Saturday, Jan. 10 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Watterson St. Parking Lot (off of Rahway Ave.) Newspapers and Aluminum Cardboard and magazines cannot be accepted. The Center will be manned by Troop 77 and the Methodist Youth.

Parents Interested in Scheduling a Meeting with the Special Services Director are Cordially Invited to Telephone the Special Services Office at 789-4442.

Having completed two months of service in Westfield, Mr. Kozlik says that he is "impressed with the extent of special services provided for students."

Free Screening Today

The Westfield Board of Health will conduct a free blood pressure screening today, Jan. 8, from 4 to 5 p.m. The program will be held at the Westfield Neighborhood Council, 127 Cacciola Place.

Guest Speakers to Highlight Substance Abuse Meeting

Guest speakers have been scheduled to meet with members of the Superintendent's Advisory Committee on Substance Abuse on Thursday morning (Jan. 15). Margaret Klick, director of health services for the Westfield Public Schools, and chairperson of the 12-member committee, announced today that speakers during the morning session include: Det. Sgt. Cliff Auchter of the Westfield Police Department's Juvenile Bureau; Eileen Broden, coordinator of Roselle's Chemical Health Assistance Program; and Angelo Pierri, township coordinator, Cranford Community Center. During the afternoon session, the committee will receive a report from Carole Staviiski, Westfield High School nurse/health educator, on a visit to the Tom's River school district and a report on their student assistance program. The meeting scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m., will be held in the Board Meeting Room at 302 Elm St., and is open to the public. The committee was formed in September to review materials dealing with drugs/alcohol prevention, visit/evaluate programs currently in existence, review relevant literature, consult with experts in the field of substance abuse, and recommend materials and program changes deemed beneficial for Westfield youth and parents. Committee members include: Brenda Benimeo, Westfield High School guidance counselor; Linda Clark, community representative; Julia Germany, Roosevelt guidance counselor; Gladys Kearns, Union County Council on Alcoholism director; Joan McTeigue, community representative; Maureen Pigott, Franklin School nurse; Linnea Rhodes, community representative; Sheila Rosen, Edison nurse; Bette Tuthill, McKinley School teacher; Marie Scian, coordinator of elementary education, and Margaret Klick, director of health services.

Christmas Tree Disposal in Park

Westfield residents may dispose of Christmas trees in the lower parking lot in Tamaques Park, near the shuffle board courts. Residents are responsible for the disposal of their trees. The town crews do not pick them up, and it is illegal to place them in the right-of-way.

The Mayor's Annual Message

It is an honor and a privilege to deliver to you, my fellow citizens, "Mayor's Annual Message." But first, I want to offer our thanks and congratulations to Councilman Michael Diamond for his past two years on the Town Council during which time he served with dedication and distinction. And, I would also like to offer our thanks and congratulations to Mayor Ronald J. Frigerio, recipient of UNICO's "Man of the Year" award in 1986 and who, as our mayor for the past four years, will always be respected and admired for his outstanding leadership. This preamble would not be complete if I did not also extend appreciation to the many other past mayors and councilpersons who worked so hard to make Westfield a town we can all be proud of. I'm pleased to see that so many of them could be here tonight. I would now like to review with you just a few highlights of the past year: New Jersey Transit completed a $750,000 federally-funded rehabilitation of the town's east-bound railroad station, all of its platforms and passenger tunnel. In addition, the town rebuilt the South Avenue commuter lot and 54 new spaces were added to our parking space inventory. The Town Council acquired the corner property at North and Central Avenues from the Shell Oil Company and substantially completed a new 100 space parking lot. The rehabilitation of our Fire Headquarters on North Avenue in 1985 was officially celebrated by a public rededication ceremony last April. The Town Council accepted a deed from the Board of Education for the former Grant School site, paving the way for construction of the new Memorial Library. The town also received approval of a state grant for $320,900 and the Council passed a $3.7 million bond ordinance in order to provide financing for the new library. Mayor Frigerio appointed a special advisory committee to study Westfield's land use and to assess the town's needs for condominium or townhouse zoning. A $1 million bond ordinance was passed providing the funding for a parking deck on lot #7 at Central, North and Lenox Avenues. Last, but not least, the Town Council awarded a $6,520,000 general improvement bond issue to the Northern Trust Company at a 5.8% interest rate. And now for 1987: Ladies and gentlemen, it would appear that we have a full agenda for the new year: Completion of our new 100 space parking lot at North and Central Avenues is imminent. Only prolonged inclement weather prevented its completion in 1986. Construction will start this spring on the parking deck for lot #7 across from the Post Office. The new deck will yield approximately 100 additional parking spaces. Construction will also start early in 1987 on the new library. Bid advertisements should be appearing in the newspapers very shortly. As one of the most ambitious construction projects undertaken by the town in quite some time, a great deal of dedication and discipline will be required if this project is to be brought in at budget. We will be studying the findings and recommendations of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Land Use. Where appropriate, we will try to implement some of those recommendations during 1987. The 1987 municipal operating budget meetings start this month. The Council Finance Committee reviewed the capital budget last month. Funding will be provided for cost-effective and essential capital programs such as road maintenance and replacement of tired and worn-out public works equipment. We will continue to seek out federal and state grants for street and road improvements as we have done successfully in the past. We anticipate receiving a substantial community development grant in 1987 for handicap curb cuts in the central business district and we just received word from the State Department of Transportation that we will be receiving $100,000 in road improvement funds for the repair and reconstruction of portions of Westfield Avenue. The escalating cost of solid waste disposal is a continuing threat to our attic waste center. We plan to open the center this spring but whether or not we can continue the program next fall is an on-going concern to us. Our conservation center on Lambert's Mill Road will be continued all during 1987 but probably at higher user fees due to increased costs of disposing of garden refuse at the landfills. Source separation of all recyclable materials, glass, paper and aluminum, is expected to be mandated by the State Legislature. This will impose new hardships on Westfield residents in 1987. The Council's Solid Waste Committee will be following these developments closely. This evening we appointed Councilman Jubb Corbet as liaison to the Westfield Chamber of Commerce. We did this in order to improve the Council's lines of communication with the Chamber. You can anticipate similar efforts at establishing better communication with the Board of Education, Senior Citizen Housing Corporation, and with various other boards, agencies and commissions of the town. With the advice and consent of the Council, I intend to appoint a special committee comprised of members of our Traffic, Transportation and Parking Committee and of our Public Safety Committee together with citizens from the town at large. I shall charge this special committee with a six month goal to find or devise an acceptable redesign of the South Avenue traffic circle and its feeder streets. I shall ask this committee to determine the costs of such a redesign and to identify possible sources of funding for the project. I will urge the committee to enlist the support and cooperation of county, state and federal elected representatives in bringing about a solution to what has become an intolerable traffic condition. In conclusion, it would appear that 1987 will have its share of challenges for your Mayor and Council. I trust that we will be well prepared for them and able to continue what has been a tradition of governing excellence in Westfield. Thank you for your kind attention. I wish each and everyone of you a healthy, happy and prosperous New Year. Raymond W. Stone January 6, 1987

Tentative School Budget To Be Discussed Tuesday

The first draft of a tentative school operating budget for 1987-88 will be discussed by the Westfield Board of Education at a committee-of-the-whole meeting set for 8 p.m., on Tuesday, Jan. 13, in the Board Meeting Room at 302 Elm St. A tentative budget must be prepared by the School Board and submitted to the County Superintendent's office by Feb. 9. The public will have an opportunity to vote on the school budget at the annual school election, now scheduled for April 7.

Tuesday's committee-of-the-whole meeting is open to the public, with time for questions and comments from the public at the beginning of the meeting. At the end of the committee-of-the-whole meetings of the School Board are held to discuss and develop understanding of topics, to reach consensus and to set agendas for regular or special meetings. The Board's regular formal business meeting for January will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 20.

County and City of Rahway Sign Resource Recovery Agreement

The County of Union and the City of Rahway recently signed a "host community agreement" for the proposed resource recovery facility that will be built in Rahway, and scheduled to be operational in 1990.

James J. Fulcomer, Union County Freeholder, and chairman of the Union County Utilities Authority, Paul J. O'Keefe, outgoing chairman of the Board of Freeholders and Donald F. Anderson, Union County manager, signed the agreement in representation of Union County.

Mayor Daniel Martin and Joseph Hartnett, business administrator of Rahway and treasurer of the utilities authority, signed the agreement on behalf of the City of Rahway.

"This is the most important inter-governmental agreement ever reached between the County of Union and other governmental units," Fulcomer said. "This is an important step in solving the solid waste crisis in Union County."

The $110 million trash-to-energy resource recovery facility, to be built on 23 acres off Rt. 1 in Rahway, is expected to dispose of all Union County garbage.

"We are pleased with this agreement," said O'Keefe. "This is a significant beginning to the work we are into now."

County Manager Anderson expressed similar views on the signing of the agreement and the eventual construction of the facility.

Westfield Rescue Squad members observe a demonstration by Dr. Joel Confino of correct eye examination procedures. Dr. Confino of the Westfield Eye Group presented a lecture on "Ocular Emergencies" to the Squad at the monthly training meeting in December. The Rescue Squad is currently seeking qualified volunteers to serve on the ambulance and as dispatchers. Those interested in joining the organization should contact Lt. Diane Holzmueller, c/o Westfield Rescue Squad, 335 Watterson St., Westfield.

Fiorletti Receives Utilities Appointment

Armand Fiorletti, director of the Union County Department of Engineering and Planning, was named to the Construction Committee of the Union County Utilities Authority, announced James J. Fulcomer, Union County Freeholder and authority chairman.

Fiorletti, of Linden, will work on overseeing the engineering, equipment, materials, construction and testing of the resource recovery facility that will be built in Rahway.

SAR to Present Talk on Battle of Princeton

The West Fields Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution will hold its regular meeting, Monday evening, Jan. 12, at 8 p.m. The meeting will take place at the Parish House of the First Congregational Church on Elm St.

The speaker of the evening will be John K. Mills, historic preservation specialist, who is now stationed at the Princeton Battlefield State Park, at the Thomas Clarke House.

Mr. Mills graduated from Framingham State College, in Framingham, Mass., and has been active in the preservation field at Sturbridge Village, Mass., and has been curator at the Peter Matteson Tavern, Bennington Museum, in Vermont.

He will talk about the various aspects of the Battle of Princeton during the Revolutionary War.

Refreshments will be served after the program, and the public is invited.

Those interested in membership in the SAR, may contact President Clayton Kynes, or Registrar Willard N. Woodward, both of Westfield.

AARP to Form Chapter in Mountainside

The AARP is forming a local chapter based in Mountainside. Anyone in the area interested in being a charter member should attend the meeting on Monday, Jan. 12, (Snow date - Thursday, Jan. 15). The meeting will be held at the Mountainside Borough Hall, Route 22, at 10 a.m. in the Court Room.

Contact-We Care Restructures Staff

Contact-We-Care, area 24-hour helpline for the troubled and Deaf Contact 201, affiliated hotline for the hearing impaired, is restructuring its administrative staff effective the first of the year, according to a recent announcement by Betty Alexander, Contact president.

Ms. Candy Santo of Fanwood was named executive director replacing the Rev. Wesley Olson, who will continue as consultant. Ms. Rae Morris of Piscataway became assistant director, Loren Hollembaek of Fanwood was appointed director of community relations, and Ms. Pat Jordan of Roselle was designated office secretary.

A graduate of Douglass College, Ms. Santo has been serving as associate director of Contact-We-Care and as director of Deaf Contact 201. She is a professional service worker, and she and her husband James are parents of two children. Ms. Morris until recently operated a catering service. She and her husband, Joe, have two grown sons, and she has served as a Contact telephone worker for two years. Loren Hollembaek as director of community relations will coordinate public relations, recruiting, and finance. A former Fanwood councilman, member of the Fanwood Library Board, and president of the Fanwood Lions Club, Hollembaek was with CBS Radio for 19 years, and was formerly director of public relations for the American Automobile Association. Ms. Jordan was previously affiliated with an office supply company. She and her husband have a daughter.

Contact-We Care and Deaf Contact 201 are affiliated with Contact Teleministries, U.S.A. The Contact organization has been serving this area for more than 10 years around the clock and presently handles nearly 2500 calls a month, helping individuals with their personal problems and their communication via teletype to conventional phone equipment. Contact-We Care may be reached on 232-2880, Joe, have two grown sons, and she has served as a Contact 232-3333.

UCC's Open House Geared for Adults

Information geared to adults interested in returning to college will be available at a free Adult Open House to be held Saturday, Jan. 10 at Union County College's Cranford Campus at 10 a.m. career counseling, and the role of the adult student in the community, Kane said.

The Open House will afford the more "mature" student the opportunity to get acquainted with the College's admissions procedures and programs of study, according to James Kane of Westfield, director of recruitment at UCC. Conducted in an informal manner to help eliminate any anxiety the "non-traditional" student may have about returning to school, the Open House will also provide information on financial aid,

Union County College offers various programs for adults returning to college including developmental courses, seminars on how to study in college, and special sessions for people who want to prepare for GED (high school equivalency diploma) or CLEP (College Level Examination Program) testing.

The Open House will be followed by a CLEP (College Level Examination Program) orientation at 11 a.m. For further information about the Open House for adults call 276-2600, Ext. 285.

Noted Genealogist to Speak Here Saturday

"Understanding Colonial Handwriting" will be the topic of Mrs. Harriet Stryker-Rodda, C.G., noted researcher and genealogical author of South Orange, when the Genealogical Society of the West Fields gathers at 10 a.m., this Saturday, Jan. 10, in the Wateunk Room of the Westfield Memorial Library (entrance on East Broad St.). This is the second Saturday meeting of the current season, planned for the convenience of members and friends who cannot attend weekday meetings. The public is invited.

Born into the old Long Island family of Mott, Mrs. Stryker-Rodda became research librarian — and soon head librarian — of the Long Island

Historical Society on Pierrepont St. in Brooklyn. Here her interest in genealogy was stimulated and, with the ready availability of historical and genealogical materials, given full scope. So enthusiastic did she become over ancestor-hunting, that she soon passed the genealogy "bug" along to her famous husband, Dr. Kenn Stryker-Rodda, who has long since earned recognition as the "dean of American genealogists."

The speaker has just published a book titled, like her talk, "Understanding Colonial Handwriting." Others of her publications include "The Bauer Family," "The Babbott Family" and a "how-to" volume, "Climbing Your Family Tree." A copy of the last was donated by the author to the Hopkins Room collection in the Westfield Memorial Library when she spoke to the Genealogical Society of the West Fields in its pioneer days.

A Certified Genealogist, Mrs. Stryker-Rodda was a founder in 1976 of the Genealogical Club of the New Jersey Historical Society and co-founder with her husband of Flagon and Trencher, an organization of descendants of Colonial innkeepers. She is past president of both the Penelope Van Princess Chapter of Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century and of the parent organization, and a member of a local chapter of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Naturalists To Hear Lecture On Great Swamp

Leonard J. Soucy, Jr., field ornithologist, naturalist, educator and specialist in raptor rehabilitation, will present an illustrated slide lecture on "The Great Swamp - Through the Seasons" at the Jan. 13 meeting of the Echo Lake Naturalist Club, 8 p.m. at the Cranford Extended Care Center, 205 Birchwood Ave., Cranford.

The public is invited to hear Mr. Soucy and see this presentation on one of the best birding spots in this area of New Jersey. Mr. Soucy is a master bird bander, licensed by the U.S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service; has more than 10,000 hours of observation time with 7,736 hawks banded at the Kittatinny Mountain Paptor Banding Station in Sussex County and has established a rehabilitation center to provide professional care for injured and orphaned wild birds.

Mr. Soucy founded and created The Raptor Trust as an educational facility and a center for research and rehabilitation of native avifauna. He is noted especially for his interest in New Jersey barn owls.

A field trip to the Bronx Zoo and New York Botanical Garden is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 17.

Seniors Flock to Y For Special Activities

The Westfield Y, 138 Ferris Place, is a community resource center for groups of all ages, especially senior citizens.

More than 400 senior citizens come to the Y for its specially-designed exercise classes, trips and clubs every year.

"The Y is committed to improving the lifestyle of the older adult," said Y Executive Director Stan Kaslusky. "We've learned from experience that adults can lead active lifestyles into their late years."

The "Senior Exercise Class" is one example. Designed for adults over 60 years of age, the moderately-paced basic exercise class meets three times a week for an hour. Another class is "Arthritis and Rehabilitation" which uses the warm water of the Rooke Poole for therapeutic exercise.

A favorite among senior citizens are the trips that the Y sponsors to the theatre, wineries, flower shows, and museums.

Senior citizens comprise approximately 75 percent of the attendees.

In addition, The Old Guard of Westfield, a men's club, has held its meetings at the Y since 1933. The club consists of retired men whose average age is 77 years. The club meets every Thursday morning and sponsors different activities and programs throughout the year, such as "Ladies' Day", which is when the gentlemen invite their wives or lady friends to a picnic.

The Old Guard also invites local schools and churches to participate in its "Salute to Music Week", and regularly sponsors golf outings, bowling, shuffle board, bridge games, movies, and debates on current topics. Approximately 100 men attend the weekly meetings.

"The Westfield Y has been very supportive of us and we try to help the Y whenever we can," said Melvin MacMillan, director of the Old Guard.

According to Kaslusky, the Westfield Y has more support on the drawing board: renovations are planned that will enable the Y to become a "major resource center for seniors, both for social and physical activity," Kaslusky said.

Marching Band to Perform At Nets-Celtics Game

The Blue Devil Marching Band will return to the Meadowlands sports complex Jan. 13 to provide entertainment for the third year in a row.

The 52-member Westfield High School Band will give a pre-game show at 7 p.m., just prior to the Nets-Celtics game at Brendan Byrne Arena.

The show will be the same one that the Band perfected during the marching season just ended; Beethoven's "Military March", "Don't Rain on My Parade", and "Come In From the Rain".

The following evening, Jan. 14, there will be a final informational meeting on the upcoming Feb. 5-9 trip to Disney World. Members of the Marching Band, Concert Band, and Choir, along with their parents, are requested to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting in the High School choir room. The general Band Parents' meeting will follow at 8:15 p.m.

Visiting Hours Expanded At Rahway Hospital

At the start of the new year, Rahway Hospital expanded its visiting hours to 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. daily. Previously, visiting hours were restricted to two, one-hour periods daily.

"This change will allow visitors more flexibility and convenience," said Catherine Dashevsky, vice president of nursing. "It will benefit the patients too: visitors can provide them with emotional support, helping in their recovery," she said. Maternity Unit visiting hours are not changed by the new policy. Hours are restricted to 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m., but fathers can visit from 9 a.m. until 8:30 p.m.

Visiting hours to patients in the intensive and coronary care units also remain the same. Visits are restricted to 30 minutes (two relatives only), at 1 a.m., 5 a.m., 10 a.m., 1 p.m., 5 p.m., and 9 p.m.

Pediatric visiting hours for parents remain from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and are expanded to 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. for other visitors.

Life In The Suburbs

By Al Smith

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written on one side of paper and typewritten. No letter longer than 1 1/2 pages double-spaced will be considered for publication.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue. No letters will be published without a signature.

SALUTES CWC AND LIST

Editor: Leader:

We salute the College Woman's Club of Westfield for its selection of Betty List, a member of our board of trustees, as winner of the CWC's first Pride Award.

Betty's involvement in community activities has no match. Her work as the first female member of Town Council, as planning Board chairman, PTO Council head, as president of two PTAs and as co-coordinator of PANDA are but a few of the time-consuming jobs she has assumed as a Westfield resident.

Her affiliation with our United Fund has been long-term and special to us. The United Fund drive had not met its goal for a number of years until Betty served as general chairman of our 1975 campaign. The continued success of our annual drives stemmed from that banner campaign, and Betty herself continues to be a part of the United Fund team. As a trustee, she now heads our public relations committee.

The CWC has made a superb choice for its initial Pride Award winner. We hope that Betty's many friends and community supporters will join us at the CWC Celebrity night on Tuesday, January 13 to honor a woman who has donated so much to our town.

CWC FUNDRAISER

Editor: Leader:

Tuesday Jan. 13 should be marked on the calendars of all Westfielders who enjoy a good time while supporting a worthy cause.

That is the date of the Westfield College Woman's Club's second annual Celeste Holm Evening at the Westwood, and its purpose is to raise monies for the College Woman's Club Scholarship Fund.

Last year College Woman's Club of Westfield awarded over $17,000 to outstanding Westfield High School women, including a new four-year Celeste Holm scholarship which was made possible by the proceeds from last year's successful event which honored Miss Holm.

This year Jeff and Suzie Torborg of Mountainside are the honorees for the evening, which will be emceed by Joe Nolan, the CBS Shadow Traffic Reporter. Jeff, who is the pitching coach for the New York Yankees, and Suzie, a former Miss New Jersey who received a CWC scholarship herself in 1960, are already known and respected by many of us, as they are active in local church and volunteer activities. I urge all of their friends to take the opportunity to congratulate Suzie and Jeff and thank them for lending their support to this worthwhile cause.

Betty List, chairman of the Westfield Planning Board and the first woman ever elected to the Westfield Town Council, will also be honored on Jan. 13 as the first recipient of the College Woman's Club Pride Award. The Pride Award will be given to a CWC member who has made outstanding contributions to the community. Betty List is a wonderful choice for this award for many reasons. In addition to the two important jobs already mentioned, she also presently serves as coordinator of PANDA (People Against Narcotics and Drug Abuse) and is a past president of the Westfield PT Council.

Miss Holm and Wesley Addy, the actor who is also her husband in real life and co-star in the television series "Loving", have promised to attend again this year if they are not in the midst of filming. The Westwood will prepare another bountiful buffet of hors d'oeuvres and there will be door prizes and drawings. New York Yankees souvenirs will be given to the guests. The evening is scheduled for 8 to 10 p.m. Tickets and information may be obtained by contacting Eva Wiley 232-1505 or Judy Buehler.

The College Woman's Club of Westfield invites everyone to come have a wonderful time honoring the Torborgs and Betty List, and help the College Woman's Club make a meaningful contribution to the college educations of its scholarship recipients.

Report from Washington

By Matt Rinaldo
Congressman
7th District, New Jersey

As Congress prepares to open the historic 100th session, it will have a lot more on its mind than the Iran-Contra arms deal. The nation's business is too important to have this controversy sidetrack debates over the budget deficit, international trade relations, environmental problems, welfare reform, military spending, farm aid, and the serious plight of the nation's homeless.

Even though the United States Supreme Court struck down one section of Gramm-Rudman, Congress must agree on a budget for 1988 that would keep the deficit within the target range of $108 to $118 billion. Since the tax reform bill enacted in the last Congress will reduce revenues, reaching the budget target will be much more difficult. None of the choices will be easy and it will take months of committee hearings, debate and compromises before the House and Senate finally approve a budget for 1988.

The President's budget proposals will mark the opening round in this prolonged battle, a Presidency crippled by the Iran-Contra arms deal will find its powers to persuade Congress to agree on its budget recommendations seriously compromised. However, it is well to keep in mind that none of the budgets of Presidents Reagan or his immediate predecessors was adopted by Congress; all underwent drastic surgery. As history has proven, this one will, too.

One thing is certain. The third largest item in the budget, after defense and Social Security, will be debt service. Interest payments alone consume 15 percent of the budget, and in this year's budget they reached an astonishing $147 billion.

The President's defense proposals, which were trimmed by $35.2 billion in the 1987 budget, will undergo even tighter scrutiny. SDI or Star Wars research and aid to the Contras will be among the chief targets. With Democrats controlling both Houses of Congress, it will be difficult for the Administration to stand firm on its requests, and it will have to compromise on defense spending. Aid to the Contras could be one of the early casualties.

At this point in time, it is expected that efforts will be made to introduce welfare reforms. Governors, members of Congress and the Administration are avidly searching for remedies to break the dependency cycle in which welfare recipients go from one generation to the next, and payments to dependent children are viewed by some critics as incentives for illegitimate births and teenage pregnancies.

As the vice chairman of the House Aging Committee, I have called for hearings to examine the proposals of Dr. Otis Bowen, Secretary of Health and Human Services, to extend Medicare coverage for 30 million Americans to include catastrophic health insurance.

The nation's safety net program for the poor also has to be patched up to cover the growing army of homeless poor people. The problems are too broad for cities, churches and private groups to handle, and it is growing despite widespread improvements in employment. More people are on the streets because of deinstitutionalization and a lack of safe, decent and affordable housing.

In spite of $35 billion in federal payments to the nation's farmers, many family farms are on the auction block. Yet giant agribusinesses still qualify for subsidies as family farms. The law needs to be remedied to take care of those family farmers in desperate need of assistance. The health of American agriculture is essential to our nation's prosperity.

Preparing Your Tax Return: Should You Do It Yourself?

Right around this time of year, taxpayers across the country glance at the calendar to see how long they can put off preparing their taxes. But don't procrastinate, advises the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (CPAs). Now is the time to start gathering all the necessary information to make the job easier.

Preparing your taxes doesn't have to be a chore. But, if you find your financial situation growing more complicated, perhaps it is time to consider hiring an expert to do it for you. Many taxpayers have opted to leave this job up to someone else and there are professionals who specialize in tax preparation and will gladly take on the task.

How do you know if you need a professional to prepare your taxes? Take a look at some of the information that is required on a tax form and gather the necessary receipts and vouchers required for filing. This will include information about your income such as salary, dividends, interest, and gains from tax shelters. If you have had an increase in your income over the past year or two, if you got married or if you had a child, your tax situation may have changes making your preparation more detailed.

Take a look at your deductions. Items like medical expenses, interest expenses, taxes, charitable contributions and business expenses all fall into this category. If any of these amounts increased over the past year or if you incurred expenses for the first time, this is going to warrant additional attention.

Did you buy or sell a home this year? There are a number of costs involved in buying or selling a home and some of them are tax deductible. This will more than likely change your tax status.

If, after reviewing this information, you still feel uneasy about completing your tax return, you should consider hiring a professional such as a certified public accountant, an enrolled agent, an attorney or a general tax preparer.

How do you go about finding one of these professionals?

The first choice you need to make is whether you need a general tax preparer or a certified public accountant. What is the difference?

The basic distinction between a certified public accountant (CPA) and a tax preparer is that a CPA is trained and licensed to give you advice on how to handle your financial affairs. He or she can also represent you before the IRS if your tax return is audited; a general tax preparer usually cannot.

The easiest way to locate a CPA is by asking other trusted professionals, such as your lawyer, business associates or friends who they use. If they are happy with their CPA, chances are you will be too.

Besides being able to represent you when your taxes are audited, CPA will be able to offer counsel on all your financial matters on a day-to-day basis. In doing this, he or she can help you to fully understand your financial position and help you to plan strategies for the future.

Mos CPAs bill on an hourly basis so the more time they spend with you and your return, the more it will cost. Having all of your records organized before you meet with a CPA will help cut down on time.

Another option for having your taxes prepared is with a general tax preparer. As their little suggests, tax preparers use the financial information you provide to properly prepare your tax return. A tax preparer will help you choose the best IRS forms to file, make sure you take all your deductions and calculate your taxes. It is relatively easy to find a tax preparer. Every year during tax season you will begin to see advertisements for their services in your local newspapers. One major attraction of tax preparers is their relatively low fee for preparing your return.

Whoever you decide to hire, be wary of any preparer who starts to make guarantees of a refund, refuses to sign the return once it is prepared or who asks you to sign a blank form before the work has begun. All of these things have been known to happen and may cause problems later.

Whether you use a preparer, a CPA or complete your own tax return, organizing your information is the key. Have all your records and receipts — such as those for investment income, bank statements, medical costs and child care — in some kind of filing system. This will cut down on preparation time and will help you in case your preparer or CPA has questions.

The decision to prepare your own tax return or to let a professional do it may depend on the complexity of your financial situation. If this is the year you got the big raise, got married, had a child, bought a house or made any other changes affecting your financial situation, you might want to seriously consider using a professional. Remember, it's never too early to get started on your taxes to make that April 15 deadline.

History of Westfield

This is the continuation of a series of articles on the history of Westfield taken from "History of Town of Westfield" by Charles A. Philhower, one time superintendent of schools here, and published in 1923, a copy of which has been loaned to The Leader by the Westfield Historical Society. We think the material will be of interest to all residents new and old.

Records show as early as 1793 letters and packages were sent from Elizabeth Port to Westfield by the Speedwell Stage, and until 1800 Westfield people received their mail through Elizabeth Town. Letters were addressed "Elizabeth Town," to which was added Branch Mills, Baker's Plains, Willow Grove, Raritan Road, or West Fields. The stage drivers would bring the mail to the Samuel Downer store, at which place the people of the community would make inquiry for it. Oftentimes Mr. Downer would take the letters with him in his hat to the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, and would hand them out to those present or send them to the addressees by their neighbors. At this time the rate of postage was determined by the distance the letter was to be sent. The postage to New York and Philadelphia was the same, twenty-five cents per letter.

Inns, Stores and Hotels - In Revolutionary times there were two taverns - Thomas Baker's Inn was on the southeast corner of Central avenue and Broad Street, where the new moving picture playhouse now stands; and the other was a little west of the head of Central avenue, where the Russell building is located. This was known for many years as the Westfield Tavern...At the present time the one hotel that accomodates transient guests is Willets' on North avenue, east of the Plaza, on the south side.

Doctors - The first doctor in this vicinity was William Robinson, who located in 1683 on Robinson's Branch, just outside of Rahway, after whom the stream was named. The Rev. Jonathan Dickinson, who was the first Presbyterian minister in this section, was also a physician and practiced here from 1709 to 1747. The Rev. Jonathan Elmer for a number of years preached at Turkey (New Providence) and also practiced medicine in this section from 1752-1787. His son, Philemon Elmer, lived in Westfield, and was probably the first resident physician. He practiced the greater part of his life in Westfield (1750-1826). His home was on what is now Elmer street, after whom the street is named.

War of 1812 - During the War of 1812 the citizens of Westfield showed themselves patriotic in preparing for the defense of their country...A rather notable recognition was given to the town of Westfield, Saturday, August 22, 1812. At this time the Hon. Charles Clark, Esq., of Westfield, held the position then known as the vice-president of the State of New Jersey. The Hon. Joseph Bloomfield was governor. It seems that the utmost precaution was taken at this time respecting the custody of the Great Seal of the State. It was always placed within the immediate care of some high official when not in the hands of the governor. On this occasion in question Governor Bloomfield was obliged to leave New Jersey on an errand of state of Albany. His plans included arrangements...wherein provision (was) made for leaving the Great Seal of State in Westfield. In so far as is known, the Seal was placed in the care of the Hon. Charles Clark, of Westfield, where it was guarded securely until the governor's return. For a day at least, Westfield was in substance the capital of the State of New Jersey.

Wednesday Programs Set for Grades 3-5

Trailside Nature and Science Center is sponsoring a program called Afternoon Adventures, a Wednesday after-school series, for children in the third through fifth grades offering the following calendar of programs:

Jan. 14, 3:30-4:45 p.m. - "Paper Possibilities:" the group will cut up, fold and create their own colorful, three dimensional paper animals using traditional and new methods of paper sculpting.

Jan. 21, 3:30-4:45 p.m. - "Dry Bones:" children will take a close-up look into bones and skulls of animals to learn more about them.

Jan. 28, 3:30-4:45 p.m. - "Hidden Treasures:" the young people will learn some map reading skills, then test the new knowledge hunting for a secret Trailside treasure. Warm clothing is suggested.

There is a fee for each class. For more information call 232-5930.

The Trailside Center is in Mountainside at the corner of Coles Avenue and New Providence Road.

Leaders of the Visiting Homemaker Service of Central Union County were honored for their efforts with the presentation of a resolution designating "National Home Care Week" at a recent session of the General Assembly. The resolution was presented by Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick of Westfield (second from right) and Assemblyman Peter Genova of Union (third from left). Receiving the ceremonial resolution were (from left) Leonard Moody, Betty Brubaker, Forrest Blanding, Muriel Smith and Ruth Pringle.

THANKS CONTRIBUTORS

Editor; Leader:

As we come to the end of the holiday season I would like to thank all of our friends and neighbors who contributed so generously to our Seventh Annual Toys For Tots Drive.

Area residents of all ages began bringing toys to our offices in late November, and by mid December our toy boxes were filled to overflowing. During the course of the drive our sales representatives had the opportunity to meet and work with many caring people.

We are confident that the gifts that were donated were most appreciated. Our reward is the knowledge that our company had the chance to help brighten the holidays for so many needy children. For at the heart of it, we at Schlott know that we must give back to our communities some of the support and concern that they have shown to us.

Again, I extend my deepest thanks and wish all of our friends and neighbors a happy and healthy New Year!

Dick Schlott, President
Schlott Realtors

VNHS THANKS RESIDENTS

Editor; Leader:

On behalf of the Visiting Nurse and Health Services (VNHS) I would like to thank the residents of the Westfield Senior Citizen Housing for their generous donation of food baskets for our needy patients. It is truly a pleasure for our staff to be able to give these items to needy patients during the holiday season.

Many of the patients who received the food were sick and needy individuals of large families, with five or six young children to care for. With the food delivered by our staff nurses, the families were able to enjoy a holiday dinner with all the trimmings.

Again, a special thank you to the residents of the Westfield Senior Citizen Housing for their continued support, and, helping to make the holidays a little more festive for our patients.

Rosemary Cuccaro,
R.N., B.S., M.A.
Executive Director
Elizabeth, N.J.

LETTER TO THE CHIEF

Editor; Leader:

The following letter of commendation was sent to the Westfield Police Department.

Dear Chief Scutti:

I would like to commend the prompt action on a possible dangerous situation. I had observed that the Stop sign on the corner of Kimball Ave. and North Chestnut had broken off. Somebody had leaned it against the mailbox. Many small children walk past the area. The sign could have fallen and injured one of them.

I called this in to the desk at about 8:50 on Sunday, Dec. 21. I noticed that a new sign had been installed by 1 p.m. the same day. I would like to commend the people who took care of that so quickly.

Alfred Riker
641 Kimball Ave.

SUCCESSFUL TOY DRIVE

Editor; Leader:

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many gifts donated to our Eighth Annual Weichert, Realtors Toy Drive to benefit needy children.

The kindhearted generosity of the public this year helped us brighten the holiday season for so many underprivileged children, and made this year's toy drive the most successful ever! Thousands of toys were collected at our 178 offices, and distributed to local charities in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania.

We extend our warmest thanks to all communities in the New York/Philadelphia metropolitan area for their continued support.

James M. Weichert,
President

SODA

Soda is an abbreviation of sodium bicarbonate, a chrysaline compound used at one time in making artificial sparkling mineral water. The soft drink industry can thank Englishman Joseph Priestly for making the first soda water in 1772 to imitate the bubbling water of certain natural springs.

It was not until 1830, however, that the first flavored soda was sold; this was long before the introduction of Coca Cola in 1886. While the name soda bubbles on, sodium bicarbonate is no longer used in soft drinks. Instead, carbon dioxide is charged into water to create the effervescence.

The earliest meaning of the word soda is very revealing. Its origin is the Arab word suda, meaning "a splitting headache." This, in turn, comes from the Arab word sada, "to split." Later, during the medieval period, the Romans borrowed Suda to form the word sodanum, literally meaning "a cure for the common headache." Next time you have a two sodanum headache try soda.

indicated that they intend to aggressively pursue investigations into corporate takeovers and insider trading practices. Furthermore, U.S. trade relations will be high on the agenda, as Congress is determined to enforce a policy of fair trade as well as free trade. This time Congress has the votes to override a Presidential veto on trade bills.

Attempts are likely to be made to correct some of the glaring deficiencies in the tax reform bill, such as the deductions for state and local taxes and IRA contributions. Unfortunately, they will be resisted by the leadership and probably die in committee.

Finally, the Energy and Commerce Committee, on which I serve, will take another look at the acid rain problem and other items.

It will be a busy Congress and, hopefully, just as productive as the last Congress, unless it becomes bogged down over the Iran-Contra aid issue.

American Field Service Offers New Experiences

By Virginia Raguenaud

WHS News Bureau

The American Field Service (AFS) experience gives its participants the opportunity to develop skills such as thinking critically and reflecting on others' ideas and feelings, and builds greater self-confidence, according to the AFS representative, Mrs. Phyllis Feder.

AFS International/Inter-cultural Programs is an organization dedicated to give cultural learning possibilities to young adults through living experiences in a foreign country. The year program and the summer program are the two choices being offered to the students.

Andre Zbinden, an AFS student here at WHS, is a participant of the year program from Switzerland. He explains, "I learned about the AFS program through my English teacher who asked me if I was interested. I chose the United-States because I wanted to improve my English. I thought it would be a good experience. The AFS is a good organization. I've met a lot of new people and I've improved my English."

A student can live abroad and experience a different way of life by attending high school and living with a host family in any one of 58 countries. For the year program a winter or summer departure is available to such countries as Australia, South Africa, Brazil, Japan, Thailand, France, Egypt, Yugoslavia and many more.

On the AFS summer program, a student spends eight to 10 weeks with a host family. Some countries may include school attendance. Different possibilities are offered through the summer program. A student can attend any of the following: the language skill program, outdoor program, sports program, or work abroad program. For details, students should see Ms.

Suzanne Jacobus, head of the foreign language department. The other two cultural studies are the Netherlands arts program and the Italian cultural sites program.

The deadline for the year and summer programs applications is Feb. 1.

The AFS International offers financial funds for the students with need. Mrs. Feder strongly advised that every student interested in the program should apply whatever his financial situation is. She explained that many financial options are available to the students.

Mrs. Feder also indicated that the AFS experience can help a student get into the college of his choice because "The AFS student is considered a risk taker and an individual who has a definite maturity and intellectual curiosity."

When asked about the application process, Mrs. Feder explained, "Our basic philosophy is that we are trying to find a compatible family for each student. That is why the application process is rather extensive. To find the right choice, we have to have a statement by the student, the parents, and a teacher of that particular student. A personal interview is mandatory."

Anyone interested in the AFS programs should contact Ms. Jacobus at Westfield High School for an application or for more information on the various possibilities offered.

Coin/Stamp Exposition

A coin and stamp exposition will be held on Sunday, Jan. 27 at the VFW Hall, South Ave., Cranford, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. This exposition is promoted by Darren Ford of Westfield and Alex Zielenski of Cranford, who both attend G.M.I. Institute in Flint, Mich. Admission is free.

Debra Scacifero Married In Afternoon Ceremony

Debra Lee Scacifero of Spring Valley, N.Y. and Jay Martin Ashenofsky of Spring Valley were wed Sunday, July 13 at Pantagis Renaissance, Scotch Plains.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Scacifero of Westfield. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ashenofsky of New City, N.Y.

A reception at Pantagis followed the afternoon ceremony which was performed by Judge James T. Leonard.

Mrs. Ashenofsky wore her mother's gown of antique satin. It featured a bodice of Alencon lace and seed pearls with 55 satin buttons down the back. The chapel length train was bordered with antique lace and the finger tip length veil was adorned with Alencon lace and seed pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of ivory roses, stephanotis, freesia, baby's breath and cascading ivy.

Linda C. Scacifero of Cranford served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a tea length dress of fuschia silk taffeta hand made by her and the bride. She carried a bouquet of ivory sweetheart roses, fuschia carnations and baby's breath.

Best man was Dr. David Ashenofsky of New City.

The bride is a graduate of Westfield High School. She earned her bachelor of fine arts degree from the School of Visual Arts in New York City. She presently works at ABC-TV in New York City as a supervisor in production operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ashenofsky

The bridegroom is a graduate of Midwood High School in Brooklyn, N.Y. He currently works as a video tape editor at CBS-TV in New York City.

Community Players Holding Auditions

The Westfield Community Players will hold auditions for their upcoming production of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" on Sunday, Jan. 11 at 3 p.m. and on Monday, Jan. 12 at 7 p.m. at their playhouse, 1000 North Ave. West. Directed by Anthony M. Gudeff, the play is a Tony award winning spoof of big business.

Needed are eight men ranging in age from 20 to 55, four women, aged 20 to 50, and a full chorus.

Those trying out are asked to have prepared an up-tempo song and a ballad. It is preferred that a two minute monologue also be prepared.

The play will be presented on March, 14, 20, 21, 27, 28 and April 3 and 4.

Betty List Receives First "Pride Award"

Betty List, chairman of the Westfield Planning Board and a former member of the Westfield Town Council, has been named recipient of the first Pride Award to be presented by the College Woman's Club of Westfield. The award is designed to pay tribute to a club member who has distinguished herself in community service or in her own profession.

Presentation of the award will be made Jan. 13 at the Celeste Holm Celebrity Night, where Mountainside residents Jeff Torborg and his wife, Susan, will be honored as the 1987 celebrities.

List was the first woman ever elected to Town Council, on which she served from 1977 to 1983. She is a member of the Republican Committee Executive Board and of the Westfield Women's Republican Club. She serves as coordinator of PANDA (People Against Narcotics and Drug Abuse) and heads that organization's Citizens' Advisory Committee on Youth.

List is the past president of the Westfield PT Council, and of the PTAs at both Westfield High School and Wilson School. She also served as a board member of the Westfield Service League and a member of the executive committee of Stop the Mail.

She is a member of the board of trustees and public relations chairman of the United Fund of Westfield, and served as general chairman of the Fund's 1975 drive. She also is a member of the League of Woman Voters, former trustee to the College Woman's Club, and serves on the executive committee of the Police Athletic League.

A graduate of Rucknell University, List serves on that college's North Jersey Alumni Board. For six years following her graduation, List worked at Young and Rubicam, a New York advertising firm.

List previously was honored with the Community Service Award from the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce.

"Betty List's record of community service is unparalleled in Westfield," says Eva Wiley, chairman of the Celebrity Night. "It is fitting that she be cited as our first Pride Award winner."

Tickets for the Celebrity Night are available by contacting Eva Wiley, Bebbins Yudes or Michele Picou. The event, to be held at The Westwood, will feature a cocktail buffet.

DIET CENTER
THE WEIGHT LOSS PROFESSIONALS

COME RAIN OR SHINE

Q. Winter weather in my area is not conducive to outdoor exercising, such as jogging. Can you suggest how I can stay physically fit throughout the winter months?

A. You are wise to want to continue exercising during these months. A regular exercise program will help control weight, increase energy, improve health and decrease the need for sleep.

There are many kinds of indoor exercise equipment available. Diet Center suggests the use of a mini-trampoline. The mini-trampoline is an aerobic exercise appliance. It provides a trauma-free environment for jogging, warm-up and cool-down sequences, and for general conditioning exercise.

As with any exercise program, be sure to consult your physician before beginning.

For further information about the benefits of rebound exercise and other tips, call your local Diet Center at

Pictured above are the Wesley Waits in concert with the Oratorio Choir of the First United Methodist Church, February, 1986. The Waits will perform alone at 8 p.m., Jan. 16 in a concert entitled "A Ceremony of Carols."

'Waits' To Perform Challenging Pieces

Thirty-six young singers of Westfield, The Wesley Waits, will present a program of carols in keeping with their name. The Waits have obtained their name from the English, where the word "waits" means "carolers."

Singing in concert on Friday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church in Westfield, the choir of boys and girls will perform Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols," accompanied by Kathleen Bride on the harp. The choir will also sing works by Bach, Pergolesi, Randall Thompson, and Gregg Smith.

This choir is composed of children from the First United Methodist Church plus children from the community who are able to pass a difficult audition. The standards are high since they perform some of the finest and most difficult choral literature.

"This is the most challenging program of music which the Waits have sung so far," according to their director, Philip R. Dietterich. "It should be a jubilant and exciting program, and I hope the children have a good audience. They've worked hard after school two days each week and are putting a lot of energy into the music. Come to think of it, I've worked hard, too, to get their minds going, their voices tuned, and their feelings expressing and communicating the musical meanings."

Tickets for the concert are available from any member of the Wesley Waits, from the church office at One East Broad St., or a Jeannette's Gift Shop. Tickets will be available at the door the night of the concert.

Manor Park Tenants Complete Projects

Mrs. Florence Pickering, chairlady of the Manor Park Tenants' Organization food collection projects for the food pantry and VNA distribution announced that "the December collection was overwhelming." Four large Christmas baskets were made up, and extra bags of groceries were left over.

Hams were purchased by the association. The same project was carried out for Thanksgiving. The other monthly collections of food are collected and distributed through the United Methodist Church.

The Outreach Group of the RSVP recently attended the Christmas afternoon party at the Meridian Convalescent Center - Westfield, and assisted serving cake, cookies and cold drink to all the patient-residents who attended. Mrs. Rose Ridge knitted six pairs of stocking booties which were donated along with 44 Christmas gifts to be distributed at their next party.

The Manor Park Tenants Organization recently hosted a large Holiday Party in the Community Room with a hot turkey holiday dinner. Westfield Senior Housing Complex board members and their wives were guests as well as staff members and manager, Mr. Jago, and his wife Helen. The Manor Park Singing Group entertained with carol singing.

Newly elected officers to serve the association for 1987-88 will be as follows: president, Ruth Hescocock; first vice president, Flora Cotone; second vice president, Willard Reese; recording secretary, Muriel Whelan; corresponding secretary, Isabel Barker; and treasurer, James Coventry. Trustees will be appointed at the first meeting of the year, Jan. 21.

Mrs. Alice Berry, social coordinator, has announced a full planned program for Jan. and Feb. The singing group will entertain at the Scotch Plains Senior Citizen's meeting on Jan. 8. Residents will attend a dress rehearsal of "Sly Fox" at the Cranford Dramatic Club on Jan. 29.

Resource Center Offers Varied Support Groups

A new series of low-cost support groups for women, focusing on specific developmental issues and life crisis, will begin mid-January at the Resource Center for Women. Each group is led by an experienced mental health professional and is limited to no more than ten participants.

For women experiencing the crisis of a recent separation or divorce, Mary Owens, MSW, will lead a group which meets Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning Jan. 22, running ten sessions. A daytime group with the same focus will meet on eight Mondays from 10 to 11:30 a.m., led by Dorothy Corsello, BSM, MA., beginning on Jan. 19.

After the crisis of a divorce is past, there is a need to redefine one's identity and the direction life will take. This rebuilding stage will be explored in an eight-week group meeting on Saturday mornings from 9:30 to 11 a.m., beginning Jan. 24 and led by Kay English, MSW, ACSW.

An eight-week "growth and support" group which gives women the opportunity to explore who they are, what they want out of life and how to grow toward independence, self-esteem and stronger relationships will meet Tuesday evenings from 7:45 to 9:15 p.m., beginning Jan. 20 and led by Diane Hrobosky, RN, MS.

A new Center offering is a "brown bag" support group for professional women meeting from noon to 1 p.m. on eight Tuesdays beginning Jan. 20. This group, led by Anne Auerbach, PhD, will focus on experiences, concerns and thoughts about the many difficult issues that professional working women face each day.

Sharon Shrensel, PsyD, will lead a Saturday afternoon group exploring addictive relationships and will discuss women who "love too much" and who are drawn into unhappy or destructive relationships. The group will meet from 2:30 to 4 p.m. for six weeks beginning Jan. 31.

All support groups meet at the Resource Center for Women which is located at Calvary Episcopal Church, corner of Woodland and DeForest Avenues in Summit. The Center is a non-profit organization with no religious or political affiliations.

For information about fees and to register, call Ann Classco at the Center, 273-7253 from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday, or Wednesday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m.

NOW Presents Lecture On 1986 Tax Reforms

As a public service, the Westfield area chapter of the National Organization of Women will present Mr. Michael G. Falk, certified public accountant and tax manager, discussing the 1986 tax reform. The presentation will be made Wednesday, Jan. 14, 7:30 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of Westfield, 125 Elmer St.

Mr. Falk will relate how the tax reform affects married couples, single heads of household and single people as well as the changes in the ways deductions can be taken for child care costs, interest and personal business expenses.

Mr. Falk is employed by I. Weismann Associates in Mt. Arlington and handles the tax preparation and submission for NOW-NJ. He received his M.B.A. in accounting from Columbia University.

A question and answer session will follow the presentation. The meeting is open to the general public.

The Orchestral String Training Ensemble of the New Jersey Youth Symphony will premiere a suite titled "Yesterday Is Today" by Belle Mead resident Rita Z. Asch, pictured right. The concert will be held Sunday, Jan. 11, 3 p.m. at Roosevelt Junior High School. This music has been designed as a learning tool for the 60 member string orchestra. The sections of the suite are written in the Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Contemporary music styles and contain techniques devised to challenge and highlight each section of the orchestra. Ms. Asch has connected the suite with narration. George Marriner Maul, Music Director of the New Jersey Youth Symphony, will be guest narrator for "Yesterday Is Today"; Barbara Barstow, above left, is OSTE conductor. Participating Westfield students include Kuenley Chiu, Matthew Clark, Jill D'Ambrosia, Karen Beth Feinberg, Mary Catherine LaMar, Fumiko Oe, Amy Sklar and J.R. Smiljanic.

Tom and Susan Cherin, co-chairpersons of the J.C.C. "Golden Nugget" drawing, examine one of the prizes for the Jan. 18 fund-raising event.

"Golden Nugget" Drawing Has Pure Gold as Prize

$5000 worth of pure gold will be awarded as first prize at this year's "Golden Nugget" drawing sponsored by the Jewish Community Center of Central New Jersey in Scotch Plains. The awarding of prizes will take place on Sunday, Jan. 18 at the J.C.C. The second prize winner will go home with $1000 worth of video equipment.

"This is our biggest fund-raising event of the year," says Susan Cherin, who is this year's co-chairperson with her husband, Tom. Mrs. Cherin noted that the J.C.C. has exhibited "outstanding growth" and predicted "this coming year will feature new and exciting programs."

Funds raised by the event will be used to benefit youth and adult activities sponsored by the J.C.C., according to Tom Cherin.

Susan and Tom Cherin have donated an 18k yellow gold choker designed and hand fabricated by Cherin in his Westfield jewelry shop. The chain is valued at $1000 and will be awarded in a separate drawing from a pool of those persons who have sold six or more tickets.

Anyone interested in purchasing a ticket for the drawing or selling tickets, call the J.C.C. at 889-8800.

Musical Club Notes Career Of 1982 Award Recipient

Hae-Young Ham was the recipient of the Archibald Cummins Memorial Scholarship awarded by the Musical Club of Westfield between 1982 and 1985. She was the soloist at the scholarship concert of the Musical Club of Westfield in 1983.

In October of 1986 Young Ham took her place in the violin section of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra as its fourth youngest member.

Until this time she was a doctoral student in the Juilliard School of Music, being the concertmistress of the Juilliard Orchestra. The 24 year-old Ms. Ham came to the attention of Zubin Mehta as she first performed with the New York Philharmonic at age 18 as a soloist in the Young Peoples Concert series. On the basis of such experience she was accepted to audition for the orchestra.

She recalls: "I was very nervous at the preliminaries as the auditioner is on stage alone, behind a screen and out of view, with no talking aloud and no applause." At the finals, face to face with the judge, Ms. Ham felt much more comfortable and she knew she was playing well.

Ms. Ham is a student of Margaret Pardee. Originally from Seoul, Korea, Ms. Ham began playing the violin at age 12. Three years later her family immigrated to the United States, settling in New Jersey.

The New Year Begins With Baby's Arrival

At 12:01 a.m., the first flight of 1987 to touch down in Newark carried with it the beginning of a new family. Baby girl Elena, a four-month old infant from Honduras, came home with her new mother and was welcomed by a banner-carrying delegation of joyous friends and relatives. Coincidentally, Elena is the first adopted baby placed by Children's Services International, Inc., a Westfield adoption agency in its first year of operation.

Tin Painting Will Be Demonstrated Sunday

Country painting on tin will be demonstrated this Sunday at the Miller-Cory Museum, 614 Mountain Ave., from 2-4 p.m. by Mary Ellen Halsey, who is noted for her work in this decorative art. During the winter months when the days were short, when the summer work and fall harvest were completed, the colonial families were not idle but put their hands to other activities. While the men repaired their tools or made new ones, the women were busy spinning, weaving, braiding rugs and working at various needlework jobs, all of which will be demonstrated at the museum in the winter Sunday programs. Some of the talented colonials would bring color to their homes by painting their tin ware in bright patterns. Early examples of this work have been sought by collectors for a number of years and Mrs. Halsey will demonstrate the process for visitors this Sunday. Mrs. Halsey is a member of the Historical Society of Early American Decorations at the Albany Institute of History and Art, an organization dedicated to preserving early 19th century art forms and patterns. She is a past president of the Miller-Cory Volunteers, and currently serves as president of the Board of Governors of the Miller-Cory House Museum. The Museum has changed to winter visiting hours of 2-4 p.m. and the open-hearth cooking will resume in the spring, but the shop is open providing books to read and crafts to make for those who would like a colonial project to make during these winter months.

Bebbins Yudes (center), president of the College Woman's Club of Westfield, is shown discussing plans for the second annual Celeste Holm Evening on Jan. 13 honoring Jeff and Suzie Torborg and Betty List, with Eva Wiley (left), chairman of the event, and Michele Picou, vice president of the Club. Tickets for the event may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Wiley or Judy Buehler.

College Woman's Club To Honor Celebrities

Jeff Torborg, pitching coach of The New York Yankees, and his wife, Susan, will be honored at the 1987 Celeste Holm Celebrity Night, to be held Tuesday, Jan. 13, at The Westwood, Garwood. The event, sponsored by the College Woman's Club of Westfield, is named after Holm, who was the honoree last year at the initial Celebrity Night.

The club also will present the first Pride Award to one of its members, Betty List, for her service to the community.

Proceeds of the event, which will feature a cocktail buffet, will benefit the club's scholarship fund for graduating female students at Westfield High School.

Torborg, a Westfield High School graduate, was the national collegiate batting champion at Rutgers and his .537 average remains the standing record. He was a catcher with the Los Angeles Dodgers for seven years, during which he caught three no-hitters including Sandy Koufax's perfect game. Torborg was named twice to the National League All-Star team. He also played three years with the California Angels before joining the Cleveland Indians where he served both as coach and manager. He has been with the Yankee organization since 1979.

Susan Torborg was a winner of the College Woman's Club scholarship and received her bachelor's degree from Douglass College, where she was named to Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. Torborg won the "Miss New Jersey" title and represented the Garden State in the Miss America contest. Her community service activities include working with Mobile Meals, the United Way of Mountainside, and serving as a Sunday School teacher.

The Torborgs, who reside in Mountainside, have three sons.

List is chairman of the Westfield Planning Board, coordinator of PANDA, and a member of the board of trustees of the United Fund of Westfield. She was the first woman ever elected to the Westfield Town Council and served with that unit for six years. She is the past president of the Westfield PT Council and the PTAs at Westfield High School and Wilson School. She also serves on the executive committee of the Police Athletic League and as district chairman of Delta Delta Delta.

Tickets for Celeste Holm Celebrity Night are available by contacting Eva Wiley, 230 Sylvania Place, or Michele Picou, 815 Highland Ave.

Bebbins Yudes is president of the College Woman's Club of Westfield.

Professor Joann Maslin To Address Older Women

The Older Women's League (OWL), Central New Jersey Chapter, will hold a meeting on Jan. 10 at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 414 E. Broad St. Joann Maslin will speak on caregiving.

Mrs. Maslin is the field representative for the Union County Division on Aging. She is an adjunct professor at Kean College and she has led seminars on caregiving at Union County College. She is the past president of the Gerontological Society of New Jersey.

The Older Women's League is a national membership organization addressing the special concerns of midlife and older women. OWL works toward improving the image and status of older women; to provide mutual support for its members; and to achieve social and economic equity.

The issues are social security, pension rights, health insurance, caregiver support services, and jobs for older women. The focus for the current year is a healthcare campaign; the development of a model bill to divide marital assets to prevent impoverishment of spouses; health insurance pools at the state level; provision of unpaid leave for caretakers of parents, spouses, and other relatives; and the new agenda item, "staying in charge to the end of your life."

The Central New Jersey Chapter of OWL was formed in the area in the fall. For information contact Gretel D. Weiss, chair, 755-8951 or Jody Faust, secretary, 753-6764.

Concert Will Help Fund Handicapped Ramp Project

Stephen Wolosonovich and Jonathan Daitch, violinists, with Elizabeth Tipton, pianist, will present a concert at the First Congregational Church, 125 Elmer St. on Sunday, Jan. 18, 3:15 p.m. for the benefit of the ramp project for the handicapped. A donation will be requested.

The concert will feature selections from J.S. Bach, S. Prokofiev and Cesar Franck.

Stephen Wolosonovich is a graduate of Juilliard School of Music where he studied with Ivan Galamian and Louis Persinger. He has given more than 1200 concerts in the Tri-State area, and has presented recitals and programs on violin teaching and violin making on Service Electric Cable Television Stations in Allentown, Pa. He made his New York debut in 1982 at Carnegie Hall playing the music of Walter Legawiec. Mr. Wolosonovich has just returned from playing and teaching at the University of Beijing, the People's Republic of China. He also gave a lecture on violin making and violin sound.

Elizabeth Tipton holds Bachelor and Master of Science degrees from Juilliard. She has performed widely in New Jersey as a soloist, accompanist, and as a member of chamber music groups. She and her husband, Noel Tipton, teach at their school in Westfield, the Tipton Music School. She has studied with Beveridge Webster and privately with the late Nadia Reisenberg.

Jonathan Daitch is currently chief resident in anesthesiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, and has been a member of the Albert Einstein Symphony Orchestra for one year. He studied violin with Stephen Wolosonovich, at Meadowmount and attended Franklin and Marshall College, where he received honors in musicology. While at Jefferson Medical School, he received a scholarship to the Aspen Music Festival, and performed the Tchaikovsky Violin Concerto in Carnegie Recital Hall. He also performed the Beethoven violin concerto with the Albert Einstein Symphony Orchestra.

"Alone Together" Spoofs The Not-So-Empty Nest

The Westfield Community Players kick off 1987 with their production of "Alone Together," by Lawrence Roman, beginning on Saturday, Jan. 10, with additional performances on the following Fridays and Saturdays, Jan. 16, 17, 23 and 24.

Judith Allwyn (of Maplewood) and Paul Monte (of Westfield) play Helene and George Butler, a middle aged couple who have worked hard all their lives to send their three sons on to college and independence. Now, just as they're looking forward to some time to themselves, their sons all return home, along with a girlfriend that they somehow manage to share.

The Butlers' "empty nest" soon becomes quite crowded as the sons, played by Anthony Gudell (of Edison), Michael McMahon (of Garwood) and Timothy Murphy (of Elizabeth) slowly invade their parents' privacy. Meanwhile, the girlfriend, played by Megan Brennan (of Westfield), can frequently be found spending curiously long amounts of time now in one brother's bedroom and then the other.

Eventually the Butlers face the need either to cut the cord with their sons or use it to strangle them.

Ginny Schwartz (of Metuchen) is the director of the production.

Tickets can be purchased at Jeannette's and Rorden Realty in Westfield. Tickets can also be reserved by telephone, by calling the box office at 232-1221. From January 5 and continuing throughout the production, the box office will be open every weeknight from 7:45-9 p.m. at the Players' theatre located at 1000 North Ave. West.

Groups and clubs can also reserve blocks of seats by calling 232-8018.

The audience at the opening night performance will be invited to a champagne reception following the show to meet the members of the cast.

Membership in the Westfield Players is open to all interested individuals and includes a free ticket for each of the remaining plays scheduled for the season. In March, the musical comedy, "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" will be presented, followed by Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," in May.

To become a member, send name, address, telephone number and check made payable to "Westfield Community Players" to Letty S. Hudak, 409 Harrison Ave., Westfield, N.J. 07090.

BABY BOOMERS

Yesterday's baby boomers will soon be needing glasses to help them read. Some already have them. There are many types of lenses that can help your eyes adjust from seeing distant objects to seeing objects at arm's length or closer.

- Single vision lenses only make close vision tasks comfortable and clearer.
- Bifocals have two distinctly divided segments: the upper one lets you see distant objects clearly; the lower makes close objects clearer for longer periods of time.
- Blended bifocals are the same as bifocals, but there is no telltale dividing line separating the correction for distance and for near.
- Progressive lenses are multifocal. In addition to a distance and near correction, there is an invisible middle channel for seeing intermediate objects.

Just which type of lens is right for you should be determined by you, your lifestyle and your optometrist.

Three Meetings Scheduled In Jan. for Woman's Club

The Travel Department of the Woman's Club of Westfield will meet Friday, Jan. 9 at 1 p.m. at the clubhouse, 318 S. Euclid Ave.

Mrs. Harold W. Debbie will present a slide program and commentary on "Another Hawaii."

Refreshments will be served prior to the meeting by Mesdames J. Wallace Gentles, Marshall M. Cooledge and William V. Kaylor.

The general meeting of the Woman's Club of Westfield will be held in the Fellowship Room of the First United Methodist Church, 1 E. Broad St. on Monday, Jan. 12 at 1:15 p.m.

"Vintage Historical Hat Fashions" will be presented by the Bonnet-Aires, a fourteen member choral group of the Woman's Club of Maplewood. It is a program of popular nostalgic tunes of the past century along with a narrative of amusing highlights of the history of women through the decades. A colorful hat show of fashions corresponding to each era will be featured.

The group has performed at women's clubs, senior group meetings and various civic and cultural organizations throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Members of the American Home Life and the Travel Departments will serve as hostesses for the tea which follows the program.

Mrs. William Neil Pierce, chairman, has announced that the International Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Westfield will start the New Year with a program given by one of the American Field Service Exchange students attending Westfield High School. His name is Andre Zbinden and he is from Switzerland. He is 18 years old. He will talk about his country and his impressions of ours.

The meeting will be held at the clubhouse on Wednesday, Jan. 14 at 1 p.m.

Refreshments will be served prior to the meeting by Mesdames C. Minot Fogg, Harry B. Smith and Paul J. Kranz.

Senior Citizen Center To Open at Ash Brook

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation's Senior Citizen Center opened Monday, Jan. 5, at the Ash Brook Golf Course Clubhouse, Scotch Plains.

The center will be open to Union County Senior Citizens, ages 62 and over, on weekdays from noon to 4 p.m., through Feb. 28.

General social and recreational activities will be available on a daily basis, while special programs will be held periodically. These programs will feature topics that are of specific interest to seniors including health, history and special services. Programs for January include:

Thursday, Jan. 8 - Emergency Care - Alternate to Emergency Care; Monday, Jan. 12 - Trip to Trailside Nature and Science Center - Birds; Thursday, Jan. 15 - Tax Reform - Its effects on Seniors; Friday, Jan. 16 - Warinanco Skating Center - Frolic on Ice; Tues. Jan. 20 - Union County Consumer Affairs - Protect Your Rights; Thursday, Jan. 22 - Social Security Benefits for Seniors; Friday, Jan. 23 - Warinanco Skating Center - Fun on Ice; Monday, Jan. 26 - Investment Opportunities for Seniors; Wednesday, Jan. 28 - Union County Cooperative Extension - Eating For Better Health; Thursday, Jan. 29 - Session I - Golf Clinic and Instruction; Friday, Jan. 30 - Warinanco Skating Center - Skating Session.

All programs begin at 1:15 p.m. For further information call Ash Brook at 756-0414.

La Leche League Begins New Series

The Westfield P.M. La Leche League begins a new series of discussions on the joy of nursing a baby today, Thursday, Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

The next four monthly meetings, beginning with tonight's topic, "The Advantages of Breastfeeding to the Mother and Baby" will be held at 93 Summit Ct. in Westfield.

A lending library of books on lactation and parenting is available. Pregnant and nursing mothers are invited to attend, and babies are always welcome.

Trailside Offers Afternoon Series

For children in the first and second grade, Trailside Nature and Science Center offers a Thursday afternoon program series called Afterschool Explorations. The center describes the various sessions as follows:

Jan. 15, 3:30-4:45 p.m., Maze-Daze: Have you ever seen a mouse run through a maze? Spend an afternoon playing games, solving riddles and inventing your own maze.

Jan. 22, 3:30-4:45 p.m. - Paper Prodigy: Come create a three dimensional paper camera. Make images with light on paper and fold and cut paper to make animals.

Jan., 29, 3:30-4:45 p.m. - Parlor Games and Fireside Fun: Invent your own game and learn some fun old-time favorites to keep yourself busy.

There is a fee for each class. For more information call 232-5930.

The Trailside Center is in Mountainside at the corner of Coles Avenue and New Providence Road.

Stan Silverberg and Andrea Schweitzer have been appointed co-chairpersons of the 1987 Camp Noam committee.

Schweitzer, Silverberg To Co-Chair, Committee

The 1987 summer camp season for the Jewish Community Center of Scotch Plains has commenced with the dual appointments by David Tannenbaum, president, of Andrea Schweitzer and Stan Silverberg as co-chairpersons of the Camp Committee.

The Camp Committee, which oversees Camp Noam in Bernards Twp. and Kindercamp in Scotch Plains, is actively engaged in planning and promoting the 1987 camp season.

Andrea Schweitzer has been a Camp Committee member for the past three years and a J.C.C. member for five years. A graduate of Hofstra University, she is employed as a commercial lines underwriter and bookkeeper at a commercial lines insurance agency in Westfield. She resides in Cranford with her husband, Marc, who is an interior contractor, and their daughters, Julie, 7, and Robyn, 5. Both daughters have attended the J.C.C.'s nursery school, extended day program, and Camp Noam.

"Camp Noam holds many happy memories for my daughters," said Ms. Schweitzer, "and I would recommend it highly to parents who want their children to have a safe and happy summer."

Stan Silverberg has been active in community activities for the past 10 years. He is a former cubmaster of Pack 172 (Franklin School - Westfield). A graduate of New York University School of Law, Mr. Silverberg is a corporate attorney with American Cyanamid Co. in Wayne and is admitted to practice before the United State Supreme Court.

He resides in Westfield with his wife, Hazel, who is a teacher in the J.C.C.'s extended day program, and with their two children, Amanda, 10, and Russell, 13. The family has lived in Westfield for 10 years and are members of Temple Emanu-El of Westfield.

Both Ms. Schweitzer and Mr. Silverberg were recently appointed to serve on the J.C.C.'s Board of Directors.

Ski Clinics To Be Held Saturdays at Trailside

Cross Country Ski Clinics will be held at Trailside Nature and Science Center, a facility of the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, located on Coles Ave. and New Providence Road, Mountainside, on Jan. 10 and 24 and Feb. 7 from 10-11:30 a.m.

Pre-registration is required. Lessons will be held with or without snow, and the cost varies accordingly. Payment of fees is due at registration. No-snow lessons will be held indoors and will cover topics including proper clothing, equipment and waxing of skis. Participants must provide their own skis. Arrangement for renting skis can be made by calling the instructor, Peter Streeter, of Hills and Trail in Clark at 574-1240.

For further information, call Trailside at 232-5930.

NJSDA Announces 13th Stamp Show

The New Jersey Stamp Dealers Association, the non-profit organization of professional stamp dealers in New Jersey, has announced that its 13th annual Garden State Stamp Show will be held Jan. 9 to 11 at the Wayne Manor in Wayne.

Show hours will be Friday, noon to 7 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

For more information call 247-1093 or write NJSDA, Box 412, E. Brunswick, N.J. 08816.

Open House Planned At Vail-Deane School

The Vail-Deane School on Woodacres Dr., in Mountainside will hold an open house for its Kindergarten, Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 9:30 a.m.

Deane's philosophy and the experience that Vail-Deane offers. The director of the Lower School will be on hand to describe kindergarten curriculum in depth. Interested parents may call Marliha Ann Chaves, director of admissions, at 232-5502 to reserve a place.

"The Kindergarten Experience" will offer parents a chance to learn more about Vail-

Youth Ensembles In Concert Sunday

The New Jersey Youth Symphony ensembles will be heard in a chamber music program on Sunday, Jan. 11 at 3 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Summit.

A variety of instruments and styles will be heard in a concert that features three world premiere percussion pieces. In addition to two pieces by N.J.Y.S. percussion coach Peter Kates, ensemble member Stephen Brown's composition will complete the premiere presentation. Stephen is a senior at Montville High School.

Westfield students participating in the program are Christopher Cognetti and Grace Ryu.

Admission will be by free will offering. The church is located in Summit at DeForest Avenue and Kent Place Boulevard.

Public Encouraged to Take
CPR Course at Overlook

Overlook Hospital in Summit, will offer a three- and one-half hour cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) course Wednesday, Jan. 14, from 7 to 10:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The course is open to the public, and anyone over the age of 14 is encouraged to attend this class to learn the life-saving technique of CPR.

The course includes individual practice on electronic manikins and will highlight the risk factors leading to heart disease; early warning signs of heart disease; early warning signs of heart attack; common causes of sudden death related to heart disease; anatomy and physiology of the heart and lungs; one person CPR; and foreign body airway obstruction techniques, using American Heart Association standards. Those individuals who attend the course will receive a review booklet and a course completion card.

The class is limited to the first 25 registrants. There is a registration fee to cover operating costs.

To register or for further information, interested persons may call 522-2365.

For the Birds

By Dr. John B. Wolf
Professor, Union County College
January, 1987

Auks replace Penguins in northern seas. Unlike the flightless Penguins of the Atlantic that use their webbed feet and paddlelike flippers to move about, the razor-billed Auks that flourish in the North Atlantic buzz over the wavytops. I've spotted them as they were making a beeline for their nesting sites on the outcropping of a seaside cliff. A fairly common resident of the Greenland and Newfoundland coasts, the Auk prefers diving to flying as a means of escape in tight situations.

Murres, Puffins and Guillemots, residents of the lands encompassed by the Arctic Circle, are relatives of the Auks. Auklets and Murrelets, birds that swarm about islands off the coast of Alaska or in the Bering Sea, are also related to the Auks.

Fishermen trawling off the Welsh Coast or Bretons fishing in the Newfoundland seas never saw penguins. But they did see plenty of Auks as they hauled in their catches. To those familiar only with the plastic penguins used by suburban home owners to decorate their lawn in the winter, replacing the plastic flamingo that keeps warm in the garage while the snow lies on the ground, there's no difference between an Auk and a Penguin. Welsh fishermen probably coined the word penguin. Pen is the Welsh word for head, gwyn being the word for white; thus penguin — white-head.

These fishermen were familiar with the Great Auk. Now extinct, this flightless bird looked like a Penguin and nested from near the Arctic Circle south to Massachusetts.

French fishermen who cast their nets off Newfoundland as early as 1497 called this bird Pingouin (Penguin). Consequently, the controversy regarding the source of the name for the comical Penguin continues to rage.

The probably cause lurking behind the extirpation of the Great Auk was its value as food for seamen. Preparing to leave port in Europe, sea captains did not provision their vessels to the enormous number of Great Auks for fresh meat.

The incessant pressure placed upon this bird through the centuries finally caused its extinction. The last Great Auk was observed off the coast of Newfoundland about 1825.

Fishing is great sport and a commendable occupation, but casting a net for Auks is not "FOR THE BIRDS."

Arthritis Group
Plans Meeting

The Union County Arthritis Support Group will hold a meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will take place at Union Hospital, 1000 Galloping Hill Rd., Union, in the rear cafeteria.

Programs for the evening is entitled: "People with Arthritis," and includes a slide presentation and discussion.

For further information, call the Arthritis Foundation at 388-0744.

Thomas Caldora Wins Video Competition

Westfield resident Thomas Caldora was the third prize winner in the fiction category of this year's "Visions of U.S." national home video competition. His winning tape, "The Stranger," was judged among 700 submissions, and more than 200 of them in the fiction category.

The competition, sponsored by Sony Corporation and administered by the American Film Institute, announced its winners Dec. 4, 1986 at the Goodson Theatre on the AFI campus. National Video Inc., a video store chain, also participated in the competition, promoting "Visions" in their outlets across the country.

The keynote speaker at the awards ceremony was actor LeVar Burton, known for his debut performance in the mini-series "Roots" and currently hosting the PBS series "Reading Rainbow" designed to keep young people interested in reading during the summer vacation.

Opening the festivities for the 1986 National Video Festival, "Visions of U.S." has drawn more than 1,500 entries from video enthusiasts the past three years. LeVar Burton, along with several members of a distinguished panel including Francis Coppola, Laurie Anderson, "Dynasty's" Jack Coleman, Justine Bateman, director Georg Stanford Brown and Edward Olmos of "Miami Vice," selected the winning entries in four categories.

The 1987 "Visions of U.S." competition will have a fall deadline for all new entries. Judges and competition regulations will be officially announced in February.

Paul T. Hahn and his wife, Eleanor, are shown at a recent awards ceremony at which Hahn received the Boy Scouts of America Silver Beaver award for distinguished service to youth.

Scouting's Silver Beaver Presented to Local Resident

The Watching Area Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, recently presented Westfield resident Paul T. Hahn with the Silver Beaver award for distinguished service to youth.

Mr. Hahn's record of service in scouting includes: Scoutmaster, Troop 171, 1955-63; Troop 172's Advancement Chairman, 1976 to the present; Scouting Coordinator, 1980 to present; serving on the Troop Committee, 1976 to the present; the Great Canoe Race Committee, Colonial District; and District Advancement Committee, Colonial District, 1981 to the present.

Among his community activities, Hahn has participated in the Advent Festival, antiques show, and fundraising at the First Congregational Church in Westfield, where he served as a deacon, 1971-72.

The Council cited Hahn for his "outstanding leadership . . . measured by his continued willingness to give more than 100% of his time and self in the growth and development of individual scouts as Scoutmaster, Troop Committee member and Scouting Coordinator."

Mr. Hahn is a retired plastics engineer. He resides on Sherwood Parkway with his wife, Eleanor.

OAK Center Activities . . . Peggy Mitchell, program coordinator of Older Americans Kinship Center (OAK), oversees craft activity period at OAK as Primo Monti works on his project. Monti, who died recently, was a regular attendee of the Roselle Park Center. OAK is a program sponsored by Catholic Community Services, an agency of the United Fund of Westfield.

United Way SERVICES

Catholic Community Services, the social services arm for the Archdiocese of Newark, offers a wide range of services, including counselling, transportation, special education and immigration assistance. The services are available to all without regard to religion or race.

"Better than 50% of those we help are not Catholic," states Barbara Brande, Union County Division Director of CCS. Brande oversees a staff of 125, including nurses, psychiatrists, counselors, and aides. CCS also has units in Essex, Hudson and Bergen Counties.

CCS receives monies from a number of sources, including the United Fund of Westfield. Brande claims that the Westfield Fund "gives us help in several ways. It gives us seed money to expand our services and provides us with unrestricted programs in family counselling. We are able to offer good, professional help to those who need it." She stresses that the Westfield United Fund "does a fantastic job" and that the "United Way is a lifesaver as dollars get hard to find."

The Older Americans Kinship Center (OAK) is one of the many CCS programs available in Union County. The center offers daytime activities for senior citizens. Transportation, hot lunch and a full range of activities are provided to participants.

"Unlike many daycare centers, we try to provide an environment that has more of a friendly, relaxed feeling. In fact, many of the seniors carry on relationships beyond the center," states Peggy Mitchell, OAK's program coordinator.

Information about CCS programs is available by calling its offices in Linden.

Pre-School Shabbat
At Temple Emanu-El

Temple Emanu-El of Westfield is sponsoring a pre-school Shabbat Jan. 9, Friday evening. Shabbat services will begin promptly at 5:45 p.m. with an Oneg Shabbat sponsored by the Sisterhood and the Nursery School. Immediately following the brief services. These services are especially geared for the pre-school child and their families.

For more information or to make reservations, call 789-3409 or 668-1131. All preschoolers and their families are welcome.
