No Contests On Town Level In Primary

Anthony LaPorta Files
As Democrat to Challenge
Councilman David Mebane

By ROBERT R. FASZCZEWSKI
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

There will be no contests on the municipal level in the Tuesday, June 2, Primary Election in Westfield, but the General Election on Tuesday, November 2, will see a Democrat challenge one of the First Ward's two incumbent Republican Councilmen. Filing for reelection in time for Thursday's deadline for the submission of petitions of candidacy were Republican Mayor Garland C. "Bud" Boothe, Jr. and Republican Councilmen David A. Mebane in the First Ward, James J. Gruba in the Second Ward, Gary Jenkins in the third Ward and Michael E. Panagos in the Fourth Ward.

Councilman Mebane, who is seeking his second two-year term, will be challenged in November by Democrat Anthony LaPorta of North Chestnut Street, a member of the advisory committee which last year made recommendations leading to a change in the town's insurance procurement procedures.

Mayor Boothe, who was appointed by the council in January to fill the unexpired term of Richard H. Bagger, who became an Assemblyman, is seeking his first full two-year term.

He was succeeded as Second Ward Councilman by Mr. Gruba who will be seeking his first full term in the position in November.

Councilman Jenkins will be seeking his second two-year term, while Councilman Panagos will be running for his fourth two-year term.

Members of the Democratic and Republican parties also will be electing a man and a woman to represent them in each of the town's voting districts on their respective municipal party committees in the June 2 Primary.

On the national level, town voters from both parties will be helping select slates of delegates to their respective Presidential Conventions, with the Republicans choosing from among delegates committed to President George Bush and Patrick Buchanan, the conservative columnist.

Democrats will choose among delegate slates committed to Arkansas Governor William "Bill" Clinton, former California Governor Jerry Brown, former Massachusetts Senator Paul Tsongas, Lyndon LaRouche and a slate committed to none of the declared Democratic candidates.

In the race for the House of Representatives, Republican incumbent, Matthew J. Rinaldo, who is seeking his 10th consecutive two-year term, will face no Primary opposition in his party in the Seventh District.

County Police Called In During Freeholder Meeting

Anti-Incinerator Demonstrators Confront Lawmakers

By JAMES A. BRIDGE, 3rd
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

County police were called to monitor a raucous Rahway crowd that broke up Thursday's meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

As many as five county policemen patrolled the sixth-floor halls of the county administration building on Elizabethtown Plaza, Elizabeth after the Freeholders retreated into executive session from the often unruly and verbally-abusive crowd during the open public meeting portion of the night.

The crowd was largely composed of members of the Concerned Citizens of Rahway, a group opposed to construction of the Union County incinerator in Rahway's Fourth Ward.

Hecklers targeted Rahway Freeholder Walter McLeod, in whose ward the incinerator is to be constructed, and Freeholder Chairman Louis A. Santagata, who spent five years on the Union County Utilities Authority, which is supervising the construction of the incinerator and managing the county's solid waste flow.

Members of the Concerned Citizens group have chided the Freeholders since February for not keeping the authority's current Chairman, Angelo J. Bonanno of Hillside, from retaining the leadership post.

Mr. Bonanno recently helped bring about a change in the authority's bylaws to enable him to retain the chairmanship.

The City of Rahway entertained a lawsuit against the authority, but opted not to pursue the action.

Members of the Concerned Citizens of Rahway have asked the Freeholders since January to first join in the lawsuit, and then carry on the legal fight, but the Freeholders have done neither.

Robert Carson of Rahway, at Thursday's meeting, urged the board to halt construction of the incinerator until expert testimony is given by professionals who are opposed to incineration.

Mr. Carson said no such expert testimony has been given.

"This is not an unreasonable request. You owe it to our children and to our grandchildren. The sky is falling," he said.

Author, Mrs. Anna Maria Caldara of Warren County, also spoke Thursday.

She said that reports about the Warren County incinerator show mercury precipitations from the incinerator have been higher than anticipated.

When she asked if she could read from her book, Endangered Environments, Chairman Santagata asked her not to.

AVERAGE PROPERTY OWNER WOULD PAY $198 MORE IN TAXES

Town Council Introduces 1992 Budget With $22,419,915 in Appropriations; Tax Rate Would Increase 11 Points

If All Figures Come to Pass Total Expenditures for Property Owners
May Amount to $450 More on Bill for Home Assessed at $180,000

By ROBERT R. FASZCZEWSKI
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Town Council members present at Tuesday night's public meeting voted 6-1 to introduce a $22,419,915 municipal budget.

This year's appropriations are $3,252,000 higher than those for 1991, and this year's tax levy of $7,375,696.92 represents an increase of approximately $2,025,000 over that of last year or 11 tax points.

Municipal government expenditures will account for 41 tax points this year, compared to 30 last year with each town tax point equal to $179,893, Mayor Garland C. "Bud" Boothe, Jr. noted Tuesday.

While the increase in the tax rate attributable to municipal expenditures is approximately 37 per cent over that of last year, the actual tax levy for municipal purposes will go up by 3.78 per cent over that of last year.

The impact of this increase on the "average" home in Westfield which is assessed at $180,000, will be a $198 rise in taxes.

The budget presented on Tuesday, on which a Tuesday, May 12 public hearing and possible final adoption are scheduled, does not include the Board of Education or county portion of the total property tax rate.

The $37 million school tax levy approved by the town's voters on April 7 will result in a tax rate increase from 196 to 207 or 11 points, according to Town Administrator John F. Malloy, Jr.

Although the Union County budget has not yet been finalized, Mr. Malloy estimates Westfield's share of that expenditure plan will result in the county tax rate for the town going from 62 to 65 points.

If these figures hold, the total town property tax rate will be $3.13, up 25 cents from that of last year or approximately 8.68 per cent. These tax rates, when applied to the "average" town home's property tax will result in an increase of $450 this year.

This year's municipal budget includes an additional $1,021,000 for operations and $2,051,000 for debt payment, the Mayor noted.

The debt payment allocated this year, he said, reflects a decision by the council to pay the unfunded portion of ordinances providing for the renovation of the Municipal Building, the state-mandated replacement of underground fuel tanks at various municipally-owned sites and the purchase in 1990 of a Fire Department pumper truck which now is in operation.

The decision to include the debt payment this year, the Mayor noted, was in response to a state requirement that the so-called "advanced collection" of school taxes previously built into surplus must be "spent down" by the end of 1994.

Under a provision of the Quality Education Act, Mayor Boothe noted, the town transferred $4,500,000 out of surplus into the 1991 budget with similar transfers made this year and others to be made again next year and

Board Members Elect Mrs. Pepper to New Term

Overcrowding at Washington School Again in the Spotlight

By JAMES A. BRIDGE, 3rd
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

Three newly elected members of the Westfield Board of Education took their oaths of office Tuesday at the board's Elm Street offices as the board re-organized for 1992.

Then the new board wasted no time in tackling the problem of overcrowding at the Washington Elementary School.

Mrs. Danielle Walsh, Mrs. Eileen Satkin and Michael W. Fox were sworn in by Dr. William J. Foley, Board Secretary.

All three then joined the board in unanimous support of Mrs. Susan H. Pepper and Mrs. Susan Jacobson for board President and Vice President, respectively.

Mrs. Satkin was named representative to the Union County Educational Services Commission's Representative Assembly.

Mrs. Pepper was nominated by Dr. Benjamin Ruff, who said the tenor of the often-undivided board was set by her leadership.

"The efficient and frictionless operation of this board is testimony of her skill and her touch," he said.

Mrs. Pepper has been the board President since 1988.

G. Bruce McFadden nominated Mrs. Jacobson to the Vice Presidency, saying her knowledge of issues both in the district and around the state were key. He added that her knowledge and Mrs. Pepper's leadership were a good match.

"Susan and Susan will complement each other," he said.

Both nominees were approved in 9-0 votes.

The Westfield Leader and The Star-

Ledger of Newark were named the only newspapers legally authorized to carry paid public notices of board actions.

Mrs. Pepper also thanked the voters who approved the budget by a 1,862 to 912 margin.

"The passed budget demonstrates sizeable community support for our schools and our children," she said.

Almost 19 per cent of Westfield's electorate participated in the April 7 school board elections, a turnout that, while not high, was still higher than in many districts throughout the state.

The voters approved the district's $37 million tax levy, which represents an 11-cent tax rate increase.

A bulge in Washington School's kindergarten registrations for the coming school year poses a problem that may require 1 1/2-hour board action at the next school board meeting, it was pointed out at Tuesday's meeting.

Dr. Mark C. Smith, the Superintendent of Schools, said during the meeting the impact of 66 kindergarten registrants will affect the district policy of not having sections of students larger than 26.

Further exacerbating the numbers crush is the fact the Washington School building is the district's smallest, he said.

"We are short a classroom," Dr. Smith said.

The Superintendent noted the increasing numbers of students is "positive," preferable to the challenges of declining enrollment.

"I think the modest rise in elementary enrollment is positive and good. We just have to find a way to deal with it," he said.

Heading the list of six solutions to the problem presented to Washington School parents at a meeting on April 5 is the purchase of a $50,000 to $45,000 trailer. Yet, even this solution proves to be problematic. Dr. Foley said the State of New Jersey will not grant permission for a trailer unless the requestor district has filed a redistricting plan.

He added if the trailer were opted for, bids would have to be received by mid-June. The Westfield Planning Board would have to be given the site plan no later than Friday, May 8.

"We would have to move very, very quickly," he said.

The other proposed solutions were: Constructing a modular addition the school, having two second-grade sections of 27 students each, moving the fifth grade to either Wilson School or Roosevelt Intermediate School, moving the kindergarten class to Wilson or redistricting.

Dr. Smith said the "least disruptive" of the six was having two second-grade sections of 27 children each.

Board member, Dr. B. Carol Molnar, asked Dr. Smith whether there was a clear first choice for the parents. The Superintendent said the trailer seemed the most favored option.

"My impression was first the parents wanted us to explore the trailer in detail as a library, and then they wanted us to look at trailer more closely as a classroom," he said.

He added there was "acceptance that 27 is not insurmountable," and said overall the parents hoped the board would "look hard" at the longer-range solution of moving the fifth grade out of Washington School.

Board member, Mrs. Melba S. Nixon, said she thought relocating the kindergarten class was the thing to do for the coming year.

"Moving the kindergarten to Wilson would be the best thing to do come September. What difference does it make

Friends of Mindowaskin Continue Raising Funds for Renovation of Park

Town's Historic Centerpiece to Celebrate 75th Anniversary Next June

By ROBERT R. FASZCZEWSKI
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Friends of Mindowaskin Park, the non-profit organization seeking to revitalize the park and maximizing its use and beauty while preserving its charm, has received an initial sum to enable the group to begin the restoration of the park next to the Westfield Municipal Building, and it looks forward to celebrating the 75th anniversary of the park next June.

The Friends group plans to raise $250,000 to enable it to tackle some of the basic topographical and drainage problems. It also plans to upgrade and supplement the existing park lighting and benches, to improve signs and plantings and to expand and upgrade the playground.

Much of the work is expected to be completed in the next two years.

Donations subsequent to this, to be managed by the Westfield Foundation, will make it possible for the Friends to establish memorial gardens and to plant trees and shrubs on a continuing basis in accordance with a master plan.

The organization will acknowledge gifts and donors in a commemorative publication. Where possible, donations will be recognized with name plaques in the park itself.

A gift of $1,000 will entitle the donor to be recognized with a plaque on a bench.

A gift of $2,500 will entitle the giver to have a plaque on a lamp post.

In addition, memorial gardens will be established with gifts of $5,000 each, and the donor or donors also will be recognized with plaques.

Gifts dedicated to the playground will be memorialized separately in the playground area.

The origin of the park trace back to 1815 when a member of the Clark family excavated the land to form Clark's Lake.

Beginning in 1910, efforts were made to make the site into a park. In 1918 this dream was realized when a group of private citizens donated the land to the town.

The park, named in honor of one of the original Indian owners of the land, has served as a tannery and an ice house.

The Indian, Chief Mindowaskin, was one of the three Indians from whom the grant of lands was made to the East Jersey proprietors.

Governor Walter E. Edge made the dedicatory address for the park on Saturday, June 1, 1918 after reviewing the Westfield and Cranford Companies of the State Militia Reserves, according to the June, 1918, edition of Westfield Life magazine.

George Weston, the Chairman of the citizens committee in charge of the dedication, presided at the ceremony, and Arthur N. Pierson, on

TOWARDS THEIR GOAL... The Annual Spring Party and Fashion Show, sponsored by the Auxiliary of Children's Specialized Hospital, will be held on Friday, April 24, at The Hilton at Short Hills. The event is the kick off to the Auxiliary's new five-year, $300,000 pledge for the hospital's Outpatient Center in Fairwood. Here a 19-month-old who attends the hospital's Pre-School, plays with members of the Auxiliary's Planning Committee. Shown, left to right, are: Mrs. Charlotte Clevenger, Mrs. Marti MacDonald and Mrs. Marjorie Swann, all of Westfield. Tickets are now available for $40 each from any Auxiliary member or by calling the hospital at 233-3720. (Please see a story on Page 4.)

AT YOUR SERVICE... Westfield Reserve Squad member, Mrs. Grace Kowalski, checks oxygen equipment and supplies on one of the squad's three ambulances which are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to provide emergency medical services free of charge. The squad, which relies entirely on donations for its funding, is now conducting its annual fund drive. Tax-deductible contributions may be made to Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad 1992 Fund Drive, 335 Watkinson Street, Westfield, 07090. All donors will receive a squad window decal.

Senior Housing Plan Topic of Meeting

The Town Council will hold a special meeting on Monday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration Conference Room of the Municipal Building at 425 East Broad Street to review the proposal for a second Senior Citizens Housing Project adjacent to the existing facility.

Mayor Boothe Announces Bid for Two-Year Term

Westfield Mayor Garland C. "Bud" Boothe, Jr. has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for a full two-year term as Mayor in the party's 1992 Primary Election on Garland C. "Bud" Boothe, Jr.

Tuesday, June 2.

Mr. Boothe became Mayor last January when he was selected by the Town Council to fill the unexpired term of former Mayor, now-Assemblyman Richard C. Bagger.

In announcing his election bid, Mayor Boothe said his appointment to the post was the highlight of his public career that spans over two decades of service to Westfield.

"I care about Westfield and am prepared to work on behalf on this community to keep it the leading place it always has been," the Mayor said.

Mayor Boothe said he will build his campaign on his continuing belief Westfield must remain a place where people can raise their families.

"To do this," the Mayor said, "requires continuous attention to quality-of-life issues at the municipal level."

He noted he will devote his efforts to maintaining the town's infrastructure with particular emphasis on public facilities and parks. He pledged to work closely with local business people to keep the downtown area an attractive place for shoppers.

"The town must manage its fiscal priorities to ensure people are attracted to Westfield. This protects property values and promotes civic pride," Mayor Boothe noted.

Finally, the Mayor said Westfield has been an attractive community because of the civic-mindedness of its residents.

He pointed to the Town Council members, the many volunteers on boards and commissions that serve the community as well as the other volunteers who staff the countless organizations in town that make things happen.

"In an era when we can expect little help from other governmental sources, we must rely on our fellow citizens to keep the town running well. I will continue to promote that participation," Mayor Boothe said.

Mr. Boothe joined the Westfield Town Council in 1980. He served almost 12 years as a member of that body, as a representative from the Second Ward, until his appointment as Mayor. He also has served as a member of the Westfield Planning Board.

The first President of the Westfield Senior Citizen Housing Corporation, Mayor Boothe spearheaded the effort that resulted in the construction of the 172-unit complex on Boynton Avenue.

In addition to his service to Westfield, the Mayor has been a member of the Union County Solid Waste Advisory Council and currently is a member of the Union County Utilities Authority.

A 33-year resident of Westfield, he was born in Scotch Plains and attended Princeton University where he received his Bachelor's Degree.

He received his Law Degree from Harvard University in Cambridge, Massachusetts and was in private practice in New Jersey until 26 years ago when he joined the law department of American Cyanamid Company of Wayne, where he is the Manager of Trademark and Copyright.

Mayor Boothe resides on Hawthorn Drive with his wife, Mrs. Gail Boothe, who is a mathematics instructor at Westfield High School.

They have three married children and one grandchild.

Jennifer K. Higgins On Dean's List

Jennifer K. Higgins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell K. Higgins of Westfield has been named to the Dean's List for her last semester at the Rutgers College of Pharmacy in Piscataway.

Jennifer is expected to graduate in May and then will be employed by Scotchwood Pharmacy of Fanwood.

Muhlenberg Hospital Starts Neuroscience Unit

Muhlenberg Regional Medical Center April 7 dedicated its Neuroscience Center for Excellence, a facility to meet the needs of patients who have diseases and injuries to the nervous system.

"We have taken a significant step by developing a multidisciplinary team approach to serving patients and their families," said Dr. Garrett M. Keating, Chairman of Muhlenberg's Board of Governors. "The center will serve patients with such problems as spinal cord and spinal nerve injuries, brain tumor, head trauma, strokes, seizure disorders and degenerative diseases such as Alzheimer's Disease and multiple sclerosis."

Dr. Keating added the center will provide comprehensive diagnostic services, a range of treatment options, psychosocial support and education for patients and their families, as well as education for health professionals and residents in the 18 communities it serves.

John R. Kopicki, President and Chief Executive Officer, noted this is Muhlenberg's second Center for Excellence. The Breast Health and Mammography Center was dedicated in February.

Mr. Kopicki said the center will provide for the patient the coordination of comprehensive diagnostic studies and other professional programs.

Weight Loss Program Set at Muhlenberg

"Not Just Diet," a 10-week program to promote weight loss and improve physical fitness, will begin classes which meet from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on April 29 and from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on April 30.

Sponsored by Muhlenberg Regional Medical Center, the program combines diet, behavior modification, nutrition guidelines and an exercise regimen. A registered dietitian will meet with participants individually to develop a nutritional plan for their specific needs. A registered physical therapist provides an exercise program. The program fee is $200.

Councilman Mebane Will Stand For Re-election This Fall

Republican First Ward Councilman David A. Mebane this week announced he will be seeking re-election in November. The Republican Primary will be held on Tuesday, June 2.

"This will be an issues-oriented campaign," Councilman Mebane said. "In the coming years Westfield will be faced with many challenges. Property taxes must be kept under control. We must help to keep the business community and the Central Business District strong and competitive. Parks and playgrounds must be maintained, and solid waste issues will come to dominate the town's agenda on an increasing basis," he said.

"As councilman I believe I have established a record of responsiveness and accessibility to constituents and of consistently approaching issues in a fiscally-conservative and thoughtful manner," Councilman Mebane continued. "I believe government should take a more customer-oriented focus. Westfielders want quality services on a least-cost basis. We on the Council must respond positively to that."

Councilman Mebane and his wife, Beth Pollack, reside at 637 Kimball Avenue. They have lived in Westfield for seven years. Mr. Mebane, a corporate attorney with experience in financial management matters, graduated from Princeton University and Boston University Law School.

David A. Mebane

Currently, Mr. Mebane is Chairman of the Town Council's Personnel Committee, is a member of the Mayor's Committee on issues related to Westfield's Downtown and co-chairs the Joint Town Council-School Board Liaison Committee. He is also a member of the Westfield Jaycees and is active with the Westfield United Fund.

"Westfield is a wonderful place to live. I look forward to using my experience from my first term as the Council addresses issues of importance to Westfield in the future," Councilman Mebane concluded.

Welcome Wagon to Meet Next Thursday; 15th Annual Summer Buffet to Be June 6

The monthly meeting of Welcome Wagon will be held at Yesterday's Restaurant at 230 Westfield Avenue, Roselle Park, on Thursday, April 23.

Members will meet for cocktails at 6:30 o'clock, and dinner will be at 7:15 o'clock.

The 15th annual summer buffet will be held on Saturday, June 6.

This year the theme will be a Hawaiian luau featuring dance, drink and Hawaiian shirt contest.

There will be a service auction at the buffet with varied services. Among the items will be gift baskets made up of items donated by the membership.

The club has offered friendship for almost 30 years to new residents who are interested in making new friends with whom to share common interests. Those wishing more information should write: The Welcome Wagon Club of Westfield, P. O. Box 852, Westfield, 07091.

DINING IN JERSEY

Sinclair's sets sail on adventurous course with seafood dishes worthy of an admiral

By LAURIE SAMMIETH

Eric Tevrow's celebrated Westfield establishment remains as sophisticated and creative a seafood restaurant as can be found anywhere in the state. On our latest visit, we were again won over by his mastery.

Tevrow is a hands-on maestro, who oversees every detail like Michelangelo directing his apprentices. The young owner personally welcomes diners, and will cheerfully join one's table to explain his culinary pyrotechnics in loving detail.

We and two friends dropped by on a busy Saturday night, but felt as though we were among a few favored guests.

The decor in the several comfortable dining rooms strikes a unique balance between stately modulation and impressionist swirl. It's a fitting style for a restaurant that self-consciously blends the folksy and the formal. Service is efficient but strikingly unpretentious. The wine list is wide-ranging, with commonplace offerings shoulder to shoulder with elegant vintages.

The menu features a distinguished array of marine dishes, but it's the daily printouts of spectacular specials that showcase the most adventurous combinations (lobster pie, sautéed blackfish etc.).

The concepts can get rather whimsical. A "wall" medley consisted of three extravagant international treatments. There was the "Berlin Wall" served with Anisak brandy and butter-pizz mustard, the "Great Wall" swordfish with oyster sauce and Chinese caviar, and best of all the "Whaling Wall" flounder sole Marata, with kasha, Israeli olives and pecorino, with elbow noodles and cream cheese.

Sinclair's, 242 North Avenue West, Westfield (789-0344). Dinner: Monday-Thursday 5:30-9; Friday-Saturday 5:30-10; Sunday, 4-8. Lunch Monday-Friday 11:30-2:30. Full bar. All major credit cards. Separate non-smoking area available. Accessible to handicapped. ***½

The approach is playful, but it's a game played on an Olympic level. My only objection is that the cooking can sometimes be a little too experimental. Some of the more daring combinations seemed to call for a bit more in-house testing. But every dish had its strong points.

Sinclair's prices have remained stable, and by today's inflated standards they're remarkably reasonable.

Among the appetizers, one two-headed masterpiece combined a feathery lobster cake in a bright pistachio cream sauce and a succulent crab cake in roasted red pepper sauce ($12.95). Equally exhilarating were the lightly seared sea scallops ($7.50) touched with basil, in a delectable saffron cream sauce. They seemed to have sprung fresh from the ocean.

Our only mixed verdict went to an experimental seafood salad. Its basic ingredients (seafood, shrimp etc.) were impeccable, but the dish was weighed down by overcooked onions, salty potato cubes and a heavy mayo garnish.

Among the entrees, one flawless special was succulent grilled blue marlin ($19.95) Marinated with a citrus snap, it was crowned with green and red peppers and dusted with fresh herbs. The marlin itself, sweet and meaty, was like an idealized version of swordfish.

Just as rewarding was the unusual lobster "Tristanese" ($21.50), or scallopine. Lobster meat was stripped, pounded and lightly breaded, then delftly sautéed in white wine and lemon butter. It was served with angel hair pasta. A third delight was the simple and superb mesquite grilled salmon ($18.25).

The only question mark was another experiment, a first-class sword fish fillet ($19.75) given an exuberant but overwhelming treatment. It was dipped in cashew flour, sautéed, and served with roasted cashews and a heady wildberry sauce (including raspberry, blueberry, blackberry and strawberry). This time, the kitchen's high spirits had run away with it. The dish was like a deep sea dessert.

Sinclair's offered too many other extraordinary dishes to begin to list them here. The homemade desserts were exceptional, except for a surprisingly tame and crustless cream brûlée.

In all, our dinner was another smashing performance by Eric and his gifted staff (they're individually credited on the menu, and deservedly so). Sinclair's just keeps getting better and better. It's an idyllic harbor, and I wish that I could drop anchor here once or twice a week.

Don't Complain About Higher Taxes If Your Voice Is Not Heard in Public

The Town Council on Tuesday introduced a budget calling for $22,415,915 in expenditures for municipal services which will result in a tax rate increase of 11 points on every property in town if it is adopted as it now stands.

Only about six people, including town officials, members of the press and the Executive Director of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce were in the audience.

Westfield's voters on April 7 had the opportunity to cast ballots on a proposed school tax levy of nearly $37,000,000 which will result in an 11-point tax rate increase.

Only about 19 per cent of the town's voters took the time to exercise their franchise.

Union County also is contemplating a multi-million-dollar budget which will result in about a three-point tax increase for every town property owner.

Attendance of property owners at Board of Chosen Freeholder meetings to discuss the county budget has produced equally dismal figures of those concerned enough to speak up.

Arguments can be made both for and against every expenditure from a wide variety of viewpoints.

The problem, we feel, is the only ones making the arguments are the officials involved.

Officials at all three levels have been chosen by voters because they feel they have enough competence to make fair decisions.

The problem is these decisions are being made in a virtual vacuum if no taxpayer input is received.

For all of the recent hoopla about taxes and the dire consequences this town and others like it face in the near future, we see little response from those paying the bills and doing the most complaining outside of the halls of government.

Participatory government requires the input of the governed. We hope this spirit will return to Westfield before and during the May 12 budget hearing and at budget hearings at other levels.

If not, officials might be justified in saying, "If you don't vote, don't complain."

Report from Washington

Medicare Watchdog Unit Should Be Preserved

One of the gravest symptoms of the crisis in our nation's health care system is the growth in Medicare spending. The Medicare program tripled in size between 1980 and 1990, and it will triple again by the year 2000.

To me, it is unconscionable there are unscrupulous people who prey on the sick and elderly by persuading them to undergo unnecessary treatments or to purchase needless equipment. While such is not the case with many Medicare suppliers, there are some who rake in illicit profits from abusive or fraudulent activities that cheat the government and countless older Americans.

Several recent studies and reports have documented poor management practices and outright fraud that annually add billions of dollars to the government's health care bill.

By some estimates, as much as 10 per cent of the Medicare program's $129.7 billion annual spending may be lost to waste, fraud and abuse. The Budget Committee highlighted these problems in a report released last fall that identified serious deficiencies in the Medicare program.

As a follow-up to that report, the General Accounting Office also has review the management of Medicare and the program's contractors.

The office study found additional abuses. In one example cited by the office, a company in Pennsylvania went to Tennessee and purchased the invoices for equipment the Tennessee company already had sold to Medicare beneficiaries.

These invoices were then filed in Pennsylvania where the Medicare carrier pays a higher amount for medical equipment and supplies. As a result, ostomy pouches, which are needed by patients who have had a portion of their intestines or urinary tract surgically altered, were reimbursed at $17 per box in Tennessee and $40.70 in Pennsylvania.

In another example, the inspector general of the Department of Health and Human Services reported the Medicare carrier in Pennsylvania paid almost $250 for a wheelchair cushion that cost a supplier $8 and $435 for a bed pad that cost $40.

Clearly, measures can and should be taken to eliminate the waste and abuse that is adding unnecessary billions to the cost of providing health care to older Americans.

By Representative Matthew J. Rinaldo

Unfortunately, in its zeal to reduce costs, the federal Health Care Financing Administration has cut back on a program intended to identify waste and to recover funds Medicare is owed by other health insurers.

The Medicare Payment Safeguard Program was the subject of a separate, eye-opening General Accounting Office report released February 21 of this year. The program has been one of the few effective ways of identifying insurance claims that should have been paid by private insurers. In other words, the Safeguard program identifies money that is owed to the Medicare program by other insurers but which has gone uncollected.

Despite the success of the program — returning an average of $1.1 to the federal treasury for every $1 spent in the program — Medicare Safeguard funding has dropped from about $358 million in 1989 to about $335 million for 1992. If funding had kept pace with the 11 percent growth in the Medicare Program, the safeguard budget now would be $500 million instead of $335 million.

To me, this is just one more example of government action boomeranging with unintended consequences. Clearly, the cutback in funds in the Safeguard program is costing the government more than it is saving with the failure to pursue $1 billion to $2 billion owed to Medicare the Safeguard program was trying to collect.

If the Safeguard program could operate at full efficiency, its effort to identify funds owed to Medicare could generate an additional Medicare savings of $1.6 billion over the next three fiscal years beyond the $1 billion to $2 billion in uncollected funds the Medicare trust fund may be owed.

The current budget policy for Medicare is penny-wise and pound-foolish in my judgment.

With so much fraud and abuse already identified in the Medicare program, we should be cutting waste, not the watch-dogs.

Presidential Aspirations Take Back Seat to Tractors

By LOUIS H. CLARK

Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader

Did you ever have the feeling you've been someplace before when you've seen a picture on television, and you can't remember where or when?

That happened last February when the candidates were marching all over New Hampshire, and I caught a glimpse of one of them shaking hands with a bunch of men outside a large white building. I knew that place, yet couldn't remember where or what it was.

The thought kept nagging until yesterday when I was walking past an ice cream store, and it hit me. Of course, I told myself, that's the place my grandfather used to take me to on Saturday mornings when I was a 7-year-old boy.

The white building was then Kallipolides' Hardware Store which stood by itself near the village common surrounded by all kinds of new and used tractors, shovels, wire bales and lots of things that looked real heavy.

Going to that store every Saturday morning was a big event. Inside it was jammed with kegs of nails and screws and spare parts. Mr. Kallipolides always would be giving a lecture to someone on the correct way to install or repair something. His sons, who helped him run the store, would shush everyone, so they would pay attention to the lecture guaranteeing Mr. K. wouldn't have to repeat it for a year.

Mr. Kallipolides, my grandfather called him Andy for Andreas, but I didn't because I was a kid and my grandparents were big on manners and would go through the entire process and all the men would listen intently in case they had to fix a tractor or the pump that brought water into the house.

After he finished the men would start talking among themselves.

It was like a weekly meeting. In fact, it was.

"You know," my grandfather once told me, "how when we go to church all the women gather around and talk afterwards? This is where the men do the same thing."

I also remember him saying, "Come January and February, Saturday mornings this is the place you see more Presidential candidates than anywhere around here. Andy doesn't like it because it interferes with his lectures. Still he says it's his patriotic duty to give everyone a chance to hear the candidates and the radio people can get their chance."

Of course, after going to Mr. Kallipolides' we'd then stop at a place called Aunt Mae's Ice Cream Parlor where I'd get a big dish of her homemade strawberry ice cream.

I've never had any better. I suppose the ice cream parlor I passed yesterday jogged my mind. I wonder how often a little boy's stomach recalls events to his adult mind?

Value of Volunteers in Working With Children Seen as Crucial

Our hopes and plans for our children contradict reality. Children are our future, but their future is often grim. For all too many, before they even enter school, their lives are determined. Every 32 seconds an infant is born into poverty. The United States' infant mortality rate is higher than that of 18 other industrialized nations. One quarter of American teenagers between the ages of 10 and 17 are seriously at risk of school failure, substance abuse or teenage pregnancy and parenthood. And these problems are increasing — not going away.

Children should grow faster than their problems, but too often don't. Children need our help and our attention. Children can't vote or earn their own paychecks and it is difficult for them to be heard by the people who can help them, especially when they are in trouble.

The week of April 26 — May 2 is National Volunteer Week, observed to honor those who are making a difference and to encourage others to do the same. The possibilities are endless. You've never had a chance to be so powerful. Children need advocates — people who will work directly with children and people who will speak on their behalf.

Schools need adults to help tutor and mentor children who may need more attention. Hospitals are eager for people who like to share love. The homeless, children in foster care, babies with AIDS, and others, need someone on their side. Volunteer groups such as the Junior League, a women's organization committed to community action through the leadership of trained volunteers, are bringing their collective powers to bear upon many issues facing children today.

In our community, the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield has worked to improve the quality of life for many children through its members' involvement in the placement of children in the King's Daughters Homeless Daycare Nursery in Plainfield, by its raising of the environmental awareness of school age children by providing educational presentations explaining environmental concerns at local schools, by its establishment of the Sharing Talents and Skills Program which not only serves as an enrichment program in the schools but also exposes the children to various career choices, and finally by its co-sponsorship with the American Association of Junior Leagues International of an immunization drive to help all children receive proper medical care.

Whether working in groups like the Junior League or as concerned individuals, volunteers are powerful. There are as many opportunities to make a difference in another person's life as there are needs to be filled. Without looking too hard, it is possible to find someone who has changed the quality of life for one child or a group of children. Volunteers improve neighborhoods, communities, states and nations. National Volunteer Week provides an excellent opportunity both to commend those who volunteer now and to motivate others to volunteer in the future.

Mrs. Joanne Santoriello
President, Junior League
Of Elizabeth-Plainfield

Mr. Benisch Thanks Supporters, Wishes Board Members Well

Congratulations to the three newly-elected members of the Board of Education. I wish you all success in your effort to improve our district.

Have many people to thank. I truly appreciate the good will of Mrs. Pamela Orbach and Mrs. Linda Kreil, my campaign team, those who hosted coffees where ideas were exchanged,

Rescue Squad Doesn't Get Enough Credit

I do not think a small volunteer rescue squad gets the credit they deserve.

I would like to thank the Westfield Rescue Squad and Summit's Overlook Hospital Paramedics for responding quickly to a call on April 5, at about 4 a.m. regarding a woman in labor.

They arrived in time to deliver a baby girl, six pounds, eight ounces, to the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bernick.

It is at times like this when we realize just how important the rescue squad really is.

those who wrote endorsement letters, those who contributed to my campaign, and, of course, those who voted for me.

In addition, I thank the administration for creating the framework for a meaningful campaign, by freely disseminating information. Also, I thank the Parent-Teacher Council, Concerned African-American Parents, and the League of Women Voters, for sponsoring the three public debates and the many residents who attended them.

I thank, too, the other candidates who campaigned professionally and collegially.

Even though the election is over, discussion and debate should continue. A number of issues of concern were identified.

I am confident the Board of Education, with its newly-elected members, and the administration will continue to address these subjects. Let's work together on the issue where there is no debate — improving the education of all our students.

Again, congratulations to the new board members.

'Ruby' Fails to Shine With Excellence in Cinema

The popular theories of conspiracy propagated in Oliver Stone's J.F.K. are re-hashed and trashed in Ruby, a bargain-basement addition to this curious exercise in utter speculation and frustration.

What a tangled web we've woven. At this rate, if someone ever does have an unmistakable proof Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone, film producers will have to kill said person; the hypothetical jigsaw puzzle that accompanies any discussion of the Kennedy assassination has continually strong, money-making appeal. Divulging the real dealings would kill the golden goose.

Director John McKenzie paints a threadbare, realistic portrait of Jack Ruby, played with bold skill and terrific physicality by Danny Aiello. Says this film, via a staid, now commonplace utterance, President John F. Kennedy's murder was the practically unintentional side-product of a never-ending power struggle among the Mafia, the Central Intelligence Agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and whatever lesser powers that be wind up as pawns each time the big boys so it.

There is much talk of being "a player," a shaker among these self-appointed evil-doers.

Formerly of Chicago and now running a burlesque joint in Dallas, Jack Ruby is drawn as a compromised man — a small-time gangster who'd like it just fine if he could detach himself from all previous connections and just make a buck.

But alas, his Carousel Club barely commands a profit, and so he deals narcotics to the cops and information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. And now the Mafia has approached him for some special requests of their own; concurrently, the Central Intelligence Agency also wants a piece of his soul, as the story goes.

In short, the contention in McKenzie's film is by the time he shot Oswald, Ruby was as paranoid as a loon, beleaguered by the inundative, fear-inspiring tactics employed by the various interest groups.

While the Director's message offers nothing new under the sun, he is to be commended for establishing a truly credible atmosphere, both visually and emotionally: You can smell the evil lurking, the power brokers plotting and the rot of two-bit behavior that replaces morality.

Putting in a decent supporting stint is

Networks in Theaters, Not on Your Television

Cineplex Odeon/ode/odeon/comedy — We recently went to a Cineplex Odeon movie emporium in one of our local malls and were amazed at the number of theaters and the large selection of cinemas we had to choose from.

Our visit triggered an interest in the words used to describe these cinematic 10-ring circuses.

If the focus words above sound Greek to you it is no wonder, because all of these words are, in fact, of Greek origin.

We urge you to get a container of popcorn, sit back, and enjoy this Etymology-related movie-related word presentation.

Cineplex Odeon, the name of a Canadian movie theater company, for instance, combines the Greek elements cine, from cinema, meaning motion, and plex, from plexus, meaning network, literally a network of theaters.

The first modern use of Odeon was in connection with a British movie chain, Odeon Theaters, Ltd., that started in 1931. Odeon also is of Greek origin and originally meant a building for musical performances.

Ode, originally meaning song, is related

Sherilyn Fenn as Candy Cane, Ruby's stripper friend.

Doing the peroxide blonde bombshell thing in no unseemly terms, Miss Fenn's interpretation of how attractive women figure in the weird workings of these amoral power brokers is sad and telling. Of course, we'd all like to know who killed Cock Robin.

But, I fear the solution to our historical perplexions are, for the time being, as elusive as ever... come to think of it, historians are still not in agreement on the Lincoln assassination.

But, hopefully, this reinvigoration of interest will outlive its faddish appeal, hence leading to continued, responsible investigation.

Otherwise, in and of itself, Ruby is a very ordinary film.

Relying on the by-now-hackneyed series of familiar threads and trite theories detracts from the film noir potential Director McKenzie flirts with in parts, specifically when he's focusing on the small-time hood's Dallas milieu.

Perhaps less popular conspiracy and more character brooding could have brought forth the jewel in Ruby.

to Odeon. Comedy, incidentally, combines komoi, meaning merry making and -ode, meaning song.

During the heyday of English word production that started in the 16th century and continues into the 20th century, writers borrowed prodigiously from the Latin and Greek languages creating many new words for such things as the telephone, the speaker, Xerox, a shortened form of xerography, meaning dry writing, and television, meaning you see in.

Radio Heydays To Be Relived At Arts Center

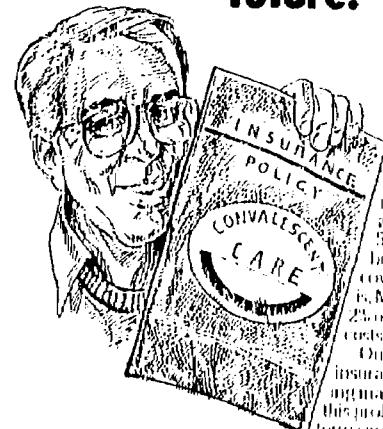

When the curtains part at 8 p.m. on Saturday, May 9, at the 1,300-seat Union County Arts Center in Rahway, audiences will see a two-part revue dubbed "The Unforgettables" with the locally-famous Celebration Singers joined on stage by a performing troupe to recreate the heyday of big-time radio broadcasting and the dawn of the Big Band era.

The first half of the nostalgic revue will simulate a typical studio broadcast of that era, replete with hot news flashes and all of the creative touches by which radio was able to keep America mesmerized in those pre-television days.

The second half will have the radio show originating from the "Starlight Room" a typical 1930s cabaret. Reserved seats for the May 9 event are $7.50 and $10 and may be obtained by telephoning the arts center box office at 499-8226.

The center is a national landmark located in the heart of Rahway's historic restoration district at the intersection of Main and Irving Streets and Central Avenue.

Divorce Mediation Seen As Wave of the Future

By MARIO C. GURRIERI

If you have gone through a messy divorce, or are going through one now, you may have asked yourself if there exists an easier way to begin your new life.

In the normal divorce situation, the husband and wife each hires his or her own lawyer, and his or her own version of The War of the Roses begins.

Before too long, a bad situation becomes worse. At a minimum, the couple is not speaking to each other, and, in many cases, the two lawyers are at odds with each other, each attempting to "win" the case for their client.

Days turn into weeks, weeks turn into months, and, in some cases, months turn into years, as the turmoil and expense of an emotional divorce snowball. Many times, the parties still are residing together at the same residence, making life difficult for each other while stress intensifies. Children are forced to witness and experience their parents engaging in loud verbal exchanges, physical abuse, cold silence or perhaps all three. And finally, at the end of this long road of contested litigation, the parties are divorced, having accomplished their objectives at a tremendous emotional and financial cost.

Current matrimonial practice suggests a much better alternative to the above — divorce mediation. Rather than engage two separate attorneys, one attorney, the mediator, is selected. The mediator selection process is important because, besides being experienced in matrimonial law, the mediator must be willing to accept the responsibility and challenge of reaching decisions that are amenable and fair to both the husband and the wife. That is not an easy task.

Both parties, after interviewing the prospective mediation attorney, must feel the attorney is experienced in mediation, interested in both parties' objectives, desirous of solving the issues and able to be unbiased and balanced in the process.

Having the right mediator is essential for the process to succeed. The customary back-and-forth communication between attorney and client, and then attorney with attorney, is all avoided. All of the delays and frustrations that come with that process are now eliminated. The parties proceed to obtain a simple, uncontested divorce when the issues are addressed in an amicable, expeditious and less-expensive method.

In the event the mediation is not successful, time spent by the mediation attorney has not been wasted. If either the husband, wife or the mediator determine an agreement is impossible to be reached, then the mediation ceases.

The mediator must then withdraw from the case and is not able to continue representing either the husband or the wife. At that point, the husband and wife must each engage their own attorneys.

However, the documentation prepared previously by the mediation attorney, consisting of an inventory sheet of assets, debts, budgets and income schedules, can pass to the new attorneys, who can begin their work from a more advanced stage in the divorce process.

In contemplating the problem of divorce, one should remember there are no winners, but there certainly are degrees of losing. By exploring, and possibly achieving divorce through the mediation process, you can keep your losses to a minimum. Mediation is an idea whose time has come.

Two from Westfield Named Merit Scholars

Two Westfield students, Brendan R. DeSilva and Mia R. Genoni, have won corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarships.

Brendan, the winner of a Ciba-Geigy-sponsored scholarship, attends the Pingry School in Martinsville. He is the Co-President of the Chess Club and has been a member of the fencing team four years and of the glee club.

A founder of the Wild & Crazy Ducks, he is a guitarist for the band.

He is interested in computer programming and has studied Latin, German, Russian, Mandarin and Malay. He also has studied modern physics and wishes to pursue a career in international relations.

Mia, a student at the Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child in Summit, wishes to pursue a career in English and biology.

She is the valedictorian of her class and is on the Student Council and the literary magazine and is a member of the Select Choral Ensemble, the Cum Laude Society and the Spanish Honor Society.

Mia will receive the Bausch & Lomb Award, the Williams Book Award, the John R. Kirk Honors Award, three English awards and three science awards and was the winner of the Hoechst Celanese Essay Contest and is a member of the Local and National Scholars Program.

She has been involved in musical theater, varsity lacrosse and hockey, the Young Writers' Guild and the Science League.

The names of some 1,150 winners of corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarships were released yesterday in the first of three Merit Scholar announcements to be made this Spring by National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

These winners are among a total of more than 6,300 distinguished high school seniors in the 1992 competition who are to receive Merit Scholarships worth over $25 million.

Scholars named today were chosen from among students who reached the Finalist level in this year's Merit Program and who have qualifications of particular interest to the corporations, company foundations and other business organizations supporting the awards.

Most of the 400 corporate organizations that are underwriting these Merit Scholarships provide awards annually for finalists who are children of their employees or members, who are residents of communities the company serves, or who have career interests the grantor wishes to encourage.

The majority of corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarships are renewable for up to four years of college undergraduate study and will provide between $500 and $2,000 or more per year. Some, however, are non-renewable, single-payment awards of $2,000 that winners will receive when they enter college.

NEW JERSEY STATE SAFETY COUNCIL.

State Safety Council Promotes Safe Cycling

May is National Bike Month and the New Jersey State Safety Council offers the following tips for safe cycling:

- Maintain a safe bike. Inspect and make repairs before each ride.
- Follow the rules of the road. Cyclists must obey all traffic laws that apply to motor vehicles including riding to the right with traffic and heeding all traffic signs and signals.
- Teach children to be safe cyclists. Instruct young riders to stop and look left, right, left for approaching traffic before entering the road from a driveway, sidewalk or parking lot. Mid-block rideout is the most frequent accident type for young cyclists. Do not allow children under age nine to ride their bikes in the street. They are not able to identify and adjust to the many dangerous traffic situations. Most bicycle-related deaths and injuries to children age 12 and under are the result of cyclist error.

Beginning July 1, all bicycle riders under age 14 in New Jersey, including passengers being transported in bicycle seats or trailers, must wear approved bicycle helmets. Because 75 per cent of all bicycling fatalities are caused by head injuries, the council recommends that cyclists of all ages wear approved bicycle helmets that meet safety standards set by the American National Standards Institute or the Snell Memorial Foundation. A sticker inside the helmet will indicate approval. Use of bicycle helmets reduces the risk of head injury by 85 per cent and brain injury at 88 per cent.

According to the National Safety Council, 1,000 bicyclists were killed and 40,000 suffered disabling injuries in 1990 nationwide. Last year, in New Jersey 21 cyclists were killed. Seven were under the age of 14.

For more information on bike safety and bicycle helmets, please call 272-7712.

Senior Citizens Meet Tuesday

The Westfield Senior Citizens will hold their monthly meeting on Tuesday, April 21, at the First Baptist Church at 180 Elm Street, Westfield from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Participants should bring a sandwich. Coffee and dessert will be served.

Entertainment will be by the Roosevelt Intermediate School chorus, the Sharps and Flats.

Red Cross Announces Classes in First Aid

The Westfield/Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross offers classes in standard first aid, adult cardiopulmonary resuscitation, infant/child and community cardiopulmonary resuscitation. This year the chapter will offer new manikins for resuscitation training. For adults and children.

The Actor 911 is being used to allow more practice time for students and for sanitary reasons.

The manikin's new space-age design is durable and light weight and allows more time for students taking the course to practice on Actor 911 before being tested.

Students have been using the new manikin since March with good response.

Health and safety classes are held throughout the year at the chapter house at 321 Elm Street, Westfield. Please telephone 232-7090 and ask about our resuscitation programs. Classes are available for the summer.

New Board to Meet Tuesday, April 21

The 1992-1993 Board of Education will hold its first formal business meeting at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, April 21, in the Board Meeting Room at 302 Elm Street.

The meeting is open to the public with time for the public to ask questions and offer suggestions to the Board of Education.

Citizens interested in finding out what is on the agenda may telephone the office of the Board Secretary at 789-4402 on Monday and Tuesday, April 20 and 21.

Borough Garden Club Will Tour Hetfield House

For its next meeting on Tuesday, April 21, the Mountainside Garden Club will tour the Hetfield House led by Mountainside historian, Miss Rowena Miller.

Refreshments will be served at the house; club members, Mrs. J.W. Hermann and Mrs. David MacQueen will act as hostesses.

The house was built in 1775 by Deacon Andrew Hetfield on a dirt road that is now Route No. 22.

In 1929 it was moved about 500 yards to make room for the new highway. Again in June 1985 it was lifted onto a flatbed truck and moved to its present location on Constitution Plaza.

The historic dwelling originally was a one-room structure with an upstairs loft for sleeping. The main living section was heated by a fireplace that also served for cooking. Two more sections were added to the original house.

The first was added in 1820 and another in 1840.

The house was owned by the Hetfields, or some branch of the family, until 1945 when it was purchased by W.R. Rosencrantz, who turned it into an antique shop.

In 1984 developers, Walter and Robert Kuczynski, bought the property and were going to raze it to make room for a new building.

They were not aware it was a historic house. Mrs. Fern Carter-Hyde, a Trustee of the Mountainside Preservation Committee, asked the new owners to delay their plans so she could raise funds to move it. They donated the building and agreed to wait until it was moved.

The Hetfield House is considered the oldest in Mountainside and was listed on the National Register of Historical Places on July 27, 1989.

The garden club also announced the Westfield Mountainside Joint Workshop will be held at the home of Mrs. Dewey Rainville of Westfield on Tuesday morning, April 21.

A program on fresh flower arrangements will be presented.

Miss Nichols Fiancée Of Peter C. Hegwein

Mrs. C. H. Nichols of Westfield announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Cynthia Jane Nichols, to Peter Christian Hegwein, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. "Hans" Hegwein of Sarasota, Florida.

Miss Nichols, a graduate of Westfield High School, received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. She is a registered nurse and quality assessment analyst at Sarasota Memorial Hospital, Sarasota.

Mr. Hegwein, who graduated from Riverview High School in Sarasota, received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biochemistry from Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida. He is a territory manager with Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories of Philadelphia.

The wedding is planned for the fall in Sarasota.

Miss Nichols is a member of the Florida Association of Quality Assurance Professionals and the Georgetown University Alumni Association.

Her fiancé is a member of the American Osteoporosis Foundation and the Florida State Seminole Boosters.

Philanthropic Organization Convention Next Month

The New Jersey state chapter of the Philanthropic Educational Organization, dedicated to promoting educational opportunities for women, will hold its 50th annual convention on Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, at the Somerset Marriott Hotel in Somerset.

The honored guest will be Mrs. Delores Buford of Greenville, South Carolina, a member of the Board of Trustees for the Program for Continuing Education.

Chapter E of Westfield is one of the hosts for this state convention with Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews acting as General Chairman. The local delegates to this convention are Mrs. Lucille Beetham and Mrs. Sara Currie.

Westfielders Help Run Kent Place Spring Fling

Tucker Trimble and Mrs. Diana Pinakiewicz of Westfield are on the committee for the Kent Place School Parents' Association Spring Fling on Saturday, April 25, which includes as prizes up for bid tickets to three events and accommodations for two nights at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta.

The annual fund-raiser will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Kent Place Field House at 42 Norwood Avenue, Summit.

The theme of the event will be Southern Scenes. Music will be provided by the Blawenburg Dixieland Band, and Southern desserts will be served.

From 7:30 to 10 p.m., guests will be invited to bid on more than 200 silent auction items donated by area merchants and Kent Place family members.

These will include edible treats, services, one-of-a-kind items, clothing, sports tickets, sports outings and equipment, children's toys and furniture, family accessories for home and garden, tickets for cultural events, gift certificates to restaurants, travel opportunities to Florida, Williamsburg, Washington, DC, Grand Cayman, and Paradise Island; nights at The Madison Hotel, the Hilton at Short Hills at Short Hills and The Parrot Mill Inn; a signed

New York Giants football and theme baskets designed by each Kent Place class.

At 10 p.m. a Christie's auctioneer will conduct a live auction that will include the Olympics tickets.

She also will auction shirts signed by the leading men of the television hit, Beverly Hills 90210, three nights and airfare for four to the Dolphin Hotel at Disney World, a visit to the sets of ABC-TV's Good Morning America and Live with Regis and Kathy Lee, a round of golf for three with a professional at Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, a seven-day cruise for two, and the complete 40th anniversary set of Topps Baseball Cards.

Tickets for the Spring Fling are $37.50 per person or $75 per couple.

The ticket price includes auctions, music, dessert and bar.

To arrange for tickets, please telephone the Kent Place School Parent/Alumni Office at 273-0900.

Funds raised by Spring Fling are used to purchase educational extras for the school, including additional software, maps, and computer, audio-visual, and scientific equipment.

Kent Place is New Jersey's largest non-sectarian college preparatory school for girls.

Symphony to Present 'Aida' on April 25

The Triumphal March from Verdi's Aida is among the most familiar of operatic melodies.

The Westfield Symphony Orchestra will present the entire opera in concert on Saturday, April 25, at 8 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield at 140 Mountain Avenue, underwritten by Accurate Bushing Co., Inc. of Garwood.

Aida was commissioned in 1870 by the Khedive of Egypt to celebrate the opening of the Suez Canal.

Verdi had retired from active composing. To discourage the Khedive from pursuing the commission, Verdi set a very high fee for the writing of the opera.

Aida is about a clash between two cultures, personified in the lives of two lovers: Aida, a captive Ethiopian princess in service to the Egyptian princess Amneris, and Radames, a very important Egyptian general, whom Amneris wants as her own. Starring in the role of Aida will be soprano, Miss April Evans. Radames will be sung by Franco Bonanome, and Miss Trish McCaffrey will be Amneris.

Miss Evans has performed extensively in New York and throughout Europe.

New Jersey artists are well represented, including Kevin Maynor as Ramfis, Short Hills soprano, Miss Rena Panush, as the High Priestess, Woodbridge tenor, Wayne Behr as the Messenger, and bass-baritone, Stephen Bryant from Wayne, as Aida's father.

Mr. Maynor appeared last spring as the Commendatore in the symphony's performance of Mozart's Don Giovanni.

Last month, Miss Panush starred in the Regina Opera Theater's performance of Mozart's Così Fan Tutte.

Mr. Behr recently sang the role of Fernando in Goyescas by Grinnados. Mr. Bryant is on the faculty of William Paterson College in Wayne.

Mr. Keimach will lead a pre-concert discussion at 7 p.m., in Westminster Hall, funded by the Frank and Lydia Bergen Foundation.

Tickets are $18.50, $16 for seniors and $10 for students, available in Westfield at Lancasters, Ltd., Rorden Realty, Town Book Store, Turner World Travel, at the Cranford Book Store, Martine Avenue Bookstore in Fanwood, and at Camelot Books in Summit.

For further information and for reservations, please telephone the symphony office at 232-9400.

Addams Art Scholarship Receives First $1,000

The Charles Addams Memorial Art Scholarship Fund has been established with an initial $1,000 in donations. The fund will be administered by the Westfield Foundation, and in future years net income from this endowment will provide scholarships for Westfield High School graduates wishing to further their education in art.

Charles Addams was a noted cartoonist who was born in Westfield in 1912. He became well known for his cartoons featured in The New Yorker, especially the 70 or so depicting the adventures of the ghoulish Addams family. These cartoons became the inspiration for the recent movie The Addams Family and the earlier television series of the same name.

Addams, who died in 1988, grew up in Westfield and graduated from Westfield High School. The spooky houses seen in his cartoons are said to have been copied from existing homes on Elm Street and Dudley Avenue.

Ronald MacCloskey, a fan of Addams and former Westfield resident, who has spearheaded the drive to establish the scholarship fund, is requesting additional donations in order to give a scholarship this year.

Scholarship winners will be chosen by a committee consisting of the head of the Westfield High School Art Department, the Director of Fine Arts of the Westfield Public Schools and the principal of Westfield High School.

Candidates must intend to further their education in art and be a resident of Westfield.

Donations, which are tax-deductible, can be sent to the Charles Addams Memorial Art Scholarship, The Westfield Foundation, Box 2295, Westfield, 07091.

Nylon has been around since 1937.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL R. KENNEDY
(She is the former Miss Diana F. Miller)

Miss Diana F. Miller Marries Mr. Kennedy

Miss Diana F. Miller of Bridgewater, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Westfield, was married on Saturday, January 25, to Michael R. Kennedy, also of Bridgewater, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kennedy, Sr.

Officiating at the late-afternoon ceremony at The Presbyterian Church in Westfield was the Reverend Dr. William Ross Forbes.

A reception at the Crystal Plaza in Livingston immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride's hand was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a satin gown with Schiffler lace and a wedding-band illusion neckline. It was beaded with pearls and sequins and had a long, cathedral-length train.

Her cascade bouquet included white roses and Stephanotis.

Miss Kathy Henderson of Seminole, Florida was the maid of honor. She wore a teal two-piece silk shantung suit by Bill Levkoff embellished with a Venice lace neckline and carried a cascade of pink roses and carnations with baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Miwako Ohta of Englewood and Jane

Kennedy of Santa Monica, California. Their attire and floral arrangements were similar to that of the maid of honor.

Serving as the best man was Patrick Kennedy of Scotch Plains.

The ushers were Edward O'Neil of Bradenton, Florida, Randy Hageman of Seminole, Florida and Dana Van Hoesen of Scotch Plains.

The bride attended Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, Ohio and Union County College. She is employed by The New England Companies.

Her husband attended Westfield High School and Memphis State University in Memphis, Tennessee and served in the Navy for six years. He is self-employed in carpentry and construction.

A rehearsal party was given by the groom in Bridgewater. A luncheon shower was given by Mrs. Charles Dixon and Mrs. Alan McIntyre of Westfield and a dinner shower was hosted by Mrs. Robert Burks of Chatham.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple established a residence in Bridgewater.

Estate Planning Seminar Set at Children's Specialized

Children's Specialized Hospital Foundation is sponsoring a free seminar concerning estate planning on Thursday, May 14.

Entitled "Untying Your Financial Morass: A Primer on Financial Planning," the program will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the hospital on New Providence Road in Mountainside.

The seminar will focus on minimizing or eliminating estate taxes. Points to be covered include: Minimizing estate taxes, durable powers of attorney, living wills, living trusts, tax advantages of charitable giving and using insurance and other investment vehicles to achieve financial goals.

The two-hour presentation will be presented by three professionals well-versed in these areas. The speakers are: Cliff Birtwistle, a financial consultant with Shearson Lehman Brothers, an American Express Company in Morristown; Westfield attorney Thomas C. Phelan of the law firm of Nichols, Thomson, Peck & Phelan and Richard C. Griggs of Benefit Service Co. of Westfield. Messrs. Birtwistle and Phelan are members of the hospital's Foundation Board of Trustees.

The seminar will be presented in an informal setting, and questions will be entertained throughout the discussion. Refreshments will be served.

For more information, please call 233-3720, extension 310.

The May 14 seminar is another in the continuing series of Planned Giving Seminars presented by the hospital's Foundation.

Businesswomen to Host Cole Benefit Program

The Business and Professional Women of Westfield will sponsor a fund-raising performance to benefit the group's scholarship fund on Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m. at Westfield Community Players at 1000 North Avenue, West.

The show, Cole!, is a musical revue of the life and music of lyricist and composer, Cole Porter.

It features 26 of his well-known Broadway tunes such as Night and Day, I Love Paris, Love for Sale, It's De-lovely, Begin the Beguine and others.

Proceeds from all tickets costing $13 support the Westfield High School Senior Scholarship and the Career Advancement Award.

The Career Advancement Award is given to a mature working woman returning to the workforce or continuing her education.

Proceeds from the show also are used to sponsor a high school junior to Girls' State. The awards will be presented in May.

To reserve tickets, please telephone Miss Roz Giuditta at 233-1984 or Miss Maria Blancato at 654-7288. Seats are not reserved.

Overlook to Hold April 27 Symposium On Laser Surgery

The public is invited to attend a symposium on "Laser Surgery at Overlook — What You Want to Know" sponsored by the Overlook Hospital Auxiliary on Monday, April 27, at 9:30 a.m. in Overlook's Wallace Auditorium on Monday, April 27, at 9:30 a.m. in Overlook's Wallace Auditorium, 99 Beauvoir Avenue, Summit.

Speakers will be Dr. Arthur S. Brenner attending physician at Overlook and Overlook's Director of Laser Surgery. The public is invited to ask questions after the meeting.

Overlook's Laser Surgery Center opened in October of last year and is one of 52 multi-specialty laser surgery centers in the country and one of two such centers in New Jersey. The center brings advancements in modern-day medical technology to patients in central and northern New Jersey area.

For free parking, please bring the ticket from the parking garage to the symposium to be validated. Refreshments will be served.

Peace Group Hosts Columbia Professor

Ted Greenwood of Columbia University in New York City will speak at a special meeting of the Union County Committee for Sane Nuclear Policy to be held Wednesday, April 22, at 8 p.m. at 201 South Avenue East, Westfield.

Professor Greenwood is the Director of the International Security Policy Program of War and Peace Studies of the University.

His topic will be "United States Defense Strategy in the 1990s."

The professor will discuss the effects of recent events in Europe and the Persian Gulf on the military structure and analyze the other problems caused by the proliferation of nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles; also the role of the military in a world beset with many human needs.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning 756-9356 or 654-3060.

Rahway Hospital's upcoming community health program, "Asthma and Allergy: New Approaches" on Tuesday, April 21, at 7 p.m. at the hospital.

"Experts are concerned because they don't know why the death rate has increased so dramatically among asthmatics," he said.

There are more than 10 million Americans suffering from asthma and another 40 million suffering from hay fever, according to Dr. Bukosky. Asthma is a condition in which air passages in the lungs are restricted because of allergic, infectious, pollutant or other respiratory insults, he said.

These statistics have spurred new interest in the approach to managing asthma as well as other allergy problems, according to Dr. Bukosky. "The most prominent new focus to reverse this alarming trend is an emphasis on a partnership between the physician, the patient and the family which increases self-care and better monitors and controls the illness," he added.

"Today's asthma and allergy patients are better educated about their illness as a result of such partnerships," he explained. "They are taught self-care, which includes how to monitor basic pulmonary function and how to properly take medications."

One new front in the fight against asthma is the home nebulizer, which improves the delivery of asthma medication by allowing patients to take medication by aerosol form at home. The nebulizer supplements the metered-dose inhaler, a small particle device used to supply asthma medication directly to the lungs, a hospital spokesman said.

"It takes what is called 'hand-breath coordination' to properly use a metered-dose inhaler. This means the firing of the inhaler must be timed precisely, so the lungs are empty and ready to accept the medication upon inhalation. This coordination is difficult for both adults and children," explains Dr. Bukosky. "The nebulizer is an important rediscovered tool for asthmatics because it more efficiently and effectively delivers medications to the lungs in their home environment," he said.

Another new approach is a system of practice standards which use algorithms to trouble-shoot medical conditions. This system was devised by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute to help physicians better understand medications and illness. "This system is the consensus of national leading experts. It standardizes the care of asthma and hopefully will improve overall management and decrease the number of deaths from asthma. The system also enhances the partnership between physician and patient so that they may work together to head-off potential asthma episodes," he says.

There is no fee for attending, and no registration is required. For more information about this or any of Rahway Hospital's community health education programs, please call 499-6193.

LOOKING AHEAD... Rotary Club President, Richard Maus, is shown thanking fellow Rotarian, Dr. Suzanne Offen, after she spoke to members on the subject "Vision and Computers" last week.

'Vision and Computers,' Topic Of Rotary Lunch Speaker

Westfield Rotary Club members heard one of their fellow-members speak on a topical subject in today's computer age. "Vision and Computers" was the subject chosen by Rotarian, Dr. Suzanne Offen, to assist listeners to cope with potential problems resulting from increasing usage of computers in the home and workplace.

Dr. Offen practices adult and pediatric optometry at 330 East Broad Street and, through a slide presentation, gave Rotarians guides to relieving eyestrain, headaches and visual stresses caused by sustained and close use of video display terminals. Visual stress may also be responsible for general body fatigue, reduced efficiency at work and higher error rates as the day progresses.

Dr. Offen showed slides of well-designed terminal workstations in which, for example, the keyboard, screen and copy should ideally be equidistant from the eyes. Screens and copy should be about 20 degrees below eye level and wrist and lower arm should be parallel to the floor. Other important features highlighted by Dr. Offen were proper back support from chairs adjusted in height, so thighs are parallel to the floor and proper workstation lighting and screen brightness.

Behavioral optometry has been found to cater successfully to visual care needs for operators which differ from the needs of those who work with paper, Dr. Offen said.

BIRTHDAY...The Miller-Cory House Museum Volunteers will hold a 20th Anniversary Sale at the museum on Saturday, April 25, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

20th Anniversary Sale Set At Miller-Cory Museum

The Miller-Cory House Museum, located at 614 Mountain Avenue, Westfield, will hold "Aunt Carrie's Attic 20th Anniversary Sale" on Saturday, April 25, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Browsers are welcome.

This sale will feature some antiques as well as knick-knacks and many other items. All proceeds will benefit the museum's educational programs.

Beginning in 1972, a group of historically-minded citizens formed the Miller-Cory Volunteers to save the 18th-century farmhouse. Volunteers have kept the museum open for the public to enjoy ever since. Wearing authentic costumes, volunteers provide tours of the farmhouse and demonstrate the crafts and tasks practiced by families on 18th and 19th century farms, when life was regulated by the seasons.

Each Sunday from mid-September to mid-June, visitors of all ages experience different activities such as maple sugaring, soap making, straw hat weaving, gunsmithing, stenciling and cider making. Early American foods are researched and prepared over the open hearth by members of the Cooking Committee who use herbs and vegetables from the museum's gardens.

The museum will be closed on Easter Sunday but will reopen on April 26 when tin-piercing will be featured. For additional information about the 20th Anniversary Sale or the museum's schedule of events, individuals are invited to telephone the office at 232-1776.

Two Laser Concerts Set for April 25 At High School

Two laser concerts are scheduled at Westfield High School on April 25. The shows are being sponsored by Kaleidoscope, a cooperative effort among Westfield schools to provide family entertainment.

The first show, "Learning to Fly," tells the story of flight from a bird's point of view. A family's imagination will be stimulated by some of the best laser animation and light orientated musical pieces. Showtime is 2 p.m. at the high school, 550 Dorian Road, Westfield. Admission is $3.50 a person.

"Laser Vision," the second concert scheduled for the same day, features musical selection of contemporary artists and classical favorites. Spectacular laser color will complete the show. "Laser Vision" will be presented at 8 p.m., also at the high school. Admission is $5 per person.

Through the cooperation of Barrett & Crain Realtors, tickets may be purchased in advance at their office, 4 Elm Street, Westfield. Tickets will also be available at the door for both performances. For group sales, please call 654-7814 or 654-8897.

Anthony LaPorta to Seek First Ward Council Seat

Anthony LaPorta announced this week he is seeking the Democratic nomination for Westfield First Ward Town Council seat.

Mr. LaPorta, of 409 North Chestnut Street, is an insurance executive with a major property and casualty insurance company in the Wall Street area of New York City. Last year Mr. LaPorta served on Westfield's Insurance Review Committee. He was appointed by Mayor Richard H. Bagger and was a strong proponent of competition in the town's insurance procurement process.

Among reasons for seeking the First Ward Council seat, Mr. LaPorta stated he was alarmed at the rapid increase in municipal taxes during the last four years and at what the Town Council has proposed for the next four years.

"I see some members of the Town Council who think of it as a tax-and-spend institution. They need a lesson in restraint," he said.

Mr. LaPorta also attended the recent Town Council budget meetings and said he saw room for potential tax savings in the budgetary process.

Mr. LaPorta said he also wants to promote openness and true competition versus closed-to-the-public meetings and the appearance of political favoritism.

"Through my involvement on the insurance committee I was surprised to find a process closed to all but a select few and not open to public input when such a large amount of tax dollars were being spent," he stated.

Mr. LaPorta said he was quite proud of the fact that, in part through his efforts, the town saved tax dollars and de-politicized the way the town purchases its insurance coverage for the first time in many years. "There seems to be a lack of basic business sense and accountability displayed by some members of the Council," he said. "I hope to help change that."

Mr. LaPorta also thinks the way the town provides certain services can be improved. He suggested a new service — a spring clean-up day when households could dispose of large items. He said many people express interest in a spring clean-up day, but the Council has turned a deaf ear on them.

"The Town Council needs to spend more time listening to our concerns," he said.

Mr. LaPorta said he plans to run a vigorous campaign, going house-to-house to meet all First Ward voters. He hopes to gather voters' ideas for improving town services and town government. He is now in the process of meeting with downtown merchants to gather their ideas for improving downtown Westfield. He has been a strong advocate of Westfield's downtown revitalization.

Lawrence Goldman, the Chairman of the Democratic Party of Westfield, said he and the Democratic Committee were very enthusiastic about Mr. LaPorta's candidacy.

"I am certain he will run a campaign devoted to the issues and will work hard as a candidate and as a member of the Town Council," he said.

Mr. LaPorta is a graduate of Rider College in Lawrenceville with a Degree in Finance and has been a resident of Westfield since 1987. He is married to Mrs. Stephanie LaPorta, an elementary school teacher. They are the parents of a newborn son. Mrs. LaPorta will serve as Campaign Treasurer, and Michael Walters will serve as Campaign Manager.

Emergency Ballot Measure Approved by Legislature

In the event of a break-down of a voting machine, emergency ballots would be available according to legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Robert D. Franks of the 22nd Legislative District which includes Westfield. Assembly Bill No. 832 was approved by the General Assembly 79-0 and by the State Senate, 38-0.

"Every duly registered voter in this state has the right to cast his or her vote in any election," said Assemblyman Franks. "No voting machine, because of electronic or mechanical failure, should be permitted to hinder any citizen from exercising that right," he added.

Under the measure, if a voting machine becomes inoperable and cannot be repaired within a reasonable amount of time, the use of emergency paper ballots could be instituted following the notification and consent of the official charged with custody of the machines in that voting district.

Each election district would receive a minimum of 30 emergency ballots. The bill would also require there be a screen or partition located within the voting area where voters could complete the emergency ballots in private.

"Voting is a right too precious to be silenced by a malfunctioning voting machine or because there exists no acceptable back-up system. The use of emergency ballots, when called for, under the procedures established by this bill will ensure that no voter is inconvenienced when trying to cast their vote," Assemblyman Franks said.

The bill passed both houses of the Legislature in March and was passed onto Governor James J. Florio for his consideration.

Borough Seniors Will Hear Lecture On Substance Abuse

Mountainside Chapter No. 4498 of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet today at the Community Presbyterian Church on Deer Path, Mountainside.

Mrs. Lois Wiehl, the Program Chairman, noted a program will be presented on "Substance Abuse in Adults."

The nominating committee of the chapter will present the slate of officers at the April 16 meeting. All members are requested to attend to support their officers and express their preferences.

There will be an award presented at the meeting to recognize the exceptional individual or couple. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Strohmeier will receive the 1992 National Community Service Awards from the American Association of Retired Persons.

The recipients are members of the Mountainside Chapter No. 4498, were selected by the chapter's Board of Directors for outstanding volunteer contributions to the community. The Strohmeiers believe in and practice the motto of the organization, "To Serve, Not to Be Served."

All members may attend and honor the honored members.

Mrs. Lighbown, 86, Active In St. Paul's Church

Mrs. Irving E. (Catherine B. Baum) Lighbown, 86, died unexpectedly March 15 at her home in East Harwich, Massachusetts. A resident of Westfield for 20 years, Mrs. Lighbown was a native of Springfield, Illinois and attended New Haven School of Gymnastics in Connecticut. While in Westfield, she was active with St. Paul's Episcopal Church in the Women's Club and in Girl Scouting.

After living nine years in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Lighbown and her husband moved permanently to East Harwich in 1972. Mr. Lighbown died in 1988.

After moving to Harwich, Mrs. Lighbown became an active member of the Altar Guild of the Church of the Holy Spirit in Orleans, served on the board of the Episcopal Church Women and worked with the Kimball Memorial Guild as well as other volunteer organizations.

She supported the arts and many charitable organizations.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Berning of Springfield, Illinois; four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Lane and Mrs. Mary MacKenzie, both of Naples, Florida; Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall of Lincoln, Nebraska and Mrs. Martha Robbins of Keene, New Hampshire; a son, Thomas Lighbown of Montreal, Canada; 17 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was held on April 4 in the church of the Holy Spirit.

The family requests that memorial donations may be made to the Inter-Faith Council for the Homeless or the children's Specialized Hospital.

Park Friends Continue Raising Renovation Funds

behalf of the Park Commission, presented the park property to the town, represented by Mayor Henry E. Evans.

In an October, 1917 account in Westfield Life about the planning of the park, it was noted in 1911 the tentative sketches were submitted, and various park commissions reviewed them until the first general contract for the major portions of the tract was awarded in 1916.

A total of $55,000 was set aside for the project.

The plan called for a drive 25 feet wide and 1,600 feet long, extending from an entrance on East Broad Street, skirting the lake and the easterly side of the tract, crossing the brook near the north end and gradually climbing the hill to another entrance on Mountain Avenue.

A third entrance was provided on Euclid Avenue, connecting with the drive. Provision was made for residences to front along the easterly side of the property on the drive.

Paths of crushed stone, eight feet wide, for pedestrian traffic, were arranged so various "points of interest or beauty may be conveniently reached. With the exception of the paths in the playground and at the formal garden the lines of all roads and paths are flowing and easy curves," Westfield Life noted.

A playground was located between the lake and what were then the sheds of the Presbyterian Church on which equipment was to be placed and a wading pool was envisioned.

The plan also called for a sunken garden and a concrete terrace with an ornamental balustrade constructed over the old lake outlet at East Broad Street which allows the public to view activities in the park.

A culvert, also of concrete, with a similar balustrade rail was built where the drive crosses the brook.

The park, and its bandstand, which was renovated last year, have been used for many activities over the years.

Weddings and concerts are held in the bandstand and ice skating has been permitted on the lake.

For information on making a donation, please telephone Second Ward Councilwoman, Mrs. Margaret C. Sur, at 232-6408.

No Contests On Town Board In Primary

Filing on the Democratic ticket for the right to face Representative Rinaldo in the fall were Miss Karen Carrallo of Bridgewater and Leonard Sensesky of the Colonia section of Woodbridge.

Also filing for the November race, were William Campbell of North Plainfield, No Nonsense Government; John Kueck of North Plainfield, America First Populist; Spencer Layman of Matawan, Libertarian; Kevin Criss of Edison, People's Congressional Preference and Eugene Gillespie of Millburn, Independent.

As on the Congressional level, there will be no shortage of candidates on the county level, at least in the Democratic Primary Election.

In the race for three, three-year terms on the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders Democratic incumbents, Casimir Kowalczyk of Elizabeth; Walter McLeod of Rahway, and Elmer M. Erd of Roselle, will face one slate composed of Lloyd Grossman of Springfield, Matthew M. Boylan of Westfield and James Fallon of Roselle and another slate composed of Lawrence T. Reagan of Clark, John Butch Henry of Linden and Anthony Candelino of Elizabeth.

Running unopposed for their party's Freeholder nominations will be Republicans Vic "Tzeniowski" of Westfield, Paul J. O'Keefe of Plainfield and Mrs. Linda Di Giovanni of Union.

Union County Democratic Sheriff Ralph G. Froehlich of Elizabeth will face opposition from Daniel Wood of Elizabeth in his party's Primary.

The unopposed Republican nominee is Richard E. Hunt of Linden.

Democratic Surrogate, Mrs. Ann P. Conti of Mountainside, will face opposition in the Primary from Luis Bellow of Elizabeth, while Philip Gentile of Elizabeth is the unopposed Republican nominee.

Girl Harriers Take County Relay Crown

By BRIAN ABILES
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Girls' Track Team defeated Plainfield 71-68 and broke a meet record in the 6,400-meter relay to become the champions of the Union County Relays Saturday at the Hub Stine Field in Plainfield.

The victory came down to the last race, the 1,600-meter relay, in which Plainfield had to win and Westfield lose to place lower than fourth for Plainfield to be the victor.

However, even though Plainfield won the event, the team of Tiffany Hester, Darcie Milanette, Anne Engell and Aimee Stout placed third with a combined time of three minutes and 32.7 seconds thus giving the Blue Devils enough points to win the counties.

The Devils took first place in four events including the 3,200-meter relay.

distance medley and shuttle hurdles.

Probably the most significant win was the 6,400, in which the team of Emily Gleason, Heather Pusich, Bridget Keenan and Kate Cooke broke the meet record with a combined time of 24 minutes and 31.3 seconds, passing the old record by five seconds, which was set by Union in 1990.

In the 3,200-meter, the winning team of Gleason, Engell, Catie Robinson and Noelle Nolas, easily took first place by beating second-place Elizabeth by 25 seconds.

Engell, Hester, Robinson, and Nolas also experienced ease in the distance medley, winning by a margin of almost one minute.

The team raced against Kearny on Tuesday and is gearing up for the annual Blue Devil Classic which takes place Saturday at the fieldhouse.

Golfers Bring Summit Down to Size Quickly

By DRYDEN WATNER
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

In a strong match against Summit on Friday, the Westfield High School Varsity Golf Team proved once again they are a force to be reckoned with.

On the Canoe Brook South Golf Course, par 37, the Blue Devils shot a combined score of 164 to slide by Summit with a margin of 12 points.

Co-Captain Cregg Watner was matched up against rival Bryce Hamilton, a senior and the No. 1 player on the Summit team, who was named Union County Player of the Year last year.

Since Bryce had beaten Watner last year by three strokes, Watner was out for revenge.

His victory came when Bryce ended the round with a 40, while Watner parred the course with a 37.

Watner's teammates played equally impressive rounds, with each Westfield player shooting lower than his Summit opponent. Rich Jeremiah followed Watner with a 39, while Matt Jessup shot a 42. Eric Rubin completed the team showing with a 46.

The day before the Summit match, the Devils chalked up another win after they played Livingston on par 36 Cedar Hill Golf Course.

It was a rather easy win for Westfield, with all four golfers breaking 45 while none of their Livingston foes were able to do the same. The final score was 209-257.

Watner led the team with a 39, which

Patriots Play Well

In Tie with Montgomery

A strong offensive attack led the Westfield Division No. 4 Patriots Boys' Soccer Team into a 2-2 tie against the previously-unbeaten and unscathed-upon Montgomery Destroyers this weekend.

The Patriots used speed and a balanced attack to send the Montgomery team home.

Despite the year-old advantage of their opponents the Patriots refused to be intimidated and nearly won the contest coming from behind, once again, to lead most of the game.

Westfield's new offensive line, led by Andrew Pulmonio, Tyler Maloney, Brandon Boere and Erik Clinton, took the game into the Montgomery end repeatedly, dominating the Destroyers' defense.

The offensive line kept the Montgomery team off balance with a highly effective short passing game that worked the ball out to the wings, into the center and back out again for numerous shots on goal.

Christian Fagin, who scored on a penalty shot, also continually frustrated the Destroyer backfield and forwards on defense, while Mike Idland, playing the entire game in goal, made two game-saving stops in the waning minutes to preserve the tie.

The Patriots' defense, once again, controlled the pace of the game with off-side traps and other special plays designed to keep the high-scoring Montgomery line confused all afternoon.

The Patriots also were challenged by the loss of two key players.

However, Chris Talbot, moving from forward to fullback, and Jeremy Chilcote, moving from fullback to fullback, had strong games filling in for their absent teammates. Neither had played these positions before.

Colonials Win Three, Lose One in Soccer

Division No. 4 Boys' Soccer: Montgomery, 2; Colonials, 1; Colonials, 3; Piscataway, 1; Colonials, 3; Staten Island, 3; Colonials, 3; North Brunswick, 3. Having ended its fall season as flight champions, with a record of 8-1-1, the Colonials were moved up three flights.

After losing their season opener to Montgomery, the Colonials pulled together to win the next three games over Piscataway, Staten Island and North Brunswick.

was the lowest nine-hole round played at Cedar Hill in high school matches in six years.

Jeremiah and Jessup were close behind, turning in a 41 and a 42, respectively. Mark Hobbie finished fourth for Westfield with a 43.

According to Jeremiah, the course itself was in good condition, but a little long. He stated the rain surprised everyone and the poor weather conditions worked against Westfield.

Rubin agreed and added the Westfield players had "a lot of good shot making."

On April 7, Westfield faced East Side at Weequahic Park in Newark. In the absence of Watner, Westfield still was able to pull so far ahead of East Side the East Siders failed even to tally up their score.

However, Westfield made a good showing, totaling a 159.

Jeremiah finished first with a low 38, followed by Rubin and Jessup, who both shot 40. Co-Captain Brian O'Connor turned in a respectable 41 to give Westfield another victory.

Cougars Claw Past Volunteers 4-3

The Division No. 3 Westfield Volunteers Soccer Team traveled to Spotswood this past Sunday to take on the Immaculate Conception Cougars and lost a hard-fought game 4-3.

The Cougars came out shooting and raced to a 3-0 lead in the first 10 minutes of play. The Volunteers then came alive. Brian Bottini took a feed from Mark Gordon and closed the gap to 3-1.

John Henry Flood quickly followed with a breakaway goal, making the score 3-2. The defense came together behind the spirited play of Kevin Doyle, Chad Pusich, Chris Schwarz and Tim Young and halfbacks, Ryan Hogan and Chris McClellan, kept up the attack. The half ended with the score still 3-2.

The Volunteer defense continued to dominate in the second half with Matt Karpa shadowing the Cougar's best player, Richie Rowe, John Tully and Gavin Shulman blanketing the rest of the field and goalkeeper, David Robinson, making many saves.

Jack Kane and Brendan Maher kept up the attack and the Volunteers then knotted the score at 3-3 on a shot from the right side by Kevin Doyle. The Volunteers continued their furious attack on the Cougar goal with a strong shot by Gordon burning off the side of the goal and the Cougar goalkeeper making a big save on a shot by Bottini.

With 15 seconds remaining the Cougars went ahead 4-3 on a wind-assisted shot from the left side. The Volunteers came away on the short end of the score but played with courage and determination.

Rountree Takes First in Shot Put

Drew Rountree, a 1991 Westfield Senior High School graduate, took first place in the shot put for the Millersville University men's track and field team April 4 at Kutztown University's tri-meet.

A freshman, Rountree threw the shot 49 feet, 11.5 inches to help Millersville take second place with 83 points. East Stroudsburg won the meet with 110 and Kutztown took third with 39.

Rountree is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Rountree of Westfield.

Munch Notches First Victory

Craig Munch of Westfield earned his first win of the season for the Fairfield University Stags Baseball Team of Fairfield, Connecticut recently as they defeated Iona College of New Rochelle, New York, 7-5.

The town pitcher allowed no hits or runs in his one and one-third innings.

John Macko Hits For Susquehanna

Susquehanna University sophomore left fielder, John Macko of Westfield, is batting .359 and has gone 23 for 64 for the Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, college's basketball team.

He also is third in runs batted in with 14.

Blue Devils' Hot Battery Keeps Burning Rivals

By DAVE HARWOOD
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

After last Monday's thrashing of the Elizabeth Minutemen, the Blue Devils' baseball offensive powerhouse continued the hot batting throughout the week.

The varsity's schedule was as tough as it could possibly be. They began the week with Elizabeth, followed by Wednesday's home match-up with the rivals from Union, and ended the week at home against a talented Cranford team. The Devils responded.

The Union team pulled into Westfield, thirsty for an upset. When the Farmers stepped up to the plate in the top of the first, they let it be known they came to play. They stroked three hits including a damaging three-run homer by Mike Lilloia.

But don't count the Devils out quite yet. With a three-run deficit staring them in the face, they proceeded to send 12 batters to the plate in their half of the first. Westfield pounded out five hits and tallied up a 7-3 lead.

Westfield's lanky hurler, Jim "Stix" Charlesworth, 2-0, settled down and stymied Union the remainder of the game. The Devils' win over Union 15-4 was an important Watchung Conference match-up.

The hardballers finished with 14 hits in only five innings of work.

Contributing to the slugfest were Chris Infantino, three hits, two runs batted in, and Dave "The Duke" Duels, two hits, and continuing his weeklong crushing of the ball was Dan "Iron" Higgins, who mounted a 4-for-4 day, bettering his 3-for-4 performance versus Elizabeth.

With the Devils' offense in full swing, they welcomed Cranford's challenge on Friday. Westfield had another first-inning explosion of offense.

Thirteen Devils were sent to the plate, providing four hits, three walks and nine runs. This proved to be all that would be needed to hold onto the game.

With a nine-run lead to work with, the pitching combination of Adam "Showtime" Yannuzzi (0-0) and Jeff "Poopy" Pereira (1-1) allowed four runs and six hits for the game. The Devils obtained their fifth win by a margin of 10-4.

Strong performances were turned in by Drew Keen (two hits, one run batted in) and Dave Schwarzenbek. The Westfield infielders also turned in a fine day defensively, turning two key double plays. Although sweet victory was theirs, Westfield could not excuse the lackluster offensive performance for the final innings of the Cranford game.

After the first inning, Westfield had six hits and only one more run. This is uncharacteristic of Westfield's offensive powerhouse.

Matt Shea Swings For Muhlenberg

Sophomore first baseman, Matt Shea of Westfield, has appeared in six games while contributing four hits, one double, in 14 at-bats for the Muhlenberg College Baseball Team of Allentown, Pennsylvania.

He has a .286 batting average and a .375 on-base percentage and is second on the squad with 37 putouts. He also has six assets.

Boy Harriers Take Fourth Spot in Relays

By ADAM BARCAN
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

Overcoming the absence of several key members, the Westfield Boys' Track and Field Team took fourth place with 38 points in Saturday's Union County Relays at Plainfield's Hub Stine Field.

While the services of team members Mike Chung, Jim Nicoll and Ken Silverman, lost to a band trip, were missed, the team fared extremely well against county powers like Elizabeth, Union and Rahway.

Westfield started off with a convincing victory in the distance medley in 11 minutes and 22.1 seconds. Chris Griffith opened with a two-minute and 5.2-second 800-meter split, while an injured Jeremy Romine followed with a 59.5-second 400 meters.

In a personal-best time, Josh Albertson raced to a three-minute and 25.9-second 1,200-meter time before handing off to Dan Barcan, who took it home with a four-minute and 50.7-second mile.

Sporting a different look due to the absent runners, the 4-by-800-meter squad took a strong second in eight minutes and 44.8 seconds behind a powerful Elizabeth squad.

The Westfield crew of junior, Chris Demasi, and seniors, Rich Andreksi, Roy Bodayla and Griffith ran times of two minutes and 10 seconds, two minutes and 9.7 seconds, two minutes and nine seconds and two minutes and 14 seconds, respectively.

In another example of Westfield's distance strength, the 4-by-1,600-meter relay team of Scott Aldrich, Matt Gorbaty, Albertson and Barcan raced to victory in 19 minutes and 38.6 seconds.

Signups Start For Season Of Tennis

The Westfield Tennis Association is conducting registration for its new season.

The association is accepting applications for both memberships and lessons. The forms can be found at the Westfield Recreation Department. The Memorial Library, Westfield Sports Center, Rorden Realty, Summit Ski & Sport and Mountaintop Indoor Tennis Center.

Lessons for all ages from elementary through adults will be given by tennis professional, Nancy Harter, and her staff at the Memorial Pool courts. Spring lessons will start on Monday, April 27.

The ladder competition is due to start on Friday, May 1, and continue through Labor Day.

Lesson signups are on a first-come, first-serve basis.

For further information, please call Ruth Penner at 789-9759 or Lee Perry at 232-7232.

Aldrich led off at a four-minute and 54-second time and Gorbaty followed in four minutes and 53 seconds.

Albertson, pulling away from a small pack, turned in a five-minute and one-second split before handing off to Barcan, who raced to the finish in four minutes and 48 seconds to hold off Dayton's fast-approaching Sean McGrath.

In the final event of the day, the 4-by-400-meter crew of Chris Blanding, Rodney Hayes, Rishon Williams and Jamal Hester finished second in three minutes and 32.7 seconds, only 1.7 seconds behind winner Elizabeth.

Blanding opened with a 51-second leg, while Hayes, Williams and Hester followed with times of 54, 53.5, and 53.4 seconds, respectively.

Rounding out the scoring, the long-jump team of Hayes, Romine and Hester took sixth place, as did the discus crew of Williams, Mark Borten and Todd Phillips.

Due to the lack of manpower, Westfield did not enter the 4-by-200-meters, sprint medley, high jump, pole vault, shuttle hurdle or intermediate hurdle relays, making the fourth-place finish an impressive one.

Westfield looks to continue the success on Saturday, as it hosts the Blue Devil Relays.

Against Linden's powerful sprinters, Williams managed a second place in the

Defeeters Earn Name Twice This Weekend

The Westfield Defeeters 5 Soccer Team continued their undefeated streak this weekend, posting a crushing 6-1 victory over Berkeley Heights Sunday at Elm Street field and gaining a 2-2 tie Saturday in Piscataway.

The Defeeters' record now stands at 3-0-1. Through both games, the Defeeters demonstrated solid soccer skills in dribbling, passing and defensive work. While the Berkeley Heights game displayed the Defeeters' offensive skills, the Piscataway contest was a defensive exhibition.

In the Berkeley Heights game, Erika Van Anglen had the first two goals including a corner kick that shot down the line and into the net unopposed by any player. She had her second just minutes later in the first half on an assist by Alyssa Graye.

Halfback, Meg Blendolf, also registered two goals in the second half, taking one straight down the field and working the other through a forest of defenders.

Jennifer Woodbury, the first half goalie, utilized outstanding footwork to earn her goal in the second half when she was playing forward, and Mairen Priestley used her leg strength to boot a shot from the 18-yard line into the net.

Andrew Constandis supplied needed support as forward, working the ball toward the goal, and Ashley Chambers was solid as a fullback. In Saturday's game in Piscataway, Megan Pusich scored first for the Defeeters, sending the ball high into the net over the outstretched hands of the goalie.

Van Anglen put the Defeeters on the board once again, using her quick footwork to get the ball into the net. In that game, forward, Laura Bonavita, provided some solid assists that enabled the Defeeters to be a threat all afternoon.

But the Piscataway game belonged more to the defense with a sweeper, Maura McMahon, turning in perhaps her finest performance to date, using her superior speed, timing and again cut what otherwise might have been a Piscataway score. Leigh Kendrick turned in her usual outstanding job as stopper, always finding the right spot on the field to block the Piscataway advance.

Donna Schaller played well in her fullback position as was Abbie Rose, working to defend the Defeeters' goal in the second half.

Registration Starts Monday For 'Y' Spring Session

Starting Monday, April 20, at 8:30 a.m., registration for the spring session will begin at the Westfield "Y" for those currently enrolled and continuing in youth aquatic classes.

Starting with this session, all youth physical program participants currently enrolled will be eligible to register for the same class prior to the class being offered to the general public.

Open registration also will begin for all adult exercise classes.

The following week, on Monday, April 17, at 8:30 a.m., registration will continue for all programs offered by the "Y."

The spring session will run from Monday, May 4 through Sunday, June 28.

Almost 13,000 program participants have taken part in "Y" programs over the past year.

Programs for the very young include the fitness programs of Squeaky Sneakers, Movement Education Games and Apparatus Tots and Pee Wee Playtime.

Fitness offerings for those aged 4 through 6 include Pee-wee Tumblers, T-ball and soccer. Aquatics classes for those aged 6 months to 6 years are offered through the National Young Men's Christian Association Skippers program.

The progressive swimming program offers a seven-level program for those aged 7 through 14. For those aged 6 through 10, floor hockey, basketball and Soccer Plus are a few of the classes offered. A new program this session is Karate for Kids, a martial art addition.

Several new adult aerobic classes are being introduced with the spring session. Circuit-Step introduces the concept of stations on steps which provides a balanced workout for upper and lower body. This class increases aerobic capacity, muscle strength and endurance.

Self-Defense for Women and Men is designed for adults who want to protect themselves. A free half-hour demonstration will be given on Thursday, April 23, at 8 p.m.

Enrollment continues for the summer camps. New sessions have been added for Caravan Camp for children completing second to sixth grades. Openings still exist for Camp Blue Sky, Summer Fund Club, Soccer Camps and afternoon Kinder Kamps.

Summer Teen Challenges registration, offered to teenagers in eighth grade and up, will give them the chance to get away with a small group of like-minded and like-aged children for a week of cycling, backpacking, and/or canoeing. Challenge H2O offers a five-day canoeing and overnight camping trip. Teenage Challenge on Wheels offers a five-day cycling and overnight camping trip option for the summer.

For a month-long experience, teens can enroll in the Leadership Adventure Training programs. Activities include special trips planned weekly in and around Westfield including biking and hiking and conclude in a three-day, two-night camping trip in the Pennsylvania woodlands.

Information is available at the front desk or by call 233-2700.

Town Volleyballers to Play In League in Warren

A team from Westfield High School has been invited by the Warren Volleyball Association to participate in the 1992 Central Jersey Boys High School volleyball league to be played at Central School in Warren, on Thursdays at 7 p.m. starting with a participation volleyball clinic held April 9.

The Warren Junior Volleyball players and coaches will be on hand to help with the league. If a team does not have a coach, one will be provided. Basic volleyball fundamentals to improve the skill level of the players will be taught.

The league will start tonight and play will be held on Thursday, April 30, and May 7, 14, 21 and 28, with the playoffs on Thursday, June 4.

Games will start at 7 o'clock and teams will be able to start warming up at 6:45 o'clock. Games will end at 9:50 p.m. All players and coaches should be out of the gymnasium by 10 o'clock.

Depending on the number of teams participating, there either will be two divisions, beginning from 7 to 8:30 p.m. or one division to be played from 7 to 9:50 a.m. A schedule will be provided.

United States Volleyball Association rules will be followed.

The team entry fee is $50, and each team should get a sponsor.

For further information, please telephone Mario Caruso at 756-2776 in North Plainfield.

Five-Miler Schedule April 25 in Tamaques

The Westfield Recreation Commission will host its Second Annual Five-Miler and One-Mile Fun Run on Saturday, April 25, at Tamaques Park.

Proceeds from the event will go to benefit drug and alcohol-free programs. The event will begin with the One-Mile Fun Run at 9 a.m. followed by the Five-Miler at 9:30 a.m.

Registration will be accepted through tomorrow. The entry fee is $8 for the Five-Miler and $4 for the Fun Run.

Registration fees at race time will be $10 and $5, respectively. T-shirts will be issued to the first 200 registrants.

The race will feature a fast and flat certified course with mile splits and water stations. Limited parking and rest room facilities will be available. Runners should come dressed to run.

For a race application or information, please telephone the Westfield Recreation Commission at 789-4080.

Trophies will be awarded in the following categories: First, second and third place male and female finishers of the Fun Run, overall male and female winners of the Five-Miler; and first, second and third-place finishers in each age group of the Five-Miler.

400 meters in 53.9 seconds and third place, 24.5 seconds, in the 200 meters. Westfield dominated the distance events, sweeping the 1,600 meters, 800 meters and 3,200 meters.

In the 16,000, the Devil pack of Albertson, Dan Barcan and Demasi led the way in times of four minutes and 46 seconds, four minutes and 48 seconds and four minutes and 50 seconds, respectively.

Victories continued in the 800 meters as Griffith won in two minutes and seven seconds, followed by Bodayla in two minutes and 10 seconds and Chung in two minutes and 12 seconds.

A final cleanup took place in the 3,200-meter race with a first-place by Matt Gorbaty running in 10 minutes and 32 seconds and Dan Barcan and Demasi finishing in 10 minutes and 43 seconds and 10 minutes and 44 seconds, respectively.

Westfield hopes to achieve similar success at Saturday's Union County Relays in Plainfield.

October 6 is a national holiday in Ireland. It's Ivy Day.

BURNING IT IN... The Blue Devils' Natalie Zarrillo winds up to deliver a pitch during Monday's softball game against East Side, which was won 9-5 Westfield.

Softball Squad Defeats Three for 5-1 Record

By ANNE LEEGAN

Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader

The Blue Devils came off an 11-0 loss to Union last Wednesday, to hand a previously-undefeated Cranford its first defeat.

In a close game senior, Ashely Fizzel,

COLLEGIAN... Westfield High School senior, Maurice Barnett, will be heading American International College in Springfield, Massachusetts beginning this fall. The six-foot, three-inch, 300-pound defensive tackle for the Westfield High School Football Team received honorable mention as an All-American, All-Union County, All-State and Watchung Conference.

Tennis Group Will Sponsor Clinic, Carnival

The Westfield Tennis Association will sponsor a free adult clinic and Round Robin and a Youth Carnival for children on Saturday, May 2, at Tamaques Park in Westfield.

The rain date will be Sunday, May 3.

The adult clinic will run from 9 a.m. to noon. A free tennis clinic for beginners will run simultaneously with association professional, Nancy Harter.

The children's carnival will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m.

Each court will feature a different activity including a gun gun to clock serving speed, using various strokes to hit targets, round robins, working wit Harter. Many games and prizes will be awarded.

Registration for these events will be held at Summit Ski & Sport or at Mountainside Indoor Tennis Center or at 8:30 a.m. at the Tamaques Park tennis courts on the day of the event.

These events are free and open to any Westfield resident. Participants should bring their own racquets.

led the offense with a three-run triple in the fourth inning.

According to Head Coach Margaret McFadden, Westfield's defense was a solid team effort.

On Saturday, April 11, Westfield participated in the Ridge Invitational, defeating the host school.

"The team played excellent defense and it gave them a confidence boost," McFadden said.

Westfield's game against Whippany Park was rescheduled due to rain and the outcome of that game will determine the winner of the invitational.

In her first varsity game, freshman pitcher, Natalie Zarrillo, pitched Westfield to a victory over East Side on Monday.

"In the beginning of the game Natalie was a little shaky, but she settled down and pitched with control," stated McFadden.

Junior right fielder, Amy Gallagher, fired the defense with two spectacular saves in the fourth inning.

"Amy's outstanding catches gave the whole team a boost," McFadden noted. Senior third baseman, Terri Wickens, went four for four at bat, leading the team's offense.

Westfield will face Kearny away on Monday.

Hills Soccer Camp Sets Town Sessions

Hills Soccer Camp, in cooperation with local recreation departments and soccer clubs, has seven weeks of summer soccer planned for boys and girls aged 5 to 18 with both full and half-day sessions available.

For the ninth year the camp has assembled a teaching staff of international, college and professional teachers and coaches from Great Britain.

The local camps are scheduled July 13 to 17 and August 3 to 7 in Westfield.

Hills Soccer Camp specialties include: The Team Concept — If a team, with a minimum of 11 players, attends any camp session, they will be trained separately as an entire unit during the regular training sessions. These teams will also be eligible to compete in our summer soccer classic tournament; Goalie School and Striker School — This program will benefit those players who need the intense, individualized, specific instruction which is necessary for the improvement of goalie and striker skills.

Lacrosse Squad Claws Princeton Tigers 14-3

By MICHAEL BASTA

Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader

The Blue Devil Lacrosse Team improved its record to 2-2 last week with a convincing 14-3 win over Princeton on Friday in Princeton.

In what proved to be a tuneup for many of the tough matchups ahead for Westfield, Coach Shaun Cherewich's squad dominated the game from beginning to end in every facet of the game.

Chris Wojcik gained ground in his quest for the state scoring title as he netted three goals in Westfield's offensive onslaught. Wojcik is ranked in the top 15 scorers in the state.

Senior, Matt Connell, had two goals of his own to add to the cause as the Devils jumped out to a comfortable 7-1 going in at the half.

Scott Brainard, a rare underclassman on the senior-dominated team, had his best day of the season so far, scoring twice.

Matt Prybylski rounded out Westfield's scoring leaders of the day. He coupled one goal with his four assists.

The Devils hope the 11-goal victory can serve as a springboard into many of the tough matchups ahead on the schedule.

Yesterday Westfield played a new foe in Suffern, a lacrosse squad from New York.

The matchup many of the seniors have been waiting for comes Saturday when Westfield meets Summit for the annual Bristol Cup game. Summit has held the cup for two straight years, upsetting the Devils last year with a 4-2 victory.

"We feel Summit won some games over the few years they shouldn't have won. They didn't beat us, we beat ourselves," Jeremy Barbin said. "We're just looking forward to playing a good game and bringing the Bristol Cup trophy back for our senior year."

Tennis Team Ups Record To 6-1 During Week

By JOSH SCHWARTZ

Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader

The Westfield Boys' Varsity Tennis Team completed a second successful week of tennis, raising its record to 6-1 and defeating Watchung Conference foes Irvington, Plainfield and Union before losing to Livingston.

The Devils played host to Union on Monday showing they are a force to be reckoned with, winning 5-0. Brett Garran improved his first singles record with a win over Joe Rubineti 6-0, 6-3.

Garran said, "The Union match was a good stepping stone for what lies ahead in the next few weeks and we have the confidence to overcome our challenges."

On Friday, the squad took on a scrappy Plainfield squad. Not underestimating their opponents the Blue Devils defeated the Cardinals 4-1.

Garran lot to a tough first singles player, Rasheed Abdul-Haqq and the second doubles team of Jeff Roegen and Matt Pravda continued its series of impressive victories defeating their opponents 6-1, 6-1.

Pravda stated, "Plainfield was a tough team and the squad was happy to come through in clutch."

Last Wednesday the Devils traveled to meet the Blue Knights of Irvington posting their third shutout of the year, 5-0. Mark McGann continued his impressive play at third singles, defeating Roderick Dubose 6-0, 6-0.

The first doubles team of Barth Burrill and Simon Baukh defeated their opponents 6-0, 6-1, and Seth Rosen used his slid groundstrokes to defeat Norman Mudasir 6-0, 6-2.

Rosen stated, "The Irvington match was just another showing we are a force to be reckoned within the Watchung Conference."

The Blue Devils play host to the No. 1 team in the state, East Brunswick, today and prepares for Morris County rival, Delbarton next Thursday.

The team believes they can recapture the county championships and can do well in the sectional state tournament in mid-May. Coach George Kapner reflected on the season, "I have been real happy with the season so far and am confident the squad can achieve its goals."

Tuesday April 14

Results

Livingston, 5; Westfield, 0
Mike Schonbraun won 6-3, 6-2 over Garran.

Dave Gordon won 7-6, 7-3 and 6-0 over Rosen.

Ross Markowitz won 6-1, 6-2 over McGann.

Akito Miyazaki and Dave Schobraun won 6-1, 7-6 and 7-3 over Burrill and Baukh.

Dave Barzelay and Dan Elkinson won 6-1, 6-2 over Roegen and Pravda

Volleyballers Take Third In Cougar Tournament

By ALICIA ALBEE

Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader

The Westfield Girls' Volleyball Team added two more wins against Irvington and Shabazz to their record this week, and placed third overall in the Cougar Tournament held at Columbia High School on Saturday.

The tournament was the highlight of the week for the team.

With only eight players present that day, the Devils had to come forward and play aggressively against their tough opponents.

Westfield had a chance to advance to a second place finish in the tournament in the semifinal round against Elizabeth. Elizabeth bumped the Devil squad out in three games, and Westfield held out to the third-place finish out of the seven teams present.

Entering the tournament, Coach Heather Kennedy stressed the girls should be confident and play hard.

"My emphasis was on the psychology that we have nothing to lose," said Kennedy. "I wanted them to have fun and play the best ball they could."

Playing all day with only eight players and one captain, the Devils were full of surprises. Co-Captain Jessica Burley took charge and lead the team by setting the pace all day. Both the setters, Gloria Ko and Suzanne Azanado, played the whole day without a rest.

Andi Skulls' defensive contributions also added to the team's strength in the tournament. The surprising performances of Lexi Tourteloute and Marta Napier, who were very comfortable on defense and hitting, helped Westfield as well.

Lead-Testing Volunteers Sought by Water Company

In compliance with the Environmental Protection Agency's regulations to minimize public exposure to lead in drinking water, Elizabethtown Water Company invites its customers to participate in a water sampling program.

According to the new sampling guidelines, Elizabethtown must test drinking water from 100 homes that meet the specific agency "high-risk" home criteria. High-risk homes are single family residences built between 1983 and 1985 that contain lead-soldered copper pipes and older homes or any buildings that have interior lead pipes or lead service connections.

There are a number of ways to identify lead plumbing in a home:

- Lead pipe and solder are dull grey in appearance while galvanized iron pipe is silver.
- A magnet will adhere to iron but not to lead.
- Copper pipes commonly contain lead solder.

Customers whose homes meet the high risk criteria and who wish to participate in the sampling program should call 1-800-272-1325, extension 366, Monday to Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Customers who are selected for the program will receive sample containers and instructions on how and when to take the sample. Sampling will be done twice during the year.

Elizabethtown's water supply contains no lead, and the company has replaced all known lead service lines. Plumbing and faucet fixtures in homes are the most common source of lead in drinking water. Water that is drawn from lead or lead-soldered pipes after standing for more than six hours may contain undesirable amounts of lead.

Elizabethtown Water Company and its subsidiary, The Mount Holly Water Company, serve more than 177,500 business and residential customers in 54 municipalities in Burlington, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Morris, Ocean, Somerset and Union Counties.

Specialist Weiss Finishes Course

Army National Guard Specialist Samuel E. Weiss graduated from the unit supply specialist course at Fort Lee in Petersburg, Virginia.

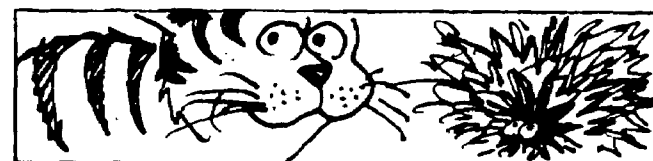

Students were trained in receipt, storage, issue and accountability of supplies and equipment. Also included in the training was maintenance of small arms.

The soldier is the son of Norman M. Weiss of 119 Lamberts Mill Road, Westfield.

Samuel is a 1987 graduate of Westfield High School.

ABOUT THE HOLOCAUST... Robert Mansfield described how he survived through the Holocaust during World War II to all fifth-grade students at Jefferson School as part of their study of the novel, Number the Stars. Mr. Mansfield's experiences of being placed as a teenager by the underground with a Protestant family closely mirrored the plot of Number the Stars, a story of a young girl hidden in Copenhagen. The students, pictured, left to right, with Mr. Mansfield are Susan Kapuscinski, Peter Abdelmessieh and Evan Baum from Mrs. Bernice Fein's class.

Resurrection Marked By Easter on Sunday

Westfield's Christians will join their brethren the world over this Sunday in observing Easter, the festival celebrating the resurrection of Jesus Christ on the third day after His crucifixion.

This principal festival of the Christian Church Year traces its origins back to the beginnings of Christianity, and it is probably the oldest Christian observance after Sunday, which came to be regarded as the weekly celebration of the resurrection.

Western Christians celebrate Easter on the first Sunday after the full moon that occurs upon or next after the vernal equinox, March 21.

If the full moon occurs on a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after, Easter, therefore, can fall between March 22 and April 25.

In the Eastern Orthodox Church, however, a slightly different calculation is followed, with the result the Orthodox Easter, although sometimes coinciding with that of the West, can fall one, four, or five weeks later.

The festival of Easter occurs on a particular Sunday, but its importance is emphasized in the worship of the church by the long preparation of Lent and by Holy Week, with its solemn services and by the following seven weeks until Pentecost (Whitsunday).

Easter is central to the whole Christian year; not only does the entire ecclesiastical calendar of movable feasts depend upon its date but the whole liturgical year of worship is arranged around it.

In the liturgical texts the emphasis is laid on its being the Christian Passover (the time of redemption).

Jewish Passover Feast Begins This Weekend

The town's Jewish population will join their fellow Jews worldwide beginning at sundown tomorrow in the observance of Passover, an eight-day feast marking the anniversary of the Exodus of the Israelite people from slavery in Egypt.

The first two and last two days are designated as yom tov, festivals during which work is prohibited. The other two, intermediary, days are known as ha-moed; they are semi-festivals, and customs vary about the type of work which is prohibited.

The term Passover is derived from the Hebrew term, pasah, and it commemorates the fact the Lord is thought to have passed over the houses of the Israelites sprinkled with the blood of a sacrificial lamb on their doorposts when He inflicted the last of the 10 plagues on the Egyptians.

Jews eat unleavened bread (mazzah) during Passover because the Israelites, when leaving Egypt, were so hurried they took their dough before it was leavened.

Nothing made of leaven (hamez) may be eaten during Passover, or even found in a Jew's possession.

Observant Jews only may eat those products during Passover which are prepared under rabbinic supervision and certified as kosher or permitted for Passover use.

The seder, or festive Passover meal, which is held on the first two nights of Passover, is enhanced by the presence of symbolic foods, each designating an aspect of Israel's age-old struggle for freedom.

The story of Passover and the explanation of the symbolic foods are found in a book called the Haggadah which is read during the seder.

Hidden Job Market Topic For Methodist Workshop

The President of Career Services, a career management firm in Bridgewater, will address jobseekers of the Career Enhancement Job Support Group of the First United Methodist Church at 1 East Broad Street at North Avenue, Westfield on Wednesday morning, April 22.

Her presentation will focus on the "Hidden Job Market."

"People tend to have a frustrating time finding the 'right' job in any economy because they rely on traditional job-search methods of answering advertisements and contacting employment agencies," she said.

"Actually, according to the United States Labor Department, 85 percent of available jobs on any given day are not advertised," she added. "These jobs are the hidden job market. In truth, the person who gets hired is not always the one who can do the job best, but who knows the most about how to get hired!" Career Services was founded in 1971 and it helps those aged 17 to over 70 plan careers and make career and/or job changes.

The speaker is a nationally-certified vocational expert and New Jersey state licensed. She is the President of Carpe Diem, a Hunterdon County-based business and professional women's group, public relations chairman and former Vice President of the Somerset County Chapter of the New Jersey Association of Women Business Owners and a member of the Greater Somerset County Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting, which will be held from 8 to 10 a.m., is free, but registration is required.

For reservations or information, please telephone Paul Sullivan at 752-3717.

St. Luke's Renovations Force Easter Changes

St. Luke's African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church of Westfield has been compelled to alter its Easter agenda this year due to continual renovations to the physical structure of the church.

All related services appearing in the Religious section of The Westfield Leader under St. Luke, has been cancelled except the Easter Sunday Service, which has changed from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the First Congregational Church at 125 Elm Street, Westfield, where St. Luke's congregation has been allowed to use the facilities for worship services during the reconstruction at their church.

St. Luke's services normally begin each Sunday at noon.

St. Luke's began its 120th anniversary celebration with a banquet on April 3 at the Ramada Inn in Clark.

Temple to Host Program on School

Temple Emanu-El of Westfield will host an evening entitled "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Temple Emanu-El Religious School But Weren't Sure Who to Ask."

The program is designed to deal with the value of starting religious school early and is geared to parents of 4-year-olds who are interested in having their child attending kindergarten in September.

Mrs. Tamara Coty will be present to answer any questions regarding the educational program, which will be held on the stage of Greifer-Sacks Hall on Tuesday, April 21, at 8 p.m.

AWARD WINNER...The Annual Rebecca Oakes Good Citizenship Award was presented to Mrs. Florence Baytop at the Bethel Baptist Church of Westfield. The award, founded by Warren Victor of Westfield in 1982, was created as a Memorial for Rebecca Oakes, whose outstanding deeds of humanity and good citizenship benefitted the entire community. State Assemblyman and former Westfield Mayor Richard H. Bagger spoke and presented the award. Mrs. Baytop follows a procession of 10 other church members who have made outstanding contributions to the quality of life of others. Mrs. Baytop has run a taxi service in Westfield for many years.

Yiddish Translator to Talk At Brunch at Temple

Dr. Curt Leviant, a professor of Hebrew and Yiddish literature at Rutgers University, will be the speaker at a brunch at Temple Emanu-El of Westfield on Sunday, April 26, at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Leviant is a translator from the Yiddish of the works of Sholom Aleichem, Chaim Grade, Avraham Reisen and other authors.

He also is a novelist and short-story writer. His first novel, The Yemenite Girl, was hailed by Saul Bellow and other critics and was awarded the Edward Lewis Wallant Award as the best Jewish novel of the year.

The professor's latest novel, The Man Who Thought He Was Messiah, about an imaginary year in the life of the 18th century Hasidic master and storyteller, Reb Nachman of Bratslav, has been praised by Elie Wiesel and by The New York Times Book Review.

Dr. Leviant's topic for April 26 is "Shalom Aleichem or Isaac Bashevis Singer: Who Really Represents the Shtetl?"

After his introductory remarks, the audience will be able to participate in a quiz and discussion. The cost for the brunch will be $5.

Copies of Dr. Leviant's novels and translations will be available at the end of the program and he will autograph copies of his books.

A three-star event titled an "Evening of Mirth and Magic" will be held on Saturday, April 25, at 8:30 o'clock in Greifer-Sacks Hall at Temple Emanu-El at 756 East Broad Street, Westfield.

The evening will feature three entertainers, Steve Rodman, Gene Brenner and Jack Swersie.

Mr. Rodman is a comic and magician. He uses his comedic and magic skills with audience participation.

He has appeared nationally as well as internationally in Japan, Hong Kong and the Caribbean and in comedy clubs, the Catskills and other popular resorts and nightclubs.

Mr. Brenner opened for Kenny Rogers, Mel Torme and Robert Goulet.

Easter Services Offered At Calvary Lutheran

Calvary Lutheran Church at 108 Eastman Street, Cranford, will proclaim the good news of the empty tomb at Festival Services of Holy Communion at 8:30 and 11 a.m. on Easter, April 19.

The services will be preceded by the lighting of the Paschal Candle in the nave of the church and its processional into the sanctuary at 8:15 a.m.

The Reverend Christine Regan, the Assistant Pastor, will preach at the 8:30 a.m. service, and the Reverend C. Paul Strockbine, the Senior Pastor, will preach at the 11 a.m. service.

Both services will include seasonal music presented by the Calvary Choir, a children's choir and the handbell choir.

Following a tradition of the past few years, the congregation will join in the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah at the close of the services.

CHICKS COME TO MCKINLEY... Five students are tending to five of the seven chicks that recently hatched in Patrick Rooney's third-grade class at McKinley School. The students, beginning on the left clockwise, are Scott Brewster, Nakia Hall, Adam Manella, Jenna Davino and Carol Allice. The eggs were put in the class incubator on March 17 and hatched on April 7. Mrs. Paula Davino, a parent, obtained the eggs for the class.

County Labor Savings Seen Over Three Years

Louis A. Santagata, the Chairman of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, announced ratification of a three-year contract between its Union, Council No. 8, and its employees.

"We are extremely pleased," stated Freeholder Santagata, "that 1992 will see a cost savings of more than $300,000 as a result of recent negotiations."

"Savings," he continued, "have been achieved primarily through reduced starting salaries and health-benefit containments."

The board has continually insisted upon cost saving measures as part of the new contract, and County Labor Council, Richard Daner advised the results are expected to have both an immediate and a long-term positive impact on controlling costs in the county budget.

"In addition to the actual savings achieved this year," concluded Freeholder Santagata, "the savings incumbent in this new contract as compared to the last three-year agreement should exceed $5,000,000 over the course of the contract."

David Fox of Fox & Fox, attorney for Council No. 8, conceded "the board has been tax-cut minded and extremely concerned about taxes throughout the entire negotiation period."

"The ability of both parties to make concessions," concluded Mr. Fox, "expedited the process and reaped benefits for the employees, the administration and the taxpayers."

Players Will Hold Meeting April 26

The Westfield Community Players will hold their annual meeting on Sunday, April 26, starting at 2 p.m. in the theater at 1000 North Avenue, Westfield.

President Miss Carole McGee has released the agenda which will start with the Board of Directors annual report, the Treasurer's financial report, election of new officers and the announcement of the upcoming 1992-1993 season.

Light refreshments will be served after the business part of the meeting. Facilities Director Gil Lane said members should stop by and see the initial results of the lobby facelift.

"So far," he noted, "our members have worked very hard cleaning, painting and installing energy-efficient lighting. Our goal is for the lobby to have a new, sleek appearance in time for next season's opening show."

To better plan the meeting, members are asked to respond by calling the box office at 232-1221.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public Notice is hereby given that an ordinance of which the following is a copy was introduced, read and passed, on first reading by the Council of the Town of Westfield at a meeting held April 14, 1992, and that the said Council will further consider the same for final passage on the 28th day of April, 1992, at 8:30 p.m., in the Council Chamber, Municipal Building, 425 East Broad Street, Westfield, New Jersey, at which time and place any person who may be interested therein will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning said ordinance.

SPECIAL ORDINANCE NO. "CAP" ORDINANCE TO EXCEED INDEX RATE; LIMIT RATE LESS THAN 5% INCREASE FOR THE YEAR 1992 (N.J.S. 40A:4-48.14)

WHEREAS, the local Government Cap Law, N.J.S. 40A:4-48.1 et seq., provides that the preparation of the annual budget, a municipality shall limit any increase in said budget to 5% or the index rate, whichever is less, over the previous year's final appropriations, subject to certain exceptions; and

WHEREAS, P.L. 1986, c. 203 amended the Local Government Cap Law, to provide that a municipality may, in any year in which the index rate is less than 5%, increase its final appropriations by a percentage rate greater than the index rate but not to exceed the 5% rate as defined in the amendatory law, when authorized by ordinance; and

WHEREAS, the index rate for 1992 has been certified by the Director of the Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs as 4.5%; and

WHEREAS, the Town Council of the Town of Westfield in the County of Union finds it advisable and necessary to increase its 1992 budget by more than 4.5% over the previous year's final appropriations, in the interest of promoting the health, safety and welfare of the citizens; and

WHEREAS, the Town Council hereby determines that a 0.5% increase in the budget for said year, amounting to $60,854.93 in excess of the increase in final appropriations otherwise permitted by the Local Government Cap Law, is advisable and necessary.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED, by the Town Council of the Town of Westfield, in the County of Union, a majority of the full authorized membership of this governing body affirmatively concurring, that, in the 1992 budget year, the final appropriations of the Town of Westfield shall, in accordance with this ordinance, be increased by $60,854.93, and that the 1992 municipal budget for the Town of Westfield be approved and adopted in accordance with this ordinance; and

BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, that a certified copy of this ordinance shall be filed with the Director of the Division of Local Government Services within 5 days of its adoption; and

BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, that a printed copy of this ordinance be open adoption, with the recorded vote included thereon, be filed with said Director within 5 days after such adoption.

Duke University Names Professorship for Mr. Priest

Duke University in Durham, North Carolina has established the William W. Priest, Jr. Professorship in Finance at the Fuqua School of Business. The professorship honors Mr. Priest, of Westfield, for his philanthropy and his service.

Mr. Priest is the Chief Executive Officer of BEA Associates, an investment counseling firm in New York City. A 1963 graduate of Duke University, Mr. Priest studied accounting with Fuqua Dean Thomas F. Keller and has served as a member of Fuqua's Board of Visitors since 1981.

Mr. Priest has earned the designations of certified public accountant, and certified financial accountant and has received a Master's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School.

He authored several articles published in The Financial Analyst Journal and has won the Graham and Dodd Award presented annually for the best paper in that journal.

Mr. Priest co-authored the first paper to measure security transaction costs, which is still used in many Master's in Business Administration programs.

He also co-authored the book, The Financial Reality of Pension Funding Under ERISA.

He has appeared before the United States Congress as an expert witness on retirement funds and serves on New Jersey's State Investment Council for its $23 billion state retirement program.

Assemblyman Franks, Republican State Chairman, Will Address Town Republican Club on April 23

Assemblyman Robert D. Franks of the 22nd Legislative District which includes Westfield will discuss the upcoming primary and November elections at the April 23 meeting of the Westfield Republican Club at BJ Fields restaurant, Springfield Avenue, Westfield, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Franks has served in the New Jersey General Assembly for the past 13 years and is currently Chairman of the Policy and Rules Committee. Since his initial election in 1979, he has actively campaigned for State sponsored a new resolution on this issue.

He is also a proponent of Initiative and Referendum which will permit more power and citizen access to government by allowing the general public to sponsor legislative initiatives and place them on the ballot.

In addition to his work in the Legislature, Mr. Franks serves as Republican State Chairman. In this role he directs activities of the Republican Party at the state level and interfaces with national, county and local Republicans.

Anyone wishing to join the Westfield Republican Club may do so on April 23. Dues are $15 and $10 for senior citizens and junior members. Members must be registered Republicans and residents of Westfield.

Volleyballers Take Third In Cougar Tournament

In the first game of the tournament Westfield played the Columbia Red team and they lost both games 11-15 and 10-15.

Against Clark, Westfield lost the first, 13-15, but came back to beat their opponent in the second, 15-5.

Columbia Black overpowered Westfield with the score of 15-9 in both games. In the match against Elizabeth, the Devils dominated the first game to win 15-8, but fell the next game with a close finish of 15-13.

Westfield beat East Side in both matches by the scores of 15-9 and 16-4, and Irvington in two games with the finishes of 15-12 and 16-12.

With a 4-3 record on the season, the Devils are now ranked 10th in the state among the schools who participate in volleyball during the spring.

The team is hoping to boost this record by utilizing a back-row hitter and by putting more double blocks on the middle hitter of their opponent.

Westfield also will continue emphasizing the importance of serving strategy. As Kennedy added, "Serving is still by far the key."

The team will start trying to adjust their serves, pushing them exactly where they want them to go.

On Monday Westfield crushed Shabazz in two games with the score of 15-7 in the first game and 15-5 in the second.

Last Friday the Devils outplayed Irvington by winning the first game 15-10, and the second one 15-5 at home.

Last Wednesday, in a home match against Elizabeth, Westfield was swept 15-3 in the first game and lost the second game 16-14.

Town Students Benefit From Dinner-Dance Gala

Two Westfielders, Daniel Broise, a student at the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences of the University of Medicine and Dentistry, and David Weiner, a student at the University medical school, both in Newark, received scholarships for the 1991-1992 academic year through the university's Champions Dinner Dance which raises the funds.

This year's dance was held Saturday at the Twin Brook Country Club in Watchung and sponsored by a voluntary organization, the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey Champions, which raises funds for university-wide projects.

The dinner-dance featured a "silent" auction, in which bids for items are submitted in writing rather than handled by an auctioneer.

More than 65 items were donated for the auction, including dinners at several New Jersey restaurants, tickets for performances of the New Jersey Symphony and New York City Ballet, two free bungee cord jumps and several pieces of artwork, including a hand-painted clock.

Conference to Explore High Cost of Illness

"Strategies for Coping with the High Cost of Illness" will be the theme for the American Cancer Society's Spring Conference. The free program will be held on Tuesday, April 28, at St. Helen's Roman Catholic Church, 1600 Rahway Avenue, Westfield, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The conference is designed to help individuals recognize financial resources available to those individuals coping with cancer. Several agency representatives will discuss specific services. In addition, medical social workers will be present to answer questions. The program is open to anyone coping with cancer, family members and their friends.

For additional information and registration, please call 354-7373.

Hudson Earnings Up 33 Per Cent In First Quarter Over 1991 Period

Hudson City Savings Bank reports net income of $15,968,000 for the first quarter of 1992, up 33 per cent over first quarter 1991 earnings of $11,988,000.

"Strong earnings continue to support Hudson City's position as one of the country's most stable banking institutions," stated Leonard S. Gudelski, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Also contributing to this position of strength is the bank's net worth of $362,334,000, an increase of 14.87 percent over a similar period in 1991 and accounting for over 10 per cent of total deposits."

For the first time in the bank's 124-year history, total assets have exceeded $4 billion, thereby confirming its position as New Jersey's largest mutual savings bank. Hudson City has also experienced substantial growth during the quarter, adding more than $98 million in new deposits.

"We continue to meet the needs of New Jersey homeowners both in refinancing and new mortgage loans," Mr. Gudelski said. "From January 1 to March 31, we have closed more than 900 loans on New Jersey properties for $151,192,000. Total mortgage loans outstanding at March 31, are $2,076,260,000 or 58 per cent of deposits."

John T. Scanlon Re-elected to Board Of Cooley's Unit

John T. Scanlon of Westfield has been elected to a two-year term as National Treasurer of the Cooley's Anemia Foundation. The organization is the only national voluntary health group dedicated to improving treatment and finding a cure for thalassemia major, a fatal genetic blood disorder better known in the United States as Cooley's anemia.

Mr. Scanlon, whose grandson, Nicholas, is a Cooley's anemia patient, has been a volunteer with the foundation since 1982 and has served as a member of the National Board of Directors for two years.

A Vice President of Taxation with Smith Barney in Manhattan, Mr. Scanlon is a Certified Public Accountant and holds a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree from Manhattan College and a Master of Business Administration Degree from Pace University. He is also active with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the New York Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Wall Street Tax Association.

Mr. Scanlon resides in Westfield with his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Scanlon, and daughter, Elizabeth, 19. Another daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Alessi of Staten Island, is the National Blood Drive Chairman for the foundation.

"The outlook for patients with Cooley's anemia is brighter than ever, but there's still a long way to go, and much research to be done. The foundation's 'Countdown to a Cure...by the Year 2000' campaign is aimed at raising important research funds to help the thousands of young people afflicted," Mr. Scanlon said.

In the United States, Cooley's anemia strikes specific ethnic groups, including persons of Italian, Greek, Mediterranean, Chinese, Israeli, North African, Southeast Asian and Asian-Indian heritage.

Since its founding, the foundation has allocated more than $7 million for Cooley's anemia research. In 1991, the foundation awarded $285,907 in research grants made possible by the foundation's national and chapter fund-raising efforts. Cooley's anemia is named after Dr. Thomas B. Cooley, a Detroit pediatrician who first described the disorder in 1925.

For more information, please contact the foundation at 105 East 22nd Street, New York, New York, 10010 at 1-800-221-3571 or 1-800-522-7222 or the New Jersey Chapter at 1-201-569-3433.

Blue Devils' Battery Keeps Burning Rivals

Westfield could not turn it on again when it came time to face a lively, pepped-up Eastside team to start this week.

Heavily-recruited pitcher, Sandy Lopez (2-0), was able to blow the Devils away with blazing speed. Westfield's offense was unable to muster any hits off the flame thrower.

Another fine pitching performance by Infantino (2-1) kept the handballers in the game, but no pitcher can win by himself.

Westfield (5-2) suffered its second loss of the season by a score of 4-0 on Monday.

They continued another tough week with a Tuesday home game against Livingston. Wednesday away at Irvington and today away at Columbia.

Westfield will continue in action on Monday against Keny at the Edison Intermediate School field.

Overlook Unveils New Family Surgery Program

A Parent May Now Accompany a Child Into the Operating Room for Anesthesia

Surgery can be a frightening experience for both children and their parents. To help ease the anxieties related to surgery, Overlook Hospital has developed a new program that allows parents to accompany their child into the operating room for the induction of anesthesia.

"We developed the family surgery program in response to a growing number of requests from parents who wanted to accompany their child into the operating room," says a Pediatric Clinical Specialist at Overlook. "The program is intended to help reduce stress and anxiety related to surgery by minimizing separation from the child," the specialist added.

Studies of families participating in such programs show that 90 per cent of the children want their parents to accompany them into surgery, while parents believe that their presence not only helps their child, but also makes the anesthesiologist's job easier.

Under the Overlook program, only one parent may accompany a child in the operating room. Pregnant women or children with a history of anesthesia problems are excluded from participation. Prior to the surgery, parents meet with an Overlook Child Life Specialist to obtain the information they need to appropriately assist during the induction of anesthesia.

They also view a film, discuss the operating room scenario and review the steps involved in administering the anesthesia. On the day of the surgery, parents are asked to don appropriate surgical clothing. They are also informed that they may change their mind at any point.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hatfield of Plainfield had first-hand experience with the program when their six-year-old daughter, Tiffany, underwent surgery to remove a brain tumor.

"The Family Surgery Program at Overlook, as well as the overall care of our daughter, could not have been better," commented Mr. Hatfield, who accompanied Tiffany into the operating room. "Everyone involved made a lasting impression on our family, and turned a very difficult time for us into a more pleasant experience," he added.

The Family Surgery Program is only one facet of the family-centered pediatric program offered at Overlook to help children, parents and siblings cope with the physical and emotional aspects of hospitalization. Other services include 24-hour unlimited parental visitation, free overnight accommodations for parents wishing to stay with their child, pre-operative teaching programs for children and therapeutic play programs to facilitate rehabilitation.

For more information about Overlook Hospital's Family Surgery Program and other family-centered pediatric services, please call 522-5200.

Ashbrook Executive Named To Healthcare Planning Unit

Ashbrook Nursing Home Administrator Daniel J. Moles has been appointed chairman of the healthcare planning committee for the New Jersey Association of Health Care Facilities.

Under his direction, the committee will review the long-term care needs of New Jersey's senior and disabled population and assess current and future needs and wants of healthcare providers. Collaborating with officials from the New Jersey Department of Health, his committee will help modify the proposed state health plan section dedicated to long-term care.

Mr. Moles brings more than 20 years of experience in long-term care to his post. He has worked as Executive Director of the Haym Solomon Home for the Aged in Brooklyn and Director of Nursing for The Glen Gardner Center for Geriatrics in Glen Gardner and The New Glen Oaks Nursing Home in New York.

Mr. Moles holds a Master's Degree in Healthcare Administration from Long Island University and a Bachelor's of Business Administration Degree from Bernard M. Baruch College and is a graduate of the Bellevue and Mills Schools of Nursing. Mr. Moles is licensed as a nursing home administrator and certified as a registered nurse in New Jersey, New York and Florida.

He is affiliated with the American

Daniel J. Moles

College of Nursing Home Administrators, the Gerontological Society of New Jersey, the Advisory Board of Union College gerontology program and state health care committees.

Ashbrook is a member of the Mega Care family of private, not-for-profit nursing homes. The healthcare center is located at 1610 Raritan Road, Scotch Plains. For additional information about Ashbrook, please call 889-5500.

Dr. Michael Bernstein Cited By College of Physicians

Dr. Michael Bernstein, Director of Internal Medicine and Chairman of Medical Education at Overlook Hospital, received a Mastership — a membership classification of high honor — from the American College of Physicians during its 73rd Annual Session on March 26 to 29 in San Diego, California.

Dr. Bernstein, who also serves as Clinical Professor of medicine at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was awarded mastership for his clinical and teaching skills.

One of 14 leading internists to receive the honor this year, Dr. Bernstein was nominated from among more than 20,000 college Fellows and was elected by the college's Board of Regents. Currently, there are 226 Masters of the group.

Dr. Bernstein has been actively involved in the College since 1972. In 1978 he became Governor-elect for New Jersey and in 1979, Governor. He was Governor-of-the-Year in 1983, and in 1990 he was named Laureate of the New Jersey Chapter. Dr. Bernstein has also served as a Regent and as Secretary General of the College.

Among his many contributions to the group, Dr. Bernstein is credited with increasing the numbers and involvement of women and ethnic minorities in the College and with developing programs for Associates in New Jersey and nationally.

Dr. Bernstein resides in the Murray Hill section of New Providence with his wife, Mrs. Lynne Bernstein. He has two children and one grand-daughter.

PATRIOTIC GESTURE... Stephen M. Clarke, left, the President of the West Fields Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, presents a certificate of commendation to Mrs. Mary Herberich, the Chairman of the Colonial Cemetery Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Westfield, and Dr. Fred Bollinger, a church Trustee, in recognition of the church's flying the flag in the cemetery around-the-clock.

Presbyterian Church Cited For Flying of the Flag

The Presbyterian Church in Westfield recently was commended by the Sons of the American Revolution for flying the flag continuously in the Colonial Cemetery on Mountain Avenue.

Stephen M. Clarke, the President of the West Fields Chapter of the patriotic group, presented a certificate of commendation from the National Society of the society to Mrs. Mary Herberich, the Chairman of the Cemetery Committee of the church, and Dr. Fred Bollinger, a Church Trustee and Cemetery Committee member.

The certificate reads: "In Recognition of Exemplary Patriotism in the Display of the Flag of the United States of America"

The Colonial Cemetery flag has flown around the clock for many years.

In making the presentation, Mr. Clarke noted the flag may be flown at night as long as it is lighted by a spotlight, and since the Gulf War, with increased residential flag display, this rule of respect is not always observed.

PARENTS' MEETING. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dagnall and Jay Imbert of Westfield discuss parenting with Dr. Ronald Taffel, the Director of Family and Couples Treatment, Institute for Contemporary Psychotherapy in New York City, at the Christopher Academy in Westfield. The Christopher Academy Parents Association sponsored an evening workshop with Dr. Taffel on April 2.

Mrs. DiGiacomo Heads Anti-Hunger Campaign

Mrs. Doreen DiGiacomo of Westfield is chairing the New Jersey Ending Hunger Now Campaign for her third year.

As this year begins, she has many goals for success in the Garden State. "There are over 700,000 people in New Jersey considered hungry. We need to end hunger at home, everywhere, on a sustainable basis to insure all people will have the opportunities and resources to provide for themselves," Mrs. DiGiacomo said. "It is very encouraging to see the level of participation grow. People now understand it is an opportunity for people to be self-sufficient that will end hunger."

Mrs. DiGiacomo and her husband and daughters moved to New Jersey in 1986 from Staten Island.

Her husband, Augustine DiGiacomo, is a consulting engineer with Jain Baun Bolles, a New York firm.

Her daughter, Lisa DiGiacomo, attends Boston College Graduate School, where she is studying for a Masters Degree in Counseling. Susan DiGiacomo attends Rider College in Lawrenceville and is studying for a degree in liberal arts.

While coordinating the New Jersey Ending Hunger Now Campaign, Mrs. DiGiacomo also teaches part-time at Our Place School, a special education pre-school program.

For further information about the campaign, please telephone Mrs. DiGiacomo at 232-6985.

Selections to be featured will include Carnival of the Animals by Saint-Saens and The Dance of the Blessed Spirits by Gluck.

Police Resuscitation Training Cited in Two Town Incidents

Four years ago the Westfield Police Department initiated a Professional Level Cardiopulmonary Course for all members of the department. It was felt the police officer, usually being the first emergency person on the scene, should at least be prepared with resuscitation training.

Sergeant Thomas Tyrrell, a 16-year veteran of the department and a state

Emergency Medical Technician, was instrumental in developing the program and has continued as the first aid training officer. All officers are re-certified annually.

Over the course of the last four years as a result of this training lives have been saved and recently the value of this training was exhibited in two incidents.

Chief Anthony J. Scutti reports that in the past month two members of the department have received Life Saving Commendations for their roles in administering resuscitation which resulted in the saving of two lives.

On May 11 Officer Frank Schmitz, responding to the Senior Citizens Complex, found the patient was not breathing and had no pulse. Immediately Patrolman Schmitz started resuscitation and continued even after the arrival of the rescue squad and medics. The patient regained consciousness and started to breathe on her own with some assistance.

On Monday, April 6, Sergeant Tyrrell responded to the report of an ill crossing guard at Mountain Avenue and Park Drive. Upon his arrival at the scene, Sergeant Tyrrell discovered the guard in full cardiac arrest with no pulse or respiration. Sergeant Tyrrell, while waiting for the squad and medics to arrive, immediately started resuscitation and the victim started breathing on his own.

Celebration Wall At Rahway Hospital To Mark Occasions

Rahway Hospital Foundation now offers a way through which community members can celebrate the special moments of their lives. The foundation has created a "Celebration Wall" comprised of individual plaques commemorating births, graduations, weddings, anniversaries and achievements. The display is viewed as an appropriate way for individuals to honor the memories of departed loved ones.

For a modest cost, a goldtone or silvertone plaque can be engraved with a personalized message of choice and added to the Celebration Wall, located adjacent to the hospital's main lobby.

Complimentary cards, which acknowledge additions to this permanent chronicle of community history, are available to send to those individuals recognized by the plaques.

Proceeds from the Celebration Wall project are used to finance the ongoing purchase of medical technology for Rahway Hospital. Individuals who are interested in additional information about the Celebration Wall are invited to call Rahway Hospital Foundation at 499-6135.

Bus Trip Features A 'Medieval' Meal, Outlets Shopping

The Union County Home Economics Council of the Rutgers Cooperative Extension is sponsoring a bus trip on Thursday, June 11, to "Medieval Times" for the luncheon and tournament with an additional stop at the Secaucus outlets for shopping.

Participants will dine in the manner of the 11th century in the spectators gallery.

Afterwards, they will visit and search for bargains at the Harmon Cove Outlets. The cost for the trip with luncheon, tournament and outlet shopping is $47 per person.

For more information, please call 654-9854.

Easter Egg Hunt Will Be Saturday

The Westfield Lions Club will again hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt for the children of Westfield on Saturday, April 18, at 1 p.m. in Mindowaskin Park. The hunt has been a tradition since the 1930s.

Club President, Michael Gordeuk, has appointed Douglas Schenks to direct the Lion members. The Easter Bunny will appear. A special area of the park will be used for those 3 years of age and smaller.

Eleven hundred fresh eggs, which the Lions have hard boiled and colored, will be distributed in the area around the bandstand.

One hundred plastic eggs also will be hidden to be exchanged at a designated area for a gift certificate from Hill's Ice Cream of Westfield.

After the egg hunt, Lions will distribute gourmet jelly beans to each child. The upper age limit is seven years.

In case of rain or muddy park grounds, the Lions will distribute these items from the roadway.

BEST MUSICIANS. McKinley School students, Matthew O'Neill, left, and Matthew Stamatoff recently were recognized for their musical abilities and selected as Musicians of the Month. Matthew receives instruction from Mr. Barry Furrer. Matthew Stamatoff is taught by Dr. Theodore K. Schlosberg.

Kevin Rushes Sponsor Student from Germany

The Rush family of Westfield is a Youth for Understanding International Exchange host family to Stefan Hartmann.

They have opened their hearts and their home to Stefan, an exchange student from Germany, who will be living with them until July.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Rush and their son, Bryan Rush, 9, have been showing Stefan what life is like in America. In return, Stefan teaches them about the German culture.

The Rushes have shared many memorable experiences with the German student. They will never forget their trip to Florida together.

"Bryan and Stefan were picked to act in a scene at MGM Studios. They had to sit on a gigantic ant in the movie, Honey I Shrunk the Kids," Mrs. Rush said.

They also have enjoyed getting to know different cultures and giving a student from another country the opportunity to learn about life in America.

"We have family all over the world and enjoy receiving letters frequently," Mrs. Rush noted.

The Rush family's favorite activities to do with Stefan are going to the theater to attend plays and concerts as well as taking short trips to various places along the East Coast.

Stefan is the Rush family's tenth Youth for Understanding international exchange student and he attends Westfield High School. The Rushes' previous exchange students were from Japan, Argentina, Finland, Belgium and Germany.

Mr. Rush, a business director, and Mrs. Rush, a teacher, have lived in Westfield for 13 years.

Youth for Understanding International Exchange is a private, non-profit, educational organization dedicated to international understanding and world peace.

Families who would like more information about hosting an international exchange student should call 1-800-787-8000.
