Feb 5 Is For Candidates

School Election Stated For Tuesday, April 20; Rules for Hopefuls Told

February 25 is the deadline for interested citizens to file nominating petitions to become candidates for the Board of Education in the Annual School Election on April 20.

The new February 25 deadline was set after state legislators voted last month to change the school election date from April 6 to 20.

The three current school board members whose three-year terms expire in April are Mrs. Susan Jacobson, G. Bruce McFadden and Mrs. Melba S. Nixon. Mrs. Jacobson and Mr. McFadden have served for two three-year terms, while Mrs. Nixon served one year of an unexpired term and was elected to a three-year term in 1990.

Citizens interested in becoming candidates for three school board seats, with three-year terms each, must file a nominating petition with Dr. Robert Rader, Secretary to the Westfield Board of Education, by 4 p.m. on Thursday, February 25. Nominating petitions are available from Mrs. Barbara Bennett in the office of the Board Secretary at 302 Elm Street.

Ten qualified resident voters must sign each petition, and the candidate must sign the petition in the presence of a witness.

Candidates for the board must be United States citizens, at least 28 years of age, able to read and right, a Westfield resident for at least one year preceding the date of the election, and a citizen who does not have an interest in any contract with or claim against the board.

The School Board sets policy, appoints school personnel, approves textbooks and supplemental instruction materials, negotiates contracts and sets salary schedules, approves curriculum, approves the school facilities program, sets a school calendar and develops a school budget for presentation to the public at the polls.

Westfield citizens will have the opportunity to elect three citizens to the board and to vote on a 1993-1994 school budget at the Annual School Election on April 20.

A Candidates' Night for citizens to meet the board candidates will be held by the Westfield Parent-Teacher Council on April 12.

Citizens interested in running for the board should contact Dr. Rader at his office at 302 Elm Street for further information. "Potential candidates are cordially invited to meet with me or any current board members," Dr. Rader stated.

Town, Garwood Planning Boards Set ShopRite Meeting Guidelines

Four Sessions Will Begin Next Month in Borough; School Addition Rapped

By PAUL J. PEYTON
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Westfield and Garwood Planning Boards agreed Monday to hold four joint meetings beginning on Thursday, February 11, on the application of Village Supermarkets, Inc. of Springfield to construct a ShopRite supermarket on the border of the two communities.

The meetings will be held the second Thursday of the month in February, March, April and May.

The two boards tentatively agreed to convene in the Lincoln-Franklin School auditorium located at Second Avenue and Walnut Street, Garwood. Alternative sites would be the Washington School on St. Mark's Avenue or the Westfield Council Chambers in the Municipal Building.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. and end about 10:30 p.m. Four witnesses will testify in behalf of the Village Supermarkets, according to Jeffrey Leher, an attorney representing the supermarket company. Their expertise will be on store operations, engineering, architecture and traffic.

The planning boards have agreed to hire one set of experts for the duration of the meetings. Board attorneys for both planning boards will make the final decisions on this matter with recommendations from the board members.

Westfield Planning Board Chairman Douglas T. Schwarz noted there is no precedence when an application falls on the border of both towns. However, in an effort to save money and time and provide a fair hearing, he proposed the joint meeting concept.

"There are two meetings going on," William S. Jeremiah, 2nd, the Westfield Board Attorney, said of Monday's session. "This is the Garwood Planning Board meeting and this is the Westfield Planning

RECYCLING SCHEDULE IN TODAY'S EDITION

A complete listing of the dates on which recyclable materials will be collected throughout 1993 in Westfield is included on Page 2 of today's Westfield Leader.

Also outlined are requirements for preparing several new categories of recyclables for pickup by the county's new private recycling vendor in accordance with the expanded program.

Readers are urged to clip the article and save it for future reference, since it will not be published every week.

Board meeting."

Mr. Jeremiah said the Chairmen of both boards would run the meetings. A witness would testify before both boards at the same time. Also, the boards would alternate each meeting as to which would be the "lead" board in the questioning of witnesses.

The Garwood board was represented at the meeting by Mayor Michael Crincoli, Dennis McCarthy, a member of the Garwood Borough Council, William Nierstedt, a professional planner and advisor to Garwood, and other members of the planning board.

Westfield Mayor Garland C. "Bud" Boothe, Jr. noted the 60,000-square-foot supermarket would "have an impact on North Avenue, Central Avenue and on part of South Chestnut Street."

Mayor Boothe said 80 per cent of the facility will be in Westfield with the remaining 20 per cent of the site, including the parking lot, being constructed in Garwood.

Garwood representatives agreed to have one court recorder as opposed to having a separate recording device for its transcript. Westfield meetings are recorded by a court recorder for improved accuracy, which can be hindered on tapes due to poor acoustics, a spokesman said.

Mr. Leher said copies of reports by experts testifying for Village Supermarkets will be available at meetings in which they are scheduled to testify.

Reilly Oldsmobile, located at 560 North Avenue, and the North Gate Town House Association will be represented at the meetings by their attorney William Butler.

It was noted by board members, once the final meeting has been concluded, the public comment period will have ended. Each board will deliberate on the case on its own. A meeting will then be held by each board for separate votes on the application.

The application would also have to be approved by the state Department

INCINERATOR COSTS LESS THAN PREDICTED

Town Trash Haulers To Save $469,544 In Tipping Charges

Collectors to Be Billed at $74 Per Ton Dumped
At Resource Recovery Facility Under Construction

Tipping fees, which will be charged to Union County collectors for use of the county's new trash incinerator in Rahway, will be substantially less than previously predicted, resulting in savings to town garbage haulers of $469,544 next year.

The savings figure, based on Westfield's 14,405 average tonnage, also reflects a 60 per cent recycling rate countywide.

According to Union County Utilities Authority Chairman Angelo Bonanno, the trash disposal fee will be reduced to $74 per ton after the resource recovery plant becomes operational next year, a $4-per-ton reduction from what had been predicted.

The current fee, for bringing town trash to the Automated Modular Systems, Inc. transfer station in Linden, is $106 per ton.

According to utilities authority officials, the $32-per-ton reduction will result in savings of more than $9.6 million to the collectors.

Mr. Bonanno noted the new fee represents about a 50 per cent savings from 1988, when at $138 per ton, Union County residents were paying the highest tipping fee in the United States.

The reduction from the figure which originally was predicted, according to authority Executive Director Jeffrey Callahan, came about partially from a renegotiated contract with the Empire Landfill in Pennsylvania, which will accept the ash from the incinerator.

The authority also has been able to recalculate expenses of the project now that construction has been underway for a year and the authority has fixed costs for many other projects, Mr. Callahan said.

Privatization of the curbside recycling program also contributed to the lower tipping fee, according to the Executive Director.

Westfield ranks fifth among communities in the county in the amount to be saved from the projected figure, behind Elizabeth, the Township of Union, Plainfield and Rahway.

The calculations, Mr. Callahan added, take into account the fact the county has not reached the 60 per cent recycling rate because they assume the use of the facility at 85 per cent capacity rather than close to 100 per cent.

Union County's recycling rate is 48 per cent, according to 1991 figures

Hearing Set On License To Sell Liquor

Competing Owner Cites Safety, Parking Concerns

By ROBERT R. FASZCZEWSKI
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

Action on a proposal by the owner of the Party Stop on Central Avenue to purchase the Drug Fair liquor license which has not been used for some time and transfer it to a store at 781 Central Avenue was tabled for two weeks Tuesday by the Town Council after objections to the application were raised by Jules Lusardi, the owner of Lusardi Liquors at 649 Central Avenue.

In a letter to Town Clerk, Mrs. Joy C. Vreeland, Mr. Lusardi contends:

There is no need for another liquor license because the town already has two more class D licenses than the amount seen as desirable under state law.

Parking spaces proposed for the site, at the corner of Central Avenue and Grove Street, are not sufficient to meet legal requirements.

It is unclear whether all selling, storage and display of alcoholic beverages will be done on the licensed pre-

Insurance Pool Concept Nothing New in State

Eight-Year-Old System Could Save 40 Per Cent

If Westfield joins 12 other suburban Union County municipalities in a self-insurance pool, it would be taking advantage of a concept which has been in existence in the state for almost eight years.

It is estimated the pool could save 23 to 40 per cent in premiums.

The first pool in the Garden State was established in Bergen County in 1985 and, since then, almost half of the communities in the state have taken advantage of the concept, according to David Grubb, the Executive Director of the Municipal Excess Liability Joint Insurance Fund, a state entity which acts as the excess insurer for the pools.

By utilizing the concept, municipalities too small to insure themselves can combine their money in a self-insurance pool, without having to resort to commercial insurance. They also can reduce non-claim expenditures, such as those for administration, according to Mr. Grubb, who is conducting a study on the viability of the concept for Union County communities.

Pools allow smaller municipalities to take advantage of cheaper costs associated with self-insurance, he added, and by sharing risks in such arrangements there is much greater emphasis on safety.

Approximately 254 communities belong to pools, with average spending about four times the amount on safety programs as the average municipality which purchases commercial insurance, according to the fund Director.

Mr. Grubb, a senior partner in a Hackensack firm, Public Entity Risk Management Administration, Inc., pointed out pools require a minimum budget of $1.5 million and typically pay the first $100,000 of a claim.

Any claims exceeding the initial amount would be paid out of the

Clark Co-Generation Plant Decision May Be Appealed to Superior Court

Firm Cannot Be Reached for Comment; Courts Have No Record of Filing

By ROBERT R. FASZCZEWSKI
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The October 26 decision by the Clark Board of Adjustment to reject an application by E.E.A. Department to construct a co-generation plant on the United States Gypsum site located near Clark's border with Westfield is being appealed to Union County Superior Court, at least that's what unofficial reports say.

In October the Clark board voted 4-3 in favor of the construction of the facility, which would have sold electricity to Consolidated Edison of New York with steam being sold to Gypsum.

Prior to the vote the board unanimously approved treating the application as a use variance requiring five affirmative votes rather than a hardship case which would have needed only four votes.

According to one published report, E.E.A. last month filed a complaint in Union County Superior Court asking a judge to reverse the October 26 vote on the grounds the facts presented in several hearings before the Clark zoning board support the majority decision to approve the application and to overturn the board's decision to treat the application as a use variance, which would require five affirmative votes.

E.E.A., in contesting the Clark decision, reportedly cites a letter from Dean Bowman, who drafted Clark's master plan, indicating the co-generation facility was a permitted use of the limited industrial area.

The attorney for the co-generation plant developer, David Fitzell, was quoted in the published report as saying Clark Board of Adjustment Chairman Nathaniel Green's decision to press for the classification of the application as a use variance was contradicted by the letter from the planner.

Officials from E.E.A. Development did not return several telephone calls from The Westfield Leader last week and this week asking about the status of the appeal hearing, and John Cunniff of the Clark Building Department said he only has heard unofficially, mainly from reading press reports, that the appeal papers have been filed.

According to Carl R. Golden, the Administrator of Public Affairs in the New Jersey Administrative Office of the Courts in Trenton, the court system has no record of an appeals hearing filing.

GUEST SPEAKER...The Reverend Kevin Clark, the Pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church of Westfield, shown speaking at last year's Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Interfaith Service at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will speak again at this year's service, to be held on Monday, January 18, at 1:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Westfield. Please see a story on the religious news page of today's Westfield Leader

DEADLINES HELP LEADER SERVE YOU

Those preparing press releases for submission to The Westfield Leader are reminded all copy should be in the hands of the Editor at 50 Elm Street, Westfield, by 4 p.m., on the Friday before the Thursday on which they wish it to appear.

For events which happen the week-end prior to publication, press releases should reach the Editor by Monday of the week of publication at 10 a.m.

Obituaries will be taken until Tuesday at 5 p.m.

For events which are planned weeks or months in advance, we encourage submission of stories as early as possible prior to the event.

The above deadlines are meant to enable us to prepare your copy carefully.

KING SERVICE SET FOR THIS MONTH

The Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Association of Westfield will sponsor the Sixth Annual Interfaith Dr. King celebration on Monday, January 18, at the First United Methodist Church in Westfield.

The event will start with a march at 12:30 p.m., from Bethel Baptist Church at 539 Trinity Place to First United Methodist Church at 1 East Broad Street, where the service will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The Reverend Kevin Clark, the Pastor of the Bethel Church, will be the speaker.

The King Association also is sponsoring an essay and art contest with prizes to be awarded to winners at the service.

Aircraft Noise Group Attacks Agency Report

The Federal Aviation Administration's draft report on aircraft noise in New Jersey was described today as "a $4 million scandal" that should be "tossed in the recycling bin."

The New Jersey Coalition Against Aircraft Noise, in a statement responding to the federal agency's Draft Environmental Impact Study on the noise pollution issue, characterized the agency as "insolent," "arrogant" and "out of control."

After spending 18 months and $4 million on the study, the statement said, the agency offered no solutions for a noise problem that has plagued New Jersey residents for the past five years.

Congress ordered the agency to conduct the study in response to thousands of citizen complaints, which began when a new routing system for planes using Newark, John F. Kennedy and LaGuardia Airports was implemented in 1987.

No environmental impact study had been conducted before the system went into effect.

"The Federal Aviation Administration spent $4 million of your money to tell you they were right all along, and if you don't like it that's just too bad," a coalition spokesman said, addressing New Jersey taxpayers. "What kind of agency would waste $4 million of your money instead of seizing upon the environmental impact statement as a golden opportunity to seek solutions to the problem?"

The coalition spokesman pointed out the agency's report fails to consider numerous alternatives that would reduce aircraft noise over New Jersey, including routing more flights over the ocean.

Moreover, the report considers only southbound flights from Newark Airport, she said. Major aspects of the problem are simply ignored, including northbound Newark flights and all traffic to and from LaGuardia and Kennedy, she noted.

The spokesman described the agency report as a direct challenge to New Jersey Governor James J. Florio, Senator Frank R. Lautenberg and other state officials who for years have been seeking relief from noise pollution for the citizens they represent.

The coalition called upon those officials and the new Clinton Administration to bring the agency under control.

"Our Governor and our legislators will do what is needed to protect the people of New Jersey," the statement noted. "Together with a new, more responsive administration in Washington, they will see to it real and viable solutions to aircraft noise over New Jersey are implemented. All the people of New Jersey can win. There need be no losers."

Mrs. Pamela Barsam-Brown, the President of the coalition, in testimony at last week's hearing on the environmental impact statement said:

"The environmental impact statement was mandated by Congress as part of the Airport Noise and Capacity Act of 1990. The act required it cover the effects of changes in aircraft patterns over the state of New Jersey caused by implementation of the Expanded East Coast Plan. Unfortunately, the Draft EIS does not come even close to accomplishing the requirements set out by Congress. Among the serious omissions in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement are the following:

The framing of the analysis and investigation is unduly narrow with regard to what the Airport Noise and Capacity Act of 1990 and federal acts require.

The act states the scope required to be addressed is the effects of changes in aircraft flight patterns over the State of New Jersey caused by implementation of the Expanded East Coast Plan.

Three thousand feet above ground level restriction on the analysis is arbitrary and does not reflect alterations made due to the plan.

The draft is lacking in technical detail and substantiation.

No technical appendices are provided. The text provided and the data included are limited to an "executive summary" level of detail.

It is impossible to verify the report's analyses and findings, including the publicly announced "errors" which "caused" the delay in issuing the draft until after the election.

The report is more concealing than revealing, which contravenes the intent of the federal act. It relies upon the recitation of Federal Aviation Administration policy rather than an investigation of actual environmental conditions affecting the human environment.

There is no direct investigation of the impact of the plan on the human environment.

There is no survey of human annoyance.

There is no survey of economic cost and benefit.

The report exhibits a total refusal on the part of the agency to adequately consider alternatives.

The report only considered three alternatives: The status quo, rollback and some minor changes to southbound departures from Newark Airport.

The report completely ignores traffic in and out of LaGuardia and Kennedy, even though that traffic clearly falls within the definition of the Congressional mandate for the Environmental Impact Study.

The report completely ignores northbound departures from Newark.

The report flatly refuses to consider ocean routing.

The result is the agency spent $4 million of your money to tell you they were right all along, and if you don't like it that's just too bad.

What kind of an agency would waste $4 million of your money instead of seizing upon the Environmental Impact Statement as a golden opportunity to seek solutions to the problem?

What kind of an agency, only a few days after releasing the do-nothing report for New Jersey, would release a noise mitigation study for New York and Connecticut promising multiple areas of

We spend half our lives unlearning lollies transmitted to us by our parents, and the other half transmitting our own lollies to our offspring.

Isaac Goldberg

relief?

What kind of an agency would, at the press conference announcing noise relief for New York and Connecticut, proclaim the reason New Jersey got nothing was because its delegation had flexed its legislative muscles against the agency?

What kind of an agency would say to Governor Florio, "You're a wimp. You'll never be able to protect the people of New Jersey from what we've done to them and what we will do to them?"

What kind of agency would also say to Senator Lautenberg, "You're a wimp. You'll never be able to protect the people of New Jersey from what we've done to them and what we will continue to do to them?"

What kind of an agency? An insolent, arrogant, out-of-control agency. One desperately in need of change.

What has happened to the people of New Jersey is deeply unfair, deeply unjust. There are ways to make it better for everyone: Using the ocean, raising altitudes for arrivals and departures and other creative routing changes. The agency knows this, but it will not be moved. In its arrogance and in its fear, it must win at all costs. This abuse of power comes as no surprise.

But they have misjudged, this agency so long unchallenged. They will be moved, moved to accept a new balance wherein the needs of people on the ground are given equal weight.

Our Governor and our legislators will do what is needed to protect the people of New Jersey.

Together with a new, more responsive administration in Washington, they will see to it real and viable solutions to aircraft noise over New Jersey are implemented.

We call upon Governor Florio and Senator Lautenberg, and the entire New Jersey delegation to do whatever has to be done to bring a resolution to the problems of aircraft noise over New Jersey.

All the people of New Jersey can win. There need be no losers."

| June                                     | 10 and 24    | 11 and 25    |
| July                                     | 8 and 22     | 9 and 23     |
| August                                   | 5 and 19     | 6 and 20     |
| September                                | 2, 16 and 30 | 3 and 17     |
| October                                  | 14 and 28    | 1, 15 and 29 |
| November                                 | 11           | 12 and 26    |
| December                                 | 9 and 23     | 10 and 24    |

There will be no pickup on the Northside on Thursday, November 25. Residents are reminded to set out their recyclables by 7:30 a.m. the day they are scheduled for collection. Residents should prepare their materials according to the following guideline:

• NEWSPAPERS — must be clean and tied in bundles that are no more than 12 inches thick. The bundles may not include paper bags, magazines, telephone books or junk mail.

• GLASS BOTTLES AND JARS — must be well-rinsed with all caps and lids removed. Glass must be placed at the curb in a sturdy, reusable container. Only bottles and jars will be collected. No windows, glass, dishes, pyrex, mirrors or crystal.

• CORRUGATED CARDBOARD — must be clean, flattened and tied in bundles. No paper bags, magazines, telephone books, junk mail or newspapers will be collected.

• PLASTIC BOTTLES — must be rinsed well with all caps and lids removed. All bottles should be flattened. Only plastic bottles that contain pourable liquid, such as milk, soda, juice or detergent will be accepted. No squeeze bottles, packaging, plastic wrap or containers holding food or hazardous materials, such as motor oil or antifreeze, will be collected. Acceptable materials will have a PET, PETE or HDPE mark or the number 1 or 2 in a triangle imprinted on the bottom of the bottle.

• ALUMINUM AND TIN CANS — must be well rinsed and placed in a sturdy, reusable container. Paint cans and spray cans will not be collected.

• MIXED PAPER — must be tied in bundles no higher than 12 inches. Materials placed in plastic bags will not be collected.

Acceptable materials include magazines, glossy catalogs, coupon inserts, envelopes, color news inserts, sweepstakes forms, notebook paper, construction paper, real estate listings, mixed color paper and photocopy and fax paper. Unacceptable materials include food boxes and chipboard. Newspaper and corrugated boxes cannot be combined with mixed paper.

Three Bills Sponsored By Assemblyman Now Law

Three bills sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Richard H. Bagger of Westfield became law during the closing weeks of the 1992 legislative session.

Two of the three bills were signed into law by Governor James J. Florio, and the third was adopted by the legislature on an override of a veto by Governor Florio.

The new laws sponsored by Assemblyman Bagger are:

• Assembly Resolution No. 27, which authorizes the state to refinance certain general-obligation bonds at lower interest rates, thereby substantially reducing the annual debt-service payments included as part of the state budget.

• Assembly Resolution No. 1018, which permits municipalities and Boards of Education to reduce a significant expense by publishing only a summary notice of a bond issue, rather than the entire terms and conditions, in a financial publication. The entire terms and conditions still must be published in the local official newspaper.

• Assembly Resolution No. 1117, which exempts medical malpractice insurance premiums from assessments to fund the deficit of the Joint Underwriting Association. Medical malpractice premiums already include an assessment to fund a separate defunct insurance pool. This legislation, which eliminates an unnecessary health care expense, was adopted by an override of Governor Florio's veto.

Assemblyman Bagger noted, "These three new laws reflect areas in which I have concentrated by efforts as a legislator: Fiscal responsibility at the state level, reducing state mandates for municipalities and local schools and reform of New Jersey's failed automobile insurance laws."

During his recently-completed first year as a legislator, Assemblyman Bagger sponsored a total of 12 bills which were adopted by the General Assembly, six of which were then passed by the State Senate and enacted into law.

Art Group To Discuss Photography

The Westfield Art Association will hold a meeting today at 8 p.m. in Assembly Hall at the Presbyterian Church of Westfield at 140 Mountain Avenue.

The topic of the presentation this month, "Photographing Your Own Artwork," will be given by Howard Nathenson.

Mr. Nathenson will focus his demonstration and discussion around the skills and equipment needed for taking professional quality slides of two-dimensional artwork. Some attention also will be given to works in a three-dimensional format. More specifically, he'll talk about the proper use of equipment, film, lighting and camera exposure.

He will stress the importance of good-quality slides for jury exhibitions and gallery reviews. Professional practices of labeling and mailing are other topics to be discussed.

Mr. Nathenson also lectures on the "History of photography" and "The Relationship of the Still-Life Between Photography and Painting."

In the past, he has taught at the University of California at Berkeley, Los Angeles State College and Kean College in Union.

He currently teaches painting and drawing at Parson School of Design in New York and also at the New Jersey Center for Visual Arts in Summit. He earned his Master of Arts Degree at the University of California at Berkeley and his Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Denver University Teaching.

Recently Mr. Nathenson has shown his still-life photograph series in a one-man show at the Morris Museum at Jersey City State College and at the 92nd Street Young Men's Christian Association in New York City. He just won the New Jersey State Council for the Arts Fellowship for 1992-1993.

Senator Endorses Bill On Campaign Financing

Criminal penalties for major violators and more controls on political action committees are contained in a revised campaign finance law which is being endorsed by State Senator Donald T. DiFrancesco, who represents Westfield.

The Senator, who is the President of the legislature's upper house, said he hopes the body will act on the legislation, Senate Resolution No. 1017, by later this month so New Jersey's first limits on contributions to legislators can be in place for the Tuesday, November 2, elections. All members of the legislature face reelection on that date.

The revised legislation, which was taken up by the Senate Judiciary Committee last Thursday, is stronger in some categories but weaker in others than a similar bill approved December 17 by the Assembly.

Criminal sanctions initially were included in the Assembly bill but were dropped from the adopted version.

The Assembly version, Resolution No. A-100, also would seek fewer restrictions on political action committees, which are a major factor in many campaigns.

The proposal by the upper house would impose criminal penalties based on the severity of violations.

The maximum sanctions would come into play if a political action committee or individual spent more than $75,000 on a campaign without reporting it and was convicted of being in collusion with a campaign committee.

That offense would result in a five-to-10-year prison sentence and a fine of up to $100,000. Lesser offenses would bring decreased penalties.

The Senate proposal also would make it a third-degree crime to conspire with a supposedly-independent political action committee formed solely to run a negative campaign against an opposing candidate.

"The expenditures of the 'independent' committee would be counted as contributions to the offending candidate and, if collusion was proven, the cap on the contributions to the aggrieved candidate would be lifted by that amount," according to the legislative explanation of the proposal.

Unlike the Assembly proposal, the Senate bill would require permanent political action committees to file campaign spending reports by the same deadlines faced by campaign political action committees and candidates.

The deadlines are 29 days before the election, 11 days before the election, 20 days after the election and 60 days after the election.

Another section provides county political party committees only may contribute to county candidates and legislators whose districts represent at least 25 per cent of a county's population.

While the Senate bill would be more strict than the Assembly version in some ways, it would be more lenient in others.

The Assembly proposal would limit individual contributions to candidates or campaign committees to $1,500 per election. It also would restrict political action committees from donating more than $5,000 to a campaign fund.

The Senate version, on the other hand, would allow a $1,500 donation each year from an individual. This means a Senator could collect up to $6,000 from the same person during the normal four-year term in office.

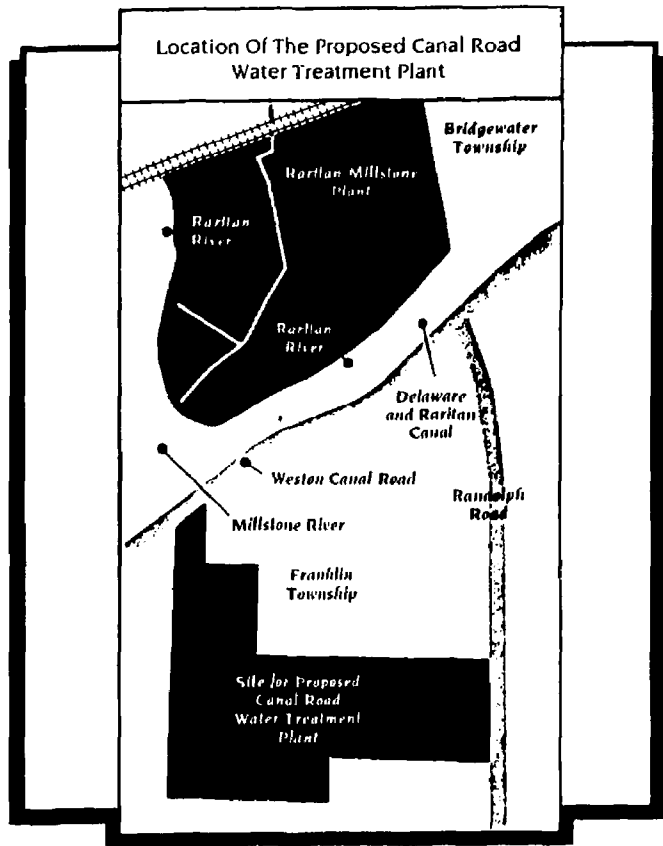

Political action committees legally could donate up to $20,000 during the same period.

George Warrington On Alliance Board

George Warrington of Westfield has been elected to the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Alliance for Action.

The alliance is a state-wide coalition of some 500 business, labor, professional, academic and governmental organizations headquartered in Edison. It is committed to economic progress and creation of jobs and is responsible for the protection of the environment.

Mr. Warrington is the Executive Director of the Delaware River Port Authority of Pennsylvania and New Jersey in Camden.

New Rates Requested For Water Firm Plant

A spokesman for the Elizabethtown Water Company of Westfield Friday announced plans to construct a new water treatment plant and the firm petitioned the New Jersey Board of Regulatory Commissioners to approve a rate-setting mechanism for the plant.

The rate-setting mechanism, known as a Construction Work In Progress clause, would allow Elizabethtown to include capital expenditures for the plant in its rate base during the three-year construction period.

"The new plant, named the Canal Road Water Treatment Plant, is needed to make up for reductions in water treatment capacity that are the result of stricter water-quality regulations," Thomas J. Cawley, the President of Elizabethtown, said.

"In light of increasing demand and forthcoming water-quality regulations the plant will be necessary by the mid-1990s. Just as our Raritan-Millstone plant has served the needs of our customers for more than 60 years, the new plant will serve the needs of the next century," Mr. Cawley added.

The design of the new plant takes into consideration short- and long-range water supply needs. Planned for service in 1996, the plant will have a capacity of 40 million gallons per day to meet the demands of the near future. The design configuration allows for incremental expansion to 200 million gallons per day.

Under traditional rate-setting methods, construction costs and associated financing costs are considered for inclusion in rates after a facility goes into service. The rates that are approved in the subsequent rate proceeding allow the utility to recoup the costs over the useful life of its facilities. For small projects with short construction periods that method provides adequate rate relief.

However, for more expensive projects that take a long time to construct, this traditional approach to setting rates adversely affects the utility's financial capacity at precisely the same time when the company must raise funds to finance the capi-

Bryan Graye On Honor Roll

Bryan Graye of Westfield, an eighth-grade student at the Wardlaw-Hartridge School in Edison, has been named to the Upper School Honor Roll for the second marking period of this school year.

THE WESTFIELD AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE thanks all the individuals, businesses, and organizations listed below who have sent donations (as of Dec. 31) to our 1992 Holiday Lights Fund.

All contributions are used for the purchase and maintenance of the tree-shaped displays; for labor costs incurred in putting up, taking down, and storing them; and for expansion of the area decorated by the installation of additional permanent brackets and electrical fixtures when finances allow.

May all — especially William Moore, Holiday Lights Chairman — enjoy a bright and happy New Year!

Sharing of Resources With County, Other Communities Is Worth Exploring

As all levels of government face more and more restrictions on spending in an effort to reduce taxes to a more reasonable level, the suggestion by newly-elected Freeholder Chairman, Miss Linda Lee Kelly, that municipalities and the county look into pooling their resources comes as welcome news.

The suggestion is not that new — many at the local level have suggested it before.

The additional emphasis at the county level may get the ball rolling more quickly, however.

One suggestion of shared resources between Westfield and county — that the town collect leaves on county roads and receive a discount for its use of the county compost area — was found not to be economically advantageous for Westfield.

There may, however, be many ways not yet explored where the town could join with the county to more efficiently provide services to residents, and where Westfield can join with other communities to more economically meet these needs.

Perhaps county maintenance of some town roads adjoining county roads could be arranged if this proves financially feasible.

Another area which possibly could be investigated is the county police patrols of Echo Lake Park. Could this be done more efficiently by police from Westfield and Mountainside without additional town expense?

Joint purchasing of certain materials and equipment with the county and other communities might be something worth looking into.

One idea already under serious consideration is an insurance pool wherein suburban municipalities in Union County and its borders would share risks and be rewarded with savings in premium costs.

We hope Miss Kelly's suggestion is something which is followed up on both by the county and by local officials — that it will not just be something which is put forth on New Year's and later, like other resolutions, soon forgotten.

Letters to the Editor

Two Councilmen Seen as Promoting 'Senseless Bickering' by Former Mayor

The newspaper accounts of this year's first Westfield Town Council meeting describe an action by two councilmen which I believe could destroy good government in Westfield.

Councilmen Anthony M. LaPorta and Kenneth L. MacRitchie brought shame upon themselves by dishonorably "hinting impropriety" on the part of a town employee and the Republican Party. I thought McCarthyism was dead.

The "contributions" referred to by them only were tickets to the Annual Republican Dinner Dance honoring retiring public officials. If Councilman LaPorta and MacRitchie think it is wrong for a town employee to attend annual party functions that honor retiring public officials, they should say so without innuendo or the casting of aspersions. Their approach to debate not only will wrongfully hurt individuals, but it also will dismantle volunteerism in Westfield. Who would care to serve Westfield for a dollar a year with this type of "heat in the kitchen?"

The senseless bickering displayed at the first Town Council meeting should cease. The citizens of Westfield deserve good, honest debate and action on the many important issues that need to be addressed in 1993.

Donn Snyder
Former Mayor
Westfield

'Unfounded Allegations' by Town Councilmen Are Very Partisan and Unimportant

After reading Councilmen Kenneth L. MacRitchie's and Anthony M. LaPorta's comments regarding our Town Administrator, John F. Malloy, Jr. and his so-called "contributions to the Republican Party," I contacted various officers in the Westfield Republican Party.

I learned Mr. Malloy's "contributions" actually were payments for tickets to the Annual Westfield Republican Dinner Dance, which honors town officials after they leave office. In fact, the "contribution" part of each $50 ticket in 1992 was approximately $15 since the actual cost of the tickets was about $35.

In 1992 Mr. Malloy purchased six tickets for himself and his friends. In 1991, when Mr. Malloy purchased his tickets, the "contribution" helped finance Councilman MacRitchie's campaign, a fact he now conveniently overlooks. Instead, he again chose to make innocent matters appear devious in order to cast aspersions on Westfield town government and it appears he now has an ally in his former neighbor, Councilman LaPorta.

Mr. Malloy is one of the most competent administrators in the state. He has served our town for over 22 years, has received an Outstanding Administrator Award from the state and was one of the reasons Westfield was rated No. 1 in the state for excellence in financial management. It would be a tragedy to lose the services of Mr. Malloy because of the unfounded allegations of these two Councilmen.

Mr. LaPorta's intentions are obviously partisan. It appears Mr. MacRitchie is motivated by his never-ending fight with the Westfield Republican Party. Won't he ever stop?

I urge both Mr. MacRitchie and Mr. LaPorta to focus their energies and efforts on the more important matters facing our town and refrain from attacking town employees, fellow Council members and volunteers who work tirelessly for the betterment of Westfield.

Girl Scouts Thank Community For Mitten Tree Donations

Recently, the Girl Scouts of Westfield conducted a community-wide service project entitled Festival of the Mitten Trees.

Westfield Girl Scouts as well as the people of Westfield at large were urged to donate new mittens or gloves to be distributed to New Jersey's needy children.

As a result, over 500 new children's gloves and mittens as well as hats and scarves were collected and distributed to the needy children via St. Joseph's Service Center in Elizabeth and St. Clare's Home, which assists Human Immune Deficiency Virus-afflicted families, also in Elizabeth.

The response to our appeal was indeed heart-warming. One could not help but be moved not only by the numbers who responded, but also by the articles donated.

Many lovely hand-knit mittens were donated; carefully wrapped in clear paper were at least a dozen mittens, each with an attached paper mitten explaining how the particular scout earned the money to purchase her donation, and very touching was the brown paper bag on which was written in calligraphy a request the enclosed special gloves were to go to a child at St. Clare's.

We sincerely thank each and every Girl Scout in Westfield as well as each and every leader who so graciously took on yet another project not only to help those less fortunate but also to present the value of "selfless giving" to those girls in her charge.

We thank too, those leaders in each elementary school and in Edison Intermediate School who so generously

Family Society Thanks Students For Donations

The true spirit of the holiday season, to give rather than to receive, is a lesson well-learned by the students in the first through fifth grades at the Jefferson School in Westfield.

Just ask any of the five families active with United Family and Children's Society of Plainfield who experienced the joy of Christmas, thanks to their generosity.

Gifts of toys, clothing, gift certificates, books, school supplies and love were collected by the children and families participating in the Jefferson School's "Adopt a Family" holiday project. Their caring helped make this past holiday very special and one which long will be remembered.

On behalf of those families and all of us at United Family, thank you and accept our very best wishes for the New Year.

Mini-Buses May Provide Answer To Problem of Town Parking

Westfield always has had a parking problem. The addition of a high-rise parking garage is not the solution.

A multi-million-dollar, high-rise parking building in the already congested downtown area would cause more traffic problems than already exist.

This garage would be an eyesore in the Colonial town of Westfield, changing its characteristic charm which attracts many shoppers. The ability of the garage to support itself is unlikely, and it would prove to be a tax burden on the residents of Westfield.

We believe a better plan would be a mini-bus system to service and benefit Westfield and the neighboring towns of Clark, Cranford and Scotch Plains.

The bus system would be used for shopping as well as commuter travel, dining, movie-going, banking and other business matters. Besides relieving traffic congestion, this service would prove to be of benefit to seniors and students.

It would take approximately 40 minutes to travel a route through the mentioned towns, starting at the Lord & Taylor parking lot traveling to the Bradley's parking lot in Clark, continuing to the Blue Star Mall, with a stop in Scotch Plains, stopping on Central Avenue, Westfield, and finally, returning to Lord & Taylor.

One would be able to board and reboard the bus at any stop for one fare leaving their car at any shopping area.

The towns may be interested in sharing the cost of this endeavor by putting out bonds. The revenue generated by the riders could be used to pay for the buses and the drivers.

This plan has proven to be effective in other parts of the country.

POPCORN™

Hoffa Doesn't Strike Many Happy Chords

By Michael Goldberger

One Popcorn, Poor • Two Popcorns, Fair • Three Popcorns, Good • Four Popcorns, Excellent

It appears, while viewing Hoffa, Director and co-star Danny DeVito is hell-bent on creating some undefined form or measure of greatness and magnificence, even if it means losing sight of everything on the way. As it turns out, DeVito does not emerge as New Jersey's answer to David Lean.

Hoffa is inaccurate, misconceived and self-indulgent. It has a big-film look, but no great thesis to support the expensive fixtures. Screenwriter David Mamet's script is comprised of that typical power-struggle lip, profuse with dog-eat-dog, step-over-body sentiment and possessing no truly novel repartee.

In constructing what amounts to his fool's gold magnus opus, Mr. DeVito takes more historical license than the traffic will bear. Failing to capture what would pass as the labor leader's soul, the Director draws dabs of persona traits from the broad spectrum of motion picture tough guys and synthesizes their attributes — while Jack Nicholson lends a finely-convincing physicality to the title character, he is not completely inspired...at least not enough to completely rise above the material.

A minor saving grace, for what it's worth, is the relationship portrayed between Hoffa and DeVito's Bobby Charro, the ultra-loyal sidekick of several decades.

Realizing a familiar, neo-Godfather sense of mood, replete with ever-present threat and counter-threat, the film ostensibly is a two-man show: DeVito and Nicholson in character, hanging-out and rapping over the years. But we don't learn very much about James R. Hoffa; certainly he was pugnacious, clever and all that — but what of it?

DeVito builds huge scenes, proving the Spartacus of 20th century labor strife films as scabs, union guys and police battle it out in perennially-wet, drab factory courtyards — huge groups of organized labor attempting to fight their way into the middle class.

Actually, the several reflective, philosophical scenes, despite the accompanying bluster, make for the movie's most entertaining moments. Yet they play like drama-class scene studies — isolated, barely stitched together — proving all the more that both Nicholson and DeVito must possess a lot of motion picture charisma to keep Hoffa from sinking to irretrievable depths.

Where the film totally excels without qualification is in the areas of costume, art direction and set design.

No automotive enthusiast worth his driving gloves will want to miss this great collection of trucks and cars, gathered to delineate the period if not the exact year.

Director DeVito is curiously cryptic about time; his filigree-filled idea of historical significance is primarily of the bells and whistles variety, a world unto itself...like the fantasy world of a casino with no clock to put things in perspective.

Ironically, Hoffa, about one of the 20th century's strongest labor leaders, fails to organize its thoughts.

THE 6TH DECADE

Heartburn Can Be Doused With Some Common Sense

By Herb Ross

So we're ready for the holidays. Along come those extra pies and cakes and other goodies and right along comes heartburn!

Heartburn is a term that's sometimes misleading. It has nothing to do with your heart. Heartburn results from a backup of acid-containing stomach contents into your esophagus.

Almost 10 per cent of our healthy population suffers from heartburn at least once a week.

Here are some tips that can prevent heartburn:

- East smaller meals — Too much food expands your stomach and puts pressure on a band of muscle, the esophageal sphincter, that helps keep food in your stomach.

- Avoid alcohol, fatty foods, chocolate, spearmint and peppermint — These foods can relax your esophageal sphincter and promote upward flow of stomach contents.

- Use an antacid — People most often take over-the-counter antacids to relieve symptoms of heartburn. But an antacid also can help prevent symptoms. Take it after meals and before bedtime.

- Don't eat before sleeping — Wait two to three hours after eating before lying down. This allows enough time for increased stomach acid produced by your meal to taper off.

- Wear loose clothes — A tight belt, girdle or waistband can cause heartburn.

- Stop smoking — The nicotine from cigarettes can relax your esophageal sphincter.

- Elevate the head of your bed — Raise the head of your bed four to six inches. This helps keep stomach acid in your stomach where it belongs.

Now that you know about heartburn let's discuss nutrition quackery. You receive a newspaper advertisement that seemingly is clipped from a daily — with a note that says "This really works!"

It is an advertisement that promotes sexual rejuvenation! It looks interesting, but wait, the note was signed by Bill. I thought of all the Bills I know and was positive no Bill would send me a note about my sexual proclivity.

More than 35 million Americans have gone outside traditional health organizations for medical treatment or advice, according to a 1988 survey by the Food and Drug Administration. Outside the boundaries of traditional medicine hover potential nutrition quacks.

Quacks typically are people who lack training and credentials, yet profess to be experts. Nutrition quacks feed on the belief that some "perfect" food or product is a quick and easy path to good health.

Be it more pep, better sex or a longer life, there's some nutrient or food that a quick claim provides these benefits.

And you don't have to be particularly gullible to believe some of these appealing claims. Many misleading nutrition claims contain a shred of scientific truth.

Now with television and cable the cold medicine men have gussied up and are ready to take your bucks.

Especially worrisome is quackery that persuades you to take herbal supplements or excessively large doses of certain vitamins as cures for arthritis, cancer or other serious, even life-threatening diseases.

False nutritional schemes take money that would be better spent on proven medical treatments, or they may cause you to delay early treatment that could save your life. And sometimes supplements can actually harm your health.

To protect yourself from nutrition quackery, be suspicious of all sales pitches that seem too good to be true, they probably are phoney.

Our Survey Concludes Surveys Are Useless

By LOUIS H. CLARK
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

Here I've been thinking all "in the know" men and women drink nothing but wine.

Magazine articles, whole sections of newspapers, are devoted to the oenophiles among us — a fancy name for educated wine.

Now comes a recent New York Times full page filled with statistics about Americans — mostly women. Lo and behold they found 64 per cent of the ladies drink alcohol, and beer is preferred by 47 per cent of them. Seventy one per cent of those under 30 prefer it. Sam Adams up and at them!

Some of the statistics made me sad, though. I happen to like liver. I always have ordered it out smothered with onions and mushroom sauce.

It hurts that the largest number of respondents said they "hated" liver, and I can believe it; that's why I said I always eat it out.

My wife finds cooking liver is physically repulsive to her. Another disappointment: Among the things women hated most, after liver, was fish, and another food I can ingest with just as much enthusiasm as a kid lapping at an ice cream cone.

A lot of the respondents didn't like broccoli either — a choice I go right along with. Now they didn't say this because they're against President Bush — this particular part of the survey was taken in 1990.

I have never liked broccoli since the time I was a child and decided Hollandaise sauce not only made my teeth stick together but actually pulled one of them out.

There was one wonderful piece of news though. A full 57 per cent of all women felt their weight was just right.

Naturally, this was a statistic I immediately showed my wife. Of course she

Homosexual Not So Gay

For Some People

Homosexual or gay — a person who is sexually attracted to his or her own sex.

Our focus word, as well as the subject of homosexuality, is no longer considered taboo by most people.

We, therefore, feel it is appropriate to explore its word origins if not its erotogenics, the areas of the body that are particularly sensitive to sexual stimulation.

Although bisexuality was widely practiced in ancient Greece, and perhaps homosexuality as well, the Greeks did not have a word for it.

So while people of the same sex have been joining together over the millennia, the "H" word was not adjoined until 1869 when Hungarian physicist, Karoly Maria Benkert, combined two Greek elements, homo- meaning same, and -sexus, meaning sex or gender, to coin homosexual.

Of the many homosexual synonyms, the most enduring and generally acceptable is the gay word. A Webster dictionary published in 1968 defines gay as joyish, merry and not until the fifth entry does it define gay as a homosexual.

In the intervening years, however, the homosexual definition of the word has pushed the "joy" out of the "G" word.

Gay was used in England as early as 1889 to describe homosexuals and female prostitutes.

The use of gay cat, a United States prison slang for a homosexual male, first appeared in print in 1935.

The homosexual sense of gay has actually replaced the merry meaning of the word perhaps because of the confusion and embarrassment created when gay is innocently used to convey its earlier joyful senses.

Hospital Plans Cardiac Course For Instructors

Railway Hospital will offer a two-day Basic Cardiac Life Support Instructor course on Saturday, January 30, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Thursday, February 4, from 6 to 10 p.m. in the hospital's Education Center.

Participants must have current American Heart Association Basic Life Support Level "C" certification to participate and must attend both sessions in order to successfully complete the course.

The hospital is an accredited Basic Life Support Training Center of the American Heart Association, New Jersey Affiliate.

As such, it is authorized to charge tuition fees for basic life support training courses. These tuitions do not represent income to the association or any of its components. Fees are charged by the hospital to cover costs incurred in offering the program.

Registration is required. The fee for the course is $60. For further information and to register, please telephone the Education Department at 499-6193 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The soul of conversation is sympathy.

didn't believe it. "They just said that to the pollster the way you always say you never watch those Western bang-bang movies on television because you don't want people to think you're still got juvenile tastes."

I have to admit I have never seen a woman who wasn't on some kind of a diet. During the years I have known my wife she has lost at least 400 pounds. By rights she ought to be invisible by now.

One question which was not asked was, "Do you like to shop?" At least 60 percent of the men would have answered "No!"

If you asked me what was the most tedious item to shop for I would opt for wallpaper. I have seen women sit for hours going through sample books looking for exactly the right paper.

Not that I am ever there. I just leave my wife at the store and call back for her three hours later.

The same women are handling book after book to each other, and I still have to wait a long half hour while my wife is going through the last books.

Then we take one or two of them home and two weeks later she decides there is nothing in those books that creates the mood she is seeking and the whole process begins all over again.

I guess they didn't dare ask whether anyone likes super market shopping.

La Leche League To Meet Wednesday

Westfield A.M. La Leche League will meet on Wednesday, January 20, at the First Baptist Church at 170 Elm Street, Westfield, at 9:30 a.m. to discuss "Nutrition and Weaning." Please telephone 757-9828 or 709-4171.

Town Earns $10,867.39 From Recycled Material

The Union County Utilities Authority is rebating more than $72,000, including $10,867.39 to Westfield, from the sale of the third-quarter recyclables to the 13 municipalities, which participated in the authority's regional curbside recycling program last year.

Fifty per cent of the revenue from the sale of the recyclable materials is returned to the participating towns on a quarterly basis under the terms of the contract between the authority and the 13 municipalities.

"We are pleased, once again, we are able to return revenue to each municipality," authority Chairman Angelo J. Bonanno said.

"With the authority program, which currently is operated by Advanced Recycling Technologies Systems, Inc., each municipality benefits financially from the increased recycling that occurs in their town," Mr. Bonanno said. "This rebate helps offset the already-low household collection fee that each town pays for curbside service."

"The key to a successful residential curbside collection program is participation and marketing ability," the Chairman added. "With more than 82,000 households participating in the program and a staff that has nearly 20 years of experience in marketing recyclable materials, it is no wonder the authority's program is so prosperous."

The authority's recycling program collected more than 4,400 tons of recyclable materials at curbside during the third quarter of 1992.

The material garnered $72,449.24 in revenues. The revenue is rebated to each town based on each town's recycling tonnage.

The statistics for each town are as follows:

| MUNICIPALITY    | TONNAGE | REBATE—3RD QTR. |
|-----------------|---------|-----------------|
| Berkley Heights | 296.74  | $4,781.66      |
| Cranford        | 572.52  | $9,418.40      |
| Garwood         | 106.38  | $1,688.98      |
| Mountainside    | 159.21  | $2,504.17      |
| New Providence  | 205.14  | $3,222.46      |
| Plainfield      | 474.43  | $7,565.62      |
| Ramapo          | 514.28  | $8,221.48      |
| Roseland Park   | 281.70  | $4,508.95      |
| Scotch Plains   | 478.99  | $7,685.42      |
| Springfield     | 311.96  | $5,071.46      |
| Summit          | 387.24  | $6,196.20      |
| WESTFIELD       | 687.78  | $10,867.39     |
| Winfield        | 32.88   | $524.88        |

Mrs. Picou Project Manager For Main Street Program

Mrs. Picou was a member of the Westfield Citizens Planning Committee for the Lord and Taylor benefit Opening Gala in 1990. She is a former president of the Friends of Westfield Memorial Library and the College Woman's Club of Westfield.

Mrs. Michele M. Picou

She has also served on the Boards of Directors of the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield and the Visiting Nurse and Health Services of Union County and on the budget review committees of the United Fund of Westfield and the United Way of Eastern Union County.

Born in New Orleans, Mrs. Picou received baccalaureate degrees from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge and Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond. Mrs. Picou and her husband, Glenn, are the parents of Dominique, a junior at Westfield High School, and Alicia, a seventh grader at Roosevelt Intermediate School.

The 24-member Westfield Downtown Committee, created by former Mayor Richard H. Bagger last January, recommended to Town Council that Westfield apply for participation in the Main Street New Jersey program.

Main Street is a nationwide project for revitalizing historic downtowns and commercial neighborhoods which was begun in 1976 by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Administered through state-run programs, Main Street focuses on downtown revitalization through design, organization, promotion and economic restructuring and provides technical assistance, training and consultation to the communities chosen.

No federal or state funding is provided, and Main Street requires that participating communities raise the money for their undertaking from a public and private partnership which demonstrates local support for the program. The towns chosen must also meet historic architectural and population size criteria.

The six New Jersey towns chosen for Main Street since New Jersey's participation began in 1989 are Bridgeton, Englewood, Little Falls, North Plainfield, South Orange and West Orange. They will be joined by up to four more communities to be chosen for the program in March.

Mrs. Michele M. Picou has been chosen by the Westfield Downtown Committee for the position of project manager for the group's proposed Main Street program.

Mrs. Picou, a Westfield resident for 16 years, will provide public relations and marketing support and administrative assistance to the Downtown Committee's Board of Directors, as they seek to meet application requirements for the Main Street New Jersey program administered by the Office of New Jersey Heritage.

"I'm looking forward to working with the Westfield Downtown Committee on this coordinated, town-wide effort to revitalize and improve Westfield's downtown," said Mrs. Picou. "This idea has been long discussed, and I think all elements of the community agree that it is much needed, if we are to keep pace with the development activities in our neighboring towns."

"We are pleased to have Mrs. Picou on board," commented Robert Newell, Chairman of the group. "Her writing and public relations experience combined with her knowledge of Westfield are a definite plus in the committee's pursuit of a Main Street program."

Mrs. Picou most recently worked as a finance coordinator for Robert D. Franks' successful Congressional campaign for the seat being vacated by former Representative Matthew J. Rinaldo.

She was employed part-time by the Westfield Public Schools' Office of School/Community Relations for two years, writing news releases and newsletters, and she worked on fundraising in Charles L. Hardwick's gubernatorial primary campaign in 1989.

Mrs. Picou currently serves on the Boards of Trustees of the Westfield Foundation, the Westfield Memorial Library and the Education Fund of Westfield. She is a member of the Steering Committee for the Westfield Bicentennial in 1994.

"Westfield meets the population and historic architecture criteria required for Main Street," said Mr. Newell, "and the committee hopes to have pledges from the various sectors of the Westfield community for the required three-year commitment by March 3, when we submit our Main Street application."

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION... Marriott Hotels has contributed a splendid item for the auction of the Westfield Symphony's gala benefit. Celeste Holmes will be the Honorary Chairman, greeting guests at the event, Saturday, January 30, at the Hilton at Short Hills. Marriott has contributed a week's stay for two at either of their two newest time-share villas at Hilton Head, the Heritage Club or the Harbor Club. The package also includes round-trip airfare and a daily round of golf. Those attending the gala will enjoy dinner, dancing, the auction, a 50/50 raffle and the entertainment of Clint Holmes. For further information about the gala benefit, please telephone 232-9400. Following a recent concert, symphony President, Mrs. Nancy Priest, joins the Music Director, Brad Keimach, center, and Michael Pelli of Marriott Hotels to announce Marriott's contribution.

Legg Mason Plans Retirement Seminar

Many investors today have Individual Retirement Accounts that are sitting in certificates of deposit yielding 3 per cent.

Most of these investors are unhappy with the dismal rates of return their accounts are getting. They are unaware one can enjoy higher returns, reports a spokesman for Legg Mason Wood Walker of Westfield.

With the help of a trained professional, an account can be transferred to a brokerage firm. At a brokerage firm the account money can be placed in mutual funds, stocks, bonds and many other investments where potential returns could be significantly higher. The investment would still have all the tax advantages the Individual Retirement Accounts come with, the spokesman added.

For those who wish to learn more about the accounts or how to improve their returns on existing accounts Legg Mason will be holding an educational seminar, which will be free and open to the public, today at 7:30 p.m. at the Legg Mason office at 203 Elm Street. Seating will be limited and reservations are recommended.

For more information or to reserve a seat, please call 232-2686.

In addition there will be a discussion of how to avoid the new government 20 per cent rollover tax.

The Westfield Leader
— Serving the Town Since 1890 —
P. O. Box 250, 50 Elm Street - Westfield, N. J. 07091

Dear Westfielder:

The Westfield Leader has the highest readership of any paid weekly newspaper in Union County — with nearly two-thirds of our town's households numbered as paid subscribers.

Every week it enables its subscribers to receive the most complete coverage of any area newspaper of every event in Westfield from town government and politics to high school sports to weddings, engagements, complete obituaries, other social news and the many events sponsored by our town's numerous civic organizations.

It also offers viewpoints on a variety of topics — current films, senior citizen issues, humor, psychology and current events by experts in each field who are your neighbors.

Many of our readers give gift subscriptions to those in and out of town and also send The Leader to those in college. Perhaps, this is the time you might consider some of these possibilities.

The Leader, your hometown newspaper since 1890, is the official newspaper for Westfield and also an official newspaper for Union County.

With all good regards,

Miss Heidi Susan Schachter and Anthony E. Bush

Miss Heidi Schachter To Wed Anthony E. Bush

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Radley of Westfield announced the engagement of their son, Anthony E. Bush, to Miss Heidi Susan Schachter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schachter of Philadelphia.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Syracuse University in Syracuse, New York, where she earned a Bachelor of Science Degree and was a member of Zeta Phi Eta. She is employed as a senior account executive for the Weightman Group in Philadelphia.

The future bridegroom is a graduate of Westfield High School. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Syracuse and a Juris Doctorate from its School of Law.

Mr. Bush is an associate with Tomkins, McGuire and Wachenfeld in Newark.

A wedding is planned for this fall.

Miss Melissa Devalon Marries Mr. Bocovich

Mr. and Mrs. Earle W. Devalon of Sun City West, Arizona, formerly of Westfield, announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Melissa Devalon, to Martin Bocovich on Saturday, August 15, in Golden, Colorado.

The wedding Mass was performed at the chapel of the Mother Cabrini Shrine.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white raw silk sewn by her sister, Mrs. Colleen Rech, and carried a cascade of red and white roses.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Margaret Haas of Monument, Colorado. The bride's niece, Rebecca Haas, was the flower girl; her nephew, Gregory Haas, served as the ring bearer, and her nephew, Evan Fairchild, was the altar boy.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Westfield High School. She subsequently graduated from Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota, the Mayo Medical School and St. Joseph Hospital Family Practice Residency Program in Denver. She now is a family physician.

The groom is a graduate of Colorado State University and is currently studying for a Master of Science Degree in Industrial Hygiene at the University of Oklahoma.

After the wedding, the couple plans to live in Oklahoma City for one year before returning to Colorado.

Genealogists to Hear Founder of Currie Society

Robert Currie, the founder and President of the Clan Currie Society, will address the Genealogical Society of Westfield on his research into the origin, history and present status of the Clan Currie on Saturday, January 16, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Westfield Memorial Library at 550 East Broad Street.

Mr. Currie is a Commander of the Clan, a position to which he was appointed by Sir William McMurdo Currie of Glasgow, the Chief of the Clan. He is a direct descendant of Peter Currie, an 18th Century Scottish sailor in the British Navy, and from him through Canadian and finally American ancestors.

A native of Scotch Plains, Mr. Currie is a cum laude graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison.

Associated with Hoechst Celanese Corporation, he has received his company's Cogwell Award for Outstanding Achievement and the Distinguished Achievement Award from the American Society for Industrial Security.

He is a member of St. Andrew's Society of New York and is listed in Who's Who in the East. Mr. Currie resides with his wife, Mrs. Suzanne Currie, and daughters, Hilary and Claire Currie, in Summit.

The program will begin with mid-morning refreshments and a short business meeting followed by Mr. Currie's presentation. The public may attend.

For further information, please telephone 276-5175.

Fortnightly Group Plans Deserted Village Talk

Guest speaker, Mrs. Linda McTeague of the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, will explore the possible restoration of the Deserted Village in the Watchung Reservation in her talk to the membership of the Fortnightly Group, the evening membership department of The Woman's Club of Westfield, on Wednesday, January 20, at 8 o'clock.

Uninhabited since 1875, the Deserted Village provides an insight into a period of local history whose background is known to few.

The Deserted Village, is also known as Feltsville and Glenside Park.

In 1845, David Felt of New York City, bought 760 acres of land in a section of the Watchung Reservation and created Feltsville, a thriving factory and farming village.

Upon his retirement in 1860, the property was sold.

Despite many attempts by others to establish a successful industry in this area, all efforts failed and the area showed signs of being a deserted village by 1875.

At the conclusion of this presentation, refreshments will be served by Miss Rowene Miller and Mrs. Mary Etheridge, hostesses for the evening.

Mrs. Maggio to Address Business Women's Unit

"Leading Men in a Man's World" will be presented by Mrs. Linda Maggio at the Tuesday, January 19, meeting of the Business and Professional Women of Westfield. The meeting will begin with networking at 6:30 p.m. and will be held at B.G. Fields Restaurant at 560 Springfield Avenue, Westfield.

Networking, dinner and a business meeting will precede the 8 o'clock presentation. The public may attend and admission is $19. Reservations are necessary and can be made by telephoning 756-6987.

The Business and Professional Women is a professional organization of women helping women through education and legislative action. For membership information, please telephone 654-5584.

Mrs. Maggio is the first woman to serve as the President of the Rotary Club of Westfield. She has also been the Executive Director of the United Fund since 1975.

Currently, she chairs the Westfield Bicentennial Committee for 1994. She also is a Past President of the Westfield Historical Society.

Earle Devalons Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earle W. Devalon, Jr. of Sun City West, Arizona, formerly of Westfield, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a dinner and dance hosted by their five children at the Lowry Officers Club in Denver.

The couple lived in Westfield from 1958 until 1988.

Mr. Devalon had worked for Proctor and Gamble Co. as a mechanical engineer until his retirement in 1979 and also had coached the Westfield Girls Softball League for many years.

Mrs. Devalon had been a Latin teacher at Edison Junior High School for 12 years. She also had been a member of St. Helen's Roman Catholic Church and the College Women's Club.

Beauty in things exists in the mind that contemplates them.

David Arnold Sigler and Miss Kelli Diane Clarke

Miss Clarke Fiancée of David Arnold Sigler

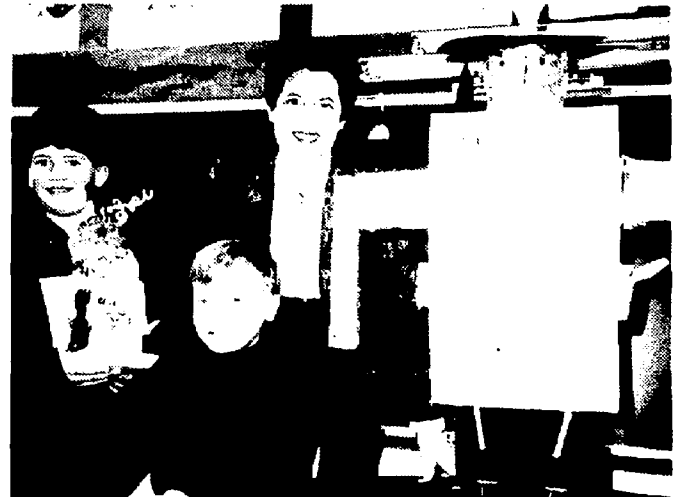

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clarke of Westfield announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kelli Diane Clarke of Oklahoma City, to David Arnold Sigler of Oklahoma City, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sigler of Urbandale, Iowa.

The bride-to-be graduated from Westfield High School and received a Degree in Management from the University of Oklahoma. She is employed by Andersen Consulting as an information systems consultant.

Her fiancé graduated from Urbandale High School and received a Degree in Accounting from Central State University in Edmond, Oklahoma. He is employed by Arthur Andersen & Co. as a tax accountant.

The couple plans to wed on Saturday, May 8, at the Roman Catholic Cathedral of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Oklahoma City.

ROBOTICS LESSON...Shown learning about robots with their science teacher, Mrs. Linda Morris, are Brian Martin, the son of Mrs. Mary Martin of Prospect Street, Westfield and David Santoriello, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Santoriello of Highland Avenue, Westfield.

Pingry Students to View Liberty Science Center

In preparation for their visit to Liberty Science Center at Liberty State Park in Jersey City, third-grade students from The Pingry School in the Short Hills section of Millburn are conducting investigations of simple machines and their uses.

Forty-eight third graders will be the guests of the new science center on Thursday, January 21, where they will have an opportunity to explore three floors of exhibits with hands-on displays relating to health, invention and the environment prior to the public opening of the museum.

The museum is home to a giant

Imax theater, an auditorium in which large-group interactive presentations will be conducted as well as discovery rooms for staff- or teacher-led lessons, and a "mesmerizing" entrance sculpture, according to a Pingry spokeswoman.

Pingry School students have been studying various forms of energy and a trip to the boiler room yielded diagrams of the school's hot water heating system, along with maps indicating the route of the heated water back to each classroom.

Each student will construct a "robot of their dreams" and present information to the class about the work it will do and the types of simple machines utilized in its design.

The invitation to visit the science center came as a result of the involvement of elementary science teacher, Mrs. Linda Morris, with the center's School Advisory Committee during the past two years.

Additional trips are planned for other grades at the Short Hills Campus by the science department for later in the spring.

Players Seek Tenor for Musical

Miss Tanna Mae Shoffeitt

Miss Shoffeitt Engaged To Douglas Savage

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shoffeitt of Royal Palm Beach, Florida announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Tanna Mae Shoffeitt, to Douglas Hamilton Savage, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Savage of Pawlet, Vermont, formerly of Westfield.

The bride-to-be graduated from Florida Keys Community College and attended the University of South Florida. She is employed in Atlanta as a marketing representative for Confederation Life Insurance Co.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Westfield High School, received both his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science Degrees in Management from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

He is a Vice President with the Third National Bank in Nashville.

The couple plans to wed on Saturday, May 22, in Dorset, Vermont.

Washington to Present Musical Next Month

The Washington School Parent-Teacher Association will present an original musical comedy, Boogie Woogie Bean Counter of Company B, written by Louis Carlow on Friday, February 5, and Saturday, February 6, at Roosevelt Intermediate School.

This 45th stage production is Washington School's major fundraiser and the net proceeds from it will make up the total budget for the 1993-1994 school year.

The tradition of staging a show every year started at Grant School in 1949, when a small-scale talent show was produced to encourage attendance at Parent-Teacher Association meetings. The show became so popular in 1950 the Grant School Board voted to make talent night an annual fundraiser. The show moved to Roosevelt School to accommodate the ever-increasing audience. When Grant School closed in 1980, Washington School adopted the tradition.

The volunteer cast includes approximately 150 parents, teacher and the school Principal, Kenneth Wark.

Miss Capano Engaged To Peter N. Farley

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrew Capano of Westfield announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathleen Mary Capano, to Peter Norbert Farley of Alexandria, Virginia, the son of Mrs. Edward Milton Farley and the late Mr. Farley.

Miss Capano is a 1984 graduate of Westfield High School. She is a 1988 graduate of the University of Florida in Gainesville, Florida, and a 1992 graduate of the University of Notre Dame Law School. Miss Capano is an attorney at Hunton & Williams in Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. Farley is a 1985 graduate of the St. Christopher's School in Richmond, Virginia. He is a 1989 graduate of the North Carolina State University in Raleigh, North Carolina, and a 1992 graduate of the University of Notre Dame Law School. Mr. Farley is an attorney at Herge, Sparks & Christopher in McLean, Virginia. Miss Capano and Mr. Farley plan to wed in March.

Museum Will Feature Dried-Flower Arranging

The Miller-Cory House Museum at 614 Mountain Avenue, Westfield, will feature dried flower arranging on Sunday, January 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. The last tour will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Nancy Wallace, a charter member and Past President of the Rake and Hoe Garden Club of Westfield, will create a winter bouquet using a variety of home-grown dried flowers and plants available in New Jersey during the 18th and 19th centuries.

Mrs. Wallace designed and planted the museum's herb garden.

Gardens were an essential part of colonial farms in the "West Fields" of Elizabethtown. Kitchen gardens, which included both herbs and vegetables and utility and dry gardens, were common. Many farms at this time also had wildflower gardens with native woodland flowers, ferns and shrubs.

Tours of the furnished farmhouse, built in 1740, will be given by Mrs. Bette Petersen and other volunteer docents in period dress. A close-up presentation of a Colonial cooking technique will be given by members of the museum's cooking committee

Mrs. Walter Jackson, 91, Taught in Town Schools

Had Been 50-Year Presbyterian Church Member

Mrs. Walter Crowell (Muriel Elvina Lincoln) Jackson, 91, of Deport, Texas, formerly of Westfield and Mountainside, died on Tuesday, January 5, at the Deport Nursing Home.

Mrs. Jackson was born June 30, 1901 in Brooklyn to Robert E. Lincoln and Mrs. Alice Millicent (Moore) Lincoln.

She grew up in Jersey City when it was a town of fields and farms. Active in playing tennis, she won several championship medals in Jersey City competitions.

Mrs. Jackson had attended schools there, graduating from Lincoln High School and Newark Normal School, and began teaching in that area and later in Westfield.

In 1926, she married George Howard Cowie, Jr. of Rahway and then lived in Westfield.

One daughter, Mrs. Jean Caroline (Cowie) Morrissey, was born in 1932.

Upon Mr. Cowie's death in 1938, his wife had returned to teaching in the Westfield schools, first at the elementary level and later as the natural science teacher at Roosevelt Junior High School.

In 1951 she had married Walter Crowell Jackson of Rahway and moved to Mountainside, retiring from teaching.

Mrs. Jackson has been a 50-year member of The Presbyterian Church in Westfield and had been active in Church Circle. She also had been a member of the Westfield and Mountainside Garden Clubs and a past member of the Westfield Audubon Society.

Following Mr. Jackson's death on January 1, 1974, she built a house in Plainfield, Vermont next to her daughter's farm, spending summers there until moving to Vermont in 1982.

In 1985 she had moved to Deport to be near her granddaughter, Mrs. Marilyn (Rose) Crawford, and her first great-grandchildren and the warmer climate.

In 1989 Mrs. Jackson had become a resident of the Deport Nursing Home, where Mrs. Crawford is the Director of Nurses.

In Vermont she had attended the First Presbyterian Church in Barre, and she had attended the Presbyterian Church in Deport.

Besides her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Jackson is survived by two grandsons, Robert Clement Rose of Berlin and Jonathan Miner Rose of Colorado Springs, Colorado; four great-grandchildren, two step-great-grandchildren, and a cousin, Mrs. Harriet (Moore) Bommeman of Stuart, Florida.

A brother, Robert Roscoe Lincoln died in April, 1971.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, January 16, at Gray's Funeral Home at 318 Broad Street, Westfield, at 10:30 a.m.

A private committal will follow at the Lincoln plot in Fairview Cemetery in Westfield.

Mermen Beat Raiders; Prepare for the Pirate

By PETER CATANZARO
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Westfield Boys' Swimming and Diving Team's 106-80 victory over the Scotch Plains Raiders puts the mermen at a mark of 5-0.

Tuesday's meet gave the Blue Devil divers their first shot at dual-meet competition. Although Westfield's program does not place much emphasis on diving, the divers had a decent showing. Westfield top diver Chris DelMonico placed second, with Rusty Schundler taking fifth and Walter Kapuscinski walking away with sixth place.

The Blue Devils, finding a higher level of competition from the Raiders than in most of their other regular-season meets, used Tuesday to prepare for the upcoming Pirate Invitational on Saturday, January 16.

The invitational, originally scheduled for last weekend, was cancelled last Friday. The meet was postponed due to fear an expected winter storm would make traveling dangerous, especially for teams coming from out of state.

The postponement of the meet could jeopardize Westfield's quest for a fourth Pirate victory. The mermen will be without both Dave Schwartz and Frank Coppa, who have decided to attend a meet at Rutgers University on Saturday with their respective United States swimming clubs.

The Blue Devils will greatly miss Schwartz, who was expected to win the 100-yard breaststroke and crush the standing meet record.

Coppa, who swam a best time of two minutes and 1.36 seconds in the 200 yard freestyle against Scotch Plains, was expected to swim the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events on Saturday.

Westfield Scotch Plains were tied 39 all after the diving events, and at that point the Blue Devils seemed to take the meet more seriously. Excellent performances were seen from a number of Westfield swimmers including Ted Pollack, Darren Hertell and Tom Mann.

Pollack, a triple winner against the Raiders, commented, "We swam well today but not as a team. Hopefully we will come together as a team at the Pirate this weekend."

Junior Women Plan Spelling Bee

The Junior Women's Club of Westfield has extended an invitation to all fourth- and fifth-grade Westfield students to participate in its seventh spelling bee contest.

The primary rounds for fourth graders will be held on Tuesday, January 26, and for fifth graders on Wednesday, January 27, at the McKinley School at 500 First Street, Westfield, at 7:30 p.m. The competition on each of those evenings will determine the 10 finalists from each grade who will compete on Thursday, February 4, again at the McKinley School.

The winner of the final competition will receive a $50 United States Savings Bond, and the first runner-up will receive a consolation prize.

Registration forms are being distributed to all fourth- and fifth-grade students attending Westfield Public Schools and Holy Trinity Interparochial School.

Students attending private or parochial schools may obtain registration forms, rules and a practice word list at the Children's Department of the Westfield Public Library.

The deadline for returning registration forms is Friday, January 19.

Boy Harriers Capture Strong Third in Counties

By ADAM BARCAN
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

Falling a mere four points short of a team title, the Westfield Boys' Track and Field Team took a strong third place with 22 in Monday's Union County Relay Championships in Elizabeth's Thomas G. Dunn Athletic Center.

While the host team topped Rahway by a single point, the Devils powered their way to their highest finish in several years.

Led by junior Jim Nicoll, senior Chris Demasi and the senior sprint core, the team placed in six relays while winning three.

Highlighting the evening was the mile relay's three-minute and 44-second victory over heavily-favored Elizabeth. Ken Silverman led off in 56.4 seconds, while Chris Blanding followed in 55. After Rischon Williams ran a 56-second leg, Jamal Hester equalled Silverman's time in crossing the line victoriously.

Also finishing on top, the two-mile relay team of sophomores Ted Kilcommons and John O'Brien and upperclassmen Nicoll and Demasi ran at a pace of nine minutes and seven seconds. Nicoll and Demasi set the pace with respective times of two minutes and 12.2 seconds, and two minutes and 16.9 seconds.

The pair returned to lead the distance-medley team to a second-place 11-minute and 42-second finish. Nicoll opened with a two-minute and 13-second half-mile leg, while sophomore Marcus Cognetti ran the quarter-mile split in 58.6 seconds.

Running the three quarters, freshman Lawrence Ho finished in three minutes and 36 seconds, before Demasi anchored the mile in four minutes and 54 seconds.

Blanding and Williams also returned to pace the third-place shuttle-hurdle relay team to a time of 32.95 seconds. Each ran his leg in eight seconds flat to join with seniors Jeremy Romine and Tom Kenny.

Dominating the competition, the novice distance-medley team of freshmen Adam Borchin and Matt Cognetti and juniors Neal Sharma and Geoff North captured first place in 12 minutes and 32.7 seconds.

"It was a thrilling race," said Borchin, "which really reflected the whole meet. The tea performed even better than I expected."

The Devils hosted Union yesterday in a dual meet intended as a tuneup for Saturday's Group No. 4 Relays in Princeton University's Jadwyn Gym.

By Andrew C. Chen for The Westfield Leader
AROUND AND THROUGH...Westfield's Erin Allebaugh drives the baseline against an East Side player in Tuesday afternoon's game. The Newark squad won 60-58 on a foul shot in the last six seconds by Maria Marin.

Girl Cagers Win Two, Lose Close One on Week

The Westfield High School Girls Basketball Team had a week filled with pluses and a very minor minus.

Positive vibes began on Thursday with a 50-35 Blue Devil victory over Union as Erin Allebaugh topped the town squad with 21 points.

Abby Bomba hit for seven of her 10 point when Westfield opened with a 17-6 effort in Union. Andrea Jeannette tallied 14 points for the 0-6 Union Farmers.

Saturday's Plainfield game saw a similar result, with the Devils on the winning end of a 55-46 score over the Cardinals.

Allebaugh swished for 20 points for the local squad, the Amy Gallagher added 12 as the Blue Devils grabbed a 22-17 halftime edge and led for the rest of the game in Plainfield.

Crystal Colby led the 4-2 Cardinals with 25 points.

Tuesday night the Westfield squad came out on the losing end in a close 60-58 effort on the town courts.

Maria Marin, an East Side freshman forward, hit both ends of a one-on-one foul situation with six seconds on the clock to give the Newark squad (4-2) the win.

East Side, which ended last season at 1-25, was led by Amira Shabazz and Chris Artega with 25 points apiece.

Trailside Workshops Teach Winter Sports

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has announced Trailside Nature and Science Center in Mountainside will offer cross-country ski and winter sports workshops for beginners, to be taught by John Hanst, a certified Nordic ski instructor and 1960 Olympic Games engineer.

Sessions will be offered Saturday mornings, January 16 and 30, and February 6 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. A Thursday evening session will be held on February 11 from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

A winter sports workshop will be offered on Thursday, February 4, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. as well.

The winter sports program will cover downhill skiing, ice skating and cross-country skiing basics such as places to go, safety, equipment and clothing.

Participants must register with a $5 non-refundable, non-transferable deposit for any of the season dates.

The $5 fee will cover the cost of the indoor portion of each lesson. The indoor portion of the cross-country ski workshops will include a lecture and a film and address topics such as equipment, waxing, clothing and places to go to ski.

If there is enough skiable snow, participants will be required to provide their own skis, available for rent from many local ski shops, and pay an additional $15 fee for the outdoor portion of the program. This will include the winter sports workshop as well.

The outdoorski lesson will include demonstrations and instruction of correct falling, snowplow stopping and striding and kick turns. The more advanced telemark turns also will be demonstrated if time allows.

Cross-country skiing, an excellent form of aerobic exercise, also is a way for experienced skiers to tour the scenic Watchung Reservation, a Union County park.

To register for workshops, please telephone Trailside for space availability at 789-3670, then mail or bring in the $5 deposit. Checks should be made payable to "County of Union."

Registration is required and class size is limited for the outdoor portion of the program. There is no limit for the indoor lesson.

St. Helen's Boys Wins 12 of First 14 Games

Undeclared in early regular season Catholic Youth Organization play, the St. Helen's Fifth- and Sixth-Grade Boys Basketball Team of Westfield recently extended their record to 12 wins in their first 14 games.

The boys over the holidays advanced to the championship match in all three Christmas tournaments they entered.

St. Helen's captured the St. Michael's Tournament title in Union by defeating Assumption of Roselle Park in the final. Joe Caruso's 10 points led the team and Mike Carter scored six second-half points to help hold off a late Assumption rally.

Jimmy Korn was named to the All-Tournament Team and Jeff Nahaczewski, who scored 15 points in the opener, was named tourney Most Valuable Player. Tim McAnally and Tyler Maloney provided nearly flawless ball-handling as they keyed the offense, while John Valla and Justin DelMonico played tenacious defense which forced opponents into turnovers, and Randy Majocho provided instant offense for St. Helen's throughout the tournament.

St. Helen's lost to the bigger, deeper host team in the final game of the Sacred Heart Tournament in South Plainfield despite Korn's 15 points and strong inside play. The highlight for the town team, however, was when they overcame a 12-point deficit in the second half of the semifinal match; behind by one point with just six seconds remaining, Bobby Stroud swished both free throws to earn the come-from-behind victory.

Brian Osborn had eight points in the opening round, Jon Williams had nine in the semifinal and Willy Cashman scored six in both games as St. Helen's advanced to the final in the St. Elizabeth's Tournament in Linden. St. Helen's narrowed the margin, but never fully recovered, after Our Lady of Peace from New Providence raced to an early lead in the championship match. Charlie Murphy scored six points in the fourth quarter to lead a spirited comeback and Bobby Stroud scored seven points to lead St. Helen's in the game. Nahaczewski's offense and defense earned him All-Tournament honors.

The team continues regular-season play in January on Sunday afternoons at Westfield High School.

PROTECT YOUR YOUNGSTER'S EYES

Kids play hard and give little or no thought to danger. That's probably why there are more than 170,000 serious eye injuries each year — most of which could be prevented. Here's how:

Sturdy goggles are a must for games, like racquetball, that call for a small hard ball hit at high speed. The game's poor safety record has improved since goggles became required for play. Look for frame and lenses of tough polycarbonate, perhaps with a padded bridge for comfort and headband to keep goggles in place.

Prescription lenses can be ground right into sports goggles — even swim and scuba gear. Another option is to wear a face guard or larger goggles that fit over regular contact lenses or glasses. Remind youngsters that this is what professional athletes wear.

Protect against sun damage, too. Children playing outside are at risk for damage from the sun's ultraviolet rays. Be sure they have quality sunglasses and/or a hat with a protective brim.

Girl Harriers Finish Fifth in County Relays

By STEPHANIE SNITOW
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

With strong performances from each relay team, the Girls' Winter Track Team raced to a fifth-place finish in the Union County Girls' Relays at the Thomas G. Dunn Athletic Center in Elizabeth last Friday.

The nine relay teams competed in varsity and novice running events and the shot put event, gaining a total of 20 points from varsity events.

Freshman Sharon Gambino opened the varsity distance medley with a four-minute and 21.3-second 1,200-meter run, gaining a sizeable lead for the Devils.

Freshman Laura Faulkner and Karen McGuire followed with the 400- and 800-meter legs, earning respective times of 73.6 seconds and two minutes and 49.9 seconds.

Holding a Cranford rival to second place at the end, senior Katie Robinson anchored the race with a five-minute and 58.5-second mile, propelling the team in to a first-place finish.

Robinson returned to lead off the varsity two-mile relay event with a two-minute and 51-second half mile. Sophomore Catherine Engell followed with a two-minute and 54-second leg and passed off to freshman Heather Post who recorded a three-minute and one-second leg. Gambino brought the team to a third-place finish in two minutes and 40 seconds.

The varsity 800-meter relay team added to the team's victories with a fifth-place finish with members, sophomore Ahisa Winkler at 30.7 seconds, freshman Anisa Dujnic at 30.8, senior Heather Pusich at 30.5 and sophomore Tiffany Hester at 30.5.

The foursome came back to compete in the varsity mile relay, and placed sixth among tough competition with a time of four minutes and 47.5 seconds.

Running the varsity sprint medley, freshmen Laura Faulkner, Holly Talbot, Efrat Magdielli, and Karen McGuire recorded a time of five minutes and 30.9 seconds, but did not place.

Varsity shot putters sophomore Rebecca Stavenick and junior Janna Chernetz threw a combined 43 feet and 10 inches.

Westfield excelled in the novice events, placing second in the novice 880-yard relay, the novice two-mile relay and the novice distance medley.

Pleased with the girls' performance, Head Coach John Martin commented, "We did very well considering the number of first-year runners."

The team will compete at the state relays at Princeton on Saturday, January 16.

Wrestlers Win One, Lose Two This Week

By ADAM WEINSTEIN
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

In mentally preparing for the season's most significant dual match, Westfield wrestling senior Tri-Captain Seth Coren said, "I hope when it is my turn to wrestle the score is tied and the outcome rides on my shoulders."

Unfortunately for Seth and the rest of the Westfield Wrestling Team, the score read 53-6 in favor of Hunterdon Central on Friday as the heavy weight stepped out onto the mat.

It was a huge disappointment for the team to lose. Coming off a season in which their only loss came at the hands of Hunterdon Central, the Blue Devils were riding an aura of confidence in their pursuit for revenge.

"We were overmatched," Coach Don MacDonald said. "Everything that could go wrong went wrong."

MacDonald was referring to the five matches lost against the 12th-ranked Hunterdon Central team by no more than four points. Jeff Checchio, Brian Buldo, Luke Richardson, Chris Posey and Lance Kovac lost by a combined 11 points.

Coren was the only wrestler to record a victory, as he delighted the restless Westfield fans by pinning his opponent at one minute and 12 seconds after toying with him for a minute.

It was a tough week for the wrestling squad, after beginning well with a 47-19 blowout against Kearny last Wednesday. Six Westfield wrestlers, Kevin Sullivan, Jeff Checchio, Corey Posey, Kovac, Paul Baly and Coren, recorded pins. Mike Liggera and Buldo each notched major decisions, while Chris Posey followed suit with a 9-3 decision.

Monday night the team attempted to rebound after the frustrating night in Hunterdon Central as they traveled to face Parsippany.

Early on, there were several lead changes as the two teams exchanged victories. Checchio, at 112 pounds, out-classed his foe by scoring a 14-4 decision, and Buldo, at 119, escaped with an 8-6 victory to keep Westfield close early.

After falling behind the team recaptured the lead by employing a strategic maneuver in bumping the Posey brothers up to 140 and 145. The gamble was successful as Chris recorded a pine 26 seconds into the match, and Corey won a 12-3 decision.

However, Westfield lost grasp of their lead by losing the next four weight classes. Coren made the score respectable, 42-23, by pinning his man at one minute and 27 seconds.

"Tonight we wrestled poorly and as a result lost a winnable match. It should have been close," Coach MacDonald said. "The loss left the wrestlers with a 3-2 record."

There was no break for the tired wrestlers, who faced Irvington at home yesterday, followed by the heavily-anticipated clash with arch rival Scotch Plains tomorrow night on their home turf. The squad will be looking to build momentum as they head into a critical stretch against intra-conference teams.

David Shapiro On First Team In Soccer

Westfield native David Shapiro, five-foot, 11-inch, 160-pound junior goalkeeper for Carnegie Mellon University's Men's Soccer Team of Pittsburgh, recently was named to the All-University Athletic Association First Team by league coaches for the second consecutive season.

Shapiro, a graduate of Westfield High School, helped lead Carnegie Mellon to a 12-4-1 overall record and a third-place finish in the league with a 5-2 conference mark under Head Coach Nick Gaudioso. The Tartans' 12 victories tied the school record for most wins in a season set in 1985 and 1990, and marked their 12th consecutive winning season.

Shapiro, a three-year letterman, recorded 30 saves and 10 shutouts, and allowed just seven goals in 1,165 minutes for a 0.54 goals-against average. His 10 shutouts, which tied the school record for most shutouts in a season, gave him a school record 25 career shutouts. In addition, his 0.54 goals-against average tied the school record for lowest goals-against average in a season which he set in 1991.

In his three years at Carnegie Mellon the Tartans have posted a 34-12-5 record. Shapiro has recorded 121 career saves and a 0.65 career goals-against average.

Shapiro is an industrial management major at Carnegie Mellon.

Boy Cagers Lose Three As Comandini Is Hurt

By ERIC RUBIN
Specially Written for The Westfield Leader

The Westfield Boys Basketball Team lowered its record to 1-5 by losing three straight games. They have lost four games in a row to date.

The cagers began their week by traveling to the Thomas G. Dunn Athletic Center in Elizabeth to face the Minutemen last Tuesday. This game gave Westfield not only a loss in the loss column but probably the biggest loss by way of an injury.

Senior Tri-Captain Mike Comandini was diagnosed with sprained ligaments in a joint of his right shoulder during the first quarter of the game. Westfield wound up losing to Elizabeth 70-31. Not much scoring was done by Westfield. In fact, their leading scorer was Mike Comandini, who scored all his eight points in the first quarter.

After the injury, Westfield became confused and bewildered. They succumbed to the Elizabeth "D" and let the game slip away. When Comandini got hurt the score was tied at 10 apiece.

After their loss to Elizabeth, Westfield began a stretch of five games where they were playing opponents who were not state ranked.

Their first game came against Union Thursday afternoon. Both Mike Comandini and Mike Cort missed this game due to an injury and an illness, respectively.

Westfield lost this game 63-43. Without the Blue Devils' main contributor to the offense, Union's tough pressure defense and jumping ability held Westfield's attack to a minimum.

Junior point guard Marc Koslowsky led the cagers with 13 points and seven assists. He stepped up to the challenge of not having the team's offensive star by netting his season-high total. Also contributing was senior forward Rob Moore who put in eight points and swatted four shots in the game.

Westfield was never really in this game and this allowed Union to deal Westfield its third straight loss.

The cagers played Plainfield Saturday night in front of a packed house in Westfield. The fans, however, left disappointed as Plainfield won the contest by 63-58. One bright spot in this game was the return of Mike Comandini, who came back in the middle of the first quarter. In Comandini style, Mike came in and sank his first jumper to relieve the crowd of thoughts of a serious injury.

Plainfield's overpowering size and depth on the bench gave them an incredible advantage over the Blue Devils. Center Cor still remained inactive, while Plainfield crashed the offensive boards and gave Westfield a 1-5 record. Moore, who filled in for Cort, left the game in the third quarter as he fouled out due to Plainfield's awesome size advantage.

Mike Comandini led the team with 25 points. A solid game was turned in by Koslowsky and juniors Ryu Saito, Ron Nobile and Mike Checkett.

Westfield played East Side on Tuesday and will play Scotch Plains today in Scotch Plains.

Soccer Skills, Drills Registering Students For Winter Classes

Soccer Skills and Drills, Inc., a year round soccer tutoring program for all ages, is now enrolling students for its next session of classes which begins the week of February 2. Classes are held in the Westfield-Scotch Plains area.

11 and 18. The cost is $30. Early pregnancy classes, costing $20, will be held on Monday, February 1, 8 and 15.

A breast-feeding class, costing $15, will be held on Thursday, February 25, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the South Main 2 conference room. All other classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the School of Nursing.

Borough Seniors To Take Safety Test

Members of the Mountainside Senior Citizens will test their knowledge about safety by participating in the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's game program, "Ten Seconds for Safety," on Wednesday, January 27. A master of ceremonies accompanied by an assistant will provide the necessary equipment and will divide the group into two teams. These teams will compete with each other for points by answering questions from safety categories such as first aid, home, automobile and vacation safety, and there will be slides depicting safety situations. This is only one of the programs New Jersey Bell offers as a public service. Organizations interested in booking programs can do so by telephoning 1-800-252-7469.

The February schedule will include several skits by the Mental Health players on Wednesday, February 10.

Mrs. Eileen Freeman, a native of Mountainside and a collector of angels who publishes a magazine Angel Watch Network, will be the speaker on Wednesday, February 24.

All meetings are held at the Community Presbyterian Church at Deer Path and Meeting House Lane, Mountainside, at noon, usually on the second and fourth Wednesday of the month from September through June. Coffee and refreshments are served. On occasion, a luncheon is held.

For more specific information, William Wagner, the President, may be telephoned at 754-1110.

Dr. Rader Assists Newark Schools Study

Westfield's Assistant Superintendent for Business and Board Secretary, Dr. Robert Rader, is serving on the External Review Team to review the management/financial operations of the Newark Public Schools.

Dr. Rader was recommended for this assignment by State Education Commissioner and selected by Essex County Superintendent of Schools. The external review team is scheduled to complete its examination of all aspects of the district's operations and to report findings to the Commissioner of Education within 90 days.

Burgdorff Realtors Team Wins County Championship

For the third year in a row, the senior softball team sponsored by Burgdorff Realtors Westfield office has won the regular season and playoff championship of the Union County Senior Softball Association. Their record was 21 wins and three losses.

The Westfield office of Burgdorff Realtors also has won the award for top number of homes listed and sold in the 30-office company of Burgdorff Realtors for the past two years.

The Burgdorff softball team is composed of current and former Westfield and surrounding area residents and some that are employed in Westfield. Each member must be at least 50 years old to participate. The oldest league member is 86 years old.

The Union County League was formed by Ray Mayer of Hillside and is affiliated with the New Jersey Senior Softball Association. The Burgdorff team is managed by George Merlo who has been to the Senior World Series the last two years.

Any person 50 years or older who wishes to join the league should telephone Mayer at 353-4430.

Burgdorff to Sponsor Swim Meet Tomorrow

The Burgdorff Realtors Invitational, which has emerged as one of the nation's premier swimming championships, will bring together top American talent, at the Sonny Werblin Recreation Center at Rutgers University in Piscataway from tomorrow to Sunday, January 17.

The Berkeley Aquatic Club will host the event.

Olympic gold medalist and American and World record holder Anita Nall of Baltimore is making her first trip to New Jersey after her performance at the Olympic Games.

At last year's Burgdorff Invitational, Nall set a new American record in the 100-meter breaststroke.

Local favorite Ron Kamough of Maplewood is scheduled to compete.

Kamough is the United States individual medley champion and a finalist at the 1992 Olympic Games.

Dede Trimble, a Berkeley Aquatic Club swimmer from the Short Hills section of Millburn, will be the favorite in the women's backstroke events. Trimble is a Pan American Games champion and an eight time National Collegiate Athletic Association All-American.

Last year, seven members of the 1992 United States Olympic team competed at the Burgdorff Invitational and went on to win six medals at the Barcelona Games.

This year, 500 athletes from 25 different teams and 10 states are scheduled to compete during the three-day championship, including 250 swimmers from New Jersey.

The Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Association of Westfield will commemorate Dr. King at its Sixth Annual Interfaith Service on Monday, January 18, at the First United Methodist Church at 1 East Broad Street, Westfield. The service will be preceded by a march departing at 12:30 p.m. from Bethel Baptist Church at 539 Trinity Place to First United Methodist Church where the service will begin at 1:30 p.m. Parking will be available at Westfield High School, directly across from the Bethel Baptist, for those participating in the march. The speaker for the service will be the Reverend Kevin Clark, the Pastor of Bethel Baptist Church. Before coming to Westfield, the Reverend Clark pastored the New Vine Baptist Church in Charles City, Virginia for five years and served as the Associate Minister of Mount Olive Baptist Church in Hackensack for six years. In the 15 months that he has been the pastor of Bethel Baptist Church he has experienced tremendous growth. The Pastor holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education and Psychology from Virginia Union University in Richmond and a Master of Divinity Degree from its School of Theology. He also has a certificate in English from the New York Theological Seminary. In addition to pastoring at Bethel Baptist, the Reverend Clark is currently employed at the Westfield High School as the African-American Student Consultant. His other work experience includes his being employed as a mental health worker at the Metropolitan Hospital in Richmond, Virginia, as an outreach worker at the Bergen Regional Counseling Center, as a therapy program assistant at the North Jersey Training School working with physically disabled youths and adults, and as a counselor for both children and parents at the Juveniles in Need of Supervision Shelter. He is a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Alliance for Black Social Workers. The Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Association consists of representatives from several churches and organizations in Westfield. Each year the service has been hosted by a different place of worship. Last year approximately 400 assembled at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The proceeds of the event are used to benefit a worthy cause in Westfield determined by the association.

All That I Am, a one-woman play starring Roberta Nobelman, will be presented on Sunday evening, January 17, at 7 o'clock in Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Westfield. Using masks and mime she tells the stories of St. Augustine's cast-off mistress, Hilde St. Bremer, a medieval priest's wife during the time when celibacy was enforced; Anne Donne, the wife of John Donne, the Anglican priest and poet; the mother of 12 children, and Maria Von Wedemeyer, the fiancée of Dietrich Bonhoeffer at the time of his arrest by the Nazis, all introduced by St. Peter's wife. The masks were created by Julia DeLisle. The professional actress has 20 years of performing, teaching, directing and acting experience. A donation of $5 will be accepted.

Solid Brass Quintet In Saturday Concert Five hundred years of music for brass and organ will be explored when the Solid Brass Quintet and organist, Mrs. Kathleen Upton, join forces on Saturday evening, January 16, at 8 o'clock at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church in Plainfield. Guidelines Set For Hearings On ShopRite

In other business, the board gave its concurrence to a recommendation by the Board of Education that an addition be placed on the Washington School.

Dr. Robert Rader, the Assistant Superintendent for Business of the Westfield Schools, explained to the Planning Board the one-story addition would include three classrooms.

One of the rooms would be subdivided.

Dr. Rader said the additional space was needed because of anticipated growth over the next five years at the elementary school level.

Under questioning from Vice Chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth H. List, Dr. Rader said the capacity in the school right now is 400 students. He said the addition will push that number to 500.

The Board of Education was criticized by one resident with regard to past decisions to shut schools in the township, thus forcing the board's hand in expanding the Washington School.

"In the last few years we've closed schools down. We've torn schools down. Now we are back to putting additions on schools," Richard Lanam of Hort Street, said.

Mr. Schwarz responded, "The heart of the matter is it is the Board of Education that has done this."

The application must be approved by the New Jersey Department of Education.

Prior to the meeting, Mr. Schwarz was sworn in as the new Chairman of the Planning Board replacing Allen R. Malcolm whose term has expired.

Mrs. List was sworn in as the Vice Chairman.

Chamber Offers Business Directory

Of Members

All members of the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce will be included in the 1993-1994 business Directory, now being prepared for publication.

Prospective members, new members and continuing members must have paid at least half of their 1993 dues by Saturday, January 30, to have their business listings appear in this directory.

The 1993-1994 directory will be widely distributed. The chamber office hands out copies to the visitors, newcomers and prospective businesses that request information about the Westfield area.

All new residents who go to the Municipal Building to register to vote or to apply for licenses receive a copy of the directory.

Directories also will be available at the Westfield Memorial Library, The Westfield "Y" and the Westfield Board of Realtors. Each chamber member will receive a copy; those who advertise will receive additional copies.

Business people who would like to take advantage of this opportunity may telephone the chamber office at 233-3021 before the end of January.

County Economic Forum To Be Held January 27

The 1993 Union County Economic Forum, presenting the results of the 3rd annual Union County Business Climate Survey, will be held on Wednesday, January 27, at 6 p.m. at The Westwood in Garwood.

Kenneth Goldmann, a principal with Mortenson and Associates, which developed the survey, will give a report of the results. All those who are in business in Union County may attend the dinner and program. Westfield business people, particularly, should attend the results of the survey, in which they participated for the first time.

George Zoffinger, the former New Jersey Commissioner of Commerce and Economic Development, will be the keynote speaker.

Mr. Zoffinger, who is the President and Chief Executive Officer of Constellation Bancorp and its principal subsidiary, the National State Bank, will review and comment on the various issues raised by the survey.

These include: 1993 business condition expectations, potential profits, revenues and employment levels, plus related topics concerning the environment, education and the workforce, interest rates and recycling.

The Union County Economic Forum is co-sponsored by the Cranford, Suburban, Union County, Union Township and Westfield Area Chambers of Commerce, which participated as co-sponsors of the survey.

Reservations for the dinner, at $30 per person, may be made by telephoning the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce at 233-3021.

Westfield Before 1794 Lecture Topic Wednesday

Dr. Homer J. Hall, a local historian, will give a lecture on Wednesday, January 20, on early changes in the Westfield-Elizabeth boundary from 1684 to 1794.

This program will be held at 8 p.m.

Dr. Homer J. Hall

at the First Baptist Church at 170 Elm Street by the West Fields Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, together with members and friends of the Westfield Historical Society. The public may attend.

Dr. Hall is a trustee of the Historical Societies of both Westfield and Cranford. He also is a former Chairman and charter member of the Union County Cultural and Heritage Commission.

Shortly after coming to Cranford in 1941, Dr. Hall discovered his wife's ancestral Cory family home in Westfield still was standing. It had a secret tunnel to the barn, used as a field outpost during the Revolutionary War. This was not the Miller-Cory house which now is a museum, but a slightly earlier home built by John Cory in 1735 "in that part of Westfield now Cranford." This was a puzzle, because the site at 321 North Avenue East is a half-mile east of the Rahway River, which became the boundary line in 1794.

Further research revealed this John Cory was one of the associates of Elizabethtown in 1699, and the grandfather of both the Millers and Corys in the Miller-Cory deed of 1783.

The Cory family plot East of the Rahway was one of the original 100-acre West Fields. It touched the river at Crane's Mills and exactly filled the area over to Elizabeth Avenue, the old main road to Elizabeth. Elizabeth Avenue as a line on the map is a direct extension of the Westfield town line above the Rahway River. As boundary lines changed over the decades at the end of the 18th century, the location of the same Cory house changed from Westfield to Elizabeth to Rahway to Union to Cranford, Dr. Hall said.

A number of evidences now suggest Elizabeth Avenue, Cranford, was the old line between Elizabeth and its West Fields, in the original survey which vanished in 1719-1720.

If so, the Harriman survey line may have been laid out to cut diagonally across the river as part of a political ploy by the associates, insisting the western boundary of Elizabeth was not at the Rahway. The violent disagreement between the associates and the royal proprietors over this line was not settled until it became moot after the Revolution, and the 1794 boundary line was set 10 years later, Dr. Hall noted.

This would mean Westfield at first included both sides of the river at Crane's Mills and almost all of what is now Cranford, not only what lies West of the Rahway.

It also is consistent with the theory Westfield then was more nearly a square of 16 square miles, four miles on a side, in line with the description by Reverend Hunting in 1839, the speaker said.

Irwin Davidson Named Senior Vice President

Irwin Davidson of Westfield has been appointed Senior Vice President of Sales for Alba-Waldensian, Inc.'s Byford Division.

Alba-Waldensian acquired Byford Apparel, a leading sock and knitwear manufacturer, from Coats Viyella of London, on December 4.

Mr. Davidson will report to Jon Nelson, the Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Byford. He will be located in Byford's sales offices in the Empire State Building in New York City.

Mr. Davidson assumes responsibility for managing Byford's national sales force. Sales activity will be focused primarily on department and specialty stores.

"Mr. Davidson has a proven record of profitably growing consumer products business during his 20-year career in sales and marketing. He has been recognized for top management performance in building outstanding sales volume, dealer loyalty and customer acceptance. His experience will be of great value to Byford customers," Mr. Nelson noted.

Mr. Davidson joined Alba from Ventura Luggage, where he had been the Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing. He previously had been associated with Hartmann Luggage and Revlon.

Mr. Davidson holds a Master's Degree from New York University in New York City. He and his wife, Mrs. Vivian Davidson, have three daughters, Jacqueline, Amy Beth and Michelle Ruth Davidson.

Alba-Waldensian, an American Stock Exchange company, markets and manufactures women's hosiery and intimate apparel, as well as medical specialty products.

Hearing Set On License To Sell Liquor

license as required by law. Entrances and exits to the proposed parking lot are not clearly designated, other than over a sidewalk, which would pose a safety hazard to children walking to and from schools in the area.

The proposed site already is very busy and potentially dangerous and the parking area as proposed would add to this danger.

Because an objection has been made in the application, the council must hold a public hearing before voting on the matter. That hearing is scheduled for the regular Tuesday, January 26, council session.

In several other actions at Tuesday's meeting, the councilmen approved depositories for a number of town accounts, authorized the refund of property tax overpayments from last year and approved the appointment of Town Engineer Edward A. Gotko as acting Housing Code Enforcement Officer, at no extra compensation, during the illness of Henry DeProspero, the permanent officer.

Newly-elected First Ward Councilman Anthony M. LaPorta was told by his colleagues all depositories are Westfield branches of banks and a state pool arrangement assures the town's funds are protected in the event of the failure of any banks in which the funds are deposited.

Mad, Mad World Booked At County Arts Center

Stanley Kramer's epic 1963 film comedy, It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World, marked the transition of Cinerama, the original wide-screen film process, from the complexity of three projectors running simultaneously to a more manageable single-lens process.

Roosevelt Students Aid the Disadvantaged During the Holidays

The student body and staff at Roosevelt Intermediate School got the holiday spirit underway with a Student Council project that provided needed gifts for local residents.

All 36 homerooms chose either a family, a senior citizen or a group home to provide gifts for. Both the recipients and donors remained anonymous.

Kelly Korecky, the Student Council Family Project coordinator, said, "Everyone felt good about donating gifts and knowing that others would have a happier holiday because of our efforts."

Students bought wrapped and tagged gifts which were brought to homerooms. Parents helped transport the gifts, and their delivery to the recipients was arranged through Mrs. Lillian Corsi, head of the town's Social Services Department.

According to the principal, Kenneth Shulack, this community project sponsored by the Student Council was successful on several levels.

Mr. Shulack stated, "It provided our student leaders an opportunity to encourage their peers to help those less fortunate in our community and gave each student and staff member who participated something to feel great about." The staff eagerly got involved as well.

One homeroom, which had a senior citizen who was in need of a toaster and a blender, got support of the homeroom teacher. The homeroom purchased the toaster, and the faculty member the blender.

This transitional event in film history will be repeated on Sunday, February 14, at the 1,300-seat Union County Arts Center in Rahway in a special benefit matinee on the arts center's 18- by 33-foot screen.

Though it did not mark the actual debut of single-lens wide-screen movies, a distinction generally credited to the 1953 feature The Robe, which introduced CinemaScope, Mad, Mad World marks Cinerama's belated recognition that it needed a technological upgrade in order to survive, reports an arts center spokesman.

The movie brought together on the same bill an all-star cast of film and television comics the likes of which probably never will be duplicated... Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, Jonathan Winters, Peter Falk, Terry-Thomas, Sid Caesar, Mickey Rooney, Ethel Merman, Buddy Hackett, Phil Silvers, Jim Backus, Edie Adams, Ben Blue, Dick Shawn and William Demarest. It also has cameo appearances by Jerry Lewis, Jack Benny, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Buster Keaton, and, in the starring role, screen giant Spencer Tracy.

For another, it manages to pack into its slightly more than three-hour running time just about every piece of comic "schtick" that's ever been tried, right down to slipping on a banana peel, the spokesman said.

Tickets at $5 are available at the arts center box office at 1601 Irving Street, or by telephoning 499-8226.

Proceeds from this special showing, starting at 3 o'clock on February 14, will benefit the Rahway Historical Society.

Old Guard Welcomes New Slate of Officers

In accordance with the Constitution, the leadership of the Old Guard of Westfield changes at the first meeting of a new year.

The officers for 1993 are: Director Charles Brown of Westfield, Vice Director William Thornton, Treasurer Arthur Vail of Westfield, Assistant Treasurer Alex Balogh, Recording Secretary William Delnegro, and Corresponding Secretary Quentin Brown.

That five officers are from Westfield, Cranford, Scotch Plains and Fanwood reflect the fact the majority of members live there.

However, at least one member from each of 11 other towns belongs to the Old Guard.

Visitors may attend the Thursday morning meetings and entertainment and information programs at the Westfield "Y" starting at 8:30 a.m.

Upcoming programs are: January 21 — "Alliance for Union County" by Dr. Henry Ross, the Director of Institutional Research at Kean College in Union.

January 28 — "The Drug Discovery Process" by a woman engaged in Organic Medicinal Research for Merck & Co., Inc. of Rahway.

For more information, please telephone Harold Hitchcox at 233-1638.

Science Program Plans Blast Off! This Month

Hands-on-Science for Kids, co-sponsored by the Optimist Club of Westfield and the Parent-Teacher Council, is set for its second year. Most programs will begin the week of February 1. A record 177 applications have been received.

Blast Off!, a program touching on astronomy, Newtonian laws of motion and astronaut living conditions has been rescheduled because of a school vacation conflict. It is now offered to children in the fourth to sixth grades as a two-hour session on Saturday, January 23, with a snow date of Saturday, February 6, at 9:30 a.m. There will be a $10 charge.

A few openings still are available for:

Meteorology in Miniature, third grade, Mondays
Batteries, Bulbs, and Circuits, third grade, Tuesdays

Math Works, first grade, Thursdays
Solids, Liquids and Gases, second and third grades, Thursdays
Fantastic Flying Models, fourth and fifth grades, Fridays at 5:30 p.m. for both parent and child

Charges for the eight-week, after-school programs are $50. Fantastic Flying Models is $145 per pair.

To register for Blast Off! or other programs, please telephone Robert Haldeman at 654-5187.

Scholarships based on need are available.

Erica Ramsthaler Teaches in Mexico

Erica Ramsthaler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsthaler of 108 Munsee Way, has had an enriching experience since graduation from Westfield High School.

Now a junior at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, Erica travelled to a small town outside Guadalajara, Mexico last summer. She was in Mexico from June until August, where she lived on a old hacienda, or farm, that had been converted into an orphanage.

At the orphanage she taught English to approximately 30 boys between the ages of 5 and 25. She helped to build walls, patios and gardens as well.

The town scholar will be doing an upcoming semester abroad in Pueblo, Mexico at the University of the Americas and has plans to return to Guadalajara in the fall.

She said she will visit the hacienda while she is there.

Erica feels that programs like this are excellent because they educate people about what a country and its culture is truly like, helping them to throw away preconceived notions which may be incorrect.

Sergeant Crincoli Cited by Air Force

Air Force Master Sergeant Theodore Crincoli, Jr. has been decorated with the Meritorious Service Medal.

The medal is awarded for outstanding non-combat meritorious achievement for service to the United States.

Sergeant Crincoli, an aircraft armament systems superintendent, is the son of Theodore Crincoli of 108 Elm Street, Westfield, and Mrs. Joan Crincoli of Flemington.

The Sergeant graduated in 1976 from Westfield High School and received an associate degree in 1988 from the Community College of the Air Force.

Overlook to Present Forums for Women

Overlook Hospital of Summit this year will provide a series of free health forums entitled "Of Interest to You..." in which physicians, clinical nurse specialists and social workers will provide women with information about their special health needs. The forums will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9:30 o'clock in Room 1AB of the hospital's sixth floor Center for Community Health. "Premenstrual Syndrome: What Is It and How to Cope With It" will kick off the series on January 19. It will be followed on February 16 by "Heart Health for Women: Why You Need to Be Concerned," and on March 16 by "Genetic Counseling and Testing." In April, a special four-week series beginning on April 6, will focus on menopause. The weekly sessions will cover such topics as estrogen replacement, sexuality, nutrition and fitness and caring for yourself. Additional forums will be held in May and September on the latest news regarding breast cancer, and how to reduce stress through effective time management. In a related program tomorrow that also will focus community attention on women's health, NBC-TV correspondent Betty Rollins will give a free lecture on breast cancer at 7 p.m. in the Overlook hospital auditorium. Miss Rollins, the author of six books including First You Cry, the story of her own battle with mastectomy and breast cancer, will relate her experiences in an appearance arranged by the Fisher Ross Group. For more information, or to register for a forum, please telephone 522-5353.

Nearly 400 See Representative Seated
Nearly 400 supporters of United States Representative Robert D. Franks, whose district includes Westfield, including the Representative's colleague when he was in the Assembly, Richard H. Bigger of Westfield, journeyed to Capitol Hill last Monday to witness his swearing in. Most, however, had to view the proceedings in the House Chamber on television because freshman lawmakers were allotted only three entrance tickets apiece. The supporters, however, greeted the new Representative in person later at a mid-afternoon reception at the plush Capitol Hill Club.

MOVING UP...Michael Giordano, the President of the Westfield Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association, presents a check to Mrs. Linda Maggio, the Executive Director of the United Fund of Westfield. The Westfield Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association, Local No. 30, makes a donation to help the 19 member agencies which receive support from the United Fund. "The contribution pushes the United Fund to 81 per cent of our $660,000 goal," noted Mrs. Maggio. "We are grateful to the firemen for this special gift and we hope all Westfielders will join with them in remembering the United Fund is still the best way to help the most people."

Borough Women To Discuss Estates

The Wednesday, January 20, luncheon meeting of the Mountaintop Woman's Club, a member of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will feature Robert Tilson, a Certified Financial Planner, of Watchung, and Robert Appur, an estate attorney, of Somerville, a program on estate planning in 1990s. Important issues affecting people today will be covered such as living wills, estate strategy, Medicaid planning, durable powers of attorney, learning how to preserve an estate from taxes and protecting assets. Mrs. Georgette Bengue is the Chairman of the Day. The service organization brings together women of the area for educational and charitable purposes meeting at the L'Affaire Restaurant in Mountaintop on the third Wednesday of the month. Women sharing these interests may join and may telephone the Membership Chairman, Mrs. Bengue at 232-0883 for information.
