Anything but School

When June rolled around on our calendars, the anticipation began to build for our exciting summers. Many of us traveled while others took part in more local adventures. Although many of us did something extremely different, it was sure that each activity was bound to be anything but ordinary. The school year was spent working hard with clubs, sports and jobs, so when summer came, we realized that it was our chance to relax. Our summers were special to us, and with this past one being our last, we can all say that it was one that will not be forgotten.

How WOHs Seniors Made Their Summer Anything but Ordinary...

"I attended a summer program at UMDNJ. It was cool because I saw dead people and touched their organs."
- Jorge Gutierrez

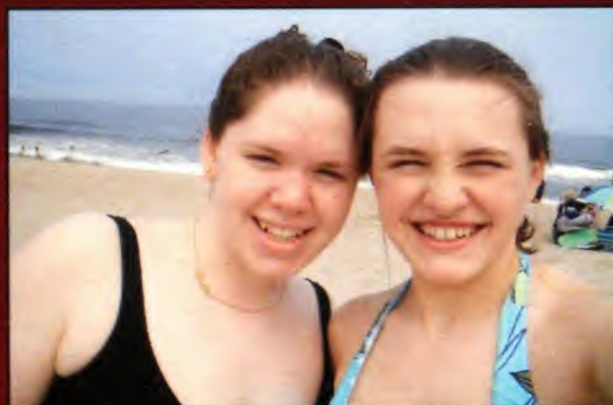

"I spent a couple weeks of my summer in California where I toured through Hollywood, met Al Sharpton, and saw the filming of the ESPY's."

-Sejal Jhaveri

"Summer soccer camp, going to parties, and clubbing with friends... Can't get any better than that!"

-Andy Yang

Joy Dario puts down some beats.

Josh Morozowski grabs a refreshing soda on a hot summer day.

Steffanie Kelshaw, Pamela Penachio, and Ashley King rock out to a band at Warped Tour.

Nira Luna, Serge Agbre, and Obinna Anyanwu pose with stuffed animals at Six Flags.

Anything but Planned

Throughout our high school years, we had our friends with whom we relaxed. The only thing better than being with our friends was having the perfect place to hang out. Whether it was a diner for some or a house for others, where we spent our free time was very important. The most memorable times of our lives were during high school. Each of us had a moment over the past four years we would never replace. We can look back through our pictures, smile, and recall the best of times. The time we spent together will always be remembered as anything but ordinary.

Hangouts That Make the Class of '05 Anything but Ordinary...

"Saturday afternoons are when I chill with my girls from Girls' Club. If there's a party Saturday night, I'm there."

- Sarah Adekola

"Saturday night movies and late night drives are off the hook with the new friends I've made."

- John Bajana

"Sometimes I hang out at the movies, or just at a friend's house or something like that."

- Smitha Paulose

Anything but Cheerless

Picture a sunny, autumn day, 2005 students cheering in the stands, and the fall sports teams glowing with pride. On Friday, October 1, 2004, this image became a reality as West Orange High School held its annual pep rally. Pep rally has been a tradition at our school for as long as we can remember, but this past year the seniors definitely stood out. While our class was the smallest in the school, it certainly had the most spirit, and we can say with confidence that we were anything but ordinary.

Anything but Conforming

As teenagers, we strove to set ourselves apart from others to make ourselves different and to individualize our actions. As the senior class of 2005, we had a quality about ourselves which made us exceptional. In our generation, the most common form of expressing independence was through body art and piercings. Whether it was in remembrance of a loved one or as a rite of passage, we all had our own reasons for stepping outside the norm. Every tattoo and every piercing had a unique quality that made each of us anything but ordinary.

A small stud shines on Bari McCabe's nose.

Natauya Humphrey gives us a taste of her tongue ring.

Armon Hayes shows off the creative tattoo on his neck.

Nira Luna's dramatic tattoo characterizes her personality.

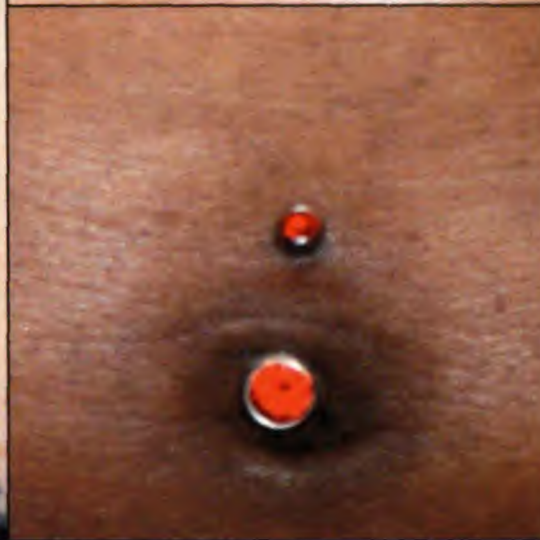

Stevilyn Scarola's tattoo commemorates her stepfather.

Dan Sementi's eyebrow ring catches the eyes of his peers.

Jessica Baboushkin wears a fairy on her lower back.

Nicole Harvest displays a fashionable belly button ring.

Anything but Ants

On September 23, 2004, the graduating class gathered together to take part in the senior picnic. Decked out in '05 jerseys, the senior class demonstrated its school spirit by posing for the '05 picture. Afterward, the Class of 2005 participated in a number of activities. From three-legged races to pie eating contests, the seniors made sure that their time spent at the picnic was anything but ordinary.

Anything but Away

Homecoming was a time when alumni returned home to join the roaring seniors. They proudly watched the Varsity Football Team give its all in the final home game of the season. The stands were filled with dedicated fans that took pride in our team and the school. During halftime, we took time to recognize those nominated for their commendable personalities and outstanding achievements. Armon Hayes and Lacey McKeon were announced Homecoming King and Queen, proving their spirits were truly anything but ordinary.

Anything but Ordinary

"Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

-Mark Twain

Look into the week of a high school senior and one saw busy nights of studying, large amounts of homework, and hours of college preparation. Look into the weekend of this same student however, and one saw something considerably different. We, the seniors of West Orange High School, always strove for excellence, but on the rare occasion we had free time, we were sure to use it wisely. Whether earning money, volunteering, or just catching up on much needed relaxation with our friends who knew us the best, each of us had our own schedule that was anything but ordinary.

Anything but Grown Up

It seemed like only yesterday when we were playing hopscotch on the blacktop and kickball in the field at recess. Whether we were ready for it or not, high school came. Our days were soon filled with hectic schedules, college applications, and future plans. Leaving the days spent on the playground in the past, we grew individually and as a class. Growing up from elementary, to middle, and eventually high school, we made memories that will never be forgotten. Although the class of 2005 matured throughout the years, there was once a time when we were anything but grown up.

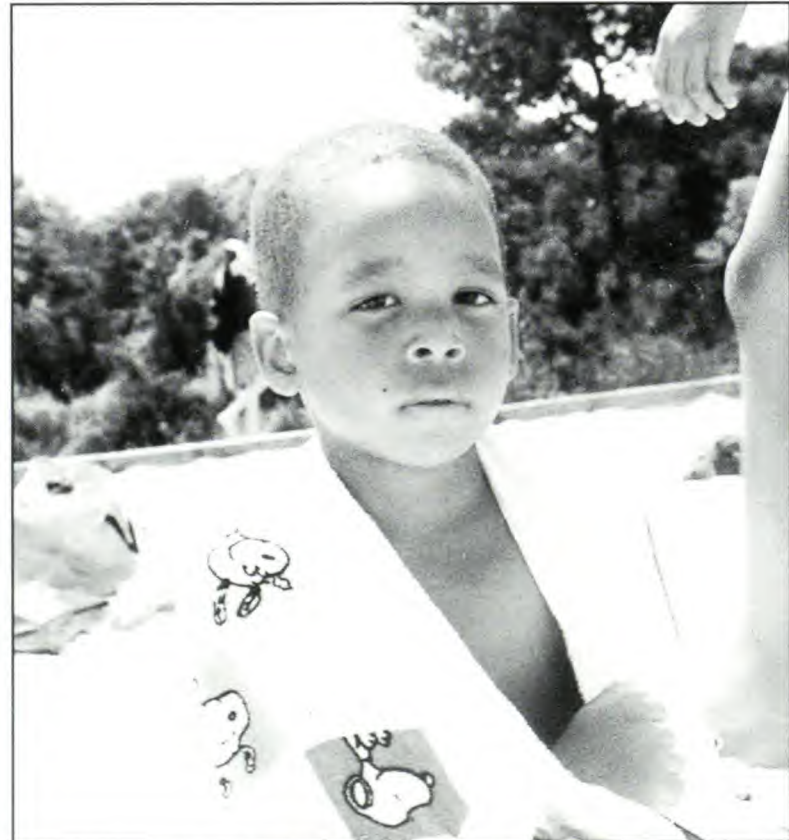

Maria Icasuriaga sits happily outside.

Laura Linares smiles as she plays in her house.

Tonimarie Anello plays with a parrot in her kindergarten class.

Anything but Jeans

Weeks of preparation led up to this one magical night- March 13, 2004. "When the Sun Goes Down" was the theme of the evening, with red and gold shining throughout the room in the Wilshire Grand Hotel. Limos arrived and dates poured out in stunning dresses and tuxedos ready to dance the night away. With the music pumping and great food being served, couples gathered with friends to truly enjoy the evening. Wearing anything but jeans, junior prom was a special night that the class of '05 will always remember.

Mark Barnas and Gina Klimek enter the prom with charm.

Meghan Klock and Evan Sheppard dress to impress for prom.

Lemar Gale arrives at prom in style.

Anything but Broke

Senior year is notoriously the best year of high school. Besides the regular high school costs, we often overlooked the other, smaller expenses such as gas, car insurance, food, clothing, and college fees. Our parents could only help us so much before we were expected to help ourselves. Numerous students found extra money through local jobs at places such as Fortissimo, the AMC movie theatre, Panera Bread, Blockbuster Video, Pizza Hut, and Mark and Julie's Ice Cream. While our schedules were jam packed, we used our spare time to become anything but broke.

Jesse Deltz grabs popcorn for a customer at the Essex Green Cinema.

Tenisha Doward takes an order at Pizza Hut.

Pat McGovern and Dan Schaub sample ice cream at Mark and Julie's.

Rob Freda sprinkles cheese on a pizza at Fortissimo.

Anything but Selfish

West Orange is a community filled with caring residents always willing to lend a helping hand to others. Throughout the years, role models young and old inspired the students at West Orange High School to be active in and out of the community. The Oscar Shindler Performing Arts Center youth outreach committee is a perfect example of how dedicated the seniors were to move beyond the borders of West Orange. A benefit concert sponsored by the youth outreach committee gave support to Sierra Leone in hopes of improving the conditions of their peers in Africa. Within the community, seniors were found spending their Saturday mornings at a local soup kitchen dishing out meals, or bringing up get well gifts for visitors at Saint Barnabas Medical Center. Between academics, jobs, and sports, the seniors always made time to give back to the community. Whether it was in our hometown or internationally, the class of 2005 was anything but selfish.

Val Krauser spends her afternoon painting a little girl's arm.

Anything but Accidents

As seniors, we possessed a skill the underclassmen lacked; the ability to drive. After waiting for what seemed to be all of our lives, we finally attained our licenses and were free to put the pedal to the metal. We no longer had to wait for a ride or catch the bus. Instead, we drove until our heart's content or until we ran out of gas. Dunkin Donuts became a routine stop while random trips to the mall nicely turned into a movie and a little something to eat at the Pilgrim Diner. As if this freedom were not glorious enough, we assumed our own parking lot in which to park. It was equipped with the clatter of at least twenty sound systems blasting at once and what seemed to be hours of waiting while all of the cars attempted to leave simultaneously. As with any new freedom, driving was chaotic at first and even led to a couple fender-benders here and there. Nevertheless, we hope to say that during our senior year we had anything but accidents.

Teni Adegbile creatively decorates her car for the first day of senior year.

Anthony Williams waits with his dice in the never ending line to leave the senior lot.

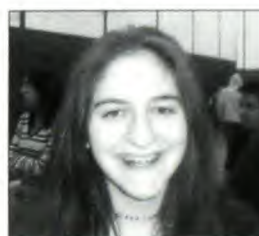

Jeannette Lopez calls shotgun in her friend's car. Above, Eliana Diaz prepares to push the pedal to the metal.

What made your driving experience anything but ordinary?

"I didn't put oil in my car so my engine blew. Now I don't have a car."
- Padraic Dowd

"Hitting a bus; they're harder than cars."
- Corey Kaufman

"I drove on the other side of the road, but that was when I was a bad driver. I'm better now."
- Allyson Hauss

Anything but Hungry

When September 8, 2004 came, many of us woke up with sleepy eyes and realized, "Hey, we're finally seniors!" As we sat on the ends of our beds we filled with excitement for our last year at West Orange High School. We thought, "What is the first thing you need in the morning?" Breakfast of course! We could not start the most memorable year of high school without food, and who better to share it with than close friends? Seniors arrived at school early to take part in the annual senior breakfast. We indulged in bagels, muffins, and all sorts of goodies, knowing our morning would not be complete until the class of 2005 left the cafeteria feeling anything but hungry.

"The senior breakfast was great. I hung out with friends that I had not seen all summer and would not see in any of my classes." - Sarah Carpen

"I reminisced about summer fun and looked forward to the exciting year of being a senior." - Alexis Spencer

Anything but Strikes

When the clock struck 12, the class of 2005 gathered at Eagle Rock Lanes to bowl the night away. Decked out in team costumes, seniors competed for the best score and the best group costume awards. Between laser lights and loud music until 2 A.M., senior bowling was an unforgettable night everybody enjoyed, even though we were bowling anything but strikes.

Anything but Outdated

From popped collars to long white tees, West Orange High School had its share of trends. As we walked down the hallways we saw people decked out in UGG boots, ripped jeans, and white wires that led to I-pods. Although some followed the lead and filled their wrists with Livestrong bracelets and dressed their feet with Chinese slippers, there were the few who stepped outside the norm and dyed their hair an assortment of colors. Throughout all the fads and trends, we tipped our hats knowing that our style was anything but outdated.

Veronica Villota loves to wear her gold hoop earrings.

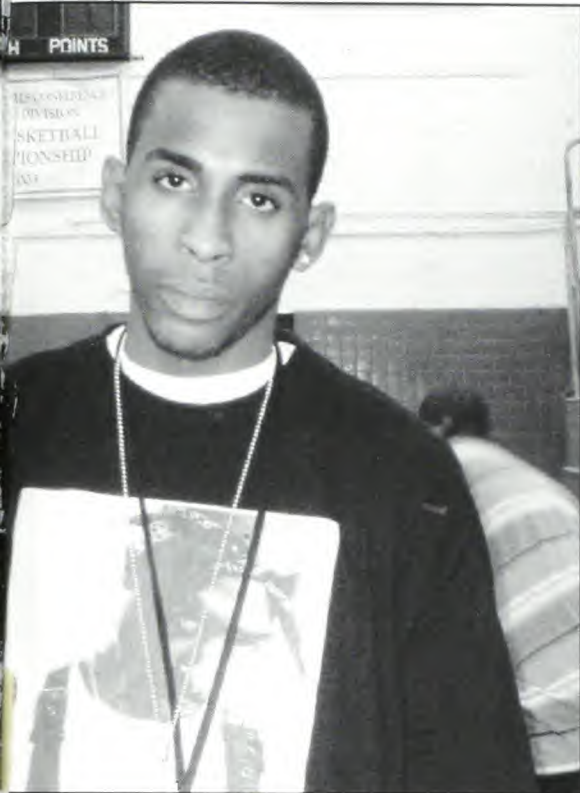

Nadia Mohamed gives her ballet slippers a rest.

Semhar Teklezgi studies as she listens to music on her I-Pod.

Stephanie Jackson looks stylish in her jersey dress.

UGG boots can be seen under many desks throughout the year.

Anything but Out of Step

From the warm days under the sun at band camp to the cold temperatures at late night practices, the Marching Band showed much pride, dedication, and excellence. They cheered and played loud for the Varsity Football Team, but after the games it was their turn to take the field. Whether in a basics block or in the final set of their 2004-2005 show, the Marching Band put a steady stream of intensity in everything they did. On the field for USSBA championships at Giant's Stadium, the West Orange Marching Mountaineers proved they were anything but out of step.

Anything but Off-Beat

West Orange High School was proud to acknowledge the more creative side of its students. From dancing to stepping and spinning to singing, our school had its share of artistic expression. These gifted individuals brought numerous honors and awards to our school through various outlets. The Jubilee Choir and Jubilee Dancers greatly contributed to the cultural side of our school as they performed at the Black History Month Dinner. Indoor Color Guard also competed in many competitions and won many awards. The Jazz Band as well, played at Trumpets Jazz Club and members of the band performed in the orchestra for the school musical, Wonderful Town. No matter what they played or how they danced, these students were anything but off-beat.

*"You do your thing, and I'll do mine,
and if we meet at the end, it's beautiful."
- Boy Meets World*

High school was a time in our lives in which we learned to adjust to the real world. We understood that we were no longer children, and that our lives were truly about to begin. In our first year we were confused and afraid of the years to come, only beginning to discover the ways of West Orange High School. We moved forward in our high school careers and even began to call West Orange High School home. We applied to colleges, planned for our futures, and thought about our careers. As we walked down the aisle to receive our diplomas, we could only remember our past here at West Orange High School and be thankful for our experiences. From clubs to cliques, and sports to bands, individually and collectively we accomplished a great deal. While there is no guarantee that we will see each other again, we can be sure that our years here were anything but ordinary.

"The medals don't mean anything and the glory doesn't last. It's all about your happiness. The rewards are going to come, but my happiness is just loving the sport and having fun performing."

-Jackie Joyner Kersee

The athletic record at West Orange High School was anything but ordinary. From breaking records in track, to exceeding preconceived expectations in swimming, the class of 2005 tirelessly worked to fulfill its ambitions. Our athletes were determined and spirited while our coaches were always supportive and driven to win. No matter what sport or event we attended, we were guaranteed to see and hear the spirit and encouragement of our fans. Even though winning was a plus, just performing and having fun was enough for our teams.

What thoughts are in your mind during the race?

When I'm running all I can think about is the moment you first see the finish line. Many people wonder why someone would run cross country, but it's really just for the one moment you see the end and get a sudden rush of excitement. That's all I can think about.

- Jacob Simon

"When I'm running I usually think about where I am and how I felt the last time I ran by. If I'm racing against someone I try to pay attention to him and sense his weaknesses."

- Shaan Khurshid

"I always think that the race is almost over and I only have a little bit more to go."

What is the worst thing about playing in skirts?

"Overall playing in skirts is comfortable but sometimes it gets cold, and the skirts ride up." - Nicole Rubinetti

"The worst thing about playing in skirts is probably having ashy legs because the weather gets colder. You're also worried about your skirt flying up." - Pooja Shah

"The worst thing about wearing tennis skirts is that at the end of the season, your legs get extremely cold." - Ally Sunberg

Sophomore, Michelle Press, studies the ball as she prepares to serve.

What's the story behind your number?

"I wore number 8 during the season because it was a number I've worn throughout tee-ball, softball, and soccer when I was in grammar school." - Ashley King, #8

"I was on vacation and I met a guy. We wanted to know if we were going to still be together, so he said, you go in one elevator and I go in another. we both pick a random floor, then if we end up on the same floor, we're meant to be. I chose floor 12 and the door opened on that floor. The elevator door across from me opened and I saw him." - Kimberly Moriarity, #12

"My favorite number is 7, but last year on JV it was already taken. I decided to pick 14 because it is a multiple of 7. I chose to keep it this year because last year Jonelle Kleivin, the Varsity 14, and I were really good friends and always referred to each other as 14." - Valerie Krauser, #14

Anything but Cinder

Coach Joseph Suriano humbly awaits the dedication of the track.

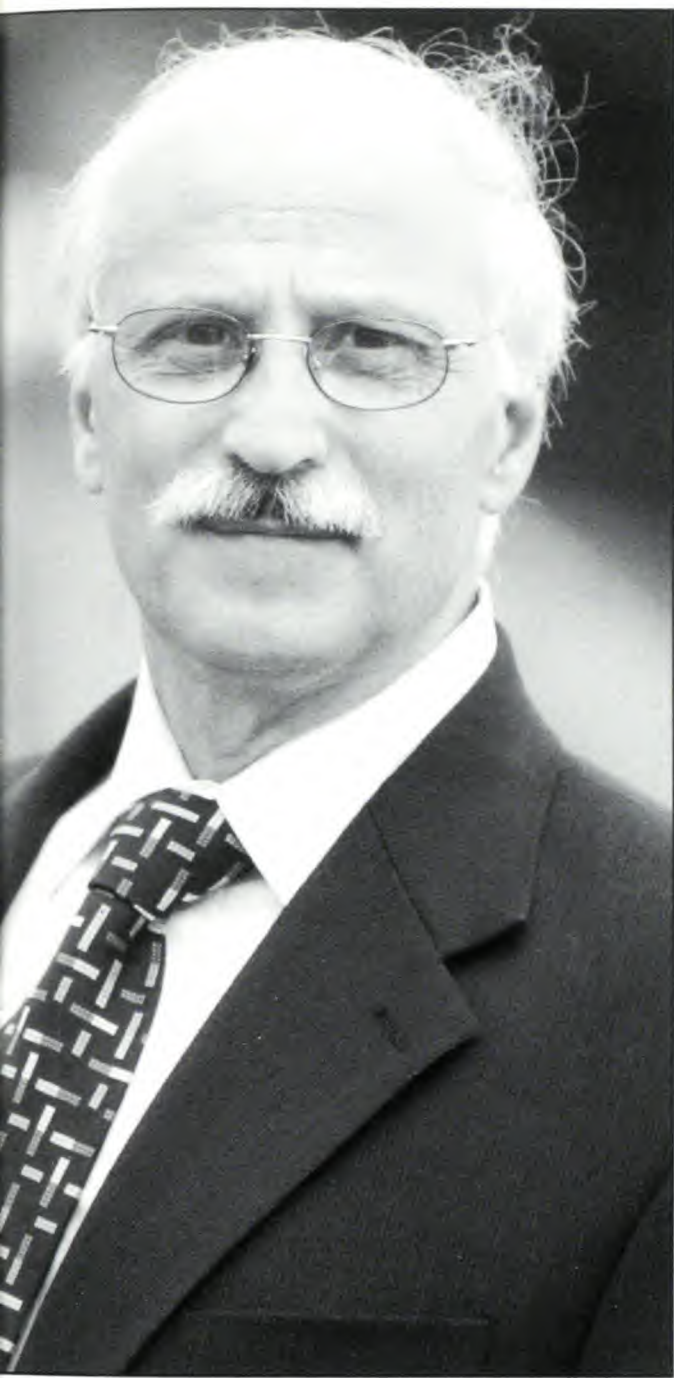

West Orange High School was incredibly blessed with an extraordinary faculty. Over the past 35 years however, one teacher was anything but ordinary. Mr. Suriano always was personable with his students, guiding them not only in the classroom but in life as well. His strong dedication to the track team was extremely evident, and his team had no choice but to be equally as enthused. Mr. Suriano was with the track team since his arrival to West Orange High School in 1970, but over the past few years he realized the need for better track and field facilities. In hopes of giving the students on his team the equipment they deserve, he consistently advocated for a renovation.

Before the 2004-2005 school year began, the new, long awaited track was completed. Mr. Suriano was thrilled to see that his dream finally came true. On October 2, 2004, West Orange High School rewarded Mr. Suriano, for his hard work by dedicating the track in his name. On that cool, fall day, the community gathered together as the track was renamed Joe Suriano Track and Field Stadium. The town watched as Mr. Suriano humbly delivered his speech, thanking his wife, friends, family, students, team and community for their support. Mr. Suriano christened the track by firing the gun, which signaled for both past and present track team members, along with town council members, to run a lap around the new track. Thanks to Mr. Suriano's commitment, the school, community, and future sports teams will benefit from Joe Suriano Track and Field Stadium for years to come.

A plaque is mounted on a rock in Coach Suriano's honor.

The West Orange High School athletic teams stand together as the track is dedicated to Joseph Suriano.

The boys track team waits in anticipation of the new track.

Anxiously, the girls track team sets to run their first lap on the new track.

How did Mr. Suriano affect your career at West Orange High School?

"Mr. Suriano taught me about life in itself. He was very influential during my four years at the high school, and I'm grateful I was able to be around his positive environment." - Tiffany China

"Mr. Suriano taught me to do my best in everything I did even if I was the only one who shared in the results." - Brittany deRonde

Jasmine Rose prepares to hit a home run.

Kim Moriarty lunges to make a double play.

Nicole Rubinetti rounds first base.

What is your worst experience with sliding during a game?

"I was sliding into third base and my knee on my bent leg dragged in the dirt. When I got up my knee was dripping with blood."

- Kim Pucciani

"As the pitch was released, I was running and I saw the catcher throw the ball. As I went down for the slide, my right foot hit the bag and the next thing I knew the shortstop went to put the tag on me. She smacked me in the face with her glove, leaving a cut on the side of my face and knocking me off balance with just my fingertips left on the bag. I was safe, though." - Kim Moriarty

"My worst experience with sliding during a game was when I was leading off of third and I went to run back and slipped, so I had to dive head first and sand got all in my face, mouth, and nose. I had to pour three bottles of water on me to clean it off." - Jasmine Rose

How do you warm-up before you play golf?

"Well, I start out by stretching a bit, concentrating on my shoulders and back, followed by a few practice swings with a driver and an iron. After that, I do a few putts on the putting green and then tee-off in hopes of a successful match." - Chaz Ruggieri

"I don't warm-up. I'm just that good." - David Goler

"I start off by rockin' out to Journey's Greatest Hits then go into my own personal warm-up I call the Cardio - 9-iron - Exercise." - Danny Purpura

Anything but Fault

Coach's Comment

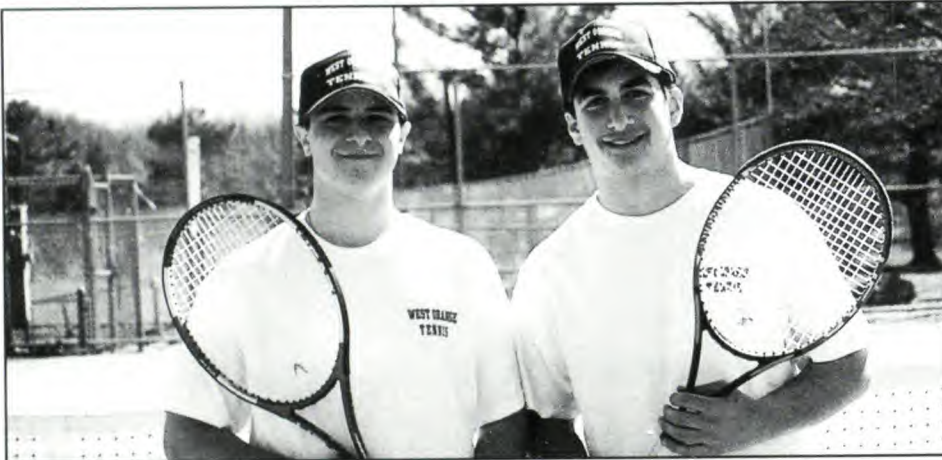

"We had many skillful players who were able to contribute tremendously to this season. We started practices with 19 players, which showed a lot of potential and motivation to succeed and achieve their goals. Along with assistant coach Mr. Jay Gitter, our players were enthusiastic and ready to compete."

Faculty

Anything but Ordinary

"Life is a succession of lessons which must be lived to be understood."

- Helen Keller

Although our past four years were anything but effortless, we made it through to graduation. Only through the diligence of both students and faculty, was such a task accomplished. With the strong dedication of each and every faculty member here at West Orange High School, the students not only were taught, but guided through life's tough decisions. Whether it was academically or personally, the faculty was a strong support system that was always available to us. School took up much of our lives, and we had no choice but to make it our second home. Looking back at the past four years at West Orange High School, we realize how fortunate we were to have had such a supportive staff around us. They were truly anything but ordinary.

Dear Members of the Graduating Class of 2005

While attending a function recently, my mind drifted to what I would write to you, a very special class of young men and women. Your theme, "Anything but Ordinary", is quite interesting and a number of thoughts came to mind. Do I write about my senior year in high school where my goal was to graduate, go to college, get a good job and then just lead an ordinary life with a wife and family? Or do I write about those times in my life that were anything but ordinary? As I was deep in thought, I heard the speaker say: "...do ordinary things in extraordinary ways." How auspicious! Yes, that would be part of my message to you. Looking for additional inspiration on that thought, I searched the internet and came across a poem that I would like to share with you. It embodies many of the same messages that I have passed to graduates over the years.

My very best to you for a wonderful life. May you enjoy good health, experience much happiness, good fortune and success.

*"Your presence is a present to the world.
You're unique and one of a kind.
Your life can be what you want it to be.
Take the days just one at a time.*

*Count your blessings, not your troubles.
You'll make it through whatever comes along.
Within you are so many answers.
Understand, have courage, be strong.*

*Don't put Limits on yourself.
So many dreams are waiting to be realized.
Decisions are too important to leave to chance.
Reach for your peak, your goal, and your prize.*

*Nothing wastes more energy than worrying.
The longer one carries a problem, the heavier it gets.
Don't take things too seriously.
Live a life of serenity, not a life of regrets.*

*Remember that a little love goes a long way.
Remember that a lot . . . goes forever.
Remember that friendship is a wise investment.
Life's treasures are people . . . together.*

*Realize that it's never too late.
Do ordinary things in an extraordinary way.
Have health and hope and happiness.
Take the time to wish upon a star.*

*And don't ever forget . . .
For even a day . . .
How very special you are. "*

For many years, each successive Mountaineer staff worked hard to capture the memories of its graduating class. Although the yearbook staff assembled the ideas for the yearbook, it would not exist without the generous contributions from friends, families, and local businesses. If not for our patrons, our high school years would remain vague memories rather than the tangible keepsake we received. We offer thanks to all of those who supported the work and dedication that went into making the yearbook. Their contributions were anything but ordinary, and we hope that their benevolence is reciprocated in their future endeavors.

Michelle,

We can't believe our baby is graduating high school and preparing to go off to college. It seems like just yesterday you started nursery school at the Community House.

You are an amazing, bright, funny, compassionate, loving, sensitive, thoughtful and genuine, beautiful young woman and we are so very proud of you. From your little kicker soccer days through your dancing and acting careers, girls' softball and your four years on the WOHS Volleyball Team, you have been our shining star and we've treasured every moment. You have brought more joy and laughter into our lives than you could ever imagine!

Always believe in yourself and follow your dreams and we know you will be successful in whatever you set out to accomplish.

We love you with all our hearts and wish you a lifetime blessed with good health and happiness!

CONGRATULATIONS!

To my beautiful granddaughter, Emily,

The day you were born I turned from the phone and said to Pop Pop, "It's a girl." He replied, "I like little girls."

We have loved you since, and the love has continued to grow throughout all the wonderful, and, at times, exciting years.

I am so proud of you, Emily, and I know he is too of all you have accomplished.

You amaze me!!!

I will always be here for you,
and I will always love you.

Steff,

We are so proud of you!

These last four years have gone by so fast. You have become a beautiful, responsible and mature young lady. You have a great future ahead, just remember always be true to yourself and follow your dreams -- anything is possible.

If you could see all the flowers in the world,
if you could hear all the laughter in the universe,
if you could make all the dreams that were ever wished come true, then you would know a little part of the joy having a daughter like you.

Love,

As you go through life... Remember, daughter, that even when there's no path in front of you, you can always make your own. Don't be afraid to take chances or stumble, because eventually you'll get to where you want to be, it just takes time. Even when your dreams go awful filled, remember that it is only temporary. You just have to be patient. Give yourself a chance to explore what life is all about and what it has to offer. Eventually, you'll see your dreams falling into place, one goal at a time. You're dedicated, intelligent, and full of spirit, and we know you're going to have an incredible life. We believe in you completely, and nothing you accomplish will surprise us, it will only make us proud. And remember, our love goes with you... Everywhere you go. Congratulations!

Dear Jesse,
 May God bless and keep you always,
 May your wishes all come true,
 May you always do for others and let

 May you build a ladder to the stars
 And climb on every rung,
 May you stay forever young.

May you grow up to be righteous,
 May you grow up to be true,
 May you always know the truth
 And see the lights surrounding you.
 May you always be courageous,
 Stand upright and be strong,
 May you stay forever young.

May your hands always be busy,
 May your feet always be swift,
 May you have a strong foundation
 When the winds of changes shift.
 May your heart always be joyful,
 May your song always be sung,
 May you stay forever young
 Forever young, forever young,
 May you stay forever young.

A daughter is the sweetest gift a lifetime can provide.
A daughter means such precious thoughts -- so many come to mind, like the magic that she adds to life which cannot be defined.
Her quick delight over little things, her charm, her smile, her grace, the music when she laughs or speaks the beauty in her face.
A daughter is always thought about and so often spoken of,
for she is very close in heart -- because a daughter means...Love!

Mom, Dad, Carly, and Amanda

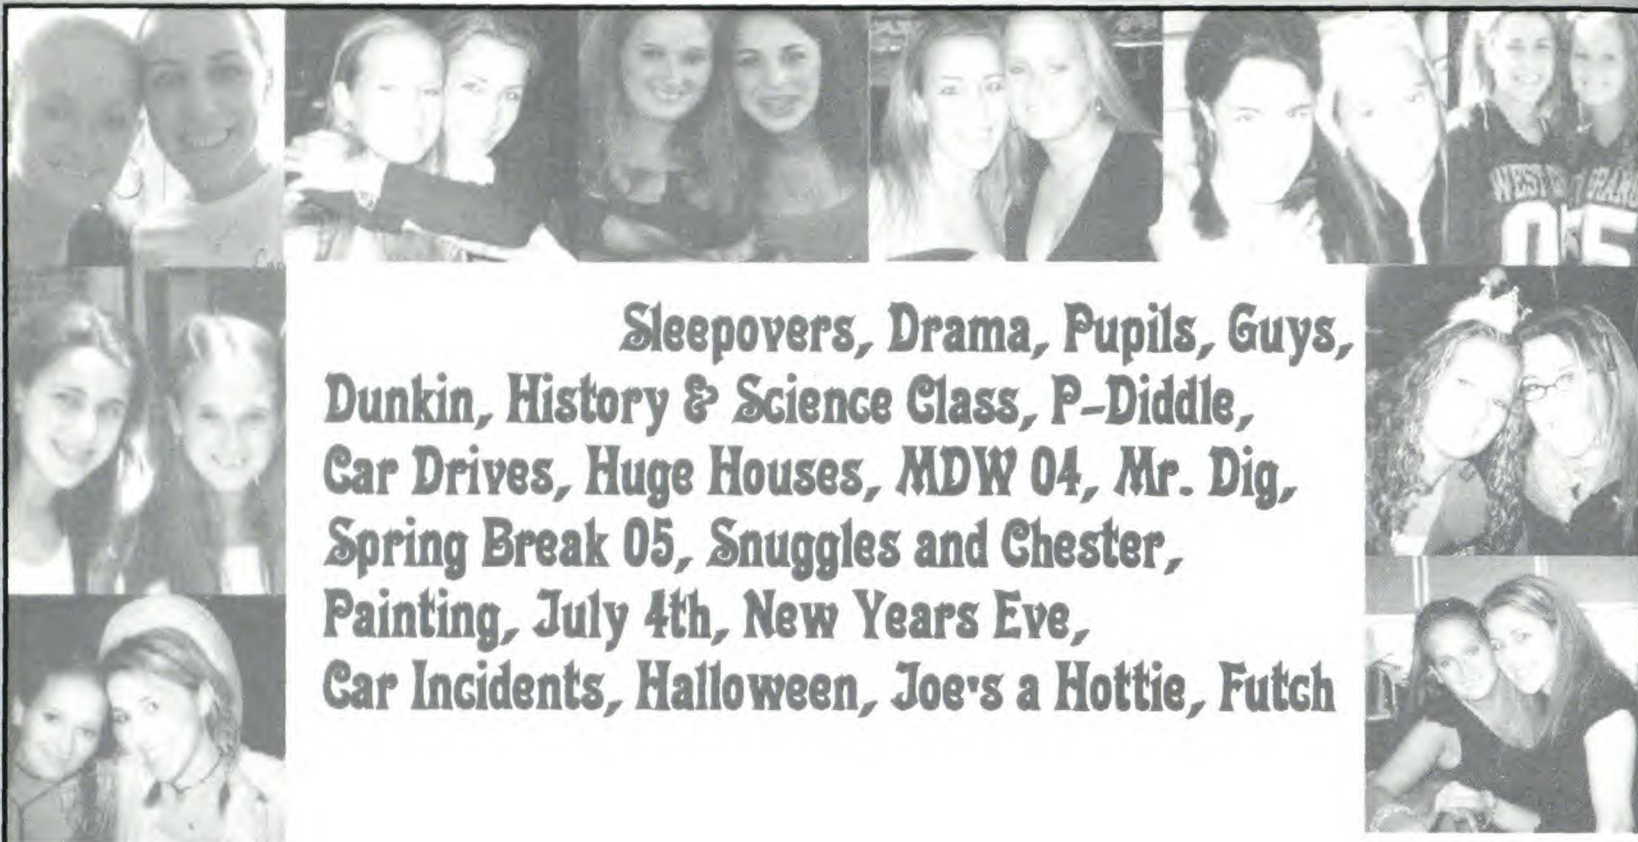

When you were born, we'd have to say
 That we were totally blown away
 Those first few years went by in a flash
 Soon off to Pleasantdale you did dash
 Childhood friends, childhood sneezes
 Projects at school all done to please us
 Brownies and dance filled out your days
 Onto Mt. Pleasant to finish the first phase
 You were one of 284 who opened the school
 Here Mr. Alfieri was the principal that ruled Soon middle school came and went
 Those three years were very well spent
 Harry Potter, Brad Pitt and dreams of surf
 Australia calls from the ends of the earth
 And so it brings us here at last
 Fourth year in West Orange High It came too fast
 Choelho-Chu, McCarthy & Piegaro were three of the best Teachers who truly put your abilities to the test
 Time stood still, but now it flies
 It's hard to stand and wave goodbye
 But University of Tennessee awaits you too
 To help make all your dreams come true
 Meg, make these next years lots of fun
 But work real hard like you have always done
 Make sure you have memories that will last
 You will soon realize that the years come and go so fast
 Now, Meghan, take your place and stand really tall
 Because, YES, you do deserve it ALL

We are your greatest fans
 All our love forever
 Mom, Dad, Jen '98 & Amelia

P.S. We would like to dedicate Lee Ann Womack's song, "I Hope You Dance" to all of the "Class of 2005" and especially to our daughter Meghan Joy and all of her friends!!

"Praise ye the Lord. Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord.
 that delighteth greatly in his commandments. His seed shall be mighty upon the earth; the generation of the upright shall be blessed. Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth forever.
 Psalms 112:1-3

To My Son Arthur,
 You have been a blessing and an inspiration to me and our family. To watch you develop into a leader, an athlete, and a scholar has been one of life's greatest treasures. Know that He loves you very much and He will always love you. As you step into adulthood let God be your compass. As He navigates your course, you can only walk into blessings, provisions and promises. We all are so proud of you.

Lives Within You

Dear Artie,

We are so proud of all you have accomplished. And, you did it all with dignity and style.

This is just the beginning. Continue to press toward the mark of the higher calling and there is nothing that you won't be able to do.

God bless you always and all ways.

Love, Aunt Norma & James

Dear Arthur,

Congratulations!! You Did It!

It seems like only yesterday that you were off to pre-school, then a high school student and now you're off to college. May God continue to bless and keep you as you continue on this marvelous journey.

Keep your eye on the prize and it will be college graduation before you can blink an eye. You have been the best, with your kind gentle spirit.
 You truly exhibit the love of God in the sweet loving way that you are.

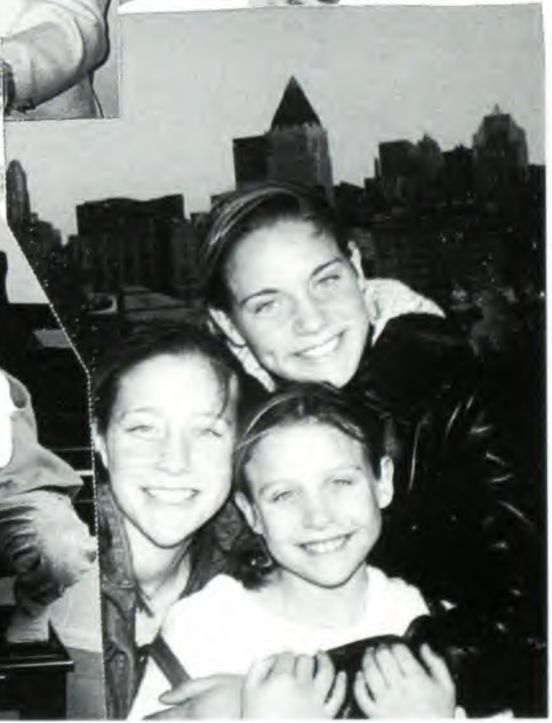

We all are rooting for you...

A black and white photograph of a young child, likely a toddler, wearing a light-colored baseball cap with a dark brim and a dark jacket with light-colored sleeves. The child is holding a large, light-colored ball, possibly a beach ball or a large balloon, in front of their chest. The child has a joyful expression, with their mouth open as if laughing or shouting. The background is dark and indistinct.

Dear Tiffany,

It was easy to love you from the moment we first saw you! You were our cute little baby niece.

Then,

As you grew,
It was easy to think of you as an adorable little girl!

It was even easy
to think of you
as a teenager
who loved sports!

What is not so easy is thinking of you as all grown up. But you have become a bright and beautiful young woman that we are all very proud of!

Good luck and best wishes in college and in your future endeavors! Get ready world, you are about to be blessed by an incredible person!

OUR PRECIOUS ELIZABETH,

Since you were a little girl, you have given us so much joy and happiness. You have made us so proud of you, not only because of all you have accomplished, but most especially for the beautiful, sensitive, sincere, and compassionate young woman you have become. You have filled our hearts with so much love.

Thank you Elizabeth. We love you very much and feel so blessed to have you as a daughter and sister. May God bless you and guide you always. Congratulations and good luck in college!

To graduate from high school is an honor and achievement. I am very proud of you for making the right choice. Once you walk out of those high school doors, a new door filled with opportunities will open. Life is not always simple and easy but God is ready to listen. Therefore you must listen to the Holy Spirit, obey His guidance, praise Him for the answer, and you will be saved from the fear.

I love you, and wishing you the best life has to offer.

SCHOOCH - I remember the stunned look on our faces the day you were born, when we realized Hell open its gates for your descent upon us. Years rolled by, and as you grew, your reign of terror increased. "God help us," we cried. There was close to nothing we could do. Then came to pass the years, and we came to understand your reign of terror was not purposeful, it was our challenge to understand. Through all this time, you always had my love, yet you earned my respect when you faced each challenge head on. You have the soul of a warrior, you never give in to a fight, you overcome every obstacle as each star illuminates the darkness, sparkling yourself up, hearing the bell and giving life your all, another round. Aside from my respect, I'm proud of you. Each day you've showed me that you go at life as a champion each and every day. You break through the barriers as though they were never there. You refuse to accept labels. You'll fight rather than be compared. You'll succeed in life, of this I have no doubt, for no victory nor accomplishment was handed to you. You earned it and owned it. Sweeter is the accomplishment obtained by no hand out. I know I've been tough on you throughout the years, for through your eyes, I've seen the warrior inside of you, and I pushed him to persevere. I want you to know it came from love, respect, and pride. I'm not done pushing the warrior. Life has more in store for you. The world is waiting for the man you've become, right outside. All my love, TITI.

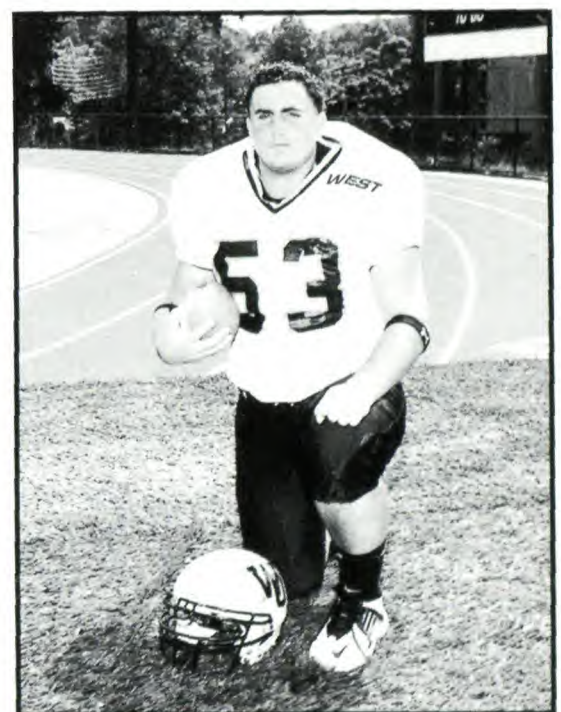

Choose the path you wish to take. Take the turns you wish to make.

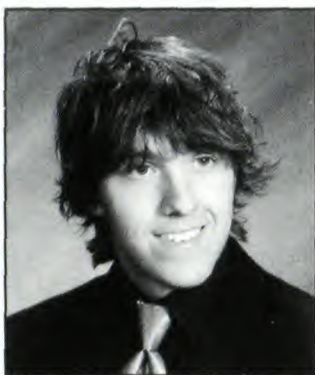

Remember each moment no matter how hard it seems. Always remember to achieve your dreams. For there is no limit to what you can do. Just remember our love will always be with you.

Love you,
Mom '73, Dad
& Linda '00

No matter what age Mike is, he is always ready to be in the game! All our love and best wishes to my wonderful son. Congratulations.
