The class of 2003 encountered all the joys, hardships, and lessons that came with growth, but what strikes us as most significant is how quickly the time passed. We now take the opportunity to reflect on the events that contributed to our development, and thank those who helped to shape our future. We're proud of our accomplishments because we have worked hard to stand out at West Orange High School. This yearbook is a tribute to the individuals who came together to form the class of 2003, and worked collectively to demonstrate the excellence, dedication, diversity, and most importantly, unity, that we represent.

Out of the Past

As seniors, we spend a lot of time reflecting on the past. We remember elementary school and middle school, and think about how much we've changed since then. The memories, however, are not ours alone. We share them with friends who have been there through it all. This section honors our pasts, and is dedicated to the friendships that have shaped who we are.

"It's my party and I won't smile if I don't want to."
Charla Bullock, Jamie Reimer, and Amanda Klein seemed distracted at a birthday party.

O-boy! Orion Philips jumps for joy.

"I'm glad I've stayed best friends with everyone from St. Cloud."

Rich Friedman

"The monkey bar crew was the best back in the day. Ben some other kid and I towered over the playground all period."

Luke Walter

"I recall cheerleading on the playground with Meghan, Ann, Rachel, Alex, and Angela every day at recess for the boys playing football."

Nicolette Perna

"When I was five years old, I won first runner up in the America's Favorite Sweetheart pageant."

Katrina Perry

"When I was a little girl, I fell off my bike and scraped my nose. Until it healed, my friends and family called me Rudolf."

Kristie Braus

ecked out

"I'll never forget walking in and seeing that two other girls were wearing the same dress except in different colors."

Lori Weiss

"The preparation took forever, but the prom itself felt like five minutes."

Jennifer Lava

"I really liked seeing my grumpy guy friends in tuxedos. They looked like GQ men."

Andrea Miltiades

"I loved getting all dressed up; I felt like a princess."

Kate Molloy

"My friends and I were some of the last people there, it was as if we had the prom all to ourselves."

Jessica Lipman

"I remember tearing it up on the dance floor with a 102 degree fever, and a fun filled post prom party at my house."

Stella Shmoys

After weeks of planning and hours of primping, the class of 2003 gathered at Mayfair Farms for the most magical evening of our lives. We pranced around in elegant gowns and tuxedos, eager to see our classmates DECKED OUT. It was a night of music, dancing, pictures and parties; it was truly a night we will all remember.

Jen Lava and Kevin Duffy share a moment during prom.

Calvin Poon and Linda Lagunzad watch from afar as their friends break it down on the dance floor.

Eric Zanoni is a lucky man, as he poses with four beautiful friends.

Jen Abramson and Kate Molloy pose for a pre-prom picture.

Vasanth Alli gets up close and personal with the Australian wildlife.

Frank Giammarino and Laejon Brooks tour Italy.

Meghan Barry and Diana Gonzalez spend a sunny, summer day at the beach.

These girls take full advantage of their summer break.

School's Out

To high school students, the summer represents freedom and fun. It is a time independent of torturous tests, homework, and parental nagging. When SCHOOL'S OUT, we travel to far away places, work, go down the shore, and party with our friends. We regard the summer with a certain amount of respect, because it never fails to bring us fun and happiness. As the school year ends, we look forward to the freedom and happiness that is the essence of summer.

Andrew Caplan finds time to enjoy the sea breezes.

"My summer was great! It was the best summer, because all summer I looked forward to coming back to school."

Dan Martin

"I was able to work with Professor Matilsky and Doc at an Astrophysics program at Rutgers. It was excellent!"

Priyanka Koul

"I had a great experience doing a production of 'Damn Yankees' with Theater Under the Stars. I met amazing people!"

Gillian Suss

"We went to the Liquid Mixture Concert and got to go backstage to chill with Hoobastank on their tour bus. It was so surreal, because we were with people we usually see on TV."

Nora Aliu

"I fell in love this summer."

Diana Gonzalez

ut of Control

"I was excited yet sad
for my last pep rally."
Charla Bullock

"There's no greater rush
than the school cheering
and yelling your name."
Vas Alli

"I rushed to get a spot in the front row, behind the senior sign because I knew it would be the only way I could get into the yearbook."
Amanda Klein

"They didn't need to do
the cheering competition this year because they already knew who would win."
Zahirah Muhammad

"Senior year finally came alive when we stood up and cheered
as the class of 2003."
Stephanie Weinstein

It was as if a blue and white hurricane swept across Mountaineer stadium on September 13th. Whether we were running across the field or cheering in the stands, the excitement of Pep Rally exuded a powerful sense of unity and spirit. Clouds of confetti and glitter enveloped the senior section of the stands, where painted faces proudly sported their senior jerseys, displaying the unmistakable pride that the senior class holds. Pep Rally was a place to let it all OUT!

"I don't enjoy spending a lot of money on clothes, so I buy them at cheap stores like thrift shops. The most important thing for me is comfort."

— Gillian Suss

"I don't dress differently to stand out. My style reflects my mood of the day."

— Linda Lagunzad

"I feel that wearing nice clothes helps me tackle any social situation I encounter."

— Andrew Cantor

"I inspire my fashion sense. As long as I have my hat, I'm happy."

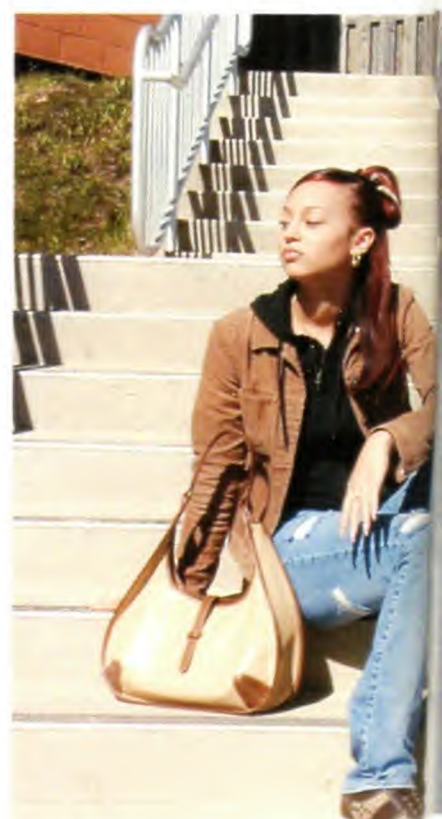

— Julie Shiller

"I like to color coordinate my outfit with matching belts and shoes. My style is hot."

— Laila Hubbi

If there's one thing the senior class possesses, it's style! Fashion plays an important role in our lives, and offers insight into our personalities. From Diesel to Iceberg, UFO or J.Crew, each student displays a distinct style that expresses who they are, and what they stand for. Our unique styles make the senior class STAND OUT!

Out on the Job

Senior year is undoubtedly the most exciting year of high school, but at the same time, it is the most expensive. Senior dues, prom bids and gas money are just a few of the many expenses that burden the senior class. To ease this economic stress, many seniors have taken initiative and gotten after-school jobs. Going OUT TO WORK has proven to be a valuable experience for seniors, as it builds character and offers the opportunity to show responsibility.

"My job teaches me how to be patient with people, and how to do more than one thing at a time."

Gem Wilson

"I have worked with kids over the summer which I can use in the future because I want to become a teacher."

Tamara Walker

"I like my job because of the feeling I get knowing that my effort has helped someone."

James Taneja

"I have learned to interact and communicate with other people."

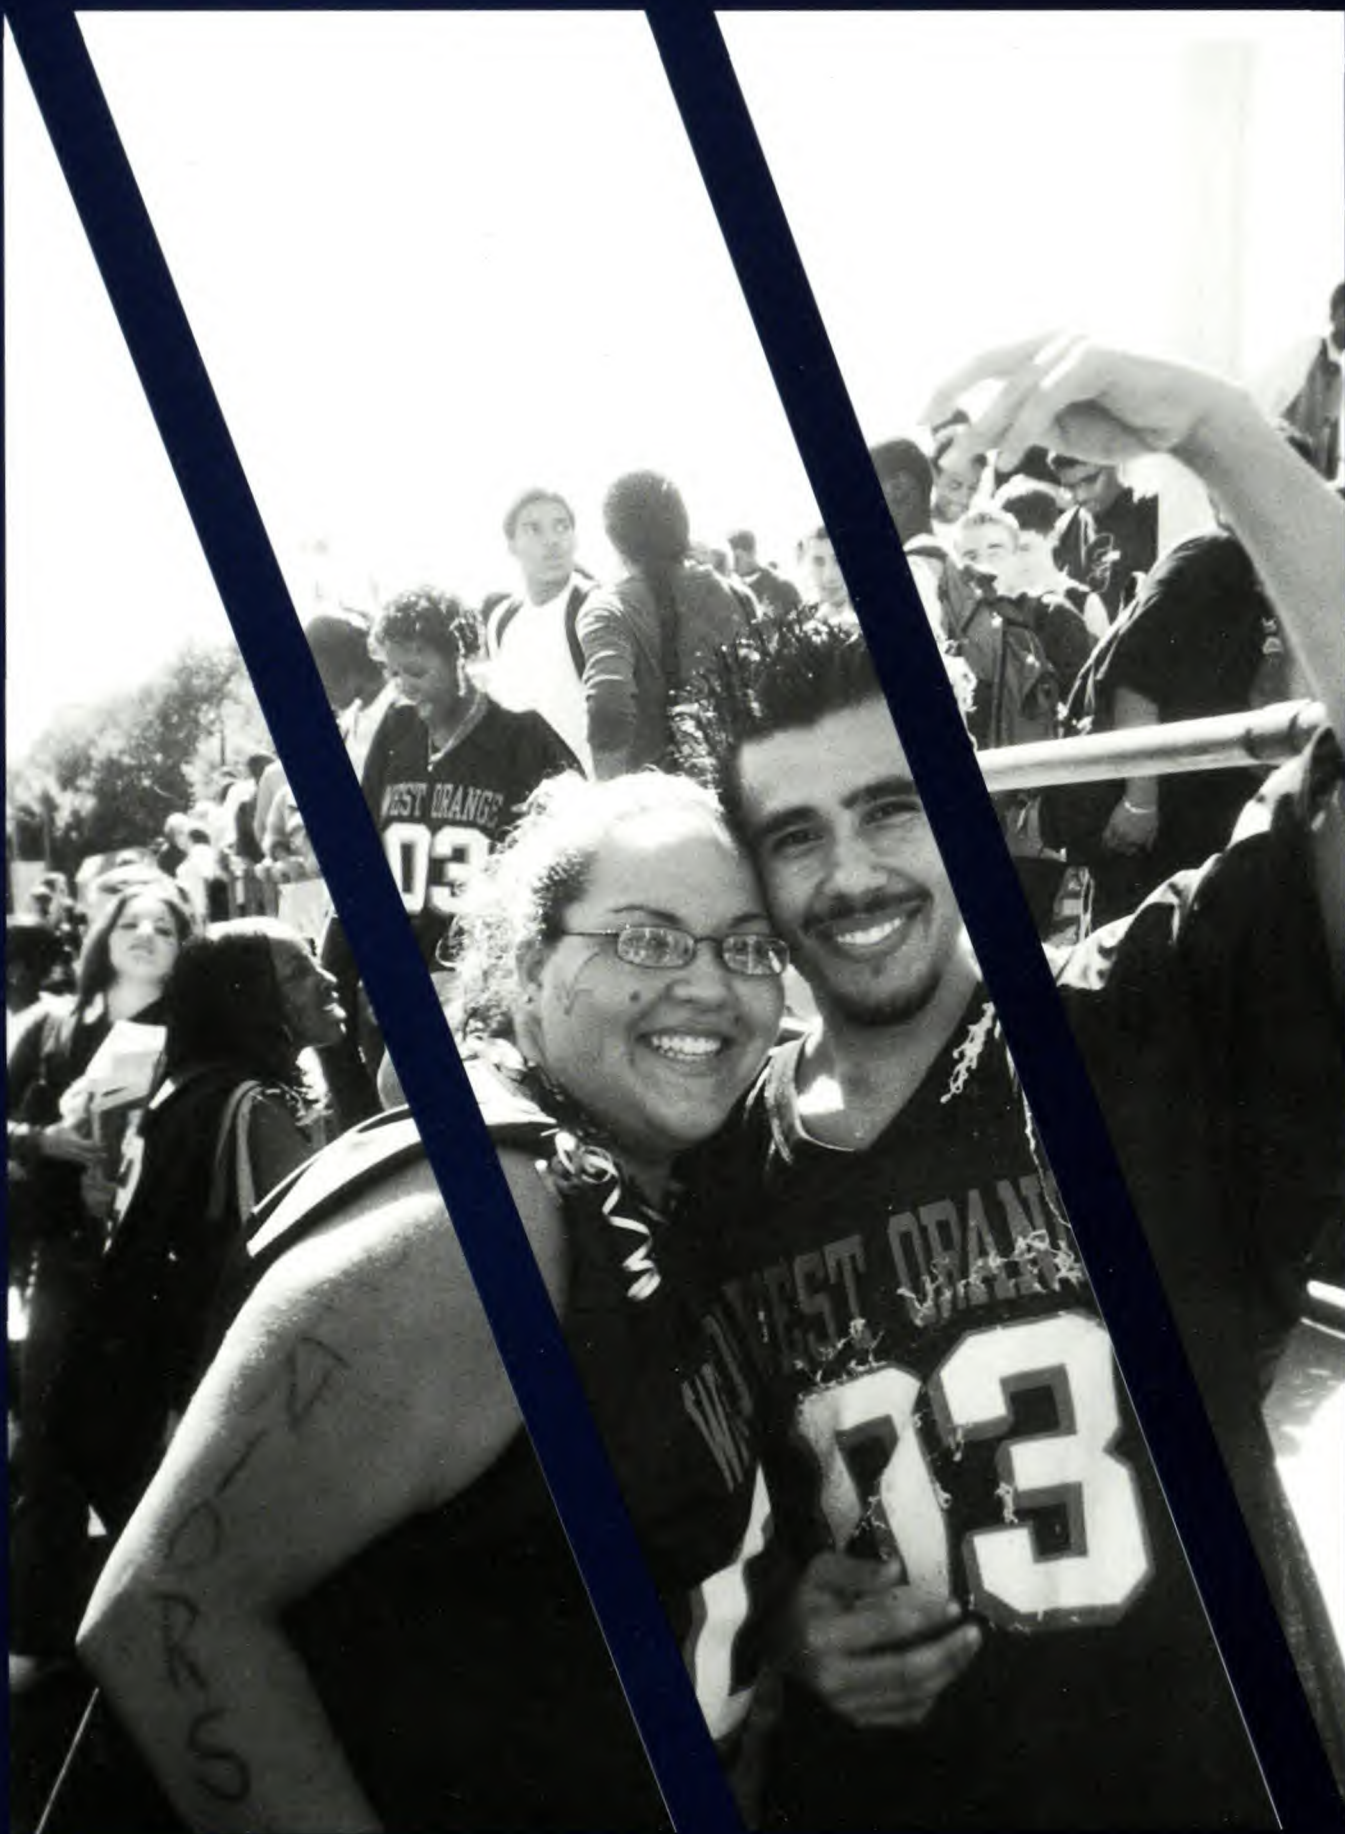

Genet Zerahi

"Although maintaining a job during school can be stressful, the paycheck every two weeks makes it all worthwhile."

'03 STRIKES — and —

It's 7:45, the start of another school day. The hallways are bustling with students, who rush to their lockers AND home-rooms, trying to avoid being marked late. As we settle into the grind, each of us resumes the role of diligent students. We're working hard all day to make the grade. For many seniors, the 2:20 school bell means the day has just begun. Some of us constitute the school's clubs and organizations, while others are athletes, working to be a source of pride for their team. Still, much of our senior class uses their spare time to help others OUT through volunteer work and community involvement. The senior class is an admirable group of students who are involved in various activities in an effort to better themselves and the school.

Last Time-Out!

On November 2, 2002, as snow dusted the football stadium, the WOHS annual Homecoming game took place. Hundreds of students, faculty members and parents packed the stands to support the Mountaineers, and to see the crowning of the homecoming queen, and for the first time ever, the homecoming king.

This year's nominees were Charla Bullock, Kristen Spagnuolo, Joyce Esquerre, Marcelo Rodriguez, Angel Martinez and Vasanth Alli. Preceding the fabulous half-time performances of the Marching Mountaineers and the Varsity Cheerleaders, the Homecoming ceremony began. With a thunderous roar from the crowd, Charla and Vasanth were presented their crowns as the 2002-2003 Homecoming queen and king.

Following the ceremony, the second half of the game was played. Although the Mountaineers were not victorious, the team displayed admirable enthusiasm and dedication throughout the season.

Football games would not be the same without them; they pump up the team and rile up the crowd. The WOHS marching band and color guard are among the best in the state. The students that make up this band have achieved this through hard work and dedication. They start practicing in the summer with a rigorous week at band camp, which is the beginning of countless hours they spend marching, practicing, and playing. They participate in many competitions and have won many awards and honors. Our marching band is a fine example of how commitment can lead to amazing results.

The jazz band offers a wonderful opportunity for serious musicians to further develop their skills.

The drill team steps into action.

The drill team is one of West Orange High School's most hardworking and enthusiastic groups. The ladies on the team have spent countless hours practicing their steps to ensure that their timing is sharp and their moves are perfect for their performances at six basketball games each season. The three captains are Shauna Deans, Colena Golson and Monique Grahm. The drill team is a source of unity and friendship for its members, and is a rewarding activity that encourages school spirit.

The men's dance/step team made its debut this year. With Mr. Farley as its advisor, the team worked extremely hard to create dances that employ complicated rhythmic patterns and showcase advanced dancing skills. The team brings together a diverse group of young men, and fosters the creative development and companionship of its members. The step team hopes to earn honor and respect from the West Orange High School community, while improving school spirit and student morale.

Hard at work, Stella organizes the ladder.

We worked diligently throughout the school year, because we wanted to produce a yearbook that would be treasured forever, knowing that it is the single most tangible item that we take with us after graduation. Our intent was to create a keepsake that captured the essence of the class of 2003; we wanted this book of memories to be everything hoped for by our classmates. Our goal was to ensure that when we all look back at our yearbook, we would undoubtedly see that it reflected the lasting impact of the class of 2003. When choosing a title for the yearbook, we sifted through many ideas, and after much deliberation, decided upon a theme that seemed most appropriate, '03 Strikes and We're Out. We are certain that our yearbook represents the unique members of our senior class and our vast accomplishments.

"Keep watching us because we're watching you." This motto has proven true for the staff of WOHS TV 36 news in the 2002-2003 school year. Under the leadership team of Mr. John McCarthy and Mr. Marty Kale, the students of TV 36 have successfully provided the West Orange community with the latest local, national, and international news. The staff has spent hours shooting and editing pieces, proving their dedication and spirit for the town of West Orange. With the help of senior anchors Andrew Caplan and Michelle Monaco, sports anchor Eric Sunberg, and executive producers Michelle Blumenschine and Molly Palermo, the WOHS TV 36 class has truly portrayed West Orange in a positive light.

'03 STRIKES — and —

Over the past four years, the senior class has come together AND formed bonds that will last a lifetime. Some of us grew up together, while others first met in high school. Regardless of how long we've known each other, WE'RE all a part of an unbreakable entity. As time passes and we continue on our life paths, the only remnants of our high school experience will be memories.

Through photos, we've highlighted the events that holistically shaped our high school experience. Each picture serves as a reminder of who we were, who we are and who we will become. While we all represent the class of 2003, each of us stands OUT, as an individual who has contributed to something great. As we move on our way, we hold dear the memories of the people who have shaped who we are.

You Know You're At WOHS When....

- The best sports teams are bowling, swimming and marching band.

- You look out the window and see trailers.

- You religiously watch TV 36.

- They announce that they're testing the fire alarm system every day.

- You actually read the school newspapers.

- Garbage cans are used not for garbage, but to control ceiling leaks.

- Despite a blizzard, school is in session.

- Bombs scares are our favorite past time.

- School I.D.s are the new fashion statement.

- You can smell the bathroom before you see it.

- You have muscular arms from fighting your way through the halls.

- The clocks are never correct.

You Know You Have Senioritis When...

- You haven't heard the first or second bell this year.
- Your elective classes outnumber your academic classes.
- You wake up and just change into a fresh pair of pajamas for school.
- Your lunch period begins at 11:00 and ends at 2:00.
- You spend more time walking back & forth to the student parking lot than you do in class.
- As far as you're concerned the school year ends after the 2nd marking period.
- Your school week begins on Tuesday and ends on Thursday.
- You see your first period class at Dunkin Donuts.
- The late attendance people know you by name.
- You miraculously manage to fit all 7 classes into a one-subject notebook.
- There are days when you only come to school to drop of transcript requests.
- Your absences outnumber your days in school.

Back In The Day...

- Our favorite TV shows were Fraggle Rock, The Mickey Mouse Club, KIDS Incorporated, Saved by the Bell, and Family Matters.
- We were ready for school as long as we had our LA Lights, side ponytail with a scrunchie, stretch pants, oversized sweater, and scrunched socks.
- Michael and Janet Jackson, Madonna, MC Hammer, and Whitney Houston didn't seem so old.
- We tried to organize our own babysitters' club.
- Care Bears, Smurfs, Captain Planet, and My Little Pony dominated the world of cartoons.
- Game Boys, Pogs, GI Joes, Nintendo games, and Legos filled every boy's toy chest.
- Stick on earrings and snap bracelets were coordinated with every outfit.
- We drank Kool-Aid and Tang and ate lunchables and Fruit Rollups for lunch.
- We played games like Mall Madness, Girl Talk, Guess Who?, and Operation.
- Candyman, Chucky, and Silence of the Lambs gave us nightmares.

The faculty and administration have played a large role in shaping our high school experience. Throughout our years at West Orange High School, we have had extraordinary teachers who have directed, assisted, AND inspired us. Each faculty member has had a part in developing our talents, and guiding the ambitions of our class. Not only do they motivate us in the classroom, they go above and beyond the call of duty to show us that WE'RE all unique and important. Through advisement and coaching, they have served as undeniable sources of encouragement. Each staff member has impacted our lives in more ways than we can count. When we head OUT on our own and look back on those who helped make us who we are, we will remember our dedicated teachers.

We're Reaching Out

West Orange High School

Arthur J. Alloggiamento, Principal

Dear Members of the Graduating Class of 2003,

As you know, this is my first year at West Orange High School and you have been quite instrumental in making it an extraordinarily good year for me. I have had the good fortune of interacting with many of you, and these interactions have all been very positive. You are a wonderful group, and I know that you will do well in your future endeavors.

As you reflect upon your time here at West Orange High School, I am confident that you will realize that the faculty has prepared you well for the challenges ahead. You have received an education that will enable you to wisely use your knowledge, skills, and abilities in solving problems and making choices that will affect your lives.

In this fast-paced new millennium, now more than ever, it is extremely important for you to be prepared for the demands of the workplace. It is my hope that you will go to college, graduate and experience further success. Your education is an investment in yourself. It will return many lifelong dividends on several levels including cultural, financial, and personal.

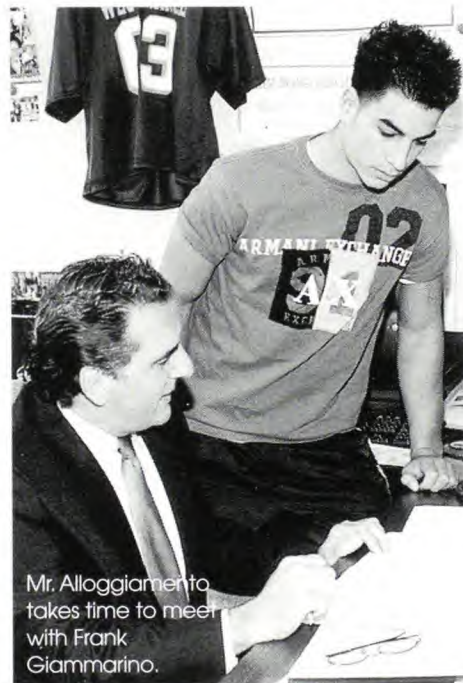

In closing, I ask you to dream your dream, set goals for yourself, and do your very best. With determination, perseverance, and commitment, you will realize your aspirations. My very best to you as you begin your new journey. May life be kind to you and may you be well, happy and successful.

Sincerely,

Yearbooks serve as invaluable sources of memories to graduates. We will cherish ours AND forever look back upon the priceless reminders of what we will recall as the greatest years of our lives. Yearbooks, however, are very costly to produce. WE'RE certain that this yearbook could not have been made possible without the generous support of parents, students, and local businesses. Precious time taken OUT of busy schedules made our yearbook as successful as it is. On behalf of the Class of 2003, we would like to extend our most sincere gratitude.

To our baby girl Cristina,

Congratulations on your high school graduation. We always knew that we would be proud of our first born when she graduated high school but we could never have known just how proud we would feel. You have overcome many obstacles and faced many challenges, but you always managed to work through them. You have become a beautiful, kind and intelligent young woman. You make our entire family very proud. We all know that whatever path you choose you will be successful. Continue to believe in yourself and always be kind. Good luck in college. We Love You.

EDUCATION

Definitions: the field or process of teaching or learning; the teaching establishment; "that which discloses to the wise and disguises from the foolish their lack of understand" (Ambrose Bierce); organized but sometimes synthetic experience.

Quotations:

Only the educated are free. Epictetus, Discourses, 1st century.

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained.

Representative James A. Garfield, letter accepting Republican Presidential nomination, July 12, 1880.

To the strongest and quickest mind it is far easier to learn than to invent.
Samuel Johnson, The Rambler, September 7, 1751.

A child mis-educated is a child lost. President John F. Kennedy, message to Congress, January 11, 1962.

I GET BY WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM MY FRIENDS!

TO OUR DAUGHTER JENNIFER,

WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS HOW VERY PROUD WE ARE OF ALL YOUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS BOTH IN AND OUT OF SCHOOL.

THIS IS ONLY THE BEGINNING. WATCHING YOU GROW INTO A BEAUTIFUL YOUNG LADY HAS GIVEN US THE ULTIMATE PLEASURE. WE ADMIRE YOUR COMMITMENT AND PASSION, AND SUPPORT YOU IN ALL YOUR ENDEAVORS. WE WILL ALWAYS BE THERE FOR YOU!

LIFE IS WHAT YOU CHOOSE AND MAKE OF IT AND THERE ARE NO LIMITATIONS. MAY YOUR FUTURE BE FILLED WITH SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS, AND MAY ALL YOUR DREAMS BECOME REALITY, YOU MOST CERTAINLY DESERVE IT.

LOVE YOU,
MOM AND DAD

Live your life to the fullest. Learn from your mistakes and from what we preach to you. We wish you the best of luck in anything you choose to do in your future. We'll always be there for you.

Love,
Richard, Matilda, Richard Jr. Loaiza

You have accomplished so much throughout these school years. But remember this is only the beginning. There is a lot for you to concur in this world.

Love Always,
Rebecca, Jessica, and Tatiana Battle

Dear Daughter,

Wishing you a lot of happiness on this special day. Hope all your goals come true. Wish lots of perseverance you could be what you want

Love,
Mommy

Dear Johanna,

I hope you can follow all your dreams with love.
Howard

JENNIFER

You're bright, beautiful, and talented!

You are so special!

I'm incredibly proud of you!

Hold onto your wonderful values.

Continue to grow and pursue your passion in life!

CONGRATULATIONS!
I LOVE YOU THE MOST!!

Mom

Congratulations

Words do little in fully expressing the feelings of pride and joy that arise in my heart when I reflect on how you have grown. My once adorable baby girl has blossomed into a beautiful young woman. Your many accomplishments inspire in me a feeling of immeasurable gratitude to God for the privilege of being your father.

I thank God for you daily and wish only but the greatest of what life has to offer for your future:

With All My Love,

Dad!

Meghan

We've watched you grow from our sweet little girl into a caring, responsible, bright, beautiful young woman. Your hard work and kindness are present in everything you do. We wish you good luck and may all your dreams come true.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Jimmy ('00)

Dear Julie,

May your future bring you joy, love, happiness, and success. We congratulate our very special girl on this great moment in your life. We love you more than we can say. You are the best!

* Absolutely Fabulous *

Our friendship is something that will last us a lifetime.
 We went from freshman acquaintances to partners in crime.
 From label obsessions and nights out till four.
 Late night phone calls and two hour trips to the store.
 Secrets, gossip, and brunching at three,
 Trips to the city and Maury for free.
 First stop is 5th ave and then off to the Village,
 Being together is great, fantastic, a privilege.
 We went through these four years quick and fast.
 These beautiful memories will make us smile at the past.
 We have grown into women and we've learned a bunch.
 So many mem's from the Plaza to lunch.
 Now it's time to move on and start to explore,
 For this friendship is something that's for many years more.
 Ten years from now, when the whole world is a mess,
 We'll be suited in Chanel and dressed to impress.
 We'll go through life together and grow old.
 Our friendship is worth more than all the world's gold.

Alexandra, this is our wish for you...

That in your life,
Which is so precious to us,
may troubles, worries and problems
never linger;
may they only make you that much stronger and able and wise.

And may you rise each day with sunlight in your heart,
success in your path,
answers to your prayers, and that smile – that we love to see – always there...in your eyes.

Dear V. Anthony,

When you were born, our family became complete and we started our journey through life together. Throughout the years, each of us smiled with pure joy as you reached for your goals, accomplished them, and became the young man that you are today. There were times when we needed each other and it seemed like the world was against us. It was during these times that our family became what it is today. Anthony, all of us are tremendously proud of you and we will continue to be with each step you take after graduation. Remember, if you have it in you to reach for the stars, then no one can stop you and all of your dreams will come true!

Congratulations! We love you,

Joshua,

It only seems like yesterday when we held you in our arms. Now here you are, a fine fine young man about to go onto another milestone in life. This is only the beginning son, so keep God as your guide, spread your wings and soar like an eagle to your destiny in life.

We are so proud of you!

With all our love,
Mom, Reggie, Nisha, Edward, Breana,
Ebiere, and Ryzhon!

Congratulations Josh Dixon and the entire Class of 2003

Don't run through life so fast that you forget not only where you've been, but also where you are going. Life is not a race, but a journey to be savored each step of the way. —Nancy Sims

Dear Nicolette,

You have always made us so proud and will continue to do so in the future. We know you will be successful in anything you do. Congratulations on your graduation!

All Our Love,
Mom, Dad, Toni, and Joey

Congratulations on all your accomplishments. I am very proud of both of you.

Congratulations to Heather Feather
And the Class of 2003,

You make us so proud!
For all you've been
For all you are
For all you will be

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Moose

Congratulations to my baby sister:

I may still think of you as a six-year old space cadet, but you've become an amazing woman and you continue to make me proud. Remember our secrets (Newsies, sponges, bonding days.) I love you!
