Preface

Egypt, characterized by its wondrous pyramids, the Sphinx, ingenious temples, the Nile responsible for the surrounding fertile land, and mile after mile of desert area, is outstandingly distinguished by its impressive feats of architecture and engineering. The architecture of ancient Egypt is a primary contribution to world architecture. Its methods of construction were so essentially simple and its material for monumental work so imperishable, that its survival is unique.

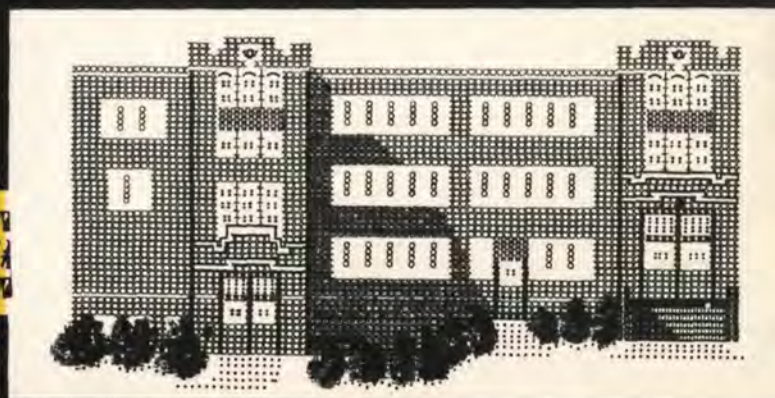

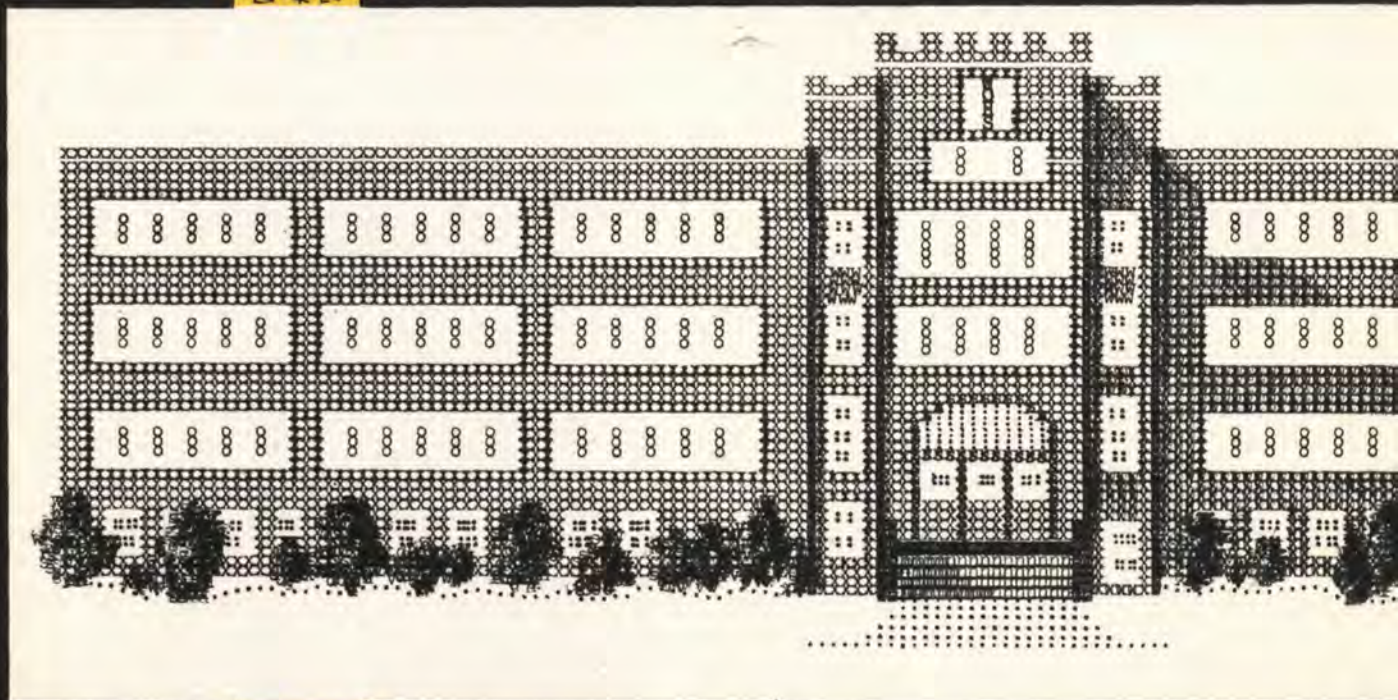

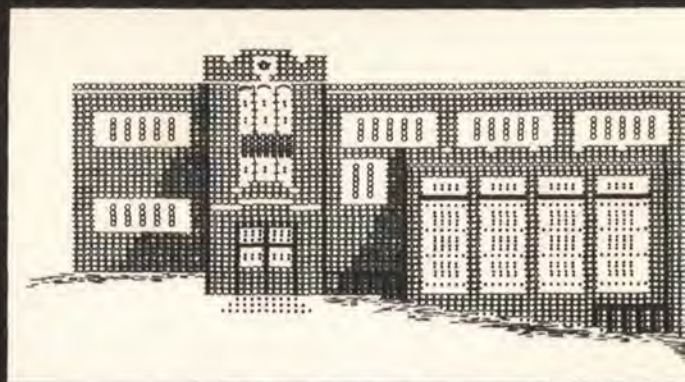

The vast superstructures called pyramids which were used to enclose the tombs of kings, have stamped themselves indelibly on mankind. These conical shaped masses of granite are believed to be attempts to make mountains arise from the plains. The various passages and chambers in the interior of the pyramids show amazing skill and ability in the handling of material.

Our own era may be paralleled to that of the Egyptian architecture in that we are designing for the peace of the world. But, we are also striving to attain the ideal of democracy for all nations, and trying to employ the atom to work for us instead of for our destruction. The pursuance of this Egyptian theme is clearly shown throughout the yearbook by constant reference to Egyptian art.

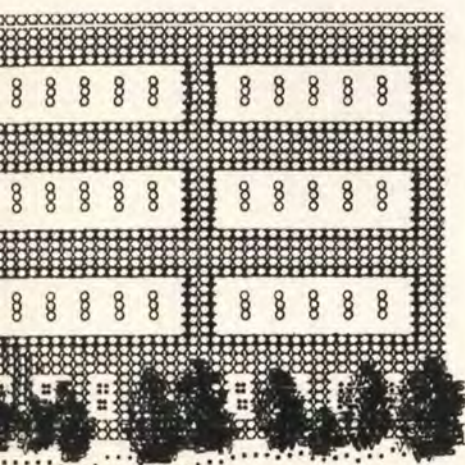

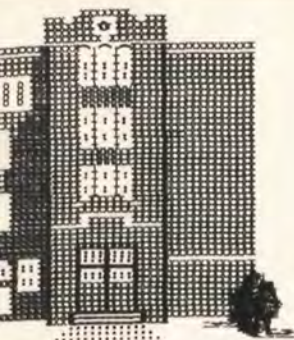

Almighty God, from whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed: Kindle, we pray Thee, in the hearts of all men, the true love of peace, and guide with Thy wisdom those who counsel the nations of the earth: that Thy kingdom may go forward, till the earth be filled with the knowledge of Thy love. Amen.

The preoccupation of the early Egyptian with working basic art patterns which tend readily to tracing borders, also finds similarity in the tedious but beautiful process of modern art—typing. The work appearing on this page was completed by Pat Rimbach. At the top of the page is the view of the school as it appears from the football field. The center panel shows the front view. In the bottom panel is the view from Northfield Road.

DEDICATION

Since her arrival in West Orange, Miss Thelma Allen has taught French with a zest that has sparked many of our students to further study. Possessor of degrees in French from Oberlin and Middlebury Colleges, Miss Allen has also acquired a vast store of knowledge through extensive travel in France.

In addition to her teaching duties, Miss Allen is advisor to Le Cercle Francais and adds the punch that makes French so tangible to its students.

With sincere appreciation for the service that she has given to the educational system of West Orange, we dedicate the 1956 West-O-Ranger to Miss Thelma Allen.

THELMA V. ALLEN

HAYDN EVANS

DEDICATION

A graduate of Grove City College and Montclair State Teachers' College, Mr. Haydn Evans has brought to his business classes the knowledge and wisdom that only an expert in the field can supply.

Many graduates of West Orange High School owe their initiation into the ways of the business world to him.

Besides coaching the high school golf team, Mr. Evans has also been head of the high school Job Placement Bureau. In past years he has gained much satisfaction through the placement of high school students in their jobs.

It is indeed a pleasure and an honor to dedicate this book to Mr. Haydn Evans.

Superintendent MILTON W. BROWN

The high school owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Brown for his diligent work in seeing that the entire school system functions smoothly and efficiently.

After attending Knox College where he received his B.S. degree, he received his M.S. degree at the University of Chicago. While teaching school for fifteen years, he earned his Ph.D. degree.

The entire student body joins in a warm thank you to Dr. Brown for the work he has done in promoting the type of program which benefits us all.

FACULTY

Vice-Principal CHESTER H. WINE

As vice principal of our school, Mr. Wine has done a noteworthy job for the last eleven years. A graduate of Lebanon Valley College, a veteran of World War I, and a former history teacher at W.O.H.S., Mr. Wine will always be remembered for his tolerance, fine guidance, and winning ways.

Principal RAYMOND HEARN

Mr. Hearn will always be remembered for his hard work on our behalf, and for the friendliness he extends to every student.

After having been graduated from Dickinson College and having served as principal of Gaston Street School and Roosevelt Junior High School, Mr. Hearn came to W.O.H.S. well equipped with a rich background to do an outstanding job as principal.

Every student in the class of '56 will always have in his heart a special place for Mr. Hearn, who helped to make each high school day a more interesting, educational, and happy one.

MRS. TERRY (right) may retire with a feeling of great pride because of her many accomplishments. Among her most outstanding objectives, she has developed the athletic talents of many girls and has worked to make a precision twirling squad. A congenial atmosphere has always been maintained between the gym staff and sport teams.

MISS McSWEENEY (left) one of our most worthy and most respected faculty members, plans to retire after many fulfilling years of teaching. A familiar figure in the Junior English Department, Miss McSweeney has maintained high standards in her classes throughout the years.

The absence of Mrs. Terry and Miss McSweeney will be sincerely felt by both faculty and students. Both teachers have expressed their regret in having to leave W.O.H.S.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Class of '57 had chosen in the fall competent leaders to guide them through all the affairs during the school year. Cindy Fortune rose to lead the class as a capable President.

Ingenuity and the willingness to work was eagerly displayed during the School Production. Our Juniors supplied a great deal of energy that went into making the show a success.

The "Cupid's Cutup" highlighted the Valentine season.

The most important event of the year for the class was the Prom. The mood was artfully created by good music, artistic decorations, and foresighted management.

The Juniors certainly have proved their ability to work together and to assume responsibility—both which will contribute to an active Senior Class next year.

It didn't take long for the sophomores to climb on the band wagon this year. After the annual ice-breaker, "The Soph Swing," the class of '58 settled down to make the year a success. John Shuba was elected to the presidency.

Ranking tops in the Curtis Campaign, wholeheartedly participating in sports events, and supporting all school functions were a few of the outstanding characteristics of our sophomores. The class has certainly made their initial year a worthwhile one.

Confidence gained through the year's many activities will give them added self-assurance as a top-rate junior class.

FOOTBALL

Although Mr. Johnson's hard running backfield rarely had the opportunity to play on a dry field, the 1955 football team did manage to compile a fine record of three wins, four losses, and two ties. With almost every Saturday came rain or snow, and on several occasions the players were ankle deep in mud. The "B" team coached by Mr. Guest and Mr. Krimmel sported a 4-0 record, while Mr. O'Keefe's J.V. team finished with a 3-3 record.

In the first game, the Cowboys, after building a half-time lead of 16-0, fell to a late Clifford Scott rally, 19-16. Then the Panthers of East Orange handed the Cowboys a 34-0 defeat.

Returning home, the Johnson men gained their first victory in a bowl of mud, shutting out Kearny 11-0. The Cowboys suffered their second Inter-Oranges league loss at the hands of Orange, 12-6. The Cowboys rebounded, however, and scored a fine 26-0 victory over the Bengals of Bloomfield.

The strong Montclair team then conquered West Orange 36-14. In the following game the Cowboys edged Morristown 19-14. In blizzardy weather, the Cowboys and Irvington fought to their fourth consecutive tie, 6-6.

On Thanksgiving Day, ten thousand spectators saw the season draw to a close, as the Cowboys and the Cougars of Columbia battled to a 13-13 tie. West Orange took an early lead on two Hal Behar-to-Don Oberg touchdown passes, only to have Columbia rally in the waning minutes.

In his second year as head basketball coach, Mr. Guest was forced to use a large number of sophomores in the 1955-1956 lineup. The lack of rebounding strength and the overall inexperience led to a 4-13 record. High spirit and fine sportsmanship, however, more than made up for lack of success.

After losing their first three contests to Columbia, Bloomfield, and Montclair, the Cowboys conquered Livingston 53-29. Though this victory was followed by losses to Belleville and Orange, hopes of the Cowboy's qualifying for the Essex County Tournament grew as Senior Arne Anderson and Soph Bill Miller led the courtmen to successive victories over Morristown 50-46 and West Side 57-51. All these hopes were lost though, as West Orange was handed three more defeats by East Orange, Columbia, and Kearney. The Cowboy's final victory was over Irvington 50-40.

The fortunes of the junior varsity team coached by Mr. Lydon were much better, as they climaxed a fine season by capturing the Essex County Jayvee Tournament at Seton Hall. Over the whole season the team compiled an 18-3 record. The final of the tournament was a nip-and-tuck contest with the Seton Hall J.V.'s, the young Cowboys coming out on top 44-38.

CHEERLEADERS

SANDY

This year our cheerleading squad has been composed of an enthusiastic group of girls who have spirited W.O. sports fans and athletic teams unto many a victory. Co-captains Sandra Kelly and Mady Margolis, through their initiative and conscientiousness, had organized the faithful and uniform group.

"School Spirit" campaigns were big projects undertaken as a result of the girls' eagerness. Sports scores profited from their constant attendance at all games, both J.V. and Varsity. Several pep rallies and many new cheers resulted from the zealotness of our '56 cheerleaders.

TWIRLERS

Beginning in early September, twelve high-stepping twirlers diligently practiced every day after school. Their efforts were viewed at the Saturday football games, pre-game and during the halves. Strutting in precision time, the twirlers executed many unusual routines; favorite of many was "Lady of Spain" carried out with gay festive flowers. New uniforms were the result of extra work.

In addition to bolstering Cowboy spirit at pep rallies, the twirlers also entertained at Kessler and the Vet's Hospital.

GIRLS' SPORTS

This year, the Girls' Sports program attracted very wide participation. Basketball, bowling, and ping pong were the fall activities, while swimming, baseball, archery, cheerleading, and twirling made up the agenda for the spring. One hundred points are given for participating in each activity, and upon receiving 400 points a girl receives a class number, and at 800 points a block letter. The participants feel that the point system offers an added attraction to the program.

BOYS' SPORTS

Among the various clubs offered during the Wednesday and Friday activity periods, one of the most popular continues to be the Boys' Sports Clubs. The combined clubs of Mr. Lawrence, Mr. O'Keefe, and Mr. Krimmel engaged mostly in boxing, touch football, basketball, and softball. On several occasions, films exhibiting the finer techniques of the various sports were shown.

Mr. Guest, head basketball coach, held special instruction sessions with those interested in the sport, offering the finer points of court strategy.

The ambitious members of Mr. Wear's Hunting and Fishing Club, besides enjoying several field trips, had fishing contests with some of the neighboring schools.

In his twelfth year as Baseball Coach, Mr. O'Keefe molded his team around four returning lettermen. Handling veteran moundsmen Bill Wissen and Guy Berger was catcher Hal Behar. The infield consisted of Dick Blake at first, Champ Goldman at second, Ed Rinehardt at shortstop, and Wendy Wear at third. Chasing fly balls were Don Oberg, Fred McCrae, and Stan Smith.

After opening the season with a 4-4 tie with Montclair, the Cowboys dropped two straight Big Ten contests to Kearny 1-0 and Columbia 5-3. In their next conference game the O'Keefemen defeated Montclair 4-1, followed by a 10-3 victory over Orange and a 4-3 triumph over Nutley.

TRACK

Despite the lack of track facilities in West Orange, the Cowboy track squad is enjoying a fine season. Bill Bishop and Ed Morris lead in the short and long distant runs respectively, while Harvey Duchin and Phil Forgione carry the bulk of the field work. Other members of Coach Ed Johnson's team include veterans Terry Lewis, Reid Morrow, Arne Anderson, Mark Kiviat, and Art Rimback. The Cowboys got off to a slow start, losing three meets in Irvington, Orange, and East Orange before winning the first triangular meet against Summit and Madison.

GOLF

With Jeff Hare as the only returning letterman, Coach Haydn Evans faced a large rebuilding assignment. Talented newcomers, however, made the season more exciting and prosperous. Following Hare, who was captain for the second successive year, were senior Paul Rosenberg and sophomores John McLeish, Glenn Caldaro, Noel Brennan and Bob Bioren. The team played its home matches at the Essex County West Course. The linksmen split their first four matches, defeating Nutley and Millburn, then losing to Millburn and Westfield.

TENNIS

This year's net squad, using the East Orange Tennis Club as its home court, has seniors Ben Flusser and Alan Silber and Junior Jim Hug as a nucleus. To aid these veterans, Mr. Finch had Dick Tull, Harris Silver, Steve Gilbert, Dick Kline, and Barry Hirsch. The team, which held practice sessions as early as last fall, was well rounded, and got off on a good start, winning four and losing one. The loss was to Montclair and the triumphs over Livingston, Kearny, Columbia, and East Orange.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Blumer and Mr. McRoberts, our two International Relations Clubs have provided the students with an opportunity to better understand current domestic and foreign affairs.

Panel discussions, presentations, and debates made each club meeting interesting and educational for every member.

During the course of this year the two clubs visited the United Nations and the New York Times Building to enrich the offerings of the club program.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was presided over this year by the efficient and capable Gail Kennison, setting a precedent as the first woman to hold such an office. She was aided in her job by Glen Trebour, Vice President; Sandra Trotman, Corr. Secretary; Marian Dickenson, Rec. Secretary; and Donald Turner, Treasurer. As a result of hard work by the officers and co-operation from the students, the Council was a very active organization and West Orange High School was the beneficiary. To mention just a few of the most outstanding accomplishments that were brought about:—two new telephones were installed; the traffic problem in the driveway was solved; the food in the cafeteria was greatly improved and more varied; "Cowboys Consolidated" was established to promote better school spirit; the selection of a Football Queen was inaugurated; and all class elections were standardized.

The future Councils of the high school will have to strive their hardest in order to measure up to the Student Council of '56.

Through its speech program, West Orange students are prepared to participate in a variety of speech activities.

Miss Wilson and her Chatter Club group, gave accounts of trips and amusing informal talks in their meetings. To wind up the year they took a jaunt into New York.

Our inspired dramatists received excellent advice and the benefits of coaching from Mrs. Cotter who taught them how to apply make-up, how to read monologues, and how to acquire stage presence. Many students in the Dramatics Club also participated in the school production.

Once again the students of the Student Production Club supervised by Miss Jansen put their heads together and came up with the plot for "Commotion on the Ocean" which ran for two nights and was received by an overwhelming audience.

The very recently formed Debating Club had many serious, well-founded, lively discussions on major issues of the world.

BUSINESS CLUBS

The Business Clubs in conjunction with business classes act as secretaries to teachers, keep student work records, help with preparation of stencils, and type Year-book copy.

Members of the typing club will all agree that typing is a valuable asset to any person. From Mr. Groendyk, they learned the mastery of the keyboard, the art in raising your speed, and also the basic parts and functions of a machine and how to care for it.

The Student Secretaries Club composed of students with aspirations of secretarial work after graduation, were headed in their work by Mrs. Evans who aided them in facilitating the art of shorthand and letter composing.

Mr. Evans and his Business Practice Club were completely absorbed in learning how to calculate different business machines.

No high school can exist without certain service organizations. West Orange is represented by a wealth of talent in these clubs.

Under the able guidance of Miss Schwenk, the West Orange Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America and the Red Cross Club gave aid and comfort to the needy. Among other commendable deeds, the girls sent Christmas gifts and favors to many local institutions and hospitals.

The Library Council, under the direction of Mrs. Meyer, librarian, kept our library in tip-top condition. Duties of the council included cataloging, filing, and the repairing of books.

The boys of Mr. Eastwood's Visual Aids Club, after learning how to operate correctly a movie projector, aided the school greatly by showing movies to classes and assemblies.

Miss Wilson, sponsor, and members of the Assembly Council have presented the student body with many interesting assemblies. Among these assemblies were Spanish Dancers, mentalist, Raymond Wallace, and the author, Salom Rizk.

ART CLUBS

Art lovers of all phases have found many ways in which to express their ability through the Art Workshop, Drawing, Opera, and Dancing Clubs.

The Opera Club exposes to many interested members the origins and purposes of various operas. Headed by Mrs. Terry, the yearly activities of the club are highlighted by a trip to the Metropolitan Opera.

Under the direction of Mrs. Craig, the Modern Dance Club has set its purpose to instill the grace and feeling of free movement of the modern dance. The Folk Dance Club provides enjoyment in learning quaint rhythmic steps of traditional international dances. Each Wednesday and Friday, the Ballroom Dance Club lets every member join in on social fun. The club provides a convenient chance to learn both the basic and unusual dance steps.

The Art Workshop and Drawing Club provides for students, interested in the applied arts, the opportunity to work on projects each particular member enjoys.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

Aiming to enrich the language activities the program offers membership in three foreign language clubs.

Le Cercle Français, enthusiastically sponsored by Madame Allen, provides the members with an opportunity to learn more about France through movies, games, and songs, and aids them in speaking the language more fluently. This year the club attended Modern Language Day at Rutgers.

Al Club de Espanol, under the supervision of Miss Eaton had a very interesting year. The presence of Juakin Lopez de Ayala, an exchange student from Madrid, Spain, added spice to the many discussions on Spanish customs.

The Latin Club, directed by Miss Loughran, made an interesting study this year of Roman culture. Latin games and songs made each club meeting full of fun and learning.

In the field of science, several clubs accommodate many students interested in the various aspects of the scientific realm.

Biology enthusiasts joined Miss Gardner in breeding hamsters. Members of the Biology Techniques Club or "The Echoes of Einstein" as they call themselves, have satisfied their interests by careful diet experiments with white mice, and several "on the spot" field trips.

Ambitious amateur radio operators of the Radio Club have entered the A.R.R.L. Contest to compete in communicating with foreign countries by way of "ham" radio transmitters.

Girls of the Chemistry Nursing Club met with Mr. Bauerle, a newcomer to the science department, to prepare themselves for their chosen careers by becoming acquainted with the principles and techniques of nursing. One of their projects was analyzing blood types.

Future engineers collaborated with Mr. McEwen on the fundamentals of engineering.

This active club was divided into four major subdivisions; aeronautical engineering, architectural engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering.

HOBBY CLUBS

A variety of activities are represented by the various hobby clubs. With the aid of Miss Quinn's nimble fingers, the girls in the Needlecraft Club produced many stylish items for the members of both sexes. Among the more popular projects were attractive socks, sweaters, and stoles.

Many discoveries were made by the members of Mr. Eastwood's Stamp Club while discussing, trading, and comparing stamps from their interesting and valuable collections. Stamps from all parts of the world made up some very fascinating collections.

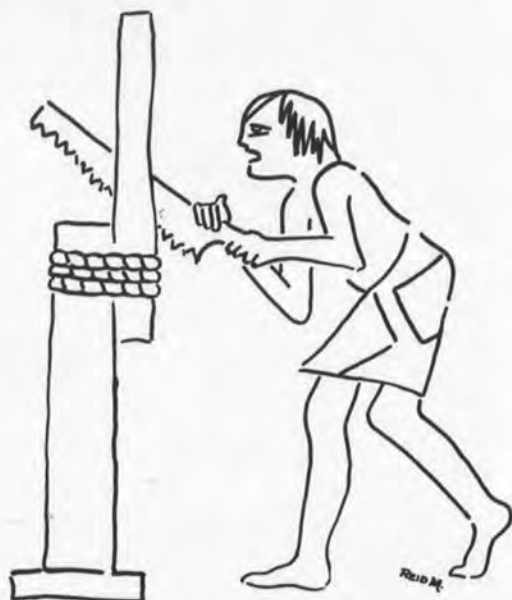

The Leathercraft Club, under the leadership of Mr. Bush, turned out many fashionable products that have added the finishing touches to many wardrobes. Pocketbooks, belts, and wallets were among the skillfully made articles.

A club which boasts one of the largest memberships is Mr. Brook's Auto-mechanics Club whose members learned useful pointers on taking care of an automobile while tinkering beneath the hood. Other valuable information obtained was advice on safe driving and factors on preventive maintenance.

BELOW—The popularity of the Auto-Mechanics Club moderated by Mr. Brooks is evidenced by the overflow crowd.

Many keen witted chess players found the Chess Club a challenging activity. Champions and captains were singled out to compete in interscholastic meets. For those who were unacquainted with chess, Mr. Fink, an enthusiastic director, provoked avid interest by teaching the game early in the year.

Top-rate baby sitters met in Mrs. McNaughton's Baby-Sitting Club. Abiding by their own list of regulations and recommended fees, the members found the experience of club membership to be very profitable.

Mr. Bayer's timely tips aided many experienced bridge players as well as those who had been new to the game.

Useful articles are frequent effects of the Ceramic Club. Molding, glazing, and firing have become second nature to the members under the direction of Mr. DeMaine.

The culminating activity of the Creative Writing Club is to be a magazine of work written and published by students of the high school.

MUSIC ACTIVITIES

Shakespeare's sentiment about "the man who hath no music in his soul" cannot be proved at our school. A variety of music activities found hundreds of students participating throughout the year.

Early in autumn the members of the marching band, under the competent direction of both Mr. Charles Reifsnyder and Mr. John Sost, spent untold hours rehearsing the songs and formations which were put into operation at each football game. Familiar to most students was the precision routine of "Over the Rainbow."

After football season, the band continued to meet weekly as a club, but a few conscientious members in addition to regular band meeting, got together with Mr. Sost to form a dance band, playing everything from waltz to jazz. This organization has performed at many school functions for student enjoyment.

The student body greatly enjoyed the tuneful renditions of the orchestra, under the superb direction of Mr. Dean Jennings Butterfield. Some of the favorite melodies drawing loud applause from the students were, "Blue Tango," "Selections from Roberta," "Donkey Serenade," and "The Pearl Fishers."

The orchestra has produced not only melodious harmony but some outstanding musical members. Frank Carey, Ed Morris, Larry Stessin, and David Bolen were all honored persons, chosen to play in the All State Symphony. The latter was also selected as Concert Master.

The Girls' Glee Club, one of the most inclusive organizations in the school, extended open arms to all girls sincerely interested in group singing. During Wednesday club period, many a harmonious song drifted from the girls' gym among which were, "Song of Love," "We Who Love Music," and "What a Lovely Day."

The A Capella Choir was composed of members who were selected only after being given a try-out.

Mr. Barnes has done an outstanding job in the training and conducting of both these groups. The May Concert bore proof to this. The audience was especially receptive to the Choir's humorous rendition of "When the Saints Come Marching In." Some other numbers which were equally stirring were two spirituals called "Heaven Is Uphill All the Way," and "Ezekial Saw de Wheel." The "Benediction" concluded the program.

W.O.T.A.C. headed by promoter Byron Tobin and supervised by Mr. McRoberts, again provided a wonderful opportunity for W.O.H.S. students to get together on Saturday nights and to dance.

Hard work and long hours were put in by the officers to make W.O.T.A.C. a big success. The "Big Kick-Off" following the Irvington game, was the first dance of the season and drew a big crowd. W.O.T.A.C. dances were held under such unusual names as "The Snowball Dance," "Purple Grotto," and "Queen Night." The "Last Blast" concluded the season.

PHILO

The Philologian Literary Society accomplished many worthwhile projects. Sport scoreboards kept the school posted on all results of sports events. Spirited campaigns incited enthusiasm during the football season. Allen Ramey acted as a capable president.

Under the helpful advising of Mr. Bayer, the club members enjoyed a New York excursion to see the Broadway show "Pipe Dream." The annual Philo-Clio banquet brought a successful year to its end.

Fellows, M. Jones, H. Gilman, P. Manahan, M. De Palma, D. Miller, S. Koch, E. Alpert, P. Condos, R. Tilkin, J. Cadan, Mr. McRoberts.

Clio spent a rewarding year through its many activities in support of school functions. Clio boosters initiated an honor roll plaque on the main floor. Tradition provided a trip to New York to attend a Broadway musical, "Pipe Dream."

June was traditionally highlighted with the Philo-Clio banquet where the installation of new officers and members was held. The climatic event of the affair was the awarding of a silver cup to the club which had the highest scholastic record.

This year celebrated the tenth anniversary of the publication of the Roundup. As an additional stimulus on this occasion, the Roundup received the "Medalist Award" from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Under the co-editorship of Harris Silver and Sandra Jackson, and with the experienced supervision of Mr. Atwell Thomas, the junior and senior staff members made every issue of the Roundup news-packed and exciting.

In addition to the outstanding news coverage, the members of the staff also found time to sponsor the Typical Student Contest.

The student body is indeed proud to be the possessors of a newspaper of such high caliber as the Roundup.

The West-O-Ranger staff, headed by the never tiring Editor-in-Chief Allen Ramey and co-ordinated by Mr. Tylus, staff advisor, have tried to record the progress of curricular studies and to capture pictorially the maze of hectic events and never-to-be-forgotten moments which have been all too fleeting.

The Egyptian culture chosen as the source of the theme, provoked a great display of imagination on the part of the art committee in dreaming up unusual designs and colorful creations to fit this motif.

After much toil on the part of faculty and students, the yearbook was finally realized not only as a "book" but also as a souvenir of everlasting and exciting memories.

In addition to the members of the committees cited under the pictures, the following people also were instrumental in producing the yearbook.
