Hard Work becomes Hardly Working

Like most summers proceeding it, the summer of 2003 arrived with much anticipation and delight as thoughts of adventures both locally and abroad superseded expectation. The class of 2004 experienced a wide array of summer activities from partying to working, and traveling to shopping, as the weather warmed and tanning hours were exploited. Newly acquired licenses were used to plan day trips down to the shore, and money from our summer jobs were spent during hours in air-conditioned shopping malls picking up the latest summer trends. Many ambitious students journeyed on unique leadership summer programs including the Presidential Classroom in Washington D.C. and the Girls and Boys State Programs. Many of us embarked on adventures at sleep away camps, building invaluable relationships, while others held summer jobs, scooping ice cream and standing guard at local town pools. The summer of 2003 proved memorable to everyone, regardless of the activities we found ourselves engaged in. Our summer experiences have left us with a greater understanding of our ourselves, while furthering our desire to explore and engage in new and unique activities. Our summer ventures are another indication of our diversity as a class.

The Field becomes Blue & White

On the morning of October 12th, West Orange High School was filled with an air of enthusiasm for the upcoming pep rally. When the pep rally began, students were proudly seated behind the Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior banners. Athletes, cheerleaders, and students sported the school colors by wearing jerseys, ribbons, facepaint, and even blue hairspray. After the introduction of the teams, cheerleaders Chloe Lipman and Rebecca Gunn led the classes in the class spirit competition. While each class showed enormous pride, the seniors' zeal stood out; spirit and enthusiasm resonated with the senior class that day. The tradition of pep rally has been successfully carried on by the class of 2004.

Q.

How did you show your spirit at the Pep Rally?

I made sure I was right in front so that I could show support for our athletes. I held up a sign and cheered for the seniors. - Andrea Cinque

I sold pom-poms to students, walked out on the field with the girl's soccer team, and wore my favorite hat. - Will Fritz

I wore blue and white, cheered for the class of 2004, and best of all, sang "The Star Spangled Banner for the Crowd." - Dagmarh Jeremi

Soccer captains Matt Murphy and Danny Siconolfi display their camaraderie as the soccer team is announced.

Caleb Lin, a member of the Marching Mountaineers, shows his spirit while proudly playing the trumpet.

Melinda Tobia, Jocelyn Lane, and Nanci Grivner cheer for the class of 2004 while displaying their blue and white pride.

Cheerleading captain, Rebecca Gumm, cheers for the fall sports teams and senior class.

Members of the senior class show their senior spirit for the first time during the class cheer contest.

A Student becomes Employed

Many members of the class of 2004 have worked throughout the community to earn money. We have benefited immensely from our dedication to employment. Our jobs have aided us in gaining valuable life experience. Our employment, no matter how time consuming, was worth the effort because it enabled us to save money and taught us lessons of responsibility. We have gained knowledge and essential experience through our work in restaurants, malls, movie theaters, and numerous businesses. While it was difficult to fit employment into our schedules, those seniors who have held jobs throughout the past four years should be commended for their dedication. The benefits of employment have superseded the sometimes trying aspects of holding a job because we have developed the skills that will be necessary to apply in the future. Our class has shown its superior ability in many ways, and the jobs we have held throughout high school have proven our steadfast commitment to becoming well rounded and diverse learners and students.

Away becomes Home

As the football season ended and all other fall sports came to a close, we looked around at the fields and courts of West Orange High School. We remembered the big wins, disappointing losses, the heart, laughter, and teamwork that went into every competition. At the last home football match of our high school careers, we could not help but glance around at our fellow students and consider that this was the last game we would cheer on from the stadium bleachers as our classmates scored their final touchdowns while proudly sporting the school colors on their jerseys. Homecoming proved to be a time for remembrance as well as one for celebration as Tina Benevento and Ellis Daniels were elected as homecoming king and queen, and West Orange alumni returned home to display their school spirit and pride. The day ended agreeably, with a hard-earned victory, and the fans took great pleasure in the success of the final home game.

Senior cheerleader, Juliet Lim, shows her moutaineer spirit as she's held up in a liberty.

The Varsity football teams shows their pride as the national anthem is played before the start of the game.

Casual becomes Elegant

The prom was the finale to months of anticipation. On March 8, 2003 excitement mounted as girls had their nails, hair, and makeup professionally done, and guys picked up their tuxedos. Parents took pictures to preserve memories that would last a lifetime. As we danced the magical evening away, it came together as an experience to cherish. When the night ended and the prom came to a close, we embarked on our after prom plans. No matter where we found ourselves on the memorable evening of March 8, it was evident that the expectations we held of a night filled with laughter and friendship were fulfilled.

Q.

What did you enjoy most about prom?

My favorite part of prom was going to a comedy club with my friends at after prom. - Marc lava

The best part of prom was dancing even though my toe was bleeding profusely all night because my prom date stepped on it. - Emily Skinner

What I enjoyed most about prom was hanging out with my friends at after prom. - Nick Scagliozzi

Then becomes Now

Although our priorities have always remain connected to changed, our friendships our past. As we are faced have remained constant with many important throughout the past four decisions, we will find years. We still hold onto our comfort in the familiarity of memories of naptime, recess, our friends and classmates. and storytelling, childhood Regardless of what direction recollections that will forever our lives take after high linger in the minds of the class school, we will maintain the of 2004. Whether we have bonds that we have developed been best friends since the first throughout our education day of kindergarten or and will continue to treasure discovered our friendships these unwavering ties. As throughout high school, our time spent at West these relationships have Orange High School comes created lasting memories. In to a close, we find relief in our final year at West Orange knowing that our memories High School we will choose and friendships will remain divergent courses, but will unchanged.

The class of 2004 has a bond that reaches far past our time spent together in the classroom. Senior year is the culmination of four years of gainful experiences. Our education has been spent together in the classroom and outside in the community. Throughout these years, we have shaped our identity as the Class of 2004. From Pep Rally to extra curricular activities, the Student Life Section is an outlet to display our creativity, individuality, and unity. Although we were involved in a wide array of activities, we remained an interconnected and collectively motivated class. The Student Life Section exhibits the individuals and the events that have brought our class together. We are forever connected by the memories we share from our years spent at West Orange High School. This section displays the development of our characters and depicts that which distinguishes us from those who have preceded our class at West Orange High School.

Enthusiasm Senior Spirit

Senior Spirit was evident throughout the halls of West Orange High School and in the events we experienced as a class. As seniors, we enjoyed such privileges as dining in the Senior Cafeteria, attending Senior Bowling, and experiencing the Senior Breakfast, events which, although seemingly inconsequential, will last in our memories for years to come. Our class continually displayed its pride by wearing senior jerseys, attending sporting events, and decorating cars in the traditional blue and white of WOHS. Our unique position as seniors was always evident as we chose our paths in life and discussed with friends our hopes and dreams for the future. We displayed our spirit by sharing unforgettable moments with our friends, and through recognizing that no matter where we find ourselves in the years to come, the memories we have experienced with our classmates will follow.

Ritchell Antoine, Rebecca Rameau-Jocelyn, and Kathy Pierre show their support for the blue and white.

Kevin Abreu, Taliah Ausby, Monce Mosely, and Eppifania Morgan buy senior jerseys to support the senior class.

Showing her spirit, Michele Rogers cheers for the Senior Class of 2004.

You know you're an '04 Senior when you...

Can't start your day without a large cup of Dunkin Donuts coffee

Have more absences during the 3rd marking period than you've had in all four years combined

Are on a first name basis with the entire Guidance Staff

Do anything to avoid doing homework

Don't have school supplies in the middle of the year

Have a permanent parking spot in the student parking lot

Alisa Reznikov and Jodi Slezak smile with pride for the senior class.

License to Drive Ticket to Freedom

We enjoyed several privileges not afforded to the underclassmen, the most enjoyable of which was the opportunity to drive. With our licenses came extra morning time and frequent trips for coffee before the bell, as well as an indescribable freedom that came with no longer having to depend on parents for rides. Our newfound driving abilities enabled us to take frequent trips to the mall, the movies, the beach, and to parties. In addition, it afforded us a better understanding of responsibility, as we got ourselves into (and out of) our fair share of speeding tickets and fender benders. With our licenses came lessons in independence and trust, qualities that will remain with us throughout life.

What was the most memorable moment at Senior Bowling?

The most memorable moment was watching Ms. Morias try to bowl in high heels.
- Leor Giladi

One of my friends fell while she was trying to bowl; that was really funny. But, the best was when Phil kept bowling from halfway down the lane. - Vivian Duker

Our lane was broken so if we bowled a gutter ball we got 5 points. So we always got points! - Danny Feliciano

I enjoyed spending time with my friends. My thumb nail broke several times, but it was still fun. - Mae Cempron

A group of friends stop bowling to take a quick picture.

Free Time Becomes Helping Hands

Between homework, clubs, and sports, seniors rarely found time to breathe during their busy schedules, and the spare time we did have was spent studying, maintaining jobs, and relaxing. Some seniors, however, decided to utilize their time in more fulfilling ways, giving to others in need. Many gave up their Saturday mornings to volunteer at The Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation while others gave helping hands at local soup kitchens and collected provisions for those in need. Although, much of the reward from volunteering comes from knowing that one has had a positive impact on an individual's life, these students should be commended for their laudable actions. This is a feeling of satisfaction that will remain with us throughout our lives.

Ordinary Extraordinary

For the students at West Orange High School, ordinary became extraordinary on a daily basis. As a result of our diversity and the unique talents of our class, our pride in each other and ourselves was evident. From hidden talents to quirky skills and eccentric styles, our seniors displayed a wide array of capabilities that set West Orange High School apart. These unique abilities ranged from painting, writing, and dancing, to modeling, acting, and performing as key instrumentalists in various bands; talents which all kinds of students possessed and had the opportunity to practice, hone, and display. The Class of 2004 continuously displayed its individuality in a rare expression of both similarities and differences. Ironically, more often than not, it was our celebrated differences that made our class extraordinary.

Meeting a celebrity brings a sense of unequaled awe and admiration. Whether upon meeting by chance or as a result of "connections," the few moments shared with these celebrities throughout the year were deemed unforgettable. These meetings inspired students to seek lives filled with success and prosperity; in fact, it is undeniable that the future will bring some of our fellow classmates to grace the covers of such magazines as Cosmopolitan and Rolling Stones. Some members of the Class of 2004 could lead lives in the spotlight, and perhaps some behind the scenes; however, regardless of our fan bases, the Class of 2004 will be successful in every endeavor it pursues.

Dedication becomes Excellence

Drum Majors Jillian Willis and Christa Lagatic are all smiles after a terrific show.

In true Marching Mountaineer fashion, the low brass section shows perfect form as their diagonal moves across the field during their show, "A Day In The Park"

You know you're a True Blue Marching Mountaineer when you...

Have no life during the fall months.
Find yourself walking in step with your friends in the hallways.
Use rollstepping as a technique to quickly get to class.
Have left the high school at 1am and are back in the band room by 7:30am the next morning.
Have dreams about the show.
Spend more time with the band staff than you do with your own family.
Constantly reminisce about band camp.
Have called Mr. Kelly or Mr. Krewer "Dad".
Say you hate marching band but secretly love every minute of the season.

Drum captain Elliot Greenwald leads his section during the halftime show.

Colorguard captain Alex Yates lifts her head in pride at the end of her performance.

Seniors, Pat Ford and Denise Richardson lead the Marching Mountaineers to the stands at the football game.

A Vision becomes Reality

At times, it may seem like you have a split personality, but it may just be your Gemini colors showing through. You are said to have quick intellect, great curiosity, and a strong sense of logic. Your friends may say that you're always the life of the party and crave your fifteen minutes of fame. A career where you are given the opportunity to speak your mind, interact with others, or possibly enjoy the spotlight may be ideal.

A true heart of gold; Cancerians are said to be kind and have sharp instincts and intuition. However, with your nerves of steel, your courageous personality may arise when problems emerge. With your good nature, some might recommend finding a career in a caring profession. Cancerians can be sentimental and may base an objects worth on their own scale.

You little Casanova. You might fall in love at first sight and win hearts easily. Your future plans should be no sweat since Ariens are thought to be high achievers and are born adventure seekers. These qualities and a sharp business sense might help you along the way to success. Until then, surrounding yourself with other lively people could help you work off some energy.

Leos are said to have the perfect balance of creativity and practicality. For this, they may make excellent artists and are thought to be talented in all forms of music and theater. Your friends might say that you are not afraid to be who you are or express your ideas and beliefs. Like other passionate artists, you may need to express your creativity in a distinct way.

If someone has a deep, dark secret, their best bet would probably be to find a Taurean. Some may say that Taureans need some security in their life, but you could find some comfort in stepping out on your own. Finding a career shouldn't be difficult. Taureans are happy in a great variety of jobs. Patience is a virtue, and others may see it present in your character.

Virgos are thought to be talkative, lively, and understanding. Born to lead, you may make an excellent leader and frequently take matters into your own hands. Any career along those lines could be ideal for you, not to mention helpful to the others with which you work. It is often said that Virgoans are perfectionists, and never settle with anything until it meets their standards.

Libras are thought to have the rare ability to see every point of view without taking sides, but are often passionate about their own ideas. They say that Librans take pride in being able to listen to others. Friendly with a credit card, your friends might say that you love the high life and finding a good paying job could be a good choice. A regular Romeo, you are probably very romantic and may be admired for possessing that quality.

Scorpios are said to be the most unpredictable sign, and it is possible that you vary greatly from your Scorpio friends. Your friends may say that you are loyal, give honest advice, and intend to win in any competition whether it is physical or mental. A busy bee, you often get highly involved in your work and could make an excellent reasearcher, detective, or journalist.

Saggitarians are said to have great enthusiasm and are born risk takers. Some may say that you can be optimistic, good humored, and very ambitious. Sagiatarrians often need a challenge, so publishing or law may be fulfilling professions. Your friends may say that you love to live your life and you are greatly independent but also steadfastly loyal and dependable in your relationships.

Capricorns are said to be ambitious, conventional, rigid in their views, and very concerned with doing the right thing. A regular comedian, you could have a great sense of humor and the lighter side of your personality might frequently emerge. Capricorns do well with running their own businesses, working in government or dealing with the many facets of finance.

Aquarians are said to be extremely likeable and always seem to have a lot of friends. You friends probably say you are original, honest, loyal, and definitely unpredictable. Aquarians might work well in humanitarian professions and in areas of communication such as television and radio. A career in fashion may be another fulfilling opportunity because you will be given the chance to express your inherent flair and originality.

Piscians are said to be compassionate, kind, extroverted, and imaginative. However, your friends may say that at times you allow your imagination to run away with you. You may enjoy a career that gives you the opportunity to listen to others, such as counseling; or, you may want to pursue a career in the arts which will allow you to pursue your love of beauty and art.

What do you want to see at the Class of 2004 15 year reunion?

I want to see how everyone has changed or if they stayed the same.
-Michelle Centrella

I would love to see all of the friends I have lost touch with, and possibly reconnect with some of them.
-Amanda Gramcko

I want to see if any of my good friends lose their hair and go bald!-
Jerry Jean-Louis

Visions

become

Reality

Our experiences in high school were collectively filled with obstacles and hardships, however, we have all come together to face our fears and have leapt over hurdles as one class, bound by our commitment to each other and ourselves. Over the past four years, we have realized that this journey has become one wonderful opportunity after another. We remember the friends who have helped shape our characters and remained integral parts of our lives. We recall the chances we took, which no matter how daunting their outcomes, have always taught lessons that will be invaluable in years to come. These lessons will continue to affect us as we shut the doors on our high school careers. We keep in mind the feelings elicited from every failure and success, and are grateful for those who have been there for these experiences. Our reflections of the past four years are filled with precious moments of laughter and tears, and moments that will be cherished in our hearts for many years. The Senior Section immortalizes the names and faces of those classmates, who over the past four years, have been a perennial force in our lives.

The talent of the class of 2004 extends far beyond academic ability and reaches the courts and fields of West Orange High School. The success of our sports teams is not measured by wins and losses, but by the values we have acquired through recognizing the need for trust and diligence in all of our endeavors. For the past four years many of our classmates have distinguished themselves as some of the Garden State's finest athletes, but more importantly, they have shown superior skill and dedication, and represent the character of our class through exemplary sportsmanship and teamwork. Our student athletes have shown unwavering dedication to their teams and have realized the importance of steadfast teamwork. These teams have worked together in order to achieve common goals and aspirations. Through interscholastic sports, our classmates have developed lasting friendships, learned the value of responsibility, and most importantly have represented West Orange High School and the class of 2004 through their exhibition of model character and integrity.

"Winning and championships have become synonymous with the West Orange Track and Field Team. Success is measured with character, internal fortitude, and the ability to press on day after day to be 'the best you can possibly be.' The entire coaching staff is extremely proud of the team for their accomplishments."

- Coach Piccatagio

"Despite the inadequate facilities to practice in, our season was great. Whether we won or lost, at the end of the day we always came together and were a winning family. I am thankful to have been a part of this team."

- Shana Brown

"Being a part of Indoor and Outdoor Track has truly been amazing. We've learned to overcome adversity as a team."

- Jerry Jean-Louis

"Practice wasn't fun at times, and the coaches were tough on me, but meets were great."

- Mike Desir

"It's not how you start; it's how you finish."

- Chris Harris

"Few can walk a mile in my shoes; even fewer can run a mile in my shoes." - Saladeen McGrady

Volley become Winners

Coach's Corner

"By working hard and fine tuning their tennis strokes, the West Orange Boys Tennis Team prepared for a successful season. Every player exploited his strengths to later enjoy and face the challenges this season brought."

- Coach Perez

"During my four years on the team, it has been a pleasure to see each player grow as an athlete and a person. I'm glad to see that both they and their shots have become winners."

- Matt Cohen

"In the past two years, I really felt as though I was a part of something special." - Jeff Lesser

"Playing tennis throughout my high school career helped me grow into a more mature person. I have learned the importance of never giving up."

-Marc Lava

"Tennis is a sport you can play regardless of your age. Tennis is the sport for life."

-Alan Williams

Coach's Corner

"The leadership of six returning seniors made the West Orange Golf Team a force to reckon with in the Northern Hills Conference. The Golf Team employed an alternate player system, which allowed greater participation in varsity matches by all members of the Golf Team."

-Coach D'Airies

"This was my first year playing golf, but it was a good time playing with everyone. Thank you for a good season."
-Nestor Manikad

"I've earned the nickname 'Woods' on the golf course during the season — not because I play like Tiger, but because that's where my ball always ends up."
-Mike Black

"Finally! No snow on the ground. It's time for golf!"
-Randall Nelson

"It's been a fun four years with my co-captain Murph and memorable moments like being attacked by geese and hitting the ball backwards. Looking back on the team, I'll always wonder why they let me play."
-Justin Chu

Golf

Captains: Justin Chu, Stephanie Jackson, Randall Nelson, Matthew Murphy

Seniors: Michael Black, Justin Chu, Stephanie Jackson, Nestor Manikad, Matthew Murphy, Randall Nelson, Charles Okin, Sarab Thapar

Highlights: Defeating Westside

"Being a part of the West Orange High School Golf Team has been a wonderful experience."

- Charles Okin

Coach's Corner

"This year was West Orange's first Varsity Lacrosse season. Coming off a season-ending victory over DePaul in 2003, we looked forward to the challenge of making the leap to the varsity level, and we strived to achieve great team success in 2004."

- Coach Buckley

"Some of the best lessons I've learned in life have not been in a classroom. I was taught on a one hundred and ten yard field by a modest man with my brothers at my side."

-Sean Struss

"During Lacrosse I made friends who are going to be with me for years to come." -Warren Heimall

"It has been a great honor for me to be part of the first lacrosse team at West Orange High School." - Adam Stettner

"I've played lacrosse for six years and worked hard to get the program here." Shawn Madden

"It was an honor to be a part of the first Varsity Team at West Orange High School." -Sean Carr

Without the support of the faculty and administration, the class of 2004 would not have become the successful and unique group that it is today. From math and science, to woodshop and sewing, each teacher has touched our lives in one way or another. The interest and dedication that they have shown to our class has helped us accomplish both individual and collective goals. Their assistance has brought out our numerous talents and has impacted our lives significantly. Our memories of the teachers who have had a profound effect on our lives will stay with us for years to come. Over the past four years, the staff has been integral in the shaping of our character and has taught us the value of education and the benefits of knowledge. They have selflessly committed their time towards enhancing our lives both inside and outside the classroom. From coaching sports teams to advising clubs, these faculty members have been imperative in helping us to achieve our goals. Through their superior example we have learned to aspire to greatness. As we enter the world we will remember those who have helped to establish the foundation of our lives.

Dear Members of the Graduating Class of 2004,

Now that I have been at WOHS for nearly two years, I have had the opportunity to get to know many of you. Whether it was during the day in the classroom, hallways, cafeteria or various activities after the school day, I have thoroughly enjoyed our time together. This senior class is a group of fine young men and women who have demonstrated competencies in curricular and co-curricular activities validating WOHS as a school of excellence.

The faculty has prepared you well for the challenges ahead. You have met the rigors of our school and succeeded. Now you will begin a new path in your life. You will continue to use your knowledge, skills and abilities in making wise decisions and solving life's dilemmas.

As we move ahead in this technologically oriented twenty-first century, it will be most important for you to continue to acquire additional knowledge, learn new skills and be thoroughly prepared for the challenges of today's society. My hope is that all of you will continue your education and experience further success. I encourage you to set short-term and long-range goals for yourself. Direct your time and energy to achieving those goals. With continued perseverance, diligence and determination, you will be successful in all of your endeavors.

My very best wishes to you as you graduate from West Orange High School. May life be kind; may you enjoy good health, experience much happiness, good fortune and success.

Sincerely,

Arthur J. Alloggiamento

Visions become

Reality

Our yearbook has enabled us to capture the essence of our four years at West Orange High School, and would not have been possible without contributions from businesses, families, and friends. Patrons gave us the opportunity to preserve the memories of our high school experience, and we are grateful for their support of our endeavors. It is with our utmost sincerity that we express our thanks to the community for the assistance they have provided. Putting together a yearbook is an extensive and costly task, however, with the help of the many advertisements purchased, we were successful. Much time and effort was expended towards funding this yearbook and ensuring its completion. We appreciate the ongoing support that we received from our family and friends during our high school years. Likewise, we will forever be grateful to the local businesses who have played a major role in the creation of our yearbook. We will now be able to look back on this time in our lives for many years to come. Thanks to these contributions, we produced an outstanding yearbook to represent West Orange High School, Class of 2004.

Dear Brian,

Each stage of your life has brought its own special happiness and treasured moments. I cherish the "little boy" memories I have of you. As you grew many times you faced tasks that were difficult and sometimes overwhelming, but you did not give up. You proved yourself to be persistent and a hard worker. I feel proud and grateful for the way you have grown up to be such a special young man. I want you to know how very much it means to me to have you for a son and how much I love you.

A true friend is someone who thinks that you're a good egg even though she knows that you are slightly cracked.

Marc,
 From the time you learned to speak, you were asking "why" and "how" questions about everything. It is not surprising that you have chosen to follow a scientific path for your future. Whether in the classroom, the soccer field, or tennis courts, you have always given one hundred percent of your mind and body to strive for perfection. With that quality we know you will have a successful future. Our wish for you is to have a lifetime of happiness to enjoy all your accomplishments.

With much pride and love,

Friends. A simple word, isn't it? It's uttered everyday to almost every person imaginable. Who are your friends? I used to think that friends were the people you could laugh and talk with. Now I know that friends are the people who touch your heart. You can have the best time of your life doing nothing at all, just because you're with them. They're the people you can share your secrets with, cry with, laugh with, and just have fun with. They don't judge you or make you change. They accept you exactly as you are. They look at you and see a great person- one they love spending time with. You are tied together by memories, tears, laughs, and smiles. Friendship is the strangest but greatest thing in the world. The times spent with my friends have been the best times of my life. My friends are my heart, my soul, my fun, my laughter, my tears, my love, and my life.

"NOW AND THEN"

*As we look at our precious childhood faces;
Little would we know the friendship we would all have*

Our paths were crossed for a reason
Eleven of us will always be
Individuals never to be forgotten
In each of our hearts
For lifetimes to remain
Through the hard and the tough
The good and the even better
We've stood by each other
Because we will always be friends forever

*As we grow into young women;
We've shared many moments together*

*Our last year at each other's sides;
Bringing about pain and joy*

The loud one is MARY
But she'll always make you break out a smile
MAGGIE is our very own valedictorian
She's gangsta in her own No.59 type of way
The Indian one is SUJAI
You would never have known though.
SASKIA 's the crazy one
She's beyond funny but sometimes you get worried
Invisible has to be BELEN
Yet she makes us all aware why we come everyday
JESSICA 's the shocker twin
If you don't get it, keep on moving
We get our gossip from STEPHANIE
But we know she'll never talk about her friends
KEISHA 's our very own track star
And she'll tell it like it is
You need Mama JUDITHE
She will make sure you have your head screwed on right
FRANCESCA 's always in a daze
Don't be angry if she doesn't wave
The one who's missing is JORANE
But with that cheesy smile we couldn't forget her

Though one chapter in our lives is over
And another is soon to begin
Our friendship and love and bond in Christ
Will keep us together in the end
We're a unique set nonetheless
But with God by our side
We each go our separate ways
Entering the future created for us
And as we stand together
As one for the last time
Although we may be miles away
Our friendship will never go astray

True Friends
Excitement and fear fill our hearts.
Soon a new way of life will start.
Time has passed by so fast.
But in our mind the memories last.

We've been through it all.
And realized who our true friends are.
The ones that were there.
When no one else seemed to care.

So as our senior year comes to an end.
I want to say, thanks for being true friends.

It has been wonderful having you guys as friends. I will always remember you guys and all the memories.

Mom, Dad, Kevin, & Erin

To My Son,

Through the years, sunrise to sunset, I watched you play to your hearts content: baseball, basketball, bicycle riding, rollerblading, manhunt, paintball and water gun fighting. Vivid is my memory of toys that will go down in history: The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, better known as those radical 'awesome dude' fellows, Michelangelo, Leonardo, Raphael and Donatello, and the most popular electronic toys - Nintendo, PlayStation and Game Boy. Pump ups, high tops, light ups, Nikes, Addidas and Reeboks, how I remember your sneaker fetish, without a pair, shopping just wasn't finished.

One evening, "Dinner is ready", I did call, you came to the table all of six feet tall. As I watched you eat, I ran with my thoughts, marveling at what these years have brought. When did the ninjas and your toys become cherished memories of a little boy? Cars, girls and late-night pool games . . . all too quickly these years came; from "my little boy" to now "my son" from "mommy" to now "my mom". It was only a few moments, or so it seems, did these years really pass, or is this only a dream?

As you don your cap and gown with your family and friends all around, so many emotions will pass through me, memories and thoughts of what will be. At this time my raising is through, your diploma is waiting, and I am so proud of you. I hope I've given you a sturdy foundation to guide you through life after graduation. Should it be college or trade school, maybe? Marines, Air Force, Army or Navy, wherever your heart leads you, now, more than ever, I pray God keeps you from harm through your heart's endeavors. For you have gone from a little boy to a young man, I will forever hold you in my heart, no longer your little hand.

I love you ~ forever Mom

Lindsay

May all your future journeys and adventures bring you the happiness and love that you have given to us. We are so proud of you and your accomplishments.

For all you've been
For all you are
For all you're yet-to-be...
We know you'll stand strong
And be true to your beliefs.

With great pride and love,
Mommy and Daddy

2002

Dear Robyn,

Our most sincere congratulations and best wishes on your graduation.

And now you are on your way to the next step, to college, toward a bright and beautiful and successful future.

How vividly we remember your first steps as a baby.

You didn't stumble. You didn't fall . . . you ran. You ran across the room and you have been running ever since.

You have boundless energy, a vibrant personality.

You are enthusiastic, a joy to be with.

Many good friends value your friendship as you value theirs.

You are thoughtful, considerate, and wise beyond your years.

You are a joy to be with.

To know you is to love you.

What more can we say except to say we love you very much.

Our high school days flew by too fast
But the memories we shared will always last
It took some time before we became one
But together we always had lots of fun

Girls night out came once in a while
When TANYA left her palace and showed us her smile
Cheesecake Factory can't be beat
All we ever do is EAT EAT EAT

The Junior Prom had its ups and downs
Especially when Andrea was obscenely loud
Lindsey, Robyn, and Tanya stayed with their dates
While the rest of us left our night up to fate

Guys have been a big part of these years
Some have brought laughter and others brought tears
ANDREA always goes for older men
While the rest of us fish out of the playpen

LINDSEY'S an original without a doubt
When she becomes Betty Crocker you better watch out
Its never a dull moment when CASSIE'S around Because you always find out new places she has been in town

ROBYN and LINDSAY insist they're the same
MK & A are their claim to fame
CORY doesn't care what anyone else thinks
She is known for making boys' egos sink

Everyday crazy ideas pop into our heads
"Stay out of trouble!" is what our parents always said
We are always looking for new things to do
For the rest of our lives we will be remembered as
"THE CREW"

We have so many memories that will never fade
Of good times we've had and friends we've made
It's hard to believe how fast time flies
It won't be long before we say goodbye

Side by side
Miles apart
Friends like us
Stay close to our hearts.

YEA THEY DO!!!
