PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
WEST ORANGE HIGH SCHOOL

A stylized, high-contrast illustration in black and white. At the top, a torch with a flame is visible on the left. To its right are several flags, including the United States flag with stars and stripes, and a flag with a crescent and star. Below the flags, a dark horizontal band contains the title. The lower half of the cover features a large, stylized graphic of a flag with vertical stripes and a central emblem. In the bottom right, a dark curved band contains the words 'of the'.

A stylized, high-contrast illustration in white lines on a dark green background. The central element is a globe with latitude and longitude lines, partially obscured by a sword and a banner. The sword, with a detailed hilt, is positioned diagonally across the globe. A banner with a decorative border runs across the middle of the image, containing the text 'WEST-O-RANGER'. Above the banner, the word 'Edition' is written in a cursive font. The background is filled with abstract, flowing lines that suggest movement and energy.

WEST-O-RANGER

M.A.A.

The United Nations is a people's organization—and all the people—everyone—has a share in deciding its destiny and the destiny of the world.

For my part, I pledge you this:—that we will do our best to carry on the work for peace, for understanding among people and for understanding and agreement among nations and governments. We feel that this is the most important task in the world today. People and governments of different cultures and beliefs—of differing economic and social systems—must live together side by side.

The United Nations is the only real road to peace. It is a road which you and I—all of us—can build together.

WE THE PEOPLES OF THE UNITED DETERMINED to save succeed of war . . .

Today, as never before, man is dependent upon others for what he eats, wears, enjoys, uses, for the house in which he lives, his health, knowledge, the protection of life and property. If he is to enjoy life to the utmost, he must live in harmony with others.

In spite of this tremendous need for peace, man is finding it more and more difficult to obtain. Then what are our obligations as individuals? It seems to me that each of us must ask ourselves these questions: What am I doing to make my community and my world peaceful? What am I doing to make other people trust and respect me?

To obtain peace, you and I have to be peace-loving and peace-deserving. It is a personal matter. It depends upon what you and I do. It depends upon the extent to which we learn to appreciate and understand our fellow-man. If we are to achieve peace, we must first establish it in our daily lives.

May those of you who will live out the last half of this 20th century find the courage to dedicate yourselves to this cause.

EDMUND EASTWOOD

..... IN

One of the most hard working and best liked members of the West Orange High School faculty, Mr. Eastwood has taught biology here for a large number of years. His greatest hobby is his job, and he has helped hundreds of students to understand and love biology. Those who have seen him perfectly at home in 301 demonstrating the biological specimens or explaining a movie agree that no one but him could be so capable a head of the biology department.

In addition to his scientific work Mr. Eastwood is the faculty adviser of the Visual Aids Club, a group of boys who meet every Wednesday to learn how to operate the big movie projector. He then assigns these boys to show movies to different classes; thus performing a great service for the school. He directs this club for the sole reason that he is extremely interested in movie projection.

In his college days Mr. Eastwood's height was one of the factors which made him a star basketball player; in fact, he was an all-American center. He also played center on the football team and pitcher on the baseball team during those same years. Today, his home life is taken up by Mrs. Eastwood and his daughter Linda, who is a junior at WOHS.

It is to this man, well loved and respected by all who know him, that we dedicate our 1951 West-O-Ranger.

DEDICATION

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS
Fifty foot flagpoles fly the colors of the fifty-nine Member States.

HEADQUARTERS FOR PEACE

The United Nations is the headquarters for the peace of the world. This is the first time in the annals of human existence that so many nations, now totaling sixty, have convened to seek a common, ultimate goal. And yet, this war-weary world is again engaged in another test of arms; and many have lost confidence in the United Nations, this relatively new experiment—this experiment, which has, however, already prevented untold destruction, misery, and bloodshed. Through its intervention three outbreaks of war have been subdued. A universal declaration of human rights has been adopted and proclaimed throughout the world. Within this last generation the barriers, ignorance, prejudice, and fear, which have separated the world, have been partially removed through the efforts of the U. N. But to obtain this goal for which we seek, we need more time and more education. Man must be taught that to fight nations is futile; rather must he be taught to fight famine, disease, and above all, ignorance; and thus he, the educated citizen, can, must, and will find that long-sought-for peace.

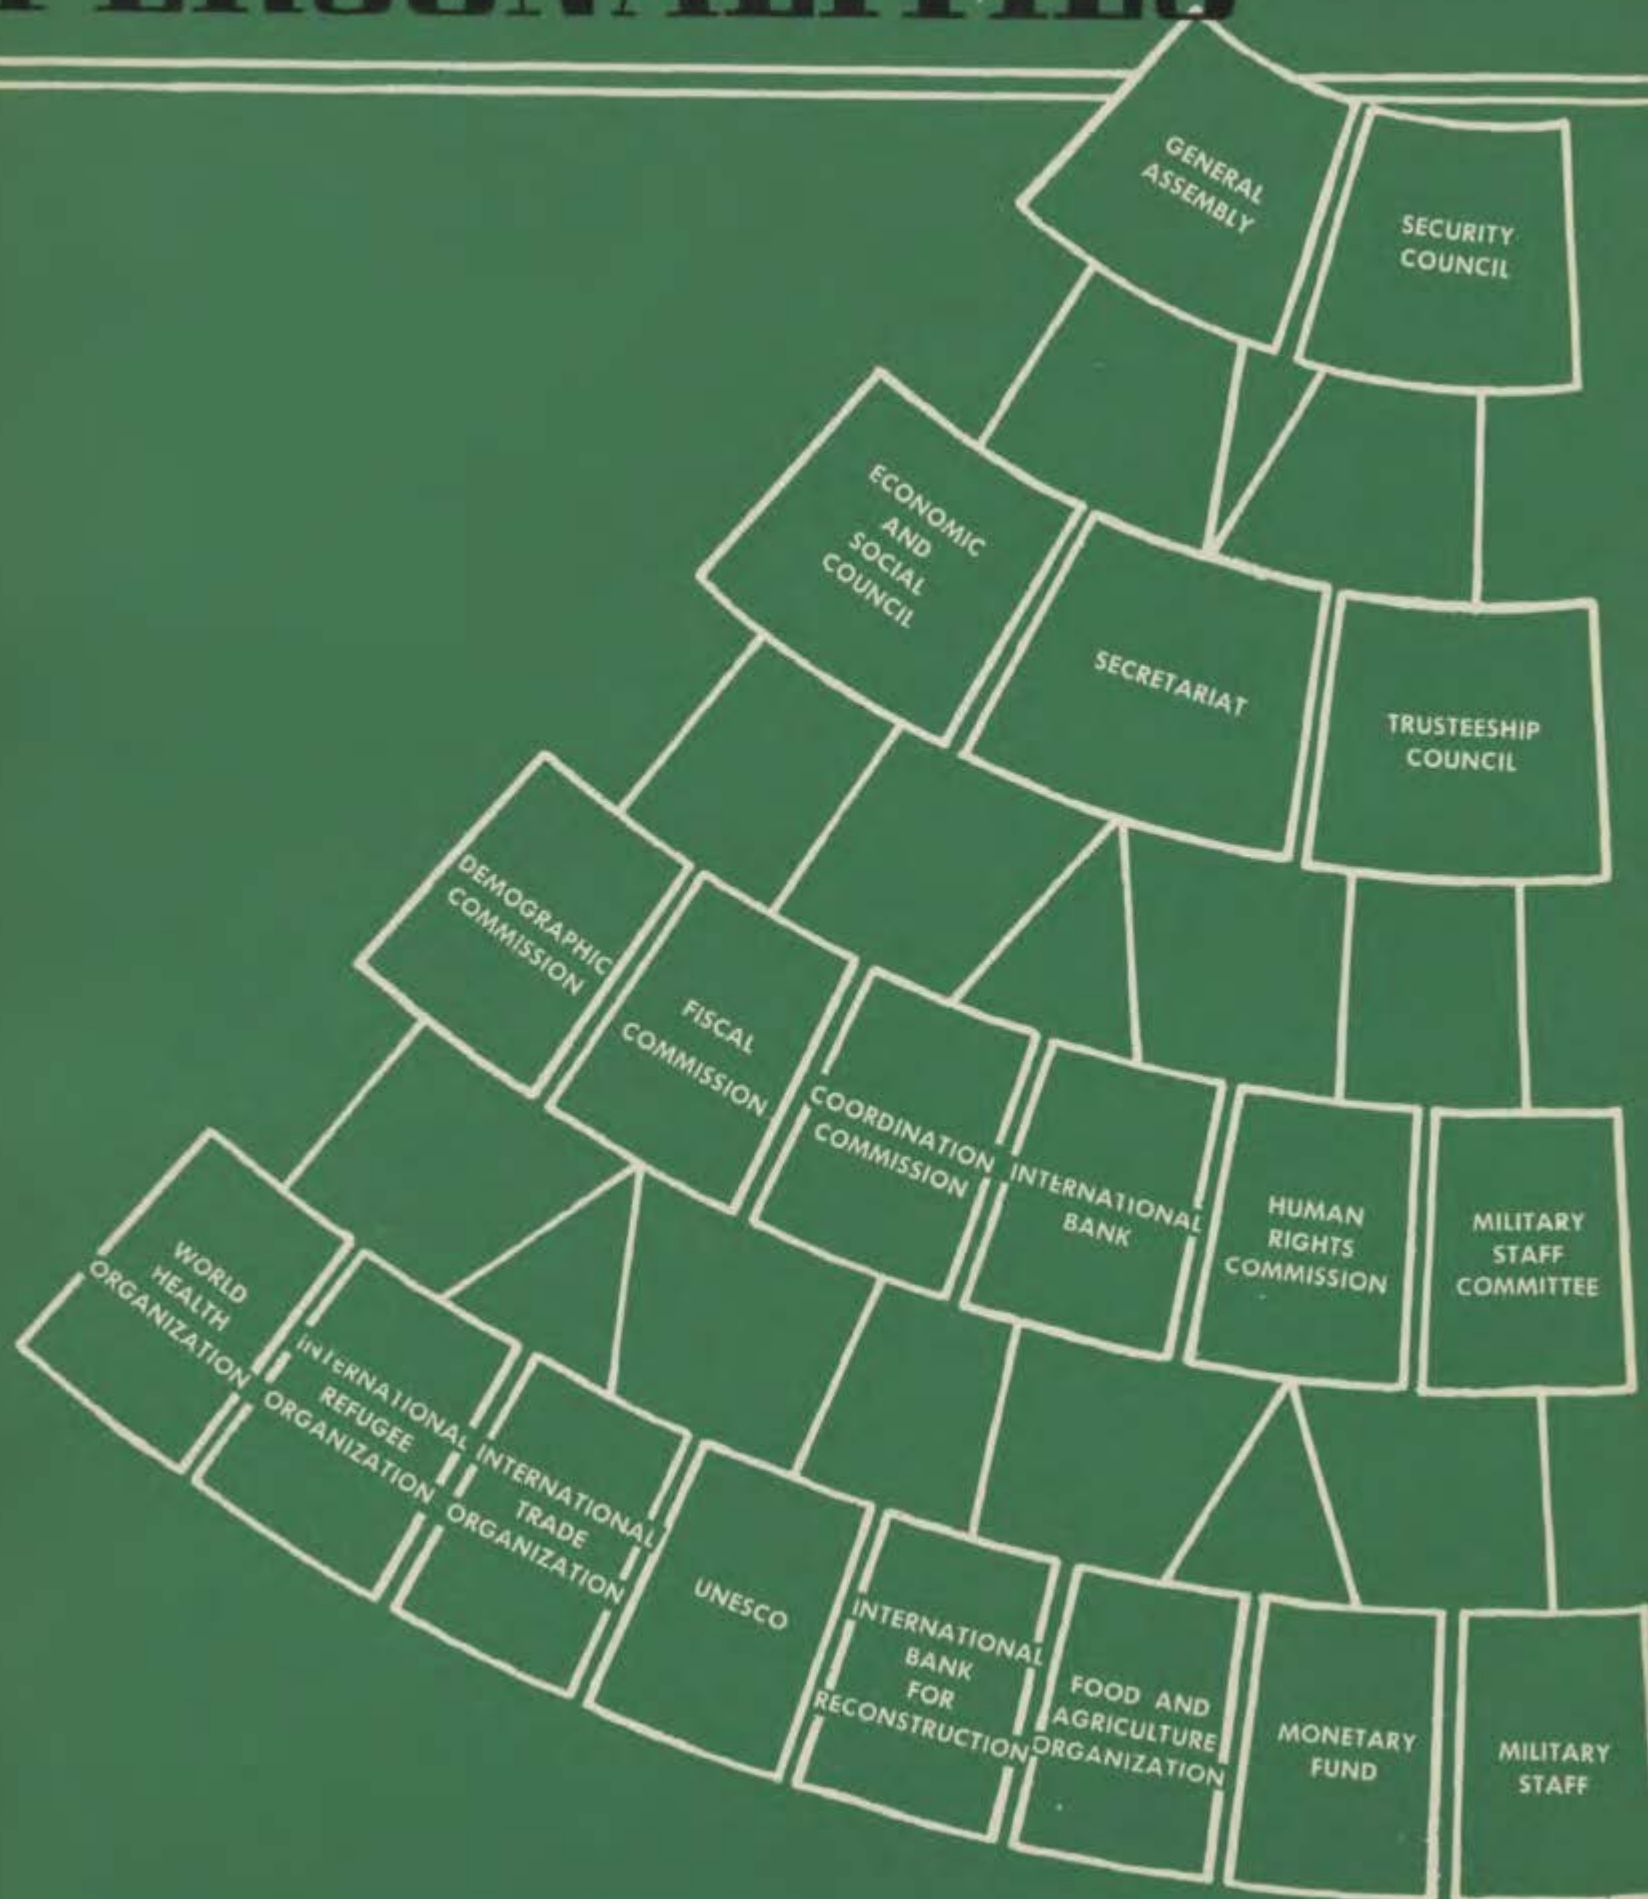

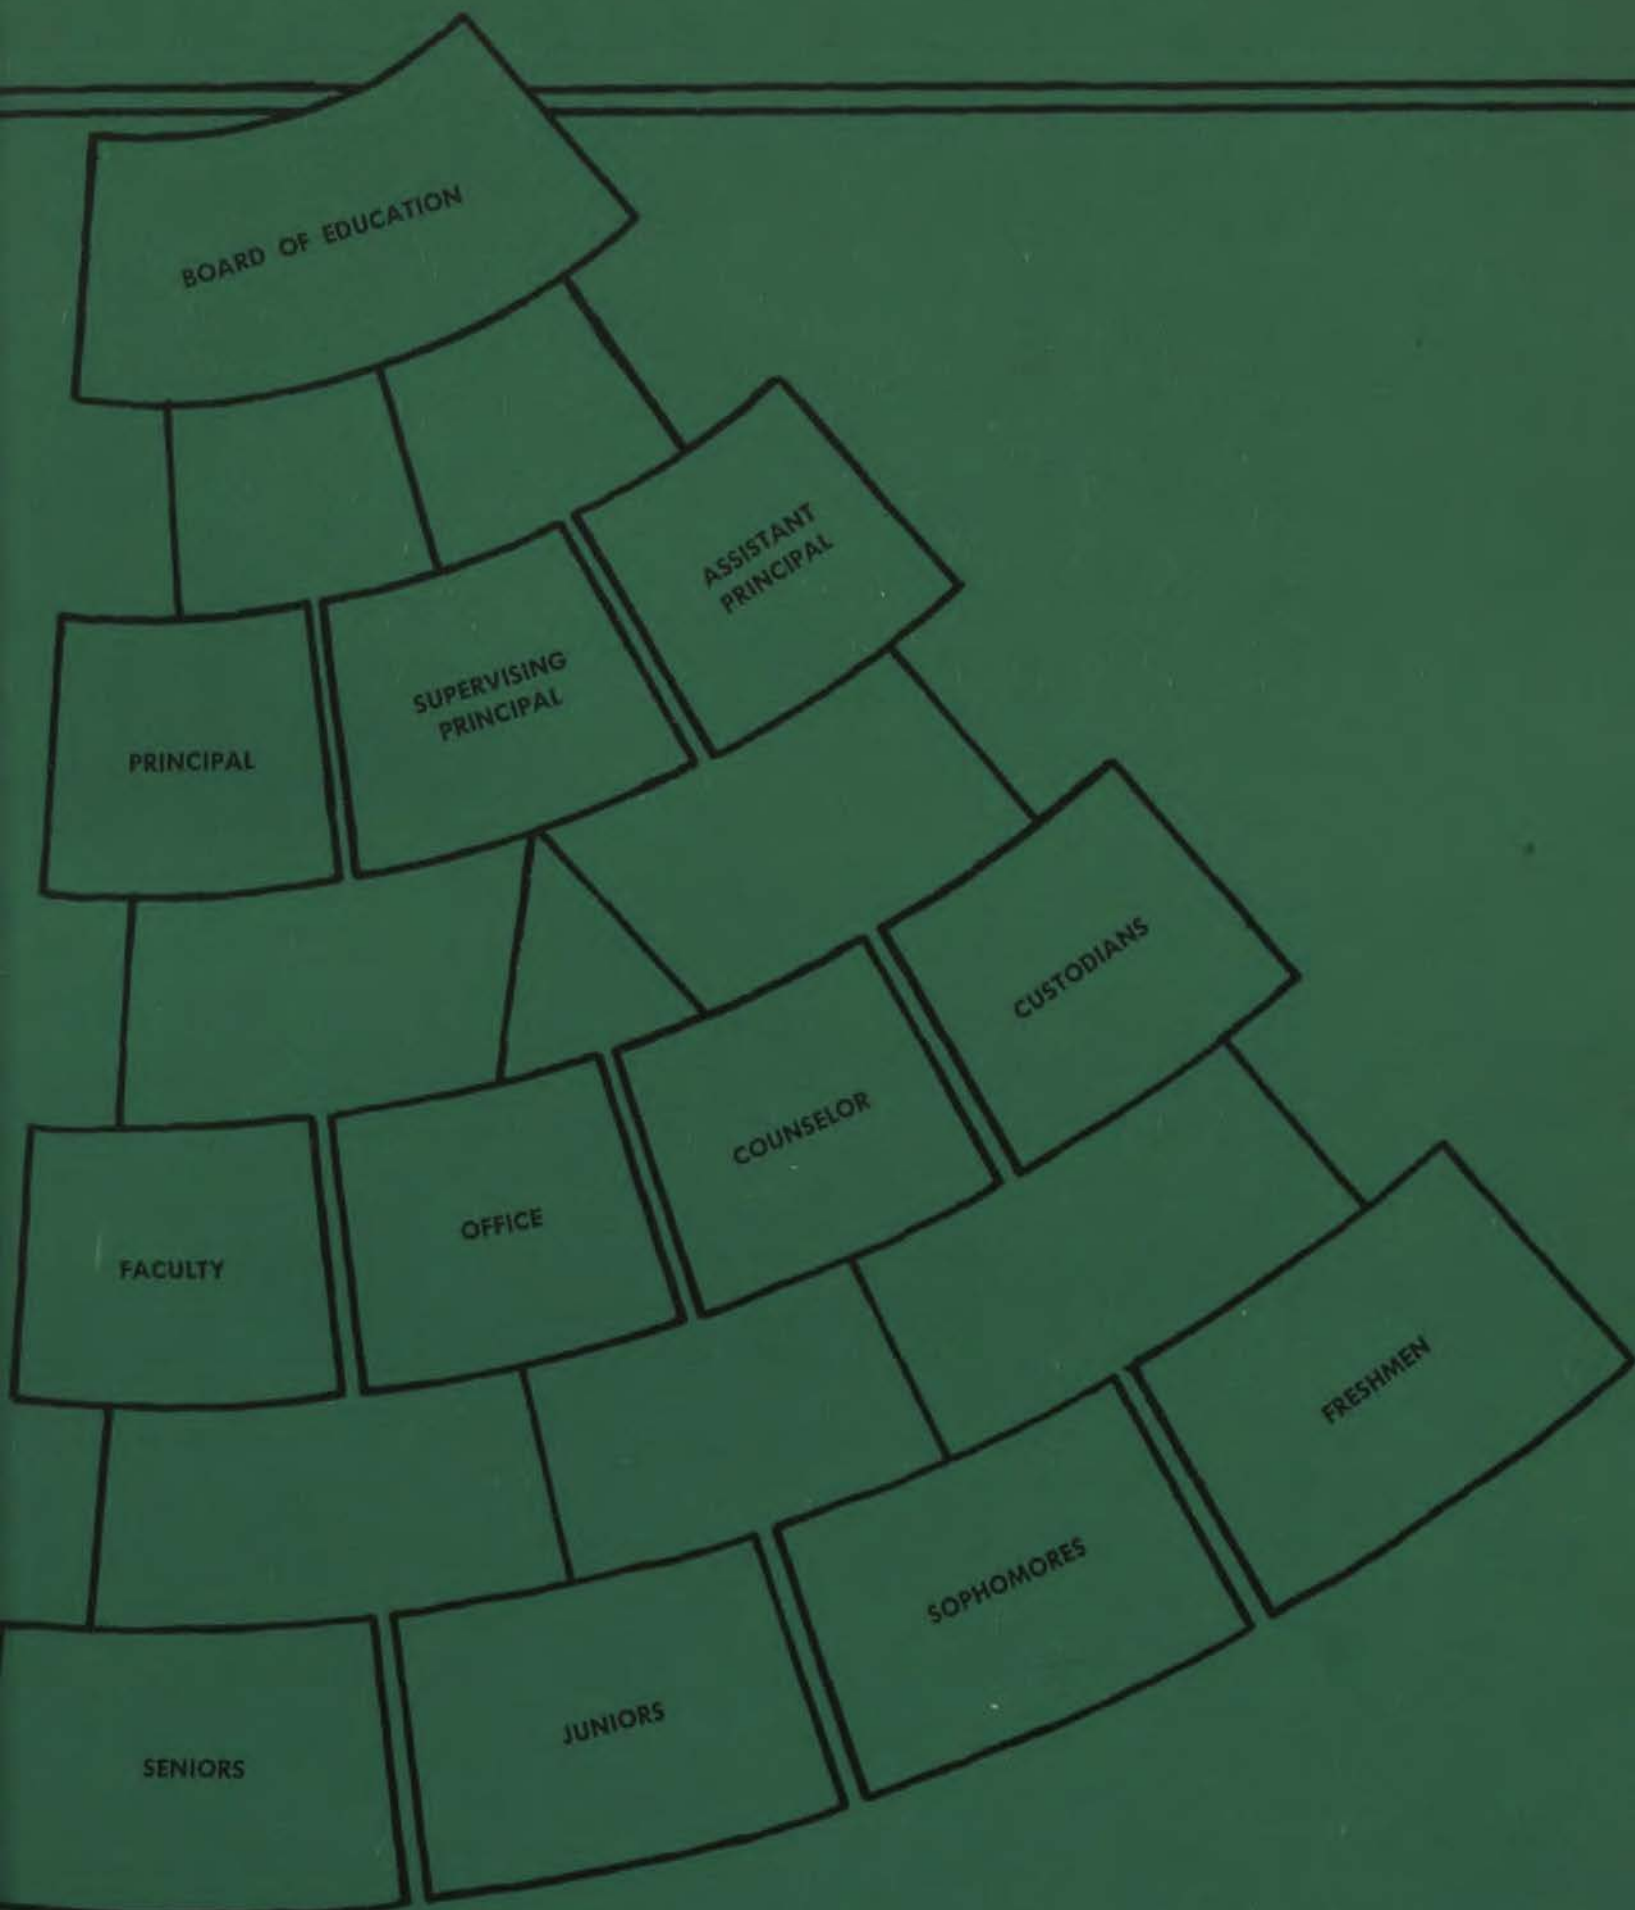

HEADQUARTERS FOR KNOWLEDGE

As is the United Nations the headquarters for the peace of the world, so is West Orange High School the headquarters in this community for the attaining of knowledge. Here we, the students of today, not only gain book knowledge but also learn to live together so that tomorrow we may live happily and peacefully as citizens of one world. Of all the existing creatures on this earth only ants and men engage in the premeditated, organized destruction of their kind. However, let us hope and pray that man will some day prohibit his genus suicide. Through more comprehensive understanding of ourselves and our fellow men, hatred and killings will desist; and the dignity and worth of the individual will be recognized. We are the basic factors responsible for the world we create. Peace and our survival now depend on how we, as individuals, think and act. May we, the class of nineteen fifty-one, effectively use the knowledge we have acquired here toward the building of a happy and peaceful world.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

U.N. Security Council in action.

Mr. Hearn and Mr. Wine and the office staff happily engaged with the routine work of the school.

The world, with its complexities of modern living has need of a strong central government, one which all its member nations will obey. Those who hold the reins of that government, the administration of the United Nations, have in their power the ability to create and preserve everlasting peace or to destroy the ideals of democracy, the roots upon which all hopes for a world of free peoples are based. Not only the wheels of government but also the wheels of industry and education must be run smoothly by an efficient administration, one with not only executive ability but also with the understanding of people and their economic and social wants and the will to make democracy a reality. Willing and industrious people now working with the United Nations will some day need to be replaced by us, the peacemakers of tomorrow. We shall be the interpreters, representatives, secretaries, engineers—the members of an efficient administration. The training received in school, the English, history, language, and mechanical training are all preparing us for our places in the world of the future.

DR. MILTON W. BROWN

WEST ORANGE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Although we seniors have been attending school for ten, eleven, twelve, or even more years, few of us have ever been aware of all the many little things which others have been doing for us in order to make our school days pleasurable and worth-while. Dr. Milton W. Brown, since his arrival to our system, has been one of these people who have been working for the good of West Orange boys and girls.

Neither do many of us realize that our high school is but one of the pieces of the complicated machinery of the West Orange school system, which has been working smoothly because of the able guidance of Dr. Brown, our superintendent of schools.

Dr. Brown was born in Wisconsin; however, a great many of his boyhood years were spent in Illinois. After completing four years of study at Knox College in Illinois, he received his B.S. degree, a distinction which was closely followed by the obtaining of his M.A. degree after a year of graduate study at the University of Chicago. Then followed, fifteen years of teaching, the career which he had always wished to pursue. It was during these years that Dr. Brown was awarded his Ph. D. degree.

Subsequent to this, Dr. Brown moved eastward to become the superintendent of schools in Glen Ridge, New Jersey. At the resignation of Mr. Strong in 1946, Dr. Brown then came to the West Orange school system where he has made himself well known to all the citizens as a gentleman who has the qualities of perseverance, conscientiousness, and understanding.

We, the seniors of West Orange High School, feel that, because of his sympathetic interest in West Orange boys and girls and for his successful work in bettering our schools, Dr. Brown deserves our deepest gratitude.

MR. RAYMOND E. HEARN

Principal of our high school for seven years, Mr. Hearn has become well known for his willingness to assist the students in whatever way he can. Active in West Orange for more than twenty-five years, he has served as a teacher of mathematics and a principal at Gaston Street School and as a principal at Roosevelt Junior High.

Mr. Hearn is a man with many interests, some of which are music, reading, and sports. An outstanding athlete in his college days, he played varsity and semi-pro baseball.

Genuinely interested in those things important to young people, Mr. Hearn has developed an activity program which has brought our school recognition from our State Department, from the Federal Office of Education, as well as from a number of important educational publications.

In future years we, the graduating class of 1951, will look back to our high school days with fond memories. None of us shall forget the sincere guidance and kindness that our principal, Raymond E. Hearn, gave to us in West Orange High School.

VICE-PRINCIPAL

H I G H S C H O O L

MR. CHESTER H. WINE

Mr. Wine's early school days were spent in his home state of Virginia, and his high school education was completed in Pennsylvania. His studies at Lebanon Valley College were interrupted for two years by the First World War. Mr. Wine's interest in sports stems from the fact that he received varsity letters in college football and basketball.

After being graduated from college, he spent eleven years teaching history and coaching teams in the high schools of Connellsville, Latrobe, and Monongahela, Pennsylvania.

In 1930 Mr. Wine came to West Orange High School. He was principal of Hazel Avenue School from 1932 until 1944, when he returned to our school as assistant principal.

Mr. Wine is vitally interested in his students and leaves with us his best wishes.

FACULTY

CLAIRE ADDARIO — The excellent training that our attractive cheerleaders get can be accredited to Miss Addario. Enjoying dancing just as much as she enjoys coaching the cheerleaders, Miss Addario is also the sponsor of the Modern Dance Club.

THELMA V. ALLEN — In addition to her classes Miss Allen is the sponsor of "Le Cercle Français." She enjoys her leisure time playing golf or reading the latest fiction thrillers. Miss Allen frequently takes trips to Washington.

EARLE W. BARNES — Although the Choir and the Glee Club keep Mr. Barnes very busy, he still has time for a cheery greeting for everyone. Among his numerous hobbies are photography and woodworking. He also directs the choir of the First Presbyterian Church.

DEBORAH D. BETZ — Friendliness and sincerity are the characteristics that help to make Mrs. Betz such a wonderful adviser of the junior girls. All who know Mrs. Betz are acquainted with her two main interests—gardening and traveling.

KATHERINE F. BLISS — Besides teaching history and counseling the senior girls, Miss Bliss still manages to do graduate work at Rutgers. In her spare time she enjoys housekeeping, playing bridge and canasta, and attending the opera.

LEIGH BLUMER — "Honey," "Darling," and "Dear" are the expressions for which "Pop" is noted. Antiques and yodeling are two of "Pop's" claims to fame. No class is complete without the showing of the Audubon bird series.

MURRAY R. BROOKS — Ask any student what he remembers best about the Curtis Campaign; and he will probably say, "Mr. Brooks' handing out five dollar bills." One of Mr. Brooks' favorite pastimes is flying.

DONALD P. BUSH — Mr. Bush spends much of his time singing for churches. Besides teaching and singing, Mr. Bush advises the West Orange Hi Y Club and runs a summer camp. When his two good-looking sons are home, they keep him busy.

JENNINGS BUTTERFIELD — Summers, Mr. Butterfield acts as supervisor of Essex County Music School. He spends his spare time as assistant concertmaster for the New Jersey Symphony. Many of his evenings are spent entertaining dignitaries of the music world.

ROBERT CALLARD — Whenever Mr. Callard is asked to speak in assembly, one can be certain of hearing humor as well as sound advice. For recreation, he works on his farm and hunts on the adjacent land.

VIOLETTE COTTER — Aside from her keen interest in teaching, Mrs. Cotter enjoys exploring the state of New Jersey with her husband. Her favorite pastimes includes dancing, swimming, and listening to opera and symphony music.

RONALD C. DOLL — Mr. Doll is known to everyone for his interest in the welfare of the pupils of the schools of West Orange. Busy all day, he also teaches at night in a local college.

EDMUND EASTWOOD — Is anybody trailing some rare species? Mr. Eastwood is the man to help you. In his classes one can learn not only of insects and animals, but also of life in general; for he often expounds his philosophies.

MARGARET E. EATON — Miss Eaton enjoys games and sports including golf, tennis, bowling, ping-pong, and swimming. Her interest in people is evident by the sincere way in which she advises the senior class in their various activities.

HAYDN EVANS — Coaching the golf team and obtaining jobs for students are two of Mr. Evans' duties. With all of his duties Mr. Evans is quite a busy man; yet, he still finds time to hunt with his son, Bucky.

NORA EVANS — Although Mrs. Evans appears to be the indoor type, she enjoys such sports as hunting, salt-water fishing, surf casting, and trap shooting. Although these pastimes are numerous, "Hubby" still comes first.

MERLIN FINCH — Mr. Finch, the tennis coach, is known for witty statements and for never cracking a smile while saying them. If anything needs repairing, Mr. Finch is always on the spot with a hammer and nails.

RUTH E. GOODYEAR — Flying, canoeing, and cooking are Miss Goodyear's hobbies. Recently she traveled to Colorado, where she "fell in love with the West." Students agree they know English after having Miss Goodyear.

THOMAS L. GUEST — "Fattie" is a new addition to our school this year. After football practice he hurries home to his three-months-old daughter. Mr. Guest served three years with the Eleventh Airborne in the Pacific.

MARGUERITE L. HEESEMAN — Miss Heeseaman enjoys reading and sewing. Much of her time is spent doing these things. She loves to travel and sometimes takes automobile trips to faraway parts of the country.

JANE A. HILSON — Photography, the theater, and her nieces and nephews are only a few of Miss Hilson's interests. This summer she spent a part of her vacation in the Canadian Rockies where she photographed the beautiful mountain country.

HENRY HUSELTON — Mr. Huselton's interesting experiments provide a constant source of wonder to his physics students. The "Doc" is also the sponsor of two popular clubs, the Chess Club and the Code Practice and Radio Transmission Club.

EDWARD JOHNSON — Mr. Johnson came to W.O.H.S. three years ago to coach football and to teach English. He is also the Junior Boys' Guidance Director. Having three small daughters, Mr. Johnson has become a competent baby sitter.

FAYE E. KARNES — After school, one has little difficulty in locating Miss Karnes; for she is in the typing room helping students. Besides teaching, Miss Karnes finds enjoyment in taking trips in her car.

ROBERT KRIMMEL — Mr. Krimmel has the difficult task of managing WOTAC as well as helping to coach the football team. With all his duties, he still finds time to go fishing and play with his little son.

H. KATHERINE LANCASTER — Students are bound to recall our fine assembly programs as a feature of our school year. Miss Lancaster, sponsor of the Assembly Council, is responsible for them. Two of her hobbies are gardening and photography.

ALFRED LAWRENCE — Evidently Mr. Lawrence doesn't have enough of the younger generation during the school year, for in the summer he operates Camp Crescent in New Hampshire. Football and basketball teams have benefited greatly from Mr. Lawrence's training.

MARGARET E. MCSWEENEY — Each summer Miss McSweeney travels to her sister's home in New York where she enjoys gardening and the company of her nieces. Recently Miss McSweeney has become quite a connoisseur of the game of canasta.

ALICE MEYER — There are those who refer to Mrs. Meyer as a "dance expert," but modestly she admits only of being the director of the Ballroom Dancing Club. Her favorite spot during the summer is Cape Cod.

SAMUEL MEYER — Mr. Meyer, as senior boys' adviser, spends most of his time helping the boys choose colleges and find jobs. There is one fewer eligible bachelor in school, for this well-liked teacher was married last summer.

FRANCES H. MOLLER — Ask for guidance in any part of the library, and Miss Moller will gladly give her time to help you. Miss Moller spends her spare time enjoying all sports, sewing, and reading, and dancing.

DOROTHY T. NOCK — A great lover of the outdoors, Mrs. Nock likes swimming and boating. She enjoys entertaining her company and traveling. In the summertime Mrs. Nock will probably be found traveling in her new "Olds."

DOROTHY NUSSBAUM — "Go west, young lady, go west." . . . Originally from the state of Washington, Miss Nussbaum has recently spent a few summers studying in the West. Now living in New York, she has many opportunities to attend the theater.

JAMES O'KEEFE — Attempting to teach "petite misses" the art of driving is one of Mr. O'Keefe's jobs. Besides coaching the baseball team, he likes to tell all those around him of life in Allentown, Pa.

BEULAH PECKHAM — Miss Peckham's favorite hobbies are travel and the study of Napoleon. This summer she traveled to Europe where she followed Napoleon's trail. Photography and music are other interests that occupy much of Miss Peckham's spare time.

MADELINE QUINN — When she is not helping her pupils with their sewing problems, Miss Quinn enjoys making leather articles, jewelry, metal objects, and wood carvings. Being a musician, she plays the organ, the piano, and the violin.

MARCUS G. RANKIN — Well-known as our fiery basketball coach, Mr. Rankin spends much of his time training the team and devising new plays to crack opponents' defenses. His humorous remarks make his classes interesting and friendly.

CHARLES F. REIFSNYDER — Always smiling, "Charlie" can be seen working with struggling music students after school. He plays trumpet with some of the best concert bands and orchestras. Evenings, Mr. Reifsnyder works in his woodshop.

LIESELOTTE H. RICHARDSON — Mrs. Richardson, who is a newcomer to W.O.H.S., enjoys ceramics and painting. During the summer she visits her favorite resort, New England; and one of these days Mrs. Richardson hopes to live there permanently.

LYDIA SCHWENK — Miss Schwenk has many likes, some of which are traveling, sewing, and F.H.A. This is the seventh summer that she has traveled in California, and each time she has more fun.

LOUISE SEAMAN — Mrs. Seaman enjoys all sports, especially bicycle riding and horseback riding. When she isn't teaching, she is busy housekeeping. One of her main interests is, of course, "hubby." Isn't he lucky?

MARY SICKLER — Miss Sickler is one of the younger members of the faculty. Her ability to cook and her choice of clothes readily show that she is a domestic arts teacher. She spent last summer traveling abroad.

WILLIAM E. SMOCK — Mr. Smock is entrusted with the job of collecting and caring for most of our money. He enjoys teaching and has many pastimes, some of which are surveying and listening to good music.

ADA S. TERRY — During the football season Mrs. Terry's time is spent teaching the twirlers the newest routines. Taking colored pictures, gardening, and collecting shells are a few of her pastimes.

ARNER I. TERWILLIGER — When you hear laughing that comes from 305, you know it's Mr. Terwilliger's humor that is causing it. "Prof" gives much valuable information to our prospective nurses. Students see that his work is his hobby.

ATWELL THOMAS — Mr. Thomas, supervisor of the "Roundup," can be found in 316 each morning directing the students on the newspaper staff. Mr. Thomas's ability to get results is often admired by everyone. Could it be that he lowers the boom?

WENDELL W. WEAR — Mr. Wear, a former All-American football player, is well-liked by all students. As a coach of the J.V. basketball team, Mr. Wear has much opportunity to share his knowledge of sports with the players.

THELMA O. WEISSENBORN — Miss Weissenborn's senior classes look forward to hearing her read "Macbeth," which she portrays so well. Among her hobbies are her garden, literature, and the theatre.

HARRY WENNER — Although he has numerous school activities, Mr. Wenner finds time for photography, hiking, and camping. One of his many interests is his "estate" in Troy Hills, which furnishes his biology students with lab. specimens.

ETHEL WILSON — Miss Wilson is usually found coaching her speech class for an assembly program or a speech contest. It seems that Miss Wilson's love for the hills of West Virginia has been transferred to a little patch in New Jersey.

Life in the complex modern world of today requires that we be adequately prepared in and thoroughly familiar with those fundamentals which are essential to a rich, well-rounded existence. Undoubtedly the most important force in molding us for the future is our high school training in our study of such subjects as English, which opens the gateway to our education. Our secondary school days have not been fruitless if they have implanted within us a sincere desire for further erudition and for knowledge regarding the world events which determine the course of our lives. And the only way we can hope to accomplish this desire is through English as a medium. By reading we are able to educate ourselves in any field of thought and to keep informed through newspapers and magazines on today's vital issues; as, the atom bomb, threats of war, and labor problems. Therefore, since the primary function of our schools is to develop an intelligent public, it becomes increasingly evident that English is the very substance which comprises our educational system.

R. Erikson—vice-president, R. Kossman—president, M. Caruso—secretary, N. Tobin— treasurer.

CLASS OFFICERS

RICHARD KOSSMAN, president of the class of 1951, was well known throughout the school as a football player. He also participated in the Assembly Council and was co-editor of the photography committee of the "West-O-Ranger." As president of the senior class, Dick proved to be an outstanding and capable leader of his fellow students.

RICHARD ERIKSON was the vice-president of the senior class. Possessing a pleasing baritone voice, "Swede" was a member of the Boys' Glee Club, the Choir, and the trio which performed at the Spring Concert. Richard also held an office in the Classical Music Appreciation Club; he was president of the group.

MICHAEL CARUSO, more often known as "Buzzy," was the secretary of the senior class. He was a member of the Football Club and the Glee Club. Sports also held an attraction for "Buzzy," for he was on the track team as well as the football team. Michael will be remembered by his fellow students for displaying his wit in our assembly programs.

NANCY TOBIN, treasurer of the senior class, was active in many school functions, some of which were the "Roundup," the "West-O-Ranger," and the cheerleading squad. Nancy was also elected secretary of Miss Eaton's Spanish Club. Quill and Scroll, an honorary society, was another of the numerous activities to which she devoted her time.

CLASS OF 1951

Jane Albrecht

"Jane"

"Neat and refined in appearance and mind."

Jane, a modest and very attractive student, who is noted for her quiet and unassuming manner, is the kind of friend one likes to have. A charter member of the J.U.G.'s, she is known for her athletic ability and her charming smile. Jane plans to attend college, and she will certainly make a success of whatever course she follows.

Mary Ann Allyn

"Brillo"

"What is life without a laugh?"

Can you imagine a WOHS honor roll without Brillo's name at the head of the list? She isn't a bookworm honor student; for her hobbies include knitting socks and sweaters, painting, attending Monday night 880 meetings, and chauffeuring her many friends around in her family car.

Estelle Barker

"Stelle"

"Work fascinates me; I could sit and watch it for hours."

Estelle, who is usually found writing notes to her friends, Anne and Marilyn, can quite often be seen in the Deissler home studying Spanish. She spends her summers either in Connecticut or just plain loafing. Besides keeping close tabs on the Dodgers, Stelle likes to listen to cowboy records.

Elaine Aquaro

"Elaine"

"Sweet and gracious even in common speech."

Elaine, though sweet and quiet, has a great deal of ambition and drive; for she has always managed to keep her grades up to honor roll standards. A Lafayette member, an enthusiastic sports fan, a music lover, and an accomplished dancer, Elaine has developed a pleasant personality. This characteristic will, no doubt, aid her in her career as a secretary.

Ann Araneo

"Ann"

"Where there's smoke, there's fire."

Ann's claim to West Orange fame is her nonchalant treatment of school and teachers. This good-natured miss, who excels in all sports, may be small in size; but she has far from a small personality. After leaving the portals of our beloved high school in June, Ann would like to see the three little letters, "MRS", put before her name.

"Mary"

"She looks shy. But oh, that mischief in her eye."

Mary, a honey blonde with dark brown eyes, has a great many interests, some of which are sewing, knitting, embroidering, cheering West Orange teams, and admiring convertible cars. She is often seen with her friend, Sandra, at Tory Corner. Although still undecided as to what her future will be, Mary has every chance to become a success; and we certainly hope she will be.

Dolores Bayard

"Dorry"

"Patience is the best remedy for every trouble."

Dolores is the tall, serious senior, who is well known for her earnestness and her devotion to her studies. She is fond of dancing, and she likes popular and classical music. Dolores is one of those rare students who enjoy studying the subject of chemistry.

F.H.A. Club; Dramatics Club (Treasurer); International Relations Club II, III; Chemistry Nursing Club IV; Swimming.

Bette Bayowski

"Bett"

*"Pretty to walk with;
Witty to talk with;
Pleasant to think on."*

Bette, a girl with a winning smile, sparkling brown eyes, and the "gift of gab," is one of the members of the 880's. She is noted for knitting argyles as well as for being one of West Orange High's top twirlers.

Everett Adler

"Ev"

"Knowledge is power."

Everett, known to us all as the "mad scientist," is the boy who is seldom seen without the answers to Mr. Terwilliger's questions. Ev has a fascinating hobby, the raising of bees. He may be seen at almost any time floating around town in his Plymouth with a bunch of fellows.

Matthew Baker

"Matt"

"A gentleman that loves to hear himself talk."

If someday you are stopped either in the halls or on the campus, and someone says to you, "Do you want to put an advertisement in the yearbook?", don't be surprised. It's most likely Matt who works very hard trying to get enough money to put out a yearbook without a paper cover. This senior is usually seen with Don and the rest of the boys discussing their latest camping trip.

Yearbook (Advertising Editor) IV; Basketball (Assistant Business Manager III, Business Manager IV); Prom Committee (Decoration Committee) III; Leathercraft Club II, III; Class Day Committee IV; Jr. Honor Guard III.

Richard Alpert

"Duke"

"Men are but children of a larger growth."

Duke, a co-editor of the yearbook, can often be found in 202 worrying about the many problems of the 1951 "West-O-Ranger." His interests include hiking, bowling, and swimming; in addition to these he is an Explorer Scout. Duke is usually seen with his friends, Matt, Everett, and Don. He would like to attend Cornell to study medicine after graduation.

Richard Baker

"Butts"

"If I had the wings of an angel, over these prison walls I'd fly."

Every morning in homeroom 101, one can probably see "Butts" writing on the blackboard or hear him talking and laughing at his own jokes. "Butts" plays basketball for the Joe Smiths, the team that won the championship at the Settlement House last year. One of Dick's favorite pastimes is telling tall tales to his classmates. His pet peeve is English. Ballroom Dancing II, IV; Sports III, IV; Auto Mechanics II.

Robert Bittell

"Bob"

"Sometimes I sit down and think; Sometimes I just sit down."

Bob spends most of his time thinking up new jokes to spring on his friends. His usual greeting is an electric tap delivered by a deadly forefinger. Bob has owned two cars while at West Orange High; but unfortunately he lives only a stone's throw from the campus, thus depriving the students of the privilege of seeing these museum pieces.

Auto Mechanics Club III; Music Appreciation Club (Modern) IV.

Bruce Betz

"Bruce"

"Cheerily then, my dear man, live and laugh as boyhood can."

Throughout his entire high school career, Bruce has won many friends and admirers with his happy-go-lucky, beaming personality. Anyone taking in a movie at the Embassy in Orange may find Bruce working there as an usher. With his natural ability in public speaking and dramatics, he will certainly fulfill his ambition of becoming a second John Barrymore.

Dramatics Club II, III, IV; Music Appreciation II, III; Public Speaking Club (President) IV; Student Council (Representative) III, (Executive Committee) IV.

Eugene Betz

"Windy"

*"To blush isn't a crime;
It's merely inconvenient."*

A shy nature, blue eyes, and a "35" Ford! What more could any girl ask for? It seems as though Gene is rather odd; for he hates to wash cars and would prefer almost anything to the studying of English. Before the army takes him and places him in a branch of the service that he doesn't like, Windy is going to join the Marines.

Ballroom Dancing Club II, IV; Sports Club III; Auto Mechanics Club III.

Robert Blanchard

"Doc"

"Girls are nothing but trouble, but trouble is my middle name."

As a fine pole-vaulter on the track team, Bob surely has his ups and downs, but he usually manages to come out on top. When he isn't bouncing around on his pole, he is bouncing around town in his flashy yellow 1950 Jeepster with some of his many friends. Bob's pet peeve is people with pet peeves.

Yearbook (Subscription Committee) IV; Track II, III, IV, (Varsity); Auto Mechanics Club II.

Dolores Belfiore
"Dec"

"Dynamite comes in small packages too."

Dec may well be compared with dynamite, for in spite of her size she is one of our liveliest students and a favorite with all her classmates. Her boundless energy always keeps her peppy enough to never refuse a fast turn at some bop on the dance floor. Dec, usually seen with the C.K.G.'s, plans to work to receive that coveted Mrs. degree after being graduated.

Glee Club II, III; Prom Committee III; Modern Dance Club II; Ballroom Dancing III; Dramatics Club II, III; Captain of Gym Team II, III; Basketball II.

Evelyn Brewster
"Lyn" "Evie"

*"Sober, but not serious;
Quiet, but not idle."*

Although Lyn is one of the more reserved seniors, her happy disposition always cheers the people with whom she comes in contact. She enjoys letter writing, sewing, and just being with people. A regular and active member of the Hi-BA, Evie hopes to go to Bible School next year and to strive for the betterment of mankind through missionary work.

Music Appreciation (Modern) III; Arttyping III; Dramatic Club IV; Business Practice Club IV; Choir III; Glee Club II.

Marilyn Belott
"Marilyn"

"Always lively, always laughing."

Even the lowliest Dodger fan receives a smile from Marilyn, who herself is an avid Yankee follower. Her main interests, which are food, music, men, and sports occupy most of her time. The speed at which she takes dictation and her pleasant manner should help her attain a position in the front office of the Bell Telephone Company.

Pearl Bodner
"Lee"

"The ties of friendship are worth more than gold."

The cheery greeting that welcomes all customers to the Modern Cleaner's on Main Street has become Pearl's trademark. Her latest project has been attempting to coax her father into letting her use her newly acquired driving skill on the family car. Pearl hopes to enter secretarial school and then to find a position in the world of fashion designing.

Janet Bristow
"Janet"

"I am in earnest."

Janet is president of her youth organization, an assistant editor of the Round-up, and a member of the staff of the West-O-Ranger. This active miss is usually seen helping Jane decide where the 880's should go in Jane's car. Janet is interested in camping and sailing and was a counsellor at a camp last summer. She hopes to go to college to become a teacher.

Stephanie Burke

"Stef"

"Variety is the spice of life."

Stef, one of the cute, peppy members of the cheerleading squad, is recognized by all of her classmates for her sparkling personality. When Stef is not talking with one of her current beaux, she is either kidding Mr. Rankin or talking to Mr. Krimmel about the latest geometry test.

Irene Campbell

"Rene"

"She has two eyes so soft and brown; take care!"

Irene's ability in the culinary arts disproves the theory that girls of today don't cook so well as their mothers could. In addition to cooking, Irene enjoys dancing and swimming. When not riding to and from Pleasantdale with Helen and Evelyn, she can be found practicing a speech for Miss Wilson or dishing up something in the cooking room.

Marna Cacossa

"Marnie"

"It's nice to be natural when you are naturally nice."

One of our quieter seniors, Marnie is very interested in Hi-BA and her church's young people's organization. Greeting Marnie in the hall is a treat for anyone, for she always flashes a smile and gives one a happy laugh. Since she is just about the sweetest girl in the senior class, there is no one who doesn't wish her success in whatever he chooses to do.

William Bork

"Bill"

*"Think no more;
'Tis only thinking lays lads underground."*

The hair on top of Bill's head is famous throughout the halls of West Orange High. Although he is often kidded, he claims that he never worries about hair falling in his eyes when he's flying low in his Model "B." This tall senior who played center for the illustrious W.O. eleven is leaving his future plans in the hands of the U.S. government.

Matthew Bornstein

"Matt"

"An all-round good fellow."

To all who have not made his acquaintance, Matt is a studious looking boy, but to all those who know him he is happy-go-lucky. Matt's popularity grows even greater when the temperature soars. (His father owns a miniature golf course.) His main hobbies are golf, baseball, and mowing lawns. Matt can usually be found in his car, roaming the wilds of Pleasantdale.

Richard Bronner

"Dick"

"Strong and silent, but oh so handsome."

Out of the woods of St. Cloud comes a mighty roar and a cloud of dust. It's a bird; it's a plane; no, it's Richard Bronner, big Varsity football guard and student of West Orange High. Famous for athletic ability and brilliant remarks in physics class, Dick plans to further his success by abolishing a few teachers with his car.

Walter Brozyna

"Butch"

"A hearty laugh; a happy person."

Butch is one of our outstanding football players, and he has done a lot for W.O.H.S. Not only has he displayed skill on the field, but he has also shown his willingness to lend a hand in any situation. Butch wants to enter the field of television where he hopes to learn how to make television parts.

Richard Brydon

"Dick"

"If pleasure interferes with study, give up study."

This boy, who is always seen with his favorite weakness, Diane, is one of West Orange's gayer characters. Dick has been one of our track stars while at W.O.H.S. When not bucking for an "A" with Mr. Brooks or Mr. Krimmel, Dick can usually be found with Fred or Dick in a mad attempt to foul up the good Doctor's experiments in physics class.

Neil Caggiano

"Neil"

"Music bath charms."

Although quiet, Neil is one of our most musically talented seniors. He plays the piano very well and has appeared on Major Bowes television show where he played his accordin. One of Neil's prize possessions is his "broken-down heap," which, loaded with kids, he drives to school every morning. After graduation, Neil is going to join the Army.

Visual Aids Club; Music Appreciation Club; Sports Club; Auto Mechanics Club; Captain of Gym Class II, III.

John Carter

"Bo" "Big John"

"A man of few words."

Since ambition is a trait not often found in W.O.H.S. boys, John is an exception. He is our class photographe and may often be seen lugging his camera around in order to take pictures for the Roundup. At present he runs an egg delivery business. John expects to enter the field of agriculture after he is graduated.

Alphonso Calabria

"Al"

"Always good-natured, good-humored and happy."

Curly headed Al is a great lover of baseball, a game which he plays whenever he has time. As a left handed pitcher with an excellent throw, he is admired by his teammates and worried about by his opponents. Al is very interested in shoe-making and is now working in a shoe-maker's store to gain experience in case he decides to make this work his life's occupation.

Auto Mechanics Club III; Sports Club II, III, IV; Music Appreciation IV; Captain of Gym Class II, III, IV.

Helen Carnegie

"Helen"

"It is a merry heart that bath many friends."

Helen is that gay, well liked senior, who is known for her friendliness and her merry smile. Her interest in dress designing is evidenced by the lovely clothes which she herself designs and sews. Helen enjoys all sports, and she is an avid baseball fan. Looking towards the future, she is planning a career in nursing.

Elaine Chiarella

"E"

*"A witty jest and frequent smile
Make a friendship very worthwhile."*

Don't be frightened if you see a car zigzagging down the street. Chances are that it will be Elaine trying her newly acquired skill. Attractive Elaine may often be seen at Tory Corner laughing and being her own gay self. When she finishes school, she hopes to become a secretary and sit on the boss's lap while taking dictation.

Barbara Condit

"Barbie"

"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ."

Barbie is usually seen with Jean or one of the other girls. Aside from her school activities and her part-time job, she is an outstanding member of the Hi-BA, one of the many church organizations in which she participates. After being graduated, Barbie would like to attend Bible School to prepare to devote her life for the good of Christianity.

Yearbook (Subscriptions) IV; F.H.A. II; Business Practice IV; Metalcraft Club III, IV.

Joan Cryslor

"Joannie"

"To have friends is to be one."

Those broad "A's" heard echoing through the halls last fall belonged to none other than Joan, who is a newcomer to WOHS. In her brief stay at the high school, Joan has become a member of the 880's and is often seen either with them or with the Wilckens twins. Although she has made no definite plans for the future, Joan's future is bound to be a happy and successful one.

She came from Canada and was here only part of the year.

Shirley Clarke

"Shirl"

"Let a smile be your umbrella on a rainy, rainy day."

If you want information on a rare species of tropical fish, Shirley's collection of them is what you are looking for. She likes to knit and sew and is also very up to date in the culinary arts. Shirley has been a member of the Home Economics classes for three years and hopes to continue in this field as a dietician.

Grace Connell

"Gra"

"I'm happiest when farthest away from pen and book."

Grace, a girl with plenty of pep, was one of the leaders in arousing the WOHS spirit last fall during the football season by making posters to encourage our teams on to victory. Grace can usually be found with one of the C.K.G.'s and almost all the time with Dee. Her chief ambition now is to be graduated; and although she has no definite plans for the future, she would like to receive her Mrs. degree soon.

Modern Dance Club II; Arttyping Club III, IV; Ballroom Dance Club III; Bridge Club IV; Captain of Gym Team III.

Ann Connors

"Ann"

"Life is just one long giggle."

The sudden outburst of uncontrollable laughter, which has livened up many a dull classroom, could come from no one but Ann, whose happy-go-lucky manner has won her many friends. This cute little trick with the flowing hair, which she refuses to cut, has been an active addition to the choir during her three years at West Orange High School.

Patricia Corcoran

"Pat"

"They say you're a devil with wonderful charms."

Although Pat was a newcomer to our class in her junior year, she has become known throughout the school for her friendly disposition. She is a good dancer, and on Friday nights she may be found practicing the latest steps on Lourdes' dance floor. After being graduated, Pat plans to do secretarial work and someday to obtain her Mrs. degree.

Choir IV; F.H.A. Club III; Arttyping Club IV; Bridge Club IV.

Michael Caruso

"Buzzie"

"Fool that I was, I didn't keep my mouth shut."

A true Dodger fan, Buzzie can often be heard voicing the perennial statement of Brooklyn rooters, "Wait 'til next year." Mike's continual talking, his favorite pastime, keeps him busy and his friends laughing. Buz is a member of both the football and track teams; and, through his witty remarks, he has gained the reputation for having a cheerful personality.

Richard Coyle

"Dick"

"You'll be a man, my son."

Although Dick is known throughout the high school for his comical antics, he is serious when working after school in the Food Fair in East Orange. Dick is noted for the multitude of questions he heaps upon Mr. Huselton. One of his favorite pastimes is watching stock car races; his other interests include building model airplanes and watching the New York Yankees.

Visual Aids Club II; Leathercraft Club III; Arttyping Club IV; Football Manager II.

Barry Cohrs

"Barry"

"The outdoor life is the only life."

Barry, one of our recent additions from Livingston, has made a name for himself at West Orange through his quiet, pleasant personality. Every summer we find Barry on some wild camping spree far from home. In the spring we can usually see him under the supervision of James O'Keefe on the baseball diamond upholding the honor of West Orange High School.

Auto Mechanics Club II, III, IV; Sports Club III.

William Crines

"Bill"

"Why take life seriously?

You'll never get out of it alive."

Willie, the strong, silent, outdoor boy, spends a good deal of his time on the basketball court both as a spectator and a participant. Friday nights we often see him at Lourdes' dances; and at other times, when we pass by the Kandy Kane, we are very apt to see him passing the time away with Russell Canning.

Music Appreciation Club III; Visual Aids Club IV; Captain of Gym Team IV.

Robert Deissler

"Dizzy"

"Shall I never see a bachelor of three score again?"

An avid sports fan, Bobby is usually seen walking in the halls talking with Sal about the Yankees. Dizzy goes to all our football games and, as manager of the basketball team, has a reserved seat for all basketball games. Bobby's time, at present, is more taken up with thoughts of the future than with fondness for girls, a fact which makes many of them unhappy. We all hope that Bobby's wish to go to college comes true.

Walter Cummings

"Walt"

"The world's a stage—here's a leading man."

Walt is a part time member of the senior class. He goes to technical school for the first four periods of each day and then slaves the rest of the day at West Orange High. Walt has strong interests in both sports and the opposite sex, especially the latter. He hopes to become a toolmaker after he has completed high school.

Auto Mechanics Club II, III; Sports Club II, III.

Ernest D'Amato

"Ernie"

"A cheery disposition leads to a higher position."

Homeroom 101A is always brightened up in the morning by Ernie's cheerful face and animated conversation. Winters we find him out on the skating pond displaying his talents for figures (the eight variety), and summers he can be seen swimming or lolling in the sun to get the even tan that all the girls wish for, but never seem to acquire.

Sports Club II; Spanish Club III, IV; Ballroom Dancing Club IV.

Robert Delaney

"Bob"

"Be silent and safe—silence never betrays you."

Bob, one of the quieter seniors of WOHS, admits to having so much homework that he generally stays at home instead of going out with his pals. The cause of this unusual trait is that Bob wants to hurry through two years of college so that he can then become a pilot. He has had flying experience with the Civil Air Patrol and has flown during the summers in Canada.

Camera Club II; Auto Mechanics Club III, IV.

Marlene Cornish
"Marlene"

"Silence never betrays you."

Marlene is a quiet little lady whose cooperative nature and willingness to lend a helping hand have been shown many times during her three years of high school. Her main ambition now is to be graduated from high school; her ambition for the future is not known to us; but we wish her success in whatever she does.

Polly Crankshaw
"Pol" "Yllop"

"Gay as a song is her nature; Bright as the sun her smile."

Polly, whose beautiful voice has made her a member of the All-State Chorus, is known for her sunny disposition and infectious giggle. She is often seen riding around in "the Jalop" or talking to another "880" member, usually Lilly. Pol's interests are many and so varied that she could be a success in any field she chooses. She hopes to attend Montclair Teachers College in the fall.

Constance Teresa Cortese
"Connie"

"She moves like a goddess, and she looks like a queen."

Connie's beautiful voice and lovely clothes are known throughout the school. This versatile miss belongs to the choir and takes music lessons outside of school, makes many of her own clothes, has a sharp wit, and possesses a wonderful flair for Spanish. It is Connie's ambition to become an opera singer; and with her talent it is evident that she is headed in the right direction.

Choir II, III, IV; Dramatics Club II; Spanish Club III, IV.

Mildred Alice Cox
"Millie"

"A busy not a dizzy blonde."

A member of the business practice classes, Millie has been Mr. Evans' "right-hand girl" in the job-placement department. You can always expect a gracious smile and an efficient piece of work from this busy little blonde. Mildred enjoys and excels in most sports and hopes her secretarial work in school has prepared her for the career she anticipates after graduation.

Library Council II; Metalcraft Club III; Business Practice Club IV.

Nancy Cunningham
"Nan"

"A bit of rascality makes a bubbling personality."

If you're looking for someone to instigate some mischief, Nancy's the girl to see. During the football season Nancy did an outstanding job as head majorette. Every morning she can be found with some other member of the MOB's searching for anyone who might have done last night's homework assignment. Nan hopes to attend a junior college after graduation.

Lorraine De Finis

"Rainie"

*"A girl on whom you may depend,
And one who makes a loyal friend."*

Lorraine is an outstanding member of her gym class and an asset to the school choir. Her lovely soprano voice has given her the chance to sing various solos with this group. Very serious about her French, Lorraine studies hard to attain "A's." Although Lorraine has not decided definitely as to what she will do in the future, we all wish her all the success in the world.

Grace Dascoli

"Grace"

"In laughter there is charm."

The dark haired girl with a gay laugh is Grace, whom people always confused with her good friend Florence; for these two girls are inseparable. Sports, dancing, and men are Grace's first loves; and most of her time is spent either participating in the former or charming the latter. Her happiness is inevitable; for when opportunity knocks at her door, she takes it.

Library Council II, III; Arttyping Club II; Student Secretaries IV; Business Practice Club IV; Basketball II, III; Bowling III.

Anne Deissler

"Anne"

"A good heart is worth a pot of gold."

Anne is quiet until you mention the Yankees or a certain soldier stationed at Fort Dix. About those subjects she is quite talkative. Week-ends we usually find Anne with the gang at the Embassy; for her love for movies takes her there two out of the three nights. After graduation Anne would like to place a Mrs. before her name.

Public Speaking Club IV.

Anthony DeMeo

"Nemo"

"You can't tell a book by its cover."

Tony's quiet, shy exterior betrays a witty and unusual personality. The famous West Orange High School eleven had a back who ran like greased lightning, Nemo DeMeo. This outstanding athlete with all-around ability also plays a good game of basketball and has made a name for himself in a challenge to outdistance Mr. Guest in a track meet.

Jr. Varsity Football II; Varsity Football IV; Jr. Varsity Basketball II; Varsity Basketball IV; Football Club II, III, IV; Basketball Club II; Baseball Club II, III.

Alfred De Vincentis

"Al"

"I like a riotous time."

Al is one of the few Senior boys who spend many hours dodging women instead of chasing them. He participates in all sports and is especially interested in football and basketball. Weekends, Al can be found with the football boys. He has no plans for the immediate future, but he would like to be a professional baseball player.

Jr. Varsity III; Varsity Football IV; Jr. Varsity Basketball II, III; Varsity Basketball IV; Auto Mechanics II; Basketball Club III, IV; Football Club IV.

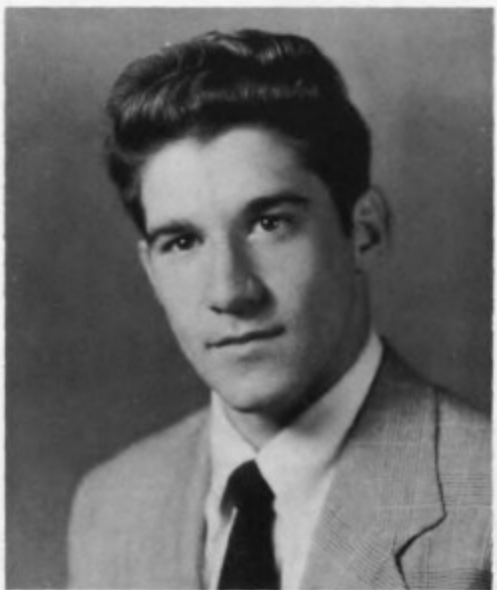

Mario DeVincenzo

"Gooch"

"Women! I haven't much use for them."

If he isn't at Alviggi's with Nemo, Lou, or Al, he's at the Orange Valley Settlement House with the gang. Gooch plays varsity football; and, though he was injured part of the season, he played in the majority of the games. Conceited girls are his pet peeve, but all girls find nothing wrong with him. The army will play a large part in Mario's future.

Jr. Varsity Football III; Varsity Football IV; Football Club III, IV; Auto Mechanics Club II; Basketball Club IV; Sports Club III.

William DeZenzo

"Buddy"

"Small men are good men."

Buddy, who is very athletic, can be found Sunday playing with the Knights, an athletic club of which he has been a member for three years. He is known to all of us for his good nature and his blushes. After graduation he would like very much to go to Hollywood where his sharp wit and pleasing personality should take him far.

Choir II, III, IV; Glee Club II, IV; Prom Committee III; Ballroom Dancing Club II; Jr. Varsity Basketball III.

Salvatore Domenic

"Sal"

"A bit of rascality, a swell personality."

Every morning Sal can be seen with Bob and Dick taking a walk in the halls. The question is, "How does he always manage to return to homeroom just in time to avoid being late?" Sal enjoys playing baseball; and, in spite of his small size, he is a better player than any of his cousins with whom he plays. Known for his witty remarks, he is doubtless one of the most cheerful seniors.

Classical Music Appreciation Club IV.

Louis Donofrio

"Lou"

"I could live without women, but I'd rather not."

A handsome senior with laughing eyes, dark hair, and a quick and eager smile for everyone — sounds like a dream, doesn't it? Lou, a friendly fellow who likes all sports, is one of our outstanding athletes. He has played varsity football, baseball, and basketball for West Orange. As yet, Lou does not have any definite plans for the future.

Kent Dragnett

"None but himself could be his parallel."

Kent is that dark haired boy with the Humphrey Bogart kind of handsomeness, who is always seen with a grin on his face. Kent has many interests and hobbies, but his pride and joy is his "little black book." He never lets it out of his hands. After graduation Kent will either go into business with his father or join the Army.

Auto Mechanics II; Sports Club III, IV; Sophomore Football II.

James Doyle

"Jim"

"Moose"

"Too many flames spoil the broth of love;

So I have but one."

Jim is the quarterback who calls the plays and heaves the passes to the ends in our football games. He is known not only for his athletic skill but also for his cute grin and pleasant personality. Beware when crossing the parking lot in the morning; for Jim never fails to come tearing in on, at least, three cylinders of his '31 Buick.

Florence Del Plato

"Flo"

*"Just a little handful,
But a barrel full of fun."*

Flo is known to all of us by her beautiful long black hair and her cute smile. She has a "passion" for dancing, and on Friday nights one may find her at Lourdes practicing the latest steps. West Orange boys are her pet peeve, but that does not mean that she is a man-hater. Flo hopes to be graduated and then to start to live.

Marilyn DeZao

"Sweet personality, a bit of rascality."

The vocalizing which comes from the first floor girls' lockers in the morning is, more often than not, Marilyn and Barbara. During homeroom period Marilyn either does her homework or is the center of a circle which is discussing, with howls of laughter, Jerry Lester's "Broadway Open House." After graduation Marilyn hopes to work as a secretary and then to receive her Mrs. degree.

Adrienne Elia

"A"

"What mischief lies behind those sober eyes?"

Adrienne, although small of stature, has a big smile and an ample supply of personality. She is often seen flitting around the halls with some of her many friends, having fun down at Paul's with Margo and the rest of the gang, or dreaming of Carmen. After graduation Adrienne hopes to enter the business world while she waits for that certain someone.

Elizabeth Hope Dusel

"Hope"

"A merry life and a gay spirit."

Hope, an avid sports fan, attends all the games played by the West Orange Cowboys, whether they be football, baseball, or basketball, and keeps a check on the New York Yankees, who rank as her favorite team. Cheering a team to victory is not all Hope does well; for she sews beautifully and plans to major in Home Economics in college.

Dolores Edwards

"Dee"

"No cares have I; Troubles pass me by."

The girl who hits the most homeruns in baseball, gets the highest bowling score, and is a smoothie on the dance floor is none other than Dolores Edwards. We usually find Dee in Salerno's or giggling with Dolores and Joan in the halls. To settle down with a mister and a MRS. degree is Dee's aim for the future.

Jane Flanders

"Janie"

"Life is like a bowl of cherries."

Jane is that gay blonde whom you can hear any morning gabbing and laughing in homeroom 102. At lunch time you can find her talking to the sister of her "one and only" or trying to decide where to chauffeur the 880's in the gray Chrysler. Jane definitely wants to attend college, but she is undecided as to which one.

Marion Florio

"Mar"

"It's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice."

Since Marion is a student secretary, she comes in contact with many people, all of whom will vouch for her friendliness. Known for her curly hair and ever-ready smile, Marion's various interests include swimming, bowling, basketball, and dancing. Attractive Marion is a girl of many aims, but her main one is to become a very good secretary.

Caroline Flynn

"Ca"

"A happy smile every day she gives to all who come her way."

A small blonde with a big sense of humor is our Ca. She displays her cute smile on almost any occasion and can be found usually with Scottie down at Paul's. Caroline likes all kinds of sports, but her pet pastime is dancing. After being graduated Caroline hopes to attend college in order to become a teacher.

Richard DuBoff

"Diz"

"For even though vanquished he could argue still."

Dick is a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. He is always a high honor student and is the Literary Editor of the Yearbook. On the other hand, his remarks in class keep all his teachers on their toes. One of Dick's interests is Jazz records of which he has a large collection. After graduation he plans to attend college.

Richard Erikson

"Ols"

"A tall body leaves room for a big heart."

If you happen to be passing a study hall or the gym lockers, and you hear a group of voices blending in harmony, you can safely bet a cookie that one of them is the voice of Dick. His cute and pleasant manner has won the admiration of all who know him. Ols is interested in construction work and plans to enter this work after he is graduated.

Sigfried Enge

"Sieg" "Ziggy"

*"Here is solemn Sigfried; see!
A remarkably cunning boy is he."*

Sigfried has two hidden talents of which most people are not aware. He speaks German and is a member of the Bloomfield branch of the Civil Air Patrol. Sigfried is very interested in all things that are connected with flying, a fact which is obviously shown by the drawings of planes over all his school books. This present interest will, no doubt, be followed up after Sigfried is graduated. Model Airplane Club II; Camera Club III; Auto Mechanics Club IV; Chess Club IV.

Paul Estason

"Smiley"

*"Some say the world is made for fun and frolic;
And so do I."*

When the teachers hear a commotion in the back of the room, they can depend on the fact that everyone is laughing either at one of Paul's witty remarks or at his "Maniacal" antics. Smiley has not yet been able to decide what to do in the future; but he will probably laugh his way through life.

George Frederickson

"Freddy"

"Life without cars just ain't life."

Among the ranks of outstanding red-heads in West Orange High shines the name of George Frederickson. George can be seen with his prize possession, a "40" Chevie, proudly driving around in it or flat on his back simultaneously repairing it and cursing it. Any other time he can usually be found trying to dig up enough money to pay off his latest accident.

Jr. Varsity Football II; Auto Mechanics Club II, III, IV.

Charles Ferry

"Charlie"

"Napoleon was no giant either."

During the winter, when most normal people are trying to keep warm, Charlie takes off to the colder North to insure a full season of his favorite sport, skiing. Charlie may be often found taking in money at the sports ticket office or humming a cowboy tune. After graduation Charlie plans to go to the University of Maine to further his education.

Stephen Fogle

"Steve"

"What mischief bides behind that sober mind?"

When he isn't out on a hiking or camping trip, Steve can be found tinkering around with his radio equipment. Probably the Number One Ham in the senior class, Steve has a licensed station of his own. He hopes to enter engineering school after graduation; then, if the army doesn't get him first, he hopes to be an engineer.

Bruce Friedman

"Bruce"

"They say that position is all in life."

What would WOTAC have done without Bruce to get the name bands that have boosted its popularity as a canteen? There are only a few people whose drive and initiative can equal those of WOHS's super salesman. Photography, Bruce's favorite topic of conversation, is his main interest; and his pictures are quite good. He intends to study public relations in college.

Mona Fullerton

"Mo"

"Foma"

"With a smile that glowed and dimpl'd all the way."

The blonde, curly-haired girl with the cute dimples is none other than Mona, one of the twirlers who performed on the field in the fall. She is often seen driving around in the Studebaker (when she can get permission to use it) with some member of the "880's."

Sally Ann Frawley

"Sal"

"All the world is a stage."

Sally is a girl whose energetic personality is reflected in her enthusiasm for dramatics. She is well known for her spark and wit and her active participation in school affairs. Sally is also a member of the 880's and is the composer of a song about this club. She plans to attend college but has not yet decided which one.

Kathleen Fridel

"Kay"

The mildest manners and the gentlest heart."

Kay, one of our more reserved and likeable classmates, can usually be seen after school hours at the corner with Renny. She enjoys dancing and collecting popular records and would someday like to own a new car. Kay has one definite plan in mind, and that is to obtain her MRS. degree after graduation. Joan Gilham

"Gil"

"Immaculate and fine in appearance and mind."

When Joan walks down the halls, all heads seem to turn and to follow her. She is known for her eye-catching, immaculate clothes and her chic grooming. An efficient member of the commercial classes, Joan plans to put her business practice to use and to obtain employment as a secretary. If past records are proof of the future, she will succeed.

Artyping Club II; Music Appreciation (Modern) III; Student Secretaries IV.

Irene Gohde

"Renee"

"She sings with the voice of an angel."

Irene is one of WOHS's most talented seniors. Her beautiful singing voice has added much to the a cappella choir during the three years that she has been in high school. Renee also has outstanding ability as a seamstress; her lovely wardrobe is proof of this. Her attractive appearance and sympathetic nature are bound to help her in a career of department store work.

Geraldine Grabowski

"Gerri"

"Always a smile"

Some may know Geraldine as the "Inquiring Reporter," and still others as the "Cowgirl;" yet to both she is known as the vivacious gal who spends practically all of her leisure time with her horse, Prince. Gerri, who came to WOHS in her junior year, is an active member of our school. She wishes to attend college and to major in business.

Helen Gottfried

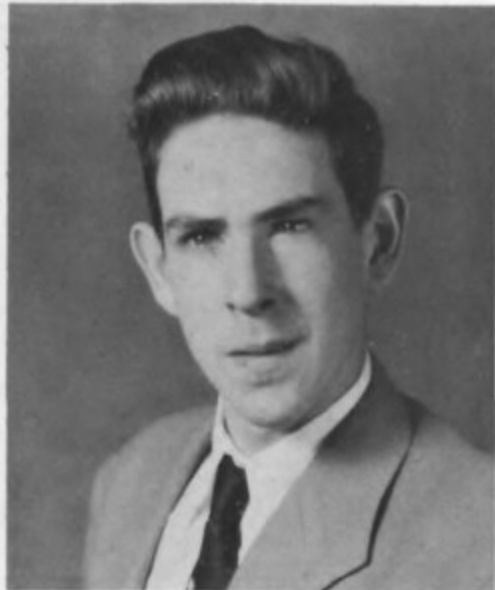

"Helen"

"A kind heart and a capable head."

Helen is quiet and shy, but don't let that fool you; for she dances a wicked mombo, samba, rumba, and jitterbug and can make the "Joint" jump with rhythm. In addition to dancing, Helen enjoys sports, music, drawing, and talking excitedly to Pearl and Ancy about the events of the past weekend. After graduation Helen plans to study business administration at Upsala.

Philo III, IV; Modern Music Appreciation Club III, IV; Art Club II.

Charles Furrer

"Sandy"

"Speech is great, but silence is greater."

Charley is one of the more silent members of the senior class. Unlike many of the boys in school, Charley's main interest centers, not around wine, women, and song, but around football, basketball and baseball. He spends a large percentage of his time either watching or participating in sports. A good basketball player, Charley is a member of the school varsity team.

Jr. Varsity Basketball II, III; Chess Club IV.

Joseph Goldberg

"Joe"

"I have three problems,— Women, women, and women."

If you hear a low rumble gradually increasing to a wild roar coming down the halls, don't run for cover — it's not a Russian tank; it's just our Joe on his way to another class. Joe is noted for his broad chest, friendly smile, and used car business which he shares with Buzzy Caruso. Next year Joe hopes to attend Rutgers University.

International Relations Club II, III; Jr. Varsity Football; Sports Club IV.

Robert Greenhall

"Bob"

"A penny saved is a penny earned."

Bob is an honor student whose ambitions are to see the Detroit Tigers win another American League pennant and to see the Socialists win a presidential election. Dixieland jazz, sports, politics, and the opposite sex are his favorite topics for conversation. Bob hopes to enter his father's business after obtaining a degree at the college of his choice.

Louis Grotta

"Lou"

"A worshipper at the shrine of athletics."

Here is a boy afflicted with "sports on the brain." Lou has a vast amount of knowledge on all phases of the sports world, and he usually is seen running off to the "Garden" or Ebbett's Field to witness an athletic contest. Besides sports Lou is interested in music, "Benay" ranking as his favorite musician. After graduation he hopes to attend Cornell University.

Yearbook IV; Tennis II, III, IV; Sports Club II, III, IV; International Relations Club IV.

Arnold Hage

"Ollie"

*"Happy am I, from cares I'm free.
Why can't they all be contented like me?"*

Another of our great skiing enthusiasts, Arnold also has other interests which include basketball, architecture, and most sports. Ollie spends his summers in Connecticut and his winters driving his brother's car around town or talking to Mr. Rankin about basketball. After graduation Arnie plans to attend night school where he will study business administration.

Jr. Varsity Football (Manager) II; Varsity Football (Manager) III; Varsity Basketball (Manager) II; Leathercraft Club II, III; Metalcraft Club II; Auto Mechanics Club IV.

Donald Harper

"Don"

"I walk apart from the common herd."

Don is one of our students who possess a keen scientific mind. He has made a fine scholastic record and has devoted much of his time to extracurricular activities, serving as exchange editor for the Roundup and working for the yearbook. He is often seen driving his pals in his recently acquired car. After graduation, Don hopes to attend Cornell University.

William Hullighan

"Billy"

"Silence is golden."

A familiar sight around West Orange High, this blond-haired boy may well be called the "sleepiest senior." During the summer, quiet, shy Billy can be found caddying, a fact which proves that, even if he is sleepy, he is not lazy. After graduation, Bill says that he should like to become a caddy master.

Artyping Club II; Sports Club IV; Auto Mechanics Club IV.

Donald Hillmuth

"Duck"

"When business interferes with pleasure, drop business."

One of the bravest members of the senior class is Donald Hillmuth. Every day after school Don risks his life by riding home from school with the boys in Everett's car. His main interests are cars, radio and television, and sports. Don is an avid Brooklyn Dodger baseball fan who, like all Dodger fans, is still waiting for next year to come.

Radio Club II, III; Auto Mechanics IV; Metalcraft Club II, III.

Joyce Hanson

"Magic lies in day dreams and in books."

A visitor who is searching for "info" for English, biology, or history at West Orange town library will find Joyce busily returning books to their proper places. However, she is never too busy to help you locate whatever it is that you need. Although quiet, shy, and a perpetual dreamer, Joyce's friendly manner will bring her happiness.

Emma Jane Harries

"Janie"

*"Some think the world is made for fun and frolic,
And so do I."*

What's that noise? As usual, that's none other than Jane giving one of her riotous descriptions to the gang of what took place in 316. Her witty humor well characterizes her. Jane, better known to the teachers as "Emmer," has a strong interest in the opposite sex. She likes popular music and men teachers. After graduation she would like to loaf.

Music Appreciation Club III; Arttyping Club (President) III.

Natalie Hay

"Nat"

"Nature fits all her children with something to do."

Many of the posters and works of art which we have seen around the school and on the pages of this book are the work of WOHS's artist, Natalie Hay. Her cheerful, friendly smile and willingness to help anyone struggling to accomplish an illustrated project have won her many friends. Nat has plans for following an art career after graduation.

Jean Helm

"Attractiveness is half the battle; hers is won."

Jean is that very attractive blonde who is liked throughout the school for her friendliness and pleasing personality. She is noted for her ability to consume food and yet keep her figure slim. Jean's various interests include summers at Pine Beach, horses, water sports, and men. Her ambition is to own her own horse and her own man.

Joyce Hector

"Joy"

"Dancing feet are happy feet."

A flair for dancing, an ever-ready wink, a gay and hearty laugh, and an attractive appearance — that typifies Joyce to a "T." She can usually be seen in the company of Marte and Mike and the "Gang." Joyce has capitalized on her talent for tap and toe dancing by acting as an instructor for youthful aspirants of the dance.

Jean Henderson

"Jeanie"

"Hair of gold; eyes of blue."

Jeanie is that cute blonde newcomer to WOHS. In the short time she has been here, Jean has made many friends because of her gay, light-spirited attitude. Whenever you hear the expression, "Oh, fine," just look around; and you'll see Jeanie catching up on the latest Hi-B.A. news. After graduation she would like to enter the Philadelphia Bible School or Houghton College.

French Club II, III; Dramatics Club II.

Ancy Hertz

"Ance"

"My heart is like a singing bird."

An artistic temperament, a charming personality, and a knack for making friends quickly are Ancy's assets. She attended East Orange schools until her sophomore year when she became a welcome addition to the West Orange student body. Ancy likes music and arts and crafts and is known for her lovely clothes and attractive appearance.

Jane Barbara Hill

"Janie"

"A friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of Nature."

Jane is one of our musically inclined seniors. She makes the most of her talents by playing the French horn in our school band and orchestra and in the Bloomfield Civic Band, and by singing in the choir. Among Jane's many hobbies are dancing, swimming, and tennis. On week-ends she usually can be seen with that very talented piano player.

Salvatore Iuso

"Sal"

*"Worry has killed many good men.
Why die?"*

As his chief interest is basketball, Sal spends much of his time, both in and out of school, practicing and perfecting his game. A sports fiend, Sal attends basketball games at Seton Hall, bowls, and plays softball in the Elizabeth Softball League. His weakness is pastry, and his ambition is to play basketball with the Rochester Royals.

Walter Johansson

"Walt"

"To know him is to like him."

Walt is what you might really call the outdoor type; for he is a lover of camping, hiking, canoeing, and skiing. His attempts at sailing his little rubber boat and his camping trips with the boys are proof of this fact. President of the Senior Guide Troop, Walt is often seen riding around with Don, Duke, and Matt.

John Jennings

"Life is what you make it."

John's main occupations seem to be forgetting to bring his books to school and asking pointless questions of the teachers. These are just two of the many things which have made him an outstanding individual at WOHS. Most people don't know it, but John has an incurable desire to take his father's car apart; however, John will soon have a car of his own to work on.

John Johnstone

"Jack"

"A silent person often shows great promise."

It is often said that artists are temperamental and silent. John is no exception to this rule; for he is just as well known for his quiet, pleasant manner as he is for his fine works of art, some of which have been displayed on the pages of this book. The thorough way in which he works is bound to prove helpful in the future.

Art Club II, III; Sports Club II; Leathercraft Club III; Auto Mechanics Club IV.

Ralph Kelly

"Kelly"

"Wisdom sits alone in highest Heaven."

Ralph is one of the quieter seniors, and can usually be found in the library reading the latest in the various fields of science, or solving a trig problem. Outside of school, Ralph enjoys practicing his archery technique and marksmanship. In foretelling his future, we predict a successful career as a medical technician.

Alan Kappmeier

"Bernie"

"My heart goes where the wild goose goes."

Do you hear that rumbling noise coming down the street? Turn around and you'll see a 1929 model "A" with Bernie at the wheel. This little job is his pride and joy, for it contains a thermometer and a calendar among many other odds and ends. Quite a few of his spare hours are taken up by thinking up new contraptions with which to load the car. Alan plans to attend some near-by college.

Charles Kelly

"Ozzie"

"Wine, women, and song get to be tiresome;

Let's forget song."

Charlie is what might be called an all around sportsman. He enjoys football, baseball, and basketball equally well; and he is also an ardent fishing and hunting fan. Charles can be found any morning in 103 copying long overdue homework from English class or heckling somebody. This boy's easy-going philosophy of life is "Ozwell that ends well."

Richard Kossman

"There are two sides to every argument, Mine and the wrong side."

If you were at a West Orange football game last fall and wondered who that good-looking end was, it was Dick. However, Kossy has interests other than football; his well groomed blond hair is his pride and joy. After school Dick works in his father's grocery store at Tory Corner, and during school he dreams of studying engineering at Rutgers after graduation.

Eleanor Jockel

"El"

"Life is what you make it."

The only commodities ever given away free at the cafeteria lunch counter have been Eleanor's pleasant and ever-ready smile. As a student cashier she performed an important role in the smooth operation of the cafeteria. She can usually be seen travelling to and from Pleasantdale. Eleanor's cooperativeness and friendly way should help her in her future in the business world.

Evelyn Kay

"Evie"

"Sweeter than honey in a honey comb."

Evie's sweet disposition, pleasant voice, and gracious manner have made her a welcomed member of WOHS. She gets much enjoyment from good music and good books, but much of her time is spent thinking about a certain air-force man. Evie hopes to become a nurse after graduation so that she may be able to help others.

Rhoda Cynthia Kiley

"Rhody"

"Here is a dear and true industrious friend."

Rhoda, who has chosen an unusual field for her career, engineering, has the mathematical ability and the perseverance necessary to reach her goal. Rhody is an "all-around sport"; for she enjoys basketball, swimming, and bowling. When she isn't busy with sports or mathematics, she has her school activities and her position as subscription editor of the yearbook to occupy her mind.

Ruth Keiling

"Ruthie"

"Honey isn't the only thing that's sweet."

Ruth is a small, good-natured senior with a wonderful sense of humor and a friendly personality. If you're looking for Ruthie after school, you will probably see her either laughing and "raising cane" with the other M.O.B.'s or cheering the team to a victory at a Cowboy game.

Marcia Kiviat

"Marci" "Markia"

"A bubbling personality finds escape in making everyone happy."

If you've never been bitten by the laugh bug, then you've never met the inimitable Marcia. Besides being known for her enthusiasm for sports, particularly bowling, her urges to cut people's hair, her yen for interior decorating, and her busy week-ends, Marci is also known as the co-editor of the personalities of the 1950 "West-O-Ranger."

Peter Koutouzakis

"Pete"

"Yes, I'm small, but watch me jump."

One of the busiest and best known boys in West Orange High, Peter is an active member of WOTAC, co-chairman of the yearbook subscription committee, and a consistent honor roll student. After graduation he plans to go to college where he will study to become a dentist. Pete's overwhelming popularity and vigorous ambition are bound to take him to the top.

Thomas Kuzik

"Clubber"

*"A little work, a little play—
The beck with work! Let's play."*

If you should happen to see a tall, lean senior racing around the hills and valleys of West Orange in Louie's car, it may well be Tom. Be-bop is his very favorite kind of music, and he would like very much for someone to will to him a permanent seat at Bop City. To become a millionaire without any effort at all is exactly what Clubber would like to do.

Raymond LaBadie

"Ray"

"Life fills his lap with pleasure and delight."

Ray can be found laughing with his friends at the Kandy Kane or taking strolls with that certain "Miss." He is known for his comical antics and is one fellow we shall remember for a long, long time. Though one may usually find him in a gay mood, Ray has his serious moments—but they are few and far between.

John Lange

"Punchy" "Jack"
"Women. Ab!"

Never may it be said that Jack hasn't an eye for a good looking girl. This curly headed fellow, whose Model "A" Ford boasts the distinction of being the oldest in the parking lot, can almost always be seen cavorting in his little "jallop." Jack has already put in his bid for the future: to obtain a good job and to become a millionaire.

Michael Larkin

"Irish"

*"He is Irish through and through,
With Irish wit and humor too."*

Mike, a typical Irishman with blue eyes and black hair, is noted for his clever art work, some of which is seen in this book. He can usually be seen plotting with the boys from the Kandy Kane or selling tickets at Lourdes' on Friday nights. Mike's plans for the future are still indefinite, but we all know he can't miss being successful.

John Launonen

"Jack"

"Take me out to the bicycle races."

Jack, whose ambition is to ride in a six days' bicycle race, can be found almost any week-end at the bicycle races picking up valuable pointers. On his seventeenth birthday this tall, red-headed senior became the proud owner of a 1936 Plymouth. Jack likes to spend his vacations on his uncle's farm in Ithaca, New York.

Sports Club IV; Auto Mechanics Club IV; Scoreboard II, III, IV.

William Lee

"Leo"

"Study, which my very soul abhors."

Leo, one of the Valley High School Refugees, is one of the more colorful characters in WOHS. He spends most of his time with his friends in the Valley, contemplating some new scheme. A hearty hail and a cloud of dust mark the appearance and disappearance of Leo in the bright red truck which he drives for a local market.

Paul Lee

"The world is a stage, and I am an actor."

Montclair sees more of Paul Lee than West Orange does; for he once lived there and now it's his favorite hangout. He has a strange affinity for obtaining tickets for speeding in his father's new Chevy. Paul, who likes all sports and roots for the New York Yankees with the faithfulness of "Old Dog Tray," hopes to join the Navy.

Marilyn Kleiner

"Marte"

"For nature made her what she is and never made another."

This girl with the bewitching eyes and pretty hair is quite a gal. When you see the twinkle in Marte's eyes, watch out. It usually means that she's hit upon another one of her brainstorm. Marte can always be found with her shadow, Mike, right behind her. She hopes to attend Mandel and to become a laboratory technician.

Ann Marie Koelsch

"Ann"

"It's a merry heart that hath many friends."

Any teacher that has had Ann in her homeroom will vouch for the fact that she has many friends, a garrulous manner, and a pleasant personality. Although most of the time Ann is seen dashing here and there, she always manages to stop to talk to a friend. After graduation, she plans to work for her father.

Barbara Kozlowski

"Bobby"

"Laughter makes the world go round."

Whenever you see a group of girls laughing hysterically, you can bet they're enjoying Koz's jokes. Her keen sense of humor can put anyone in a good mood. Known for her beautiful singing voice, Koz has been in the choir during her three years in high school. She plans to attend Katharine Gibbs for training in secretarial work.

Elaine Kurz

"Her hair is her crowning glory."

There are many flattering adjectives which describe Elaine, but she is best known to all of us for her strikingly beautiful red hair and her mischievous smile. Elaine is usually found laughing with Pat and the other MOB's or talking about the marvelous days at Manasquan. After recuperating at the shore this summer, Elaine would like to attend college.

Elizabeth Kunze

"Betty"

*"A steady girl with a steady mind,
A better girl is hard to find."*

A ready smile, a helping hand for everyone, a talent for dancing and sewing; these words summarize everyone's opinion of Betty. Many hours of Bet's time are spent in trying to convince some member of her family that she would take care of the car if she could "have it for only a while." Betty would like to make business school the next step in her education.

Jean Laing

"Red" "Jeanie"

"Through life I have looked on God."

Jeanie is recognized by her beautiful red hair and her infectious giggle. She is no different from the rest of us in that studies and gym are her favorite subjects. Red, an active member of the Hi-BA, would like to work with children after she is graduated; and, since she adores and understands them, she will have a successful career.

Margaret Elizabeth Landers

"Peg"

"To rate her charms, I'd call them Heaven."

Margaret seems to have the energy of ten women; for when she is not out working for the Roundup, studying, or cavorting here and there, she works in Luft's bakery. One of the J.U.G.'s, she is usually seen talking, the art in which she excels.

Gertrude Laufer

"Trudy"

"Her life has many hopes and aims."

Trudy may almost always be heard relating the marvels of that certain fellow from Newark and the recording sessions which she attends. She is very interested in the field of interior decorating and enjoys skimming through magazines, picking out pictures for examples of rooms for her ideal home.

Charles Lochner

"Unch"

"Life is just one confounded thing after another."

Although Charles is one of the smallest graduates, he is one of the oldest since he is almost 19. Many people don't know it, but he attended school in the South before coming to West Orange High. While at St. Andrew's School in St. Andrew's, Tennessee, Charles received a varsity letter in boxing. Charles is also a member of the Naval Reserve.

Subscription Campaign (Homeroom Captain) II, III; Sports Club II; Spanish Club III; International Relations Club IV.

Robert Longstreet

"Bob"

"He overwhelmed all with a torrent of words."

It is not an exacting task to pick out Bob Longstreet from a mob. Just look for a face with a wide grin. Once you make his acquaintance, you are not likely to forget him. Bob is an avid sports fan who zealously follows the New York Giants and many other teams. Bob is a ranking member of the National Guard. Yearbook (Art Committee) IV; International Relations Club III, IV; Art Club II, IV.

Paul London

"Quiet ways are the safest ways."

Although he's known to his friends as being rather quiet and retiring most of the time, Paul is also known to teachers as a conscientious worker. He is usually seen with a roguish grin on his face, an asset which adds to the little boy appearance created by his shock of blond hair. A "native" of Pleasantdale, Paul hopes to seek employment after graduation.

Chess Club II, III, IV; Auto Mechanics Club II.

Michal Margolis

"Big Mike"

"He would a dancer be."

If you ever want to locate Mike, simply follow the scent of a woman's perfume. When Mike hits the dance floor, he is transformed into a demon who can't stop his feet from beating out the rhythm. His very favorite hobbies are eating and borrowing money from Joe Goldberg; but to all who know him, Mike is quite a boy.

Robert McBride

"Bob" "Mac"

"Whoever said girls don't make passes at boys who wear glasses?"

Bob owes his attendance at school every morning to the obligating drivers who pick him up on Gregory Avenue and transport him to the portals of West Orange High. It must be his good looks which convince them to stop. His deep voice and charming smile are, no doubt, the assets which attract the members of the opposite sex.

Roundup (Business) II; Auto Mechanics Club II, III; Sports Club III, IV; Code Practice Club IV.

Anthony Marrello

"Scatz"

"A bit of rascality never hurt anyone."

Scatz, a boy with a ready smile, a sunny disposition, and an ever-present laugh, spends his free time on the "Avenue" with Duffy and the gang. As manager of the football team, Scatz can usually describe with authority the good and bad points of the team. After graduation he would like to referee basketball games and to work with sports. With his knowledge of sportsmanship, Scatz should go far in this field.

Jr. Varsity Football II; Varsity Football III; Baseball Club II; Sports Club III, IV; Football Club III, IV.

Joseph Matturri

"Cash"

"A big body with a big heart."

This husky, friendly fellow was one of the more prominent members of the noted West Orange High School football squad. Although he is an all-round athlete, Joe's virtues also extend to the classroom; for he does good school work. He would like to go to college, but thinks that Uncle Sam will have a big say in his future.

Jack Thomas McCann

"Jack"

"The days of peace and slumberous calm are over."

The quiet-shattering noises heard by the neighbors in "mountainside" are simply the results of Jack's carpentry. The favorite pipe dream of this outdoor-type male is to own his own fishing boat so that he may cruise around the Caribbean. Jack plays the trombone and serves as the manager of both the band and the orchestra.

Band II, IV; Orchestra II, IV; Sports Club II, III; Auto Mechanics Club III.

Jane Lucretia Leach

"Jimmy" "Leachwell"

"Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others can not keep it from themselves."

Where you find laughter and the expression "George," there you find Jimmy. A lover of horses, she may often be heard extolling upon the virtues of her favorite, "King." Jane is a talented musician, and while in high school she played the oboe and the trumpet in the band and the orchestra. Jane hopes to attend college.

Arline Lind

"Ar"

"To live is to learn."

Arline is a quiet, well liked, friendly girl who spends a great deal of time over a typewriter. She loves sewing, music, and being with children. Her pin money is earned by baby sitting. Her three years of experience with commercial courses in high school will help her in the future when she hopes to be employed as a secretary.

Marilyn Elizabeth Lenox

"Mel"

"For if she will, she will, you may depend on it."

Marilyn's ability and friendliness have made her a favorite of the students and the faculty. As co-editor of the Roundup, she is always snowed under with work; but every job she undertakes is done exceedingly well. Mel's interests center around men, music, and French. Her aims for the future are to study at George Washington University and to tour France.

Nancy Liljestrand

"Nan" "Lilly"

*"She's little, but she's wise;
She's a terror for her size."*

Not only is Nan one of the most popular seniors in WOHS, but she also is an honor student. Her merry eyes and vivid personality may be the reasons that she has so many friends. Her numerous diversions include sewing, swimming, dancing, and almost every other amusement that interests high school students. After graduation, Nan has high hopes of receiving training as a laboratory technician and obtaining her Mrs. degree.

Carmen Lopez

"Glad that I live, am I."

A lovely, shy smile and a constant good nature are the trademarks by which Carmen is known. Her most noted possession is that beautiful Castilian accent which is the envy of many Spanish students. Carmen finds special interest in the studying of English and plans to put her dual aptitude to good use by becoming a Spanish-English secretary.

Arttyping II, III; Music Appreciation IV; Student Secretaries IV.

Audrey Jane Luke

"Audrey"

"Thank God for Friday."

Audrey, usually seen with that certain fellow from Orange, is known for her infectious giggle and her witty remarks. Much of her time outside of school is occupied in planning delicious refreshments for a forum which meets at the YWCA every Friday night. After graduation she hopes to go to the Berkeley School where she will take up secretarial work.

Nancy Mahon

"Nan"

"Virtues like these make human nature shine."

Although Nancy may appear to be quiet, she is one of the liveliest members of the M.O.B.'s. She is always ready with a kind word and is known to everyone, including those fellows from Manasquan, as a "good kid." Nancy spends much of her time with Elaine driving around in the Ford. She may follow in her sister's footsteps by studying nursing.

Philomena Magliacane

"Phil"

"Her friendship is worth its weight in gold."

Phil, a sweet, dark-haired girl with a sympathetic nature, is the kind of person who befriends everyone. Whether it's basketball, baseball, volleyball, or any sport, for that matter, Phil will excel all others. Her athletic ability has won many games for her gym team. As a member of the clerical practice class, Phil has prepared herself for a future career in secretarial work.

John McCormick

"Johnny" "Mac"

"A leader of men; a follower of women."

A pleasing smile and a friendly personality are the trademarks of West Orange High's student congress president. Mac is a "Jack of all trades." His versatility is shown by his ability in school affairs, his interest and participation in basketball and football, and the odd jobs which he does in his spare time. Business school will probably be the next step in John's education.

Thomas Michaels

"Work is too confining; give me the wide open spaces."

Whether it is baseball, basketball, wrestling, or football, Tom is the boy who understands the sport. As one of the sports editors of the yearbook, Tom has used his knowledge to the best advantage. Before entering his father's printing business, he would like to exhaust his wanderlust by taking an automobile tour of the United States.

Yearbook (Sports Co-Editor) IV; Football Club II; Captain of Gym Team; Baseball Club II; Auto Mechanics Club III; Public Speaking Club IV.

Italco Mignone

"Duffy"

"Quiet but capable of great things."

Outwardly you wouldn't think Duffy to be our outstanding athlete. He is modest and unassuming but well known and liked by all. As an all-state back on our football team, Duffy has done a tremendous job making those hundred yard dashes look easy. His plans for the future are indefinite, but he will be a great success in whatever he does.

Howard Milman

"Skippy"

"The world knows nothing of its greatest men."

Big, blond Howard is one of our best football players. His versatility does not end there; for he plays in the orchestra and manages to maintain a fine scholastic record. Howard can usually be found biding his time between West Orange and Madison, studying his chemistry, or talking about his fishing trips. After being graduated he hopes to attend the college of his choice.

George Pfersch

"George"

"A good fellow, a fine friend."

Another one of those rugged Cowboys from the wilds of St. Cloud, George has proven his hardiness by the fact that he was the proud owner of a paper route when he was younger. At the present time, he is quite interested in photography and in playing the piano. After high school George hopes to go to Stevens Tech. where he would like to take up engineering.

C. Stanley Otto

"Stan"

"Be silent and safe—silence never betrays you."

One of our budding scientists, Stan's pet daydream is to own a house in which he can experiment chemically to his heart's content. He can often be found talking over one of these explosive experiments with the "Mad Scientist." Stan's interests also include radio, photography, Boy Scouts, and birds, a subject about which he knows a great deal. Stan hopes to go to college.

William Pansulla

"Willie"

The streets at the Tory Corner are often decorated with the forms of Willie Pansulla and his buddies, Pat and Jerry. Willie is a fellow whose two main interests, baseball and music, occupy much of his time. Although an active choir and glee club member, and J.V. baseball player, he also plays on the West Orange American Legion Baseball Team.

Track II; Choir II, III, IV; Boys' Glee Club II, III, IV; Bridge Club II, IV.

Theresa Maturri

"Terry"

"Melody and rhythm are the pulse of modern living."

Terry loves popular music and enjoys nothing more than to listen or to dance to the latest disc sensation. The outstanding features for which she is known are her lovely clothes and chic grooming. Terry is planning to capitalize on these after being graduated by becoming a professional model. She is now attending the Vogue Modeling School.

Glee Club II; Modern Dance Club II; Modern Music Appreciation Club II, (Vice President) IV.

Jeanne McCormack

"Jeannie"

"She looks so shy; but, oh, That mischief in her eye!"

A busy girl is our Jeanne. Being co-editor of the Round-up is one of her most important activities. She is often seen on the field during the football season as a twirler. Jeanne has recently become a ukulele fan, as have many of the other 880 members.

Catherine McNeal

"Catherine"

"Kate"

She speaketh little; And yet there lies wisdom in her eyes."

There are probably few books in our library that Catherine hasn't read; for she would rather spend her time reading than doing anything else. She has a tremendous vocabulary to prove it. Catherine, a lover of good music and a sports fan, has chosen grade school teaching as the field in which she would like to work after graduating from high school.

Alice McMahon

"Al"

"Laughter is her chief delight."

Alice is our perennial gloom-dodger. No worries or blues can possibly persist when her gay laugh is around to chase them away from us. As a hobby, Al has made many of her clothes in her fine wardrobe and always does a professional looking job. After graduation she would like to carry out her ambition of becoming a bookkeeper.

F.H.A. Club II, III; Music Appreciation Club (Modern) III; Opera Club IV; Sub-Captain of Gym Team III.

Joyce Middlecamp

"Bunnie"

"Happy and carefree as the day is long."

Being happy and fun-loving, Joyce has the ability to make many friends. With her initiative Joyce may fulfill her ambition to become the first female president of the United States; for she has already held the title of "Miss Woolworth." Presently she is employed by the Monroe Calculating Company. Joyce's likes include blond men in blue convertibles.

Choir II, III, IV; Glee Club II, III, IV; Modern Dancing Club IV; Student Secretaries IV.

Marilyn Mondacci

"Lorrie"

"Marriage is destiny."

Marilyn, a girl with a shy smile and blushing face, can usually be seen hurrying to phone Gene during lunch period or dashing home to be there when he calls her. A collector of photographs, Lorrie always is asking for pictures of her friends. Her plans for the future are to work for a while and to be able to write a "Mrs." before her name.

Charles Quigley

"Charlie"

"Time, I dare thee to discover such a guy and such a lover."

Charlie, whose friendly smile seems almost a part of the "Kollege Korner," is noted for his easy-going disposition, which has won him many friends. A fan of all sports, he has been a valuable left tackle on our football squad for the past year. His ambition is still unknown; but according to Charlie, sixty million dollars could make all his dreams come true.

Varsity Football III, IV; Sports Club III; Wrestling Club IV; Football Club III, IV.

Charles Read

"Charlie"

"I have been dying for four years, and now I am going to live."

Charlie can be seen driving his black "V" with those sharp white-walled tires. Saturdays finds him up at the "loops" waiting for triples so he can take out a certain East Orange girl that night. He also likes to practice car racing in Llewellyn Park and other parts of West Orange. Charlie has no definite plans for the future.

Vincent Rimback

"Vince"

"He who seeks shall find, and he who sleeps shall dream."

You can usually find Vince in his backyard fixing up the "heap" with some of his other amateur mechanic friends. If you haven't seen that battered Chevie, his pride and joy, you have missed one of the sights of W.O.H.S. His main interests include carpentry, camping, and women. Vincent's plans for the future are "anything that comes along."

Louis Russo

"Lou"

"For he was always mischievous."

Louie is well known for his smiling face and friendly humor. He usually is seen shooting around the halls with one or another of his numerous friends. We shall remember Lou better, however, as the boy who kept Pop company in 209 after school. His jovial personality has made him popular and should help him to go far.

Peter Schneider

"Pete"

"He'll never be lost in the crowd."

Pete is one of West Orange High's outstanding musicians and is known for his ability to play both the piano and the violin well. Active in many school functions, he is the football manager and the official scorer. Pete's pleasant personality and apt remarks have helped to liven up even the dullest classes. After graduation, Pete hopes to attend Antioch or Bucknell.

Jean Musso

"Jean"

*"Her voice is more than melody;
Her smile more than light."*

A sweet smile and a pleasant manner are indications of Jean's grand personality. Besides being vice-president, she has many other activities, one of which is being with her friends of the J.U.G.'s. Her cooperation and willingness to help others are only two of Jean's good traits.

Margaret Nolan

"Peggy"

"Here still is the smile that no cloud can o'ercast."

Peggy, liked by all, is a girl whose nickname fits her to a "T." When not in school, Peg spends much of her spare time swimming, bowling, playing miniature golf, or dancing. Her secret ambition is to be an artist or a beautician. Peg plans to attend some beauty culture school after she is graduated.

Bernice Mulligan

"Buzzy"

*"A girl who is pleasant, a girl who is gay,
A girl who is happy the livelong day."*

Since she is easy to make friends with and seldom seen without a smile, Buzzy is one of the best liked girls in school. She lives from day to day just waiting for her next vacation in Greenport, Long Island, where she can see her one and only. Our crystal ball spots secretarial school and marriage in Buzz's happy and successful future.

Valerie Newcombe

"Val" "Nikki"

"What more could you ask for?"

The little green Willys Overland that we see loaded down with kids morning and afternoon is Val's pet possession. In addition to her car, Val is noted for her versatility in music, dancing, and sports and for her willingness to take part in wild schemes. After graduation Val hopes to go to college in California and then to settle down in the Golden State.

Doris Nuss

"Dor"

"Take advantage of life while you're young."

Doris's face is familiar to everyone around school; for, during her three years of high school, she has been an office messenger. Her long ash-blond hair and ready smile are often seen in the halls between classes when she laughs and kibitzes with Ann Araneo. After receiving her diploma, Doris would like to obtain work as a secretary.

Richard Shand

"Dick"

*"Life is a jest, and all things show it;
I thought so once, but now I know it."*

If you start hearing bells, have no fear, you are not going goofy. It's only Dick in his '38 Studebaker, known to all as the "Squattin' Frog." Dick is one of West Orange's members who have been claimed by the Naval Reserve. Rumors have it that, although he likes the Navy very much, he refuses to be taken unless they take his car along too.

Ronald Sheay

"Spec" "Ronnie"

"God bless the person with a sense of humor."

As his friends know, Ronnie's quiet exterior hides a terrific personality. If, on any morning, you should hear noises coming from 315 during the first period, you can be sure it was caused by one of his jokes. Although he has not yet made up his mind about his future, we know that Ronnie will be a very successful person.

Alan Shimp

"Al"

"I am silent, but I am capable of great things."

A sports fiend as well as a player, Alan is an avid Dodger fan. During his three years at WOHS Alan has been a member of the J.V. football squad and an active member of the Hi-Y Club. Capability in all types of mathematics will make it easy for him to succeed in the field of engineering which he would like to enter after graduation.

Michael Silvani

"Mike"

*"A little work, a little play;
Oh heck! Let's just play."*

Mike may be seen almost anywhere in West Orange "cutting up" or charming Marte. Well liked throughout the school for his easy, friendly manner and his keen wit, he spends many hours in the shop fixing pieces of furniture from the Kleiner home. Although Mike's weaknesses are wine, Marte, song, and school, the future looks very bright for him.

What a guy! Good natured, good-looking, well liked, and a "Good Sam." Stan can usually be found riding about the sticks of Pleasantdale in his car with a gang of happy blonde Swedes. He is known for his ability at sounding off sour notes in Glee Club; but on Sunday those sour notes turn to sweet church melodies.

Jr. Varsity Basketball II; Choir II, III, IV; Glee Club III, IV; Student Council (Representative) IV; Auto Mechanics Club II, III, IV; Captain of Gym Class III, IV.

Donald Spaid

"Big Ace"

"And thereby hangs a tale."

The "Ace-mobile" that you usually see rolling to Haddonfield, New Jersey, is Don's pride and joy. When speaking to Don, you may find the conversation drifting to women, football, cars, or music; for these topics hold the top spots on his "favorite subjects list." Don has no definite plans for the future other than to become the top salesman for the Curtis Publishing Co.

Evelyn Pederson

"Ev" "Petey"

*"A little work, a little play
To keep us going—and so a good day!"*

Evelyn, the tall blonde usually seen running errands for everyone in the family "chariot," is known for her graciousness to drive people everywhere. She is very fond of music, likes to swim, and has recently become an ardent bowling fan. Although she is undecided right now as to her future career, Evelyn expects to enter secretarial school in the fall.

Jean Pericolo

"Blondie"

"Honey of hair and light of heart."

Jean's beautiful honey blonde hair, which is her pride and joy, is also her most noted possession. A lively, laughing member of the C.K.G.'s, Jean may always be found fooling around in the halls with one of the other members. When June rolls around, Jean will be very happy to march down the aisle for her diploma and then relax and make up for lost years.

Glee Club II; Music Appreciation Club II, IV.

Elizabeth Psichos

"Betty"

"Dimple in her chin; devil within."

A member of both band and orchestra, Betty is fond of music and enjoys trying to play different musical instruments. The New York Giants rank as her favorite team, for Betty is also an avid sports fan. After school, she may be found out on the football field playing her clarinet. Betty hopes to study interior decorating after graduation.

Mary Raftery

"A quiet disposition tends to a higher position."

Mary, homeroom 210's silent partner, is also one of its finest seamstresses; for she makes a good many of her own clothes. The Dodgers have an ardent fan in Mary, who faithfully listens to the games and spends the rest of her time working at Kress's Five and Ten. Obtaining a job with the Bell Telephone Company is Mary's objective for the future.

George Thatcher

"Egroeg"

"Music bath charms to soothe the savage beast."

Anyone searching for George is liable to find him either at Paul's or with Fuzzy and Company. In school George sings first tenor and was in the All-State Chorus this year. He is active in other school functions. His main ambition is to sleep for five years, but that is probably impossible; he can dream, can't he? After graduation George plans to further his career in singing.

Choir II, III, IV; Glee Club III, IV; Spanish Club III; Ballroom Dancing Club IV.

Frank Bader Vanderhoof

"Van"

"Men of few words are the best men."

Frank, although quiet, is an active person both in and out of school. "Van" is mechanically minded; and, in his spare time, he can usually be found with Dave, Charlie, or his cousin working over some motor. Outside of school Frank is an active member of both the Roseland Rifle Club and the Livingston Airplane Club. After graduation Van would like to study mechanical engineering.

Charles Ullman

"Chally"

"What mischief hides behind that sober mind?!"

Chally is known to all the Tory Cornerites as a "good Joe." This boy, who can usually be found working in his father's store on Ridge Street, always has a smile for the passer-by, especially if it happens to be a member of the fairer sex. He has two strange habits; falling asleep in English class and throwing the bull. Music Appreciation Club; Visual Aids Club; Auto Mechanics Club; Sports Club.

Peter Vittoria

"Pete"

"Fond of dress; fonder of dresses."

Pete, who is known for his lack of razor blades, or lack of time to use them, can usually be found near the scene of a misdemeanor, chuckling to himself. Everyone knows that his chuckling means that he has successfully carried out one of his insane schemes. Pete is undecided as to what he will do in the future.

Charles Weis

"Charley"

*"Sober, but not serious;
Quiet, but not idle."*

Not too talkative, Charlie is a man of actions rather than words. The Paul Bunyon of the senior class, he hopes to someday help keep America green as a worker in the Forestry Service. Next to forestry, Charley's main interests center around the fortunes of his favorite football and baseball teams, the Giants. He hopes to enter college after graduation.

David Walrod

"Dave"

"A soft smile and a happy-go-lucky air Vanish all worry and care."

Dave is a sandy-haired senior with a cute grin. He's an active and interested member of the Hi-Y club, a great fishing enthusiast, a builder of model airplanes, and a teller of the fishiest fish stories you have ever heard. Dave hasn't yet decided the college that he wants to attend, but he plans to teach industrial arts eventually.

Robert Weidele

"Bob"

*"Silence is golden,
But who's on the gold standard?"*

Bob, who used to be an ardent swimming fan and competitor, has switched to playing the saxophone because, although it may not be so easy on the ears, it surely is not a strain of the muscles. Every Thursday morning during assembly Bob can be found hidden in the midst of the famous West Orange orchestra doing his best to prevent one of those sour notes.

"Gen"

"The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want."

To those who eat during the first lunch period Gen is a familiar figure; for she is the girl who takes their money. Aside from her interests here at school, Gen is president of her church's youth group and is a very active member of the Salvation Army. After graduation Gen intends to continue serving her Lord through the work of the Salvation Army. F.H.A. I; Classical Music Appreciation I; Student Secretaries II; Business Practice II.

Jean Schofield

"Yutch" "Teaser"

"Infinite riches in a little room."

Jean is one half of a set of twins, a member of the cheerleading squad, and the recording secretary for the Student Congress. She likes to knit and sew. During the school seasons she is usually found with an 880 member; and, in the summer, she loafs on the beach at Point Pleasant. Jean wants to go to La Salle Junior College.

Marguerite Shlala
"Margo"

"A merry life and a gay spirit."

If anyone ever called Margo "Marguerite," she would hesitate before answering. She has been an active member of Student Congress and has been one of the organizers and committee chairmen of many functions. This peppy, dark-haired miss can usually be seen being towered over by a handsome fellow, or towering over her good friend Adrienne.

Jeanne Somma
"Dimps"

*"Good things come in small packages,
And this one comes with a smile."*

Jeannie's stature hasn't hindered the growth of her personality. If any one can keep you rolling with laughter, it's that little half-pint with the cute smile. Her only weakness is that special guy whose letters cause her to dash home after school.

Carole Ann Smolensky

"Slim" "Smo"

*"A girl who is pleasant, a girl who is gay,
A girl who is happy the livelong day."*

West Orange High has benefited from Carole's winning personality and charming manner; for, as a member of our twirling squad, she helped to support the football team. Smo, a "J.U.G.," is usually laughing, joking, or being her jolly old self. Her ambition is to become an airline hostess and then to receive her Mrs. degree.

Robert Zabriskie

"Seabiscuit" "Bob"

"It's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice."

Bob, a boy who is often seen walking around the halls with a broad smile on his face, says that his main interests are horses and women. We are inclined to believe his greater favorite to be horses; for he is at the stable every day, and his art work is almost exclusively equestrian. Bob enjoys sailing on Lake Hopatcong and riding with the Essex Troop. He plans to become a veterinarian after college.

Maureen Sullivan

"Maureen"

"Is she quiet and demure?"

Maybe, but don't be too sure."

The girl with the bright blue eyes and beautiful blonde hair could be none other than Maureen. Her popularity may be attributed to her sweet disposition. Maureen loves a good time; and, when she's with her friends, the M.O.B.'s, she can be found having fun. Her plans are to attend Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School and to work in an office.

Sandra Wallace

"Sandy"

"Dark of hair, but not of heart."

"C'mon, Cowboys — smear 'em." The loudest voice leading this cheer is probably Sandra's; for her enthusiasm for the Cowboys and her best friend, Mary, carry her to all the football games. An ambitious, sweet, dark-haired girl, Sandy has added to the number of "working girls" at W.O.H.S., since she has worked at McCrory's. She is undecided as to her future career.

Joan Trier

"You must have been a beautiful baby."

Joan, one of the pulchritudinous members of our twirling squad, was often found practicing her skill on the field during the football season. Known to all for her pleasant way with people and her vivaciousness, she can usually be found with the 880's talking over the usual Monday night meeting. After graduation Joan plans to attend college, probably Dickinson, where she will major in psychology.

Jacquelyn Ward

"Jacque"

"Every lassie has her laddie."

Jacque is well-known for her generosity, friendliness, and beautiful clothes. She can usually be seen driving around in her tan Ford convertible with some of the 880's, reading one of Jack's letters, or running off to spend a week-end with him at R.P.I. Jacque hopes to attend Skidmore College where she will study business and psychology.

Donna White

"A tall body leaves room for a big heart."

Donna, an attractive, blonde, blue-eyed senior, is noted for her likable personality which captivates the hearts of all who meet her. One of the J.U.G.'s, Donna may usually be seen arguing with Solveig over who is the taller. Her plans for the future are uncertain, but with such a pleasing personality she will go far in whatever career she chooses.

Janet Wilckens

"Willie"

"A friendly spirit hath many friends."

One of our friendliest seniors, Janet has the distinction and the luck of being a twin. An active member of the school choir, she is known to us by her pleasant voice. Outside of school Janet spends much of her time with her twin sister, Joan, and Rosemary. After graduation Janet hopes to attend either Berkeley or Katharine Gibbs.

Joan Wilckens

"Joanie"

"In youth and beauty, wisdom is but rare."

Member of the choir, twirler, an inspiring artist—sounds like a talented person, doesn't she? Well, she is. This popular girl is a member of the 880's and has the distinction of being part of a set of twins. Joan is interested in the theater, but she is having a hard time deciding what her plans for the future will be, college or art school.

Phyllis Yoskalka

"Phyl"

"Cute personality; full of rascality."

Phyllis, a small package packed with pep and personality, is one of the most popular seniors in WOHS. She is well known for her witty remarks and for her ability as a pianist. In spite of all her extracurricular activities, Phyllis manages to earn high scholastic grades and has seldom missed the honor roll in high school.

Joan Williams

"Joanie"

"Happy and carefree am I."

A job with Becker's Dairy, homework, and sewing keep Joan, a girl with a great deal of ambition, busy. When not busy working, she can usually be found chatting with Nancy. Social work is the career that Joan has chosen to follow; and with her sincere desire to help others, she will undoubtedly be a success in this field.

Beverly Wilson

"Bev"

"Always good natured, good humored, and happy."

Bev is one of the sweetest girls in the senior class. Among her favorite hobbies are skating and dancing. Extremely talented in sewing, she makes a large percentage of the clothes in her wardrobe. Secretarial work is right up her alley; and, with her pleasant personality, Bev is sure to be a success in this field after she is graduated.

THE JUNIORS

U. N. Atomic Energy Commission votes to suspend its activities.

Junior Class Dean,
Advisers and Class Officers

Within our lifetime great strides have been made in the field of science, a subject introduced to the youth in his school years. Radar, jet-propulsion, and the atomic bomb are only a few of our major inventions. What a pity, though, that so much energy has been devoted to the development of destructive weapons! Scientists have been compelled to work individually toward the same goal, unaware of each other's progress. To help another country was to be a traitor to one's own. What progress could have been accomplished had scientists of all nations used their energy working together solely for the good of all! In the United Nations the Atomic Energy Commission has been striving not only to control the use of the atomic bomb but also to advance further this powerful weapon for peaceful use. Perhaps it may be through this organization that scientists can exchange ideas, correlate information, and thus aid each other. When such action can be undertaken without fear of one's work being utilized to destroy rather than to create, then we will see great scientific advancement.

THE CLASS OF 1952

H. Lawler, President

J. Marateo, Treasurer

Among the peoples of the United Nations we find groups from all spheres of life, all parts of the world, working together, reaching for the goal of world-wide peace and harmony. The junior class may be recognized as being a similar group of people, each one coming from a different family, home, and environment, and each one having a different background. They, too, must learn to work and live together during their school days.

High school years are interesting years; for in high school new friendships are made, new fields of learning are uncovered, new activities are engaged in, and new horizons are being formed.

The juniors elected a number of capable people to guide them through their school life. In their sophomore year they elected Arnold Olsen, president; Gail Nathaniel, vice-president; Virginia Moll, secretary; and Harry Lawler, treasurer. This year Harry Lawler ably led the junior class as its president. Joe Marateo, vice-president, assisted Harry in discharging his duties. Ann O'Rourke, secretary, kept the minutes of the class meetings in order; and Bill Imgrund helped the juniors to pay their bills.

The class of 1952 has many brilliant scholars; such as, Linda Eastwood, Jill Englander, Doris Deibler, and Marie Leighbiger. Harry Lawler, Paul Donahue, George Bartlett, Ed Panuska, Walt Vanderbush, John Fantell, and Tory Froisland will be remembered for their prominence on the school varsity teams.

The activities of many of the versatile juniors were varied, indeed: Gidion Panter spoke on the Junior Town Meeting of the Air and won first prize for his excellent debating; Linda Eastwood won the prize for being the top salesman during the annual Curtis Campaign in her sophomore year; several members of the class worked on the "Roundup" and the "West-O-Ranger" to help make these publications successful. But the juniors did not engage in work only; they also spent some time having fun. On April 6th the junior prom was held. It shall always be remembered because of its romantic atmosphere and of the great fun had by all who attended.

In these trying times it is more imperative than ever that high school students, who will be the citizens of tomorrow, learn to work harmoniously and to take interest in the United States' present position in foreign affairs. The juniors of today will become the seniors of tomorrow, and then they will step out into the world to strive to become useful citizens. The class of 1952 has already proved itself capable of taking on the responsibilities of the class of 1951.

THE SOPHOMORES

Sixth Meeting of the U. N.
Commission of Human Rights,
Lake Success, N. Y.

Advisers and Class Officers

In the W. O. school system, the study of a foreign language introduces to the students a fuller comprehension of the customs and manners of a greater population of the world. Besides acquiring a proficient use of the languages themselves, they also gain an insight into the lives of many peoples: their character, their way of living, their manner of thinking. The future will find them using this valuable knowledge in the exchange of confidence and in the ever expanding foreign trade in a world which is continually diminishing in size. When discussing international affairs, citizens will be able, not only to converse in the same language, but also to interpret and understand more clearly the difference in viewpoints. With this understanding will disappear the prejudices and misconceptions that for so long have held the world in fear and war. When all nations utilize an organization, such as, the U. N., to confer with mutual understanding and to settle amiably their problems, then only blind stubbornness or sheer contempt of righteousness will prevent peace and harmony.

THE CLASS OF 1953

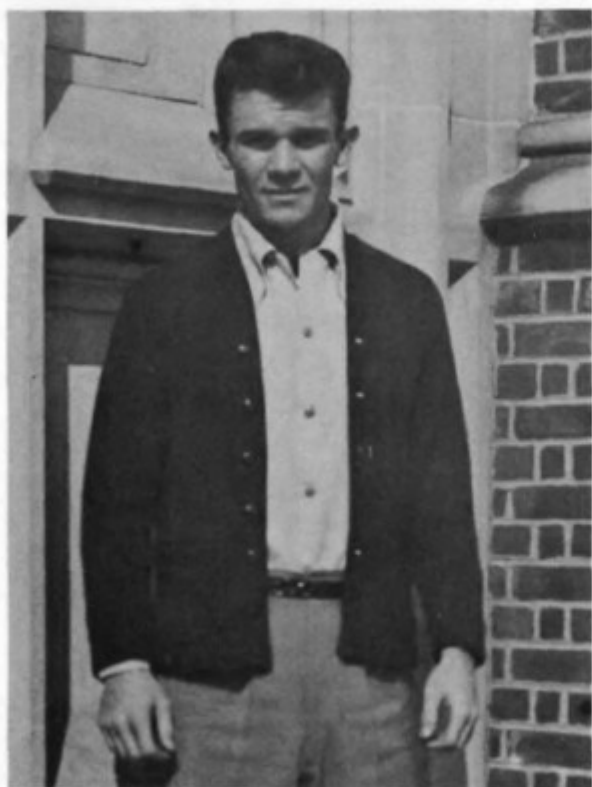

When the sophomores entered West Orange High in the fall, they were, perhaps, somewhat apprehensive about what was to confront them during the months to come. However, as the weeks went by, and they became accustomed to the routine of the school, they discovered that a sophomore's life is not so bad after all.

In the sophomore class there were many outstanding boys and girls, and they chose capable and deserving students to lead them in their various class activities. President of the class was Charles Ferrone, a popular boy, who proved his capability as a leader when he was the president of the ninth grade in Edison Junior High School. Cute Phyllis Gartenberg was elected vice-president of the class. Phyllis was an "old hand" at this job, for she had also been vice-president of her ninth grade class. Treasurer of the class, Guy Macauley, was a popular figure around school; and last, but not least, was Ann Pelligrino, the capable treasurer of her class.

During the various campaigns that were held in school, the sophomores boarded the "bandwagon" and displayed both talent and ambition. For example, the Curtis Campaign gave these newcomers a chance to make names for themselves; and many of them took advantage of this opportunity when they made some of the highest sales in the school. The Christmas Door Decoration Contest brought forth an opportunity for some of the more artistic sophomores to become real competitors of the seniors and juniors.

In April the sophomores held their annual "sophomore hop," an affair which was their gala event of the year.

Now that the year is over, and the sophomores are preparing themselves for their junior year, they can be sure that their year has not been a wasted one; for it has opened new doors for them and has given them more self-assurance and confidence. In September these boys and girls will not enter the high school as frightened sophomores, but they will pass through its door as confident juniors, ready for a full year of learning.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

A U. N. sponsored rugby game between English and French teams.

Kossman reaches for an aerial at Irvington.

Self-control and poise are two fine human qualities that are typical of the benefits derived by athletes from their respective games. The experiences that come from the stress and strain of athletic contests develop this self-control, this poise, and, perhaps more important, sportsmanship; for the hectic moments of games bring out the true character and mettle which compose the participant. In sports, as in life itself, one must know how to bear reversals as well as how to accept good fortune or victories. This is yet another of the lessons taught by football to those young men who play the game. They know that we must be able to take final decisions as such, whether these be favorable or adverse, no matter how determined, whether by actual competition, by chance, or by circumstance; furthermore, these decisions, even though they may be bitter pills to swallow, must be accepted graciously without display of anger or contempt for the victor. All people, then, can learn by and profit from these plain lessons in character improvement taught by football.

Duffy stops East Orange to the amazement of Harry Lawler and Frank Lisella.

The 1950 football season was not so satisfactory as might be wished; however, in spite of the many injuries that weakened the team, the Cowboys played with fine spirit. The season opened with the Irvington game, the only one in which West Orange was at full strength. The Cowboys, blocking and tackling viciously, scored twice in the first half; but the Camptowners hit pay dirt four times in the second half to forge ahead. In the next game the West Orange gridders crushed a state-champion Clifford Scott eleven. The following Saturday, Duffy, making two touchdowns and a conversion, led the Johnson-men to the hard-fought upset of the powerful East Orange machine. In their next game, played with Kearny, the Cowboys wasted Duffy's hundred yard run in a defeat by the determined Cardinals. In the fifth contest West Orange fell at the hands of Orange. Duffy's brilliant hundred yard runback of a kick and an aerial from Doyle to DeVincentis were their only scores. A strong Barringer aggregation then whipped the Cowboys and gained revenge for our 41-6 victory of the previous year. In the seventh game an inspired West Orange football team battled the group four state champs, Montclair. Halftime showed the Mounties behind, 7-0; but two touchdowns by the Blues and a penalty nullifying a Cowboy score brought a final defeat of 14-7 to West Orange. The season finally closed with two losses, one to Westfield and the other to Columbia on Thanksgiving Day.

... OUR CHEERLEADERS ...

Row 1: Karen Sue Lando, Mascot, Row 2: D. Rosania, K. Taylor, N. Tobin, J. Schofield. Row 3: J. Schofield, M. Finelli, J. Jaeger, M. Rich, S. Burke, J. Carlson.

The enthusiasm of the spectators at our football games and pep rallies was aroused by our hard working, peppy cheerleaders. The squad this year consisted of seven seniors, three juniors, and one substitute.

Many new cheers were introduced and used besides a number of the old ones that had been favorites with the students. Cooperating with the cheerleaders, Mr. Reifsnyder and the band performed on the field during the football games and played accompaniments for some of the cheers.

The cheerleaders not only helped to spur on the football team to victory, but also did their share to boost the morale of our basketball players.

It has been proved time and time again that a football team, or any other athletic team, can not win if it doesn't have the spirit and the interest of its spectators behind it. This would be true of our football teams; for if our cheerleaders did not arouse so much school spirit at the games, the teams would not have the will to play as hard as they do.

Think of the words rhythm, precision, and beauty; and if you have ever been a spectator at the Cowboy football games, you will immediately recall a group of twelve glamorous girls in sparkling white uniforms strutting down the field. These were the twirlers of W.O.H.S., girls chosen from a group that had been taking lessons from preceding twirlers during the winter and early spring months.

To their audience the twirlers seem to manipulate those batons with the greatest of ease, but it is only after many afternoons of hard practice that they accomplish such precision. The squad is noted for its excellent timing and interesting routines which it composes itself. Always with them is Mrs. Terry, their adviser, to give helpful advice and encouragement.

Besides participating in football games, the twirlers have taken an active part in the pep rallies preceding our most important games. Let's take off our hats to the high stepping girls from West Orange High!

BASKETBALL

American and Peruvians playing at Olympic games.

Basketball is a sport in which an interdependent combination of five men must function as one unit. To accomplish this result, basketball teams, like individuals, societies, and nations, employ cooperation as a medium. The truly great teams in the history of the game, the old New York Celtics, the current Minneapolis Lakers, and others, reached the top rung of the ladder of success by working together to achieve victory, even though those teams had fine individual players, as Nat Holman, Joe Lapchick, and George Mikan. Star performers, if properly incorporated into a pattern of cooperative play, are definite assets to any team; but these same men can be detriments to teams by attempting to live up to their press notices or by "hogging the spotlight." Teams of individuals, societies, and nations abide by practically the same law, which assures them of mutual aid and common survival. The United Nations is founded on this theoretical principle. Only through the unqualified cooperation of every member nation can the ultimate goal of the organization, peace and harmony among nations, be reached.

Many past West Orange High teams have compiled better won-and-lost records than this year's club; yet if we consider the many obstacles which they were forced to overcome, the maroon and white turned in a very commendable showing. The Cowboys started the season with but one returning letterman, Sal Iuso, and a squad predominated by juniors. Still they managed to cop the inter-Oranges' basketball crown for the third consecutive year. Led by Captain Sal Iuso, our quintet came out on the long end of the score in five of our six traditional inter-Oranges' games. Perhaps the highlight of the season was the club's last home game, in which they conquered the previously unbeaten county champions, Belleville, thirty-eight to twenty-nine. Prospects for the future look very bright for Coach Rankin. From this year's squad he loses only Louis Donofrio, Stan Tallaksen, and Sal Iuso. On the other hand the team's high scorer, Walt Vanderbush, in addition to John Fantell, Tory Froisland, Tom Freda, Joe Giarratana, Cy Anfindsen, George Bartlett, and George Butsikares, all of whom saw considerable service during the past campaign, will return to carry West Orange to newer and greater heights on the hardwood.

SPRING SPORTS

Cricket match between Australians and English.

Many years have passed since sports were first introduced into the West Orange School System, and each succeeding year has brought increasing benefits to those boys and girls who have participated in them. In the developing of a spirit of cooperation, a sense of responsibility, and a respect for fair play, truth, and other commendable qualities, sports have proved themselves invaluable. They have also provided an opportunity for the spectators as well as for the participants, to enjoy the benefits of the out-of-doors, a gift of Nature too often overlooked. Since in this intricate life of today there is an increasing demand for upright men and women, intelligent and capable men and women who possess an understanding, not only of themselves and their own people, but also of the people of the world, all right thinking Americans of today entertain certain aspirations, hopes, and determinations that the youth of this age be developed into the citizen of tomorrow with the ability to attain for us the peace and the stability of the world.

When Mr. O'Keefe's baseball club took the field for its first game, the starting line-up for the maroon and white was made up predominately of sophomores and juniors, many of whom were playing their first game for West Orange. Of last year's fifteen letter winners only Chico Santucci and Lou Donofrio opened the season in their old positions. The remaining spots were wide open and a large group of diamond enthusiasts battled it out for the remaining positions. The pitching staff was made up of Al Calabria, Bob Shubert, George Bartlett, and George Folkes. In the infield George Bartlett and Torry Froisland divided the first base job; Rip Fahey and Willie Pansulla were in a fight for second as were Matty Bornstein and George Spangler at short; Cy Anfindsen and Joe Di Maggio at third; and Rodger Shannon and Billy Greenan behind the plate. The outfield positions were divided up among Lou Donofrio, Chico Santucci, Gooch Di Vincenzo, Russell Mayer, and Louie DeMeo. No matter who was on first base or what was on second, Mr. O'Keefe's ball-players could be counted on to make a commendable showing on the diamond.

R. Blum, J. Giarratana

After compiling a very enviable record last year, Mr. Finch and his tennis team faced a huge rebuilding job this spring. Only three of last season's seven lettermen were available for competition; furthermore, of these three, Lou Grotta, Dave Blum, and Joe Giarratana, only Grotta had had any singles experience in inter-school matches. The rest of the squad was composed of sophomores and juniors, most of whom were long on enthusiasm but short on experience. From this group, which included Frank Lisella, Bob Greenhall, George Rousakis, Roger Adams, and John Mateyka, came the remainder of this year's squad and the nucleus for West Orange teams of the future. Despite the numerous handicaps they had to overcome, you may feel assured that Mr. Finch and his racqueteers garnered their share of court victories this spring.

GOLF

The bright pre-season prospects and predictions for this year's golf team turned out to be no false alarms. Three lettermen, Captain Charlie Read, Alberta Moeltner, and Paul Donahue, returned to form the core of the squad; and a trio of capable candidates, including John Steinbach, Howard Sandler, and Henry Zoubek, more than adequately filled the remaining positions. It is no wonder that Mr. Evans' linksters were quickly molded into one of West Orange High's most potent groups of par-busters.

TRACK

The Cowboys, under Mr. Johnson, competed in a difficult '51 schedule, with four returning lettermen as a nucleus for the team. Brydon, Vanderhoof, and Kossman competed in the dashes. The discus was spun by Matturi, Margolis, and Shand. The other weight men were Brozyna and Millman, shot-putters, and McBride and Zabriskie, javelin hurlers. Carter and Furrer did the high-jumping; and Blanchard and Adler, the pole vaulting. Bork scored in the mile. These seniors were supplemented by the pick of fifty other candidates. With much hard work West Orange completed a successful season.

GIRLS' SPORTS

A few more than fifty years ago, the schools of West Orange had no physical education of any kind for girls. The program was begun with calisthenics and marching to increase the health and strength of the girls' bodies. From this evolved the program of today which includes hockey, speedball, basketball, volleyball, and softball. Besides being healthful, these games offer enjoyment that makes every student look forward to her gym period. These girls are healthier and stronger than the generation which preceded them—and they need to be. The girls of today will be the women of tomorrow, and women are taking a larger and larger place in the world. In politics, education, medicine, science, religion, law, and sports, women are taking more part. There are Congresswomen, women representatives to the United Nations, intelligent women professors, women doctors and scientists, and women ministers and missionaries. Women have proved themselves experts enough in the field of skating, diving, and skiing to win prizes in international competition. Even today, some towns and cities have women mayors. Perhaps, in the future, the United States may have a woman president. Can we guess what else the world of tomorrow will bring to the girls of today? Whatever it is, they will be ready.

Square Dancing in the Gym.

Aim for the rim!

Struggling with shinguards.

A cloud of dust and a hearty shout—what is it all about, you ask. Why, just a girls' gym class; and despite all the hard work and commotion, the girls do enjoy their gym classes.

The classes are divided into two parts, Mrs. Terry and Miss Addario each taking a section. While one group plays, the other dresses, checks books, and looks over the day's plans.

At the beginning of each semester, all classes choose their own teams, captains, and sub-captains. There are four captains and four sub-captains chosen in each class. Captains and sub-captains receive ten points towards their blocks and numerals. This point system encourages competition and after-school sports. Under the point system, awards go to the girls with the highest number of points for the year. When a girl has earned 400 points, she receives her numeral of the year in which she is graduated; when she has earned 800 points, she receives her "W. O." block. The senior girl who has the highest number of points receives a gold medal; the senior girl with the second highest total of points receives a silver medal.

Points for participation are awarded in the following manner:

Swimming	100 points
Ping-Pong	100 points
Ping-Pong Tournament	5 points for each round
Bowling (Juniors and Seniors)	100 points
Cheerleading (Sophomores and Juniors)	100 points
Twirling (Sophomores and Juniors)	100 points
Archery	100 points
Softball	100 points

During good weather the classes are held outside. Baseball is the favorite sport of almost all the girls; and it is played with a great deal of skill, not to mention noise. Competition is great during the annual baseball tournament, and each team plays enthusiastically to win.

Another favorite of the girls is speedball, the fast game which requires quick thinking. It is a difficult game to play; therefore, it is restricted to senior girls. Despite their lack of skill, the participants enjoy speedball tremendously.

Hockey and soccer are played with just as much vigor as baseball and speedball. Many bruised shins and scraped knees are the results of good soccer and hockey tilts.

Each spring, bows and arrows are removed from their cases for our female "William Tells."

When the snow falls, classes are held indoors. Then everyone prepares for keen competition; for the volleyball tournament is held in winter. The games are fast and exciting, many of the contests being won by either two or three points. Everyone tries very hard to win the volleyball championship of the school.

A ping-pong tournament, which is becoming more popular each year, also takes place. Basketball, games of the basket type, tumbling, and folk and athletic dancing are other activities in which the girls engage during the winter term.

Bowling tournaments and swimming classes, held at the YMCA, Orange, have stirred up a great deal of interest among the girls. Bowling is restricted to junior and senior girls only.

Under the direction of Mrs. Terry and Miss Addario, we have enjoyed the excellent sports program with which West Orange High School has provided us.

As we pore over the 1951 West-O-Ranger, we are filled with pride and disbelief of the fact that we have finally completed the year's toil. During the course of our work it seemed as though the yearbook would never be finished because of the many discouragements which constantly confronted us; but those of us who worked on it realize that the tremendous task really was fun. It took ten months and the work of many seniors and juniors to present the book to this year's class. Without Miss Hilson, who aided us by volunteering her valuable time and experience, we feel that the West-O-Ranger would never have been done.

Our two editors-in-chief, Richard Alpert and Polly Crankshaw, ably led and directed the staff in their work. Many afternoons Dick could be found in 202 with those he could press into service in identifying pictures, rewriting articles, or assisting in any number of ways. It was a common sight to see him and Polly, along with the literary editors Phyllis Yoskalka and Richard DuBoff, and the personality editor, Marcia Kiviat, in room 202 doing the many tasks necessary in putting out a yearbook. Bob Greenhall, the business manager, and Matthew Baker, who was in charge of advertising, successfully raised and managed the money to finance the book. The ability of the typists to decipher the hieroglyphics of the staff was amazing; and we are indebted to these hard workers. We, too, greatly appreciate the work of the art committee, headed by Mrs. Richardson.

The work went on all through the year with the entire staff working late and hard, and only through the cooperation of each member of the staff was the West-O-Ranger successfully completed.

Each Saturday afternoon in the fall, come rain or shine, the marching band is very much in evidence in their bright maroon and white uniforms. As they unveil new formations with the facility that comes from hours of steady drill, they play snappy marches and popular tunes. Many students never realize how much practice is required each day of the week. Many times the band must march in formations without having practiced them on the football field. The three weekly rehearsals are held on the dusty drill field behind the school. Our band may not put on Broadway productions, but it has one of the best tonal qualities of all the bands of our neighboring schools.

This year a new effect in music has been added to the band. There is now a woodwind quintet, whose members have been selected from those of the band. Their excellent pitch and tone are of invaluable help in maintaining these factors which are so essential for the success of any musical aggregation.

At Thanksgiving time the school band undergoes a complete transformation to become a fine concert organization. They conduct their own assembly program to play such numbers as "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame"; "Goodnight, Irene"; and perhaps some Viennese waltzes. The most important function of the concert band is the annual spring concert, always a gala affair.

C. Riffel and R. Smith, two of our school's rising musicians.

Betty and Jane don't seem to be too intent on their music, do they?

This year the orchestra started a new trend in the music it played; for instead of the usual classical arrangements it introduced many popular tunes. Presented by the orchestra at an assembly program in February the score from the hit musical "South Pacific" took the students by storm. In addition to the presentation, the instrumental group also played a gay tune, called "Sleigh Ride." Richard Krebs put the finishing touches on the melody by imitating the neighing of the horse in the last two measures. Bob Hebble, accompanied by the orchestra, played the Peter De Rose composition of "Deep Purple." As usual, Bob displayed his extraordinary talent at the piano.

Mr. Butterfield worked with many sophomores in the orchestra this year. By enrolling in the group in their sophomore year, these boys and girls are able to gain experience in the orchestra and to become more adept at their respective instruments. Many orchestra players are even advanced enough to compete for music scholarships and awards that are offered outside of school.

During the year, the orchestra played at various functions, such as, the commencement exercises of their senior class and the graduation of the nurses from the nurses school in Orange, New Jersey. The main event of the entire music department is the Spring Concert. Parents, as well as students, attend the program in which the orchestra plays the selections that it has rehearsed for many weeks.

Mr. Butterfield can be very proud of the reputation that his orchestra has gained throughout the year.

Bob and Howard add their bits weekly to the din of the orchestra.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, ably sponsored by Miss Lancaster, meets every Wednesday. At these meetings the members add to their knowledge of photography by comparing and studying prints and offering helpful hints and criticism when necessary. In this way they learn to distinguish between pictures of poor quality and those of good composition. The members also learn the technical sides of photography including the science of the camera, of developing, and of correct exposure. The more experienced members demonstrate the finer aspects of this art; such as, actual photography, flash photography, artificial lighting, and arrangement of subjects.

Often the club has an outstanding speaker who lectures and answers any questions that members might pose. The club also has its own photography contest and then enters the winning pictures in national contests.

STUDENT SECRETARIES

The day in the life of a student secretary is a hectic one, so the girls jokingly say. On Wednesday and Friday mornings the girl secretaries meet in Room 308 with Mrs. Evans to guide them. Although the girls may belong to both the Wednesday and the Friday club, there are a greater number in the Friday division.

At the beginning of the period the ambitious girls rush in, eager to tackle the jobs left by the various teachers. Some girls address envelopes or type mailing lists for the office; others type material for the "West-O-Ranger" and the "Roundup."

Although the girls joke about the tasks they have to do, they really enjoy doing them. Typing, taking shorthand, running the mimeograph machine, cutting stencils—these are accomplishments which they practice in their club periods.

VOCAL MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The A Cappella Choir, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Boys' Glee Club, all directed by Mr. Barnes, participated in many events this year.

The A Cappella Choir, largest of the three vocal groups, contributed much gaiety to the holiday spirit at the annual Christmas Concert. Again, this year the choir presented "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," a popular rendition arranged by Fred Waring. Besides this song, many other Christmas carols were sung by the choir and also by the Girls' Glee Club.

This year the choir presented assembly programs in Roosevelt Junior High, Edison Junior High, and our own high school. The selections gave the members of the group a chance to show off the excellent training which they had received and to harmonize their voices in a rather professional manner.

The Spring Concert, an annual event in the high school, was attended by many adults as well as by a large number of students. At this concert all three vocal groups participated.

On February 10, some of the choir members attended Clifford Scott High School where members of all the high schools in Essex County gave a concert that was inspiring and worth while. This concert gave the members an opportunity to work together and to see how a vocal group larger than their own choirs could harmonize successfully.

When the choir isn't practicing for one of its many request performances for outside clubs and concerts, the group busies itself by singing various types of songs purely for enjoyment. Very often one of these songs becomes such a favorite with the members that it is presented at one of their concerts.

The Girls' Glee Club, which meets on each Wednesday, is composed of girls with pleasant singing voices. Mr. Barnes has done much to make this vocal group a favorite organization amongst the females in the school.

If it were not for the vocal department of our high school, many of our programs would lack beauty and spirit. Mr. Barnes deserves much praise for the outstanding work he has done to make the vocal department a successful one.

CHESS CLUB

In Chess Club the students play chess among themselves, consulting Mr. Huselton whenever technical difficulties arise. At the end of the meeting the students fill out slips, denoting wins, losses, or draws. These statistics are transferred to a master sheet in Mr. Huselton's possession. Every so often West Orange High engages other schools in chess tournaments, the participants from West Orange being those students in the top positions on Mr. Huselton's sheet.

A look into room 304 on Friday mornings will reveal a myriad of faces, all concentrating upon their respective games, thus illustrating the success of the chess club.

METALCRAFT CLUBS

The woodshop is the meeting place of the Metalcraft Club, but the members ignore the lumber and work with their favorite metals. Aluminum, nickel, silver, copper, and pewter are available to this group. These youthful artisans begin their work in metalcraft by fashioning simple bracelets and rings. After skills in hammering and shaping are acquired, the club can then make bowls and trays. Besides this, the students have learned how to etch designs and to set stones in metal.

Miss Moller supervises as Jane, Natalie, Gerry, and Helen make their own jewelry.

CLASSICAL MUSIC APPRECIATION CLUB

Because of the popularity of the Classical Music Club, it was necessary to form two divisions this year. One group, under the direction of Miss Peckham, enjoys listening to instrumental music; the other group, under the direction of Mrs. Terry, studies various operas.

Each Wednesday Miss Peckham's group listens to some of the world's masterpieces of symphonic music. After listening to the scheduled presentation, the members of the club discuss the particularly fine passages of the selection. Thus far, this group has heard the Grieg Concerto in A Minor, Brahms' Sonata No. Two in A Major, and Christmas songs.

Many times there are members of the group who have never really sat down to listen to good classical music until they enrolled in this club. However, it doesn't take long for them to learn to enjoy classical music and to listen to it with interest. The Classical Music Appreciation Club offers a medium to students through which they are able to hear fine musical recordings that they themselves do not have at home. By enrolling in this club, a person gains knowledge about classical music, he increases his interest in it, and he learns how to enjoy the fine masterpieces.

The chairman of Miss Peckham's group is Richard Erikson; co-chairman, Joseph Marateo; treasurer, Bernice Mulligan; and secretary, Elaine Aquaro.

STUDENT CONGRESS

Although the United Nations convene in a modern set of buildings on the East Side of New York, and the West Orange High School Student Council holds its meeting in the cold, dingy visual aids room, the two organizations have much in common, each being a representative body which makes rules and regulations to promote the general welfare of the people.

Still in its infancy, the U. N. has not yet been able to accomplish all its goals for world peace. It has, however, started things rolling by solving the Palestine problem, setting up organizations to help the starving and frozen children of the world, and attempting to arbitrate the difficulties arising between the French and the people of Indo-China. In like manner the governing body of West Orange High School students began this year with the successful party given to acquaint the sophomores with the high school and with one another. In keeping with the good work started by the Council, the students raised funds for the Save the Children Federation, filled boxes with gifts and necessities for the Red Cross, and collected books and comic books for the "Book for Cook" drive. John McCormick also put his staff to work and produced many inspiring pep rallies. With the help of the band and the decorated chariots, owned by some of the more fortunate high school students, two marches from Edison to Jenkins Field were staged in order to boost the morale of our football players and to help us to win a few games. Judging from the results of the games, we know that the pep rallies were very successful—at least, from the standpoint of our not losing so many points as we had previously.

This year the Student Council has begun to take an active part in the meetings of the Inter-Oranges' Council and the New Jersey Organization for Student Congresses. Members of the Executive Committee attended the meetings and reported to the entire council. Invaluable suggestions were given by the representatives of other schools who told of the problems which they had faced and the ways in which they had been solved.

The bulletin board, which was purchased by the council, is kept up to date by the Student Congress in order to give the students a preview of future events; such as, assembly programs, basketball games, the coming out of report cards, and, most important of all, vacations. The Budgeting Committee has under discussion the possibility of buying an inter-class communication system which would be paid for with money from the Curtis Campaign. This would eliminate the necessity for bulletins.

The Student Council under president John McCormick's leadership has done an extremely good job of promoting the welfare of the student body and of improving school conditions.

Each Friday morning the members of the Philologian Literary Society, one of the two oldest clubs in school, meet in 201. The membership is limited to the Junior and Senior classes. Although Philo is an elective club, the students must meet certain scholastic requirements.

In the business meetings the members of this club acquire a working knowledge of parliamentary procedure, which will prove invaluable in the future. When the business part is over, the program chairman presents informative and entertaining programs. In the past these have included quizzes, book reviews, extemporaneous and planned speeches, and spelling bees.

At Christmas time, Philo sends gifts to the Orthopedic Hospital and the Crippled Children's Home. Then Clio and Philo temporarily forget their rivalry and hold a joint Christmas party. Later in the year the two clubs present programs in assembly. The climax of the year is the annual Clio-Philo banquet in June at which the new members are initiated and a silver cup is awarded to the club having the higher scholastic average.

Last June at the Clio-Philo banquet the Clisophic Literary Society was again named the possessor of the silver cup. This cup is given each year to that club which has the higher scholastic rating, computed by combining the averages of all the members of the club.

During the past year Clio, sponsored by Miss McSweeney, enjoyed a variety of activities planned for its members by the planning committees. Games of charades, "Twenty Questions," and "spelling bees" were some of the popular programs. The members also had opportunities to enjoy dramatizations of plays and to read short stories and essays. At Christmas time Clio and Philo held their annual Christmas party at which each member contributed a gift to be sent to the children at the Orthopedic Hospital.

With its membership filled to capacity, Clio was very successful this year in furthering the members' interests in and appreciation of good literature.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

Stephanie and Joyce are busy with their library duties.

The Library Council is not only a club that meets on Wednesday mornings, but also an active group of girls who work in the library every period of each day. Their chores consist of repairing books that have been mishandled, classifying books, keeping the information file up to date with clippings, arranging displays for various holidays and vocational themes, replacing the old issues of magazines with the more recent ones, and keeping the college catalogue section in order. Collecting fines from reluctant students is one of the unpleasant tasks of the council members.

This year the Council is smaller than usual with only twelve members, but each tries faithfully to fulfill her duties. Under the guidance and direction of Miss Moller the Council members especially enjoy those busy study periods when students decide that there's no place like the library for ascertaining information.

During the Wednesday activity period Stephanie Burke, chairman, and Joyce Hector, secretary, conduct the meetings. The other members are Sylvia Bonadona, Marna Cacossa, Irene Campbell, Marlene Cornish, Alison Friend, Peggy Gordon, Lorraine Haggerty, Joan Jaeger, Bernice Mulligan, and Evelyn Peterson.

Miss Moller surprised the Council at the end of the first half year by the announcement of her engagement, and the best wishes of the entire student body are extended to her. The faculty and the students will miss her the remainder of this year, for her cheerful disposition and willingness have made her a favorite among us and have helped the Council to make the library the pleasant place it is.

ASSEMBLY COUNCIL

The student body of West Orange High School looks forward to the relaxing, enjoyable entertainment which is provided every Thursday morning in the auditorium. Many students, however, know little or nothing about the council whose members plan our assembly council programs. This planning committee, which is comprised of twenty-two members, works under the supervision of Miss Lancaster.

This year the programs were varied and interesting. A few of the assemblies were given by the various clubs, such as, the Spanish Club, Clio, Philo, and the Dramatic Club. Louise Terminello and Pearl Bodner assisted Miss Lancaster with the two talent shows in which many of the students displayed their music and dancing abilities. Professional entertainers were obtained through the cooperation of the School Assembly Service. William Hemeon, an extraordinary cartoonist, fascinated the audience with his presentations of "Guess What," caricatures of famous people, and sketches of various people in the audience. Lt. James Whittaker gave a very interesting talk entitled "We Thought We Heard the Angels Sing." This was an amazing account of his twenty days on a life raft with Captain Eddie Rickenbacker after their plane had been shot down. Some of the incidents were so horrible that it was difficult for the students to believe them.

The time and effort that the Assembly Council has spent in providing us with novel, interesting, and relaxing entertainment is appreciated by the students; and it is hoped that in the future years, the student body will attend programs as well planned as it has this year.

FRENCH CLUB

By speaking only in French at all of their meetings, the number of "Le Cercle Francais" become better acquainted with the language and the customs of the French people. However, familiar English is often heard when the conversation becomes too confusing or too fast for the members to comprehend. While elaborating in French, they also discuss the background and culture of the French civilization; and Miss Allen aids by adding her helpful remarks.

This year the entertainment committee, headed by Nick Roussakis, presented a variety of interesting programs. Some of these were color movies of France and its inhabitants, a dramatic presentation, many games, puppet shows, and a wonderful Christmas party. To the delight of the members refreshments are an accepted part of each club meeting.

To join the club, a French student must have maintained a "B" average or better at midyear and must undergo an initiation. In February the new members wore provincial costumes (which they made themselves) throughout one school day and entertained the old members by singing, dancing, and acting little skits. But their efforts are well rewarded; for this club offers many opportunities for a better understanding of France and its people.

Sponsored by Miss Allen, the club was supported by the following officers: Jane Flanders, president; Sally Frawley, vice-president; Elizabeth Gibson, secretary; and Sydney Tilkin, treasurer. Everyone associated with the club feels that "Le Cercle Francais" had one of its most profitable and enjoyable years this past season.

SPANISH CLUB

El Club de Español is one of the most interesting and colorful clubs in the school. This club is divided into two groups, one group which meets on Wednesday under the sponsorship of Miss Eaton and the other group which meets on Friday under the sponsorship of Mrs. Seaman.

During club meetings the members play games, listen to Spanish music on the recorder, record their own voices, and give interesting talks on various phases of Spanish life. By participating in these activities, the members are able to practice their knowledge of Spanish on each other; and in this way they improve their vocabularies as well as their pronunciation.

This year the Spanish Club presented a colorful assembly program to the students. Singing, dancing, and acting out skits were all included in this program. The members of the club had just as much fun participating in the show as the audience did watching it.

During the mid-winter vacation some of the members went to New York to eat in a Spanish restaurant and to see a Spanish film. Everyone had a wonderful time, and each person agreed "you can't have any more fun and entertainment than you do in el Club de Español.

ART CLUB

Members of the Art Club making scenery for the Christmas concert—E. Gibson, N. Roussakis, G. Gibson, E. Veit, S. Tilken, Mrs. Richardson.

The posters for the Curtis Campaign, the scenery for the Christmas concert, and the illustrations for the yearbook can all be attributed to the work of the talented members of the Art Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Richardson. Every Wednesday and Friday the members of the club meet in order to work on their various projects. Cleverness and originality are the attributes that make the works of these budding artists successful. A few days before Hallowe'en, the art people set out for the business section of West Orange where, as one of their projects, they painted goblins, and witches on the windows of the stores. Many of these students received prizes and awards for their outstanding work on the windows, thus claiming recognition for themselves and for the high school. This was but one of the many projects they completed during the year.

F. H. A.

Some of the Future Homemakers of America putting their creative talents to good use.

One of the largest clubs in the high school is the Home Economics Club, which is affiliated with the National organization, The Future Homemakers of America.

This organization in the past has sponsored many interesting projects; such as, the adoption of a home economics class in Italy, the sending of friendship boxes as Christmas gifts to needy families in Europe, and the helping of the Indians of Arizona by giving them clothing and many other needed articles. This year the members knitted and sewed for the Red Cross and also donated dolls to the Community Toy Shop.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

H. Zoubek, J. McCormack, S. Frawley, C. Ferry, International Relations Club Officers.

The International Relations Club, one of the most popular and interesting clubs in school, meets every Wednesday under the capable sponsorship of Mr. Blumer. At one of the first meetings, the group elected a very competent slate of officers, including Charles Ferry, president, Henry Zoubek, vice-president, Sally Frawley, secretary, and Jeanne McCormack, treasurer. The subjects discussed by the club were of both national and international prominence and ranged from socialized medicine to Russian imperialism.

Not only is the club active in school affairs, but also it participates in many activities outside of school. Some of the club members represented West Orange High at the Junior Town Meeting radio broadcast on station WAAT. One of these representatives, Gideon Panter, won a prize for being the outstanding speaker on the broadcast of January tenth. Besides taking an active interest in the radio debates, the members attended youth forums held throughout the state.

In short, 1951 was a very successful year for the International Relations Club.

OPERA CLUB

A popular and energetic organization is the newly formed Opera Club. After selecting an opera, such as, "Carmen" or "Faust," the students study the composer's life, the story of the opera, and recordings of its arias. The group plans to attend at least one of the operas which it has studied.

Started last year, the Surveying Club has only six members, all of whom are seniors who have taken mechanical drawing for three years. Every Friday morning the club, under Mr. Smock's supervision, surveys school grounds and adjacent lands. If the weather is bad, the members stay inside and diagram what has previously been surveyed. All this is fine experience for "future surveyors."

This year WOTAC has had one of the most successful years that it has ever had. The support of the students of West Orange High School has been wonderful. There is another determining factor in its success story. WOTAC has had very capable and active officers under the able directorship of Mr. Krimmel. They are president—Peter Koutouzakis, vice-president—Henry Zoubek, secretary—Betty Bayowski, and treasurer—Harry Lawler.

Under their plan for better relationship and understanding among schools WOTAC has invited each week a neighboring school, preferably the one which our football team had just played with on that Saturday afternoon, to enjoy our dancing, music, and entertainment. Because of the wonderful turn-outs, WOTAC has been able to procure a different band each week to add to the enjoyment.

I'm sure that anyone who has attended the newly painted and decorated canteen this year should like to thank Mr. Krimmel, the officers, and the publicity committee for their fine job; and we sincerely hope that success will continue throughout the coming years.

ARTYPING

On Wednesday and Friday mornings during activity period, one can hear the constant humming of the typewriters in 306. This club, artyping, is directed by Miss Karnes, who gets as much pleasure from it as the members themselves do.

The enthusiastic members of the artyping club have made many beautiful designs, some of them taken from patterns in an artyping book, and others very original. They range from simple outlines to intricate scenes and require much patience, care, and neatness.

Besides furnishing the members with enjoyment, the artyping club has many varied purposes: it helps to teach better handling of the typewriter; it helps to create a desire for neatness; it is a diversion from the usual, everyday typing; and it gives the good but slow typist a chance for recognition.

Miss Karnes is very proud of the work done by these artypists and has bought us new indelible, colored pencils to make our designs more attractive. These drawings are on display in the typing room and may be seen at any time.

"Did I finally break into the Trail Dust Column?" "Do I know where Joe Alumni is, or what he is doing?" "By what margin did West Orange win the last football game?" All of these questions and many others can be answered by reading the Round-Up, the paper which makes all students forsake their lessons for a good half-hour of enjoyment every few weeks.

The Round-Up has made great strides in the five years of its existence; for in the past four years it has been rated in the first group by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Evaluation Service, which holds its annual conference at Columbia University for two days each year.

Funds were augmented this year by the selling of book covers and license tags in the homerooms as well as by working jointly with the "West-O-Ranger" in managing the refreshment stand during home football games.

A big hand goes to those who have contributed in some way to the continued success of the Round-Up and to Mr. Atwell Thomas, faculty adviser.

Every Friday morning some thirty students look forward to the meeting of the Dramatics Club. The most important member of the club is the program chairman who directs and prepares the programs for each meeting. This year the club has had many interesting reports on various movies and professional people, including the late Al Jolson and George Bernard Shaw. Some members have participated in plays presented to the club, as well as in movie and play quizzes. This group is planning to present a short play later on in the year under the direction of Mrs. Cotter, its faculty adviser. Also on the club's agenda was its annual trip to New York to see the show "Happy Time."

SPORTS CLUB

The purposes of the Modern Dance Club are many: it gives one a medium of expression; it develops feeling, poise, and grace; it offers excellent practice for good coordination; and it helps to keep muscles in good condition.

When the girls aren't practicing for the symposium, which is a demonstration by a group of girls from neighboring schools, they are developing little dances, the fundamentals of which they have previously studied thoroughly.

Collecting the weekly dues is the job of Ann Blunk, the only other officer besides the secretary, Genevieve Shaffer. Later in the year the girls plan to see a modern dance demonstration, but right now they are busy practicing the symposium.

MODERN DANCE CLUB

Friday mornings in the gym can be seen the "grunters and groaners" of West Orange High. During the fall and winter Mr. Wear teaches the members of his club the fundamentals of wrestling; and when the gym is unavailable, he shows slides of his camping and canoeing trips. Before the opening of the spring trout season, the members bring their fishing poles to re-varnish and to re-wrap; and they also attend the annual Sportsman's Show in New York in February. The club's officers are William Bork, president; Richard Bronner, vice-president; Richard Kossman, secretary; and Richard Shand, treasurer.

Learning how to operate the sound and motion picture equipment is the main purpose of the Visual Aids Club. Directed by Mr. Eastwood, this group, consisting only of boys, meets every Wednesday morning in the visual aids room. After the boys have acquired the essential knowledge of operating the machines, they then are able to show films and slides for different clubs and classes in the school. This club is one of the most popular and interesting clubs for boys in our school; for by operating the equipment, they have a chance to learn about the intricate mechanism of the projector and to see films on various subjects.

Leathercraft is one of the oldest arts practiced by man. Think of the pride a person feels after completing a leather wallet or a handsome stamped leather belt, two of the articles which the members of the leathercraft club have attempted to make under the direction of Mr. Bush. The purpose of this club is to develop skill and appreciation for what can be done with leather as the medium.

The first few meetings were spent in studying and discussing the history of leather. Then actual work was begun on such projects as wallets, keycases, and belts. When sufficient skill in the use of the tools was acquired, many members of the club tried to make more difficult items, briefcases and shoulder-strap bags.

As one can readily see, the possibilities in leathercraft are many, depending upon the resourcefulness and ingenuity of the craftsman.

Last October WOHS gave birth to the "Chatter Club," a new organization for students who wish to better their speech habits. Under the leadership of Miss Wilson, club adviser, and Bruce Betz, club president, the group has had a most successful year.

Though the club is only in the infant stage, it has been active in local and national oratorical contests and on the stage of our own school. Their meetings have consisted of panel discussions, poetry recitations, impromptu speeches, prepared and informal talks, and, of course, the principles of good speaking.

Each student has readily accepted constructive criticism from the other members, thus learning to recognize and correct his faults and to develop more desirable habits.

When this club grows in importance, it will prove beneficial not only to its immediate members, but also to all students attending WOHS.

In the Business Practice Club the members are taught how to operate various machines; such as, the electric typewriter, the dictaphone, the calculating machine, and the adding machine. Mr. Evans, the adviser of the club, explains to the members the proper method of applying for a job. This knowledge has proved very valuable to boys and girls seeking positions. Learning how to file data in the business office is also a part of the program that Mr. Evans includes in the work of the club. The members also dictate on the dictaphone and then transcribe their notes from it. The Business Practice Club has been very helpful to the students who are going to work after graduation or who are now working on part time jobs. With the knowledge gained in this club the boys and girls will be able to enter the business world with self confidence.

In this complicated age of electronics it is only natural to have such an organization as the Code Practice Club, which deals with various topics of radio communications. The primary purpose of this club is to teach the electrical theory and to provide the code practice necessary for interested members to pass their radio amateur's examination. Those who succeed in this federal exam may operate their own transmitters and are called "hams."

This year, under Mr. Huselton's direction, the club is undergoing a rejuvenation. It may have three or four new "hams" by the end of the year, as well as a transmitting-receiving station for the school. Although the membership is small, the club is trying to further interest in radio, one of the most worthwhile hobbies of all.

The club's officers are Stephen Fogle, president; George Pfersch, vice-president; and George Shimp, treasurer.

If one should happen to stroll past room 207 during activity period on Friday mornings, he would hear the clicking of knitting needles, the rhythmic chant of "knit one, knit two, eleven leaf stitch, and chain one," and the words "French knot." Should he open the door, he would see sprawled in every direction balls of wool, direction books, spools of thread, and embroidery blocks. Upon asking the question, "For whom or what are you making your projects?" the numerous replies would be for my "hope chest," "my boyfriend," "my mother," "my father," "myself." Needlecraft Club was organized because in the various sewing classes requests were made for such a group. Many of the girls knew nothing about knitting, crocheting, embroidering, or needle point work. In learning to knit, many of the girls made children's sweaters for the Red Cross.

The members feel sure that this club will continue because of the fact that although this is the first year for the organization, there is a strong interest in it.

Wednesday mornings during activity periods one can hear lively tunes coming from room 101. To the lovers of swing, dixieland jazz, and other types of contemporary music, these "sessions" of the Modern Music Appreciation Club mean real enjoyment. Under the direction of Miss Addario, the members of the club are divided into groups; and they present reports on their favorite band leaders. They also play recordings made by famous musicians and vocalists. The bands currently preferred by the club members are those of Stan Kenton, the late Glenn Miller, Guy Lombardo, Harry James, Sidney Bechet, and Symphony Sid. Dixieland jazz also ranks highly. The members have given many interesting reports and constructive comments and opinions regarding certain musical techniques and styles. In this way both the technical and the popular sides of modern music are discussed.

Chemistry Nursing Club, sponsored by Mr. Terwilliger, was organized so that senior girls who are planning to become nurses may acquire a general knowledge of the fundamentals of science needed for nursing. Every Friday this group, consisting of about seventeen girls, meets in 305. Here, Mr. Terwilliger gives them facts and information that he has obtained from his experiences far and wide. Some of the girls were not certain that they wanted to become nurses when they first joined the club, but the program set up for them was so interesting that many of the undecided ones made up their minds to follow a nursing career. Although the general chemistry course offered in the school touches on some phases of nursing, it still does not give the girls the knowledge concerning nursing that they can obtain in the Chemistry Nursing Club.

Not only have the honor students of the Class of 1951 proved themselves to be outstanding in academic work, but also have they been prominent and dependable leaders. Willing to cooperate in whatever tasks they undertake, these boys and girls have constantly been hard and sincere workers. To think that these students do nothing but study is quite wrong; for most of them are active on the yearbook and the school paper, in clubs and sports. In addition to these extracurricular activities, some of them are also employed in various part-time jobs throughout the Oranges.

The honor students are some of the most popular boys and girls in their class. However, their popularity is particularly evidenced before a big test in chemistry or in solid geometry. Nevertheless, these students are always willing to help fellow classmates solve those problems which confront them.

Two couples enjoy the spring air of West Orange.

Owen Sear puts the final touches on a woodshop project.

That weskit is going to make a mighty pretty outfit, girls.

Heads up, boys. There's land ahead!

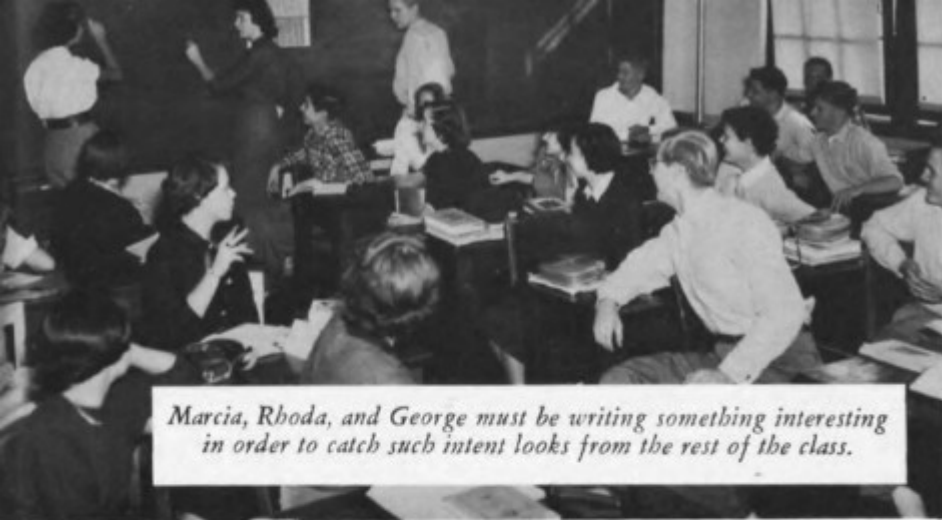

Clickety click go the keys as Miss Nussbaum surveys her typing class.

Saul and Bob seem to be the studious boys in physics class.

Mary Ann Leonard, Rae Titus, and Sandra Wallace prepare some tasty food in cooking.

Marcia, Rhoda, and George must be writing something interesting in order to catch such intent looks from the rest of the class.

Mrs. Evans supervises the future secretaries of the business world.

By the expressions of Connie, and Solveig, this must be a study hall.

Some of the future seamstresses diligently working in Miss Quinn's sewing class.

Los estudiantes de espanol III look as if their assignment is interesting.

The masterpieces of the artyping club certainly dress up Miss Karnes' typing room.

Two biology lab students exploring the unknown.

Mary Ann Allyn, Jane Leach, and Jane Albrecht intent upon learning how not to cause an explosion in Chem. Lab.

Dave and Pete are the willing guinea pigs for Franklin and Henry's bandage practice.

The machine demands the concentration of Ray Smith and David Condit.

Elaine, Hope, Pat, Joyce, and Betty having a gay old time with an experiment in chemistry laboratory.

Joan, Chris, and Daum study an exhibit in the biology laboratory.

Library work had these fellows stumped.

Apparently the book Joan is reading to Pat, Stephanie, Buzzy, Phyllis, Marte, Janet, and Joyce is interesting.

Do our eyes deceive us? Helen and Carol seem to be enjoying stenography.

Fred Mohr, Natalie Hay, and Don Harper are off for a ride in Fred's little "crate."

Some of our art aspirants working in the "penthouse."

The water looks fine doesn't it Kathy. H-m-m-m!

Who is the beautifying for, Carol?

*Come on, Buddy and Guy; let's have a big smile.
It can't be as bad as all that.)*

Jeannie and Marie flash a couple of their most winsome smiles.

Jean, we didn't know your talents extended to water skiing too.

*If you comb it long enough, Barbara, it will get dry
—we promise.*

Irene and Evelyn make us think we are seeing double.

Jeannie, why don't you share it with Marge and Norma?

What happened to your eyes, Carol and Eileen?

We can't see them very well.

Joan, Mary, and Marion make a picturesque threesome.

Karen, you look as though you are enjoying yourself in the sunshine.

Mona, Janet, Joan Trier, Joan Wilckens, Betty, and Phyllis take in some fresh air and sunshine.

Who's the smile for Nan? Could it be Nicky?

And Gerrie walks off with another 1st prize. This time it's the Preakness Horse Show.

Jean makes a stunning decoration for the sailboat.

Janie, don't you dare! Sally needs her head.

When did Polly start eating Wheaties?

We wonder if that Model A will stand up!

Come on Jeanne, give us some.

Gerri, do you drive that thing?

D. Zabriske

Trudy looks bundled up for a brisk day of car washing.

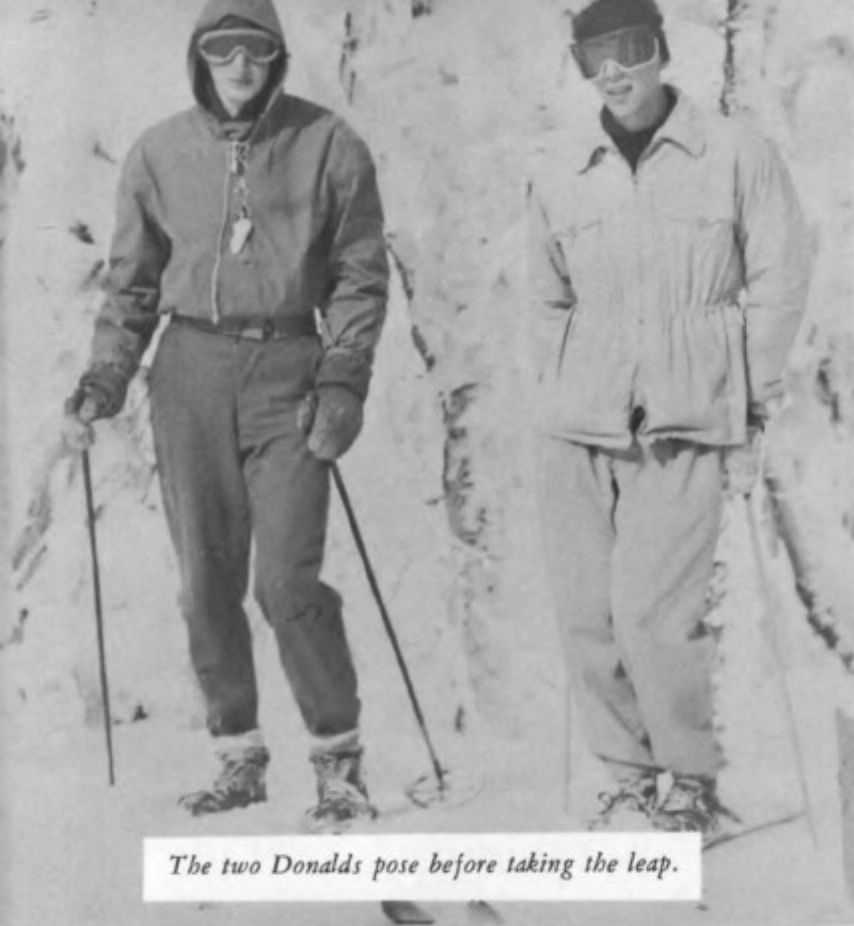

Bernice and Joan look mighty pretty showing off their new suits.

Walter and Donald look prepared for a long trip ahead of them.

The "Three Musketeers" are all set for a bike.

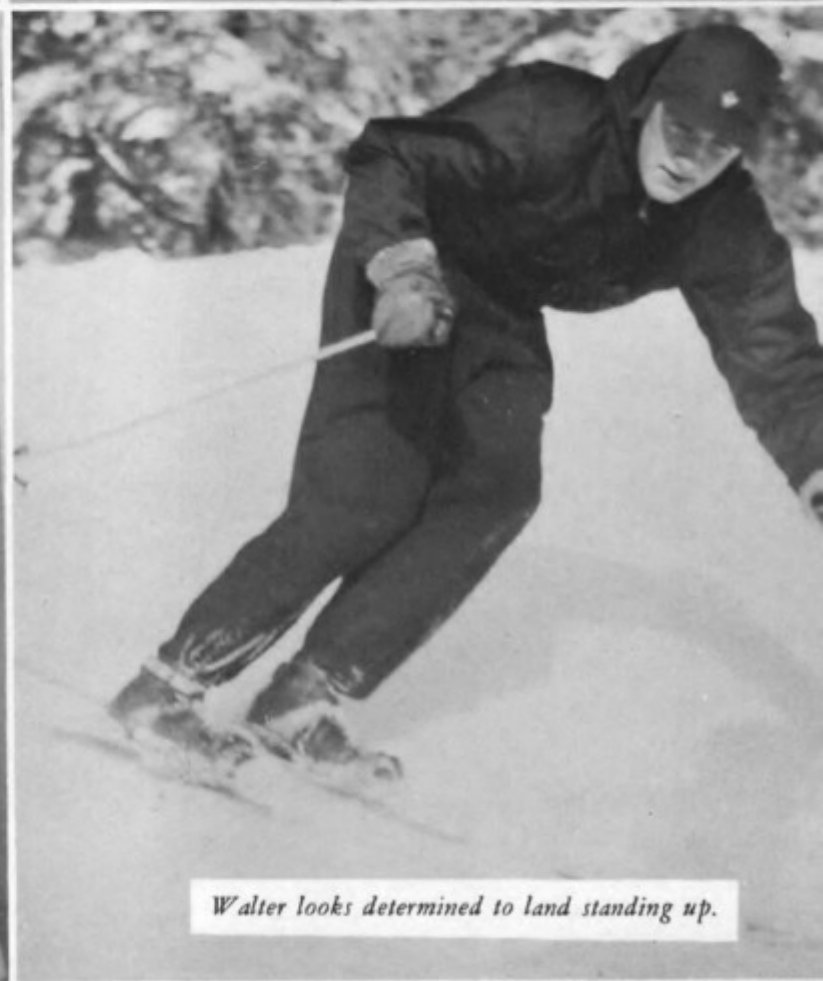

The two Donalds pose before taking the leap.

Be careful of that slope, Dick.

These two girls are putting on the final touches before leaving school.

Walter looks determined to land standing up.

Dave is practicing up to meet some opposition.

Now, now, Valerie, is that nice?

Peek a boo, I see you!

Scottie's dog seems very unconcerned about having his picture taken.

Two pretty lassies sitting on a picket fence.

Smile prettily, girls, there are spring months ahead.

This looks like a typical picnic party in ye olde hills of West Orange.

"O bright flag, O brave flag, O flag to lead the free!
 The hand of God thy colours blent,
 And heaven to earth thy glory lent
 To shield the weak and guide the strong,
 To make an end of human wrong,
 And draw a countless human host to follow after thee!"

—Van Dyke

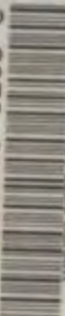

As we, the seniors of 1951, are at last about to complete the work on our 1951 "West-O-Ranger," we cherish the hope, so well expressed by Van Dyke, that we, as intelligent, thinking men and women, not only will be loyal citizens of this democracy, but also will accept our share of the responsibility in leading the way to a lasting world peace.
