THE GREEK WAY

WEST-O-RANGER

Published by the Students of
WEST ORANGE HIGH SCHOOL
WEST ORANGE, N. J.

This yearbook is the result of eighteen years of learning, of many young people. It required discussion, writing, photography, and many other things, that although not in black and white, are there and without them there would be no yearbook.

But eighteen years of learning and experience could not result in the writing of a complete language or the developing of art. Those effects are really the results of thousands of years' learning and of many peoples experiences. Sumerians, Assyrians, Babylonians, Egyptians, Greeks, and others. Many of these nations have disappeared. Today the glory of their cultures is only to be deciphered from pieces of stone. They died, they vanished; yet not really. For, on the stone which they put in the foundations, the building of civilization has been raised; without this stone there would be no building. Yes, many of them died; others still live.

The Greeks for one, are a people on a small peninsula covered with mountains. They took the knowledge that already existed and using it as a clue, they went further, developed new philosophies, new governments, new sciences, and arts. They, too, put a big stone in the foundations of civilization. The Greeks still live today, they have roots in mythology and offsprings in the atomic age. Following the fate of all nations and people they rose and fell more than once. The pagan temples were succeeded by Christian churches. The Homeric epics by the Acritic songs. Ancient Greece became modern Greece. The old famous city states became small cities and towns. Their force, wealth and glamour are no more than a faraway dream. The sea, the trees, the mountains are always there, though, and the people are there carrying in them for hundreds of generations the same quality of spirit they inherited from their ancestors.

Their knowledge, all knowledge, we can compare to a winding staircase. All steps are identical. It takes the same amount of effort to climb each one of the steps; but, each one leads higher and higher, and it would not be so if it were not for the progress of the cultures who preceded us. Every generation takes on from where its fathers left off. In the beginning it took many generations to climb one step, but in this age it seems that progress has increased its rate of advance; yet, let us not forget that it probably took the same effort to invent the wheel as it took to invent atomic energy; it was still a matter of climbing from one step to the next. In our eighteen years we have had a glimpse from the highest step, as far as we could see.

Let us now keep firmly one foot on this highest step and with the other reach for that new step which we shall create.

We live in an age when scientific progress continually shrinks the world. Problems of world wide scope can be overcome in time and as a result we try to understand all cultures. At top of page Joyce Hecht re-enacts scene from Spanish Club initiation party. At left, group of foreign students examine the roll-top desk of a great American, Thomas Edison.

THELMA O. WEISSENBORN

To teach students to have a healthy respect for the structure of the English sentence is one of the major aims of the English course and one of the particular aims of Miss Weissenborn, the senior member of the high school faculty.

Miss Weissenborn, a native of Jersey City, received her education at Allegheny College. Coming to West Orange in 1920, she has taught in the present high school since its opening.

During her employment here, Miss Weissenborn has taught practically every major high school subject, including Plane Geometry, Algebra II, Trigonometry, History, and several years of counseling. The greatest reward that she has found in her teaching is that she has satisfied students who have been inspired to love fine literature.

It is in appreciation of the inspiration which she has provided and for the lifetime of service to the youth of West Orange High School that the class of '59 dedicates the West-O-Ranger to Miss Weissenborn.

MARY E. LOUGHREN

"To read the works of an author in the language in which he wrote is the only way to read them." In accomplishing this, a dead language takes on new life under the guidance of Miss Loughren, our high school Latin teacher.

A graduate of the College of St. Elizabeth with an advanced degree from Columbia University, she taught for several years at Edison before coming to the Senior High.

As the basis of the romance languages and as a means of increased understanding and vocabulary, Miss Loughren feels that Latin is invaluable, and as strict a mental discipline as mathematics. The witnessing of young minds finding new pleasures in learning is her greatest teaching reward.

In dedicating the West-O-Ranger to Miss Loughren as a token of the gratitude which prompts this action, the class of '59 hopes to provide some small recognition of what Miss Loughren has done and will continue to do for the students of West Orange.

BELOW—Seated around the table are the Members of the Board of Education: Mrs. Jacob T. Friend, Mr. John F. O'Brien, Mr. Lennart T. Ericsson, Secretary; Dr. Charles P. Torlucci, Mr. Arthur F. Redmond, Mr. H. Harris Zimmerman, and Dr. Rexford S. Souder, Superintendent.

REXFORD S. SOUDER

Superintendent

A graduate of Glassboro Teachers College, Dr. Souder earned his master's and doctorate degrees at Columbia University Teacher's College. A former New Jersey teacher, he has held administrative positions in California and Massachusetts. Since his arrival in West Orange in 1957, Dr. Souder has worked to guide and promote the school building program.

FRANK S. ALBRIGHT

Director of Secondary Education

Coming to West Orange from the midwest in 1956, Dr. Albright tackles the important job of secondary education director. A graduate of Bradley University and the University of Illinois, he holds a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. Among the many problems confronting Dr. Albright each day are those concerned with the development of the curriculum and inter-class coordination.

RAYMOND E. HEARN

Principal

A Dickinson College graduate with a masters degree from New York University, Mr. Hearn has been principal of Gaston Street, Roosevelt Junior High, and West Orange High Schools. He is an active participator in the County, State, and National Principal Associations, and he thoroughly enjoys his work in the field of education.

Administration

CHESTER H. WINE

Vice-Principal

Mr. Wine, a graduate of Lebanon Valley College, has served West Orange High School formerly as a history teacher and now as vice-principal. He has always been interested in the happiness and well-being of the students of this high school, and we will always be grateful for what he has done for us.

EDWARD E. JOHNSON

Administrative Assistant

A former Pennsylvania teacher, Mr. Johnson holds a Ph.B. from Dickinson College and an M.A. from New York University. In his work with citizenship, the club program, and the assembly performances, Mr. Johnson most enjoys the "opportunity to help the students get enrichment through extra curricular activities."

SAMUEL MEYER

Administrative Assistant

Mr. Meyer graduated from Lebanon Valley College and earned his master's degree at Columbia University. As administrative assistant to the high school principal, he is mainly in charge of guidance. The most important work done by Mr. Meyer is overseeing the guidance program and assisting the senior boys with their college problems.

Football

In the first game of the season, the Cowboys were handed a 20-0 defeat by the Irvington Campers. West Orange then proceeded to lose to Clifford Scott, 19-0.

West Orange's first touchdown, scored in the contest with East Orange, brought vociferous approval from the Cowboy spectators. However, the Panthers routed the Cowboys, 28-6. In ensuing games the Cowboys lost to Kearny, 39-12, to Orange, 13-7, to Bloomfield, 19-12, to Montclair, 51-0, and to Englewood, 33-13. In the Englewood game the Tigers took advantage of four West Orange fumbles.

Thanksgiving Day saw the completion of a winless season for the Cowboys. The Cougars of Columbia simply outran the West Orange team and swamped the Cowboys, 39-0. With a season of experience digested by his charges, Coach Hince looks forward to a more satisfactory record in the future.

Basketball — king of winter sports

Plagued by several hindrances, the Cowboy cagers ended their first season in the new gym with a losing season of 1-15. Mr. Guest, coach of the West Orange varsity basketball team, gave the chief reason for the lack of wins as being inexperience. Coach Guest very often had to use in the lineup sophomores and juniors who had never before played varsity basketball. Even the five seniors on the thirteen-man squad were relatively unused to varsity ball, since last year's team was carried completely by seniors.

Another reason for the losing season was that the ball was much too often lost on violations. The Cowboys played a fine defensive game, but could not seem to score.

West Orange's only victory was against West Side, where the Cowboys netted 39 points to their opponents

35. The Belleville game was a close loss, Belleville barely edging out West Orange by one point, 43-42. The Cowboys made good showings against Columbia and Orange, but were defeated in these contests 36-33 and 45-32, respectively.

Mr. Wear's jayvee team improved greatly as the season progressed. In the first round of the Essex County J.V. Tournament they defeated Columbia, Kearny, Orange, and Nutley. Four of Cowboy's losses were by four points or less. The final record for the jayvee team was 4-12.

In general, behemoth inexperience caused the lack of success of the West Orange court men in the '58-'59 season. However, Mr. Guest looks forward to a winning campaign next year since he takes into account the experience of his holdovers and the promise of his jayvees.

TWIRLERS AND CHEERLEADERS

Light-footed and high-stepping, our squad of a dozen twirling beauties led the W.O. band down the gridiron. Aided by finger-flicking ability and charming appearance, our twirlers provided pleasing entertainment for the football games. All this ability was not innate, for the strutters and Mrs. Craig, their advisor, put in many grueling practice sessions to perfect their routines. Swinging and swaying to "Hawaiian War Chant" and deftly swirling hula-hoops, the twirlers were once again a feature of the games.

WOHS cheerleaders, under the direction of Mrs. Flaster, have set forth the high ideals and standards for which our high school is known. These hard-working girls have promoted school spirit in support of our sports programs and have maintained infectious morale during the whole year. These dedicated students are selected on the basis of pep and expression, skill, cooperation and dependability, and appearance.

WOHS can certainly be proud of their twirlers and cheerleaders, for they truly represent the spirit and enthusiasm of the Cowboys.

Hockey made its debut here at West Orange High not as a varsity sport, but as a club. Considering that this was the first year for the activity in West Orange, the members of the team displayed commendable effort and ability.

In the game against Morris Hills Regional High School, West Orange put up an admirable fight. Morris Hills, however, fought to a 4-2 victory over the relatively inexperienced West Orange club. W.O.

also proved worthy opponents for Livingston and Montclair.

Forwards Bill Crane and Bill and Alex Clark played an especially fine game throughout the season. Mr. Bayer, who coached the new club, felt the boys did an admirable job for their first year. He expressed the team's hope of hockey being a recognized varsity sport next year.

track and field

Despite poor field conditions for practice here at West Orange, the track team, under coach Joe Hince, made admirable showings in various meets. Hince pointed up the sorry state of the training field after each rainfall as being one big reason why the group could not be developed to fullest potential.

Sprinting proved to be the boys' strong spot in the 1959 season. At the Clifford Scott meet Steve Venokur, a senior, broke two West Orange records, making the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds and the 220 in 22.2. High jump and hurdles were two other events in which the Cowboys were fairly strong. Ray "Skip" Bury, a junior, bounded 5'8" at the Essex County Board of Education meet to take the number two spot in the high jumps.

Two members of the squad, Venokur and Bury, took part in the state meet. The Cowboy 440-relay team, consisting of Venokur, Colman, Strobridge, and Fischman, placed first in the Big Ten relays. In general, the Cowboy trackmen showed skill and ability throughout the season.

GIRLS' sports

"Play ball" and "Strike three" are common sounds on the "gridiron." Athletes are being trained all year in the girls' sports program which is under the able direction of the Physical Education Department teachers, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Flaster. Good teamwork can often be observed in the tournaments held between the different classes. Whether it be fall, winter, or spring many selected sports are offered to the student body. The girls through this after school participation have an opportunity to become outstanding in a chosen sport. Also, one of the motivating factors in promoting interest in the program has been the awarding of class numerals for outstanding performance.

West Orange High School's baseball team, recovering from a slow start exhibited marked improvement as the 1959 season progressed. After losing their first four games, the Cowboys began to click as a team.

Cowboy batsmen engaged in close contests with Belleville and Caldwell, edging out both these competitors by a score of 2-1. Montclair and Bloomfield, W. O.'s toughest opponents, handed the Cowboys defeats of 8-5 and 5-3 respectively.

Bob Arens, a first-rate right fielder, was the team's hottest hitter, with a sizzling average in the 500's. Bob Belcuore, second base, showed his skill in the infield when he ran from his position to first base to put out an Irvington batter. Chuck Del Plato, a junior, displayed great dexterity as a pitcher in the Caldwell and Belleville games and throughout the season.

Only two of last year's veterans returned to the squad this year. Although handicapped, Coach Wendell Wear successfully molded into a well-balanced club a team new to varsity baseball.

CROSS COUNTRY

Fall of 1958 saw the first appearance of the West Orange High School cross country team. Mr. William Campbell, coach of the new squad, was faced with the problem this year of conditioning his runners to cross country's two-and-one-half mile event.

Although the team did not win any meets in its first year, the boys did make good showings in many contests. Mike Tull and Bob Rothenberg were two of the Cowboys' more outstanding runners. At the Big Ten meet West Orange finished eighth. In the state competition they headed five other Group 4 schools. The cross country squad well represented West Orange High in interscholastic contests.

HOBBIES — INTERESTS

Among the sundry hobby clubs in the extra-curricular program, two clubs excelled in offering zealous students the opportunity to augment their abilities and further their enjoyment in free-time activities.

Under the direction of Mr. Huber, the Chess Club expanded its program this year. As a member team of the Essex County Chess League, the club participated in matches every two weeks and accumulated a number of victories.

Supervised by Mr. Worthington and Mr. DeMaine, the Stagecraft Club comprised the Lighting, Sound, and Scenery Crews. The men "behind the stage" did an excellent job of efficiently utilizing the new facilities.

Loyal service to the school and the community is an essential of daily living. Vital volunteers offer their services in the Library Council to aid the library in clerical work and to learn library science by Mrs. Meyer.

Our community is well served by the four members of the Junior Red Cross Council, which is represented in the Oranges. Cooperating with this Council is the Jr. Red Cross Club which aids needy children and families. Learning about teaching, the F.T.A.'s goal, is attained through observations by its members in local schools and colleges, speakers, movies, and related discussions in the personalities of teachers. From the business practice and clerical work classes come the girls who do the typing for the yearbook, and mimeographing and clerical work for the faculty.

All in all a staff of devoted students gain experience and fill the wheels of routine school life with an important cog of service.

Incorporated in the club program are the Communications Clubs, which strive to amplify the school's cultural talents.

Participating in debates with several other high schools was Miss Loughren's Debate Club. The members of this club improved their skills in argumentation and extemporaneous speaking. Mrs. Casey's Creative Writing Class recognized literary ability in the school through its fourth edition of the "Cauldron," which includes all categories of writing by West Orange students.

Directed by Mr. Campbell, the students of the Press Club supplied local newspapers with numerous articles while developing their writing skill for future work on the Roundup Staff. Mr. Kupferer's Dramatics Class studied the development of drama and attended several histrionic presentations. The course was designed to inculcate an appreciation of theatrics rather than to create actors and actresses.

Ideas are fomulated, throats are cleared, and the gavel is sounded as another meeting of Student Council swings into action. In the Library Science room our governing student body has put into effect many of the ideas the students have propounded.

Under the competent and efficient leadership of President Dick Strobbridge, this organization has achieved many advancements in our school. The Council's major goal was the reparation of the parking lot. The successful Safe-Teen program was continued in hopes of avoiding traffic jams. This year's council has orientated a handbook to be presented to the incoming sophomores, acquainting them with school life. A Citizenship Award was presented to the Student Council for meritorious service to the Janet Memorial Home. Co-ed nights, opening the school for recreation, once again have been renewed with outstanding results. Under the direction of the Council, the students participated in a clothes drive for needy Korean orphans.

The success of this year's Student Council is attributed to the untiring hard work and leadership of the officers and the sponsors, Mr. McRoberts and Mr. Huber. This organization gives the student an opportunity to make his school a better place in which to live and learn.

national honor society

Newly inaugurated in the high school this year is the Clio-Philo Chapter of the National Honor Society. Invested in the school program through the diligence of last year's honor societies, it strives not only to render meritorious services but also to furnish an incentive to the student body for advancement in character, scholarship, leadership, and service. These four attributes comprise the requisites for membership in the Society, which is the highest honor this school can bestow upon its students.

Early in the year, the Society conducted an assembly program whereby it explained its objectives and inducted new members. Moreover, the Society augmented the Cowboy spirit by directing a pep rally and a motorcade for the Thanksgiving Day game.

Other functions included free tutoring service and the posting of sports scoreboards. The year's activities were concluded by an enjoyable banquet.

round-up

Clever cowboys corral all of the newsy material in the "Roundup" each month. This thirteenth year of the publication of the "Roundup" has proved outstanding enough to have added another first place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. In addition, the paper placed fourth in the top ten school papers in New Jersey selected by the Newark News. The paper has constantly maintained only the highest standards of reporting to the student body of the important news and views of the year.

Under the very able leadership of Editor-in-chief, Howard Wishnie, the faculty advisor, Mr. Atwell Thomas, the business manager, Larry Kadish, and the news editors, Paula Levy and Judy Hirsch, the staff members have given extensive news coverage and many hours of enjoyable, informative reading to the student body.

In addition to its journalistic endeavors, the "Roundup" has made contributions to the school social and physical welfare. As in years past, the staff have also operated the food concessions at athletic events.

WEST-O-RANGER 1959

Our 1959 West-O-Ranger forged by the hands and minds of John Albright, editor-in-chief, Mr. Tylus, faculty advisor, and a proficient staff, has gathered the facts and figures of a senior class and compiled them into the spirit and emotion that is our graduating class.

Gossamers of memories need only a yearbook to make them tangible remembrances. Typical school life is the secret ingredient of the West-O-Ranger as it welds pictures and words into a representation of three years invested at WOHS.

schools as well as the big Spring Concert. Under the direction of Mr. Sost and Mr. Reifsnyder, the band enjoyed such numbers as "Silk Stockings," "Universal Judgment," and "The Peanut Vendor." "Desert Star" was an outstanding trombone solo played by Peter Zdenek who is first trombonist in the All-State and Regional Bands and All-State Orchestra. Mr. Sost also organized a fifteen-piece Dance Band which practiced before school one or two days every week in preparation for assembly programs at different schools and for the Student Production.

Twice every week the Orchestra practiced with Mr. Kulp and Mr. Butterfield. Offering marches for the assembly programs and numbers like "Tara" and "Gigi" along with many solos at the Spring Concert the Orchestra displayed an array of talent among its members.

Vocally, the school had more to offer than ever before. The A Cappella Choir was divided into two groups. Under Mr. Barnes Choir "A", composed mostly of seniors, sang West Orange Teen Age Canteen, a community sponsored dance for the teenagers of West Orange, has once again completed a successful year. Under the able direction of Mr. McRoberts, a sponsoring committee of parents, and President Hopkins, the organization has provided an outlet for "itchy feet" and "boring weekends." Started in support of our football team, WOTAC was continued throughout the season because of its great popularity. Among the highlights of this year's season were the Teens Against Polio drive, "International Night," and the honoring of the Football Queen, Linda Ippolito. During the season many rock 'n' roll artists appeared to provide a rhythmic beat for swinging feet.

assembly offerings

As in the past, West Orange provided excellent weekly assembly programs which furthered the students' entertainment while augmenting their knowledge in several cultural fields.

Vocal and instrumental talent was presented through the adroit performances of the WOHS concert band and orchestra, dance band, and choirs, and the Irvington H.S. Band.

Also proffered were several assemblies designed to promote the understanding of vital contemporary subjects, such as the democratic process and modern science. This instruction was effected through programs concerning Student Council and Student-Commissioner elections and the nature of Atomic Power.

"Funzabustin'," this year's student production, was a smash hit on WOHS Broadway. Ed Schaible and Carolyn Stausland saw their names in lights as the M.C.'s of the evening show. Toni awards were presented to Mr. Bayer and Mr. Campbell as outstanding directors of the school year. Congratulations were also received by Miss Loughren, Miss Clark, and Miss Lennox for their work behind the scenes.

"Funzabustin'" veered from the usual comedy play to a variety show with many students displaying their talents. The $600 proceeds from the one night stand supplemented the Senior Class treasury. A loud round of applause brought down the curtain on "Funzabustin'."

Through the student-commissioner elections the students obtain an experience by which they are directed towards assuming the responsibilities of the voting citizens of a community. Moreover, the program heightens the student body's knowledge of the town government and stimulates an interest in government itself through the utilization of the democratic process in the elections.

Instructed in the marshaling and the administration of the municipality by the commissioners throughout the daytime, the elected students conducted a well attended town meeting in the evening.

Community SERVICE

Society offers a wide world of challenge to the conscientious senior. Upon reaching the senior year there is a requirement for graduation of fifteen hours of work in community service. This requisite is carried on as a class project throughout the senior year and is administered through the history department. It offers the student a participating outlook of the good citizen and of community life and affairs. Some of the main localities in which the students function are the various local hospitals, Janet Memorial Home, the Red Cross, and the Y.M.C.A.

International flavor in custom, dress, and food permeated WO for a fall weekend. Thirty-five exchange students from neighboring foster homes were invited to spend the weekend in West Orange homes. American Field Service, PTA, and WOTAC sponsor this annual affair to promote universal understanding among the future leaders of our world.

This fall weekend held in store many activities. Japanese taste-buds flavored coke at the home parties Friday night. Swedish eyes surveyed the many facets of the Englewood foot-ball game. Italian feet swung to the beat of a jitterbug at WOTAC. Sunday brought a parting of the ways, but a memory of brotherhood will hold fast in the minds of all.

WEST ORANGE, N. J.

Dear Bill:

You, as a soon-to-graduate senior of West Orange High School, recently inquired if our community offers much in the way of opportunity for young people. The answer is "Yes", even though there may be some IFS attached to it. The biggest IF is you.

IF you've done your best during your four years of high school, then you already have been introduced to Opportunity.

IF you've given thought to what you want to do in life, then you have shaken hands with Opportunity.

IF you have a plan for continued self-improvement, whether it be college, night school, home-study, or practical training, then you are nearing a first-name acquaintanceship with Opportunity.

IF you follow through, IF you work hard, IF you respect and believe in the traditions that have made America great, then you and Opportunity will have become firm and fast friends.

Thomas A. Edison Industries is just one of the many manufacturing and business organizations in West Orange and surrounding communities in which Opportunity is as great today as it was when your father and grandfathers were your age. Your future is bright IF you will help to make it so.

Sincerely,

Paul J. Christiansen

FOUR MEN ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

When a young man starts out in business and probably to make a home in the community, he would do well to establish relations with a lawyer, a doctor, a clergyman of his faith, and a banker. These four professions hold the threads to successful living in the various areas of life, and they represent services he is sure to need personally at sometime or other.

For your bank, consider THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF WEST ORANGE. It has expanded because it has given good service to its customers. It has grown with its community and helped it to grow.
